RUSSIANS DRIVE SOUTH TOWARDS CARPATIANS THEIR ADVANCE WILL FORCE GERMAN ARMIES TO RETREAT Hostilities May Follow Swiftly U. S. Note to Mexico

CARRANZA MAY BEGIN WAR ON NOTE'S ARRIVAL

Wilson Flatly Refuses to Meet Demand by With drawing Troops.

SINALOA IS DEFIANT

Northern State Takes Independent Action, According to Wireless Despatch.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Upon
Gen. Carranza's receipt of a stern refusal to heed his demands for recall of American troops from Mexico hinges the question of a Mexican war, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers. They were prepared to fight for the possibility of open hostilities after the note, which will be sent forward tomorrow, has reached Carranza's hands.

The governor of the State of Sinaloa, has sent an ultimatum to the United States, according to a radiogram received today at San Diego, Cal., from Commander Arthur Kavanaugh of the garrison at Nacozari, now at Mazatlan. No further details of the alleged declaration were given in the message, which was directed to Admiral Winslow of the Pacific coast fleet.

While the diplomatic steps were in progress today, the nation was striking through its width and breadth with the movement of National Guardsmen mobilizing to guard the border. At least 100,000, and possibly a far larger number, were preparing for active service under President Wilson's call.
For the present their mission will be purely one of defence; but should war come, they will be ready also for the offensive.

No marching orders for the new forces had come out tonight. They will not be assigned for border duty until mustered into the federal service.
No Impetuous Rush.

Even when mobilization is completed
only such units will be ordered south as Gen. Funston desires to fill the gaps in his 1800 mile guard line. The remaining will rest on their arms at the state mobilization camps for the present, awaiting the turn of events.

Official reports from many quarters show that a flame of popular feeling against the U. S. is being kindled thruout Mexico. Apparently it is being done with the sanction of Gen. Carranza, for the acts in many cases are those of his authorized military or civil agents.

From Juarez to the west coast of Mexico posters have appeared calling the people to arms, and asserting that the U. S. is preparing to hurt its arms into Mexico. Chaotic conditions

ENEMY BAYONETED CANADIAN WOUNDED

Captain Haight, Medical Officer, Slain While Performing His Duties.

AN OFFICIAL REPORT
Surgeon-General Jones Sends Statement of Atrocity to Hughes.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, June 19.—Surgeon-General Jones, director of Canadian Medical Services, has reported to Gen. Hughes the murder of wounded Canadians by Germans in the recent fighting.

"I have heard today," he says, "a horrible story about Capt. W. R.
W. Haight, medical officer of the 1st C.
M. R. from British Columbia. He was reported missing at first, but when the lost ground was regained the regiment aid post was found to have been filled with wounded. Haight had remained doing his duty attending to the wounded. One and all—patients and medical officers—had been bayoneted and done to death in a most brutal manner. Haight was a very excellent young officer and won great praise."

Gen. Jones also refers to the great loss to the medical service in the death of Lieut.-Col. Tanner of the 10th Field Ambulance. He belonged to Moosomin, and is described as a magnificent officer of exceptional ability.

Simultaneous Attacks.
"On our entire front the attack began at the same hour. It was impossible for the enemy to shift his focus from one quarter to another, as our attacks were being pressed equally at all points.

ADVANCE ON HALICZ

Southern Russian Column
Takes Easy Route to Gain Objective.

PETROGRAD, June 19, via London,
June 20, 1.25 a.m.—With an average Austrian retreat of 25 miles over the entire Volhynian and Galician front, except in the immediate region of Tarnopol; with the Russian seizure of the German armies toward the southern Austrian army toward the Carpathians and with the Russians closing in upon Lemberg from two directions, the operations on the southwestern front have reached the crucial point where, it is believed here, the Austrian armies must either make a final stand or by their further retreat automatically compel a general retirement of the German armies from positions which they have held against the Russians for nearly a year.

Such a stand, in the unanimous opinion of military officials here, will be an impossibility as the separated Austrian armies are unable to communicate with each other, and, all

FIND SURGICAL KITS MADE IN GERMANY

Nursing Sisters of Western Ontario Hospital Think Government Blundered.

LONDON, Ont., June 19.—Discovery of the brand sinister, "Made in Germany" upon the surgical kits presented by the Dominion Government to the Nursing Sisters of No. 10 stationary (Western Ontario) Hospital Saturday brought forth expressions of indignation from the nurses here today just prior to the departure of 22
of them for England.

It is strongly intimated here that some enterprising German-American agents have been "putting one over"
on the Canadian Government.

AMSTERDAM, June 19, via London.

high prices of food was held here today. A large procession, composed mainly of women, paraded the streets.

police have prohibited all street dem-

LONDON, June 19, 2.10 a.m.—The Times Petrograd correspondent sends the following interview with Gen.
Brusiloff, commander of the Russian forces fighting against the Austrians and Germans:

"The speedy successes we have attained are not the product of chance or of Austrian weakness, but represent the application of all the lessons
we have learned in two years of bitter warfare against the Germans.

GERMAN ATTACKS SUFFER REPULSE

French Positions North of Verdun.

FOE BOMBS VILLAGE

Hits Camp of Prisoners and Kills Several of Countrymen.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, June 19.—The only infantry action in the past 24 hours in the sector of Verdun was fought last night on the right bank of the Meuse and in the vicinity of the French positions north of Hill 321, when the Germans came out of their trenches to launch what the Paris communique calls a "pronounced attack," and were repulsed by French fire. The rest of the fighting was confined to artillery actions in this region. The Germans and French engaged in a violent bombardment on the front north of the Thiaumont fortified work and in the sectors of Vaux, Chaptre and Souville.
The enemy was also engaged in an active bombardment of the slopes of Le Mort Homme and the country around Chattaucourt, and the French artillery everywhere responded to these preparations by throwing out curtain of fire.

One of the latest incidents of German "frightfulness" was the bombardment of a village south of Verdun by a German air squadron. The sufferers were German prisoners of war whose camp was hit by bombs thrown by their own countrymen and several were either killed or wounded.

Columns of Troops Pursue Beaten Austrians Towards Sereth River and Take Three Thousand Prison- ers in Vicinity of Czer- nowitz.

LONDON, June 19.—The Russians are continuing their active advance towards the Sereth river south of Czernowitz after having crossed the Pruth at many places, and they have taken 3000 prisoners in their advance in this region. They have also captured 12 guns and 1000 wagons of provisions and forage near the Village of Koutchourne, as well as many caissons full of munitions. They also captured a depot of engineering material at Zoutchka station, north of Czernowitz. Well over 3000 other prisoners were taken in Volhynia, bringing the numbers reported up to 6000.

Hundreds of prisoners continue to be brought in by the Russians in the fighting in Volhynia. The enemy is trying by counter-attacks to check the Russian advance toward Lemberg. In the advance from Lutsk to Vladimir-Volynsky a Russian advanced guard occupied the Village of Lokatski, about four miles south of the road. They were attacked by Austrians in mass formation and lost three guns, but later counter-attacked the enemy and recovered one of the guns. Southeast of Lokatski a Russian regiment counter-attacked and beat the Austrians to flight, and east of Borhof, south of this point, they captured a wood near Bojef Village, taking 1000 prisoners and four machine guns in the course of desperate fighting.

In clearing the enemy out of the region on the southern edge of Radzivill, Russian troops were received by the foe with jets of liquid fire.
They took in this district yesterday 1800 prisoners.

Among the Austrian prisoners captured in Galicia were many who had recently been fighting on the Italian front, says a Reuters despatch from Kiev. They were weary and ragged.
It is asserted in unofficial despatches that a portion of the Austrian forces at Czernowitz had retired westward from Kolomea and Kutly, and the remainder has failed on back southward in the direction of Dournavatz. The army of Gen.
Pflanzer has been isolated from the others of the Austrian group, and it must henceforth depend on its own resources. Eighty thousand Austrians, it is said, comprise the forces left out off, and they must make a precipitate retreat to avoid being captured.

The German press today belittles
the occupation of Czernowitz by the Russians, saying that the town has small military value. Many articles and editorials are printed on the loss of this town to Austria-Hungary.

Enemy Has Little to Say.
The Austrian official communique on the operations in Russia conveys scant favorable intelligence to the enemy's countries and a great deal of ominous intelligence in a few guarded words without admitting defeat. The only definite cheering assertion was that the Russians failed in an attempt to cross the Pruth north of Nierarika. Concerning the fighting in Volhynia and on the roads to Lutsk the Austrians merely say that fighting began at Alpa and in the districts of the Wocacox, Stokhod and Sty rivers. In respect to the operations here the Germans have no good news for them to give out, their official statement asserting that "as regards the army groups of Gen. Von Linsingen on the Sty west of Kolki and on the Stokhod in the region of the Kovel-Rovno Railway, Russian attacks have been partially repulsed" by means of successful counter-attacks. The Germans also assert that their troops are engaged in a battle northwest of Lutsk and that it is going in their favor and that southwest of Lutsk the Russians are attacking in the direction of Gohochov. The position in regard to the army of Gen.
Von Bothmer, the Germans assert, is unchanged.

Prepares to Admit Rout.
A despatch to The Berlin Tageblatt from its correspondent at Austerlitz headquarters, as forwarded from Berlin by the Exchange Telegraph Company, is taken here as intended to prepare Berlin for the news of a German Teutonic retreat. It reports that heavy fighting has been under way between the Russian forces marching on Kovel and the German troops under Von Linsingen, and that the Russians are moving forward with superior numbers. In the sector of the middle Stripa, says this correspondent, Count Von Both-mer is maintaining his resistance on the direct line to Lemberg against heavy pressure from the Russians.
The political results of the Russian occupation of Czernowitz far exceed its military value in the opinion of the Paris newspapers. That city, they say, is the capital of the Irridentist Pro-

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE chief news allowed to come thru from the carefully censored Russian front yesterday shows that the Russians are continuing their offensive. If places named do not figure so prominently in the communique as they did, it is because large towns are separated by considerable intervals of space in Bukovina, Galicia and Volhynia.
The Russians have also lately refrained from giving the total counts of their prisoners, but a summing up of the numbers mentioned yesterday as being taken at various places indicates that fully 6000 were taken at Czernowitz and in the region west of Dubno, where they are pressing the advance on Brody, Vladimir-Volynski and Lemberg. The Austrians and Germans have adopted the tactics of endeavoring to delay the Russian march towards Lemberg by launching counter-attacks against their leading regiments and cutting off as many men as possible. But of serious general fighting, nothing was found yesterday on the front of Gen. Brusiloff.

It is understood that behind the scenes the Russians are carrying out some movements which will produce a big surprise for the enemy.
Their aim being to destroy the Austrian armies, they do not care so much for spectacular captures of cities and provinces, knowing that if they accomplish their main object, all these other things of themselves will come uncalled for. It is a wise maxim in war that the political should come after the military. The Germans broke away from this doctrine when they began to tell the allies "to look at the map" before they had the allies defeated, and the previous popular education in Germany along these lines is now probably about to redound to their discomfiture, even should their armies be pressed

BRITISH AIRMEN BEAT TEUTON AEROPLANES

Five German Machines Fall in Aviation Fights in Flanders.

FOE SHELLS ARRAS Infantry of Enemy Carries Out No Enterprises Along Front.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, June 19.—The chief feature of the operations on the British front today was the great activity in the air displayed by both sides. Five German machines were brought down in 37 air combats with British machines, and two other German aeroplanes were seen to be hit by British anti-aircraft guns. The following is the British official statement on the military developments in Flanders today: "During last night and today the German infantry carried out no enterprises along our front. Except for some heavy shelling of our trenches southeast of Neuville St. Vaast, the enemy artillery was fairly quiet. "Arras was shelled last night, and during the day there has been some shelling about Belcourt, Thiéval and Hulleuch. East of Souchez there have been reciprocal trench mortar actions. Today our artillery dispersed enemy working parties west of Huloch, and in this region the enemy blew a small mine which destroyed one of his own posts, but did us no damage. "The chief point of interest to record is the aerial report of yesterday, when there was a marked increase in the work of hostile aircraft. In all, there were 27 combats, in which the enemy suffered the following losses: "One hostile aeroplane was brought down in our lines near Doullens; the occupants were made prisoners. Two of our fighting aeroplanes encountered two focklers in the vicinity of Lens. One hostile machine was driven down and damaged. The other, shot down, crashed to earth from 4000 feet. In other air fights two more German machines were driven down in a damaged condition and another was brought down near Wincennes. "Hostile reconnaissances, which crossed our lines in force, were attacked and dispersed by our aeroplanes. One of our pilots reports seeing two hostile machines hit by anti-aircraft fire. "As a result of the air combats two of our machines were brought down in the enemy's lines."

TO DIRECT INTERNMENT CAMP LETHBRIDGE, June 19.—Major E. W. Denison, who has been in charge of the internment camp here, where there are two hundred prisoners at present, has been promoted to the rank of Major. Major Denison succeeds Major Birnie of Calgary.

back to their own frontier without being badly defeated as the Austrian armies have been badly defeated in this campaign. Despatches from the eastern front published in Berlin newspapers appear to be breaking the news gently that the German armies will not be able to stand the Russian pressure on the roads to Kovel. It probably destroyed the railway line. Bridges at least were blown up and the tracks damaged in spots. The enemy was probably too short of kerosene and their artillery and their great military strength to bear on the enemy. As soon as they can do this work they will be able to start a further serious time to prepare the public mind in Germany for a retreat. The first heavy covering from his stupor. Prisoners taken by the Russians in Galicia establish the fact that troops who have been recently fighting on the Italian front in the Trentino the enemy has to use tired and worn out soldiers on the defensive, without it still conducting his offensive with undiminished numbers. It is not improbable that the central powers, having gained domination of hand for the allies, will begin to begin an advance into the Balkans. It is said that they will have an army of nearly 700,000 operating from British troops. Large arrivals of these are expected from Egypt before the end of June. Before Verdun the French repulsed a German attack on their positions north of Hill 321 and near the Thiaumont fortress east of the Meuse, and they threw out a curtain of fire when the Germans began heavily to bombard their positions on Le Mort Homme and the Chantcourt region. In the aerial operations the Germans killed or wounded several of their own countrymen when they attempted, for the sake of "frightfulness," to bombard a French village south of Verdun where an internment camp had been established. One horrible feature of the war has been the callous indifference of the Teutonic high command to the suffering of its own soldiers. In 119 days of fighting before Verdun the Germans have lost 415,000 men, according to an estimate given out by a London source which is deemed reliable. Nothing out of the way was found in these figures, which place the Teutonic casualties as averaging under 3500 a day. On the British front, aviation work was actively conducted by both sides. The Germans endeavored to ascertain what was going on behind the British lines and they sent many machines on reconnaissances. These machines were attacked by British pilots and 27 air combats were fought. The British pilots brought down five of the enemy's craft and their anti-aircraft guns hit at least two others. Two British machines were lost inside reconnaissances of the enemy in force after they had crossed the British lines. The Italians, while making gains east of Asiago and north of the Franzella Valley, have still to fight a fierce struggle with the Austrians on the Sette Comuni Plateau. They beat off with heavy losses renewed attacks of the enemy with strong columns, against the front between Monte Manso Boscchi and Boscchi. After failure to make any impression there the Austrians opened an intense bombardment with a great many batteries of all calibres on their part. The Italians continued the exertion of strong pressure against the foe north of the Franzella Valley. Counter-attacks of the enemy were repulsed and the Italians pressed forward and took the summit of Monte Isoldoro.

BEATEN ENEMY HAS TO FIGHT OR RUN

Russian Victory Puts Whole German Army in Precipitous.

AUSTRIANS CUT OFF Makes Average Retirement of Twenty-Five Miles on Front.

(Continued From Page One.) available troops and reserves having been called upon, a quick rehabilitation of the crippled armies of the Austrians is manifestly unlikely. Expect Final Victory Soon. The prevailing confidence in the speedy consummation of a Russian triumph over Austria is reflected in all the comments of the newspapers. The Petrograd Gazette says: "The thought we have all lived with since the beginning of the war—a final victory over Austria—is at hand. Soon the last notes of the swan song of the dual monarchy will be heard. The Austrians are concentrating their forces in an attempt to ward off a Russian advance on Lemberg, but according to the latest despatches the Russian troops pressing along the Dubno-Lemberg Railway, with Radziwyl well in the rear, are close upon the Galician frontier town of Brody, which is nearly half way to Lemberg. The other Russian advance on Lemberg is being directed from a point north of Bucsuac toward Halicz, from which latter town the road to Lemberg is an easy one, and almost unfortified. The effect of the advance of these two lines is to place the Austrian center near the Tarnopol extension in great danger and an inevitable collapse here is considered. The occupation of Czernowitz by the Russians has completely severed connections between the northern and southern armies. It has also enabled the Russians to establish direct communications from the frontier to Smolensk by the shortest and most convenient route, which will greatly facilitate the Russian progress toward Kolomea, and by obviating further the necessity of turning movement, allow the Russian northern forces to advance solidly from the Czernowitz direction. Get Whole of Bukovina. According to Col. Shumsky, the military critic of the Bourgeoisie, the taking of Czernowitz means the Russian occupation of the whole of Bukovina, since there are no defensive lines on Carpathians. The writer says that it is apparent from all recent reports that the first shock of the Russian advance, the penetration of the Austrian lines, will be succeeded by a steady and stubborn struggle, in which the shrewd Austrians will make considerable German reinforcements, have sufficiently recovered themselves to be capable of sharp counter-attacks. Lieutenant-Col. Rexford informed The Montreal Gazette correspondent that the call for volunteers was responded to by triple requirements. As a result of the air combats two of our machines were brought down in the enemy's lines."

FOSTER IS PLEASED WITH CONFERENCE

Delegates at Paris in Full Agreement on Commercial Policies.

FRIENDLY TO NEUTRALS

Entente Allies Appreciate Attitude Taken by Them During Crisis. Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, June 19.—Sir George Foster has returned to London (thoroly pleased with the outcome of the Paris economic conference. While unable to make any statements as to the results, he believes that what he has seen they will prove remarkably satisfactory to all the allied countries. The conference, he said, confined itself to general principles. Two distinguishing features, said Sir George, were the essential unanimity in conclusions and attitude toward neutral countries. Eight different nationalities distributed around the world with different geographical and political conditions presented a task of immense difficulty but the problem was solved and the resolutions adopted will now go to the various governments for administration and execution. Attitude Toward Neutrals. Regarding the attitude toward neutrals, he made this significant statement: "There was no intention manifested on the part of the representatives of the allied governments to take any measures which would be unjust to neutral countries who would be united have been largely on the side of the allies during the war and which have been deeply appreciated and who have been to the aid of the allies who have during the war. He added that there seemed to be no spirit of vindictive aggression against the central powers but rather a strong determination to take such measures as a defensive line as necessary and organized aggressive business warfare, which the Germans before the war carried on with such remarkable success and which the Teutonic peoples have bound themselves to continue before leaving Paris. Sir George was received in audience by President Poincaré, who spoke in a highly generous way of how Canada has helped in the present struggle.

NEW MOTOR CAR AT POPULAR PRICE

"Emerson Four," Built in Long Island, Sold at Remarkable Figure.

REVOLUTIONIZE TRADE Fine, Reliable Machine for Less Than Four Hundred Dollars.

It is not often that automobile manufacturing concerns take the public into their confidence as fully as the Emerson Motors Co., Inc., executive office, 47 West 31st street, New York, is doing. In the first place, it is an innovation in the automobile world to manufacture a car at popular prices—$395—with beautiful stream lines, 110-inch wheel base, an incomparable hill climber, a car good to look at, reliable, to operate, while the up-keep is the very least. Just such a concern is now in operation, manufacturing cars over in Long Island City, in the factory, No. 67-78 Sixth street, of that suburban manufacturing centre. Along with the applications for agencies there comes a veritable avalanche of applications for the cars from individuals who wish to use such a neat, nifty, reliable, popular priced car for their private use. This has necessitated the company to prepare and send out an application blank in answer to all such inquiries, and to the effect of the individual to purchase an "Emerson Four" at the price of $395, and including delivery, for the sum of $100, being 10 per cent. of the price of the car. Immediately this application is received, the company immediately forwards by registered mail to the applicant, the same as in an over-night letter, a copy of the Emerson Four, car No. 1 may go to PEEL BATTALION HELD FIELD DAY

Hundred of Friends at Niagara for Sports and Concert.

CONTESTS WERE KEEN

Concert Party Brought From New York by Mrs. Carrington.

The Peel Battalion, the 126th, had a big day on Saturday. Many people from Peel County went to Niagara, and in the afternoon witnessed the Sports Day of the battalion. The first game to be held this year at Niagara. The Sunday schools of the county and the Battalion Ladies' Auxiliary united in a big excursion to the camp, and about three thousand took advantage of the opportunity of visiting the camp and seeing their relatives and friends.

The events were keenly contested, and the prizes for the various contests were presented at the evening concert given by Mrs. Carrington, wife of the battalion's commanding officer.

Mrs. Margaret Huston-Carrington of New York, who had a distinguished career on the stage and who was born in Peel County, brought a party from New York and paid all expenses in connection with their trip. She was accompanied by Miss Inez Barbour, whose magnificent soprano voice delighted the audience. Mrs. Huston-Carrington rendered a selection of popular songs, and Mr. Stanley Lella Auger, gave a number of splendid selections, which were most appreciated. Mrs. Carrington acted as accompanist, and Major F. K. House, senior major of the 126th Battalion, occupied the chair. A feature of the program was the manner in which the soldiers joined in the chorus. The 126th band, under the direction of Bandmaster Kendamir, furnished a selected program. No admission was charged as the chief object of the concert was to provide an enjoyable evening for the greatest number of attendants at the battalion's first field day.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN CIVIC ACCOUNTS

City Auditor Sterling's report on the civic accounts for the year ending December 31, 1915, shows that Toronto's assets aggregate $123,581,574 as against liabilities of $107,496,471. Bank deposits for 1915 were $57,478,756, and the withdrawal exceeded the deposits by about $800,000. The Toronto Hydro-Electric's debt to the city on December 31 was $440,894. All the figures show an appreciable increase over those of 1914.

STORM OVER THE MAYOR'S NEW CAR

Ald. McBride Declares It Was Purchased Over Mr. Chisholm's Head.

WILL RENEW ATTACK

He Intends to Have Matter Threshed Out Before the Council.

Altho the matter was not officially before the property committee, some of the members yesterday raised quite a storm over the purchase of a new motor car for Mayor Church at a cost of $3,895. Mr. Chisholm said he had withdrawn the item because it was a matter solely for the board of control.

The council made an order some time ago that cars purchased by Toronto should be of Canadian make. Ald. McBride, "It was also ordered that cars should be bought by tender. I don't intend that the mayor or anybody else is going to go over the head of the official appointed to buy cars," Ald. McGuire ruled that the discussion was out of order. Ald. McBride returned that he had no say in the matter when it reached the board of control and council.

The committee received a protest from the Bell Telephone Co. regarding the proposal to lift the residential restrictions from Aquith avenue, formerly Bismarck avenue, and Commissionaire Chisholm is to ascertain the wishes of the people in that respect.

The committee agreed to cancel the lighting contracts for 38 drill grounds which are not now used, but were ordered by the home guard and other volunteer organizations.

W. A. McLean, deputy minister of highways, with George Hogart, chief engineer of the department, left Toronto last night to go over the Ottawa-Frescott highway route. The department expects to start work on the highway at an early date, said Mr. McLean.

Lionel Curtis Declares British Colonies Must Get Representation.

AT CANADIAN CLUB

Canada Sends Troops to War, But Has No Say in Disposition.

Lionel Curtis, a leading figure in the Round Table movement, outlined before the Canadian Club yesterday the imperial problem as affecting the British Empire. In Mr. Curtis' opinion the British colonies must have a voice in the foreign policy of Britain before the real consolidation of the empire is completed.

Mr. Curtis told the members that to put the issue in plain words it was a question of whether the greatest of the British colonies were ultimately to break up into little republics or whether they were to remain as part of the empire with a voice in its government. He declared that the British Isles must be given a government modeled along similar lines to that of Canada, and that government must be made representative of each dominion in alliance with England.

Under present conditions he pointed out Canada sends thousands of soldiers to the front and has no say in their ultimate disposition. This state of affairs he believed to be one of the great arguments in favor of Dominion representation in the British Parliament.

He made a plea that the issue be kept out of party politics until at all events after the war. There must be no division of dominions and mother country at this time. Journals, too, in discussing it, he believed, should not make it a political issue.

SOME MOTORISTS FAIL TO RENEW LICENSES
 Highways Department is Determined That Regulations of Act Be Respected.

As reports have reached the highways department that motorists particularly in the small towns and in the north country have been violating the regulations of the act with regard to licenses, an employee of the department was sent out on Saturday to make an investigation as to these reports so that the department may know what steps to take to enforce the law.

These violations, which the department is prepared to believe arise mostly from carelessness, have been particularly with regard to failure to renew licenses, continuing to use 1915 number plates, in some cases changing the last figure to a "6"; and failure to take out or renew chauffeurs' licenses.

W. A. McLean, deputy minister of highways, pointed out yesterday that it was a serious offence under the act for a man to act as a chauffeur unless he had passed his provincial examination, and had a certificate to that effect and a license renewed annually. Also it is an offence to employ as a chauffeur a man not so qualified. Similarly it is an offence to drive a car without a number plate, or with a spurious number plate, or with one that is out of date.

REVENGE WAS SOUGHT BY UNDESIRABLE LOVER

Attempted Murder of Sweetheart and Mother Alleged Against P. Dmytrin.

Oiga Stasiew, 17 years of age, her mother, Mrs. P. Dmytrin, and Harry Jessel, all of 340 West Adelaide street, were brutally beaten into insensibility by a crowd about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the police believe, by a man named Dimetroff, Miss Peter Dmytrin.

Stasiew, who lives above a grocery store at the above address, told the police two men broke into the place about 2:30 yesterday morning, and made their way upstairs. Having first secured the door of Jessel's room and those of the other boarders, the two men entered the room occupied by Miss Stasiew and her mother, one armed with a short bow-bar beating them over the head with the weapon as possible to the screams of the women, and man and woman burst open the door. As he stepped out of the room one of the men struck her over the head with the bar, knocking him down. Barely conscious, he staggered into the hall, when he was struck in the face with a pair of pliers. John Kernot, one of the boarders, was caught after a chase by Detectives Armstrong and Taylor, but Dmytrin escaped.

The attack is said to be due to a falling out between Dmytrin and Miss Stasiew, who was said to be ten days, or so, away from home. It is reported that the women were removed to the general hospital, suffering with contusions, but the hospital authorities do not consider their condition serious. Dmytrin is wanted on a charge of attempted murder, while Kernot charged with complicity.

TO REDUCE PROBATION PERIOD OF OPERATORS

Picture Men, in Appeal, Say Recruiting Has Made Dearth of Competent Mechanics.

R. C. Newman, moving picture theatre inspector, is unwilling to grant the reduction of the probation period of operators that he sends a memorandum to the provincial treasurer asking that the period of probation for operators should be reduced from one year, as provided in the act, to a period sufficient to satisfy the inspector. It would therefore appear there is a surplus of operators over positions, instead of a dearth of operators. Newman has promised to bring the matter to the attention of Hon. T. W. McGarry.

In spite of the slackness of the season, heavy enlistment, and the amusement tax, the number of permits issued to operators and theatres since June 1, the beginning of the year in this department, has been at least equal to those issued last year, according to a statement made by Mr. Newman yesterday.

More Madness in Mexico
President Wilson is not unlikely to find himself classed with the mad men who were at war in one Mexican province at least a state of war with the United States has been proclaimed, and President Wilson may find that it takes two to keep the peace as well as to make war. No matter how peaceful a man may be if a belligerently inclined enemy comes along and insists on fighting it is impossible to escape the experience.

President Wilson may not go mad, but he may also learn that other heads of nations do not go mad either when they defend the rights of their people. To speak of King Albert of Belgium as a mad or war-crazed monarch is surely to reach the depths of stupidity in contemporary historical criticism.

The press is full of the suggestion that the president has called out the United States troops for political effect. This we think is unfair to him. He would scarcely alienate the peace vote in order to offend some other voters; for it cannot be supposed that those who favor the allies will be pleased at the precipitation of a state of war with Mexico. War with Mexico may curtail the export of military supplies to Europe, and that could not be a desirable argument to place before those who favor the allies.

It appears to us, indeed, that it would have more weight with the Germans than with any others, and thus we come to the view that whatever pugnacity has been aroused in Mexico has been the result of German machinations in that country. There have been plenty of evidences of it in the last two years, and it would surprise no one to learn that German diplomatic agents are doing all that can be done to embroil the United States in a war on her own borders.

Psychologically the Germans are probably aware that the United States has never been able to think of the affairs of any country but its own, and with a war at its back-door occupying 100,000 men, a war in Europe occupying only twenty millions would be worthy of attention from Uncle Sam.

This relief for the Germans has probably come too late. The Russians, French, Italians, British and others of the entente cordiale, have themselves well in hand now, and while it may take another year to wind up the European situation, there is unlikely to be any shortage of supplies of any kind. Only last week it was announced in Britain that further munition contracts with the United States had been canceled, as the home production had overtaken the requirements. A Mexican war, therefore, can afford little comfort to the Germans either politically or in a military way.

Democracy the Check for the Moltkes
A plausible story comes from Germany with the announcement of the death of Von Moltke, to the effect that he was instrumental in inducing the kaiser to sign the order for mobilization which precipitated the war. The correspondent of The Daily Mail, Mr. F. W. Wile, who lived in Berlin constantly before the war, relates the incident as described by the countess, when her husband came home after three days and a night's absence. He threw himself on a couch, a physical wreck, and said he had accomplished the hardest task of his life, and had induced the kaiser to sign the order which set the war machinery in motion.

Similar stories have been in circulation before, and they all point the same moral. To place the power of life and death in the hands of any man who would be capable of being influenced against his better judgment to perpetrate the most terrible outrage upon humanity in all historical record, is sufficient to condemn any system. It is the deadly feature of the absolute monarchical form of government, and such an impeachment in this age of the world is sufficient to ensure its abolition.

Hohenzollernism must go whether the head of the system do the acts he is responsible for out of his own judgment or at the instance of another. Had Count Von Moltke had a parliament or a congress to convince he would have had to produce some better evidence, to convince the poorest legislative assembly that exists, of the necessity of plunging the world into a war of desolation, beginning with plans to overrun the smaller neighbor nations and peoples. Democracy is the only check for the Von Moltkes.

Nickel-Plated Politics
The war that is deluging the world has much of its source in the armament trusts which include the nickel ore. In the meantime to be active in the amenities of party life, and to be much devoted to social reform will certainly earn the approval of the metal and oil masters of the world.

AMERICAN SAILORS IN FIGHT WITH MEXICANS
One Bluejacket Was Wounded and Two Others Taken Prisoners.
CAPTIVES LIBERATED?
Early Reports Not Confirmed — U. S. Policy is Not Changed.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Admiral Winslow at San Diego, reporting late today on the clash between American seamen and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday, said Bowdoin's Mate S. M. Lauter was gravely wounded, and Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Mowat were taken prisoners by the Mexicans. The admiral made no mention of the subsequent release of the officers, as announced to the state department by the Mexican embassy, but it is presumed this occurred after the report on which his message was based was sent.

Reply to Carranza. Earlier communications received from the Mexican embassy announced that there had been a clash between a boat crew from the gunboat Annapolis and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan yesterday, and asked that while the present tense situation continues, no men be landed from American warships under any circumstances. They were delivered to the state department today by an embassy secretary.

The secretary sought an engagement with Secretary Lansing for the ambassador designate, Eliseo Arredondo, but was informed that Mr. Lansing was very busy and was making no appointments for the day.

Secretary of State Lansing announced that the reply to Carranza would go forward to Mexico City during the day. The secretary also declared the American policy in Mexico remained unchanged. In regard to the general situation in Mexico, Secretary Lansing said that he had received reports from the border that the situation was becoming more serious, and that the reports of the 100,000 men ordered out for service on the Mexican border will be in readiness within a few days.

ADMIRAL VON KOESTER TAKES SLAP AT WILSON
LONDON, June 19.—Admiral Von Koester, former grand admiral of the German fleet, speaking at a meeting of the Potemovveren in Berlin, Sunday, couched a defense of Germany's submarine warfare with a slap at President Wilson, according to a Copenhagen despatch to The Exchange Telegraph Company. The admiral is quoted as saying: "We are entitled to use our submarine weapon against an enemy who uses mines and aeroplanes and when the advocate of humanity and justice—President Wilson—provides our enemy with the munitions without which he could not continue the war we are entitled to use our U-boats in the most daring manner. Political and commercial circumstances forced us to give up reckless submarine warfare, but there are better times coming for the German fleet."

ALLIES SOON TO START DRIVE IN MACEDONIA
Operations Have Been Delayed Thru Need of Reorganizing Serbs.
KEEP EYE ON BULGARS
Activity of Latter on Struma May Hasten Move by Allies.

SALONIKI, May 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The allied offensive in Macedonia, originally scheduled for mid-May and postponed on account of the condition of the Serbian army on its arrival in Corfu, is now confidently anticipated toward the end of June or, at the latest, early in July.

The activities of the Bulgarians east of the Struma the past week and a gradually increasing extension of artillery operations have led to the belief that the Bulgarians plan to hasten, and the allied attack begun at once.

Morover it reduces their numbers very materially. A great many more Serbs died than will ever be known, not simply of cholera, but from enteric, typhoid, malaria, and other diseases. The outbreak of cholera among the Serbs on their arrival in Corfu proved a disadvantage. It made their transport to Saloniki in time to participate in an offensive in May impossible.

Reorganization Needed. The Serbian army was in far worse shape after its retreat thru Albania than had been supposed. The entire force needed full re-equipment, and the recruits from Serbia and the volunteers from America required drilling. Marshal Putnik was no longer physically able to command, and many of the leading officers were dead or too worn by their late hardships to continue active service, and a new set of officers had to be appointed.

The idea of an offensive from Saloniki in May, therefore, however, entailed an alteration in the general plan of procedure. The decision was made to strike a first blow in the Balkans to draw off the German reserves from the west front while a decisive action was being planned in Macedonia. It was decided to make the Macedonian offensive of the allies coincident with the offensive in the general allied offensive on all fronts, generally supposed to be scheduled for mid-summer.

The Serbs are now safely in Macedonia. Already they have begun to take up their positions on the frontiers of Roumania, from Vardar west to Lake Prespa.

FALL OF CZERNOWITZ IMPRESSES ROUMANIA
Country May Now Decide to Swing to Entente Allies' Side.

PARIS, June 19.—What will Roumania do? The key-note and headline on all comment in the morning newspapers on the capture of Czernowitz by the Russians. Although forecast some time ago, the news has been received with enthusiasm.

All the newspapers agree that the diplomatic results of the fall of Czernowitz far exceed its strategic value. They point out that the city is the capital of Bukovina, the independent province of Roumania, and was promised to the latter country in the event of her joining the allies.

Bukovina has twice formed a part of the Russian empire, and it is thought it will return to the kingdom for a third time has been eagerly seized upon by leaders of the regime in Roumania. The interventionists have lost no time and despatches from Bucharest say that they opened a vigorous campaign yesterday and are confident that they will be able to bring the premier over to their side.

FARMER RANCHER KILLED.
Lieut. Thomas Forster Showed Great Courage.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
LONDON, June 19.—Lieut. Thomas Forster, Royal Irish Regiment, killed in action, was a son of a former commander of the regiment and was in Canada for ten years, and enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the ranks. He soon gained a commission, and was in the front line of the action, and was killed the following day. The adjutant writes that his conduct was magnificent, and that he was the admiration of the whole division.

Lieut. Walter Curran, Canadian headquarters, is now completely convinced of the value of a serious operation at Cliveden.

REPORT LIKELY TO URGE REGISTRATION
Dr. A. H. Abbott Tells War Committee of Visit to Premier Borden.
PROTECT INDUSTRIES
Government Will Determine Who Can Best Serve at Home and Overseas.

Dr. A. H. Abbott today presented to the provincial war committee of which he is secretary his report upon his visit to Premier Borden in Ottawa last week. Whether this report is made public or not depends upon the committee.

The report, it is expected, will advocate a policy directed toward registration of military and industrial purposes; that is, such a registration that the government will be able from it to say to the man, "You cannot be spared, your place is at home," and to that, "You could well be spared, your place is with the troops."

Dr. Abbott, in talking over the situation yesterday, said that the present voluntary system was crippling the industries of the country to the detriment of its military efficiency. He pointed out that in isolated instances the government has stepped in and through commanding officers, deterred some who had enlisted for leaving their civilian positions. This system, he intimated, might be made nationwide with advantageous results.

MEXICAN DANGER UPSETS STOCKS
News of U.S. Stand Causes Considerable Amount of Liquidation.

MOTOR ISSUES BREAK
Railway Shares Undergo General Shrinkage in Values.

NEW YORK, June 19.—All other considerations and conditions were forgotten by Wall Street today in the unmistakable manner manifested over the complications in the Mexican situation. The financial community was not entirely prepared for the attitude of the federal government, however, as last Saturday's advice from Washington appeared to forecast the subsequent developments.

Mexican shares naturally bore the brunt of the liquidation, which began at the outset and proceeded with greater force and breadth to the close. Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company yielded 6 1/2 and 6, respectively, with 5 for California Petroleum prof., while U.S. Smelting and Refining was down 4 1/2 points, with 2 or more for Green-Cananea Copper and Southern Pacific.

Motor issues, whose technical position seemed weakest of all the specialties, broke three to five points, with 11 for Willis-Overland. Munitions, particularly Crucible Steel, American and Baldwin Locomotive, an American Car, together with copper and other metals, receded two, three and even six points.

U. S. Steel gave the best account of any prominent issue, its extreme loss, however, being only one point.

Among rails, the shrinkage in quoted values was so general as to make details of the movement unnecessary. Seasonal ranges from two to three points. New York Central suffering additional impairment from the refusal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to grant the company's request for an increase in rates. Total sales amounted to 785,000 shares.

Western railway centres reported an increase in volume of business over the corresponding period of last year, the slightly under the preceding year.

The only material change in foreign exchange was that of the franc holding firm. Bonds held the effect of the weakness of the franc, and the market for gold and silver concessions. Total sales (par value), $2,325,000.

OFFICERS OF BEAVERS ARE OUT RECRUITING
Have Taken to the Streets at Nights to Finish by Whirlwind Campaign.

An attempt to organize a whirlwind campaign in recruiting, and to secure the 150 recruits needed by the 204th Battalion in the next two weeks, was put under way last night when the whole officers' staff of the battalion took the streets and made things lively for the young men not in khaki. While much of the 204th recruiting in the past few weeks has been carried on by sergeants and privates, the officers have now taken charge and are making it their business to talk to the men on the streets and see if the Beavers cannot be brought up to strength by July 1. In order to carry out the idea the city has been divided into three districts, with a captain in charge of each. Capt. D. Lawrence takes charge of the district from Bathurst street west, Capt. J. A. Gillies of the district from the east end, and Capt. F. M. Bell Smith, chaplain, in charge of the east end. The work will be conducted during the evenings alone, the recent regulations to apply to day-time recruiting.

J. L. GARVIN IN ACCORD WITH VIEWS OF HUGHES
Retention of Ypres Salient is Not Advisable, in His Opinion.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.
LONDON, June 19.—J. L. Garvin, editor of The London Observer, who has made something of a name for himself as a critic of military operations, writes regarding the position of the Canadians at Ypres: "The whole empire congratulates Canada upon this determined example of how the settle accounts with the Boches. There is, however, another moral. The Canadians have been called on for months to take more than their share. This deadly ground which so far from possessing military value, is for us a military disadvantage, has been held for reasons of feeling, but these ought now to be weighed anew against the lives of the men."

The Canadians in winning imperishable fame at a grievous loss, have done more than enough for honor in front of Ypres. If the British higher command should think it proper to readjust our lines a little, we are certain there would not be a murmur of disappointment, either in Canada or the mother country.

MOLTKE WAS LEADER IN THE WAR CLIQUE
His Influence Moved Kaiser to Sign the Mobilization Order.

LONDON, June 19.—F. W. Wile, writing in The Daily Mail of von Moltke, says: "I can testify to the literal accuracy of a piece of history not generally known, which identifies von Moltke with a clique which compelled the Kaiser to abandon his remaining doubts as to the immediate wisdom of war."

"On the afternoon of Saturday, August 1, 1914, the general's wife paid a visit to a certain home in Berlin. She was in a state of irrepressible excitement.

"'Ach, what a day I've been thru,' she said to my informant.

"My husband came home just before I left, almost the first I've seen of him in three days and nights. He threw himself onto a couch, a complete physical wreck, and said he had finally accomplished the hardest task of his life. He had helped to induce the kaiser to sign the mobilization order."

PAVING CO. WON SUIT AGAINST CITY
Firm Recovered Balance of Contract Price for Repair Work.
APPLICATION REFUSED
Wanted to Stop Charge of Being Intoxicated in "Dry" Town.

The city loses in an action brought against it at Osgoode Hall by the Construction and Paving Company of Ontario for the recovery of $10,048.60, balance of account claimed due. The action was heard before Mr. Justice Britton and the plaintiff's attorney, Mr. J. H. Reynolds, who pointed out that the amount was held back by the city, it was for repair work and material provided in connection with work on city streets.

The city admitted that it withheld the money, but counter-claimed for a similar amount, alleging that the plaintiff had not paid the prevailing rate of wages to 17 teamsters and was entitled to take the action it did. His lordship, in giving judgment held that under the contract the city is not entitled to recover any deficiency in pay until it has itself paid the shortage to the teamsters. He pointed out that there was no obligation on the part of the corporation to pay the men unless and until it received money for that purpose.

Judgment was given for the amount claimed and the city counter-claim was dismissed.

Application Dismissed. Mr. Justice Sutherland holds that the provisions of the Liquor License Act, and an application by John Scott of Toronto for an order prohibiting the magistrate of Seaford, proceeding with a charge against him of being intoxicated in a public place, was dismissed. The magistrate's decision was not issued, was dismissed. Mr. Scott was brought before Magistrate F. Holmstead of Seaford on the charge above charge and objected to a decision brought by the Johnson & Carey Co. of St. Paul, Minn., against the C. R. and Foley, Welch & Stewart Co. Mr. Justice Middleton wants a decision as to whether or not a Dominion railway is subject to the Ontario Motor Vehicle Act. The plaintiff claims $250,000 due upon the Foley contract, $150,000 upon a "force" account, and $40,000 for the cost of the contract in connection with the work on the Railway section of the C.N.R., for which they were sub-contractors, and the defendant claims $100,000.

PROSPECT OF WAR SENDS UP WHEAT
Provisions Also Advance at Chicago Over Mexican Imbrolio.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Prospect of war with Mexico brought about a decided upturn today throughout the entire list of grain and provisions. Wheat closed strong, $1.01 1/2 to $1.02 net, with July at $1.02 1/2, and September at $1.04. Corn showed an advance of 1c to 1 1/2c, oats 5/8c to 3/4c, and provisions 15c to 20c.

Trade in wheat was on a large scale and was said to include much buying on foreign account. At the outset the market was virtually bare of offerings to sell and attention was centered almost wholly on the question of what effect would result from the sweeping orders to send the militia to the Mexican border. The majority of dealers took the view that in regard to foodstuffs war meant waste and that implied hostilities also arrangements for huge emergency supplies with consequent tightening of values. Speculators, who inclined to an opposite opinion and who sold on the bulge caused several rallies, but only to again see the market ascend as the selling continued.

Wet weather delays to harvesting in the winter crop belt acted as a further handicap to the bears in wheat. Advertisements from southern Illinois gave special emphasis to this aspect of the situation and at the same time there were unfavorable crop advices from the spring wheat region. In consequence, closing quotations were almost at the highest point of the day.

Corn quickly showed sympathy with the wheat advance. Besides, wet weather predictions tended to lift the market and so its export sales. Oats manifested a little hesitation at first owing to the fine crop outlook. Later, the likelihood of increased domestic demand for war purposes gave an advantage to the bulls. In addition, the market reported sales of 1,100,000 bushels to Europe.

Provisions scored a sharp advance after an early break. Expected liberal buying on the part of U. S. military authorities was responsible for the late strength. Unchecked for over-abundance of hog receipts here formed the reason of the previous transient setback in values.

BEN LODGE SCORED

Shared Comedy Honors With Chas. Seiler—Marie Hamilton Charming.

By the appreciation accorded "The Mikado," the second offering of the Angeles Opera Company, at the initial performance in the Grand Theatre last night, the success of the organization is assured.

The part of Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, is by no means new to Ben Lodge, and the applause accorded him in his role of Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, is by no means new to Ben Lodge, and the applause accorded him in his role of Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, is by no means new to Ben Lodge.

Rupert Hughes was seen in the role of Nanki Poo, and he opened with a fine rendering of "A Warning Bard Am I," Mr. Hughes has a pleasing tenor voice and this coupled with good acting, quickly established him a favorite.

Yum-Yum, Miss Marie Hamilton was charmingly and does it with admirable ease and grace.

Charles Seiler, Premier Borden was well interpreted by Malcolm Barrett, and the singing of the popular Madrigal "The Song of the Lark" by the quartet was generous wit hence.

GOOD BILL AT LOEW'S HEADED BY MISS HAMLET

Daisy Harcourt, Hazel Kirke Trio, Dolson and Other Favorites Complete Show.

Headlining the bill at Loew's this week is the cleverly constructed farce "Miss Hamlet." It is a burlesque on the Shakespearean "Hamlet," and is built along musical comedy lines.

Daisy Harcourt, an English comedienne, is back with all her old-time humorous sarcasm, and man gets more than his fair share of it. Miss Harcourt gets a lot of fun from some burlesque singing, but when she really tries to sing some humorous songs she is a sweet voiced and well interpreted by Malcolm Barrett, and the singing of the popular Madrigal "The Song of the Lark" by the quartet was generous wit hence.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

THOUSAND WOMEN OFFER SERVICES

Willing to Do Men's Work During Duration of War

RELATIVES AT FRONT

Ninety Per Cent. of Them Have Men Doing Their Bit.

Progress made in the matter of registering women ready to take the place of men in order to enable them to enlist makes it more and more evident that lack of enthusiasm along the line of recruiting is not, in a great measure at least, due to the mothers and sisters of the community. The ninety who gave in their names at the Sunday meeting at Lewis' Theatre in response to the appeal of Miss Wiseman makes the number of women who have now registered in Toronto well over the thousand.

Recruiting speakers are often heard to say that men are kept back by their women folk. Perhaps in some cases this may be true, but the fact, if such it be, would only emphasize something that has been apparent since the war broke out, and that is that the women who are patriotic and who are doing things are for the most part members of the same families as the men who have recruited and are in all probability at the front.

It would be almost a safe guess to make that at least 90 per cent. of the women who have signed as to their willingness to serve their country by entering on any avenue of work that may present itself are members of families whose men are already "doing their bit." The recruiting of men and registration of women proves more and more that the call of the moment are being responded to over and over again by a certain portion of the community, while the other very large portion are still under the drug of inertia, which prevents them realizing their responsibility in the present crisis.

These Men Should Help.

Manufacturers, too, are by no means dramatically loud in their attitude of response. Assurances from other countries—France, England and the rest—are to the effect that women have been found fully competent in many new lines of work recently tried. Canadian employers might at least give those who offer themselves a trial. Some few are doing this, but the number is not at all commensurate with the opportunities offered.

It seems almost time to put the blame where it rightly belongs. He who runs may read. It is certainly not the women who are behind in presenting themselves for any service which the times may demand at their hands.

Girl Guides News

Miss Florence Hardy has been presented with the "triple-all-round-cord," the first to be won by any Girl Guide in Canada. The honor was conferred in recognition of the fact that she had already won twenty-one proficiency badges. She is also the winner of the "Silver Fish," which will be presented at the Girl Guide rally next Saturday.

Capt. Jean McConnell, organizer and captain of Company 7 Girl Guides for five years, was presented by the members of her corps with flowers and a handsome set of table linen. She is to be married shortly.

LITTLE CASH REQUIRED.

A small cash payment is all that is needed to possess a Victrola if you buy it from the Y. O. De Firmo of Heintzman & Co., Ltd., Heintzman Hall, 194-195-197 Yonge street, Toronto. Their easy payment plan enables you to pay just a few dollars down and the balance in small weekly or monthly payments. By this plan anyone can afford one, especially as prices are as low as $21 for an instrument. The firm also carries an immense stock of records. If out of town write for catalogue and information.

In the living-room, at a safe distance from the spluttering hearth, a baby tumbled about on a rug, curling with glee as his tiny fingers clutched wildly at vague nothings, and his little cushioned heels beat a muffled tattoo. The marvelous feat of contortion he performed with his little wriggling body were not appreciated by either mother or brother. Ted, the latter being so intent upon driving his entire herd of animals into the ark with one mighty flourish of the whip that a stampede was in evidence, and mother just rocked gently to and fro, looking sadly into the glowing coals.

A picture was thrown upon the fiery screen—the saw a tall, good-looking, broad-shouldered man holding close in his arms a girl strangely like herself.

"You are mine now, Laura," he was saying proudly. "My very own, and I will always be good to you."

The picture faded—another flashed on the screen. A bronze uniformed man looked remorsefully into the eyes of the same girl as he clasped her to him for perhaps the last time.

"Forgive me, dear, if I have wronged you," he said humbly.

She smiled now at the absurdity of the request. God love him! He had kept his word—he had been good and true—oh, so true!

"Teddy's awful tired," yawned a tired voice at her knee. "Mummy put Teddy's nightie on—Daddy took me to bed," he exclaimed, fretfully as his mother stooped to lift him on her knee.

The storm broke—she crushed her face against the soft dimpled neck and sobbed. "Your Daddy is going away from us, Teddy—away across the sea."

The child's lips quivered, his eyes filled with tears; the baby began to whimper—the front door opened and shut with a bang.

"I just thought you'd be actin' up like this!" ejaculated the next-door neighbor, as she whisked the baby from the floor to her knees.

"Hoity, toity, woman!" she scolded.

MAPLE LEAF CLUBS ARE URGENT NECESSITY

Lady Drummond of Montreal, who has been and is doing many laudable things to help returned soldiers in England thru the medium of the Maple Leaf Clubs, has sent the following letter to Mr. Huntley Drummond in Montreal:

"Can approximately twenty-five thousand dollars be raised through the sale of every woman's society in Canada and Queen Mary Maple Leaf Clubs for soldiers on leave? Such clubs are needed every where to give their comfort. They are an urgent necessity. Those who have seen exhausted men from the trenches turned away from hospitals, the number of which see it again. Canada has led the movement for residential clubs for overseas men. From the Maple Leaf clubs, largely supported in this country, have sprung. The Maple Leaf is Canada's contribution. I will give five thousand dollars. Lady Drummond twenty-five hundred dollars and Sir George Perley one thousand dollars. Many no doubt have already given thru Daughters of Empire and otherwise, all they can. Names of all subscribers, past and future, will be given in annual report."

COL. WILLIAMS AT THE WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

Col. Williams came over from Niagara yesterday afternoon to address a meeting of the executive of the Women's Canadian Club. Mrs. James George, the president, occupied the chair. The speaker referred to the appeal sent out by General Logie last week as pressing and demanding 2,440 accepted men within the next fortnight.

The executive in response, decided to organize to assist by calling the president or representatives of every women's society in the city to meet at the board room of the Central Loan Co., King street east, on Wednesday next at 2 o'clock, when the colonel will again address the meeting.

Toronto has recruited 24,490 men, a number not unduly large when the number of eligible men is considered. The part emphasized was that the need for men is pressing and immediate.

Revelations of a Wife

BY ADELE GARRISON
Madge's Adventure in the Library

It was fully half an hour after Lillian Underwood had risen from the fireseat from whose depths I had listened to her sound, wholesome advice concerning my life with Dicky.

"I thought it all over again, winnowing her words carefully. I felt every word she said was true, but back in my brain a little voice said, 'But why did she tell you this now? Is it because she knows of some woman who is already trying to interest Dicky?'"

"I feared to admit the answer even when it flashed across my brain. The beautiful face of Grace Draper, the student who was noising about the house when he was helping with instructions, came before me as clearly as if she were in the room with me.

Lillian Underwood's studio was on the same floor with that occupied by my husband. I felt that nothing would escape her eyes. Had she observed anything in Dicky's treatment of me, or in the model's demeanor toward her employer that impelled her to talk to me as she had done?

"I felt a sudden chill at my heart. A sensation that always came to me with thoughts of Grace Draper. Ever since the day of our outing at Marvin when Dicky had discovered the girl and engaged her, I had felt a curious premonition that some day she would bring me sorrow.

"But the memory of Lillian's brusque, kindly words braced me. 'You hold all the cards in your hands.' I resolved to waste no time on foolish imaginings, but to hurry through my work so that I might return to Dicky and— I flushed to myself as I thought of it—put into practice some of Mrs. Underwood's precepts.

"Dicky needs loving and petting and you must give them to him," she had said. "If only he were in a good humor when I reached home! I feared, however, that he would resent the fact that Lillian had told me of the happenings in their long buried past.

Hard at Work.

Before she left she said she would telephone Dicky that I was going to spend the afternoon studying in her library, so that if his mother needed me I could be called at once. I had no time, however, to get ready to go, so I had to ensure me a long, uninterrupted day.

So, putting my wandering imagination to rest with a firm hand, I turned my attention to my task of the afternoon, putting into shape my ideas for the history class I was to conduct at the Lotus Study Club.

Mrs. Helen Brainerd Smith, the secretary of the club, had told me that the matter was being written up, and I wished to study something of the history of the countries involved in the great war so that they might be able to understand the struggle better. I checked the countries off on my fingers—Germany, France, Russia, England, Italy, Austria, Belgium, Serbia, Bulgaria, Turkey, Japan—and an awful array! I shivered as I thought of what it all meant.

The first lesson had there would be a lecture on the history of the first lesson a sort of introduction to the whole, outlining the work I wished done. Then I meant to devote one session to each of the eleven countries involved, two sessions to the former wars which had ravaged the European battlefield and the last two sessions to the present struggle and its causes.

Fortunately I had not been long enough from my teaching days to become rusty on the subject which I had outlined the lessons for the later days, and with each jotted down the names of the books of reference which Mrs. Smith had asked me to suggest to the class. Then I turned my attention to my opening lecture, the one which I felt would determine the attitude of the class toward me. The last daylight of my note books which I had brought with me were filled with just what I wanted. With a little modification and amplification to the needs of club women I could use material which was ready to my hand.

Harry Underwood Appears.

I worked hard all the afternoon, making several trips to the shelves, both in Lillian's library and in Mr. Underwood's den across the hall. I was so absorbed that I did not realize how late it was growing until as I finished the last page of my notes, I found that the fire was out, and the last daylight disappearing from the windows.

Hurriedly gathering up my things, I took up a book which I had crossed from Mr. Underwood's shelves and crossed the hall to return the volume to its place.

"Well, well! I wondered when you were going to come to the surface of the earth, so long in that area of literature you were in that I was just about to die after you."

Hurry Underwood arose from the depths of a easy chair as I entered the room.

"My first impulse was to turn and run. Ever since I met Lillian Underwood's husband I have feared and avoided him. Upon the two or three occasions I have met him he has annoyed me terribly. The incident of the Aquarium meeting was still fresh in my mind. Partly intoxicated, he had actually frightened me and completely disgusted my mother-in-law.

"He saw the involuntary movement I made toward the door, and grinned. 'Don't worry, my dear. You are as safe as if you were in a church. Remember, will you I molest a helpless female who has claims sanctuary within its walls.'

"His mixed figures, his mimicry made me smile in spite of myself. Besides there was something in his manner which put me at my ease. Whether or not he really did have his own peculiar ideas of honor that made me safe in his own hands, I did not know. He looked like a man who had been through a long and arduous life, and I was truly thankful. I made up my mind to ignore any previous unpleasantness.

"Mrs. Underwood was kind enough to give me the freedom of your library on condition that I did not break the backs of the books," I said nonchalantly, holding out the volume I had brought back. "Please witness my discretion."

A Farewell Salute.

He took the book from me and examined it with burlesqued anxiety. "Go to the head of the class, and say finally," "You may read my books at any time."

"Thank you," I returned. "You have a wonderful collection here, your wife says."

"I don't you examine it more closely? I should enjoy showing it to you."

"Not today," I tried to make my voice careless, but in reality I was uneasy. I had just heard a malicious chuckle from the top of the steps, and realized that Harry Underwood was still to be reckoned with as an unpleasant factor in my life.

"Betty Nansen has returned to Faderland Norway."

"William Garwood must buy his postcards by the thousands. He is a very fond of sending witty little messages to his western friends. He never states what he is doing, just sends a cheery message, but his small contributions are always welcomed and never fail to command a smile.

HOW TO GET RID OF MR. FLY

Household Helps By Isabel Brands

LITTLE LOUISE has a very tender hearted, pacific maiden aunt, who taught her to love all living things, and that to pull pussy's tail, or to kill any living creature is a dreadful sin. Little Louise took the lesson to heart very literally, and she's the kindest little body alive. But one day her mamma entered the room to find the little lady had opened wide the screen doors, instantly inviting a few flies on the porch to come in and partake of the contents of the sugar bowl. "Poor little fly," she cried, "they haven't a thing to eat, and they must be so hungry!"

If you mean to get rid of the fly nuisance this summer you must enlist the co-operation of the children at the start. They must be made to understand that flies are unclean and disease-breeding. They must be made to understand that the screen door open for flies to enter is as it is to trail muddy little boots over the parlor floor. There is little use in fitting every door and window with screens and screens are not kept clean always. Careless running out and leaving the door ajar for 15 minutes makes a bad thing worse.

The first step in the campaign against the fly nuisance is to equip the house with screen doors, and to enforce the rule that flies are not to be let open even for a few seconds.

The second step is to leave no food exposed anywhere. Little forgotten crumbs left in places, food accidentally left uncovered, and the like, are the best of all for flies. Mr. Fly miraculously appears on the scene. "No food, no flies—no dirt, no flies," is the housewife's prescription. If you have been unable to anticipate

THE AMATEUR GARDENER

By Will Nies

It is easy to grow most plants from cuttings if one goes at it in the right way. Make sure, in the first place, that the cutting is in the proper condition. This is where so many fail, for they seem to be governed by the belief that a cutting is always in a condition to root readily. Not so. If it is too old it often fails to make roots, and if too new it generally decays before the roots start.

It is impossible to lay down any hard and fast rule by which one can determine this matter, but it is safe to say that if a cutting breaks squarely when doubled back upon itself it will form roots, nine times out of ten, provided the directions given below are followed.

The best soil to start cuttings in is pure sand. Fill a dinner plate with it if you have but few to start, and apply enough water to make it moist all thru. Then insert the cuttings, putting about an inch of them below the surface. Push the sand firmly together about the base of them. Then set the plate in a rather warm place.

After that be careful to see that the sand is never allowed to dry out. If it does your cuttings will be ruined. But do not apply too much water to make mud of the sand. What you are to aim at is as even a condition of moisture as possible. Most cuttings of soft-wooded plants, like fuchsias, will require a longer period.

It is well to leave the plants in the sand until they have made a second set of leaves. Then remove them, and put them into small pots of good soil. Do this without disturbing the delicate roots, if possible. Instead of pulling the cutting out of the sand, cut down about it with a sharp knife, and lift the cube of soil containing the roots of the plant without breaking it apart.

Every spring the plants in the window will be likely to require more or less pruning. Do not throw away the bits of branches that you cut off. Make cuttings of them, and grow these for your own use in summer, or, if you have all the plants you care for, give them away to some one who loves flowers as well as you do, but who is not fortunate enough to have a supply. There will always be some one in the neighborhood who will be delighted to get them. Never let good material of this kind go to waste.

Some evergreens display a tendency to make a high top growth, losing their lower branches. The trees are given to this habit, which can be controlled by cutting back the leading shoots.

Norway spruce can be kept in compact form by cutting away half of the young growth in early summer. This will start many side buds, developing a compact tree.

The greatest advantage of the tractor is its ability to do heavy work quickly, thus completing it within the proper season, as it places at the farmer's command a large amount of power when needed. The use of tractors on farms has not displaced horses to any great extent, as there is much work on most farms for which it is neither profitable nor profitable to use the tractor.

Let's Ask Mother

By FLORENCE HOWARD

I WONDER why it is that Mother's chicken dressing always seems so light and nice? I was just thinking of that when I saw a recipe for it in a magazine. I wish I could make it as nice as Mother does."

"Let's ask Mother about it," said Louise. "I'll try to make it for you."

"The reason is that I always use cold water when I make my dressings," said Mother. "The cold water makes a light dressing, while the hot water is likely to make it soggy."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S STORY

By ROSE WILDER LANE.
(Copyright, 1916)

CHAPTER XXVI.

In which he sees a near-tragedy which is a comedy on the film; meets his old friend, the policeman, and blue rats, and prepares to fall thru a trapdoor with a pie.

The little self-confidence I had been able to muster failed me entirely when the director missed my cue. I was in a predicament. I had a pie in my hand, and a camera was looking at me. I was in a predicament. I had a pie in my hand, and a camera was looking at me. I was in a predicament. I had a pie in my hand, and a camera was looking at me.

"What's all the row?" I asked a girl in the costume of a nurse who stood eating a sandwich, the only left person in the scene in a new comedy," she answered, pleasantly but indifferently. "Ah, yes? That's in my own line. I'm an important person."

"You're a comedian?" she inquired. "Yes," I answered, sharply. "Er—no, no. I'm not an actress," she said, surprised. "I'm here professionally. In case of accidents," she explained, plainly thinking me stupid. "Sometimes nothing happens, but you never can tell. Eight men were pretty badly hurt in the explosion in the comedy they put on last week," she finished, and I felt a cold sensation creep up my spine.

In the "set" before us there was a great bustle of preparation. A long light beam was raised up, and the camera operator, who had been standing in the narrow platform, stepped back, and the camera operator, the director appeared and clapped his

Alice Brady's Career in Pictures and on the Stage

Producer's Daughter Went on the Stage Despite Paternal Objections—Her Success Proves Her to Be a Born Actress.

When she was a wee little tot, Alice Brady wanted to go on the stage. Her father, a very diplomatic man, told her that she was a very good girl, but that she was not to be a society belle. That stood her off until she got a little older, and when Alice got old enough to wade thru the dictionary and see just what was in the word "society belle," she just framed up a reply and waited for her father to spring it on her once more.

Seated at the dinner table one fine evening, Alice suggested going on the stage. When Mr. Brady repeated his chosen vocation for her, she just replied in her usual cute and cunning manner:

"Yes, Pa, I may have been designed to become a society lady, but something tells me I'm destined to become a stage star, and somehow or other, I can't get that something out of my head."

But just why parents who have made a success in the theatrical profession should be opposed to their children following their footsteps remains an unsolved problem. The question has often been asked, but seldom answered. And the most interesting part of it is that in nearly every instance where a child has inclined in disobeying his or her parent in this respect, has generally turned out to be a star.

Announced Stage Debut.

When Alice was preparing to leave the College of St. Elizabeth, in Madison, N.J., after graduation, she announced her intention of adopting the stage as her life vocation. Mr. Brady had roughed it in the profession. He knew the hardships she would have to undergo. He had himself scaled the heights of opposition and succeeded in becoming the leading producer in the theatrical world. His enterprises were numerous, and as he maintained his general offices in New York City, he had often dreamed of home as he wanted it, with his little

LEAVE ON LUNAR MOON TO LAND OF MOVIES

Geraldine Farrar and Husband Depart for California.

With the long winter season of grand opera and concert at an end, Geraldine Farrar, looking very happy, started last Monday with her husband, Lou Tellegen, on the long-deferred honeymoon trip to the land of motion pictures at Hollywood, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tellegen were passengers on board the 20th Century Limited, attached to which was a private car for the star and her suite. Miss Farrar's drawing-room was uncluttered with roses.

A summer devoted to the motion picture camera is no novelty for the prima donna, as she had the unusual experience a year ago of making three big productions at the studios of the Lasky Company at Hollywood, including the famed version of the opera "Carmen," all within a period of nine weeks.
