FIRE CHIEF TO REPORT ON SITES FOR 2 NEW STATIONS. Controllers Also Decide to Buy Some New Equipment and to Submit a Bylaw.

Chief Thompson appeared before the board of control yesterday and argued strongly for a system of high pressure mains in the business section.

The fire and light committee recommended that its members, with the fire chief and the city engineer, should visit various cities in the United States where such systems were in operation.

The board decided to introduce a by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers for their approval for a new fire station at Cowan-avenue.

Commissioner Fleming reported that the city architect had approved Paddy Bros' plans and asked for instructions as to the issuance of a permit.

The board of control will have a private conference this morning with Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann in reference to the proposed expropriation of a right of way into the city for the James Bay Railway.

INGENIOUS SCHEMES TO GET TRADE NOT PAYING METHOD IN LONG RUN. Some Plain Talk on Pertinent Question of Retail Merchants' Convention Yesterday.

That retail merchants should depend upon legitimate methods to develop and hold trade, and not seek to bolster up business by resorting to ingenious schemes to attract custom, was a strongly emphasized feeling made known by several speakers at the opening of the Retail Merchants' Association convention yesterday.

Delegates were present representing many outside places, and G. J. St. Ger, Dominion President, presided.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING SECTION

NOXIOUS WEEDS DESTRUCTION. The amendment passed at the last session of the Ontario legislature to the act respecting the destruction of noxious weeds should be put into force by every municipality desirous of ridding the country of these objectionable soil destroyers. The amendment reads as follows: "AN ACT TO AMEND THE LAW RESPECTING THE DESTRUCTION OF NOXIOUS WEEDS," as follows: 2. Section 8 of the said act is repealed and the following substituted therefor: (1) "It shall be the duty of every owner or occupant of land in a municipality to cut down and destroy, or cause to be cut down and destroyed, at the proper time to prevent the ripening of their seed, all noxious weeds growing on any highway adjoining such land, not being a toll road, from the boundary of such land to the centre line of such road, and in case of default after notice from the inspector or overseer of highways, or where no inspector or overseer is appointed from the municipality, the council of such municipality may do the work, and may add the cost thereof to the taxes against the land in the collector's roll and collect such cost in the same manner as other taxes."

(2) In the case of lands assessed as non-resident lands in townships, the council of the township shall direct the work mentioned in sub-section 1 of this section to be done and may add the cost thereof to the taxes against the lands and may collect the same in the same manner as other taxes."

Under the old enactment governing the destruction of noxious weeds, a stipulated date, viz., July 10, was given as a time limit for cutting weeds to prevent spreading. In some cases, such as burdock, it was found that the plants afterwards grew and seeded, and no time limit has now been named, thus permitting weeds to be cut at the proper time before seeding at any time during the summer. One of the most dangerous weeds not yet generally included in the category as noxious, is sweet clover. The introduction of this prolific plant by the railroads for the purpose of embankment was an unfortunate oversight. Its spread is very rapid, and township councils are beginning to regard it as one that increasing war will have to be waged against to bring about its extermination. The noxious weeds act allows this plant to be included in the list to be destroyed, and no time should be lost in making its reproduction as difficult as possible.

CHARLES LAWTON, a passenger on the St. Louis, bound from England to this country, was warned in New York not to come to Canada, as there were bread riots in Toronto and other Canadian cities. The authors of these stories are in a peculiarly unhappy condition, being unwilling to tell the truth, and unable to lie with skill. Bread riots in Toronto and other Canadian cities are too widely improbable. The man who would believe this story could be frightened away by a yarn that Toronto Bay was infested with pirates. A better line of story would be to the effect that householders were in the habit of kidnapping girls to go into domestic service, being unable to procure them in any other way, or going down to their knees to implore a man to cut the grass. These statements, while strictly untrue, would have appealed to a suffering community as possibilities.

NORTHERN ONTARIO SHOULD RAISE WOOL. Can any valid reason be put forth for the slow increase of the Canadian sheep trade? Oftentimes the farmer will refer to the low price of wool, as if that were the main source of income from raising sheep. Three years ago the price of wool was very low; since then the price has gradually risen in value and will not recede, on account of the high price of raw cotton, and many wool staples are looking for higher prices for this season's crop of wool. The chief value of sheep is the price paid for lambs, yearlings and ewe fleeces. So far this year the prices have been very steady, and a good profit when sold; the manure was all put back on the land, and its fertility returned. Observant farmers followed their example, and now the great majority of the farmers in those two states are prosperous. The struggling farmers in our northern counties should be encouraged; they have not the fertile soil of our home counties; their land is very much broken by rock and fave, but it is well fitted for sheep raising. We have many successful flocks in the old Ontario; now is the time for some of the younger farmers to strike out a path for themselves in buying and preparing sheep for market. The young farmers who accomplish this laudable effort will be true benefactors to their country.

FIRST HALF OF YEAR AND LIVE STOCK PRICES. The first six months of the year have passed away without causing any serious loss to those directly interested in the live stock industry in the Dominion. An increased number of cattle has come upon the Toronto markets, and the most pleasing feature of the season has been the many judiciously raised grade cattle, properly fitted for the markets of Great Britain. In every instance these cattle have met quick sale at the hands of the experienced exporters, and on the London and Liverpool markets compared favorably with the best United States exporters. During June the prices for export and butcher cattle of good quality have been in advance of the prices paid a year ago. The Ontario raiser and feeder of good grade cattle need not fear that he will overwork the market; there is plenty of room for should he be desirous of entering the lists in the raising of good commercial herds. There is little cause for complaint on the part of the hog buyers. The great bulk of the hogs that came to market were in good condition. It is a debatable question, whether Ontario will furnish best fall quality hogs for the last half of the year. The usual number of sheep and yearlings have passed thru the markets and prices have maintained an upward tendency. Buyers on the Toronto markets are now purchasing lambs at as much per 100 pounds, this is a matter that is affording much food for thought to the council of such municipality may do the work, and may add the cost thereof to the taxes against the land in the collector's roll and collect such cost in the same manner as other taxes."

Whether the tendency of wheat prices is up or down from present levels, is a matter that is affording much diversity of opinion, and as many reasons are advanced by those favoring higher prices as by those who expect that the incoming crop will have to be marketed below that of last year. Those who talk of a higher market price, see the continuance of what may mean a long and tedious war; the small supply of visible wheat in Canada and the United States; the partial failure of the winter crop, and the dangers yet open against an assured spring crop. On the other side the position is taken that for a year home markets were kept well above those of Europe, that the four demand is not good enough to sustain current wheat prices, and that a large crop is probable in all wheat producing countries. In the matter of cereal prices, as is the case in fact with other commodities, considerable allowance should be made for sentiment. A bullish or bearish sentiment is largely in the hands of manipulators, and at Chicago to-day the leverage of the powerful interests who attempt to control the prices of futures is working for a lower range of prices. Taking an instance, the July wheat option, in which settlers have the privilege of tendering delivery up till the last day of the month, the price latterly has averaged nearly ten cents a bushel below the cash price. The reason assigned for the difference is that the wheat with the option is moving freely before the month is out, and that farmers will be willing to sell their output at a figure named by speculators in advance for them. The difference now exists between the option and the actual wheat is calculated to have an effect on the farmer's mind and gradually lead him to think that after all his wheat is not as valuable as he would like to believe. This feature of the future of prices is one that cannot be estimated in actual cents per bushel, but it is one that cannot be ignored. In reviewing the possibilities in prices for the new crop, manipulators for lower prices are relying upon the old theory that the buyer finally dictates terms to the seller, and the process, though gradual, has favored the Chicago bear for some years now.

PRACTICAL POLTRY POINTERS. If you raise millet this summer leave your untended for the hens to work in next winter. Mrs. Hansel, whose hens won such success in Australia, when she reviewed her best big doll for five pullets and a cockerel. She raised 100 fine chickens the summer she was 10 years old and has owned and reared poultry ever since. Encourage the children. Perhaps the trouble comes from irregular feeding and watering of fowls confined in yards than from confinement itself. The biddies can tell you those things for themselves, and if left to their own devices they will do better than you can do for them. Chickens must be confined to the brooder for at least twenty-four hours, or till they have learned to use the hover. They then may be allowed the run of the pen inside of brooder house. It is well to get them outdoors by ten days of age. A little cut straw and bran will grow grass as soon as they taste it. Many of the ills of chickhood are due to that great enemy—lice. Too much care cannot be taken to rid chickens of these pests. The sifter should be dusted thoroughly with insect powder at least once a week during the sitting, and the chicks be dusted as often for a month. Chickens cannot grow themselves and raise lice too.

The fresh egg has a rougher shell than the stale one. The new, clean appearance of the shell of a fresh egg becomes more faded, slick and greasy with age. The air space in a new egg is very small and grows larger as the egg becomes aged. If several eggs are laid a number of days apart can be produced, each marked with its date, and then held before an egg-tester in a diaphragm and the air spaces be noted and remembered, one can thus become a judge of unaided eggs.

GATHERING IN THE HAY GRASS LONG AND HEAVY. From Two to Three and a Half Tons Per Acre Reported From Some Localities. In some quarters farmers have begun haying operations, and the reports sent in by The World's correspondents show that there will be very little room for complaint. Much of the clover was winter killed, but the timothy is luxuriant and the grass is heavy. The fall wheat is sufficiently far advanced to indicate a crop much below the average; in some parts it is a total failure, but spring wheat promises well. TWO TONS AN ACRE. Berlin, July 5.—(Special.)—Hay in this vicinity will yield at least two tons per acre on the average of 25 per cent, better than last year. Many of the farmers have cuttings of hay on Monday, but others will not begin for several days and in some cases for a week, because the weather is so many fawns is not yet in bloom. Fall wheat, because of much of it having been winter killed, is not averaging more than twenty bushels an acre at best. Very little spring wheat is growing in Ontario, but what there is looks fine. HAY HEAVY. St. Thomas, July 5.—(Special.)—Haying has not fairly begun in this county. All the clover was winter killed, the timothy not ready. There will be a heavy crop of hay; wheat, one-third of an average crop; corn, practically all winter killed; fruits, roots and vegetables all promising good yields. Farmers generally are cheerful and hopeful. AVERAGE AROUND HAMILTON. Hamilton, July 5.—(Special.)—The hay crop in this county is not yet starting haying operations. The crop will be about the average. At present the weather is not so good as were prospects of an immense crop, but the grass did not prosper in the cold and wet winter. The timothy was winter killed to begin with. The clover in the immediate neighborhood of the city is a distinct failure, the out-furrows, especially in the western part of Hamilton, are very dry, the heads are so heavy now that a fall is well fallen. At present the spring wheat prospects are quite bright. GOOD AVERAGE YIELD. St. Catharines, July 5.—(Special.)—Most of the farmers around here have finished or are just finishing their haying. The crop is about the average. A great deal of clover was winter killed, but the timothy is a good average. The wheat is a good average, but the heads are so heavy now that a fall is well fallen. At present the spring wheat prospects are quite bright.

W. Harland Smith reports continued quietness in the horse trade. There were the usual number of enquiries during the last week for special horses for summer driving and for family use, and special prices obtained for delivery horses that are in shape for immediate use. Percheron buyers are however, is in the ordinary variety of working horse. Consignors are holding back on this account, so that offerings are light. About 70 horses were sold last week, and no sale was held on Dominion Day. One cartload of general purpose and draught horses were included and sold well. They were a very good lot. Prices ranged from $115 to $185. A number of very useful second-hand work horses were sold, prices ranging from $45 to $100. Second-hand drivers sold from $60 to $100. There is a general disposition on the part of buyers to urge upon Canadian farmers the value of not alone maintaining but improving the breed of draught horses. Speaking to The World the other day, John Cherry of the well-known firm of Sheridan and Cherry said: "It is impossible to secure as many of the type of draught horses as we require. For the right class of animals the British market is practically unlimited. Ontario has been depleted of good horses and the result is seen in the class of animals brought to-day. There are many good ones, but the number is limited. A strong prejudice has long existed among York County farmers against the Percheron horse, but it would appear that this feeling is in a great measure dying out. At the last spring exhibition at Richmond Hill a splendid type of the Percheron horse was shown, which was the cynosure of all eyes. A fact worthy of mention is that many of the most progressive farmers in York County last year, and again this year, have declared their intention of using Percheron horses for their own use, and securing a general purpose horse. The claim is made for this type of horse, and that it is the best for the farmer. The Clyde or the Shire horse, very tractable and generally speaking constitute the bulk of the stock of the country. The departure among the advocates of the draught horse will be watched with interest by the public. The bulk of the stock of this spring has been the uniformly good fortune which has attended the arrival of the spring colts. Enquiries for these animals are being made among many farmers and breeders in York County have elicited the information that the market for these colts this spring has been much smaller than in some previous years. Whether this is due to the fact that the market is a "streak of luck," the results are equally encouraging. HORSE MARKET IS QUIET DEMAND FOR SPECIALS. Consignors Holding Back—General Purpose and Draught Sell Well—Percheron in Favor. Receipts of live stock at the City Cattle Market since last Friday, as reported by Messrs. Fox & Hay of the C.P.R. and G.T.R., were 90 carloads, consisting of 128 calves, 170 hogs, 1155 sheep, 100 calves and 1947 hogs, to Port-Blackwell. There were several loads of exporters on the market, the quality of which would be difficult to excel, but on the other hand there was a large number of half-cattle offered as butchers.

There was a fairly good market, but trade for all classes of fat cattle was easier, and with the exception of a few very extra calves sold at firm prices, prices were from 15c to 25c per cwt. lower; in fact, they were much the same as at the Junction Market on Monday. There were several lots offered, which also attracted attention, the market being dull and drab.
