CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1921

VOL. XLIX.

NO. 23

Look. Read. Realize!

We cater to the men's trade, and no other. If you were sick you wouldn't call to see a Tailor, or a Blacksmith, about the condition of your health. Of course not; you would call to see a Doctor.

If you wanted a Suit or an Overcoat would you go to see a Doctor, or a Shoemaker? Not at all. You would go to see a First Class Tailor.

WELL, there's where we shine!!! We study the business. We know what suits a young man we know what suits a middle-aged man, and we know what suits the old gentleman—both in goods and in style. It does not make any difference whether you want your clothes Ready-to-Wear, or Made-to-Order. We are equally in a position to suit you. We do not let a suit or overcoat leave our establishment until it suits and fits the man who is buying. Our prices are always right when you take the quality into consideration.

Do not forget that we are sole agents for the famous W. H. Leishman & Co., Wholesale Custom Tailors. We have an elegant stock of Overcoats to show you at the present time.

Overcoats, Made-to-Order-from... $30.00 to $48.00

Overcoats, Ready-to-Wear..... $15.00 to $36.00

Success Is a Habit

Our habits make us. We are creatures of habit. Whether we are a success or a failure is a question of how we do things without thinking. To Save is the only way to success.

Gloves

We have just the kind of Gloves you need lined and unlined. Also Wool Gloves for this time of year. Suedes and Tans—both combination. Price..... $1.00 to $4.00

The Sanctity Of The Priest Of God

Of all things existing, in the world today outside of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament—the most real thing in an unreal world—the most wonderful to me is the Catholic priesthood. Like an oasis in the desert, like a lighthouse on the ocean, there shines before our eyes the beauty, the sanctity, the purity, the nobility of the priests of God, writes a Catholic mother.

To them do we bring our innocent babes to be washed in the cleansing waters of Baptism. To them do we bring our little ones at the age of reason to be purified from their sins in the Sacrament of Penance, confident from the knowledge of past experience ourselves that they will guide their footsteps in the path of virtue from childhood even to old age.

From them do we derive strength in the storms of temptations which beset the human race, consolation in the heavy sorrows which must come to all. At the hour of death our agony is lessened and hope of Heaven brought near by the presence of the holy priest of God, who blesses our last sigh.

And through the Mass of our priests do we receive that Bread of Christ without which our souls would die. Daily if we so desire, and strange to say, many do not desire, we may receive from the consecrated hands of the priest Our Lord, Jesus Christ Himself, who longingly yearns to give Himself to our souls to be our strength.

Do we sustain them by our prayers? In gratitude to God and to them do we and our children pray every day that they may receive more grace, more strength, in their heavy responsibilities? They are not immune from temptations, and we owe them supplications to God. For us they have given up all human ties of affection to consecrate themselves to God and the salvation of souls.

Let us encourage them by our love of God and holiness of life, by the frequent reception of those saving Sacraments without which our souls become starved and withered, destitute of all good fruits.

What a high honor God bestows upon the parents of a priest! What greater blessing could Our Lord give to the beautiful Sacrament of Matrimony, which, through His Church, He has endowed with so much holiness for those who enter upon it rightly in the fear and love of the Lord.

Shall we mothers and fathers not long and desire for that grace to come to our families? Why should we not, like the parents of many great saints, offer up our children to Him, especially our first born sons? He will not accept the offering unless He so desires, but the offering will bring graces to us. We understand that a priest is called and chosen by God, and influence should never be brought to bear. But we should train our children in reverence for the priesthood.

We should encourage virtue at every step of life, make the love of God and Church attractive to our little ones.

Above all we should remember our boys' virtue is as carefully to be watched and tended as our girls. If we expect virtuous young men, we mothers must make our little boys watchful.

Constipation Headaches.

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, head aches, tongue coated, breath bad, specks flash before your eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water brash, jaundice, etc.

Use Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills to make the liver resume its proper functions by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system. Mr. Le Roy Allen, Springfield, N.S., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for the relief Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills have given me. I had been suffering from constipation for three years, and also had bad headaches. I tried all sorts of remedies, but got no relief, until my grandfather told me about your pills. I tried them and soon got relief, and now I would not be without them in my home."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not grip, weaken or sicken like the drastic purgatives do. Price 25c a trial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The C. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

China's Robber Hordes

Stories of brigands sound odd to western ears and seem to belong to story books for boys; but missionaries in Manchuria are not romancing when they tell tales of robber bands that have plundered travelers, destroyed property and demanded ransom in the most approved sensational manner.

Rev. J. Girard, P. F. M., of Changchun, North Manchuria, reports that Chinese robbers are as active as ever, and are devastating whole colonies. They usually send a letter to the chief official of a town, demanding a large sum of money, firearms and ammunition, with the threat of destruction if the valuables are not forthcoming. Usually the official cannot comply, even if he would, and tremblingly awaits annihilation.

Brigands also seized a native priest last January, as he was making a tour on horseback, took his steed, stripped him of most of his clothes, and, after ill-treating him, flung him to the ground and departed. Only a real miracle saved him from dying of cold, but he was in a bad state for a long time after the assault.

As every one knows, the soldiers sent by the Chinese government are useless as a protection, being ex-bandits themselves and anxious to share in the loot. Therefore the harassed missionaries have to rely chiefly on their guardian angels for support.

A SENSIBLE MERCHANT.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders give women prompt relief from monthly pains, and have no bad effects whatever. Be sure you get Milburn's. Price 25 cents a box.

Hearing a crash of glassware one morning, Mrs. Blank called to her maid in the adjoining room. "Nora, what on earth are you doing?"

"I'm doing nothing, mum," replied Nora; it's done."

W. H. O. Wilkinson Streetford says—"It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price 35 cents a box."

Terrible Sufferer From Her Kidneys.

When the kidneys get out of order the back is sure to become affected, and dull pains, sharp pains, quick twinges all point to the fact that the kidneys need attention.

Plasters and liniments may relieve for a short time, but to get rid of these pains you must get right at the seat of the trouble. You can do this by using Doan's Kidney Pills and thus obtain permanent relief.

Mrs. John Stephenson, 115 Stephen St., Kingston, Ont., writes—"I certainly must praise your Doan's Kidney Pills. I was a terrible sufferer from my kidneys. I would have given up in my back and my headaches. I became very weak, and just felt as if I were being dragged down. I tried one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and to my surprise I felt better. I could work hard all day, and my back would not pain me at all. I can't praise you too much."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The C. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE SPEAKER'S CHAIR
Presentation to the House of Commons of Canada of a Replica of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons at Westminster

Presentation made on behalf of the Empire Parliamentary Association, United Kingdom Branch, by Right Hon. James W. Lowther, Joint President of the Association and lately Speaker of the British House of Commons.

Members of the House of Commons and of the Senate assembled at 2.30 o'clock, p. m., Friday, May 20th, Honourable Edgar N. Rhodes, Speaker of the House of Commons, presiding, and the officers of either House in their respective places. His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire, K. G., G. C. M. G., G. C. V. O., P. C., etc., occupied a place at the right of Mr. Speaker. There was present as the guest of honour Right Hon. James W. Lowther, LL. M., D. L., D. C. L. (Oxford and Leeds), LL. D. (Cambridge), M. P., etc., lately Speaker of the British House of Commons and Joint President of the Empire Parliamentary Association. The galleries were filled to overflowing with invited guests and the general public.

Hon. EDGAR N. RHODES, (Speaker of the House of Commons): I would that my duties were all as delightful and agreeable as the one which devolves upon me at the moment. The conventions have prescribed that there should be a formal introduction of speakers on the occasion of a gathering of this character. I am sure however, that it is not a convention which calls upon me to introduce the gentleman who will address you, because his name is well known throughout the British Empire.
It is honoured in parliamentary circles and wherever British government is known, and I need hardly say that it is revered by the House of Commons of Canada. I present to you the Right Honourable James W. Lowther.

Right Hon. JAMES W. LOW-THER: Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House of Commons of Canada: I come here today as the ambassador of the Empire Parliamentary Association, United Kingdom branch. Every ambassador, before he is listened to, has to present his credentials, and I propose, if you will permit me verbally to follow that precedent.
My credentials, then, are that I have been, ever since its inception, the president of the Empire Parliamentary Association—I ought, perhaps, rather to say that I have been a joint president, for my colleague is the Speaker of the House of Lords for the time being, the Lord Chancellor. The Empire Parliamentary Association is, as I think you all know well, an association which was formed ten years ago for the purpose of bringing into contact and communication the members of the different Parliaments of the United Kingdom and of the Dominions which are all under the British flag. That is their chief end and object, and it is carried out in various ways. We are always delighted in London to receive the visits of any members of Dominion Parliaments who happen to come to the metropolis, and we believe that by intercommunication and by the exchange of our respective ideas, the general interests of the Empire, to which we are all devoted, may be best furthered.

I come here, then, as their representative and at their request.

But I have another qualification, I think, to which Mr.
Speaker has just referred. It is that for sixteen years I have presided over the deliberations of the House of Commons, and it is only a week or two ago since I stepped down from the Chair.
Now, my purpose in coming here is to carry to you gentlemen of the House of Commons of Canada the very friendliest greetings and the best wishes of the branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association established in London.

We heard with deep regret of the terrible calamity which overwhelmed your chamber in February, 1916. We were, I think, all the more sympathetic owing to the fact that a similar calamity had almost one hundred years ago overwhelmed the old House of Parliament at Westminster.

And when we heard that you erected for yourselves the magnificent building which I have had this morning an opportunity of inspecting, a number of members, both peers and members of the House of Commons, were anxious to do what they could to assist in completing the beautiful edifice which was being reared in Ottawa. Their first idea, I may tell you, was to offer to you a replica of the Table in the House of Commons—a table which was once described by Mr. Disraeli, when he professed to be alarmed at the gesticulations of Mr.
Gladstone, as "this substantial piece of furniture which happily divides us." On second thoughts, however, it was decided that a table rather connoted conference, but that a chair, a replica of the Speaker's Chair, would be more suitable as being more emblematic of parliamentary institutions and more symbolic of the authority which rests with every Parliament.

Now, the Chair, which for the moment is veiled with the Union Jack, is an exact replica of the Speaker's Chair in the House of Commons, which was erected in that building in 1844. Above the Chair, in the canopy, you will observe, when the flags are removed, the Royal Coat of Arms.
This is carved out of a piece of oak which until recently has formed part of the roof of Westminster Hall. The roof of Westminster Hall was erected in the time of Richard II, in the year 1397.
I think, imitating the celebrated not of Napoleon, I can fairly say that from here, five centuries will look down upon you.

The Chair was designed by the well-known architect, Mr. Pugin, and the replica has been carried out by Sir Frank Baines. The Chair brings to mind the names of eminent statesmen who, from time to time, have addressed its occupant. I need only refer to the great names of Sir Robert Peel, Lord Palmerston, Lord John Russell, Mr. Disraeli, Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Asquith, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Lloyd George. The inscription in front of the Chair, which you will observe when the Chair is more open to view, recalls what I think I may call this historical occasion. The occupants of the Chair, before I had the honour of taking it, were Mr. Shaw Lefevre, Mr.
Denison, Mr. Brand, Mr. Peel and Mr. Gully. And, showing how long-my Parliamentary career has been, I may add that I have seen in the flesh everyone of those gentlemen, and that I have sat in Parliament under no less than three of them.

But the Chair is something more than a mere gift of friendship on the part of the Empire Parliamentary Association towards yourselves. It acknowledges, I think, in its presentation during sixteen stirring and epoch-making years in the history of Great Britain.

As the years roll by new memories, traditions and sentiments will mingle with those of a far-off past challenging and inspiring future generations to maintain those cherished institutions which through the centuries have been inseparably associated with this ancient seat of authority.

We gratefully accept, we thank the donors for this treasured gift, and to you, Mr. Lowther, we are deeply grateful for the honour you have done us in making the presentation in person.

Mr. Speaker then took the Chair.
I am sure we, one and all of us, are grateful to the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association, and particularly to the President who is here and to his co-President.
We value this Speaker's Chair as we value the sense of fellow-citizenship in the British Empire which it is intended to express and to ensure.

Right Hon. Sir ROBERT BOR-DEN (ex-Prime minister of Canada): Mr. Speaker, Your Excellency, Mr. Lowther—Little remains to be said after all that has been so eloquently and appropriately uttered by the Speaker, the Deputy Speaker, and the Prime Minister. May I ask to be associated with them in profound appreciation of this gift from the Empire Parliamentary Association of the United Kingdom; in appreciation also of the presence of Mr. Lowther, whose name is as well known in Canada as it is in the Mother Country, and who has served, not only the United Kingdom but the Empire, in the Speakership of the British House of Commons. Just one thought, perhaps might be added. The parliamentary institutions which we have inherited and which we hold as of right and not of grace, were won by a common ancestry, and through gradual evolution and development during the past five or six centuries. I say a common ancestry, advisedly, because it was under the leadership of Norman Barons that the Saxon people forced the Great Charter from a reluctant Norman King.

The man who summoned the first gathering that might be regarded as the forerunner of the Common House of Parliament of Great Britain, as well as that of Canada, was a Frenchman, born in France. He well served our country by calling together the Commons of England at Westminster on January 20, 1265.
Thus, we can look back with satisfaction upon the fact that Saxon and Norman, five or six hundred years ago, stood side by side in the assertion of liberties that are ours today. With even greater satisfaction we remember that, since the establishment of representative and responsible government in this country, Canadians of French descent have co-operated effectively and wholeheartedly with those of British descent in developing our political institutions and asserting our liberties in this Dominion. It is perfectly true, as has been observed this afternoon, that the present system of parliamentary government has been of gradual evolution. One hundred years ago there was in Great Britain representative government and responsible government, but the House of Commons was then representative of what was called an "educated minority." Today the Parliament of the United Kingdom is representative of nearly the whole people. In Canada the franchise began to be extended somewhat earlier than on the other side of the Atlantic.
It now includes practically the entire community. I am sure that the influence of women in public life in both countries will be for the best. Already in Great Britain, Mr. Lowther has had the honour of having associated with him in Parliament a lady member of the House. So we in the near future, I imagine, may expect to see ladies sitting within the precincts of this chamber. It is even quite possible that some lady of distinguished parliamentary service may eventually attain the Chair, where I am sure she will preside with great dignity and impartiality.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I wish to express my very great gratification that this gift has been made. During all the years to come it will serve as a symbol of the common purpose of these two Commons of Great Britain, and Acceptance would obviously involve the necessity of foregoing a custom which has obtained in Canada almost since the inception of responsible government, that the retiring Speaker should take with him the Chair which he occupied during his term of office.

But the spirit which prompted the proposal of so fine a gift and the accompanying expressions were of such a character that no shadow of doubt as to the acceptance could exist, and accordingly on June 8, 1920, on the motion of the Prime Minister, seconded by the leader of the Opposition, it was unanimously resolved:

That the offer of a Speaker's Chair to the House of Commons of Canada by the Lord Chancellor and the Speaker of the House of Commons, as Joint Presidents, and by the members of the Empire Parliamentary Association in the House of Lords and in the House of Commons of the United Kingdom be most gratefully accepted, and that Mr. Speaker do inform the donors of the high appreciation of this House for the gift, and particularly for the sympathy and goodwill which it expresses.

We now see the Chair in its permanent home. An object of beauty—the finished product of expert craftsmen. It is this, and far more than this. It comes to us surrounded by the Royal Arms carved from the oak of old England, which has viewed from the roof of Westminster Hall the changing scenes of the great Mother of Parliaments since the fourteenth century. It brings with it hallowed associations in its being a replica of the Chair at Westminster, a gift from our brother parliamentarians across the sea. It will be valued because it has been brought to us by one who occupied the original with singular acceptance and disinction during sixteen stirring

and epoch-making years in the history of Great Britain.

As the years roll by new mem-
ancient seat of authority.

We gratefully accept, we thank
the donors for this treasured gift,
deeply grateful for the honour
presentation in person.

Mr. Speaker then took the Chair.
I am sure we, one and all of
us, are grateful to the United
is here and to his co-President.
and to ensure.

one thought, perhaps might be added. The parliamentary in-
gradual evolution and develop-
centuries. I say a common an-
under the leadership of Norman
forced the Great Charter from a
reluctant Norman King.

of Great Britain, as well as that
of Canada, was a Frenchman, born
Commons of England at Westminster on January 20, 1265.
Thus, we can look back with
greater satisfaction we remem-
government in this country, Can-
co-operated effectively and whole-
heartedly with those of British
liberties in this Dominion. It is
evolution. One hundred years ago there was in Great Britain
an "educated minority." Today
Kingdom is representative of
on the other side of the Atlantic.
had the honour of having associated with him in Parliament
a lady member of the House. So
we in the near future, I imagine,
parliamentary service may even-
am sure she will preside with
great dignity and impartiality.

to express my very great gratifi-
the common purpose of these two

cupied during his term of office.
But the spirit which prompted
shadow of doubt as to the accept-
on June 8, 1920, on the motion
of the Prime Minister, seconded
was unanimously resolved:

That the offer of a Speaker's
Chair to the House of Commons
of Canada by the Lord Chancellor
and the Speaker of the House
of Commons, as Joint Presidents,
and by the members of the Empire Parliamentary Association in
the House of Lords and in the House of Commons of the United Kingdom be most gratefully ac-
appreciation of this House for
expresses.

Arms carved from the oak of old
England, which has viewed from
changing scenes of the great
the sea. It will be valued be-
cause it has been brought to us
by one who occupied the original

history of Great Britain.

always with singular dignity and capacity. The name of his family has been associated with the public service of England ever since or almost ever since there was any England to serve.
Within the walls of the British Commons for centuries back there has sat one of his line. It is therefore a memorable event for us that he should signalize the close of a long and distinguished service as first Commoner in the Mother of Parliaments by coming among us and presenting in person this visible and lasting link between the Commons of Britain and the Commons of Canada.

I am sure we, one and all of
us, are grateful to the United
is here and to his co-President.
and to ensure.

DEN (ex-Prime minister of Can-
cellency, Mr. Lowther—Little re-
propriately uttered by the Speaker,
the Deputy Speaker, and the
be associated with them in pro-
name is as well known in Canada as it is in the Mother Country, and who has served, not only
one thought, perhaps might be

January Carnival of Economy FOR OUR
The old year took away, for ever, we hope, the old burden of war prices. For months conditions have been working toward the great climax that brought the remarkable merchandise that is here assembled for this our greatest January Carnival of Economy.
The results came in two ways: 1st. The drastic lowering of prices on our own stocks, down to the new low basis, and often far below it—to double your interest in January buying in our store.
2nd. We have combed the markets—taking utmost advantage of the opportunities created by far sighted manufacturers who were ready to co-operate with us in presenting to you now the lowest prices that will be possible, for the next six months, at least.
We can just see the delight of our Customers when they see the splendid assortment of goods, in every department of our store, and then realize that prices are away down to the bottom, where it is a pleasure to buy things.

Many Manufacturers have ACCEPTED LARGE LOSSES.
We shall forgo a large part of our profits on the new goods and accept large losses on our own mark-downs—to inaugurate this first New Year under the New Management and
THE MOST STIRRING JANUARY PRICE-UPSET THAT THIS COMMUNITY HAS EVER KNOWN.
No matter what you need or desire, now is the best time for months to come to buy it. Some of the reasons are told on this page; but scores of others are here that can get no mention today, even in this broad space.

parliaments; and I trust that this common purpose may ever tend toward the maintenance of liberty, autonomy, and justice towards the attainment of the highest ideals of democracy for which it is our duty constantly to strive.

His Excellency the DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE, Governor-General of Canada:
Mr. Speaker, I hope I may express my grateful thanks to the House of Commons and yourself for having so made the arrangements for this historical and significant occasion as to allow me to be present.

The ceremony we witness this afternoon will hold an honored place in our parliamentary records. The present and future members of the House of Commons will, I know, always have the same respect and veneration for this Chair that their colleagues have for its prototype in the venerable assembly which throughout the Empire we are proud to call the "Mother of Parliaments."

To myself as a former member of the House of Commons the occasion is one of special interest, and that interest is enhanced by the fact that the presentation has been made with characteristic charm and grace by an old House of Commons friend and colleague.

I join with you in the expression of grateful appreciation of the gift, and in the confidence and assurance that the spirit which prompted it is sincerely reciprocated and will still further strengthen the ties which bind the two Parliaments together.

Right Hon. Mr. LOWTHER: The House will forgive me if for one moment I say that in addition to the Chair and in complement to it I have brought, on behalf of the Empire Parliamentary Association, this framed scroll with an inscription in front and a list at the back of all the peers and the members who have subscribed toward the gift which you have so generously and so amiably accepted.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem by all present, and before the meeting dispersed hearty cheers were given for His Excellency the Governor General and the Right Honourable Mr. Lowther.

Five Year Old Boy Drowned Yesterday
One of the saddest drowning accidents for sometime occurred yesterday about noon, when little Victor Jewers, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jewers, was found drowned off Prince Street wharf.

One of the saddest drowning accidents for sometime occurred yesterday about noon, when little Victor Jewers, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jewers, was found drowned off Prince Street wharf. The little chap, as was usual, wandered off to play about noon and when looked for could not be found, although no anxiety for his safety was felt. Later Mr. Parsons who happened to be coming up the wharf noticed a small body in the water. He immediately hurried by the wharf for help, and assisted by Mr. McMillan of the Lannox Hotel and several others fished the body up and started in to restore respiration until Dr. Dewar, who was summoned came, but to no avail for the Doctor soon found that life was extinct and it is thought the body was in the water from noon until about 1.30 when discovered. The heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to the suddenly bereaved family.

Local and Other Items

More men die of idleness than hard work.

When anything unexpected happens there is always someone who says, "I told you so."

Canada got a real start in the face of an adverse tariff, and this is not a generation of quitters.

Near Indian Head, Maryland, about 40 miles from Washington, seven men were killed the other day in the wreck of an Army Curtis Eagle Ambulance Aeroplane.

At North Bay, David Thuson, in the employ of Homer Stockdale, ice merchant, while taking out a load of ice from the ice house a few days ago, was instantly killed by a block of ice falling on his head.

A man walking on the C.P.R. track near Brockville, Ontario, was instantly killed by being struck by a train. He disregarded the danger signals of the engineer and is thought to have been an escaped patient from an Insane Hospital not far away.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Mrs. J. S. Lamb, a nurse, was drowned, when a taxi cab into which she had just stepped backed off the dock into the river. It appears the motor went wrong. The chauffeur and his friend who cranked the car are under arrest.

A wireless message received in Boston a few days ago reported that a mutiny had occurred on board the United States Mail Co's Steamer Susquehanna on her way to that port, when 125 miles off the coast. The message added that "the men are in irons and everything is quiet."

At Ludlow, Mass., a short time ago, William Mahar, a great war veteran, who served in the British army, returned from overseas to find his name listed on the town honor roll of those killed in action. He had been wounded and was taken prisoner. Subsequently he escaped from the German prison after 15 months confinement.

At New Orleans a few days ago, 2,400 quarts of whiskey which had been in a bonded warehouse, having come from Canada and was in the act of being removed to a steamer for transportation to Central America, turned out to be nothing else than water. The Customs Officials are at a loss to know just when the transformation from whiskey to water took place. A leak in one of the bottles gave the officials a cue.

A Hand On Your Shoulder

When a man ain't got a cent, And he's feeling kind of blue, And the clouds hang dark and heavy...

Sheila

Katied had the grand eyes and Delia had a way with her, And Mary had the Saint's face...

The Little Dutchman

Herman was too ignorant and 'green'—the boys would have said—to carry the message to the manager...

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism...

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Removes the cause of rheumatism—no outward application can. This is He stood for a moment irresolute, frightened by the exhibition of the manager's anger...

The Naughty Angel

(By Mary Elizabeth Lewis) With a critical eye Sister Rosario looked around her classroom—at the older girls deeply interested in problems of compound interest...

Living Machine

A few years ago flying machines were hardly thought of, nor was Scott's Emulsion in summer. Now Scott's Emulsion is as much a summer as a winter remedy.

WHOOPIING COUGH Her 3 Children Had It.

This disease begins like a simple cold in the head that rapidly goes to the chest. The cough is at first short and sharp, but gradually increases in severity and occurs in sudden spasms.

we will need angels—younger children—to lead the communicants up to the altar and back to their seats. Now, it seems to me that you two will be just the right children to serve in this capacity.

Furs. Furs.

—SHIP TO US DIRECT— THE TOP MARKET PRICE PAID AND EQUITABLE GRADING MADE —NO DELAYS AT ANY POINT—

We are registered with and recognized by the United States War Trade Board and all of the Collectors for Customs under licence P. B. F. 30; and you can send your furs to us direct by our tag or any tag, changed to suit to marked "Furs of Canadian Origin," and your furs will come right through.

FAIR GRADING

The rules and ethics of the exchange do not permit us sending out alluring price lists, yet we give you an exact and expert grading and pay you at a rate of five to twenty five cents more on the dollar than the average advertising fur company, as we cut out all middleman's profit in dealing direct with you.
