FIGHTING THE ICE MONSTER.

Twelve Miles in Length and Sixty Feet in Depth. Powerful Enough to Annihilate the Villages Nearby. Three Wagon Loads of Dynamite For Niagara River.

Lewiston, April 22.—The ice monster crowding his devastating bulk between the banks of the lower Niagara River, slumbered the night through, heedless of the war which had been declared against him by the state engineers.

But the force of the current evidently ground out a smooth subway for itself beneath the main mass of the floe for the water in the cellars rose only five inches during the night, and receded an equal distance in the early dawn.

Unless the efforts of the engineers this morning prove fruitless, it is probable that the greatest danger is past. The ice which plowed the upper banks, uprooted huge trees and pulverized docks and boat houses, is still poised to its lofty level, but the middle line of the surface of the floe has apparently dropped a few feet. The jam is of appalling proportions when actual measurements are taken into consideration.

NIAGARA POWER.

Windsor Won't Spend the Money For Local Plant.

Windsor, Ont., April 22.—According to information received by Ald. Shepherd, Niagara power is to cost considerably more than the original estimates. While the price will be about $26 per horse power from the commission, the municipality will have to expend about $125,000 for a distributing plant.

WESLEY AND GORE WILL JOIN FORCES.

Methodist Congregations Unanimously Decide Upon Amalgamation in Immediate Future.

Four or five years ago a movement for the union of Wesley and Gore Street Methodist Churches was begun. At first the proposition was not very warmly received, but sentiment in its favor has been growing steadily, and a basis of union has now been unanimously agreed upon.

The union movement has passed all the stages of committee considerations and official board decisions. A practically unanimous support has been given to the scheme. A joint committee, composed of fourteen of the official staff, together with the two pastors, studied out a basis of union, which has been adopted without amendment by the respective Quarterly and Yearly Conferences, and endorsed by each of the churches at public meetings held last evening.

KILLED WHILE ASLEEP

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 22.—Rudolph Buel, aged 55, was assassinated at a late hour last night while asleep. The murderer opened Mr. Buel's bedroom window and placed a stick of dynamite on his bed, exploding it with a fuse. Buel was instantly killed. His wife asleep at his side escaped without injury. A posse was immediately formed to search for the assassin. No motive is assigned for the crime.

THANKS EDWARD.

Roosevelt Telegraphed the King His Thanks.

Pleased With Welcome by British Cruiser Pandora.

Mombasa, April 22.—Theodore Roosevelt and the members of his party left here on a special train at half past two o'clock this afternoon, for Kapiti Plains station, whence they will be conveyed to the ranch of Sir Alfred Peas for their first shooting trip. The party is accompanied by F. J. Jackson, acting Governor of the Protectorate.

"I had you a hearty welcome to British East Africa, and I trust that you will have a pleasant time and meet with every success." At the dinner last night Mr. Roosevelt paid a tribute to the British people, praising their energy and genius in civilizing the uncivilized places of the earth. He said he was surprised at what he had heard of the progress of British East Africa.

DISMISSED.

James MacKay Established His Right to Horses.

Little Minnie, Advance Boy and Dorothy Webb, horses that were on the local track last spring which have the source of much legal red tape, will stay in this country. Mr. J. L. Counsell, who has been acting for James MacKay, owner of the horses, asked for an order dismissing the action of E. T. Lillard, of Frankfort, Kentucky, who wished to obtain possession. Stunton, O'Neil and Morrison were acting for Lillard, and a week ago Mr. Morrison asked for an enlargement that he might communicate with his client. Mr. Counsell's motion was granted this morning.

LIGHTING ARBITRATION.

Mr. F. R. Waddell and Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., made an appointment before Judge Snider this morning to settle the terms of the order in regard to the lighting arbitration, for Monday, April 26. At this meeting, which decides how the order must be gone into before the referee, Judge Snider, there is every probability that it will be an interesting session. The order that the city has obtained covers the examination of the company's books, and the terms have to be settled before the parties can go before a referee.

KEEP PUBLIC OUT OF COURT ROOM

That is the Provincial Authorities' Instructions For the Kinrade Inquest To-night—Press Will be Admitted.

Florence Kinrade Not Well, But May be Recalled—Jimmie Baum and Mrs. Eva Fay May be Witnesses To-night.

The Kinrade murder inquest, which was abruptly adjourned five weeks ago, to permit the detectives to make an investigation extending over half a continent, will be resumed to-night. The general public will be barred from the court room in old No. 3 Police Station. This announcement was made this morning. This course has been decided upon at the instigation of the Attorney-General's Department.

At first it looked as if the order might include the press. There was a suggestion that the real reason for this move might be that the authorities had some evidence they wished to keep secret for the time being, but Coroner Anderson, who was in touch with the Department this morning, assured the Times that the order was being issued solely at the request of the Crown examiner, George Tate Blackstock, K. C., who was subjected to great annoyance at the previous sessions by the noise in the crowded court room at dramatic climaxes, when he was asking witnesses questions of the greatest importance.

Mr. Blackstock was obliged to protest against the interruptions and appeal for order. Although threats were made to clear the court room, they did not have the desired effect. The newspaper men will appreciate the action of the Department as much as the Crown authorities, for the noise in the crowded court room, by people shuffling around and running in and out, made it almost impossible at times to hear the witnesses. The offenders in many cases were people who had no business in the room, but who, in some mysterious way, managed to get in. It was planned to avoid this annoyance at to-night's session by having all the tickets issued by the Coroner. Dr. Anderson did issue a number, but as a result of the new arrangement these will not be honored to-night. Only the lawyers, the jurors, the witnesses and newspaper men, who have satisfied the Chief of Police with their credentials, will be admitted.

The inquest to-night may be robbed of one of its interesting features. Florence Kinrade, sister of the murdered girl, who will be recalled before the investigation is closed, may not go on the stand to-night. Coroner Anderson is authority for that statement. This would seem to support the report that Miss Kinrade had not entirely recovered and is broken in health.

Jimmie Baum, the actor-author-mechanic, who appeared on the stage with Florence Kinrade in the south, may be a witness to-night. The Crown authorities could not say as to that this morning, but they are reliable. It is believed that George Lynch-Staunton, the family lawyer, has Mr. Baum in Canada, and that he will be called at the request of the family.

Baum was not registered at any of the hotels this morning, and Mr. Staunton was in Toronto. It is believed that Baum is there and will come to Hamilton this afternoon.

A Toronto despatch says that Clara Montrose Wright, the fiancée of Florence

Kinrade who was reported to be in Virginia, making enquiries in connection with the case, has returned and will be at the inquest to-night. The authorities have stated that Wright will be called, but whether he will go on the stand to-night is not definitely known. Crown Attorney Washington, when asked about the witnesses who would be called to-night, could give no information. That is a matter that is said to rest entirely with Mr. Blackstock. Mr. Washington could give no idea when the inquest might be adjourned, and he says he knows nothing of the scheme to send a commission to Buffalo, Rochester and the south to take the evidence of witnesses who cannot be freed to come to Canada.

The local witnesses who will be examined to-night include Miss Erskine and Miss Wild, milliners, employed by the Stanley Mills Company, who believe that they saw Florence Kinrade in the store on the morning of the murder; a Miss Fagan, who resides on Main street east, near Ferguson avenue, and Luke Coppie.

MAY CALL MRS. FAY. It was reported this afternoon that Mrs. Eva Fay, the thaumaturgist appearing at Bennett's Theatre, and her manager might be subpoenaed to appear at the inquest to-night. On Tuesday night Mrs. Fay, answering a question about the whereabouts of a revolver, predicted that one would be found under a walk on Herkimer street. A revolver was found there yesterday morning. (Continued on page 12.)

JAIL BREAKING.

Attempt to Liberate Willie Whittle's Kidnapper.

Mercer, Pa., April 22.—An attempt to liberate James H. Boyle, charged with the Whittle kidnapping, from the Mercer county jail was made last night, according to officials at the jail. That the effort failed was due to the vigilance of Night Watchman Robt. Fruit, who discovered a ladder resting against the jail directly under the window of Boyle's cell. It was apparently the intention to saw the bars from the outside and release the prisoner. Fruit called the jailers, and the jail was watched closely during the remainder of the night.

HAINS TRIAL.

Five Jurors So Far Chosen to Try the Case.

Commission May Inquire into Prisoner's Mental State.

Flushing, N. Y., April 22.—Five jurors for the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, jun., charged with the murder of W. E. Annis, had been selected when the court opened its fourth day of the hearing to-day. The first panel of 150 talesmen had been exhausted with the choice of the five jurors. A new panel of a similar number was in court to-day.

John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defense, said to-day that while he hoped the necessity of calling alienist witnesses would not arise, several experts for the defense examined the prisoner and reported him insane. The impression still prevails that the question of appointing a commission to determine the defendant's mental condition will arise as soon as the State's case is in and the first evidence of insanity introduced by the defense. Justice Patterson has the authority to stop the trial at that point and order a commission, it is said.

SEIZED VESSEL.

U. S. Boat Caught Within Limit—Will be Sold.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., April 22.—It was reported to the Canadian Marine Department this morning that yesterday there had been an American fishing boat seized on the Pacific coast for fishing within the Canadian three-mile limit.

The matter has been seized upon by the Department of Justice for trial, and condemnation proceedings will at once be instituted, the American boat being held in the meantime. If condemned the Woodbury will be sold. The regulations and practice in such cases is that a boat seized fishing inside the three-mile limit may be seized on the high sea if the pursuit has been "hot and continuous." This was done with the American fishery cruiser North a few years ago, and that seizure was sustained by the courts and the boat condemned. Several Canadian boats have been seized and condemned by the Russian authorities under the same circumstances.

CAR SERVICE.

Changes Made Necessary by Work on the Tracks.

Owing to the construction work on the street railway tracks on James street south, the company has changed the service, and instead of a five-minute service on James south, the cars will run every ten minutes, but a special five-minute service will be run from the T. H. & R. Owing to the rain yesterday the men were compelled to stop work, but were at it again this morning, and the company is steadily increasing the force, so as to complete the work at the earliest possible date.

REORGANIZATION OF POLICE FORCE.

New Chief and a General Shake-Up Being Discussed in a Quiet Way.

A complete re-organization of the police force, including the appointment of a new chief of police, is the latest shake-up planned in the City Hall, and it is understood the changes will go into effect within the next six months. The commissioners have not formally discussed the matter yet, but they will likely deal with it shortly. Those who have taken the initiative consider it an ideal time to re-organize the force. They point out that some of the old sergeants will retire early next year and the vacant sergeant-majorship is likely to cause a change in the detective department. They think the new man should be on the job some months before these changes are made so as to advise the commissioners as to the most capable men for the vacancies. It is probable that the old age rule of promotion by sergeantships, according to the time they served, will be abolished and the plums will go to the men who show by their work that they deserve them. The scheme is to give Chief Smith an opportunity to retire. Already several names are mentioned as his successor, among them Inspector Cuddy and other officials of the Toronto force, and Chief Slemis, of Brantford, a former Toronto detective, who is credited with doing good work in the Telephone city.

The following building permits were issued to-day:

M. M. Webb, two brick houses on Harvey street, between Sanford and Stirton avenues, $3,000.

M. M. Webb, brick house on Hillcrest avenue, West Hamilton, for James Shackleton, $1,200.

Stewart McPhie, brick house on Ravenscliffe avenue, south of Aberdeen avenue, for D'Arcy Martin, $6,500.

S. S. King, alterations to 178 Aberdeen avenue, for Mrs. R. Evans, $1,400.

ARMY AT THE CAPITAL'S GATE

Parley Between It and the Garrison of Constantinople.

10,000 Armenians Massacred in Adana and Vicinity.

Other Massacres Feared—U. S. Women Missionaries in Danger.

London, April 22.—A private telegram received here to-day from a well-informed source at Constantinople says that the deposition of the Sultan is by no means a certainty.

TEN THOUSAND KILLED. Constantinople, April 22.—According to advices received here to-day from Asiatic Turkey 10,000 Armenians have been massacred in Adana and in the vicinity of that city.

IN DANGER.

Beirut, April 22.—Five American women missionaries are in danger at Hadjim in the vilayet of Adana, Asiatic Turkey. One of them, Miss Lambert, has sent a message down to the coast asking for immediate help. The women are entirely alone and defenceless. The villages surrounding Hadjim are in flames and Hadjim itself is invested by Nomad tribesmen. Messages from the interior are being suppressed by the authorities.

Hadjim is eighty miles north of Adana, in the northern corner of the Adana vilayet. The records of the American board of commissioners for foreign mission show that Miss Virginia A. Billings, Miss Jive M. Vaughan, Miss Emily F. Richter and Mrs. Mary P. Rogers, wife of the Rev. D. M. Rogers, who lost his life in Adana, are stationed in Hadjim.

MAY BE ANOTHER MASSACRE.

Constantinople, April 22.—Grave news was received here this morning from Erzerum, the principal town of Turkish Armenia. The transports of delight of the people at the proclamation of Constitutional Government are now being supplanted by a movement in favor of the Sheer laws and the Sultan, which it is expected may lead to a conflict between Christians and the Moslems. The wave of fanaticism which originated at Adana some ten days ago, apparently is spreading throughout the Eastern Provinces. The Christian villages in the vilayets of Aleppo and Sivas have been attacked by Kurds, Circassians and Nomads and the inhabitants are imploring the Porte to send troops for their protection.

GENERAL'S PARLEY.

Constantinople, April 22.—Negotiations have been turned over to the Department of Justice for trial, and condemnation proceedings will at once be instituted, the American boat being held in the meantime. If condemned the Woodbury will be sold. The regulations and practice in such cases is that a boat seized fishing inside the three-mile limit may be seized on the high sea if the pursuit has been "hot and continuous." This was done with the American fishery cruiser North a few years ago, and that seizure was sustained by the courts and the boat condemned. Several Canadian boats have been seized and condemned by the Russian authorities under the same circumstances.

SAVED HER.

Foolish London Girl Attempts Suicide in Cell.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

London, Ont., April 22.—Ruby Smith, the young girl arrested in Detroit yesterday for stealing money and jewelry from Ethel Flynn, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide in her cell at the police station last night by tearing a piece from her skirt and knotting it about her neck. As she was about to place it over her head, the police found her. The case will likely be settled out of court. The girl's parents are trying to make restitution of the goods stolen.

WAS MURDERED IN TORONTO.

Macedonian's Mangled Body Found in Cellar—His Head Was Hacked to Pieces.

Toronto, April 22.—The body of Vani Simoff, a Macedonian, aged about 35 years, was found in the cellar of a house at 16 Eastern avenue, this morning. The man had been murdered with a hatchet. The head was hacked almost to pieces and the body also was hacked. Simoff was employed at the Grand Trunk roundhouse, working at night. He left the round house this morning at 8:30 the body was found by a Frenchman, Harold Stefin. The house where the murder occurred is in the Macedonian colony, and it is said, eight people live in it. As Simoff's watch and a small sum were found in his pockets, and over $100 in gold was seen in his clothes, it is evident that robbery was not the motive. It is thought a row occurred soon after Simoff entered the house, but nothing definite has been learned as yet.

Mr. M. J. O'Reilly, K. His honor said that he would enlarge the motion for a week to see if the plaintiff would appear in court himself. Wyblanek's wife lost her life while trying to save her dog from being run down by a Radial car.

A number of intimate friends of Mr. T. B. Kittison, in a very cordial speech, presented Mr. Pheppe with a purse of gold as a slight token of the high esteem in which he is held by his many friends. Mr. Pheppe replied feelingly, thanking them for their good wishes and splendid tribute.

TOO MANY DIVORCES

Senate Too Ready to Break the Marriage Tie.

Divorces Granted Without Sufficient Evidence Given.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Ottawa, April 22.—A strong plea for greater stringency in the matter of granting divorces was made at a meeting of the Committee on Private Bills to-day by Mr. J. A. C. Elhier, the chairman. After pointing out that this session there had been 21 divorce bills before the Senate, as compared with three or four in former sessions, he went on to remark that the action of the Senate in that regard was beginning to be abused. In cases of simple separation of property and body, the Judges of the Superior Court were properly severe, but the Senate was passing bills of absolute divorce without any satisfactory proof of the only case upon which divorces were granted by the Parliament of Canada. Mr. Elhier said that eminent men in the United States had described the divorce system in that country as a great social evil, and the same state of affairs might come to pass in Canada.

The Private Bills Committee, he contended, should establish the principle that unless there was good evidence of adultery no divorce bill should be passed. In two or three cases which had come before the committee he had not been satisfied that the offence had been proven. In plain terms the Senate was granting divorces on evidence which would not be acceptable to courts as sufficient for separation. Because a man was a drunkard and a gambler, it did not follow that a divorce should be granted his wife. He wished it to be understood that he was speaking not as a Roman Catholic, but on general principles.

MISS ELLIOTT.

Police Have Information That She is in Ontario.

The authorities have not succeeded yet in locating Miss Marion Elliott, but the local police have a clue which intimates that she may be in Western Ontario at present. One story is that she is residing near Goderich. This clue will be investigated as soon as the inquest is adjourned.

A Fair Invalid

"Moderately so. I drove over to River House three days ago, and requested to see Miss Vane. I was somewhat startled by the aspect of the house, which is Oriental in its magnificence. I was shown into the library—the room that looks over the river on the west. I cannot tell you what strange fancies came into my mind as I sat there waiting. Presently the sound of the steps started me, and I noticed that I expected to see, or what my idea of Miss Vane was, but when the door opened I felt a thrill of disappointment. There entered a stout, comely, shrewd woman, with keen bright eyes—eyes that seemed to look me through. I bowed and murmured something about Miss Vane.

"I am not Miss Vane," she said, quietly. "I am her maid."

"I look for the pleasure of seeing Miss Vane," I observed.

"It is impossible, sir," she said. "My mistress receives no visitors."

"My good woman I do not come as a visitor, but as one entrusted with the souls of all under his charge. Go back to Miss Vane and tell her from me that it is not as a visitor, but as the rector of the parish in which she resides that I wish to see her."

"I will go," she said, doubtfully, "but I tell you candidly, sir, I do not think it will be of the least use."

"I looked very stern, and she hastened away, only to return in a few minutes looking brighter and more determined than ever."

"My mistress, sir, wishes me to say that if she could break through her rule for anyone she would do it for you—but she cannot. She regrets that you have had the trouble of coming, and regrets also that Mrs. Neville's agent did not make her wishes on the matter known."

"So I came away without seeing your tenant, Mrs. Neville. I felt annoyed, but I managed to say that if Miss Vane ever found herself ill or in distress I was at her service."

"That was very good of you, doctor. She is a strange person."

"I only hope, and trust, that it may be all right, and that you may not regret of having taken such a tenant."

CHAPTER II.

Three years had passed since my silent and mysterious tenant had taken up her abode at the River House, and during that time the silence that surrounded her had not been disturbed. At first she had proved a marvel in the neighborhood, and as there was generally round Daintree a dearth of topics for gossip, this gave new life to our social meetings. Who was the lady? Why did she choose to live in that peculiar way? What was the mystery surrounding her? These problems continued to be discussed until time showed the utter futility of doing so. All inquiries and curiosity were baffled.

Every week the confidential maid, Jane Lewis, would come to my study and give her orders. They were such liberal ones as to prove that, whatever else might be deficient at the River House, there was plenty of money there. From the time she came, I had had orders, it was gleaned that besides Jane Lewis, or rather under her, there were two other servants, and there was a gray-headed butler.

From the servants no information could be derived, they knew nothing, except that their mistress was an invalid and declined all society. The servants appeared at church, the mistress never—indeed, Miss Vane herself might have been a member of the church, I could have understood her desire for retirement. What could it all mean?

CHAPTER III.

I did not go to the River House again—it seemed perfectly useless—and I heard no more for some time of Miss Vane. I concluded that she had recovered. Surely Mrs. Lewis would have told me if anything had gone wrong. Just then strange circumstances happened in the parish of Daintree. Dr. Rawson called on me one morning, his manner more than usually excited.

"My dear Mrs. Neville, such a strange thing has happened. You remember, perhaps, last Sunday, in my sermon, I said something about my earnest wish to restore the eastern window of the church; at the same time I said that I did not wish to divert from the poor the money usually given in charity."

"I remember it perfectly well, Doctor Rawson."

"This morning I received an envelope, directed to myself, containing four bank-notes for fifty pounds each. The envelope contained only these words: 'For the poor, one hundred pounds; toward the eastern window fund, one hundred pounds.' Who can my unknown benefactor be, Mrs. Neville?"

I could not tell him. Another singular circumstance happened. Outside Daintree stood a small cottage, inhabited by a landlady, a widow, with a family of six children. How it happened no one seemed to know, but one summer night the cottage was burned to the ground. We proposed a subscription for her; but, before anything was even decided upon, the rector came over to Mrs. Neville's house. "This parish of mine must be blessed with some unknown saint," he said; "look at these, Mrs. Neville."

He showed me an envelope containing bank-notes to the amount of three hundred pounds, the sender merely requesting that they might be used to supply the poor woman's loss.

In the month of September I was at Neville's Cross alone, without any visitors. I had indulged in the purchase of a light boat, for I was passionately fond of rowing on the river. One evening the idea came to me to row up the stream and let the boat float back with the tide. I should pass the River House, and perhaps in the gathering gloom I might see something of its strange occupant.

So, in my little boat, feeling happy and completely at my ease, I watched the sun set and great floods of crimson light die over the waters, and then, when the crimson had become grey, I let the boat drift idly down the stream.

It was quite dark when I reached the River House. I rested opposite the smooth, green lawn, and then I saw something at last.

A tall, slender, graceful figure moved swiftly and gently between the trees, and then sunk at the foot of one with a tired, weary look. I could distinguish only the graceful outline and the black, flowing garment, but lying listlessly on the black dress were the whitest and most beautiful hands I had ever seen in my life—white as polished ivory—perfect as though carved by the most skillful sculptor.

I sat looking at them in silence. The face and head of the owner were hidden by a veil worn in the Spanish fashion—but the hands were exquisite enough. They were moved; they were neither clasped in thought, nor folded in patience, nor wrung in despair; but they lay listless and motionless, as the hands of a dead woman might.

The shades of night were falling quickly; it was time to go. The faint sound of the oars in the water did not reach my neighbor, and I hastened away.

It never struck me that in thus watching my mysterious neighbor I was doing anything in the least degree unlaudable or dishonorable. There could be no doubt but that at last I had seen Miss Vane. She was young and graceful, and had hands of marvellous whiteness and beauty. I knew no more.

I think from that evening a spell was laid upon me. I could never forget her. What was she doing, young and fair, alone in that solitary house? I passed and repassed, but never saw her again.

Sometimes I went to the woods, a long ramble in Daintree Woods. There is no more night in the wide world so beautiful as the woods in autumn, with their variety of foliage, and splendor of autumn coloring. I took a great liberty and went into the pine woods, saying to myself that even should I meet anyone from the River House, it would be very easy to hide.

While walking slowly along, very busy gathering a peculiar kind of berry, ripe in September, I saw the same graceful figure, with the long, trailing, black garments, and the white marvellous hands; I stood quite still, and in a few minutes she sat down in the same attitude as before, at the foot of a tall tree, her head leaning against the huge trunk, the white restless hands lying on her black dress.

I looked at her in silence. I would have given the world for courage to speak to her, but I dared not intrude—indeed, I hurried behind the clump of trees when I saw Lewis advancing to see me. After all, my being there was an accident, and she would have thought I was spying. She came up to Miss Vane and stood at a respectful distance from her.

"I hope you will not think me tiresome, Miss Vane," she said; "but I thought you were coming to sit in this hour. You would be quite content to sit here until the sun has set, but I cannot allow it, Miss Vane. You may be angry if you will—remember what Sir John said."

From under the veil came a low, sweet musical sound. It was not a laugh—indeed, it could possibly be called a laugh.

"I am quite indifferent, Lewis, to all that Sir John may say."

"Well, Miss, that is an old subject of dispute between us. Whether it is right to be so utterly indifferent to Eric is another matter. I must do my duty, and that is to take care of you."

"You do take care of me," said the same sweet voice.

It was certainly Miss Vane speaking, but all attempts at describing her appearance would be vain. It was low and soft, and there was something clear and vibrating, yet hopeless in it. It produced a strange impression on me, making me think of many things sweet and sad.

"You sat on the lawn until past midnight, not long ago, Miss Vane—that was bad enough; but this wood must be damp. The autumn mists will soon rise from the river and pass over it and then you will take cold and be in danger again."

"Lewis," said the young voice, "you pretend to be very fond of me."

TIMES PATTERNS.

A Stylish Suit for the Little Man.

No. 5937.—The little suit here illustrated is one of the most smart and the new designs for boys. Deep tucks in front and back are a feature of the mode. The are stitched as far down as the belt and pressed to the lower edge of the skirt. The front laps in double-breasted style and fastens with large pearl buttons. A broad sailor collar adds considerably to the smart effect. A removable shield finished by a standing band is included in the pattern. The little trousers made of the same material accompany the frock. They are gathered in at the knee, and fulness being adjusted by an elastic. Broadcloth, serge, flannel, gingham and pique are all suitable for reproduction. The 4 year size will require 2 1/2 yards of 54-inch material for the making. Sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 years.

A pattern of this illustration will be mailed to any address upon receipt of 10 cents in stamps and silver.

Cards were distributed in all the big stores inviting young couples to take advantage of the church parlors.

To-day the pastor beamed when asked if his "spooning parlors" was a success. He said:

"There are books and up to date literature and games, and those who came enjoyed themselves. It is a great opportunity for the church. We have no ulterior motive, however. The opening of our parlors is not a move to increase our membership, it is simply offering a chance for the working young women of St. Paul to have a cozy and comfortable place to bring their young men friends. We will provide chaprons for them and they will be taken care of."

FOR "SPOONERS."

Church Parlors Thrown Open For Use of Swains and Sweethearts.

St. Paul, Minn., April 21.—Having in mind the barren and unhome-like atmosphere of the average St. Paul boarding house, also the publicity attending the efforts of young women and men to "spoon" in such places, the Rev. Harold Pattison, pastor of the First Baptist Church, yesterday announced that the church parlors would be thrown open to all young people who live in boarding houses.

Cards were distributed in all the big stores inviting young couples to take advantage of the church parlors.

To-day the pastor beamed when asked if his "spooning parlors" was a success. He said:

"There are books and up to date literature and games, and those who came enjoyed themselves. It is a great opportunity for the church. We have no ulterior motive, however. The opening of our parlors is not a move to increase our membership, it is simply offering a chance for the working young women of St. Paul to have a cozy and comfortable place to bring their young men friends. We will provide chaprons for them and they will be taken care of."

The Grand Trunk Pacific is said to have determined to build a branch from the American boundary to Hudson's Bay.

LAVERGNE WAS BELLICOSE.

Broke Cane of Senator Choquette After Threat to Thrash Him.

Quebec, April 21.—As Senator Choquette left the committee room at noon Armand Lavergne said, "If you mention my wife in your paper again I will thrash you," raising his hand as he said it.

"I don't want to have anything to do with you; don't speak to me," said the senator. "If you bother me any further I will break my stick across your back," and he raised his stick.

"I will save you that trouble," said Lavergne, who grabbed the cane and broke it over his knee. They were then separated.

PETROLEUM DEPOT BURNED.

Cloud of Smoke Covered City of Paris Like a Pall.

Paris, April 21.—The oil and petroleum depots of the Northern Railroad at St. Ouen caught fire to-day from sparks from a locomotive, and for several hours a cloud of thick black smoke covered Paris like a pall. The warehouses contained over 10,000 tons of inflammable material, all of which was consumed. Many cars in neighboring sheds were also burned. The entire fire department of Paris responded to the call, but was powerless to check the flames, which, at one time, rose to a height of 400 feet.

The Dominion Marine Association has taken steps to meet the American attempts to divert trade from Canadian ports.

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1909.

TURKEY'S TROUBLES.

Things are moving rapidly in Turkey, and present appearances indicate that the Young Turks control the situation. There is talk of deciding off-hand the fate of the Sultan as if he no longer figured in the direction of affairs.

J. J. Hill also. These men are not under any delusion that the farmers of the United States are "protected" by a tariff duty on agricultural products...

WELL SAID, MR. MANN!

We give to-day some extracts from a paper by Mr. D. D. Mann, of MacKenzie & Mann, which appears in the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, dealing with "Canada and Reciprocity."

THE RISE IN WHEAT.

The wheat situation is naturally a question which is now very keenly discussed. The "bull" speculators, who have cleared millions by the rise in price, are naturally found denying that their manipulation of the markets have had any effect in forcing up figures.

Mr. Wilson, the United States Secretary of Agriculture, is emphatic in declaring that "there is sufficient wheat in the country at normal prices to make bread for the American people up to the time when the new crop comes in, and those who attempt to keep prices up at present rates expect to get their money out of the common people—the consumers."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Reading Foster's criticism of the budget one might arrive at the conclusion that the growth and progress of Canada under the Liberals hurts him almost as much as a real stomach-ache!

What? The Times being lectured by the Hamilton Herald for "yellow sensationalism" is the Kinrade murder case? Well, did you ever? If that doesn't discount "satan reproving sin!"

Why does the Opposition hesitate to make a charge against Hon. Mr. Pugsley, or even to proceed to investigate before the Public Accounts Committee? It professed to be eager to get a chance to inquire into the matter. Why the funk?

It is now announced that the defunct brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani were fined $10,000 by the New York Board of Trade not very long ago for doing business as a bucket shop.

An interesting reunion was held at Ottawa last evening, at which were present a number of the surviving members of the first Parliament of Canada, and letters of regret at being unable to be present were received from a number of others.

A writer in the Fortnightly Review tells us that "gosssoon" (the Irish "boy") is but a corruption of the French "garçon," and that the Gaelic "torvidhe," a robber, is the original of the English word "Tory."

Andrew Carnegie has been expressing some excellent opinions on the perils of the ever-increasing armaments of the powers of Europe. He points out that in present conditions trifles may cause national wars, and he advocates an international league of peace which might bring about an international supreme court for the avoidance of war.

From Regina comes the information that Saskatchewan has purchased the Bell Company telephone lines in that Province for $367,500. Socialistic ideas and worship of government have made great strides in our newer Provinces. It is to be hoped that Saskatchewan will obtain better results from Provincial operation than have been realized by Manitoba.

Remarking on George E. Foster's doleful speech on the budget, the Spectator says: "What a cold shower the Hon. Geo. E. is, to be sure!" Metaphors and similes have been much mixed as to Foster. "Cold shower," however, does not appear so appropriate as that offered many years ago: "An elongated gas bag charged with sulphuretted hydrogen and pickled in gall."

Looking at this matter of the cutting off of four liquor licenses by the License Commissioners, some people may regard it as a pretty interesting contrast to the action, or inaction, of the Council when asked to act in that direction by a well-expressed public opinion.

Mr. Lloyd Harris, M. P., Brantford, and Dr. Clark, M. P., of Red Deer, lighted up the gloom which has marked the Opposition's criticism of the budget, by a few flashes of sunlight and humor. Their speeches were a contribution to the debate which rebounded highly to their credit.

Venezuela is becoming almost civilized, and has so far put her affairs into shape that Holland and France will soon send representatives to Caracas. President Gomez is doing much to remove the disgrace brought upon the country by Castro. What a pity that Grover Cleveland should have besmirched his reputation, even after a "moist" fishing tour, by showing a foolish willingness to precipitate a great war in order to attain his wish to see Venezuela's champion!

The Toronto World falls into the error of announcing that "new witnesses for the defence" will be called, at the request of Mr. Lynch-Staunton, at the session of the Kinrade inquest to-night. A coroner's inquest knows no prosecution or defence; its duty is to bring forth every scrap of evidence bearing upon the case, and to do all in its power to discover evidence that may lead to justice being done in the matter. No person is placed on his defence; no person is accused.

The esteemed senior local Tory organ takes occasion to praise Sir Wilfrid for the way in which he asserts himself and cuts out of the halls of supporters or opponents clauses which he regards as open to objection. That is, one would suppose, a tribute to his statesmanship, uprightness and influence with the members of the party which he leads.

OUR EXCHANGES

Up to the present no Tory has the nerve to make a specific charge in Parliament against a Liberal Minister.

SHORT OF CADAVERS.

Kington Medical College is complaining of the scarcity of subjects for dissection. This is a line of generosity or consideration which seldom appeals to men when bequeathing their earthly possessions.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

As a matter of fact, there are thousands of cases where the Christian Scientists have cured, after the medical doctors failed to do so, but I have never heard of a single case where the medical doctors effected a cure where the Christian Scientists failed to do so.

SEALEY'S FINE SPEECH.

W. O. Sealey, M. P. for Wentworth, delivered an excellent address in the LORD'S DAY.

Joint Meeting in Barton Street Methodist Church.

There was a good attendance at the combined meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Westminster Presbyterian, Barton Street Baptist, Barton Street Methodist, and Wentworth Street Baptist Churches in the Barton Methodist Church last evening in the interests of the Lord's Day Alliance.

Lord Beaconsfield called the Sabbath "the corner stone of civilization; Lord Shaftesbury said, "The great bulk of the working people are of this mind, that the sanctity of Sunday is to them a great protection."

THE CENTRAL PRISON.

If the rumor be true that the new Central Prison is to be built near Hamilton, the reasons for choosing this location are not apparent.

LORD'S DAY WEEK.

Lord Beaconsfield called the Sabbath "the corner stone of civilization; Lord Shaftesbury said, "The great bulk of the working people are of this mind, that the sanctity of Sunday is to them a great protection."

DENIED KISS.

Chicago, April 21.—Because her husband, Thomas Adelsperger, failed to kiss her good-bye, Lena Adelsperger, aged 18, killed herself yesterday morning with her husband's revolver.

LT.-GOV. GIBSON

To Turn on Water at Guelph's New Waterworks.

Guelph, April 22.—The Civic Reception and Board of Trade Committee, acting jointly in the matter of celebrating the opening of the new water works, met yesterday afternoon in the city hall buildings and decided to formally invite His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario to visit the city and turn the water into the settling basin for the first time.

SEE THE SHAH.

Teheran, April 22.—The British and Russian diplomatic representatives were received in audience by the Shah to-day and they advised him to proclaim amnesty to all political offenders and to restore the constitution. The Shah promised to reply within a few days.

MAY DAY STRIKE.

Paris, April 22.—The General Federation of Labor has called upon the unions throughout the country to join in a general demonstrative strike on May day.

A Charivari.

St. Catharines, Ont., April 21.—Chas. H. Myer, of Vineland, 77 years old, and his bride, Mrs. Barbara Rittenhouse, 72 years old, were given an old-fashioned charivari by the young people of the town upon their return to this city to-night. They were married a few days ago.

WHEAT

Perils of the Stage. An actor ruffled his hair carefully before a mirror. "These steeplejacks," he said, "practice a perilous calling, but in our new show my work is just as risky. "How can an actor's work be likened to a steeplejack's," they scoffed, "for danger?" "Play small parts in melodrama and you'll know," the actor replied. "In our melodrama, The Bleeding Hand, or, From Typewriter to Coronet, I risk my life in every act. In the first act a bully, after insulting the heroine, is killed by the hero with a blow on the chin. I am the bully. In the second act the lovers elope by motor-car, the motor jumps over a cliff, and the chauffeur is crushed to a jelly beneath it. The chauffeur is yours truly. The third act is a reconciliation scene, ending in an aeroplane flight, wherein the aeronaut comes a cropper at a height of a thousand feet, falling and breaking every bone in his body. I'm the aeronaut. Last act—wedding and grand hanging scene. My neck is all raw from the rope. That's why I wear this black silk handkerchief instead of a collar."

TYPES OF THE TURKISH COMMON SOLDIER, THE MEN WHO STARTED THE CIVIL WAR IN TURKEY.

VESTRY OF ST. JAMES'

Dundas Anglicans Had a Very Satisfactory Year.

Three Marriages Took Place in Valley Town Yesterday.

Presentation to William Burr, G. T. R. Operator.

Dundas, April 23.—At the adjourned vestry meeting in St. James' Church the audited statement of the year's finances was presented by the church wardens and adopted.

Messrs. Bates and Racey retired from office, and were succeeded by S. J. Leonard and F. C. G. Minty. Messrs. Frank Pearson and F. E. Leonard were appointed auditors, and Messrs. Bates, Racey and Beale were added to the list of sidesmen.

A new finance committee was appointed, the members of which are charged with the duty of further developing the envelope system.

A proposal to consolidate the indebtedness in the form of a mortgage on the rectory property was very decidedly met with an adverse vote.

The debt has been decreased by $175, but increased by the assumption on the part of the church wardens of the cost of rectory improvements amounting to $250.

The total indebtedness of the church now stands at $901, with cash on hand of $200 and assets in the shape of arrears of contributions, amounting to perhaps $75.

Out of the 335 names on the parish visiting list only 144 are at present contributing through the envelope system.

The mission apportionments have been paid in full.

Votes of thanks were passed to the retiring church wardens, to the Church Aid and W. A. Societies, and to the choir.

The rector produced the annual accounts of special funds, showing receipts as follows: Choir fund, $227.41; Sunday school, $149.71; poor fund, $263.90.

The Sunday school has a balance on hand of $28.60, and the choir $15.60. The Church Aid Society contributed $125 towards last year's church debt.

The rector requested leave of absence for three months. He stated that he had received the Bishop's consent, and had made arrangements with Ven. Archdeacon Clark and Rev. John Fletcher for the care of the parish during his absence.

The request was very cordially assented to. Mr. Irving proposes to sail by S. S. Corinthian, of the Allan line, from Montreal, on May 8.

Mr. F. E. Leonard was re-elected lay delegate to the Diocesan Synod for a term of three years.

A pretty wedding of much interest took place in Hamilton yesterday, Wednesday, afternoon, at 3 o'clock, between two of the most popular young people of Dundas, the bride being particularly well known, having lived in Dundas all her life.

The contracting parties were Miss Rhea Morden and Mr. John Moffat. Rev. Mr. Hollimake, of Zion Tabernacle, was officiating clergyman. The bride looked charming in her empire gown of pale blue silk, with lace and duchess ribbon trimming.

The bride and groom were unattended, the wedding being very quiet, only the immediate relatives being present. The happy young couple will be on their honeymoon on a short homeward-bound trip to Buffalo, and on her return will reside in Hamilton.

The bride travelled in a becoming tailored suit of navy blue, with tan hat and gloves. Among the presents was a piano from the bride's mother, a new dress, a water bottle from the employees of Grafon & Co., and a fine leather Morris chair from that firm, and a half dozen sterling silver initialled teaspoons from the Methodist Church choir, of which the bride has been a valued member.

The hearty congratulations and wishes of a very large circle of friends in Dundas attend the newly-married couple.

A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening, when Mr. J. S. Gordon, local manager of the Prudential Life Assurance Co., was united in marriage to Miss Alice Sharp.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Shaw, a Baptist minister. Mr. Jos. Sharp was best man and Miss Florence De Foe was bridesmaid. The happy couple will reside on York street, Dundas.

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, when Rev. Father Cassin officiated in marriage to two popular young people, Miss Alice Kent, youngest daughter of James Kent, sen., and Thomas Fechny, formerly of Dundas, now of Buffalo.

The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Noble, while the groom was supported by Mr. Wm. D. Vanegmond, nephew of the bride. The bride looked charming in a gown of pale blue empire cologne silk, with pearl and Irish point lace trimming, and with pattern hat to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl earring and to the bridesmaid a twin opal, while the best man was the recipient of an opal stick pin. The happy couple received many handsome and useful presents.

After the ceremony about forty guests sat down to a dainty dejeuner, which was made all the more merrier from the toasts and responses which graced the occasion.

The Clark Blanket Co., for the want of sufficient room at their mill at Greensville, intend moving their knitting machines to Dundas, having leased the upper floor of the Star building, where all their knitting hereafter will be done, the difficulty in securing help and the lack of room without building at Greensville, being the cause of moving this portion of their business to Dundas.

GILA MONSTERS INCREASING. Our Circus. A circus grand, a splendid band, The wonders of the earth, In our big tent, which will be rent With merriment and mirth.

You girls and boys, who like a noise, Are asked to our big show. Animals fine will be in line, And monkeys in a row.

The monkeys dear are very queer, You'll see them bow and bend, Swing by their tails hang from the rails, And many things pretend.

A life and drum will make things hum, And help to swell the crowd; The tunes they'll play will make you say, The music's good and loud.

The smart clowns in spotted gowns Will play some funny tricks, On their heads stand and mock the band, For horses they'll ride sticks.

And they will try to climb up high, As does each silly clown; Don't worry if a sudden whiff Should send them rolling down.

You'd better come, don't miss the fun; A jolly crowd you'll find. The lemonade will be home-made, Just like the circus kind.

And popcorn true, and peanuts, too, To feed the elephant and candy some; Miss it—you surely can't!

We have a queen, the finest seen; A boy will wear a gown Of royal robes much like poor Job's And on his head a crown.

With his big feet upon the seat, A wagon for a throne; And there he'll reign, with his long train, Good subjects all his own.

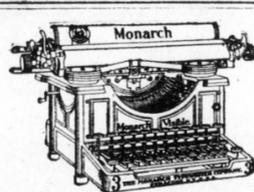

'Midst clowns gay the hands will play, Parade will start on time; A tooting horn, near our big barn, Will call them all to line.

'Parade, hurrah! The crowds will draw, And keep them on the spot. The wagons bright will be a sight, The finest things we've got.

There'll be a sight, which will not bite, In our menagerie— It will not fail—a horse whose tail Is where his head should be.

Now do not fear, it will be here— But in I'll confide— My hobby-horse will play the farce, His tail to the manger tied.

Strange Growth of Olive Trees. Attention is seldom called to a remarkable and curious characteristic of the olive tree. After many years of growth the different large branches of the trees separate gradually from the trunk until they are quite divided from one another down into the root. These then slowly move apart, and in some instances six or seven distinct trees stand in the area which before surrounded the main tree, and they will sometimes be as much as twenty feet apart.—From the Constular Reports.

constantly clear a path for it, where upon it is pressed forward. Tracks follow the cutting shield and more locomotive—steam or electric—are used in removing the material. The use of electricity keeps the tunnel quiet clear of gases and makes the safest light for the workers.

In rare cases the rock through which the tunnel is bored is strong enough to support itself. But in most cases the engineers prefer to line the bore—with brick as a rule—and this lining is set in place right in the path of the cutting shield. After long weeks and perhaps months of work the time comes when the different bore meet and the tunnel is a single underground tube from portal to portal.—From "Building a Railroad and Rebuilding," by Edward Hungerford in the Outing Magazine for April.

Making a Tunnel. Sometimes the construction engineer brings his new line face to face with a mountain too steep to be easily mounted, and then he prepares to pierce it. Tunnels are not pleasant to ride through. They are, moreover, fearfully expensive to construct and they necessitate a double inspection. But—and the "but" in this case is a very large one—they reduce grades and distances in wholesale fashion, and so in a mountainous country the engineer must be prepared to drive tunnels, and the folk who come after him, to operate them.

The tunnel job is not to be a separate part of the work. It calls for its own expert talent.

If the tunnel is more than a half or three-quarters of a mile long, it will probably be dug from a shaft or shafts as well as from its portals. In this way the work will not only be greatly hastened, but the shafts will continue in use after it is completed as vents for the discharge of engine smoke and gases from the tube.

The ordinary course of such work is by the use of cutting shields proceeding simultaneously from the portals and from the footings of the shafts. These shields are to be likened to steel rings of a circumference only slightly greater than that of the finished tunnel. Men working on different levels of the shield with pick and with drill and dynamite

This is an extract from a speech delivered the other day in the House of Representatives by Mr. B. H. Linn, of Mississippi: "You people of New England never earned but a few honest dollars in your lives. You scarcely emerge from your swaddling clothes before you come to Congress and beg for the right to rob the American people. Your dishonesty is proverbial throughout the nation. The west grows corn, the south cotton, New England rocks, weeds and grafters."

WOMEN VOTERS.

Pope Vigorously Opposed to Women Entering Politics. Suffragettes Express Opinions as to Effect of Opposition.

New York, April 22.—Cable advices from Rome last night, to the effect that the Pope, in addressing the Union of Italian Catholic Women had pronounced himself vigorously opposed to the entry of women in politics, has already prompted considerable comment from Catholic clergymen and suffragettes here. That the Pope's views will have great weight among the Catholic women and act as a check upon the spread of the suffrage movement among them, was the opinion of a local Catholic editor, Father Wynne, of the Messenger.

Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones, chairman of the executive committee of the League for the Civic Education of Women, a leading anti-suffragist, said: "I am not a Catholic, but have great reverence for the Pope, and would respect greatly whatever he says. It is a message from a great authority, and as such should have its weight. I think it will produce a marked effect on many Catholic women and will render a pronounced check to the woman's suffrage movement. Although not a command, it will have the same result on the many noble Catholics in the country."

Miss Mary G. Day, a prominent advocate of woman's suffrage, said that in her opinion the declaration of the Pope would in no wise affect legislation in this country.

Radium in Surgery.

Sir Frederick Treves considers that we have practically reached the therapeutic limitations of the X-rays, the high frequency current and the Finsen light, but that in radium we still have unexplored fields of usefulness.

This writer believes, without desiring to raise false hopes, that radium will cure every form of naevus, whether it is a port wine stain, a pigmented mole or a hairy mole, and rodent ulcer which has not yielded to the Finsen light or the X-rays, and that too in two sittings of one hour each. Wonders are also accomplished in the early stages of epithelioma of the lip and tongue.—From the British Medical Journal.

Mountain Water System Under Discussion by Committee.

Want More Information as to Underground Wire System.

Two Appointments Made to the City Fire Department.

Before taking any action on the scheme to place the fire alarm and police signal wires underground, the Fire and Water Committee decided last night to try and make another dicker with the Bell Telephone Company.

The sub-committee, which has been dealing with the matter, through Alderman Milne, reported that the estimates supplied by the engineer's department showed that the city could lay its own ducts at a big saving over the rental the company wanted to charge.

Mr. Barrow's figures showed that it would cost $3,521 to lay ducts on James and Barton streets. This does not include the cost of the cables. The engineer estimated that the cost of laying ducts across the street intersections on Barton street, would be $363.

It was suggested that this work should be done in any event before the new pavement is laid. The city could then lay the ducts along the boulevard, when it was ready.

Ald. Milne said that the sub-committee discovered that Rochester and Buffalo had an arrangement with the telephone companies, whereby these cities got their police and fire alarm systems laid in the ducts free of cost to the municipality.

He considered a great mistake was made when the city did not take this matter up with the Telephone Company before extending its franchise for another five years.

Action was deferred until the sub-committee has another opportunity to thrash the matter out with the company.

For the two vacancies on the Fire Department, caused by the resignations of Captain Gilbert and Fireman Gimblett, fourteen applications were received.

A ballot was taken and Kenneth Casels, who was formerly a member of the department, and J. Crawford were appointed. All the other applicants were ordered to be placed on the substitute list, and will be called on in the order named, as required.

They are: F. Hough, W. B. H. Ten Eyck, D. Vallert, H. Gorman, H. Highman, H. Oliver, F. Gibson, C. V. Cooper, G. Seddon and E. Batt.

The economizer at the Beach pump house has played out and Engineer McFarlane asked the committee if he should buy a new one at a cost of $1,200, or get along without one. The secretary was instructed to get further information.

It was announced that the $28,000 provided for installing the waterworks system on the mountain top would not cover the cost. The committee entered into an arrangement with the Sewers Department to have the water mains laid in the sewer trench, paying a dollar a foot towards the cost of the excavation.

The sewer plan was nipped out after this arrangement was entered into. The waterworks department does not want to lay pipes where there are no houses, although some of the property owners expected the mains were going wherever the sewers were laid.

The annexed district on the mountain top was not provided for in the estimate. The matter was referred to a committee.

Secretary James reported that the total expenditure for the season up till April 15th, for repairs, fuel, supplies, paint and work on the sand sucker was $864. This leaves $5,278 for cleaning out the basins. The wages so far this season amount to $321.

The committee will make an inspection of the filtering works and pump house next Wednesday.

FATAL STORM.

SIX KILLED AND NINE FATALLY HURT AT CLEVELAND.

Fifty Others Were Injured—Damage Estimated at a Million Dollars Done to Property—Suicide From Fright.

Cleveland, April 21.—Six persons were killed, nine fatally hurt, and at least 50 injured, and property valued at more than $1,000,000 was destroyed by a tornado which swept through Cleveland and northern Ohio to-day. One man was blown from a train at the Cleveland Furnace Company plant. A woman was blown into a pond at Wade Park and drowned, and a man committed suicide during the height of a storm because he was afraid he was about to be killed. He rushed into a barn out of the rain, and drank carbolic acid. He left a note explaining his action.

The storm rose suddenly, and lasted only five minutes. At 12:30 o'clock the sun was shining brightly. At 12:33 Cleveland was shrouded in darkness. In the blinding rain pedestrians were blown off their feet and hurled against buildings, while in many cases they were struck down by flying bricks and timbers which filled the air.

Roofs were lifted off houses, walls hurled down and strongly braced smokestacks and chimneys demolished. In some instances roofs were carried 300 feet. Many persons were injured by flying glass.

Twelve school buildings were damaged and many pupils had remarkable escapes. The roof was lifted from the main building of the Case School of Applied Science, and buildings at Adelbert College sustained impairment.

Telegraph and telephone service was ruined. Poles were swept down by the wind. Cross wires set poles on fire, street cars and trains were delayed. Trees were torn up by the roots at several cemeteries. Many monuments were overturned and crushed.

The largest single damage was done to St. Stanislaus Church, East 65th street and Forman avenue. The wind almost demolished the structure. The loss is estimated at $125,000.

HOTHOUSES RUINED.

A Disastrous Boiler Explosion in Bracondale.

Toronto, April 22.—As the result of the explosion of a hundred and fifteen horsepower steam boiler yesterday afternoon the extensive hothouses of the Miller Bros., of Bracondale, near the junction of St. Clair avenue and Dufferin street, are lying in ruins. The most remarkable feature of the accident was that of the twenty-three employees who were working in the houses at the time not one was injured seriously enough to render him unable to work.

The loss is estimated by Mr. Miller at in the neighborhood of $50,000, none of which is covered by insurance.

The scene of the wreck is a picture of almost complete destruction. The solid brick boiler house, the walls of which were nearly two feet thick, is literally level with the ground, and the eighty-foot-high brick chimneys is scattered over an immense area. The biggest piece of the boiler which exploded is lying in the centre of a field a quarter of a mile away. A smaller boiler, which weighed quite a ton and a half, is intact 200 yards away. The field adjacent to the hothouses is covered with broken and twisted pieces of iron pipe and machinery, bricks and wood. Smaller scraps of wood and iron are reported to have fallen at various points within a mile of the scene of the wreck.

The only theory advanced by Mr. F. H. Miller, who was the family physician before he came to Orangeville, applied the stomach pump, and succeeded in breaking up the growth. At various times since Bradley has coughed up portions of it, which has been of a semi-transparent, muddy color.

Specimens of the growth have been sent to a well-known analyst, who described it as a variety of seaweed, the seed of which has likely been concealed in a raw oyster, which Bradley had eaten, and the seed had taken root in the folds of the lining of the stomach. Bradley went against the advice of his physician, and refused to submit to an operation.

He leaves six sons, John, Isaac, Benjamin, William, Joshua, and Joseph; and one daughter, Mrs. William Smith, all of whom are highly respected in Dufferin County.

SEAWEED IN INSIDE.

Kills Orangeville Man—Caused by Eating Raw Oysters.

Orangeville, Ont., April 21.—Benjamin Bradley, 78 years of age, of East Garafraxia, who had been living in Orangeville for the past 15 months, having retired from his farm, is dead, on account of a seaweed growing in his stomach.

Six months ago Bradley coughed up about six inches of this weed, which was of a dark green color. Dr. Gibson, of Hillsburg, who was his family physician before he came to Orangeville, applied the stomach pump, and succeeded in breaking up the growth. At various times since Bradley has coughed up portions of it, which has been of a semi-transparent, muddy color.

Specimens of the growth have been sent to a well-known analyst, who described it as a variety of seaweed, the seed of which has likely been concealed in a raw oyster, which Bradley had eaten, and the seed had taken root in the folds of the lining of the stomach. Sir Wilfrid Laurier to Introduce Bill in Few Days.

Ottawa, April 21.—The bill providing for the creation of a new portfolio of Labor will be introduced in the Commons in a few days by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in accordance with the announcement made previously to the last general election.

The Minister-designate for the new department, Mr. Mackenzie King, is still in China, where he is supplementing his mission as Canada's representative at the international conference for the suppression of the opium traffic, by making a general inquiry on behalf of the Government into the problem of Oriental immigration to this country.

He is expected to return to the capital about the middle of next month.

Trains Will be Running to McLeod River on G.T.P. This Year.

Mr. J. W. Stewart, of Foley, Welch & Stewart, the big railway builders, was in Edmonton the other day. Stewart is famous for what he keeps from newspaper men, but one tireless correspondent gathered from his silence that the close of the present year will see the trunk Pacific completed and construction trains running over the line as far west as the McLeod River.

The grading of the Transcontinental is practically all completed to the Pembina River, and there is only the stretch between the Pembina and the McLeod to be completed. The steel head is within less than one hundred miles of Edmonton, and before June will have reached the city and be on its way to the west.

The foundations for the big steel bridges that will carry the Transcontinental across the Pembina and McLeod Rivers are already advanced, and steel for the structures will be rushed through the moment that trains are able to run through to the Pembina, which should be in July or August.

Preparations for the completion of the last stretch of grading on the Edmonton-McLeod section, from the Pembina to the McLeod, are being made by Foley, Welch & Stewart, who have the contract. J. W. Stewart states that work will commence as soon as the frost is well out of the ground. There is only about two months' work to complete the grading through to the McLeod River.

Asked as to the contract for the Wolf Creek section of the Transcontinental, Mr. Stewart said he had heard nothing as yet from the railway company, but was confident that work would be proceeded with on the mountain section within a few months.

WESTERN IDEAS IN TURKEY.

Thanks by Advertisement for Sympathy on Death of Wife.

London, April 21.—A striking instance of the penetration of Western ideas eastward is an advertisement which appeared a few days ago in a Turkish newspaper. In it a middle class Mohammedan returns thanks "for the many proofs of sympathy received on the occasion of the death of his beloved wife, especially to those of his beloved who gave me the comfort of their presence at the Dzenaza (funeral celebration)."

This is the first time on record that a Mohammedan has ever referred to his wife in this public way. Not many years ago such an action on the part of a Mussulman would have called forth universal reprobation. Even to ask a Turk about his wife's health has hitherto been held exceedingly bad form.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE COIFFURES.

LAUREL LEAVES IN JET. The hair ornament has come back. It has more than recovered its vogue of a year or so ago, where one was worn then; two or three are worn now. There are gold and silver bands, jet laurel leaves mounted on elastic bands, tortoise shell combs with gold or silver beaded work, strings of pearls, or imitation pearls, and all manner of fancy little embellishments for the coiffure.

HAIR DRESSING STYLES ARE IN ALMOST THE SAME VARIETY. Fashion has not decreed that a woman must wear her hair in any particular way, but on the contrary, milady dresses it as best becomes her features. If anything, the coiffures one sees now are not so low set in the back, but are more nearly made up in classic lines.

LLOYD HARRIS, M. P.
Hon. Lt.-Col. of the Twenty-Fifth Brant Dragoons.

Consumption Sanatorium—Lost Two of His Fingers.

(Special Despatch to the Times).
Brantford, April 22.—Mr. Lloyd Harris, M. P. for Brantford, will be honorary lieutenant-colonel of the Twenty-Fifth Brant Dragoons, the new cavalry regiment which is now being formed, with squadrons located at Brantford, Paris and Burford. At a meeting of the officers, held on Friday last, it was unanimously decided to offer the post to Mr. Harris in recognition of his splendid service in securing the regiment for Brantford at a time when the Militia Department was curtailing expenditures. The selection is a very popular one, and the success of the regiment from its inception is assured.

LARGE AMOUNT SECURED.
The movement for a hospital for tuberculosis patients is making good progress. In addition to the site on Strawberry Hill, valued at $5,000, presented by Mr. E. L. Cockshutt, there has been over $7,000 subscribed. Work will be commenced when the sum of $8,000 is reached. This amount will cover the cost of construction and some slight sum for approaches and fencing.

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED.
Mr. Milton Davies, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been promoted to be manager of the bank's branch at Wingham. His removal will be regretted here.

WARD LEAGUE HERE.
A ward baseball league will likely be formed here this summer. Already there are three teams organized, the Alerts, Tigers and Stars, and the Beavers are organizing shortly. A church lawn bowling league will also be formed shortly, if present plans pan out.

FINGERS CUT OFF.
While at work at a shaper at the Ham & Mott Company's works yesterday afternoon, Stephen Snider had two fingers cut off and another badly lacerated. Charles Davis, an employee of the Verity Plow Co., fell into a tempering bath, and had his legs badly scalded from the knees down. He is very seriously injured.

DO NOT WANT GUELPH.
A meeting of the Inter-City League local magnates was held last evening. The situation was talked over, and it was decided that Guelph was not an attraction sufficient to open the gates to. The present four-team league is much handier.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

stein, one of the most ingenious and successful of contemporary playwrights. Mr. Bernstein is already known for several plays similar in construction, very similar in ingenuity and composition to "The Thief," but it is probable that for many a year to come he will be known in this country, as he still is in France, as the author of "The Thief," despite his more recent works. "The Thief" is in three acts. It observes all the unities of time, place and incident. The action takes place within twenty-four hours. First produced at the Renaissance Theatre in Paris in December, 1907, "The Thief" made an immediate sensation. It ran through the entire season with M. Guilty and Mine. le Bargy in the chief roles. About the fables, the ambition, the cunning, the love as deep as human passion and as wide as human frailty of a woman, "The Thief" is a woman's play. But side by side with the great lesson it contains for every wife, it contains rich food for thought for every husband. It is the most startling human dramatic document put on the stage in years. No play put on in the last twenty-five years has created the stir and received such general approbation as this great French play. The sale of seats opens tomorrow morning.

TO WELCOME DICK KNOWLES.
Born in Hamilton and having successfully toured the world over and over again, R. G. Knowles will return here for three nights, presenting his pictorially and dramatically illustrated "Rambles in Foreign Lands," at the Grand, commencing Tuesday, April 27. Mr. Knowles spent the greater part of the past ten years taking photographs for the purpose of reproducing them in

Miss Maude Bell, the noted cellist, who will be heard here at the Edith Miller concert next Tuesday night.

A special matinee for ladies will be given at the Bennett Theatre to-morrow afternoon, when Mrs. Fay will devote her entire attention to the questions asked by the fairer sex. This is done by request, many letters having been received, asking that a matinee at which ladies alone would be admitted be given. Even the orchestra will not be present during Mrs. Fay's demonstration of thaumatography. Howards' wonderful logs and ponies should make a great Saturday matinee feature. It is the most elaborately staged and attractive animal act seen here this season and will provide a genuine treat for the little folks. Manager Appleton announced this morning that the house would close for the season next week, and no expense will be spared in booking a bill that will leave many pleasant memories with the Bennett patrons. The feature attractions have been secured. Thomas J. Ryan and Mary Richfield, in their uproariously funny Irish farce, "Gird's Seventeen International Zouaves," perhaps the biggest musical spectacle ever produced on the vaudeville stage, and George B. Reno and company in funny burlesque, "Vaudeville Nonsense."

EARL GREY TROPHY.
Montreal, April 22.—The Toronto dramatists occupied the limelight last night in the Earl Grey dramatic and musical contest. Their work was probably one of the best pieces put on during the present contest. The players were the Dickens Fellowship Club, and put on "Little Nell" from Dickens' famous novel, "The Old Curiosity Shop." The work of the ladies of the company was superior to that of the men, with the exception of Mr. T. G. Watson, who took the part of the old sweeper. His acting was capital, and was characterized by an entire absence of self-consciousness, which is common to amateur actors. Among the ladies the honors were divided between Miss Blanche Walter as the Marchioness, and Miss Nell, whose part was played by Miss Dagmar Prints. The difficult role of the Marchioness was charmingly played by Miss Walter. She was by turns shy and diffident, curious and kind, sympathetic and generous, and throughout all her varying emotions was natural and pleasing in her manner of acting. To her really belongs the first place. Little Nell came in for a large share of sympathetic applause, due largely to the associations of the audience with the lovely character portrayed by Dickens. Miss Prints' acting was good and the part well sustained, although it lacked the naturalness and charm which characterized the work of Miss Walter.

MILLIONS OF CELLS

The human body is composed of countless millions of cells. These cells are constantly dying and new ones are being created. Dead cells are removed from the blood by the bowels, kidneys and skin. These great eliminating organs filter this waste matter from the blood, and thus purify the blood. If there is constipation, or non-action of the bowels—if the kidneys are strained or weakened—if there is defective skin action—then the dead cells are not removed from the body. The blood thus becomes loaded with impurities and suffers thereby.

The only way to purify the blood is to cure the skin, bowels and kidneys. When these organs are healthy and doing their work as nature intended them to do it, waste matter is promptly removed from the blood is kept pure and rich. "Fruit-a-tives," the famous fruit liver tablets—act directly on the skin, the bowels and the kidneys. "Fruit-a-tives" purify the blood because they keep the whole body strong, vigorous and healthy. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 5c. Ask dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

It differed in many respects from those usually put forward, and was remarkable for its devotion and its sincerity without assertiveness. It was dramatic, inasmuch as Mr. Bates thoroughly identified himself with the character. His reading was based clearly on an interpretation of the text, and he pronounced every word perfectly clearly, and with a degree of accuracy of inflection it rarely receives. His Elijah will be entitled to the foremost place.

THE KNEISEL QUARTETTE.
As a fitting climax to the concert season in Hamilton, the greatest of all string quartettes, The Kneisels, will give one of their splendid recitals in Association Hall next Monday, April 26th. As this will be, without doubt, one of the finest concerts given here, no true lover of music should miss it. It is seldom that such a high-priced musical organization as this is brought to Hamilton, and the thanks and hearty support of the musical public are due Arthur Ostler, who is instrumental in bringing them. Franz Kneisel, the leader, whose name should please the most fastidious, and as a special favor, William Willeke, the cellist, will play a group of cello solos. To say anything in praise of these artists would be superfluous, as their work is too well known, and it is to be hoped that the musical people of this city will turn out en masse to give them the welcome they truly deserve. The plan opened this morning to subscribers at Nordheimer's, and a large audience is assured.

DRILL HALL CONCERT.
Following is the programme for the concert by the Ninety-first Band in the Drill Hall to-night:

Ballet Music—Rosamundi—Schubert

the United States and Canada, and will during his tour through Canada, take pictures of interesting Canadian points, which he will reproduce in other parts of a world melodrama.

With a good cast and a more than ordinarily scenic production for popular prices, "The Severn Too Late to Mend" will be offered at the Grand to-morrow and Saturday. With a strong theme and well-written story, this the latest dramatic work of Owen Davis, is pleasing the theatregoers. One of the reasons of the success is said to be due to the fact that Mr. Davis has chosen fact rather than fiction for the plot of his play. The characters are real men and the incidents so deftly woven together, have every one of them occurred. It is a story full of sympathy, with a strong heart interest, yet with plenty of comedy relief. There are eleven scenes, each with a separate setting in the four acts.

EDITH MILLER'S VISIT.
The concert to be given here next Tuesday night by Edith Miller and her English company promises to be one of the musical events of the season. Interest, of course, centres in Miss Miller, who has been honored by the King and created a great sensation last fall by her concert work in England. No Canadian singer has ever been better received in the old land than has Miss Miller.

On her tour of her native land, which began at Halifax last week, Miss Miller is accompanied by four leading artists of England, as follows:
Alfred Heather, principal tenor of Westminster Abbey; Thorpe Bates, a noted baritone; Maude Bell, violoncellist, and Harold Claxton, conductor.
Seats for the performance will be placed on sale at Nordheimer's music store on Saturday morning.

The following is from the London Evening Post of Feb. 25, 1909:
"On the part of the soloists the most distinction was achieved by Mr. Thorpe Bates. His interpretation of the music of the Prophet was a notable performance."

A. M. Lewis Seeks Leave to Appeal in Toronto Case.

Mr. A. M. Lewis, of this city, applied to the Court of Appeal yesterday at Toronto for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal from the decision of a Divisional Court affirming the judgment of Chief Justice Meredith in refusing to quash the by-law passed by the City Council of Toronto on Feb. 15, 1909, reducing the number of tavern licenses from 150 to 110. The applicant was John Brewer, a hotelkeeper of what was formerly East Toronto. A similar application was made by William Robinson, of North Toronto, who was represented by Mr. J. B. Mackenzie. The grounds of asking for leave to appeal were the same as the arguments presented before the Divisional Court. Mr. F. R. MacKee, Assistant City Solicitor, opposed the motion. Judgment on the motion was reserved.

THOMAS C. WATKINS HAMILTON ONTARIO

IT DID WELL.
St. John's Church Winona Had a Successful Year.

The annual vestry meeting of St. John's Church, Winona, was held last night. In the absence of the rector, Rev. R. McNamara owing to illness, the chair was taken by Mr. E. D. Smith.

The report of the Sunday School showed 160 scholars on the roll and treasurer reported receipts $178.75 and expenditures $177.97.

The treasurer of the Ladies' Guild reported receipts $605.66 and expenditures $500.27.

Mr. Fred Hamilton, chairman of the Building Fund reported that the amount outstanding for the addition to the church had been reduced to about $150.00.

Mr. E. M. Smith was re-elected people's warden for the ensuing year and the Rector re-appointed Mr. Fred Hamilton as his warden.

Mr. A. E. Kimmins was re-elected vestry clerk, and the following disbursements were appointed: Messrs. C. D. Carpenter, R. C. McKay, J. W. Harber, C. A. P. Smith, F. Awty, C. H. K. Baillie, K. McKay, G. Odding.

The church warden's and auditors' report was most gratifying. One year ago this congregation decided to become an independent parish and some fears were expressed that it would be impossible to finance the scheme. The warden's report having received $1,182.76 and disbursed $1,174.79, showing a balance in the treasurer's hands of $7.97. Mr. E. D. Smith commented most favorably on this and reminded the members that 10 years ago the parish was receiving a grant from the Diocesan Mission Board and that since that time they had become self-sustaining, built a handsome rectory, enlarged the church and finally stood for a year as an independent parish with much heavier financial responsibility and come out with a balance in the bank.

All this he thought most creditable to their beloved and energetic rector and he thought the members should congratulate themselves on having as their rector one who was so able in CANADA AND RECIPROCITY.

Able Article by D. D. Mann on Relations Between Canada and the United States.

(Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.)
President Taft expects a special session of Congress to complete a revision of the tariff before midsummer. There is considerable interest in the subject in Canada with regard to changes that may affect Canadian trade with the United States. But there is very much more interest in the United States as to what will be done for Canadian trade. My friend, Mr. J. J. Hill, has spoken several times in favor of eliminating our customs houses. The chairman of the Boston Chamber of Commerce recently proposed the destruction of the tariff wall between the two countries. While I write, a conference of representative bodies in American cities is being called at Detroit to consider reciprocity with Canada.

All this is if marked contrast with what used to happen a short generation ago. Canada asked the United States for reciprocity similar to that which obtained from 1854 to 1866. Eight times the negative answer came. To-day, Canada is being courted. She is a willing friend, but no suitor. There is a vast difference between the situation of forty years ago, and the position in 1909. It is possible that the last chance of there being only one political power on this continent vanished when the former treaty was abrogated.

At that time Canadians feared that the cutting off of their most direct market would ruin them. For a time, the situation was harmful, and it had something to do with the migration of some of the best young blood of the country to the United States. She has, within a day and grain across the St. Lawrence the farmers fed it to their stock at home, sold the produce as cheese and butter, and their crops, instead of being exported, to the impoverishment of the soil, were kept at home to enrich it.

The abrogation of the treaty also gave to Canada ample opportunity to discover herself. Even the largest towns along the border were little account, and the most thriving communities were either surrounded by, or on the edge of, the bush. Agriculture was in a hopeless condition, and commerce had scarcely any facilities for its own expansion. The forest, instead of being a source of abundant wealth, was an encumbrance to be cleared out of the way.

Canada, as Canada, had not begun to exist. The provinces were divided, geographically, politically, and socially. And as the Dominion had not come into existence, the section of that was destined to become important for Canada, and for the British Empire generally, was indeed the Great Lone and the Great Unknown Land.

I have said that the difference between the reciprocity times of 1854-66 and to-day, is a whole nation of difference. Canada has arrived, not in the guise of a poor relation of Republic or Empire, but in the right of her own unlimited power. You can no more revert to the old Canadian idea of reciprocity, than you can replace the locomotive by the stage-coach. To discuss the possibility of the absorption of Canada by the United States is utterly to forsake practical politics. You must realize that Canada is a nation so much bigger than any tariff wall, that she can afford to be, as she is, undisturbed by it.

But that is not to say that the tariff is a closed book between Canada and the United States. Conditions are continually changing, and although the United States tariff against Canada produced the Canadian tariff against the United States, and, incidentally, made Canadian nationhood a sure and certain influence in the world, both tariffs may be handled so as to produce greater business and greater friendliness between the two peoples.

If I were an American I think I would be prepared to go a long way with Mr. Carnegie in his contention that the industries of the United States are now so powerful that they need no further support from the nation. Let the United States be sure but that in the new turn which has been given to the development by the conservation of conferences (which will always redound to the statesmanship of President Roosevelt), will be found the best key to the future politics and policies of this continent.

"Natural resources" is another name for raw material. It is the condition of the American supply of coal and iron ore. Broadly speaking, it seems to me that when this continent was laid out, several natural free trade zones were provided, which were also meant to be operative without hindering the development of two kinds, but independent nations, within its coasts.

There is one, indeed, that is outside the coasts. The advocates of unrestricted reciprocity found one of their arguments in the sea. They declare, rightly, that it is foolish to tax the people of the northeastern States in order to prevent their fish food being landed near to where it is caught. The inexhaustible supplies of fish in the northern waters should be landed in Nova Scotia, and shipped thence to their customers in the United States. If that were done, Nova Scotia would be able to follow the natural course of her development, and the consumer in the United States would have more fish for his money, or more money for other things than fish.

Nova Scotia coal deposits are the natural fuel supply of New England. The American tariff keeps them out. But the Canadian tariff gives to Nova Scotia coal the Montreal market, by reason of the tax upon Pennsylvania coal. I cannot, at the moment, think of any considerable manufacturing advantage that would be sacrificed by a readjustment of the coal tariff. There are some conditions surrounding the mechanical production of coal in Nova Scotia, which would, I think, adjust themselves by the opening of the New England market. I have reason to know that interests would not object to the change. What they would lose in Boston they would gain in Montreal and Ontario. For, let this be observed—the present tax on United States coal hits the consumer back of Lakes Ontario and Erie, even though he cannot possibly buy other than Pennsylvania coal. Undoubtedly the duty restricts consumption. Remove it and consumption would increase.

On the other side of the continent similar conditions prevail. There is unlimited coal in British Columbia and Alberta, and very little—and that of poor quality—in the Pacific States. A duty on Canadian coal is a tax upon industry in the nearby States, without any compensating advantage to either side of the line.

Closely bound up with the coal problem is the iron situation. Iron ore is on the Canadian free list. Every other form of imported iron pays duty. The United States taxes iron, whether in ore, pigs, or manufactured produce. If, as Mr. Carnegie contends, the steel industry in the United States can flourish without the tariff on manufactured articles, it can surely prosper without a tax on Canadian ore.

I may be told that the suggestion of duty-free ore in the United States is against the conservation of Canada's natural resources. It is not really so, for two complementary reasons. First, that as in the case of coal, the supplies of the continent will be utilized in the long run, regardless of tariffs; and, second, that as the abundance of Eastern Canada's iron ores is infinitely greater than her hardy stores of coal, there is enough ore in Canada for Canada's needs, and for the American market as well.

I need not deal at length with the exchange of food stuffs. Canada has a market for grain, and the products thereof, in Europe. She buys, without duty, many things from the United States which she does not grow herself. Time will speedily bring about an exchange, which the tariff at present prevents. If prevailing tendencies continued, the United States will soon be a at prices which will reduce the tariff on breadstuffs. Even if the wheat production of the United States kept pace with the population, the demand for No. 1 hard wheat from the Canadian prairies would increase so rapidly that the United States millers must have it, tariff or no tariff, when the home supply is being taxed to its utmost is a final reason for no tariff.

Every year the millers of Minneapolis cry more loudly for Canadian wheat. Within seven years they will most likely be getting it through an open tariff gate. I can conceive of no formidable opposition to such a change; for when the deciding factor in wheat prices is the export trade, inferior prices will not, in normal years, be appreciably affected by the relatively small amount of wheat that will be grown on one side of a parallel forty-nine, and eaten on the other.

Of the principal natural products of both countries, lumber and pulpwood remain to be considered. Here the Canadian advantage is indisputable, and some of our public men and journalists seem inclined to make more than enough of it. It is singular in that it brings export duties into the discussion, and, to that extent, complicates the larger problem.

The depletion of their timber reserves is most ominous for the United States. The exhaustion of the timber supplies of the Northern Empire is even more imminent. If there be an inexhaustible supply of pulpwood anywhere, it is in Canada. With a population of six millions, we have about 1,600,000,000 acres of pulpwood. The United States, with a population of eighty millions, has 600,000,000 acres. But the supply in Canada will not be inexhaustible unless we enforce more conservative methods of cutting, and insist on burning to burn.

FRIGHTFUL DESTRUCTION

by forest fires during the last quarter of a century will not be repeated. If I thought our timber was as near disappearance as some of my friends do, I might advocate, as a measure for the near future, an export duty on pulpwood, on pulp itself, and perhaps on paper. But it seems to me that with the measures which we hope to see widely introduced without delay, there is no need to be alarmed at the Canadian pulpwood situation. Let the duty on lumber remain as it is, on both sides of the line. Let the United States admit pulpwood and pulp free—I do not think Canadian industry would suffer.

If pulpwood and pulp were put on the United States free list, the price of paper would be conditioned by the cost of manufacture nearest the supply of raw material. The pulpwood of the United States is being used up three times faster than it grows, or can be used under wise conditions of land-handy. The approach to exhaustion is, therefore, rapid, and unless a new,

What's the Matter with the Blood

It is thin and watery, the lips and gums are pale, the whole system is weak and run down.

The food fails to supply the necessary nutrition and to get well you must use such treatment as Dr Chase's Nerve Food.

Your mirror shows you that the lips and gums are pale and the inner eyelids without color.

What's the matter? You are anemic. There is a deficiency in the quality and quantity of blood in your body. The food you eat fails to make good this shortage. You must use some preparation that will supply in condensed form the elements from which blood is made.

Now Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is exactly what is required in ailments of this nature, for it is above all else an enricher and builder of the blood.

Women and girls are particularly subject to anemia. The feminine system demands an immense amount of blood in carrying on its functions, and unless the system is strong and well nourished there is likely to follow a bankruptcy in the blood supply.

One Thousand (1,000) Shares of Slater Cumulative Preferred Stock is now offered for Public Subscription with a Bonus of 20% in Slater Common Shares which will make the Capital Preferred paid in and subscribed $300,000; Capital Common Authorized and issued $500,000 and leaving in the Treasury Preferred Shares $200,000.

This is the best known and one of the most progressive and prosperous of the Canadian Industrial Corporations, and it is seldom that investors are offered such an opportunity to secure a sound and substantial dividend-paying stock with a bonus of 20 per cent. of common stock.

The Subscription Books will be open until Wednesday, May 15th, and shares will be allotted in the order in which subscriptions are received. As most of the recent stock issue has been taken up by the Directors and Shareholders, only the 1,000 shares of the 7 per cent. preferred stock is offered to the public.

This 7 per cent. preferred stock is both cumulative and preferred as to Assets, Capital and Dividends. Dividends are payable quarterly on January 1st, April 1st, July 1st and October 1st. The Company has no bonded indebtedness.

This great industrial corporation has for its Directors and Shareholders some of the most careful and successful business men and investors in Canada.

The authorized capital of the Slater Shoe Company is $1,000,000. The business was founded over forty years ago (in 1869) by the late George T. Slater, and the Company has been under the continuous management of his son, Charles E. Slater, the President and General Manager of the Slater Shoe Company, Limited.

Dividends have been declared and paid regularly on the Slater Preference stock.

To those who understand the organization of a large manufacturing company, and the substantial value of a prosperous going concern, with its good-will, Trade Marks, and its World-wide reputation, the investment offered must be both attractive and profitable.

In the first five years after the organization of the Slater Shoe Company in 1899 the sales were $1,823,847. In the second five year period, or, to be exact, in four years and eleven months, the sales were $3,390,822; or nearly double the first five-year period.

In the "depression year" of 1908, the sales, like those of all the Canadian industrials, showed a decrease. But the Company have completed arrangements to double their factory capacity, and thus be in a position to meet the constantly increasing demand for their high-class shoes.

The new capital is required for the enlargement of the present factory and for the development of the growing business of the concern.

The present Board of Directors of the Slater Shoe Company, Limited, is composed of the following gentlemen:

- CHARLES E. SLATER, President and General Manager.
 - WILLIAM STARKE, Vice-President (President of Starke-Seybold, Limited, Montreal).

permanent supply can be secured, the papermakers of the United States will either put prices up to figures which will create an effective rebellion of all the newspapers in the country, or they will keep prices within reasonable bounds by making the best of the opportunities of manufacture nearest the supply—in Canada.

The Canadian tariff induced American manufacturers to establish branches in Canada to supply the Canadian market. Free entry to pulp and pulpwood, plus the possibility of a Canadian export duty would encourage—that is a better word than "compel"—the into pulp on Canadian rivers, by the aid of waterpower, in which Canada is the richest country in the world.

Here is a national resource which will transform the present wilds of Quebec into homing-places of industry, and will always be a tremendous factor in the location of paper-making industries. The tariff is, at best, an expedient. As its crude necessities are outgrown, and the distribution of nature's favors is better understood, the courses of trade will find their natural channels, and Canada, handicapped at the beginning by the wider range of business possible to her southern neighbor, will come into her own.

By that time, will the Canadian-United States tariffs be obsolete? And if so, will there be only one flag on this continent? I have listened to too many prophets to wish to join their company. But I think tariff for revenue necessities will continue; and, though the tariff for industry expansion may diminish in importance, it will remain. And as to political union, we are well-satisfied where we are.

Sometimes I am asked whether Canada is loyal to England. I answer that Canada, like England, is loyal to the Empire. There are still a few people on this continent, I believe, who imagine that Canada pays tribute to the KING OF ENGLAND.

The Empire is more than England. There is reason to suppose it is bigger than the United States. It is a free confederation of inter-dependent states.

KNOX MISSION MUST HAVE BODIES.

Gave Enjoyable Concert and Minstrel Entertainment.

Kingston, April 21.—There is a feeling at Queen's Medical College that the dissecting department is not getting the dead bodies from the local Government and charitable institutions to which it is entitled. In a number of cases recently bodies have been buried that should have become the property of the college, as they were not claimed by friends or relatives and were not reported to the Inspector of Anatomy, as the law requires.

The body of a penitentiary convict was recently taken to a cemetery for interment, and it was dressed and cofined at Government expense, so it is claimed. One of Queen's medical professors claims that the college is not being fairly dealt with. If the college cannot get enough bodies from institutions, medical students are forced to rob graveyards. It is probable that the Dominion and the Ontario Government authorities will be asked to investigate.

Montreal, April 21.—An invitation from the Detroit Board of Trade sent to the Montreal Board of Trade requesting them to send a representative to the coming conference on better trade relations in that city was refused to-day. The local Board of Trade refused to consider the proposition, sending back word that they did not desire to discuss the question, which meant nothing to them.

Vancouver, April 21.—After being compelled to fire four shots warning that she meant business, the cruiser Kestrel on Sunday afternoon captured the American fishing schooner Levi Woodbury four and a half miles off Scott Islands. The schooner had five dorries out between Haycock Islands, a distance of five miles, fishing. Captain Sinclair, of the Levi Woodbury declined to proceed to Vancouver under his own power.

After some demur a hawser was attached and the Kestrel towed the prize to Vancouver, arriving this morning. The Levi Woodbury is an old vessel of 130 tons register, with a crew of 25, mostly Scandinavian. She is owned by the Standard Fish Company of Seattle.

Gossip and Comment

A Brantford paper announces that the meeting of the Hamilton-Brantford baseball league magnates arranged for tomorrow night in the Telephone City has been postponed on account of the Kinrade inquest.

The New York Mail's comment upon Tom Longboat's refusal to again meet Alf. Shrubbs is as follows:

"It's off again—the Shrubbs-Longboat match race at fifteen miles, which was to have been decided at Rosedale Park, Toronto. This time the Indian claims to have a bad foot—a boil on his heel or a strained ankle or something of that kind. The Canadian Government gave Shrubbs all kinds of assurances that Longboat would be compelled to run, but cannot do anything if the redman is really physically disabled. There are some uncharitable enough to insinuate that it is a case of frigid extremities that really troubles Longboat."

Last night Hassan Abdallah, Yankee Rogers' weekly opponent, failed to throw Charles Conkle, of this city, in a fifteen minute exhibition at the Lafayette Theatre in Buffalo. Hassan ought to go back to Turkey and help the Sultan's cause.

Jim Jeffries says there is no man in the world who can stop him. Stop him talking, he means, no doubt.

From the Montreal Herald: There has always been a suspicion that there's a good deal of easy money in Toronto. Never having got any of it myself, I can't say for certain, but judging from the manner in which some of the newspapers of the Queen City talk of the big interchange of coin of the realm on the wrestling game going on there, one would surmise that it was more or less of a cinch. And what do you think they bet on? Why, none other than our old friends Yankee Rogers and Hassan Abdallah. If you are a wrestling fan, you will recognize both of them as disciples of the Sohier Park stable, Hassan Abdallah, the "Terrible Turk," the "subject of the Sultan," and all the other flowery epithets they give him, was just plain Karakandoff in Montreal a couple of years ago, and a good deal of a joke as a wrestler in the bargain. But in Toronto both of them go down as the real goods, and from the blood-curdling accounts of their doings you'd think they were a pair of world-beaters. Karakandoff ran a candy store on Notre Dame street not so long since.

Ty Cobb has never been a favorite with players of other American league teams or with his own team for that matter, but it seems he is paving the way for a lead beating up some day. In the Cleveland series, after having a run in with Catcher Clarke, Cobb jumped into Bill Bradley, severely spiking that player. Members of the Naps claim they will get Ty before the season is over.

Senators that marked the opening games when Baltimore won the National pennant in 1894, 1895 and 1896 will be recalled to-day, when the Orioles, champions of the Eastern League, claim the pennant of 1909. The same old Ed. Hanlon, who was in the glitter of the limelight on those occasions, will be in the centre of the scene again as the president of the present club. He has gotten together a team which will more than recall that famous old aggregation than any bunch that has been seen these since those hazy days.

Chicago News: Tommy Burns cables a challenge to Jack Johnson. On looking himself over he may have decided that he was no more of a back number than some of the others who are jumping in. We believe all have been heard from now except John L. Sullivan.

OPENING OF EASTERN. IN THE SWEET BYE AND BYE

Toronto's First Game at Newark.

Yesterday's Games in American League.

Horses Arriving at the Woodbine Track.

To-day will see the opening of the Eastern League season, and with it the fans around the circuit will obtain their first real hope on the merits of their respective clubs.

Yesterday President Powers called a meeting of the umpires and club managers at the Platiron Building. The rules were gone over thoroughly and it was understood by players and umpires that the rules are to be strictly enforced.

Umpires were assigned for the opening games as follows: Kelly, at Jersey City; Finerman, at Providence; Stafford, at Baltimore; and Byron and Murray, at Newark. Umpire Connor, the other member of the staff, will be unable to report until next week.

At Newark, Toronto and Newark players will participate in two parades, before and after the game. The second one will be a reception by Newark fans to Halting and Mullen, the former Newark players. They will be given a big time by the Eagles and Elks. Joe McGinnity will pitch for Newark and Kitchell will catch.

Woburn, by the way, has secured Outfielder Meyer and Pitcher Walker, from New York Nationals, while Jersey City has not only got Second Baseman Earle Gardner from Stallings, but also Melville, the outfielder whom Toronto had under consideration.

At Boston—The local American League season opened yesterday, Boston scoring a victory over Philadelphia, 6 to 2. The visitors played a ragged game on the field and could not hit Chech when there were men on bases. Boston showed great speed. There was a sensational triple steal by Lord, Speaker and Geasler. Lord scoring. The all-round playing of Speaker was a feature. The customary flag raising and march preceded the game. Besides Lieut. Governor Louis A. Prothingham, who threw out the first ball, Governor Eben S. Draper and former Governor Curtis Guild, jun., were present. Score:

Woodstock Basketball Team Here To-morrow.

To-morrow evening in the Y. M. C. A. the Dunova basketball team will clash with the Woodstock senior team for the inter-city championship. Some weeks ago the Dunovas went to Woodstock and defeated the home team by a score of 17-14, after a hard battle.

For the Dunovas Branton and Findlay will play forward, while Peace will be at centre, and while these men are all in the most excellent shape, they ought to hold the visitors down to a very fine margin.

Ed. Buscombe, an old Hamilton boy, is instructor at Woodstock, and thinks his team can trim Hamilton. He thinks on Kempton, who did most of the scoring at Woodstock, to again run away with the scoring honors for his team.

For Woodstock, Stone at centre, who played such a wonderful game at Woodstock for his team, will be at centre against the locals. The lineup will be as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Position, Player Name. Forwards: Branton, Findlay. Centre: Stone. Defence: Kaufman, Wilson.

AT THE WOODBINE. Hon. Adam Beck's String Now at the Track.

Toronto, April 22.—The condition of the track at Woodbine is steadily improving. Yesterday morning it had dried out completely except in one or two spots. The cold wind was rather disagreeable, and few horses were exercised on the track. The rain of the afternoon is not expected to seriously interfere with to-day's work.

Ching Hare and King Holiday, three-year-olds from Charlie Phair's stable, worked three-quarters in 1:23. Hon. Adam Beck's stable arrived from London, in charge of Eddie Gleason. The following horses comprise the stable: Photographer 5, Jack Parker 3, Almarist 3, Moorshot 3 and Generous Moor 3. The last-named two are Plate candidates.

Pleasant, Tremargo and Gold Bottom, the property of A. H. Bienen, came along in the same car. Photographer looks bigger and better than ever. His right fore leg, which caused so much trouble last season, is now in good shape. The following is his record for the past two seasons:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Sts., 1/2, 3/4, 1 Mile, 1 1/2, 2 Miles. 1907: 4, 2, 0, 0, 2, $ 930. 1908: 4, 4, 0, 0, 0, 3,115.

Jack Parker is a good-looking colt by Golden Garter—Flora Mae, and a full brother to Charles Edward. He was bought from Tom Welch last fall. Trainer J. Dick arrived with J. H. Madigan's horses from Fort Erie. The stable comprises Elliott, Jimcoy, Fire Bug and a two-year-old, Jockey J. Malin, also came along.

Dymont's string is expected to-day. JOCKEY CLUB APPOINTMENTS. New York, April 22.—The stewards of the Jockey Club at a meeting held here yesterday granted a sanction to the Jamestown Jockey Club for a race meeting to be held from May 13 to May 29, inclusive. The following officials were appointed:

Judge and Handicapper, Frank W. Thorp; Starter, James Milton; Clerk of the Scales, James Milton; Clerk of the Stables, James Johnson; Patrol Judge, Ernest Hall.

Sanction was also granted to the Maryland Jockey Club to change the dates of its autumn meeting from Friday, October 22, Saturday, November 6, to Saturday, October 23 and Monday, November 8.

On the recommendation of the License Committee the licenses of Jockey Vincent Powers, Richard Schorville and Walter Miller were laid on the table.

RACE SCANDAL AT COAST. Los Angeles, Cal., April 22.—The end of racing at Santa Anita was the introduction of a betting scandal which will have far-reaching revelations. Louis Cahn, one of the most widely known characters of the track and a bookmaker up to three weeks ago, when ruled off for alleged crooked work, on Saturday handed to Dr. Gardner, manager of the Racing Association, an affidavit which forms the groundwork of the sensations. This has been turned over to Colonel A. W. Hamilton, the presiding judge, and will be made the subject of an investigation and decision by the track stewards.

The stewards of the Los Angeles Racing Association, at a meeting yesterday, refused to entertain the charges against Cahn, on the ground that Cahn has lost all standing in California racing circles, and that his statements are unquestioned, and no witnesses were called.

Johnson and Jeffries Will Not Clash This Year.

New York, April 22.—The proposed Jeffries-Johnson fight will not be formally arranged until some time next fall, if then. Jeffries says that by the terms of his theatrical contract, which expires on July 24, he cannot sign articles of agreement for a battle with anybody.

As Jeffries also insists that he is the undefeated heavyweight champion of the world, he does not see why he should issue a formal challenge to Johnson for a mill, nor can he understand why he should be compelled to cover Johnson's forfeit money. In a word, Jeffries intends to take his own time about making a match with the negro, if one is possible under conditions that may arise, and the boiler-maker will not be ready for action until some time next March or April.

Johnson, however, has jumped at the chance to make a tentative agreement, even verbally, with Jeffries for a mill to be decided a year hence, for he believes that he can offset the criticism that is hurled at him just at present for sidestepping Sam Langford and Al Kaufman, and for making a match with Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion.

There is no doubt that Jeffries was somewhat disturbed yesterday when he learned that Johnson was ready to throw over the Ketchel match. While Jeffries says he does not believe Ketchel can defeat Johnson, it is known that he is anxious to have the negro stacked up against the Michigan lion, if only for a trial bout.

To defeat Jeffries would mean a fortune for Johnson, who would probably decline to fight anybody for a year or more in order to make a tour of the world. There is no doubt that Jeffries thinks that he can train down to his best form and that he can beat the negro decisively, but such an achievement would be impossible if the men should meet within the next six months. WOULD CLAIM FORFEIT.

New York, April 22.—When informed to-night that Jack Johnson had said that he would call off his match with Ketchel in order to meet Jeffries, Willis Brit, manager for Ketchel, said that he was perfectly willing to do so, but he and Ketchel would collect the $5,500 that Johnson had on deposit as a forfeit.

"Johnson agreed that the money went as forfeit," said Brit, "and you can bet your bottom dollar I will collect it for my man. Johnson will find that he has not been dealing with a rummy. I made it plain, and even stipulated that even the transmission of the $10,000 that we had on deposit to W. W. McNaughton of the San Francisco Examiner, would not interfere with the money as a forfeit. Johnson agreed to everything, and we will hold him to it. If he dares to flunk out of the match now, after all this wrangling, Ketchel and myself will look upon the $3,000 as sugar, and pretty sweet at that."

AFTER NEW YORK BOXERS. New York, April 22.—When eight men arrested Monday night in a raid on the Longacre Athletic Club, during the progress of boxing bouts to which detectives had bought tickets, were arraigned in court to-day, Lawyer Fuchs appeared for the accused and said they had been illegally detained.

"They have not," promptly declared Magistrate House. "All these fight clubs in the city are organized to evade the law against prize fighting, and they all violate the law, yet the magistrates continue to discharge prisoners taken in raids on these places, and judges in special sessions throw them out. No wonder the people hold such courts in disrespect."

The men were remanded for examination and their bail renewed.

Jockey Griffin will ride for Pangle, Captain Walker brought eight two-year-olds from Jacksonville. Al Howell brought up the old sprinter Halifax, who is said to be ready to race.

Yesterday was schooling day, and for the first time this season the horses were allowed to go on the steeplechase course.

The Schorr and Turney strings, from Memphis, have been at Pimlico long enough to show that they are fit and ready for the races. The old handiwork horse, Martin Doherty, yesterday breezed a mile in 1:42.5. Theo Cook, from the stable, reeled off three-quarters in 1:19, hard held. Montbert did three-quarters in 1:15 very handsly.

SADDLE AND SULKY. H. J. Whitney, smart Broomstick-Belle of Troy filly, has been given the reminiscent name of Hecuba. "Jockey 'Fuddin'" McDaniel has decided to return to the saddle again, and expects to be able to ride at about 110 pounds.

The stewards of the Los Angeles Racing Association, at a meeting yesterday, refused to entertain the charges against Cahn, on the ground that Cahn has lost all standing in California racing circles, and that his statements are unquestioned, and no witnesses were called.

Knocking Down the Pins

At the H. B. and A. C. alleys yesterday morning a ladies' match took place between a Toronto and Hamilton team. The Hamilton ladies won by 148 pins, and a return game will be played in Toronto next Wednesday. Yesterday's score:

The course will be from the Post Office to the Herald Building. Sixty per cent of the proceeds will go to the one taking the longest time to complete the distance. Forty per cent will go to the loser. The remainder will be devoted to founding a Home for Sick and Dangerous Mongrel Curs, who have long been neglected in this town.

The event will be strictly amateur. We hope to obtain the sanction of both the M. A. A., the Y. M. C. A., and the W. C. T. U. It will be pulled off on the afternoon of April 31st. "Don't forget, it's all for charity!"

A GOOD MOVE. R. C. Y. C. Will Likely Decide Against Treating.

Toronto, April 22.—The no-treating resolution which the Royal Canadian Yacht Club has on its order paper for the meeting on Saturday night has stirred up a lot of interest. The long and short of it is a proposition to make it impossible for one member to buy another member drinks. The thirsty souls will, of course, still be able to assuage their thirst at their own expense and also entertain guests. The notion has taken quite a hold.

The importance of the anti-treating meeting to be held at St. George's Hall on Saturday night should not be underestimated. "It would be a great move towards true temperance, if a club of 1,500 members should adopt a by-law to put down the vicious habit of treating."

"If the friends of this much desired reform will take the trouble of attending this meeting they will be tolerably sure of a reward."

"We have it on good authority that it will carry by more than the required two-thirds majority. The members have an opportunity of remedying an evil that has done more harm than they know of. If they prefer to stay at home and let a few enthusiastic fellow-members fight their battle, they must take the consequences."

A RED-HOT MARATHON. THE HIGHFIELD CRICKET CLUB.

The Montreal Herald makes the following sensational announcement: "The Sieve, at a great outlay of trouble and expense, is able to announce to the waiting populace of Montreal, that we have been able to arrange a Great Fifteen-Hour Marathon Race Between Arthur, the Office Boy, and One-Eyed Pegleg Jack, who sells papers at the post office steps; for a go-as-you-please

OLD GUARD AT BANQUET.

A Unique Celebration at Ottawa in Their Honor.

Confederation First Spoken of to Sir John Carling.

Earl Grey, Sir Wilfrid and R. S. Borden Speak.

Ottawa, April 21.—An event unique in the Parliamentary annals of Canada took place in the Parliament restaurant to-night, when eight of the twenty-four surviving members of the first Parliament of the Dominion were tendered a banquet by the Canadian Club of the capital.

SIR JOHN CARLING'S REMINISCENCE.

Sir John Carling, in his letter, recalled an interesting incident of anti-confederation days. "It was," he said, "in the early sixties, and the situation in Canada was serious indeed. Elections had been held, but neither party was able to secure a working majority.

"What is that?" I asked. "Let him go in for confederation," was the reply. "Would you support such a movement?" "Most decidedly I would," he returned.

"The outcome was the opening of negotiations between the party leaders which ultimately led to the consummation of confederation."

His Excellency Earl Grey, who applied the evening's oratory, spoke of the debt which Canada owed to the members of the first Parliament of the Canadian Confederation. If they were not actually the fathers of confederation, they at least rocked the cradle in which rested the baby form of the constitution.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who proposed the toast to the "Old Guard," said that, although he had entered Parliament thirty-five years ago, he still considered himself one of the "young guard."

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who was the first of "the old guard" to respond to the toast, regretted that only eight of the surviving members of the first Parliament were able to be present.

HON. JOHN COSTIGAN. Hon. John Costigan, in recalling the opposition of the Maritime Provinces to confederation, said that the methods employed to bring New Brunswick into confederation were of a most corrupt kind, and he hoped the true history of that time would never be written.

Womanly Troubles

SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO UNDERMINE HEALTH.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject, but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the first stages of womanhood appear in a young girl, a great deal depends on getting her through this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop grave sickness or consumption.

RUN DOWN THE COUNTRY.

Conservative Speakers Cry Down Canada's Credit.

Mr. Lloyd Harris Makes Mr. Foster Smile.

A Stimulus, Not a Stimulant, Mr. Foster Took.

Ottawa, April 21.—The debate on the budget, which was resumed in the House of Commons to-day, revealed nothing more clearly than a disposition on the part of the Opposition to cry down the credit of Canada by way of reflecting upon the Finance Minister's administration.

"I am as optimistic as any man in this country," Mr. Perley declared, when he resumed the debate. "The Conservative party have always been an optimistic party." These sentiments were cheered by the Opposition, and to prove how much of an optimist he is, Mr. Perley proceeded to draw a picture of the conditions in Canada, attributable, of course, to the financial blunders of the Government, which suggested that the country is going to the dogs.

STIMULUS, NOT STIMULANT. Mr. Lloyd Harris created an excellent impression by his businesslike handling of the subject of finance. He at once got on good terms with the House by cracking a joke at the expense of Mr. Perley, which even the latter seemed to enjoy.

"Well, I will substitute stimulus for stimulant," retorted Mr. Harris. Canada, he added, had passed through a crisis which had tested her strength, and she had emerged from it in a manner that had evoked the admiration of other countries.

A FORTY-YEAR SINKING FUND. Mr. Ames next had the floor. In a carefully prepared speech, which took over an hour to deliver, he dealt in elaborate detail with the finances of the country. He made much of the complaint that the credit of Canada had been seriously damaged by the Finance Minister's borrowings.

LIVING WITHIN OUR MEANS. Dr. Clark (Red Deer) followed with a speech in which he exploded some of the financial fallacies of the Opposition critics, and got down to first principles. Dealing with the increase in the expenditure, he pointed out that what was expected of any country was that it should keep its expenditure within its means.

THE PRICE OF BEEF. Toronto butchers see no reason for the threatened advance in London of a couple of cents a pound for beef.

"True enough," said one dealer, "cattle in the country seem somewhat scarce, but no more so than this time last year."

"Our average buying price last year for the month of May," said another dealer, "was $9.05 per cwt., and for April last year $8.53 per cwt.; while for April this year the average price so far has been $8.20 per cwt. We look for the prices for the months of May and June to be about the same as last year."

Considering the wholesale price of beef the retail price of beef will likely range from 18 to 22c per pound during the summer months.

NOTES. The feature of the Toronto mining market yesterday was the strength of the Rose following the announcement that the La Rose interests had taken over the outstanding shares of the Lawson mines, paying for the same by issuing shares of the La Rose which had been held for that purpose.

There was some activity in Beaver; but Temiskaming was listless and weak.

THE BOBBY KERR MEET. While the entry list for the Bobby Kerr meet, to be held on May 15th, at Britannia Park, will be of huge proportions, it will be some satisfaction for the many athletes who will be competing to know that the prizes will be well worth winning.

In addition to the Flanagan medal, the two Canada Cycle and Motor Co.'s prizes which were offered yesterday, the announcement was made this morning that the Flanagan Spectator would order a cup for the 2-mile handicap walk, while the Hamilton Herald is donating a trophy for the 5-mile open race.

In addition to this, Norman Ellis has offered a silver cup, to be used for whatever race the committee may desire. The committee decided last evening to accept the offer of the Canada Cycle and Motor Co., and the prizes from the Toronto firm will take the form of cups and will be given to the winners of the bicycle races. These prizes, however do not include the medals donated by the Whites and Russell T. Kelley, while several other local gentlemen are prepared to put up special prizes. The committee in charge of the meet is sparing no effort to make the event a banner affair. Many applications for entry blanks are being received and the entries for the various events are coming in every day. The entries close on Saturday, May 8th, with M. M. COMMITTED ON ALL TEN.

Jack Hyde Looks Bad After a Period in Jail.

Fishery Inspector Kerr Secured Conviction This Morning.

Wm. Smith Wrote Him a Letter Which Puzzled Court.

John Hyde pleaded not guilty to ten charges read by Magistrate Jells at the police court this morning. Hyde is accused of unlawfully and knowingly forging documents and absconding with funds belonging to the T. H. & B. He has been in jail since a week ago last Tuesday, and the environment and disgrace of his position have left their marks on his countenance. Dark rings surround his eyes, and his general demeanor was most depressed to-day. Hyde was employed as the roadmaster clerk and the method which he is alleged to have used to defraud the company was to employ what is known as "dummies," and keep their pay envelopes.

J. Millard is the roadmaster of T. H. & B. R., whose duty is to look over the time sheet and then make out a pay cheque. Hyde, he said, looked after this portion of the work, he (Millard) signing the blank cheques and leaving it to Hyde to make out the pay, and fill in the cheque.

The evidence of Harold Malcolmson, chief clerk, made plain the fact that all the forms of papers had been made out correctly, the only trouble being that the men were not working and yet their pay cheques were being cashed. Thomas Newell, yard foreman, gave evidence of his time sheet being tampered with, and the names of men inserted who had been discharged.

Mr. Van Wyck, cashier, was called and asked to explain the method by which these time cheques were cashed. "The men present their cheques, he said, and after they had been identified the money is paid over.

"Who identifies the men?" asked Crown Attorney Washington. "They were generally identified by Hyde, Millard or the foreman of the gang in which they worked," replied Van Wyck. "Sometimes, however, Hyde telephoned their description and I identified them that way."

The Crown produced two of the time cheques which had been signed with a fictitious name and cashed by Hyde, but Van Wyck could not recollect the man who presented them and could not remember for certain if it was Hyde who had identified the man.

Hyde was committed on the first indictment, and the evidence for the remaining three was then taken up with the same result.

"You are committed for trial on ten charges," said the Magistrate in conclusion, and Hyde was led back to the cell. William Smith, Burlington, was found guilty by Magistrate Jells on a charge laid by Fishery Inspector Kerr of setting a drug net in the bay on April 15 without a license. Kerr was informed by the letter that some of the net in the pond back of the power house, and the inspector drove down early on the 15th to investigate. Kerr and his son entered an empty boat house to watch. Smith went out from the power house about 2:30 in a boat, and some about five feet, said Kerr, when he stopped, the boat and witness could see him pulling the net over the side. Smith then pulled for the shore. Wishing to catch him in the act, both the inspector and his son made a dash for the shore where they expected him to land. Smith, however, saw them and dropped the net overboard.

Smith testified that the net the inspector saw in the water that morning was one he had taken away from a couple of boys the day before, and as it was heavy and filled with weeds he had left it in the water in front of the power house. He wrote a letter to Inspector Kerr telling him the net was there, and asking him to go down and get it. Whether the letter was written before or after he had been caught was a matter that perplexed the court. The post-mark on the letter was April 15, 9 a. m. As the offence was committed at 7:30 that morning Smith would have time to write the note and get it to the post-office. Then again there is the possibility that the letter was posted the night before and not stamped until the following morning.

In the Magistrate's mind there was little doubt, however, and Smith was fined $10 and costs.

THE BULLET REMOVED.

Hugh Baxter, the 16-year-old son of A. R. Baxter, grocer, corner of Bold and Caroline streets, who was accidentally shot near the Valley Inn yesterday morning, was operated on in the afternoon, and the bullet, which had lodged in his hip, was removed. The lad was taken to the office of Dr. Cummings and the bullet located by the use of the X-rays. It was feared at first that the bullet had pierced the stomach, but as it is the wound is not serious and will soon heal up.

KEEP PUBLIC OUT OF COURT ROOM.

by William Robson. The police pronounced it a "plant" and declared the revolver was never used. To-day they admitted that they had no hope of being able to trace it, because it bears no number or stamp, although Attorney Washington was non-committal when asked if Mrs. Fay would be a witness.

Provincial Detective Miller was in the city early this afternoon, with a stranger, who is said to be a detective employed by the Government on the case.

ADJOURNED FOR TWO WEEKS.

The Times was informed this afternoon that the inquest would be continued to-night and to-morrow night and then adjourned for probably two weeks to permit the police to complete the investigation they have been conducting in the States.

Notwithstanding the statement made this morning that Florence Kinrade would not go on the witness stand to-night she has been subpoenaed to appear. It is stated that Mr. Blackstock whether she will be called this evening.

HAVE DISCOVERED LITTLE. Interest in this atrocious crime has been smouldering since the detectives failed to make good their promise to spring a sensation at the inquest, but the embers have been fanned into a blaze by the vague hints the police have dropped of developments when the Crown examiner resumes his probing, by the thrill that followed the silly hoax yesterday; by a Norfolk despatch which said that Jimmie Baum would be on hand at the inquest to-night, and by the score of other reports which are being given by the gossip, who tell you something in strictest confidence with a warning not to breathe it to another soul, and who hustle on their way looking for the next willing ear to listen to their story.

The truth of the matter is that the authorities are as high in the air regarding the solution of the case as they were a month ago, when they spurned for time by having the inquest adjourned. The interval since that has not been wasted. The shrewdest detectives of the Ontario Criminal Investigation Department could employ have been probing in every nook and corner and working with tireless energy to unearth some clue that would send a shaft of light through the pall of mystery that covers the case.

When they set out on this is what they sought to accomplish: Firstly, to find the revolver with which Ethel Kinrade was murdered.

Secondly, to sift the stories that were flung around about a prominent Hamilton man, who was supposed to be knowing something about the case.

Thirdly, to locate Colonel Warburton, the English army officer, and Marion Elliott, a former Montreal woman, mentioned so frequently by Florence Kinrade during the story she told on the witness stand.

Fourthly, to investigate Florence Kinrade's movements when she was in the south, and either verify or break down the story she told the Crown examiner.

On three of these points they are said to have failed hopelessly. They have ransacked the Kinrade house from top to bottom, inspected the plumbing, opened the sewer, and day after day have gone over the ground surrounding the house and net in the pond, but they have failed to find the revolver.

The police say that the silly revolver hoax of yesterday might have proved a very serious thing had it not been so badly bungled. Their theory is that the crime was committed with a first revolver, one probably used for the first time, when the nine shots were fired. Fortunately it is quite clear that this revolver found yesterday had never been fired off, and that disposed of the possibility of it having been the weapon.

The second point the police have failed in was their effort to draw any prominent local man into the case. Their only foundation for mixing him up in it was a story that did surface among the city gossip, that the Pinkerton detective who plied him with questions had to admit that he was entirely satisfied this man knew nothing about the crime. Consequently the inquest to-night will be robbed of what promised to be one of its sensational features.

On the strength of their own admission the Pinkertons have been unable to clear up the third point. They have been unable to find Colonel Warburton or Miss Elliott. Detectives probed in Virginia, where these people were said to have spent part of their time, but got no trace of them. In Virginia they can find no records of the marriage of Miss Elliott and Colonel Warburton.

Florence Kinrade stated on the witness stand that she received a card after returning from the south saying that they had been married.

On the fourth point the investigation of Florence Kinrade's movements in the south, the detectives claim to have been successful. They say they followed her movements closely down here. Their story will probably be told on the witness stand.

There is some conjecture as to where Provincial Detective Miller, who has had charge of the case, has been during the past week. He was in Hamilton every day until about a week ago, and then his visits ceased. It is thought that he has been looking up some important point in the case, probably a clue to the whereabouts of Miss Elliott and Colonel Warburton.

Notwithstanding the failure to clear up many points, there is a feeling that to-night's session of the inquest will prove interesting.

Will Jimmy Baum, the actor-author-mechanic, the Portsmouth friend of Florence Kinrade, when she appeared as a vocalist in a moving picture house there last summer, be there? If so, who is responsible for his appearance? A Norfolk despatch of yesterday said he was on his way here with Detective Pender, the Pinkerton, who has been at work down there. Who is responsible for his appearance? He would not accept a flattering offer to appear at Bennett's Theatre here, because he feared the police were laying a trap to make him go on the witness stand. Is it true that Clare Montrose Wright, Florence Kinrade's fiancé, has been down south and has succeeded in getting Jim Baum to come here?

Baum, if he appears, and Florence Kinrade, will be the most interesting witnesses at the inquest to-night.

There will be a number of other witnesses, but who they are or what they are expected to tell, the detectives will not say. The officers are strictly obeying the orders from the Attorney-General's department not to talk. One of the witnesses will be Luke Coppel, the delivery man employed by Hunt, the grocer, where Florence Kinrade ran to manding general of the army of investment on the following points: "The disbandment of 5,000 time-expired men in the Constantinople garrison and the replacement of the regular troops by the garrison by Saloniki troops; the punishment of officers according to the degrees of their guilt in the revolutionary movement of the Constantinople to the reformed Macedonia; the execution with care and moderation in order to prevent bloodshed.

The investment of Constantinople by the Constitutionalists is practically complete. Contingents of the third army corps have been sent to points in Asia Minor notably Eski-Sheer, a station on the Anatolian railway, to intercept fugitives and cut off communication with the capital on this side.

The situation in the country north, east and west of Alexandria arising from the anti-Christian outbreaks is most serious. There has been a massacre and pillage at Antioch, and rioting at Hama. Aleppo is in a state of panic. There are only 400 Turkish soldiers in the city. Business is at a standstill and there is every reason to fear a serious outbreak. The city is full of Bedouin Arabs, Kurds and Circassians. FIGHTING THE ICE MONSTER.

the reluctance of the American and Canadian Governments to hasten to the relief of the community. The plea of the Canadians was unheeded. The request of President Sanford White, of Lewiston, and of Harry Cornell, the American representative of the Niagara Navigation Company to the U. S. engineers was investigated, but assistance was refused, partly on the ground of impracticability and partly on the ground of lack of funds for such a purpose.

Governor Hughes, however, when appealed to by the same parties immediately turned the matter over to Superintendent Stevens. Twenty-four hours after the request was made everything was in readiness to go ahead with the task of breaking the most devastating jam in the history of the Niagara River.

WILL HELP IF POSSIBLE. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, April 22.—The Government has been appealed to by several towns, navigation and electrical power companies to send an icebreaker to attempt relief of the district suffering from the ice jam in the Niagara River. Colonel Anderson, chief engineer of the Marine Department, is leaving this afternoon for Niagara to see what measures can be taken to relieve the situation. The marine authorities state that they would be only too glad to send an icebreaker to Niagara if it was possible to do so.

But the only Canadian boats which would all be able to cope with the ice situation would be the powerful ice-breakers which are at Quebec, and which have been operating on a somewhat similar ice jam near there since January. That jam was broken by the icebreaker Montcalm. However, this boat is prevented from proceeding to Niagara by the fact that she would have to pass through the Canadian canals, which are not yet opened, and cannot be on account of ice until about the first of May.

It is possible that after Colonel Anderson reaches the scene other measures, such as dynamiting, will be resorted to for the purpose of breaking the Niagara jam. Until a report is received from him no action will be taken. There is great pressure being brought to bear on the Government to do something for the relief of the Niagara situation.
