The Prayer of the Beaten Men.
We are the fallen, who, with halcyon faces low to the dust, in suffering robes lay—
In the hour's best, and heard the rattling tread
As they drew from the chariot of the fray.
We are the fallen, when the foe's shouts begin,
Awaiting death, heard the far shouts begin,
And with our last glance glimpsed the victor's glory.
For which we died, but dying might not win,
We were but men. Always our eyes were bold,
We could not read the dark that waited us around,
Nor dim our faith's path with these enfolding—
We fought not knowing God was on the ground.

IN THE FOG.
BY RICHARD HARDING DAVIS.
Continued.
It would prevent him speaking in the House to-night. The Navy Increase Bill, he added gloomily. 'It is a Government measure, and Sir Andrew speaks for it. And so great is his influence and so large his following that if he does—the gentleman laughed ruefully—if he does, it will go through. Now, had I the spirit of our ancestors,' he exclaimed, 'I would bring chloroform from the nearest chemist and hang him in that chair. I would tumble his uncorrupted form into a hassock bag, and hold him prisoner until daylight. If I did, I would save the British taxpayer the cost of five more battleships, many millions of pounds.'
The gentleman again turned, and surveyed the baronet with freshened interest. The honorary member of the Grill, whose accent already had betrayed him as an American, laughed softly.
'To look at him now,' he said, 'one would not guess he was deeply concerned with the affairs of state.'
The others nodded silently.
'He has not lifted his eyes from that book since we first entered,' added the youngest member. 'He evidently cannot mean to speak to-night.'
'Oh, yes, he will speak,' muttered the one with the black pearl smoothly. 'During these last hours of the session the House sits late, but when the Navy bill comes up on its third reading he will be in his place—and he will pass it.'
The fourth member, a stout and florid gentleman of a somewhat sporty appearance, in a short smoking jacket and black tie, sighed envelopingly.
'Fancy one of us being as cool as that, if he knew he had to stand up with an hour and rattle off a speech in Parliament. And yet he is as keen over that book he's reading as though he had nothing before him until bedtime.'
'Yes, see how eager he is,' whispered the youngest member. 'He does not lift his eyes even now when he cuts the pages. It is probably an Admiralty Report, or some other weighty work of statistics which bears upon his speech.'
The gentleman with the black pearl laughed wrothfully.
'The weighty work in which the eminent statesman is so deeply engrossed,' he said, 'is called "The Great Rand Robbery." It is a detective novel, for sale at all bookstalls.'
The American raised his eyebrows in disbelief.
'The Great Rand Robbery?' he repeated incredulously. 'What an odd taste!'
'It is not a taste, it is his vice,' returned the gentleman with the pearl. 'It is his one dispassion. He is noted for it. You, as a stranger, could hardly be expected to know of this idiosyncrasy. Mr. Gladstone sought relaxation in the Greek posts. Sir Andrew finds his in "The Great Rand Robbery." Since I have been a member of Parliament I have never seen him in the street.'
The American moved his head in assent and glanced at the two other members. They were looking doubtfully at him, and the face of each showed that he was greatly perplexed.
Sir Andrew advanced to within the light of the candles and drew a chair toward him.
'The crime must be exceptional indeed,' he said, 'to justify the police in interfering with a representative of a friendly power. If I were not forced to leave at once, I should take the liberty of asking you to tell us the details.'

EDITOR ACADIAN.—Mr. Chipman, in counting the words of the "Commission" in Matthew, takes all the recorded words of Jesus, while in Mark, in order to make his point, he leaves out the 17th and 18th verses. I am glad to see the orthodox hawk at including such ridiculous verses in the utterance of Jesus. His last words in Mark contain eighty words, but in Matthew they are abridged as I claimed to sixty words. If Jesus really spoke these words, why did the apostles expect the end of the world so soon and make little or no attempt to carry out his last command? Why did the apostles quarrel with Paul about his mission to the Gentiles and compromise by saying that they would preach to the Jews and let Paul preach to the Gentiles on condition that he take up collection among the heathen for the poor Christians at Jerusalem?

Technically, "manuscript" refers to the copies in the original language and "version" refers to translations. My misundersanding arose by crediting my orthodox friend with the jewel of consistency. It never occurred to me that such a man would admit that the originals were corrupt and then try to prove how they ought to be by going to the translations of those same corrupt originals. That circular kind of logic is far removed from "the straight and narrow way."
I think most people understand that the results of modern scholarship tend to destroy, root and branch, the traditional view of the Bible. I do not include scholars by courtesy, of 1910 or fourth rank who may occasionally be found attempting to work over the results of original research to bolster a dying cause. Prof. Sayce is, I believe, the only modern scholar of first rank who is acceptable to the anti-critical party, and I shall use him later against Mr. Chipman's views on several points. The attempt to bring in the opinions of "thousands upon thousands" under the head of modern scholarship indicates the breadth he gives to the term.
It is quite a comfort to be classed as a skeptic with respected Baptist clergymen and with those who write text books for Baptist educational institutions. Mr. Chipman speaks very gingerly of Acadia, but if he will read President Cutler's "Psychological Phenomena of Christianity," he would without hesitation conclude that he had no "benign literary matter" at all. If I had the time and Mr. C. would consent to respond we might rebuke Christianity, and even the Baptists, down to "one and my wife, my son John and John's wife."
In his first letter my friend attempted to show that ancient dates, except the Hebrew, should be divided by twelve, because time was then reckoned by lunar months. He now wastes much space to prove this latter fact which no one disputes. We are not worrying over such matters, for scholars are competent to make the necessary calculations, and when they say that certain inscriptions are 6000 years old, we do not insult them by asking if they are sure it is not 6000 months. Prof. Sayce himself says the first Egyptian king mentioned on the monuments reigned 7000 years ago, and Prof. Breasted, quoted by Waring, says the calendar year of 365 days was introduced into Egypt in 4241 B. C., or 237 years before the creation.

Your correspondent says of the first verse of Genesis, "How immeasurably such divinely inspired history rises above national legends." And Prof. Sayce, his favorite authority, says, "The narrative of the creation is a purified copy of a Babylonian epic." He also agrees with more advanced critics in demolishing the book of Daniel, and largely accepts the critical analysis of the New Testament.
I have not quoted many authorities in my previous letters, save from a lack of them, for I have a hundred or two as good or better than Mr. Chipman's.

Itching Piles For 27 Yrs.
Despaired of ever getting relief until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment.
Mr. John Johnson, Cayley, Alta., writes: "Five years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of twenty-seven years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used it until the pain was relieved, and I could ever get from the terrible misery of piles."
"Dr. Chase's Ointment" is worth fifty dollars a box instead of sixty cents a different man since using it. I can assure you that I have never since made for me. I cannot tell how much about it as it deserves. Any man suffering from this disease should try this cure. Write direct to me."
Do not accept an imitation or substitute. BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS
In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine.
If you want new health and new strength in the spring you must build up your blood with a tonic medicine. Following the long indoor winter months most people feel depressed and easily tired. This means that the blood is impure and watery. It is this state of the blood that causes pimples and unsightly eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago, the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite, frequent headaches and a desire to avoid exertion. You can't cure these troubles by the use of purgatives; you need a tonic and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none so equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood, life-giving, nerve restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood, which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ, and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired out, ailing ones, women and children. If you are feeling out of sorts give this medicine a trial, it will not disappoint you. Mr. Paul Charbonneau, a young man well known in the town of St. Jerome, Que., is one of the host who bear testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He says: "When I left school I became a book-keeper in an important office. Probably due to confinement I began to suffer from indigestion and loss of strength. I became pale and could not eat. My blood was often seized with palpitations of the heart and violent headaches. I tried several remedies, but they did not do me a bit of good. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and did so, and the use of eight boxes brought me back to perfect health and strength. I have since enjoyed the best of health and cannot say too much in praise of this valuable medicine."
Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., APR. 15, 1910.

Murray's New Liquor Bill.

Ever since the disastrous defeat of the government in Hans and Queens upon its temperance record, the air has been heavy with rumors to the effect that Premier Murray and his colleagues had learned wisdom from adversity and were to yield to the people's demand for an effective prohibitory measure. Many devoted temperance reformers were credulous enough to believe that such an issue was possible from men who for the past ten years have had nothing but contempt for the temperance cause and who remain in power by the grace of the liquor magnates of Halifax.

The promised legislation has at last been brought down and the 'most advanced temperance legislation' in the world has been rendered even more perfect still! While those who have been watching the government's record on the question did not expect great things it is likely that not even they were prepared for the insolence of the hum-bug contained in Mr. Murray's bill and labelled 'prohibition' by his followers. For childish deception the measure even exceeds the temperance act of Hon. Mr. Drysdale, which was designed to carry the temperance vote at the last election, and which though loudly lauded at the time has now gone so mean as to be reversed.

The reasons of the temperance people for demanding provincial prohibition are pretty generally known. An effective measure of provincial prohibition, it was argued, would bring about the following among other improvements:

1. A uniform law for the whole province. Legislation which makes an act an offence in one part of the province and a perfectly justifiable proceeding in another is not likely to be held in much esteem.
2. The abolishing of liquor advertising in provincial papers.
3. Severe penalties upon the rum vendors.
4. Removing the enforcement of such legislation from the local municipal authorities where the rum-mad environment is adapted to shield the law-breaker.
5. The purifying of our provincial capital and making it a safe place for our young men to go.
6. The checking of the retail liquor business carried on in non-licensing and Scott Act countries by Halifax liquor dealers.
7. The impossibility of a few liquor sympathizers in a small section of the province maintaining a traffic contrary to the wishes of a preponderating majority in the province.

How does the new liquor act propose to bring about these results?

1. What is criminal for citizens of the rest of the province to do is quite the proper and legitimate thing for Halifax people to engage in.
2. Liquor advertising is allowed.
3. The penalties provided under the act are identical with those of the Scott Act.
4. The enforcement of the new act is still in the hands of the town or municipal council.
5. Halifax is allowed to be as rum-soaked as ever. It is true that the number of licenses in Halifax will be reduced, but this is just what the wholesale liquor-dealers have been demanding. They would prefer to have seventy good accounts in the city rather than a hundred bad ones.
6. The flooding of 'dry' counties by Halifax dealers is as easy as ever. The new act has not only advantage over the existing legislation and has many loopholes which the present legislation has not. For example read the provision of section 5, (1) subsection (a):

1. Nothing in this Part shall be deemed to make illegal,—
- (a) the sale by legally qualified physicians to their patients in the regular line of their practice, at any one time, of spirituous liquors in quantities not exceeding twelve ounces, or of porter in quantities not exceeding one gallon, or wine in quantities not exceeding one quart.

By this section the family physician is made the family rum-seller. Who will go dry when he can procure from the family doctor, without prescription, twelve ounces of spirituous liquor, one gallon of ale or a quart of wine? For the temperance people to repeal the Scott Act for the Murray bill would be to exchange the devil for a witch.

Of course Halifax people and the Halifax press are enthusiastic. The Chronicle states that the bill contains the provisions advocated by Premier Murray at Windsor in the late by-election in Hans. If so, notes has already pronounced upon this policy, and the rest of the province will follow her lead. The Halifax Herald, which has been giving independent support to the government at the sessions, pronounces the bill O. K. Do these journals have regard for their advertising patronage?

The April session of the Municipal Council of Kings county will open at Kentville on Tuesday, April 26th, at 10 a.m.

The Pope and Mr. Fairbanks.

Chicago Evening American.

"Will you tell me how it is that you haven't commented on the refusal of the Pope to receive Mr. Fairbanks, formerly Vice-President of the United States? Was not the refusal a direct affront to the American people? While I am not a Catholic, I am by no means bigoted or prejudiced, yet I do feel that this refusal of the head of the Catholic Church calls for pretty plain speaking. What is your reply to this, or will you be afraid to answer?"

This is our answer:
In the first place, if the Pope hasn't any higher opinion of Mr. Fairbanks than is entertained by the average American, he isn't to be blamed for not receiving Mr. Fairbanks. There are a good many millions of Americans that look upon Mr. Fairbanks as a joke or worse. And these millions of Americans are quite ready to admit that the Pope has a right to see or refuse to see whom he chooses. Mr. Fairbanks did not go to Rome in any official capacity. Had he presented himself at the Vatican officially as Vice-President of the United States doubtless he would have been received courteously, regardless of the Pope's private feelings. For Pope Pius has always proved himself courteous, kind and devoted to his duty as head of the greatest individual religious body in the world. Mr. Fairbanks was wandering around Rome as a private individual. And the Pope, briefly and sufficiently, has explained with regret the fact that he did not desire to meet Mr. Fairbanks. He did not refuse to seek Mr. Fairbanks, although he might well have done so. He simply did not invite him to a special audience.

Mr. Fairbanks in Rome attended and addressed a religious Methodist organization, and he was present in Rome, to some extent, as a semi-official spokesman of this Methodist organization. This organization, acting, doubtless, within its legal rights, has made itself extremely offensive to the Vatican and to the Pope. It has gone to Rome to proselytize in a vigorous, aggressive and rather impolite fashion. Needless to say, it hasn't manufactured any genuine Italian Methodists, but it has succeeded, according to the statements of Archbishop Ireland, in insulting sincere Catholic believers, and deliberately and unnecessarily offended Catholic feeling in Rome. The Methodists, as stated, have a legal right to do this. Any man who stays inside the police regulations can do anything he likes in any city. But it is quite natural that the head of the Catholic Church should not care to receive with special honor the spokesman of a Methodist organization that is accused of making it a business to belittle the Catholic religion in Rome, and by interference to insult the head of the Catholic Church in Rome.

Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Methodist Church, who supports the Methodists at Rome, says:
"Our Methodist associations are in Rome for the purpose of doing Protestant work among a Catholic people, and the Catholic Priest Fathers are doing a Catholic work among a Protestant people here. Charges that the efforts of Methodist missionaries have a pernicious, proselyting effect in Rome are no more true than the sin of the Paulist Fathers in this country." Bishop McDowell is mistaken. America is a sort of 'free for all' religious country. It is preposterous to say that Catholics at work in America are at work 'in a Protestant country.' There is no recognized official religion here. This country is not Protestant, or Catholic, or Mohammedan, or Christian Science, or Buddhist, or Confucian, or atheistic, or agnostic. This is a republic which recognizes officially no religion, which is forbidden by its constitution to recognize officially any religion. Here all religions and all religious teachers are on an equal footing. Catholics at work here are not proselyting in a Protestant country. They are looking after their own people, after the millions of Catholics that have come here as Catholics from other countries, and after those that have voluntarily joined their church.

In Rome it is not so. Rome, historically, sentimentally, and actually, is the seat of the Catholic religion, the home of the Pope for ages. It is the Pope's liberality and generosity that keeps open the Vatican and St. Peter's, with their beautiful treasures, to the travelers of the world. The Pope is an old man, undergoing voluntary imprisonment because of his faith. The least that any decent foreigner can do in Rome is to respect his feelings and the religion of which he is the head. And if Mr. Fairbanks did not know that it is a good thing for the Pope to have impressed the feet on him.

An regards Bishop McDowell's statement that the Methodist missionaries are in Rome to make Methodists of the Italians, we must say most respectfully that to anybody that knows Rome and its Italians, that is a very interesting Methodist joke. Some Italians want Catholicism and some do not. Some want Socialism and some H. Some want agnosticism. Some want no 'ism' at all. One thing is quite sure, the Italians do not want Methodism. And probably all of the real Italians that could be made real Methodists by a thousand missionaries in a thousand years could travel comfortably in one taxicab. The Italians are good natured and will listen. They are also a practical race. They will accept spaghetti, chili, macaroni, lire or kind words from a Meth-

Alliance Meeting. The annual meeting of the Kings County Temperance Alliance, which was held at Berwick on Friday last, was well attended considering the busy season, and was most enthusiastic and representative gathering. Many of the solid men of the county were present and the influence of the Alliance was extended by the election to membership of Capt. F. A. Brown, of Berwick, and Mr. Thomas Hill, of Aylesford. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President—E. B. Newcombe, Kentville. Vice-Pres.—Dr. H. Chipman, Grand Pre. Secy. Treas.—Is. L. Cox, Canning. Executive Committee, the officers, Messrs. B. O. Davison, L. O. Nelly, N. W. Eaton, C. A. Campbell, M. P. P. C. I. Wolfe, S. B. Chute, S. V. Sanford, C. C. Cogswell, H. G. Harris, Rev. F. H. Beals, Rev. Geo. McMillan, Rev. Dr. A. C. Borden. Auditors—R. H. Lamont, W. R. Porter. In an interesting address President Newcombe reviewed the history of the Alliance and the enterprises that had engaged its attention during the past year. Secretary Cox's report showed the finances of the organization to be in a healthy condition. The chief business of the meeting was the wiping out of the debt which has stood against the Alliance for some time as the result of liquor prosecutions. Mr. S. V. Sanford, on behalf of the executive, reported that through the efforts of collectors the sum of $1800 had been received towards paying the indebtedness of $1900. A note for $1400 and interest had been paid off and in addition to the amount on hand about a hundred dollars were required to retire the remaining note of $500. It was decided that an effort be made to raise this amount at once, and in a few minutes more than the required sum had been placed at the disposal of the Alliance for the purpose. The announcement was received with applause and the meeting arose.

The Oratorical Contest. The oratorical contest for the Ralph M. Hunt medal, which takes place this evening in College Hall, promises to be an interesting and keenly contested. The speakers will be Messrs. James A. Green and Arthur H. Chute of the senior class, and Mr. T. Sheridan Roy, of the junior class. Mr. Chute's subject will be 'Abraham Lincoln,' while the other speaker will discuss 'The Potency of National Sentiment.' Rev. F. H. Beals, of Canard; Rev. J. W. Porter, of Wolfville; and Mr. A. E. Dunlop, of Kentville, will judge the merits of the orations. The public are cordially invited.

The Comet. My comet has been reported as being seen at all possible times and places. Will some one who has had such illusions please name the brand they used. Was it Vodka, Peruna, wood alcohol? HALLEY.

Dr. Fred Beckwith, of Glace Bay, travelling at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beckwith, Acadia street.

Mrs. George W. Churchill and Mrs. (Rev.) R. D. Webber are spending some time visiting friends in Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. (Prof.) Haley and little daughter are spending the spring months in Bermuda, enjoying the delightful climate of that country.

Miss Ethel Cochran, of the teaching staff of the Wolfville public school, spent Sunday last at Kentville, visiting her friend, Miss Mildred Daniels.

Rev. R. F. Dixon attended the meeting of Avon Rural Deaconsy this week at Windsor, and gave an address and preached in Christ church on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. (Rev.) David Wright, of Montague, P. E. I., recently visited friends in this vicinity. She spent Sunday in Wolfville and was gladly welcomed by her many old friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. Avery DeWitt have announced the birth of a daughter, at Brussels. They expect to return home in June, when they will take up their residence in Wolfville.

THE ACADIAN is glad to be able to report that Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Crandall, both of whom have been suffering with a severe attack of influenza, are now fairly on the road to recovery.

Miss Hilda Tufts has returned to Rothery, where she is teaching in Netherwood school. She expects to attend the closing at Wellisley, and the fifth reunion of her class before returning here.

Mrs. (Dr.) DeWitt returned home on Saturday last. Dr. DeWitt is at a sanitarium at Newark, N. J., where he is undergoing treatment for rheumatism. His health is reported to be somewhat improved.

The many friends of Miss Emily Richardson will be glad to know that she is recovering from her recent severe illness in Rome, where she and her sister, Miss Mary Richardson, have been spending the winter. Mrs. C. B. Whidden of this town, is with them.

Mr. Gordon B. Parker, who formerly carried on a drug business in Wolfville and was obliged to go west on account of ill health, has recently purchased the old established business of Crive & Co., at Red Deer, Sask. Mr. Parker has been successful in building up a large trade. His many Wolfville friends will join THE ACADIAN in wishing him every success.

Mr. Burpee Witter, a former much esteemed resident and merchant of Wolfville, spent last Sunday in town. For the past ten years he has resided in Dartmouth and has been engaged in business in Halifax. Accompanied by Mrs. Witter he left this week for Vancouver, where their daughter and three sons are now located. The object of Mr. Witter's visit was to bid good-bye to relatives and friends, who will follow him and his estimable wife with every good wish to their new home.

For Bronchial and Throat Affections, Allen's Lung Balm is unequalled.

Observations. The Dartmouth Patriot has been devoting a large part of its space to boomeranging the ancient town. The Board of Trade has also been suggesting plans for making Dartmouth a city. All this is good but something more than talk is required.

'Money talks!' The fact that the Kings County Temperance Alliance was able to wipe out the two thousand dollar debt that stood against it shows more clearly than hours of speech-making that the temperance party is here to stay. Men do not invest their money in that which they do not believe in.

Annapolis Royal is discussing the 'level crossing' question. There is a chance that the D. A. R. re-entering the town, so it is said, if they are allowed the privilege of crossing some of the streets. The question of 'level crossings' is a live one in Canada. In most towns, where they exist they are a menace to life, and a public nuisance. The people would give a great deal to have them abolished. If business in Annapolis Royal is to grow sufficiently the question of level crossings would not keep out the D. A. R. The building of the 'missing link' and Digby as the port of call for steam-boats had more to do with side-tracking Annapolis than had crossings.

$5.00 Reduction. I am offering 20 Suits (Good tweeds for every day wear) at $5.00 Reduction for Cash, and 100 yds. all wool goods 50 inches wide at one-half wholesale price. Fine for Boys' suits. From 75c. per yd. upwards. Also have a new stock on Hand. Best ever shown in town. Prices low and workmanship first class. Call at once and have first choice. G. A. COCHRAN, Tailor.

DIED. FREDWOOD.—At Berwick, on April 10th, Mrs. Miriam Fredwood, widow of the late Rev. Paul Fredwood, aged 85 years and 11 months. The surviving children are: Rev. J. W. Fredwood, of Wolfville; and Mrs. T. E. Spicer and Miss Emma Fredwood, of Berwick.

Notice to Orchardists

Acadia Brand Lime-Sulphur Spray.

I have been induced by some of the best orchardists to put up a plan for making 'Concentrated' Lime-Sulphur Spray. I would therefore say that I will be prepared to fill orders at short notice. The advantage of this wash over the imported article is that it will be freshly made, full strength and will cost you less money.

Those who intend using Lime Sulphur wash for spring spraying should send in their orders at once like American Tanglefoot, but a genuine article. Write or telephone for price and full particulars.

T. L. HARVEY April 8, 10.

The Reviewer.

SKIMMED MILK. Cream is a luxury and sells at a pretty good price per pint. Skimmed milk is fed to the hogs at a mere nominal price, or mixed with chaff, water and new milk and sold as milk. A great medical scientist has made the statement from his home city, Chicago, that rather than the tables upon cream, and the despised skimmed milk becomes of the greatest value to man and science.

The discovery has been made that it is one of the greatest preservatives yet brought to light. To begin with, its use does away with the expensive necessity of embalming bodies, for all that is required is to wash the body in the milk and it will outdo the mummifying process of the Egyptians. It is claimed after much experimenting that instead of fluid that rotted when treated with it, became imperishable. It prevents the cracking of patent-leather shoes; brown paper becomes water-tight when saturated with it; a writing fluid can be made from it that will resist the action of acids; by evaporation and compression skimmed milk becomes an artificial ivory that defies detection; and it makes a superior glue.

Fresh eggs dipped in the fluid will keep fresh for a twelve-month or more. This, to a thrifty housekeeper who packs eggs for winter use or for times of scarcity of the hen fruit, will be most valuable. No more will the honest farmer or the cold-storage man be able to boost prices to forty or fifty cents per dozen for stale eggs. The experiment or test was made of skimming milk as an egg preservative by dipping a dozen eggs. The result was that the eggs, dipped on the first day of January, 1909, could not be distinguished from absolutely fresh laid eggs. Meat and fish dipped in the milk will retain their freshness for weeks.

It was while searching for the secret of making rubber that the wonderful discovery of the preservative qualities of skimmed milk was made. Leading chemists and physicians in the city of Chicago support by tests the conclusions of the scientist. A leading railroad in the west has proved the value of skimmed milk for the preservation of wooden ties. It is also valuable in concrete work in preventing disintegration.

Science is a wonderful developer in bringing out great results from unconsidered trifles. The despised skimmed milk that helps unfortunate housekeepers to whiten their tea and coffee will now become so valuable that cream will have to take its place in the economy of the table. There is no need of wanting anything nowadays. The rejected tin can, bones, old rubber shoes, the kitchen garbage, all have a commercial value as the result of scientific discoveries. And now, last of all, comes skimmed milk, by the properties of which, both medicinal and mechanical are far-reaching and wonderful.
