WHAT might have been a serious accident happened to Mr. Allan Sharp and family of Watford. While coming down the hill in front of H. McKenzie's house, the front truss rod of his auto broke, allowing the wheels to go as they pleased. A TOWN that never has anything to do in a public way, is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig its grave. A man that curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to town affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise for his town is helping to dig its grave. The man who is so stingy as to be howling hard times, can't afford to spend money, preaches the funeral and sings the doxology, and the poor old town lies buried from all sorrow and care.

THE school children who have received their certificates and general proficiency certificates, and are to be promoted to the fall, all deserve their success and their holiday, for they have all worked very hard at their tasks, both in school hours and at home lessons. The home lessons indeed are to-day quite a tax upon the child, for what with Latin and French, arithmetic, spelling, grammar, history, geography, and what not, they often consume evening after evening. Besides congratulating the boys and girls who have passed, we offer a word of cheer to those who have failed. If it was not their own fault they need not be down-hearted. As the old jingle goes: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again."

IT IS A FREQUENT occurrence for business men of Watford to be compelled to remain in their places of business until midnight on Saturdays. On a recent Saturday night trading continued until after ten o'clock, and even sample lamps were brought into use. Often the last persons to buy goods are those who have been in town for several hours and could have ordered earlier in the evening. The merchants should be fair to each other and agree upon a stated hour to close, and close promptly at that time. Customers would be as well served and would fall into line on a Saturday night arrangement just as easily and as agreeably as they did when the "open every evening" system was abolished, and just as much business would be done. Delivery wagons should be called in earlier. No goods should be delivered at the midnight hour. Town buyers should order their supplies earlier in the day. It would save worry and relieve the hard worked clerks. Some of the ladies, too, make a practice on Saturday night of doing their shopping after ten o'clock, and even sample goods without buying. Of course the Guide-Advocate has no business to say when people shall buy, but honesty and fair treatment of ever-obliging business men, clerks and delivery boys should urge buyers not to trespass upon time that should be held sacred. Remember the Golden Rule.

Robert Cantelon, an employee of the Petrolen Wagon Company, was seriously injured there Monday. He had been working on a buzz saw for the past two weeks, and while ripping a piece of pine was in the act of drawing the piece back when the corner caught in the saw, whirling it under the guard and catching him in the abdomen. Little hope is held out for his recovery. It is thought that lack of experience was the cause of the accident.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION RESULTS.

The Entrance Board of Examiners for East Lambton Inspectorate completed the work of examining the papers and forwarded their report to the Education Department on July 13th. Owing however to a new Regulation no announcement of the results can be made until a reply is received from the Department confirming the report. As the reply has not been received in time the results do not appear in this week's paper but will be published next week.

The Examination as a whole appeared to be a very fair test. Between 55 and 60 per cent. of those who wrote at the various centres in East Lambton were successful. This is a better showing than last year but not quite up to the average of the two or three years previous.

He promptly ran away from Mr. Wilkinson, the society's agent, burglarized Fuller & Cooke's butcher shop here, ran off with a livery rig belonging to W. D. HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS

WATFORD, JULY 21, 1911.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The Chicago Tribune says there have been 500 murders in that city since the last hanging. Chicago seems to be a tolerably safe town for murderers.

Michigan is an automobile State, yet in the last ten years the value of its horses has increased from $35,000,000 to $71,000,000. There appears to be no danger of the horse becoming extinct before the proud and swift automobile.

During the last year, according to Government figures, the people of Canada drank an average of 895 gallons of spirits per head, 5,434 gallons of beer and 1.04 of wine, and smoked 3.11 pounds of tobacco. This is a considerable increase over the returns of the previous year.

In the two largest cities in America there is a vast loss of baby-life. In New York during 1910 over 16,000 babies died of preventable diseases. In Chicago during the same year 3,500 children died. And in all other cities the proportion of deaths was practically the same.

Much interest is being taken by the people in different places along the lakes by the erection of the Dominion Topographical survey towers. These towers are being erected all along the International border by the American and Canadian governments for the purpose of securing an accurate survey of the altitude of the country. There is a great deal of wonderment and speculation on the part of the farmers as to what they are for, one farmer giving as his opinion that they were erected so that one farmer could see what the other farmer was doing. They are being erected from 20 to 30 miles apart, and the survey will be taken in the night time with lights. It will also be possible to communicate from one to the other with heliograph instruments.

The Apple Crops.

The prospects for Ontario apples have changed very little since last month. The bloom was excellent, but of a very short duration. The wood growth has been ample, with fewer pests than usual, with a few local exceptions. Only Nova Scotia reports a full crop in early, fall and winter apples. On the other hand no district reports a failure. The aggregate of the crop, therefore, is likely to be larger than would appear from a casual examination of a few orchards. The most noticeable shortage will be in Baldwins and Spies in Ontario; but Greenings, Duchess and Ben Davis appear to be fairly good or excellent everywhere. The prospects for peaches are still good. Early varieties are showing particularly well. The Crawford varieties will probably be quite short. The Yellow St. John is a medium crop or slightly above it; the Smoock is also good; Elberta is somewhat better than last year. The crop will be very light in British Columbia and will not supply the local market.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Effects of an Education.

A young lady recently returned from one of our educational institutions, where she had spent a couple of years in attaining the accomplishments and culture which an education is supposed to produce, says Onward. Unfortunately, however, her friends saw a great difference in her relations to her old friends and associates after her return home. Her stay at college had the effect of making her haughty and causing her to look with a certain amount of disdain upon the companions of former years. Such conduct is a certain proof of a superficial education, for real culture and attainment always manifest themselves in humility and simplicity.

Some time ago a professor in Chicago University made the statement that he would consider his pupils educated in the highest sense if they could answer affirmatively such questions as the following:

Has your education made you public-spirited, so you are willing to be a brother to the weak?

Do you see anything to love in a little child?

Can you be high-minded and happy in the meanest drudgery of life?

Do you think washing dishes and hoeing corn just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?

Can you look out on the world and see anything besides dollars and cents?

Can you see anything in a mud puddle but mud?

To be able to answer such questions affirmatively is to possess the mind which true education imparts.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

Strathroy Lady Saves Lives of Children.

Strathroy, July 12.—During the recent heavy rains in Saskatchewan Mrs. H. C. Pope, of Moose Jaw, going home from an afternoon call, saw two children slip into a deep tank filled with water lying in an excavation for a new building. Hurrying to their rescue, the lady was able to save the drowning children by herself plunging into the muddy water nearly over her head in depth. But Mrs. Pope forgot afterward everything but the endangered children, and, although a candidate for the life-saving medal, had an unfashionable walk home. Mrs. Pope is a daughter of the late Dr. Bucke, superintendent of the London asylum.

Bosanquet Farmer Injured.

Matthew Watson, a well-known farmer of Bosanquet Township, six miles north of Forest, was on Thursday seriously, if not fatally, injured. He was at work unloading hay in the barn and while at work on a ladder he broke and he fell to the barn floor. He had his left shoulder bone broken and his skull cracked and up to a late hour had not recovered consciousness. The pain has crazed him and two men had to hold him down and prevent him from doing damage to himself. His recovery is doubtful.

Instead of calling a man a liar tell him he is given to an artificial recollection of misleading statistics. Putting an old thing in a new way may help to bring him to repentance.

The healthy glow disappearing from the cheek and moaning and restlessness at night are sure symptoms of worms in children. Do not fail to get a bottle of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; it is an effectual medicine.

You longed for a certain thing for 20 years. Finally you got it; as good as you had dreamed of, and better. Were you satisfied? No; you at once began looking for something else.

Dared to bid on a rickety old couch at an auction sale of second-hand furniture at Elgin, Ill., George W. Pickering bid 13 cents and it was knocked down to him. In breaking up the old couch for firewood, at home, he found it contained coins to the amount of $200, besides several jewels and trinkets, etc.

DO NOT DELAY.—Do not let a cold or cough fasten upon you as it will if neglected. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will break up a cold and cure a cough, and should be resorted to at once when the first symptoms appear. It can be disguised so that any unpleasant taste it may have will be imperceptible to the delicate. Try it and be convinced.

In honor of the Indian warrior-chief, Tecumseh, the citizens of Thamesville are about to place in the battlefield a boulder commemorating the battle of Moraviantown, in which he fell. John McDowell, on whose farm the site of the battle is, has agreed to the project and the citizens of Thamesville are contributing the funds. The Women's Institute of South Essex have also got busy on a project to raise a memorial somewhere in the vicinity of Fort Malden, which was the scene of his triumphs on behalf of the British cause. They are collecting funds and will probably erect a shaft or fitting monument. There's no denying the fact that Tecumseh was one of the most picturesque as well as one of the noblest figures in the war of 1812, and his heroism should be recognized in some way on the centennial of his death.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.

PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.

PRIZE "D"—$50.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph was done.

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity. As an illustration of this: in prizes "C" and "D" the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book, you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.

THE SPREADING PLAGUE.

It Has Become, in a Measure, a World-wide Menace.

The terrible bubonic plague, which appeared in Hongkong in 1894, spread from there to Bombay and in the next twelve years carried off more than 6,000,000 victims, has been almost quiescent for the past few years, but in 1910 it appeared in a virulent form in Harbin, has since spread to other cities and is now a worldwide menace.

More alarming than the reappearance of the disease in Manchuria is the discovery of the disease in the eastern coastwise counties of England, where several deaths have occurred.

Until 1906 little was known regarding the mode of propagation of this terrible disease, although the disease itself is as old as history. In 1906 the Indian plague research commission definitely traced the spread of the epidemic to the fleas on the black rats of the country. The rats themselves have the disease. A flea which sucks the blood of the rat takes the germs into its stomach. If the flea bites a human being within a period of three weeks the germs are transferred and the human being contracts the disease.

Until recently it had been supposed that only the black rat is susceptible to the plague and that only the flea known as Pulex cheopis could transfer it. Later discoveries, however, have shown that the common brown or Norway rat is also liable to the disease and that it may be transferred by the ordinary rat flea.

Still another matter of great interest has been disclosed by the cases in England, which are not the bubonic, but the even more deadly and more dangerous pneumonic plague. The bubonic form, in which the lymphatic glands swell and suppurate, is transferable only through some such medium as the rat and the flea. The pneumonic form, on the other hand, is directly infectious.—Youth's Companion.

FELLING BIG TREES.

The Great Waste That Comes With Making Up Their Beds.

In logging operations the felling of one of the big trees requires much skill in order that it may not be broken in the fall, as such an accident means perhaps the loss of fully $500, owing to the value of the wood. As yet, however, the old method prevails of cutting it part of the way through with the crosscut saw worked by two men, the ax being used for an incision on the opposite side, the trunk being felled by means of wedges.

In felling the tree, a number of smaller ones are frequently cut down to form a bed on which it may fall so that it will not break on account of its weight. Here is a great waste, since the felling of a fir 150 tons in weight may require the sacrifice of a group of other trees which at maturity would equal it in size. In the "clearings" may be seen thousands of the young trees which have been cut down merely for "beds."

Undoubtedly a mechanical system could be utilized in the work, such as a portable power derrick, the top of which could be attached to a tree by the block and tackle system, thus allowing the trunk when cut through to be lowered gradually by means of ropes of steel cable without the timber being injured and the crushing of the smaller trees near it.—W. A. Day in Cassier's Magazine.

The Preponderance of Evidence.

"Sorry," said the constable, "but I'll have to arrest you. You been drivin' along at the rate of fifty miles an hour."

"You are wrong, my friend," said the driver. "I say I wasn't, and here's a ten dollar bill that says I wasn't."

"All right," returned the constable, pocketing the money. "With eleven to one against me, I ain't goin' to subject the county to the expense of a trial."—Harper's Weekly.

The Dead Sea is Spreading.

The Dead sea is encroaching upon the land about it so rapidly in this decade that whole forests of trees which formerly grew at some distance from its banks are now partially submerged. Maps of the sea made twenty years ago show an island near the northern extremity of the lake which was not found during a recent survey, and it is supposed that this has been lost in the rising waters. The Turkish government sold the mining rights on the shores to a syndicate for about $350,000, and if the sea for some unknown reason continues to rise these holdings will be almost unattainable.

Cards For the Puppies.

A novelty in Paris is the lap dog visiting card. Poms and pugs which go visiting with their mistresses in fashionable circles have their own tiny pasteboards tucked away in little pockets of their outdoor coats. Such dogs have two sets of cards, which are duly left on other dogs at the houses where they are calling with their mistresses. One card gives the dog's real name and its race, while the other records its pet name joined to the family name of its owner. Cards are left according to the pedigree of the dog visited.

Australia and Our Canal.

The advantage of the Panama canal to Australia is thus referred to in a Melbourne paper: "It means that in another three or four years we shall have to rearrange our mail service to Europe and our whole oceanic transportation service. The Suez route to Britain will go by the board—must go—because the Panama canal will shorten the journey to and from Britain by several days and thus put all users of the new route in possession of an incomparable economic advantage over users of the old."

A Famous War Fleet.

The battleships of the Atlantic fleet which sailed out of Hampton Roads in December, 1907, on the famous around the world cruise—the Alabama, Illinois, Maine, Missouri, Ohio, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Wisconsin and New Jersey—have passed from the first fighting line. Today every one of them is listed "in reserve," and their places in the fleet have been taken by newer and more powerful ships.—Argonaut.

Power of Praise.

There is one thing which no man however generously disposed, can give, but which every one, however poor, is bound to pay. This is praise. He cannot give what is dependent for its very existence on something in another can never become to him a possession, nor can he justly withhold it when the presence of merit claims it as a consequence.

BRONCHITIS, COUGHS,

CATARRH

Throw medicine to the dogs. At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You are suffering from some disease of the throat, nose, or lungs. Doctors call it Bronchitis, Asthma, or Catarrh, or it is a slight or severe cold. Germs cause these diseases—they have a common root.

Catarrhazone destroys disease germs, but it does more, it heals disease tissue.

CATARRHAZONE is little drops of healing carried by air to the exact place where Catarrh exists. Observe, Catarrhazone not only destroys the cause, but immediately repairs the result of diseased condition.

Catarrhazone means little drops of healing carried by air and placed over the lungs, throat, and nasal passages. Catarrhazone is endorsed by doctors, druggists, and by thousands of Canadian people who have used it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Paper bag cookery is the latest fad in England. Articles to be cooked are placed in specially prepared bags, sealed, and placed in the oven. The results are said to be most satisfactory.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. If there is an opportunity to benefit the town take advantage of it. Don't put on a long face and act as if you had the stomach ache. Hold up your head and look for better things. Don't knock. Hide your little hammer and try to speak well of others. No matter how small you may know yourself to be.

The Presbyterian General Assembly Committee of Estimates and Systematic Giving has decided to do all in its power to have the minimum stipend of Presbyterian ministers increased to $1,000 per annum. At present the minimum stipend is $850. It is felt by the committee that the minimum stipend should keep pace with the cost of living. It was further decided that an effort would be made to raise $1,000,000 for the missionary and educational work this year. The demands of the home mission field particularly were thought to be greater than ever before. Each synod will be asked to assume its share of the $1,000,000, and apportion that amount among the Presbyterians within its bounds. Each Presbytery in turn will be asked to allocate its share among the congregations within its bounds.

Canon Craig has for many years been one of the leading figures of the synod and his departure from Petrolia will be generally regretted.

Thamesville ladies have been very successful in their canvas for funds for the Tecumseh granite tablet to mark the battlefield of Moraviantown. The following inscription will be placed on the tablet:—"Here on October 5th, 1813, was fought the Battle of the Thames, and here Tecumseh fell. Erected by the citizens of Thamesville, A. D., 1911."

Wm. Hopwood, Petrolia, was arrested on Friday night for being drunk and placed in the cells. During the night he made a blanket rope and attempted to commit suicide but was prevented by Chief Ferguson who cut him down. Next morning William appeared before P. M. McKenzie but having no money was given a seat of dishonor on the Indian list for the fourth time.

A bolt of lightning struck one of the pinnacles at the south end of the Methodist Church, Parkhill on Monday, almost demolishing it and setting it on fire. The fire had gained considerable head way before the alarm was turned in. The fire brigade were promptly on the spot and soon had the fire under control. Fortunately the pillar on which the pinnacle stood was solid, so that the fire did not spread to other parts of the building.

PLYMPTON

Mrs. John Dewar left last week for Winnipeg on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. Geo. Stirrett, and her daughter, Miss Mamie.

Miss McDougall, who has been teaching in the Kerch school for the past two years, has resigned and is engaged for S. S. No. 7, 6th con., at a salary of $525. The trustees of S.S. No. 8, Kerch have engaged a Miss Squires to succeed Miss McDougall, who comes well recommended.

Mr. Henry Capes has let the contract for a frame mansion 24 by 30 feet, with a kitchen 12 by 16 feet, a cement foundation and a grand cellar of cement. Mr. Foster, of Wyoming, has the contract for the carpenter work and the plastering will be done by Mr. Hyke. They are hard at work this week.

One of the best Orange sermons ever delivered in St. James' church, Wanstead, was listened to by the Orangemen of Wanstead and Wyoming L. O. Lodges on July 8th, and was one of the best you correspond ever heard. Rev. J. M. Gunne gave an eloquent and interesting account of the Battle of the Boyne, which was considered one of the greatest victories won for the Protestant religion, by William III., Prince of Orange.

Mr. Fred Lawson, of Hyde Park station, who has been night operator at Wyoming during Mr. O'Neil's illness, is now in charge of the Wanstead station to succeed Mr. Cossey, who has been pensioned off by the G.T.R. and who removed this week to London. It is to be hoped that his successor will continue the good work begun by his predecessor in getting rid of smoking and other bad habits indulged in. Mr. Cossey deserves every praise for the reformation after his arrival in having the station kept in the best of order.

Death of Mr. Robt. Anderson.

The death of Mr. Robert Anderson, who was one of the oldest residents of Warwick, being in his 92nd year, occurred at his home on the 2nd line, on Friday, July 7th, 1911. Mr. Anderson's parents, who came from Scotland, settled in Carleton Place, where their son Robert was born Feb. 19th, 1820. In 1841 he was married to Miss Margaret Stobbie of that place, but formerly of Scotland. In 1855 Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and family came to Warwick and settled on the farm where Mr. Anderson's death took place. They set to work with great courage, resolution and industry to make for themselves a home in this new country, which though sparsely settled was still in a primitive state. Shortly after, in the year 1859, Mrs. Anderson died, leaving her companion with a young family to meet the difficulties and hardships common to the early settlers. However, their united efforts were crowned with success and their portion of the country was converted into one of the best equipped and most up-to-date farms in the township. The deceased was a member of Warwick Methodist Church for a number of years but afterwards united with Bethel Church, of which he was a loyal and consistent member, showing especially in the latter years of his life a beautiful faith and reliance on the goodness and love of God. His kindness of disposition, honorable and upright dealings, won for him a most affectionate regard from friends and neighbors. Although he took such a keen interest in the work of his own church his sympathies were not confined to that field of labor alone since it was he who gave the land on which was built the first Congregational church in these parts, known as Zion. Generous hospitality in Mr. Anderson's home was always accorded the ministers of that church, especially in its early history, while he and his family often liberally assisted in the social and religious affairs of the church. In politics he was a staunch Reformer. Three sons, namely John, Peter and James, all of Warwick, the latter on the homestead, and one daughter, Mrs. Peter McRorie, of Naseby, Sask., survive him, his daughter Mary having predeceased him about four years ago. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place at Bethel cemetery on Sunday morning at 10.30, a short service being held at the house, when Messrs. Thomas and Nicholas Luckham, two life-long friends of the deceased, sang that old familiar hymn "All is well." The service was conducted by the Rev. H. Fair, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. W. Vance, who is visiting at his home here. Mr. Fair's text was taken from the tenth verse of the nineteenth Psalm. The pall bearers were Messrs. Wm. McKenzie, W. H. Luckham, Donald McLeay, R. J. McCormick, M.P.P., William James, John McCormick, Kingscourt, and other tributes were one from Zion Cong'l. Church.

The Late Mrs. Nathaniel Seed.

Death came very suddenly to the home of Nathaniel Seed, lot 12, con. 2, N.E.R., Adelaide, and called "his beloved wife, Annie, to the home above, on June 30th, 1911.

She and her cousin, Mrs. Edgar Kerton, of Strathroy, had gone to Highgate to spend the holiday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Richard Swanton. They had been there but three short hours when deceased suddenly fell off the chair. Medical aid was summoned but life was extinct due to heart failure. Her remains were brought home on Saturday by train to Mt. Brydges.

Her maiden name was Annie Clark, second daughter of James and Anne Clark. She was born on 16th July, 1860, on Con. 2, N.E.R., Adelaide, and was married to Nathaniel Seed on April 27th, 1882, and settled near her old home. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides a loving husband, one daughter and four sons, viz.:—Maud, Alex., Leo, Fred and John. She was a woman of sterling character and will be missed by all who knew her. The news of her sudden death was a great shock to her sorrowing family and the community in which she lived.

"Dearest loved one thou hast left us
Here thy loss we deeply feel
But 'tis God who hath bereft us
He can all our sorrows heal."

The funeral was held on Monday July 3rd, at 2 o'clock. Service was conducted by Rev. Deihl of Adelaide Anglican church. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place, in Strathroy cemetery. The pall bearers were four cousins and two nephews of deceased, viz.:—Swanton Reycraft, Hales Chambers, Fred Westgate, Edgar Kerton, Fred Conkey and Sam Wiley.

Shipley—Batchelor.

A pretty event took place at "Fairview," Warwick, Wednesday, July 5th, at the home of Mrs. Robt. Campbell, when her younger daughter, Miss Lozetta Gertrude Batchelor, was united in marriage to William J. Shipley, M.D., of Calgary, Alberta, at high noon, by Rev. H. J. Fair, assisted by Rev. B. C. Simmons. The bride, who was given away by her mother, looked very charming in a gown of ivory over ivory satin with pearl trimmings and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. She wore the groom's gift, a sunburst of pearls. Miss Pearl McCormick, daughter of Mr. Robt. J. McCormick, M.P.P., cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue with silver and satin trimmings and carried pink roses. Her gift from the groom was a bar pin set with pearls. Miss Louisa McCormick, cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march while Miss Ida Westman of London, rendered a violin solo, "Eli-gar's Love Song" during the signing of the register. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room which was tastefully decorated with pink roses and ferns while a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The presents which were many and very beautiful showed the high esteem in which the young people were held. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for eastern points before returning to their home in Calgary. The bride's going-away gown was navy blue broadcloth with hat to match.

True Sympathy.

The thin man darted across the platform.

"Will you hold the train a moment for my wife, conductor?" he gasped.

"She is just crossing the street."

"Can't do it," snorted the conductor as he raised his hand to signal the engineer.

"B-but, conductor, she's going away to stay six months," cried the thin man. "If she doesn't go now she may change her mind."

"I'll hold it," replied the conductor.

Just What He Said.

"I don't believe a word you have said," snapped the skipper, "but I'll tell you what I do believe—that you are a confounded sea lawyer and that you would talk the hind leg off of a donkey. Did you hear what I said?"

"Yes, sir," replied Aole Seaman Danks sulkily.

"What did I say?"

"You said that you believe I would talk your leg off, sir!"—London Express.

Withdrawn.

"Bobby, you mustn't make fun of the young man who comes to see Myrtle. He is not so awfully thin."

Gas Distended His Stomach

Caused Palpitation, and Prevented Sleep—When Health Was Gone, Cure Followed Use of "Nerviline."

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveler of Hartford, "that every-one with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the traveling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds, and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the aches and ailments of the entire family—refuse anything but Nerviline. 50¢ per bottle, trial size 25¢, all dealers or The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE CURES ALL PAIN

TOO MUCH ZEAL.

Little Actress Came In on Her Line a Bit Too Soon.

Mr. H. B. Irving has left for Australia, and will be lost to English playgoers for a considerable time. Mr. Irving was born forty years ago, and was educated at Marlborough and New College, Oxford. As a boy, he appeared in "H.M.S. Pinafore," at the late Edmund Routledge's house, and made his real first appearance on the stage as Lord Beaufoy in "School," at the Garrick Theatre eighteen years ago.

The well-known actor has been described as one of the greatest students of human nature on the stage. He is an ardent student of criminology (he has been called to the Bar, by the way), and some time ago published a clever book entitled "Studies of French Criminals."

Mr. Irving has recounted a good story of his researches while writing his book on Judge Jeffreys. One day at Ipswich he visited the house where the notorious judge had stayed. It had been turned into a shop, and it was possible to buy theatre tickets there. "Can you tell me anything of Jeffreys' visit to Ipswich?" politely inquired the actor of the assistant behind the counter. "I'm afraid I don't know him, sir," was the reply; and, looking at his plan, the assistant added, "he hasn't booked a seat this week, anyway!"

Mr. Irving once remarked that he had never known an actor to break down completely on a first night; on the other hand, excess of zeal once ruined a scene during a first night in Glasgow.

For the part of the young prince in "Charles the Second," a little Scotch girl had been engaged. She had been carefully coached, and, except for a slight tendency to drop into dialect, all went well until she appeared in the poignant scene where Mr. Irving, as Charles, has an agonizing leave-taking with his wife and children, and goes out to execution.

"Promise me," Charles says to the little prince, "that you will take care of your mother. And swear that you will never let them make you king while your brothers Charles is alive."

To which the child is supposed to reply: "I'll be torn to pieces first."

On this dreadful night, however, Mr. Irving only got so far as, "Promise me that you will take care of your mother." "I'll be torn to pieces first—rest," was the annihilating reply.

NEVER FORGET THIS!

When packing for the country cottage, don't forget your box of Zam-Buk and your Zam-Buk Soap!

Purely herb in its composition, Zam-Buk is superior to the ordinary ointments containing animal oils and fats, and mineral coloring matter. All druggists and stores 50¢. Use also Zam-Buk Soap. Best for Baby's bath and for tender skin. 25¢ tablet.

Derivation of Blue Monday.

The term blue Monday was derived from a custom prevalent in the sixteenth century of decorating the churches in Europe with blue colors on the Monday before Lent. The fashion of making a holiday of this particular Monday, especially for those whose vocations compelled them to work on Sunday, was subsequently transferred to all Mondays. Excesses produced by the celebration, rested in string of enactments on the subject, and finally the custom was abolished. One tradition has it that the name originated from the Monday holiday revels, which generally left blue marks upon the faces of quarrelsome persons.

As She Would Have Been.

A gentleman in Paris paid a visit to a lady, in whose parlor he saw a portrait of a lovely woman of, say twenty-five. Upon the entrance of the lady her visitor naturally asked her if the picture was a family portrait and was told that it represented her deceased daughter. "Is it long since you lost her?" asked the gentleman. "Alas, sir," replied the lady, "she died just after her birth, and I had a portrait painted to represent her as she would have appeared if she had lived until now!"

MILD IN THEIR ACTION.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are very mild in their action. They do not cause griping in the stomach or cause disturbances there as so many pills do. Therefore, the most delicate can take them without fear of unpleasant results. They can, too, be administered to children without imposing the penalties which follow the use of pills not so carefully prepared.

The CALL

By CLARISSA MACKIE

ciation, 1911.

Sylvia Moore was visiting at her uncle's Texas ranch when she read the faring headlines announcing that Timothy Robeson's regiment had been ordered to El Paso to take part in the maneuvers on the Mexican border.
She stared at the newspaper until the members of the family made no secret of their alarm.

"What is the matter, Sylvia?" demanded Annie Lake curiously. "Has Timothy eloped with a pretty widow, or is he the victim of?"
"He might as well be dead and buried," cried Sylvia tragically as she threw the paper across the table.
"He's gone to war."

"War!" they repeated. "What war?"
"Why, the war with Mexico, of course. Hasn't the president ordered a large force to the border?"
Mr. Lake picked up the newspaper and read aloud the surprising intelligence that the war department had ordered a large body of men, arms and supplies to El Paso to take part in army maneuvers. He read that troops were already on the way and that within a few days at the latest a tented city would spring up beside the southwestern border.

Last of all he announced that the regiment of which Timothy Robeson was a lieutenant was on its way to Texas.

"On the strength of this report you are positive that Tim's going to be killed?" asked her uncle, with a quizical smile at Sylvia.

"Yes," said Sylvia positively. "I had the queerest feeling when I said good-by to him in New York. You know
he's always joking, and when he said,
'Be sure to return in time to dance
at your own wedding, Sylvia,' it came over me that I might never come back;
that there might never be a wedding at all. But I never thought of Tim being the one." Tears came into Sylvia's forgetful eyes, and her cousin extended a sympathizing handkerchief.

"Pooh!" uttered Mr. Lake contemptuously. "You make me extremely weary, Sylvia. As an American girl
I thought you had more pride of country than to weep because your young man is called to arms."

"A man's first duty cannot always be to his country. Oh, I know that's reasonable or something horrible, but I would not have thought so much about it if we had not gone over to El Paso the other day and witnessed all the fighting across the river in Juarez."

"We didn't see very much, just some puffs of smoke and lots of noise. It wasn't nearly as bloody as I anticipated," remarked Annie thoughtfully.
"I saw enough. I wouldn't go there again for anything in the world," declared Sylvia, rising from her chair and dropping a good night kiss on her aunt's unconscious brow.

"Then you won't ride into El Paso with me on Thursday and see the troops arrive?" suggested Mr. Lake, returning to his newspaper with an indifferent air. "Want to go, Ann?"
"Of course I do, dad. And you, Sylvia?" she questioned her cousin.
"I must go, too!" cried Sylvia eagerly.
"Why, I might see Timothy,
there."

"You probably will, my dear, if he has arrived." And Mr. Lake buried himself in his newspaper, this time oblivious to everything save the good night kisses, to which he submitted with genuine pleasure.
The next morning Sylvia and Annie mounted their horses and rode to the farthest boundaries of the ranch.
From here, on the highest ridge, they paused and looked under shading hands toward the southwest, where a cloud hung over the place where was the city of El Paso.

"Perhaps by tomorrow he will be there," said Sylvia aloud.
Annie nodded her black curls. "It may be that he will arrive today," she suggested, with a gleam of amusement in her dark eyes.
Sylvia's blue eyes turned to the eastern horizon, where against the pale gray blue of the sky there blurred a dark plume of smoke. "Perhaps that is his train now, Ann." She pointed with her whip at the smoke.
"It may be, honey. I think you're the luckiest girl in the world, Sylvia Moore. Tim's such a fine fellow. I wonder!" Annie stopped abruptly and fell to musing, with her black eyes fixed on the rolling alfalfa that rippled before her.
"What do you wonder?" asked Syl-

The Warning of Mr. Geo. C.
Fox Is One That Should Be Heeded by All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the West are legion.
In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train
the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation
I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching."
"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill,
and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's.
They cure headache, biliousness, constipation, bad stomach, and keep the system in perfect condition."

via curiously, withdrawing from her own reverie.
"I was wondering if you really meant what you said about asking Tim to stay away from a battle if there is to be one," said Annie, her eyes now gravely fixed on her cousin.

"A man owes some duty to the girl
he loves, and there are plenty of men who can fight for the country—men who have no friends or relatives or have no ties to bind them. How selfish I am, Annie, and yet somehow I can only seem to think of two things today. One is Timothy Robeson, and the other is myself."

"Let's talk about something else,"
said Annie. And so the conversation turned to the beauty of the March day and thence to the absorbing topic of clothes.

It was not until two days after this conversation that the little party set forth to go to El Paso. They started just at daybreak.

All the way to El Paso Sylvia's ears were eagerly alert for the sound of warfare. She did not dare voice her fears, but they were very large fears and very agonizing ones, too.

She had been proud indeed that her future husband should be an officer in a fine regiment. She thought the dearest thing in the world, and the very thought of the military wedding that would mark her marriage to the handsome young man sent her into ecstasies of delight.

This was the other side of the war picture. Here was the beat of the drum calling to arms. Real powder and shot had been issued to the men, and real shot would be fired. In fancy she saw her beloved killed at the head of his column, always leading, always waving his sword and shouting encouragement to his weary men.

They came upon the new city, the tenting one, all of a sudden and looked with awe upon the results of a deep thinking war department, a capable executive staff and a well trained army. A day or two ago and there had been a cactus plain; today there were a field of snowy tents and a multitude of orderly men awaiting the summons
to—what?

To Sylvia Moore war meant desperate fighting, the sudden death of Timothy Robeson and for herself a lifelong separation from the man she loved.
When they were in the city and saw the flying flags and heard the outpouring of martial music the heart of Sylvia beat quickly, and she felt more like crying than ever. If she could only see Timothy for one moment she was sure she could persuade him to stay with her.

Presently through Mr. Lake's indu-ence it was made possible for Sylvia to meet her lover, and in the first joyful moment the strangeness of the meeting was quite forgotten. At last Timothy pushed back his cap and said:
"I'll bet you were surprised to hear
I was on the way, eh, Sylvia?"
"Yes," said Sylvia, suddenly very quiet. Then, after a pause, she said in a low tone, "Timothy, I wonder if you care enough for me to do a big thing for me—a great thing—the greatest thing you ever did in your life."

"Of course," said Timothy promptly. "My life's yours, you know, dearest."
"Then stay with me. Do not go into active battle." Sylvia's voice was strained with anxiety, and her eyes were fixed eagerly on her lover's face.
She saw the mask of reserve that dropped over his surprised face—a reserve that seemed to place her and her love upon some distant pinnacle of space, leaving him here in the active present with the duty that lay before him. She saw all this and realized what was passing through his mind,
and yet, with a selfishness which had not yet been overcome by a nobler impulse, she set herself to exact from him a proof of his love for her.

"Shall I desert?" he asked, with a cold smile.
"Oh, no! Tell them you are ill. Perhaps I might explain. You know we are to be married in the fall, Timothy?"
"I know, dear," he said steadily,
"that this is the hardest moment of your life. I'll think over what you said, and if at the end of another day
you still feel the same way about it perhaps something can be done."

"Oh, Timmy, you are an angel—and I was so afraid you'd get killed!" half sobbed Sylvia.
Timothy Robeson smiled rather mysteriously and turned away. "Perhaps I'll see you later, dear, if Mr. Lake will come around after parade. Time's up now."

They spent the day in the city, and as the afternoon advanced they once more approached the parade ground,
where they expected to meet Timothy Robeson again. Mr. Lake and Annie stopped to view some passing soldiery,
and Sylvia had paused to find herself
the onlooker at a curious little scene.

A handsome though rather dispatched looking young man in military khaki lounged against a tree talking to a very indignant young woman.
"Ah, what's the use?" he was muttering sullenly, when his companion interrupted him with blazing eyes and angry voice.

"Matt Mears, you're a coward, that's what you are!" she cried. "I wouldn't give a snap of my finger for a man that didn't put his country before the girl he loved!"
"Oh, pshaw, Laura," began the young man weakly, when the girl suddenly walked away from him with her pretty chin in the air.

Her words rang in Sylvia's ears as they went to meet Timothy. Before her was the city of tents, busy with the hum of preparation, the flutter of myriads of flags—her own red,
white and blue emblems—and a choking feeling came into her throat. She knew now that never, never would she have Timothy belong to anything except this glorious company, organized to protect her, her relatives, her friends—everybody in the country.
There were great industries, vast enterprises, to be protected. Oh, her Timothy was of the noblest profession
in the country—the protectors!

When Timothy's grave eyes questioned hers he was startled by the blue flash of patriotism that Sylvia's eyes declared.
"Timothy," she whispered eagerly and with emphasis laid on each word
—"Timothy Robeson, don't you dare dream of not going into battle. If you don't go—why, I'll never speak to you again as long as I live!"

REAL ESTATE AS AN INVESTMENT

BY A. D. M. HONE

To anyone who has given the matter serious thought it is apparent that real estate as an investment has not received the attention it deserves. There is no commodity which offers such safe and sure returns on the money invested in it as does real estate, and yet so far as the general public is concerned, real estate is about the last thing that is considered when making investments. The public invests millions of dollars annually in stocks and bonds of railways, industrial corporations, mines and the like, and no form of speculation is too visionary but what some people can be found who have faith in the promises of its promoters and will put their money into it.
 The average man of small means thinks only of providing himself with a home and seldom considers the possibilities for profit in the intelligent buying and selling of real property. This too in the face of the enormous fortunes that have been made solely by trading in real estate. The average man has a hazy knowledge that many great fortunes like those of the Astors, Russel Sage, and Hetty Green are the products of investments in real estate, but he seldom sees the application in his own case and goes on blithely putting his money into worthless mines, bucket shop transactions and similar "investments" in the blind hope that some day he will hit it right and wake up and find himself rich.
 Of course it must not be inferred ALL forms of speculative investments are worthless. Yet it is doubtful if even the BEST class of stocks and bonds offers as great returns as does real estate when bought right.
 The writer has convincing evidence of the truth of these statements and would be glad to present these interesting facts to readers of the Guide.

HOW TO OBTAIN A GOOD COLOR

A Treatment to Restore the Blood Supply That Has Been Most Successful.

There is only this to tell people who are pale, weak and bloodless. You are pale and weak because you haven't made good blood and you won't be better until their blood supply is increased. You should not lose any time in increasing your blood supply, for people who neglect anaemia, often slip into a deadly decline. When you have increased your blood supply you can reasonably expect to have a good color, to have lost that tired, breathless feeling, to have a good appetite and get good nourishment from your food. Now the only quick and always effective way to get a supply of new, rich, red blood is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to course through the veins, brings health and strength to every organ and every part of the body, making weak, ailing people, bright, active and strong. This has been proved in thousands of cases of which the case of Mrs. George Clark, Abbotford, B.C., is a fair sample. Mrs. Clark says: "After spending two years and six months in a hospital training for a nurse, I began to fail in health, was very pale and the least exertion would leave me out of breath. After graduating I came to British Columbia to take up my profession as a private nurse. The first case I took I found I was not able to go on with my work. Doctor's tonics failed me and acting on my own judgment I purchased a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had finished them I was really surprised at the result. The color came back to my face. I gained in strength and by the time I had used nine boxes I was back at my work as a nurse. I have since married, but still have my friendly feeling for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."
 Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Co., Brockville, Ont.
