Terrific Railway Accident.

One of the worst railway accidents which ever occurred in the province happened on the I. C. R. near Milford station on Wednesday. The Boston and Montreal express, which left Halifax at 8.45 o'clock with about thirty passengers and a train crew of ten or more, left the rail and was thrown down an embankment nearly thirty feet—the engine alone escaping destruction. Conductor Robert G. Duncan, one of the oldest conductors on the road, was in charge of the train, and received injuries which caused his death a few hours after. Mrs. John Glassey, one of the most esteemed ladies of Halifax, who was on her way to visit a sister in Yarmouth, was also killed, and nearly all the passengers were more or less seriously injured.

FRUIT GROWERS' ANNUAL MEETING.

A CORRESPONDENT WRITES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING AT BRIDGEWATER.

MR. EDITOR.—In response to your request for a few notes referring to proceedings of recent annual meeting of the N. S. F. G. A. held at Bridgewater, Lunenburg Co., Jan. 27 and 28, I will say that I do so most willingly, but that I can do justice to the occasion, but having participated in a real feast I seem to need a safety valve to relieve the pressure, and this I may find in sharing some of the good things with those who didn't go.

You all know what a severe wrench it was to take the annual gathering away from Wolfville. Could it be possible that any other locality could centre so many influences that make such a meeting a success? The experiment was tried in 1903 at Middleton, Anns. Co., and all pronounced it a complete success. But of course that was in "the Valley," and no where in "the Valley" could the Association get very far away from home. But the nerve of some people in Annapolis, Bridgewater, through their Board of Trade, invited our Executive to hold our next meeting there, and they said yes. (Have patience, Mr. Editor, I will get to Bridgewater directly.) But do you know that an occasion like this begins with your buying your ticket, and does not close till the last stub is surrendered as you near your home station.

Tuesday morning, Jan. 26th, gave us the conditions that tempted us to undertake the journey; so we bought our tickets, $2.85, got our certificate that secured our return without further charge, and boarded the Ex. train westward bound. A few were already on board, bound for the same place, and each station added to our number till we got to Middleton. Here we change cars for Bridgewater, but have to wait three or four hours for the arrival of the Ex. train from Yarmouth. A friend suggested "now we can visit the new Consolidated School building, and see some of the working of the van system, as well." Happy thought; for putting it into action we spent an hour of pleasure and profit. The new building is just completed, and Feb. 1st was the time fixed for moving the schools into it. We were fortunate in having Mr. Fair, the architect, with us, and he explained the working of the several systems installed, such as heating, ventilation, etc., etc. It is said to be an up-to-date school building in every particular, and Prof. Robertson is reported to have pronounced it equal to any he ever saw. We examined the vans, talked with the drivers, saw the children come out of school and load up. Everything is now working the people.

"All on board for Bridgewater!" and our train soon begins to climb; not very fast, but surely and steadily, and with accelerated speed on the southern slope, we were landed in Bridgewater on schedule time. I should say here that the local executive had sent a man over to Middleton to arrange with visitors as to hotel quarters, so we all knew just where to go on arrival.

Wednesday morning soon after ten o'clock Col. Spurr, our president, took the chair. Opening prayer by Rev. Mr. March, invoking the Divine blessing on our gathering, to which, I trust, we all added a hearty "Amen." Then president's annual address.

A number of our veteran members were conspicuous by their absence, but one stood out from the rest as a great blank. Those who have been attending the Fruit Growers' Association for twenty years know that only once in that time has Mr. J. W. Bigelow been absent from the annual meeting. No wonder we miss him; for his presence was always an inspiration and help to every man who attended. For nine or ten years he was our president. Mr. R. J. Messenger of Bridgewater came to the front with a resolution asking that a telegram be sent to him, embodying our regrets for his absence, our gratitude for all that he has been to this Association, our sympathy with him as the infirmities of age assert themselves, and especially in view of the recent bereavement that has come to him. This gave an opportunity to express their pent up feelings of respect for, and sympathy with, our veteran ex-president. President Spurr, R. W. Starr, Sec. Parker, Mr. Elderkin, of Amherst, G. C. Millar and others spoke with feeling. Never have I seen a finer feeling shown at warmer words of honest appreciation spoken than on this occasion.

We had four specialists from abroad, viz: W. A. MacKinnon, A. MacNeil, W. G. Macdonald and W. S. Blair. We had these men with us two years ago, and enjoyed them very much; but on this occasion they are much heavier men. This is as we would expect, and is a guarantee that our officials in the horticultural and agricultural departments are live, growing men, and each a specialist in his sphere. Such questions were discussed as "Varieties of Apples and Pears for commercial purposes," "Illustrations of Apple Packing and object lessons in judging fruit," "Shipping Apples in boxes," "Marking and Marketing," "Conserving of soil moisture," "Orchard tools and pruning," "Causes of failure in beginning," "The business end of the orchard," etc., etc. But this story is getting too long. I must refer, however, to the splendid welcome given to the Association by the town of Bridgewater and the County of Lunenburg. First, from the Board of Trade, Frank Davidson, Esq., president; second, from Mayor Wilson, representing the town; third, T. R. Pattillo, Esq., representing fruit growers of southern counties, and last but not least C. E. Knibb, M. P. for the county. These addresses were responded to by members of the Association in happy and fitting terms. A number of valuable papers were crowded out for lack of time, but these will probably find a place in the annual report. The addresses and discussions were intensely practical and helpful, and mere talking-machines were never once in evidence.

I must omit special reference to a paper by R. W. Starr, Esq., whom every fruit grower far and near delights to honor. He is really the historian and biographer of horticulture and its pioneers in Nova Scotia. This paper is the first of a series, and will appear in the Maritime Farmer, as also two, three and four. This first paper is a guarantee that the whole when completed will be a valuable addition to our horticultural literature, and should be put on file for future reference. Just here let me say that the membership fee of $1.00 annually, carries with it the Maritime Farmer for one year, and the annual report of the Fruit Growers' Association, either of which is worth a dollar to a farmer or fruit grower.

The executive for the next year is as follows: P. Innis, Pres.; R. S. Eaton, 1st Vice-pres.; S. C. Parker, Sec.; J. H. Cox, Asst. Sec.; G. C. Millar, C. A. Patriquin, Arthur C. Starr, R. L. Messenger. The last session, Thursday evening, was projected well on to midnight without any abatement of interest, and was brought to a close by singing "God Save the King." Thus ended the fortieth session of the N. S. F. G. A. It will rank among the best. Our association with our neighbors to the south has left the most pleasant recollections, and the strong desire that they will send a large contingent to our next annual meeting to be held at Wolfloor, Wolfville, or Kentville, each having given a cordial invitation.

Faithfully yours, ...

INCIDENTS OF A TRIP WEST.

Treherne, Manitoba.—Optimistic is the adjective that best fits the character of the people of this splendid westland of ours, and without question the growth of the country in wealth and population justifies their confidence.

This is a town of 500 inhabitants about 30 miles southwest of Winnipeg; it has five elevators, handling not less than 600,000 bushels of wheat a season, while the stores are of a character to handle the produce of a prosperous place, the fertility of the soil is well vouchsafed.

Case after case has come under my own observation in which settlers have come in from the coast, homesteaded on sections (a mile square) or half sections, which cost them nothing in cash, and but a few years of work and to-day will not sell their half-sections for less than $10,000. The chances are excellent for the same kind of thing to be done on the new lands further north which the Grand Trunk Pacific will open up and any man who cares to come into this or any of the older settled sections and rent or buy can have immediate returns and the benefits of civilization.

Decidedly the winters are cold, but the marvellous dryness of the atmosphere makes a beautiful winter, a thing of delight. A thaw is a thing almost unknown and by consequence this is not a rubber foot land, but overshoes and felt shoes are universally worn. The mercury changes perhaps as many degrees as it does in Nova Scotia, but as a fifty degree rise from 40 below zero does not reach the point of thaws, the snow remains. The sleigh-tracks catch any snow that falls or blows, and week by week they rise packed harder and harder, till for the horses to slip slide-wise means a drop of two or three feet into softer snow, which drop is not apt to be good for harness or running gear.

Winnipeg is the head centre of activity. An Easterner making his first visit is fascinated by the electric vitality that permeates the streets and stores and warehouses. From the C. P. R. depot to the Hudson Bay Co's warehouse every man behind a counter or behind the horse of a delivery sleigh is full of faith in the future and is ready for hard work in the present, but in his bright lexicon there is no hard luck story; he may admit that when he first came out here, it six months since or twenty-five years, he had a little hard luck, but not now. He has struck it this time; the only people of equal optimism in Nova Scotia are the gold miners.

This is a large part of the success of Manitoba or any other country; to make the best of any situation and to smile at the future—be sure the future will smile back at any man who does this.

The MacDonald Consolidated School.

(From a Correspondent.)

On our return from Bridgewater the opportunity to attend the opening exercises of the MacDonald School was embraced, the event appealing to us as being of exceptional interest as marking the commencement of a model and an example to the whole country, as the first of the consolidated system established by the eminent Sir William in the Province of Nova Scotia.

The opening exercises were planned and directed by Prin. McGill, who in charge of the new building, which remains one more of a noble structure than what we have been accustomed to under the old system in comparatively rural districts.

The occasion was made all the more interesting by the presence of distinguished visitors, including Dr. Longley, Attorney General, Dr. McKay, Supt. Education, and Mr. Kidner of the Provincial Normal School.

The Trustees and School Officials and several gentlemen present including Dr. Sponagle, Dr. Miller, Rev. Mr. Webster, Rev. Mr. Ramsay, Lawyer Davison, Mr. R. S. Eaton and Mr. R. P. Simonson were called to the platform by Prin. McGill.

The afternoon program was varied and highly appropriate, including patriotic selections by the students of the consolidated schools, rendered in a very bright and attractive manner, and well appreciated by the large audience. The Principal was unable to give opportunity for addresses by all the visitors on account of scarcity of time, but several who were called upon responded, speaking briefly in regard to the Educational interests of the province.

Mr. Longley expressed pleasure at being enabled to be present on that important occasion. The Attorney General referred to the eminence and noble character of the great promoter of the Consolidated Plan, speaking of Sir Wm. MacDonald as a Canadian of whom all may well be proud, and of Prof. Robertson as a man of the most sterling worth, whose loss to Canada at this period would be a national calamity. The speaker voiced the that of the entire constituency when he expressed his regret that Prof. Robertson had been prevented from coming to Middleton on this occasion as a result of ill-health. Reference was made to the great importance of the Manual Training Schools, the Schools of Horticulture and Schools of Domestic Science in the higher and more practical educational systems now being established throughout our broad Dominion. Dr. McKay followed the Attorney General, giving a plain and very expressive address to the young students, and appealing to their parents and the rate-payers in general to continue the support of the new system, the advantage of which he clearly and impressively explained.

Mr. Kidner spoke briefly, calling attention to the importance of the consolidation, the establishment of the schools of manual training and domestic science, and the general improvement in our educational system. Since he had come from England to beautiful Nova Scotia, the schools had been established at various points. The opening of the Manual Training department, he stated, marked the inception of the twenty-first in the province; and the Domestic Science department of the consolidated school at Middleton was the twentieth of its kind to be formed in Nova Scotia since the work began.

Several other speakers responded, all uniting in expressing the hope and trust that the people would continue to afford ample support to the new system, when the grants from Sir William might be withdrawn.

The most interesting portion of this part of the program was the very lively and dramatic rendering of the personification of Rhoderick Dhu, by Mr. Fales, of the X grade.

Hockey Notes.
On Friday evening last the two Wolfville teams went to Hantsport and played return matches with the first and second teams of that place. The result was 7-1 in the game between the first teams, and 9-0 in that between the second teams, both in favor of Wolfville. The boys report a very pleasant time.

American Postal Frauds.
In the United States there is a good deal of excitement over irregularities in the post office department. As a result of the enquiry recently instituted many men prominent in Washington life have been badly exposed. This, however, doesn't concern people in the Maritime Provinces as much as whether or not they can get good tea. And they can get good tea, the very best—they can get Morse's.

Public Notice.
Notice is hereby given that the Mechanics' Association of Wolfville has adopted the nine hour system, and from this date, members of the Association will work the following hours, 7 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. Tendency of the Times

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been shown that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended, until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by G. V. Rand.

Town Elections.

The civic election on Tuesday last did not occasion any particular interest. There were four men in the field for the three vacant seats at the Council Board, three of whom, of course, could only be elected. The day was not a pleasant one, and a large number of ratepayers were disqualified from voting on one account or another. When the poll closed and the ballots were counted the vote was found to be:

W. C. T. U. ANNUAL AN INTERESTING REPORT OF THE PAST YEAR'S WORK.
(From Wednesday's Mail)

The annual public meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held last evening in St.
Paul's Parish Hall, and was an interesting one. The reports presented showed the variety and extent of the work done by the organization, and the addresses given were forcible and testified to hearty appreciation of the Union on the part of the speakers.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.
"During the year we have been watching for opportunities of doing good; securing reform in morals, removal of vicious advertising, using influence to support the anti-cigarette bill which came before parliament, etc.

In the early part of the year it became known to us that an objectionable advertisement was being mailed to many of the young men by a liquor agency in the city. The mayor and chief of police were advised of this, and they assured us that they would do all in their power to suppress the evil.

At the time the Bickerdyke bill came before parliament five hundred copies of a circular letter were placed by our Union in the hands of voters asking them to sign and forward them to our representatives in parliament.
In these letters was expressed approval or disapproval according as the member has either supported or opposed the bill. We had the satisfaction of knowing that the majority of these documents reached their destination and had the desired effect.

Learning that the screen and anti-cigarette law were being boldly violated the Union sought to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of the Moral Reform Association to secure a better observance of the law. The Association informed us that they were about to take up that work.
We do not know whether anything was accomplished or not.

The report then refers in turn to the work done at the Sailor's Home, in providing entertainment for the men; to the work of the superintendent of literature, Mrs. Longard; that of the Mother's meetings, and especially that in connection with the prisons and jails. Reference is made to the W. C. T. U. booth at the Provincial Exhibition, as one of the important features of the work. It records the loss, through removal from the city, of Miss Sarah Robinson, refer to the entertainment of the Provincial Convention during the course of the year, and concludes with an earnest plea for renewed effort during the year which has just begun.

A Wise Condition.
Mr. Adrian Irwin, of New York, has recently presented the city of New Rochelle for a very beautiful park.
Neptune Park, for so it is to be called, is a royal gift, for the land alone is not worth less than one hundred thousand dollars, and Mr. Irwin has spent fifteen thousand in improving it in the last three years. Only one condition is coupled with the gift of this splendid pleasure ground to the town, that at no time shall any intoxicating drink be sold within its limits.

Why should such a condition be made? Because modern thought is turning more and more to the temperance side. A city pleasure ground should offer only wise and refreshing pleasures to the community. Drink degrades every spot it inhabits. To spend fifteen thousand dollars in improving a spot of ground, of large original value, and then let this be offset by the selling of drink would be a foolish investment of money. Mr.
Irwin, as a business man knows, better than that this one condition that liquor selling be kept out seems to him the only necessary stipulation required. Nothing else could so ruin the park; nothing else so vital to guard against as that gradation thus possible.

It is an encouraging fact that drink is daily falling more under the condemnation of enlightened public opinion. Temperance stood alone at first, in making this fight; but scientific philanthropy, science and education are coming over, one by one, and rousing themselves beside it.
Will the city of the future have any liquor selling at all whether in park or street? Certainly, all authorities are agreed that it will be a better city when the saloon is ruled out. Public sentiment is steadily moving toward temperance; and Mr. Irwin's gift, with its condition, is but one of the hopeful signs of the times.

Better Wages for Abstainers percent to the wages of the employees on his Scottish estate on condition that they become total abstainers.

Speaking of his remarkable offer, Mr. Carnegie said:
"Men are not required to be total abstainers but all who are can obtain from me a gift equal to ten per cent of their wages, with my best wishes upon stating that they have abstained for a year. I consider total abstainers worth ten per cent more than other ones, especially if coachmen, yachtmen, or men in charge of machinery. Indeed I prefer them for all situations."

In view of Mr. Carnegie's great experience in the industrial world, this opinion is of inestimable value.

TOO LITTLE BLOOD IS THE CAUSE OF MOST MISERY IN EVERYDAY LIFE—IMPROVE THE BLOOD AND DISEASE WILL NOT EXIST.

Among the many thousands who testify to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood and nerve tonic is Miss Mary Jackson, Normandale, Ont., who says: "I have used Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills and have derived such great benefit from them that I consider it my duty to let others know their worth. For upwards of three years I suffered from anaemia, and grew so weak that I could scarcely walk about the house. I had no color in my face, my lips and gums were bloodless. I lost all ambition, suffered from headaches and dizziness, and fell away in weight till I weighed only ninety-four pounds. I doctored a great deal, but it did not seem to do me any good. I was then advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before I had taken them ten days I felt better and my people could see a change in me. I continued using the pills for some weeks and am now in the very best health. Every depressing symptom has passed away and I have gained fourteen pounds in weight. I think there is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I strongly recommend them to all weak and ailing girls."

Miss Jackson's experience should bring hope to all the weak, ailing girls and women. What those pills have done for her they will do for others. Every dose adds tone and vigor to the blood and nerves, brings a glow of health to sallow cheeks, a sparkle to the eyes and a ruby redness to pallid lips. No other medicine has done so much to bring comfort and health to weak girls and women. If you are ailing give the pills a fair trial and new health and strength will be yours. Do not accept any pink colored substitute; the genuine pills always have the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" printed on the wrapper around every box. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr.
Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It is not often that Dean Hole follows an anecdote as the telling proof, but that is so old that it has been almost forgotten: "Laborer—Could you give us a shilling?" Tourist—"Why should I? Can't you earn it for yourself?" Laborer—"Yes, but I've left my work." Tourist—"Why did you leave it?" Laborer—"Well, if you must know, I've been living along with Farmer Skindint, and he's just the meanest, nearest miserablest old screw as ever went to bed in the dark and put the candle end in his pocket. Well, the old cow died, and we had to eat her; then the old sow died, and we had to eat her; and then the old woman died—and I left."

For Stomach Trouble.
"I have taken a great many different medicines for stomach trouble and constipation," says Mrs. G. G. DeWitt, Dunkerton, Iowa, "but never had as good results from any as from Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by G. V. Hand."

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months."
"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.
All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs.
Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.
Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality.—often it is never recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my natural good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more."—LITTLE E. STICKLAND, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

There is a little scar on the door where the pull was hung, there is a wound in the heart and a vacant chair before the grate in the library, there is a fresh made grave and a new voice in the choir.

He used to have a favorite hymn at family devotions, and we have often heard "Sweet hour of prayer, sweet hour of prayer, that calls me from this world of care."
And when he was called he did not hesitate.

Is he sleeping?
They asked the nurses, and, when the doctor called him, there was no answer. He had slept away, turned over and, with a smile, as one in pleasant dreams, he left the winter's night for the summer's morning.

And here we are tossing on this sea of life, and there he is safe in the harbor. Here we are subject to the pangs of humanity, and there he is clothed in divinity. Here we are troubled, there he is peaceful. Here we are anxious of the morrow, he has no morrow there is no night there, it is all to-day.

So the tears are not for him, for he is far better. They are selfish tears of earth's children, who grieve over their loss, forgetting what it means for him.

We know that he would ask why the tears if he saw them; he would question the drawn curtain, the tiptoed step, and hushed voice. He would have none of this. But we are human, and so we mourn to-day for "the touch of a vanished hand, the sound of the voice that is still."

Yet we know we should not mourn.
To him life was alone serious and worth while.

And death, that a natural gradation to better things.

Some stand by the vacant chair and hold to life's things—loose, for we have him slip away, even as a child kissing its mother closed its eyes, and fall asleep.

Life today has a new meaning, for we are bound by ties that reach from earth to the city that knows no separation and needs no sun.—Charles P.
Raymond, in Toronto Star.

To the Afflicted.
Dear Reader,—Are you a sufferer from any of the following ills: Lack of ambition, nervous exhaustion, ideas easily confused, irritability of temper, impairment of memory, despondency, general debility, liver not right, kidneys out of order, rheumatism, dyspepsia or indigestion, highest testimony. We have not space to tell you all about them here, but will answer any inquiries as to their merits.

Mrs. John Macdonald, Durham, N. S.,

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette thinks that the devotion of women to clubs is responsible for many divorces. Upon the subject of extravagance she spoke as follows: "In this day and age men are money mad. Why? Do you know that last year hundreds of millions of dollars were spent for jewelry?
Do men wear it? During the year we men were put behind the bars for embezzling large sums. Did they want the money just for itself? They wanted it to help their wives and daughters shine. We are responsible for these things. We want too much."

The scratch of a pin may cause the loss of a limb or even death when blood poisoning results from the injury. A disease of this kind is avoided, however, by promptly applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It is an antiseptic and unequalled as a quick healing liniment for cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by G. V.
Hand.

In making bread, rub a little sweet lard or other fat over the top an often as it is kneaded, and it will not only rise more quickly but have a soft delicious crust when baked.

Polish is effective in making rats and mice scarce about the house.
The drug should be left in places frequented by the pests. Camphor gum will keep mice away from clothes-cabinets, bureaus and cabinets.

Buttons, big, medium and small, are being used extensively as a trimming as well as for the original use of fastening. Gold buttons are promising to be very popular, as well as those covered with silk and velvet.

It is a strange fact that sea urchin eggs are almost conical in form, so that they will only curl in a circle.
As many of them are laid on the bar-gees of high reefs, this provision of nature prevents them from rolling off.

So! hissed the villain.
The heroine faced him grandly.
The calcium light spluttered delightfully over the scene, causing her jewels to glitter like the eye of a press agent.

So! growled the villain.
Here the heroine kicked her train around in front of her, and the hand painted flowers on the back breadth came into full view. Bravely she clutched the will in her lily white fingers.

So! boomed the villain.
With the air of a queen the heroine turned upon him.

"Why do you say 'So!' so often?" she asked. "Do you think you can own me?"

Realizing that he was baffled for the last time in that act, the villain glared another cigarette and left the stage with a tragic stride.
