BURGESS SWIMS THE CHANNEL

Feat Performed Only Once Before, In 1875

ALL DAY IN WATER

Successful After Eight Attempts to Cross From England to France—Did Not Make as Good Time as Capt. Webb

London, Sept. 6.—William Burgess, a Yorkshire man, today successfully swam the English channel from Dover to Cap Gris Nez, the swimmer landed at Cape Gris Nez at 10.30 this morning after exactly 24 hours after leaving Dover.

Burgess has been trying for years to emulate the feat of Captain Webb in 1875 and several times he got within a mile of goal only to be swept away by the tide. On this occasion, which Burgess declared his last attempt, he started from South Portland at 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning. A strong tide was flowing and the swimmer had a tough task to get past Goodwin Sands. Four hours after his departure, the swimmer was only six miles on his way.

This was the last heard of him until the news of his success in reaching the French coast arrived here and considerable anxiety was being felt as to his fate. A heavy fog enveloped the channel last night and the crossing steamers failed to sight the swimmer.

Burgess' success in swimming the English channel followed nine plucky unsuccessful attempts to negotiate the narrow span of water between the French and English coasts. Numerous attempts have been made to swim the channel since 1875 when Captain Matthew Webb swam from Dover to Calais in 21 hours and 45 minutes, but no one has been able to duplicate Captain Webb's feat until today.

Burgess made his first try for the honor on September 6, 1904 but gave it up after a struggle of about fifteen hours. The next day he started again but after covering seventeen miles in about nine hours, was forced to abandon his attempt because of a gale. In his subsequent efforts, Burgess each time was forced to abandon the attempt when the goal was almost within his grasp.

The channel between Dover and Cap Gris Nez is only twenty miles wide, but the tide through the straits is very strong and swimmers are obliged to cross at a wide angle.

HON. MR. PUGSLEY IS HOME WITH NEWS OF LIBERAL VICTORY

Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, arrived in the city this morning after a visit to Ottawa on departmental matters, which required his consideration. While in Ottawa and Montreal the minister was well informed, and in a position to know how matters stood in regard to the political outlook, and he had been told by them and had learned from other sources that the indications were that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's government would be re-elected to power with a larger majority than in the last house.

New York, Sept. 6.—With a dapper young Italian believed to be one of the cogitator's master criminals in their hands, the police today spread their nets for the gang of bomb throwers, blackleggers and kidnapers, that have terrorized the Italian settlement here for the last four years.

London, Sept. 6.—An interesting suggestion in regard to the increased cost of living which, like an earthquake has sent a tremor throughout Europe, causing food riots in France, an outcry against the butchers in Belgium and protests against dearer meat and milk in Germany, while it is largely responsible for the labor unrest in England.

MAN DROWNED IN BUTTERMILK

Gilmore, Neb., Sept. 6.—Thomas Iler, a milkman was drowned today in 1,600 gallons of buttermilk. He was bringing a tank containing the buttermilk to the city when the wagon dropped into a depression in the road and overturned. The tank burst and the milk filled the depression. Her was caught beneath the tank.

ENGLISH PEOPLE STRONGLY SUPPORT TRADE AGREEMENT

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 5.—The feature of today's meeting of the British Association, was a paper on the subject of reciprocity between Canada and the United States, read by Charles E. Mallet, ex-financial secretary of the war office, and former member of parliament for Plymouth.

Mr. Mallet strongly approved of the Canadian-American agreement, and declared the suggestion that it would lead to annexation. "The Canadian nationality is far too great a living force today," the speaker said, "to be swallowed up in the United States."

Mr. Mallet maintained that if Great Britain attempted to interfere with the Canadian arrangement the government would not only be violating one of the first maxims of the British Empire, namely, fiscal freedom for the self-governing dominions, but it would "be asking the greatest British colony to turn her back on the greatest market of the world." The speaker argued that anything which increased the national development of Canada would be a source of Imperial strength.

UNLESS RECIPROCITY IS ADOPTED MILLS AT ST. JOHN WILL BE CLOSED

W. J. Noble, a prominent York county lumberman, and hitherto a strong Conservative, has declared for reciprocity. Speaking of the effect of the repeal of the Pike law, he predicted that in three years, unless reciprocity carries, there will not be a stick of American lumber come down the St. John River. He added that last season there was twenty-three million feet of logs cut in Maine for mills in St. John and Fredericton.

More Extensive and Deeper Than Any One Can Remember—Thousands Drowned; Millions Face Starvation

Shanghai, Sept. 6.—The flood caused by the overflow of the Yangtze river is the most extensive and deepest in the memory of man. Nanjing province is submerged to a greater depth than ever before, and widespread famine threatens. Besides the 100,000 persons reported drowned millions are homeless, subsisting on herbs and facing starvation.

BETTER TO THINK IT OVER

Do our manufacturers in Amherst consider the fact that their interests are largely the interests of the grain growers of the west? The merchants of the western towns who buy our Amherst manufactures, sell to the grain growers of the west the goods manufactured here in the east. The prosperity of the west means the prosperity of the east. A great many manufacturers recognizing this fact are supporting the government on the present great issue of reciprocity. We recognize that our factories here are reaching out for the western trade and getting a fair share of it. Will the western buyers who know what they want, wish to buy goods from concerns here in the east whose managers and directors are enemies to their well-being, and who wish to stop Reciprocity?

It's Nothing but a Political Ruse to Try to Defeat Reciprocity---Canadian Trade Paper Sets Out the Only Real Motion Before the House

(Montreal Trade Bulletin) Ignoring entirely the real merits of reciprocity as a purely trade agreement entered into between the governments of the United States and Canada for the sole purpose of extending business in natural products to still greater proportions, the erstwhile promoters of reciprocity, but now inveterate opponents thereof, for the sake of political prestige, place and power, are striving forward extraneous subjects before the electors, which have nothing whatever to do with the main and only motion of the reciprocity, namely reciprocity, or in other words, a big expansion of trade between two neighboring nations.

Of most of us, I wonder, realize, and utilize anywhere near to its full value, the suggestive power of praise?

I know that the girl who was president never the least respected the deliberate intent of her friend's praise. Incidentally, that friend is a girl who is much wondered at for her cleverness in getting people to do what she wants them to do.

Of course you know the beautiful lines--- "Be noble and the nobleness that lies In other men, sleeping but never dead; Shall rise in majesty to meet their own."

Permit me to offer a slightly altered version to point my moral and adorn my tale. "Expect nobility and the nobleness that lies In every man, sleeping but never dead; Shall rise in majesty to meet their own."

The 500th Birthday of St. Andrew's University---The City is the Headquarters of the Royal Game of Golf---A Sketch of Lord Avebury

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)

Lord Balfour of Burlingham, as chancellor, and Lord Avebury, as visitor, will take the leading part in the welcome accorded next week by the great Scotch University of St. Andrew's to the college presidents and professors who are arriving there from all other parts of the civilized world to participate in the celebration of its 500th birthday.

St. Andrew's is the oldest university of George V's northern kingdom. Down to the fourteenth century, education was so low an ebb in the Land of Cakes that Tyler asserts that it was impossible to produce an instance of a Scottish baron able to sign his own name. Whatever instruction the Scots enjoyed, they were compelled until then to obtain in England, where de Balfour laid the foundations of a college at Oxford, still known as Balliol College, in 1283, for the maintenance of poor Scottish students, while thirty years later the Bishop of Moray founded a similar college for Scots in Paris.

It was thereupon determined to institute a university in Scotland, and for this purpose a society was formed by Lawrence of Lindores, Abbot of Soons, Richard (Cornwall), Archbishop of Lothian; William Stephen, Archbishop of Dunblane; and Archbishop Henry de Warlaw of St. Andrew's Cathedral, for the foundation of the University of St. Andrew, which came into existence in the fall of 1413, on the strength of six papal bulls obtained from Benedict XIII., and with the enthusiastic patronage and support of King James I., himself a scholar and a lover of learning.

Its first rector was the Venerable Lawrence of Lindores, mentioned as Abbot of Soons. Among the benefactors of St. Andrew's, have been Pope Nicholas V., Pius II., and Paul III., Archbishop James Kennedy of St. Andrew's, who bestowed upon this seat of learning its great silver mace which is one of the most beautiful examples of artistic workmanship of the fifteenth century; Cardinal Beaton Andrew Melville and Archbishop Alexander Stewart, and the late Marquis of Bute, the "Lothbar" of Lord Beaconsfield's novel, while its students include John Knox, Archibald Campbell, the great Marquis of Argyll, the "admirable" Crichton, Graham of Claverhouse, Sir Robert Murray, founder of the Royal Society; Napier of Merchiston and Lord Playfair, whose American widow, a daughter of Samuel H. Russell, of Boston, still survives. Lord Playfair represented the University of St. Andrew in Parliament for nearly a quarter of a century before being raised by Queen Victoria to the House of Lords on the nomination of his close friend and political chief, Mr. Gladstone.

Scotland's Patron Saint

It was singularly fitting that Scotland's premier university should be located in St. Andrew's, for, from the dawn of the Iron Age, until the middle ages, the city was the seat of the primacy of the entire Roman Catholic church in Scotland. It originally bore the name of Kilrymno, but after St. Regulus or Rule, the Bishop of Falnes, Achens, had been driven from the Levant bearing the relics of St. Andrew, the name of the city was changed to St. Andrew's. St. Andrew was buried somewhere in the neighborhood of the site of the cathedral, but all trace thereof has been long lost.

of particular interest, as the "Mecca of Golf," largely because the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, founded in 1754, is recognized all the world over as the supreme legislative authority on everything concerning the game. It was at St. Andrew's, too, that John Knox first preached for several hundred years, that he delivered, on June 4, 1550, the famous sermon which led to the striking of all the cathedrals, and to the destruction of all monastic buildings and ecclesiastical art treasures throughout the length and breadth of Scotland. There is one feature of St. Andrew's University, now I understand, abolished, but which prevailed for several hundred years, namely, the refusal to allow any vacations, because "they only fostered the avarice of professors, encouraged the idleness of youth, and added to the irremediableness of obedience." Lord Balfour, of Burlingham, the Chancellor of St. Andrew's and who, huge in stature and majestic in bearing presents in Canada to admit of more than passing mention here. The rector, Lord Avebury, is better known here by his former name of Sir John Lubbock, and has many American connections and friends, one of his daughters being the widow of Ferdinand Van Zandt of New York. By the working classes, and in this category I include everybody that has to work for a living whether at a desk or with a pick, Lord Avebury has been canonized under the name of "Saint Lubbock," in recognition of his initiation and championship of the movement whereby a law was enacted in 1871, providing for a whole holiday on Whist Monday and on the first Monday in August.

New Brunswick's independent newspapers. These papers advocate British connection, honesty in public life. Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion. No graft! No deals! The Shamrock, Thistle, Rose entwined the Maple Leaf forever.

THE HUMBING CAMPAIGN

In short, I firmly believe in humbug generally, or it's a thing that I perceive to be a solid ally. These lines are especially applicable to Conservatives in Canada in this campaign. They are trying to humbug the people.

The Times yesterday challenged Mr. Borden to say whether he personally believed reciprocity would lead to annexation. He did not accept the challenge. He waved the flag, appealed to the memory of the Loyalists, appealed to prejudice about British connection, quoted from President Taft, but declined to say what he personally believed what he was trying to make the people believe. Mr. Borden knows as well as any of his supporters that if he made any such assertion in his own behalf it would come up against him in the future, when reciprocity has increased the prosperity of Canada, and her people are more warmly devoted than ever to the Empire.

Aside from the efforts made to inflame the people against a friendly neighbor, and to frighten the citizens with baseless assertions about loss of trade for the part of St. John, there was nothing worthy of note in last night's Borden demonstration. The faithful cheered the leader, but the crowd in the streets to hear the bands and see the torches did not cheer. They were merely curious to see the parade, which was a parade of dyed-in-the-wool Tories. The speeches were chiefly remarkable for the fact that Mr. Powell of the Dominion of the others that reciprocity would bring the trade of St. John. To that extent Mr. Powell refuses to join in the effort to humbug the people.

The speeches, the transparencies and the display of flags were all designed for the dual purpose of creating prejudice and rousing fear. No party can hope to win such senseless appeals to a self-respecting people.

THE TIMES AND MR. POWELL

If he is correctly reported in the Standard, Recorder Baxter has borne false witness against this paper. The Standard in its report of last night's meeting quotes Mr. Baxter as saying that Mr. Powell was receiving an amount of "scandalous attention" from the "evening Saphira," which is Mr. Baxter's newest name for the Times.

The files of this paper are open to Mr. Baxter. He is hereby challenged to produce from them one "scandalous" reference by the Times to Mr. Powell. In fairness he should do that or apologize. Why should the Times make scurrilous attacks on Mr. Powell? He is helping this paper to undo the mischief which Mr. Borden, Dr. Daniel and others are trying to do. They are loudly shouting that under reciprocity the trade of St. John will be ruined. Mr. Powell contradicted them since before, and he did it again last night.

Here is what he said: "Here is the funnel through which the trade of Canada must pour. Whether Liberals or Conservatives are returned to power everything necessary to handle the trade at St. John will be done."

Thanks, Mr. Powell. You have put Mr. Borden, Dr. Daniel, Mr. Baxter, and all the rest of them out of court.

MR. MAXWELL DIDN'T ANSWER

Mr. Robert Maxwell referred last night to the question which the Times asked Mr. Borden. The latter was asked to answer, yes or no, whether he believed reciprocity would lead to annexation. Mr. Maxwell undertook to answer it, but did not do so. He dare not say yes or no. He quoted some remarks which were made by President Taft, but omitted to quote the president's statement that any talk about annexation was "boob." Mr. Maxwell is a wretched waver of the flag, but he is not all impressive when he dodges the issue. Canada could only be annexed to the United States by force or by consent. Would Mr. Maxwell consent? Never! Would Canada be conquered while Mr. Maxwell was here to lead against the foe? No! He thought! Why, then, should he be implored not to vote to change their flag? Who is talking about a change of flag? Mr. Maxwell's and Mr. Borden's friend Bourassa, who wants to see the tricolor waving on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

These flag wavers are a fine set of humbugs, and they will be dealt with as they deserve on Sept. 21st.

After all the noise and shouting the United States is our neighbor for three thousand miles, and will be for all time. Why should any Canadian be foolish enough to try to create prejudice and embitter the relations of the two countries?

TONIGHT'S MEETING

There will be no bogeys at Queen's Rink tonight. On the contrary there will be a calmly reasoned statement to show why Canada should accept the offer of a larger free market at her doors for products for which she has always been seeking better markets; and also a statement of the reasons why St. John should send to Ottawa two supporters of a government which has recognized the just claims of this national port, and has made and is making very large expenditures to provide the facilities to handle an ever increasing business.

Dr. Pugsley has served his constituents faithfully; and as minister of public works has aided to develop a transportation policy which looks to the future and to the interests of every portion of this growing country. The country was never so prosperous as now, and the government opens the door to still greater prosperity, especially in the maritime provinces.

With Dr. Pugsley tonight will be Mr. James Lowell, a tried and faithful representative of the people in the past; and Dr. Silas Alward, who has refused to follow his party in an abandonment of the principles of its great leaders.

Those who go to the Queen's Rink this evening will hear a more cheerful message than the sad wail of the woful wobblers of last night.

Those who were at the Queen's Rink last night heard Dr. Pugsley attacked. Fair-minded people will desire to go tonight to the same place to hear his answer.

Dr. Daniel classes Canada with Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines. What happened to them must happen to us. Dr. Daniel insults the Canadian people when he makes such a comparison.

Mr. Borden's speech last night was a great disappointment to his followers. It was not a fighting speech. The leader was evidently weary with his task. What Mr. Borden needs, as someone said the other day, is help.

Dr. Alward will speak at the Queen's Rink tonight in favor of reciprocity. Dr. Alward will not be regarded as a man willing to sacrifice his country or its flag. He stands by the principles of the really great men of the Conservative party of the past.

The citizens of St. John resent the character of the Tory campaign. It is a gross insult to their loyalty and their intelligence. It suggests that in the minds of the Tory leaders there is a lurking suspicion that the people cannot be trusted to trade with their neighbors, first because they are not clever enough, and second because their loyalty is not sound.

All of the people who were in the Queen's Rink last evening, and all who listened outside to the speakers, did not nearly equal in numbers the crowd at Victoria Rink to hear Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and that was a rainy night, while last night was exceptionally fine. The affair last night was a successful party rally. To say that it was more would be ridiculous.

To the great horror of several persons on the platform, Mr. Borden said at the Queen's Rink last night: "I realize that there will always be camp followers, always be men whose desire it is to plunge their hands and their arms as far as possible into the public chest." Greatly to their relief, Mr. Borden did not name any of them, or ask them to stand up.

A Conservative meeting that did not produce sneers and jeers and slighting remarks about Dr. Pugsley would have no joy for the faithful. And yet, under Dr. Pugsley's direction $2,000,000 has been spent in development of St. John harbor in the last four years, and further great developments are in progress or projected. What did the Conservatives do for the port of St. John? Recorder Baxter tells what the city itself was compelled to do—but what did the Tory government ever do? This is a reasonable question.

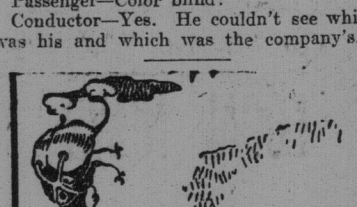

Dr. Daniel is even more gloomy than he was in 1908. Then he trembled for St. John. Now he trembles for the Empire. But St. John has made very satisfactory progress since 1908, both in trade and in new facilities for handling trade. There will be much greater progress in the next three years, aided by the Laurier government and directed by Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Lowell. Remembering Dr. Daniel's gloom in 1908, the people will discount his present jeremiad.

Muddled. "Can you tell me (his) where B-Brown the schoolmaster, lives, miss?" "Why, you're Mr. Brown, sir." "Yes, but, hang it all, I don't know where I am."

Rev. G. A. Lawson, Moncton, has returned after a short holiday. He occupied his pulpit last Sunday.
Rev. L. A. Fenwick of Kewick, N. B., has been spending a short vacation at his old home, Millstream, Kent county.
Rev. J. H. McDonald, D.D., Fredericton, who has been a few weeks in St. John and vicinity will return to his work this week.
Dr. DeWolfe, principal of Acadia Seminary, preached at the anniversary service of the First Cornwallis Baptist church, Upper Canada, on Sunday, 27th ult.
Rev. W. C. Goucher, of St. Stephen, passed through the city Friday, returning after a three weeks' vacation in Nova Scotia. He feels refreshed by his holiday. The work in his church goes on steadily. The last year was a good one. Just now the church is undergoing some repairs.
Rev. J. N. Barnes made a call at this office a few days ago. His health is so much improved that he is preaching nearly every Sunday. Last Sunday he was at Baywater, and this week he goes to L'Etang to spend a few days in Christian work. For a man past four score he is remarkably active.
Rev. J. Menzies Love, Hopewell, Albert county, who has been under treatment in the hospital in this city for several weeks, left the institution a few days ago. He feels that his eyes are little, if any, improved. He intends going to England at once for treatment. His brethren will hope and pray that he may find the help he seeks and be soon able to take up his work.

THE FACTS OF THE CASE

What Reciprocity Means Put in a Few Plain Words Which Should Settle Any Misconceptions and Win Every Present Opponent's Vote

The Westmount Liberal Club has sent out the following circular dealing with reciprocity: "Much misconception appears to exist concerning the proposals for reciprocal trade with the United States. To dissipate this misconception and to invite your attention to a consideration of the real facts of the case are the objects of this letter. 'First of all, the tariff on manufactured goods, broadly speaking, remains untouched. The proposals in the main only affect natural products and to a lesser degree secondary foodstuffs. 'The interchange of livestock, great and small, of wheat, barley, oats and rye, hay and straw, of butter, cheese, milk and cream, is made absolutely free between Canada and the United States. Trade in fish and in rough lumber is also made free. Any possible increase of price to the consumer is offset by reductions in the duty on flour, meats, fresh and cured, fruit and vegetables. 'Our manufacturers of barb wire and cream separators, whose home market is now free to American competition, will receive the benefit of a reciprocal reduction in the duty on coal. 'The benefit which our farmers, fishermen and lumbermen will receive from a free entry into the American market will be shared by the manufacturing and distributing classes of the dominion. 'We hold fast to British connections because of our sentiment and our blood, and because we believe that British industries are the best in the world. We buy and sell on entirely different grounds, viz: and sell where we can get the best value for our money. That people should imagine that the sentiment of loyalty can be strengthened by running counter to acknowledged principles of business is a mischievous absurdity.

THE WATER SYSTEM.
Referring to the proposal to return to the double system of water supply, citizens who claim to have knowledge of the conditions assets that no such return should be taken till a committee has gone over the route, and that a return to the old system would harm the city water from a region that would pollute it and make it unfit for use.

Rousing Rally for Liberal Candidates and Reciprocity—Doors Will be Opened at 7 O'Clock

The doors of the Queen's Rink will be open at 7 o'clock this evening so that the ladies and gentlemen intending to be present may secure good seats before the commencement of the speaking programme. The chair will be taken at 8 o'clock and the speakers will be Hon. William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, James Lowell, M. P., and Dr. Silas Alward.

A rousing Liberal rally is expected. The reciprocity question will be thoroughly discussed and the exaggerated statements and misconstructions of the Conservative meeting in the same building last night refuted. A particularly interesting feature of the speaking programme will be the address of Dr. Silas Alward, a well known Conservative, who has found it necessary for the sake of St. John and the maritime provinces to give his whole hearted support to the Liberal cause.

Throughout the city the Liberal party is thoroughly well organized. Every ward room is a beehive of industry nightly and the close attention to detail in making preparations for polling day augurs well for the success of the party. There is absolute cohesion and enthusiasm on all sides, a spirit which marks the series of public meetings as well which are being held throughout the city and the county.

AUGUST DEATH LIST LENGTHY

Total is Ninety-Eight, Including Forty Seven Children Under Five Years of Age—The Statistics

The board of health figures and the statistics of Dr. G. G. Melvin, medical inspector, showed ninety-eight deaths in the city during August. Of the number forty-seven were deaths of children under five years. The following cases of "notifiable" disease were reported as occurring in the city during August:—Diphtheria, 4; scarlet fever, 4; typhoid fever, 11; tubercular disease, 8. The following table gives the usual mortality statement for the month. It is calculated upon an estimated population of 42,284, ten and one-half years from the census of 1911.

The death rate is comparatively high, partially because of the abnormally low rate in July. Although the deaths of children under five is large, yet the number of the class of deaths from intestinal complaints is not excessive which is looked upon as a matter for satisfaction. The totals for June and July last, are here given for comparison:

Age Group	M. F.	Total	From Notifiable Diseases

5-14	1	1	28

PHILADELPHIA FIRM WRITE COMMON COUNCIL AND REPRESENTATIVE HAS CONSULTATION WITH BOARD OF TRADE

The common council this afternoon will have much to do regarding the establishment of a new industry in St. John, namely the erection of a factory to be established by the Philadelphia Co., of Philadelphia for the manufacture of shelled coconut and the canning of tropical fruits. A letter has been forwarded to the council in connection with the matter, asking for information regarding the lease of the property to be offered by the city for the lease of certain lots desired for building purposes and, explaining that the company would establish themselves in St. John if circumstances were favorable. Baker Co. send to Canada much of the canned fruit which is sold here and they look upon St. John as being a good city for the conducting of business in this line. The market is thought to be very encouraging. One of the members of the firm is a consultant with W. E. Anderson of the board of trade some days ago relative to the matter but was called on by town hurriedly before he had time to do much with it.

A citizen conversant with such matters, speaking to a Times reporter this morning said that he was of the opinion that St. John did not offer inducements to the smaller industries which might establish themselves here, in the same way that more bustling cities did. There was no reason, he thought, why this should be so, as the prospects for any ambitious concern were very good, and if the inducements were offered them that they would be exempt from taxation for possibly five years and were granted a site free for that time, the chances were that more smaller factories and industries would be started here, employing from 50 to 100 men.

MARRIED THIS MORNING

Robert I. Cawley and Miss Edith Ramsey Principals in Happy Event

Holy Trinity church was the scene of a very pretty event this morning when Miss Edith Teresa Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ramsey of Rockland Road was united in marriage to Robert I. Cawley, bookkeeper with J. C. Macintosh & Co., stockholders of this city. The ceremony was performed at 6.15 o'clock. Only relatives were guests, but friends of the bride gathered to witness the ceremony. Rev. J. J. Walsh, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride was given away by her father and the witnesses to the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kirkpatrick of Plaster Rock. Mrs. Kirkpatrick being the bride's sister. The bride was very becomingly attired in a pale blue serge suit with large black picture hat adorned with plumes, and carried a large bouquet of sweet peas. Mrs. Kirkpatrick wore a pretty dress of robin egg blue with a large picture hat to match.

After the wedding the party drove to the home of the bride's parents in Rockland Road where a tempting wedding breakfast was served. The dining table was beautifully set. The bride and groom and snail. After breakfast the party left for the D. A. Hotel, where Mr. and Mrs. Cawley took passage on the steamer Prince Rupert. They will take a trip through the Annapolis Valley and other parts of Nova Scotia, and on their return will reside at 277 Rockland Road.

Both young people are well known socially in the city and have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness in their married life. Many presents were received including several checks for substantial amounts as well as remembrances in cut glass.
