BORDEN NAVAL POLICY UPHELD MAJORITY CUT TO THIRTY-TWO SEVEN NATIONALISTS BOLTERS

Except For Col. McLean's Defection From Liberals Party Lines Were Closely Drawn on Verville and Laurier Amendments—Desertions Came on Final Adoption of Resolution.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—(Special).—The naval debate closed at an early hour this (Friday) morning, when the proposals of the government were adopted by the house, yeas 115, nays 31.

There were no less than three divisions before the final vote was reached. The first was upon Mr. Verville's proposal, that parliament should not act without a mandate from the people.

This proposal for a referendum was supported by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the opposition, only Col. H. Queen and Sunbury, N.B., voting with the government.

Laurier Accepts Amendment. There was a hum of expectation when Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose to speak on the Verville amendment. He

POLICEMAN'S ARM BROKEN BY RUNAWAY

Constable McCaul's Left Wrist Was Snapped When He Caught a Frightened Horse, But He Threw the Animal to the Roadway and Held It With Other Hand.

When he stopped a runaway horse at the corner of King and Spadina shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Police Constable McCaul's left wrist was broken, and he was badly shaken up.

The horse ran towards Spadina avenue, and as several women and children were standing on the roadway waiting for street cars, the policeman feared that some of them would be injured.

NO CONSPIRACY AGAINST BORDEN FIELDING GIVES VIGOROUS DENIAL

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(C. A. P.)—Hon. W. S. Fielding takes exception to The Telegraph's remark that "he doesn't deny being in close association with certain radical members." Having made a denial on his own behalf, he thought other persons in the compact might be left to speak for themselves.

GEN. DIAZ DEMANDS SURRENDER OF MADERO AFTER BOMBARDING NATIONAL PALACE THROUGHOUT DAY

Heavy Shrapnel Fire Drove Federals to Cover and Rebels, Who Had Prepared For Onslaught by Enemies, Were Aggressors—Shells Caused Devastation.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—(Can. Press).—At 5 o'clock this evening it was reported that Gen. Diaz had demanded the surrender of the national palace.

Before dark the fire on both sides was intermittent, but apparently less vigorous from the federals. The government troops were receiving ammunition in small consignments, and it was said that they were running short.

National Palace Shelled. At 12.30 a number of shells, directed toward the national palace, were fired apparently from the rifle and artillery range in the vicinity of the barracks.

The firing, especially that of the federals, became lighter at 1.40. Rebel shells, however, at that hour continued to hit buildings in the centre of the city and in the national palace district.

DUKE MAY STAY FOR SUNDAY SERVICE

Elaborate Preparations Made For Memorial at Massey Hall, When Duke of Connaught, Hon. Sam Hughes and Prominent Citizens Will Take Part.

Toronto's deep interest in regard to the city's tribute to the heroes of the Antarctic expedition is being manifested by the progress of the arrangements for the great memorial service in Massey Hall on Sunday.

The Duke of Connaught, Hon. Sam Hughes and prominent citizens will take part in the service. The Duke of Connaught will be able to remain over for the event, which promises to assume national proportions.

Shortage of Supplies and Delay in Marches Dated From the Day Evans Was Injured—Rescue Party Found the Bodies in a Tent, Above Which a Cross Was Placed—No Symptoms of Scurvy Existed, Says Surgeon Atkinson—Valuable Geological Specimens Secured.

Copyrighted in the United Kingdom by the Central News, Limited, London.

LYTTELTON, N.Z., Feb. 13.—The following is the official account of the doings of the British Antarctic expedition of 1910, compiled by Commander Evans from Captain Scott's personal diary and the official records of the expedition.

On Jan. 14, 1912, Commander Evans left Captain Scott and his four companions to continue the journey to the pole. Captain Scott's party marched an average of 12 miles a day all the way to the pole, and they reached the pole on Jan. 17, about 156 statute miles from the spot where Commander Evans turned in.

GOOD MARCHES IN MEDIUM WEATHER. The return journey over the plateau was marked by a series of good marches in medium weather.

Before descending Beardmore Glacier, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers visited Buckley Island and climbed to a large nunatak at the top of the glacier.

Leaving Buckley Island and going down the glacier they passed Mount Kinsey, a magnificent Dolomite peak, having an altitude of 11,000 feet, and forming an admirable steering point.

These specimens were taken forward by the party to their last camp, and are now in the possession of the expedition. From Cloudmaker Mountain to the foot of Beardmore Glacier the surfaces encountered by the party consisted of the same deep snow as on the way up, and this fact, together with bad weather, severely hampered their march.

EVANS DIED A NATURAL DEATH. On Feb. 17, while on the march, Evans' foot worked out of his ski, and he was compelled to fall out to readjust it.

CAPTAIN OATES STARTED TO FAIL. Owing to the lateness of the season and the consequent falling temperature, the surface became sandlike, as is well known in colder climates.

While descending Beardmore Glacier the ice was found to be terribly rough, and many obstructions 10 to 12 feet high had to be climbed, which resulted in the explorers being badly bruised or strained.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE

MAY SEND AN EXPEDITION TO RECOVER THE BODIES

Petty Officer Evans Was Helped by Comrades From the Pole Until His Death Occurred and Tax on Provisions Proved Fatal to Whole Party.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Can. Press).—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Christchurch says that full details of Scott's return journey will reveal a still more glorious page of history when they are published than the brief official narrative.

"It is stated," says The Daily Mail, "that Petty Officer Evans was assisted by his comrades from the pole until his death, and that every ounce of food was exhausted long before death came to Scott's party."

Members of the expedition indicate that the possibility of disappointment at Amundsen forestalling them took the 'stiffening' out of Scott's party for the return journey.

ONLY ONE MORE DAY TO SECURE EVERYBODY'S CYCLOPEDIA

average over nine miles a day. The food and fuel stored at each depot gave a full ration at this speed for a week. The best day's march of the southern party on the Barrier was approximately nine miles, falling at later stages of the march to as low as three miles. The failure to maintain a higher speed was undoubtedly due to the failing condition of Captain Oates, this being a constant tax on the energies of the party and rapidly weakening them at a time when they had to face persistent winds and frequent blizzards. But, despite the hopeless nature of the outlook forced on them, they never relinquished their gallant struggle, but fought on heroically to the bitter end.

As recorded in a previous despatch, the search party found their tent on Nov. 10, 1912. It was half-covered with snow, and the sledge with their gear was completely covered. The tent was well spread with an inner tent placed on poles.

BODIES FOUND AND CROSS ERECTED

The bodies having been identified, the inner tent was placed over them and a large cairn of snow was erected and a cross placed on the top bearing the following record:

"Left this cross and cairn erected over the remains of Captain R. F. Scott, C.V.O., R.N.; Dr. E. A. Wilson and Lient. H. R. Bowers, R.N., as a slight token to perpetuate their gallant and successful attempt to reach the pole. This they did on Jan. 17, 1912, after the Norwegians had already done so on Dec. 1, 1911.

"Also to commemorate their two gallant comrades, Captain R. E. G. Oates of the Inniskilling Dragoons, who walked to his death in a blizzard willing, about 20 miles south of this place, to try and save his comrades, beset by hardship, and Petty Officer Edgar Evans, who died at the foot of the Beardmore Glacier.

"The Lord gave and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the Name of the Lord."

NO SYMPTOMS OF SCURVY EXISTED.

This record was signed by all the members of the search party. Surgeon Atkinson states that no symptoms of scurvy existed. All the records of the southern party having been collected, the whole search party proceeded 23 miles south to search for the body of Captain Oates, but no trace of it was found. Near the spot of his departure from his comrades a cross and cairn were erected, and the following record left on the cairn:

"Hereabouts died a very gallant gentleman, Captain R. E. G. Oates, Inniskilling Dragoons, who on the return from the pole in March, 1912, willingly walked to his death in a blizzard to try to save his comrades beset by hardship."

GOOD PROGRESS MADE BY SEARCHING PARTY

Seven mules supplied by the Indian Government were used by the search party. Their rations consisted of 11 pounds of oil cake and oats in the proportion of one oil cake to two of oats. The speed of their march averaged better than that of the ponies of the previous year. From the start the daily marches averaged fourteen miles. The surfaces on the outward journey were exceptionally good, and the mules made good progress without sinking deeply. Deep snow was encountered on the return, and the going was much heavier. The chief difficulty in connection with the mules was that they would not eat anything except their rations. The food of some consisted of rope yarn, tea leaves, man's and dog's biscuits and tobacco ashes. The weights hauled by the mules were much heavier than by the ponies, the highest weight at one time being 760 pounds.

The gears supplied by the Indian Government showed great forthrightness, and only had to be altered in very slight ways. The snow goggles were specially useful and a great comfort to the animals. The harness was best harness. Two mules were shot on the Barrier and five returned after 350 miles of hard pulling in temperature falling to 29 below zero. There were two dog teams of 11 dogs each. Eighteen of the 22 which brought down in the first year all the stores were brought safely back to the depot at Hut Point. The care of the mules devolved upon Lashley. His constant attention kept them in good order. A detailed record was kept by him, showing the performance of each mule during the winter and also during the traveling season. This record will be sent to the supply transport department of the Indian Government, who trained the mules for the expedition. The health of the search party thruout was excellent.

POWER RATES CUT REVENUE ADVANCED

Mackenzie and Mann's Winnipeg Plant Makes Rather Surprising Showing.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 13.—(Can. Press).—Although the Winnipeg Electric Street Railway reduced its rate for light from 10 cents per kilowatt to 3 1/2 cents per kilowatt, in competition with the city power plant, its earnings for the year 1912 were $1,850,410, an increase of one-half million dollars in excess of the figures for light, gas and power company show a slight decrease, the figures for 1912 being $3,765,384, compared with $3,829,749 in 1911. Of this $2,114,974, leaving $1,650,410 which was earned by the light, gas and power department, as compared with $1,195,750 earned by the same department in 1911, the exact gain being $454,661.

Big Deputation From Bruce County Appears at Ottawa—Consideration Promised.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—(Special).—Col. Hugh Clark, M.P. for North Bruce, today introduced to the acting minister of trade and commerce and the minister of public works, a big deputation of his constituents from Southampton, Fort Elgin and Kincardine, which included John Tolmie, ex-M.P. The deputation asked for a subsidy to re-establish steamship service along the coast between Harris and Sault Ste. Marie. Some local harbor improvements were also asked by Southampton and Kincardine.

TAX REFORM AMENDMENT SWAMPED BY GOVERNMENT MAJORITY OF 53

Motion by Opposition Which Implied Want of Confidence in Regard to Assessment Act Was Defeated—J. A. Ellis, Ottawa, Conservative, Disagreed With Administration, But Was Willing to Give Act Another Trial—Allan Studholme's Effective Speech.

After several more interesting titles in the legislature yesterday the opposition "tax reform" amendment to the government motion to adopt the speech from the throne, was defeated by a vote of 78 to 25. J. A. Ellis, member from West Ottawa, who introduced the tax reform bill last year, took objection to the amendment as an interference with confidence in the government and so opposed it. Allan Studholme voted with the opposition.

The debate is still unfinished. The house was adjourned last night with W. H. Proudfoot on his feet speaking to an amendment which he brought down to the floor. The amendment should be enacted to prevent the treating habit, which no doubt, was an attack on the government's policy of introducing in the speech that an anti-treating law would be passed. This amendment, as well as the government motion, will bring about a division today or next Tuesday.

Three speeches were heard during the afternoon from Allan Studholme, laborer for East Hamilton, Conservative for West Ottawa, and W. H. Proudfoot, Liberal for Centre Huron. The premier and Mr. Proudfoot had several lively encounters because of statements made by the Liberal member with reference to tax reform.

A Political Issue. J. A. Ellis of Ottawa stated his position on tax reform. He said that although he had introduced a bill for a revised Assessment Act, bringing about the lowering of the tax on improvements, at the last session, he was indeed surprised at the amount of opposition which implied a want of confidence in the government.

In referring to the finding of the tax committee by the Conservative majority he said that he was one who did not agree with it, and he had not changed his opinion since. "I do not understand why there should be a motion by the opposition for a straight want of confidence in the government because the tax reform was not mentioned in the speech from the throne," he said. "I am sorry that the other side of the house is using the reform as a political issue. I am not arguing single tax and I am not a disciple of Henry George. I never read his books. But I am in favor of a reasonable measure of tax reform."

He said that he had no reason for censuring the government although he disagreed with it in the matter of tax reform. He was willing to give the view of the majority on the tax committee a fair chance and would agree with the government's proposal to bring down a reasonable measure of tax reform. He believed that if the Liberals were to agree to the efficacy of reform since they were going about it in the wrong way. There should have been no vote of censure, but the opposition should be willing to accept the proposal of the government a fair trial.

He had every confidence in the government and the man at its head, who, although criticized, commanded great respect.

Social Unrest. Allan Studholme, labor representative for East Hamilton, criticized the government principally for not dealing with social and economic questions effectively. He alluded to Mr. Rowell as champion of the workingmen and expressed his pleasure at having the leader of the opposition back of him on social questions. He declared that the definition of socialism was incorrect. There were all kinds of socialism, just the same as Christianity. The greatest of the men of the day were preaching and writing socialism.

"The social unrest today is greater than it ever has been," he said, and quoted an American university professor to the effect that this unrest would ultimately bring about a revolution in the United States. He had been showing that the average worker in the United States earned about $65 a year, which was not a living wage. He advised the government to better social conditions or there would be a revolution in Canada.

support his woman suffrage bill. "I have got the support of a government member. I certainly am getting along nicely. If I had been in this house fifteen years ago, I'm sure that I would have had all you fellows—hon. members—member-converted into workingmen's compensation act, would be introduced. Touching upon conditions in the mines and the bill to shorten the hours of miners, he believed that there should have been brought down years ago.

Challenge Government. In speaking on his amendment regarding anti-treating, W. H. Proudfoot, Liberal member for Centre Huron, challenged the government to cite one case where the funds of the people were misappropriated or handled improperly by the Ross Government, as stated by A. H. Muggrove, North Huron, who moved the adoption of the speech.

He was always a supporter of the hydro-electric and the Liberals had not hindered its progress. Radial lines, he believed, should be built along the right of way of the transmission lines. He supposed that the government was not in accord with the commission which supported the scheme for which the municipalities had been agitating.

"So go on a constitutional lawyer as my hon. friend must surely remember that the commission was formed by members of the government, and it is utterly impossible to suppose that their policy is not in accord with ours."

"I am glad to suppose then that the government would back up the Hydro-Electric Commission in building radials," said Mr. Proudfoot.

"It is absurd to think that there is any cleavage in the line of action of the government and Hydro Commission," answered the premier.

Insult to Assessors. Mr. Proudfoot then branched to tax reform and denied that this question was a political issue. He criticized Mr. Ellis, who, he declared, evidently did not want to vote for the amendment and against his party. It was party politics and not tax reform.

"The government sending notices out to assessors, virtually telling them to shut their mouths, in my opinion, is an insult," he continued. At this point the speaker clashed with Sir James. According to Mr. Proudfoot, if the act was right, would he be necessary to instruct the assessors, because the law had been in force for years.

"The Assessment Act provides for everything you say we are opposed to," retorted the premier, who added that the act says that taxation on improvements should be assessed in relation to that on land.

ARCHBISHOP TALKS ON REAL ESTATE

Pacific Coast Prices Never Boosted Too High, Said Archbishop McNeil.

BEFORE EMPIRE CLUB

Churches Affected by Improvement Exemption—Had to Move Out.

"I have come back from the west with this impression: Ontario is going to continue to be called the 'banister province,' it has got to hustle some," declared Archbishop McNeil of the Toronto, Roman Catholic Diocese to the members of the Empire Club at their weekly luncheon at McConkey's yesterday.

His grace, to the surprise of his listeners, demonstrated his knowledge of the latest conditions in the British Columbia real estate market, even going so far as to quote the latest figures and, in his informal talk on the province, its climate, resources, etc., he humorously criticized single tax and the ownership of land by absentee landlords.

"I don't know whether you would term 'real estate' an industry or profession," said he, "but this I know, there are a great many people employed in it. (Laughter.) But I want to tell you that if you think there is an habitual boom now raging out there, you are quite mistaken. True, there is a boom in the west, but it is a boom in the building of houses, not in the building of churches."

Skyscrapers Close Churches. He spoke of the changes in the system of taxation brought about by the city council of Vancouver, and declared that the tendency towards the construction of skyscrapers, to the detriment of the downtown district, and driving out the churches, as they are subjected to taxes and cannot save money by going up more than one story.

"The Vancouver Council was facing a condition of affairs which needed action," said he. "It was laying its sewers and other modern conveniences alongside vacant land owned by people living in European and American cities, who were holding this land free of taxation for speculative purposes. The council decided in 1905 to tax improvements 50 per cent, and land 100 per cent of its value. This new order of things lasted ten years, then it was decided to tax 25 per cent of the assessment of improvements, and three years later it was ordered that no improvement be assessed at all."

Hard on Little Builders. "This change is not considered as permanent in the City of Vancouver, because the people find that it causes a tendency to crowd houses together in residential districts, as well as the office buildings downtown," he declared. "This change has generated a sense of injustice among citizens who only have cause to erect two-story buildings, paying the same taxation as owners of skyscrapers. Churches are not exempt either, and on this account many have had to leave the downtown district. I know of one small church which was assessed at $4000 and the congregation had to move out, while another congregation thought of building a skyscraper, utilizing the two top stories for church purposes."

British Columbia's prestige on the foreign money market was also a subject of conversation on the part of the archbishop. He told of the immense yearly influx of capital from Europe and other places, which is only sufficient to just scratch the miners for the extent of one-fourth.

RADIAL TRACKS STAY ON YONGE

Metropolitan Railway Company Cannot Deviate Its Right-of-Way.

GREAT WIN FOR CITY

Railway Board's Decision Has Been Revoked by the Supreme Court.

The decision of the appellate division of the supreme court yesterday, reversing the judgment of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board of June 11, 1912, in the case of the Metropolitan Railway Company, means that the railway company may not deviate its tracks from Yonge street to a private right-of-way, about 100 feet west, and then north parallel with Yonge street.

DIAZ DEMANDS SURRENDER OF MADERO

Mr. Meredith, the representative of an American manufacturing company, was hit by a shell during the afternoon. He suffered a scalp wound, but his injury is not likely to prove fatal.

The rebels made an important forward movement at 3 o'clock, advancing a battery of artillery into Independence street, some blocks away from their former position. They began shelling the federal battery posted at San Diego Church, adjoining the offices of the Mexican Herald.

At 2:30 p.m. the firing of both the federals and the rebels ceased apparently all along the line.

The rebels are said to be in possession of the San Lazaro Railroad station, on the firing line.

At 2:30 p.m. preparations made to get a train ready at the Mexican Central Station created some comment. It was suggested that it would be possible that Madero was preparing to flee the city.

At 2:40 p.m. the rebel cannon again commenced bombardment of the national palace district, but the renewed action lasted only about a quarter of an hour and at 3 o'clock there was a lull in the firing.

Lieut.-Col. Rubio Najarrete, the commander of the federal artillery, was slightly wounded during the fighting this afternoon. He remained, however, on the firing line.

The artillery engagement was resumed at 3:15, with the rebels again throwing shells in the direction of the national palace.

SUFFRAGE JURY

Marchers, Reduced to Thirteen, Given a Vociferous Reception by College Boys.

PRINCETON, N.J., Feb. 13.—(Can. Press.)—The staccato yell of Princeton University, with the appendage, "Votes for women, votes for women," greeted the "army" of suffragettes who are marching to Washington, when they arrived here at 7 o'clock tonight.

The women, thirty in number, were met by a group of about twenty men, who were on the point of exhaustion when the lights of the university town twinkled a welcome.

"General" Rosalie Jones, commander of the expedition and veteran of the march to Albany, declared that for her hardship today's walk exceeded anything she had experienced. "Colonel" Martha Klatschen, who is less than five feet tall, had to be supported during the last four miles of the march. She staggered into the village an hour after the arrival of the vanguard, plucking refusing offers of a lift from passing automobiles.

The scheduled twenty miles between Metuchen, N.J., the day's starting point, and this village, was stretched into twenty-seven as the result of the women taking the wrong road. This took them over a stretch of rough marching before they found the highway again. Three women dropped en route, leaving thirteen "regular" tonight.

"Gen." Jones Addresses Students. The students met the suffragettes on the road, fell into line and marched to the Princeton Inn, their numbers swelling to more than five hundred. Here the students called for a speech from "Gen." Jones. The suffragette leader, undaunted, mounted a chair and asked that the students form a line to hear her.

COMMISSION TO CONTROL MEXICO

Pan-American Body to Bring Order Out of Chaos Suggested.

AVOID INTERVENTION

John Barrett, Author of Proposal, Believes Peace Would Be Insured.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(Canadian Press.)—Mediation in Mexico, rather than intervention, by the appointment of a Pan-American Commission, was urged today upon President Taft, Senator Cullom of the foreign relations committee and Representative Flood of the foreign affairs committee, by John Barrett, director-general of the American Union.

The commission, it is suggested, should seek to bring about a readjustment of Mexican affairs, and would be composed of a statesman from the United States, an eminent Latin-American diplomat now in Washington and an influential Mexican. Mr. Barrett suggested for the commission such men as Senator Root or William J. Bryan, Senator Calderon, minister from Bolivia, or Dr. De Pena, minister from Uruguay, and Senor De La Barra of Mexico, former ambassador to the United States.

The mediation proposal was made after conference with members of the senate and house, and following renewed assurance from the state department that there is no present intention of departing from the established policy of dealing with the situation in Mexico.

In his letter outlining the plan, Mr. Barrett says that "it involves mediation rather than intervention, international American co-operation rather than individual United States action, and a practical application of the Pan-American rather than the Monroe doctrine."

The commission, he suggests, should investigate the situation in Mexico on the ground, and make recommendations to Mexico which shall readjust the situation in favor of permanent peace and stability.

Through Ambassador Wilson, in Mexico City, the plan was presented to the Mexican Government and to the revolutionary leaders, who would be urged to cease hostilities, "pending the action and report of the commission," and it should be made known to the Mexican Government and people that they would be expected, with this moral support and interest of the American people, to carry out the conclusions of such international commission.

Mr. Barrett expresses the opinion that this government would find the Latin-American countries in sympathy with this plan; that the selection of either Senator Root or Mr. Bryan would be satisfactory in Mexico and other Latin-American countries, as well as in the United States, and that the other possible members whom the names likewise would be agreeable to all concerned.

Except to prosecute a few enquiries at some of the coast cities, with a view to learning what water transportation could be secured from private ship-owners in case it should become necessary to transport more than the first brigade of the regular army to Mexican waters, the military agents of the government rest today, satisfied with the preparations already made to meet any emergency.

For the present the entire efforts of the administration are being concentrated upon the protection of foreign life and property in the Mexican capital without actual forcible intervention, which the president is determined to avoid until the last extremity.

GREAT VIOLINIST HERE NEXT WEEK

Ysaye Returns For a Concert at Massey Hall Wednesday.

Next Wednesday evening Ysaye, the greatest violinist in the world, who made his debut in Toronto, will return for a final recital program. This is the last opportunity of hearing Ysaye, as there are many reasons why he does not find it worth while to undertake concert tours in this country. They are not financial reasons, as he always meets with phenomenal success, but Ysaye has many interests in his own land. He is conductor of a symphony orchestra of his own, for one thing, and he has a home in his native Belgium. He has taken twelve years of constant persuasion on the part of New York managers to induce Ysaye to make the present concert tour, and it is not to be expected that he will give up all his best-liked possessions at their solicitation. Massey Hall box-office will open on Monday morning.

MME. MELIS SANG DIFFICULT ROLE

"Aida" Added to Successes of Montreal Opera Company.

Verdi's "Aida" was the offering of the Montreal Opera Company at the Royal Alexandra last night, and in it the organization scored another success, although the audience was not as large as at the previous performance.

The opera, which was the first of the season, was a triumph in every respect. The fine work in the choruses, particularly the male section, and the excellent orchestral work were other especially commendable features.

"Louise" will be sung tonight, commencing at 7:30 sharp.

NEW YORK JUDGE SUGGESTS THAT DETECTIVES IMITATE ORGANIZATION METHODS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(Can. Press.)—A "pickpocket trust" and other compact organizations of criminals exist in this city's underworld, according to testimony of Judge Edward Swann, of the court of general sessions, a witness today before the Aldermanic committee investigating the activities of pickpockets.

Many strong relations exist, he declared, between the pickpockets and the "trust" is run like any lawful business, he declared.

Groups of Detectives. Judge Swann advocated that city detectives be divided into special squads nominally known as homicide group, bombing group and so on.

Referring to the "pickpocket trust" Judge Swann told of one member being assigned to Broadway and forcing second street for a year, rifling pockets and pocketbooks of men and women in the matinee crowds.

Mr. Borden said that those who support the amendment would be either ignorant or had no desire to contribute to the defence of the empire. To carry out what this amendment would do, it would be necessary to build in Canada the vessels required for many years, and it was out of the question for us to maintain a fleet of such vessels.

SLEZAK A GREAT ARTIST SINGER

Gave Wonderful Evidence of Perfect Control of Great Voice.

ORCHESTRA STRONG

Toronto Symphony Congratulated on Fine Concert Given Last Night.

There has been a somewhat strenuous musical season of late in Toronto, and the effect was perceptible last night in Massey Hall when the audience was scarcely up to the usual standard of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

Slezak sang as his first solo two operatic selections, the aria, "Cielo e terra" from Puccini's "La Gioconda." The selection is well calculated to show the range, the power and the sweet, tender quality of his voice.

The orchestra played Beethoven's "Eighth Symphony" in F Major, first two movements, and a highly dramatic and technically interesting, but a little for the common ear, the "March" in D minor, Op. 124.

Next, Mr. Mondou, the Conservative Nationalist member for Yamaska, proposed an amendment to the protection platform proposed by the prime minister, which read as follows: "This house, while prepared to adopt effective measures for the protection of the empire, declines to accept the imperial provisions tending to impose upon the Canadian people a share in the external responsibility and the naval defence of the empire, outside Canadian territory, which has no voice in the empire over which Canadian people may exercise any political or constitutional authority."

Mr. Mondou then addressed the house at considerable length in support of his amendment, which is substantially the same as the one he presented in the session to address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Mr. Mondou's amendment was declared out of order, and Mr. Gilmour repeated and read the amendment advocating the repeal of the Laurier naval service act and the submission of the question of naval defence to the people.

Amendments Ruled Out. Mr. Mondou's amendment upon the conclusion of his speech was declared out of order by Mr. Speffer Sprule as it had already been voted down at this session. This led to the amendment proposed by Mr. Gilmour, a National member for Nicolet who offered an amendment declaring that the Laurier naval service act should be repealed and the whole question of naval defence be submitted to the people.

Next Monday will be a big night with the carpenters. A joint meeting of the Amalgamated Carpenters and the Brotherhood of Carpenters will be held at the demand of a ten cent increase in wages over the present forty cent rate will undoubtedly be the chief topic of discussion.

Matthew Worrel, president of the International Union of Photo Engravers, arrived in Toronto to superintend the plan of action for the striking photo engravers in this city. He thinks that the employers of these strikers are making a big mistake as their organizations will be broken by the leaving of some of their best men for the United States to fill the positions opened in their stead. At present there are 75 journeymen and about 30 apprentices on strike.

The Master Barbers held a special meeting last night, in regard to the passing of the early closing bill. They are disappointed at the action of the city council in not passing this bill by the giving three readings. However, with the aid of the Trades and Labor Council delegation at the next council meeting, they expect to have sufficient influence to obtain for them this bill.

Elevator Assessment Reduced. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has reduced the assessment on the Grand Trunk Pacific elevator at Port William from $2,000,000 to $1,700,000. The railway's appeal to have the business tax of $300,000 lopped off failed.

ITALIAN CONSUL GETS KNIGHTHOOD

Dr. Harley Smith has just received notification from the Italian Government of his knighthood by King Vittorio Emanuele IV, of the letter bearing the Italian royal court of arms, announcing that the recipient of the honor is Dr. Harley Smith, Consul-General for Italy, Canada.

Dr. Harley Smith acquired a knowledge of three modern languages, French, German and Italian, at Toronto University. He was appointed Consul for Italy for the Dominion of Canada in 1907. The City of Toronto eleven years ago, when the position was resigned by Deputy Police Magistrate Kingsley.

Great interest is taken by the members of the Italian colony on the knighthood of Dr. Harley Smith, with whom he is very popular.

Next Week's Grand Opera

Owing to the fact that the Metropolitan Opera is conducted in affiliation with the Metropolitan Grand Opera, and the Chicago Grand Opera, and that in all these centres the unsupervised series of illnesses have assailed their leading singers, certain instances of the Metropolitan Opera Company for its second week at the Metropolitan Theatre have been made necessary.

Nevertheless, it will be the most brilliant operatic week in the history of Toronto. The deferred production will take place on Monday night, with Elizabeth Arand, director, and the Metropolitan Opera Company for its second week at the Metropolitan Theatre have been made necessary.

Banking and Economic Committee Will Hold Three Sessions Weekly.

INQUIRY IS TO BE WIDE

Currency Act and Government Savings Bank Will Be Considered.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—In the banking and commerce committee of the house this morning Mr. Hugh Guthrie moved that the committee, commencing on Wednesday, the 18th inst., should meet three times a week, viz., Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Wednesday and Thursday being devoted to the discussion of the Bank Act and Friday to the consideration of private bills.

W. F. Maclean seconded the motion, and declared that he thought, however, the general clauses of the bill ought to be considered first so that the committee might get some idea of the information they would require and thus be enabled to summon the proper witnesses without unnecessary delay. He pointed out in revising the Bank Act it would be necessary to consider the Currency Act, the government savings banks and postal savings.

Need Wide Powers. Hon. Mr. Emmerson agreed with Mr. Maclean in that regard. He deprecates, however, the idea of hard and fast rules in discussing the act. He thought the committee should have the powers in the consideration of such an important measure.

Major Sam Sharpe moved that the non-contentious clauses of the bill should be discussed, and if any clause was objected to it should be held over until brought up again on the motion of a member of the committee. This was adopted.

Mr. Maclean suggested that a stenographer be employed and that the testimony taken by the committee should be printed from day to day and distributed.

SKYSCRAPERS AND SITE VALUES The Globe is the most hopelessly inconsistent and illogical advocate of tax reform in the country. We have seen how it refuses to recognize the fact that the renter pays the taxes, and pays also for the landlord's improvements, for every landlord, like other business men, has a sinking fund included in his rent estimates. And now The Globe repudiates its land tax theories altogether in order to oppose the erection of skyscrapers. It argues that skyscrapers are the inevitable perpetrators of ramshackle buildings. A skyscraper is built on a piece of land in order to obtain sufficient revenue from it to justify the price paid for it, to cover taxes, and leave a margin of profit. The Globe adduces New York as an example of the evil of skyscrapers but the illustration is not a happy one. To begin with, Manhattan Island cannot be compared with York County, a fact which strikes The Globe from quite another point of view. Manhattan is compelled by its peculiar conditions to erect skyscrapers fifty stories or more in height. York County has such abundance of accessible space that twenty stories mark the commercially profitable limit in height. And the reasonable proposal of the property committee is to set this limit of 250 feet for all time. But The Globe declares we should consider London and Paris and Berlin, where there are no skyscrapers and the architectural standard would paralyze the Toronto City Council. The Globe should remember also that where these architectural glories are to be found Yonge-street would be regarded as a back alley, and when an effort was made to widen Yonge-street some years ago The Globe's pet Mayor, Mr. Joseph Oliver, had no regard for London, or Paris or Berlin standards. "Sixty-six feet was good enough for him and The Globe, too, we presume.

At that time the standard for Toronto was set, and skyscraper permits were issued which gave all adjacent property a value based on skyscraper revenues. The Telegram has estimated the disturbance of values as equal to cutting down prices from $10,000 to $7,000. There may be no widows or orphans involved, and it may be argued by The Globe that confiscation is a perfectly legitimate proceeding on the part of the mayor and council, but there is no defence and no corresponding advantage for any popular interest to be gained by such action. It is not an application of the principle of competition, but the limitation in an arbitrary fashion of this principle. We believe the limitation at 250 feet to be a reasonable and equitable one, but the placing of an artificial value on two existing skyscrapers, and the refusal to recognize the value in contiguous land created by their erection cannot be defended.

And on top of this The Globe argues that ramshackle buildings will be perpetuated by the existence of skyscrapers. Of course The Globe cannot tell this to anybody who has lived in New York or Chicago, or in any city where the rapid increase of population, as in Toronto, demands modern progress. The Globe may impress the belief on Controller Foster and a few others in the council, who, like Alderman Hubbard, still think they are living in the "nineties." These men are injuring Toronto by their stagnant brains. Builders and property owners have been held up for a year on this skyscraper question, and not a permit has been issued in Toronto in that time, while Montreal has twenty-five skyscrapers at an estimated cost of $18,000,000 now in hand. The Globe should remember that Toronto is not competing with London, Paris or Berlin, nor with New York or Chicago, but with the city at the other end of a projected canal in which Toronto has a special interest. The land tax reform which The Globe is understood to be supporting, and which Sir James Whitney endorsed categorically in the legislature on Wednesday, will provide for the assessment of land at its actual market value. Under these conditions ramshackle buildings will not persist, but will give way to structures capable of making a profit on the real estate investment. If The Globe and the city council insist on curtailing that profit values must inevitably fall, and Toronto will once more experience a season when the "bears" will enjoy themselves and pick up bargains in real estate. Is the Globe and its friends anxious to see the advent of such a period when their ready cash will avail much in adding acre to acre? There can be no doubt that a proper assessment of land values, as The Globe contends in other instances, would lead to the improvement of real estate. But the illogical Globe as soon as property owners start to improve their estate declares they must not.

In the case of the proposed building on the N.E. corner of Yonge and King-streets the assessed value is $668,066 exclusive of buildings, a much higher figure, considering all the conditions, than the assessment of any property that could fairly be compared with it. The Traders' Bank with almost equal area, has little more than one-fourth the assessment on the land, and the King Edward Hotel real estate is assessed at one-eighth the value. To take the Traders' Bank assessment as a criterion it is evident that a much higher building would be necessary for the production of adequate revenue.

The Globe's idea that one skyscraper takes the place of so many small buildings is an entirely village conception. It was probably The Globe which argued that the erection of apartment houses would leave the dwelling-houses of the city without tenants. As a matter of fact the more buildings go up the more people come together, the more business is done, and the more do other buildings multiply. Toronto has passed the stage when its growth will stop unless some forcible artificial condition is brought into play. Does The Globe, does the city council desire to check the city's development?

There are several huge buildings awaiting the settlement of this question. Those responsible for delaying the settlement are responsible for a great deal more. Toronto has the reputation of being the victim of the worst city council government in Canada. We confess we expected an improvement this year, but the start is not auspicious, and is not encouraging. We would ask Mayor Hooker to take a business-like view of the situation, and get these building permits passed so that the plans so long in preparation may be realized for the benefit of the city.

THE KERNEL OF THE MATTER.

Toronto has scored for once in a contest with the railway corporations. The flaw in the title of the Metropolitan Railway to a perpetual franchise is really the centre around which the whole Yonge street dispute revolves. The railway corporation desires to make the franchise perpetual. The people and the city representing the people are right to oppose the pretension. A double track on Yonge street would be a step in the corporation direction and the former chairman of the Ontario Railway Board, Justice Leitch, would have been willing to make that concession. A single track franchise is not so valuable, but a private track with similar rights is almost as good. The case will probably do to the privy council, which does not usually feel bound to respect any rights the people possess. The assistant city solicitor, Mr. Irving S. Fairly, deserves credit for his argument.

SOUTH POLAR EXPLORATION.

In commenting on the last Antarctic tragedy, some commentators have shown a tendency to judge without knowledge. They attribute to Capt. Scott a desire either to anticipate Amundsen's race to the South Pole, or irritation and even negligence, after the discovery that he had been anticipated by the now famous Norwegian. Criticism of the kind now advertised upon is wholly wrong, as even a cursory reference to Antarctic records will make manifest.

Scott's expedition, though it included an attempt to reach the southern point of the earth's axis, was not primarily concerned with that effort. Nor was Capt. Scott ignorant of Amundsen's appearance on the Antarctic field. Almost his last letter home referred to this apparent rivalry and intimated that it would in no way alter the original plan, which looked rather to scientific than to geographical results. Scott, indeed, declined to enter upon a race to the pole and must have been quite prepared to find that Amundsen had anticipated his arrival at the southern extremity of the earth's axis.

Scott followed a route which he had blazed and Shackleton had carried to a point which made the conquest of the South Pole an apparently easy feat. Amundsen, based at a point on the other side of the mountain ridge, found favorable weather and easy going. Scott, as he records in his diary, was forced to struggle against the worst of weather conditions. Not only this, which would certainly have been overcome, but for the disablement of two of the party and the refusal of their comrades to accept safety as the price of their abandonment. That is the true heroism of this latest tragedy of exploration.

FARMERS ORGANIZE BEEF RING.

GALT, Feb. 13.—(Special).—The farmers of school section No. 19 have organized a beef ring. The purpose is to provide fresh meat for all in the ring during the summer months. Forty members will kill a beast by turns and distribute one share, which will consist of 20 pounds. For small households half shares may be taken. In this way farmers in the ring will be supplied with fresh meat each week, starting in June and continuing thru the hot weather.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

St. Valentine's Day is the first day of spring—today all the lovers make high day; yet sadness and sorrow it ban- not but bring, for this year it falls on a Friday. Today the spring poets burst forth into song, and flowers are the lesses adorning—and yet we feel somehow that something is wrong this Valentine's Day in the morning. The roses may blush and the lilies may bloom, but Vally, we care not for the violet in the land Dan Cupid on this day goes speeding; with all the resources he has at command, his cause he'll be earnestly pleading. Altho he's busy each day in the year, today is his heaviest sign-day; the not superstitious it causes us fear each time that this day comes on Friday. All o'er the Dominion the land Dan Cupid on this day goes speeding; with all the resources he has at command, his cause he'll be earnestly pleading. Altho he's busy each day in the year, today is his heaviest sign-day; the not superstitious it causes us fear each time that this day comes on Friday. All o'er the Dominion the land Dan Cupid on this day goes speeding; with all the resources he has at command, his cause he'll be earnestly pleading. IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Be careful of your health and consider time spent out-of-doors, gained, instead of lost. Some trouble about money threatens you. Do not enter into lawsuits. The best way to have melan- choly, painful spectacles, and if not cured by a usefulness and active life, will become the victims of hallucinations on account of a tendency to weak eyes. When young, they should not be confined in school rooms or compelled to study books to sleep, but should be taught out-of-doors.

NURSERY

CONDUCTED BY Elinor Murray

Unity in the Family

The child, of whatever age, who feels that having been told one thing by his father or mother he can go to the other, feeling pretty sure of having the judgment reversed, will soon recognize no authority at all. The child asks his mother if he may go to a place after school. For various reasons mother refuses. Johnny goes away, to come back in a few minutes with the triumphant announcement, "Father says I can go."

Aside from the idea of discipline that Johnny is learning, consider the mother's feelings. She is divided between an impulse to punish the boy for going to his father and a desire to "have it out" with father himself. She may do one of two things: She may absolutely countermand the father's order and then "stay mad" at both father and son, or she may meekly give in to both. This state of affairs is not happily a usual one, still we must deal with exceptions occasionally, just to be sure of avoiding the mistakes into which the exceptions have fallen.

This state of discipline did not spring suddenly into existence. It resulted from a drifting attitude on the part of the parents towards the discipline practised by the other. Fathers and mothers should be one with regard to the matter of dealing with their children. In fact, the children will reflect it. On important questions no one doubts the necessity of parents joining forces and supporting each other, but in the little things there is often lack of unity. And yet it is one little thing added to another, and in a few days varied conditions, and once a decision is made let each hold to it.

From unity between father and mother it is an easy step to unity in the family, and this is to be desired above all things. This unity is based on consideration. And consideration means patience and kindness on the part of the elder, respect and willingness on the part of the younger members of the family to put one's self in another's place. It is not a matter of one member of the family that is not in a reflected degree of interest to all. It is the best to do, brother or sister, and finally father and mother find themselves alone, shut out completely from the lives of their children, and all loneliness surely that which comes from lack of sympathy and understanding is the worst.

THE AMOUNT GROWING.

$1000 Cheque for King-Edward Memorial Fund from "Ye Olde Firme" Heintzman & Co., Limited—The Duke of Connaught will be present at Saturday's function.

The well-known piano manufacturer, Heintzman & Co., Limited, have sent in their cheque for $1000 as a contribution to the King-Edward Memorial Fund for Consumptives. Two hundred dollars has come from Hon. W. A. Charlton, M.P., and a similar amount from Gale Manufacturing Company, Kent & Co. and Robert Davies.

At Saturday's function in Convocation Hall at 8 p.m. a certified statement of the amount received, with names of the donors, will be presented to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught. Sir John Gibson, lieutenant-governor, will preside, and an interesting and useful address generally to be present. The occasion will be a memorable one in the social and philanthropic history of our country.

CORRECT DINNER SERVICE

THREE rules that, learned and applied, will solve the dinner service problem are: First. Place all food before the guests from the right side. Second. Offer food, to which one must help himself, from the left. Third. Remove service and food from the left.

A table should be furnished with a silence cloth to protect the wood from scars and muffle the noise of service. On this lay the polished damask cloth and arrange the "cover," as the flat silver, plate, goblet and napkin are called. Sometimes a bread and butter plate and individual salt dips are included. Twenty-four inches is usually allowed for each place. The arrangement of the table and order of service should be the same when none are present but the family as when guests are entertained. The size of the dining-room, the help at hand and what is to be served must be considered. The forks are laid at the left, the knives at the right, with edges turned toward plate, and the spoons next to them. The glasses stand at the end of the knives, the napkin at the right-hand, or on the individual bread plate.

When the table is set, arrange the sideboard and the serving table. On these place the fruit plates, salad service, extra plates, silver, tea or coffee service, finger bowls, water bottle and serving trays. The castor was finished long ago along with the high centrepiece. A low flower holder, or a pot of blooming plants that harmonizes with the color scheme, has taken their place.

The order of courses is: Cocktail of fruit or oysters, soup, fish, meat entrees (of any meat baked and served without sauces), vegetables, cereals served as vegetable, as macaroni, curried rice and combinations of meat and grains.

Game, salad, cheese and wafers make a separate course and are followed by sweet entremets. The last course includes coffee, tea, sweet beverages, fruits and ice-cream.

There are so many variations of correct service that the observing woman occasionally lurches at a high-class establishment for no other reason than to get new ideas for the arrangement of the home table. Our young hostess must have intelligent perception as well as the subtler play of instinct to arrange her table.

The food may be measured and looked at, top, bottom and all sides, and found perfect, but there remains that curious attitude of a woman's ambition and pride in her table called "quality" to be attained. This comes from pure genius, or inspirational insight, and leads her into becoming famed as a hostess, and her hospitality will be a joy, not a burden.

TORONTO WOMEN AS AUTO BUYERS

Many Gasoline Cars Vie With Electrics For Feminine Preference.

The use of the modern motor car by Toronto women is commented on by visitors from the United States and England as something extraordinary. While the women of some cities confine their attention to the "handy electric," Toronto divides the favor of the fair sex with the gasoline car, which is often preferred by those living in the country homes or obliged to undertake long distances. The general use of the self-starting devices has been partly responsible for the new devotion of many women to the gasoline type. Last year's motor show brought a sharp bidding from all exhibitors for the attention of the thousands of fair visitors, and it is expected that this year's show will cater even more strongly to feminine interests.

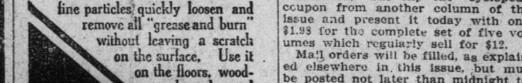

USEFUL HINTS FOR RAISING BABIES

Mothers' Meeting in Knox Church Was Very Interesting and Instructive.

At the mother's meeting in connection with Knox Church, held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Bethune presided, and Dr. Skinner-Gordon was the principal speaker. The address was both interesting and instructive, giving the mothers present many useful hints to be put into every day practice in the bringing up of their little ones. Under the heading (a), the speaker dealt with air, and after giving its spiritual application, dwelt on the necessity for pure air and the evils arising from a foul or impure atmosphere. The functions of the air cells was treated, and the necessity for giving them every opportunity for performing that function was dilated upon. Under (b) the necessity for bathing, the frequent use of water and the uses of the skin or outer covering, were illustrated by a comparison between them and the ordinary system of plumbing. Division (c) dealt with clothing. Dr. Gordon showing how some materials are more beneficial than others, and the necessity for entire changes of clothing for night and day. The subject of ventilation also received considerable treatment at the hands of the speaker. Mrs. Mansfield interpreted the program by two vocal solos, accompanying herself on the guitar. Tea was afterwards served to all present.

WOMEN WANT A MUSEUM STARTED

Historical Society Has Nucleus of Collection—Will See Authorities.

CANADIAN RELICS

Government Will Be Approached to Keep Them in the Country.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Canadian Historical Society at 52 St. Alban's street, yesterday afternoon, an interesting discussion took place regarding the funds in hand, nearly $5000, collected towards the Queen Victoria Memorial. It was the feeling of the meeting that immediate steps be taken to see if the government or the city would not supply a building or department of one which could be used as a depository for the historic collection now in the hands of the society to form the nucleus of a museum, upon which the funds in hand would be expended. A committee, consisting of Mrs. Galbraith, Miss Michell and Mrs. McCallum, were appointed to see the minister of education and the city council in regard to the matter. The question of the disposal of $250, the balance left from the historical exhibition of 1899, was also brought up. This money is held in trust by the Ontario Historical Society. Failing a museum for Toronto, the suggestion was made that the sum go to the collection of Miss Carnochan at Niagara, a museum visited by people from all parts of the world. No definite action was taken, however. Mrs. Tyrrell read a letter from the Women's Canadian Club of Winnipeg, which had been sent to the sister organization here and passed on to the historical. The letter asked for support in memorializing the government to legislate on the matter of relics found in Canada. The request had originated in the late findings in Alberta and the Pipestone district, relics, which had gone over to the Smithsonian Institution and the Museum of History, New York. The United States and Great Britain have laws on this point, and it was thought there should be similar legislation here. The Women's Historical will support the Winnipeg Club in approaching the government on the matter.

DIED IN HOUSE IN WHICH HE WAS BORN

Richard Mitchell, Former Mayor of Guelph, Died, Aged Eighty-One.

GUELPH, Feb. 12.—(Special).—There passed away in the same house in which he was born 81 years ago, and in which he has always lived, at 8 o'clock this morning, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of this city, in the person of Richard Mitchell. Deceased had been in failing health for several years, but his death came rather unexpectedly. The late Richard Mitchell was a well-known figure in Guelph all his life, and was honored in many ways by the city and the County of Wellington. He held a great many offices of public trust, was reeve and deputy reeve of Guelph before incorporation as a city, served as mayor and was city clerk for over 20 years, which office he only relinquished when he became too old to perform the onerous duties connected with it. He was also appointed police court clerk and served in that capacity for a time. His mother, aged 88, and two brothers, survive.

CHARLES MAJOR DEAD

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Feb. 13.—(Special).—Charles Major, author of "The Knighthood Was in Flower," "The Yarn of Haddon Hall" and other romances, died this morning, after suffering a year with cancer of the liver. He was 56 years of age. He is survived by a widow, Mr. Major made a fortune by writing "Best Sellers." He wrote "Knighthood" under a pen-name, and instantaneous popularity led to its author's discovery, then a struggling lawyer in Shelbyville.

Warmth and Strength

on a cold day come from foods that are easily digested and are rich in heat-making elements. For the outdoor man or the indoor man, for children to study on, to grow on, to play on, there's nothing so nourishing and satisfying as

SHREDDED WHEAT

It is better than porridges for children because they have to chew it. It is the best "whole wheat bread," because it contains all the rich body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Delicious and nourishing when served with hot milk or canned fruits.

FEBRUARY

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Be careful of your health and consider time spent out-of-doors, gained, instead of lost. Some trouble about money threatens you. Do not enter into lawsuits. The best way to have melan- choly, painful spectacles, and if not cured by a usefulness and active life, will become the victims of hallucinations on account of a tendency to weak eyes. When young, they should not be confined in school rooms or compelled to study books to sleep, but should be taught out-of-doors.

MEXICAN NORTHERN LOWER ON THE CURB A broken lot of Mexican Northern Power changed hands on the curb yesterday at 20, the lowest level since last March. Apprehension over the revolution in Mexico was responsible for the downturn, the security suffering in common with other Central American issues. The range on the shares is as follows: 1912, high 30 3/8 (July), low 17 (Feb.).

TORONTO MARKET ON NEW LOW RECORDS SEVERE BREAK IN NEW YORK MARKET

Sharp Decline in Canadian Issues Led by Brazilian - Liquidation General. RALLY LATE IN DAY But Early Losses Were Not Made Up - Sentiment Is Depressed.

At yesterday's low level, the average price in the New York Stock Market was at a new low record for present year, and in the majority of instances below the bottom level of the sharp break in December, 1912, with some few exceptions which must be accepted as an indication of the unsettled conditions now existing in Wall Street. One of the remarkable features of the movement was the fact that trading did not broaden out to any extent, which must be accepted as an indication of the unsettled conditions now existing in Wall Street.

When Brazilian dropped about two points in London the shares at the close there being equivalent to about 95 3/4 here, the sorely-tried bulls gave up trying to talk optimistically. The stock opened at 95 here, a loss of a full 4 points under the opening quotation of the month, before the demand caught up with the liquidation. The market turned buoyant after the noon adjournment, however, the rally in New York inspiring more confidence here, and by three o'clock the shares had moved up past the opening level. The last sale was at 95 3/8, nearly a point above the low level of the morning and indicating a net decline only 5 3/8 for the day. The action of the shares plainly evidenced the uncertainty prevailing among speculators at the present time.

General List Weak. The establishment of a new low record for the year on C.P.R. in the New York market served to depress sentiment also, and no doubt added to the apprehension. Declines were general, and in several instances ran into material volume. Winnipeg dropped two points on the issuance of the annual statement, which was not up to expectations. Toronto Railways and Twin City both recorded low points for the month. The specialties showed in the main a turn with lower prices for Toronto Paper, Canada Bread, Spanish River, Steel Co. and Tuckers. Bread and Steel Co. common both sank to 22 and 29, the latter at 25.

BANK CLEARINGS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Eight Million Gain in Toronto Record - Pinning Up a New High-Water Mark.

The bank clearings in Toronto continue to show up remarkably well in comparison with last year's record, thus plainly evincing the continued growth of the city from the financial standpoint. Last week's clearings did not live up to the big total of the previous week, but, nevertheless, evinced a gain of about eight million dollars over the corresponding period of last year, an increase which must be regarded as eminently satisfactory.

NEW LOW RECORDS SEVERE BREAK IN NEW YORK MARKET

Slump Carries Average Prices Down to Low Water Mark For Present Year. DIVERS INFLUENCES Budget of News After Holiday Decidedly of a Gloomy Nature.

The movement was a representative of Wall Street's bearish attitude. Sentiment has not been cheerful for some time, and in view of the coming tariff revision and change in administration, traders have felt that there was little incentive to activity on the long side of the market. The liquidation of the day and found a budget of bearish news which required nothing more to bring on an active selling movement. The likelihood of a strike of firemen on the eastern railroads, apprehensions as to the future of the Mexican revolution and the less favorable position of the money market figured prominently as bear factors.

CONTINENT SECURITIES C.P.R. IN LONDON

Capel Court was Depressed Most of Day - Slump in Mexican Railway Issues. LONDON, Feb. 13 - Money was scarce and discount rates were steady today. Renewed depression prevailed on the stock exchange the greater part of the day. The feature of the trading was a three point slump in Mexican rails on the latest war news. Brazilian rails declined under continental railroads and home railroads were dull on dear money. Despite the condition of the settlement without trouble the market closed heavy.

Limited, and its directorate includes well known and respected business men.

BANK OF ENGLAND MADE FAIR SHOWING

Reserves Increased But Liabilities Were Also Enlarged - Bank Rate Was Unchanged. LONDON, Feb. 13 - The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 5 per cent today. The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, increased, £1,187,000; Circulation, decreased, 795,567; Bullion, increased, 2,637,000; Other securities, increased, 3,909,000; Public deposits, increased, 1,444,000; Notes reserve, increased, 1,118,000; Government securities unchanged. Proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week, 45.50 per cent; last week it was 47.02 per cent.

FALL IN C. P. R. WAS PURELY NATURAL

Erickson Perkins & Co. (J. G. Beatty) wired: The purchase of 25,000 shares of stock for foreign account reflected improvement in sentiment abroad. Paris is optimistic regarding the Balkan outlook, according to some advices. Berlin and London do not appear to share the views. The fall in Canadian Pacific was natural in view of the call for the first payment of $1,000,000 of the $6,000,000 new stock. Some evidently preferred to sell their stock rather than to assume fresh liabilities.

AN UNLUCKY 13TH

Yesterday - the 13th of the month - was an unlucky day in the New York Stock Market, continued liquidation by the operators and a lack of support from the banking interests, resulting in another baneful conditions. The standard issues were marked down several points, so that the new low record for the year was established. Since the close of last week there have been three business days, and the list of securities has been on the boggan on each one of these. This means that the market's average of about 100 million dollars has been reduced by many millions of dollars. The following continuation gives the change in prices for these three days, and shows the depreciation which has taken place:

Close Low, Dec. market Feb. 13, 1913. Amal. Copper, 72 1/2 69 3/4 35,375,000; U.S. Steel, 104 1/2 102 1/2 15,000,000; C.P.R., 24 1/2 23 1/2 15,000,000; U.S. Steel, 104 1/2 102 1/2 15,000,000; Union Pac., 161 1/2 154 1/2 13,300,000. Total for six companies, $69,175,000.

CATCHING UP ON BACK DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 - Directors of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. today declared a dividend of 35 per cent on the preferred stock, a total of about $1,450,000. The payment represents an accumulation of back dividends after a record year of earnings.

MINING STOCKS HAD IMPROVED TONE

The mining market showed a generally improved undertone yesterday, though there was enough irregularity in evidence to detract somewhat from the favorable showing. City of Cobalt proved the feature, with a sharp advance in the shares to the highest record in years. The demand for Pearl Lake was also rather inspiring, the buying of this issue being of the best. Elsewhere in the list, consistent absorption was under way, and it was plainly shown that the floating supply of stock was in no wise large, and, therefore, that any revival of the active demand would probably usher in another general upturn.

RICH ORE SAMPLES FROM ST. ANTHONY

Show Free Gold in Abundance - Offering of Shares Well Taken Up. Since the company has an assured ore reserve above the 200 foot level totaling 100,000 tons of an average value of $10 to the ton, together with a mining plant including a 10-stamp mill equipped with cyanide process capable of handling over 100 tons daily, no surprise was felt in local brokerage circles yesterday as the alacrity with which shares in the famous St. Anthony gold mine were absorbed. This mine has been under active development for two years by the Northern Gold Ref. Limited, and its directorate includes well known and respected business men.
