Turnout of Voters Light in Morning, But Rush Expected in Closing Hours.

Once again the people of London are picking their respresentatives for the municipal ship of state, and a remarkably good vote is being polled, considering that no contest is necessary for the mayor's chair.

Undoubtedly the money bylaws, more particularly the new city hall project, are tending to save the day with regard to a decent attendance at the polling booths. The proposed inditures, calling for a mandate from the property owners only, is having the desired effect. It is bring. ing them out to register their opin-

The court in Toronto is naturally conducted on a larger scale and with a more numerous staff than the local court, of which Rev. G. Q. Warner is the judge, but the methods outlined by Judge Mott are those which form the basis of the procedure in this city.

Judge Mott, according to his state-ment, shares with Judge Warner a reluctance to remove any boy or girl from their home unless there is no possibility of the home environment being corrected and improved.

In connection with the investigation of trained social workers into home conditions, a new and constantly-growing feature has become identified with the Toronto court, in the trac-

The agricultural section of the chamber, of which W. H. Porter is chairman, has been one of the staunchest and most insistent adstaunchest and most insistent advocates of the proposed system of distribution. Both Mr. Porter and Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, the newly-appointed president of the United Boards of Trade of Western Ontario, proclaimed themselves this morning permanent offices opened in all these cities with the exception of Toronto, where the work will be handled directly through the department.

Representatives have been appointed in Great Britain, in English and Scottish cities from the various home zones and the immigrants coming out will be sent direct to the home centers by these officials. The Hon. Mr. Martin, in reference to the new arrangement, stated that the government is assuring immigrants that employment is awaiting them in Ontario. He cabled a few days ago to the officers of the agent-general in London, England, to the effect that the province could absorb an unlimited supply of farm help. End of Crusade.

The move of the government is regarded with great satisfaction by the chamber of commerce, who see in it a partial fruition of their long crusade against the domination of Toronto as the only Ontario center of immigration. In the past, they say, it has been the custom of Toronto and other eastern points to select the pick of the newcomers from toronto and other eastern points to select the pick of the newcomers from the trains as they arrived, with the result that London, and, in fact, all Western Ontario, with its rich farm-ing country, was left in the cold with a more or less second quality of nelp.

They also hope that the minister of agriculture will make his immigraion officials in the province twelvemonths-in-the-year men and not restrict them to three or four months in the summer as has been the case in the summer as has been the case in the past. Mr. Porter said in this connection: "What is needed is a permanent official who will carry on the work all the year round. It is useless for a man to start placing immigrants in the spring when all the farm work comes with a winter will this year be satisfied to remain in the northern regions without taking its customary jaunt out taking its customary j farm work comes with a rush. there is any change to be made in the placing of men it comes at a inopportune time, and could much better be made in the winter when things are quiet. The idea of the agricultural section of the chamber of commerce is that the newcomers should be settled in the fall months. Then the official could keep in touch with the official could keep in touch with them all through the winter and by the time work commenced in the spring he would have them all satisfactorily placed on farms and with farmers who were

Rochester, Dec. 3.—The best way the modern minister has of reaching the city in which he works is through the medium of the daily press, at least Editor and Publisher so reports the remarks of the Rev. William Wallace Rose of the First Universalist Church of Rochester, N. Y., in a message delivered to a recent convention of Universalists.

Word was received in the city today that George Levitt, a former London boy and son of Mrs. M. Levitt, 338 1-2 Ridout street, is in the Buffalo Emergency Hospital suffering from a serious wound in the city to-day that George Levit, a former London boy and son of Mrs. Mrs. Stryker's brothers, wilbur Cain and Edward Cain of New York, and one sister, Mrs. Fred R. Dixon, also of New York. Mrs. Stryker's brothers and sister attended the funeral.

THOMAS J. GLOVER.

Thomas J. Glover, for 20 years a resident of Komoka, died yesterday at the home of his nephew, John H. Ellmwood avenue in Buffalo. He was walking along Sycamore street near

C. D. N. A., who, as an editorial news-paperman, watched Mr. Rose's church develop from a small congregation to a powerful factor in the religious life of Rochester. Mr. Rose is not a sensational man, but a scholarly minster, who enjoys the respect of his elerical associates, as well as of his wn people.

"The greatest friend of the city church is the daily press," declared Mr. Rose. "Editors know that church news is eagerly read. Now editors cannot send reporters to all your services. It behooves the preacher services. It behooves the preacher to be egotistical enough to believe he has said something of general interest, and to get that word to the city editor Sunday night. Typewrite your manuscript. Make it brief: a third of a column is read by more people than read a column. A two-inch single column ad is big enough. A two-inch double column enough. A two-inch double column ad is very satisfactory. Don't try to say too much. Use white space, Give your name and location and sermon topic. Don't waste space in telling people they are welcome, or that you have good music, or that seats are free. They will take that for granted if they read your ad Freeture your if they read your ad. Feature your own name. This advertising pays.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER SERVICE.

Wellington Street Methodist Church was filled to overflowing last night when special services for Father and Daughter were held, while the church was tastefully decorated by the girls who brought along Dad. The pastor, Rev. G. T. Watts.

The pastor, Rev. G. T. Watts, preached an eloquent sermon on "A Christian Girl," taking for his text Acts xii and xiii, the story of Peter's release from prison by Rhoda, a careful, active and useful Christian. The girl of today is every bit as pure as the girl of yesterday, but she is subject to temptations which if she is not careful robs her of her sweetness and purity, stated the pastor. He urged the young girls to be careful of their company, and not frequent places where temptations that are hard to resist might cause them to fall from that virtue of purity which makes them so loving in the eyes of man.

Mr. Watts read the poem of Guest, wherein the author holds aloft woman as one of the most precious treasures that man can have. man as one of the most precious treasures that man can have. Con-cluding his sermon the speaker said "I maintain that the girls of today are no more flappers than mother was when she was a girl."

The hymns were announced by Miss The hymns were announced by Miss Ella Watt: lesson by Ruby Wallace, while John Wallace led in prayer. Others taking part in the service were Edna Wardle, Fred Morris, Albert George, Mr. Livingstone and daughter Lecretia, George Kenny and daughter Norma.

The ushers were William Mitchell and daughter Ruby, Steven Merritt and daughter Olive.

Rev. J. T. Cosby Morris Declares Strong Grow Old Because of Fear.

INHERITANCE OF WAR

In a sermon delivered to the congregation of the Askin Street Methodist Church last night, Rev. J. T. Cosby Morris declared timidity was the weakness of the nation and that that characteristic was driving men to age when they might be young. Age, according to Mr. Morris, must not be measured by the clock, the years, or the world which travels years, or the world which travels around the sun, but by vitality and the soul. To be afraid is to be old, declared the speaker.

"Osler's Death Line," was the subject of Mr. Morris' sermon last evening. He said:

"I know it is the purpose of the Eternal for the young people to have a good time. They are meant to enjoy themselves during the days of the latest the said that the said joy themselves unring the days their youth, but they should meditate. For white-haired men of today there is no joy. Young people enjoy the sun now, but in a few years they will be old. There will be an eclipse of the sun they enjoyed during their youth. The younger people think it will be as bright tomorrow as it is today. Older people think it will not. Young men rejoice today in the strength of their limbs, full vigor and action. Tomorrow they are old, decrepit, bent double and aged. They have sold their pep and vigor in sin. The psychology of the 20th century teaches that theme and the reasons for strong people falling down is fear.

"Timidity and temerity is weakness of the nation; it is driving men to age when they might be young. The inheritance of our race has been a fearful one. Years of war, bloodshed and pestilence have instilled into us that quality of fear. The glory which comes from trust in the Lord is the only way to overcome fear. It is worth while getting courage, but only when it is come of God."

The speaker cited instances of famous men who had overcome fear.
"Edison, inventor of the gramophone and many other scientific ma-chines which have so greatly aided mankind, had one object in view. He mankind, had one object in view. He was going to overcome the fear that men have. By constant labor, study and power of the mind he accomplished his object.

"I do not know of a better opportunity than the present for young men to master the intellectual. The night schools the universities and

Engaged Couples Cancel Weddings

Associated Press Despatch. London, Dec. 3. — Engaged couples whose marriages have been announced for various dates have been "thinking things over," with the result that fifteen such marriages were cancelled last week. This practice has been growing of late, according to a London registrar, who stated he had never known such a year for cancelled marriages.

The discovery of some defect in character of the prospective bride or bridegroom is given as the chief reason for the change of heart, but the difficulty of getting possession of a house or apartment is another contributory cause.

Decision of Victoria Conference Placed Before Local Clubs by Maple Leaf Editor.

WESTERN FILMS SHOWN

Outstanding features of the trans Canada tour of Ontario Canacian club delegates in September and a summary of the important decisions of the national conference at Victoria were presented to members of the London men's and women's Canadian clubs at the Central Collegiate Saturday evening by S. K. Smith, editor of The Maple Leaf, official Canadian Club paper. Mr. Smith's talk was illustrated by motion picture films, one of which showed the delegates in enjoyment of a day's outing at Brewster's Ranch, near Banff, where a beef was barbecued for their dinner and novel wild west stunts put on for their entertain-Other films illustrated Banff, where the delegates were fellow guests with the Prince of Wales. Scenery in the Selkirks and the River Canyon. One film was devoted to the beauties of Victoria, the convention city, which were so greatly enjoyed by the delegates.

Mr. Smith advised the local clubs of the recommendation of the conference with reference to a national ectureship scheme, by which at least four speakers of the very highest calibre would be brought from Great Britain and rented across Canada, as was done by the National Educational Council with Sir Henry Sir Michael Sadleir and others. Major F. J. Ney, secretary council, is to be entrusted with the negotiations, and a fund is to be placed at his disposal, made up of a contribution of 10 per cent of the membership of such clubs as may accept the recommendation of the conference. It had been suggested that in smaller cities, if the Canadian clubs were unable to contribute the required amount, that they might est other organizations, in order that their community might not be ived of the opportunity of hearing such able speakers.

The new national executive of Can-clubs, according to Mr. Smith, is entrusted this year with the task f investigating thoroughly the possibility of having generally adopted standardized and uniform version of "O Canada," The London Women's Club have been using Campbell's version, beginning:

nada, beloved country thou," and this was read at the Victoria onference. There was strong support, however, for the Weir version which the refrain is:

O Canada, we stand on guard for O Canada, we stand on guard for

The Canadian Authors' Association has finally pronounced this the most acceptable version, and Mr. Smith said that the fact of this wording being used in the schools of several provinces would count very strongly for it's final adoption, if there ever really was a standardized version. the evidences of pioneering in New Ontario, impressions of Winnipeg, n and Edmonton and of the most delightful day spent by the delegates at Jasper Park Lodge and appearance. environs in the famous game re serve, which was the property of the Canadian people. Here was a ter-ritory, 4,400 square miles in extent, almost as large as Wales, where wild animals looked upon man as a friend. Colonel Rogers, the efficient super-intendent, had told the Ontario people that the park contained 10,000 Big Horn mountain sheep and 5,000 Rocky Mountain goats, while the bears were so numerous and so friendly as to become a nuisance to campers by pilfering their supplies. This was the of which Sir Arthur Conan

"But the last and best and sweetest is the ride by hill and dale,
With the packer and the pack horse on the Athabaska trail, Ever more my heart is with you; ever more till life shall fail. I'll be out with pack and packer on the Athabaska trail."

In concluding, Mr. Smith said that something of the heart and spirit of the Ontario Canadian Club members who had taken this trip would always respond to the call of the west. He had found in eastern cities either a very vague conception of the west, or a tendency on the part of business men to think of western cities only in terms of potential markets. "Times were good, or times were bad" in the west, and they let it go at that. Surely all Canadians had a common responsibility to study and to take their share in solving the problems of all parts of Canada. While the visitors were duly impressed with evidences of the great material progress and resources of the west, yet they had come back with a new and ter vision of what it meant to be Canadians. They had found this not much in "the sentinel mountains and the sunkissed prairies," but in the consecrated spirit of western men women, through contact with the Canadian clubs in all the larger cities of the west. Truly, as Sir George Foster had said at Winnipeg, they could now believe:

There is a God in Heaven, whether we forget it occasionally or not. There is a divine purpose, which we in our finite records of life cannot value at its true worth. There is a mental and spiritual reserve, which is far better than material possessions. Things material are only good in proportion as they minister to the life of the man, the character of the man, the width of his mind and the purity of his soul."

EAST IS FAVORED.

The report of Engineer C. A. Curd ground water expert, who has been conducting a survey of water possibilities in the vicinity of London will likely be preesnted at the meeting of the public utilities commission Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Curd finished his survey early last week, and the report, covering some 50 pages of typewritten paper has been in course of preparation since that time. According to Mr. Curd, his report will show that the hopes of finding a sufficient supply of well water in London to last many years were well founded and that in his survey he located more than enough to supply a city of 100,000

As far as can be learned, the main supply is in the eastern section of the city, Pottersburg, and is good, clean water, such as the city is now using. Mr Curd will be at the meet ing to briefly outline his work. The last regular meeting of the 1923 board of education will be held Thursday afternoon, and it is ex nected that all the work remaining ndone will be finished in order tha the special meeting held after Christ mas will be merely a meeting of old and new trustees.

According to the chairmen of the various committees there is not much to be done, as the board has kept well up with its work during the year. Certain recommendations may matters, secondary schools, salaries, etc., but it is un likely that the ..ew body will be committed to anything of a drastic nature by this year's board.

This will be the last meeting for Thomas Rowe, who for 10 years has In preliminary remarks, Mr. Smith sketched briefly the out-going trip of the Ontario party by C. N. Importance of Voter's Position.

The responsibility of municipal citizenship was emphasized by Rev. Dr. William Beattie in a sermonette at the First Presbyterian Church last evening. Dr. Beattiue urged the members of his congregation to analyze the issues of the election today and to vote conscientiously with a full appreciation of the responsibility they are called upon to assume. they are called upon to assume.
"It is of vital interest to everyone that we have in our council and on the board of education men who are above reproach," Dr. Beattie said. "It would be worse than folly to intrust the expenditure of sums aggregating $2,300,000 to men who are without principle. I am not insinuating that such men are offering themselves, for there are good, better and best candidates. The best candidates are the ones entitled to the confidence of this city."

Dr. Beattie added that every citizen should ask himself before voting whether the man he votes for is capable of giving his best efforts to the city; whether he is honest, industrious, and whether he represent the finest type of thought among the candidates.

Women, the speaker declared, must exercise their voting privilege to a much greater extent if the reforms large expenditures of money. Each citizen should ask himself the question as to the necessity and wisdom of these expenditures. "There is little doubt that the city employees deserve something better than the offices in which they now work," Dr. Beattie said, "but in my opinion the fact that no alternatives are presented in the city hall bill is are presented in the city hall bill is a mistake. Bergamo, Dec. 2.—Six hundred dead, three villages destroyed and fifty square miles made desolate. This was the toll of the flood from Gleno Lake when the great dyke guarding it collapsed releasing the irresistible force of the water which, bursting forth in mad fury, carried all before it. It swept over the hills and down into the valley a distance of fifteen miles to Lake Iseo which checked the momentum of the vast stream, arresting its course.

THE ADVERTISER—It is highly desirable that London voters should make sure that the men they elect to the public utilities commission are public ownership is going to stand or fall according to the convictions of the men who make up the boards of publicly owned enterprises, Messrs, Philip Pocock and Jared Vining have shown where they stand on the matter; they have been tried out and found faithful. A sudden conversion to the idea of public ownership for election purposes is a dangerous thing. THE FREE PRESS—If all the elvic bodies were only managed and operated in as businesslike a manner and with as little fuss as the Public Utilities Commission, there would be little kick on the part of the ratepayers. In the opinion of the Free Press, Messrs. Vining and Pocock deserve indersement at the polls on the part of the electors.

THE ECHO—The two retiring utilities commissions, (Mesers. Pocock and Vining), who are seeking another term of office, are practically sure of re-election, as nothing has happened in the departments the board controls during the past two years to impair the confidence in them which the electors have time and again expressed, and no one will be surprised if they are again returned by large majorities. . . The opposition to re-election of the two commissioners appears to have risen not because of a lack of efficiency in the operation of the utilities is better managed than has been that of the council or board of education.

Problem To Be Studied.

I think we should give some time to studying how to make the best of our faces and figures, come to a decision and then forget about it. There is surely nothing more boring and unattractive than a self-conscious and affected woman. But the very feeling of looking the best one is able is the surest way of securing look of the sure is the surest way of securing lack of self-consciousness. In other words, study yourself while alone, try to improve whatever you think needs improvement, but don't let the effort be noticeable to others.

Urges Parents to Implant Only Strong Thoughts

Suggesting Failure or Evil to Your Children's Minds Is Like Feeding Poison to Their Bodies-As the Parents Think, So Are the Children. Among my acquaintances is a woman who has a pretty little flapper daughter. The girl is a good little girl, as playful and innocent as a kitten.

Children's Shelter, is being planned by the London Life Club, which meets to jazz, and joyride, and have a good time just as thousands of other girls of her age and class are doing. All of this greatly outrages the mother, who tells her daughter that, n her day, decent girls didn't paint their faces, nor shimmy, and that they stayed at home evenings and read good books, instead of running around with japanned-haired boys. And then she winds up her preachnent by accusing her daughter of doing things which she does not do, and prophesying that she will come to a bad end.

Of course, it is mother love and mother anxiety that makes this woman keep continually before the girl's eyes the fate of those that follow the road of pleasure. It never enters her head that she may be precipitating on her child the catastrophe she dreads, but that is precisely what she is doing.

She is making the girl feel that she is sophisticated and worldly-wise—one of the wild, wild women. She is giving the flavor of forbidden fruit to what would otherwise be harmless little amusements. She is making the girl reckless, because she is making her believe that she is under suspicion and is being talked about. Worst of all, she is firmly implanting in the girl's mind the idea that she is expected to go wrong. And if anything in the world will put the skids under a girl, it is for her own mother continually to impress upon her that she When you observe the dealings of parents with their children the thing at which you wonder most is that fathers and mothers never seem to realize the power of suggestion. Yet it is one of the most potent forces in the world, and one that can be directed with almost uncanny results to the

It is hardly too much to say that as the parents think so are the children. It is the fixed idea that the parents stamp indelibly on the plastic childish mind that determines the fate in life of the man or woman. You can take a delicate child and literally think it into health or sickness.

If the mother keeps the child forever reminded that it can't do what ther children do because of its poor heart; that it can't eat this or that because of its bad digestion; and that it mustn't be crossed because it is so nervous, that child will grow up into a neurotic invalid. But if the mother impresses on it the thought that it is getting well, and is going to be strong and healthy, nine times out of ten it will overcome the weakness with which it was threatened.

All of us have seen people actually bring upon themselves diseases that they believed they had inherited. They had had it impressed on them from their infancy that they were bound to die of consumption because all the Smiths had tuberculosis. Or that they were doomed to perish with cancer, because cancer was in the Jones family. Or to have rheumatism because the Simkins were all rheumatic, and they actually died of what they believed to be inherited diseases that science has proved not to be

It is tragic to think how many parents have killed the children they loved by putting the death thought upon them, and by making them believe that they were doomed, and that there was no use in their trying to be strong and well. It is still more tragic to think of the millions of people who are failures in the world because their fathers and mothers have sapped their courage, and slain their initiative by implanting in their minds the conviction that they were dolts that had not the ability to succeed.

Once establish the inferiority complex in a child's mind, and it is done for. It accepts the belief that it has no ability to do ngs, and it attempts nothing. It makes no struggle to rise. It slumps into the humble position that its parents have assigned it.

This is why perpetual fault-finding with a child intensifies its faults. To continually nag Johnny about his awkwardness makes him still more awkward. To be forever calling attention to Tom's shyness makes him shrink more and more out of sight. To fret at Bob's dullness makes him feel that there is no hope for a boy who

Many men never have the courage to demand their just deserts and take the places to which they are entitled in business and society because they were made self-conscious in their childhood. They had it so impressed on their minds that they were blundering louts, and stupid fools that they shrank within themselves, and never had the nerve to push their fortunes.

And just as you can make a child a failure by holding the thought of its inferiority before it, you can do much to make it a success by holding the thought of achievement before it. We unconsciously strive to be what the people about us expect of us. If Jimmie knows that he has a reputation for beautiful manners, he will act like a gentleman. If Tom knows that you expect him to make a mark at school or business, he will try to make good. If Mary knows that you do not think it possible for her to be anything but sweet and innocent, she is not likely to tarnish your ideal.

The power of suggestion is so far-reaching in its influence that fathers and mothers should be careful how they use it, and avoid implanting a weak thought, an evil thought, a thought of failure in their children's minds as they would avoid giving them poison. ### When the Farmers Meet.

Programs are out announcing the annual conventions of the various United Farmer organizations, to be held in Toronto commencing on December 11, and every section of the country should see to it that it has representation at the gathering.

The farming community of Ontario has many things to discuss just now, and they should be well discussed and thoroughly discussed. The position on the farm is such that it is imperative that the farmers come together as much as possible. Everything possible should be done to make it easy for them to gather in order to put their ideas and their problems together, and then seek to see where common effort can bring about the solution.

There will no doubt be something said about banking before the session is over in Toronto. There should be. It is not necessary to go very far from London to find a barn that is half finished, and cannot be completed because the farmer's money is in the Home Bank. He was depending on that barn to house his crops this year.

Farmers are not satisfied with the present arrangements for marketing their stock. A resident of the Komoka district, speaking to The Advertiser a few days ago, told of his efforts to get some cash together ollowing the Home Bank smash. That was the only bank at Komoka at that time, and many accounts were tied up there. This farmer had a lot of pigs just in shape for the market, and he watched the reports quite carefully, and decided that he capital. His own story is:

"By the time we get our stock away from the farm, to the yards and down to Toronto, some time has road is nearly two millions greater elapsed, and we have no way of than during the month of October knowing how much other stock is 1922. on the way at the same time as ours. When my pigs got to the stock yard: for 10 months of 1923 total $12,021,there were too many of them there, 285, as compared with a net of and the market sagged just enough to make me sell my stuff at a loss. 1922. Now, why should that sag in the market take place? Did the man in of October show a gain of $3,317.000 the city, buying his bacon, ham or over the preceding month of Seppork, get word of it when he came tember. to purchase? I don't think he did, and I would give a good deal to quite properly have gone under the in know who got that money that I was auctioneer's hammer; bankrupt, entitled to. The old story of supply and demand does not explain it at

That is a question the farmers might very well discuss when they its own fixed charges. get together. There are undoubtedly inequalities, such as this one case to put public ownership on the plane points out, and they exist in other it should occupy. We have heard lines. When he mentions $50 as the rental of "working class homes" he uses a phrase that this country should never use or recognize. "Working class homes" takes the community and chops it into sections. Even if there is a tendency in that direction in Canada it should be resisted. There are homes rented in Canada for too much money Houses that we put up some years ago, in which the investment was not large, are keeping step with the rates asked for those built in highcost years. But allowing for that, the statement of $50 as the Canadian rent for what he calls a small home is far too high.

The whole story will receive considerable notice in the Old Land, and will tend to picture Canada as a place of robbing traders. The real answer is that it was the experience of an Englishman in Canada who knew nothing at all about making a dollar get out and go to work. Any good Canadian housewife could take this stranger's purse, buy his outfit for him and hand him back a goodly amount, as compared to the sum he squandered on himself.

Dear sir: Being a constant reader of your valued paper for the last two years, I feel like many others. I send my heartiest congratulations to The Advertiser upon attaining the anniversary of its 60th birthday. Being a good strong Liberal paper, the best in the country and it always has in the country and it always nas stood four-square in the advocacy of all things that are good and right. Whilst being very aggressive in fighting many political battles, it has always been fair to its opponents, which makes it well-beloved by all which makes it well-beloved by all good citizens, irrespective of politics. THE HONOR OF COURAGE. Be strong and of good courage.—Deuteronomy xxxi., 6.

Courage is an honorable virtue Men have always loved and praised it. It lends a glory and a splen dor to the life in which it dwells.

The world delights in heroism, even in its rudest forms and lowes manifestations. Among the animals we create a sort of aristocracy on the basis of courage, and recognize, in the fearlessness of the game beasts and birds and fishes, a claim to rank above the timorous, furtive, spiritless members of creation. In man bravery is always fine,

A daring foe is respected, and though we must fight against him, we can still honor his courage, and almost forget the conflict in our admiration for his noble bearing. The enemy who slinks and plots and conceals -makes traps and ambuscades, seeks to lead his opponent into dangers which he himself would never dare to face-is base, serpentine, and con-

It is this that men have loved to read in the strange, confused annals war-deeds of self-forgetful daring which leap from the smoke and clamor of battle and shine in the sudden making of splendid names.

It is the quality which levels youth with age, gives to woman the force of manhood, equalizes the peasant with the noble, and consumes all outward distinctions in the flame of glory.

Granites Canada's Olympic Team Available For Game Here

Granites Almost Certain To Open Arena Opposed To All-Stars From District

Secretary Hewitt Assures Local Men Team Will Come on Guarantee.

MAKING EXPENSES

"Granites will come to London if date can be arranged which will fit in with the champions' schedule of games before sailing. However, 'Granties are playing these games to make expenses for their trip to represent Canada at the Olympic games so it will have to be a straight business proposition." Such was the statement, Secretary Hewitt of the O. H. A., made to Chairman Jack Greer of the L. A. A. A. hockey sub-committee at the O. H. A. meeting in Toronto on Saturday.

As no mention was made as to whom Granties would play it is presumed that this part of the arrangement would be left to the local committee. Mr. Hewitt did not make any suggestions regarding another senior team nor apparently did he attempt to pooh-pooh the idea of a Western Ontario all-star line-up being unable to give Granites a game

Two-Barrelled Chance. The two-barrelled chance of helpteam to France and of getting a peek at senior hockey would certainly put the first big strain on the arena. It would whet the local fans' appetite for not only the season's bill already planned, but as well for a shot at senior hockey another year.

The fact too, that from the direction of Toronto have come faint echoes of derisive laughter at the mere suggestion that a team of senors and intermediates gathered from the pastoral regions of Western Ontario would be able to give Granites game, has probably got Western ntario fans somewhat riled, an din a state of mind where they would be vastly interested in seeing Granites prove themselves so superior. Stratprove themselves so superior. Strat-ford, Woodstock, Sarnia and London would be represented on an all-star team and from these four places, it is believed a team could be selected that would give the Curlers a real argument. At least a good section of Western Ontario and London is willing to believe the trick could be done.

Three Reasons. A committee would have little difficulty in rounding out the team.

Most of the players would be willing to take part for at least three reans; to help Granites out in their expenses; test Western Ontario tal-ent out against the dominion champions and lastly, give hockey a rousing send-off in London.

The local hockey committee will suggest that the local juniors and intermediates play a preliminary exhibition game.

Down the Line

The rather poor attendance, from a local standpoint, at the intermediate inal rugby game over at Tecumseh Park Saturday indicates how assiduously rugby still needs to be cultivated in this man's town.

Toronto will have nearly 10,000 hockey players in action this season nost of these playing out of doors, and including everything from kindergarten up. Hamilton is having a hockey revival and a siege of repentance for having so long neglected the development of hockey there in favor of importation. And London is doing nicely, too, if the program keeps going Hamilton's idea was forced very forcibly on the city's attention. Tigers, who almost won the senior championship last year, are practically scattered to the four winds. Home talent may not look as good at times, but it sticks longest.

Incidentally, it might be remarked that Hamilton hockey outside the pro. ranks will be practically governed by a body very similar to the L. A. A. A., except that so far it is concerned with hockey activities entirely. But t is centralization.

Dundas had possession on their 30-yard line, plunged for a five-yard gain, then were held on a shift play and lost the ball the next down.
Perry was sent through for a gain of five yards, Red Wilson, who made gains on every attempt all through the game, gained the remainder of the yardage to put Sarnia on Dundas' 10-yard line. Karn was held up at center on a criss-cross play. Cowan essayed an onside, but Sarnia wings couldn't get through in time to prevent Wright's squeezing over his own line and putting the ball on Dundas 3-yard crease out of danger. However, the results came in the next quarter when Dundas was forced to kick to Karn, and the Sarnia half got away for his brilliant run. It was not the longest of the day, as Mc-Phedran from back of the Sarnia line galloped up to midfield in the second quarter, but was called back to the Sarnia 1-yard line on interference. The last point came after Sarnia had begun to show a real edge on the line, making yards on two occasions before Red Wilson retired with an

AMBTON COUNTY PIONEER

Special to The Advertiser.

Petrolia, Dec. 2.-Thomas Steadman, one of the oldest, if not the oldest, residents of Lambton County, passed away at his home on the town line of Plympton Saturday. He was born within a mile of the present practically lived within two miles of his birthplace all his life. He had cleared up in all over 1,000 acres of land. He was the eldest son of the late Robert Steadman and Mary Ann Oliver, and claimed to be the fourth white child born in the township of Plympton. His grandfather was born in Ireland, and in coming to Canada was stationed at the port of Sarnia in a military capacity.

Owing to his father's lameness Mr

Steadman took charge of the family business at 13 years of age. He married at 24, and lived at the old home for years. They moved to Enniskillen, then to Wyoming, where he resided three years, and then moved to the present farm, which is known as the Steadman Homestead.

The late Mr. Steadman was a nunicipal veteran, having served or the Enniskillen council for 16 years as reeve and deputy reeve, and by virtue of his office was also a county councillor. He was a staunch mem-ber of the Methodist Church.

He is survived by six sons, Rev. Thomas of Lambeth, Joseph R. and David M. of Petrolia, F. Ellerby and Willsur of the town line, and Roy of Thorold, and four daughters, Mrs. W. B. Smith, Petrolia; Mrs. A. J. McKenney, Woodstock; Mrs. Adam

Clark, Woodstock, and Mrs. John Wilson, town line; two brothers, William of Pidgeon, Mich., and Albert of Bad Axe, Mich., and one sister, Mrs. Cornelius Medcalfe of Glenrae. The funeral will be held on Monday from the nomestead, with interment at Hillsdale Cemetery.

On the reflective mind of the serious seeing the dramatization of the Book month of las year. of Job by players of Stuart Walker's Portmanteau Theatre.

The essential application today of the moral of this old story attributed to the philosophical thinking of Im Moses, and the wealth of colorful ma- Sal terial contained in the Bible that Ex yet remains to be brought to the full Su apprehension of most of us through the medium of such artistic players

Not only was the presentation of this grandly serene allegory, so full of complete and absolute faith in the power and omnipotence of the Creator, a practically flawless demonstration of the art of the theatre, but it was also a revelation ch, with its vivid, intensely living force and humanity, offered a story told 1,500 years before Christ, with this twentieth century psychology thinly veiled in the flowing robes and bears it out, for reading the revised version shows that the tale is not in any vital way different from Mr. Walker's production, the Book of Job ceases to be the misconceived tale so often the subject of those easily sociable remarks concerning Job's comforters, the poorness of Job's turkey and the sufferings of Job. It becomes instead, under the quick urge of the dominant personality of George Somnes, who takes the part of Job, and who cannot be praised too highly for his work in this role, the tremendously human story of an intense, conquering, kingly man, who, after experiencing the comfort of material success and the abject weariness and cynical atti-tude towards God following on sufferings unspeakable, at last reaches a divine and contented philosophy toward his Creator, and by his achieve-ment points the moral that Moses, the supposed author of the story, intended to convey.

The prologue and the epilogue of the Book of Job are related to the audience by two figures, the Red and the Blue narrator as they are styled in the program, brilliantly garbed set in two niches on either side of the stage who, speak, one might almost call it intone the early and the last respectively. last passages of the story. For this work requiring the finest elocution the two members of the company Genevieve Addleman as the Red figure and Judith Lowry as the blue narrator are to be highly congratulated on the excellence of their effort in these difficult parts. Every word they spoke was given perfect enunciation and to every line was bestowed its full value in the text. When the curtain goes up the story of Job is carried on from the time when he is visited in the desert outside the city of Uz, by his three friends to the time when hearing

Clad in the torn and soiled rags that had come to be his whole estate Job is seen squatting alone in the desert bemoaning his lot and the death of his sons and daughters. On the arrival of his three friends, Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar, who by the way were content to wait for seven days before they spoke to the demented sufferer, Job enters on a violent and cynical harangue on the inefficacy of God in protecting the man who had followed protecting the man who had followed so narrowly his guidance and his

Repentance Comes. Later on come the passages of violent criticism with each of his friends in turn, interspersed with insults to each of them, and the inevitable eager childish appeal to them to return and not leave him alone in his misery. Flood of Offerings Result in Higher Prices on New York Market.

New York, Dec. 3.—Prices fluctuated uncertainly early in the afternoon. In a general way leading speculative issues such as the steels, Studebaker, American Can and Baldwin, lost ground, while the mail order and merchandise shares, also several of the oils and dividend-paying railroads worked higher.

New York, Wall Street, Dec. 3.—Noon—Higher prices brought forth a flood of offerings which caused the market to become reactionary before noon. Baldwin, Davison Chemical and United States Cast Iron Pipe each dropped about 2½ points, while American Can. Schulte, Royal Dutch, Producers and Refiners and Pan-American yielded 1 to 1½. Previously, the food, motor, motor accessories and foreign oil issues, together with a wide assortment of specialties, had advanced 1 to 3 points. New high records were established during the first hour by Krestne at 295, National Supply at 65%, and Computing Tabulating and Recording at 85. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

At the organization of the High School Second Form Literary Society the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Miss Shaw; president, Frank Marsh; vice-president, Leila Stuart; secretary, Jean Symington; program committee, A. Lester, R. Campbell and J. Baylis.

A mock trial was staged by the society with this cast: Judge C. L. Trusler; plaintiff, N. McCahill: accused. I. Garrett; plaintiff's lawyer, G. Walden; accused's lawyer, W. Moffat. The accused was finally let off with a warning.

No Wild Geese.

Stanley Johnson and Glen Rawlings, the champion hunters of last year, state that although the feed is plentifyl and the weekter every wind for the week, these figures, however, not including approximacy, 7,000,000 bushels taken out on the night of Nov. 30. There was a deciline in all grain stocks with the exception of oats, which showed an increase of about 100,000 bushels. If the heavy receipts are maintained from the west, which have averaged 2,000,000 bushels a week recently, the elevators will be filled to capacity early in January, it is anticipated. Some grain will still go down by water, and meliorated by boats coming here for winter storage. If the number of boats seeking storage is large it might be possible to keep the elevators from being filled until the end of January.

Everything the Farmer Trades In

Local Market

Two loads of hay and one solitary load of wheat comprised the Monday offering on the local square. The ambitious wheat merchant sold his little lot for $1.05 a bushel, and the men with the hay got $12 and $13, respectively. The market was empty, as is generally the case on Monday, and the market clerk's pigeons, in ever diminishing numbers, took possession of the wilderness. Grain, Per Bushel.

PROVISIONS

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Dec. 3. — Butter higher; firsts, 46c to 48c.
Eggs unchanged; firsts, 44c to 47c.

A First Mortgage on revenue producing Real Estate is one of the oldest, safest investments known. The disadvantage, from the average investor's point of view, is that the investment is for a fixed term and cannot be sold, except at a substantial sacrifice, should the need for money arise.

This disadvantage is overcome by good First Mortgage Bonds such as are issued by the Keefer Realty Corporation, Limited. There is a market for such Bonds, and resides they are good collateral.

We are, therefore, pleased to offer for investment the 6½% 20 Year First Mortgage Bonds of the Keefer Realty Corporation, Limited.

These Bonds are secured by a mortgage on a modern store and office building in Montreal, located at the corner of St. Catherine and Mackay Streets. The value of this property is in excess of $1,250,000. The net earnings from rentals, after paying all taxes and other charges, are estimated at 2½ times Bond interest requirements.

A liberal Sinking Fund provides for retirement of Bonds so that any depreciation of the property will be more than offset by the reduction of the First

We have a few of these Bonds to sell, and offer them in $500 and $1,000 denominations at

Toiletries of Individuality—Yardley's

The delicate fragrance of lavender has long been associated with feminine charm and daintiness. It has remained for the English house of Yardley to offer a complete range of fine toiletries in lavender -powders, creams, bath salts and toilet water. Purity, delicacy, and the haunting perfume of a garden full of old-fashioned flowers are combined in Yardley's Toilet Preparations.
