They like them because they have a richness of flavour that is peculiarly their own. It may without exaggeration be said that they are the finest of the fine.

Rapid changes of temperature are hard on the toughest constitution.

The conductor passing from the heated inside of a trolley car to the icy temperature of the platform—the canvasser spending an hour or so in a heated building and then walking against a biting wind—know the difficulty of avoiding cold.

Scott's Emulsion strengthens the body so that it can better withstand the danger of cold from changes of temperature.

It will help you to avoid taking cold.

Farmers' and Shippers' Association

A Suggestion for Our Apple Shippers to Consider. W. T. James of Paradise Describes Methods of Bermudan Shippers and Recommends the System for Nova Scotian Fruit Growers.

His Worship, W. T. James, Mayor of Hamilton, Bermuda, and the leading business man of the Bermuda Islands, was interviewed by the Maritime Merchant whilst in Halifax on his way home. Mr. James spends the months of August, September and October of each year at his place in the Annapolis Valley, where he raises large quantities of most delicious apples and vegetables and incidentally picks up a good stock of health to last him through the trials and worries of an active winter.

Mr. James told the Merchant that the business outlook in Bermuda today is better than it has been for years and that last year was a most successful one for every industry in which Bermuda is interested. There are only 20,000 people in the Bermuda Colonies, and the tourist trade alone last season left them over $500,000 up to April 30th. Another source of revenue, the expenditure of the Imperial Government for permanent fortifications, buildings, etc. was unusually large last winter, as were also the disbursements of the Navy, and in addition to these, and of greater relative importance the farmers of the Islands had a remarkably good crop of onions and potatoes, which they sold at a good price. They raised about 300,000 boxes of onions which netted close to $1.25 per box.

Mr. James then told about the successful work of the lately organized Farmer's and Shipper's Association of Bermuda. "Every farmer and shipper in the Colony," said Mr. James, "is a member of the Association, and the cost of running it amounts to 1c. a box on onions and 2c. a box on potatoes. The Association keeps one of its own men in New York all the time during the shipping season, as New York is the place where we market practically everything we ship. The Association also appoints half a dozen New York houses as sub-agents, and in conjunction with these agents our representative fixes the selling price for our shipments while they are on the way to New York. The result is that we are able to regulate our deliveries. There is no disturbance from reckless over-bidding by buyers, and there is an end of indiscriminate and premature consigning which eventually resulted in loss to the buyer.

"A great many times when in the Old Country in recent years," said Mr. James, "I have wandered down to Covent Garden in London, and seen Nova Scotia apples being sold at auction. Sometimes I have seen them sold too low, and have felt that if Nova Scotia had a representative in London paid to look after the special interests of fruit shippers, she could afford to give him a good salary. Such a representative would need to be a man of good judgment, ability and force—one who could determine whether it was better to pay expensive storage rates than see a consignment sold a shilling too low. I have no doubt the English apple consignee is as good a man as you will find in the same business anywhere, but his business is to sell fruit without partially to either buyer or seller, and the buyer is on hand to look out for himself, while the seller is not."

"Our experience in Bermuda," continued Mr. James, "has demonstrated that the paid representative is a good investment, and I would commend it to the fruit growers of Nova Scotia, for I feel they are making the same mistake Bermudians had been making for a good many years.

Physical Training in the Public Schools.

Nova Scotia is the First Province to Adopt Sir Frederick Borden's Plan.

An arrangement between the Minister of Militia and the Government of Nova Scotia for introducing into the public schools of that Province a system of physical exercise and military training will go into effect on the 1st of January next. School teachers will undergo a special course to qualify them for imparting physical training and military drill to the scholars. Certificates will not be granted to teachers in Nova Scotia until they qualify for this purpose.

Rifle shooting will be introduced to male students. Certificates for physical training and elementary drill will be issued to teachers of either sex.

For school cadet corps the Militia Department will provide instructors, belts, caps, a proportion of arms, ammunition and drill barns.

The Woodsman.

(By Charles G. D. Roberts.)
All day long he wanders wide
With the grey moss for his guide,
And his lonely axe-stroke startles
The expectant forest-side.

Toward the quiet close of day
Back to the camp he takes his way,
And about his sober footsteps
Unafraid the squirrels play.

On his roof the red leaf falls,
At his door the blue jay calls,
And he hears the wood-moose hurry
Up and down his rough log walls.

Hears the laughter of the loon
Thrill the dying after-noon—
Hears the calling of the moose
Echo in the early moon.

And he hears the partridge drumming,
The belated hornet humming—
All the faint prophetic sounds
That foretell the winters coming.

And the wind above his eaves
Through the chilly night-wet groves,
And the earth's dumb patience fills
His mind,
Fellow to the falling leaves.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO.

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar.

A Fashionable Folly

One just flatters oneself that women are becoming more sensible, when some ridiculous outbreak reveals the eternal feminine in the same old foolishness, under some new guise. This autumn it is absurd hats and small waists. With regard to the former I have said enough, but just one little remark about them. A witty woman said the other day, "Formerly a hat had to be out of style to look ridiculous, now it has to be in style."

But the cut of the small waist is a different and more harmful affair. Twice recently have I come upon flagrant examples of this particular form of woman's folly. One was in a reputable American paper, where a woman wrote: "I have reduced my waist to 18 inches. Could you recommend any particular corset which would enable me to bring it down to 16?"

How any woman with any eye for beauty at all can tolerate a small waist passes belief. A naturally slim figure, with a pretty curve in at the waist, is one thing, and the horrible atrocity produced by tight lacing is another. In the old days one heard of girls who tied their corsets loose to the bed-post and walked away, but one fancied—foolishly enough—that such unregenerate days were past. High heels and unreasonably small waists are follies that the average man dislikes like poison. A man looking for a wife always notices these things. They do not attract, as some think, but repel; at least, that is all men whose liking is worth having.

The second was from an English weekly, which had told in its woman's department of an India-rubber belt, which had reduced a woman's waist to 17 inches. Immediately the paper was besieged with enquiries as to where this belt could be obtained. It seems it hails from Vienna, and is worn by fashionable women on the continent.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.
Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a cure. Such a remedy is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment. During the many years in which it has been in general use, we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be freely given to babies as well as adults.

HARD TIMES HAVE STRUCK THE STATES.
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Large reductions have been made in the working forces in many industries in Chicago during the last few days, owing directly to scarcity of orders and business depression. Several concerns are running short time in an effort to maintain their forces. Nearly 1000 machinists in Chicago are idle and railroads west of Chicago have laid off an aggregate of 25,000 men.

The Girl Who is Not a Favorite.

The girl who expects to begin at the top instead of slowly climbing there. The girl who makes excuses for herself instead of trying to overcome the difficulty which she tries to evade. The girl who airs her grievances to others until she makes a nuisance of herself.

The girl who thinks she is entitled to privileges not granted to her brother. The girl who is not thorough and conscientious about her work. The girl who is always doleful. The girl who spends her nights at parties and arrives at the office in the morning weary and out of humor.

The girl who expects to carry on a filtration or two coincidentally with her work. The girl who tells everyone she doesn't have to work, but is only doing it to make extra pocket money. The girl who talks over her employer's business outside the office. The girl who looks upon work as a drudgery and has a grudge against fate for forcing her to do it.

The girl who falls to remain womanly and affable magnanimous qualities. The girl who spends her money upon clothes instead of good health-bringing food. The girl who is never punctual. The girl who depends upon favoritism to advance her instead of good, honest endeavor.

The girl who constantly "doesn't feel well." The girl who is indifferent and listless and cannot even assume an interest in her occupation. The girl who lacks courage and self-respect. The girl who doesn't dress neatly.

The principle of consolidation is being applied in small enterprises as well as great ones now-a-days and what works well in the latter class should also in the former. We are pleased to find that our new move to combine our newspaper constituencies has apparently met with general approval. Our readers get the benefit of the news of a broader local field while our advertisers have the advantage of a wider circulation. Last week we printed nearly 2500 copies of the MONITOR-SENTINEL and this week we shall run a trifle over that mark. It will take some weeks yet to reach the standard of our efforts, and re-adjust affairs on the new basis, but the prospect is encouraging. We are also making arrangements to handle our large job patronage more easily and shall put forth all our efforts to merit the confidence and support which have always followed and stimulated our endeavors to give a satisfactory public service.

Methodist Missionary Convention.

The Convention of the Annapolis County Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church convened in the Methodist church, Annapolis Royal, Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 and was well attended by delegates from the auxiliaries in this county. A large congregation attended the evening session at 7.30, which was especially interesting. The chair was occupied by Mrs. (Rev.) Phalen, of Bear River, president of the society. A paper written by Mrs. Cropper, of Bear River, entitled "Why am I an Auxiliary Member?" was read by Mrs. Dean of the same place. Mrs. Gunn, of Truro, Corresponding Secretary of the Nova Scotia branch of this society was present, and read an exceedingly interesting paper called "Blessings from the Board Meeting at Woodstock, Ont." Miss Killam, a returned missionary from Japan, gave an interesting talk on the school work engaged in by the missionaries and teachers of this church. Rev. Mr. McNeil, pastor of the church made a few closing remarks. The enjoyment of the service was greatly added to by the singing of the choir. The convention held its last session on Thursday morning.

We are in receipt of a copy of the "Monthly Times" of Nov. 9th. In this issue the Maritime Provinces receive special attention, Nova Scotia with her industries and possibilities being particularly dealt with. It is to be regretted that more of our towns did not take advantage of the liberal offer to bring themselves more prominently before the minds of the people in this widely circulated journal. The articles are well written and worthy of a careful perusal.

Obituary.

JAMES CURRAN.
The death of James Curran occurred on Monday morning, 18th inst., after a lingering illness extending over the past two years. Mr. Curran was a carpenter by trade and was a son of the late Mrs. Russell, for many years the well-known proprietor of the Bevere House. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon last and many citizens paid their last tribute of esteem by attending the service in St. Alphonsus's church. The pall bearers were Arvid Anderson, Forrest Connell, Wm. Connell and Arthur Kilduff. Mr. Curran was fifty-one years of age and leaves a widow and three young sons, who have the sympathy of the community.

A new salinity business has been opened in Bridgetown by George Leze, an employee with John Ross for the past five years. The new store is in the Shaner building and makes a tasteful display of its line of goods. Mr. Leze came here when he had to reside with his aunt, Mrs. I. B. Freeman and by his steady industrious habits has won the confidence of the community, who will, no doubt, favor him with the patronage he deserves. We wish the new business success.

An instance of skill and good management in farming, is that of F. H. Johnson at Carleton's Corner. When Mr. Johnson bought his farm, the orchard was producing about 100 barrels of apples yearly. Eight years cultivation have given him from the same trees, 700 barrels of apples. Mr. Johnson was one of the exhibitors at the Crystal Palace Exposition, London sending 12 boxes of different varieties. He is preparing another exhibit to send in cold storage for the London Exhibition next summer.

Annapolis Town Councillor Married.

A very interesting event took place at the residence of Capt. Jos. Comans, East Jordan Shelburne county, on Thursday morning, the 14th inst., the occasion being the marriage of Jean Lyle, daughter of Capt. Comans, to Rollins Hardwick, the popular town councillor of Annapolis Royal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Baker, pastor in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, the parlors being tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride entered the room on the arm of her grandfather, R. B. Martin, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by her cousin, Miss Bella Martin. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of white silk tulle and bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. Little Margaret, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the ceremony the bridal party partook of luncheon at the home of the bride's parents, after which the nuptial couple left by the Halifax and South Western Railway on a wedding trip, which will include Yarmouth, St. John and other places. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful set of cable furs. The going away costume of the bride was of navy blue cheviot with hat to match.

Flags were flying in Annapolis Royal in honor of the event. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick will reside in a cosy cottage there which awaits them.

Smith Cove.

Isaac Nelson has started the foundation of a summer cottage for William McGregor of Boston. The situation is on a small, which commands a fine view of the Basin, and it is only a few minutes walk from Smith's Cove Station. The plans and specifications call for an elaborate cottage, the price to be in the vicinity of fifteen hundred dollars.

Now is the time of year when people are wondering what gifts to make Christmas. If in doubt, give a year's subscription to the Mon for Sentinel, then your or friend or sweet-heart will have you in remembrance throughout the entire year.

A REPLY TO FAULT-FINDERS.

To the Editor of THE TELEPHONE:

It would seem, from recent events in connection with our exhibition which took place on the 16th inst., that there are many excuses offered by many members of the Agricultural Society; I have thought it advisable to answer some of those excuses that are offered by members of our society in regard to their utter indifference as to the agricultural industry in the town of Bear River and the surrounding country. In regard to membership and as to the plan which we have adopted to have men become members in the past, I am here to say, it is both honest and legitimate, acknowledged by the Secretary of Agriculture to be such. I think it absolutely unfair and more than that, absolutely false to say that we are a band who are handed together to defend the government. I will assure you, sir, that a thing of that nature is entirely foreign to my knowledge. The management has always labored to run and society upon just and equitable lines. I think the gentleman who would resort to such a slim excuse for not putting his product upon exhibition must be driven to excuse himself for an excuse. There are a number who have excused themselves for want of time; this forms no excuse, inasmuch as some of the most prosperous and best worked men of our society made a splendid showing in fruit and vegetables, to say nothing of live stock. It is found that many of our friends say that they can ill afford to pay out two cents and only get one back. They did not think it a profitable business, as the figures were all against them financially. To such, I may say they are scarcely worthy citizenship as no sane man would ever think for one moment that exhibitions in any part of the world could ever be a money-making institution. It always has been and is now, one of the best modes of advertising the product of any community. Since our popularity of all classes are deeply interested in exhibitions— anxious to see for themselves in the various localities the various products of the farm, the main factors of artisans of use and wear, live stock, etc.

From a standpoint of observation, it may be said that there were first class cattle with in one hundred rods of the exhibition grounds that would have done credit to a provincial exhibition if not a Dominion; whose owners fell short of sufficient interest in the maintenance of our past reputation, to say nothing of becoming an uplifter of this grand industry—agriculture; which would go far to encourage a larger grant by the government towards the support of a yearly exhibition, which would be exceedingly desirable by many of the friends of agriculture through out the province. To show the lack of interest manifested by our co-workers both in Digby and on Digby Neck, so-called. On exhibition day I was surprised to see that we did not send off price lists to these societies. Now, the facts are, that our most respected Secretary furnished each of 116 societies with a large number of these to be distributed amongst their respective members. I am not prepared to say why this distribution did not take place, but an exceedingly sorry this was the case. This omission should warrant more attention in the future as to carrying out the duties of their several offices.

Hoping for a brighter future,
I am, as ever yours,
J. V. THOMAS.

Obituary.

CAPT. CHAS. PETERS.
Capt. Chas. Peters, for many years engaged in the lumber trade between New England and the southern ports, died at his home, 73 Circuit St., Roxbury, Mass., on October 28th after a lingering illness. Twenty years ago Capt. Peters was one of the best known skippers sailing out of Boston harbor, and for years was one of the most prominent Captains in the lumber trade.

He was born in Bridgetown, N. S. in 1842 and at the age of 10 began following the sea. For a number of years he sailed in the Bear River, sailing out of this port. About 20 years ago he left here for Boston, Mass., where he has made his home ever since. In all his career Capt. Peters met with but one mishap, when his ship Messenger was wrecked off the coast of Long Island about 15 years ago. Forty years ago he retired from active service.

He was member of the Scottish rite of Masons.

He is survived by a wife and one daughter, who have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad bereavement.

PORT WADE.

Skippers Ed. Kenna and Ansel Casey have arrived home from Eastport with their fishing craft, which they purchased there, the Mabel T. and Falcon respectively. Inshore fishing is still good but bait is very scarce and high Mr. James Nelson is still very ill not much hope is held out for his recovery.

Capt. W. McGrath and daughter, Carrie, went to Boston last week for a short visit.

W. Ramsey's mill is coming near this week to saw lumber.

Rev. Mr. West has begun his pastorate here. The reverend gentleman has made a very favorable impression.

Farmers here are doing their fall ploughing when it is not too wet. Mr. Weir of Deep Brook and Mr. MacKinnon towed in the large many one this past Saturday replacing for the winter with a spare boy.

Thomas S. Morse Killed in an Auto Accident at Sharon, Conn.

Thomas S. Morse, manager and owner of the Morse automobile garage in Lenox, Mass., died at the House of Mercy hospital at 11 o'clock, Wednesday evening, October, 30th as the result of injuries sustained in an accident at Sharon, Conn., that afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock. A ruptured kidney caused death. In company with Charles W. Scott, chauffeur for William J. Huntington, Mr. Morse left Gr. Barrington at 9 o'clock for the New York automobile show when they were to meet Mr. Boardman. They were travelling in a 5 horse power Columbia Machine. All the way they had found the road badly washed and very muddy. They had gotten about a mile north of Sharon, when they ran into a deep mud hole and were badly jolted up. A little further on was a sharp turn in the road and a bridge over a ten foot creek. Just as they were approaching the bridge the steering gear failed to work and the machine crashed into a post rail which guarded the bridge embankment. The post gave way and the machine rolled down the eight foot bank into the creek. The automobile did not turn turtle but remained on all four wheels in the bottom of the stream in about two feet of water. Mr. Morse was sitting on the front seat beside Mr. Scott, who had charge of the steering wheel. Mr. Scott says that when he saw he had lost control of the auto he yelled to Mr. Morse to jump for his life, and he cannot tell how he got so seriously hurt, but thinks that in trying to jump out he must have gone over the front of the machine and struck a rock in the bed of the creek. When he regained his senses he was in about two feet of water and looking about he saw Mr. Morse lying unconscious in the stream beside the automobile. He picked him up and carried him to the bank, where a farmer, who saw the accident, came to his assistance. In about 20 minutes Mr. Morse regained his senses and with our help walked for several rods to the farmer's house. We noticed a cut on the side of his head and he said his side pained him. Dr. Chaffer, of Sharon, was called who found no bones broken and sent on the slight bruise and cut on the face. The doctor seemed to be no marks of injury on his body. About 10 o'clock Mr. Morse appeared to grow worse complaining of the injury to his side. Dr. Chaffer was called for and advised that he be taken to the hospital at Pittsfield. During all this time Mr. Morse was conscious and passed it off very lightly, saying it was merely an accident that he was not seriously hurt and would be getting well in a short time. On the way to the hospital he slept for half an hour, at other times talking of the accident and expressing regret that he would not be able to attend the New York automobile show. After arriving at the hospital Mr. Morse seemed to be feeling better and advised us not to telephone for his wife that night as he would be all right until morning and she need not come up until then. As soon as possible after reaching the hospital Dr. S. F. F. Dohd was summoned. He feared from the first that Mr. Morse was injured internally, but there was little he could do as it was very difficult to determine the full extent and nature of his injuries. At 10:30 he grew suddenly worse; he rapidly lost consciousness and a hurried telephone message was sent to Lenox to Mrs. Morse. She arrived with her two children shortly before midnight and a little while after Mr. Morse had died. Assistant medical examiner John J. Flynn was called to the hospital and with Dr. Dohd made a careful examination. They decided that the death was the result of a ruptured kidney and hemorrhage. Mr. Scott is 25 years old, a careful chauffeur and a first class mechanic and no blame is attached to him. His injuries were slight.

Mr. Morse was 46 years of age, he being the second son of the late Doy I. Morse. He was born at Clements, Annapolis County, N. S., and went to Lenox to reside about 20 years ago. For a number of years he had been a member of the local Congregational church and active in all church work. He had been superintendent of the Sunday school for two years and was clerk of the church at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Yukon club of Lenox. Mr. Morse was twice married. He left no children by his first wife who died in Brooklyn, N. Y. By his second wife, who now survives him, he leaves two children, Miss Josephine and Darwin S. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Balem, of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Fred J. Hillman, of Bear River, N. S., also two brothers, Edward F., of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Paul E., of Oroville, Cal. A good business man, popular in the town society life of Lenox, Mr. Morse greatly mourns his death. Mrs. Morse is prostrated by the fatality and much sympathy has been expressed for her and the children in their sad bereavement.—Pittsfield, Mass. Journal.

MT. ALLISON WINS.

Special to the Monitor—Sentinel, Sackville, Nov. 11th.—In the last of the games this year of the King-Edmund Series, Mount Allison won her 6th trial, Acadia, on the campus here on Saturday last. The game was Mr. A's from start to finish and although Acadia's forwards were much heavier yet they lacked the snap and vim that was so evident in the home team. The game was denned throughout and a good exhibition of football being characterized on Mr. A's part by the good kicking and passing of her halves and hard fouling up of her forwards. The team scored during both halves, but only converted one try, the game ending 8-6.

ACADIA NOTES.

(Special to the Monitor—Sentinel) The football interest is at its height many fine exhibitions of this most popular game have already been seen on the campus. On the 10th Acadia met the Crescent of Halifax. This was Acadia's first game this season, but the team showed that they were such stuff as foot-ball men are made of. The game ended with a score of 8-0 in Acadia's favor.

On the 24th, the big "Stay away and you will be sorry all your life" game with the St. Francis Xavier, was played. It is years since we have seen an exhibition of foot-ball has been seen. The game was fast and furious from start to finish. Acadia forced St. F. N. twice to touch for safety. The game ended with no score for either side. W. E. Road was Acadia's spare man. In the evening a reception was given to the visiting team.

The freshmen and ends played their annual game on the 26th. The freshmen won easily, the score being 16-0. The usual missionary meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening of the 20th. The new feature of this meeting was the address by the students instead of an outside speaker. The subject discussed was, "Why should every one acquire a knowledge of the missionary enterprise?" The speakers were John H. Geldert, Moncton, Class of 1908, Walter S. Smith, Bear River, Class of 1909 and Geo. F. Camp, Ripper Sheffield, N. B. Class of 1910.

It is quite probable that the number of students this year surpasses all previous records. It is undoubtedly Acadia's banner year, the attendance being not far from the two hundred mark.

LOWER GRANVILLE.

Rev. J. K. West arrived last week to assume the pastorate of the Baptist Church and preached on Sabbath last very acceptably to his new charge. James F. Morrison Jr. has secured the use of a portable mill and is moving it to the woods where he has a large quantity of logs ready for sawing.

George Morrison and bride returned from their wedding trip on Saturday. The Baptist congregation have disposed of the old parsonage at Stoney Beach and have purchased the Joseph K. Healy's house and lot which is now occupied by the new Baptist minister. It is centrally located and will make a very nice residence.

Frank C. Bogart came home from St. John on Wednesday and left for New York on Monday accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Bogart, who will spend the winter in Florida with her son Wm. D. Bogart.

Capt. John D. Apt has been appointed sub-lieutenant and Capt. John McWhinnie, harbor master at Port Wade.

The Man and His Own Way.

On a lovely afternoon, when the balmy air and the fresh, bright colors of the ladies made a kind of gala day, even on Broadway, Philip Hays stood at his office door, thoughtfully pulling on his neatly fitting gloves. I say "thoughtfully," because that word just describes his state of mind, which was that of halting between two opinions—whether to go for his usual stroll up-town, have a comfortable dinner at his hotel, and a little flirtation with Jessie Mabin afterward; or to cross the river, and take a train to his brother's pretty place in Jersey. He told himself, as he was carefully buttoning his right-hand glove, that the berries were ripe, and that he really needed a little fresh air, etc., etc.

But he knew a far better reason, if he would only have acknowledged it; and what is more, other people knew it, too. Brother Will was wise enough to credit his pretty sister-in-law with Philip's excess of fraternal affection; and little Nona Zabriski herself had a shrewd guess as to what kind of berries Mr. Philip Hays came to the country to taste.

Well, on this particular afternoon, the country proved the most powerful attraction, and in an hour and a half after the gloves had been fitted to a society, they were taken off again to clasp the hands of the dearest, sweetest, brightest little country maiden that any man with the right kind of eyes could desire to see.

Everybody pretended to believe the story about the berries, and that, of course, gave him a chance to go with Nona to gather them.

What Philip said to Nona, and what Nona said to Philip, the berries and the evening star probably know; but it was very delightful and so satisfying that the young people came back to the house without any berries at all, and presently there was a great deal of hand-shaking and kissing, and mutual good wishes.

Well, after this, for a couple of weeks, there was no meeting at the office door. Philip said "no" to his friends, when his friends rallied him about his sudden passion for the country, and the "poach" excuse did just as well as the "berries."

Philip's mother and sister were going to some fashionable Virginia springs, and he greatly desired that his little Nona should go with them. For, to tell the truth, he did wish she were a little more stylish, would put up her curls, and abandon aprons, and dress like Jessie Mabin did.

He went about his plans with that just which young men who have sisters acquire; a little present from the jeweler's, a modest check, "just for spending money," made his sister Cecilia sufficiently interested in his project.

"Nona is a dear little girl, Cecilia," he said; "all she wants is a more stately manner and stylish dress."

"If that is what you like, Philip, why did you not marry Jessie Mabin? I thought you liked her well enough."

"Because, Cecilia, I want a heart inside the dress—a pure, loving heart." The next difficulty was to make Nona understand his wishes and induce her to accept the invitation sent by his mother and sister. He approached the subject under the most favorable circumstances—the moonlight did not betray his confusion.

"I am so glad, Nona, that you are going with Cecilia. I am sure it will do you good," he said.

"I am going to please you, Philip, for I am quite well, thank you."

"Oh, I don't mean about your health, you little witch! Who could have such bright eyes and red lips and not who only one month ago had himself dictated the very course which was making him so wretched.

He could not help blaming himself, and he did it very thoroughly and earnestly. Philip Hays was not the first man who has been sorry for not "letting well alone." However he bade his mother and Cecilia "good-bye," and gave the regulation kiss to Nona, who received it with perfect placidity, and gave him many kind wishes for his journey; for, as he was to leave very early in the morning, he did not expect to see the ladies again before his departure.

As they passed out of the parlor, Nona turned, and for a moment a flash of the old tenderness made her face beautiful, her lips parted, and she hesitated a moment, as if she would speak, but finally passed on and away.

For Philip! He quietly went and sat down on the dark, silent balcony, miserable enough. But in about half an hour a timid little figure stole through the deserted room, and without warning laid her hand upon his shoulder.

He turned rapidly, all the great passion which had grown to a higher and deeper intensity to his uttering, burst out in an imploring whisper—

"Nona!"

Well, you know the end. Philip did not like the fashionable Nona at all; his whole heart cried out for the simple, nature girl whose worth he had not realized until he thought her lost. Tangled curls, short dresses, ruffled apron never again looked homely in his eyes.

Ever afterward he had the most wholesome fear of Nona becoming fashionable; and Nona to this day, when Philip is in opposition, blandly reminds him of his one experiment in managing women, and assures him that in the long run he would not like his own way, even if he got it. And so he takes her, which, after all, I have no doubt, is the most sensible thing he could do.

Gluten is really the nutriment in wheat. It is a heavy, tough substance much resembling raw dough. The trouble with Manitoba flour is, that it contains too much gluten. Bread made with it is apt to be gray and heavy, and pastry is sure to be.

Ontario wheat does not contain quite enough gluten, but it is rich in carbohydrates—which give to flour the qualities of lightness and whiteness.

Beaver Flour

is both a Manitoba and an Ontario wheat flour.

Just as much Ontario and Manitoba flours are used in blending Beaver Flour, so that each will supply what the other lacks.

That is why Beaver Flour makes whiter, lighter, more wholesome Bread and Biscuits than Manitoba flour—and makes lighter, tastier Cakes, Pies and Pastry than any "pastry" flour.

No matter what other flour you are using now, try Beaver Flour. The first sack will prove its superiority. At your grocer's.

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. It is a simple remedy that will strengthen the growth back to both joints. This is impossible with this dispensible disease.

The Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatism Remedy was made a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it is uniformly cured in a few days of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These same-like granular matter found in Rheumatism, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as fast as dew when added to pure water.

And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of the Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Genius is a combination of aspiration and inspiration.

Mr. Collier Down—Intelligence has just reached me.

Mrs. Collier Down—Thank Heaven, it has come at last.

The Duke—I always wear my gloves to bed every night. They make the hands soft.

Jones—And do you wear your hat, too?—Scraps.

"But my good fellow," said the divine, "did you ever take a bath?"

"No, sir," the tramp answered humbly. "I never took nothin' bigger'n a teaspoon."

The milk dealer fined for selling a watered article protested.

"Why," he exclaimed indignantly, "if I didn't water the milk half of my customers wouldn't get any?"

A sleeper from the Amazon Put nightmares of his grammason—

The reason that He was too fat To get his own pajamason.

He—Look at that woman on the other side of the street waving her hands about her head. Is she practicing physical culture?

She—Mercy, no! She's describing her new hat to another woman.

"Did you tell your teacher that I helped you with your French exercises, Sidney?"

"Yes, father."

"And what did he say?"

"He said he wouldn't keep me in today, 'cos it didn't seem fair that I should suffer for your ignorance."

She—Are you really so much better since your trip abroad?

He—Yes, indeed, I'm quite another man.

She—Your friends will be delighted to hear it.

He is still wondering just what she meant.

She was obese, passing fair, and—well, she admitted she had been on earth for 29 years. He was scant, hairied, and old enough to know better.

"Will you marry me?" he inquired.

"You are asking a good deal," she gurgled, in reply.

"O, well," he replied, "I always was partial to large women."

A girl recently sent this extraordinary request to the editor of her church paper:

"Do you think it is right for a girl to sit on a man's lap, even if she is engaged?"

The editor answered her question thus:

"If it were OUR girl and OUR lap, yes; if it were ANOTHER fellow's girl and OUR lap, yes; but if it were OUR girl and ANOTHER fellow's lap NEVER! NEVER! NEVER!!"

Great Loss to N. B. Farmers.

THE POTATO CROP IS RUINED AND THE FARMERS IN ONE COUNTY ARE OUT $200,000.

A New Brunswick despatch, says—The continued cold weather has finished the potato crop, and from the past weeks frost the farmers of one County stand to lose fully $200,000. Total acreage is estimated at 15,000 acres, from which, without the intervention of rot, and frost, 1,500,000 barrels would have been gathered. The rot reduced the yield by a 75 per cent, therefore the good potatoes actually raised amounted to approximately 600,000, of which perhaps 400,000 barrels have been dug. The remainder are in the ground where they will remain until next spring, when it is hoped they can be turned out and used for seed.
