How time flies! It is ten years since the Scribe of the Reporter first started to write up the "Annals of the Hunt." Year after year, the story has been told in plain, unvarnished style, and year after year the tale has grown harder for him to undertake.

However, we promised our readers that, all going well, we would recount the incidents of the trip for their information, edification, and amusement on our part, and in compliance with our promise, we this week start what we trust will be a readable account of the most successful hunt ever indulged in by the Reporter Hunt Club. The party of 1898 was made up as follows:

Charles Stagg, Brockville, the president of the Club, will retain his old sobriquet of "The Butcher," from the fact that he was, from his early training as a practical butcher, better qualified to properly dress the game than any other member of the party.

Dr. D. A. Coon, Elgin, the vice-president, also seconded the president in the discharge of the honor of controlling the movements of the gang in camp and in the woods. His cognomen will be simply "Doc," by which name he was usually addressed by other members of the Club.

Edward A. Geiger, Brockville, secretary-treasurer, will be known as "Ed" for short. His exploits will figure largely in the annals of the hunt, and rightly so, for besides the usual man at corresponding and financing for the party, his unerring aim and keen sportsmanship made him rank with the best men of the party in securing the lion's share of the game and fish achieved.

Phil Halladay, Elgin, whose title of "Master of the House" is a misnomer in former years, won fresh laurels on this trip by the sagacious manner in which he found the lair of game and managed to get the dogs started in a very short time after entering the woods. His old nickname of "the Machine Gun" will cling to him during the many and varied scenes in which he took an active part.

Marsh Ripley, "The Fish Boy," also from the little inland town of Elgin, was cooking a "banquet" as he would always call it, but he excelled in always being first to the table at meal-time as well as first to get the paste-boards around a supper was served on a tray after the order came to turn in for the night.

Len Cossitt, "the Rabbit Hunter" from the town at the foot of the Thousand Islands, was always the last one down to the table for meeting and the last to get up, but he had a happy faculty of making all within reach of his assist in furnishing him with his quota of venison or fried cake. He, however, always impressed his companions with his good nature, as he would always add to his request, "if you don't mind, please pass the cake or sugar bowl."

Monday, Dec. 12.—They made thirteen cheese at A. W. Mallory's factory on Saturday last. Mr. Henry Guild was the guest of John Hallie of Riverside last week. The young man, Harper, that lived near Lynn, who was lost for two days and a half, was in a straw now on the farm. He came out all right.

Peter Bay has one of the finest driving horses in the place. Mr. Benson Thompson and wife of Alexandria Bay were visiting friends in this place last week. Mrs. H. Bigford of Landowen spent a few days with her father, Mr. McDonald, who is on the sick list.

Monday, Dec. 12.—Mr. Moorhouse moved from Mallorytown last week and now resides in Caintown proper. Mr. Charles Egley has just returned home after a successful season in the manufacture of cheese in the vicinity of Ottawa.

The most of the old time hunters have provided themselves with a rabbit for Christmas, instead of a gobbler. Great hopes of a marriage being consummated when you hear a young lady enquiring Wesley's "Hymns," which many talk of a few in Caintown, taking a look at the Algoma district next spring. Neighbor, stay right here and pick up nuggets on the farm, if not gold, corn or hush.

Monday, Dec. 12.—John Caron has engaged for a year with Joseph Kerr of Irish Creek, and will move this week. Mrs. J. Gedlin has moved to Addison and taken up her residence in the house lately occupied by A. McVeigh.

Monday, Dec. 15.—Mr. A. Cavannah is spending a few days in the vicinity of his old home. Owing to the snow storm of Sunday last, some bright travellers were unable to reach their home till late on Monday.

He Was Fed with Beans and Tried a Clever Hike to Escape Them, Which Came Very Nearly Ending Disastrously For Himself. The man who was abroad recently pulled away on a very good cigar that pulled away past the customs officers at New York and made a very good escape. A funny thing happened to me while I was in Vienna, he said; funny and disagreeable, too, because I was never before. You see, I was always regarded as an American and posted by beggars. A happy thought came to me. I bought a small tin of Vienna sausage. I found it worked splendidly for a time. "Fifty cents a tin" that was the price in dark clothes was observed in a very close. "The crowd so close in front of me that I almost stumbled against him. Then he turned abruptly and walked away. Five minutes later I was looking into a shop window a heavy hand grasped my arm. Almost instantly another heavy hand clutched my other arm. I looked around hastily. I was in the hands of two stern looking men in dark clothes. Behind them stood the man in dark clothes. I tried to pull away, I tried to protest. It was useless. In five minutes they had swiftly walked me to some sort of a police station and had me facing a wrinkled old fellow with a huge white beard.

Agner's Hair Regenerator. melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It gets further up the hair, it penetrates their formation. It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair; it will keep it from falling out; it will keep the scalp cool and moist; it will keep the hair from becoming thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair. We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking. "Now, you do not obtain all the benefits from this, old chap," said the other man. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking. "Now, you do not obtain all the benefits from this, old chap," said the other man. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking."

His Manly Acknowledgment. "Now, you may just as well tell us the truth about this, old chap," said the other man. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking. "Now, you do not obtain all the benefits from this, old chap," said the other man. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking."

They claim it's an old one of Henry Waterson's. In fact, they are proud of it. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking. "Now, you do not obtain all the benefits from this, old chap," said the other man. "I have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking."

A Warm Test. "You see, I never make a soldier, general. He can't stand fire. "What makes you think that, my dear? "Why, just now I merely touched him with a red-hot poker, an he holled out as if he was hurt."—Ally Coker.

Berlin Appetites. Restaurant Men Who Cater to Them. That the restaurant business in Berlin is a paying one, if the location chosen is a good one, the restaurant of the social class is a paying one. A number of years ago it was leased by a man who quit and returned about as much of the business as the man in the moon. Yet he became wealthy within a few years and retired for good. There were days in summer when he sold 1,000 loaves of beer, besides some 20,000 cups of coffee and 50,000 sandwiches, and as prices are high, he has made many thousands of dollars in a single day.

Just as Good. as Scott's and we sell it much cheaper," is a statement sometimes made by the druggist when Scott's Emulsion is called for. This shows that the druggists themselves regard it as "just as good" for a standard preparation twenty-five years on the market, should not be permitted by the intelligent purchaser.

Scott's Emulsion. of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda as the standard, and the purchaser who desires to procure the "standard" because he knows it has been of untold benefit, should not for one instant think of taking the risk of using some untried preparation. The substitution of something said to be "just as good" for a standard preparation twenty-five years on the market, should not be permitted by the intelligent purchaser.

MALLOYTOWN

MONDAY, Dec. 12.—Mr. McClary is visiting at Mr. Thad Parvis'. The sleighing in this section is very good. A number of our farmers are busy getting up their winter's wood. One of our enterprising farmers purchased two valuable cows in Addison recently. We understand that Mr. John Tennant is about to dispose of his stock of cows. Our village stores are doing a rubbing business as Christmas draws near. The Presbyterian anniversary recital takes place on Dec. 16th.

NEW DUBLIN

MONDAY, Dec. 12.—Wedding bells are about to ring in our midst. A number of our young people spent a very enjoyable time at Horton Davis on Thursday evening. Hudson Davis has completed his new barn, which is one of the finest in this section. Mr. E. A. Horton was the contractor. A number of our young people attended the assembly last Friday and reports a splendid time. The young people of this section are making great preparations for a grand entertainment, which will be held in the town hall on Tuesday, Dec. 20th. A very interesting program is being prepared, consisting of dialogues, recitations, comic songs, tableaux, etc. A good orchestra will be in attendance. Mr. John Irwin, Sr. has returned home again after staying awhile in Beaverton with his son Robert. Miss Lily Smith is about to be around again. Mrs. Samuel Alford is visiting her brother, Mr. Henry Smith Plam House.

HARLEM

MONDAY, Dec. 12.—Our factory is still running under the able management of Wm. Taylor. Revival services have ended here but are to commence at Chantry on Tuesday night of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Gorman, Stittville, are the guests of Mr. Wm. Gorman this week. Mr. John Irwin, Sr. has returned home again after staying awhile in Beaverton with his son Robert. Miss Lily Smith is about to be around again. Mrs. Samuel Alford is visiting her brother, Mr. Henry Smith Plam House.

PLUM HOLLOW

SATURDAY, Dec. 10.—The storekeeper, which has been here for some weeks, completed its work on the hill for this year. The Rev. Mr. Pattenham of D. Ta. preached here in the Baptist church on Sunday last. Mr. J. E. Knapp and sister, Miss Aggie, who have been visiting friends at North Williamsburg, have returned home after having spent an enjoyable time. Mr. James Sexton and Mr. George Huffman of Dayton, O., who have been visiting friends here, returned home on Monday after a successful but heart-breaking trip through the snow about forty miles with a large party. They report having seen nothing but hardship and black snow on their journey. Mr. J. Withler of Lyndhurst was a guest at Pleasant View on Sunday last. Miss Laura Atford and Miss Eliza Smith, while out driving on Monday last, were struck by a horse and fell, sustaining serious injury. The horse becoming unmanageable, ran away, throwing out the occupants and, breaking away from the rig, ran to Mr. L. Stevens', where it was caught after a chase of about a mile. The horse was taken to the home of Mr. Philip Stevens, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter, Lillie, to Mr. Robert Irwin of Chantry.

LOMBARDY

TUESDAY, Dec. 13.—Good sleighing prevails at present. A good deal of wood is being hauled to Smith's Falls now. Miss Vina Casley, graduate of the Athens Model School, is at home at present. Henry Andrews and wife of McIntosh Mills, Ont., visited his brother, Chas. Andrews, here recently. Oscar Andrews around this section will attend the poultry fair at Smith's Falls on Thursday and Friday. A literary society has been organized in the village and our young folks seem to take much interest in its progress. It will meet in the temperance hall on every Friday night. A revival is in progress in the M. E. church. The Rev. N. B. Topping is conducting it. B. B. Bellamy is storing grain at Perth this week from the Montreal market. Mrs. N. B. Topping has adopted into her family an infant girl of Isaac Hannah. Wesley Andrews, Smith's Falls, made his brother, Charles, a visit on Sunday. Misses Alice Newman and Kate Jones, evangelists of the Holiness Movement of this village, have been stationed at Conroy Hill, Que. Oscar Blanche has moved his family to Toledo street. Mrs. Chaney Blanche of Athens made relations here a visit recently. A number of our villagers have purchased new cutters, the make of Alex Stevens of Delta. Anthony Fuchs, Delta, carries the agency through this section. E. Erratt & Sons have their new piggy nearly completed. George Palmer and wife recently spent a few days visiting relatives in Gaintown.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

On and after Jan. 1st, 1899, the Reporter, in common with all other weekly papers published in Canada, will have to pay postage on all papers sent to subscribers living more than 20 miles from the office of publication. As this will add quite a large sum to our running expenses in furnishing the paper, we find it necessary to announce that all subscribers to the Reporter must hereafter be paid in advance. We have exercised a large amount of patience in waiting on our subscribers until the total amount due us is considerably over $1,000. We have repeatedly demanded delinquents, but they must hereafter be paid in advance.
