PATHEIC PLEA DOES NOT SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Minnie McGee Sentenced To Death For Murder of Children

TO HANG OCTOBER 10

Dramatic Scene in Court—Her Head Had Bothered Her—'I Love My Children,' Her Cry

Georgetown, P. E. I., July 24.—The trial of Mrs. Minnie McGee before the supreme court culminated yesterday morning in a pathetic but dramatic scene.

At 11.45 in the forenoon the attorney general made a motion that the prisoner, Minnie McGee, be convicted of murder, would now have the sentence of the court passed on her. The judge then called upon the prisoner to stand up, and asked her if she had anything to say why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced upon her. She passed for five minutes and then answered: "My head was very bad in January, after the death of my first two children. Then my head got worse in February and continued to get worse. The pains in my head were dreadful, so bad that I was going to do away with myself more than once. My husband, used to beat me quite often. He would beat me when I was sick in bed. He would not even give me a drink of water when I was sick, and would do nothing at all for me. He would go round threatening to kill himself. I told him four months before the trouble, to take the children away where they would be cared for, but he would not do it. I loved my children and always treated them kindly."

At twelve o'clock sharp, Mr. Justice Fitzgerald, pronounced the sentence of the court on the prisoner, as follows: "Minnie McGee, you have been arraigned, tried and convicted for the most detestable crime that could possibly be committed. You are awaiting the only sentence that the law imposes or can impose for such a crime, namely, death. The sentence of the court is: 'That on the 10th day of October next, between the hours of eight a. m. and eight p. m., in the King's County Jail, you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul!'"

Before the sentence was pronounced Mr. Fraser, the prisoner's lawyer, called the attention of the court to the fact that the prisoner had confessed.

His Lordship replied that this fact would not be given consideration by him. He also stated that he would forward a report of the evidence and the verdict to the Secretary of State.

Mrs. McGee was greatly agitated and half hysterical during the reading of the sentence.

When the judge uttered the word "hanged," she wildly exclaimed: "Hang me right here now in the box." The unfortunate woman was then led away in a state bordering on collapse.

As she was taken away she became violent and attempted to tear off her clothing.

RAILWAY MEN CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Places Blame For D. L. & W. Wreck on Engineer and Flagman

Corning, N. Y., July 24.—In a verdict returned this morning, the coroner's jury held engineer William Schroeder and flagman Edward Lane responsible for the wreck of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western Railway near here, yesterday. Warrants charging them with manslaughter in the second degree were issued by Coroner Herbert B. Smith.

The jury finds Lane, who was flagman on train No. 9, the stalled passenger train, into which the express, driven by Schroeder, crashed, negligent in failing to use a whistle and to help to protect his train by warning the oncoming express. Schroeder is declared negligent in not observing the signal set at caution about 4700 feet to the rear of the train No. 9. The Lackawanna Company is not censured except by implication in the verdict which says that the freight train, making the wreck possible, was drawn by an engine which was not steaming properly when it was sent out of the roundhouse.

The jury recommended the employment of two engines on the Middleburgh, Hubbard and Malone line, and the use of the hand type of engine and the use of a bell as an additional factor of safety at all times in connection with the flagging of trains.

The abolition of the use of wooden coaches and express cars is recommended.

Forty persons lost their lives as a result of the wreck and many others were injured.

The weather here, which has been very rainy since Monday, shows signs of clearing up today.

This is probably the first time that an author has been engaged to "write up" a mountain.

SYSTEMATIC GROWTH OF NAVY PRESAGED

Interpretation of Churchill's Speech—Must Uphold Supremacy

Continental Powers Get the Naval Fever—Italy and Austria Instigated by Germany

(Canadian Press)

London, July 24.—The speech of Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, yesterday on the supplementary naval appropriation, has provoked widespread discussion, both at home and abroad. It is held in some quarters to presage the institution of a naval law on similar lines to the German measure to provide for a fleet of 300 battleships in a few years. It was so interpreted by Lord Selborne, who was First Lord of the Admiralty from 1900 to 1905, in a brief debate in the House of Lords this evening. He declared that Mr. Churchill's words ought "to be written in letters of gold in both houses of parliament."

In the same debate Viscount Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor, who recently visited Berlin for the purpose of discussing Anglo-German relations, made an interesting statement to the effect that Germany had been told in the friendliest manner that whatever naval efforts she might make Great Britain would still make greater.

"We have said," Viscount Halsbury added, "that we would do this with no intention of aggression, but because sea power is our life, and in sea power we intend to remain supreme."

Paris, July 24.—That the world is not yet on the eve of the cessation of the struggle between Great Britain and Germany for naval supremacy is the prevalent opinion in France after careful study of the recent speech by Winston Spencer Churchill in the House of Commons.

The continuation of the rivalry between these two countries causes a note of regret here, but there is an inclination to believe that if it must go on France should learn a lesson from England's procedure and herself increase her navy.

The main commotion on this subject, says it in a position to declare that Italy and Austria, at the instigation of Germany, are about to begin a naval competition in regard to which nothing has been permitted to transpire. Italy is reported to be constructing six of the new type of 20,000 tons displacement and capable of steaming at a speed of 25 knots, while Austria is building three of the same type displacing 20,000 tons. The newspaper continues: "The fulfilment of this program will destroy the preponderance of the British in the Mediterranean and give a big advantage to the Triple Alliance."

WONDERING IF LLOYD GEORGE WILL RESIGN

May Do So To Conduct Political Land Campaign—"Question of Moment," Says London Times

(Canadian Press)

London, Eng., July 24.—Discussing the present situation in the Liberal party, the Times says the question of moment in political circles is whether Mr. Lloyd George will resign his office and conduct a political land campaign. It goes on: "Mr. Lloyd George has appointed a committee on land policy with the sanction of Mr. Asquith. The body of land reformers in the Liberal party has been running to an extreme land tax policy at the elections in the country with some success. 'Whether the country is or not ripe for such a policy, the Liberal party as a whole is not ripe for it, but the electorate can be captured by a political land campaign, there are many Liberals who believe they can win the next general election and Mr. Lloyd George is marked out as the protagonist.'"

"To conduct this campaign with freedom, Mr. Lloyd George would have to resign his office. The question of moment in political circles is whether the chancellor will take the plunge."

It Points to Police System and Those Higher Up

"Bald Jack" Further Implicated in Rosenthal Murder—Prisoners May Turn State's Evidence—Gamblers Raise Defence Fund

(Canadian Press)

New York, July 24.—The trail that leads to the real conspirators who framed the plot to slay Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, is slowly clearing and District Attorney Whitman believes today that from the evidence gleaned here and there he will be able to show that the "police system" and even those higher up were behind the plot to silence Rosenthal before he could make further gambling revelations. From Harry Vallon, gambler, and one of the occupants of the murder car, the public prosecutor has learned further facts that implicate "Bald Jack" Rose, close friend of Police Lieutenant Becker, and the one who hired the gray automobile that took the gunmen to the scene of the shooting. Mrs. Rosenthal, widow of the gambler, told the grand jury that Rose was Becker's closest friend, and charged that Rose was the lieutenant's gambling house colleague as a military police officer. Royal Geographical Society Sees New London House. Recalls Romantic History of Original Owners - Purchased From Family of Duke of Connaught's Military Secretary

Lord Curzon, President of Great Britain's Royal Geographical Society, to which a number of well known Americans and Canadians belong, has, according to the London Standard, purchased the house of the late William Lowther, father of the speaker, who one time Minister Plenipotentiary to the Argentine Republic, and for many years in parliament, dispensed hospitality there for over half a century until his death last spring at a very advanced age.

It seems fitting anyhow that the Royal Geographical Society should have at its disposal the site of Kensington Gore, famous during the first half of the nineteenth century as the residence of that remarkable and beautiful woman, the Countess of Blessington.

Among the habitués of Kensington Gore at that time, were Disraeli, afterwards Lord Beaconsfield, Lord Palmerston, Louis Napoleon, afterwards Emperor of the French, the great Talleyrand, Don Carlos, Duke of Madrid, who inherited the throne of Spain, the first Lord Brougham, and last, but not least, the brilliant and handsome Alfred, Count d'Orsay, when Lord Beaconsfield portrayed in his novel "Henrietta Temple," under the name of "Count Mirabel," to whom the first Lord Brougham was married.

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW GIRL SEES IN THE DARK

Describes Pictures and Reads Letters and Books With Ease, He Says. FORETELLS LOCAL EVENTS. Impersonates a Man in Her Moods, Even to Smoking a Pipe. (New York Sun.)

Mexico, Mo., July 21—I will write you what took place during one of my visits to my patient, Miss Bessie Stewart, of Wellsville (Mo.), to read from books and describe pictures in the dark when in a trance state due to hysteria.

She was oblivious of everybody and everything and no one could say or do anything that would make her pay the least heed. A dog suddenly barking or any noise or crash of falling tin pans apparently was not heard. Her eyes were open, but one could not make her see anything, nor answer any questions, nor talk about anything whatever except what happened to be on her mind.

She went into the parlor and said "Play, play." One played waltzes and two-steps and Bessie danced all about the room. Then a singer played and sang and Bessie sang too. When "Home, Sweet Home" was played, no one sang for Bessie was setting it out in graceful pantomime.

She impersonated a man. She got a pipe and pouch of tobacco filled the pipe, lit a match, lighted the tobacco and smoked. We followed her out of the house. She went to the attic, where she had all she had finished her smoke, blowing the smoke and assuming postures of a man.

She was up in her room, named them and said they had come. MRS. THOMAS ROBERTS. Milton, N. B., July 24—The death of Mrs. Thomas Roberts occurred this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George E. Irving, Highfield street, after a long illness. She was eighty-two years of age and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George E. Irving, Boston, and Mrs. George E. Irving, Milton, and one son, Howard, of East Walpole, Mass.

King H. Kearney, formerly of Woodstock, died in Salem, Mass., aged 49 years, leaving a widow and three daughters.

THE NAVAL BURDEN

If the people of England desire to learn what Canada thinks about naval defence, they will find in the utterances of the Liberal press the assurance that so far as the Liberal party is concerned there is no disposition to shirk imperial responsibility, but an earnest desire to share in the great burden which Mr. Winston Churchill declares must grow even greater if the Empire is to be preserved.

LOANS TO FARMERS

The government of Russia has $40,000,000 invested in a farmers' co-operative credit system. The loans are granted to the co-operatives at the rate of five per cent. In a report to Washington, Mr. Curtis Guild, American ambassador, describes the system. A summary of his report says: "Ambassador Guild reports the Russian system to be an institution of co-operative loan societies among the farmers, conducted under government patronage and supervision, by which the farmer, at no cost to himself, is given the benefit of loans from his society on long time and easy terms and, at the same time, is permitted to share in his society's profits.

THE FRUIT CROP

The fruit crop report of the Dominion department of agriculture for July states that small fruits brought high prices this season. With regard to the apple markets it says the European markets will be good but that the United States has a better than average crop and may have a large surplus for export. The Canadian north-west will require more than usual this year, but British Columbia will have a large surplus, and the American Pacific states are well organized to invade the market of the Canadian west. The report says "it is not at all improbable that several hundred carloads of Nova Scotia fruit will be distributed in the western markets this season. The report on the apple market concludes: "There is this to be said, with reference to the marketing of the apple crop, that the largest shippers this year will be the co-operative associations. Consequently, the danger of over-loading the markets is greatly minimized. The prospects, therefore, in a general way look favorable for a fair year for fruit growers and, though the high prices obtained for small fruits will not compensate for the short crop, conditions are likely to be much better for all varieties of tree fruits.

GETTING IMMIGRANTS

The following interesting facts concerning the Imperial Home Reunion Association are given by Canadian Finance, of Winnipeg: "At the last session of the Imperial Home Reunion Association at Winnipeg, the directors decided to bring out the wives and families of the 34 applicants who were present. There are now 23 branches in Canada of the Home Reunion movement, which originated in Winnipeg. Since the work started a year ago, 1,900 people have been brought over by the Winnipeg branch. The tickets purchased have cost $30,000, of which sum about $40,000 has been repaid by the families assisted. This is a very satisfactory showing. It is also noted by Canadian Finance that farm laborers are likewise being given a better opportunity to bring out their families. An immigration official thus states the case: "They're coming in fast. When I long ago when a man with a family either had to leave them in the old country or get some sort of a job in town. But they need more so badly that they are now paying $40 per month and found, promising light work for the winter, and making provisions for the families of good men."

THE OLD CALL

(By John A. Moore). The brown road close to the road that pays, Is fringed with the wild, wild flowers; And each of them mocks me as I gaze, With eyes that stare thro' a shimmering haze, For the loss of the gypsy hours.

Ah, the loss of the gypsy hours, lass! And the end of the golden way! Are you lurking there in the weft of the grass? Oh, touch my hand as I wearily pass And call up the vanished May!

Cloud shadows fall at the window-seat And the bees hum loud in the glade; And the loudest-beat of the wings and feet Give songs of the coast and the woodland sweet, And the old fun-filled parade!

Oh, daisies and buttercups made our rug, When you were my old sweetheart; And this creaking house that is light and snug I shall leave with my book and my heart With a fresh and joyful start.

With a fresh and joyful start, my lass, With a fresh and joyful start! I'll plunge my way thro' the wild, wild flowers, Back to the golden gypsy hours—Back to you, old Sweetheart.

A CITY STREET

They took a few old bricks, And they took a little tar, With various ingredients Impressed from afar. They hammered it and rolled it, And then they went away— They said they'd be back again 'Twas that last for many a day.

But they came with picks and spade it To lay a water main, And then they called the workmen To put it back again. To run a railway cable, They took it up some more, 'Twas hard as any stone. They took it up for conduits, And then they put it back again 'Twas that last for many a day.

Oh, the pavement's full of furrows, There are patches everywhere; You'd like to ride upon it, But it's sadder than a bare. It's a very handsome pavement, A credit to the town, But 'twas always 'goin' 't up Or puttin' it down.

UNDER SUSPICION

There were times when McFee glories in the fact that he was the father of nine children, even if they were on the lines of the proverbial human stepladder, but on the day when he was taking them out for a walk, he felt chagrined. He was walking along at a fairly good gait when he was halted by a policeman who asked: "I say, what you been doin'?" "Nothing, replied McFee. "Why?" "Well, what the crowd following you for?" "Well, you call this crowd?" asked the sharp-eyed girl of a milkman. "Yes." "Well, it won't do. When we want condensed milk we'll buy it at the grocery's."

OF NO ACCOUNT.

Pedestrian—"What's all this fuss about in that house—a wedding?" Resident—"No. A new baby arrived last night, and the women in the neighborhood are going into ecstasies over it." "Who is that tall man all the women are crowding around?" "He is a minister, come to fix a day for the christening." "And who is that short man who attracts so much attention?" "He is the doctor. That insignificant fellow who is being pushed out of the way of quackery is the butler, I presume." "No; he is the father."

A HALIFAX VIEW

(Halifax Recorder). It still seems that Premier Borden cannot give over skirmishing on the naval question and settle down to business. His departure for England was the signal of a great outburst of enthusiasm—per cent on the part of the Tory press, his going being hailed as an epoch-making event as usual. On every visiting Canadian premier, on his first visit at least, the British public and the British authorities, the trans-oceanic cables were kept hot with the "highlights" messages sent over to Canada from the salaried "Eager-geration Committee," and every day there are announcements of a momentous nature. Glittering accounts of banquets, dinners, suppers, naval reviews, after-dinner speeches, and all that sort of thing, have been filling the columns of our daily newspapers for two weeks past; but no naval announcement. The froth is no settled and we begin to see the real surface of things. We are informed that an announcement will be made until the premier and his junketing mates have returned home. Meantime, the glittering generalities about "one fleet, one flag, one control, one overhauling and strengthening bond of union, etc." have served their turn and have drawn a warm smile of approval from John Bull, and must now give way to plain prose. The premier has sort of informally made the proposal of joint naval control—apparently forgetting all his previous expressions in favor of direct control by the British admiralty. The Liberal press openly express doubt at the utility or advisability of such an arrangement and the Unionist press only expresses a qualified favour in as far as it hopes to embarrass the government if possible. What will Mr. Borden do if the British government refuse a joint control? Will he forget all about the German menace and say "no representation no naval aid"? The sooner the country knows all these things the better.

ORIGIN OF COMMON WEDDING CUSTOMS

Giving of Presents Came from Habit of Making Loans to Young Couples. MEANING OF COLORS WORN. Use of Ring Goes Back to Ancient Days—Why it is Worn on the Left Third Finger. The origin of wedding customs is an appropriate subject of inquiry in this month of June: Why do people make wedding gifts? Why do they throw rice and the old shoe? Why do they use a ring, and why place it on the third finger of the left hand? Why does the bride dress as she does? Why are certain seasons and days more favored than others? In answering these questions, a writer in Uncle Remus' Magazine says that the custom of giving presents runs back in England at least to the Norman Conquest. The money or articles then bestowed by one parent upon another were understood to be loans to be returned when the couple were well established. But as the feudal lord grew in power he came to expect gifts for his children's marriages from all persons dependent upon him, and indeed had laws passed compelling a present in value up to one-twentieth of the tenant's yearly rent. Among the higher classes this giving became more and more an open commercial transaction. James I. received at the wedding of his daughter, Elizabeth the sum of £21,000. The common people, seized with the same greed, originated the "bidding" or "spenny" wedding, at which light refreshments were served, and a plate was passed around for cash gratuities. As much as $100 (fully equal to $1000 in modern money) was sometimes collected by this means. The custom survives in a slightly changed form in the "pound party" often given the newly married in this country. The present at length became so important a part of the institution of marriage that many churches kept a register for the accurate listing of such tokens and the terms of their presentation; frequently, to increase this source of matrimonial income, the bridesmaids collected the gifts during the wedding at the church porch. A successful way of increasing the gifts was to prepare an entertainment called an "ale," stick up a green bush in front of the house, and bid everybody, neighbor and stranger, priest and scamp, welcome. These entertainments were highly profitable enterprises, but finally became so riotous that many shires passed laws allowing only thirty-two at any one "ale." In the old days, as now, the bride generally dressed in white. From early Saxon times down to the eighteenth century a bride of the poorer classes came to the wedding arrayed in a plain white robe as a public warning that since she brought nothing to the marriage her husband was not responsible for her debts. Brides soon began to add little touches of color. Blue was for common and green for youth, but in some places these might not be used because of fits between fam-

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing. In many homes one childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. This is evidenced by the following letters which are genuine and truthful. London, Ont.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking your famous medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before my baby was born I was so ill I could not stand long or walk any distance. I had to lie down nearly all the time. After I took your medicine I felt like a new woman. I could work from morning till night and was happy and well. I certainly think it relieves pain at childbirth and recommend it to every woman who is pregnant. You may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."—Mrs. FRANK CONNOR, 152 Adelaide St., London, Ont. Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. STREWART, 239 Humboldt St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

REVIEW OF INSURANCE BUSINESS. $592,640,000 Distributed in United States and Canada in 1911. BENEFITS INCREASED.

Surrendered Policies Indicated Hard Times, But Policy Holders Borrowed Smaller Amount—Progress in Social Service. (The Insurance Press, New York) Life insurance organizations of the United States and Canada, according to computations by The Insurance Press. The payments to the two countries to beneficiaries for death claims, matured endowments and other benefits under the policies of level-premium companies and of policies issued by regular companies in dividends to policyholders, for surrender values, to annuities, and on claims in foreign countries was $191,200,000.

HEAVY INCREASE IN DIVIDENDS. Last year was remarkable for large distributions to policyholders in the form of dividends. The New York reports show that the sum of $90,000,000 was distributed in dividends against $75,000,000 in 1910.

POLICY LOANS SHOW SMALLER VOLUME. Borrowing on life insurance occurred in enormous volume in 1911 than in 1910. A larger amount of insurance in force the loans on policies increased to $44,400,000 against an increase in 1910 of $44,000,000.

INSURANCE INVESTMENTS. The geographical distribution of the investments of life insurance companies shows that the investments are heavily in excess of the amounts of the policy reserves in every section except New England and the Gulf and Mississippi Valley group of states.

Repairs are not expected to take much time, and she will be in regular service again almost at once.

BAD FOR PICTICS.
Different picnics planned for this week have thus far been postponed on account of the unkind treatment of the weather man, but better things are hoped for, and should it clear tomorrow the children of the Sunday schools in Millford are looking for a rainy day. The picnic of St. Rose's Sunday school in Millford which it was intended to hold yesterday was postponed until today, as was the picnic of the day school teachers and junior choir of St. Peter's church, North End. If the weather keeps fine it is intended to hold St. Rose's picnic this afternoon. Coburg street Sunday school also postponed their picnic on account of the weather.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT.
Hearing in the case of George Fowler and Oscar Long, charged with breaking and entering a freight car in the C. P. R. yards in Mill street and stealing therefrom a quantity of rope, was continued in the police court this morning. One witness was called, Samuel Lavigne, of the Dominion Metal Company, owners of the stolen goods. Lavigne told of leading rope into the car, and of locking the door after he was through. The rope was valued at $240 a hundred weight, and the value of the rope stolen would be about $6. He saw the goods that had been recovered and identified them as the property of the Dominion Metal Co. The prisoners were further remanded until Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

IN THE COURTS.
Judge Jones in chambers this morning delivered judgment in the case of James Stuart Halpin of Millford, Conn., vs. Adam H. Bell, formerly of this city, but now residing in Salsborton. The judgment was for the plaintiff for the full amount of the claim, $283.45, with costs. This case, which was tried at the last sitting of the county court here, was an action for goods sold and delivered, to wit, a quantity of tobacco leaf, shipped to St. John, while the defendant was a resident of this city. The defence was that the goods were of inferior quality and not up to the standard. At the trial E. C. Weyman appeared for the plaintiff and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., and J. King Kelley, K. C., for the defence.

BOY BURGLARS IN CARLETON.

He was brought over to Central Police station this morning and locked up. He will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow morning. It is altogether likely that several other arrests of youngsters will be made in connection with these West Side breaks.

REV. JOSEPH SMITH DEAD

Aged Church of England Clergyman Passed Away This Morning—A Native of Yorkshire

Rev. Joseph Smith, one of the oldest and best known Church of England clergymen of this diocese, died today at his summer home at Ketepec. With the exception of Rev. T. W. Street, of this city, he was the oldest Episcopal minister in this diocese. He was a native of Yorkshire, Eng., and was in the seventy-ninth year of his age. For a time he was engaged in missionary work on the West Coast of Africa, being ordained in 1865. After coming to Canada he was assistant to Rev. G. M. Armstrong, rector of St. Mary's church, and had charge of St. Mary's in 1873. In 1881 he was rector of Peterville, Queens county, and was also for a time rector of Welsford. He is survived by his wife who is the daughter of the late William Best, formerly Dominion auditor here, and one daughter, Miss Eva, of Montreal, and two sons, Herbert J., barrister, of this city, and Captain E. A. Seely Smith of the Royal Canadian Regiment, Quebec.

Greeks Stay at Home—Foley Due Tomorrow—Will Pitch Against Woodstock

The Marathons were supposed to have gone to Woodstock this morning to play the Woodstock Colts there this afternoon, but the management received word early this morning that the game would have to be postponed on account of the inclement weather. The Greeks are scheduled to play at Houlton tomorrow and at home on Friday and Saturday. D. B. Donald received word this morning that Joe Foley, the Holy Cross College pitcher, who has been signed up by the Greeks, would arrive here tomorrow. He will pitch one of the home games against Woodstock this week. Ayres of Providence, who has been signed up has not yet reported, but the management expect that he will turn up almost any day now.

THE FLAG TO FLY

IN HONOR OF THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

(Sydney Record.)
There has been much discussion and anonymous writing in the newspapers in regard to whether the Canadian Ensign is or is not the correct flag to fly during the Duke of Connaught's visit to Sydney. In connection with this matter and to definitely settle the disputed point, His Worship, Mayor Green, wired the private secretary of the Lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia, and received the following reply:—
"Halifax, July 22.
"Mayor, Sydney—Canadian ensign correct, but Union Jack better, being Duke of Connaught's standard."
(Signed) HICKES.
According to the above, the Canadian ensign may be flown by the citizens and will be quite proper, although the Union Jack is the better flag for the purpose of honoring His Royal Highness's visit, if the citizens do not possess, as stated, the Duke's standard.

STATION WALL WILL HAVE TO BE RAZED

While it was recently thought that no portion of the wall in the Union Depot, which has been undergoing repairs, would have to be torn down, it was said today that there was a likelihood that all but about one hundred and twenty feet would have to be razed, as the foundation was found to be weak. The work on the smaller portion has been finished and it will stand with the repairs already made but the balance, totalling a little more than three hundred feet, will have to be torn down and replaced by a wall with a more substantial foundation.

A fairly large crew of men are at work but it is a big contract. It will require a considerable period of time, and while the men engaged may be successful in pulling down the portion of the wall in question in a few weeks, it will take a far longer time to replace it. By allowing the portion of the wall repaired to stand, the idea of having pillars instead is apparently abandoned.
