While they are at it some of the way stations might be named in the same suggestive way, for instance, "Grat Station," "Buddle Creek," "Getrichquik Crossing," "Toohigh Grade," "Lifer-death Curve," "Politicians' Paradise," etc.

No wonder the commercial traveler's patriotic impulses turn towards motor automobiles; they know how uncomfortable traveling can be even for the unwounded. More power to them.

At the same time there are some high fliers in St. John who should contribute liberally to the aeroplane fund.

We Don't Have Many Concerts Do We? A policeman was standing at the head of King street last night. An arching passer by approached him and queried: "Say, mister, where's the band concert gonna be tonight?" "The King street east, if there is any," the cop replied.

P. S.—The kid saw the new cop the officer was wearing and mistook him for a bandman.

Well, Tan Looks Like Khaki Green shoes and a khaki hat sign in front of his door: "War Shins, 5 cents." Experience proved to us that maneuvering about St. John, it was really better than a battleship grey.

Now some progressive Grecian merchant should announce a "submarine shirt" to get ahead of the weather dividend.

SCHOOL TO HELP MAKING SHELLS

Mechanical Pupils to Produce Fittings FOR MANUFACTURERS' USE
Principal Says Sixteen Lathes at Montreal Technical School Can Be Employed For This Work

Montreal, July 17.—In order to help in the work of supplying munitions for the use of the allied armies, arrangements are being made whereby the apparatus of the Montreal Technical School may be employed in turning out certain lathes attachments and instruments required for the manufacture of shells, and which are at present only obtained with difficulty in the ordinary markets.

The school's board of directors which met on Tuesday, authorized the principal, A. Macheras, to take steps to have the pupils of the mechanical section, sufficiently advanced in their course, and such graduates of the school as may be inclined to undertake this work, start immediately on the making of the instruments required by shell manufacturers.

Mr. Macheras said that he had already notified certain pupils of the decision reached and that all those qualified would be informed of the proposal. It is possible that in the ordinary course which the students take, and some remuneration will be offered the workers in view of the fact that the product of their industry will be sold to manufacturers of shells who will give their requirements.

The actual manufacture of shells in the Technical School, Mr. Macheras said, would be undesirable, for the pupils engaged in this work would have their hands and brains bent only in one direction, and the variety of practical work necessary for the mechanic's adequate training would thus be lacking. While a knowledge of the methods of shell manufacturing is very profitable for a certain time, the students would probably lose in the long run if their instructions were limited to this sort of work. Moreover, while the school has eighteen lathes adaptable to the production of attachments and instruments, measuring and verification in shell making, only six are large enough for the actual production of shell manufacture. Other advantage in pursuing the course which has been decided on will reside in the fact that if some of the small fittings are spotted in the making, as always occurs to a certain extent in the work done by learners, these can be scrapped without serious loss, whereas inaccuracy in the production of costly shells would involve losses of a grave nature.

Mr. Macheras expects that the pupils will be very glad to have the opportunity of doing this work. Only those of the mechanical section, of course, will be given the chance.

LATE PERSONALS
Mrs. H. Lander, accompanied by her niece, Miss Muriel Lander, left Friday evening for Montreal for a short visit to Montreal and Quebec.

Miss Corbet and Miss Byrd Corbet of St. John and Miss Foster of Salisbury have returned after a short visit to Montreal and Quebec.

A Pittsfield man, when about to start in the clothing business, several times stood in front of a large church and counted the light suits and the dark suits worn. He found that the ratio was about two to one in favor of the dark suit, so bought stock for his store accordingly.

John A. Saydey of Hartburg, Pa., was married to Mrs. Mary C. Stiemler of Los Angeles 40 years after their engagement. They had parted because of a lovers' quarrel, each had married, their spouses had died, and then they renewed their courtship.

"I want you to understand," said young Saydey, "that I got my money by hard work."

"Why, I thought it was left to you by your rich uncle?"

"So it was, but I had hard work to get it away from the lawyers."

RASPBERRY LORE
(The Byter McArthur)
The meaneast man in Canada has been discovered but I dare not give you his name or tell you where he lives for like all the mean men I know he is very respectable, and moreover he is well off and for that reason his neighbors look up to him. It would never do to cast a slur on so estimable a citizen, but one tell you what he does. He hires the children in the neighborhood to pick raspberries for him and it is part of the bargain that they must whistle all the time they are in the berry patch. As he is always within hearing he is able in this way to make sure that they do not eat any of the delicious berries they are picking. Now what do you think of a man like that?

I wouldn't consider this man so mean had it not been that for some time past I have been trying to determine the origin of the name "Raspberry." The explanation given in the big dictionaries is perfectly absurd. "Rasp—with reference to its rough outside—looking like a rasp." "What nonsense! The appearance of a raspberry might remind one of a cluster of rubies but never of a blacksmith's rasp. But philology, or the science of words, is a mere matter of guess-work in many cases, so I feel quite at liberty to guess at the origin of the name raspberry myself.

What does a healthy boy do when he discovers that raspberries are ripe? Any one can answer that. He comes knocking towards the house yelling "Rah! Rah! Rah!" The rasp-berries are ripe. "Rah! rah!" an abbreviated cheer, expressive of joy. Hence raspberry is the berry that makes the small boy cheer because of the joy he feels. Do I hear any objection to that? Of course not. Anyone can see that that is the true explanation. Let the makers of dictionaries take note.

And now that I am at it I may as well set the learned philologists right on another point that has to do with the raspberry. They seem unable to decide on the exact origin of the word "jam" as used in raspberry jam. Once more I am amazed at their blindness. Also once more I get a chance to display my own explanation. What does he say when he gets a chance to display his own explanation? "Jam jam!" Do I hear anyone objecting to that? It is all as plain as mud. Say, I have a notion to give up farming and go in for philology. The college professors and dictionary makers seem to lack both imagination and knowledge of the small boy.

Now can't you see why I consider him who makes the small boy whistle when picking raspberries the nearest man in Canada? The berry itself and its chief product both take their names from the love for them shown by the small boy. If you do not believe in my derivations just try any healthy boy with ripe raspberries and see how he acts. He will yell "Rah" and "Yum, yum!" he is not a normal boy.

Test.
"At last," said the young woman, "I am sure that I have made my own commencement essay properly profound and dignified."

"How do you know?"

"I read it to father and he didn't understand a word of it."

Newred—"Did you spend so much money as this before I married you?" Mrs. Newred—"Why, yes."

Newred—"Then bless me if I can understand why your father went on so when I took you away from him."

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE
It Counts Against You
The fact that a man doesn't carry a watch counts against him.

True, not every man who carries a watch is prompt, energetic, considerate of other's time and valuing his own. But possession of a watch tends to develop such qualities, and failure to carry a good watch is accepted as evidence that a man is lacking in qualities essential for success.

Don't put a handicap on your chances for business and social advancement. Buy a good watch today at Sharpe's.

THE FUNDS

Mayor Fink yesterday afternoon received the sum of $1,000 from the municipality of the county of Restigouche for the Belgian relief fund. He characterized it as "a very fine gift."

For Red Cross.

The following additional donations are hereby acknowledged by the Retail Merchants Association for the big picnic and Red Cross field day to be held at Crystal Beach on July 22, 1915: T. McAvilly & Sons, set ivory carvers; F. A. Johnson, ladies' umbrellas; Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., box Pure Gold products; P. S. Thomas, one pair ladies' silk gloves; H. G. Sansom, one 5-pound box chocolates; W. A. Porter, one 5-pound box chocolates.

A number of wholesalers have been interviewed and state that they will close their stores on Thursday afternoon to attend the picnic.

A Quick Diagnosis
A youthful physician had been summoned as a witness in a case which depended on technical evidence and opposing counsel in cross-examination asked several sarcastic questions about the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor.

"Are you," he asked, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes."

"Then I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. Were my learned friend, Mr. Banks, and myself to bang our heads together, should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Banks might."

Testators are able to bring forward the unanswerable argument for their cause that all British naval victories have been won on water.

THE AUGUST PICTORIAL

Pictorial Review for August contains everything in literature and articles that will stimulate even the most jaded reader. The attractive cover design is followed by a complete novelette, a real old-fashioned love story, "The Monk from Manhattan," by Margaret Belle Houston, with illustrations by Lester Ralph. Then comes the concluding installment of the serial, "One of Fane's Little Days," by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott with illustrations by P. J. Monahan. Under the heading of short stories appear: "The Story of a Hungry Heart," by Lily Josephine Lewer, illustrations by Robert Amick; "Treadable Impulse," by William Hamilton Osborne, illustrations by Walter Tittle; "On Her Own Ground," by Helen Van Causen, illustrations by Alfred E. Orr; "The Eyes of the Past," by Owen Johnson, illustrations by Herman Pfeiffer; "The Resonance of Oshadiah," by William C. Train, illustrations by Arthur William Brown; "All at Sea," by Isabel Ostrander, illustrations by John Newton Howitt; "His Artistic Temperament," by Arthur Powell.

Special articles include the prize-winning letters in the contest for the best definition of the word "Home." Here are published seven letters from well-known American writers whose definition of the word "home" should be read by every man and woman who is interested in the word "home" on earth. There is no more significant word in the entire English language than "home" and these women analyzed and defined the true meaning of this word in a more thorough way than it has ever been done before. Under the same heading appears Lewis Edwin Trevis' article on "The High Cost of Dying."

The cookery department contains two timely articles, "Cold Comforts for Very Hot Days" by Harriet Hubbard Curtis and "Use a Plank in Cooking" by Lily H. Wallace. Under the heading of embroidery and fancy work and fashions of the month appear numerous practical articles of which the following few were picked at random: "New Luncheon Lids," "Embroideries for Personal Wear," "Popular Designs for Silk and Linen Dresses," "Smart Suits and Coats for Travel, Dress and Outing," "Fascinating and Picturesque are the Midsummer Styles," "Fashionable Versions of the Separate Skirt and Waist," "Correct Sports and Outing Styles for Young Girls," and "Juvenile Fashions of Unusual Charm."

RESULTS OF SAVING.

Once Well Started, Your Pride Will Not Allow You to Stop.

A friend of mine said to me the other day: "Do you know what income you'd have if in 1894 you'd begun to save $5 a week, put that amount regularly in a savings bank which pays 4 per cent and compounds the interest twice a year?"

"No," I said, "do you?"

"Yes, I do," replied my friend. "You'd have a steady income from your savings of $5 a week, and you'd have a capital of $7,800."

"Well," I argued, "I couldn't have begun to save $5 a week in 1894—I was still in school and not earning anything."

"When could you have begun to save that much?" he persisted.

"Oh, about five years later than 1894," I said.

"Well, you're far from being a gray-beard; and yet if you'd begun to save $5 a week as soon as you were able, by the year 1915, while you are still young and vigorous, your savings would be handing over to you the sum of $5 a week as long as you lived, even if you remained content to keep them in the bank, which

A White Rug made Black— with Mosquitoes

The following is an extract from a letter recently received from the wife of an army officer in India:—
"Our home was simply swarming with millions of mosquitoes last hot weather, and after burning a handful, or tin, of the powder on an open stove and shutting up the entire room, thousands literally fell down on the floors and tables. In the drawing room alone we had a white felt rug which became black in a few hours, the insects by hundreds laying dead on it."
The powder above referred to is Keating's Powder, and the experience, although somewhat remarkable, is not unique, for it is a fact neither flies or mosquitoes can exist when exposed to the fumes of Keating's Powder. Where open stoves are not available it is quite easy to clear a room by simply using a candle and an ordinary shade holder, placing on the round part of the shade a piece of flat tin, pouring the powder on top of it, and leaving it to smoulder.

GIVE THE PUBLIC THE FACTS

It is astonishing that the government has not yet taken the public into its confidence fully with respect to the completion of the Valley Railway, the route, the bridges, its relation with the Trans-continental, and the provision of terminal facilities at St. John. When one considers how greatly this city and province are interested in this enterprise, it is very difficult to understand why the government, instead of speaking out, should have contented itself with a confidential communication to members of the council of the Board of Trade. For if it was not confidential we must assume that these business men would have communicated what they know to a general meeting of the Board of Trade and through that meeting to the public at large.

Ever since the meeting between Hon. Messrs. Hazen and Baxter, and members of the council of the Board of Trade, reports have been in circulation concerning a very radical change of policy on the part of the Dominion government, as well as the local government, with respect not only to the route of the Valley Railway, but as to the whole character and future of the enterprise. It is both absurd and reprehensible that the public should be denied frank and full information as to these matters in the month of July, 1915, when another summer is seen to be vanishing without action—a summer which should have witnessed the completion of the whole Valley enterprise.

The local government's conduct in connection with this railway—we speak now of the time since the Dugal investigation—has aroused no little public suspicion and disgust. We evidently are not upon the eve of more progress, but about what is "going to be done" this fall, or next spring.

The Mayor and Commissioners and the Board of Trade should publicly demand complete information from the government in relation to these matters—and not confidential information for the enlightenment of a small circle, but information for the people of this province whose money and whose interests have been subjected to years of jockeying at the hands of a set of politicians who have proved notoriously unworthy of public confidence.

HARRY K. THAW.

For Harry K. Thaw, his break from Mattawean seems to have been a fortunate inspiration. His self-taken liberty now is sanctioned by Supreme Court Justice Hendrick of New York, and, for the first time in nine years, he may traverse the streets unmolested save by the curious, the sensation seekers and the morbid worshippers of the noted and notorious. There still remains the matter of New York State's appeal from the decision that Thaw is sane. That must be dealt with and meanwhile Thaw is under bonds of $85,000 to appear when called upon.

Justice Hendrick took occasion to express himself somewhat critically in his letter of alienists as witnesses. It has before been said that expert testimony is as you pay for it, but nevertheless, the learned judge's outspoken words have probably not proven as the sound of lapping water to the ears of those skilled in brain diseases who were called in this case.

The varying phases of Thaw's struggle for liberty, the amount of time that has been allowed to pass without a definite determination by those in authority, and the untiring efforts of his mother to gain freedom for her son have brought a considerable portion of the public to that stage where they are pleased to see the slayer of White given his liberty. His reception as he left the court house demonstrated this. What ever the final result in determining Thaw's worldly fate, one thing now is certain—there should be general relief when he ceases to be an element in the news of the day. He has commanded attention too long.

That Germany is feeling the effects of the hemming-in process finds its latest exemplification in the covert threats made to Roumania. The Kaiser wants to send arms and ammunition to his ill-advised ally on the Bosphorus. He can not do so by water or by land and he seeks to frighten little Roumania into opening a passage through that country. The threat also implies a fear that the signs point to Roumania joining the Allies in their battle against Prussian world domination.

The Patriotic Fund in St. John needs strengthening. As the war progressed and more soldiers were sent from this province, the demands naturally grew larger until now a great sum is paid out every month to dependents of the men who have crossed the Atlantic. There is but one source of revenue, the contributions of those who do not fight, but whose lattes are being fought for them. Have all who could do so sent in their share—or anything at all? Are there not some who feel but little, if at all, the effects of the war—some whose income is as large as ever; whose necessary expenditures are little greater than before the war began?

Congratulations to Lieutenant D. B. Pidgeon of St. John—lieutenant no more, but captain, now, with the Army Service Corps in England.

Has anybody here seen Kelly? That is the daily question in the Manitoba scandals inquiry. They want the contractor's evidence but he is not to be found. Not unlike the situation that developed in New Brunswick's investigation last year.

Why the activity by persons not far removed from Conservative control in New Brunswick in seeking to smooth over matters which are to form part of the Chandler investigation? Have the manipulators regretted the loudly declared welcome of charges?

Today the R. K. Y. C. men throw their hats and start on their annual cruise on the St. John River. These are their "Happy Days," a phrase that has become the property of the yachtsmen. The cruise gives promise of being as pleasant as ever.

The commercial travelers win commendation for their patriotic act in raising money to provide motor ambulances for the Red Cross. The initial subscriptions do them credit. It is not the first time since the war began that these men have proved their sterling worth.

National registration may come in Canada. That means a day when all of military age will be numbered and registered. Next may come an enforced call for each to do something more in the Empire's time of stress than is being done in carrying on the ordinary work of time of peace.

The chairman of the Royal Commission investigating Manitoba election matters yesterday found it necessary to check Mr. Fullerton's flow of eloquence as he presented his argument. Mr. Fullerton, Mr. Justice Purdie said, seemed addressing himself to the newspapers rather than to the commission.

That the great armies on the western fighting ground are at close grips is indicated in despatches telling of bomb and grenade fighting taking the place of heavy gun work. These, with machine guns, are telling weapons. Of the latter the Allies have had too few. The patriotic action of St. John business men in furnishing ten or more is timely and commendable.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in a stirring recruiting speech in Toronto last night, appealed in vigorous words to the young men of Canada. There is inspiration in this sentiment: "The privileges of a young man, the privilege of risking your life that your country may live and that freedom may not disappear from the earth." There is the war in a few words. Young men, think them over.

The bankers of the Empire metropolis urge caution in expenditures, both public and private. They do more—they call on governments and people to curtail. With the war costing Britain alone $15,000,000 a day, these men of financial experience see the need of a word of advice. Too many, as yet untouched in pocket, have come to regard conditions with complacency.

The appeal of Nursing Sister McKell of Fairville for funds to purchase some comforts for the sadly wounded soldiers under her care in No. 2 Hospital in France may well have been made with confidence. The work she has been doing and the supreme sacrifice of her brother Rudolf in battle warrant a generous response to this particular request, even in a time when many are giving so generously to other projects allied to the war.

Hints for the Cook

Ginger Bread Pudding.
One egg, ¼ cup butter or lard (if lard is used add a pinch of salt), ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup molasses, 1 level teaspoon soda, 1 cup flour and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Last of all add ½ cup boiling water. Batter is very thin. Serve warm, with whipped cream.

Molasses Cookies.
One cup molasses, one cup sugar, ½ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 egg and ½ cup melted lard added after flour.

Queen Muffins.
One-fourth cup of butter, 1 egg well beaten, 1 cup of sugar, ½ cup of flour, ½ cup of milk, ½ teaspoon of baking powder. Bake in buttered gem pans, in a hot oven, 20 minutes.

Cream Tea Biscuits.
Blend thoroughly 1 beaten egg, ½ cup sugar and a little nutmeg. Sift together ½ cup bread flour, 2 rounding teaspoons baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup sweet cream to the first mixture and then the flour mixture. Have ready well-greased gem pans and bake in moderate oven nice brown. This quantity makes eight.

"Is the secretary bird's wife a suffragist, too, pa?" he asked.

We are selling these stoves to people who have seen them in use, where we have installed them, and are fully convinced that The New Champion Steel Range is a baker, a fuel saver and an ornament to their kitchens.

DELIGHTFUL FLAVORS

(By Peter McArthur.)

Now that thrift is being commended as a national virtue, all kinds of strange theories are being exploited in the papers and magazines. Thoughtful editors assure us that it is the "high cost of flour" that increases our expense accounts and they undertake to show that all kinds of unpalatable things are really as nourishing as the most exquisite dainties. Possibly there is much truth in their contentions, but it does not follow that we should put our palates in cold storage to await more prosperous times. All dietary favors are not expensive and before beginning to acquire merit by thrift it is worth while to make a slight investigation.

I am not of those who believe everything they see in print and I suspect that many of those eulogies on unpalatable dishes are written by editorial dyspeptics of the kind that you see posing at lunch hour in the tiled cafeterias of Montreal and Toronto—pallid intellectuals who dine riotously on a gluten biscuit, a peppin tablet and a glass of skimmed milk while meditating a luminous leader on a possible European hegemony.

Because that they are pigeon-livered

At the mouth of the mortar, delicate electrically charged wires form a secret which, broken by the discharge, opens an electric circuit that actuates the shutter, exposing the highly sensitized plate for an instant, thus recording the flash of the projectile, which leaves the muzzle of the gun at the velocity of 90 feet a second, or more than 647 miles an hour—Popular Mechanic.

IN DEFENCE OF A BERRY
(By Peter McCarthy)
There is an old saying "Give a dog a bad name and kill him," which applies everywhere in life. No matter how good a thing may be if you give it a bad name you may as well as give it a bad name. I have seen a very good berry called "A rose by any name will smell as sweet" but if you call it a new variety of rose "The Skunk Cabbage Rose," it would take a long while winning favor.

I am moved to make these reflections because of the best of our letter friends who have not yet learned the difference between the name "Gooseberry" and the name "Goose" puts all grown ups on their guard. And now comes a great philologist who proves that the name is a vulgar and ignorant mistake. The berry is one that should be known as the "saintberry"—and the berry of 104 was not beloved of saints at that.

Fox Talbot gives the following remarkable account of the origin of the name "Gooseberry": "Gooseberries" are called in German, "Johannis-berries," that is "John's berries," because they ripen about the feast of St. John. St. John is called in Holland, St. Jan and the fruit is there called "Janberries." Now this word has been centuries ago—corrupted into "Gansberries" of which our English word Gooseberries is a literal translation: Gans in German signifies a goose."

So you see that the only thing that matters with the delicately flavored St. John's berry is that it has suffered from a touch of German Kultur and has been called out of its name. Give it its right name and saintly character and you will never be without Jan from it for your tart.

THOSE GLOUCESTER CHARGES.

Story of the Activities of Young Mr. LeBlanc, a Law Student in Attorney-General's Office, Causing Much Comment.

There are some very interesting developments in connection with the investigation to be begun on July 20 by Royal Commissioner Chandler into the charges preferred by P. J. Veniot, Liberal organizer for the northern counties, concerning the expenditure of public money and the conduct of public men and officials in the county of Gloucester.
There comes from Gloucester now the story that some days ago a young man named LeBlanc, who has been a law student in the office of the attorney-general, was engaged in serving subpoenas upon some of the members of the House whose names were given to Commissioner Chandler by Mr. Veniot, and that on his visits to at least some of the witnesses Mr. LeBlanc was accompanied by Martin J. Robichaud, M. P. for Gloucester, one of the members mentioned in the Veniot charges.
It has been regarded in Gloucester as extraordinary that anyone in any way associated with the principal law officer of the crown, or the government which is under accusation, should have anything at all to do with the serving of witnesses in connection with this investigation. LeBlanc, who naturally speaks French, together with Mr. Robichaud, would be able to talk over matters with the Veniot witnesses with considerable facility in their own language.
Comment has naturally been caused by LeBlanc's activities and those of one of the local members for Gloucester, and by the fact that there should be any connection whatever between the attorney-general's office and the selection and summoning of witnesses in these cases.
It will be recalled that Mr. Veniot, in the first instance, asked that the inquiry be held in Gloucester, where all of the witnesses reside, and where they would be readily available. Commissioner Chandler decided, however, to hold the investigation in Fredericton, but agreed, specifying in that connection, that he would select from Mr. Veniot's list such witnesses as he, the commissioner, might deem necessary, whereas Mr. Veniot's contention was that he should be selected as the chief commissioner of public works, the witness he named should be served with subpoenas.
In this connection it is recalled that the attorney-general prior to the investigation into Kent county matters, suggesting the advisability of asking Edward Gionaud to return money which he had received without rendering any service for it, and saying that it would be well to invite him to refund it before "taking the trouble" of arranging for an investigation.
Those who have been pressing for the investigation of these Gloucester charges are unable to discover any reason why it should be necessary for any one connected with the attorney-general's office or the government, save and except the royal commissioner, to display any form of activity prior to the opening of the commissioner's court. Commissioner Chandler may deem it well to widen the scope of his investigation in view of recent developments.

NOW A DEARTH OF CORK LEGS

50,000 Soldiers Already Are Maimed

FRENCH MAKERS BUSY

1,000 Amputation Cases in One Hospital That Has Been Filled Fifteen Times—Look to American Makers

New York, July 17.—One effect of the ravages of war has been a fall from Europe for American artificial limbs. George E. Marks, one of the leading American manufacturers of artificial limbs, recently returned from a trip to England and France, having been invited there to confer with leading surgeons, and his report agrees with that of the United States Department of Commerce, under date of April 2 and June 12, which indicate there is now a tremendous opening in the European markets for legs and arms made here.
England, France and Russia have not enough makers of artificial limbs in their countries to supply ten per cent of the number required. France seems to appreciate this condition more keenly than other countries involved in the war, and it was from France that the call came to Mr. Marks to go over and see what arrangements could be made to meet the situation.
"An Paris suburb," said Mr. Marks yesterday, "there were a month ago 15,000 soldiers who had lost one or more limbs, and of these 11,000 were waiting for prosthetic treatment. Mind you, that does not include the number in the remainder of France. It is by no means an exaggeration to say that with the war not yet a year old, the number of amputees in the world is already in all the belligerent countries already in excess of 40,000. Compared with the figures of the Civil War, this is appalling. That conflict, which lasted four years, and was regarded as unusually sanguinary, resulted in only approximately 22,000 persons were in line for artificial limbs at the close.
1,000 Maimed Soldiers.
"I visited a number of the hospitals in England and France, and conferred with many of the surgeons. I was taken to the Moulton-Blaque Hospital, some twelve miles out of Paris, and there I saw, in one enclosure, 1,000 soldiers on whom amputation had been performed. Some had lost a leg, some both legs, some an arm, some both arms, and I saw one poor fellow both of whose legs and hands had been shot off.
"The Moulton-Blaque Hospital is of considerable size, and is used exclusively for soldiers who are convalescing after an amputation. It is a very fine building, and there it had been filled fifteen times since the war began. This is only one of many hospitals in France where patients who have experienced amputation are cared for.
"The artificial limb manufacturers of France are few and their product is archaic. The maximum output of all the artificial limb makers in France is not more than one hundred limbs a month, so I was told, and it takes a French manufacturer from three to five months to fill an order. His limited equipment being now overtaxed, and most of his regular employees now in the army, there is now no prospect of an increase in his output.
"it is generally admitted—in fact there is no question about it—that the American artificial limb makers are the best in the world. The demand in this country has been on the increase in the last few years, and the American who loses a leg refuses to go on crutches for a long time. The demand had therefore been an increasing one, and it has resulted in marked improvement in artificial limb construction.
"French surgeons realize that the French maimed can be better equipped and be more fully restored to their abilities than those of other countries."

MONTREAL COMPANY WILL OPERATE ANTIMONY MINES

Negotiations have been completed for the reopening of the antimony mines at Lake George, York county. A three years lease has been granted by the owners, the Canadian Antimony Company, to The Process Engineers, Limited, Montreal, with an option for purchase within a year. The lease is on a royalty basis and should yield the stockholder a satisfactory return on their investment.

THE FRENCH ARE ASKING THAT AMERICAN ARTIFICIAL LIMB FACTORIES BE ESTABLISHED OVER THERE, SO THAT THE DEMAND MAY BE MET ON THE SPOT, BUT I DO NOT BELIEVE THAT IT WOULD BE PRACTICABLE FOR AN AMERICAN MANUFACTURER OF ANY PROPORTION TO ESTABLISH A FACTORY IN FRANCE, THAT WOULD BE COMMENSURATE WITH THE DEMAND. IT WOULD REQUIRE TOO MUCH TIME AND EXPENSE. IN MY OPINION A BETTER PLAN IS FOR EACH HOSPITAL IN FRANCE TO APPOINT AS MANY SURGEONS, NURSES OR WAXENERS AS POSSIBLE TO MEASURE THE SOLDIERS FOR ARTIFICIAL LIMBS AND SEND THE MEASUREMENTS TO THE UNITED STATES, WHERE THE LIMBS ARE SENT OVER WITH THE SAME MEASURES ADJUST THEM, NEITHER THE AMERICAN NOR THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT WOULD UNDERTAKE TO GUARANTEE BOTH CONSTRUCTION AND PERFECT FIT.

TRAVELERS OFFER MOTOR AMBULANCES

Enthusiastic Meeting Decides to Provide Funds for Two Such Vehicles—$210 Subscribed Last Evening

Travelers last evening decided to go ahead with the proposal to collect sufficient funds to pay for two motor ambulances and $210 was subscribed on the spot. Books of ten receipts for $21 each will be issued until the whole amount required is collected.
A proposal has been made for the commercial travelers of the maritime provinces to present two motor ambulances to the Red Cross societies of those provinces. The need for increased facilities of this kind at the front is great, and a committee of commercial travelers has undertaken the collection of the funds required to carry this proposal.
Books of ten receipts each will be placed in the hands of an active committee of workers, and travelers who are not reached by canvassers are requested to return subscriptions direct to the secretary.
C. Armstrong (Red Rose Tea Co.) presided at the meeting and it was unanimously decided with hardly any discussion that the work be undertaken at once. The following committee was appointed: C. H. Ramsay (James Robertson Co., Ltd.), O. C. Bissell (Atlantic Sugar Refineries), W. J. Wetmore (Moine, Ltd.), A. W. Stewart (Peterson Pipers), and E. J. Terry (James Robertson Co., Ltd.). Robert S. Ritchie (Lockhart & Ritchie), was elected secretary-treasurer.
Among those who spoke favoring the proposal and promising support were the members of the committee, J. J. Settle, formerly of the maritime provinces and now of Montreal; A. P. Tippet, Hampton, and J. Tippet, Hampton, who it was found were brothers and members of the Dominion Travelers' Association, both of whom had been in Montreal for some years through New Brunswick; Thomas Cartwright, St. John, and E. G. Higginson, St. John.

Expert Shows Where Some of the Extra Money Went in Construction of Parliament Buildings—Kelly Still Missing

Winnipeg, July 16.—The Royal Commission today heard the report of an expert architect and engineer on the construction of the Manitoba parliament buildings. He found many evidences of extravagant design which added greatly to the cost of the building without adding to its value. He said that the change from a pile to a caisson foundation should have been made at a saving of $46,424, the change from reinforced concrete floors, walls and beams should not have been made if made should not have cost more than $31,932 additional. Contractor Kelly is still missing and Liberal counsel agreed to prepare an argument preparatory to an interim report if he continues to remain away.

Mr. W. J. Quinn, Shelburne, Ont., writes: "About two years ago I was out in the West for harvest. The water out there was so bad that I took diarrhoea, and became so bad I was not able to work. I procured a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and when I had taken half of the bottle the diarrhoea stopped, and by the time I had taken the entire bottle I was able to resume work. I sincerely recommend it to all those troubled as I was."

Kidney Trouble?

The waste material which the kidneys are intended to remove from the blood, if allowed to accumulate in the system, poisons the blood and thus produces deleterious effects.
If from over-work, exposure to cold, or some local injury, the kidneys become congested or inflamed and cannot perform their functions, the system becomes filled with toxic poison.
Whenever a dull, heavy pain is felt over the region of the kidneys for any length of time, accompanied by a milky complexion, loss of appetite, decrease of weight, and a puffiness under the eyes and in the ankles, a chronic inflammation of the kidneys must be suspected, and if not relieved promptly chronic Bright's Disease will certainly develop.
Abbey's Effervescent Salt, sold everywhere at 25c and 50c which is a Diuretic as well as an Aperient, will carry out of the system the poisonous material which the kidneys cannot get rid of, and will relieve the congestion of the kidneys.

THE MARSEILLAISE

Stirring Speech by French President at Hotel des Invalides

Ceremony of Placing Remains of Author of National Song in Historic Building—Poincaré Reviews the War

The Times on Wednesday told of honor paid the remains of Capt. Claude Joseph Rouget de Lisle, when they were placed in the Hotel des Invalides.

"Wherever it resounds," said President Poincaré, speaking at the Hotel des Invalides, "the Marseillaise evokes the idea of a sovereign nation that has a passion for independence, and whose sons, all of them, prefer deliberate death to servitude."

"Its striking notes speak the universal language, understood today throughout the world. A hymn like that was needed to interpret in a war like this the generous thought of France."

"Once more the spirit of domination menaces the liberty of the people. Our laborious democracy for many long years contented itself with works of peace, and it would have considered criminal or insane any man who would have dared to nourish warlike projects. Notwithstanding repeated provocations and regardless of surprises at Tangier and at Agadir, France remained willingly silent and impassive."

President Poincaré rapidly sketched the events in Europe leading up to the war, finding everywhere a deliberate purpose of Germany and Austria-Hungary to "provoke war for their own objects, as history will show."

"Forced to draw sword."

"Posterity will learn with stupefaction," President Poincaré continued, "that one day the German ambassador after vainly seeking to have himself insulted publicly by the populace of Paris, presented without smiling, as a cause for war, a fable imagined in Wilhelmstrasse that French aviators, without any one perceiving them had gone to drop bombs on Nuremberg."

The president alluded to solemn treaties being torn up, to the barbaric terrorism of noncombatants and to science dishonored in the service of savagery. Turning to the members of the French cabinet he said:

"You interrogated your conscience, in serenity, knowing that at no moment have we neglected a word or act which could serve to dissipate this war. We have been innocent of a most brutal aggression, methodically premeditated; but since we were forced to draw the sword we have no right to put it back into the scabbard before the days when we shall have vindicated the dead, and until a common victory of the allies shall permit us to repair the ruins and to restore France integrally and prevent a periodic return of the provocations. What would tomorrow be if a lame peace should ever rest upon the debris of our cities?"

The president said that France understood such a peace would be at the mercy of her triumphant rivals, and added:

"There is no soldier, no citizen and no woman of France but understands clearly that the whole future of the race and not only our honor but our very existence depend upon the heavy hours of this inexorable war."

"We have willed to win! We have the certainty of winning! We have as much confidence in our strength and in that of our allies as in our right."

"No! No! Let our enemies deceive themselves. It is not a sign of a precarious peace or a disquieting, fugitive truce between one shortened war and another one more terrible; it is not to remain exposed tomorrow to new attacks and mortal perils that France arose in ardent enthusiasm to the many accents of the 'Marseillaise.' Already the day of glory for which the 'Marseillaise' is celebrated illumines the horizon."

Wrote "Marseillaise" in 1792. "The Marseillaise" was written as the hymn of the French Revolution, but its stirring air and lines are familiar to the world over and, in a large extent, it has been adopted as an anthem of freedom in European movements of liberation since 1792.

After dinner de Lisle sought his room and though it was bitterly cold, at once sat down at a piano. During that night he wrote the memorable words, adapting the music probably from the oratorio "Esther," by Jean Baptiste Lucien Grison. He called it the "Chant de guerre de l'armée du Rhin."

On the following day it was sung with rapturous enthusiasm and instead of 600 volunteers, 1,000 marched out of Strasbourg. The whole Army of the North soon took up the song. In Paris it was unknown until the Marseilles Battalion sang it at the storming of the Tuileries. It was received with transports by the Parisians, who, ignorant of its authorship, named it, "Hymne des Marseillais," the name it has ever since borne.

De Lisle's mother, who was a devoted Royalist, hearing the name of her son associated with the song, asked: "What do people mean by associating our name with the revolutionary hymn those brigands sing?" De Lisle, himself a brigand, heard, when fleeing for his life in the Jura Mountains, the song as a menace of death.

Marseillaise Hymn.
(French National Song.)
Ye sons of Freedom, wake to glory,
Hark, hark what myriads bid you rise,
Your children, wives and granddaughters
Behold their tears, and hear their cries!
Shall hateful tyrants, mischief breeding,
With hireling host, a ruffian band,
Afright and deadly our land,
While peace and liberty lie bleeding?

Chorus.
To arms! to arms! ye brave!
Th' avenging sword unsheath!
March on! march on! all hearts resolved
On victory or death!

Now, now the dangerous storm is scowling,
Which treacherous kings, confederate, raise!
The dogs of war, let loose, are howling,
And let our fields and cities blaze.
While lawless force, with guilty stride,
Spreads desolation far and wide,
With crimes and blood his hands imbruing!

With luxury and pride surrounded,
The vile, insatiate despots dare,
Their thirst of power and gold unbounded,
To mete and vend the light and air,
Like beasts of burden would they load us
Like gods would bid their slaves adore;

But man is man, and who is more?
Then, shall they longer lash and goad us?

O Liberty, can man resign thee,
Once having felt thy generous flame?
Can dungeons, bolts, and bars confine thee,
Or whips thy noble spirit tame?

Too long the wider zone and swelling,
That falsehood's dagger tyrants wield,
But freedom is our sword and shield,
And all their arts are unavailing.

Chaplains Under Fire
The Rev. J. Simms, D. D., principal chaplain to the British forces at the front, in the course of an interview during a visit home to County Down, Ireland, said the long range of the guns made a much wider zone and compelling like all others, had frequently to pass days and nights in towns and areas into which the shells were alighting. It was only three weeks ago when conducting the moderator of the Church of Scotland (the Very Rev. Dr. Williamson) round the ruined town of Ypres that four shells fell close to them. The last only ten yards off, if people at home, said Dr. Simms, only realized the strain upon the soldiers and how cheerfully and willingly they bore that strain for those at home, there was not a soul in the country who would not do his very best to go out to their aid. When one knew what the men at the front were doing and thought there were men at home who could and would not go to their help, the first feeling was anger and indignation.

Bought Them For Thomas
"What's that you've got there?" asked Smith's wife sharply. "E-um, a set of boxing gloves, my dear," said Smith. "I bought them for Thomas; I really think he ought to be instructed in the noble art of self-defence. I am going to teach him. Every boy should know how to take care of himself in time of emergency. Come, Thomas, into the garden. I will not hurt you." Time, ten minutes later, enter Smith. "Maria, bring some raw meat, and amica," he demanded, "I have just sustained a little injury to my eye."

THE PRIVILEGE OF YOUNG MEN

"Of Risking Your Life That Your Country May Live" - Ringing Appeal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa Recruiting Meeting

Ottawa, July 16.—"Kitchener's cry is now, as it was at the beginning of the war: 'Men, more men.' The privilege is yours, young men, the privilege of risking your life that your country may live and that freedom may not disappear from the earth. It is not to the women that I would appeal to send the men to the front. It is to you, young men, who must remember that none but the brave deserve the fair."

That was a part of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's closing appeal for recruits delivered to an audience of 5,000 in the Arena rink tonight. The call of the Liberal leader was backed up by the call of Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, representing the government; of Col. J. A. Currie, M. P., and of Captain Stehman, of Kingston, P. C. D., both returned from honorable service at the front to tell Canadians how Canadians have fought and how more men are needed at the front.

Sir Wilfrid's twenty minute synopsis of the underlying issues of the war, of the need of long endurance and further effort on the part of Canadians and of the steady, though comparatively slow, progress of the Allies towards ultimate victory, was characteristic of his eloquence and vision.

"We must be prepared," he said, "for a long contest. It may take, as Kitchener said, two or three years, but there is only one heart in Canada as to the justice of our cause and as to the final result."

Britain Never Lost a War. "The glory of the British nation," he declared, "was that among all the powers of Europe, Britain alone never sought war and never even deliberately prepared for war. But though the least military of nations, Britain never entered a fight she had not won. Canada was heart and soul," he said, "in the Motherland in the present fight. The Canadian troops had fought from the first day like veterans and not like the raw recruits of a peace-loving country, and won at once the respect not only of all the Allied troops, but also of the enemy."

There were some, doubtless, who were disappointed at the slow progress being made. But let them remember that the Germans had the most perfectly organized war machine ever devised, and that the Germans' boast of a quick march to Paris had been promptly checked, and after their French "temple little army" had stood like adamant against the drive towards Calais.

Marked Change in German Attitude. "There had been a marked change in the German attitude since the war began," said Sir Wilfrid. "In August the war cry of Germany had been 'World domination or downfall.' Throughout the streets of the captured towns of Belgium German soldiers had chanted on the doors 'William Emperor of Europe.'"

"What," asked Sir Wilfrid, "was their battle cry in July of 1915? That the Germans are fighting for their independence—may for their very existence. That was the excuse they offered to the United States for the murder of women and little children on the Lusitania—that they were fighting for their existence."

"Another victory had been won against Germany in the wiping out of the last vestige of German rule in Southwest Africa. That fact in itself was that their power had been reduced from Africa not by an English-speaking leader, but by one who not many years ago had been the foe of England."

"It is the greatest possible tribute to British institutions and British freedom for which we are now battling. When the Boers were given their liberty it was an experiment which only one nation would have dared to try. That nation was England, mother of modern liberty. (Loud cheers.) This is the only basis on which we want here to continue."

Canada, declared Sir Wilfrid, was free to take part or not to take part in the war as she saw fit. But she did so because Great Britain is in it and because if Great Britain goes down the freedom of Canada shall go down with her.

"As a rule, he continued, amid laughter, 'I am not much burdened with confidence in the present government, but I gave it my whole-hearted support so that the world would know we are a united people.'

NERVOUS CHILDREN

Hard Study and Too Little Exercise Leads to St. Vitus Dance

There is much criticism of modern educational methods that require too much work of school children, allowing them too little time for play and preventing sufficient out-door exercise. When the study of music or any other accomplishment, with the necessary practice, is added the strain is increased. Under these conditions the blood becomes impoverished and fails to nourish the nerves. The child becomes restless and twitching of the muscles follow. Sometimes the child stumbles in walking and drops what it tries to hold. Pallo, listlessness and irritability are symptoms that early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demands made upon them, and that St. Vitus dance has fastened its hold upon the child.

In this condition there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and safely help to meet the demands of the growing child. Out-door exercise, nourishing food, plenty of sleep and these tonic pills will cure even the most severe cases of St. Vitus dance. We offer the following proof: "Up to the age of ten years," says Mrs. Johnson, of Hensford (N. S.), "my son Calvin was as healthy and rugged as any child could be. Then he began to complain that his eyes hurt him, and of pains in the head, and began to fall back in his studies at school. Then I noticed a twitching of the muscles of his face and arms, and later his whole body seemed to be in constant motion. Our family physician was called in and pronounced it to be a severe attack of St. Vitus dance. He was under the doctor's treatment for some three months but did not seem to improve. We had taken him from school, and were careful that nothing should excite him, but notwithstanding he grew worse, and the least start would bring on attacks of hysteria. This went on some months until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention, and we decided to give him this medicine. After using a few boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and by the time he had taken nine or ten boxes he had recovered his former good health. There has been no sign of a return of the trouble and I can scarcely thank you enough for the complete restoration of our son's health."

Parents who find their growing boys or girls becoming nervous should lose no time in giving them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You may ward off an attack of St. Vitus dance, or if the trouble has reached that stage the Pills will effect a cure. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY

The provincial government, it is understood, has decided at last to continue the construction of the road from Gagetown to The Mistake, forming the St. John connection for the present, at least, in the air. Representatives of various large contracting firms are in the city awaiting a meeting of the government on Tuesday, at which it is the understanding of these men, a contract will be awarded for the portion of the road from Gagetown to The Mistake.

It is the intention of the government to continue the building of the road at any cost in an effort to retrieve its waning prestige. Negotiations have been going on with the federal government regarding the construction of bridges at this period. The local government has therefore decided to continue the road from Gagetown to The Mistake to start things moving.

Beyond that point there seems to be uncertainty. An effort, it is said, will be made to influence the federal government to build the bridges at the points selected, in the failure of which, it is proposed to join the line with the C. P. R. rails to St. John, in which latter event the principal object in the construction of the railway will have been defeated.

8,075,000 IN CANADA

Ottawa, July 16.—The total population of Canada at the beginning of the present year, according to an official estimate made by the census department, was 8,075,000. This is the first time that the eight-million mark has been passed, and in the total was included, of course, Canada's soldiers at the front.

Farmer Hardpat's place lay right in the line of the approaching railway survey, and the company was anxious to conciliate the old man. The diplomatic agent went out to see him, and finally thought to clinch the matter, saying "Our company offers you $500 in cash and $1,000 worth of stock for the right of way through your farm."

"No, sir-ice!" retorted old Hardpat. "I don't want no railroad running around here. First thing I know ye'll be killing some of my live stock an' I'd have to pay for it as a stockholder!"

Benevolent Old Gentleman. The usual crowd of small boys was gathered about the entrance of the circus tent in a town. A benevolent-looking old gentleman standing near-by watched them for a few minutes with a beaming eye. Then, walking up to the ticket-taker, he said, with an air of authority, "Count all those boys as they pass. The door-keeper, thinking that the benevolent-looking old gentleman was indulging in a bit of philanthropy, did as requested. When the last lad had gone in he turned and announced, "Twenty-four, sir."

"Good!" said the benevolent-looking old gentleman, as he walked away, "I thought I guessed right!"

GIVES CANADA NEW STATUS IN EMPIRE

London, July 16.—The Daily Telegraph, dealing editorially with the Canadian premier's presence at the cabinet meeting, under the caption, An Historic Invitation, says:

"The invitation of Sir Robert Borden at a cabinet meeting revolutionized the theory and practice of the system by which this country has been governed for more than a century and a half. It has revolutionized not less completely the nature of the constitutional relationship between Great Britain and the dominions overseas. The prime minister, in issuing his historic invitation to Sir Robert Borden, was fully conscious that a train of consequences of immeasurable moment must naturally follow his action in the fullness of time."

From Toys to Shells. Great activity prevails at the engineering shops at Liverpool in preparation for utilizing the machinery for an immediate output of shells. Mr. Lloyd George's stirring appeal has met with an instant response, and the engineers are working together unanimously in the resolve that, so far as they are concerned, there shall be no delay in meeting the urgent demand for shells. Some time ago some engineers engaged on private work patriotically put it on one side and turned to the manufacture of munitions. One firm employed in making mechanical toys put some of their most skilled men to manufacturing parts of shells. Another prominent engineer offered to place his works at the disposal of the War Office some weeks ago and others were equally anxious to do the same. Although there are no very large engineering works in Liverpool as in other centres of industry, there are many small ones and with a unanimous will to make the most of their machinery it is believed that the output of shells will not be inconsiderable.

The hotel keeper hearing of whereabouts of a man who had decamped from the hotel without going through the formality of paying his bill, sent him a note.

"Mr. — Dear Sir—Will you send the amount of your bill and oblige?" etc. To which the delinquent replied: "The amount is $18. Yours respectfully."

GOSSIP OF STAGE AND SCREEN

News of Interest From The Studio And Green Room

DANIEL FRAWLEY MARRIED

Edmund Breese in New Play; Maurice Costello, Brooke and Baird Again; Mary Pickford Back on Broadway; Dallas Welford in New Piece

The rumor that has been persistent on Broadway for the past few weeks that I. Daniel Morosco and a former St. John favorite, Peggy O'Snell, who started recently in "Peg O' My Heart" were married recently has been confirmed by dispatches from Chicago. Upon investigation it was learned that a marriage license and certificate was filed with County Clerk Swetlar in Chicago on Jan. 28.

Another Broadway favorite has cast in his lot with moving pictures. Donald Mackenzie announces that he has signed Clifton Crawford to play the lead in "The Gallager," from the story of Richard Harding Davis, which is now being produced for Pathe at their Jersey City studios. Melville Stewart, who is now playing in "The Follies of 1915" will support Mr. Crawford. The rest of the cast is also decidedly strong.

Born of actor parents in Edinburgh, Scotland, Clifton Crawford took to the stage at an early age and after appearing in small parts for some time became a great favorite in the English music halls. Later he came to America and played in vaudeville where he always appeared as a headliner. Later he appeared in such note-worthy successes as "The Peasant Girl," and "The Three Twins." After starring for three seasons in the last mentioned production, he made a tour of the world.

The musical revue, "Hands Up" which was recently scheduled for presentation in New York with Lew Fields and Maurice and Walton in the stellar roles will be produced at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre the first week in August. Tom Yae in St. John several years ago will be in the cast.

Francis Bushman's company at the Quality studio, Hollywood, Los Angeles has completed the big little scenes for the first production of the organization "The Second in Command." Over six hundred men were used in the scenes and a specially erected Boer village of about thirty huts blown up. A dam which had also been built by the Quality executives and supplied with water from a reservoir three miles away was the last thing to be blown up. In all one hundred pounds of dynamite were used.

Recruiting Song A strong recruiting appeal was contained in a song "Where are the boys we went to school with?" given by Dick Stead at the Opera House this week, with special scenic effects. It had a jaunty swing, and sensible words, bearing directly on love of the flag and country. A regimental march was shown through special effects with the Union Jack to the fore, and the song met with a hearty reception. This was in the second change of programme given for the last three days of the week, when the show was somewhat improved over that of the first half when "The Lady Minstrel" proved disappointing. There is one particularly noticeable feature concerning the Empire Company's productions and that is as regards their costuming and staging, both of which have been much beyond the standard of similar attractions coming this way. The Murray Brothers will probably be back next week, and this should considerably strengthen the programmes.

606" will be given a tryout in July by Clinton Moffatt. "The Island of Surprise" from the story of the Reverend Cyrus Townsend Brady, is in course of production at Vitagraph studio, with William Courteney in the leading role. This appearance will mark Mr. Courteney's screen debut, and he will have the benefit of an all-star combination through the fact that Edith Storey is to be seen in the leading female role. Others in the cast include Julia Swayne, Gordon, Zena Keefe, Charles Kent, Anders Randolph, Charles Wellesley, and Leo Delaney.

Celia Loftus is to return to the states. Her present plans include an engagement in "Entertaining Helen," a new comedy by an English baron. Miss Loftus has not been seen since she appeared as "Deedemone" in William Faversham's revival of Othello.

Scenes On Irish Soil A distinct novelty in the way of photo-plays and one which, no doubt, will attract wide interest will be the first of a series of made-in-Ireland comedy dramas, featuring Miss Valentine Grant which will be released by the Lubin Company. These plays were produced by Sydney Olcott and were filmed along the rugged cliffs and broken shores of South Kerry and amid the picturesque scenery of the Gap of Dunloe and the Lakes of Killarney.

The first of the series is "All For Old Ireland" and is a three-reeler. In two of the plays Mr. Olcott himself plays opposite Miss Grant.

Chester Barnett, who played in St. John some years ago in "The Clinch" with Miss Florence Webber, at the World's Film Studios has been placed under long time contract.

Enile Chautard, who recently came from France to produce for the World Film Corporation, has started work on his second production "The Little Dutch Girl," with Vivian Martin in the lead. M. Chautard's initial effort, "The Boss" was well received.

California; Jesse Lasky, Mr. and Mrs. William C. De Mille, Mary Pickford, Blanche Ring and Pannie Ward. Thirty acres have been purchased.

Among next season's plans of the Frohman office is a revival of Captain Marshall's comedy "The Duke of Killdegrankie," with a cast including Francis Wilson, whose last appearance in New York took place in the spring of 1914 when he appeared at the Forty-eighth street theatre in "The Spiritualist"; John Drew, who will appear in his old role; Marie Tempest, who will play the part in which Fanny Brough originally appeared; Ann Murdock, who will enact the heroine; Graham Browne, and other well-known players.

After playing in dramatic features for almost a year, Kathryn Williams has returned to her first love, animal pictures. She is now working on a three-reel animal feature which she has written herself, "The Mark of a Pigress." The production also makes popular Bob Daly's debut with the Selig Company.

As soon as Clara Kimball Young finishes "Marry Money" at the World Film studios, she will start work on a big production of the famous melodrama

"Humanity," which was produced by William A. Brady several years ago. Dallas Welford, who played "Theophilus" in Madame Sherry in St. John, has been engaged by A. H. Woods to play a leading role in "Cousin Lucy," which Julian Eltinge is to appear.

Boston Purification Scheme (From the Boston Transcript) As the first step in its effort to purify the Boston stage, Mayor Curley called the theatrical men of the city and representatives of the New York booking offices to City Hall this morning and secured their agreement to a so-called "moral code," which as was admitted privately by several of the men, was the most drastic thing of the sort ever attempted in a large city.

There was no registered objection to the items in this purification platform, according to the mayor's announcement, but one of the theatrical men, on leaving the office, remarked: "The mayor has taken all the joy out of life with that code of his. The receipts of houses like mine which is of the burlesque type, will be decreased tremendously." All theatrical men interviewed admitted that unless the strictest sort of inspection is maintained upon the theatres there will be much injustice in the attempt to maintain the regulations. In fact, there was sentiment expressed that such a code could not be maintained without the imposition of a penalty such as the suspension or denial of theatrical licenses. The mayor admitted that he had no legal right to enforce the regulations, but relied on moral suasion. He was speaking as one member of the new board of censorship, but made it plain that he had the power to grant or refuse licenses. He further emphasized the point that his "code" was not the last word by any means. All the evil of the stage had not been included. The regulations would be expanded as occasion required.

Rev. Raymond Calkins, D. D., of Cambridge, a member of the committee that has called on the mayor several times in the interest of stage purity, showed the mayor a long manuscript containing the filthy jokes he had heard at the theatres in the last few months. The mayor glanced over it and said: "It is too filthy for me to read. Read it yourself." The minister read it aloud, with the result that even the theatrical men were convulsed with laughter. The mayor himself was laughing and suggested that the minister must have had a pretty good time making the collection.

BROADWAY FAVORITES IN FEATURE DRAMA GEM, NEXT WEEK

A three feature drama by the Broadway Vitagraph Favorite Players, entitled "In Days of Famine," will be the bill at the Gem Theatre for Monday and Tuesday next supported by one of those bright, amusing comedies for which that playhouse has become so popular. The story of the feature play is one of heart-interest dealing with love and adventure in the Canadian wilderness. The mid-week bill will show another in the "Exploits of Elaine," this one presenting the daring heroine and Detective Kennedy in further adventures in "The Poisoned Room." At this show there will also be the Pathe News-Gazette with war scenes, and another comedy. The closing bill will have another chapter in "Road O' Strife," a most popular serial, entitled "No Other Way," in which pretty Alene has another thrilling episode in her romantic career.

Robert C. Hardy, of Hinsdale, Ill., one of the 440 candidates for admission to the Illinois bar, when examined by the State Board of Law Examiners, wrote answers to the questions with a pencil grasped in his teeth. Both of Hardy's hands had been amputated.

1916 Studebaker Cars

- more POWER

-still HIGHER QUALITY
-and LOWER PRICES

-a Forty H. P. 7-passenger FOUR at $1195
-a Fifty H. P. 7-passenger SIX at $1395

This year the Studebaker announcement is more significant than ever before. It demonstrates more conclusively than ever Studebaker's leadership in the industry. For once again, Studebaker is announcing new cars at prices that completely recast all standards of value in the automobile industry. And never before has a dollar bought so much as it buys in these new Studebakers. They are the best cars in every detail that Studebaker ever built.

But while the prices are remarkably low, Studebaker has made no effort to manufacture a small, low-price car, to compete purely on a price basis.

THE PRICES ARE LOW SOLELY:

- 1-Because of largely increased volume of production:
2-Unrivaled manufacturing resources:
3-The Studebaker policy of manufacturing our cars complete in our own factories and thus eliminating part-makers' profits:
4-The greatly increased efficiency resulting from 4 years study and concentration on the manufacture of two chassis:
5-The high percentage of interchangeability of parts in the two chassis.

A whole Book of Specifications couldn't begin to convey the impression that your first glimpse of the cars will give-you must see the cars to appreciate them.

Grand Bay vs. Fair Vale. If weather conditions are favorable this afternoon a feature baseball game will be played at Grand Bay between the boys from Riverdale Club and the crack team representing Fair Vale. Both teams will present their strongest line-up and a splendid game should result. The Grand Bay line-up will be as follows:—Lightford or Albert Henderson, catcher; Henderson, pitcher; Latham or Colwell, first base; McGowan, second base; Somerville, third base; Hansen, short-stop; Pendleton, left field; Nobles, centre field; right field, ? In the evening a concert will be held under the auspices of the Riverdale Club. The proceeds are to be used to endow a bed in Dr. McLaren's Hospital, France. Players Rescue Spectators. Deatur, Ill., July 15.—Members of the Deatur and Rockford clubs of the Three-I League today rescued a score of persons, buried when, just as the game started, a terrific wind blew off the roof of the grandstand. None of the spectators was seriously injured. The grandstand was wrecked. After Montreal Star. New York, July 16.—The New York Americans' scouts are looking over numerous young players. Among them are Outfielder Paul Smith and Pitcher Frank Miller of the Montreal team. Miller is a sensation in the International League and it is said that, in addition to the Yankees, the Tigers, Pirates, Giants and Braves are bidding for his release, the price for which is said to be $12,000. Big Invasion By Feds. Chicago, July 16.—New territory will be invaded by the Federal league next season, says James A. Gilmore, president of the organization in confirming the report that the league's headquarters will be moved from Chicago to New York city within the next two weeks. Plans are being made for a new circuit in 1916 and clubs may be launched in Detroit, Boston or Cleveland. It already has been decided upon, he says, to place a club in New York city. He said it would be the Newark club that is to be transferred to New York. The Federal league executive declined to comment on the organization it was assumed that its official base would remain here. The transfer is dictated by necessity alone, President Gilmore explained. "We are going to place a club in New York city next year and as this will entail a lot of additional work for this office I thought it best to move here. As it was organized baseball questioned our right to be called a major league, we will try to correct that in that year when we get our major circuit in operation. It seems to be the impression that no league can be established without New York, so we intend to establish the league never in a better shape. Turns Down Big Offer. St. Louis, Mo., July 15.—It was announced here today that President Hedges of the Browns had offered Charles Mack $20,000 for "Home Run" Baker, Babe Oldring and "Stubby" McInnis. His offer was turned down by the leader of the Athletics. Russell Ford Released. Buffalo, N.Y., July 16.—Russell Ford, former New York American pitcher, and last season the foremost pitcher in the Federal League, has been given his unconditional release by the Buffalo Fenwick. Evers Strong Insinuation. Boston, July 16.—If President Terry is coming to Boston to investigate a charge of embezzlement that happened to appear in a newspaper, and try to get at the investigation and see that everything is "all right," said Captain Johnny Evers of the Braves after learning that the National League president had announced his intention to look into an alleged assertion of Evers reflecting upon the integrity of organized baseball. The whole matter hinged upon an incident of the double-header between the Braves and St. Louis Cardinals on Monday afternoon. At an important point in the second game Bescher of the Cardinals slid across the home plate with the tying run, the Cardinals eventually winning out in eleven innings. The play on the plate was very close but umpire Rigler declared Bescher safe. This caused Evers to attack Rigler vehemently with all the well-known powers of his sarcasm, the remark that is alleged to have caused all the trouble being essentially that the umpire was giving St. Louis all the close breaks in order to help tighten up the National League race. On the day following Evers disavowed any intention of meaning anything by the remark, stating that he had used only as a "goat getter" in the heat of combat. "My position in baseball gives me all the assurance to meet Mr. Tener on equal terms" was one of Evers' plucky observations on the situation. "I have been in baseball for fourteen years and nobody can say that, during that time, I have been guilty of a crooked action. If the statements made by ball players, on and off the field, for as many years as I have been in the game, to each other and to the umpires, were given attention it would need the entire Supreme Court of the United States to take care of the cases. ATHLETIC. Athletes to Erico. New York, July 17.—Ten of the best amateur athletes in the east left here today to take part in the national senior track and field championships at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, next month. This was the advance guard, and several more are to follow. The men were in charge of Coach Lawson Robertson of the Irish-American A. C. Eight of them are members of the Irish-American A. C. and the other two were Ted Meredith, Mesdwick, A. C. Philadelphia, the middle-distance champion, and Eddie Remz, Mowhawk A. C. of this city, the champion walker. Headed by big Pat Ryan, champion hammer thrower of the world, the Irish-American Club's representatives were Hannes Kolehmainen, champion runner; Egon Erickson, high jumper; Mike Fahey, hop step and jump entrant; Alvah Meyer, sprinter; Alvin Kivist, the one-mile; George Broderick, javelin thrower, and Pat O'Connor, who will take part in the decision contest. The weight throwing champions, Pat McDonald and Matt McGrath, will follow a few days later and join the party at Butler, Mont. Jim Duncan, discus record holder, will reach St. Paul in time to join his clubmates in the games to take place there. The men expect to leave for the Central Western try outs in Chicago today. New World's Records. Norman S. Taber, representing the Boston A. C. yesterday created a new world's record for one mile which he covered in four minutes, twelve and three-fifths seconds. W. H. Meyer set a new world's mark of 54.3 seconds for the 440 yards hurdles. Both events were held in Harvard Stadium under ideal weather conditions. AQUATIC. Resolute Will Defend Cup. New York, July 15.—J. Pierpont Morgan was aboard his yacht the Corsair this afternoon on Sandy Hook and saw the race between the Resolute and the Vanitie. The Resolute won by nineteen seconds actual time and one minute and thirty seconds corrected time. This was the third and deciding race to select the defender of America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV. The Resolute negotiated the thirty-mile triangular course in four hours, seventeen minutes and twenty-two seconds, leading all the way. A west wind helped, both the boats in the last part of the race, while a light breeze pushed them along on the last hour's run. The Resolute won the first two races, the second on her time allowance of one minute and eleven seconds. In this race the Vanitie finished first by nineteen seconds. The Resolute thus far has won seven of the eight races she has sailed this season. End of the Defiance. When Sir Thomas Lipton issued his challenge for the America Cup orders were issued for three yachts to defend the cup and one of them was the Defiance, designed by George Owen and built by the Bath Iron Works, or the so-called Tri-City Syndicate, composed of prominent yachtsmen of Boston, New York and Philadelphia. The Defiance left the builder's yard as soon as she was completed and was taken to Greenwich, Conn., without having any trials in water near where she was built. Her's was the most lofty rig of any of the trio, the Defiance, however, and her hull was beautifully built of mahogany on metal frames, or what is known as composite construction. She was sailed by George M. Pynchon, her managing owner; E. Walter Clark of Philadelphia and Capt. Selah B. Howland of Boston, her skipper. The Defiance started in a race after being equipped with a white she was withdrawn from further competition and started in a race. OLD TIME SPORT Locals Win Two Ball Games From South Portland SMALL AND ROGERS Five Thousand See Imported Battery in Their First Game Here—A Carleton Boat Race On May 24, 1889, two excellent baseball games were played in this city between the locals playing under the name of the St. Johns, and the South Portland. The home team won in both events much to the delight of the fans. The morning of the holiday seemed to threaten rain, but even the prospect of a shower could not dampen the ardor of the fair women and the enthusiastic men who began to flock to the grounds at an early hour. The grand stand was soon filled and a good number of spectators occupied seats in the pavilion and standing room outside the diamond. At 10:45 the game started, after Frank White had been made the recipient of a silk cap by President Skinner on behalf of some unknown lady admirers. The game was a good one, brim full of excitement and featured by several snappy plays. The box score follows: St. Johns, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. minutes. Umpire, Morton L. Harrison. A Slugging Match. The afternoon's contest developed into a slugging match. The game created considerable interest as it was known that the leavy battery of the visitors would be working while Small and Rogers were to make their first appearance as pitcher and catcher for St. John. The grand stand was filled to its capacity and the entire field was surrounded by a dense throng. It is estimated that upwards to 5,000 people witnessed the game. Although errors were by no means wanting, the game was, in more ways than one, remarkable, and the enthusiasm of the spectators was unparalleled in the history of the game in St. John. The feature of the game was the hitting of Parsons, who had a two-bagger, a three-bagger, a home run and a single to his credit. Although the batters were out in their war paint both pitchers did some excellent work and were well supported by their catchers. Morton L. Harrison and Charles Standley, the latter of South Portland, officiated as umpires, giving decisions on balls and strikes and on the bases in turn. At times the visitors "kicked" strenuously and in several instances Mr. Standley's rulings were received by a pandemonium of hisses, jeers and cries of "pickering." The score by innings follows: St. Johns, 0 1 5 2 0 1 0 1 1 0 1 1 South Portland, 2 0 1 0 2 0 1 1 0 0 0 0

Sergt-Major Patterson, of this city, who has been with No. 7 Co., C.A.S.C., in Sussex, and also on duty here for quite a lengthy period, was in St. John yesterday. He will leave next week for Halifax to take a course of instruction to qualify for a lieutenant, and because of his training and experience in the service department, should be most successful.

From the 26th.

Letters received from Henry Wheaton, of Indiana, with the 26th Battalion in England, describe camp life at East Sandling, and tell of his enjoyment of it. The boys were rapidly settling down to the routine of drill, he said. They were becoming accustomed to seeing aeroplanes overhead continually. There were more than 50,000 soldiers at the camp.

Pt. Wheaton, writing to Alex. Andrews, of Victoria street, told of having met several wounded soldiers recovering from injuries sustained on the firing line. They described the German gas as terrible in its effects, but said that the Allies were not to be compared to the enemy's troops when it came to general efficiency, man to man. The Canadians, he said, had become particularly noted for their bayonet charges.

Safe and Well

A letter has been received by his wife, from Cecil McLean, of the Divisional Ammunition Column, quartered at Otterpool Camp, England, telling of his safe arrival and of his being in good health.

From Chas. Richardson.

John N. Golding, of the Star Theatre, yesterday received a post card from a former employe, Charles Richardson, who is a member of the 26th Battalion now stationed in Shorncliffe Camp, England. He told of visiting a motion picture theatre and being surprised to see nearly all American films. He and his brother William, who also is a member of the same battalion, were well, and wished to be remembered to their friends.

12th Platoon to France.

An entire platoon from the 12th N. B. Battalion has been sent to France to reinforce the 10th Battalion. Lieutenant Eric MacDonald, son of Rev. Captain MacDonald, chaplain with the second divisional ammunition column, writes to his mother telling of their first experience under fire, through which he came safely.

In a letter from Gunner Ralph Estey he says that twenty or thirty men are to be recruited in Fredericton to reinforce the second ammunition column. He also says that it is reported that five of the U. N. B. boys with the 23rd battery have been killed in France, but this is not credited and there has been no official confirmation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Colwell of Woodstock, have given both their sons for active service. The eldest, Gunner Charles H. Colwell, a U. N. B. graduate, is in France with the 23rd, and the younger is Gunner Gerald Colwell now in Valenciennes with the 28th.

MISS McKIEL, NURSE, APPEALS FOR THE SOLDIERS

Fairville Young Woman Writes From No. 2 Hospital

MONEY WILL BE SENT

Will be Expended by Her in Securing Some Little Extra Comforts For the Men—Her Brother Died in Fight For the Right

Miss Theodora McKiel, now a nurse at No. 2 Canadian General Hospital, France, and whose brother, Rudolf, of Fairville, was killed with the Princess Patricia's, has written a letter home part of which is of general interest and contains an appeal to which a ready response no doubt will be forthcoming, from many who appreciate the circumstances and wish to bring a little comfort to a few of our own representatives at the front and directly under Miss McKiel's care.

Alluding to her brother and his death she mentions the comfort in the thought that he did not suffer and that the location of his grave is known. She goes on to say she had several new patients on Wednesday who told her the cemetery of the Princess Patricia's regiment is located in a beautiful spot. All the crosses on the graves are of uniform size and plainly marked so as to be easily found, and she hopes in the near future to visit her brother's last resting place.

Continuing Miss McKiel writes: "I note your Red Cross Society is sending lots of things to Dr. Murray McLaren's Hospital which is quite near us, only about two hours' ride. Could not you help us out a little? There are thirty-five patients in my ward when full, many frightfully wounded and they are so appreciative of any little extra comforts."

"There are many, many little extras which the hospital authorities are unable to supply that would not cost anything to speak of and the wounded soldier would be so thankful to receive. I refer to fruit or strawberries and cream which no doubt you are enjoying in plenty at the present time. None of the ordinary delicacies are available and I'm sure canvases among your own friends for 25c. or 50c. would bring a response and the men would be so grateful."

A post-office order made out to the postmaster at — would reach me through our paymaster and be expended to the very best of my ability to comfort my patients."

Could not your girls help in this way, or some of the legends?"

This letter seems almost like a personal appeal to the people of Fairville, especially as Rev. LeBaron McKiel, father of the nurse, was for years rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Several persons who have heard the contents of the letter have forwarded money to Mrs. Cecil R. McKiel, Prospect street, Fairville, who is arranging to purchase the things for the purpose of Miss McKiel.

There is a good deal of satisfaction being contributed to know that the money is being spent by the person who receives it from home and in this case Miss McKiel personally directs the expenditure. All should remember the boys who are today suffering for us and do our share providing them with at least some semblance of comfort.
