

INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT TO THE ROTARIANS

Address of Raymond M. Havens at St. Louis Convention

Defines Some Daggers to Civilization and Appeals to Business Men—Merle Sidener Deals With the Rogue's Gallery of Business.

St. Louis, June 20—"The danger to civilization is not the mob or the raging multitude—but the weakling citizen, the spineless business man, the person who stands for nothing and will do nothing—no, not even defend himself. This man needs a wholesome dose of business ethics, and Rotary seems to have been born for this task," International President Raymond M. Havens of Kansas City, Mo., told the Rotarians gathered here at the fourteenth International convention of Rotary during the course of the consideration of business methods problems this morning.

Himself a large employer of labor and the head of an establishment that has never known a strike or a moment of industrial unrest throughout forty years of its existence, President Havens made a stirring plea to his fellow Rotarians to get into line individually under the high ethical standards of Rotary and to strive to help others abolish the doctrine of caveat emptor and become ethical in all their dealings.

"Every community is what its business men make it," the speaker said. "The places of trade, industry, finance are more nearly the everyday town, the expression of itself and other public meeting places. The ideal friendly town is a miniature of an ideal friendly world. Rotary has given to each one of us a world mission to perform in our own community, in our own business. Friendship and sympathy are our working tools. They knit hearts to heart and become effective forces.

"There is always an element of good in all men's lawful pursuits. Rotary strives to inspire better business practices by enlightening men's minds through the warmth of friendship and requiring a constant exchange of confidences.

"Out of these codes of business ethics, I see arising, in the fullness of time a code of enlightened law supplanting the worst forces in the statute books. It is an encouraging and thrilling thought.

"Fifty years ago it was argued that man and his business were distinct; that is, they could have different characters. The spirit of 'let the buyer beware' was held to be consistent with the character of a man and his father, loyal friend, social pillar and good citizen.

"We wonder how intelligent persons could try to uphold such an untenable position. Modern competition beat upon it and it crumbled. Upon the ruins of the old false dogmas came the dawn of the demagogue politicians, the radical agitators, the yellow writers, shouting that they did it!

"By no means is the light of a new business era that service to competition, and those who would not serve merited oblivion, unhonored and unusing.

"But greed takes other forms and it leaped from the old into the new. This was sufficient for the reds, pinks and yellows, whose one idea is that business, being run for profit, is corrupt to the core. Business success they regarded as evidence of crime and iniquity!

"Strange, that just when the idea of service enabled the business world to free itself from ancient trammels, we should have an attempt to make success a stigma. If you want to follow some of our red and yellow philosophers you must believe that the earth belongs to the feeble minded, the ignorant, and those who won't work.

"Rotary International is an organization of success, as virtue, promoting codes of business ethics around the world, Rotary is striving to do away with that other false notion that honor can be passive; that right can exist without action.

"Rotary offers a practical measure to help in solving the problem of a good citizen, who really is a bad citizen—the chap who thinks that righteous sentiments are all that the moral law requires. This citizen favors good government and business honor, but feels personally irresponsible.

"How to electrify this passive honor and arouse this irresponsible citizenship is an issue which popular government must meet, otherwise what we now understand by the government will react into forms of class rule or oligarchy.

"Nations in distress should take counsel of their wisest sons; but great men never seem so scarce as when they are most wanted; and small men never so presumptuous in contending issues, and they unfortunately speculate upon the needs and distresses of neighbors and country. Rotary advises us to settle upon a proven principle, and not depart from it on any ground of expediency.

"In seeking this proven principle we approach close to answering, 'Why are we here?' 'Why shall we live?' The answer to the eternal question is of this same substance: as the answer to the question: 'Is our duty to ourselves alone or to mankind?'

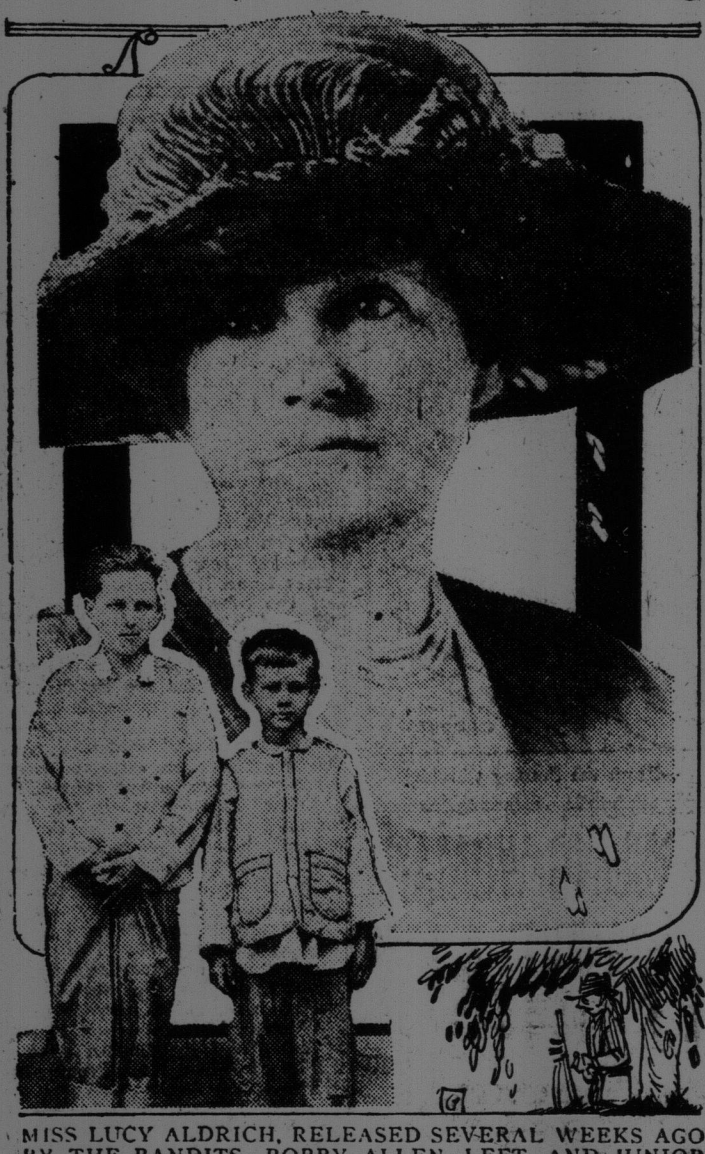

"We cannot repeat too often that Rotary International is working for world unity through friendship and understanding among the business men of the world. A fundamental of understanding between men is similarity in ethical standards.

"Men of different moral valuations view one another with suspicion. Each says the other is hypocritical. It is not a tremendous privilege for Rotary International to take part in removing this distrust?

"The biggest material thing in civilization is the business of civilization, but the greatest thing is the spirit of civilization. The supreme law of human life is duty. And duty must be based on moral standards.

"But this is impossible unless we have some large and cohesive body of

Young Sons of American Army Officers Released by Chinese Bandit Gang

Seattle, Wash., June 20—"Manila Bobby" Allen, twelve years old, and Junior Finger, eight, are the proudest and most envied boys in America today. They have been captured by bandits. More than that, they have been released safely, and will be able to tell all the rest of the boys about it when they come back to the States.

The boys were taken prisoner with the rest of the American party captured by Chinese bandits and held captive in the hills. The youngsters made quite a hit with the bandits, however, and were well treated.

The boys, both of them sons of army officers, "Junior" of Major and Mrs. Ronald W. Fingar of Berkeley, California, and Robert of Major Robert A. Allen of Seattle and Manila, were released a short time after their capture.

Miss Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., released with the other women of the party, is en route to the United States. The last of the eight captives was released this week. None suffered any harm.

Individuals, within the body politic, expressing the spirit of loyalty to ideals. "At various times in various countries, this necessary element of loyalty has been supplied by good kings and their satellites, by armed aristocracy, by militant religion, and, finally, by political parties, whose reforms nobly and frequently failed ignobly.

"The time has arrived when this duty devolves upon business, whose contacts are incalculably more extensive and closer than those of politics. But business must be brought to realize it.

"Rotary seems to be born for this task." Rogues Gallery of Business. Sneak thieves, forgers, embezzlers, plain burglars and yegg men of business were dealt with in plain terms by Merle Sidener of Indianapolis, Ind., a member of the Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, and a prominent member of the Rotary Club of Indianapolis, before the morning session of the convention of Rotary International here today.

"The Rogues Gallery of Business" is what the speaker said he would show the world gathering of Rotarians. "First let's look at the sneak thief in business," he said. "Here is his identification card. It indicates that he picks all available pockets while crowding his victims with the 'business-is-business' fallacy. The space for the identifying photograph is left blank on this card. And if, perchance, the face of the offender which comes to your mind is the face you see in the mirror when you shave—take the matter seriously and try to reform him.

"The next offender is the forger who disposes of merchandise by means of forged trade names. Here again the space for the photograph is left blank—you supply the picture! The manufacturer or distributor who mis-brands or mis-labels merchandise is guilty of business forgery. The adulteration of the products of one manufacturer for another by imitation—these are merely steps in business forgery.

"Here is the embezzler who embezzles money held in trust by means of exorbitant or concealed profits. Following him is the burglar who burglarizes the business of competitors through various tricks of unfair competition. The outstanding offense under this classification is commercial bribery—the paying of commissions in money or other things of value to employees of customers for the purpose of influencing their buying-power, bonuses to jobbers and retail salesmen, false and misleading advertising—even white lies in advertising are phases of business burglary. And finally there is the yegg—who blows up the reputation of competitors by false reports and destroys good will. The making of false statements concerning competitors and their products is the best weapon of the yegg. The whisper of doubt about the financial standing of a business house may do unending damage.

"Rotary International has recognized its opportunity to inspire forward looking, constructive business men to take a positive stand against these business practices which corrupt the commercial body of the nation.

"Rotary International gave the world a great inspirational doctrine when it formulated the Code of Ethics. But Rotary International made a constructive contribution to business as an institution when it devised a practical way of transforming those principles into action. The movement under the leadership of the Business Methods Committee of Rotary International promises to wield such an uplifting influence on business practice in the next fifty years that no man dares prophesy as to the service that will be rendered to humanity."

FRANCE DEMANDS THAT THE TURKS WITHDRAW TROOPS Constantinople, June 20.—As a result of a report from General Weigand French commander in chief Syria, as to fresh concentrations of Turkish troops on the Syrian frontier, the French acting high commissioner here has protested strongly to Adnan Bey, governor of Constantinople. The commissioner demanded the withdrawal of the Turkish troops.

NEWS NOTES OF BAPTIST INTEREST

(Maritime Baptist.) Lic. A. B. Gibson has been holding special services at Newcastle Creek. These services have been well attended. Rev. J. Ainsworth is engaged in special services at Lakeview, Corner Sunbury from 11:30 m. to 2 p. m. He is assisted by Rev. Dr. Heine. Mr. Ainsworth is now in the fifteenth year of his pastoral relations with the Margville-Sheffield pastorate.

Rev. H. H. Titus, who graduated from Rochester Theological Seminary in May, has accepted an invitation as interim pastor at the Victoria street church, St. John, during the summer months. He began this ministry on June 3.

After six years spent as pastor of the Millstream group of churches, Rev. J. S. Young is closing his work with that large field to accept the pastoral charge of the Norton group of churches. Mr. Young has earned the right to a more compact pastorate and has been appointed to the Millstream. The secretary of the Millstream group is E. L. Cripps, Apohaqui.

Rev. C. N. Barton has asked us to change the address of his paper from Victoria, Carleton County, N. B., to Mouth of Keswick, York County, N. B. Mr. Barton has accepted the pastoral care of the Keswick group of churches. We are glad that so good a pastor should be settled so readily, and also glad that the Keswick pastorate is to have such good pastoral care.

Rev. R. A. Burrows has resigned the pastoral care of the Tracey Mills and Knoxford churches and has accepted an invitation to become pastor of the Baptist church at Bridgewater, Me. We are sorry to lose Mr. Burrows from the work of our churches. With our present shortage of pastors, we can ill afford to spare any of our ministers.

Rev. C. B. Lumsden has accepted an invitation to the pastorate of the Hampton group of churches to begin service with them about September 1. Mr. Lumsden graduated from Acadia in 1920 after a brilliant record. He graduated in theology at Newton in 1922 after an equally brilliant record there. Mr. Lumsden was sought by important churches in New England, but he preferred to locate within the Maritime Provinces. In this respect, he is but like the most of our young men who go abroad for theology, and if our churches would move toward them more quickly but few of them would remain abroad.

Upon the hearty recommendation of the Board of Deacons of the Central United Baptist church of St. John, the church, at the June business meeting, with equal heartiness, invited the past-

NEW PRESIDENT OF C. M. A. Having been laid aside for five months and undergoing a serious operation in Boston, Pastor S. A. MacDougall, on the advice of his physician, is giving up pastoral work for a time, and on Sunday, May 27, resigned from the Temple U. B. church, Yarmouth, N. S., after four years of service. Until Brother MacDougall's illness, all departments of the church were in a fairly healthy condition, and during the years a heavy debt had been wiped out and a large number added to the church by baptism and on profession of faith. Pastor MacDougall wishes to take this opportunity of thanking the many friends and brethren for their kind letters of sympathy during recent illness. His present home is Yarmouth, N. S., P. O. BRITAIN MARKS TIME IN MATTER OF REPARATIONS London, June 20.—The British Government is marking time on the reparations question until receipt of the French and Belgian memoranda asking France to define her attitude more precisely.

This information was to have been presented to Lord Curzon yesterday, but up to early afternoon neither the French nor Belgian ambassadors had asked for an appointment with him. It is assumed that the Belgian cabinet situation is delaying presentation of the reply.

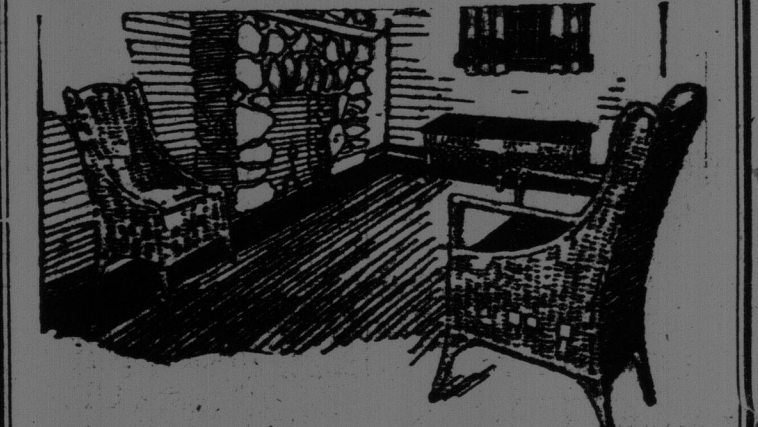

Authoritative circles there is a distinct air of pessimism, since France has given no indication of an intention to modify either her ideas regarding the amount Germany shall pay or her determination to continue the progressively intensive military occupation.

Several sisters of the Order of the Good Shepherd arrived in the city yesterday on the Montreal train en route to Halifax. REMAINS OF DEWEY'S WARSHIP FOUND IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

Baton Rouge, La., June 16.—A quantity of shells and human bones, believed to be the remains of a Federal war vessel commanded by George Dewey, later Admiral Dewey, damaged by Confederate batteries during the Civil War near Port Hudson, have been pumped up by a gravel dredge a few miles north of here. The shells include one identified as Confederate ammunition.

The vessel commanded by Dewey was one of Admiral Farragut's fleet and became disabled below Port Hudson when struck by a Confederate salvo. It drifted down the river and finally grounded a few miles north of here, where it burst into flames. Most of the crew escaped.

BRITAIN PLANS TO TRAIN NEW RACE OF YOUNG AIR PILOTS

War Experts Only for the Youthful, Experts Say After 80 Aviators Only Fit for "Tame" Work.

London, May 20.—(By Mail).—The announcement of Lord Salisbury that the Government has decided that our air force must be strengthened calls attention to the making of an airman, says a "London Daily Mail" correspondent.

Strenuous flying, the kind that war demands, and by the age of thirty a man's strenuous flying days are generally ended. After thirty "tame" flying is the rule.

A simple calculation will show that, except as a reserve, the race of war pilots—the men who gave Britain her unquestioned supremacy in the war—will soon be exhausted.

A new race has to be created, and though hardly any new pilots were made for several years after 1918, the first results of the Air Ministry's provision for the future are now apparent.

Three different kinds of pilots are being created, not hurriedly as amid the stress of war, but carefully and with the advantage of all the varied experience gained during the last ten years.

It is now possible by medical tests and tests on a dummy aeroplane on the ground to ascertain pretty accurately in advance whether a man should learn to fly or not.

Any young fellow who wishes to become a service pilot in the R. A. F. goes to Cranwell, in Lincolnshire, at the age of eighteen.

Cranwell is to the air force what Woolwich and Sandhurst are to the army—a college where also to be cadets not only to fly but also to be cadets of the air force of the future.

But it is not everyone who, though he wishes to learn to fly, desires also to become a military or naval pilot.

Those who wish to become military pilots must learn to fly at one of the several flying schools dotted over the countryside.

At one of these they will be taught to fly, but before taking their "tickets," or license, they must be tested and passed by an air force instructor and medically examined—no light matter—by an air force specialist.

The Air Ministry keeps complete control of civilian pilots and is determined that there shall be no incompetent or unfit ones.

A civilian pilot can take either of two "tickets" to fly.

One of these simply gives him permission to fly "solo," but not to carry passengers. The other is a more comprehensive one, and, needless to say, greater skill and experience are demanded.

Writing as one who has lived with flying men and watched them daily for five or six years, I offer a few hints which may be worth giving as to the qualities of mind and body that flying demands.

Needless to say, the first of these is courage.

In the next place, cool daring is demanded. There is a flying temperament.

Third—and this, too, is vital—there must exist an instant response of nerve and muscle to the necessities of the moment. The man must not lose his head or get "rattled."

The tests applied, before going up, copied from Britain by the whole world, enable one to say pretty accurately if these qualities are present.

"DRYS' PARADISE" DISCOVERED ON A SOUTH SEA ISLE

Black Pygmies in Jungles See "Evil Spirit" in Rum; Live by Fishing, Hunting Hogs With the Bow and Arrow.

London, May 25.—(By Mail).—An entry in the register of St. Giles register office, Bloomsbury, shows that the late Lord Breadalbane, who died recently after a long illness, was married on September 18, 1916, to Miss Marie Laura Reeve-Hunt, 26, a theatrical artist, of 25 Marchmont street, Bloomsbury. In the marriage certificate he is described as the son of John Campbell, a captain in the Cameron Highlanders. The bride's father, who was dead, was described as a building contractor.

An arid island where there are no bootleggers and where a primitive people through ages have never quenched a tropical thirst with an alcoholic beverage has been discovered by Edward A. Salisbury, American explorer, it was learned when he arrived in New York recently on the Lloyd Sabande liner Conte Ross after having completed a three years' exploration trip to the islands of the South Sea and Indian Ocean. This land of dryness—a prohibitionist's paradise—is one of the Adaman group of seven islands in the Bay of Bengal, south of Burma and west of Siam.

Three years ago Mr. Salisbury sailed from Los Angeles in his eighty-three ton yacht, The Wisdom, to explore and gather anthropological and photographic material with Edward Burghard, a Columbia graduate, of this city; Merian C. Cooper, former captain in the American Army and lieutenant colonel in the Polish air service; George MacNeil, former Yale and Andover athlete and Captain Nelson Taylor, of Los Angeles. When they reached Moka, in the Arabian Sea the little vessel was shipwrecked on a reef, was subsequently salvaged and towed to Genoa, where it was destroyed by fire following an explosion.

Island Convict Camp.
From a historical and scientific standpoint the expedition was a success, remarked Mr. Salisbury. He said he found the Adaman Islands the most remarkable of all the foreign and uncharted lands the expedition visited. The only traces of civilization encountered in the group, he said, was on one of the islands which the English government employs as a convict camp for some 15,000 criminals, mostly murderers from India. Of that number only 600 are imprisoned, the remainder being permitted to follow whatever vocations they desire, but are not allowed to leave the camp.

The natives of the Adaman group are pygmies, few of them being more than four feet in height, known as negroes. These people inhabit small settlements in dense jungle lands, their pursuits being confined almost entirely to the hunting of wild hog and fish with the use of the antiquated bow and arrow. When they wound a turtle in the neck they leap from their hollowed out log canoes and drive into the water to make their catch.

"The natives do not like the imported criminals," declared Mr. Salisbury, "and one of their pastimes is to come upon the convict settlements upon special holidays and kill as many of them as they can shoot with their poisoned arrows and then return to their homes to celebrate their prowess with roast pig and fried fish.

Horror and Pleasures.
"What amazed me about the Adaman islanders," continued the explorer, "was that they knew nothing of the horrors and pleasures of intoxicants. In some of the islands in our travels we met natives who drank a concoction made from beet root, a drink that they termed kava, but they had no liquor preferences and could not understand the pleasures that several of my sailors took in placing under their belts a ration of grog. They tried the drink but believed it possessed of evil spirits and in this manner came into an understanding with Volsteadism."

The inhabitants of these islands, Mr.

Salisbury explained, are also one of the few peoples of the world who know little or nothing of fire. Their tribal chiefs have preserved for years burning embers from which new fires are made, but the explorer could not determine how this fire first originated on their territory. His theory was that it might have been brought to them by shipwrecked sailors or perhaps antedates the last century or so when Chinese seamen might have debarked on the islands and introduced the flame. He asserted, however, that the pygmies themselves have no knowledge of the nature of fire and they believe it is the gift of the gods and if their tribal embers should ever burn out darkness and devastation will swoop down upon them.

British Research Expedition Off to South Sea in Fall

Great-Grandnephew of Cook, Discoverer of Australia, and Noted Naval Officer Behind Scientific Voyage.

London, May 25.—(By Mail).—In a little room on the sixth floor of a suite of offices in the West End the finishing touches are being put to a scheme which in its aim recalls the spacious days of Elizabeth and the romance of the voyages of discovery of Drake, Hawker and Frobiisher, says "The London Daily News."

A scientific expedition is being fitted out to explore the mysteries of the Pacific. Famous scientists will sail the Southern Seas to gather some of the wealth of material which awaits research among the sun-baked coral islands of the East.

One of the promoters of the scheme is a great-grand-nephew of Captain Cook, the discoverer of Australia; another, the captain of the St. George, in which the party will sail, bears a name distinguished in British naval annals.

Many of the world's adventurers have been in this little room recently, for the final members of the crew have been chosen.

Like the navy in which he served, the captain was silent. He refused details and search had to be made elsewhere for information about the Scientific Expeditionary Research Association.

In September the captain of the St. George will set sail for the Pacific. His yacht of 1,000 tons will carry eight scientists, representing botany, ornithology, geology, entomology, general biology, marine biology and oceanography. Their job is research; all their expenses will be paid for them.

The task of choosing the eight scientific adventurers is now being undertaken by the advisory council of the association, which numbers among its

The crew is now complete; they are all tried and experienced sailors. There are still vacancies for passengers. Thirty, in all, will be carried.

There should be work for the Scientific Expeditionary Research Association for years to come. There are whole worlds to rediscover in Melanesia, along the north coast of Australia, down the coasts to South America.

It is hoped to make the association a permanent "Handmaiden of Science"; to create a stable and self-supporting organization to probe into the myriad mysteries of the world.

COUNCIL SETTLES METER QUESTION

Approves Bond Issue for the Purchase of Lot from General Electric Co.—A New Proposal re Employment Office.

The matter of the selection of meters for use in connection with the civic distribution system was settled yesterday when the Common Council unanimously approved of a bond issue for the purchase of the meters from the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, provided the city would receive a two-and-one-half per cent. discount.

A communication was received from Premier Veniot proposing a new arrangement for the continuance here of the Employment Service Bureau. In the past, the contract for the purchase of the meters from the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, provided the city would receive a two-and-one-half per cent. discount.

A further communication from Hon. Mr. Veniot respecting the status of court action regarding the raising of the new C. P. R. bridge over the reversing falls was received. He said that he had no information as to when a decision would be made in this matter and he did not believe that the Attorney General could tell when a decision would be reached. It was finally decided to communicate direct with the Attorney General on the matter.

An invitation from the Board of Health, requesting the Council to enact a by-law to close all shoe dealers' stores in the city at 6 o'clock every evening except Saturday's and nights before holidays for the summer months was received and considered. Mayor Fisher reported that all but one dealer had signed the petition. Under the law, His Worship said that the Council was required to grant the petition if seventy-five per cent. of the dealers signed. It was decided to postpone further consideration until the Council meeting next Tuesday. In the meantime, the Mayor will check up regarding the number signing. Coal tenders from the Maritime and Works Co., Ltd., for supplying the water and sewerage department, the public safety department, City Hall and the city market were accepted on recommendations from Commissioners Wigmore and Thornton.

Committee Report. The committee report was adopted. It referred to the following matters: that three members of the Council would constitute a quorum for speaking tenders and other official papers; location of the monuments secured through the efforts of Dr. J. Clarence Webster; acceptance of the tender of the Canada Welding Works Ltd., for a steel stairway in the west side City Hall; approval of an application from the N. B. Telephone Co., Ltd., to construct and locate laterals; referring of applications from D. A. Porter and LaTour Hotel to erect electric signs to the Power Commission and Commissioner Frink respectively; granting of use of land at Silver Falls to William Kerr, E. J. Young and S. H. Coles.

PRINCE OF MONACO MAKES GIFT TO VACCINE INSTITUTE Paris, (By Mail).—Among other gifts resulting from the laboratory drive in connection with the Pasteur centenary in Paris is that of the Prince of Monaco, who gave a liberal contribution to Dr. Lemoigne's vaccine institute. The great bacteriologist made some valuable discoveries in typhoid vaccines during and since the war, and the donation of the prince will make it possible to extend to the general public the benefits derived by French soldiers and sailors.

A six-year-old girl named Lee was struck yesterday afternoon in Main street by a motor truck, the property of the Standard Creamery Company. The little girl, with her mother, came out of an alleyway onto Main street when the mother's attention was distracted for a minute and the child stepped directly in front of the truck which knocked her to the ground. She was picked up and taken to the home of Dr. H. S. Clarke and from there to her home at 102 Main street. No bones were broken, it was said, but a report from her home last night was that it would be a day or two before the full extent of her injuries were known.

New Instructress For Y. W. C. A. Gym

At a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors yesterday afternoon, the appointment of Miss Gwendolyn Richards of Campbellton, graduate of the Margaret Eaton School, as physical instructress for the coming year, was approved. The election of a president and a general secretary was deferred. Plans were made for a summer camp for business girls. The report of the Travelers Aid showed that 150 trains and 18 boats had been met, 128 persons cared for at the Transient Home, 144 assisted at the station and employment secured for three. The question of the possibility of securing another building for the residence and cafeteria was mentioned in the report of that department. In her report as general secretary, Mrs. Percival Foster spoke of the departure of Miss G. K. Peplar, the physical instructress, and the resignation of Mrs. Lugdin as president. She concluded the report with a short speech of farewell, stressing her appreciation of the co-operation given her.

Mrs. W. H. Lugdin, the retiring president, was in the chair and told of her regret that she must soon sever her connection with the St. John "Y." She told of her intention always to take an active interest in the Y. W. C. A. work and of her appreciation of all that work for the St. John "Y." DR. O. COMEAU ATTACKED BY HIGHWAYMEN

Held Up and Thrown to the Sidewalk While on Way to Patient in Randolph

To be held up by two highwaymen, thrown forcibly to the sidewalk and searched was the surprising and trying experience of Dr. O. Comeau of Manawagonish road last night as he was hurrying to Randolph in answer to a sick call. A little after 11 o'clock Dr. Comeau received a telephone call asking him to hurry to Randolph as a woman had taken suddenly ill. His automobile was out of commission so he started to walk. While crossing a small bridge about half way to Randolph, he was accosted by two men who asked him for some money. He refused and started to pass when suddenly he was seized and thrown forcibly to the sidewalk.

In the struggle one of his arms was injured and partly incapacitated and he was unable to cope with his larger and stronger opponents. While one struggled to keep his arms pinned to the sidewalk the other sat on him and started a search through his pockets. His prescription pad and another book were taken but when it was seen that they contained nothing of value they were thrown aside and later recovered by the doctor. His gold chain, attached to his vest was seized and in the struggle broken, while his glasses were smashed into fragments.

At this time an automobile was heard approaching and the men jumped up and rushed into the woods nearby. It was very dark, and also due to the fact that his glasses had been broken, Dr. Comeau was unable to get a good description of the men. He continued to his destination and after attending to his patient was accompanied to his home by a member of the family, but no further attempt was made at molestation. Aside from sustaining an injury to one of his arms and the loss of his glasses Dr. Comeau was none the worse for his thrilling experience.

Baptists Gather For Convention Here

Annual Meeting of Southern Association—Kings, Queens, St. John and Charlotte Churches.

In Waterloo street Baptist church tonight, the convention of the New Brunswick Southern Association of the United Baptist denomination will open. This association includes churches in Kings, Queens, St. John and Charlotte counties and has about ninety-three ministers on its roll. The visitors to the city today will be taken care of through the efforts of the various local churches and places in private homes will be provided for them. The annual sermon will be preached tonight, the speaker being Rev. W. C. Goucher, D. D., of St. Stephen. Among the others of the one hundred expected to attend will be Rev. C. M. Michaud, secretary of the Religious Education Council; Rev. Dr. W. L. Archibald of Wolfville, principal of the Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy; Rev. H. T. Dewolf of Wolfville, principal of the Acadia Ladies' Seminary; Rev. T. D. Bell of Hammondsport; Rev. F. A. Hubley of St. Martins; Rev. D. J. McPherson of Sussex; Rev. L. H. Crandall of Chipman; Rev. C. S. Young of Millstream, and Rev. D. Patterson of Cambridge.

Our Strawberries For Boston Market

W. C. Robinson Thinks There is a Good Demand for All the Berries We Can Grow.

(Sackville Post)

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson returned recently from their car from Florida, where they spent the winter. Mr. Robinson while on his way home spent several days in Boston where he interviewed several of the large berry importers. Speaking to the Post of the berry business Mr. Robinson said he had been informed that during the height of the strawberry season something like fifty carloads of this fruit reach the city daily. This will give some idea of the capacity of the Boston market. Mr. Robinson says from what he could learn the Boston dealers are willing to handle berries from this part of the country, providing they are able to secure them in carload lots, properly packed and iced. Coming after the American crop has been finished, berries from Sackville for instance would compete in no way with the American product.

Mr. Robinson seems to think if the business is properly looked after, there is almost an unlimited market in Boston for Westmorland County fruit, but he says the business end must be looked after carefully and advises that it be carried on through a properly organized association.

Card of Lynn, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Todd of St. John and Mrs. Robert Walker of Everett, Mass. The body will be brought here tomorrow, and the funeral will be held at the Fairville Station after the arrival of the Boston train. Interment will be in Cedar Hill.

GLEN FALLS MEETING.

A meeting of the Glen Falls Community Club was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheehan, Coldbrook, and was well attended. Reports were received from the social, building and entertainment committees. The concert committee reports plans well in hand for a good concert at the opening of the new building on July 2. The building committee reported that good progress was being made with the community building. It was announced that the Carrite Patterson Company had offered free to the club sufficient roofing to cover the new building. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the firm for their generous offer. The next meeting will be held on July 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne.

One Little Word But, Oh! What a Big Difference!

'S funny what a big difference the change of one little word will sometimes make. Witness an amusing scene at city hall yesterday in which a mistake in copying just one word turned a creditor into a debtor. Here's how it all happened:

The city desired the use of a piece of wharf property in the North End and made arrangements with the owner to lease it. Things went along all right until yesterday, when the owner entered City Hall and presented a bill, in which the city demanded payment of the very amount which it had agreed to pay for the use of his property.

The Commissioner of Harbors was at a loss to understand the action of the Chamberlain's department in this connection, but on investigation in an order-in-council which read that city would "lease to Mr. So-and-So the Blank Wharf property at an annual rental of $1000."

"Before Mr. So-and-So was billed for that amount," the commissioner was informed.

"But I am leasing the property to the city," the owner exclaimed.

The original records were looked up and it was found that the order-in-council decreed that the city would "lease FROM Mr. So-and-So, etc., etc."

So, instead of being called upon to pay the bill, the visitor left with the assurance that he would receive a check for a similar amount from the city treasury.

MICMAC CHIEFTAIN WAS WAR VETERAN

Passed Away at County Hospital Last Evening—Was Wounded and Gassed at Amiens.

A Micmac chieftain, who was also a veteran of the Great War and suffered wounds for the cause of the Empire, passed away last evening at the County Hospital. He was only twenty-nine years of age, the youngest man ever chosen as chief in this province if not in Canada. His name was Tom P. Sniappas, and his home the Indian Reservation near Rexton, Kent county, where there are about 200 families of the tribe. He was elected chief this year. He had really developed tuberculosis before going overseas, but it did not become active until the present year. He was brought to the County Hospital only a few days before his death.

Chief Sniappas enlisted in Sussex on July 13, 1915, along with his brother, in the 48th Battalion. He was later transferred to the 2nd Canadian Pioneers, and again to the Canada Engineers. He was wounded with shrapnel in the neck, shoulder and hip, and also gassed, at Amiens on Aug. 8, 1918, and was three months in hospital. He left France on April 6, 1919. His brother also was wounded.

While the youngest man ever elected chief of the Micmacs, Chief Sniappas was also one of the most popular. He was strict, as a result no doubt of his military training, but beloved by his people. He is survived by his wife, mother, and step-father. They were all here, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syres and wife, 88 Chapel street. The family were with him at the end, and other members of the tribe also visited the hospital daily while he was there. His death is deeply mourned by his people. His remains will be interred in Rexton.

English Railroads To Run Expresses At 80 Miles an Hour

Record in British Carriers' History to Be Set in New Service Planned to Begin as Summer Acceleration.

London, June 1.—(By mail).—I am informed that express trains attaining speeds hitherto unheard of in British railway history will be run by at least one of the companies when the accelerated summer service begins on July 9.

"It will be possible for the super-expresses to develop speed of about eighty miles an hour."

"Great secrecy is being observed by the principal lines. I learn that the Great Western group are the pioneers in this high-speed movement, and there are indications that at least one other group will follow their example as soon as possible."

"Time-table arrangements are now under consideration, and in about a fortnight's time an official announcement and full details of the 'flying express' will be published. In recent tests, that the engines are capable of attaining these high speeds without difficulty, and that the principle of 'safety first' is in no way sacrificed."

"This development of the express service is a complete answer to recent criticisms of railway enterprise. One writer lamented the fact that, with the exception of the Southern Belle, our express trains were no longer called by pet names, as formerly."

"The apparently overlooked fact that what is appreciated is comfortable traveling, with safe and efficient running, rather than excessive speed, and it is still the proud boast of our British railways that in these respects they are second to none."

"All question of economy either in locomotive construction or running was cheerfully derided. Safety first was regarded and speed first substituted. A list of trains was given showing the time occupied between certain places and mileage rate per hour, but nothing was stated regarding any intermediate stops made by any of them, nor was anything adduced to demonstrate that insufficient engine power set the pace."

Hanford Estey, holder of the winning ticket for the automobile door prize in aid of the Hilton Bazaar fund, met the managing committee yesterday afternoon and produced his ticket. It was found to be the right ticket and Mr. Estey was given an order for the delivery of the car. The machine, however, was damaged in transit. Mr. Estey inspected it at the station yesterday with members of the committee, but he decided to wait the arrival of a new car. This will be here inside of ten days.

GIANT DIVORCED AFTER TELLING OF LITTLE WIFE'S SURE AIM WHEN WROTH

Taunton, Mass., June 20.—Real life coincided with the comic supplement in the local probate court during the hearing of a divorce petition brought by Ralph B. Willis, a Mansfield farmer, against Jessie S. Willis, when the former, who tips the beams at 250 pounds and has hips like the business end of a mule, testified that his spouse, who trains in the flyweight class, blacked his eyes, "beamed" him with parlor statuary, and chased him about the house with a tea kettle full of hot water.

According to the Mansfield giant's story his domestic life in recent years has been a series of hair-breadth escapes that would make a movie thriller seem like a vestry meeting. One night he was lying on the sofa at half past one in the morning waiting for Mrs. Willis to return from an evening with the "boys" when she unexpectedly appeared. Yawning, he gently reproved her for her late hours, when she suddenly countered with a left jab that discolored his eye for a week.

Willis chuckled as he told of one occasion when his wife's attempt to splash him with boiling water proved to be a boomerang. In some manner her grip on the handle slipped and the water which was destined for him cascaded in her own lap. The next time he was not so fortunate. Mrs. Willis, in a moment of annoyance, seized a bronze stool that was resting on the parlor clock and hit him squarely between the eyes.

A brother of the libellant, who testified in his support, described a scene that occurred when Willis returned home one evening to find himself locked out. He called Mrs. Willis, but as soon as she saw her husband he grabbed a convenient poker, whacked him over the head with the iron bar, and pursued him down the road. At that time she also carried a loaded revolver.

When Judge Matthew R. Hitch asked Willis if he was afraid of his wife, the complainant promptly denied it, and explained that he forbore to defend himself because of their four children. The divorce was granted after it was testified that Mrs. Willis is now living with a man not her husband.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN HOME ECONOMICS HERE THIS YEAR

A summer school for training for service as teachers in the evening schools of the province women who are dress-makers or milliners by trade and women teachers of home economics will be held in St. John in the High School building from July 4 to Aug. 9 under the auspices of the New Brunswick Vocational Education Board.

Besides courses in teaching methods and actual practice in teaching, there will be courses in costume design and advanced dressmaking, millinery and design, textiles, color harmony in dress, design and interior decoration and the general planning and care of the wardrobe. Miss Millicent M. Cox, B. A., B. S., of Massachusetts, will be the teacher for classes in advanced dressmaking, textiles and color harmony in dress, and Miss Sarah M. Barnett, supervisor of the home-making department of vocational education in the province, will be one of the other members of the teaching staff.

The instruction will be of the best. The work is arranged for first year students, second year students and third year students. Students are admitted without examination upon the recommendation of a responsible person and a cordial invitation has been extended to dressmakers and milliners and also to teachers of home economics to make use of this opportunity to advance themselves technically and professionally.

There is no tuition fee but on the contrary each student enrolled who successfully completes a course of twenty-five six-hour days will have refunded the amount of a first class return fare from her home to St. John. In addition each will be granted $20 for the session as a subsistence allowance. Certificates will be issued to those successfully completing the course.

DISABLED SEAMAN OF BOSTON GETS $25,000

Hopless Cripple Awarded Verdict Against Fleet Corporation Washington, June 20.—Jeremiah O'Shea, once an able-bodied seaman, that now a hopeless cripple, was awarded a verdict for $25,000 damages against the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation by a jury for personal injuries. O'Shea is a native of Boston. He shipped as boatswain on the oil tanker Dunganon and while returning to New Orleans in January, 1921, sustained a permanent injury to his spine while working in one of the ship's tanks.

Encouraging reports regarding the 1923 exhibition were presented at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors, held last evening with E. J. Terry presiding. It was announced that the advertising campaign was being commenced and that minor repairs already had been completed to the building. After July 1 a selected gang will be set to work to carry out the plans submitted at last night's meeting by the buildings and grounds committee. H. A. Porter, general manager, said he had secured Sternad's Midgets for the open-air grandstand attraction. This company is composed of fourteen members and has proved a great attraction wherever it has appeared.

Scotland Yard Breaking Up Gang Of Art Burglars

Recovery of Two Gainsborough and Other Pictures Taken in Big Robbery Likely to Lead to Capture. London, June 2.—(By mail).—All the most valuable property—including two portraits by Gainsborough, worth many thousands of pounds—stolen in the raid on the art collection of Henry Cecil Sutton, at Benham Park, near Newbury, more than two months ago, has been recovered by Scotland Yard detectives, reports The London Daily Express.

The police state that a man named Rogers is under detention. The Gainsboroughs are pictures of Mr. Sutton's ancestors. One is a painting of Anne Sutton, and the other a portrait of Richard Sutton. Four miniatures by Grimaldi and two panels of women in Elizabethan dress were found by the police with the portraits. Benham Park was entered by burglars during the night when the household was asleep.

No finger prints of any kind were made in the search through the house. A motor car waited for the thieves outside the gates of the park. Scotland Yard recently obtained new information about the activities of the country house burglar gang. The finding of the Gainsboroughs was one of the results. The police believe that they have now enough evidence to break up the whole organization and to capture the whole personnel.

BELL, NAMED ST. PETER WILL TOLL IN COLOGNE Berlin.—A new bell, just finished at the foundry near Weimar, is to be placed in the south tower of Cologne Cathedral. The old bell, the famous "Kaiserglocke," made in 1514 from cannon taken from the French, was melted down during the World War for the metal. The real name of the new bell is "St. Peter," but it will be known to most people as the "German bell on the Rhine."

The founder of the bell, Heinrich Ulrich, had it cast at the unusually high temperature of 1,400 centigrade, to insure clearness of tone. It is about eleven feet high and eleven feet in diameter, weighs more than twenty-seven tons and is made of seventy-eight parts copper to twenty-two parts tin.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

HIGH BIDS FOR MANITOBA BONDS

Winnipeg, June 20.—A record price for a Government bond issue, said to be the highest figure obtained for the securities of any Government issue in recent years, was received yesterday when the Provincial Government accepted a bid of 99.93 from the Canadian Bank of Commerce for $1,000,000 one year five per cent. bonds.

OPINIONS ON THE STOCK MARKET

(McDougall & Cowan's Private Wire) New York, June 20.—Evans—"The market on the whole showed good resistance yesterday. There was heavy liquidation at the opening, but it was well taken care of and the market showed a tendency to rally in the first hour. In the later dealings there was considerable raiding but the liquidation was not nearly as extensive as the day before. It looks to me as if the present decline in the market offered a good opportunity to buy stocks."

FIRM TONE AS BUSINESS BEGINS

Wall Street Report of Today—Moderately Active in Montreal.

New York, June 20.—Prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's stock market. Buying operations were resumed in U. S. Steel common, Studebaker, Consolidated Gas and Kelly Springfield, all of which opened fractionally higher. There were a few heavy spots, Pennsylvania Coal and Coke yielding slightly to a new low record for the year.

RECORD PEACH CROP EXPECTED

Thought This Year's Yield of Orchards Will be About 2,000,000 Bushels Over Average of Last Five.

A peach crop of 46,825,000 bushels for the United States is the forecast made public by the United States Department of Agriculture, basing its estimates on conditions as of June 1. The prospective crop is about 10,000,000 bushels lower than the crop of last year, but 2,000,000 bushels higher than the average production for the last five years.

WORKS 17 HOURS A DAY FOR 18 YEARS, SAVES $60,000; MARKET GETS IT ALL

New York, June 19.—"Little Joe" Jacobs, who said he had saved $60,000 in his 18-year career as a waiter by hoarding the tips he had saved, by working 17 hours a day, seven days a week for 18 years, without a vacation or holiday, applied to Magistrate Oberwager for a summons for Smith Weigand, a stock salesman, and one of his most liberal patrons.

By his magnificent tips and fraternal air Weigand endeavored himself to every-one until July 16.

PAUSED SCARE IN ATLANTIC CITY

Bullets in Dry War Passed Over Boardwalk and Strollers Scruried to Shelter.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 20.—A fleet of high-speed cruisers supposed to have been fired by the members of the Coast Guard.

Persons who accidentally became the target of stray bullets made angry protests today to Congressman Isaac Bacharach of this district.

The rout of the liquor smugglers occurred at a place between the Pavilion and the Royal Palace Hotel. In the gloom the members of the Coast Guard who went out on patrol under the command of Captain John Holdson.

Suddenly the skies were reft with flashes of lightning, which disclosed a fleet of about five powerful cruisers.

The residents of the inlet who complained of the alleged erratic shooting by the members of the Coast Guard were led by Henry Hackney, one of the best-known restaurateurs of the resort.

"The matter has been placed before Congressman Bacharach," said Hackney after he and other property owners had registered their protest.

"The rum boats were less than 100 yards away from the coast guard boats, and I don't think one of the bullets fired found its mark.

Investigation is Under Way. Captain Holdson, head of the Coast Guard Station at Atlantic City, was reticent when questioned about the naval engagement off the boardwalk.

"No one was hurt among the coast guards," said Captain Holdson. "I do not know whether anybody was injured aboard the liquor boats."

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair by Washing It

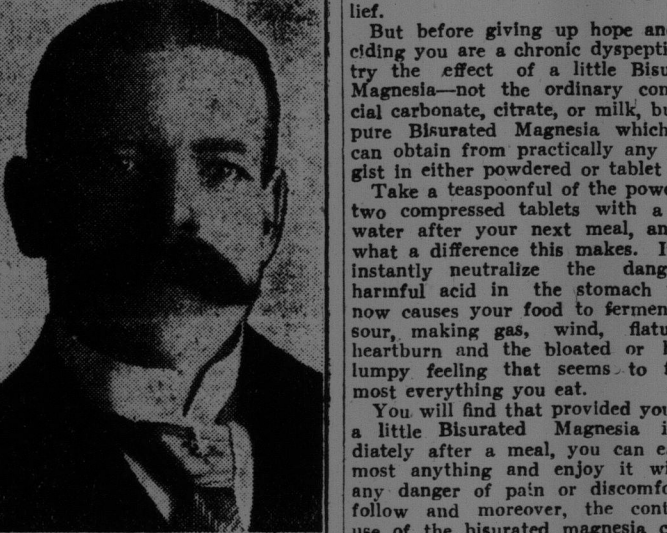

When you wash children's hair, be careful what you use. Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three spoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peptin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

"The Torch of Verified Circulation"

Lights up the way for the Advertiser

The Telegraph and The Evening Times, with a combined daily net paid circulation exceeding 30,000 copies, are the only A. B. C. (Audit Bureau of Circulation) papers in the province of New Brunswick.

Mr. Advertiser, do you realize what this means? All of the principal Canadian dailies are members of the A. B. C. That is, they give their advertisers, present and prospective, circulation figures which are audited, certified and approved by an independent court whose standing is recognized in business circles throughout Canada and the United States.

Mr. Advertiser, Look at this:

The Following Canadian Newspapers are members of the A. B. C.:

- St. John—The Telegraph and The Evening Times (the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick). Halifax—The Chronicle and Echo, The Herald and Mail. Charlottetown—The Guardian. Quebec City—Le Soleil, L'Evenement. Montreal—The Gazette, The Star, The Herald, La Presse, La Patrie, Le Canada, Le Devoir, The Standard. Ottawa—The Citizen, The Journal, Le Droit. Toronto—The Globe, The Star, The Mail and Empire and Sunday World, The Telegram. London—The Advertiser, The Free Press. Brantford—The Expositor. Brockville—The Recorder and Times. Fort William—The Times-Journal. Hamilton—The Spectator. Kingston—The British Whig, The Standard. Windsor—The Border Cities' Star. Winnipeg—The Manitoba Free Press, The Tribune. Saskatoon—The Star, The Phoenix. Regina—The Leader, The Post. Calgary—The Morning Albertan, The Herald. Edmonton—The Bulletin, The Journal. Vancouver—The Province, The Sun, The World. Victoria—The Colonist, The Times.

Mr. Advertiser, in that list you have the chief newspapers of Canada. They give you an independent audit of their circulation by a universally recognized authority.

"Net Paid" circulation does not mean old lists of doubtful value. "Net Paid" means that every subscriber included in the figures is either paid in advance or does not owe for more than six months. The Telegraph and Times, remember, have a combined "net paid" daily circulation of more than 30,000 copies.

Figuring by circulation The Telegraph and Times rates are the lowest in the Maritime Provinces.

By putting the same ad in both papers you cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick as with a blanket, so far as prospective buyers of your goods are concerned, for these two papers reach to a really wonderful extent the people in this city and this province who are in a position to purchase the goods that local or national advertisers offer for sale, be these goods bonds or toothpicks, razors or mowing machines, diamonds or medicines, shoes or silks.

Think over the facts, Mr. Advertiser. Just ask yourself quietly and thoughtfully what that chain of leading Canadian newspapers means. Their verified circulation is their greatest advertising solicitor. Think about "the torch of verified circulation."

ST. JOHN FIRE SWEEP
46 YEARS AGO

The Conflagration of 1877 is Recalled.

Millions Loss in Property and Eight Lives Sacrificed—Business Men Speak of Scenes During Fearful Day.

When the sun set on the City of St. John forty-six years ago today, it allowed the charitable mantle of night to fall darkly over a scene of desolation unparalleled in the annals of the city. For the night of June 20, 1877 saw two-fifths of the entire city laid in ruins from the devastating blaze which in the short space of nine hours leveled 1,612 houses, leaving behind more than 2,000 acres of smouldering ashes on about 9.6 miles of streets. At least eight people lost their lives during the fire, eleven schooners in the harbor, four wood-boats and four scows of lime were destroyed and two other schooners badly damaged by the flames. The total damage was estimated at $27,000,000.

The fire originated in the building of the late Joseph Fairweather, York Point, at 230 on Wednesday afternoon, June 20, and, driven by a high wind, it spread with terrible rapidity, until half an hour later firing sparks and embers had started the city blazing in a dozen or more places. The area destroyed was bounded roughly by the following streets—Union, Mill, Dock, Market Square, King street to Pitt, Pitt street to the harbor and thence around the water front to the point of starting.

Amongst those who lost their lives were Captain W. M. B. Prith, Samuel Corbett, Joseph Bell, Timothy O'Leary, Michael Donahue, Mrs. Coughlan and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

The buildings destroyed included the following—Academy of Music, German street; The Freeman, Prince William street; Lawrence Hotel, Prince William street; Bank of New Brunswick, Princess street; Bank of Nova Scotia and Bank of Montreal, Market Square; Eastern Express Co., Prince William street; The Daily Telegraph, The Evening Globe and Printer's Miscellany, Prince William street; Maritime Bank, Market Square; Masonic Hall, Princess street; Oddfellows' Hall, Germain street; Royal Hotel, Prince William street; Russell's Hotel, King street; St. John Gas Light Co., Hartmerthen street; St. John Board of Trade, Market Square; Temperance News, Canterbury street.

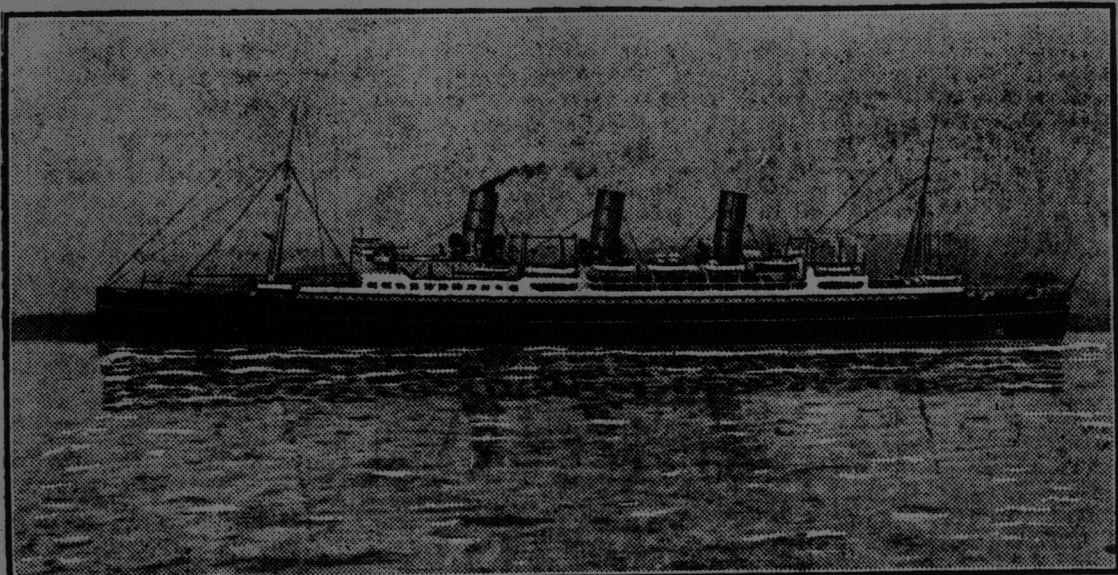

Stons McAvity of the T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd., said that he could vividly recall the scenes of desolation and ruin. He said his firm conducted the hardware business near the corner of Water Street and South wharf then, and that the majority of retail business stores were along Prince William street. As the flames swept down Dock street and Chipman Hill, leaving charred ruins in their wake, he took the firm's books and his father drove to their home in Dorchester street. They then started to return to their place of business, but the fire had reached such proportions that they had to go along Charlotte street to Duke before they were able to turn towards the harbor front. When they reached the establishment all the buildings on Market Square were in flames and the fire had started up King street. Hot ashes and pieces of burning wood were dropping all around their store and realizing that it was merely a matter of minutes before that section would also be prey to the flames they started with their horses and teams for Red's Point where a large number of people were congregating. They had delayed their departure until they were forced to make a run for it and the hot ashes kept falling on their clothing and the heat had become almost unbearable. While passing the old Victoria, Valise, etc., piled up on the sidewalk, and some smoke issuing from the building, the fire having been started by flying embers. As they hastened to Red's Point they saw large quantities of goods, which had been placed on the sidewalk by merchants, burning. From Red's Point their horses and vehicles were taken to Capleton on a ferry boat and later brought around to the city via the old Suspension Bridge.

A. O. Skinner recalls. Speaking about the memorable occasion A. O. Skinner said that he was then a member of Skerton, Son & Skinner, and they conducted a carpet and house furnishing business in Prince William street. When the fire started in Bradley's Block, Skerton and Dunlop's rigging loft in Pond street, there was no thought of its reaching such astounding proportions, and when it did spread hope was felt that it would be brought under control. But as it grew worse with alarming rapidity some firms started removing goods from their stores and piled them on the sidewalks, but they were unable to secure teams to haul them to places of safety, and all soon became a prey to the devastating flames. He said that the majority of the business men, realizing that their efforts to save stock or belongings would be futile, left the burning area and sought places of safety.

MOVIE MAD GIRLS TO WEST BY SCORE

Autoist Says They Line the Lincoln Highway, Waiting for Lift to Los Angeles.

Omaha, Neb., June 20.—Moon-struck movie maidens line the Lincoln Highway, according to Wilbur Hartnett, a newspaperman of Washington, D. C., who is touring the country in an automobile. "The woods are full of them," said Mr. Hartnett here, "and the roads are lined with them. They range in age from 18 to 19 years. Some of them have won local beauty contests, but I saw no evidence where the winners got any appreciable amount of money in prizes—never enough to pay car fare to Los Angeles. "So they are on their way, weary, sore and often penniless, but still undaunted. They walk because they have no money, and they are mighty glad to get a lift. Not one of them refused the invitation, and many a one

C.P.S.S. "Empress of Canada."

When, running at an average speed of 20.6 knots, the Canadian Pacific S.S. "Empress of Canada" crossed the Pacific from Yokohama to Vancouver in 8 days, 10 hours and 53 minutes, she established a new trans-Pacific record. The "Empress of Russia," of the same line, which has held the record since 1914 is now forced to relinquish her time of 8 days, 15 hours and 31 minutes actual sailing time, in favor of the larger Empress. The "Empress of Canada" has a gross tonnage of 22,000 tons, and is arranged to carry about 3,769 passengers, all classes, and a crew of 500 men. Her equipment is the latest word in modern travel comfort, and on account of her speed, appointments and seaworthiness, she has been chosen to make a "Round-the-World" cruise of 30,000 miles, leaving New York in January next, with over 500 globe-trotters.

we passed up simply because there was no more room in the car." Hartnett said that of nearly 200 to whom he gave a lift, thirty were college graduates, young women on pleasure hikes to the Colorado mountains and eighteen were waitresses or servants seeking new jobs. The rest were girls and women bound to the movies. Of men, there were about twice as many, in age from 18 to 60 years. A few of these were college students on vacation jaunts, and the rest were laborers or hoboes, with one man who had just been released from a prison.

J. A. Poulson Demonstrates to Boys With His 11x10-Foot Rocket—Says He's World Champion.

AT 76 FLIES KITE
2 1-2 MILES IN AIR

Judges were just picking the winner in the annual Jersey City boys' kite-flying contest held recently at West Side County Park, near the Hackensack waterfront, when suddenly some eye, keener than the others, discovered an "outlaw" kite poised higher by far than any the boys were flying. It was a mere speck seen only in occasional glints when the sun picked it out against the blue.

Yesterday the old man, James A. Poulson, of 21 Dor Avenue, Jamaica, and storekeeper in a U. S. bonded warehouse at 71 South Street, Manhattan, was beamed by Jersey City on invitation of the kite contest officials. Before a breathless audience of grand-children Mr. Poulson gave a demonstration of high kite flying as he had perfected it in the seventy years he had been at it, man and boy. When, despite the youngsters' pleading, he had to pack his prize 11 x 10 ft. kite, Rocket, his Eddy box kite, his collapsible kite coverings, his folding reel any angle might have envied and the other features of his wizardry he dropped that he was "world's champion kite flyer" and challenged all comers. There were none to say him nay.

Mr. Poulson first explained how the Chinese had invented kites to send messages to bad spirits. He showed the boys his reel, plainly a priced improvement, which had a capacity of five miles of kite string. He regretted he had only time to load with a two-and-a-half mile length yesterday. He beamed as he displayed the 11-footer Rocket, "that always brought home the bacon," as fine upstanding a kite as ever a boy saw, to judge from the building eyes around him. He showed an Eddy box kite. He said he had a sentimental interest in this kite, because he had met and talked with its inventor, a quarter of a century before during experiments along that same hack, which had a capacity of five miles of kite string. He reminded that this contrivance, which was approved during the Spanish War, had contributed importantly to the theory of flight. This developed in part through the Wright Brothers into the modern airplane. Not an instructor in physics but would have given coin of the realm to have got the boys' rapt attention for the classroom.

And then the actual flying. Mr. Poulson handed Rocket to a friend, John Musterman, whom he had brought from the warehouse. "You see I've pretty much demoralized all the boys over there on South Street," he smiled. "I've got them all at it—the secret of the air with check, and Sundays till the women folks think there's something wrong with them." He winked wisely. "There's nothing wrong with them, if you know what I mean."

Musterman went down the field, holding the kite with trained fingers by its fragile ribs, tall looped over one shoulder as carefully as though a woman's gown. Frequently he seemed hard put to hold the great kite against what appeared to be almost an instinct to be off and away as it felt the wind. Mr. Poulson explained that this hinted at the lift and buoyancy he had contrived to put into the secret of the extraordinary climbing power Rocket soon revealed.

Poulson holding reel and heavy string waited till Musterman had got the distance. Then, testing the air with his check, he suddenly nodded his head energetically to Musterman. The "mechanic" called the kite into the air with an upward nod, the kite into the air with an upward nod, too fast, just enough to keep string taut. Without a falter the kite swanned into the air, up, up and up. When the kite finally went out of sight overhead Poulson called excitedly: "That's a mile! You can't see 'em after a mile!"

The kite continued till the spinning reel was bare, and that was two and one-half miles. He kept it aloft half an hour. Reeling in, he told that he had been

Hon. Frank Oliver, of Edmonton, who was minister of the interior in the Laurier government from 1905 to 1911, is likely to be appointed to the Senate, to succeed the late Senator Forget, of Banff, it is reported.

In a recent speech in the Senate Chamber he suggested that bills which the Commons could not defeat in the face of public opinion, were handed on to the upper chambers to receive their death warrant. "There is too much disposition on the part of the House of Commons to save its face by putting through this sort of legislation, expecting us to deal with it," he said, in reference to the Anti-Gambling Bill.
