GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

Cadets and Scouts Are Interested

At Imperial Theatre tomorrow afternoon and again in the evening at 8:30 the crack company of Cadets from Woodstock will give an exhibition of their military gymnastics, including tumbling, pyramiding, etc. on the stage of Imperial Theatre. This same show has been given in the upper part of the province with great success. Capt. D. V. Palm, a seasoned soldier who has trained the boys, will be in charge. The Imperial is presenting this extra feature along with its fine programme which includes Louise Curtis, operatic soprano—so that those associated with boy work in this city and the Cadets, Scouts, and themselves may catch a new inspiration from the splendid showing of the lads from Carleton county who are passing through from the Sussex camp.

Imperial Theatre's Extraordinary Bill

A show we couldn't beat in the winter season.

TWO LEAGUE TO MEET TONIGHT

Baseball fans throughout the city today were discussing the happenings in the "Two League" over the week-end. The double effort of Fredericton seemed to be appreciated but because of the fact that the team was not popular, but because they had secured such a commanding lead in the championship race as to threaten it.

With the disbanding of the Quincy team the following members returned to Boston on the S. S. Governor Dingley on Saturday evening: Corrigan, Morton, Fleming and Barnard. Rosellard, who played second-base, left for St. Stephen this morning to join the St. Stephen team in the Border Town League. Trumbull, who played short stop for the team, and Pat Callahan, one of the pitching staff, are still in the city up to noon today but not landed with any other club. Mauro and Nolan are with Millon in the Border Town League, and Murray is with Fredericton.

A meeting of the League executive will be held this evening at which matters pertaining to the disbanding of the Quincy team, the schedule for the remainder of the season and other resolutions will be taken up. It was not known today what action would be taken regarding the games played with Quincy. The members of the G. W. V. A. team returned to the city last evening from Moncton where they had received a 3-8 tie last Saturday evening. The boys were not offering any excuses, but did not think they had received fair treatment from the umpires. They said that even the home fans resented some of the decisions and cried out to give the visitors a chance.

RAIL REMOVED FROM SYDNEY LINE

Discovery Before Passenger Express Arrived

Troops Patrol Railway from Glace Bay to Sydney—Boy Arrested on Charge of Tampering With a Switch

(Canadian Press) Sydney, N. S., July 16.—A rail was removed from the Sydney and Louisburg Railway near Dominion No. 1 through the night by persons unknown. The removal was discovered before the Sydney to Louisburg express, a passenger train, came along and the train hands put it back into place. The line from Glace Bay to Sydney is being patrolled by troops.

As the coal company plans continuous movement of coal from the pit at No. 2 mine, interference with the railway is looked to as one of the most serious of possible developments in the strike situation.

Work commenced on the re-starting of No. 7 blast furnace and four open hearth furnaces at the steel plant today.

Archie McInnes, a sixteen-year-old boy, was arrested by civil police officers near Dominion No. 1 while in the act, the police say, of putting iron into a switch of the Sydney and Louisburg Railway. He was turned over to the provincial police. The arrest was made near where a rail was removed through the night.

Rotary Club

That New Brunswick is the only province or state was being by law all bread must be wrapped; that in Toronto 95 per cent of the bread used is baker's bread, and in Halifax about 85 per cent; that a new process has been developed which greatly expedites the baking process and is to be tried by a St. John bakery this week, were some of the statements made by Rotarian Fred Myles in a most interesting talk at today's luncheon. His subject was Modern Methods of Baking; and he made the talk most interesting by discussing it in a simple and clear manner, avoiding technical terms.

Arch. Tapley was in the chair, and A. F. Blake gave a two minute talk on Rotary. Canon Armstrong read District Governor Spangler's first official letter, praised it, and declared amid applause that Dr. Spangler would find his own club at his back to a man.

R. D. Paterson reported that the running track on the large Allison playground had been completed, rolled, and marked out by white posts. Part of the field was becoming covered with grass but another part was bare because of the heavy rain.

He said there was hope of such an arrangement as would give the grass a chance to grow and also to have the Harry Champlover was present today for a long absence through illness, and was given a great reception. KEATINGS KILLS MOSQUITOES AND FLIES

BURN IT TO KILL MOSQUITOES AND FLIES

Some authorities say 90% of all headaches are caused by eyestrain; no authority puts it less than 70%. Leave it to Keatings, your own experience, when getting a headache you close your eyes, don't you?

Of the twelve pairs of nerves in the skull, six have some connection with the eye. No vision is possible until the optic nerves get the dull ache from eyestrain occurs in any part of the head. So when defective eyes are called upon to do the work required by modern life, the tired optic muscles set up pain along the nerves connecting with the other parts of the head.

One Sentenced; Stay in Other Case

Two cases under speedy trials were dealt with this morning in the County Court by His Honor Judge Barry, a sentence of six months being imposed upon John C. Gardner on a charge of bigamy and sentence being deferred upon George McCarthy on a charge of theft of a coat. Neither was represented by counsel.

In the case of McCarthy His Honor said he was taking into consideration that he had already been sentenced to six months by the court below on another charge. The police had recommended no further sentence. He would defer sentence upon him with the understanding that if he neglected his children or drank liquor within a year he would be liable to be brought up again for sentence.

Gardner pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy. The court said that the serious element in connection with this charge had been removed by the admission of the woman that she knew Gardner was married when she went through the ceremony with him. However, he had neglected his wife and children, so much so it was said that there was little chance of a reconciliation. His Honor gave sentence of six months in the county jail with hard labor.

TRAFFIC LAWS IMPORTANT

Two traffic cases postponed from Saturday were disposed of in the police court this morning. R. E. Atwood was charged with driving past a standing street car while passengers were alighting and P. Carter was charged with driving on the wrong side of the street. Magistrate Henderson said he had to deal with that offenders considered the traffic laws among the most important of the laws with which he had to deal and that offenders might expect to be treated with more or less severity because of that fact. In the present cases, however, he would allow the two accused to go without a fine, but the offense was not to be repeated.

PRINCE OF WALES RECEIVED OVERCOAT TOO SOON

London, July 15.—(By mail)—An amusing story about an over-ardent official, a ready-made overcoat and the Prince of Wales is told by The London Tailor and Cutter. The Prince went to Leeds and it was arranged that the Lord Mayor should present the overcoat on behalf of the Leeds Wholesale Clothing Association. When the moment for the presentation

Both the Lord Mayor and the Clothing Association, says the Journal, are seriously grieved about the undignified method of presentation.

TARIFFS AND WHEAT.

The decline of wheat to a dollar a bushel last week gave that portion of the American press which is opposed to a high tariff a rare chance to pour ridicule on those who assured the people the tariff would protect the wheat grower. Senator McCumber, one of the authors of the tariff, said a year ago: "A duty of thirty cents a bushel on wheat will sometimes give us thirty cents a bushel better than the world's level of price, and sometimes make it not more than half of that, but it will be between those two rates."

Even President Harding said recently in Kansas, regarding the emergency tariff which preceded the present one, that although agricultural prices declined they did not go as low as they would have gone but for the tariff. The Grain Futures Trading Act was also expected to help the farmer by stabilizing and sustaining prices, but the price of wheat has gone down twenty-five cents a bushel since the Supreme Court sustained that act. Hence the New York Times gaily observes:

"Wheat is possessed by a devil, an anti-Republican devil. It goes down when it ought to go up; down to less than a dollar a bushel, down below the average price of ten, fourteen or fifteen years ago, though everything the farmer buys has gone up 50 or 60 per cent. What's the matter? Where is the Hon. Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota and the tariff that fell from heaven?"

"The Times is careful to say it does not mean the Senator McCumber of fourteen years ago, for he said: 'The wheat acreage today is producing a surplus of wheat which must be thrown into the world's market, there by keeping down the price of the home product, tariff or no tariff.' The Times also quotes 'Old Knute Nelson,' who used to say that 'the price of our wheat is fixed by the export price and no duty up to this time has helped us.' The sanity of these views is now made apparent, and The Times goes on—

"Apparently no argument is now left to the farm bloc statesmen. Dumb they sit, while the glorious work of their hands is reaped in Minnesota and many other States and while the price of wheat sags and sinks, in spite of all that enhancing or stabilizing thirty-cent duty."

It was most unfortunate that wheat should go to a dollar in Minneapolis last week, when an election for a seat in the Senate takes place today. The Republican candidate is compelled to make fear of the Farmer-Labor party his chief basis of appeal to the electors. He cannot talk tariff to a people who are staring at dollar wheat. Ever since the high tariff was adopted the American farmers have been learning that false hopes were held out to them, and there are said to be signs of a reaction in feeling; for, while the high tariff has not brought better prices for what they have to sell, it has kept up or increased the price of goods they have to buy. The Minnesota election today has a national interest because of what it may indicate in regard to western sentiment toward the Republican party. There are three candidates in the field—Republican, Farmer-Labor and Democratic. Outside talent was imported and a violent contest waged.

With regard to the price of wheat, the Montreal Gazette in the following paragraph shows how futile are all artificial efforts to fix and maintain a price for an article the production of which fluctuates so much from year to year and in different periods of years—

"Wheat of standard market grade has sold at Chicago within the past two days at a dollar a bushel, and even less. The conditions that brought such a situation about are not out of the ordinary. The main one is that the production of grain in the northern hemisphere has been growing faster than the consumptive demand, and the promise is that the harvest to be reaped within the next two months will be above the average in quantity. Nothing in the ordinary course of events is likely to greatly advance prices in the early future, or even in the remote future. The effect of war time conditions has passed, in so far as the stimulated demand for foodstuffs is concerned. Europe is producing at about the old-time rate, and other continents are raising as much or more than before 1914. It was well put the other day by a banking commentator that the price of wheat from day to day in central markets is a consensus of world opinion as to its value, with all the factors in the situation taken into account."

The farmer would not be concerned about a decline in the price of his products if there were a corresponding decline in his expenses; but, unhappily for him, that is not the case. Therefore he is aggrieved, and in the United States they are wondering what of it. The farmer's economic conditions he cannot control may have upon the fortunes of the Republican party.

A MUTUAL PLEASURE.

The welcome extended to Governor Cox of Massachusetts and Mrs. Cox on Saturday morning by St. John citizens has been followed by two days of most agreeable entertainment, in which the distinguished visitors have been enabled to enjoy the picturesque scenery of the region about the city itself, and the loveliness of a portion of the St. John and Kenebecasis valleys. They would be most impressed, however, by the personal contact with a kindred people whose thoughts and language run parallel with their own, and whose traditions, except in regard to the War of the Revolution, are the same or very similar. Governor Cox and his wife remained his auditors at the Union Club luncheon that in Massachusetts are seventy thousand people who are natives or the descendants of natives of New Brunswick. That is a movement which still continues, because when times are dull here and in New England it is not difficult to take advantage of the tariff condition; and of those who go there are always some who remain. Especially in this case where a whole family makes the change of residence. But St. John and the province have also attracted American citizens in times past, and they have helped to develop our industries. More of them will undoubtedly come on the same errand, and it should be possible to develop such a tourist traffic this way in summer that many thousands of visitors would come each season, and some of them discover industrial opportunities while they absorbed health and enjoyed a pleasurable holiday.

Personally, Governor Cox and Mrs. Cox have made a fine impression upon our people, and all who met them will retain pleasing memories of this visit. It was most appropriate that Premier Veniot should be here to extend a provincial as well as a personal welcome to the Canadian Club of Boston who are greatly indebted for having so successfully urged the Governor to break his journey to Pictou by a two-day stay in St. John. Such visits tend to make Canada and her neighbor better friends.

New York Herald:—"The real secret of London's continued supremacy as the world's financial centre is the perfected machinery of its money market. Its marvellous discount market, its expert appraisal and knowledge of world markets for goods of practically every kind, its complete and tested system of insurance, and, largely as a result of all this, its low interest rates—these are the things that have kept London's position relatively secure. These constitute a machine that cannot be built up overnight. It is the result not only of the lifelong training of the individual British banker, but

Let the student of Nature in rapture descend
On the heaven's cerulean hue;
Let the Lover indulge in poetical rapture,
When the eyes of his mistress are blue.

But all high your glass—fill, fill to the brim,
I've a different toast to propose;
While such eyes, and such skies, still
Are heaving for him,
Here's a health to the jolly Blue Nose.

Let the Frenchman delight in his vine-covered vales,
Let the Greek toast his old classic ground,
Here's the land where the bracing
Northwester prevails,
And where jolly Blue Notes abound.

Long—long may it flourish, fill to the brim,
Loved and honored by hearts that are true;
But, should ever a foe chance his nose
To show here,
He shall find all our Notes true Blue.

An Unworthy Suggestion.

A countryman went to London to visit some relatives and to see the sights. He remained until patience upon the part of his hosts, a married couple, had ceased to be a virtue. "Don't you think, my dear fellow," remarked the husband one day, "that your wife and children must miss you?"
"No doubt. Thanks for the suggestion. I'll send for them."—London Answers.

AN INVESTMENT IN BRAINS.

(New York Tribune)
The Canadian Premier's proposal to give Dr. F. G. Banning, who discovered the value of insulin in the treatment of diabetes, and annuity of $75,000 has been adopted by the Canadian Parliament. Enabling a physician whose industry and ability wrought so effectively for humanity to continue his research would alone be worth more than a living by private practice is not merely a reward for a great service—it is an actual investment in brains.

This is done well in America by the Rockefeller Institute, but the Government could well afford to extend and enlarge it. There are many able physicians in this country by talent and disposition are excellently fitted for research work who cannot afford to follow it because of the necessity of keeping the wolf away.

If every physician with a bent for research knew that an important discovery would remove forever the necessity of building up a big private practice, there would be more incentive for the kind of laboratory work which has resulted in the discovery of insulin's efficacy as a cure for diabetes.

"The cost of such a system of research would be small compared with its incalculable value to the nation. The discovery of a means of combating cancer would alone be worth more than all the money Congress could appropriate to pay physicians for their studies, and to reward them fittingly when they have found a means of conquering it."

BEAVERS ON TRIAL.

Some Say They Help Adirondack Trout Streams, Others Dispute It.

A study of the beaver problem in the Adirondacks published recently by the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University gives the following opinions on the question whether the operations of beavers interfere with fish life in trout streams.

Dr. Charles E. Johnson, far naturalist with the Roosevelt Wild Life Experiment Station of the College of Forestry, stated the northern section of Herkimer and Hamilton counties, known as the beaver belt of the Adirondacks. There appears to be proof that beaver dams benefit trout life, and that the beaver, when considered in the divergence of opinion on this subject, find their broken dam to be a little too seriously. Certainly an encounter with a log boom should not break hearts, and what the family has more reason than ever to be proud of Mr. Hoover.

COKE FOR THE FURNACE.

(Toronto Globe)
Among substitutes for anthracite coke should not be neglected. The president of the British Empire Steel Corporation says that there are seams in Nova Scotia that will make a satisfactory coke. Ovens, he says, can be built in Quebec, Montreal and Toronto, where gas, tar, creosote, benzol and other by-products could be utilized.

A proper assessment of these coke substitutes would permanently provide a substitute for a large portion of foreign produced anthracite used in Canada. It would make Canada more self-contained and less dependent upon the United States. It would keep a large amount of money in Canada that is now spent outside, and would decrease the output of coal would assist in reducing the average cost of producing all bituminous coal in Canada.

On account of the by-products, coke ought to be sold at a much lower price than anthracite, an advantage which has not hitherto been enjoyed by users of this fuel in Toronto.

CHLORINE HALTS INFLUENZA.

Successful Experiments With Gas on University of Arkansas Students

Tests indicating that chlorine is a successful preventive of influenza have been made at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark., the American Chemical Society announced. Nine hundred tests were made on 300 students and faculty members who for five minutes daily inhaled air containing a small quantity of chlorine.

A decrease in influenza cases from 133 a thousand to 44 a thousand was the result, it was stated. It was suggested by the investigators that experiments be made on the possibility of the use of chlorine and other gases in the treatment of similar diseases.

A PEEP INTO THE FUTURE.

(United States Public Health Service) (Montreal Gazette.)
The French Chamber of Deputies has, by the substantial vote of 460 to 105, ratified the Washington treaty for the limitation of naval armaments and capital ships. But the French Government has the other hand increasing its air strength to 1,400 battle planes. Great Britain has about one-third of this number actually effective and many of these are mobilized in Palestine, Mesopotamia and elsewhere. The English Channel, that separates the two countries, is a narrow strip of water from twenty-one to twenty-seven miles broad. The narrow part are therefore little protection against a menace by air from the continent of Europe. Prime Minister Baldwin has pointed out the need, in view of the changing conditions, of the absolute necessity for a hundred per cent. British increase of fighting strength in the air in order to supplement British diplomacy, which has been trying to successfully hold France within the bounds of reason in respect of armaments. Britain is matching France plane for plane and gun for gun; fifteen years ago Germany was trying to create a high speed fleet that would match Britain's grand fleet, keep for keel and gun for gun. The world repeats its follies. France, fearful of Germany's naval supremacy in the air, and Great Britain, recognizing these armaments are not directed against her as was Germany's navy, is overdoing another world conference on the limitation of armaments. The submarine and the battleship escaped attention at Washington, so that the next conference should deal with the snakes of the sea and the hornets of the air. The gunfire of a world war has no more ceased to echo until the world is starting slipping into its old and evil ruts. Jugo-Slavia has purchased a navy. What, for it may well be said, is the use of nations are equipped themselves as of old—living in fear actually of fighting any other day. It is truly amazing and altogether unwise that there is not seemingly wisdom enough in the world to bring about an aerial and a submarine halt on the part of the nations. There is the ending of a race in new armaments by air and underwater, and the value of the admirable work as Washington would be great impaired if it cannot be supplemented by corresponding agreements to avert competition for predominance in the air. The electric far-reaching regulations designed to minimize the horrors of aerial warfare have been recently framed by a committee of jurists and jurists transmitted to the respective big powers. All aircraft is affected, and the same regulations apply to the German and the Germans in the late war which were at the time dubbed barbarous. Aerial bombing is prohibited against civilian populations for terrorism purposes. The destruction of towns, villages and areas not in the immediate neighborhood of operations is banned; the destruction of property not of a military character forbidden. But when war begins, all such rules will be disregarded.

A GOOD SPORTSMAN.

(New York Tribune)
Walter M. Hoover of Duluth, will not bring home the Diamond Sculls from Henley, as he did last year, but in losing the preliminary heat he gave a fine example of pluck and sportsmanship. Almost at the start he caught an ear in the log boom bounding the course. A hundred yards further he was again entangled with the boom and split his ear blade. His opponent sped far ahead, instead of giving up. Hoover, with his broken oar and actually near a dozen lengths when the winner crossed, held on until the end of the race. He was well cheered by the Henley onlookers for his stout heart and his gallant rally. His remark on the finish was characteristic. "It was my business to steer my shell as well as show it through the water. God bless you, so all the credit goes to him." Hoover is one of the most remarkable and popular athletes in the world by self-training. He won the Diamond Sculls with a boat of his own model very different from the accepted type. His family shared in the ambition. To enable him to devote himself to the winning of the trophy, on which they had set their hearts, mother and his wife, said Hoover, went back to teaching. His wife went yesterday when she heard of his defeat, but was consoled when she heard that it was by accident.

WINIFRED NEAL'S SISTER HAS HER FREEDOM TO RETURN TO CANADA.

(Canadian Press Cable)
London, July 16.—At request of a Canadian woman who offered to take Winifred Neal back to her sister in Canada, the Falkland Islands magistrate on Saturday released the young woman on her own recognizance. Miss Neal was arrested on June 18 on a charge of attempting to commit suicide by jumping into the sea from a channel steamer. She had left Halifax a year ago with $8,000 on a tour of the world and had spent all her money but 18 shillings when she tried to end her life.

LIMITING ARMAMENTS.

(Montreal Gazette.)
The French Chamber of Deputies has, by the substantial vote of 460 to 105, ratified the Washington treaty for the limitation of naval armaments and capital ships. But the French Government has the other hand increasing its air strength to 1,400 battle planes. Great Britain has about one-third of this number actually effective and many of these are mobilized in Palestine, Mesopotamia and elsewhere. The English Channel, that separates the two countries, is a narrow strip of water from twenty-one to twenty-seven miles broad. The narrow part are therefore little protection against a menace by air from the continent of Europe. Prime Minister Baldwin has pointed out the need, in view of the changing conditions, of the absolute necessity for a hundred per cent. CHLORINE HALTS INFLUENZA.

Successful Experiments With Gas on University of Arkansas Students

Tests indicating that chlorine is a successful preventive of influenza have been made at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark., the American Chemical Society announced. Nine hundred tests were made on 300 students and faculty members who for five minutes daily inhaled air containing a small quantity of chlorine.

A decrease in influenza cases from 133 a thousand to 44 a thousand was the result, it was stated. It was suggested by the investigators that experiments be made on the possibility of the use of chlorine and other gases in the treatment of similar diseases.

CHATAQUA PROGRAMME FOR THE WEEK-END

Reader and Comedy Drama on Saturday—Devotional Service and Biblical Drama on Sunday Evening.

The week-end programme of the Swarthmore Chataqua was up to the standard of that of the previous days. On Saturday afternoon, Helen Waggoner, a reader of great appeal, gave a recital which was well received. This was followed by the reading of a short original play by Leon Wilson. In the evening a comedy-drama, "Crossed Wires," was produced before a large audience, which showed its appreciation by hearty laughter and frequent applause.

On Sunday evening a short devotional service was held at 8:30, led by the director, Rev. N. S. Reeves, assisted by Rev. Dr. S. S. Poole, Rev. E. E. Styles, Rev. W. A. Robbins and Rev. George Orman.

The members of the Crossed Wires company then gave the drama-lesson of Job. This consisted of a prologue and an epilogue by the lady members of the company, the dialogue being carried out by the male members. An audience that crowded the big tent was present. The cast was dressed in Biblical costume, and the presentation was an impressive one.

Headaches Are Usually Due to Constipation

Headaches Are Usually Due to Constipation. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

THE HECTORIANS.
(P. M. Macdonald in Halifax Chronicle) From the shieling and croft, from the hill and the glen,
From the islands and moorlands of Scotland they came;
They were seeking a home that was fit for brave men,
And they found it and filled the whole world with its fame.

They had strength in their hearts like the strength of the hills,
And their faith was as deep as the springs in the sea;
With a courage undaunted they battled with life,
Round life's pearl in its pain, now and then in life's glen.

In the field and the forest they partnered with God,
And He gave them their bread as the fruit of their toil;
They were kings in their freedom, though breakers of chains,
They were courtiers of heaven, though tillers of soil.

For they looked up on high and they looked down on wide;
And they claimed for the soul and the mind that they rule,
And their claim was allowed and their claim shall abide.

Do the Same Thing.

"This subject limps," he explained, "because one leg is shorter than the other." He addressed one of the students.

"Now, Mr. Smead, what would you do in such a case?"

Childless Women of Chinese Province Pray at Ju-Ju Pool

London, June 7.—(By mail).—“Somewhere near Ikot-Ubo, in the Calabar Province, lies the Ju-Ju pool,” writes a correspondent to “The London Times.”

“It is known by repute to quite a number of Europeans, but very few have been able to ascertain its exact whereabouts.”

“It is kept very secret, being a woman's Ju-Ju.” Kipling has told us through the medium of Mulvaney that the great prayer of women all the world over is for children.

“For about fifty yards we had to cut our way with machetes through the undergrowth and down a steep bank to a small rivulet, which we followed for about thirty yards up-stream; then round the bole of a huge cotton-wood tree, and we were at the lower end of the pool.”

“It was surrounded on all sides by sheer craggy banks about ten feet high, surmounted by thick foliage, and the sky was barely visible. It may have been imagination, but it seemed as if the birds did not sing there, and even the ceaseless insect hum of the bush was hushed. The only sound was the ripple of the stream.”

“At the lower end were two large piles of broken shards or pots in which countless generations of suppliants had brought their offerings. These pots were of rough native earthenware, in shape very similar to a Chinese ginger-jar, and of various sizes. The smallest had contained the gifts of marriageable girls, the larger had come from matrons desiring further blessing, and the largest of all had been left as a last hope by older women with the phantom of a childless life threatening their future.”

“The Journalists' fondness for the premier is reciprocated by Mr. Baldwin, for he realizes that his sudden rise to fame is due in no small measure to the sympathetic attitude adopted by them toward him.”

At a recent banquet given by the British newspaper men in his honor, Mr. Baldwin said: “I am conscious more than ever how the creation of a reputation really is your prerogative and your prerogative alone. Whatever reputation I may have today I beg to thank you for it from the bottom of my heart.”

R. W. Grimmer, M. P. Mr. and Mrs. William McVey, Miss McVey, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Graham, Mrs. Purvis, Mrs. Gillespie, Miss Cora Clark, all yesterday, motored into the city.

While here, the party visited the camp of the Allan Construction Co., Ltd., at Musquash, where the company has a contract for reconstruction work. The party returned to St. Stephen last night.

“The other victim was Mrs. S. Youke, 50, of this city, who was almost instantly killed when struck by an automobile in St. Lawrence street on Saturday evening.”

A careless passenger on a King street car threw a cigarette or cigar butt between the partitions in the rear of the car last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock and, as a result, some waste paper between the walls caught on fire. The street car was in Main street when the blaze was discovered and the motorman stopped the car in front of the No. 5 engine house and the firemen at that station tore out the wood-work and extinguished the blaze.

A committee from Willis and Berthe Lodge, L. O. B. A., met in the Orange Hall, Fairville, on Saturday evening, and made returns from the picnic held for the benefit of the Methodist church at Red Head. Amusements and games were enjoyed by the large number present and supper was served on the grounds. Mrs. George Anthony was the winner of a quilt. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Mrs. Oliver Gibson, Mrs. James Turnbull, Mrs. Frederick Anthony, Mrs. George Anthony, Misses Maud and Beatrice McAfee and Miss Alice Gibson.

“The British steamer Sheridan, traveling through the fog, hit the Begonia and as the latter began to fill her boats were lowered and her own crew and that of the Eldorado, totalling 40 men, reached the Sheridan. The captain of the Britisher sent a radio message to Yarmouth and took off the survivors.”

The Sheridan was considerably smashed in her forepeak, but was able to proceed without assistance.

Boys of St. David's church who have been in camp at Holder's Point returned to the city on Saturday afternoon after a very successful outing.

Rev. Hugh Miller and A. R. Crookshank were with the party. W. T. MacGowan won the prize for the best kept tent in the camp. The gifts of St. David's were expected to go to Holder's Point today, with Miss Jean Milligan in charge in association with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hay.

Picnic Car Near Montreal Struck by Another Machine and Forced Into Ditch

Montreal, July 16.—Two dead and twenty-six injured is the toll from eight auto accidents in this city and district over the week end.

Alphonse Poirier, 28, of this city, was caught beneath a car and his neck broken, while twenty-four others were slightly injured on the Chambly road yesterday when a picnic car in which they were riding was struck by a car which was passing then, and was forced into a ditch where it overturned.

The other victim was Mrs. S. Youke, 50, of this city, who was almost instantly killed when struck by an automobile in St. Lawrence street on Saturday evening.

British Premier And The Newspapers

London, June 28.—(Associated Press by mail)—Stanley Baldwin, Britain's new pilot of the Ship of State, has won the admiration and goodwill of all classes by his simple, unostentatious manner and his outstanding human qualities. He is especially popular among the British and American newspaper men, who have found him approachable and unfailing courteous. He has none of the aloofness, the superior manner or severe pride of position which one is apt to associate with prime ministers.

The Journalists' fondness for the premier is reciprocated by Mr. Baldwin, for he realizes that his sudden rise to fame is due in no small measure to the sympathetic attitude adopted by them toward him.

At a recent banquet given by the British newspaper men in his honor, Mr. Baldwin said: “I am conscious more than ever how the creation of a reputation really is your prerogative and your prerogative alone. Whatever reputation I may have today I beg to thank you for it from the bottom of my heart.”

SUCCESSION OF COLLISIONS IN NORTH SEA FOG

London, July 16.—Three steamers were in collision in fog in the North Sea yesterday. Two of them were sunk, but their crews were rescued, and the third proceeded on her voyage in a damaged condition.

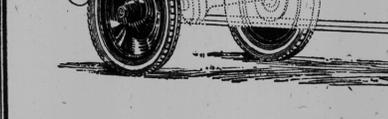

Owing to the heavy fog, the Swedish steamer Eldorado, No. 5, crashed into her. The Eldorado's crew, numbering 18, climbed aboard the Begonia, and soon after the Eldorado went to the bottom.

Later the British steamer Sheridan, traveling through the fog, hit the Begonia and as the latter began to fill her boats were lowered and her own crew and that of the Eldorado, totalling 40 men, reached the Sheridan. The captain of the Britisher sent a radio message to Yarmouth and took off the survivors.

The Sheridan was considerably smashed in her forepeak, but was able to proceed without assistance.

Facts about non-skid tires on all four wheels

THE dream of every tire engineer has been to produce a tire with the traction of a non-skid tread combined with the steering ease of a plain tread.

In Dominion Royal Cord Tires that combination is achieved.

On the rear wheels Dominion Royal Cords give all the traction and holding power against side slip that a non-skid tread can give.

On the front wheels the Dominion Royal Cord tread runs straight and true without “climbing” ruts or crowned road bed.

You can increase your mileage by the interchange of tires, front to rear, when the latter become worn; you have no steering trouble and you have the better appearance of a uniform set of tires.

To these advantages add the extra dependability and super service—without extra cost—which you get in Dominion Tires.

CLASS STRUGGLE NOW LOOMS AS IRELAND'S NEXT DIFFICULTY

Skilfully Organized Forces of Labor May Precipitate Fierce Clash—Crude Communism Preached.

(By the Dublin Correspondent of the London Times.)
Pessimists—who are still numerous in Ireland—will tell you that the civil war between Free State and Republican has been a mere "turkey raising," a prelude to an armed struggle between farmer and labor. One may hope that this will prove too gloomy a forecast; the steady improvement in the discipline of the Free State army, largely composed of farmers' sons and of the civic guard, and the rapid increase in the efficiency of the active and courageous C. I. D. make it appear improbable that even the wildest labor men will risk armed revolution or class war under a Government which rules Ireland with a strong hand and is not afraid of shooting bank robbers and similar handiwork after summary trial and conviction by court-martial. But a fierce political struggle attended by strikes and minor disturbances is inevitable.

Both sides are organizing themselves for the elections, at which the labor party and the Farmers' Union will put up a much larger number of candidates than they did last year. The agricultural laborers' strike in Waterford and South Kilkenny is regarded in many quarters as a "trial run" on the part of the farmers and its outcome is naturally awaited with interest and anxiety by all classes. At present the farmers are holding their own, and their leaders profess the utmost confidence in the success of their confidence in the other classes, and in some quarters

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

MORE SNAP IN THE WANT ADS.

Expert Gives Advice to Retail Merchants Seeking to Fill Places Behind Their Counters.

(By Clarence Hickman, formerly director of personnel, The Fair, Chicago.)

Going back through the dusty newspaper of decades I have not found the retail merchant changing the character of a want ad in the slightest degree.

The type that we all admit has disappeared. The type that we all admit has disappeared.

It is a beautiful tribute to the man who first conceived the want ad by clinging to it, but it is still inserted day after day from one generation to another.

SALESMEN AND SALESWOMEN WANTED for various departments.

There is sometimes a reference to experience, sometimes salary—and that is all. An opportunity for the future is never mentioned in the copy, and rarely in the employment office.

That is where many employment managers (so-called) fall down. They do not preach the gospel of the opportunities of the business to the applicants for positions.

Another fact that research discloses is that the merchant who is most successful in his sales has the most employees who never advertise for the class of help that he needs.

He never clearly defines what he needs, and he is for elevator operators or help of that kind. He seemingly takes it for granted that his sales help is made up of the class of people he would like to work in his store.

It is so unfair to the retail business, that it is for elevator operators or help of that kind. He seemingly takes it for granted that his sales help is made up of the class of people he would like to work in his store.

Do you think you can sell a job to an ambitious, intelligent, wide-awake young person with an ad like this?

If you do, you're sadly mistaken. The young people regard your ad with the same degree of enthusiasm that they show for an inscription on a tomb.

I think you will agree that in this one thing the merchant is the very weakest competitor in the labor market.

On the other hand, look at the copy used by the manufacturers, the industrial concerns, the mail order houses, the telephone companies and a multitude of other business houses. They have learned to define the class of help they want and say it in plain English.

What the Copy Brings. I followed up one of the manufacturer's ads mentioned in the article several weeks just after the graduation of several hundred young people from the Chicago public high schools.

When I looked at the fine, sensible, worth-while offer to people who were making out applications in the waiting rooms, and I thought of the needs of the retail stores, the department stores particularly, I felt discouraged for the future of retail salesmanship.

The young people were applying for positions behind the counter were over their heads. They were applying for positions behind the counter were over their heads. They were applying for positions behind the counter were over their heads.

When he does find the right man, he will realize that his help wanted ad must challenge something within the individual, and he will write his copy with that end in view.

When this is done, he will have a sales force for him that will triple his business, for when one challenges ambition, ambition always wins.

GERMAN TOBACCO THREATENS TO SPOIL JAPAN'S MONOPOLY. Tokio, June 10.—(Associated Press by mail)—Although protected by a customs duty of 35 per cent, advices from the Japanese tobacco monopoly held by the government had a scare thrown into it last month when the returns of imports showed that German cigarettes were being dumped here and being sold at a price below that charged by the monopoly.

A cry immediately arose for a further increase in the import duty or alternatively that the government should purchase the German cigarettes or tobacco and retail them through the usual sources. Imported cigarettes and cigars are sold in Japan at almost prohibitive prices.

PLACED ABOARD SHIP. Sydney, Australia, July 16.—Two Irish Republicans, Father Michael O'Flanagan and John J. O'Kelly, arrested here in April on charges of engaging in seditious activities, were removed from jail yesterday and escorted aboard the steamer Argonia, a little while before it sailed.

Ten days ago they were offered their release on provision that they agree not to attend public meetings and later declined another offer to leave the country voluntarily.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(McDougall & Cowan.)

New York, July 16.—We see no change in the situation and we expect the market to be firm with probable dullness for the time being.

We feel that the price trend from present levels is upward and that some stocks can be bought for a turn.

Of course the European situation seem to be the key-note of present market and Poincare's speech was not regarded as encouraging.

Until the British note to Germany is published however, and the French reaction thereto is known, little definite can be said.

The domestic situation for the time being seems to have lost the time being seems to have lost the time being seems to have lost the time being.

At the same time there are a few more optimistic signs in the present situation. Copper demand and prices are better, the production of crude oil is showing a slight falling off, and slightly better demand in some lines is being felt.

LOWER AS THE MARKET OPENS

Short Selling by Professionals—Very Dull on Montreal Exchange.

New York, July 16.—Prices opened somewhat lower in today's stock market, professional traders launching immediately into short selling as a result of the failure of the public to participate in the improved market on Saturday.

Losses of 1 point each were recorded by Dupont, Gulf States Steel, Baldwin and Panos Hayers, while practically all of the oils were fractionally lower.

Noon Report.

New York, July 16.—With speculative sentiment unfavorably affected by Premier Poincare's statement replying to Premier Baldwin's suggestion for settling the Ruhr tangle, little effort was made to sustain prices during the forenoon.

Continued high money rates also discouraged buying, while the vulnerability of leading industrial shares to pressure encouraged renewed short selling by bear speculators.

Several score stocks were pushed down to a better tone into the market at mid-day; Baldwin, U. S. S. Gulf States Steel, American Can, Con Products and other favorites recovered gain a point or more. Call money opened at five per cent.

82 Years Old; Celebrates The Day On His Job

J. A. Ring, Superintendent of West Side Water System, Has Had Only Two Holidays in Forty Years—Is Superannuated.

At his job as superintendent of the city water system on the West Side, from which he has taken but two holidays in the last forty-one years, J. A. Ring started at seven o'clock this morning to celebrate the eighty-second anniversary of his birth. Hale and hearty despite his advanced years, Mr. Ring is still able to handle a day's work in a manner which would do credit to men from ten to twenty years his junior. Today he is receiving the congratulations of his many friends who will wish him many more birthdays.

Superannuation Ordered. At this morning's committee meeting of the Common Council, a motion made by Commissioner Wigmore to the effect that Mr. Ring be superannuated on half-pay from August 1 was carried unanimously. The commissioner said that his present salary was $1,500 a year.

Mr. Ring, Commissioner Wigmore said, has been in the employ of the water and sewerage department for nearly forty-two years, had given faithful service and during that time had only taken two holidays. He was also for thirty-nine years a member of the fire department and held the position of district engineer on his retirement.

When King Edward VII.—as Prince of Wales—passed through St. John, Mr. Ring was in charge of the Second Battery and fired three salutes as the Prince passed through West St. John. After the fire of 1877 he had charge of a detachment of men blowing down dangerous buildings and they erected 10 tents on the Barrack square for those who had no homes.

Mr. Ring's son, Mayor Roy Ring served with distinction in the artillery during the recent world war. When Carlisle was united with the City of St. John in the early nineties, Mr. Ring was superintendent of the water department in that section and under the new form of control he retained office and has continued in it ever since. He also, after the union, served for twelve years as an alderman from the West Side.

Mr. Ring is an honorary member of Carleton Union Lodge, No. 4, F. & A. M., having passed the half-hundred mark in that order some years ago. He is one of the few veterans in the militia and veterans in the city today.

CHOIR BOYS OF STONE CHURCH AWAY TO CAMP

The choir boys of St. John's (Stone) church left today to spend a fortnight under canvas with their choirmaster, Mr. F. J. Brown, and his assistant, E. A. Mahoney. The camp will be pitched on the farm of Wm. Bamford, near the shore of Stone church, who kindly offered his land for this purpose.

The boys, about sixteen in number, look forward to a delightful holiday in this beautiful country district near the Leominster. Adjacent to the site of the camp are woods and fishing in abundance, and there is a swimming pool within a few hundred yards of the spot, fed by a stream of running water. There are also fields for baseball and other games which it is expected will be fully appreciated by the youngsters.

The expense connected with the camp has been met by members of the congregation of Stone church and others who are interested in this work and among the boys. Tents, cooking-pots, etc., have been loaned by various friends, others volunteered to drive the party out in cars.

This is the first year that the choir boys of this church have camped in a body in this way. Their work in the musical parts of the services fully justifies the interest which has been taken in them, and it is hoped that a holiday spent in this fashion will engender an esprit de corps such as will make itself felt in the efficiency of the choir.

It is understood that there are vacancies for a few musical boys between the ages of nine and twelve, and boys desiring to avail themselves of training offers are asked to communicate with the choirmaster, as soon as the holidays are over.

WALLET LOST IN RIVER IS FOUND

J. G. Ryan Recovers Papers and Money Washed Up on Opposite Shore of Kennebecasis.

Two weeks ago Sunday J. G. Ryan, general manager of the Canada Nail & Wire Co., Ltd., while endeavoring to rescue Allison Cushing, a young man who unfortunately lost his life while bathing at Gondola Point on the Kennebecasis river, lost a wallet containing valuable papers and $175 in currency. At that time efforts were made to find the wallet, which was thought to have slipped from his pocket and sunk near the spot where he was diving, but they proved unavailing.

Last evening Mr. Ryan was surprised when he received a call from Miss Helen Doyle, daughter of D. J. Doyle, of 91 Broad street, informing him that she had picked up the wallet on the beach at Model Farm, some distance up the Kennebecasis river on the opposite side from where the accident happened. The papers had been water soaked, but aside from this the contents were unharmed.

Miss Doyle and her sister had been spending a vacation at Model Farm and while on the beach last Thursday picked up the wallet, which had apparently floated and been thrown on the shore by waves. On their return to the city last evening they informed Mr. Ryan of their find and this morning he recovered his property.

Mr. Ryan was naturally greatly pleased at the recovery of the wallet and paid a tribute to Miss Doyle.

ENJOYING HIS FREE DAYS.

Hon. R. J. Ritchie spent the first day of his freedom from police court duties in an atmosphere most congenial to him—among the cods in camp at Sussex. He is a great lover of the boy and many a youngster who tips his hat to him in the street receives in return the pleasure of a little chat and the story of the days when he himself was a boy. Hon. Mr. Ritchie was in the party attending the various functions in honor of Governor Cox of Massachusetts on Saturday. On Tuesday he is going on the pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Baupre. On all sides congratulations on his long and honorable public career are being received, coupled with good wishes that he will have many years to enjoy freedom from the cares of office.

REMEMBERED ON ANNIVERSARY.

Although he is in New York, the thirty-first anniversary of Rev. John J. Ryan's ordination to the priesthood was not overlooked by the members of his congregation in the Church of the Assumption, who this morning attended high mass, celebrated by Father Ramsay. All received Holy Communion and offered this spiritual bouquet for their beloved pastor. Father Ryan was in the party attending the various functions in honor of Governor Cox of Massachusetts on Saturday. On Tuesday he is going on the pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Baupre. On all sides congratulations on his long and honorable public career are being received, coupled with good wishes that he will have many years to enjoy freedom from the cares of office.

CATHEDRAL HAS ANNIVERSARY

Consecration Took Place 88 Years Ago Today—References by Bishop LeBlanc.

Thirty-eight years ago today the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Waterloo street, was solemnly consecrated. There was reference to the anniversary made yesterday by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc at the 9.15 o'clock mass. The dedication of the Cathedral, he said, took place in 1885 and the consecration on July 10, 1885, thirty-eight years ago. The church in St. John, His Lordship said, had been blessed with increase of numbers and the faith was strong as in the early days of the church life in this city. The beginning had been small and humble but the growth steady. He spoke of the multiplication of Catholic churches in the city, the provision of hospitals and other institutions, and he asked the people to offer thanksgiving to God for the blessings and increase that had been granted.

The Consecration Ceremony.

The solemn rites of the consecration service were conducted by Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax, assisted by half a score of priests. More than 5,000 persons were present at the dedication.
