To the Electors of Georgetown and Royalty. GRETILISTER : AM induced to, offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages at the fortheoming General Elec-tion, in connegations of the many penerous offers of apport which I received from my friends during my recent visit amongs you. T am so Office-holder, and therefore I can represent you fearlessly and indepen-dently, without being whackled in my rotes by the undue influence of the Government. The true inte-rests of this my native country will never be studied or cared for, so long as the popular branch of the Logislature is compase of greedy Officials, who are bound hand and foot to support the Government, and every measure, without consulting the views of their Constituents upon the subject. Under such a de-point system, a Member of the House of Assembly is not the People's servant but the Government's willing slave. Should T obtain, for the third time, the di-tinguished honor of being returned as one of your Representitives to the Colonal Parlisment, rest as-used the Will be second to none in attempting to carry out all measures that my have the alightest tend-ney to advance the prosperity and local improvement of corgetown and Royalty. To the Electors of Georgetown and Royalty, GENTLEMEN,-

GENTLEMEN.-GENTLEMEN.-ENCOURACED by the cordial promise of support which I have received from imany of you. I now offer mysolf as a Candidate for your suffrages at the approaching General Election. Although I hold the office of Astorney General, I am anable to perceive why that should tender me incompetent to represent you fearleasily and inde-pendently; on the contrary, if returned by you, it is my determination to de so and loccasions; and whilst I shall be prepared to advocate all sound liberal measures, calculated to benefit the country generally, I shall field it to be an especial duity to use any legiti-mate influence which my position may afford me, to advance the local interests of Georgetown and Reyalty.

Royalty. F have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your obsdient servant, JOSEPH HENSLEY. Jane 16th, 1858.

To the Electors of the Second Electoral District of Prince County. GENTLEASEN; I AM induced, from the repeated solicitations of many of the most respectable influential Electors amongst you, to offer myself as a Candidate for your Suffages at the approaching Election. My object in those making any intentions public through this medium is, because I have bitherto de-clined, when requested by many of you, to offer myself.

clined, when requested by many of you, to offer myself. I may be permitted to say, that I believe I am in-dividually acquisinted with you all, and an attilled that you are aware that it is not from any shillsh or pecularly motive that induces me to come forwain. As a native of the Colony, and eas where interests are inseparably connected with your own, it would be my highest aim to advance its best interest and pros-perity. And, be assured Gentlemen, should you honor me with your confidence, so thing I trust on my part shall be waning to advance the true interest of the Colony, and this my native district particularly. I am, Gauleunen, traly yours, JAMES CAMPBELL. Saint Eleanors, May 23, 1858.

He was a good deal abashed both at the presence of Royalty and the honour conferved upon him. In the gentlest manner, (like a loving mother to her people,) her Majesty set him at his ease and continued her close inquiries on sub-jects connected with the the Church Mis-sionary Society, and Sierra-Leone. They had not quite light enough at the table where the maps were spread out, and the Queen fetched a light from another table, which Mr. Crowther, in turning over the leaves of the atlas' put out, to his great dis-tress; but the Queen immediately lighted it herself, and continued the conversation, asking many questions about the African missions. Mr. Crowther, was asked what sort of questions the Queen asked. He re-plied, "A devoted lady collector could not have asked closer questions on the apritual wants of the people, and the missions." Her Majesty also inquired about the ap-pointment of a bishop, and the auitableness of Mr. Vidal, secently nominated. Mr. Crowther particularised his wonderful know-ledge of languages; whereupon her Majesty turned to the Prince, and said, with a smile "Ab, Albert, you see there are other good linguists besides Germans.!"

THE LATE SULTANA. Constantinance, May 5. The deceased princess was of Christian origin, and in 1811 was hidnapped by Circassian free-booters from a village neit? Anniour, in Georgia, Her father was a wealthy pea-sant, and way killed fighting valiantly for the patietion of his daughter. The girl, for Trabizonde, and from thence was con-ducted to Constantinople and sold for £150 to the clebrated Kosref Pacha, who gave her the romantice name of Bezur-Aalem (assembly of the world), and on account of her besity gave her an education to fit her for the imperial seraglio. She learned to read and write, to play the tambourine, to sing, and to danker, and site acquire these accomplishments with astonishing facility. At the size of 14 she was presented by the Pacha to Heinetullah Sultana, Sultan Mah-moud's eldert sister, with whom she re-mained until she attained the rage of 17, her a dance with astonishing facility. THE LATE SULTANA. mound's eldest sister, with whom she re-1 mained until she attained the age of 17, when, on account of her connectly and beauty, she was given to Sultan Mehmoud, who at once acknowledged her as one of his wives, She had but one son, the present sovereign, Abdul-Mejid, but she always maintained a mandative order and the source and Abdul-Mejid, but she slways mnintained a superiority over all the other women, and was the preferred favourite. The mono-tonous life of the haren is caisly imagined. It is a focus of intrigue and jestousy, and the princess had no occasion to display the talent and therevolence that has since rendered her to popular. When, in June, 1836. Sultan Mahmaud died, and his eldest son, Abdul-Mejid, at the age of 16, buckled on the sword of Oaman, the Princess Bezur-Aster became valid Sultantana, and took the reine of the state in hind. Things went on thus for many years. The son consulted his mother for every aftair, and the mother's injunctions were religiously obeyed. We his mother any years. The son consulted his mother for every affair, and the mother's injunctions were, religiously obeyed. We must shu oras the intrigues of the sultana with Rizz Pacha, they are of too notorious a character ; but up to the last week she was engaged in the public business. She was engaged in the public business. She was naturally parsimonious, but her acts of penevolence are imminerable. She never forget her Christian origin, and protected the followers of her former faith on all possible occasions. She was often to be seen encognite as the lookay (tribunal), in-quiring if justice was done to cares she had decreed and more than one judge has been dismised for acts of intolerance. She often tistled the poorer quarters of this city, and gave aid to the sick and needy, without making known her quality. The treasury allowed her a monthly stipend of £7797, but she expended double that sum, chiefly in acts of charity. She built and endowed the only Turkish civil hospital in Constan-tingle, and gave her name to it. She built and endowed the free school on the Lanzaterian principle, under the direction of Kennel Effendi. She has also contributed towards the building and reparing of many public fountime. The Turkish Steam <text> of Kemal Effendi. She has also contributed towards the building and repairing of many public fountains. The Turkish Steam Company was established by her influences and interest in the concern. The could mines of Hereke are worked for her account. In fine, nost of the anterprising commercial transactions have seen her among the chief charabalders with a view to encouragement. It is strange that the has not endowed, a single manage that the has not endowed, a single manage of Musulman institution, and it is universally believed here that, she still adhered to her Christian faith. She had repeated inquiries and researches made for the members of her family, but they were ineffectual. It is probable that the civil commotions and wars in the Caucasus have long since annihilated and dispersed her relatives.
