DOYLE SPREADS FALSE REPORTS OF CASEMENT

CAUGHT IN A FALSEHOOD

Sir Roger at Brixton and Has the Best of Everything.

STATEMENT BY GOVT.

Rebel Leader Not Being Persecuted as Asserted by Counsel.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 17.—The correspondent of the New York Times in London cabling under yesterday's date, says:

"Michael F. Doyle of Philadelphia, called on Sir Edward Grey today to protest against the action of the warders of Brixton Jail in refusing to allow him to confer with his client, Sir Roger Casement, without keepers on hand to listen. Doyle informed Sir Edward that he came from America to prepare Casement's defence for the forthcoming treason trial, but was unable to make progress because he was not permitted to interview his client alone.

Taken From Tower.

Soon after Doyle arrived in London he had a talk with American newspapermen, to whom he gave the impression that he found Casement confined in a cell in the Tower of London, and that Casement, having told him it was damp, he (Doyle) applied to the officials to transfer Casement to Brixton, which was done the next day. Independent inquiries by the New York Times correspondent having elicited the information from the British officials that Casement was transferred to Brixton on May 15 last, the correspondent today asked Doyle how the two statements could be reconciled. Doyle expressed regret that he had given the impression, admitting that Casement was in Brixton Jail when he (Doyle) arrived in England.

During the last few days rumors have been current in certain restricted quarters that Sir Roger was being made to suffer considerable inconvenience not to say worse, during his incarceration pending trial. It was added that he had been debarred from receiving such articles as soap and towels sent him by friends outside, while necessary baths were totally denied him.

Failed To Prove It.

The originator of these reports was requested by the New York Times correspondent either to vouch for their accuracy by a personal statement over his own name or by some documentary or other reliable evidence. Such evidence was promised for today, but it is not yet forthcoming. Inquiries made in official quarters elicited the following report:

Casement was lodged in the tower for only one week. When brought to England he was put in Brixton Prison. Then the military authorities took charge of him while it was a question whether he should be tried by court-martial. When it was decided that in view chiefly of the fact that his arrest antedated the proclamation of martial law in Ireland, he should be tried by civil process law, he was again removed to Brixton.

Well Looked After.

While Casement was a prisoner in the tower the governor took special pains to see he was well looked after, sending him a tub from his own apartments. The governor also sent the prisoner a glass of port daily for luncheon from his own table and reports say the governor is a good judge of port and that Casement thinks so too. Tower antiquarians believe that the Casement lodgings there were once occupied by Queen Mary.

When retransferred to Brixton, Casement was accommodated in the hospital ward and accorded the general treatment of a first-class demeanant. The prison regulations also are strict as regards the cleanliness of prisoners, and as one official observed: "In the unlikely event of Casement being reluctant to bathe, he would have been required to comply with the rules."

MEXICO THREATENS WAR; WILSON WILL BE SHARP; SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Carranza Declares Further Movement of American Troops, Except Towards North, Will Mean War—Washington To Tell Mexico if Duty Calls War Will Not Be Shirked.

[Canadian Press.]

Laredo, Texas, June 17.—A well-informed Mexican arriving from the interior of Mexico, confirms reports that more than 5,000 Carranza troops have passed Villaldama, 110 miles south of Laredo, going northward.

No large bodies are in evidence at any particular point along the railroad line, he says, the soldiers being spread out along the border, some twenty miles inland, in moderate-sized detachments.

Washington, June 17.—The latest development of the United States-Mexican situation is an ultimatum from Carranza through his commander in Chihuahua, in which he declares that if the American troops proceed anywhere further in Mexico except northward he will begin active warfare.

BELL HEARS NEWS.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 17.—Gen. Funston advised the war department today that he was informed by Gen. Bell at El Paso that Gen. Pershing had been warned by Gen. Trevino, the Carranza commander at Chihuahua, that any movement of the American expedition to the south, west or east would be a signal for an attack by the Mexican forces.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 17.—Although the United States' reply to Gen. Carranza's last note is virtually completed its dispatch is being delayed while administration officials seek detailed information on these developments:

Mr. Walker succeeded his brother, Edward Chandler Walker, who died a year ago, as president and managing director of Hiram Walker & Sons. Only one son of the late Hiram Walker, J. Harrington Walker, of Magnolia, Mass., survives. Franklin Walker leaves one daughter, who is the wife of Count Manford Von Matuschka, of Silesia, Germany, and she is at present in that country. NO SUNDAY CARS WILL RUN HERE AGAIN TOMORROW

Bylaw for Temporary Service Fails to Pass the Council.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE NEEDED

Mayor Demands It and Is Backed Up in Contention by Rules of Order.

CRITICISM OF COMPANY

Ald. Burdick Declares That It Has Run City Long Enough in Pressing for Action.

There will be no Sunday cars tomorrow.

The council at a special meeting held this afternoon decided not to pass the bylaw giving the company a two-week's extension, and as a result, the citizens of London, including the visiting soldiers will walk.

The session of the council was not long, but it was lively. When Mayor Stevenson called the aldermen to order, City Clerk Baker read a letter from C. H. Ivey, solicitor for the Street Railway Company, offering to double track and pave Dundas street east, to extend the line on the Hamilton road from Egerton to West street, to put in double curves at Mamelon and Rectory streets, to use "T" rails, and to waive the objection about the population for street railway purposes. The agreement was to give the company Sunday cars for a year, and to settle differences as to trackage and paving for a year.

Asks For Information.

Ald. Burdick wanted information as to what had taken place. He thought it time to make the street railway come to an agreement, satisfactory to all concerned.

"You are tying yourself up for a year, if you accept," declared the mayor.

"The letter is not acceptable to me," said Ald. Burdick. "What other work have we in hand?"

"We intend paving Beaconsfield avenue, Richmond north and other streets," declared the mayor.

Would Not Come to Terms.

Controller Gammage explained this situation. The company would not agree to terms, so the council had refused Sunday cars last Sabbath. The company had met the joint committee, he said, and had not agreed on terms. The extension of Sunday cars for two weeks simply gave the council time to settle the agreement and come to terms. The soldiers were complaining about the lack of Sunday cars.

"They think that they should be accommodated, and it seems reasonable that they should," said the controller. "The extension's not permanent."

TO ASK SIR SAM FOR SUNDAY CARS FOR SOLDIERS' USE

Rumor Says Company or Officers Will Act.

LATTER FEEL ANNOYED

Don't Like the Idea of Having No Means of Transit.

It is rumored that the London Street Railway will appeal to Sir Sam Hughes to give Sunday car service to the camp.

The Lord's Day Act has been repealed for industries, and many of the officers of the camp feel that it is just as essential to proper camp life here that Sunday cars be granted.

Whether or not the company will appeal to the minister of militia or whether some of the officers will do so is not apparent at this time, but it seems quite certain that an appeal will be made.

The officers and men feel sore that there will be no Sunday cars, and difficulties may arise.

This aspect of the case is creating not a little interest.

FRENCH SWOOP IN THE VOSGES NETS PRISONERS

Penetrate to First and Second Line of the Germans.

GET BACK IN SAFETY

Attack With Grenades Against Dead Man Hill Repulsed.

ENEMY BOMBARS DUNKIRK

French Squadron Does Heavy Executions to Port of the Germans.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 17—12 (noon).—In the course of last night German troops attacked the French positions at Avecourt with grenades, says the official statement issued by the French war department. In the region of Le Mort Homme there was an intense bombardment. In the Vosges, after a violent bombardment of Hill No. 425, to the east of Thann, French infantry, the statement adds, penetrated the first and second German lines and brought back a number of German prisoners.

FRENCH STATEMENT.

The text of the communication follows:

"In Belgium there was last night a fairly intense artillery duel in the sector of Lombaertzyde.

"On the left bank of the River Meuse German attacks with hand-grenades on the redoubt of Avecourt and on our advanced posts to the west of Hill No. 304, were easily repulsed. There has been an intense bombardment of our positions at Dead Man Hill, but without any infantry action.

"On the right bank of the river there has been violent artillery fighting in the sector to the north of Fleury.

"In the Vosges, following a violent bombardment on the part of our artillery directed against the German works at Hill No. 425, to the east of Thann, a detachment of our infantry penetrated to the first and to the second German lines, which were cleaned up. The French detachment returned without having suffered losses, and brought with it some prisoners.

"During the night of June 16-17 three aeroplanes of the enemy bombarded the region of Dunkirk. There was no victims, and the material damage was slight. At about 8 o'clock this same night, Bar Le Duc was bombarded by enemy aeroplanes. Four persons were killed among the population, and about fifteen were wounded. Later in the evening some bombs were thrown down on Pont-A-Mousson by German aviators, but they did no damage.

"During the night of June 16-17, a French bombarding air squadron threw down 29 shells of 120 kilos each and four of 155 kilos each upon the railroad stations at Longuyon, Mont Medy, and Audun-Le-Roman."

GERMAN STATEMENT.

Berlin, June 17.—The German official statement follows:

"Western Theatre: A French patrol attack near Beauine, north of the Aisne, was easily repulsed.

"In the Meuse district the activity of the artillery continued with considerable strength and was increased in the early morning hours with especial violence at certain points.

"In the Vosges we inflicted considerable losses on the enemy by an explosion northeast of Celles, and we repulsed a minor enemy detachment to the west of Sennheim, which had succeeded in penetrating temporarily our trenches.

"Our squadron dropped bombs freely atpoints of military importance in Bergues (French Flanders), in Bar-Le-Duc, and in the sector of Dombasle, Elnville, Lumeville and Blainville.

"Eastern Theatre: Gen. Von Linsingen's army: Fighting has developed in the Stokhod and Styr sectors.

"Parts of army of Gen. Count Von Bothmer are engaged in battle north of Przewloka.

"Balkan Theatre: Apart from successful attacks made by our aviators on enemy establishments there is nothing to report."

ALLIES' DEMANDS ON GREECE TO BE GREATLY EXTENDED

[Canadian Press.]

Athens, June 16.—Via Paris, June 17.—The demands of the Entente Allies nations on Greece, it was learned here today, are being considerably strengthened and extended as a result of the anti-entente demonstrations which broke out in Athens last Monday.

The demands were ready for presentation to the Greek Government when the disorders occurred, but the note probably will not be delivered until next week. Meanwhile the Entente blockade against Greek ports is continuing in full force.

Russians Pressing Enemy Hard; On the Aggressive at All Points; Slight Checks by the Austrians

No Sign of a Halt to the Stupendous Muscovite Offensive in Volhynia, Galicia and Bukowina, Although Prevented From Crossing the Stokod and the Styr.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 17.—There are no signs of a halt in the powerful Russian offensive in Volhynia, Galacia and Bukowina. The latest Austrian official statement tells of a Russian check here and there, notably the defeat of a cavalry force south of the Dniester in Galacia, and the stopping of Russian efforts to cross the Stokhod and the Styr in Volhynia. The Russians, however, are remaining on the aggressive, attacking all along the Volhynian front and pressing hard against the Austrian lines further to the south.

TWO BATTLES ON.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 17.—Via London, 4:10 p.m.—Gen. Von Linsingen's troops have engaged the Russians in battle in the Stokhod and Styr sections, says the official statement issued by German army headquarters today.

The statement adds that parts of the army of Gen. Count Von Bothmer are engaged in battle with the Russians to the north of Przewloka.

AUSTRIANS IN NEW POSITIONS.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 17.—A London dispatch to a new agency here today says: "That the Austrians, driven back from their first line of trenches on the eastern front, have settled into new positions and are stubbornly resisting the Russian advance, is the conclusion gained here from the fact that the Russian official report does not carry statements of tremendous territorial gains daily as in the first several days of the drive.

"The capture of Czernowitz, capital of Bukowina, is not yet officially confirmed, though reported unofficially from several sources. However, its capture has not been denied from Vienna."

AUSTRIAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 17.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—The text of today's Austrian official statement follows:

"South of the Dniester our troops repulsed the enemy's cavalry. Farther to the east there were only small engagements in this district.

"West of Visvovczyk Russian attacks against our positions are in progress. Two officers and 400 Russians remained in the hands of our troops. Near Tarnopol there were no especial events.

"On the whole Volhynian front new combats have been started. On the Stokhod and the Styr several enemy attempts to cross the river failed. The enemy suffered heavy loss."

London, June 17.—The British destroyer Eden has been sunk. Thirty-one members of the crew were saved. Three officers are missing.

The Eden was sunk in the English Channel last night after a collision. This announcement was made this afternoon by the official press bureau.

The British destroyer Eden displaced 555 tons and carried a complement of 70. She was 220 feet long, 23 feet beam and 8 feet deep. She was built in 1903 and had a speed of 26 knots. The Eden carried four 3-inch guns, and was equipped with two 18-inch torpedo tubes.

CAMP IMPROVED

Battery Boys Have Changed Appearance of "Broughdale."

"Broughdale Camp," where the 63rd and 64th Batteries are now stationed, has been greatly improved since the arrival of the units. The boys are doing all their own work, and are going at it with a will, with the result that their camp grounds compare most favorably with any of the larger ones.

Horse sheds have now been erected between the lines, space having been left for that purpose. These are built of wood and will accommodate about 70 horses.

SUNDAY'S SUBJECTS.—Rev. C. E. Evans of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, West London, will speak on "The Pharisee and the Publican" at his morning service tomorrow. In the evening his subject will be, "What All the World Is Seeking." Mr. Evans will preach his farewell services a week from tomorrow.

AMERICAN OFFICER VISITS CAMP AND INSPECTS KITCHENS

McClary's Field Kitchens Attract His Attention and Business May Follow.

Col. L. A. Graves, Boston, Mass., in command of a National Guard Regiment of that state, is in the city today inspecting the field kitchens used by the various battalions in camp here, which have been manufactured by the McClary Manufacturing Company.

Col. Graves arrived this morning, and asked to be taken to the military camp at once. He was invited to headquarters, where he was introduced to the various officers, and later made a minute examination of the camp, meeting a number of commanding officers.

He was particularly interested in the kitchen arrangements of the camp, paying close attention to the field kitchens. He was informed that the McClary Company's kitchens were in use by the American army in Mexico. It is expected that as a result of his visit a number of the kitchens will be purchased.

ITALIANS CAPTURE THREE POSITIONS OF THE AUSTRIANS

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, June 17.—(Via London, 5 p.m.)—Italian troops have carried the Austrian positions of Halga, Fossetta and Monte Magari, between the Frenzels Valley and Marcesina, according to an official statement given out at the war department today. The Italians took 203 prisoners, and captured six guns and four machine guns.

Other Fronts Weakened In An Attempt To Stop Russian Advance.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 17.—Swiss, Italian and Rumanian reports dwell upon the great effect of the Russian offensive on public opinion in Austria-Hungary, where general pessimism prevails. The principal newspapers of Vienna make no comment upon the situation. It is stated that the offensive on the Trentino front has suddenly ceased. Austrian troop trains are hastening to the east both from the Trentino front and from Albania. Thirty-six trains loaded with soldiers are reported to have passed Preisburg on one day. A dispatch from Bucharest confirms the astonishing efficiency of the Russian artillery and armored automobiles. The latter have in one sector of the front replaced the cavalry, pursuing the Austrians and creating terrible havoc with their machine guns.

German Guards Retired.

Petrograd advices state that the first German reinforcements sent to help arrest the Russian advance from Lutsk were a division of Guards, which failed, however, to check the advance and was obliged to retire, suffering serious losses.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg also sent his chief of staff, Gen. Ludendorff, to help Archduke Freidrich. Both came too late, however. According to Russian accounts the operations around Baronovitchi were merely those of a reconnaissance in force to ascertain the German strength. German newspaper reports represent it as an attack by 50,000 Russians, which failed because the troops advanced too far from their artillery supports. The German accounts admit, however, that the Russian artillery destroyed strong German fortified positions.

BIG RECEPTION FOR UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL BEFORE DEPARTURE

RED CROSS WORKERS

More Women Needed at Once to Help Finish the Supplies.

The Western University Hospital has now been officially approved, the list of officers and men submitted by the committee having been sanctioned by the board of governors a few days ago. It is expected that the unit will be called upon very shortly to go overseas, the nurses going in advance. Before this takes place a reception will be tendered by the board.

Intense local interest has been taken in this unit and it has been recruited very rapidly with university students and others.

Did Splendid Work.

The Red Cross has been especially active in furnishing supplies and equipment. Many women have been giving practically all their time for several weeks under the leadership of Lady Beck, Mrs. Somerville, Mrs. Baker and others. The Daughters of the Empire and several other city organizations have co-operated very efficiently. A few more workers are still needed at St. Andrew's Hall for next week.

About the only remaining need of the unit is a fund of about $2,000 to cover certain expenses of organization and other incidental extras for which no provision is made by the Government. Contributions of any amount may be sent to Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, president of the university, and designated for this purpose. A few more Columbia and Victrola records are also desired and may be sent in care of Mason & Risch.

Personnel of Unit.

The personnel of the unit is as follows:

HAS TRACK STARS.

The 161st Battalion promises to sweep the field at the military field day next Wednesday, at least as far as track events are concerned. It has several stars along this line. Lieut. Roy Walters, lately of Toronto University, is a champion quarter-mile and mile sprinter. He also stars in the shotput and discus throwing. Much of the hope of the battalion rests on him.

FINE FIELD FOR 149TH'S "SKIRMISH" DRILL WORK

Lambtons Give Passersby Surprise in Long Grass.

A field of long grass by the side of the 149th Battalion's drill grounds is proving an excellent place for the training of the machine gun section, and skirmishers. Both advancing and retiring are practiced, although weapons are not used yet.

By lying flat and keeping their heads low the men are absolutely invisible and furnish quite a surprise for passersby when at the officers' whistled signal sections of the line leap to their feet and advance on the run.

However, if the men get careless they become excellent marks for a watchful enemy. If the head is raised in the slightest the round flat top of the Canadian service cap becomes visible like a round target rising from the butts.

Instructions in placing the guns are also given with regard to the best shelter from fire. Early in the game they must learn to keep away from trees and bushes, as these always draw an enemy's fire.

HERE IS CHANCE FOR MOTOR TRANSPORT MEN

C. A. S. C. Wants Men for This Branch of Army Work.

An urgent call is being sounded for motor car drivers and men for horse transport work. The Canadian army in the field is growing so large that the matter of rationing, equipping, etc., is demanding a largely increased strength for these branches of the service.

Experienced soldiers say that this is the most interesting of all army work.

The Advertiser is informed that men with any experience in either of these lines may communicate directly with the officer commanding No. 2 Overseas Army Service Corps Training Depot at Niagara camp and arrange for enlistment.

ANOTHER 33RD OFFICER IN LATE CASUALTY LIST

Lieut. W. N. Cooke of This City Wounded for Second Time.

For the second time Lieut. W. N. Cooke, who left London just a year ago as one of the officers of the first detached reinforcing company of the 33rd Battalion, has appeared in the casualty list. Lieut. Cooke's parents live in Toronto, and they were notified yesterday that he had been admitted to a war hospital in France suffering from severe shell wounds in the right thigh.

For eight years Lieut. Cooke was a resident of this city, having been manager of the local Bradstreet's branch office. He was an officer of the 7th Regiment, and was one of the first officers selected for the 33rd. When the first draft company was selected he was picked as one of the subalterns.

On his arrival in England he was drafted to the 12th Reserve Battalion and made a bomb officer. Later he was drafted again to a regiment at the front, where he served as senior bomb officer of the brigade.

Last November Lieut. Cooke was reported wounded. The injuries at that time proved but slight, and he returned to duty very shortly.

TRAINING DEPOT USES PARADE TO GET RECRUITS

Band and Horse Ambulance Used Effectively to Present Need of Men.

No. 1, A. M. C. Training Depot used parades today as part of its publicity campaign to secure the 200 additional recruits for the medical service that are wanted at once. With the pipe and bugle band of the unit the appeal was presented to those on the downtown streets today. One of the horse-drawn ambulances of the unit was used as a banner wagon, and proclaimed the need of additional men.

Overseas drafts are going from the training depot at all times, and another big one was selected yesterday. This means that thep laces must be filled at once.

The work in connection with London's big mobilization camp is an important one to the preparation and training of men for overseas service. The A. M. C. has always proved a popular branch of the service, and Major David Smith, commanding officer, expects to get the men he requires with little trouble.

THOUGHT HIMSELF UNFIT

135th Man Therefore Simply Quit Battalion—Charged as Deserter.

Harry Harvey, a deserter from the 135th Battalion, who was arrested yesterday, appeared before Magistrate Judd in the police court today. He pleaded guilty and was remanded until June 29 for sentence.

Harvey, whose home is in Strathroy, declared that he thought that he was medically unfit for service and considered that the doctors had made a mistake in passing him.

ON FIRING LINE

Sergt. Ronald Gray Cables That He Has Left for France and Front.

James Gray of Gray's, Limited, has received a cablegram from his son, Sergt. Ronald Gray of the 70th Battalion, announcing his departure for France and the firing line. Sergt. Gray held a lieutenant's certificate, but enlisted in the 70th rather than wait for an appointment in an overseas battalion.

LONDONER WHO WON HIS COMMISSION ON FIELD NOW KILLED

Capt. D. J. McKinney in Today's Casualty List.

LEFT AS SERGT.-MAJOR

Was Non-Com. of 7th Regiment and R. C. R. Force Here in City.

"Capt. D. J. McKinney, Ontario."

This appearing in today's casualty list of Canadian officers killed on June 15 was the first local intimation of the death in action of one of the best-known military men of this city and district. The militia records show that the only D. J. McKinney now serving at the front is Capt. D. J. McKinney, who left London as sergeant-major of the 7th Regiment quota of the first contingent.

Capt. McKinney and his family resided here for many years at 396 Grey street. Some time after her husband's departure, Mrs. McKinney returned to her former home in Montreal and took with her their four little children.

Capt. McKinney was an old R. C. R. man, and was attached to the 7th Regiment as regimental sergeant-major. He left with the 7th's first contingent draft, and at Valcartier was made battalion sergeant-major of the 1st (Western Ontario) Battalion. He crossed to France with that unit and won his promotion, first to lieutenant and later to captain, on the firing line. He was a popular officer with his men, and regarded as one of the best soldiers of the "Famous Fighting First."

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CAMPS

GAME ADJOURNED.

Owing to some [illegible] at the last minute, the game for the 64th Battery and the [illegible] on did not come off Thursday. Time was spent in practice [illegible] changes to the 186th's team.

SOME REAL BALL HEAVERS.

The baseball team of the 186th Battalion defeated that of the 149th Battalion, 11—9, Thursday night. This will make the third game played and won by the 186th boys. Their team has been organized for some time now, and its team play is slightly better than the teams it has so far played.

The lineup for the season will be as follows: Catcher, Pte. Hull; pitcher, Pte. Olds; first base, Sergt. Watson; second base, Sergt. Birnie; shortstop, Pte. E. Taylor; third base, Corp. B. Pritchard; right field, Pte. R. Gray; centre field, Pte. Daigneuld; left field, Pte. Cowley.

This team so far has defeated the boys from the 91st, 168th and 149th Battalions, and is going in strong for the leadership of the league.

BEAUTIFYING LINES.

The artistically-inclined in the 149th Battalion are using their spare time to beautify the lines. Three or four days of dry weather have made the camp grounds a little more habitable and have given the men a chance to think about something else than keeping dry.

A boulevard is in the process of construction in one line, which, when completed, will add materially to the camp's appearance. It will consist of a cinder path outlined by geraniums and other flowers.

ARTISTIC BANDSMEN.

Among the members of the 142nd Band are those whose talent lies along artistic as well as musical line. The decorations in front of the band quarters are worth a long trip to see. Other battalions have confined themselves mostly to lettering, but the boys from the band have gone in for design work. On raised flowerbeds they have outlined several lyres, and other musical instruments, a few geraniums help to relieve the monotony which might result from too many whitewashed pebbles.

The bugle band has a neatly patterned bugle and drum before its quarters.

Only 23 more men are needed to complete A Company of London's Own. The boys are making every effort to make this the premier company of the battalion in fact as well as in name. This is, of course, the leading company in all parades, and the officers point out the many advantages gained by this. For this reason also they are anxious to procure the biggest men possible, although they have set no standard of height.

The company is in charge of Capt. Fisher.

NEW 153RD MESS TENT.

Improvements are being gradually made in the quarters of the 153rd Battalion. A new mess tent has been erected, and the canteen has been moved from the lines into new quarters. It is understood that two more mess tents will be purchased.

Two more recruits have signed up with the 142nd Battalion. They are H. W. Martins and G. Vaughn.

HOSPITAL UNIT CONCERT.

In aid of the unit funds a concert will be given in the Masonic Hall on June 27 by the Western University (No. 10) Stationary Hospital. An excellent program has been provided the members of the Western "U" unit, numbering some exceptionally good talent.

Lady Beck has consented to sing, and Miss Florence Eggleston will render a number of violin solos. Other artists will contribute to making the program a most meritorious one.

NERVOUS?

Do You Brood? Have Morbid Fears? Toss in Your Sleep?

Your Condition Below Par—You Must Be Built Up—Let Ferrozone Do It.

All the vital activities of the body are quickened into new vigor by Ferrozone, which contains all the constituents necessary to make nerve strength.

Its first action is upon digestion.

It stimulates the secretion of gastric juice, insures perfect digestion and prepares the food so as to be easily assimilated.

Thus everything you eat is converted into nourishment that enriches the blood and lends new strength to the nerves.

By Ferrozone the mind is relieved of those brooding tendencies, of morbid unnatural fears, of unwillingness to concentrate attention on things that should be done.

Won't you try Ferrozone?

Won't you give it a chance to win you back to health; it will do it, just as it did for Mrs. Creighton Zinck of Palm street, Lunenburg, N. S., who says: "I want to give my experience with Ferrozone because I believe it will be of assistance to thousands of women who need it badly. I was very thin, rundown in flesh and lacked color. My nerves were in a dreadful state. If anything fell I would jump and start. At night I would suddenly wake up, heart palpitating and all keyed up. Ferrozone went right to work. It restored my poise and balance, gave me self-control, cured my nervousness. Ferrozone increased my appetite and my weight came up so fast that I simply didn't need to use it any longer. Eight boxes cured me."

Why won't you use Ferrozone also? It certainly will do you good in many ways—sold by all druggists in 50c boxes.

FRENCH CANADIANS OF EAST WINDSOR KEEN FOR KILTIES

LIKE A BOY AT 50 BUBBLING OVER WITH VITALITY—TAKING IRON DID IT

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders—Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous Folks 200 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of 20 and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—nuxated iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.—E. Sauer, M.D.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by the Standard Drug Company, Limited, and all other druggists.

AYS MAJORITY OF SOLDIERS WILL BE RETURNED SAFELY

Nursing Sister Neelin Declares Losses Are Small.

RECOVERIES SURPRISING

Many Londoners Were Nursed by Member of Shorncliffe Hospital Staff.

"Most of the men who take part in the war are going to come back home," is the hopeful message of Miss Edith Neelin of Seaforth, Ont., who, after eleven months' experience as a nursing sister in Shorncliffe Hospital, is back home, and has been secured by the Women's Emergency Corps of No. 1 Military District as a speaker to aid in the publicity campaign in Western Ontario outside of London.

"Why," she said to The Advertiser, "even in the biggest, most bloody battles it is estimated that only 18 out of 1,000 are killed or die as a result of wounds. It is a surprise to many to know how large is the percentage of recoveries in a military hospital, such as Shorncliffe.

"A number of people have an idea that the patients are well on the way to recovery when they are brought to England. There are two extreme classes left in France, the very seriously wounded, and those who are only so slightly wounded they will be able to return very soon to their duties. In Shorncliffe we get patients who have only been wounded three days, as well as gassed and nervous patients. Of these the gassed and nervous are far the most difficult and discouraging cases. There is no way of measuring and comparing the degree of suffering of the wounded with the other two classes, but the gassed patients are distressing from the recurrent relapses.

"Sergt.-Major Grant, bandmaster of the 161st Battalion, now in the city, is one of my gassed patients who made a good recovery. I think it was at Festubert that he was gassed. Private Pritchard of Goderich was gassed with the Princess Patricias and, I believe, also had shrapnel wounds.

Knew Many Londoners.

"I knew a number of the London boys and men also. Lance-Corp. Widdowson was in my charge when he was invalided to England from Lemnos. Pte. Middleditch was another patient. I knew Lieut.-Col. Evans Davis and was on duty in the ward of which Capt. Macauley had charge. We had Capt. Nettleton of Port Stanley on our staff before No. 3 Hospital unit left for Lemnos."

Miss Neelin, who is a daughter of F. G. Neelin, customs officer in Seaforth, and former editor of the Seaforth Sun, has been much in demand to address recruiting meetings in Huron County since her return from England. She was recommended to G. A. Putnam, superintendent of Ontario Women's Institutes as a speaker, and Mr. Putnam, in turn, recommended her to the executive of the Women's Emergency Corps.

This week, she has addressed district Women's Institute conventions in Kingsville and Clachan, and will address three or four similar conventions next week.

Her knowledge of what the women of England are doing, it is felt, will be invaluable in making an appeal to the women of the district to give their services to release men for active service.

Englishwoman Marvellous.

"The women of England are marvellous," she says, "and all the more so from the fact that in the past they have never had the opportunity of our Canadian women to go into business. Women of all classes over there have stepped forward to fill any position which will be of service to the Empire in this crisis. So wonderfully have they done their part, in releasing men, that it is scarcely possible for a man over there who is physically fit to say 'There is no woman to take my place.'"

WITH PASSING OF BYLAWS COUNCIL'S BUSINESS ENDS

County Representatives Finish Long and Strenuous Session.

The county council completed its session this afternoon, following the passage of several bylaws relative to the rates of taxation.

The grants to the different townships and villages were passed with little discussion.

This session has been a prolonged and strenuous one for the councillors, and the questions they were asked to decide required no little consideration, because of their desire to keep the tax rate as low as possible, and still be consistent with the county's needs.

PUPILS' RECITAL.—Last evening, at Heintzman Hall, a piano recital of exceptional merit was given by pupils of Mrs. Lotta Francis-Vining of the London Conservatory staff, before a large and highly-pleased audience. The opening number "Rakoczi March," by Liszt, arranged for four pianos, two performers at each piano, was particularly interesting. The playing of the piano soloists was particularly good throughout the program. Those taking part were Misses Mary Ashton, Gertrude Davey, Mildred Chantler, Marian Grant, Marian Tanton, Marjorie Brennan, Ida McLurg, Dorothy Davis, Luella Smith, Marguerite Mann, Verna Dobbyn, Gwendolyn Scandrett, Margaret Johnston, Mary Weston, Mildred Baker and Katherine Lancaster. Messrs. J. H. Elliott and Ralph Carson, vocal pupils of Mr. Alderson gave numbers which were very much enjoyed.

NOT SO MUCH RAIN, BUT IT CAME DOWN WITH SOME SPEED

Miniature Cloudburst Deluged London.

STREETS WERE AWASH

Sewers Insufficient to Take Care of Heavy Fall of Yesterday Afternoon.

There wasn't so much rain in yesterday afternoon's miniature "cloudburst" that deluged London shortly before 6 o'clock, but what there was fell in such a hurry that sewers were blocked up, streets were transformed into rivers and lakes, and hundreds of Londoners were soaked in what proved to be the "wettest" rain of the many that have been London's lot this year.

The official report shows that the rainfall was but .94 inches, or a little better than nine-tenths of an inch. In view of the inch, and inch and a half falls that have been recorded this spring, the total moisture precipitation of yesterday falls far short of a record, but the time in which it fell puts the late afternoon rain in almost a class by itself.

Coming as it did just when the 6 o'clock crowds were hurrying home, the rain caught hundreds of unprotected citizens and gave them an impromptu bath. Those who had not the foresight to equip themselves with the ever present rainsticks that have done such valiant service this year, were soaked in short order. Even those who gained temporary shelter were in many cases soaked by the driving water.

Marooned Under Shelter.

One woman who stood under a sheltered doorway found the rain collecting in pools, and before it ceased to fall she was practically marooned. The same was true in scores of cases.

Even with the storm sewers the drainage system of the city was inadequate to take care of the fall. On the paved streets it wasn't so noticeable although the gutters were regular small sized torrents. The paved hills, such as Ridout street and Dundas street, were flooded from practically curb to curb by the rushing water.

For those Londoners who went out to the Poplar Hill picnic, a drive of fifteen miles in the rain, had to be made to get home. The roads, while good when dry, proved to be very bad in many places with the rain on them. The picnickers at Lobo all received more or less of a wetting and the rain effectually dampened their ardor for pleasure for that day.

Bad at Camp.

The storm was one of the heaviest this season and up on Carling Heights and in the other military camps the situation was anything but pleasant for the men under canvas.

Farmers today state that no great damage was done to crops, but the rain will prevent their working the land for some days, and as seeding is very late this year the hindrance will prove serious.

MEXICO THREATENS

American troops in Mexico are moved in any direction except northward toward the border; another bandit raid on Texas territory north of Brownsville last night; the attack on American troopers by Mexicans at San Ignacio Wednesday; and reports of warnings by the Carranza commander opposite San Ignacio that American troops would be attacked if they crossed the Rio Grande, regardless of their purpose.

Additions to the note dealing with some of these late developments may be made, it is said. Officials' present intention is to dispatch the reply within a few days.

The Washington Government will reaffirm its purpose not to intervene in Mexican affairs unless forced by continued and aggravated attacks on American territory, it is reported. Sufficient emphasis will be placed on the growing impatience of this Government, make it plain that if warfare finally appears a duty, it will not be shirked.

PERSHING IS WARNED.
[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 17.—An Associated Press dispatch from Chihuahua City, Mexico, last night said: Gen. Jacinto Trevino, commanding the Carranza army of the north, today advised Gen. J. J. Pershing, American expeditionary commander, that any movement of American troops from their present lines to the south, east or west would be considered a hostile act and a signal to commence warfare. Gen. Trevino acted upon specific instructions from Carranza.

MEXICANS EAGER FOR WAR.
[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 17.—A dispatch from El Paso, Texas, to the Tribune says: News of the Carranza ultimatum reached El Paso late yesterday afternoon in the form of a telegraph dispatch, which was permitted to pass uncensored over the Carranza military wires between Chihuahua City and Juarez, with apparent eagerness. Carranza officials in Juarez forwarded the dispatch across the river.

Gen. Bell, commanding at Fort Bliss, issued orders at 4 p.m. to the commanders of the various troop detachments which are encamped about the city, istructing them to hold all officers and men in camp in readiness for any development.

ALL REGULARS OUT.
[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 17.—Practically all available regulars of the United States army, including many coast artillerymen, already are on the border or in Mexico, and the National Guard of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico are in service for patrol duty. The Guardsmen of other states were notified some weeks ago to be prepared to respond if it should become necessary to call them out.

About 30 priests attended the impressive service, the Very Rev. Vicar-General O'Connor and Father James Harding assisting.

What's Doing in London Churches

Congregational News of Interest to All Denominations in the City.

Oh, the difference a short week can make. Last Saturday practically all the churches in the city were making an effort to make it known to their congregations that services on Sunday would be held on the old, or standard time. Just seven days have gone by, seven days in which people who have adaptability, or whose hours are not governed by Government or railroad regulations, have fallen in line and taken to dewy morning rising and long summer twilights, like ducks take to water. With due regard for family clocks and individual watches, not to mention such trifles as meal hours, the churches have dropped into line and state services will be on "city time," "new city time," "daylight time," and last, on "London time."

SUNDAY SCHOOLS FEATURED.

The Sunday school department is being emphasized and given prominence in several of the Methodist Church services tomorrow. In the First Methodist Church it will be the annual Flower Sunday and Sunday School Day, always an occasion of unusual interest and attractiveness.

In the morning the installation will take place of Sunday school officers and teachers, and there will be special music by the Sunday school and choir.

In Askin Street Methodist Church a feature of "Floral Day" will be a sermon from the deck of the Sunday school warship on the subject, "Wireless Messages."

In the Centennial Methodist Church the pastor, Rev. H. A. Graham, is conducting a special service for parents and Sunday school scholars.

Colborne Street Methodist Church will have special decorations and a large orchestra as features of the Flower Day services. In the morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. F. Louis Barber, will preach on "Flour From Flowers," and a mass meeting in the afternoon will be addressed by Rev. H. D. Moyer.

Rev. R. A. Hiltz, M. A., general secretary of the Sunday school commission of the Church of England in Canada, will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow in the Cronyn Memorial Church.

Rev. A. E. Lloyd of Ridout Street Methodist Church will conduct the evening service tomorrow in the Memorial Methodist Church.

PRESUMING ON FUTURE.

Rev. J. G. Stuart, minister, is preaching on "Presuming on the Future" tomorrow morning in Knox Presbyterian Church.

KHAKI CHRISTIANITY.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh, King Street Presbyterian Church, is preaching tomorrow morning on "Khaki Christianity." In the evening he will deliver his monthly sermon to young people on "Acres of Diamonds."

Rev. Dr. Dougall, Askin Street Methodist Church, is preaching on a seasonable theme tomorrow evening, "June Brides and Bridegrooms."

Rev. H. D. Moyer, Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church, is giving his congregation "Echoes From the Conference" tomorrow at the evening service.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR SOLDIERS.

Friday evening the young people of King Street Presbyterian Church entertained in honor of their friends in khaki in the various units in the training camps when, notwithstanding the downpour of rain, there was a large response to the invitations that had been sent out.

Games were enjoyed and a program, in which those who took part were Miss Bessie McLeod, Miss Topping, Miss Stevenson, Miss Vance, Miss Jean Walker. Eldon Wegg, president of the Young People's Association, presided, and a welcome to the visitors was extended by Rev. W. R. McIntosh. Sergt. Reynolds, 63rd Battery, Lieut. Rife, 160th Battalion, and Corp. Walker, 161st Battalion, replying. Tempting refreshments were served.

Rev. Hugh McFarlane is taking the morning service in Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church tomorrow, and Capt. Graham will preach in the evening.

FLOWER SUNDAY.

Next Sunday is Flower Sunday in the First Methodist Church. Special services for the Sunday school will be held at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. At night reference will be made to the life of Earl Kitchener in the sermon of Rev. Dr. Flanders. The Rev. Dr. Barber will deliver an address in the afternoon.

A DOUBLE MEMORIAL.

"A memorial service for two great heroes" has been announced for Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in Adelaide Street Baptist Church. The first of these heroes is a military one, the late Earl Kitchener, and the second, no less a hero, the late Rev. J. E. Davis, M. A., formerly a missionary in India, whose death occurred within the past few weeks in New Brunswick.

The late Mr. Davis, while in India ministering to lepers, contracted the terrible disease. He died in the lazaretto in New Brunswick a martyr's death after ten long years of suffering there.

At the memorial service, three hymns will be sunk which were favorites with him and which he requested should be sung at his funeral—"Rock of Ages," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Peace, Perfect Peace."

CONFIRMATION SERVICE.

Right Rev. M. F. Fallon will hold a confirmation service Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in St. Peter's Cathedral, when a class of over one hundred children and several adults will be confirmed.

SIR GEORGE NEVER YIELDED ANY OF CANADIAN RIGHTS

Londoner Tells Bar Association of Work.

WORKED FOR DOMINION

Former International Waterways Commissioner Presents Statement.

Sir George Gibbons chose an appropriate place to discuss the problem of international waterways when he invited the Canadian Bar Association to luncheon at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club on the Island at Toronto yesterday. Assembled as they were on the edge of the lake, the lawyers could see through the windows the splashing of the very water which was the subject of international dispute. Sir George himself seemed in his element so near to his subject, and with his old fire, tempered by reasonableness, waved his hand toward the window as if appealing to the water for vindication, says a Toronto dispatch.

"It is not true! It is not true! I never did yield any of the rights of my country," declared Sir George. "It is not very pleasant to hear of people affirming that I gave away the interests of this country while I was on the international waterways commission." He said that he had never attempted to obtain any unfair advantage to Canada, as the commission was not a court of arbitration, but an international court of justice.

The Canadian Contention.

Sir George went on to say: "The Canadian contention throughout the discussion leading up to the adoption of this treaty was that general principles of equality should be adopted governing the use of all streams crossing the boundary and all boundary waters, without regard to the conditions in each particular locality, and that was finally accepted as being the only sane and safe disposition that could be made."

Those who criticise the treaty should remember that international law did not call upon any nation to recognize riparian rights outside its own territory. Public rights of navigation were protected by the principles of international law, but each country within its own territory had a perfect right to divert the waters of the streams which in their natural flow would cross the boundary line, although the effect of such a diversion would be to injure private interests in the other country. And in boundary waters where navigation was impracticable, as in the rapids of the Rivers St. Marys, Niagara and St. Lawrence, no rules of international law would prevent either country within its own territory taking all the water it could or even diverting the flow by excavation of the bed of the river in its own territory.

Export of Power.

Sir George pointed out that, at the instance of the Canadian section of the international joint commission, the Dominion passed an act whereby no power could be exported without a license. This act, he declared, enables Canada to get the full benefit of the provision giving us an equal right to these boundary waters. As a result of this legislation, the Dominion has the power to fix prices and to make rules and regulations with regard to the export of power.

Reference to the War.

Applying his argument to the war, Sir George said it was rubbish to talk of the dignity of a nation not being satisfied with the settlement of its disputes before a world court. He said, that if the rulers of the nations could get around a table today and discuss their disputes dispassionately, they would have no trouble in dealing with the issues. All that prevents the world getting together now is not because the common people do not want it, but because the rulers do not want it.

"Preparation Will Not Stop War."

"Preparation will not stop war; it hasn't stopped it. Many people say that Great Britain should have spent more money in preparing. I do not agree with them. Is there any other consequence if the nation go on arming? They are arming to fight, and, of course, they are going to fight. Industrial Germany did not want the war, and if they could have expressed their opinion there would have been no war.

"Peace at any price won't do; brave men will go on killing other brave men until the end rather than that. A nation has a right to call up every citizen fit for military service in its defence, and therefore has a right to require that every such citizen be qualified to render such service. But, preparedness will not stop war.

"This war has taught the world that the devilish ingenuity of man has made the sword impossible as an arbiter unless the human race is to be destroyed." Justice cannot be administered by the sword alone; the scales were an essential also. The joint commission led him naturally to a court of the nations, at the disposal of which the nations of the world would place their armies and navies to enforce its decrees against any unruly member."

At the close of the address, P. B. Mignault, K. C., rose and commended the work of Sir George Gibbons. He said that when the King bestowed on him the honor of knighthood it was a tribute richly deserved for his labor in negotiating the treaty. The association then voted that the address be inserted in its records.

LONDONER PROMOTED

Norman McLeod Picked as Head of Auditing Department of Big American Firm.

Norman McLeod, recently appointed auditor of the Parke-Davis Company, Detroit, the big pharmacal company, that has a large branch at Walkerville, is a London Old Boy. A eulogistic sketch of him appears in this month's issue of the "Bulletin of Pharmacy." Mr. McLeod was born in London in 1875 and joined the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Later he became general accountant of the Detroit Stove Works, and was promoted to assistant treasurer and assistant secretary. Ten years ago he joined the Parke-Davis staff and has been traveling auditor for that firm until his recent promotion. He is now auditor-in-chief of the whole company and its many branches.

Just a Sketch of One Day's Life in the Fighting Line

London Officer Gives Some Idea of the Terrible Ordeal.

A London officer writes to his parents:

"I just wandered in here and happened to look down at the stick that you gave me * * * and I thought (perhaps foolishly) if that stick could only tell its original owner just what it had been through since it left his hands, perhaps he would know what war really was. It is rather hard to tell, and so I will tell you just one day. I wandered back on the morning of April 26 (my birthday), tired, in fact, very tired, absolutely fed up—my eyes were streaming from "tear" shells, and I had a wound. I was absolutely deaf from shell fire and was just climbing into my good old wolsely kit when word came through, "Hostile aeroplanes overhead."

I said: "Hell's bells, they can't hurt us," and no sooner had I said it than there was a most terrific explosion; my tent came down about my ears and fearful screams started, and I had to go out and see 34 good Canadians away, ten dead and all the rest but four stretcher cases.

"After all was over I fell asleep and was awakened by a special messenger, saying that I had to fill a gap in the line and to gather all available men. I got 34, and after going through their barrage of fire, I reached there with seven. It was hell let loose, and no man can understand who has not seen it, and why the good God should have spared me I don't know, as I never took cover. . . .

"However, I got through and had my men in the trench when a ——— came over and killed four of the seven, and wounded two others and blew the seat of my trousers out.

"Well, you see what happens: That morning we had a gas attack and three infantry attacks. Our trenches were blown to smithereens, not even a decent shell crater left, and a lot of good Canadians fertilized the soil of Belgium.

"I am coming back for four months. I guess it's best, too, as after three weeks I could hardly stand up. . . . I have been in rather an expansive mood this afternoon and so you know just how things go. . . . I forgot to tell you that they put up a mine under us that night also and we had a special order of thanks for holding the ground."

PAYMASTER OF 168TH HAS TO MOVE HIS QUARTERS

Storm Flooded Him Out, But No Actual Damage Was Done.

Little damage was done by the storm in any of the camps. However, the paymaster of the 168th was forced to move his quarters. When he arrived to begin work this morning, he found several inches of water in his quarters. This placed him in rather a serious predicament, as he had left his rubber boots there over night. Volunteers, however, soon remedied matters, and the tent has been moved to drier quarters.

No damage was done to the equipment.

This was the only damage done on Camp Francis, as the natural drainage there is practically perfect.

MORE GENEROUS LEAVE IS WORKING OUT WELL

Commanders Allow Week-End Passes to 25 Per Cent of Men.

The men of the big camp are taking full advantage of the new order relative to week-end leave. The custom has been, hitherto, to allow only 10 per cent of the strength of each unit to be absent for the week-end. The result was that a great many men whose homes are quite close to the city took "French leave" and the battalion crime sheets were full of the names of these men. Great inconvenience resulted, and a meeting of the commanding officers was called, when it was decided to grant week-end passesto 25 per cent of the strength.

The original 10 per cent are allowed off from noon Friday to noon Monday, and 15 per cent get away from mid-day Saturday to mid-day Monday. Thus a man gets a chance to visit his family at least once a month.

The result is conceded to have been beneficial. Discontent among the men has disappeared, and the orderly rooms are not cluttered with unnecessary crimes.

ROSS—CONLIFFE.

WABASH, June 16.—The marriage of Clifford Ross, a prosperous young farmer near Kent Bridge, and Miss Mabel Conliffe, also of Kent Bridge, took place Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Louisville parsonage by Rev. Mr. Matthews. The young couple took the evening train for Detroit, where they will spend a few days before going on to Flint, where the bride's brother and sister, Mrs. McIntyre, reside. After their return Mr. and Mrs. Ross will take up housekeeping on the groom's farm, which is situated on the town line.

Mrs. Isabel Neely, aged 86 years, is quite ill at her home on concession 10, Wabash.

NEARLY $340 TAKEN THIS FORENOON FOR MOTOR AMBULANCE

I. O. D. E. Tag Day Well Supported by Public.

NEED GREAT FOR CAMP

Only Old Wagon With Cover at Present Available for Such.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the proceeds of the motor ambulance tag day amounted to nearly $340.

Wearing a little white pasteboard diamond, tied with a colored cord and printed in blue with the legend, "7th Regiment Chapter, I. O. D. E. Ambulance Fund?"

The man, woman or child who isn't decorated with one or more of these today must have stayed indoors, kept far away from the downtown district, or belonged to class of apparently "blind, deaf and dumb," to whom one fair vendor of motor ambulance tags feelingly referred.

Even though the newspapers have been telling all week that the 7th Regiment Chapter, I. O. D. E., was holding a tag day Saturday to raise funds to buy a real, up-to-date motor ambulance with spring mattresses and all other comforts and conveniences that a modern conveyance for the purpose of carrying the sick should possess, there were ever so many people who looked puzzled and wanted to know what they were being tagged for again so soon after the last time.

A Drawing Card.

If an ark on wheels with a prairie schooner top, a red cross on the side, and a piper band in attendance happened to heave or rumble in sight about that time, all the young matron or maid with a box of tags and a money box required to do was to point at it and say, "that is the wagon in which afflicted soldiers of the mobilization camp are being jolted to the hospital at the present time.

The effective advertising of the old ambulance and the khaki-musical guard did the rest.

A large room with a long table in a rear room of the People's Loan and Savings Company was placed yesterday at the disposal of the 7th Regiment Chapter as a tag-day headquarters. By 8 o'clock members of the executive were down to give out tags and money boxes, and shortly after a bevy of attractive young women emerged on to Richmond street, and thence to their various "beats."

The Workers.

Among the captains of districts, each of whom was assisted by a band of girls, were Mrs. Wylie, Mrs. E. Waller, Mrs. J. Bell, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Stephens and Miss Stevenson, Mrs. Warburton, Mrs. Randle Brown, Mrs. W. A. McCrimmon and Mrs. Butler, while Mrs. Gordon Ingram, Mrs. R. M. Graham, Mrs. Tobias, Mrs. C. J. Milligan, Mrs. Mercer and Mrs. Barclay assisted.

Mrs. W. D. I. Wright, regent of the chapter; Mrs. Gartshore, treasurer of the motor ambulance fund; Mrs. Turnbull, secretary of the chapter; Mrs. W. A. McCrimmon and Mrs. Butler were among those who devoted a large part of the day to counting money, giving out supplies, etc. Seven hundred dollars is the amount required to purchase the motor ambulance of the kind required, and before holding tag day, the 7th Regiment Chapter had about $300 on hand towards the fund.

The need of the ambulance was demonstrated on Friday, when no less than twelve men of the 63rd Battery were obliged to fall out on the parade to and from the bank.

SOUTH AFRICAN VETERAN OFFICER REPORTS FOR DUTY

Major Batty Has Been Appointed Deputy G. S. O. in London.

ONE "CASUALTY."

Only one tent in the 186th line suffered from the heavy rain last night. The rest remained almost perfectly waterproof, and the boys were able to spend the nightin comfort, which is more than some members of battalions less fortunate situated did.

RUMORS FALSE.

Rumors were circulating last night and this morning to the effect that the 63rd Battery had been quarantined be cause of an outbreak of measles.

The commander of the battery stated to The Advertiser this morning that these stories were absolutely false. It was thought last night that one of the members of the unit was suffering from an attack of measles, but it later proved that he was only slightly fevered, as the result of inoculation.

CAPT. HOWARD WILL PREACH.

Owing to the fact that J. A. McGillivary has not been officially appointed to the 149th Battalion, Capt. Howard of the 186th Battalion will preach to the men at the massed service of the 149th, 168th and 186th Battalions. It It was nnnounced in orders that Capt. McGillivary would speak.

WILL HOLD CONCERT

Western University Alumnae to Honor Hospital Unit Before Departure.

The executive of the alumnae of the Western University met yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Miss Florence Mitchell, King street, to consider the best means of extending some courtesy and token of appreciation and goodwill to the Western University Hospital Unit. It was decided to hold a band concert, to raise funds for a testimonial, the nature of this to be discussed with Lieut.-Col. Seaborn, officer in command.

The concert will be given in Victoria Park on Tuesday evening next by the band of the 110th Battalion.

HOLDING GARDEN PARTY.

The board of governors of the Western University are holding a garden party on the university grounds today as a farewell for the Western University Hospital Unit.

To Save Eyes

Is the Object of This Free Prescription —Try It If Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used a few months, do their eyes more injury than good.

Here is a simple prescription that everyone should use: Five grains of Bon-Opto dissolved in quarter glass of water. Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Bon-Opto system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, over-worked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and often times cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use.

It is good for the eyes, and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Standard Drug Company, Limited, or Strong's Drug Store, can fil this prescription, or the Valmas Drug Company of Toronto will fill it for you by mail. Try it, and know for once what real eye comfort is.

A prominent city physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists, and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

POPLAR HILL PICNIC DELIGHTS THOUSANDS FROM WHOLE DISTRICT

Splendid Sports Program Finished Before Storm.

MANY LONDONERS THERE

Countryside for Miles Around Turns Out for Lobo Gathering.

Campbell's Grove at Poplar Hill was the mecca for people from all parts of Lobo Township yesterday, and the annual union school picnic of the Lobo schools was a splendid success. Hundreds of people from London and from towns and villages for thirty miles around Poplar Hill were there also, and enjoyed the outing to the limit. The big storm which broke late in the afternoon did not in any way mar the day's pleasure.

Early in the day the children began to arrive at the schools laden with their baskets, and at 1 o'clock a procession was formed at the Poplar Hill schoolhouse, and headed by the picnic committee and the Venuta Band from London, the little ones marched to "The Grove," where the picnic was held. On arriving at the picnic grounds the flag raising exercises were held. The races were then run off.

Splendid Program.

There were races of all kinds on the program for people of all ages. Although the picnic is chiefly for the school children it has grown to be an event in the lives of the adults and the committee which arranged the race card did not forget this and included plenty of events for adults.

As well as races and sports other entertainments were provided during the afternoon. James Hamilton with his pipes, was on hand and provided the music so dear to all Scotchmen. The Strathroy Male Quartet delighted all, and Gladys Comber danced several Highland dances gracefully, as well as a sailor's hornpipe and several gypsy dances.

A baseball game between the Graysteads and Strathroy was one of the big attractions of the afternoon. Both teams played fast ball, and when the rain began to fall and the game was called, the score was a tie, 2 to 2. A game scheduled to be played between the Poplar Hill team and A Company was not played owing to the rain.

During the afternoon the Venuta Band gave a band concert.

Red Cross Work.

The day was one of great activity for the Red Cross Society of the district, which had six young women on the ground who sold Red Cross tags. In the short time which they were selling, the ladies, Misses Ada Gray, Annie McArthur, Ada Marsh, Leah Zavitz, Mamie Fletcher and Jean Funger took in about $100 before the rain put an end to their "tagging."

Many Londoners were at the picnic, among them being Col. Bart Robson of the 135th Battalion; Capt. Rev. A. Graham, Col. Berdan and Major Somerville. Others present were George Elliott, M.P.P., Robert Ostin, ex-reeve of Lobo, Duncan Ross, M.P., J. C. Elliott, M.P.P., and Deputy Reeve A. McDougall. T. G. Turnbull was unable to be present as there was a meeting of the county council in the afternoon.

The entertainment committee consisted of William Chapman (chairman); Dougall Grey (secretary); Archie McGugan, A. McDougall, J. Atkins, Jas. Campbell, Roy Marsh, Alex Blair and John McLean. On the sports committee were S. E. McKinroy (chairman), W. E. Harris (secretary), Dougall Graham, Walter Campbell, J. H. Campbell, James D. Campbell, Oliver Campbell, Malcolm McArthur, N. P. Campbell, John Wilkins and Malcolm McLean.

The Oldest Couple.

The prizes for the oldest couples on the grounds were won by Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Zavitz of Poplar Hill, 1st; Mr. and Mrs. Theophus McLean of Ivan, 2nd; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grey of Poplar Hill, 3rd.

In the baby show ten fine babies were shown, and the judges had great difficulty in coming to a decision. The winners were: 1, Mary Patterson Colbury; 2, Harry Smith; 3, Lorena Gillies; 4, Marjorie Webber.

In the fat man's race, S. E. McKinroy, weighing 210 pounds, won with ease from the other competitors. D. Graham, who weighed 198 pounds, was second, and W. A. Zavitz, who tips the scales at 180, was third. In the three-legged race for the committee, A. McIntyre and W. Ladell finished first. M. McArthur and Oliver Campbell were second, with N. Fletcher and Arthur Chapman third.

The boot-and-shoe race for the committee was won by John Graham, with Edward Wycraft second; Archie McIntyre was third.

The results for the other races were as follows:

Although the rain interfered with the evening program the races and sports, with the exception of the ball games, had been completed before it commenced.

The members of the committee and the officers of the picnic received many congratulations at the success which attended the picnic this year. The arrangements for the picnic were made under the direction of Walt Salisbury (chairman), A. D. Fletcher (treasurer), and A. E. McKay (secretary).

JAMES LEGG WAS INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

London Township Farmer Hit on Head While Harrowing.

BOTH HORSES STUNNED

Heaviest Storm of Season Causes Much General Damage.

During the terrific storm which raged around London between five and six o'clock last evening James Legg, a farmer residing on the third concession of London Township, was struck by a lightning bolt and instantly killed.

He was working with his employer, James Fallon, on the Maillard farm on the third concession harrowing, when the lightning bolt struck him on the head. His straw hat was torn into a score of pieces and fragments were hurled over thirty feet. The front of his shirt and the right trousers' leg were slit by the lightning as cleanly as though cut with a razor, and the boot on the right foot was badly torn. Mr. Legg fell to the ground and never moved. His horses were stunned and Mr. Fallon, who was working nearby, was affected by the bolt.

No Inquest.

Coroner Dr. McNeill of Arva, was called and after investigating decided that no inquest was necessary.

Mr. Legg was fifty-six years old and a son of the late John Legg of London Township. He had lived in the district all his life and had a wide circle of friends. He was unmarried and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. William Jeffery of London Township, and Miss Annie of Toronto, and three brothers, Thomas of Oxford street east, Samuel of High street, and William of Miles street.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon to Webster's Cemetery.

At the Camp.

The storm was one of the heaviest of the whole season, the rain falling in sheets and the wind at times reaching the velocity of a gale. Up on Carling Heights and at the other military camps the situation was anything but a pleasant one for the men under canvas.

In the city many streets were flooded and in not a few homes the water backed up in sewers, flooding cellars.

Farmers spoken to by The Advertiser last night declared that while no great damage was done the heavy rain will keep them from getting on the land at a time when they need to rush their work, owing to the delays experienced before.

MIDDLESEX TAX-RATE WILL BE 6 3-4 MILLS

County Council Concludes Deliberations After a Short Session.

Six and three-quarter mills was the tax rate as definitely decided upon by the county council at its session yesterday afternoon.

This rate was struck after careful deliberation of the estimates, as laid down by the finance committee, whose report was adopted after some discussion.

The rate although an increase on the whole of about two mills over last year's rate, was made imperative because of the patriotic funds donation of $2,000 a month and the provincial war tax of $39,192.75, as levied on the county by the Provincial Government.

The rate was based on the following apportionments: Middlesex current rate, 2 2-3 mills; debenture rate on the court house for all of Middlesex, 1-18 of a mill; provincial war tax, 1 mill; and patriotic tax, 1 3-5 mills.

To the patriotic fund can be attributed the difference in 1915 and 1916 rates, but the council as a whole believe the people of the county will accept the increase uncomplainingly.

WEDDING BELLS

SUTHERLAND—FONGER.

LOBO, June 16.—A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Lobo Baptist Church, when Miss Hazel Fonger of Lobo was united in marriage to Will Sutherland of Komoka. The couple were unattended. Immediately after the service they left on a motoring trip, and after a short honeymoon will reside on the third concession of Lobo. A number of girl friends of the bride surprised her recently when they met at her home and tendered her a miscellaneous shower.

Y.W.C.A. REST ROOM AT MILITARY CAMP BOON TO VISITORS

Soldiers' Wives and Friends Are Well Looked After.

CAPABLE SUPERVISOR

Miss Archibald of Toronto Has a Brother at the Front.

Though the Young Woman's Christian Association rest room, in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A. military camp on Oxford street, opposite the big mobilization camp, has only been open to receive visitors within the past few days, it has already justified its existence, in the opinion of the members of the Y. W. C. A. extension committee, who have promoted the movement.

Establishing a cosy place where women and girls visiting relatives and friends in training may rest and obtain information, the London Young Women's Christian Association has led the way in a most important step in Canada.

After a hot and dusty walk, some four blocks from the car, the Y. W. C. A. rest room was discovered yesterday, just west of the Y. M. C. A. camp, with The Advertiser tent sandwiched in between.

The "room," in this case, is a big white marquee, raised well up from the ground and with an excellent floor, provided by a London man who considers the mission a most important one.

A Generous Offer.

Not long ago a member of the extension committee was telling this man about the proposed rest room.

"How big is you tent?" he wanted to know, adding, "If you will please give me the measurements, I will see that you get the floor."

Pitched with the side to the street, the entrance is towards a stretch of cool, green lawn, with shade trees stretching their branches in benediction over the visitors.

And there have been ever so many of these visitors, who have found the shade most grateful, just since Monday.

Inside there is a green rug, which robs the room of bareness, a substantial table heaped with magazines, and several inexpensive but comfortable easy chairs, the London Mothers' Club generously helping out with the furnishing.

Partitioned off at one end is a small section which boasts a big mirror and, even better still, a couch on which a weary woman may rest a while and whereon several babies have already slept, while mother visited with daddy or enjoyed the opportunity of relaxing, reading, and, perhaps, chatting with the secretary and others.

It would be quite idyllic were it not for the choking, brown-grey clouds of dust which ever and again sweep in through the entrance and through chinks.

The strangers from out of town look ruefully down at the best dresses in which they have come, and at the once shining boots, now covered with a thick layer of desiccated London real estate.

"Don't they water or oil this street?" they want to know; only to have the explanation given to them that this is evidently beyond the oiling and watering zone, though it is a very popular place at the present time.

Hear Military Bands.

On the breeze is wafted the music of an excellent military band, which now is drowned out by the noise of a huge truck filled with wood, looking for all the world like a prairie schooner in the days of old. Wow! Another blanket of dust!

Just one parade out to the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. camps zone, in lightsome summer togs and the fairest and whitest of frocks, assumes the fashionable hue of khaki. Khaki, to be sure, is the only wear.

Every day, from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock in the evening, the Y. W. C. A. nook is open for business, with Miss K. E. Archibald, who has just come from Toronto to act as supervisor, and one or two volunteer helpers in charge.

Miss Archibald impresses one as an exceptionally capable, clear-sighted girl, and one with a big endowment of common sense to regulate her great fund of sympathy.

The family name "Archibald" is well known to a number in this city, owing to the fact that the local Women's Christian Temperance Association is supporting her brother, Capt. E. B. Archibald, a Y. M. C. A. worker at the front. Her father is the assistant chief of police in Toronto.

Special Preparation.

Her special preparation for the work which lies before her this summer, apart from a natural ability, has been a training course in Y. W. C. A. work in Toronto University and also volunteer Y. W. C. A. work and practical work in the past winter.

Among those what have made her acquaintance since she took up her duties on Tuesday was a worn and disappointed soldier's wife who, coming from a distant town, toiled wearily the dusty way from the street car in the hot sunshine, lugging a heavy grip filled with "goodies" for the soldier-husband, and also pulling along a go-cart and baby.

She wouldn't have minded these discomforts so much had it not been for the big, crushing disappointment. She had come to the city confidently expecting to spend the afternoon with the good soldierman. But, just as she reached the gate, he was on his way out on parade, and she had to be satisfied with a wave of his hand and the assurance he would get the cakes and other nice things she had baked for him.

The story would have probably ended with her catching the next train back home without a visit with her husband at all, had it not been for the Y. W. C. A., which she was lucky enough to find.

Stayed All Night.

Soon the baby was sleeping soundly on the couch in the inner room, and, seated in a comfortable rocking chair, the mother was resting her weary body and finding help and comfort in the suggestions being offered by Miss Archibald. Why not stay all night in London?

But she didn't know any suitable place to stay.

That could be easily fixed, and would enable her to have a good visit with soldier-husband.

At that, she brightened up, till she seemed quite another person. Then she confided something else that had been troubling her. There were two daughters, young girls, who would love to spend a week-end in the city near their father. If she could find some nice place where they could safely stay she would be so glad to give them the chance, and it would mean so much to their father. Again the Y. W. C. A. to the rescue. By the time soldier-husband was free, it was a rested, cheered and happy wife who greeted him.

Then there was the Scotch woman who came to see her husband in camp, came a distance, too. She hadn't a relative this side of the water and practically no friends, and husband was going overseas to fight for King and country. She was, oh, so lonely, and it did seem at times she couldn't stand it. But she had a few hours while husband was engaged with his duties and these she spent in the rest tent.

She sat in a rocking chair, sometimes quiet, sometimes rocking back and forth. Sometimes she talked with the secretary and the volunteer assistant of the day, and sometimes she just listened while they conversed, answered questions and attended to others who came in.

Heartfelt Thanks.

It was time at last for her to go and there were tears of gratitude in her eyes as she took the secretary's hand.

"You don't know what this has meant to me, just this chance to talk things over with you and to listen to others talking," she said. It has done me so much good. I have been feeling so much alone."

A soldier going past one day put his head in the entrance to pay his tribute.

"This is going to be a Godsend," he said. "Now, there is my little woman. She has been so anxious to come to London and visit me and see something of camp life, and I have wanted so much to have her come, but we haven't any friends here, and that has kept her from coming. But now you have opened up it's just the very thing that will open up the way for her to come, knowing there is someone we can come to about accommodation and where she can drop in for a rest and find friends."

The widowed mother, too, was among the early visitors who came.

She had two boys in khaki and one of them was under age, and discovering he was not physically fit for service. He was mature for his age, just turning 16, and he had been accepted when in his boyish enthusiasm he had enlisted. But now, mother wanted him to come home till he was older and stronger, and he was at last convinced that it would be much better for himself.

But what steps should be taken to procure his release? Miss Archibald suggested consultation with Mr. Gilchrist of the Y. M. C. A. camp, and this suggestion started the machinery in motion which obtained the discharge for the lad whose strength was not equal to his loyalty.

Find It a Boon.

Besides the strangers from out of town, women of the city who come out to see friends in camp are finding the rest room a boon.

In still another way it has already been noted that it is performing a useful mission. Young girls who are out in the evening to see fathers, brothers or other soldier relatives or friends keep an eye on the Y. W. C. A. tent towards closing time, and make it a point to go for their car when the secretary and her assistants are leaving.

"Each night," said Miss Archibald, "we have noticed a number of girls and young women who go just a little distance ahead of us, or immediately behind. They seem to feel that our presence gives them protection."

Donations keep coming in which add to the cheerfulness and cosiness of the surroundings. The actual needs will be better understood when the work develops. It is the intention, however, to have in the kitchenette a blue flame stove where a kettle of water may be boiled or mother may prepare her baby's food.

One can imagine, even during the first warm spell, that there will be damp days and raw, chilly days when an oil heater would be a most welcome addition to the furnishing of the rest room, particularly if there happened to be a frail little baby or a weary elderly woman enjoying the hospitality of military Y. W. C. A.-dom at the time.

ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.

ELECTION IS DEFERRED

Humane Society To Name New President Shortly.

The Humane Society at its meeting last night, deferred the election of a president until a later date. It had been expected a successor to the late Dr. Niven would be selected last night, but owing to several names being under advisement, it was considered best to leave the matter until a later meeting.

In the meantime those persons now in view will be interviewed in order to receive assurance of their willingness to accept the position. The society reports doing a good work, but has hardly sufficient funds at its disposal to accomplish as much as is desired.

Other business of a routine nature was transacted.

WOULD WAKE UP WITH SMOTHERING SPELLS

There is nothing that brings with it such a fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The terrible smothering, choking up and sinking feeling is caused by the heart and nerves being in a deranged condition, and calls for prompt relief.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in all cases of such severity.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, tone up the nervous system, and the trouble which is the cause of so much fear and anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Mrs. William McElwain, Temperance Vale, N.B., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I must say Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are all right. Some years ago I was troubled with smothering spells. In the night I would be sound asleep, but would wake up with my breath all gone, and think I would never get it back again. I was telling a friend of my trouble, and he advised me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. He also gave me a box which I tried, and I had only taken a few of them when I could sleep all night without any trouble. I did not finish the box until some years later, when I felt my trouble coming back. I took the rest and they have cured me entirely."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LONDON ALMA DAUGHTERS TO ATTEND LUNCHEON

Thirty Will Go to St. Thomas for Reunion on Monday.

The Alma Daughters of London, of whom there are over 30, are looking forward with pleasure to a reunion luncheon of the former Alma students, to be held in the Alma College, St. Thomas, Monday next, June 19. The chief speaker of the occasion will be the former lieutenant-governor of Saskatchewan, Hon. George W. Brown, whom, it is expected, will be accompanied by Mrs. Brown, one of Alma's graduates.

Among other distinguished graduates who are also expected to be present are Mrs. T. W. Crothers, wife of the minister of labor, and Lady White. The name of Mrs. F. W. Hughes of this city appears on the toast list.

The London branch of the Alma Daughters was organized several years ago by Miss Sisk, a former lady principal of the college, and among the charter members who are still most active workers are Mrs. Nathaniel Mills, Mrs. A. A. Campbell and Mrs. A. T. Edwards. Several in the meantime have moved away from the city. The London branch presents a medal for piano, and the presentation of this will be made at the convocation exercises Tuesday evening by Mrs. A. T. Edwards.

Tuesday at noon the local Alma Daughters are giving a luncheon at Smallman & Ingram's in honor of the Alma Daughters who attend the reunion the previous day. It is hoped Mr. and Mrs. Brown can be induced to remain over and join in the luncheon party in London.

One of the features in connection with the graduation exercises in Alma College this year will be the unveiling of an honor roll of the husbands, brothers and sons of Alma students who have fallen in the war.

TRACING THE POISON IN ORPET MURDER CASE

Cyanide Was Kept in Greenhouse by Father of Accused.

[Canadian Press.]

Waukegan, Ill., June 17.—Judge Donnelly, who is hearing the case of W. R. Orpet, the university student charged with the murder of his former sweetheart, Marion Lambert, expects to decide today whether he will call Percy Longland as the court's own witness in the case. Attorneys for the state asked yesterday that Longland be summoned, and the jury was excused late in the day while the opposing counsel argued before the judge as to the state's request, the defence entering a vigorous objection. Longland is employed on the Cyrus McCormick estate by E. O. Orpet, father of the defendant and superintendent of the estate. He had charge of the greenhouse in which a can of cyanide of potassium was kept at the time of the girl's death.

State's Attorney Dady said that Longland told him that Mr. Orpet had ordered him about Christmas time to throw the poison away, as it had deteriorated to such an extent that it was of no value. Longland said he had forgotten to do so, but that a few days after Marion's death Orpet told him to throw the poison in the ash heap and to "forget that you ever saw it." Dady said this was before it was known that Marion died of cyanide poisoning.

Mrs. Lambert, mother of the dead girl, occupied the witness stand for a short time yesterday and testified that Marion was always of a happy disposition. The mother contradicted the story told by Josephine Davis that her daughter was sad on her birthday night, a short time before her death.

STACKS OF SOVEREIGNS MINTED BY STATES

Tons of Gold From England Reaches United States, Via Canada.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, June 17.—Tons of British sovereigns have been shipped across the Atlantic during the past six months and much of this minted gold has been melted at the Philadelphia and other mints into bars and stacked in the sub-treasury and the mints. Approximately $10,000,000 coin has arrived at the local mint in the last few days from Canada, $2,000,000 arriving yesterday from Ottawa.

The stacks of gold in the mint contain 16,300 bars, each one being worth about $7,000.

SOLDIERS AT WALKERTON SAVE AUTOIST'S LIFE

Alvin Glintz Pinned Down in Creek When Car Jumps Bridge.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WALKERTON, June 16.—The town council has named Monday, August 7, as Civic Holiday.

The high school board has engaged John T. Knowles, B. A., as mathematical master at an initial salary of $1,100.

Alvin Glintz had a narrow escape from death in an auto accident when his car turned turtle as he was driving over a bridge on Silver Creek, pinning him underneath. Only the presence of a number of soldiers, who hurried to the rescue, saved him from drowning.

The public library board has appointed Mrs. W. F. Thompson assistant librarian, to take charge of the library during the absence of her husband, Librarian Thompson, at the front.

DROWNED IN FLOODS.

Hornell, N. Y., June 17.—Four persons were drowned here last night and property was damaged to a considerable extent as a result of floods along the Canisteo River near here, caused by the recent heavy rains.

Mrs. John M. Saxton was drowned while motoring down a steep hill when a small stream at the top suddenly changed its course and swept car and occupants down the hill. Her son, Frank O'Neil of the state highway department, escaped, but Mrs. Saxton's body was found buried in gravel.

Peter Head and Levi Mathewson were swept into Purdy Creek in the house in which they dwelt near Canisteo. Head's body has been found, but the other is missing. Mrs. Stephens of South Canisteo was drowned and her body later found on the Erie Railroad tracks.

NEW STEAMER RUN FROM DETROIT PORT COMMENCES TODAY

Three Boats of N. N. Line to Leave Each Week.

NEWS OF IMPERIAL CITY

Citizens Grow Impatient at Delay in Solving W. W. Problem.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 16.—The steamer Noronic of the Northern Navigation fleet arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning, two hours ahead of her schedule, and left for Detroit one hour later. The guests of the steamer, numbering over 500 members of the Society of Automobile Engineers, report a fine time at Owen Sound and Killarney, and also while en route between the ports, the social life of the big steamer being ideal, there not being one dull moment.

The steamer will leave Detroit on Saturday and will inaugurate the service with Detroit as the southern terminal, which will be in effect during the summer months. Three boats will leave Detroit each week, the Huronic on Monday, the Hamonic on Wednesday, and the Noronic on Saturday.

H. H. Gildersleeve, manager of the company here, says that reservations for the Lake Superior cruises are being received weeks ahead from all sections of the United States and Canada. He believes the social hostesses on the steamers will be an important factor in assuring entertainment for the passengers.

CITIZENS GROW IMPATIENT.

SARNIA, June 16.—The people of Sarnia are becoming tired of the everlasting waterworks schemes, and are beginning to lose patience with the council in not going ahead with something.

The city paid a large sum of money to several expert engineers for reports as to how to get water, and when they were received each of the four solutions found an array of opponents in council. Leading citizens who are qualified to speak declare that the reports of the engineers are about the only solutions to the question, and any other schemes that might be proposed are doubtful and liable to get the city in a worse mix-up than at present.

The proposal to build a number of small infiltration basins right at the edge of the river, and take the water from these to the bigger basins, is declared to be another experiment.

Action Is Expected.

All the schemes proposed will be considered by the fire and water committee, and it is expected that soon some action will be taken. The committee is expecting an engineer from Toronto in the course of the next few days.

Opponents of the scheme of using intake pipes declare that these cannot be put in at that point, owing to the depth of water and the current, but others state that the work can be done successfully. The intake and chlorination or mechanical filtration is declared to be the only positive scheme so far advanced in which there cannot be any doubt as to the volume and quality of water after it is installed.

LADY GETS "BACK FIRE."

RUTHVEN, June 16.—Mrs. Wilson, daughter of the late James Moore, met with a painful accident this week. She was in the act of cranking her automobile when it back-fired, the crank striking her on the right arm, breaking it between the wrist and elbow.

Back Was Lame and Ached; Could Do Very Little Work

Suffered Much From Kidney Disease for Years, But Cure Came With the Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Doctors had tried to cure this man but failed to get at the cause of trouble, probably because they relied on medicines which act on the kidneys only. The strong feature about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is their combined action on liver, kidneys and bowels. In many of these cases the disease is so complicated that ordinary kidney medicines fail to be of much benefit. Under such conditions Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills usually touch the spot and effect a cure.

Had they been only moderately successful Dr. Chase would never have selected them for world-wide distribution. As it was, the demand for these pills resulted naturally from their superior merit, and there was nothing else to do but supply them in large quantities.

Mr. Simeon Shieloff, Birchbrook Orchards, Birchbank, B. C., writes:

"For several years I suffered greatly from kidney disease. I was weak and could do very little work. My back was lame and ached and I suffered much from headaches. Tried doctors and obtained no relief. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended by a friend, and after taking four boxes I think I can say that I am cured, for I feel as well as I ever did."

This statement is indorsed by Mr. Harry Anderson, J. P., who writes:

"This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Simeon Shieloff, and believe his statement in regard to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to be true and correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

THREE SONS OF CHATHAM CLERGYMAN ALL GIVE THEIR SERVICES TO COUNTRY

The eldest son who is with the artillery is Marmaduke Pritchard Pearson. The second son, now with Toronto University Base Hospital is Lester Bowles Pearson. The third son is Vaughn Whittier Pearson.

CHATHAM, June 16.—Few families in Canada have exhibited the patriotic spirit of that of Rev. Edwin A. Pearson, B. A., minister of Park Street Methodist Church here, whose three sons have given their services to their country.

The eldest son, Marmaduke, enlisted from Victoria College, Toronto, in March, 1915, with the 25th Battery Canadian Field Artillery, receiving his B. A. degree in May, crossing to England in August, to France in January, and is now a signaller in the line in Belgium. The second son, Lester, had just completed his second year at Victoria College, leading each year in the department of modern history, when he joined the ranks of the Toronto University Base Hospital, now at Salonika in Greece. The third boy, Vaughan, not yet eighteen years of age, in his first year at Victoria and prominent in athletics, has enlisted with the 67th University Battery.

The father, Rev. Edwin A. Pearson, is a son of the late Marmaduke Pearson, who was for many years a prominent minister of the Methodist Church. He was born in the town of Uxbridge. He attended Ottawa Collegiate Institute and Napanee High School, eventually graduating from Toronto University. Mr. Pearson entered the ministry while his father was stationed at George Street Church, Peterboro, returning eighteen years later to be himself its minister. The young lady who became his wife and now presides over the parsonage, is a daughter of the late Sheriff Bowles of Orangeville, and a cousin of Chancellor Bowles of Victoria College. Mr. Pearson came to his present charge from Wesley Church, Hamilton, and is just completing his second year in Chatham.

Park Street Church, Chatham, is one of the strongest of the Methodist denomination in Western Ontario, having a membership of 1,050. Mr. Pearson has been requested, by a unanimous vote of his official board, to remain with the congregation until the completion of his term and anticipates doing so.

TO ERECT A MONUMENT TO KITCHENER'S MEMORY

LONDON, June 17.—5:08 a.m.—Premier Asquith next Wednesday will offer in the House of Commons a motion for the erection of a monument to the late Field Marshal Earl Kitchener.

GEN. MERCER SLAIN, IS WORD RECEIVED FROM GREAT BRITAIN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 16.—Gen. Mercer's brother, a teacher in the Collegiate Institute here, received the following cable message today:

"British Recorder's Office, London.— Major-Gen. Mercer, reported missing, now reported killed in action."

Gen. Mercer was reported missing after the German drive against the Canadians at Ypres. He and Gen. Williams were inspecting the front-line trenches when the attack began. Gen. Williams is reported to be a prisoner.

GERMANY SEEKING TO GET CONTROL OF TURK MISSIONS

Teutons Want To Ban French and Italian Catholic Workers.

Rome June 17.—German Catholics aim at ousting the French and Italian missionaries from Turkey. Professor Lubeck explains in the Koelnische Volkszeitung what should be done to solve successfully to Germany's advantage the important problem of Catholic missions in the east.

As considerable political influence is gained by Catholic missions in foreign countries, most of all in Turkey, the importance of the problem is such that it has been taken up by the German government. Fortunately Professor Lubeck points out, Turkey has expelled the Italian Franciscans from the Holy Land, and there is every reason to believe that after the war their return will not be allowed.

The German episcopate, backed by the German government, says the professor, should now appeal to the Pope and insist that in the future German instead of Italian prelates be appointed to the three posts of apostolic delegates in Asiatic Turkey. Meanwhile funds should be raised for the establishment of missions, convents and schools to replace those founded by the French and the Italians. It must be borne in mind that the great majority of the 7,000 French missionaries have joined the army, and since their number after the war have been greatly diminished there will be only a few left to return to Turkey.

Besides, it is more than probable that even if Turkey allows the Franciscans to return to the Holy Land some limitation as to their number will be imposed, and consequently the Italian Franciscans will not be able to replace the French. The only two Catholic powers that send misionaries in Turkey can thus be excluded, and since neither Spain nor Austria is interested in missionary work, as proved by the fact that the total number of missionaries in Austria does not exceed 200, it follows that Germany alone is destined to become the chief missionary country in the Levant.

Unfortunately for Professor Lubeck, however, Germany is rather backward as regards religious societies engaged in mission work, the majority of which are French Societe des Missions Etrangeres, the Society of the White Fathers, the Lyons Seminary for Foreign Missions, the Italian societies in Rome, Verona and Milan, the Salesians and other missionary orders, there is only one German society for foreign missions, with headquarters in Steyl, Holland, and it is not likely that an available number of missionaries will be at hand to replace the numerous French and Italians in the Holy Land.

The German plan, however admirably and carefully organized, is believed to be destined to failure, since Catholic missions are under the supreme control of the Perfect of the Congregation of Propaganda Fide in Rome, Cardinal Serafini, whose sympathies are decidedly non-German.

BETHEL SOCIAL FOR RED CROSS.

APPIN, June 16.—The Red Cross organization of Bethel held a lawn social on the spacious grounds at D. E. McAlpine's home last evening. A pleasing program was given, the entertainers consisting of Mr. McCutcheon of London, Miss Pierce, Strathroy, the Melbourne Orchestra and other musical talent. The total proceeds amounted to $200. The treasurer hopes to report $100 for Red Cross work when all expenses are paid.

RECORD GAS WELL STRUCK IN THE TILBURY DISTRICT

Southern Ontario Company Says Ample Winter Supply Assured.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Hamilton, June 17.—The biggest flowing natural gas well that has yet been encountered in the Tilbury district has just been struck by the Southern Ontario Gas Company, Limited, it was announced here today. The well is on recently acquired property in Raleigh Township, and has a flow of 13,500,000 feet a day. This is a record. Wells in that district have been producing from 200,000 to 5,000,000 feet a day, but few of them have exceeded the latter flow.

No Playing Out.

"Woodstock, Ingersoll, Brantford, Galt and many other places in the Western Ontario field will be interested in the announcement," said F. E. Tomb, superintendent of the lands department of the company. "The new well is close to a district which we have developed on a large scale, and the quantity of the flow should dispose of the rumors that the natural gas fields in this part of the country are playing out."

News of the increased production is of considerable interest to Hamilton, as the Southern Ontario Company supplies the Manufacturers' Natural Gas Company, which looks after the wants of Hamilton manufacturers. Millions of feet daily are consumed by the big industries, especially the Steel Plant of Canada. Last year, however, for a time during the severe weather the company, because of the inadequate supply, was forced to ask some of the manufacturers to curtail their use of gas.

"Manufacturers in Hamilton, Brantford, Galt, Woodstock and Ingersoll, can rest assured now," said Mr. Tomb, "that there will be plenty of gas this coming winter."

It is understood that the company will drill a large number of new wells during the summer and autumn months.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSIONS EXCITE BORDER PEOPLE

But It Was an Officer Destroying Cache Found in Ford.

WINDSOR, June 16.—Unable to find evidence that the dynamite discovered at the factory of the Chalmers Motor Company in Ford late Thursday night had been placed there since Lefler and Charles Respa were sentenced for conspiracy to blow up buildings in border towns, provincial officers destroyed the explosive today.

Provincial Constable J. P. Smith made targets of the dynamite, at which he fired shots from a military rifle. The explosions plowed up the ground and made great holes from three to six feet deep, as well as causing citizens of Ford, Walkerville and east side of Windsor some concern.

A few minutes after the blasts phone lines at the police station were kept busy by anxious inquirers, who wanted to know "what building had been blown up."

BRING BIG LOG RAFT.

SARNIA, June 16.—The tugs Fischer and James Reid are on their way down the lake with a raft of five million feet of logs for the Cleveland mills. This raft will be followed by as many more as can be brought down, a probable total of twenty-five million feet. The mill has yet about one month's cutting in the bay here to work on until the new raft arrives.

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHING ERUPTION

"My wife had, as she thought, chapped hands. Then it got on arms and then to her limbs till it got all over her body. The skin came out in big red bunches, and it was rough and cracked and bled. Her face and neck and arms were a sight. She could not have her clothes touch her body. She did not put her hands in water any more than she could help. The eruption itched so she could not sleep day or night.

"She suddenly thought of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. She washed the sore places with Cuticura Soap and then applied the Ointment. In two weeks she was completely healed." (Signed) R. W. Lovell, 15 Birch St., Galt, Ontario, December 16, 1915.

Youthful, Beautiful Skin Easy to Have

You may be as healthy as a bird in the air and still have a poor complexion. Changing seasons and temperatures, winds, dust and dirt, are apt to injure any skin, even though the general health be good. When these external influences spoil the complexion, the natural thing is to remove the spoil by external means. Ordinary mercolized wax will do this. It will actually absorb the weather-soiled film-skin, a little each day. In a week or two you'll have a brand new complexion, a new skin. The exquisitely beautiful and youthful complexion thus acquired, comes so easily, without harm or discomfort, there's no reason why any woman should not adopt this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store, complexion nightly like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will not fail in any case.

To quickly remove wrinkles, signs of care and age, bathe the face occasionally in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. The results will surprise you.—Advt.

Women everywhere are escaping the surgeon's knife by knowing of my simple method of home treatment, and when you are cured, my sister, I shall only ask you to pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for all—young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures green-sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women, and restores them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my method of home treatment a complete ten days' trial, and if you wish to continue, it costs only a few cents a week to do so, and it does not interfere with one's daily work. Is health worth asking for? Then accept my generous offer, write for the free treatment suited to your needs, and I will send it in plain wrapper by return mail. To save time you can cut out this offer, mark the places that tell your feelings, and return to me. Write and ask for the free treatment today, as you may not see this offer again. Address:

GERMAN BUSINESS.

MR. CHARLES SAROLEA, in Everyman, sums up the advantages which Germany had developed for herself in business competition before the war, as follows:

(1) A cunning system of protection, bounties, rebates, dumping as a fine art, and subsidies, a collective national policy, Germany being the first state to realize that for modern business "the co-ordinated efforts of the state must be substituted for the fitful activities of unregulated freedom." Germany has mobilized and socialized the national resources.

(2) For example, the railways and waterways have been nationalized, and in consequence the government schemes differential and preferential rates in the interest of German business. Again, the scientists have been mobilized and encouraged to advance German welfare. Education generally has been planned with a view to the highest utility of the whole population.

(3) Germany carried on commerce as war, and on the same unscrupulous lines as her war. What some individual high financiers in the United States or this country have been attacked for doing, Germany as a nation has practiced as a collective policy. Her trade system is "a war policy under the disguise of peace." Ordinary commercial morality was over-ridden. Espionage, deceit, violence were all employed. The German naturalization law permits the German emigrant to retain his allegiance to the Vaterland and to conspire against the country of his adoption.

(4) The Germans work hard, and long hours, like Chinese, with a cheaper standard of living than ours. Sport does not take up their time and attention. Their only sport, generally speaking, is drill. Beer drinking is, like breathing, not a sport, but a necessity.

Mr. Sarolea adds as an external advantage possessed by Germany, her central position, with close access to the vast market afforded by Russia along a 500-mile frontier. Then there are the small neutral states forming a girdle round Germany—Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Switzerland—all "of highly intensive industry and yet economically at her mercy." The Huns had also got an octopus grip on the business of Italy, and were aspiring still further to monopolize the Balkan and Turkish countries, with an eye out beyond to India. Germany's central position in modern Europe may be compared to that of Italy in the old Mediterranean world which Rome subdued.

At the present time Germany is seeking to transform the political alliance with Austro-Hungary into a customs union, taking advantage of the war spirit and necessity to overcome the inevitable inertia and resistance, and bring Austria to make the necessary sacrifices.

Mr. Sarolea suggests that along many lines we ought to meet the Hun halfway, countermining his mines and opposing his force and combination with still greater force and a larger combination.

THE TERRIBLE PAGES.

"THE terrible pages of war" is no misnomer for the Canadian newspaper these days.

In one or two recent issues of the daily journals of this country there has been a sufficient number of casualties, if printed in ordinary type, with the usual white space between, to have made a whole page of names.

That means hundreds of names each day—names of the dead, missing, and wounded.

Each name means a human life gone, or a human body warped or suffering or torn.

One name went into some far-off little hamlet in Scotland, a home that once sent the "bairn" off to far Canada with high hopes. He will nae come back again.

Another reached to a home in Georgia, where just from beyong the cottonfields some inspired lad had heard the call.

"There's a little spot in Ireland" that caught the message of another, and an old mother who had given this new land her son was wiping the tears away.

England's counties are thick with the sad sowing of the news that came after the fight of the Ypres salient—the fine men she had sent to Canada who went back across the ocean a few months ago.

Hundreds of the names came into our own Canadian homes—and these frequent rains might well be the tears that fall from the eyes of mothers and wives.

The names make a veritable graveyard of the press of Canada. The kaiser is making news. Every son of them falls at his door. He nor any other had a right to one life. Not one of his ambitions was worth a drop of blood or a single life. But, filled with the lust of slaughter, he willed it.

"The terrible pages of war" are filled, because a cruel ruler did not love his fellow-men. He would have hate rule the earth. The men who bear these pages of names would not have it so.

FICTION AND HISTORY.

PROBABLY the hardiest fighter that ever lived was the old North American pioneer who pushed his way single-handed into the domain of the Indian and tilled the soil, with his long-barrelled musket leaning on the nearest stump. He had no cheers to thrill him after his victory, nothing but the thankful look in the eyes of his wife and children kneeling in the log house while he drove off the redskins. He had no George M. Cohen, flanked with star-spangled tights, to sing "Yankee Doodle Dandy." He had no Jack London to tell him of the raw-meat-eating American superman, who could kill a few score Fiji savages before breakfast. He had none of the half-baked "hero" fiction that floods the American market and slops over into Canada today. He was trying to earn a living by getting a farm, and the Indians were trying to prevent him—he had no pseudo-romantic notions over it at all.

Perhaps too much of the prepared food of patriotism is the reason for a response of only 9,000 volunteers to Uncle Sam's call for 20,000 men two months ago. When you get your heroism in plays or books, the tendency is to soften the real thing. It is sweet stuff without much real nourishment. A Shakespearean production or a solid history is much better fodder for making a good nation that is ready for the emergency. A Canadian youth with a keener appetite for Parkman would have been a more responsive youth in this war than a Canadian youth fed on the trash of modern writers, which all points a royal road to glory for the average boy, and leaves him to make the bone and sinew of his valor on frothy food. Fiction and "flag" plays may inspire a man to the end of the book or the score; they do not create armies or win battles. The old backwoodsman had no time for them. Uncle Sam has left his recruiting problems of the past to the versatile Mr. Cohan; the result is apparent.

GERMAN "PROSPERITY."

IN the recently published annual report of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, Germany's greatest financial institution, a labored effort is made to persuade the German people and any gullible outsiders that the commercial situation of the country was never better and that the naval blockade by Britain, far from being a disaster, has really proved a blessing in teaching the nation to do without unnecessary luxuries and preventing the spending of money abroad for imports. In this extremely difficult task it is no wonder that the Deutsche Bank directors have become confused and made many contradictory statements, which must be apparent even to the "kultured" subjects of the kaiser.

But aside from all the muddled statements, the assertion of the strong financial position of the country is misleading. As proof of this strength, the report points to the steadiness with which bank deposits continue, not to grow but to maintain their level. The depreciation of the mark is dismissed as insignificant, and an attempt made to show that it has simply gone the same way as the exchange of other belligerents, while ignoring the fact that Germany, being the only nation shut off from trading abroad, has not been spending money in other lands in a way to give reason for the drop.

Granted that Germany has kept most of her money at home, of what use is it to her? True, she can keep on floating internal loans, but these cannot buy the food and supplies that are so desperately required. She is in the position of a man stranded on a desert island with chests of gold and no food. He cannot eat the gold and there is nothing which he may purchase with it. It would all be well spent for a loaf of bread

Germany may hoard up her gold and keep her bank deposits high, but the people are crying out for something to keep the spark of life burning. Those women who parade the streets, wreck shops during raids and search the garbage cans for morsels of fat or other food care nothing for the deposits. They are reaping no benefit from the money, but they are feeling the pinch of the blockade and have no delusions about the alleged commercial prosperity.

When German bankers and government officials begin to face the situation frankly and take the people into their confidence, the war will be nearing its end. Too much delay may easily mean a revolution.

STORIES OF BRITISH NAVAL HEROISM

"Lie Down and Don't Breathe"

Written for The Advertiser by Judge Barron of Stratford

Dedicated to the Boy Scouts of Canada.

So great was the dread of the Allied fleet, that they met with little resistance, if any, when forcing the Straits of Kertch in 1855. On the anniversary of her late majesty's natal day, troops were landed on the beach, between Cape Kamiesch-Bournon and Ambalaki, but the Russians forthwith blew up their own fortifications and then fled before the allied forces. Kertch—a lovely little picturesque seaport town, a miniature Naples in appearance, fell into the hands of the Allies, without the loss of a single man. Then Yenikale was abandoned, though not before a sharp encounter took place between an English gunboat and a Russian steamer. It was known that this steamer had on board the treasury of Kertch and its capture was greatly desired, but it managed to gain the Sea of Azoff, notwithstanding the aid rendered the gunboat by the Fulton and the Mege're, which latter were subject all the while to a heavy fire from the batteries of Yenikale. Finally Yenikale was evacuated, the Russians first of all blowing up the magazines containing 30,000 kilogrammes of powder. The shock of this explosion was tremendous. It was felt severely by the ships, anchored 10 miles off the shore, and houses were completely destroyed for miles around. The commander-in-chief, Vice-Admiral Bruat, concluded his report to the French minister as follows: "To sum up, the enemy has lost up to the present "160,000 sacks of oats; 360,000 sacks of corn; 100,000 sacks "of flour. A carriage factory and a foundry were burnt "down; three steamers, one of which was a war steamer, "were sunk by the Russians themselves. Some 30 trans-"port ships were destroyed, and at least as many taken. "In the different explosions, about 100,000 kilogrammes "of powder were destroyed. A great store of shells and "cannon balls no longer exist." The fact that these vulnerable points were left undefended proved that Russia's resources were overtaxed. It also convinced the Allies that Russia's merchant vessels had taken refuge in the Sea of Azoff. These vessels then had to be followed and destroyed. The towns upon the coasts had to be burnt, and supplies for the garrison at Sebastopol had to be intercepted and taken. Thus it came about that ten English vessels and four French steamers crossed the straits, entered the Sea of Azoff and steered for Arabat and Taganrog. The rapidity of the movement struck terror into the hearts of the Russians. Merchant vessels were chased and destroyed and four war steamers were run on shore and burnt to the water's edge. From Arabat Capt. Lyons proceeded to Genitchi. At this place the Russians had six field pieces in position with 200 men behind them, while a battalion of infantry, with Cossacks were drawn up further away. With such a force they felt safe in refusing the demand of Capt. Lyons for the immediate surrender of a number of vessels moored in a protected position under the cliff, and thus it happened that at 9 a.m. the fight began. The well-directed fire from the British drove off the enemy's artillery and infantry, and then landing parties of jack tars under Lieut. J. F. Mackenzie did the rest. Ship after ship, to the number of 73, were set on fire as well as many storehouses, while the Russians looked on hopelessly, dazed into the belief that they were too feeble to avenge the insult.

But what they couldn't or wouldn't do, the elements did for them. Suddenly the wind changed, and blowing off shore saved some storehouses further away that had not yet become ignited and some vessels out of the way of the fire. Who now would volunteer to finish the job? Three men jumped forward and offered to go alone, do it. Three men jumped forward and offered to go alone. It was a daring exploit. They had to land, go past the burning stores, reach and set fire to the bigger warehouses farther off, and then return. In fact they had to run the gauntlet twice and risk capture at any moment, but they did not hesitate. In a small boat they left the ship. "Good-bye, men," said one, and not a man who heard the parting words believed otherwise than that they would never meet again. The night was dark, but the flames from the burning ships lit up the scene for miles around, and it became difficult to avoid being seen. The nearer too, they got to land the further they passed from the protecting fire of the fleet, should it be needed, and the more deadly hazardous became the enterprize. With muffled oars and not a word spoken they slowly approached the shore, but too fast none the less, for the keel grated on the pebbly beach and made a noise: "Lie down and don't breathe," whispered Buckley, and for ten minutes at least—it seemed an hour—they waited, eagerly listening to find if their movements had been discovered. Then rising, they worked their way behind every available shelter until the storehouses were reached. Now came the critical moment, for with flames started in new places, at once the presence of an enemy would be suspected, and so it was. Immediately a musket fire was directed in their direction, but it was too late, for with the first sign of ignition they made a dash for their boat. They were seen as they ran and fired upon, but the glare of the flames made the light uncertain and interfered with the Russian aim. Then along the shore came a band of Cossacks. They thought then they were cut off and it was a race for life, but the Englishmen had the advantage. Had the Cossacks done this at first all chance of escape would have been ended, but the enemy depended upon its fire which, owing to the flickering light, fell harmless. By the time the Cossacks reached the spot the Englishmen were 40 yards away pulling with all their might and main. Even then, however, the danger was not passed. Four field guns and musketry within point-blank range opened on them, and then it was that one man was wounded, but all three reached their ship in safety, to get such a British cheer as is seldom even given to monarchy. This is the story of how three Victoria Crosses were gallantly won at the same time, in the same event, one by Lieut. Buckley, one by Lieut. Burgoyne and one by Gunner John Roberts, and the latter was the only man wounded.

JUST RAIN.

I sing no song of politics,
Conventions only give me pain
When every day, from six to six,
There's rain.

In dampened air I rise at dawn
And shudder as I hear again
Upon my overmoistened lawn
The rain.

Umbrellas drip in every car
Upon the "L" or subway train,
E'en underground you cannot bar
The rain.

It permeates my mackintosh;
Through my chapeau it soaks my mane.
I need no Croton, for I wash
In rain.

The movie heroine appears
A-dripping on a desert plain,
Don't sigh, beholder! That's not tears;
It's rain!

Don't blame the mother of the calf
If very thin the milk you drain.
The weather, sir, has made it half
Just rain!

The poets who would lilt of spring
Now suffer water on the brain,
And everyone's compelled to sing
Of rain.

The baseball bugs, with minds dethroned,
In padded cells we now detain,
And on the walls they write, "Postponed
By rain!"

O love by moonlit skies evoked!
Deserted is the Lovers' Lane,
Since couples on their walks are soaked
By rain.

Pooh! for the flood from Noah's sky!
'Twas but a mist upon the pane
When it is truly measured by
OUR rain!

There is no sun! To look is vain.
There is no moon; no skies remain.
There's only rain, rain, rain, rain, rain,
Rain, rain!

She Arrives

By Ernestine Sisson.

Laurie wandered over the cool, big house with the feeling of peace that comes with the knowledge that responsibility has for the time being taken wings, and that no one in the world expects anything at all of one. The girls had gone motoring, mother and dad were away, and the two maids were out.

"Maggie will leave everything fixed for your supper," Marjorie had explained, as she tied on a pink motor veil. "We won't be home until late, and I told her there was no use coming back to get dinner for just you. It's too hot to eat, anyway. You'll find the table in the breakfast room all set, and there's salad and sandwiches and fruit and all the fixing in the refrigerator. You'll get along, buddie, dear. Now be a good boy."

Laurie had played tennis until four. Then he came home, had a shower and put himself into fresh white linen clothes. After which, he wandered over the house with the delightful sensation of having several precious hours ahead in which to do as he pleased.

He got a book. Not that he wanted to read; that was the one thing he was most unlikely to do. Then he chose a secluded corner of the vine-covered veranda, pulled a smoking stand within reach and threw himself down on the cushions of the swinging seat. And just because he had so much time to enjoy, to do exactly as he pleased, he elected, manlike, to fall asleep immediately and waste the best part of a summer day.

The sun swung around to the west and slowly slid over the edge of the world, a cool, faint evening breeze sprang up, and gently stirred the leaves of the trees; a little wisp of a moon looked out of the twilight, and still Laurie slept. The telephone rang. Then it rang again—and again, louder. He turned, muttered something about watching out for the ambulance, and slept sounder than ever.

From the distant street came sounds of evening merriment, but the mingling noises blended into a soft hum that had no effect on the sleepy man. He was making the most of his freedom.

A taxicab stopped at the curb and a girl with a traveling-bag got out. She paid the driver, and, after looking around for a moment, started up the gravel path to the house.

"Helen said directly across from the library," she soliloquized, "so this must be the place. I wonder if they got my telegram. There was no one at the station, and it must be that they didn't. What a delicious smell! This is Helen's place, all right. She couldn't live without flowers."

The little crescent of a moon was away in the west, but enough of the long summer twilight remained for the girl to see the house.

"Not a light! It's perfectly evident they didn't get my word. There's the telephone. Maybe it's Helen." She set her bag in the hall and groped her way through the darkness toward the sound of the bell.

"Hello! No, this is not Ogden's. You have the wrong number. Good-bye."

"I'll just make myself comfortable until they come back. It's lucky they left the door open. They're out for a drive, I suppose. Now, where are the lights?"

She found a switch finally, and a light flashed on. "That's better. What a lovely room! Now for the dining-room. I'm nearly starved, and maybe I can find some bread and butter."

The dining-room produced nothing, however, but the breakfast-room revealed a table set daintily for one. "Well, someone's expected, that's sure, and who else, if not me myself? I'll try the icebox, too!" Fresh delicacies being revealed therein, the girl lighted some candles she found on the buffet and proceeded to enjoy herself.

"Nice house! I wonder what my new cousin-in-law is like? I was away when Helen was married, so I've never seen him. There comes somebody now, thank goodness! I'd never dare to appropriate a sleeping-room, as I've done my supper, and I do want to change into something cool. Mercy!"

A man, coatless, in white flannel trousers and wrinkled silk shirt, stood in the doorway staring unwinkingly at the candles. His face was flushed, his eyes were unusually bright, and his hair was in sad disarray over his forehead.

"Bill," he said, "you tell Jimmy Dale he's got to let me see him do it before I'll believe it—do you hear? Why, no man living can make No. 6 hole in three. Why, it's the longest hole on the course—and—and——" He rocked unsteadily on his feet.

"Cousin-in-law's drunk," concluded the girl, scrambling to her feet. But the motion attracted no attention from the man. His eyes remained fixed and unwinking. Something in his manner struck the girl as exceedingly peculiar.

"Bill!" The man mumbled something for a moment and then turned to go. "Bill, you tell Jimmy Dale he's a liar." He struck his fist into his palm with a force that made her jump. By this time he was out in the hall and turning up the stairs. She followed, fascinated.

"He's asleep!" she gasped. "Stark, staring, sound asleep. Goodness! He'll fall! I'd better waken him. Mr. Howell! Cousin—er—Robert! Stop! Wait a minute!"

But Laurie proceeded on his way. She caught his sleeve and pulled gently. "Cousin Robert! Wake up!" Another tug at his sleeve.

"Jimmy Dale!" Laurie turned his staring eyes full upon her. She shrank back, but not in time. "Jimmy Dale, don't touch me. You are a liar!" And he struck out with all his might. It caught her on the side of the head, which fortunately was partly protected by her soft straw hat. She staggered an instant, then ran, and in her flight she picked up her traveling bag in the hall.

"I'm not going to stay alone in that house with a madman," she gasped. "I'll go to a hotel and ring up Helen in the morning."

Laurie wakened with the blow. He saw a remarkably pretty girl in a blue hat and skirt and jacket, with chic little white collar and cuffs, give him one terrified look over her shoulder and run.

"What's her hurry, I wonder?" he said, coming down the three steps he had ascended. "And, how, pray, do I happen to be here instead of in the swing, and why are the lights on? Is it night? Blame it, do you suppose I've been walking in my sleep again? Thought I'd outgrown all that. I'll bet that girl was scared. She looked it. But who the deuce can she be, and how did she get here? Gee!" he yawned. "I'm hungry. I'd better eat my supper."

And just then the girls came in to discover, with their hungry brother, that the unknown visitor had already disposed of his meal.

"I don't care, she was a peach!" defended Laurie. "She may have my dinner any day."

"Here's a handkerchief with hand-worked initials, 'M. M. R.' It's exquisitely fine and has no scent, Laurie, your burglar is a lady!" declared Marjorie.

"I told you she was a little peach!" The young man, now wideawake, felt a keen sensation of regret that he had been defrauded of his opportunity.

* * * * * * *

That was all—until a week later.

The moon had grown and was looking benignantly down upon the rose garden.

"Biggs—come here, Biggs!" Laurie had followed the dog that had chased the cat into the flowers.

"Kitty—here, kitty!" called another voice from the adjoining garden. "Where are you, puss?"

Then Laurie recognized her.

"You!" he said. "I began to think I had dreamed you. Are you a really truly person or have the moon and roses gone to my head?"

"I hope I'm real. But it does seem like fairyland, doesn't it? Are you quite sure you are awake now?" she laughed.

"I'd hate to think this was only a dream, too! Why did you run away the other night?"

She evaded the question. "I must apologize to you and your sisters. I came to visit my cousins, the Howells, and mistook the house. I got into yours by mistake and ate your supper."

"Give me a chance to atone for my atrocious conduct, won't you?" he begged. "I'll do it if it takes a lifetime."

"I suppose the moon is responsible for that gallant speech, Mr. Sleepwalker," she laughed. "Come over tomorrow and we'll talk it over."

A PAGE OF GENERAL INTEREST TO WOMEN READERS

Mrs. Able Says:

PEOPLE ask me why my tea tastes so good. First, I use freshly drawn water. When boiling briskly I pour it over the leaves, allowing the tea to steep, not boil, five minutes. Next, I pour the tea off the leaves into another pot. In that way you get the flavor of Red Rose Tea in all its fullness and richness. Try it.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

The Poor Kiddies.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wish to thank you very much for sending me the letter sent in by "Mother of Three Boys." It was very kind of her to send me the remedy, and I only wish I could do something for her. Just imagine, Miss Grey, I have four little children—the eldest one is 8 years and the youngest one is 4 years old—and they all have the whooping cough very bad. It keeps me busy at night running from one bed to another, but I suppose it is better for the poor little kiddies to have it now than in the winter.

I will make a patched block for "Aunt Nannie's" quilt, Miss Grey. Will each one send the block to "Aunt Nannie" as soon as it is made, or do you think it would be better to join all the blocks together, and then "Aunt Nannie" wouldn't have so much work to do to finish the quilt? I would the quite willling to join all the blocks together, and then each of the Mail-Box readers could give a few cents toward the postage.

I will let "Mother of Three Boys" know how I get along with her remedy.

FADED LILY.

Ans.—People say there is always a bright side to everything, but as I read your letter I was wondering where it could be found in your case—and there you pointed it right out—glad they didn't have it in the winter. Perhaps, with "Kitty's" chestnut leaves and "Mrs. C.'s" horseradish, you may drive the dreaded cough away.

What do the readers think of "Faded Lily's" idea about joining the quilt blocks before sending it on to "Aunt Nannie? Your offer is generous, considering the four kiddies and their tax upon your time. At any rate, I hope those making blocks will send them to me (not direct to "Aunt Nannie"), so that a list of the names may be kept for publication, and so we may know when the 56 blocks have been received.

Pride of Middlesex.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have been an interested reader of your column, regarding to those who run down the soldiers I do not think it is at all right for anyone to do the likes; they ought to be ashamed. Why is it, Miss Grey, that you and some of the rest think the 33rd Battalion is better than any other? I differ on that part, as there is good and bad in all kinds. For my part, I'd just as soon have the 135th Battalion or the 70th Overseas Battalion. But give me the Pride of Middlesex. Three cheers for the boys who agree with me! Has any of these boys anything to say? Now for a few questions:

1. A woman's son has enlisted. Could she draw any money each month, if he is 20 years of age, and she has a husband for support?

2. What is the address of the 70th Battalion now in England, as I have a brother I would like to write to.

3. What do you think of my writing?

A SOLDIER'S WIFE TO BE.

Ans.—It is not hard to discern why you cheer for the "Pride of Middlesex." Naturally where our hearts are, there our interests will be.

1. I do not believe she can collect any allowance if the husband is living.

2. Address him care Army Postoffice, London, Eng., giving his number, company, battalion, etc.

Coaches for a Train.

Dear Miss Grey,—Saw where "Teirrah Tenrub" wanted "The Baggage Coach Ahead," Am sending it along.

Now for a few questions:

1. What will take ink out of a centrepiece?

2. How to wash a black and white skirt?

May I call again? MINNIE.

Ans.—Pretty soon we'll have enough "Baggage Coaches" to make a train, as several copies have come in for "Tierrah." However, many thanks for yours.

1. Is the centrepiece colored? Then soak the ink spot in sour milk, changing it as the color draws out; then wash in clear, cool water. If white, apply salts of lemon to the ink stain, as per directions on package.

2. Is your skirt "shepherd's plaid"? It may be washed in lukewarm water, with good white soap; rinse, and blue well; dry in a shady place; roll up while still damp, and press with moderate iron.

"Elizabeth's Thanks."

Dear Miss Grey,—Please allow me the privilege of thanking "Pussy Cat" for her generous offer of coupons. I have been watching your columns closely ever since my former letter appeared, and had almost given up all hopes of getting any when I noticed the announcement of this little four-footed creature with a great bundle for me. But she didn't state what she wished in return. If it is anything I have she is certainly welcome to it. Again thanking her for her generous offer, I will close with a question: What do you think of my writing? Is it business-like or mannish? Also criticise my grammar and spelling.

Your friend ever,

ELIZABETH ANNE.

Ans.—As you would see from my note to you in Tuesday's issue, you have other readers to thank in addition to "Pussy Cat." Am sure you will be pleased with the nice lot of coupons sent on to your address.

Your writing is neither, but is fairly legible; grammar is passable, but spelling would bear improving.

Only a Maid.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I not join your circus troupe? I am only a maid, and there seems to be no room for a maid anywhere except in someone's kitchen. I am sure if you take me along I will be quite useful, and especially so if you have a picnic.

I was informed yesterday that all ladies were to be off the streets at 9 p.m. Is that so? Does it mean by the daylight saving time? You will think by this that I am a street wanderer, but not so. I do not finish my work in the kitchen before 8 o'clock, and I certainly enjoy a long walk in the evening after spending the whole day between four walls. It is the one pleasure of my life to get out, where I can enjoy the beauties of nature and think clearly. It seems as if I must give up this one pleasure, and I find it hard, as I am a country girl and accustomed to a free outdoor life.

I have been in the city about a year. I have gone about a good deal, usually alone. I attended night school for several months last winter, which meant late hours, and I never was accosted by anyone on the streets. My opinion is, "If you carry yourself as a lady people will treat you as one."

Just one more word. Please criticize my writing.

Will sign myself, ONLY A MAID.

Ans.—Do not say, "Only a Maid," for yours is a very honorable calling indeed. Don't you remember what the apostle said about "she that sweepeth a room?" Many of our girls will read your letter with interest. If you are as neat and tidy about your work as you are at letter writing, the kitchen graced by your presence is very fortunate. So far as I know there is no movement on foot to send lady-folks off the street when curfew rings. Afraid an exception would have to be made for newspaper women, who have to "trailpse" around at all sorts of hours, obeying the editor's sweet (?) will.

You are invited to call again any time.

Lemon for Laurie.

Dear Miss Grey,—I know I'm a brother, but bear with me a moment until I have my say to "Laurie." Miss Grey forwarded the unprinted part of your letter, inclosing address, with one of my "glad girl's" letters. Has something dreadful happened that you need my pity? Or are you just trying to make out that I'm foolish, like the girls I mentioned? But to make this letter short, I'll come to the point. If you can truly say "Yes" to the question below, you may write me. Would you want a sister of yours to be writing to a boy of your character? Now, Laurie, if you're a MAN, you'll be square. This is all I'll say this time, as I'm in a "dreat big hurry."

WOULD-BE POLLYANNA.

Ans.—With bated breath we await "Laurie's" reply—or are you too crushed to answer?

Sends Her Address.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I saw where someone was asking for my address, I am sending it to you, and I am glad to give it. I would love to hear from "Primrose." I took your advice and wrote to Ottawa, and I expect to hear from them any time.

I wonder would anybody send me the words of "A Little Bit of Heaven" and "Hello, Central."

Well, here's the same old question—How's my writing? I am.

LONELY SOLDIER'S SISTER.

Ans.—Am glad to send your address on to "Primrose," and no doubt you will hear from her before long.

Can anyone send "L. S. S." the songs she asks for? Your writing is not particularly good, my dear.

No Other Way.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer the following questions for me?

1. What will keep the fuzz from coming off a coat? When it touches anything dark it will be all over it. I would not like to line it as it would make it rather heavy. The goods are very soft. Please answer through your Page, and oblige, A READER.

Ans.—There's no other earthly way to fix the coat except by lining it, so far as I know. A thin silk or even muslin lining would help a great deal and add but little to the warmth of the coat.

Gift for "Him."

Dear Miss Grey,—Please tell me what would be nice for a girl to give a boy friend who expects to go to the front in about two weeks or maybe before. Do you think something in the line of "eats" would be acceptable or else some sort of a companion? Please print this as soon as you can, as the time is drawing near when he will have to leave.

Could you give me some idea about those bags that hang from the bedside? I heard about them, but do not know how they are made. MARY GARDEN.

Ans.—Why don't you visit the Red Cross rooms at Hyman Hall and see for yourself just how these "comfort bags" are made? They are difficult to describe in print. A fountain pen (and bottle of ink), makes a most acceptable gift for T. A. Khaki handkerchiefs, a silver pocket match holder, Testament, nickel pocket mirror or "housewife," are also on the "welcome" list. The latter named is, of course, a folding case of substantial material, holding a quantity of thread, needles, buttons, thimble, and small scissors. Perhaps it might be as well to save the "eats" for future surprises to be sent overseas by mail. But some nice homemade candy neatly packed in a tin box would be a kindly remembrance for him to carry away, as well as the little "companion."

Is Lonely, Too.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—I read "Lonely Soldier's Sister's" letter in Saturday's paper, and oh, how I sympathize with here, for I, too, have a soldier brother here in one of the battalions, and left my home and came to London just so I could be near him the few short months he will be here in Canada. Won't you try and have "Lonely Soldier's Sister" give me her address, so I can see her or write her, for I would so like to try and cheer her up, for like her, I am very lonely, too, and know only a very few people in London.

LONELY SOLDIER'S SISTER, NO. 3.

Ans.—You happen to be No. 3, rather than 2, so I changed your signature. Will "Sister No. 1" please send me her address? As intimated already, I have one or two folks who'd like to become acquainted. As for you, No. 3, I hope you find true friends, and that soon.

Righteous Indignation.

Dear Miss Grey,—I believe my "righteous indignation" has quite overpowered my spring laziness, and anyway it would take more than the country to work it off. I should like "Topaz" to understand that although my home is in the city, I spent last year in the country, and there acquired my views on this somewhat distasteful subject.

Of course all country districts are not the same, but I can name one, where for a radius of five miles, only one Canadian-born boy has enlisted, and he was treated as "a little off" for so doing. Yes, the poor farmers! In France they have been glad to get old men and schoolboys. What have the majority of farmers sacrificed in proportion to these? Of course, the farm cannot do without their young men and hired help. It is impossible. But what do the banks, factories, shops and stores do? What good will the farms be when the Germans are in Canada? Will the farmer tell his hired man to finish planting that corn field when the enemy is a few miles away? No, sir! It will be, "Tom, get the shotgun."

I have a brother, an uncle and four cousins off to do their bit, and they all gave up responsible positions. Toronto has already given over 70,000 men. Who has their positions? After they have been sacrificed for their country, our country friends can take their place.

This does not apply in all cases, of course, but I can name about thirty young farmers who could well go. How about a farmer and two sons on a 50-acre farm? Kept pretty busy? Well, Miss Grey, I could say more, but I might say too much, and talking will never win the war. Thanking you for the space, HEPZIBAH AGAIN.

Ans.—If some of the battalions that are not full strength, had a warm-hearted little advocate like you, engaged to call at some of our Western Ontario farm homes, their ranks might be filled in less than no time!

Slips To Exchange.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming to bother you again. I have about nine small resurrection plants, grown from seed; they die down in the fall, and come up from seed; if anyone cares to exchange with me, or if they have nothing to exchange I will send them a plant, upon there paying the postage. I would like to get a hydrangea or a musk plant; however, if they write to me, I will arrange it with them about exchanging. Now for some questions:

1. What is good to drive large black ants from a pantry?

2. What will destroy those small white lice on the rose bushes on the underside of the leaf?

Hoping to see this in print, I remain, A SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Here's a chance for some of our flower lovers, but please send address and postage to forward to "Subscriber," instead of mailing me any slips for exchange. Too much travelling is not good for plants just now.

Book on Herbs.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you let me, through your column, know where I can get a book on herbs, also the price of them? There is no bookstore here. Yours truly, A. M. H.

Ans.—Do not know of any particular volume that you could get. Why not write to some book publisher, and ask for names of books on herbs, with prices. The William Briggs Company or the Mission Book Company of Toronto, might give you information.

Lambton's Warden.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—The warden of Lambton County Council is Mr. Hall, reeve of Warwick Township.

JAMES W.

Ans.—Much obliged for your information; hope the inquirer sees it.

VERSE--New and Old

A PACKAGE OF OLD LETTERS.

In a little rosewood casket, that is resting on the stand
There's a package of letters, written by a cherished hand.
Will you go and bring them, sister, and read them all tonight?
I have often tried and could not, for the tears would blind my sight.

Come up closer to me sister, let me lean upon thy breast;
For the tide of life is ebbing, and I fain would be at rest.
Bring the letters he has written, he whose voice I often heard;
Read them over, love, distinctly, for I've cherished every word.

Tell him, sister, when you see him, that I never ceased to love,
That I, dying, prayed to meet him, in the better world above.
Tell him that I was supported, ne'er a word of censure spoke,
But his silence and his absence this poor heart hath well nigh broke.

Tell him that I watched his coming, when the noontide sun was high,
And when at eve the angels set their starlight in the sky.
But when I saw he came not, tell him I did not chide,
But I spoke in love about him, and I blessed him when I died.

And when in death's white garments you have wrapped my form around,
And have laid me down to slumber in the quiet churchyard ground,
Place the letters and the picture close beside my pulseless heart;
We for years have been together and in death we will not part.

I am ready now, my sister, you may read my letters o'er,
I will listen to the words of him whom I shall see no more.
Fall asleep in death—and wake not—should I calmly fall asleep,
And e'er you shall have finished, dearest sister, do not weep.

Notes.

"Forget-me-not"—I cannot see that any good (or any real fun) would be gained by publishing your letter. Write us again when you are not seeking amusement at another's expense. That sounds severe, but I really don't mean to be.

PATSY DROUILLARD WINS BOUT FROM JACK KILROY

Windsor Boy Is Too Strong for Local Fighter — Outpoints Kilroy Right From Start—Knocks Him Out in Four th Round.

From a sporting standpoint the bouts staged at the Masonic Hall were undoubtedly the best that have been seen in London for many years. Two 6-round and two 4-round scraps were put on and there was not a dull moment in the bunch.

The first bout was between Lance-Corp. Osborne and Pte. Doughty, both of the 186th Battalion. These are two clever little right-handed fighters and they put up a lively argument for the whole six rounds. Doughty was the aggressor practically all the way through. He is a good, clean fighter and as quick as chain lightning. The first two and the last two were his and the third and fourth a draw.

Red Barrett of the 142nd and Scotty McLaughlin of the Western University provided the second affair which was over the 4-round route. McLaughlan appeared much larger than Barrett and had considerably the advantage on the reach. The first two rounds were fairly even but in the latter two McLaughlan was leading practically all the time and had things pretty much his own way.

Clayton Wildfang of the 118th Battalion and Sergt. Instructor Doyle of the school of bayonet fighting were the principals in the other preliminary. These are both husky boys and exhibited a good knowledge of the game. In the first two rounds Doyle was the aggressor and Wildfang was content to act on the defensive and they ended in a draw. At the beginning of the third round Wildfang assumed different tactics and started after Doyle landing heavy rights to the jaw repeatedly. The fourth round started with a rush, both men fighting hard and fast and exchanging blows right and left with Wildfang having the better of the argument. Round and bout; Wildfang.

Before the main bout of the evening was put on the announcer challenged any man in Canada at 122 pounds on behalf of Billie Barlow of Windsor. His challenge was accepted by Speedy Mason of London, and a bout will be arranged for a later date.

The premier bout was put on by Jack Kilroy, champion of London and Patsey Drouillard of Windsor, the champion of Canada. Both of the boys weighed in about the same but Kilroy is tall and slim while Drouillard is more of the blocky type. He is a husky-looking lad and has a strong kick in his right mitt. He was in the pink of condition and looked as if he could go over a much longer route. The local boy put up a game fight but it was evident right from the start that he was outclassed. After the first round the result was never in doubt. Kilroy was breathing hard and bleeding from cuts on the face and neck and for the remainder of the fight he fought strictly on the defensive, while Drouillard had no difficulty in landing his right to the face and body at will.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round 1.—Drouillard landed right swing to jaw and short hook to the body; Kilroy covered body and jabbed at Kilroy's face and head. Drouillard repeatedly swung to Kilroy's jaw and body. The round ended in a clinch. Honors even.

Round 2.—Drouillard pushed the fighting right from the start. He soon had Kilroy looking pretty shaky and worried by his repeated blows to both the body and face. He landed a wicked left to the jaw which knocked Kilroy off his feet for a minute and passed up an opportunity to end the fight right there. Drouillard did considerable infighting but Kilroy came back gamely and landed a left and right to the head and body. Drouillard's round.

Round 3.—Drouillard comes up smiling, not even breathing hard, while the pace is telling on Kilroy. Drouillard spars for an opening while Kilroy tries to cover up. The Windsor boy landed repeatedly on the local lad with heavy right and left smashes and has him bleeding from the face and neck and the gong was the only thing that saved him.

Round 4.—Kilroy appears all in and is breathing hard. Drouillard lands right to jaw and body with Kilroy making a weak effort to cover. The Windsorite continues a strong aggressive and lands several hard blows on both the body and face. Kilroy's defensive breaks down entirely and when Drouillard lands a terrific right to the jaw, he sends Kilroy to poppyland for the count—and then some. Drouillard's round and fight.

Alex. McDonald of No. 10 Stationary Hospital acted as referee to the satisfaction of all parties. The bouts were all so open that he had very little to do and in the first two he did not have to separate the fighters at all.. Sergt. Draper of the 142nd was timekeeper. Mayor Stevenson acted as chairman and the band of the 118th Battalion enlivened the proceedings with some splendid music.

GEORGE SMITH IS FAVORITE FOR LATONIA DERBY

Ten Horses Entered for Kentucky Classic—Eight Likely to Start.

Cincinnati, June 17.—Ten horses were entered to start in the thirty-fourth running of the Latonia Derby at the Latonia (Kentucky) race course this afternoon, but it was considered doubtful whether all of them would go to the post. Six and possibly seven or eight, it was thought, were reasonably sure to start.

The Derby is worth $15,000, and as some of the best eligible three-year-olds in the country were among the entries, the race promised to be an open one. The track was affected by the heavy rain of yesterday, but it began to dry out last night. George Smith ruled favorite in the morning betting on account of his victory in the Kentucky Derby, but many believed he could not pick up five more pounds and go a quarter of a mile further than the Kentucky Derby distance, and then win from his field. Big Smoke, Votary and some of the others have been doing splendidly and many looked to see the victor from one of these. The distance of the race is a mile and a half. The horses entered, their weights and jockeys follow:

Gipsy George, 119 (Andress); Dick Williams, 119 (G. Garner); Captain Rees, 122 (Gentry); Votary, 122 (Martin); Big Smoke, 122 (Kederis), xDodge, 122 (Murphy); George Smith, 127 (Geose); King Gorin, 122 (Cooper); xFranklin, 127 (Hunt); Ellison, 122 (Fuerst), x Webber and Rand entry.

ROUGH WEATHER LIKELY FOR BIG COLLEGE REGATTA

Joe Wright's Pennsylvania Crew Need Smooth Water to Stand a Chance.

[Canadian Press.]

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17.—When the oarsmen of the Universities of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell and Syracuse looked out from their quarters this morning they were confronted with most unfavorable weather prospects for their 22nd annual regatta to be rowed on the Hudson this afternoon. The wind from the southeast and a drizzling rain promised to dampen the enthusiasm of the thousands of college men arriving for the races. A continuation of the wind from the southeast and a strong ebb tide this afternoon will make the course exceptionally rough.

The city has taken on a holiday attire and the hotel lobbies are crowded with college men. There has been practically no change in the betting since last night. The backers of the Syracuse Varsity crew continued to play their own representatives against Cornell at even money. Plenty of Columbia money looking for Syracuse odds of three to one failed to get any takers. Pennsylvania, with its green crew, appears to be looked upon as an outside chance, but the unexpected may happen.

Much speculation arises in case the crews have to row in rough water. In such an event it is conceded that the inside course, held by Columbia in the big race, will have its advantage over the others. As Syracuse and Cornell have been assigned courses three and four respectively, the advantage of Columbia over her most dangerous rival furnished a knotty problem. Coach Jim Rice of Columbia, formerly of Toronto, has prided himself on the ability of his big crew to row in rough water, and their watermanship in this respect has been demonstrated many times during trials in the last three weeks. On the other hand, Joe Wright, the Toronto oarsman, would prefer smooth water for his Pennsylvania crew. He said: "All of our men are in good condition and ready for the word. All we need is good weather. Of course we are going to try to win. If we are defeated, the winning crews will know they have been in a race."

Three races are to be run today, the junior eights at two miles, freshman, two miles, and the varsity eights over the full four-mile course. Conditions permitting, the juniors will race at 4 p.m., the freshmen at 4:45, and the varsity crews at 6.

HARRY SOLLEE OF CARDS SUSPENDED INDEFINITELY

St. Louis Star Pitcher Put Out of Game by Manager Huggins.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Harry Sallee, star pitcher of the St. Louis National League, was indefinitely suspended today by Manager Huggins of the St. Louis as a result of an altercation between the manager and player last night. Sallee tore up his contract during the argument, Huggins said, and left the city. Huggins said there is no deal on in which Sallee is involved and he will not be sold or traded to any club.

Entries will close on June 20 for the Michigan short-ship race meet at Port Huron, which will be held on June 27, 28, 29 and 30. In all, $10,000 will be hung up in purses, and the $1,000 stake events contain entrants from all over the United States and Canada. H. C. Knill of Port Huron is the secretary.

Owing to unfavorable weather conditions it has become necessary to postpone the date of the bowling tournament at Burlington from the week of June 19 until the week beginning Monday, July 3, commencing at 2 o'clock. Entries for rink competitions close Friday, June 30, at 7:30 o'clock.

Patsey Drouillard says a man does not feel it when he is knocked out. In fact, according to the little Frenchman, the sensation is rather pleasant. We are quite willing to take his word for it.

Larry Chappelle, centre fielder of the Columbus team of the American Association burst a bloodvessel while sliding to first base in the game against Kansas City, and will likely be out of the game for a short time.

Manager John McGraw of the New York Nationals has signed Mike Doolan, the veteran shortstop, who started the season with the Chicago Cubs, but who was released by latter team to the Atlanta team of the Southern Association. Doolan balked at being released to the minors, and President Weeghman of the Cubs gave him permission to dicker with the Giants. Doolan was shortstop and captain of the Philadelphia Nationals for many years, before jumping to the Baltimore Feds in 1914. He is the sixth Federal League player to be signed by McGraw.

Harold Crisp, a 17-year-old pitcher of the Needham High School team, has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Americans. The boy is said to have struck out 75 opposing batsmen in four successive games.

Either Cunningham or Covaleskie will be used by Jennings against the Athletics this afternoon.

Goldie Prodger, the London boy, who played such a strong defence game for the Canadiens last winter, is the latest hockey player to enlist with the 228th Battalion of North Bay. This battalion has certainly a nice string of athletes on its strength, including the two McNamaras, Jack Brown, Gordon Keats, Bryden of North Bay and Brown, who played for the Berlin Union Jacks. It is also rumored that Jack Marks, the Quebec player, and Pitcher Cook, who was suspended by the Toronto Leafs, would enlist with the 228th.

Eddie Parsons, a two-year-old, belonging to Guy Bedwell, was so badly cut down in the first race at Maisoneuve on Thursday that he had to be shot. He was thought highly of by his owner.

The Indians had a 4—0 lead on the Highlanders yesterday at Cleveland when the game was called in the fourth on account of rain.

John Hobart Baker, the famous "Hovey" football captain of 1914, and the greatest hockey player developed in the States, has joined Gen. Leonard Wood's civilian aviation corps.

The Richmond Internationals have traded Pitcher Jarmon and Kircher, utility infielder, to the Rocky Mountain Club for Pitcher Leake. Leake materially aided Rocky Mount in winning the Virginia League pennant last year, and is going fine this season. He will report to Richmond on Monday.

SHORT-SHIP RACE MEET POSTPONED

MONROE, June 16.—Submarine conditions prevailed here this afternoon and after an hour's wait, it was decided to postpone the Michigan "short-ship" meeting until tomorrow.

Up to noon conditions were ideal, but from 1 o'clock until darkness fell the moisture was precipitated in such quantities as to make racing out of the question. An early start will be made tomorrow if conditions permit.

Twenty games will be played during the season, and will be staged in two series, the winner of the first series playing off with the winner of the second for the cup which has been donated by Capt. Ardiel, paymaster of the 135th.

Up to the present time Westby's rink, which won last year's trophy, has been unable to strike its stride, and has lost both games by the close margin of one and two points, but the next game promises some interesting developments along that line.

These games are played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday night on the club's bowling greens, and the next game will be played Monday night.

ELMWOOD CLUB TO HOLD BOWLING TOURNEY JULY 1

Arrangements All Made for First Annual Tournament of South London Club.

Preparations are being made by the Elmwood Club for their big tourney which will be held on July 1. At the last meeting it was decided to make this an annual affair in view of the success of the tourney which was held last Thanksgiving Day.

The fourteen greens are in excellent shape, and there will be no difficulty in accommodating the rinks which will be present.

The games will commence at 9:30 in the morning, city time, and a lunch will be served on the grounds.

All the games are arranged by schedule, and as they are to get an early start there will be no difficulty in getting through the same day. Five games of twelve ends will be played, and the four rinks getting the highest scores will play off after supper for the prizes.

The two highest rinks will play off for the premier trophy, which is awarded by C. H. Ward & Co., and the next two rinks will play off for the third and fourth prizes.

PERFECTING THE PLANS

British Government Anxious to Receive Complaints as to Trouble.

LONDON, June 16.—Sir Maurice De Bunsen, under-secretary of the foreign office and formerly British ambassador at Vienna, made the following statement today regarding the American note protesting against the interference with neutral mails which was forwarded to the French and British Governments May 24:

"The note is being examined by the British and French Governments in consultation. The views of the French Government has not yet been received in London, therefore it is impossible to make any public pronouncement upon the contents of the note.

Delay Will Be Slight.

"Meanwhile it may be pointed out that the United States lay special stress on the necessity for expedition in dealing with neutral mails to occasion a minimum delay and to avoid inconvenience to American interests. This point in the memorandum was communicated to the United States ambassador here April 14, explaining that the postal censors had perfected the organization of a separate department to deal with such mails and in view of this improved organization it is possible to assure the Government of the United States that in the absence of wholly exceptional circumstances the total delay caused to ordinary correspondence of neutrals from the time the mails were unloaded from the ships carrying them to the time they were delivered by the censors to the British postoffice for transmission to their destination would not in the future be more than three to five days.

Perfecting Organization.

"The British Government has not been content with this mere assurance, but every day is attempting still further to perfect the organization of censorship, and they believe that in the future American citizens will have less and less cause to complain of delays in the passage of their correspondence to neutral European countries.

"The British Government wish particularly to emphasize a readiness to receive from American citizens inquiries regarding any particular delayed or missing letters, together with particulars, such as the date of the sailing of the ship on which the mails were carried, and in the case of registered letters the registered number on the package, in order that they may inquire into each case thoroughly and immediately avert misunderstandings and detect lapses in the organization where such have occurred.

Great Organization Needed.

"They wish it realized in America what an enormous organization is needed to deal with the thousands of mailbags in a few hours and the extent of success already achieved in dealing expeditiously with all this mass of correspondence.

"The American note embodies various difficult legal arguments, and in fact it takes the Allied Governments some time to examine them and consult together. The answer does not in the least affect the energy with which the British Government are attempting to meet the practical needs of the situation in a businesslike spirit by perfecting their organization and thus preventing hardships to neutrals resulting from the application of principles."

TRENCHES AT ZILLEBEKE ARE HEAVILY SHELLED

Artillery Unusually Active Near La Bassee and Loos.

LONDON, June 16.—The official statement of the campaign in Belgium and France issued by the war office tonight follows:

"During the night we successfully exploded mines in the neighborhood of the Souchez quarries and Cuinchy. An enemy mine was exploded near Givenchy, but did no damage.

"Today the hostile artillery was unusually active immediately north of La Bassee canal and in the Loos salient. Our trenches east of Zillebeke were shelled heavily for a short period this afternoon. The remainder of the front was quiet."

RUSS MOVEMENTS AIM TO WIPE OUT AUSTRIAN ARMY

Effort Will Be Made to Obscure Movements.

SPEED CANNOT CONTINUE

Time Is Required to Remove Prisoners and Bring Up Supplies.

LONDON, June 17.—3:38 a.m.—The chief gain of ground announced by the Russians during the last 24 hours was on the Austrian centre which up to now had held comparatively firm. The Russians claim to be breaking this resistance. The main contest has been on the front just north of Buczacz on the Stripa River. Here the Russians are declared to have overthrown the Austrian army and taken 6,000 prisoners.

For the time being the rapid movement on the wings and the cavalry dash in Volhynia toward the Kovel junction seems to have slackened somewhat. The morning newspapers today print only brief specials from Petrograd, and some of these give evidence of considerable delays in telegraphic transmission. A possible explanation of these delays is given in a dispatch from the Daily Telegraph's Petrograd correspondent, who says:

Secrecy Now Necessary.

"It is likely that the course of events will become a little obscured during the next few days, for much depends on the secrecy of the execution of the manoeuvres, for which the Russians have now got free play."

A semi-official commentary published in Petrograd yesterday says:

"The absence from the official communications of the names of places occupied or the directions taken by Gen. Brussiloff's army do not mean any retardation in his advance. On the contrary his progress continues without intermission. The broad corridor formed by our break through in the direction of Lutsk continues to widen and is assuming an enveloping character in relation to the enemy's flank. The advance, however, cannot go on indefinitely at the present speed, for the element of unexpectedness to which was due much of its early success cannot to be maintained for the period of a fortnight. Stops must be made for removing the wounded and prisoners, for bringing up fresh supplies and for other work necessary in the freshly occupied territory.

To Destroy Armies.

"Moreover the immediate aim of the Russian aggression is not to recapture certain towns or areas but has in view the destruction of the vital organs of the enemy's military power, which are his armies."

In connection with the report of the fall of Czernowitz, the Daily News' Petrograd correspondent says:

"The Austrians before leaving Czernowitz entrusted a small committee of various nationalities with the duty of handing over the town to the Russians."

The Daily Telegraph's Petrograd correspondent, telegraphing Wednesday says:

"The news of the entry of the Russians into Czernowitz has not yet been received. The latest information was that the Russians were in the suburbs, while the town had been rendered untenable to the Austrians by the success of a Russian turning movement on the north. The Austrians were compelled to make a desperate stand, owing to their imprudently delaying the evacuation."

Big Breach in Line.

The same dispatch reports the Russians have succeeded in making another big breach in the Austrian line near Tarnopol.

According to Bucharest dispatches the hopes of the Russians of relieving the Italians have already been accomplished, as the Austrians are pouring troop trains eastward from their southern positions. The dispatches say that 36 troop trains passed through Pressburg, Hungary, within 24 hours, and that the Austrian forces in Albania are all hurrying north.

BERLIN BOURSE PLANS TO LIMIT SPECULATION

Option and Time Trading Prohibited—Cash Basis Established.

BERLIN, June 16.—Via London, 11:35 p.m.—The managing committee of the Berlin bourse today adopted the outlines of a plan to restrict speculation, which, although without official sanction of the bourse, has grown remarkably active in recent months. The committee ordered that all transactions shall be on a strictly cash basis, and with the date of delivery strictly prescribed. Option and time trading will be prohibited, as will also the circulation of private pricelists.

The action taken by the bourse today coincides with the wishes of the Government and the leading banks, which regard it as inopportune that wild speculation should disturb the money market during the war. It was designed to obviate the still more rigorous measures contemplated by the Government itself.

ADVANCE OF SLAVS MARKED BY FEATS OF GREAT BRAVERY

Regiment of Soldiers Fords River in Face of Death.

DASHING WIN OF WOOD

Heroic Efforts Results in Defeat of Foe on West Bank of the Stripa.

[Canadian Press.]

PETROGRAD, June 16.—Via London.—The capture of an additional 100 officers and 14,000 men, announced today by the war office, brings Russia's prisoners to date up to over 167,000. The Russian successes are continuing.

The text of the communication follows:

"On the front of the armies south of Polesie the fighting continues. The enemy has suffered heavy casualties in encounters with our troops. The following details of the operations in many sectors have been received:

"In the course of a powerful but fruitless counter-attack by the enemy in the region of Sokul, north of Rojitche, we took as prisoner 20 officers and 1,750 men.

Ford River in Pursuit.

"In the region west and southwest of Lutsk, during the pursuit of the enemy, our cavalry fought several successful actions. Northwest of Kremenez, our bold soldiers of Gen. Sakharoff's force, after a desperate fight, dislodged the enemy from his fortified positions on the River Pluichevka, between Kozin and Tarnovka, by a vigorous assault. One of our young regiments, led by Col. Tatarnoff, after a fierce fight, forded the deep river, which was up to their chins. One company was engulfed and died a heroic death, but the valor of their comrades and their officers resulted in the disorderly flight of the enemy. Seventy officers and 5,000 men were taken prisoner, and two guns, a great many machine guns, 1,000 rifles, cartridges and enormous reserves of barbed wire were captured in this action.

Capture Rostok Wood.

"By an equally impetuous coup, our infantry, with powerful support from the artillery, captured Rostok wood, south of the Lower Potchaieff, taking prisoners, machine guns and bomb-throwers.

"By an heroic effort, the troops of Gen. Stcherbatchoff's army yesterday overthrew the Austrians in the region of Gouvoronka, and Gullovody, on the west bank of the Stripa.

"Northwest of Buczacz the engagement with the Austrians and the Germans continues unceasingly. So far we have captured 6,000 prisoners, guns and machine guns.

"An enemy aeroplane has dropped bombs on Tarnopol.

Over 14,000 Captured.

"Our brave Don Cossacks have taken prisoner seven officers and 600 men; the approximate total of yesterday's captures is 100 officers, 14,000 men, and a quantity of war materials.

"On the Dvina front and farther south in the region of Poperle, there has been an exchange of artillery and rifle fire. Our artillery made a violent attack yesterday in the region of Dvinsk. Enemy attempts to take the offensive in many sectors were everywhere repulsed by our fire.

"Caucasus Front: In the coast region the Turks made numerous attempts to take the offensive, all of which were repulsed.

"In the direction of Bagdad, on the 14th, the Turks took the offensive and occupied the village of Serpoul. They were afterwards ejected by our troops and thrown back to their original positions."

NO BAIL FOR KELLY DESPITE EARNEST PLEA

Counsel Says His Health Is Impaired by Imprisonment.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 16.—Another attempt to secure admission to bail for Thomas Kelly, the parliament buildings contractor, now in jail awaiting trial, was made today without success. Justice Haggart, who yesterday granted permission to T. K. Dysart, counsel for Kelly "in all matters relating to this appointment," to make application for bail, announced that after further consideration of the matter and in view of the opposition of the crown, he thought it improper that she should consider what was practically an appeal from the ruling of the trial judge.

Dysart asserted Kelly had lost about 25 pounds from his normal weight as result of his imprisonment and that his health was impaired.

Justice Haggart said: "It seems a pretty hard case. I sympathize with Kelly very much and if the original application had been made to me I would have been inclined to grant it."

He said he had thought that in view of the "very substantial" amount which Dysart had mentioned to him available for bail the crown might not have opposed the motion. Under the circumstances and in view of the fact that the case was called for hearing Monday he thought his hands were tied.

King of Italy Sends Greetings to Czar For Italian People

PETROGRAD, via London, June 16.—"The supreme commander, the Czar, has received the following telegram from the King of Italy:

"'I am in harmony with the whole Italian people in expressing the sentiment of profound admiration for the victorious development of the powerful offensive of your majesty's armies, and in sending to you the warmest and most friendly congratulations. Being convinced that the efforts thus happily commenced, will lead to definite success, I pray you to accept the assurance of my unchanging friendship.'"

Once More Has "Festive Bike" Come to Life

Cycling for Women Is Again Revived in London.

Once more, after years of oblivion and disuse, the festive bike has made its appearance on the streets of London as a means of locomotion for members of the fair sex. No electric power, gasoline propelled, or motorcycle atrocity or other modern contraption is this mount which has been revived, but a genuine, old-time Rip Van Winkle which has come back into its own world to do its bit, notwithstanding the fact the world has done considerable moving since the days when a bicycle built for one was the rage for damsels all the way from infanthood to the grandmothers who scandalized their friends by donning short skirts, taking to wheeling, and thereby depriving the third generation for all time to come of the good, old-fashioned grandmother.

The first local lady cyclist was sighted a couple of days ago on King street, and it looks as if that one robin, so to speak, was going to making a whole spring.

Right in daylight, shortly after high noon this very day, two fair maidens were discerned standing on the sidewalk chatting, while beside them at the curb stood two bicycles, which they presently mounted and rode away. The scene of this little tableau was Dundas street, not thirty yards from Richmond.

And before long, no doubt the woman who has grown up since the bicycle days of old, and the woman who has acquired a maturity which should have more sense than to lament the good old times when her cyclometer piled up miles to the weakening of her heart action, will join in a duet:

"Backward, turn backward, O time in your flight,
Find me that junk dealer, just for to-night;
Find me the man who near stole my old bike,
I want it this minute to go for a hike."

Otherwise, she'll hie her to the dealer who is responsible for the revival and she won't rest satisfied a moment till she has a chance at risking her life under conditions infinitely more complex than in the good old days when automobiles were like hens' teeth, and the greatest danger she ran was breaking her neck coasting, or scaring to death a fiery nag.

ASSEMBLY ENDS BUSINESS, MEETS NEXT IN MONTREAL

Cost of Gathering this Year Reached $15,240.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 16.—There was barely a quorum present when the General Assembly resumed business this morning. Rev. W. T. Wilkinson of Trenton, Ont., reporting for the committee on traveling expenses, said the assembly this year cost $15,240 for traveling expenses and administration. The attendance was the largest on record. It was estimated the assembly meeting would cost $12,000.

The question of Oriental immigration was raised by overtures from the Presbytery of Victoria and the Synod of British Columbia. It was pointed out there were a large number of Hindus living in that province and there had been some moral degradation, owing to the fact that they were not able to bring in their wives and children. Rev. Dr. Clay of Victoria, Principal McKay of Vancouver, and Rev. J. S. Henderson of Vancouver, were among the speakers. The question was referred to the home mission committee.

All the colleges of the church reported through special committees and various recommendations were adopted. Attention was called to the appointment of a new principal of Montreal College, where Rev. Dr. D. J. Fraser succeeds the late Principal Scrimger.

The assembly concluded its work at noon.

It was officially announced today that the paper workers at a meeting last night, voted to strike, but decided to grant the company another chance to meet their demands.

DEMOCRATS HAVE SUFFRAGE PLANK; WOMEN PLEASED

Favor Extension of Franchise to Them "State by State."

ORDER OF PRESIDENT

Wilson Considers Plank Vital to Success of the Party.

U. S. FOREIGN RELATIONS

[Associated Press.]

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—The Democratic national convention finished its work today by adopting the party platform exactly as approved by President Wilson and submitted by the resolutions committee, including the plank on "Americanism" and that favoring woman suffrage, but not until the harmony of its three days' sessions had been disturbed with a row over the suffrage plank.

No voice was raised against the vigorous declarations of the Americanism plank, but at one time it looked as if the suffrage plank had been lost. After Senator Walsh of Montana had told the convention that President Wilson himself considered it vital to party success, however it was voted into the platform by a ballot 888½ to 181½. The entire platform then was adopted without roll call.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

Suffrage Plank.

As it went into the platform the suffrage plank reads:

"We favor the extension of the franchise to the women of this country, state by state, on the same terms as to the men."

The women suffrage leaders considered it a much more favorable plank than they got from the Republican convention.

Referring to international relations the platform states:

Foreign Relations.

We hold that it is the duty of the United States to use its power not only to make itself safe at home, but also to make secure its just interests throughout the world, and both for this end and in the interests of humanity, to assist the world in securing settled peace and justice.

"We believe that every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live; that the small states of the world have a right to enjoy from other nations the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon; and that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression or disregard of the rights of peoples and nations; and we believe that the time has come when it is the duty of the United States to join with the other nations of the world in any feasible assertion that will effectively serve these principles, to maintain inviolate the complete security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all nations."

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID TO CANADA'S MANHOOD

Washington Lawyer Speaker at Bar Association Banquet.

TORONTO, June 16.—Hon. Henry B. McFarland of Washington delivered an inspiring address at the annual banquet of the Canadian Bar Association tonight.

"Canada," he said, "has become great. Yours is the new life and the new consciousness, which mean leadership of this continent. You, through the ordeal of fire and blood, chastened, refined, uplifted and strengthened; we, as a caustic writer has said, wallowing in the luxury of materialism. You have found again that old-fashioned devotion to righteousness as such. You have spent freely of your manhood, of your money, but you have found your soul."

Among other speakers who sounded the appeal to new Canadian unity were Venerable Archdeacon Cody, Premier Hearst, Hon. J. Decarie, provincial secretary of Quebec; President Falconer of Toronto University, and Hon. Justice Riddell.

Hon. Mr. MacFarland was, amid great applause, admitted as honorary member of the association.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION APPROVES PROHIBITION

B. Y. P. U. Is Shown To Be Important Branch of Church.

POPLAR HILL, June 16.—Rev. Joseph W. Kemp addressed the Baptist Association of Middlesex and Lambton on "Some Things That Will Happen When the Lord Comes." It was an earnest presentation of the pre-millenial view of the second coming of Christ, and was most practical.

The report of the secretary of the B. Y. P. U. work in the association was read by Miss L. Statham, Strathroy. There are societies in sixteen of the churches and six junior societies consisting of boys and girl from 6 to 16 years. About $300 has been raised in the societies for missions.

Rev. J. E. Green of Forest gave a stirring address on "Young People's Work," and urged the old people to encourage the young folks to engage in work for the Lord.

An open conference on young people's work was conducted by Rev. A. C. Bingham. It transpired that there were eight persons in the congregation who had been brought to Christ through a young people's society. Various questions were asked and answered respecting the junior work and other phases of the work of the B. Y. P. U.

The foreign mission work was represented by Rev. A. A. McLeod, returned missionary from India, who commenced his address by a salutation in the Telugu language. He painted a sad and realistic picture of the deplorable condition of the many millions of widows from one year old and upwards. The work is evangelistic in every part, even new converts try and spread the good news to their friends and neighbors. It was a new thing in India to see men of different castes sitting together at the Lord's table, but a sight to thrill one.

In a mutual advice period three short addresses were delivered by J. K. McDermid of London, "If I Were a Pastor"; by Rev. J. D. McLachlan of Strathroy, 'If I Were a Layman"; by Rev. T. W. Charlesworth of Parkhill; "If I Were a Deacon." All were bright and enjoyable.

Arrangements were made for holding Sunday school institutes in five centres in the association.

A praise service was conducted in the evening by Rev. A. C. Bingham of Petrolea, after which resolutions were submitted and carried for the generous hospitality shown to the delegates by the pastor and members of the Poplar Hill and East Williams churches, and the choir for their musical selections; also to Rev. Joseph W. Kemp for his helpful spiritual expositions of Bible truth. A resolution of sympathy with Dr. Norton, home mission superintendent, in his sickness, and sincere prayers for his recovery, was passed. A resolution was passed recording gratitude at the passing of a provincial prohibitory measure for the period of the war and after; also expressing appreciation of the work of the provincial license commission.

Home missions were discussed by Rev. T. T. Shields, who gave an eloquent and earnest plea for the recognition of the value of missionary work in the home, in the community and to the nation.

The closing message was delivered by Rev. Joseph W. Kemp of New York, whose addresses each day have been deeply spiritual and helpful. The subject was, "Revivals." The address was a review of several great revivals that had blessed the world, such as the great revival of 1859, which spread over the British Isles in a marvellous way, brought from the Fulton prayer meeting at New York; the great Welsh revival ten years ago, which swept the whole principality and added 72,000 persons to the churches; a revival that took place in a small church in Scotland, of which the speaker was pastor.

BLOCKADE OF GERMANY WILL NOT SLACKEN

Allied Powers in Accord as to Measures To Be Pursued.

LONDON, June 16.—As a result of the discussion of the blockade at the recent allied conference in Paris conclusions were reached which will remove many misconceptions on the part of neutrals, according to Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, who attended the conference as a British representative. What these conclusions were, Lord Robert would not state.

Asked if there would be a tightening of the blockade, Lord Robert paused for a long time before answering, then he replied, with a laugh:

"There will be no slackening."

Further than that he would not commit himself. He said the main object of his going to Paris was to make sure that the Allies should agree absolutely as to the blockade policy. There was little to be done to achieve this, he declared, and both Governments, the British and the French, were completely agreed as to what should be done. The conclusions reached, he added, would not cause any change in the method of blockade, but would make the stand of the Allies a stronger one through the removal of misconceptions.

Lost Vessel Carried $36,000 Worth of Champagne, Now Worth $56,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 16.—Is the Great Lakes Company's wrecker Favorite working to raise the overturned steamer Charles Price, or are her operators quietly attempting to bring to the surface the lost steamer Regina, which, it is declared today, lies on the bottom of the lake a few hundred feet from the steamer Price?

Although the Great Lakes Company has observed an air of greatest secrecy in regard to the work, and has forbidden all members of the wrecking boat's crew to talk, it has leaked out that the steamer Regina is sunk near the Price as the result of a collision between the two boats during the big storm of November 9, 1913.

In reality, so much faith has been placed in the discovery of a second boat that others wreckers will make a visit to the location in the near future, and examine, to satisfy themselves.

The fact that the body of a sailor from the steamer Price was picked up at Port Frank, Ont., after the storm, wearing a life-preserver from the Regina; the fact that an examination of the steamer Price revealed a big hole in her hull, caused by collision, and the fact that the Great Lakes Company is preserving such great secrecy about this wrecking job, are indications that the Regina practically lies alongside the Price.

The steamer Regina was owned by the Merchants' Mutual Line of Toronto, Capt. E. H. McConkey being the skipper. The boat was 249 feet in length and 43-foot beam. On the last trip she carried a valuable cargo of mixed commodities, all package freight. She had hundreds of boxes of canned goods from this port, and also $36,000 worth of champagne, which would now be worth about $56,000.

Ten bodies of the crew of the steamer Regina were recovered on the shore about 30 miles north of Sarnia, on the Canadian side. The United States Government survey steamer Lusk left the river early this morning for Lake Huron, and it is likely that she has been ordered to make a survey of the lake in that section, owing to the continued line of reports that have reached the ears of the officials from marine men.

The tug Favorite returned to the wreck again this morning. The steamer Regina should be the more valuable wreck, as it would require only a bulkhead of timber built in the forward section, which was likely crushed in when she hit the Price. Diver Houle is credited with finding the Regina, although it is not yet possible to verify the story. The reported finding has aroused much excitement among marine men.

He pleaded guilty and was given the option of enlisting or taking a term in prison. The magistrate sent for the recruiting officer, and Simons was signed up for the 91st. He also agreed to sign over a certain portion of his pay for the wife during his service.

Occupy Town on South Bank, Near Sannayat on the North.

LONDON, June 16—5:35 p.m.—The British official press bureau today gave out a statement dealing with the operations in Mesopotamia as follows:

"On the north bank of the Tigris, east of Kut-el-Amara, our trenches have been pushed to within 200 yards of the Turks at Sannayat.

"On the south bank Imam Mansura has been occupied. This place is three and a half miles south of Magasas.

"A successful punitive expedition has been made against the Arabs, who persistently cut the telegraph wires north of Hamar Lake. Two hundred cartloads of grain and some sheep were taken from the raided hostile Arab tribe.

"Three of our Tigris barges were sunk by Turkish artillery June 10.

"The imaginative Turkish communique of Thursday was founded on the above."

NANCEKIVELL REUNION.

INGERSOLL, June 16.—The annual reunion of the Nancekivell family was held on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenvey, West Oxford, 140 partaking of dinner and supper. "Pleasant Valley" farm was given additional charms in the shape of flags and bunting and pretty arches. The holiday spirit was rampant, and the crowd of merrymakers made the most of the joyous occasion. During the afternoon an interesting program of sports was held, which included a baseball game between the married and single men. The benedicts demonstrated their superiority, winning by a score of 13 to 7. Other popular and amusing features included rooster chasing contests. In the gentlemen's contest, Norman Thornton, West Oxford, was victorious. In the ladies' contest, the "Banty" rooster was won by Mrs. H. G. Mayberry, Ingersoll. It was decided to hold the reunion next year at the home of W. W. Nancekivell, North Oxford, on the 15th of June.

"BIFFED" RECRUITER—FINED.

HAMILTON, June 16.—When Pte. Fletcher of the Tiger battalion called Thomas Harrison, a Montreal traveler, yellow, Harrison biffed him in the eye. "And I think I was perfectly justified," said the traveler to the court.

The magistrate, while deploring such tactics in recruiting, fined Harrison $10.

Martial Law in Saloniki.

"Martial law was proclaimed in Saloniki on the 3rd of June. Its application should not cause any incidents."

It is reported from Saloniki, says a Havas dispatch from Athens today, that in consequence of the establishment of martial law by the Allies in that district and the taking over by them of the postal, telegraph, railway and customs administration, the Greek military base, as well as the troops occupying the forts around Than, has been transferred to Volo, on the coast in Thessaly, about 100 miles northwest of Athens.

NEW ONTARIO POLICY IN EFFECT AUGUST 1

After That Date Settlers May Secure Government Help.

TORONTO, June 16. — By the 1st of August Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, minister of lands, forests and mines, will put into operation the new northern development policy provided for by legislation last session, through which settlers will secure from the Government cash loans.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson announced tonight that the Government would place the work in charge of a loan commissioner, with an assistant commissioner and a superintendent or supervisor.

A new feature of the development plan is the decision to widen its scope in order to enable the commissioner not only to advance money to settlers, but do their purchasing for them.

Before a loan is made the settler must show exactly what he wants the money for.

FAY ASKED PRESIDENT TO SEND HIM HOME

German Conspirator Wanted to Offer "His Life to His Country."

NEW YORK, June 16.—Lieut. Robert Fay, sentenced to eight years in the federal prison at Atlanta for plotting to attach bombs to vessels carrying supplies to the Entente Allies, admitted today that he had written to President Wilson, asking that he be deported to Germany instead of being sent to prison. He is now in the Tombs in this city.

In his letter Fay said he asked that he be returned to his native land to "rehabilitate" himself by offering his life to his country. The punishment he would receive for deserting from the German army, even to "aid" the German cause in the United States, he declared, would be more severe than the prison term to which he was sentenced.

"If my life has to be wasted," he said, "I might as well waste it for my country, and be of some use to somebody. So far as my punishment is concerned, one day of drumfire is worse than ten years in prison."

BAR PAYS TRIBUTE TO HON. J. J. FOY

Resolution Adopted at Annual Meeting —Sir Geo. Gibbons Explains Waterways Commission.

TORONTO, June 16.—The Canadian Bar Association today passed a resolution, which was moved by R. G. Delorimer and M. Goldstein, K.C., and seconded by S. W. Jacobs, K.C., and Henry J. Elliott, K.C., expressing the deep regret of the members over the death of Hon. J. J. Foy, for many years attorney-general of Ontario, and one of the foremost members of the bar of the province.

Sir George Gibbons of London, Ont., member of the international waterways commission, addressed the association on the different aspects of the question of the boundary waters, and the functions of the commission, which, he said, "is not a diplomatic body, but a judicial body sworn to decide in accordance with justice. It is not a board of arbitrators, appointed with the special object of obtaining victory for their side in any special controversy. The permanent character of the commission is its greatest strength."

An interesting picture of Hamilton in its early days, back in 1833, was given by Mr. Justice Riddell, in his address to the Canadian Bar Association on Thomas Taylor, the early compiler of Upper Canada law reports. Mr. Justice Riddell suggested erecting some suitable memorial to Taylor.

NEW C. P. R. DEPOT AT TORONTO NORTH IS A WORK OF ART

Splendid New Structure Is Opened With Ceremonies.

BANQUET TO MR. MACTIER

General Manager of Eastern Line a Guest of Queen City.

Toronto, June 17.—There was a representative gathering at the National Club, Toronto, Friday night, on the occasion of honoring A. D. MacTier, the general manager of the eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, when Mayor Church presided at the preliminary proceedings to the official opening ceremony of the North Toronto station ofthe Canadian Pacific, which took the form of a banquet. There were, amongst others present, Mr. MacTier, Sir James Carroll, G. H. Ham, C. B. Foster, W. B. Howard, W. F. McLean, M. P., J. T. Arundel, W. D. Matthews, director of the C. P. R., and aldermen and members of the board of trade.

Credit to C. P. R.

After the inner man had been properly filled, Mayor Church eulogistically welcomed the genial general manager of the Canadian Pacific, who they were honoring tonight. Many important matters had been overcome by the city of Toronto during the past eighteen months and had secured the public ownership of the docks through the assistance of Mr. Leonard and Mr. MacTier, and that credit belongs to the Canadian Pacific. With regard to the union station, he was glad to say that the C. P. R. had always been ready not only to do their share of the work, but were ready with the money, but there was a hitch with some other company, but the C. P. R had never been backward. Through their efforts they had a station at North Toronto second to none in America, and he left that a matter to decide for themselves when they saw it. About six months ago, the question arose as to what to do with the old station, and for some time it had been thought that it would make a splendid site for a market, as North Toronto was the gateway of the east and the west. He was gratified to say that the C. P. R. gratefully consented to turn the old station over to the city for a new public market. Mr. MacTier met the Queen City in a noble manner, and today it was a red letter day in the history of North Toronto, and a greater Yonge street. He could not speak too highly of the able and brilliant manner in which Mr. MacTier had handled the situation.

Mr. MacTier Speaks.

A. D. MacTier, general manager of the C. P. R., in his opening remarks, alluded to the presence of Sir James Carroll's presence that evening as New Zealand's greatest orator, so that he must ask them to take his words with all sincerity instead of any brilliancy of the language. The mayor, in his usual facile manner, had mentioned among other nice things about the company he had the honor to represent the matter of the market, and it was their excellent relationship that had secured the old station as a market site at the nominal fee of one dollar a year. It was very true there was a good feeling between the city of Toronto and the C. P. R., and he had always received the greatest courtesy that could possibly be extended by the controllers and aldermen. He believed that if the people in Europe had been able to get together and show their cards there would have been a better feeling and no war. They were always willing to get together and discuss matters and reach some amicable arrangement even if they did not always see eye to eye. In reference to the new station at North Toronto, he only hoped that they would soon see it so well packed as to necessistate an extension further east.

The Ceremonies.

The ceremony at the station was a gigantic success. The public turned out in thousands, and the city had elaborately decorated the depot with bunting. The 48th Highlanders and the 220th Overseas Battalion were in attendance, and the bands of the two regiments enhanced the proceedings with appropriate selections. Mayor Church again enlarged on the relations between the city and the C. P. R., and A. D. MacTeir, in declaring the station open for business in the name of Canadian Pacific, expressed the hope that the public would show the company were justified in the building of the station by using it to such an extent as to soon justify its extension. W. F. McLean, M. P., spoke, and congratulated the Canadian Pacific on their foresight.

The New Station.

The design of the new station is a free adaptation of the Italian renaissance to the requirements of the present day. It is a single-story building faced externally with Tyndall limestone from the Tyndall quarries, Manitoba. The choice of this Canadian stone has been justified by the excellent color effect of the masonry in the mass, an effect equal to any that could have been obtained by the importation of the better-known building stones from the States. A large and spacious waiting-room, 70x50, of lofty proportions, occupies the centre portion of the structure, marked on the south elevation of the building by three large, semi-circular, leaded windows, it faces the south, with the main entrance centrally placed on the front. To east and west of this central block are two subsidiary wings roofed at a lower level and devoted to station facilities, that to the east to men's and women's rooms with their respective lavatories, and that to the west to ticket offices. To the north of the waiting-room is the concourse beyond which are the parcel, baggage and express-rooms. Opening from the concourse is the midway, which is 100 wide and 150 long, passing underneath the tracks, and from which access is had to the various overhead platforms. Flanking the building at its northwest corner is the clock tower, rising to the height of 140 feet, and four large clock dials 8 feet in diameter will be a great convenience to the entire neighborhood. The vestibule under the tower leads to the concourse, a sidewalk (protected by a marquise) is laid along the south and west sides of the station, so that patrons may enter either at the main entrance centrally on the south side or at the tower vestibule, the expectation being that the latter entrance will be used by those passengers who have already secured tickets and only require to pass directly to the trains, relieving the main waiting-room of much of the congestion that might otherwise occur. A private driveway also runs along the west side of the station, so that vehicles may drive up to either entrance and pass through under the tracks to the baggage and express rooms and out on Yonge street to the north of the station.

Internally the waiting-room, lower vestibule and concourse, etc., lined with marble for their entire height, the architectural effect being obtained by the use of different-colored marbles all set in practically the same plane, so as to avoid as far as possible all offsets and other dirt-collecting projections. The plaster ceilings are treated in a broad manner with large panels. The midway is lined with glazed brick for its full height, as are the stairs leading up to the platform. At night the waiting-room will be illuminated by four large bronze standards each topped with a cluster of frosted bulbs and a large reflector. A complete system of electric clocks of British manufacture has been installed. Of this the large clock in the tower forms a part. All ornamental ironwork, plastering, marble work, heating, ventilating, plumbing, electric work, etc., have all been carried out by Toronto firms, wherever possible, and there are but few exceptions all materials and labor employed in the construction of the building are of Canadian or British origin. And Canadian timber has been used for all woodwork whether rough lumber or finished mill work. This being one of the requirements of the C. P. R. in connection with all their work under construction.

VAST SHIPMENTS OF CAN. RED CROSS TO THE WAR FRONT

London, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, All Generous Contributors.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Montreal, June 17.—Statistics issued by the Canadian Red Cross Society give some interesting details of shipments made from the winter port of St. John. The St. John Warehouse was open for four months, from December 19 to April 22, and during that period the number of packages which passed through the transport to England comprised 22,616 standard Red Cross cases, 813 barrels, bales and crates, and 26 motor ambulances.

Of these large consignments, the Toronto headquarters shipped 13,992 cases. These included shipments from all outside points when the goods needed repacking, and also all contributions from the Toronto local branch. In this four-month period large consignments were shipped from many other cities. Montreal shipped 2,263 cases, London 1,259, Ottawa 918, Vancouver 573 and Hamilton 1,671.

Winnipeg, St. John, Regina and Quebec also provided generous shipments. A donation deserving special notice is that of 380 cases from the Fruit Club of Hamilton. This consisted of preserved fruit contributed by growers throughout the Niagara peninsula. The 26 motor ambulances were gifts of various societies throughout the whole of Canada.

The Dutch Red Cross.

The Dutch Red Cross is being completely reorganized under the superintendence of high officials of the army and navy medical corps, and some of the most prominent civilian medical authorities. The headquarters of the society have been removed to a large mansion on the Princessegrecht, the former home of an old Dutch aristocratic family, which is a gift to the Red Cross from four wealthy residents. There recently was formed, as an auxiliary to the Dutch Red Cross, a committee of wealthy Hollanders, which is equipping a number of splendid ambulance trains.

Cares For Many Wounded.

It is reported from Paris that over 1,000,000 wounded men had been cared for by the Red Cross and allied relief societies of France up to a few weeks ago. There are 500,000 beds in the French hospitals, and the cost of the maintenance of the hospitals is 1,000,000 francs, or $200,000 daily.

All together, since the beginning of the war, about 80,000,000 francs or $16,000,000, had been spent in France in relief work by the three branches of the French Red Cross, which are maintaining 118,000 beds in 1,500 hospitals at an outlay of nearly 5,000,000 francs monthly.

Canadian Red Cross.

There now exists a fraternal entente cordial, in Red Cross matters between France and Canada, which marks an epoch in the international relations of our country. The details of this arrangement have been worked out in the past few months by Capt. Bryan, the assistant commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross.

Early in March a Canadian Military Hospital was opened at St. Cloud, near Paris. In Paris itself the Canadian Red Cross has obtained by special favor from the French Government, splendid warehouse and shipping facilities. It and other organizations which are assisting the French Red Cross are housed in a central depot just outside the Porte Dauphine, at the entrance to the Bois de Boulogne. The French Government supplies the organization necessary to carry on the minute details of the work; that is, the clerks to attend to shipments, lorries for the transportation of goods, and orderlies who can be sent to help wherever needed.

The Canadian Red Cross is now shipping 100 cases daily to the port of Boulogne, as a voluntary contribution to the hospitals of our French allies, and has in the French capital, central free accommodation for 4,000 cases at a time. The only expense is the salary of one stores man. All the rest of the work is done by French soldiers.

This Canadian contribution to the French wounded is an act of generosity, which will be remembered by the French people for years to come with friendly affection. Much credit is due the administration of the Canadian Red Cross for their tact and insight in recognizing the international character of our Red Cross obligations.

Gen. Byng replied:

GREEK ARMY IS MOVED

Leaves Saloniki as Result of Martial Law.

NEW YORK, June 16.—A dispatch from Athens today to the Hearst papers says:

The Greek army is being transferred to Volo as the result of the establishment of martial law at Saloniki. British warships have bombarded Klema Skrofa in Asia Minor. The Turks, fearing that an attempt would be made to force a landing, rushed troops from Smyrna.

A news agency dispatch from Saloniki today says: The Germans continued their bombardment of the Allies' position between Lake Arzan and Kalindir, it was officially announced today. The artillery violently shelled the position, 200 projectiles of large calibre being fired at one point.

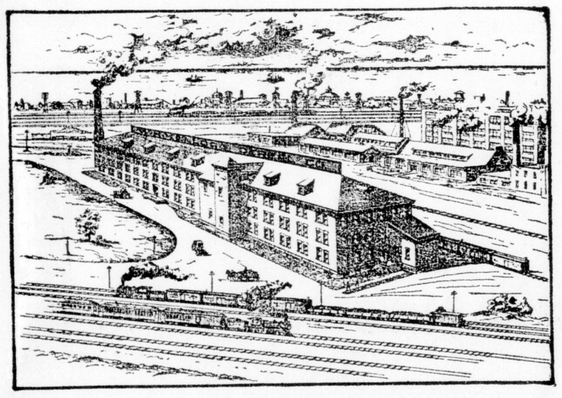
W. K. Kellogg's Canadian Factory

FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF

Kellogg's Cereals in Waxtite Packages

Two years ago the W. K. Kellogg Cereal Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, put on the Canadian market their all-wheat cereal food—KRUMBLES.

The demand for KRUMBLES and their other wheat foods has grown to such dimensions that they have found it necessary to erect a factory in Toronto to supply the Canadian trade.



The new factory at Toronto, an illustration of which is given herewith, is now in full operation. Benefiting by the experience gained in the parent industry at Battle Creek, the new factory in Toronto has been equipped with the most approved style of machinery for the preparation of their entire line of Cereal foods, some fifteen different varieties.

The building just completed, while only a single unit of the proposed plant to be erected, has a capacity sufficient to manufacture 36,000 packages of ready-to-eat Cereal foods each working day.

There are 100,000,000 packages of W. K. Kellogg's cereals wrapped Waxtite sold annually in the United States and Canada.

The erection of this factory in Toronto will relieve the pressure on the Battle Creek factory, and avoid the usual customs delay, so that the Canadian trade can look for prompt delivery of KRUMBLES and their other lines of wheat cereals, as well as several new lines to be introduced later.

GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

Regulate Kidneys AND Relieve Constipation

Gin Pills are acknowledged to have the largest sale of any proprietary medicine in Canada—an achievement solely due to their remarkable virtue as a Kidney and Bladder remedy.

But users of Gin Pills have discovered that this invaluable remedy also acts as a mild cathartic. The evidence of hundreds of letters we have received establishes the very logical fact that in compounding a medicine to heal and tone up the Kidneys and Bladder certain of the ingredients have a stimulating effect upon the other organs, especially the bowels.

It is important to know, in the case of constipated patients, that Gin Pills do not act harshly on the bowels; there is no griping, but a gradual and gentle restoration of the function. Try Gin Pills for constipation. In thus relieving the bowels, you safeguard yourself against possible Kidney trouble.

Gin Pills are 50c. a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50 at your dealer's. A trial treatment will be sent upon request, to 16

SAXON "SIX"

A big touring car for five people

It is not difficult to distinguish definite differences between Saxon "Six" and other cars of like price It is perceptibly easier riding; it clings more closely to the road; runs more sweetly and quietly; accelerates faster; requires less gasoline to the mile; is sparing of oil and easy on tires; develops a smoother power-flow and is far freer of repairs and adjustments. It is commonly conceded to be the fine car of its price class.

It is very satisfying to feel the eager ease with which Saxon "Six" leaps to full flight in response to the merest pressure of the accelerator. It will go from a standing start to 45 miles per hour in less than 24 seconds if you demand it. And if you desire to just idle along, it will run noiselessly at a mile and a half per hour on high. The motor is of the lightweight, high-speed six-cylinder type, of Saxon design, manufactured to Saxon specifications by the Continental Motor Company. The price of Saxon "Six" is $1,115, f. o. b., Windsor.

GALT MANUFACTURER SELLS HIS INTERESTS

Geo. A. Dobbie Acquires Holdings of Andrew Newlands Who Retires.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, June 16. — A change in local manufacturing circles of great importance has just been put through, by which George A. Dobbie acquires the interests held by Andrew Newlands in Newlands & Co., Limited, and the Galt Robe Company, meaning the retirement from active business life of one of Galt's most prominent manufacturers. Mr. Newlands succeeded his father in Newlands & Co., Limited, and later started the Galt Robe Company, which was burned out three years ago, but was replaced by a very modern building of 80,000 square feet of floor space. Recently Newlands & Co., Limited, also acquired the McKay knitting plant.

George A. Dobbie, who acquired the interests of Mr. Newlands, is at present president and manager of the Victoria Wheel Works, as well as being identified with other industries.

STRENGTHEN SILVER CHAIN.

MORAVIANTOWN, June 16. — "My attention has been drawn to the fact that you and your people have generously contributed towards the patriotic fund," writes the Duke of Connaught to E. Beattie, Indian agent. The letter continues:

"I am deeply touched by your loyal generosity. Reading the speeches made by former governors to the Indian sachems and their replies, I find that there is constant reference to the silver chain which bound together their mutual interests, and each new meeting and renewal of friendship made the chain brighter and stronger. I find in your late action evidence that you wish the chain to be preserved, and, for my part, I accept your gifts, and acknowledge that the chain has been brightened and strengthened by them.

"When peace is again restored you may all feel that you have done your part, and have had your share in the great events which have taken place.

"Wishing you and your people every success in future, yours very truly,

"ARTHUR."

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR GALT BUILDING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, June 16. — P. H. Secord & Sons of Brantford have been awarded the contract for constructing the new exchange building of the Bell Telephone Company, Ainslie street south, it was learned today. The main building will be 35 by 51 feet, three stories, of brick and stone trimmings, and will be fireproof, with cement floors and a marble stairway. At the rear of the main building there will be a two-story storeroom.

Quackery and Corns

Hundreds of treatments have been offered for corns.

Some were sedatives to quiet pain. Some were acids, harsh and risky. Some mere quackery.

But one man—a famous chemist—studied corns for 25 years. And finally discovered Blue-jay.

That is now the standard treatment, gentle, certain, scientific. It is used on a million corns monthly.

It has stopped the corn pain instantly, 70 million times. It has ended the corns completely within 48 hours, in 91 per cent of the cases. The others take a little longer.

Stop paring corns. Stop treating them in wrong ways. Use Blue-jay, and that ends them in a gentle, easy way. Prove that tonight.

PROUD OF THE CAUSE HIS SON DIED FOR

Governor of Perth Jail Speaks of Lieut. Nicol's Sacrifice.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 16.—"My only regret is that age will not permit me to go myself. If I had a dozen boys and they all wanted to go, I would not say no. Apart from the tragical part of it, I would rather have it as it is than that in after years the finger of scorn might be pointed to him as a coward."

So spoke Hugh Nicol, governor of the Perth County jail in reference to his son, Lieut. Ewen Cameron Nicol, who was officially reported as killed in action on June 13. Mr. Nicol himself answered the call to service at the time of the Fenian raid in 1866, and though his eye was dimmed with a tear, his frame straightened with pride as he spoke of his fallen son.

Coleman's parents live in Brantford. He had been connected with the Imperial Bank for a number of years and came here in 1914, succeeding Lieut. R. R. Brown of 1st Battalion, as accountant. After a year in Galt he joined Col. Oliver's battalion and was one of the officers with the first draft of reinforcements to be sent to France. He had been in the trenches nine months and through all the heavy fighting.

STRATFORD, June 16. — Today brought news of the wounding of several more local boys, namely Ptes. George Williamson, W. E. Cayley, Thomas Clements of this city, and Lance-Corp. Reg Thomas of Listowel. Pte. Lyman McMillan, formerly of Listowel, has died of wounds.

News that their son, Pte. Thomas Clements had been admitted to No. 8 Stationary Hospital at Wimereaux suffering from a gunshot wound in the scalp, came to Mr. and Mrs. John Clements. Pte. Clements went into the trenches on August 3 and was wounded in the arm last fall. He has a brother and a cousin in the 34th.

Pte. William Edgar Cayley has been wounded in the wrist, according to word received here today. He enlisted with the 71st Battalion, but was drafted into another unit. He was born in Stratford.

Pte. George Williamson has been wounded, according to a message received by Mr. W. H. Merry of the Annie Macpherson Boys' Home. He was a native of England, but had been in this country for some time, having come out with a number of boys to the local institution. He was in the west when he enlisted. He has a wound in the right leg.

Among those who have fallen in action is Pte. Lydall McMillan, formerly of Listowel, who enlisted at Winnipeg. He was a brother of Robert McMillan of Listowel and was born in that town. He leaves a wife and three children.

WOODSTOCK PRIVATE AMONG THE KILLED

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 16.—Pte. Percy Hodgins is reported killed on May 26. His mother received the notification, which accounts for the lateness in receiving the news. Hodgins was working in the Textile factory here when he enlisted. He trained in London last fall and went over with the special draft in November last. After going to France he was drafted into a Highland battalion.

Among the casualties given out in this morning's list is another Woodstock boy, Lieut. D. G. P. Forbes, who is reported wounded. He enlisted at Vancouver. He is a son of the late James Forbes, turnkey at the county jail. After completing his education here he joined the staff of the local branch of the Imperial Bank. He has been west three years.

WINDSOR LIEUTENANT IS KILLED IN ACTION

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, June 16.—Lieut. Maurice R. Henderson, 22 years old, of Windsor, has been killed in action, probably in the recent battle of Sanctuary Wood, where the Canadian troops displayed great bravery. Word was received by Mrs. E. G. Henderson, his mother.

Lieut. Henderson was one of Windsor's popular young men. He was attending school at Toronto University when war broke out. He returned home and took an officers' course at London, Ont., and qualified for a lieutenant. He enlisted with a Chatham company. Lieut. Henderson went to England in the spring of 1915. Later he was transferred to a unit which was sent to the firing line May 24.

SEVERAL CASUALTIES FOR TELEPHONE CITY

BRANTFORD, June 16.—That her husband, Lieut. Harris L. Walsh, has been wounded in the right arm by gunshot was the further word received this morning by Mrs. Walsh from Ottawa. Uncertainty existed here for some time owing to there being another H. L. Walsh in service.

No further information in regard to Lieut. Harvey W. Cockshutt, who was reported missing a week ago, has been received in the city.

For the third time Lieut. J. R. Cornelius has been officially reported suffering from shell shock. Twice before he was reported in the casualty lists, but refused to be removed to the hospital. This time, however, he has had to be sent to the hospital at Boulogne.

That Sapper Robert Horsnell of the Engineers had been admitted to No. 8 Stationary Hospital at Wimereaux suffering from shell shock was the news received this morning by his brother, Gordon Horsnell of Market street. Shortly after the outbreak of war, Horsnell, who was working in Memphis, Tenn., returned home and enlisted. He is a South African veteran.

E. Weller, 149 Elgin street, received word from Ottawa this morning that his son, Pte. Edward Weller, has been admitted to No. 22 General Hospital, Camiers, with a wound in the hand.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, June 16.—John A. Paterson, K.C., of Toronto, has telegraphed Winnipeg refusing the appointment of the general assembly to succeed Rev. Dr. A. S. ANXIETY IN ST. MARYS FOR CHARLIE DELEMATER

Mother and Sister Interested in the Finding of Coat at Springbank.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, June 16.—The item in today's Advertiser which stated that a coat and spectacles had been found on the river bank at Springbank, London's summer pleasure resort, by a park employee, and which it was presumed belonged to Chas. Delemater, a St. Marys barber, led to the supposition that he was drowned. His mother, Mrs. Hannah Delemater, and sister, Miss Burgess, who reside on Church street south, were in a state of great anxiety concerning his whereabouts. The Advertiser correspondent here called up by 'phone The Advertiser to inquire if they had any further information than appeared in this morning's item. The word came that at that time there were no further particulars, but if anything of a serious nature was learned regarding Mr. Delemater The Advertiser would wire Mrs. Delemater, but as no telegram had been received late this afternoon, it is now presumed that the wearing apparel was not Charley Delemater's and that he is still alive. Charley Delemater left St. Marys several days ago, but left no word as to where he was going.

ent, but merely temporary to settle maters."

"We should be fair with all parties," declared Ald. Palmer. "The company is willing to meet us in a reasonable way."

"That's not business," interrupted Ald. Burdick.

"I think I know more about business than you do, or you would not talk as you do," retorted Ald. Palmer.

Not a Minute More.

"I would not give the company a minute more time," declared Ald. Burdick. "The company has run the city long enough, and it is time we ran the city."

Ald. Burdick objected to the second reading of the bylaw, and Mayor Stevenson ruled that it would take a two-thirds vote to carry it. There was some objection to this, but the rules of order showed that the mayor was correct in his ruling.

"We must consider the soldiers," said Controller White. "There has been a concerted movement to take the camp away from London, and if we give the authorities an excuse this will probably be done. We are not giving anything away to the company and we should be reasonable."

Camp Demands Aired.

"We have heard numberless complaints about the lack of Sunday cars," said Ald. Webster. "A number of commanding officers, I am informed, have asked to be taken away from London. We have spent a lot of money to get the camp here, and we may lose it."

Ald. Ashplant complained that C. H. Ivey's letter was not in accord with the understanding of the committee which interviewed him. He would oppose the company getting any more favors.

The vote stood: For the bylaw, Controllers Gammage, White, Moore, Rose, Ald. Palmer, Ald. Webster, Ald. Little and Ald. Jones; against, Ald. Wilson, Ald. Copp, Ald. Dyer, Ald. Burdick, and Mayor Stevenson.

The council then adjourned. There will be no Sunday cars on Sunday. There is a rumor in circulation that Sir Sam Hughes would be in London on Monday to consider complaints about the lack of street railway service, and would issue a statement.

WEDDING BELLS

BRITTON—ZAVITZ.

At high noon today a quiet wedding was solemnized at the parsonage of the Talbot Street Baptist Church when Miss Lena Fern Zavitz of Poplar Hill was united in marriage to Thomas Jas. Britton of Palmer, Mass., by Rev. H. H. Bingham. Mr. and Mrs. Britton were unattended and will reside in Palmer, Mass.

McKAY—RICE.

EMBRO, June 16.—A quiet wedding took place at the English Church on the 12th line of East Zorra Tuesday, when Robert C. McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham McKay, Embro, was united in marriage to Miss Isabel M. Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rice of the 14th line, East Zorra. Rev. Mr. McGregor officiated. Promptly at 4 o'clock to the strains of a wedding march, played by Mrs. McGregor, the bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Rice. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Duncan Rice, and the bride was assisted by Miss Anna McKay, sister of the groom. The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy silk suit with hat to match, and the bridesmaid looked dainty in a white silk voile dress with hat to match. The church was decorated with ferns and carnations, also roses. After the signing of the register and congratulations the couple and all who were present went to the bride's home and partook of a dainty supper. The dining-room was prettily decorated with carnations. The couple left on the 8:15 Grand Trunk for Detroit, amid showers of rice and confetti. After the honeymoon they intend to reside in Embro on the corner of Commissioner and Argyle streets.

WARREN—MORRIS.

CRAMPTON, June 16.—A quiet, pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Hugh Warren, when his eldest daughter, Cornelia May, became the bride of Herbert Morris of Harrietsville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Taylor. At high noon to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Vera Warren, sister of the bride, the bridal party took their places in front of a background of smilax and ferns. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father. She looked charming in a gown of duchess satin and silk overlace, wearing a bridal veil with a crown of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. Little Evelyn Morris, niece of the groom, made a delightful flower girl dressed in white embroidery and carrying a basket of white carnations. The groom's gift to the pianist was a cameo necklace, to the flower girl a necklace. After congratulations the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The presents were numerous and included a check from the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Morris motored to Ingersoll, where they left for Detroit and other western points, amid showers of confetti and the good wishes of their many friends. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue gabardine and white hat trimmed with pink roses. About thirty guests were present from Toronto, Ingersoll, St. Thomas, Springford, Dorchester, Salford and Harrietsville. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Morris will make their home at Harrietsville.

GALBRAITH—McDONALD.

APPIN, June 16.—"Maple Villa," the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. McDonald, Appin, Ont., was the scene of a pretty event on Wednesday, June 14, when their only daughter, Ivy Christie Anna, was united in marriage to Herman Galbraith of Appin. At 5:30 p.m. the bride, gowned in her wedding dress of ivory duchess satin, with bodice of ninon and Roman applique, the skirt finished with a fish train, wearing the bridal veil of tulle, arranged in Juliet cap fashion, wreathed with orange blossoms and carrying a bouquet of bridal roses, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, played by Miss Mary Galbraith, sister of the groom, and took her place beneath an evergreen arch, which was draped with the red, white and blue, and caught up with the flags of the Allies. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. U. Campbell. While the register was being signed Mrs. Campbell sang sweetly, "Oh Promise Me." After the congratulations the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a pretty color scheme of pink and white was prominent, and partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and amethyst pendant, set in platinum; to the pianist, a cameo ring, set in pearls; and to the soloist, a cut glass vase. The couple left to spend their honeymoon in the Eastern States. Mrs. Galbraith wore for traveling a smart suit of blue chiffon taffeta, with full corded skirt, the coat opening over a blouse of shell pink satin. Her hat was a small one of blue and grey tagel braid, with trimming of tulle and pink rosebuds.

SCOTT—MONK.

TILLSONBURG, June 16.—Evergreen Lodge, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Monk, of Springford, was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday afternoon when their youngest daughter, Hazel Irene, was united in marriage to Robert T. Scott of Bayham. Promptly at 12 o'clock, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens, bridal wreath and white ribbons. Rev. G. N. Simmons, B.A., pastor of the Baptist Church, Springford, performed the ceremony in the presence of about seventy-five guests. The bride looked charming gowned in ivory satin and georgette crepe trimmed with pearls and point lace and wearing an embroidered net veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and was attended by Miss Myrtle Scott, sister of the groom, who wore yellow satin and ninon and carried white carnations. The groom was supported by Montrose Monk, brother of the bride. During the signing of the register Miss Elva Newton of Lyons sang sweetly, "All Joy Be Thine," after which the guests repaired to the dining-room, which was decorated with white carnations and ribbon, and partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner served by six young friends of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a pearl pin, to the pianist, Mrs. Elmer Smith, a pearl pin, to the soloist a gold cross and to the groomsman a gold fob. About 4 o'clock amid showers of confetti and good wishes the couple left by motor for Ingersoll where they took the train for Toronto and points east. Guests were present from Listowel, Fingal, London, St. Thomas, Aylmer, Woodstock, Norwich and Tillsonburg. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Scott will reside on their farm near Tillsonburg.

Y. M. C. A. SECTION FOR 63RD BATTERY PLANNED

Lieut. J. C. McRuer Hits on Idea for Bringing Recruits.

Efforts are now being made by the 63rd Battery, which was raised practically in London under command of Major Keith Cameron to form a Y. M. C. A. section.

There are two sections to a battery, each one consisting of about 60 men. There are two field guns with each section.

Both batteries stationed in London at the present time are "depot batteries" from which drafts will be sent overseas from time to time. This necessitates recruiting far above the usual strength of the unit, and the 63rd will use the "Y. M. C. A." section as a drawing feature.

All the requirements necessary to become a member of this section is that the prospective recruit be a member in good standing at some branch of the Y. M. C. A. in Military District No. 1. The officers have notified secretaries of the different branches throughout the country, so that all members may learn of the scheme.

Earlier in the war it was suggested that a Y. M. C. A. battery be organized, but no plan was formed. Lieut. J. C. McRuer of the 63rd, a barrister of Toronto, who has always taken an active interest in "Y" work, conceived the idea of raising a Y. M. C. A. section.

A battery is especially well adapted to this plan, for if it is found impossible to raise a section, a sub-section of 30 men can be formed and the boys still kept together.

EMBRO NOTES.

EMBRO, June 16.—The ladies of the Missionary Society of the Congregational Church invited the ladies of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church to spend Wednesday afternoon for a few hours with them in their church. President Mrs. E. J. Cody occupied the chair. The meeting opened with a hymn. Mrs. Lane led in prayer. Mrs. W. Kent read a paper on "How to Make Our Missionary Meetings More Interesting and Instructive." Mrs. Lane sang a solo, "He Careth for the Sparrows as He Also Cares for Me." Miss Grinton led in prayer. All sang God Save the King. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies of the Congregational Church.

Some of the local boys have formed a club, which is called the "Lone Scout Silver Fox Tribe." Already they have held several meetings, and the membership and interest is steadily growing.

The following was shipped this week by Walker's Red Cross Society to Red Cross headquarters, London: 1 pillow, 7 pairs pyjamas, 128 French towels, 1 dozen hospital handkerchiefs, 1 dozen khaki handkerchiefs, 4 pairs socks, 13 hospital shirts.

The King's Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. John McArthur Saturday afternoon.

The Ladies' Guild of the Methodist Church have postponed their garden party, which was to be on June 23.

The annual garden party in connection with the Congregational Church will be held this year in the rink Saturday, July 1.

The first league baseball game was held Wednesday night, and it was interesting the first part of the game, the Hickson boys were winning, but at the finish the Embro boys showed they could play. The score was 11—11. Hickson and Embro will have to play here again.

After the game the boys presented Pte. Bert McNeill with a nicely worded address and wrist watch. He left last night for London. Bert thanked the boys for their kindness to him. He will be greatly missed here, as he was a great boy for sports and was highly thought of. He has enlisted in the 63rd Battery.

U. S. FISHERMEN ENCROACH.

SARNIA, June 16.—It is reported that Americans from Port Huron are spending much of their time fishing in Canadian waters, while the American game wardens are strict in stopping Canadians from crossing the line.

BEACHES ARE AWAKENING.

SARNIA, June 16.—The beaches are awakening, and the number of tents and campe are growing rapidly in numbers. Nearly all available camping land has been secured, and what little is left will be taken up before the end of the month. Many of the old camps are in their usual places this year, and many new ones have been added.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED.

SARNIA, June 16.—The body of the man which was recovered from the river here by the "clamshell" of a sand-digger has not as yet been identified. It is thought to be that of the man who was drowned last fall from one of the dredges working in the river.

The body of a man, which was recovered several weeks ago on the American side, was never identified.

REGRET PASTORS' LEAVING.

CROTON, June 16.—The pastors of the Methodist Church of the Florence circuit on Wednesday evening were the recipients of handsome presents from the members and friends of the Croton Church. The basement of the church was filled to capacity. A bountiful lunch was served, after which an excellent program was given. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Gammidge and Miss H. Logan. Ira Law ably officiated as chairman. The presentations were made by Mrs. Clemens and Miss Logan. Rev. Mr. Kitely, who has won the affection of the people, briefly responded. Rev. Mr. Page, who came here last July, has proved popular as a preacher, and is an able platform speaker. In an address sparkling with wit he paid glowing tributes to his many friends on this circuit. The departure of both men is regretted.

DOCK WORKERS SCARCE.

SARNIA, June 16.—Dock workers are now so scarce on the St. Clair and Detroit rivers that men from Sarnia have to go to Windsor to unload boats that have cargoes for that place. A large gang of Sarnia men is working in Windsor at this work, and will return here as soon as that job is finished. As most of the dock workers are now foreigners, the men in charge had to get special permission of the American Government before they could go down to Windsor on the D.U.R. from Port Huron.

THREATENING WEATHER PUTS DAMPER ON MARKET

Small Offerings and Equally Small Attendance of Citizens.

Eggs and butter were steady, retail prices and in wholesale crate lots, eggs were stronger, selling at 24½c per doz.

A rise was noted in dressed hogs, which were quoted at from $14.50 to $15 per cwt.

Beef was quoted at $14 and $15.25 per cwt.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, June 16.—Wheat today closed ¾c down for all three months. Oats were ¼c down for July and October. Flax gained ¼c for both months. Today's market was rather a quiet one. The trading was mostly scalping. The local market, stubborn in the fact of Chicago's weakness and the effect of Modern Miller's bearish report, was offset by an excellent cash demand for all grades of wheat and oats. Traders were puzzled and trading was rather listless with nothing encouraging on either side.

The cash demand for wheat was good for all grades, with premiums unchanged to ¼c better. Offerings were moderate.

The spreads in oats were unchanged but firm and the offerings small.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.11¼; No. 2 northern, $1.08⅞; No. 3 northern, $1.04⅞; No. 4, 99⅞c; No. 5, 93⅞c; No. 6, 89⅞c; feed, 83⅞c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.59¼; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.56¼.

Chicago, June 17.—Notwithstanding recent severe declines, wheat prices again today headed down-grade. Lower quotations from Liverpool gave the impetus. There was disappointment also over the fact that yesterday's buying for Europe turned out to be almost entirely Manitoba wheat.

The opening, which ranged from ⅛@⅞@1c down, with July at $1 01@1 01⅜, and September at $1 03@1 03½, was followed by a slight rally, and then a fresh setback.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, June 17.—New aspects of the foreign financial situation were presented during the week, overshadowing in interest the results of the political conventions at Chicago and St. Louis. Consummation of the long-deferred $50,000,000 Russian loan was followed by indications of new undertakings here for Great Britain and France, as well as South America.

There was heavy selling of the Anglo-French war issue, rumor ascribing the liquidation to banking interests which are likely to be actively identified with the new projects. In all probability the liquidation was due to strictly local causes, a block of these bonds coming into the market in the course of another dividend payment by one of the large war contract companies.

The Mexican situation caused further uneasiness. Washington's firm attitude towards the de facto government of that country being followed by fresh disturbances along the border. The unsettlement of yesterday's late market was accompanied by reports that the militia of some of the northern states would soon receive emergency orders. Traders had the market of the week entirely to themselves, except in some of the railway issues, where further quiet accumulation was observed. There was also marked improvement in low-priced issues of the roads traversing the South and Southwest. Restoration of the full 7 per cent dividend rate on Louisville and Nashville was regarded as the forerunned of similar action elsewhere.

Specialties, such as munitions, equipments and minor industrials, were in lighter demand, but sugars maintained their recent record for activity, with a new high record for American Beet. Coppers and allied issues had a brief period of activity, and several new mediums, but the movement was only indifferently maintained.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 17—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Overnight developments in the Mexican situation imparted some heaviness to today's early trading, specialties yielding 1 to 2 points.

10:30 a.m.—The final session of the week opened with a further depreciation of quoted values, for which the more serious aspects of the Mexican situation were primarily responsible. Declines of a point were registered by Mexican Petroleum, United Fruit and Studebaker, with 2 points for Air Brake, while other specialties lost material fractions, together with United States Steel, Reading and St. Paul. Moderate gains were made by Beet Sugar, Inspiration Copper and Willys-Overland. Heaviness became more general later, Petroleum extending its loss to almost 3 points.

American securities were quietly supported at a lower level, and closed steady.

WALL STREET.

Close.—Selling of the usual week-end character, induced in part by the crisis in Mexican affairs and the railway labor problem, characterized today's dull session. Mexican Petroleum was the weakest stock, declining almost 3 points, with a full point for American Smelting. Among war issues, Air Brake, Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Westinghouse receded 1 to 2 points, with similar declines in motors an dobscure mining shares. St. Paul, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Illinois Central and Seaboard Air Line averaged 1 point loss, with more moderate declines in United States Steel and the metal group. Shipping issues furnished almost the sole exception to the lowering trend, United States Fruit gaining almost 3 points. The closing was heavy. Bonds were irregular.

BLESSING THE BAND

142nd Orderly Room Staff Too Near for Comfort.

Bands may be all right, and the orderly room staff of the 142nd has every regard for the finely-equipped and trained band of its battalion, but this morning some were using every adjective in the dictionary and a few which couldn't be found there to describe the band.

The band tent abuts on that in which the orderly room work is carried on, and the sweet strains of "Reminiscences of England" and other well-known melodies are wafted into the ears of the hard-working staff sergeants. This is not exactly helpful in making out battalion orders and doing other orderly-room work, but for a time at least conditions must remain as they are.

NOT SO TERRIBLE HERE.

The daylight saving bylaws have already landed many Ontario places into terrible confusion. Daylight saving is one of those things that everybody must participate in at once or else none at all.

CLINCHING HIS JOB.

[American Boy.]

During his first week at work in the crockery shop Sam had carelessly broken a large vase. On pay day he was called into the manager's office.

"Half of your $4 a week wages will be stopped," said the manager, "until you have paid for that $30 vase."

Sam grinned. "Well, sir," he remarked, "it looks like I'm sure of a steady job, anyhow."

TRUST HER NOT.

NEW YORK COTTON

[Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.]

New York, June 16.

Prices eased off a little, but closed steady with some covering towards the close on a report that the German chancellor had stated that he would neglect nothing to shorten the war. The weather map was cool and wet in many sections.

Spot people bought some July, also Wall Street and the south bought. New Orleans who sold early bought later. Local traders sold early on fair weather predictions in western belt, but in many cases covered later on.

It was a very narrow market and without feature. Its really a trading affair, pending further developments. Room traders are inclined to try for a turn now and then on the short side but big interests prefer purchases on declines, and some shrewd traders concur in this.

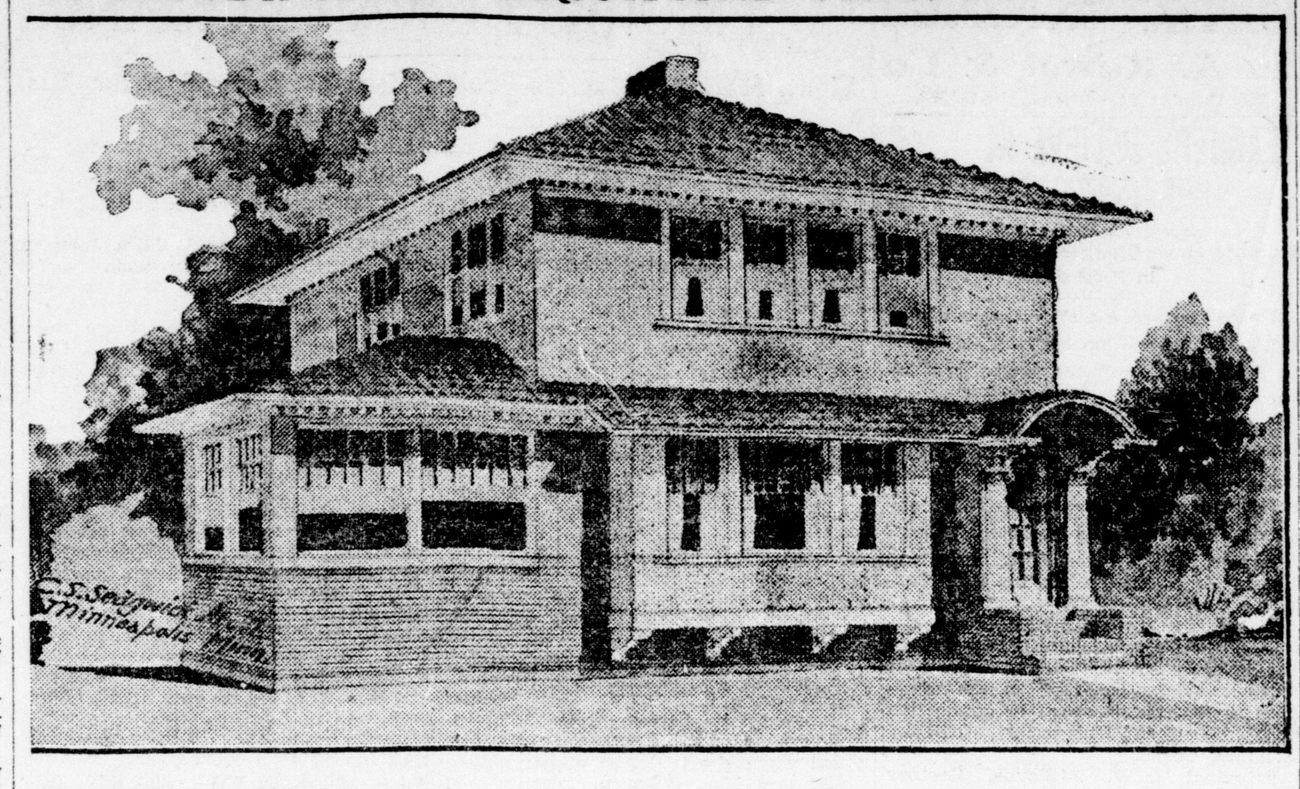
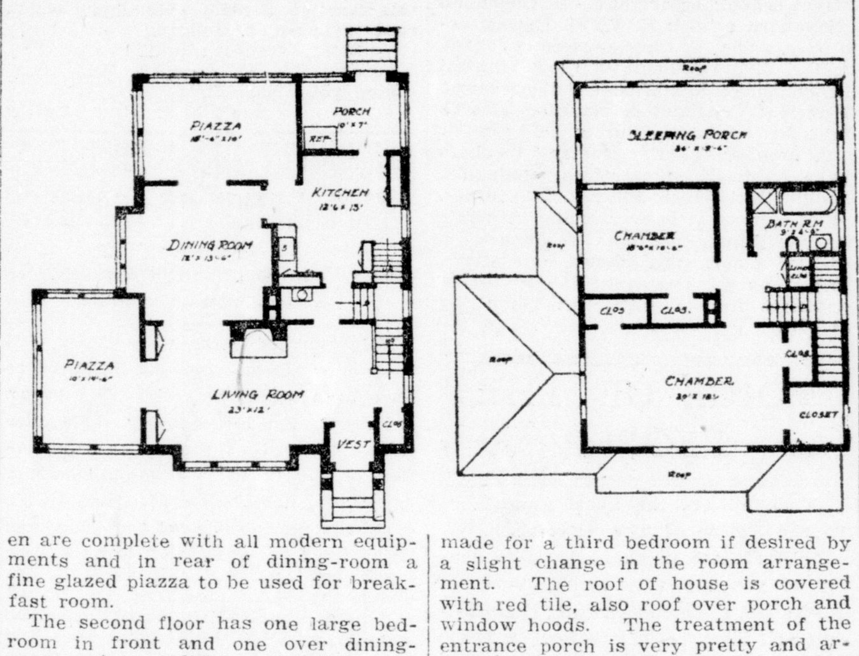
A COMBINATION BRICK AND CEMENT HOUSE



A GOOD dark "Oriental" brick for the base up to the main window sills and above finished in cement stucco is a fine combination, makes a warm house and a durable structure and at an expense that is not greatly increased over entire wood construction.

Such is the design submitted today. The house is 28 feet in width and 38 feet in depth of the main part, with the addition of a glazed sunroom on the left of the main living-room that is 11 feet in width and 16 feet in depth. The estimated cost of this house is $4,200 to $5,200, exclusive of heating and plumbing. The finish is thoroughly first class, with good hardwood floors, oak finish in first story and enameled finish in the second story. The arrangement is suited to an east or south frontage.

The entrance porch and vestibule is on the right corner, with brick steps and platform and tile floor in vestibule. The entire arrangement of the interior has been carefully studied and is exceptionally good. The main living-room across the front with staircase on the right, glazed sunroom on the left and wide fireplace on the long side, a wide projected grouped window with seat makes a very attractive room. The dining-room and kitchen are complete with all modern equipments and in rear of dining-room a fine glazed piazza to be used for breakfast room.



The second floor has one large bedroom in front and one over dining-room and in addition a large sleeping porch in the rear. Provision can be made for a third bedroom if desired by a slight change in the room arrangement. The roof of house is covered with red tile, also roof over porch and window hoods. The treatment of the entrance porch is very pretty and artistic and the whole exterior has a very attractive appearance.

QUARANTINE COVERS TERRITORY OF MILES

Smallpox Outbreak in Harwich Tp. Being Watched.

VACCINATION PROCEEDS

Practically Every House on Some Concessions Placed Under Ban.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENHEIM, June 16. — These are busy days for the M. O. H. of Harwich Township and Sanitary Inspector S. Fagan, in dealing with the smallpox outbreak in North Harwich. On Wednesday the M. O. H., Dr. A. R. Hanks, called to his assistance Dr. C. R. Charters, M. H. O. of Chatham, and together they made an inspection of all cases known up to that time.

A strict quarantine has been put in force in the Zion (McCully) neighborhood. Parties who had recently attended a funeral, church or school were all forbidden to leave their premises until permission is given from the M. O. H.

Nearly every house on several concessions is under quarantine for three or four miles.

The officers are busy on the job making inquiry and putting up cards.

Dr. Hanks began to vaccinate in the neighborhood yesterday. So far the cases which have developed are of a mild type.

The provincial department ordered the authorities to proceed without an officer coming from Toronto. It will be some days before they will know if they have the disease surrounded.

YOUTHFUL BURGLAR LEADS A CONSTABLE ON MERRY CHASE

Through City, Into County, Back to City, Plunges Into River.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 16.—A series of daring robberies were committed in the small hours of this morning by two amateur cracksmen, followed by an exciting chase.

The culprits are a local boy under the age of 14 years, and his friend, Melvin Dale, aged 19, of Montreal, who commenced working in Chatham yesterday.

Among the many places which the thieves entered were the office of Charles Kellar, insurance agent; McGeachy's Dairy, and E. R. Snooks' grocery. Money and large quantities of postage stamps and cigarettes were stolen.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the police were informed that the boys were carrying a basket full of cigarettes near the Pear Marquette station. P. C. McKinley arrested the younger boy, but Dale managed to make a get-away. Leaving his prisoner in the care of two citizens, the officer gave chase to Dale, who led him through the country for several miles, down concessions, over farms, eventually returning to the city after an hour's run.

To elude his pursuer, Dale plunged into the River Thames. It was only after the officer had fired his revolver in the air that he could persuade him that he was trapped, when he returned to the shore and gave himself up to the police officer.

TEACHERS BELIEVE IN "PREPAREDNESS" IDEA

Number Have Qualified as Officers and in First Aid.

Up to the present time the war conditions have had no appreciable effect in making difficult the securing of all the teachers of the high standard required for the city schools, including the new schools recently opened. The places have been temporarily filled of two teachers who are on leave of absence for overseas service, Lieut. Wheable of the 142nd Battalion, and Lieut. H. B. Galpin of the 63rd Battery.

In addition to his school duties the late Capt. Fair, assistant principal of the Princess avenue school, in the past winter devoted his time in the evenings to instruction work in connection with Western University Officers' Training Corps.

Principal M. W. Althouse, Rectory street school; Principal G. M. Copeland, Alexandra school; E. W. G. Bowes, assistant principal Chesley avenue school, and J. J. McWilliams of the Technical School, have qualified as lieutenants. Principal Copeland is planning also to take his captain's course.

A number of the women teachers have equipped themselves with St. John's Ambulance First Aid courses, and a course in home nursing, in addition, will prepare them to answer a call of emergency, should one come, to act as auxiliaries to the forces of graduate nurses, either at home or overseas.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Thanks from the Local Council.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

It affords me much pleasure to convey to you the very hearty vote of thanks and appreciation from the president and members of the London Local Council of Women for the kindness and courtesy, and may I add generosity, always extended to us through the columns of your paper, and which we can insure you has been most highly appreciated. Again expressing our gratitude and wishing The Advertiser continued success.

Yours truly,
EMMA YARKER.

A Lancashireman to Sir Sam Hughes.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

As a Lancashireman I have been waiting a little while, after reading Sir Sam Hughes' criticism of Lord Kitchener, for someone in higher position to tackle him for his gross injustice to a man who certainly was one in every sense of the word, which Sir Sam Hughes has proved he can never be. I suppose politics prevents a certain few getting after him as they should do, but politics do not bother me, so I just want to let the real Canadians know the whole truth what British people think of this swollen-headed man, Sir Sam. I have been in Canada six years, received letters and papers every week since I came here and know exactly what I am writing about. It must occur to every loyal Canadian, who is able to reason for himself that if Lord Kitchener spoke to Sir Sam at all regarding military matters, it was just only as a matter of courtesy. Sir Sam being a representative of Canadian soldiers, who, as a majority, are thought very highly of, both in England and France, but as to asking or taking his advice on military matters in the firing line—well I don't wish to use a common expression used out here, but we will call it "hot air," and that is all Lord Kitchener would think of Sir Sam's advice. Even if they did converse on military affairs, surely he should know better than to come out with his bragging talk.

I honestly think that every British-Canadian should show him the contempt he showed Kitchener.

CHAS. L. MADDICK.

Berlin, Ont., June 16, 1916.

Blame It on the Printer.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I am happy to acknowledge your kindness in correcting some of my vagaries in the wording and punctuation in my letter on cosmic consciousness in yesterday's Advertiser. Were is not for the feelings of the dear public it had been better to punish such decadence by publishing precisely each of the violations of propriety.

For instance, in the quotation from Herbert Spencer, the word "never" unfortunately reverses Spencer's meaning. It should read: "We are ever in the presence of an Infinite, Eternal Energy from which all things proceed." When asked to give the conclusion he had reached as a result of a life of scientific work, Spencer put it in those words. And the capitals which you omitted are noteworthy as being Spencer's own.

But why, O why, did you confirm my misuse of capital initials in "the Archbishop of Canterbury" while omitting the capitals to correct this, my form for "His Holiness the Pope," and, again, in the case of the "Light" that lighteth every man that cometh into the world?

In the Spencer paragraph the sense is altered by the omission of a comma after "a shining inlet to."

By the omission of the word "it," the sense is again changed in the second last paragraph, the last sentence of which should read: "The power to respond to it, the consciousness of it," etc.

And please substitute "clarify" for the word "state," making the third sentence in the fourth paragraph to read: "If the Canon can clarify these doctrines in a few words."

JOHN COTTAM.

FORMER LONDON OFFICER FIGURES IN WAR ROMANCE

Lieut. Macbeth Marries Society Girl of Detroit After His Return From the Front Wounded.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Detroit, June 17.—S. Olin Johnston, president of the Penberthy Injector Company, and his wife left three weeks ago for a four-month's trip in Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands.

Their daughter, Alice, was left at home because she had been planning for some time to join the Red Cross forces in England and become a nurse. While Miss Johnson was busy packing for the trip across the ocean, the door bell rang. Miss Johnson answered the ring.

In the doorway stood her former sweetheart, Lieut. George Kenneth Macbeth, who left Toronto with the 12th Battalion at the outbreak of the war. Lieut. Macbeth was not the same robust fellow he was when a prominent figure in Detroit's social festivities five years ago. A wound which he suffered a few months ago has caused him considerable trouble. But—

The old love between Miss Johnson and the wounded lieutenant was revived when she told him of her plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson received a telegram at Seattle Monday, which read, in part, as follows:

"Lieut. Macbeth and I wish to get married right away. Will you give your consent."

A reply came back immediately which read, in part, as follows:

"You have our consent and blessing."

Lieut. Macbeth and Miss Johnson were married Thursday noon in St. Paul's Cathedral, with only a few friends present. They left on the evening boat for Buffalo. From there they will go to New York, and will sail immediately for Ramsgate, England, where the groom's mother is working with the Red Cross. The bride will immediately take up her new work, and the groom will return to the front as soon as possible.

Lieut. G. Kenneth Macbeth is well known here, where he spent much of his time. He is a son of George Macbeth, Toronto, a well-known businessman of that city. Mrs. Worthington, Colonial Apartments, is his grandmother, and Mrs. (Dr.) Niven, an aunt. Miss Meta Macbeth, now in England in Red Cross work, is his sister.

When war broke out, Lieut. Macbeth was in London, and was given a commission in the 7th Regiment, and took his officer's course here. Not being attached, he went east, later sailing for England, where he was given an appointment. Some months ago he was wounded, and came to Canada. He spent several days with his grandmother about two weeks ago, going to Detroit where he met his bride to be.

NEIGHBORS DENY POLICE EXPLANATION OF "ROBBER"

Declare That Burglar Did Assault Aged Grosvenor Street Woman.

Neighbors of Mrs. Mary Ryan, 664 Grosvenor street, who was reported to have been assaulted and robbed by an unknown man last Sunday night, declared today that the police explanation of the "robbery" was all wrong. After the publication of Mrs. Ryan's story the police declared that they had found the money supposed to have been taken by the burglar in an envelope under the bed. Members of the department advanced the theory that the woman, who is 86 years of age, had dreamed the robbery and that when she awoke had fallen to the floor.

"That story is absolutely untrue," declared Mrs. Bibbings, 602 Grosvenor street, to The Advertiser. "There was a burglar."

"He stepped in ashes before he came into the house and left ashy footprints from the window to the bed. Mrs. Ryan gave him the envelope when he demanded money, but he apparently thought there was nothing in it. Those who saw the poor old lady after she went from the house know that she was attacked. Her clothing was almost torn off her, and there were marks of the man's fingers on her face."

FORMER 6TH BATTERYMAN SUCCUMBS IN ENGLAND

Bullet Wound, Received in Practice, Causes Death of Pte. Taylor.

Notification of the death of his son, Pte. Herbert Taylor, who died May 27 at West View, England, was received by D. S. Taylor of 1179 King street, this city.

His death was due to tuberculosis of the bones, superinduced by a bullet wound received some months ago while at target practice.

Although not a resident of the city, he made a practice of coming to London every summer and joining the 6th Field, Battery and accompanied it each year on its trip to Petawawa for training.

At the outbreak of the war he immediately volunteered for active service. He was first attached to the Royal Field Artillery, afterwards joining the navy.

He was discharged from the navy as unfit on account of his knee, and as the trouble grew worse he was taken into a home for convalescent soldiers under the charge of a Mrs. Avery, 3rd West View, England.

He was in his 23rd year, and is survived by his father and mother, four sisters—Mrs. A. B. Globle, Baltimore; Mrs. W. A. Frazer of Salem, Mass; Misses Jessie and Buelah at home, and two brothers—Leroy and Earle, both of this city.

WOMEN'S CORPS STARTS DISTRICT PUBLICITY WORK

City Campaign Being Wound Up Prior to Mass Meeting.

At the meeting of the Women's Emergency Corps this week, Mrs. A. A. Campbell, acting convener of the publicity committee, reported that the meetings organized to reach the women of the various churches are being continued, and that almost the entire ground has been covered in the city.

District publicity work has been started, with addresses to district Women's Institute conventions, which are being held this month, requests for speakers having come from the institutes themselves.

Miss Neelan, a gradute nurse, who has a thorough grasp of the aims of the corps, has been secured to assist in winding up the work in the city in preparation for the big mass meetings, and also to assist in the outside publicity work. The district Women's Institute convention held in Kingsville this week was addressed by her, while Mrs. A. A. Campbell spoke at a similar gathering in Ailsa Craig.

Mrs. L. M. Parsons, one of the publicity secretaries of the corps for military district No. 2, will be available to assist in No. 1 district in July.

AUDITORIUM.

"Kennedy Square," with Antonio Moreno, Charles Kent and Muriel Ostriche in prominent parts will be shown for the last times today. Commencing Monday, June 19, Miriam Nesbitt and Marc MacDermott are to be seen in William Hamilton Osborne's "The Catspaw." This powerful dramatic photoplay adapted from the novel of the same name comes from the Edison-Kliene Studios, "The Catspaw," is well named because as the story develops on the film, an actor who had agreed to act as a "double" for an employer, found he had been used as a dupe or catspaw while the man who hired him was robbing banks. By consenting to serve as a double, he stirred up trouble not only for himself, but also for a charming girl who had fallen in love with him.

In addition to the above extraordinary feature supplementary subjects in the shape of educational and comedy are incorporated in the program. "The Catspaw" will be shown three days.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the famous stage success, "The Great Divide," will be screened, featuring Ethel Clayton and House Peters.
