WORST STORM IN YEARS SWEEPS LAND

MANY CASUALTIES IN UNITED STATES; HEAVY DAMAGE DONE; SHIPPING HERE AT STANDSTILL

At Least Seven People Lose Lives in Eastern States; Gale Reaches 85 Miles an Hour Velocity

EMPRESS REMAINS; DINGLEY RETURNS

Fences Are Blown Down About City; Brier Island Buoy Is Swept Away and Top Is Blown Off New Lighthouse At Meteghan

Shipping along the Atlantic coast and in the St. Lawrence is at a complete standstill; at least seven people have lost their lives and millions of dollars worth of damage done to property in the eastern states in one of the worst storms to visit this part of the country at this time of the year for many years. The gale reached a velocity of 85 miles an hour at places in the North Atlantic states with houses being shattered and while mountainous seas drove vessels to the nearest havens until the wind had died down. Off Point Lepreau this morning, an official report placed the velocity of 52 miles an hour. The storm compelled the Boston steamer, the Governor Dingley, to seek shelter at Eastport on her outward trip from here Saturday night and to replenish her supply of oil, she is due back in Saint John this afternoon. The steamer Empress did not make her bay trip this morning owing to the storm. At Baltimore, 17 sealanes were blown adrift and seven of them wrecked.

Hope that the gale which started early Sunday afternoon and which was blowing 48 miles an hour here this morning would die out this evening was expressed by D. L. Hutchinson, director of the meteorological observatory, this morning. He thought it a favorable sign that the wind had hauled around to the northwest and the skies had cleared.

52-MILE WIND. Off Point Lepreau this morning Mr. Hutchinson said the wind was blowing 32 miles an hour and picking up such a raging sea that shipping was at a standstill. The total rainfall for the storm, he said, was 1.57 inches. The C. P. R. bay steamer Empress did not make her daily trip to Digby this morning.

DINGLEY RETURNING. The steamer Governor Dingley, which left here on Saturday night for Boston, was forced to put into Eastport on account of the storm. She remained there until this afternoon at 1 o'clock when she left to return to Saint John to replenish her supply of fuel oil, which was not considered sufficient to make the run to Boston. She is expected here about 4:30 o'clock and will sail again as soon as she secures additional fuel supply.

The southwest gale, Cape Sable, sea and whistling buoy dragged from its position during the storm and the light is out, it was announced by the local Marine and Fisheries Department this morning.

LIGHTHOUSE DAMAGED. A report was received this morning from Meteghan, where the department recently completed a new lighthouse at the end of the public wharf, announcing that the top of this new lighthouse had been destroyed.

COMPANIED BY THE STORM. J. C. Chesley, local agent of the department, said that he presumed the mishap was caused by the storm but he had no further particulars.

The C. G. S. Laurentian and Dollard arrived in port at 12 o'clock and 2 o'clock respectively early this morning from Parrsboro with full cargo of coal. They arrived just before the storm broke.

SHIPPING HALTS. The storm signal indicating heavy westerly gales was hoisted this morning. Practically all the shipping, except the steamer Bellhaven, stayed in port and this morning when she had intended to get away yesterday. So far as could be learned little serious damage has been done along the local waterfront.

DAMAGE IN CITY. Around the city considerable damage was done. A billboard at the corner of Duke and Prince William streets owned by William Whitebone was blown down yesterday and men were removing it this morning. A fence owned by Thomas Mooney in Carmarthen street near Queen street was blown down yesterday. Three fences, one in Prince William street near the grain elevator, one in Queen street and another one in Sheffield street, all went down before yesterday's wind. A portion of the roof of the Standard Coal Company's shed was torn off and blown onto Britain street yesterday.

WALLS COLLAPSE. The walls of the Carleton City Hall recently destroyed by fire, stood up under the battering of the wind all day Sunday but this morning the breeze conquered and a good portion of them came down. One wall fell inward and the other came into the

Kidnapping of Groom Doesn't Stop Wedding

British United Press. TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 26.—J. Lincoln Laffan and his bride, who was Miss Gertrude Hibbert, are on their honeymoon today, far from the "unknown lover" who kidnapped and dragged the bridegroom Saturday and left Miss Hibbert waiting at the church. Laffan had been driving to the wedding when two men seized him and put a revolver to his head, while a sponge soaked in chloroform was applied to his nostrils. Some boys found him unconscious several hours later. Planned to the seat of his automobile was a note saying, "You will never marry the girl I love." (Signed) Unknown Lover. On recovering, Laffan went to a tailor and had his clothes pressed and was married yesterday.

MAN ON STAIRS

Lay Dead, Throat Cut by Axe, Woman Was Shot Through Head

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Charles Bernard, manager of the sub-agency of the Banque Canadienne Nationale at Rougemont, Que., and his wife were found murdered in their home this morning at an early hour. The double murder is believed to have been committed on Friday night, according to information in the hands of the Provincial Police. The bank was closed Saturday for no reason known to the officials, who have stated that they expected the manager to make his returns today. The bank manager was found on the stairway leading to the street, dead, with his throat cut by an axe. In the room with a bullet through her head, Mrs. Bernard was later discovered by neighbors, who became alarmed and forced open the door of the Bernard home. Details of the tragedy are very vague owing to the impossibility of reaching Rougemont by long distance telephone, all wires in that section having been damaged by last night's storm.

Biographer Says Lloyd George Opposed Britain's Entry Into World War Until Aug. 1, 1914

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Lloyd George, Lord Morley and John Burns, all of whom had opposed the South African war, were also prepared to combat Great Britain's participation in the Great War and had written their respective resignations, which they intended submitting to the cabinet, according to J. Hugh Edwards, M. P., of London, and Lloyd George's biographer, who addressed a meeting here last night. Great Britain's Prime Minister, said Mr. Edwards, had his letter of resignation in his pocket when a meeting of the cabinet was held on Saturday, August 1, 1914, but had decided not to mail it until the evening. That night he attended a dinner and forgot to see it in his resignation. His neighbor at the dinner table was the Belgian Minister, and naturally their conversation touched upon the impending world struggle. Lloyd George was told that Belgium could not possibly resist Germany's advance and looked to Britain to keep her word and protect her small ally. Immediately after the dinner, said Mr. Edwards, Lloyd George destroyed the letter and "entered the war" with all his soul.

None of the occupants was badly injured. Mrs. Dunn received a few minor injuries to her foot, and one of the ladies had her hand cut by flying glass. The two front wheels of the car and both fenders were demolished, but with the arrival of two new wheels the car returned home under its own power.

HALIFAX PROTESTS RAILWAY ROUTING

Objects to Elimination of Alternative Shipment via Saint John and St. Rosalie.

Canadian Press. HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 26.—The Halifax Board of Trade has filed with the Railway Commission a protest against supplement No. 28, in tariff 0-55 C. N. R. No. 1332 insofar as it eliminates alternative routing on west-bound traffic via Saint John, N. B., and St. Rosalie, Que. The ground taken by the Halifax board is that the arrangement increases the cost of transportation and takes away from shippers the right of routing shipments at their own expense.

Canadian Press. HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 26.—W. J. Polson, president of the New Zealand Farmers' Union, and Percy H. Cox, former vice-president of the Australasian Bank, members of the Royal Commission appointed by the New Zealand government to investigate and report on the rural credits systems of Canada and the United States, have arrived in Halifax, completing their trip across Canada from Vancouver, visiting en route the larger Canadian cities, with the exception of Toronto. After remaining here two or three days, they will proceed to the United States, planning to visit Toronto on their way west.

DRIFTING helplessly at the mercy of wind and tide for more than an hour in the disabled pilot boat Nancy Lee, two pilots, Bart Rogers and William Alexander, and an apprentice, Ronald Cobham, narrowly escaped death in the water of the harbor about 7 o'clock this morning before the boat was driven on the beach at Courtenay Bay a little this side of the range-finding station at Red Head. The pilots had been endeavoring to tow the port doctor's boat, which had broken adrift, when the tow rope became tangled with the propeller of their boat and left it helpless. Both boats were somewhat damaged by pounding on the beach. The men escaped unhurt.

ROPE FOULS PROPELLER

After considerable maneuvering they were able to attach a line to the boat and were commencing to tow it to safety when the rope parted, and one end of it became entangled in the propeller of their boat, stopping the engine and leaving them drifting helplessly. This happened about 7 o'clock.

TUG POWERLESS

A report of the plight of the men was sent to J. C. Chesley, superintendent of pilots, and he at once ordered the tug Neptune be sent to their rescue. The tug was unable to get near them on account of the severity of the storm.

DRY DOCK LOST

The tug De Barendsen returned to port after losing in the storm a dry dock she had in tow.

DAMAGE IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Montreal and district was visited over the week-end by a severe wind and sleet storm which started on Saturday evening and continued till an early hour this morning. HAWKINS AND HUGHES SAY SENATE THWARTS RULE OF DEMOCRACY

York Liberal Candidate's Aide Terms Upper Chamber Most Unrepresentative Legislative Body on Earth—Discuss King and Meighen Policies at McAdam

McADAM, Oct. 25—The Liberal party held a meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall last evening. R. S. Wood, principal of the McAdam School, acted as chairman. P. J. Hughes, K. C., and C. R. Hawkins, Liberal candidate for York-Sunbury, addressed the voters.

Mr. Hughes, in opening, mentioned the huge debt which confronted the King Government when they assumed office. Most of this, he said, was contracted during the war, but much of it unfairly.

In opposition to the Conservative plea of railway incompetence on the part of the Government, Mr. Hughes said Meighen was responsible for the amalgamation of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Intercolonial Railways and the shipping boom which Portland had enjoyed.

ON THE SENATE

The speaker declared that the King Government had to contend with an adverse Senate during its regime and termed it much more autocratic than the Feers and the most unrepresentative legislative body on earth.

The Senate had killed popular measures. The remedy was to make it possible that when a bill went before the Senate two terms in succession it should automatically become law in England.

In mentioning the Meighen policy of higher protection, Mr. Hughes declared it was absurd to expect thus to bring prosperity and wealth.

TRIBUTE TO HAWKINS

A few examples were given to support his argument that all was not done under a high tariff, notably the closing of carriage factories in Saint John and Fredericton under the Macdonald Government.

"We now have a twenty per cent. advantage in duty over the United States in trade to the West Indies as the result of a little work on the part of the Liberals," stated Mr. Hughes.

In closing, he paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Hawkins.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

In introducing the Liberal candidate, Mr. Wood referred to him as one who had done his part overseas.

In furthering Mr. Hughes' words on the Senate, Mr. Hawkins said Canada

PRESIDENT'S SIDE WINS GOLF MATCH

Having opened the 1925 season earlier than ever before because of a particularly advanced fine spring, the Riverside Golf and Country Club closed its match season on Saturday later than ever before, by reason of postponements due to the other extreme, bad weather. It was the President vs. Vice-President tourney for the dinner.

T. F. MANVILLE WAS BUSINESS BUILDER

Director of Companies and Prominent Man in Promotion of Industrial Activity.

Thomas Franklin Manville, chairman of the board of directors of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, died at 6:45 p.m. Monday, October 19, 1925, in New York City.

Mr. Manville was one of the country's great business builders. For the last 25 years he had been the directing head of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, the world's largest producer and manufacturer of asbestos.

During which time he had built up an outstanding organization fully capable of carrying on his plans and policies to even greater achievements. His brother, H. E. Manville, who succeeded to the presidency of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, in 1924, was closely identified with him during this entire period and will continue to direct the policies of the organization.

In addition to being chairman of the board of directors of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, the late Mr. Manville was president of the Arizona Asbestos Company, treasurer and director of the Asbestos Wood & Shingle Company, president and director of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company, director of The Fibre Corporation, director of the Fifth Avenue Bank, trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank, president and director of the Manville Securities Company. He was a member of the Bankers, Metropolitan, and Union League clubs in New York City.

Harvest services were held in St. Mary's church yesterday. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and vegetables. The preacher in the morning was A. LeDrew Gardner who has returned to continue his duties as curate at St. Mary's as his successor appointed was unable to come.

Rev. R. Taylor McKim, rector of the church was the preacher in the evening. The special music was accompanied by the full choir of the church under the direction of the organist, Mrs. R. Taylor McKim. In the morning the music included the Te Deum, the Mass, and the Gloria. In the evening the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis by J. G. Marks, were sung. The anthem was "Make a Joyful Noise unto the Lord," by A. E. Mueller.

Entertainment at Sweeney Saturday Helps Well Hall Fund.

To add to the fund already created to build a community hall in Rethelby under the auspices of the Duke of Rothesay Chapter, I. O. D. E., the ladies of the chapter held a successful entertainment and tea on Saturday afternoon at Netherwood Girls' School memorial hall. A play was given entitled "Three Pills in a Bottle," with Miss Zoe Paterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Downing Paterson, leading lady. Miss Dorothy Magee, elocutionary instructor, trained the girls, who were heartily applauded.

Delight was expressed at the fine singing of the class, especially in "The Viking Song," and another sung in French, under the direction of Miss Helen Paterson, the vocal teacher. Tea, coffee and ice cream were served by a capable staff of helpers. Each member of the teaching staff was responsible for some section of the social entertainment. Miss Susan B. Ganong and Miss B. M. Stodart, principal and assistant principal, were general directors of the affair, which netted $80 for the memorial building fund.

An equally large crowd attended the lecture given by Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts in the evening.

TOBACCO AVALANCHE

Tobacco dropped—the bottom fell out—when this storage warehouse at Danville, Va., collapsed without warning or known cause. One man was killed and the money loss was estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. The warehouse contained hundreds of hogheads of tobacco.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's various wastes, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then get fine.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Ask your druggist for Jad Salts today.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES. The West Side firemen were given two runs yesterday for chimney fires. The first call was at noon, to put out a fire in the chimney of a house owned by Fred Wilson at the corner of Lancaster and St. James streets. Last evening at 7:15 they were called to the home of Fred Duer, 291 Duke street, for a fire in the chimney.

SHOULD WOMEN KNOW? Should women know that whole races now living have never seen a case of cancer, tuberculosis, goitre, heart, liver, or kidney disease and that science attributes their immunity to the foods they eat? Surely yes, since women know that these diseases are rampant among civilized races whose foods differ radically.

Races who know nothing of "denatured" white flour, polished rice, refined cereals, white sugar, etc., but who live upon nature's whole grains, milk, eggs, nuts, beans, vegetables, and fruits are free from the above diseases, but when they adopt our "denatured" foods, they soon die out with our dread diseases.

The greatest curse of civilized man is the refining of his grain foods. Roman Meal contains three whole grains. It is rich in the "Protective Substances" refined out of flour, other cereals, rice, sugar, etc. It keeps the blood pure, "cool," and invigorating, being the only alkaline cereal.

Blood should be kept naturally alkaline by using alkaline foods, but flour, other cereals, meats, fats, and sweets are "Excess Acid" and largely consumed by civilized man. Might they not cause disease? Science says they do, because they are acid-formers and "Deficient" in Protein growth and repair substances. Acid foods "heat the blood." Roman Meal is alkaline enough to correct the acids of flour, other cereals, meats, and sweets.

Use it as porridge, muffins, pancakes, johnny cake, etc., or mix with white flour in the proportion of 25 per cent in all domestic baking. Roman Meal is sold by your grocer.

From the Livers of the Lowly Codfish, Weak, Frail, Thin People Gain Needed Weight and Strength

THE CANDIDATES.

In 1921 candidates of all parties nominated in the general election numbered 639. This year there is a falling off of forty-nine, the number placed in nomination being 591.

they have nominated only seventy candidates in the present contest. And the Globe adds: "The failure of the Liberals to contest seventeen of the Ontario seats in which Progressives are nominated indicates some kind of an understanding or working agreement, which appears in conflict with the aggressive stand of Mr. Robert Forke, the Progressive leader, in his references to both the old parties. That is one of the anomalies of the contest which future events must explain."

Odds and Ends

The Wicked Flapper

An eminent Frenchman, M. Guilbert de Nogent, has written thus about the modern young woman: "The modern young woman: madly modest and honorably fallen off, and the mothers' guardianship has decayed both in appearance and in fact, so that in all their behavior nothing can be noted but unbecomingly wherein are no sounds but of jest, with winking eyes, and bubbling tongues and wanton gait, and most ridiculous manners. The quality of their garments is so unlike to that of the past that it is difficult to see how shame is cast aside. Each thinks to have touched the lowest step of misery if she lack the regard of lovers, and measures her glory of nobility or courtliness by the number of such suitors. . . . Thus and in such like ways is our modern age corrupted."

President Wilson and the Premier of Great Britain signed an agreement which France signed the guarantee which it sought, but immediately a political storm arose in the United States among Mr. Wilson's opponents, who charged that he was usurping the functions of the United States Senate and that he had no right to commit his country to a treaty which might involve it in another war. Mr. Wilson made every effort to have the agreement confirmed, but his action was repudiated by the Senate and the sense of real peace in Europe was thus played greatly.

At Locarno Britain, together with Italy, has given France the guarantee of protection to which Mr. Wilson assented, but in regard to which his own country nullified his action. Thus, as Mr. Redfield has chosen to express it, Britain keeps its word, which is more than can be said for the United States in that matter. What the British Premier said his country would do has been done. What the American President said his country would do was never done.

The Locarno treaty has been commended in high terms by many of the best of the American newspapers, but a few of them have discussed it in rather ungracious words, and have indicated that the chief European nations, having been drawn together at Locarno, are feeling a new sense of security, will now be likely to assume a hostile attitude toward the United States in trade matters and may even repudiate their war debts. Of any such action there is not the slightest indication.

Poems That Live

ALL FOR LOVE

O talk not to me of a name great in story, And the myrtle and ivy of sweet two and twenty Are worth all your laurels, the ever so plenty.

What are garlands and crowns to the brow that is wrinkled? 'Tis but as a dead flower with May-day besprinkled; Then away with all such from the head that is hoary— What care I for wreaths that can only give glory?

Oh, Fame—if I'er took delight in thy praise, 'Twas less for the sake of thy high sounding phrases Than to see the bright eyes of the dear one discover She thought that I was not unworthy to love her.

There chiefly I sought thee, there only I found thee. Her glance sparkled o'er aught that was bright in my story, I knew it was love, and I felt it was glory. —Lord Byron.

SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR. (Toronto Star.) Seed-time and harvest, the former and the latter rate, are beyond the control of politicians. And the crops have been as bad as the government, Canada would have been in a woeful plight.

FALLACIES THAT REMAIN. (Ottawa Citizen.) Too many public men still cherish the old fallacy that the mere spending of money, irrespective of how it is spent, is good for the community and that the "work to go round" divided by the number of workers, gives the amount of available work for each.

ONE GOOD RESULT. (Hamilton Spectator.) Though the importance of the world's series is greatly overplayed, the annual baseball classic at least serves the useful purpose of crowding the divorce and graft scandals off the front pages of the great American press.

A REAL SENATE. (Montreal Gazette.) Mackenzie King's practice in appointing editors to the Senate is much preferable to his nebulous theories on "reforming" that body. A Senate composed entirely of newspaper men would represent the concentrated wisdom and goodness of the ages.

BETTER THAN A GOOSE CHASE, ANYHOW. (Redlife Review.) Trying to get industries or new business is like shooting at ducks. A hunter might shoot off his whole box of shells and get only one duck. That makes the duck all the more valuable. We might go out after a dozen industries and only land one. But we have to go after both the ducks and the industries if we want to get them.

SKY-WRITING. (London Free Press.) In the days of the Babylonian king, Belshazzar, who dreamed dreams and visioned mysterious handwriting on the wall, a man of great wisdom was commanded to pluck out the heart of the mystery so that the king might learn the nature of the strange measure. Since the days of King Belshazzar there have been many types of "writing on the wall," some of lesser and some of greater importance. Most of them have needed some form of interpretation.

According to the aviation report, from Great Britain, sky-writing is on the increase and now has a large share in aviation activities. The nature of the general message now is commercial and bears tidings of many sorts that touch on exchange and selling.

GRATITUDE TO BRITAIN. (Rome Piccolo.) The French are quite right in stating that it is absurd to pay the Allies more than they are going to get from Germany. The Italians themselves must also keep this principle sacrosanct. When the question arose of making Germany pay reparations, the American and British, sided with the Dawes plan to put Germany on her feet once more. On the other hand, when the question arose concerning Allied nations who had shed oceans of blood for the common cause, the Anglo-Saxons became so flinty-hearted that they could see no connection between reparations and debts.

POLISH ANGILOPHOBIA. (Lwow Courier.) Today Germany is demanding a gift of Polish provinces, tomorrow she will be wanting to devour Austria, and a little later she will threaten France and "beg" Britain to return her colonies. How then can one avoid being astounded at the readiness with which Britain smiles at German chauvinistic aggression? There is not a shadow of doubt that British policy, consistently opposed to that of France, is only masked protection for Germany. It is enough to spot the grinning countenance of German politicians and the enthusiasm of Berlin journalists while they sing their hymns of glory to Chamberlain.

Churchyard Sold By Candle In England

THE "church acre" at Chesley village, near Bridgewater, was sold recently "by fall of candle," as it has been sold every twenty-one years for 400 years past.

Villagers crowded the old room in the Manor House Inn, where the Rev. G. R. Mullens, the vicar, in accordance with custom, lit a half-inch candle placed on a piece of tin.

The last bidder before the candle burned out was to be the owner of the acre for the next twenty-one years. Bids of £2 quickly followed the first bid of £20, until £250 was reached.

"The candle is burning, time is going," cried the auctioneer. At £72 there was a lull. The candle flickered. "A woman bid £80, and the candle went out, the woman being declared the purchaser."

The candle burned for only twenty-three minutes, whereas in 1904 it remained alight for forty-one minutes.

RT. REV. JOHN GARDNER MURRAY.

THE highest honor of the Episcopal church, made elective for the first time in 140 years, went to the Right Rev. John Gardner Murray of Baltimore, bishop of Maryland. Bishop Murray was recently elected presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church and chairman of its national council.

Presiding Bishop Murray is 68 years old and is considered one of the wealthiest prelates in the Episcopal church. His election gives satisfaction to all branches of the church and is not regarded as a party choice. He is a conservative churchman, evangelical in his outlook and neither extreme high nor extreme low church, according to his associates. Conspicuous business ability and administration of his diocese along sound lines are said to have been largely responsible for his elevation.

Longsoning, Md., was the birthplace of Bishop Murray, and he received his education at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., and Drew Theological Seminary, N. J. His wife was formerly Miss Clara A. Hunsicker of Osage City, Kan. He was engaged in business before he entered the church, having a clerical position. He became a deacon in 1899 and a priest in the following year. He was in charge of missionary work in Alabama in 1906 and was elected bishop of Mississippi that year and of Kentucky the year following, but refused both elections. He was consecrated bishop of Maryland in 1909, and in 1911.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MOUNT SLEEPERS COMPARTMENT. The greatest satisfaction has been expressed by those who have travelled between Saint John and Montreal in the Mount Sleepers, which have been in operation since August last on Canadian Pacific train 16, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon, and train 16, leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the evening.

This class of sleeper has always been operated on the more important lines of the Canadian Pacific, and its adoption lately on the Montreal route has proved very successful, and is growing more popular all the time.

The style of compartment sleeper in service here has three compartments, one drawing-room, while the balance of the car is given to observation purposes. Of course the car is fitted up in Canadian Pacific style and standards and all the arrangements tend to the complete comfort of the occupant. The accommodations offered in drawing-rooms for rest and relaxation, and at the same time give ample chance to view the scenery en route. Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and all toilet facilities, etc., much the same as the regular drawing-rooms; they are what might be termed Private State-rooms, and are considerably less in price than the ordinary drawing-rooms. Patrons desiring strict privacy with all the comforts and accommodations offered in drawing-rooms, or those who heretofore have been unable to secure drawing-room, will find the compartment of the greatest benefit.

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THE DESPOT THAT REMAINS to be proved that Custom is not man's worst enemy. "The despotism of custom is everywhere the standing hindrance to human advancement," said John Stuart Mill, "being in unceasing antagonism to disposition to aim at something better than customary, which is called, according to circumstances, the spirit of liberty, or that of progress or improvement."

The spirit of improvement is not always the same as the spirit of liberty, or even in sympathy with it, for it may aim at forcing improvements on an unwilling people. But the only unflinching and permanent source of improvement is liberty, since by it there are as many possible independent centres of improvement as there are individuals.

NATURALLY, the progressive principles, in either shape, whether the love of liberty or of improvement, is antagonistic to the sway of Custom, and the story of the struggle of the two constitutes nearly the whole of the history of mankind. The greatest part of the world has, properly speaking, no history, because the despotism of Custom is complete.

A PEOPLE, it appears from history, may be progressive for a certain length of time, and then stop. When does it stop? When its individuality begins to waver; when the free speech and liberty of action of its citizens begin to be strangled by laws.

Americans, as professional reformers propose new prohibitions, should remember this.

Dinner Stories

HE HAD opened up a fish market and he ordered a new sign painted of which he was very proud. It read: "Fresh Fish For Sale Here."

"What did you put the word 'fresh' in for?" said his first customer. "You wouldn't sell them if they weren't fresh, would you?"

He painted out the word, leaving just "Fish for Sale Here." "Why do you say that?" asked his second customer. "You're not selling them anywhere else, are you?"

So he rubbed out the word "here." "Why use for sale?" asked the next customer. "You wouldn't have fish here unless they were for sale, would you?"

So he rubbed out everything but the word "Fish," remarking: "Well, nobody can find fault with that sign now, anywhere."

A moment later another customer came in. "I don't see what's the use in having that sign 'Fish' up there," said he, "when you can smell them a block away."

PERCY V. PITCAIRN, the eugenicist, said in a lecture: "When all the laws of eugenics are lived up to, all our babies will be beautiful, inheriting the beauties of their fathers and mothers."

"Well," said my friend, reddening a little, "my wife's people tell me he gets his bow legs and pug nose from my side of the house. Anyhow, I know darn well that his cross eyes and pigeon breast have been the trademark of his mother's family for three generations."

THE hall was pecked and overflogging with people. Never in the history of Brownville had there been such a speaker. Recently his words echoed through the silent mass: "He

Oldest House in the Province Does Duty Yet in North End; Was Built 150 Years Ago

WHEN PLACES OF INTEREST are being pointed out in Saint John there are comparatively few citizens who can tell where the oldest house is situated or are aware of the fact that Saint John has the oldest house in New Brunswick and that a wooden house now nearly 152 years old is still doing duty at the old stand.

The house is situated at the corner of Simonds and Brook streets and has a store on the lower floor, a flat above and the Odd Fellows' Hall in the top story. It was raised on Nov. 17, 1773, and was built for Hon. William Hazen, one of the first white settlers at Portland Point.

DOCUMENT EVIDENCE. The exact date of the raising of the house is known because of the entry in the account book of the trading firm of which Mr. Hazen was one of the founders. The entry is as follows: "William Hazen, Dr. to a gallons of West India rum, 3 pound sugar, 8 qts. N. E. rum, dinner, etc., etc., 25 shillings for raising his home."

The late Ven. Archdeacon Raymond, an authority on New Brunswick history, has made several references to the old Hazen house in his numerous writings. Commenting upon the bill which Mr. Hazen incurred for the raising of his house the archdeacon said that that entry showed that old time customs had prevailed at the day of the raising.

The archdeacon has recorded that the Hazen family consisted of four men, three women, three boys and two girls, 12 in all. The first item in the Hazen account at the store gives an indication of household demands and the price of commodities. It shows Mr. Hazen was charged for 67 pounds of mutton meat at one penny a pound and a smaller quantity of beef at tuppence a pound. The archdeacon's comment is that in those early days any settler who wanted fresh meat obtained it by leading his mutton and going to the woods.

LITTLE CLUE TO AGE. The exterior of the old house gives no clue to its age and, save for the old wine cellar and for the great thickness of the walls, the interior also has been remodelled as to give but little indication of the age of the building. Many of the buildings in that section of the city show more clearly that they were built in the days of long ago. The Hazen house has not only withstood the ravages of time but has escaped numerous conflagrations. The present foundation is of stone and brick and is modern but the stone wall of the foundation in Brook street formed part of the original structure. The roof formerly was pitched four ways, running up to a peak in the centre. Some of the old studs which were cut out to admit of the placing of new windows were found to be merely spruce poles flattened on two sides with an axe and the boards also are rough sawn.

FIRST HOME. In older times and for many years Mr. Hazen's garden extended to the old Hazen house in his numerous writings. His residence was by far the best and most substantial in Portland in the early days and was the centre of social life and good cheer.

The first home of an English-speaking family on the Saint John River was that built in 1762 by Captain Francis Peabody at Portland Point near the Hazen house. The Peabody homestead was afterwards bought by James Simonds, who was William Hazen's partner in the trading firm.

SUGGESTED TABLET. It was a suggestion made by Archdeacon Raymond but never as yet acted upon, that the old Hazen house should have a tablet placed upon it as a marker to tell its history. There would seem to be need for such a marker since the house is generally called "the Simonds House" and even those who live in it are inclined to question its right to the claim which Archdeacon Raymond has made for it, that it is the oldest house in New Brunswick.

Weddings

Howard-Williams. Miss Marguerite Alta Grace Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, of Fredericton, became the bride of Charles North Howard, of West Saint John, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Howard, of Andover, the marriage being solemnized on Wednesday, Oct. 21, at St. Mary's church, Devon, by Rev. Mr. Fairweather, rector. The church was prettily decorated with the flowers, ferns and potted plants. Ribbon streamers added a festive appearance to the general scheme of decorating, which was carried out by the girl friends of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of pearl grey georgette over rose satin, with hat to match, and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Sadie Williams, who wore a gown of electric blue panne velvet with gold lace and fur and a picture hat to match, carrying an old-fashioned nosegay of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. John Tweeddale, of West Saint John, attended the groom.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Brennan, of Devon, where a supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Howard left on a honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia and will reside at 62 Gullford street, West Saint John, on their return.

The bride was formerly an employe in the office of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada in North Bay, Ont., and the groom is bookkeeper for the firm of Porter, Hatfield and Gallagher, of West Saint John. Many gifts from friends attended to the party of the bride and groom. Among the out-of-town guests to the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard, of Saint John.

LeBoutillier-Neif. NEWCASTLE, Oct. 23—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the chapel of Villa Teresian, Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 6 a.m., when Rev. P. U. Dixon celebrated nuptial mass at the marriage of Miss Helen Neif, only daughter of David Neif, of Newcastle, and Mr. Herbert LeBoutillier, of Gaspe, Que.

Bisney-Banks. The marriage of Miss Nellie A. Banks, R. N. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Blakely, of Loch Lomond, was solemnized in the Congregational church, Brighton, Mass., the ceremony being performed by Rev. Silas Anthony. Mr. and Mrs. Blakely will reside in Boston.

Ferguson-Maguire. Miss Rena Maguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Maguire, of Lorneville, became the bride of Frederick Ferguson, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson and the late Robert Ferguson, formerly of Lorneville, at the Carleton United church parsonage, West Saint John, Rev. F. T. Bertram, pastor, officiating. Mrs. Bertram and Stephen Maguire, the latter a brother of the bride, were witnesses. The bride was very pretty in a gown of blue Canton crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson motored to the home of the bride's parents for the wedding reception. They will reside in Lorneville.

Mitchell-Smith. PUGWASH, Oct. 24—The marriage of Miss Harriet Stevens Smith to William Arthur Mitchell, which was solemnized in Wednesday morning, October 21, was one of the most attractive weddings of the fall, being carried out at "Hillside," the lovely residence of Councillor and Mrs. William Mitchell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Sweetnam in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

Scott-Murray. SUSSEX CORNER, Oct. 24—A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Matthews, the latter the bride's sister, Sussex Corner, when Miss Jean A. Murray, daughter of the late Alfred D. Murray, of Penobscot, was united in marriage to Robert P. Scott, of Fairville, N. B. Rev. A. V. Morash, pastor of the United Church of Canada, Sussex, performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Scott will reside in Penobscot.

UPROAR STOPS LIBERAL MEET

Shawinigan Falls Reports Wildest Political Rally in 25 Years

Platform Gives Way; Police Chief Ends Gathering With Speakers Unheard.

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Oct. 25—Two and a half hours of uproar marked what was characterized as the "wildest political meeting in the district for 25 years," here this afternoon when two opposing Liberal candidates—Robert Ryan and Mayor Arthur Bettes of Three Rivers, appeared on the same platform.

The efforts of Chairman Hubert Biermann, president and general manager of the Belgo Paper Company, and of Senator Jacques Bureau, ex-minister of customs, to quiet the tumult were unavailing.

Three times the platform partially collapsed under the weight of those who crowded on it and finally it was broken down altogether. No one was hurt, but the situation from 2.30 until 5 o'clock was threatening and finally the meeting was brought to order by Police Captain Lavigne and dismissed at his request. Hon. Mr. Bureau, who had come with Mr. Ryan and Mayor Bettes, were accompanied away by friends and the police. Twelve thousand people attended the meeting, which was held in the local arena.

Called by Ryan. The meeting was called by Mr. Ryan. Mr. Bettes came also, accompanied by L. P. Pelletier, who had been in Three Rivers, and Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy and Dr. P. E. Pliset, ex-M. L. A. for St. Maurice.

The greater portion of the audience were willing to remain quiet, but two groups, supporters respectively of the Liberal candidates, immediately created a tumult which Chairman Biermann attempted to speak. Fights broke out among the crowd. Hon. Mr. Bureau attempted to gain silence, but without result. At 4 o'clock Mr. Biermann renewed his attempts and said amid the uproar: "I didn't come here to preside at a political meeting. I only came with my personal friend, Hon. Jacques Bureau."

Deaths Mrs. Wm. E. Scott. The death occurred last evening at her home, 193 Victoria street, of Margaret Isabel Scott, wife of William E. Scott, after a long illness.

Mrs. Scott was born in Dundee, Scotland, fifty-five years ago and came to Canada in 1889 and was married in January, 1892. She was a member of Main Street Baptist church and was a very attentive worshipper while in her health and was also a true Christian.

Mrs. Geo. D. Jones. Word has been received by H. W. Jones, of the C. N. R., advising him of the death yesterday in Amherstbury, Mass., of his sister-in-law, Mrs. George D. Jones.

W. Milton Ward. FREDERICTON, Oct. 25—W. Milton Ward died today at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. Kelly, Old Springhill Road, aged 42 years. He had resided in this vicinity for the greater part of his lifetime, but six years ago went west. He returned in ill health about a month ago. In addition to Mrs. Kelly, a sister, Mrs. Kitchen, survives in the west.

T. J. Bonner. HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 25—Thomas J. Bonner, 53, prominent merchant of Antigonish collapsed at the entrance to historic St. Paul's churchyard on Barrington street here, early Saturday afternoon and died before medical assistance could reach him.

Alfred S. Wetmore. MONCTON, Oct. 25—Alfred Sterling Wetmore, a well known resident of Lewisville, passed away at his home Saturday, at the age of 78. Mr. Wetmore was a native of Saint John. He had resided in Lewisville about 35 years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Amelia Wells. They celebrated their golden wedding on Nov. 4, 1924. Five sons and two daughters also survive. The sons are Elias of Moncton; Frank, of Florida; Charles, of Dorchester, Mass.; and George and Bliss, of Lewisville. The daughters are Mrs. R. W. McKenstry, of Campbellton, and Mrs. O. Haley, of Moncton. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bethia Burrill. YARMOUTH, Oct. 25—The death occurred at the home of her son-in-law, W. J. G. Burrill, of Carleton, Yarmouth county. She was in the eighty-third year of her age, and her passing followed a lingering illness. Mrs. Burrill, besides Mrs. Davis, leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Perry, Yarmouth, and Mrs. J. C. Poole, Yarmouth, N. C., and one son, Councillor C.

7,000 Reported Dead; Gale On Persian Gulf

KARACHI, British India, Oct. 25—Brief details of the destruction caused by a cyclonic storm in the Persian Gulf confirm the early reports of great loss and destruction of small vessels.

Despatches to the Daily Gazette say that 7,000 persons perished in the cyclone, which was accompanied by an earthquake and other disturbances.

AT THE CATHEDRAL. It was announced in the Cathedral yesterday that the collection on the previous Sunday, for the altar fund, amounted to $605.20 and that the total now was $7,608.20. There will be Confirmation in the Cathedral on next Saturday morning after the 7 o'clock mass. Next Saturday, the vigil of the Feast of All Saints, will be a fast day. The promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart will elect officers tonight.

SAYS BOAT STOLEN. George Lee of 201 St. James street, West Saint John, has reported to the police that some time between Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the next day at noon, some person stole a 10-foot long cedar row boat, owned by him, from Rodney Slip.

UPROAR STOPS LIBERAL MEET

Shawinigan Falls Reports Wildest Political Rally in 25 Years

Platform Gives Way; Police Chief Ends Gathering With Speakers Unheard.

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Oct. 25—Two and a half hours of uproar marked what was characterized as the "wildest political meeting in the district for 25 years," here this afternoon when two opposing Liberal candidates—Robert Ryan and Mayor Arthur Bettes of Three Rivers, appeared on the same platform.

The efforts of Chairman Hubert Biermann, president and general manager of the Belgo Paper Company, and of Senator Jacques Bureau, ex-minister of customs, to quiet the tumult were unavailing.

Three times the platform partially collapsed under the weight of those who crowded on it and finally it was broken down altogether. No one was hurt, but the situation from 2.30 until 5 o'clock was threatening and finally the meeting was brought to order by Police Captain Lavigne and dismissed at his request. Hon. Mr. Bureau, who had come with Mr. Ryan and Mayor Bettes, were accompanied away by friends and the police. Twelve thousand people attended the meeting, which was held in the local arena.

Called by Ryan. The meeting was called by Mr. Ryan. Mr. Bettes came also, accompanied by L. P. Pelletier, who had been in Three Rivers, and Hon. Wilfrid Gariepy and Dr. P. E. Pliset, ex-M. L. A. for St. Maurice.

The greater portion of the audience were willing to remain quiet, but two groups, supporters respectively of the Liberal candidates, immediately created a tumult which Chairman Biermann attempted to speak. Fights broke out among the crowd. Hon. Mr. Bureau attempted to gain silence, but without result. At 4 o'clock Mr. Biermann renewed his attempts and said amid the uproar: "I didn't come here to preside at a political meeting. I only came with my personal friend, Hon. Jacques Bureau."

Deaths Mrs. Wm. E. Scott. The death occurred last evening at her home, 193 Victoria street, of Margaret Isabel Scott, wife of William E. Scott, after a long illness.

Mrs. Scott was born in Dundee, Scotland, fifty-five years ago and came to Canada in 1889 and was married in January, 1892. She was a member of Main Street Baptist church and was a very attentive worshipper while in her health and was also a true Christian.

Mrs. Geo. D. Jones. Word has been received by H. W. Jones, of the C. N. R., advising him of the death yesterday in Amherstbury, Mass., of his sister-in-law, Mrs. George D. Jones.

W. Milton Ward. FREDERICTON, Oct. 25—W. Milton Ward died today at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. Kelly, Old Springhill Road, aged 42 years. He had resided in this vicinity for the greater part of his lifetime, but six years ago went west. He returned in ill health about a month ago. In addition to Mrs. Kelly, a sister, Mrs. Kitchen, survives in the west.

T. J. Bonner. HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 25—Thomas J. Bonner, 53, prominent merchant of Antigonish collapsed at the entrance to historic St. Paul's churchyard on Barrington street here, early Saturday afternoon and died before medical assistance could reach him.

Alfred S. Wetmore. MONCTON, Oct. 25—Alfred Sterling Wetmore, a well known resident of Lewisville, passed away at his home Saturday, at the age of 78. Mr. Wetmore was a native of Saint John. He had resided in Lewisville about 35 years. He is survived by his wife, formerly Amelia Wells. They celebrated their golden wedding on Nov. 4, 1924. Five sons and two daughters also survive. The sons are Elias of Moncton; Frank, of Florida; Charles, of Dorchester, Mass.; and George and Bliss, of Lewisville. The daughters are Mrs. R. W. McKenstry, of Campbellton, and Mrs. O. Haley, of Moncton. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bethia Burrill. YARMOUTH, Oct. 25—The death occurred at the home of her son-in-law, W. J. G. Burrill, of Carleton, Yarmouth county. She was in the eighty-third year of her age, and her passing followed a lingering illness. Mrs. Burrill, besides Mrs. Davis, leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Perry, Yarmouth, and Mrs. J. C. Poole, Yarmouth, N. C., and one son, Councillor C.

7,000 Reported Dead; Gale On Persian Gulf

KARACHI, British India, Oct. 25—Brief details of the destruction caused by a cyclonic storm in the Persian Gulf confirm the early reports of great loss and destruction of small vessels.

Despatches to the Daily Gazette say that 7,000 persons perished in the cyclone, which was accompanied by an earthquake and other disturbances.

AT THE CATHEDRAL. It was announced in the Cathedral yesterday that the collection on the previous Sunday, for the altar fund, amounted to $605.20 and that the total now was $7,608.20. School Grant For Hopewell Is Raised HOPWELL HILL, Oct. 25—A special school meeting of the Hopewell Hill district, now known as the "United District, Hopewell Hill, No. 2" was recently held to complete the business in connection with the recent union with the outlying districts of Memorial and Chemical Road. The vote of $1,100 for school purposes, made at the regular meeting in July, was rescinded and the sum of $1,600 voted. Two vans will be employed.

C. P. TAFT, JR., ELECTED. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Charles P. Taft II, of Cincinnati, was elected Saturday president of the International convention, Young Men's Christian Association of North America, which began its session here. He is 28 years old and the youngest man ever to hold the office.

RETREAT BEGUN. A retreat for the members of the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's parish was begun yesterday and will be continued tonight and Tuesday night. There was a very large congregation present in the church last night when the special preacher was Rev. Father Mullins, C.S.S.R.

The Wife Who Takes All and Returns Not Even Appreciation—What a Girl Can Do in the Age Between Dolls and Beaux—How to Bring Out a Shy Husband.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I was a widower with two children when I married a girl who confessed to me just before we were married that she had made a mistake in her early youth. I forgave this because she was so young at the time. After we were married, I found that there was another man with whom she had an extremely close friendship.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER:

I think, as in most matrimonial troubles, that both parties are to blame.

I think you have allowed yourself to get morbid by dwelling too much on your wife's past. You may have forgiven her, but you cannot forget, and the memory of her sin is spoiling your life. You don't trust her in your heart of hearts. You are always suspecting her, and believing that she is regretting the man with whom she had love affairs before she met you.

THIS is very natural. It is what almost always happens under the circumstances, and it is the great argument against a man marrying a woman whose skirts are not clean. He can never get his eyes off the mud spots, and they get bigger and bigger the more he gazes upon them, until they cover her all over with slime.

That isn't fair, because many a woman who has slipped has repented it so bitterly that she watches her step ever afterward more carefully than the woman who has always kept in the middle of the straight and narrow road. Also, when a man marries a woman, knowing her past, he wipes the slate clean by that act, and he has no right to reproach her with it again, or remember it against her.

ALSO you feel that because you have overlooked in your wife a fault that most men would not condone, because you have been magnanimous and generous, she should show some special appreciation of it. I agree with you on that. I should think that nothing she could do for you would be great enough to express her gratitude to you and her admiration for you.

But benefits are easily forgotten, and there are just as many people who refuse to pay their spiritual debts as there are who default on their money debts. They want to take all and give nothing, and evidently your wife belongs to this class.

One of the most pathetic things in the world is the amount of happiness that is thrown away for lack of a little appreciation. BOILED down, all that you ask of your wife in return for all you have given her—a settled place in society, a good name, a beautiful home, every luxury—is just a little appreciation. If she made you feel continually how she adored you, and admired you, how noble and chivalrous she thought you were, how grateful she was for all you had done for her, and how anxious she was to repay it by every means in her power, you would be happy. You would ask nothing else of her.

But she takes it all and makes no sign, and you are miserable. And there is no help for you because you cannot teach a narrow, selfish individual to be appreciative. It takes a big and noble soul to feel gratitude. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—What should a girl do between the age of 15 and 20—when she is too old to play with dolls, and not old enough to have beaux? MARJORIE.

ANSWER:

There are so many interesting things to do, Marjorie, in that halcyon period of your life that I don't know where to begin enumerating them.

First, of course, are school and college and sororities, and all the fun and frolic that go with them. Next, there is reading. You will never in your whole life have such another good, free time to read.

When you are older, there will be so much work to do, so many places to go, so many interruptions, that you will have to steal the time for a book. But now you will have long, luxurious evenings, in which you can go on great adventures in all the far wonder places of the world, when you can meet the most enchanting and fascinating creatures that the imagination of man ever conjured up, and do all the daring things that crisp your nerves and thrill your pulses.

It is the time for you to acquire the reading habit, and that is the best shield and buckler that you can have against the dangers of life. For if you love to read, you can never be bored, you can never be lonely. You have got something that will tide you over the dreary days of sickness, and be an antidote to you in times of sorrow.

You can spend a lot of your time in athletic sports. You can learn to swim and ride and dance, play tennis and golf, and not only have great fun doing it, but build up for yourself a splendid, strong body.

And, if I were you, I would spend part of that time learning to speak a foreign language.

BEFORE the World War they used to have a good custom in Europe of families exchanging children. A German or Italian father and mother would send their child to stay in a French family, so it could learn French, and the French parents would send their child to a German or Italian family so that it could learn to speak those languages. Perhaps that plan isn't practicable here, but don't you know some French or Italian girl that you could get for a chum, and with whom you could speak her language instead of your both chattering away in Americanese? You have no idea how easy it is to pick up a language at your age, and how difficult it is after you are grown.

And, finally, I hope that you can put in some of the time traveling, for that is the greatest education of all. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am married to one of the best and noblest men on earth, but he is so shy that he is dumb in company, though he has an exceptionally brilliant mind. He lacks initiative to such an extent that it almost amounts to an affliction, and he is as dependent on me as my children are. Loving him as I do, I want him to be a success in every respect. How can I help him conquer this weakness? YETIVE.

ANSWER:

Flatter him. Spend your time telling him how great and wonderful he is, and how much you love and admire him. Try to make him believe in himself. That is the only way to overcome the inferiority complex. DOROTHY DIX.

Glitter of Gold Grips Sartorial Circles

By MME. LISBETH.

METAL cloth is being used more extensively than ever before in all manner of clothes. It is almost startling to see a modest black or dark colored walking or afternoon dress with a brilliant collar of gold cloth, but it is very effective nevertheless. And it is just as fetching when used for hat trimming.

The saucy little hat (centre) uses it in a wide facing for the upturned brim and for binding and buttons on the tab that forms the trimming. This tab gives a smart military air to the hat as dashing as a captain's shoulder straps. The hat is black velvet and the wide gold facing is gold leatherette.

The dinner gown of shimmering lace (right) is richly embroidered in gold. It is a straight-line frock made over a slip of flesh colored crepe, which is visible through an opening from neck to girdle and from there to the hem. The ribbon girdle is fastened with a clasp of gold and green in antique design. A pencil line of gold on the wide black velvet hat adds another Midas touch to the ensemble.

The charm and quaintness of the colonial is reproduced for us as worn by the slim, athletic maid of today in the creation (left) for the debutante. It is made of changeable taffeta, the plain little bodice having a kerchief-like trimming of lace around the shoulders and a flower at the centre of the front. The fullness of the wide skirt is mostly posed at the sides and back, the hem being finished with a border of the fine lace that trims the bodice. It is put narrower in front than on the sides and where it widens and is cut to a point, flowers matching those on the bodice are placed.

Too High Value Is Placed On Money Says An Editor

Limiting Worth to Money All Wrong — Man Might Have Very Little Wealth, Yet Be Supremely Valuable to the World.

SOMEONE asked about a wealthy man who had died, "How much did he leave?" The lawyer replied: "Everything." It is remarkable that people always judge a man's worth by the amount of money he leaves. True value is not easily calculated. One may have all and be valueless, whilst another may have little or nothing—according to the world's standard—and yet be supremely valuable, says Tit-Bits editor.

We are never so wrong as when we limit worth to money. After all, money is only a form of barter and is almost worthless of itself! Buttons, or boots, or beads could be honored in the same way, though they might not be so convenient.

One bit of paper is worth $5. Another bit is used for making a fire. A length and weight is used as a poker. Wherein lies the difference in these bits of paper and pieces of metal? Only the worth we set upon them.

What is it that makes one almost indispensable to a business or community whilst others come and go and are not missed? The answer is almost always "money, or property, or even ability, but—sheer worth." These differences are found everywhere—in cricket, golf, legislation and social life.

WORTH IS USEFULNESS. Worth, then, is really the amount of our usefulness to the world. If other people are not better because of our being amongst them, then we are worthless. A man can get as much as he can carry—and more than that, as so many do—and be of no worth at all. It is his usefulness that gives him value. Withholding is ever an impoverishment. To live so that our fellow men and women may find life easier is to live worthily.

It is a heartrending thing to have it said of us: "He's no use!" It means that we have no place in the game, that the world could get on quite as well without us. Of course, it all depends upon who says it! One might say it and be no better than the persons about whom he is speaking; another might misjudge us or do it according to wrong standards.

A man's worth does not always lie on the surface. How often we hear it said: "You have to know him to value him." To judge hastily of anyone is unfair, but we all do it and we never quite value each other. To one who knows us we may be of pre-eminent value, and that brings out the best in us.

When you think of the value of a person, what do you entertain in your mind? Do you think of his salary, position, family, upbringing, house and car? A scoundrel may have all these things, whilst one minus them is an asset to the nation and is ever living to make men free.

Professions and possessions of themselves never make men valuable. It is always that they are and never what they have which conditions men's worth.

The most wonderful book in the world declares that we are only of use as we "do unto others as we would they should do unto us." But we must always "be" before we "do." Worth is a matter of character and not reputation. What we are, and not what others think of us, is what counts. To think one self to be true, and it follows as the night the day, that one cannot not be false to any man.

THE TWINS CLOSE THEIR GARAGE. One day Daddy Cracknuts came to the "Twin Garage" and said, "What can I do for you?"

"I came to talk about fixing my car for the winter," said Daddy. "It is getting so cold up in Maple Tree Flats that we are going to move to our winter house under the ground. When we move we don't come out very often, and we won't need a car then, for we never travel very far away."

"At that very minute, before Nick had time to answer, there was a sound of spitting and chugging, and up came Mister Wally Woodchuck in his car. "My goodness! It's so cold I can't make the engine work right at all," said Mister Woodchuck climbing stiffly out.

"I came to see what I had better do with the car this winter, Nick. We live in the house the whole winter long. Indeed, we go right to bed and stay there. So a car isn't needed any more than a sausage balloon, so it isn't."

Fashion Fancies

ALMOST like a frock in its simplicity is the white negligee sketched above.

The material is heavy crepe, and the only trimming touch appears in the form of field flowers in their natural colors, embroidered over the upper part.

The wide girdle ties in front. The length is short, as both negligee and nightgowns follow the lead of the new frocks as to skirt length.

Bronchitis More Than a Cold

Often develops rapidly into pneumonia—relief is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold. It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weariness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Science Solves Mystery Of That Green Line

By DAVID DIETZ.

THE mystery of the green line has been solved, many scientists believe. Dr. J. C. McLennan, director of the physical laboratory at the University of Toronto is believed to have turned the trick.

The green line is a line which always appears in the spectrum of rainbow of colors when a photograph of the northern open sky is taken with the aid of a spectroscope. Scientists have never been able to account for it, though there was the general opinion that it must be the result of the action of electrical rays from the sun upon the upper portions of the atmosphere.

Professor Lars Vegard, a European scientist, working at the low temperature laboratory in Leyden, Holland, thought he had solved the problem about two years ago.

He froze nitrogen and then subjected it to an electrical bombardment. A spectroscopic photograph made of the bombardment showed a prominent green line.

But Dr. McLennan, about a year later, using more refined apparatus at the University of Toronto, showed that the green line obtained by Vegard was not the same line that was found in aurora but that it occupied a slightly different place in the spectrum.

MEANWHILE, however, Professor Kristian Birkeeland, a Norwegian scientist, has demonstrated that the aurora was undoubtedly a phenomenon resulting from bombardment of the upper atmosphere by electrical rays from the sun.

Dr. Birkeeland bombarded a magnetized sphere with electrical rays. The result was the formation of miniature auroras.

THE LAST FRONTIER

R. J. C. McLENNAN.

IT OCCURRED then to Dr. McLennan that the upper atmosphere might be composed largely of a helium because helium is so light.

Accordingly he placed a mixture of 25 parts of helium to one of oxygen in a glass tube. With the aid of a vacuum pump he reduced the pressure in the tube to a low figure because it is known that the upper atmosphere is very thin.

When this tube was subjected to an electrical bombardment and a spectroscopic photograph made the green line made its appearance.

Comedy Enlivens Wright's Western Plot

By JACK JUNGMEYER.

THANKS to Raymond Hatton and a group of unnamed ranch hands in the east, an unusual amount of comedy has been injected into the usual Harold Bell Wright formula to calve his "Son of His Father" as Paramount has screened it.

This fun element mitigates the Wright plot monotony, as it is filmed about once every three months, under various titles.

Convention in Saint John Is Declared Most Successful

Special Addresses Mark Gathering—Banquet is Enjoyed by Delegates.

The conference of C. G. I. T. members from Saint John, Kings and Queens counties, which closed with a public service in Queen Square church yesterday afternoon, was described by Miss Marjorie Trotter, Maritime girls' work secretary, as one of the most successful she had attended in several years.

DISCUSSION GROUPS.

In the afternoon the conference was divided for discussion groups. Miss Marjorie Trotter conducted a group for leaders and Miss C. Amos was leader of a discussion group for girl officers.

After the hour of discussion a very interesting and entertaining program was given by those who had attended C. G. I. T. camps.

CONVENTION BANQUET.

The convention banquet was held on Saturday evening and was much enjoyed. After the girls at each table had sung a special song a toast had been honored.

INTERESTING REPORTS.

After the toasts the secretaries of the eight-secting groups gave interesting reports. Mrs. Lawrence gave a short address. Mrs. R. G. Fulton announced the results of the summer contests among Saint John groups and presented the cups.

MR. SIMMS SPEAKS.

Mr. Simms spoke of the three branches of the C. G. I. T. effort, the Children's Work Division, the Canadian Girls in Training and the Canadian Standard of Efficiency Training Boys, as three towering columns which could be made a portal for a beautiful temple where all people might study humbly at the feet of Jesus.

MISS AMERICA IMPROVING

Fay Lanphier of California, crowned "Miss America" in the Atlantic City beauty pageant, is shown in her bed in a New York hotel, recovering from an attack of pneumonia that struck her shortly after the contest.

Social Notes of Interest

The M. R. E. C. endeavor were linked up together. Miss Trotter spoke of the conference as the third in a series of 14 to be held in the Maritime Provinces and said that at least 2,000 C. G. I. T. members would attend the series.

HALLOWEEN TEA

The Willing Helpers' Mission Band of the Carleton United Church held a very enjoyable and successful Halloween tea on Saturday afternoon and realized a satisfactory sum for missions.

Mr. E. V. O'Neill, manager of the Kent Northern Railway, is here from Richibucto, and visiting relatives. He was accompanied by a friend, Mr. Ralph Hannah, traveling by motor, bringing also his sister, Miss Gertrude O'Neill and Miss Gertrude Costley, who have been visiting in Richibucto.

Mr. A. R. Windus, of Quebec, assistant marine superintendent at that port, and who comes to West Saint John in the winter, in connection with the C. P. R. steamships business, had the honor of presenting a well filled purse of money to Mr. W. G. McCauley of the C. P. R. service in Quebec, whose wedding day is approaching. The guests represented all the different staffs of the C. P. R. at West Saint John.

Mr. H. O. Crookshank, of the Bank of Montreal, Montreal, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. A. O. Crookshank, 77 Duke street, has returned home. Mrs. Crookshank has been seriously ill at West Saint John, and her friends are happy to know that she is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Secord were host and hostess at their home in Rotheay on Saturday evening entertaining at dinner for Miss Ruth Robinson, Miss Frances Emerson, Mr. Eric Thomson and Mr. Jack Holy, brother of Mrs. Secord.

Miss Doris Brennan, who was hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nason, Mr. Robert Bishop and Mr. Eric Clark, Miss Beryl Mullin, Miss Bertha Campbell, Mr. Leslie Jones and Mr. Jack Holy joined the party for the dance.

Miss Margery Steeves, of Hillsboro, Albert county, was the occasion for a Halloween party at the Brennan Camp, Lake McCormack, on Friday, when a party were served at dinner and enjoyed dancing in the evening.

Mrs. Brennan and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nason, who are guests of Mrs. Brennan, with Mr. Anglin Gorman, Mr. R. Henry, Mr. Charles Ross, Mr. D. M. Wafham and Mr. Newark, greatly enjoyed the outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Fowler, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O. Crookshank, of Fredericton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Carleton Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Slipp, of Claresholm, Alberta, who are in the east for a year to visit their former home and friends in Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peters, formerly of Saint John and now of Bridgetown, N. S., have returned from a two months' trip to California and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Hartt at their home, 240 City Line, West Saint John.

Mrs. Arthur E. Hartt, of 247 City Line, West Saint John, returned on the Boston boat on Saturday after an enjoyable two weeks' visit in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Greenlaw, who were recently married at St. Stephen, are guests of Mrs. Greenlaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thorne, 922 Rockland Road, before returning to St. Andrews, where they will reside.

TABLET PLACED ON TRINITY WALL

Unveiling in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. T. Otty Crookshank

Members of Family Gather For Impressive Ceremony on Sunday Morning.

A beautiful tablet of polished brass erected in Trinity church to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. T. Otty Crookshank, devout and faithful members of the church, was unveiled and dedicated with simple and impressive ceremony at the morning service in the church yesterday.

under which she had knelt almost every Sunday of her married life. Those pieces of stained glass from the window over the Crookshank pew in the old church are still treasured by her daughter, Mrs. Fowler, who, with her husband, is happily here today for the dedication of the monument.

The Crookshank house on Chipman Hill was spared by the great fire and is remembered by some present this morning. According to the late D. Russell Jack, it was the first framed dwelling house built in Saint John. The frame was of oak brought here from England.

EARLY HISTORY.

The first member of the Crookshank family to settle on this side of the Atlantic was George Crookshank, a sea-faring man sailing on a vessel from the Port of New York. He came from the Orkney Islands on the coast of Scotland in 1740. His home was at Red Bank in New Jersey. He died in Saint John in 1797. One of his sons was a deputy commissary of the crown in Upper Canada, but another, whose name was Andrew, came with the second fleet of Loyalists here. His son, Robert W., married Hannah Otty, and his daughter, Elizabeth, became the wife of Allan Otty an officer of the royal navy and settled eventually in Kings county.

Robert W. Crookshank was a member of the firm of Crookshank & Johnson, whose place of business was on the North Wharf near Nelson street. He was one of the directors of the Bank of New Brunswick in 1821. He was also a director of the Saint John Water Company in 1832, and his name appears among those incorporated as the Saint John Bridge Company in 1833.

W. Shives Fisher and I. H. Northrup, church wardens, accepted the monument on behalf of the corporation of Trinity church and requested the rector, Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, M. A., to dedicate it. Andrew O. Crookshank unveiled the tablet. The memorial is shield shaped and mounted on a walnut base and has been very beautifully engraved. It is a fine piece of craftsmanship, executed by A. G. Plumer, of Saint John.

THE INSCRIPTION.

The inscription is: "In loving memory of T. Otty Crookshank, born 1826, died 1901; and his wife, Elizabeth Hamlin, born 1827, died 1911, a daughter of the Hon. John R. Partelow. Loved by their children and a devoted niece, Hamlin Fellows. "Abide with Me."

Before the unveiling took place Mr. Lawrence recalled to memory those faithful members of the congregation whom it commemorated and the important place the family has taken in local history.

"In accordance," he said "with the request made to the Corporation the tablet has been erected on the south wall beside the pew that was occupied by the Crookshank family. In the wooden church which stood on this foundation the Crookshank pew was in the same part of the building. After the great fire of 1877, Mrs. Otty Crookshank came to the ruins of "Old Trinity" and gathered from the ashes some pieces of the stained glass window

1838. T. Otty Crookshank was his son.

Mrs. T. Otty Crookshank was a daughter of the Hon. John R. Partelow, who was Mayor of the city and a member of the House of Assembly. The register shows that seven children of this couple were brought to Trinity church for baptism. Of the sons the only one surviving is Andrew Otty Crookshank of Fredericton, whose son, Otty, went overseas as a lieutenant in the 104th Battalion under the late Col. George W. Fowler."

THOSE PRESENT.

Members of the family present for the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Otty Crookshank, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Fowler, New York; Harold Crookshank, Montreal; Allan R. Crookshank, City; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fenety, Fredericton; Miss Otty, Model Farm; Miss Elsie Mathew, City; Miss F. Tibbetta, Fredericton; Mrs. T. Carleton Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinnear, City.

Bishop Leblanc Speaks On Honesty

In the Cathedral at the 9.15 o'clock mass on Sunday His Lordship Bishop Leblanc read the excerpt from the appendix to the Roman Ritual, as published last week relative to the Catholic people and the election of next Thursday.

His Lordship added comment on the points in the announcement, strongly condemning the selling of one's vote either for money or for the promise of position. Allied to this subject was His Lordship's sermon on the gospel of the day dealing with the servant who had been forgiven a large debt by his master, only to demand payment of a small sum by one who owed him. Bishop Leblanc gave an address on the requirement for restitution of ill-gotten gains and took occasion to speak on the obligations of employees to their employers.

OXFORD MAN KILLED AS EARTH CAVES IN

Was Inspecting Excavation; Workmen Are Rescued From Debris.

OXFORD, N. S., Oct. 25.—H. A. Amos, 62, a prominent citizen of this town, former town councillor, was almost instantly killed yesterday when inspecting an excavation on his property. He was entombed by a cave-in.

Workmen were also caught by the slide of earth but were rescued. Mr. Amos was dead when extricated. He came to Nova Scotia from New Brunswick 80 years ago. He was Maritime representative of the J. B. Armstrong Company, of Guelph, Ont. A daughter of the deceased is the wife of Prof. H. P. Munroe, of Dalhousie University, Halifax, and another daughter is the wife of W. E. Allen, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at Port Elgin, N. B.

The Cash Value of "TIME"

"TIME" for you has a definite cash value because each year you delay insuring means an increase in the premium.

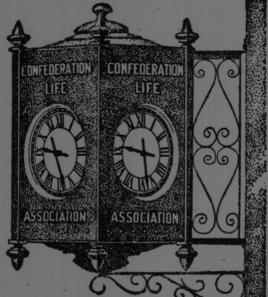

Delay will cost you money—a larger premium. As "TIME" passes you are more likely to become uninsurable. The cost of this to your heirs may be serious.

Even after you have insured your life, "TIME" again has a cash value to you, for each year your policy, if on the "with profits" plan, will increase in value by the amount of whatever profits are added.

Turn "TIME" into money by insuring your life now. The Confederation Life Association issues a policy providing that should you become Totally and Permanently Disabled, not only will the Association pay all future premiums for you, keeping the policy in full force and earning profits if on the "with profits" plan, but they will, in addition pay you a regular Monthly Income during disability, and then when you die pay the policy in full. If you should die by accidental means the face value of the policy will be doubled.

What is Under the Covers?

Second-hand, dirty fillings, or New, Clean Materials?

THERE is no law in this land that prohibits the use of old, worn, second-hand or even dirty or unsanitary materials for the fillings of a chesterfield or an upholstered chair.

Yet, second-hand fillings can prove a menace to the health of every member of a family.

Who can tell what kind of disease germs may be present in unsanitary fillings.

We are in favor of a law to prohibit the use of such fillings.

But, as there is no such law at present, the only protection you have is to buy a chesterfield made by a reliable maker.

We ourselves, give you a guarantee, printed and signed, that we use only new, clean, sanitary fillings for all our "Sani-Bilt" Chesterfields and Suites.

These fillings are, also, sterilized to make doubly certain that they are absolutely germ-free, safe and healthful.

We feel sure you would not knowingly bring into your home a chesterfield or upholstered chair filled with unclean materials. But how are you going to tell what is under the covers, unless you get a maker's guarantee of their newness, cleanliness and quality? Who but Snyder's gives such a guarantee?

Don't Fail to See the New Congoleum Rug Patterns—

Again—Congoleum Canada Limited makes a real contribution to the art of interior decoration.

If the newest designs of Congoleum Gold Seal Art-Rugs, distinctive motifs have been combined with harmonious colorings to produce effects that have been found until now only in the most expensive woven rugs and carpets.

Pattern No. 562, the rug shown above, contains more than a hint of the Orient. It is a floral design, the flowers are in light blue, magenta and old rose. The buff background is relieved by a coffee-colored cross-patch design. The border is old blue and lends a finishing touch to this exceptionally pretty pattern. The colors are admirably adapted to either light or rich-toned draperies.

Your Dealer has the New Designs

Of course, a newspaper illustration can convey only the meager suggestion of the wonderful artistry of the new Congoleum Rug designs. To appreciate them you must see how decorative they really are. Your dealer will be glad to show them to you; also other patterns of Congoleum Rugs suitable for all parts of the house.

Congoleum Rugs have many other qualities besides beauty to recommend them to modern women. They are sunproof, waterproof and sanitary. They lie flat without fastening.

Popular Sizes at Low Prices

Congoleum Gold Seal Art-Rugs are made in seventeen sizes; ranging from the handy 18 x 36 inch mats to the 9 x 15 foot room-size rugs. Their amazing durability and very low prices make them the most economical floor-covering you can buy.

Congoleum-By-the-Yard

Ask your dealer to show you the four new patterns in this popular floor-covering. It is made of the same durable material as Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs, for use to cover the entire floor.

MEMOIRS OF LORD
GREY OUTSTANDING

It Costs a Lot of Money to be Lord Mayor of London

Correspondence of Times-Star.
LONDON, Oct. 26.—Within a few weeks the Church of England may be involved in its biggest controversy since Tractarian days. The crisis depends upon the bishops assembling to decide upon prayer-book revision. Most of the proposed alterations are agreed, and are merely obvious changes to bring the three-century-old English up-to-date. But the suggestions for revising the communion service, and substituting a strong Catholic for a firm Protestant bias, are contested. As the bishops are divided on the subject, their deliberations will be private. The Bishops of Durham and Norwich, among others, are opposed to the change, but the Bishop of London supports it.

LORD GREY'S MEMOIRS.
The memoirs of Lord Grey of Faldoen, written laboriously by one who can no longer distinguish friends' faces a few feet away, will rank not only as a crucial footnote to big history, but as a classic of autopsychology. The Foreign Secretary of 1914 reveals his temperament as well as his character, and his intellectual timidity as well as his spiritual courage. He led a united Britain into Armageddon undimmed in heart, after his desperate peace efforts had utterly failed before what was obviously destiny aiming over open sights, but his mind even still is haunted by a gaunt problem. Could the war have been conceivably averted? Though Lord Grey's book

MAIL PLANE'S WRECKAGE IN PENN. WOODS

Only a few yards from the Bellefonte, Pa., landing field and safety, the mail plane of Charles M. Ames, missing 10 days, was found on the side of Nittany Mountain, where it had crashed into the trees. The picture above shows the wrecked ship with the pilot's unused parachute across the fuselage. Ames' body was in the cockpit.

now answers deliberately "No," there is even yet just a faint falter of dubility in his voice.

TRUE PROPHECY.
In August, 1914, Sir Edward Grey, as he then was, perhaps more nearly resembled Hamlet, poised amid tragic doubts to which his spirit felt unequal, than mortal statesman ever did before. But his outlook even so was truly prophetic. He predicted political upheaval, and Labor governments everywhere. How characteristic of Lord Grey's simple artistry is the comment made at dusk on August 8, 1914, as he and a friend, from the Foreign Office window, watched the lamps being lighted: "The lamps are going out all over Europe; we shall not see them lit again in our lifetime!" One puts down his book with admiration for and with understanding of its illustrious author. And yet, had Lord Grey been a little more of a Pitt—just a trifle more adventurous—the navy might have starved Germany into peace two years sooner.

AN EXPENSIVE HONOR.
The retiring Lord Mayor, now in the last month of his year of office, will be busy with his accountants, working out just what being Lord Mayor has cost him. He will then give the benefit of his experience to the incoming Lord Mayor, with a few suggestions how expenses can be kept within reasonable limits. This is the etiquette of Lord Mayordom, because the honor is probably the most expensive that any man can accept. The city makes an allowance of £10,000 for entertaining, but practically the whole of this is signed away in the first week of office, when the catering contract for the year is arranged. The Lord Mayor is personally responsible for the upkeep of the Mansion House, and he has to make good everything, to the last kitchen saucer, when the inventory is taken at the end of his term. In practice no one can be Lord Mayor unless he is prepared to spend £20,000 out of his own pocket. Within the last ten years one Lord Mayor spent £68,000 and another £61,000.

THE BYNG BOYS
Viscount Torrington, whose financial affairs are giving him some trouble, is personally a most attractive fellow, and well maintains the tradition of an adventurous line. He showed himself a lively youngster at Eton and Sandhurst, and, after figuring as a Page of Honor in two courts—Queen Victoria's and King Edward's—caused some society flutter by marrying an actress. He was 28 when the 1914 bugles sounded, and promptly joined the Hussars as a trooper, but quickly emerged with a commission in the R. N. V. R., which was much more in keeping with family tradition because the first Byng to hold the title won it by a gallant naval victory off Cape Passaro. That was the father of the unfortunate admiral, who, owing to much the same mischance that robbed us of decisive sea victory at Jutland, was most drastically executed, after a court-martial, "pour encourager les autres." Later on the present viscount observed with the R. A. F., and his machine being strafed by "archies" became a Bulgarian captive of war.

AIR FORCE CASUALTIES.
Today I met an old friend who holds high rank in the Royal Air Force, and asked him whether he could throw any expert light on recent regrettable flying casualties. His prompt answer was that, though he had noted an attempt by certain sensational journals to boom these mishaps, the facts are not at all disturbing. In the present stage of flight, wonderful though its scientific perfection already is, some accidents are inevitable where intricate air manoeuvres are attempted. But the R. A. F. is now doing much more actual flying than formerly, or even a year ago, and, taking this into account, the casualties have not been excessive. They may be largely explained by the development of intensive tactics of aerial attack.

A FAST FLAPPER.
One of the swiftest things afloat, seaplanes and aeroplanes apart, must be the Hon. A. E. Guinness' new motor yacht, Oma II, built to his order within nine weeks by a well-known East Cowes firm. Though this boat is a comfortable pleasure vessel, and can accommodate eight passengers, she has enormous speed. On her trial runs in the Solent, over anything but smooth water, she attained 50 knots, which is slightly over 90 miles an hour. A mile a minute over "the long savannah of the blue" is a terrible performance, and stamps Oma II as the ideal flagship for an adventurous "jackbooter." She could defy all the U. S. "dry" navy as well as the still more formidable "wet" pirates. I have not seen her "go," but from all accounts, at top speed, the Oma stands on her fall.

WOMEN WHO HUNT.
One of the best-known makers of hunting saddles in the world—he has made saddles for every royal family in Europe—tells me that more women than ever are meaning to hunt this year. Indeed, the master of one pack of foxhounds in the Shires declares he could not carry on, were it not for the subscriptions paid by women members of the hunt. And they understand hounds now, and no longer cause anxiety to the hunt. Indeed, the number of woman masters grows every season. There is Miss Eileen Berry, who hunts her own pack in South Wales, Miss Kathleen Styles, who is master of the West Kent, a pack very popular with Stock Exchange sportsmen, and Mrs. T. H. R. Hughes of the Neauddafur pack, who is the senior lady master. A newcomer this season is Miss Lloyd Thomas, who carries the horn as joint master of the Meonmouthshire foxhounds.

SERVICE HELD UP.
A broken axle caused a West Saint John street car to leave the rails near the C. P. R. tracks in Douglas avenue last evening and the street car service on that route was held up for about 20 minutes while the car was being put back on the tracks. It was able to get to the car barns under its own power.

LOCK LOMOND WATER SERVICE IS RESUMED AFTER WORK ON SUNDAY.
The employees of the Water and Sewerage Department spent most of yesterday replacing screens in the gatehouse at Loch Lomond that had been damaged in the recent storm. Owing to the high wind of yesterday they were unable to send a diver down to the intake to clear away the debris collected there following the same storm and this work will have to be

Three new screens were put in to replace those temporarily repaired following the storm about two weeks ago that damaged them. The intake is about 200 feet further out in the lake and it was impossible to reach it last Sunday.

Because of the stormy weather the Centenary church congregational meeting called for last night was postponed until next Sunday night.

TO THE RAILWAY WORKERS OF CANADA.

Dear Sirs:

I am credibly informed that a whispering campaign is being carried on in the endeavor to misrepresent my views, and the attitude of the Conservative Party, towards the Canadian National Railway System and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

In order that there may be no doubt in your mind as to where I stand on railway amalgamation, I give you my personal assurance that I have never given the slightest support to it, and I will oppose, either in office or in opposition, Parliament dealing with the question of amalgamation, unless as an issue to be placed squarely before the people at a future election for their decision.

Increased population and traffic, and not amalgamation, are needed to solve Canada's Railway problem. My railway policy is bound up with a reasonable and stable protective tariff, bringing with it prosperity and increased railway earnings, thus assuring regular full time employment for Canadian railroad workers, as against short time now prevailing in many branches of the railway service.

With my best wishes for a prosperous future,

I am,
Yours very truly,

Arthur Meighen

CHUMS OF SCHOOL DAYS HONOR THE DEAN OF CANADIAN LITERATURE

Charles G. D. Roberts Speaks of New Brunswick at Informal Lunch Reception Given by Body of Representative Citizens

That there is something in the very atmosphere of New Brunswick that keeps us young and our affections warm; that wherever he journeyed about the world he came across sons of this province holding high and mighty positions; that the Biosene race is a restlessly energetic one seeking romantic adventures in the outer world rather than accept greater chances of success right at home here, were some of the high-lighted viewpoints of Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts, dean of Canadian literature and son of New Brunswick, at an informal lunch-reception tendered him in the private saloons of the Admiral Beatty Hotel Sunday by the Fortnightly Club and the University of New Brunswick Club, a party of 50 representative citizens.

The lunch party arose at 8.45, an additional half hour being spent in personal chats with the distinguished amiable guest.

REMINISCENCE

It was a delightfully reminiscent occasion. Intimacy and open-heartedness colored the speeches and Dr. Roberts confessed that his reply was not the speaking of his mind but rather the promptings of his heart. It was a deeply sentimental occasion to him, he averred, to return to his homeland after so many years in distant places and sit at table with chums of his boyhood days in college, pupils of his tutoring days in Maritime seats of learning, among kith and kin and the cherished friendships of a life-time.

W. J. S. MYLES' TRIBUTE

W. J. S. Myles, principal of the High School, a former president of the Alumni of the U. N. B., presided in the absence of W. F. Burditt, president of the Fortnightly Club, who was ill. A. F. Blake, of the Fortnightly Club, acted as vice-chairman.

After the King had been honored, Mr. Myles said it was a distinct privilege to those present to this great native son of New Brunswick who had attained not only leadership in the Canadian world of letters but was one of the outstanding literary favorites of the English-speaking tongue.

It was deemed fitting that the Fortnightly Club as a literary society should not pass this opportunity of honoring the dean of Canadian literature and University of New Brunswick graduates desired at the same time to recognize the most outstanding of the children of their Alma Mater. Mr. Myles paid graceful tribute to Dr. Roberts' high note of Canadian citizenship, struck in his poetical works particularly, claiming for it a powerful influence in fostering a national spirit and giving distinctiveness of character to the nation.

Dr. Roberts had ever expressed the feeling of the Canadian people better than any other of its writers and it was the speaker's hope that he would long spare to sing the same sweet song.

The noted author struck at sectionalism and proclaimed a broad Canadianism. After a long absence New Brunswick was glad to welcome him.

Dr. Roberts' reverie. "Frankly," said the distinguished guest at the lunch-party as he rose amid a warm greeting, "I should prefer not to say anything at all. I do not feel like speaking," he said, "I prefer thinking. Indeed," he continued, "it is not my brain that is speaking now, it is my heart. Here am I surrounded by chums of my boyhood days, other old friends and kinsmen and I really cannot tell you how deeply it affects me."

Then, in an easily-spoken ramble through memories covering nearly half a century, Dr. Roberts charmed his hearers with recollections so intimate and locally colored that he held them rapt.

A BLUENOSE SHEIK. He characterized the average New Brunswicker as a restlessly energetic personality. "Wherever he went he felt near or he felt far but he usually fell in with folks from this Bluenose country occupying leading positions and contributing largely to the progress of the place of their adoption. Apropos he cited the amusing incident of an Arab orchardist in the environs of Tunis, North Africa. As was his wont the author-traveler engaged the roadside native in conversation, using the French tongue. In halting sentences the sheik-like foreigner enquired if his chance acquaintance was not English.

"Well, yes, I am sort of English," was the reply, "one brand of English; I'm a Canadian."

"What part of Canada?" quickly quizzed the Arab, eyeing the doctor closely and wrapping his flowing raiment about him.

"The east of Canada," said the doctor, "the Maritime Provinces."

"Sheik," said the sheik, "that's my country too" and he extended a brown bony arm, giving the author a hearty shake.

The story elicited rounds of merriment which was increased when Dr. Roberts made some humorous references to the New Brunswicker's Mohammedan communal customs and his protestations that in deference to his Canadian upbringing he was including the luxury of two wives only, although Mohammed allowed him four, according to the rules.

SAYS CARMAN BEST POET. It was a glowing compliment that Dr. Roberts paid Bliss Carman, his noted contemporary in Canadian letters, by claiming for him leadership as our national poet. Dr. Roberts made this assertion in mild protest against Rev. H. A. Cody's claim that he (Roberts) occupied that position. In this opinion the speaker said he was supported by no less a poetic authority than Swinburne, of England himself.

CANADIAN UNITY. Before closing the guest of the party spoke of Canadian unity. All over Canada he had preached Canadian unity, and it was his great love to write it. He had been doing so since he first grasped the true idea of Confederation.

"First of all we must be Canadians, though that does not mean we shall subordinate local rights. I tell this to my people everywhere," he said, "to be sure we have our Maritime Rights—and they are just rights—but we are none the less loyal Canadians."

"And now, gentlemen," said Dr. Roberts, in taking his seat, "I have said much that I had not thought of saying, some of it in a spirit of frivolity but underlying it all there has been a very deep emotion."

"I am home again, home amongst my fellows."

THOSE PRESENT. Those present at the lunch were Rev. H. A. Cody, Col. E. C. Weyman, Postmaster Alex. Thompson, J. Frank Owens, Dr. C. L. Emson, John N. Flood, William Brodie, D. Gordon Willett, William A. Denham, Douglas

EUROPE VISIONS NEW ERA AS FRANCE AND GERMANY EMBRACE

Signing of pledge by France and Germany never to go to war again is being hailed in Europe as the dawn of a new era. Photos, taken at Locarno conference, shows the men who framed the pact, which Italy and England are signatories, both agreeing to go to military assistance of either nation which should be victim of violation of this pledge. Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister, headed British delegation; Aristide Briand, foreign minister, spoke for France; and Chancellor Luther and Foreign Secretary Stressemann represented Germany, in the negotiations.

SHUNS PLEBISCITES. Ferguson Declares Ontario Government Will Determine Policies. TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 25.—Declaring that his announcement merely meant that the province of Ontario was back to responsible government and that in the future the government would determine the policy to be followed on any issue, Premier Ferguson Saturday refused to elaborate to any extent his remarks before the Hotel Men's Association Friday, when he announced that in future there would be no further plebiscites or referendums while he was in power.

The premier added: "I merely meant that if we decide to merge the O. T. A., we will take the responsibility for that and if we decide that the law can be improved in any form, we will also take the responsibility for that."

JUSTAMERE CLUB TEA MUCH ENJOYED

Hallowe'en Event Conducted in Hall of Charlotte Street Baptist Church.

A successful and greatly enjoyed Hallowe'en tea was held in the hall of the Charlotte street Baptist church on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Justamere Club of the church. The decorations were specially attractive. Each of the three tea tables was centered with an illuminated pumpkin and black candles in yellow candlesticks also graced the tables. The lights were softly shaded in yellow. The waitresses wore yellow canoe-shaped hats trimmed with black cats.

Miss Grace Keirstead was the general convener and was assisted by Miss Jessie Hart. Those in charge of the tables were Miss Ida Carver, Mrs. Ernest Denning, Miss Nellie Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Cowan, Mrs. Gilbert Hart and Miss Alice Lockhart. The tickets were taken by Miss Hazel Maxwell. Those who waited on the tables were Mrs. Harry Pike, Mrs. William Ring, Mrs. Leonard Blackwell and the Misses Evelyn Denning, Nora Cameron, Mabel Halling, Bertha Morgan, Eileen Miller, Gertrude Belyea, Stella Nice, Dorothy Lanyon, Marion Lanyon, Clara Gregory, Cora Seely and Evelyn Brown.

CHURCH IN WEST END CELEBRATES

Special Services on Sunday
Marked Its 84th
Birthday

Growth is Told of and Early Days Are Recalled—Former Pastors Named.

The Carleton United church observed the eighty-fourth anniversary of its founding yesterday. The church building was first opened on May 15, 1842, when Rev. S. D. Rice preached the first sermon. The Sunday school, which was opened on the same date, has now an enrollment of 825.

The present pastor is Rev. F. T. Bertram. Miss M. Beattie is the superintendent of the Sunday school. The church has a surplus choir of 80 voices and its leader is F. J. Punter. The men's Bible class, under the direction of Rev. F. T. Bertram, has a membership of 43 and is prospering. Every department of the church work is flourishing.

OLD CHURCH MEMBER.

Conspicuous among the congregation yesterday was William A. Dougherty, 85 years of age. He was the first candidate for infant baptism in the church in 1841.

From a bound copy of an old Methodist magazine dated 1841 the following history is gleaned:

"Anxious to have it in our power to prosecute our work without interruption, some time has passed since we began to look out for a suitable site. Thomas Coram, Esq., generously offered two lots for the purpose of building a chapel upon, but some friends thought them not sufficiently central. At length principally through the efforts of Alexander Selter two lots were obtained from the corporation, facing in Gifford street 100 feet square.

INDEBTED TO MAYOR.

"We are indebted to the liberality of the Mayor of the city, R. F. Hazen, Esq., and the members of the corporation for a fresh hold title to this property, which is vested in the trustees, according to conditions specified in the conference model deed. Towards the erection of this building 2400 have been subscribed in Carleton.

"There will be a school room in the basement storey 12 feet high, the whole size of the building which is 60 feet by 48 feet; Ionic windows, and a tower 80 feet high; posts 28 feet in the clear.

LAYING OF CORNERSTONE.

"The cornerstone was laid by Isaac Olive, Esq., on Thursday, November 12, 1840. As usual we had religious exercises, begun by the superintendent of the circuit with singing and prayer, after which the Rev. William Temple delivered a neat and suitable address, principally upon the doctrines that would be preached in that house when completed, and the influence of the same upon society.

"In the cavity of the cornerstone were deposited one of Riley's English Almanacks, Chubb's New Brunswick Almanack, a large Centenary Medal and an appropriate inscription upon parchment.

"In the evening a very excellent sermon was preached by Rev. S. D. Rice from Isaiah 28:16. 'Behold I lay in Zion for a foundation of stone, a tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation.'

"Notwithstanding the day was unfavorable the assembly was large and attentive—a proof of the interest they felt in this hallowed service."

FORMER PASTORS.

The following is a list of the clergymen who have been pastors of the Carleton Methodist church from 1841 to present time: Revs. Dr. Rice, William Allen, Robert Cooney, Henry Daniel, W. T. Curdy, Richard Knight, Richard Smith, Edmund Batterell, J. R. Naraway, Harrison A. McKeown, George O. Huettis, Robert Duncan, S. W. Sprague, S. H. Ackman, R. W. Weddell, W. W. Lodge, J. W. Wadman, Thomas Marshall, R. S. Crisp, C. H. Balsley, F. H. W. Pickles, William Penna, H. D. Marr, J. Hickey and F. T. Bertram, the present minister.

Although yesterday was the 84th anniversary of the present church building in Carleton, Methodism really started in Carleton 123 years ago when New Brunswick was a Province of Nova Scotia. Itinerant preachers sent from England by John Wesley, held services in Carleton, as a result in 1809 a class of 20 members were formed, which continued to grow and resulted in the founding of the church which

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Alliance of four of the leading phonograph companies of the world, representing a total capitalisation of approximately $18,000,000, and operating factories in 11 countries, was announced Saturday by the Columbia Phonograph Company, one of the concerns involved in the transaction.

The other companies included in the alliance are the Columbia Graphophone Limited, of London, The Carl Lindstrom Company of Berlin, and the Trans-Oceanic Trading Company of Amsterdam. Their alliance, through a common holding company, the Columbia International Limited, of London, constitutes a world-wide manufacturing and trade arrangement whereby their laboratory and factory experts will co-operate in producing advanced types of phonographs, records and radio equipment.

The pulpit and altar rail of the church were decorated for the occasion with potted plants.

SPECIAL MUSIC.

The services were largely attended, and the choir furnished special music. At the morning service there was an anthem, "Thine Forever, God of Love," and a solo by J. Stewart Smith, and a quartette, " Jehovah, the God of Our Fathers," was sung by Mrs. George Barrett, Mrs. D. Brunstrom, J. Stewart Smith, and F. J. Punter.

At the evening service, Miss Estelle Fox sang a solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," the Misses Margaret and Helen Henderson sang a duet entitled "Consolation." Other special music included an anthem "Let God Arise," a solo, "Through Peace to Light," by Miss Estelle Fox, and a quartette, "When the Day of Told is done," sung by Mrs. George Barrett, Mrs. D. Brunstrom, Mrs. W. Long and F. J. Punter. Miss Mabel Sharpe was the organist.

Ephrem Chinoard, 54, of the same place, is in the Sherbrooke hospital suffering from very serious injuries as the result of an accident near Waterville Saturday night when the sedan car in which they were riding was struck by the Canadian National Railway local passenger train from Richmond to Coaticook.

Mrs. Herbert Clinch is sailing from England on October 30 for Canada and will visit in Saint John for the winter. Mrs. Clinch, who was formerly Miss Moss Thomson, will be cordially welcomed by her many friends.

—too old to work!

Maybe there's an old fellow working beside you—a sort of pensioner the firm keeps on. His productive years are gone. While he was a producer he didn't save.

If you could analyze that old fellow's thoughts, you'd find him sadly rueing the years when he spent all he made. Instead of being able to retire to a comfortable, independent old age, he's working for a mere pittance, to keep body and soul together.

Man! Don't let yourself come to that. Invest a few dollars each year now—when you can save the money—in an Imperial Endowment Policy. It will provide a regular monthly pension to keep you in comfortable independence when you are old.

We have an interesting booklet which tells all about it. Ask for a free copy to-day—while you are in good health.

The NEW RADIO

EVERYONE looked to DeForest & Crosley for the big surprise in Radio. For the new improvements and refinements. For the purer, more delightful tone. For the greater efficiency and simplicity in getting wanted stations and "tuning out" unwanted programmes. For the beauty and neatness of appearance that would give radio the central place in the home which it now worthily deserves.

And the new "R" series of DeForest & Crosley receiving sets more than fills these expectations!

Authorized DeForest & Crosley Dealers are now featuring the achievements on which three of the most successful organizations in the Radio Industry have been working.

Prices establish a new era of values in Radio.

James S. Neill & Sons, Limited, Fredericton, N. B. Distributors for New Brunswick.

Manchester Robertson Allison, Limited, Distributors for Saint John City and County and Kings County.

The New Improvements

- The New Slow-Motion Control
Greater accuracy in tuning—more stations, better tone—size and unvaried programme.
- The New Slow-Motion Variable
Worm-gear gives greater precision—finer control over volume.
- The New Transformer
Distortionless—gets rid of "muddy," "cloudy" tone.
- The New Low-Loss Condenser
Better tone—more stations—more volume.
- The New Deflectors
Equalize amplification over all wave-lengths—giving tone free from "howls" and "squeals."

The New Refinements

- Cushioned Sockets
Eliminate "feed-back" and microphone noises, even with loud-speaker on top of set. Suitable for dry cell or storage battery tubes.
- Internal Battery Wiring
Vari-colored silk-covered wires. Each lead has special lug and aluminum indicating tag.
- Accommodation for Heavy Duty Batteries
No exposed mass of wires and ugly batteries.
- Etched Metal Panels
Full satin-black background. Indicating marks in raised etching gleam like burnished gold.
- Cabinets by McLagan
Mahogany and walnut in rich two-tone effect, designed and fashioned by Canada's finest furniture craftsmen.
- Balanced Units
Musicalnote headsets and loud-speakers expressly designed to match.

LOSS ADMITTED BY KAISER IN SEPTEMBER '18

Vice-Admiral Testifies Politicians Caused Collapse of German War Effort

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN "STAB-IN-BACK" CASE

Socialist Propaganda Spoiled Plans for October Fleet Offensive

MUNICH, Oct. 26.—"We've lost the war. I hoped and believed God would steer it otherwise. Now I can only hope that the German people will be reasonable enough to remain true to their Kaiser. The army and navy gave an excellent account of themselves, but alas, the politicians did not." These were the Kaiser's words on September 29, 1918, according to Vice-Admiral von Lettow, who testified before a Munich court. The Kaiser's statement followed a report by Ludendorff that, considering the broken Bulgarian front and the fact that the western front troops were overtaxed and a successful campaign could not be carried on, therefore an armistice was advisable, but in no case surrender. Nearly a month later, when the army command asked that an armistice be concluded without delay, the Kaiser had orders issued through the Admiralty that the German fleet should begin an attack against the British fleet.

That the offensive against the British navy planned by the German high sea fleet for early October, 1918, never was carried out because of Socialist propaganda emanating from their political headquarters in Berlin, which had broken down the morale to a point where the crews refused to man the ships on any trip outside the harbor, was the testimony of several higher naval officers before the Munich court in the "stab in the back" case now going on.

MUTINY THREATENED

Captain Hinman, Admiralty staff officer, stated the sailors threatened to mutiny if ordered out, on the ground that they were being offered as sacrifices as a means of disturbing peace negotiations proposed for the end of September, 1918. The nature of the testimony, which tends to show the Socialist responsible for the army and navy collapse, followed by the outbreak of revolution and the armistice, is overshadowing the real purpose of the trial, which is directed against Editor Martin Gruber, of the Munich Post, for libelous statements in his criticism of Professor Cossmann and his articles, "The Left papers see in this trial merely an attempt of the Nationalists to discredit the Reichstag investigation committee's findings, which attributed German defeat to the superior strength of the enemies, and not to the failure of the Socialist's loyalty to support the nation, as Cossmann charged.

Hinman testified he believed the fleet offensive in the North Sea could have been carried out without risk, since the allied navies were using their forces to maintain the blockade and were not prepared for an unexpected attack. Mine fields were cleared for letting out the fleet without risk. Hinman stated the purpose of this attack was to disrupt England's communications with the Continent, which had the greatest significance for the front.

The evidence shows in many cases that the men had more accurate knowledge of the workings of the general staff than the officers, which was attributed to the activities of signalmen, who could spread the knowledge of proposed offensives throughout the fleet without information reaching the ears of the officers. A few hours before the fleet was to leave harbor for the Channel attack, the officers were informed it was a manoeuvre, and they were not acquainted with the facts even when the trip was repeatedly postponed. The crew informed the officers through secretly-posted placards that they would not man the ships on a trip

MR. WOMEN SHOULD VOTE LIBERAL AND THEREBY KEEP BULGARIAN COST DOWN

The Women of Canada will be represented on Mackenzie King's tariff board.

Liberal Equality means not only of the ballot, but also of thought and judgment.

Ladies! High Protection means High Taxation; High Tariff means High Cost of Clothing, etc.

Liberalism enables a proper standard of living, at low cost.

Women of New Brunswick! Vote Liberal for yourselves and your children's benefit.

Let us not forever make sacrifice for millionaire makers of motors. The Mackenzie King Government gives a fair deal to all.

"I am not given to political prophesy, but I am prepared to stake my reputation, as one able to judge a political situation, that there will be more Liberals elected in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Northern Ontario than there were elected in the last election."
RT. HON. MACKENZIE KING

Consider the Record Under Liberal Rule:
GOING UP. GOING DOWN.
The Canadian Dollar is at a Premium. Public Debt Decreased.
Securities Are Higher Than Four Years Ago. Capital Expenditure Cut by $23,450,000 in Four Years.
C. N. R. Earnings Have Increased, Gross, a Million Dollars a Week. Per Capita Tax Reduced by $10.61 in Four Years.
Exports Have Increased $364,826,320 in Three Years. Depression Ended.
Export Trade to United States is Nearing Imports. Gloom Removed.
An Import Surplus Has Been Wiped Out and an Export Surplus of $272,134,000 Established in Three Years. Tories Taught Economy.
A vast Favorable Trade Balance Accomplished. Ordinary Expenditures Reduced $42,227,000 in Four Years.

Remember! The Meighen Dollar Was Worth Only 85 Cts
A Vote For Foster and Hayes Will Keep The Dollar Above Par.
A Vote For Foster and Hayes Will Boom The Winterport.
A Vote For Foster and Hayes Will Continue Courtenay Bay Construction.

NEW YORK HOCKEY MAGNATES SIGN UP TIGERS' STAR CENTRE

BILLY BURCH ACCEPTS TERMS FOR 3 YEARS

Important Matters For Annual In Montreal Nov. 7

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York Hockey Club laid another of its cards on the table and it was, so to speak, another ace. Col. Hammond announced that Billy Burch, star centre man of last year's Hamilton Tiger team, voted the most valuable all-around player in the National Hockey League, has signed a contract to play for New York during the next three years. Billy arrived from Toronto and conferred during the forenoon with Manager Tommy Gorman and Tom Duggan, chairman of the board of directors. They immediately came to terms and Burch visited Madison Square Garden to see Tex Rickard and others.

ANNUAL MEETING

While the question of the admittance of Pittsburgh into the National Hockey League will be one of the chief topics of discussion at the annual meeting of the league at Montreal, November 7, the question of recommendations to the playing rules will hardly be overshadowed. At the meeting of the N. H. L. at New York recently the committee on rules brought in a number of recommendations, which were considered and will be finally voted on at the annual session.

The following are the suggestions: "That it be permissible to change players without waiting for a stop in the game, though one player must come off before the other goes on the ice."

Regarding the automatic suspension of players who incur three major fouls in the season, which rule was adopted last January, the following has been suggested as the clause to cover such cases: "A player incurring two major fouls shall be cautioned by the president and that a third major foul will lead to his suspension. After the suspension the same player shall not be again suspended on this account until he has incurred three other major penalties."

The committee also suggested the ending of periods to the effect that the timekeeper's signal at the end of a period shall terminate that period and at the end of the period the score be tied at the end of the two extra periods of ten minutes each, with the game, irrespective of the position of the puck when the signal is given.

It is also suggested that a definite rule be adopted regarding the play which that if the puck should cease to move while this play is being made, the referee shall order a face-off in front of the goal in front of the team in possession.

FREDERICTON HIGH COPS 1925 TITLE

Capital Outfit Scores Three Try Against Local High in First Half

Fredricton High School wears the interscholastic football league crown for the fourth consecutive year as a result of the 9-0 trimming its team gave the Saint John High fifteen on the Allison grounds here on Saturday afternoon. The lack of form in the Capital came back strongly after their poor showing against Redway on Friday.

Twice within a few minutes they found the weakest spot in the local defence, the right end of the three-quarter line, and sent Clark over for tries. The third score came in the first period when A. Douglas, the lanky captain of the Yellow and Black, blocked a Saint John kick behind the goal line and fell on the tries and the period ended, Fredricton, 9, Saint John, 0.

There is one more game scheduled between Saint John and Redway at Redway, but it will have no effect on the leadership, Fredricton having clinched the championship on Saturday. The winner of the game at Redway will hold second place in case of a tie. Redway will be second.

The lineup Saturday follows: Fredricton High—Forwards, Wiseman, Trita, S. Douglas, Rowan, Smith, A. Douglas, captain, Woods, Jones, B. Currie, Clark, Thomas, three-quarters, Clark, Hewitt, Miles, two-quarters, fullback, Jones, Reserves, Fowler, Maxwell, backs, H. Currie, Whitman and Hanson.

Saint John High—Forwards, Breen, Jones, Keith, Kennedy, Barbour, Davis, Petrie, half-backs, Linton, Smith, Brown, three-quarters, Daley, Peters, Whittaker, Davidson, fullback, Lipsitt, Sparrow, Regan, A. Douglas, MacAndrews.

Pep and Sportsmanship Feature Girls' Track Meet Here Saturday

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP.

WRITING to a friend here, "Joe" Page, famous sport booster, has the following to say about the big meet here this winter: "It will undoubtedly be the greatest event ever pulled off by the citizens of Saint John and will do far more toward putting Saint John on the map than anything yet attempted. The results attained will be the means whereby the city of Saint John will experience no difficulty in holding one of the speed-skating classics annually, which I have always maintained should be the case. Saint John is the peer of them all in the skating world and as such, the city and citizens should have the cream of the skating attractions and the consequent tremendous publicity it obtains for them both throughout the civilized world." There is one thing about Joe Page in this regard and it is that he is consistent. Ever since he has been coming to Saint John, he has preached this doctrine and some day the worth of his advice will be universally recognized. An annual winter sports meet in this city can be made as famous as the Toronto exhibition through whole-hearted co-operation all around the board.

MR. PAGE adds that the Frontenac Winter Sports Club, Quebec, has applied for affiliation with the International Skating Union and that he would not be surprised to see them ask for the Canadian championships. Quebec is getting into it strong.

BUCKING a hoodoo that has persisted ever since the year 1885 when inter-college sport between Acadia and U. N. B. was started, the Fredericton university squad goes to Wolfville on Thursday of this week for the annual football tussle. It is a fact borne out by the records that U. N. B. has never beaten Acadia on its home grounds and the question is "Can Paul Fraser lead a team this year that will turn the trick never before performed." There are many who feel that the present U. N. B. outfit is one of the greatest in years but too much need not be banked on that 27 to 0 defeat of Mount A. Acadia has a strong scrimmage this year and here is where the present U. N. B. team, while not exactly weak, is a bit tender. Their back division is as powerful as any that ever represented the college. Six years ago, U. N. B. walloped Mount Allison ten tries to nothing and then lost to Wolfville, 8 to 0. Will history repeat? The worst trimming of the series between the two teams was administered by the 1914 U. N. B. team, 28 to 8. Last year, U. N. B. downed Acadia at Fredericton, 19 to 8. It looks like a toss up from this distance with some breaks deciding the issue.

SPORT FOLLOWERS in the United States are having a gay time now wondering how "Bucky" Harris will bolster up his team in an effort to win the 1926 pennant. We know what Connie Mack thinks of it.

IT WAS rather a surprise for local fans this year to pick up the averages for the National League season and find that a practically unknown pitcher had walked away with chief honors. His name is "Bill" Sherdel, of the St. Louis Nationals. He finished the season with 16 victories and 6 defeats for an average of .227. When it is considered that this is Sherdel's eighth consecutive year with the Cardinals, his performance this year shows up well. During his major league career, Sherdel has won 87 games and lost 80, the past season being the best he has ever experienced.

Sure-Thing Gamblers Are Putting Boxing Game In Grave Danger In New York

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Editor.

Members of the New York Boxing Commission are convinced that the sport is in grave danger of its life through contamination by professional sure-thing gamblers. There is no concrete evidence to prove it but there are sufficient reasons to suspect that several recent fights in New York were fixed by gamblers.

The commission frankly admits the possibility of corruption and it confesses almost as frankly that it doesn't know what to do about it. Following the lead of professional baseball club owners in barring known gamblers from the grounds, the commission gave the promoters a list of undesirable guests but that served only to make the activities less public.

Known gamblers might be barred successfully from the grounds but their agents can't be kept out and their presence near the ringside is not so essential to the success of their business as they can get the money before the fight.

Men in the business, who want to keep it clean and officials entrusted by the state with the mission of keeping it clean cannot hope to correct what certainly is a gross evil.

That part of the public which supports boxing, however, can beat the gamblers and will bring away many returns to bet on any fight. If the gamblers cannot place their money they can't make any money betting. That's a dead cinch.

There are more than moral reasons to encourage the public to stop betting on any fight. There are stronger economic reasons. It is not safe to bet on any fight as long as gamblers have enough money and can make enough money to corrupt officials who call the winners.

"It's a crime to see this game being killed by sure-thing players," one of the most prominent managers in the game said recently. "It's not a hypocrite. I don't call the fight game the many art of self-defense and I never thought that boxing or boxers won the war. Boxing is now a business, a big business and the best paying business in the world. A boxer or a manager can make more out of boxing than any other business. There is no other business that will bring so many returns out of no investment. All a manager has to do is invest all his wits and his brains in a fighter and get out and be very successful and I've made and saved enough money to live in comfort for the rest of my days and I started in the business without a red cent. That's the reason I want to see boxing kept alive. The only way the gamblers can be driven out of boxing is to turn down their bets. They haven't any interest in boxing more than arranging sure-thing bets. I've been approached thirty times with offers to put one of my boxers in the box, but I never have taken a tumble. I don't mean to take a tumble. If I thought I had to spend some money to beat another manager who was crooking a fight, I'd do it, but I'd never put a fighter in the bag for any professional gambler because these things can't be trusted. They're the worst double-crossers in the world.

"Some time ago, a peddler for a big gambling gang came to me and told me his bunch had fixed a certain fight on which there was a lot of betting. He told me how much he thought of me and wanted me in on it. I listened to him and told him that I had a little loose change that I could afford to put out. He wanted to know how much and I told him $10,000. He nearly grabbed for my pocket and said he could get it covered for me. He gave me the name of the boxer and said I'd have to work quick to get it up without giving a long price. I'd told him I'd think it over as I had to draw the money from the bank.

"I went out and bet $2,500 on the other fighter and I won. The public is a sucker to fall for such stuff, but all the preaching in the world will not convince them that they're being worked by a game just as soft as the old county fair shell game.

"What makes me sore is that they will not take a chance. There are enough card games and crap games running in New York to satisfy any honest gambler and there are plenty of tracks running for those who like to watch the breed of the horse being improved, but these things wouldn't give a tip to their father."

GRET FOWLER TAKES HONORS WITH 13 SCORE

Officials Speak Highly Of Spirit Shown By Girls

SELDOM in the history of amateur track athletics here has there been a livelier or more spirited meet than was held Saturday on the South End grounds for girls of the city under the auspices of the local Y. W. C. A. "I have been attending these meets now for the last 15 years but none of them was as peppy as Saturday's. And, what is better still, none of them displayed any finer amateur spirit. They were right on their toes so to speak every minute. It was a revelation to me and the Y. W. C. A. deserves credit for their efforts," said a veteran local sportsman following the meet.

NO HITCHES

The entire program was run off without a hitch with about 150 spectators present. Several fine marks were made, the performances of Miss Greta Fowler, who took the individual honors with 13 points, Miss Vera Bryson, Miss Marion Bryson and Miss Margaret Henderson, being outstanding. In the running broad, Miss Dorothy Stewart did 11 feet, 11 1/2 inches. Miss Stewart made one particularly fine jump of over 18 feet but lost her balance and fell back. Miss Fowler did 4 feet 1 inch in the high jump, a really fine bit of work.

Although Saturday's meet was the second one held here, it was the first where a complete set of officials were used and run under the amateur rules, many of the leading amateur officials of the city taking part.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

After the meet the participants and officials were the guests of the physical committee of the Y. W. C. A. at supper at the Recreational Centre. Mrs. A. E. Loggie was convener with Mrs. E. C. Brown, Mrs. Herman Campbell, Mrs. William Gale and Mrs. T. H. Somerville assisting.

Mrs. J. A. McAvity was chairman at the presentation of prizes which took place following the supper. After calling for three cheers for Miss Dorothy Stewart, instructor of the "Y," Mrs. McAvity in a happy speech congratulated the girls and Miss McArthur. W. E. Stirling presented the cup to Miss Nase, captain of the winning team. This cup was given by W. K. Foster. George Stubbis presented the second prize given by E. T. Hayes, to Miss Dorothy Brown, captain of the Boosters. The cup for individual honors donated by the physical committee of the "Y" was presented to Miss Fowler by A. W. Covey. Miss Marion Bryson won the medal for the hurdles and this was presented to her by the donor, Miss Dorothy McArthur. The medal for the high jump was presented Miss Fowler and was the gift of Mrs. A. E. Loggie.

75 yard dash, first heat—1st, Vera Bryson, (Boosters); 2nd, Gladys Johnson, (Advanced No. 1). Time 11-2-5 sec.

Second heat—1st, Francis Barnes, (Advanced No. 1); 2nd, Marion Bryson, (Boosters). Time 11-1-3 sec.

"I've been approached thirty times with offers to put one of my boxers in the box, but I never have taken a tumble. I don't mean to take a tumble. If I thought I had to spend some money to beat another manager who was crooking a fight, I'd do it, but I'd never put a fighter in the bag for any professional gambler because these things can't be trusted. They're the worst double-crossers in the world.

"Some time ago, a peddler for a big gambling gang came to me and told me his bunch had fixed a certain fight on which there was a lot of betting. He told me how much he thought of me and wanted me in on it. I listened to him and told him that I had a little loose change that I could afford to put out. He wanted to know how much and I told him $10,000. He nearly grabbed for my pocket and said he could get it covered for me. He gave me the name of the boxer and said I'd have to work quick to get it up without giving a long price. I'd told him I'd think it over as I had to draw the money from the bank.

Triple "Take-Off" at Aquatic Meet

Graceful as birds in flight were these three divers as they "took off" together in the Pacific Coast aquatic championships at Los Angeles. They are Don Kistler, above, Dorothy McGowan, centre, and Carrol Fletcher.

Canadian Indoor Tennis Championship

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Willard F. Crocker, Dominion singles tennis champion, regained the Canadian indoor tennis championship Saturday afternoon, winning the final from the defending champion and his Davis Cup partner, Jack Wright, of McGill University; score 9-7, 6-1, 8-6, 4-6, 6-8.

Running high jump—1st, Greta Fowler (Advanced No. 1); 2nd, M. E. Page (Beavers); 3rd, Gladys Holder (High School). Height, 3 ft 11 inches.

Holy Lonsbury handled the whistle in a very fair and impartial manner. The lineup follows: Trojans—Starr, three-quarters, MacTowan, Chown, G. Wilson, Short and Burton; halves, Webster, Bayly and J. Wilson; forwards, Hollis, Millidge, Mahoney, Lee, L. Jones, Lawson and McMurray. Moncton—Fullback, Peake; three-quarters, Wry, Chandler, Coates, Trice, Crowhurst, Addy; halves, Charters, McNaughton, Ayer; forwards, S. Jones, Rodd, Ackman, Huntingford, Wilson, Crandall, Abell, Rogers.

The local team will play a return game with the Trojans in Saint John on election day, weather permitting.

DALHOUSIE TEAM TIES WANDERERS HALIFAX, Oct. 25.—Dalhousie University went into a tie with Wanderers Club for first place in the City Football League by defeating the latter team 5 to 0 on Studley campus yesterday afternoon. The field was half covered with melting snow and a few minutes after play started it was a quagmire and the men were coated with mud from head to foot. Two thousand people stood or sat in the chill October air to watch the two teams struggle through the muck chasing a ball so slippery that only the most resourceful could hold it in their hands.

CHRIS NEWTON WON. Chris Newton of Toronto gave Ray Romney a terrific beating at Toledo recently in one of the most spectacular bouts ever seen in a local ring. Newton waded in, slamming the Toledo youth to the heart and rocking his head with lefts. Romney wasted a lot of wild swings on Newton's shoulders, but he did elude the "Blonde Irishman's" half-dozen good solid slams. The fast-moving Toronto boxer won by a good margin, bringing the bout to a close with a slashing finish in the last six rounds. Newton will box George Bol-wecks.

Trojans Topple Moncton By 3-0

CHOWN Made Only Try of Game in 10 Minutes After Opening.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—The Trojans of Saint John defeated the Moncton Rugby squad on the M. A. A. field Saturday afternoon, 3 to 0. The local boys played exceptionally well during the struggle and fought back desperately all the time, and on several occasions were in the scoring zone but seemed to lack the necessary punch to shove the piskin across the visitors' line. The Trojans showed up exceptionally well and have a rugged aggregation. They are clever runners and handled the wet ball well.

CHOWN SCORES. The game started off with a rush. The locals forced the play at the start but soon the Trojans found themselves and in about ten minutes Jimmy Chown, former Mount A. half line, went over the local line for the only try of the game. The attempt to convert went wild due to the heavy condition of the field and the wet ball.

In the second half the locals tried hard to push the ball over the visitors' line but were unsuccessful and the final whistle sounded with the Trojans on the long end of a 3 to 0 count. Holy Lonsbury handled the whistle in a very fair and impartial manner. The lineup follows: Trojans—Starr, three-quarters, MacTowan, Chown, G. Wilson, Short and Burton; halves, Webster, Bayly and J. Wilson; forwards, Hollis, Millidge, Mahoney, Lee, L. Jones, Lawson and McMurray. BATHURST HIGH WINS AGAINST NEWCASTLE 10-0

NATIONALS AND WANDERERS TIED

The Wanderers held the Nationals to a scoreless tie Saturday on the Sand Cove grounds in the Intermediate League series and gave the two hundred spectators a good brand of football.

The ball was in the Wanderers' territory during the first period and it looked as if the Nationals would come away with an easy victory, but the tables turned in the second period and the Nationals had to use every effort to hold the Wanderers.

O'Toole gained much territory for his team by his timely kicking, while his team mates, Gary and Logan, made good runs. Montell, of the Nationals, also played a stellar game, as well as Sargeant and Ken. Chown.

A. W. Carten handled the whistle most satisfactorily. Next Saturday afternoon the Nationals and the Canucks will meet and this promises to be another good battle.

The teams on Saturday lined up as follows: Wanderers. Nationals. Forwards. Stockford. Doyle. Higgins. Upton. Roberts. McCausland. Williams. O'Brien. Armstrong. Hayes. Akorly. Hooley. Curtis. Half-backs. Lingley. Quigg. Wittliff. Fitzgerald. H. Chown. Three-quarters. Armstrong. Montell. Reed, G. M. Sargeant. Full-backs. K. Chown. DesRoches. Sub. K. Chown. McManus, Howard, Doyle.

GREAT SOPRANO AT MONTREAL

"How is Colonel George H. Ham of the C. P. R.?" This was one of the first questions asked by Maria Jeritza, the most celebrated soprano of our time, when she visited Montreal on October 9, 1925.

When Jeritza was last in Montreal on March 12, 1923, Colonel Ham conducted her around Canadian Pacific Windsor Station. Since that time she sang in many countries, being hailed everywhere as a goddess of song and a queen of beauty.

In private life, Maria Jeritza is the wife of Baron Popper of Vienna, described by Colonel Ham as "one of the finest looking men I have ever seen." Baron Popper stands well over 6 feet in height. He and the golden haired, blue eyed, pearly mouthed Baroness make a perfect pair.

Jeritza spends most of the winter singing at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York.

N. S. Home Destroyed; Occupants Escape

PARRSBORO, Oct. 25—A farmhouse, owned and occupied by Edward Brown at the Dugway, two and a half miles from town, with all its contents including a winter's supply of vegetables in the cellar, was totally destroyed by fire at 8 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and their three young grand-children, who were the occupants of the dwelling, had a very narrow escape from being burned to death, as the fire was well under way and the house enveloped in flame before they were awakened. They were badly choked by smoke but managed to make their escape from the building.

There was $1,400 insurance, which was less than half the value of the building.

NEW WURLITZER ORGAN TONIGHT

Everything Ready for Initial Hearing

THE ORGAN NOW INSTALLED IN OUR THEATRE is the perfect musical instrument for the theatre. It unites the best cathedral organ with an orchestral section, and novelty and percussion department, which combines into one all the different voices of the symphony orchestra—the wood-wind, the brass, percussion and string. The Wurlitzer is the only organ in the world that presents such an instrumentation with the result that it can be played in a way that is not possible with any other organ. The superiority of the Wurlitzer is now well understood.

NEWCASTLE BREAKS STRING OF WINS

Huddersford Drops First Match in Twenty-eight Starts on Saturday.

LONDON, Oct. 25—Of the dramatic surprises that featured play in the English Football League on Saturday, none was more sensational or unexpected than that which saw the downfall of Huddersfield Town. The Yorkshiremen were defeated by the narrowest of margins by Newcastle United, and this marked their first trimming this season. Taking into account their last season's games, Huddersfield had run through a series of 27 matches without a defeat. Their failure yesterday was all the more humiliating coming as it did on their own ground and in face of the enthusiasm of their own fans.

SUNDERLAND WINS

Sunderland strengthened their hold on the league when they took Bolton Wanderers into camp by a couple of counters, a result that was not unexpected by their followers. This served to clinch the Durham club's position at the top of the league table and marked their seventh victory on their home ground. Sunderland have not yet been defeated on their own terrain.

COUNCIL WILL CONSIDER WEST SIDE REQUESTS

Statement Relative to Fire Equipment Regarded Serious by Mayor

DELEGATION AT CITY HALL HEARD

Comment on Winter Port Protection—Reconstruction of Burned Building Asked.

A delegation from the West Side Progressive Association met the members of the Council this morning and laid before them a request for immediate rebuilding of the Carleton City Hall and for an investigation into the efficiency of the fire fighting equipment on the West Side. Their request was promised consideration by Mayor Potts.

CASE PRESENTED Mr. MacLeod, the first speaker for the delegation, said they had no particular details to lay before the members of the council, but it had been thought wise to urge on the council the need for the immediate rebuilding of the Carleton City Hall, it being taken for granted that the building was to be restored. The association would suggest that, in the rebuilding, provision be made for an up-to-date, well equipped public auditorium. He said the Y. M. C. A. would establish a branch on the west side if a building were available and this could be taken into consideration when plans were being drawn. He said the building could very well be cut down to two stories and serve the community purposes of West Saint John.

Mr. Scully said it was felt the building should be rebuilt and used as a community centre for West Saint John. If the work were started now and carried on through the winter it would provide work for men now out of employment.

FIRE FIGHTING Mr. MacLeod said there was another matter the delegation would like to refer to and that was the inadequacy of the fire fighting equipment in West Saint John. On the night of the fire which destroyed the hall the engine could not throw water up to the second story of the building with sufficient force to break a window and there was no ladder high enough to get above the fire and pour water down on it. The West Side had two old engines and not enough hose. On the night of the fire some of the hose was without nozzles. The association would like an independent investigation in the whole matter. On the night of the fire, he said, a request had been made for the aerial ladder truck and this had been refused on the ground that the truck had to stay in the central part of the city.

The Mayor asked who had said the truck had to stay on the east side and Mr. MacLeod said the chief of the fire department and Commissioner Wigmore. Mr. MacLeod also said that on the West Side the city had its winter terminals and unless better fire fighting facilities were provided they were apt to lose these some time as the present fire fighting equipment was not adequate to cope with even a small fire.

DECLARED SERIOUS Mayor Potts said the statement that the city's chief asset was not properly protected was a serious one and should be given consideration. He thought the association were to be congratulated on calling attention to this matter and also expressed the opinion that the ladder truck should have been available at the city hall fire if it was needed.

Commissioner Harniss said there was no rule that he knew of that prevented the aerial truck from having been taken to the West Side to a serious fire. Mayor Potts thanked the delegation for their attendance and assured them their requests would be given careful consideration by the members of the council.

ARE ON SAD MISSION

Friends Arrive Here to Await Body of Miss Jean Dalzell.

Scott Gupth, M. L. A., of Grand Manan and Mr. and Mrs. Gupth and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Newton, all of Grand Manan, are at the Victoria Hotel, awaiting the arrival of the body of Miss Jean S. Dalzell, R. N., who died in hospital at St. Anthony's, Newfoundland last week. Her relatives expected the body not later than this evening but word has been received by wire that the body will not leave St. John's, Newfoundland until tomorrow, so that the funeral cannot take place until Friday or Saturday of this week. The funeral will be from St. John's (St. Peter's) church.

Mrs. Gupth has been in touch with Miss Catherine Cleveland, head of the Industrial department of the Grenfell Mission at St. Anthony's and a friend of the late Miss Dalzell.

Others who have come for the funeral are the Misses Addie Sangle, Lois Boyd and Bertha Weir, of St. Stephen, who motored here on Saturday. Miss Sangle and Miss Boyd are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, 206 St. James street, West Saint John while Miss Weir is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brooks, 44 Dufferin avenue.

RE-ORGANIZE Y. M. A. Re-organization of the St. Peter's Y. M. A. to include all the men of the parish was announced yesterday and for this reason the annual meeting of the association, scheduled for yesterday, has been deferred. It is expected that plans for widening the scope of the society will be completed this week.

TORONTO.—Say—they got automatic elevators up here. You open the door and walk in and touch a button and away you go—up or down. There's a button for every floor. Now how in time does that thing know? I get in and I press button number three and stops at number three. An' so on. Talk about takin' off your hat to a woman in an elevator—like they do in the hotels—we all orto take 'em off to the elevator. By Hen! I hadn't time to look into that there automatic one—but it hed me scart when it up an' stopped without anybody doin' a thing. It was the humanest critter fer a machine that I seen yit. Folks is awful good to me up here. A feller at me to take dinner with him tomorrow—an' said I needn't wear a collar if I didn't want to. HIRAM.

POTATO SHED CONTRACTS LET

R. E. Fitzgerald for Heating; Driscoll & MacKie Lighting

C. N. R. Has Some Stock Here Already—Mayor Welcomed Back at City Hall.

Tenders for the heating and lighting of the frost-proof warehouse which is to be used by the C. N. R. for the handling of potatoes were opened this morning at a committee meeting of the common council and the contracts were awarded to the lowest tenderer in each case—R. E. Fitzgerald and Driscoll & MacKie. Commissioner Bullock reported that the C. N. R. had 95 cars of potatoes here now to unload and that he was making provision for other quarters until the frost proof shed was ready, which would be about the middle of next month. He said the Belgian shed and a part of the Pettigill shed would be offered the railway until that time.

The tenders were as follows: HEATING—W. E. Emerson & Sons, Ltd., $2,200; S. A. Williams, $3,200; Byrne & McGeough, $2,990; R. E. Fitzgerald, $2,950. LIGHTING—S. C. Webb, $678; Vaughan Electric Co., $654.60; Driscoll & MacKie, $584; Jones Electric Supply Co., $650.

TAXATION MATTER.

A communication from the trustees of St. Andrew's church asking for a rebate of $42.54 overpaid on the taxes of 1922-23-24 was read. It was pointed out that in these years the valuation had been $23,050 and a lot valued at $500, which had been sold in 1921 was included in this valuation. The assessors had deducted $500 from the valuation for 1925 when the sale of the lot was pointed out to them. The matter was referred to the Mayor and chairman of the assessors with power to act. His Worship Mayor Potts was present and presided at the meeting. He was warmly welcomed back to his duties by his colleagues.

SOME CHANGES IN SAILINGS TOLD OF

S. S. Montrose is to Make Additional Voyage to Saint John.

The Montrose, of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, is again en route to Montreal with passengers, this being the first time since she met with a mishap in the St. Lawrence on August 1. This is the last scheduled trip of the Montrose to Montreal this season, but on Nov. 20 she is due to sail from Liverpool for Saint John, via Belfast and Greenock. S. S. Montroyal, which was scheduled to sail for Saint John, N. B., on January 14, afterwards going to New York to commence her series of winter cruises to the West Indies, has been ordered to sail from Liverpool direct for New York on January 16. The Montrose will take this sailing of the Montroyal, leaving Liverpool on January 15 and returning from Saint John on January 29 to Liverpool. This will provide an extra sailing of the Montroyal to England as the Montroyal would not have made the return trip on account of having to proceed to New York. The Empress of Scotland will sail to Quebec from Southampton on November 14, afterwards proceeding to New York for a round-the-world cruise (part of it to Saint John, as first arranged).

CHURCH PARADE IN WEST END PLANNED

Carleton Veterans to Ludlow Street Service on Nov. 10. —Other Plans.

Preparations for the sale of poppies in West Saint John on Poppy Day and for the annual church parade of the Carleton Branch of the G. W. V. A. were made at a meeting of the executive held on Saturday night at the home of the president, J. G. Hart, in Lancaster street. The West Saint John G. W. V. A. looks after the sale of poppies in West Saint John only, and uses the proceeds of the Poppy Day sales in its relief work of the year. The executive appointed as a committee to have charge of the Poppy Day work consists of J. G. Hart, Len Wilson, the acting secretary, and Douglas Pentland. The church parade will be held on November 8, when the members will march to Ludlow street Baptist church. It was decided that the November meeting of the Carleton branch of the association should be held on November 10 in the Carleton Curing Clinic and take the form of a grand rally at which a sing-song would be one of the chief items of the programme.

Stores To Be Open Election Afternoon

There would not be a half-holiday in Saint John on Thursday of this week in connection with the federal election, in-so-far as the principal retail merchants were concerned, was said this morning at the office of the Retail Merchants' Association. The matter had been under consideration, but it had been decided not to close.
