MR. OGILVIE AT DAWSON

Rounds Up Gamblers and Collects $10,-

000 in Fines.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 8.-Navigation on the Upper Yukon River is closed. The most interesting news from Dawson relates to Commissioner Ogilvie's reforms. He is making sweeping changes and intends to make the Klondike a model mining district. Mr. Jex says on Sept. 13 a small army of the half world and gamblers were ar-rested and fined to the amount of $10,000. The money will be spent in improving the streets of the city. Lawabiding men are pleased, but the gamblers, of course, are disgusted.

Wages in the Klondike are becoming lower and lower, according to J. B. Chambers, of Victoria. Miners were hired for $100 a month and their board for the winter months.

The Manuez brought 200 passengers from Dawson, Glenora, Ashcroft and the Edmonton route. About $200,000 in dust represented the combined wealth of the crowd. The Jex party of six from Oakland sold 40 tons of provisions at Dawson. Jex brings about $25,000.

THE TALK OF

of the Crimean War.

The Men Looked Very Gaunt and Weary.

Prospects of a Gloomy "Society Season" -The British Shipbuilding Record Broken-Horrible Possibilities of the Guillotine.

Special Cable Letter to The Advertiser. London, Oct. 8 .- The event of the week, so far as London is concerned, was the return of the first battalion of Genadier Guards from the Soudan. The crowds lining the streets from Waterloo railroad station to Wellington Barracks, and the enthusiasm displayed, exceeded any previous demonstration of a like nature since the return of the British troops from the Crimean war. There was a BRILLIANT GATHERING of military chiefs and relatives of officers at the station; but there was such an evident desire to repress anything like exuberance of feeling that their welcome seemed cold—"how are you, old chap?" being generally the most affectionate greeting heard. One lady ran up to an officer as he emerged from the train, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. He submitted, but rather snamefacedly, as though it was altogether a too demonstrative proceeding for a British soldier to be guilty of. It was when the battalion emerged from the police-guarded station that

THE ENTHUSIASM BROKE OUT in the dense masses of people gathered to welcome the soldiers home, and their march from the station to their barracks was in the nature of a triumphal progress. On arriving at their barracks, the war-stained Grenadiers received a splendid welcome from the other battalions of guards, whose massed bands played "The British Grenadiers" and "The Return of the Guards." There

MANY PATHETIC SCENES.

The men looked gaunt and weary, instead of the strapping fellows who left London, and there were hundreds of touching reunions of the men with their wives or sweethearts. The second battalon of Grenadier Guards entertained their comrades at dinner, and, as may be expected, there were lively scenes about the barracks until late that night. Many of the returning soldiers brought with them interesting relics of the campaign, in the shape of dervish swords, spears or shields.

RECRUITING BOOM. The recent British military operations have had a most satisfactory influence lately upon the recruiting of the army, especially in the case of the Guards and the Twenty-first Lancers, who distinguished themselves by making a brilliant charge through the dervish army at the battle of Omdurman.

GERMAN CRITICISM. Much interest has been evoked by the German military attache's report of the battle of Omdurman. He says he was particularly struck by all the operations, except the charge of the Lancers, which he says was absurd. On the other hand, the German officer says the handling of the artillery was absolutely unequaled, and he asserts that the endurance and spirits of the troops were beyond all praise. PROSPECTS OF A GLOOMY "SEA-SON." The death of the Queen of Denmark and the bereavement of the Princess of Wales, one of her daughters, combined with the fact that there will be no autumn session of Parliament, has made the prospects of the winter season very gloomy. Marlborough House, the London residence of the Prince of Wales, will be closed to all festivities until the end of next summer, and there are no members of the royal family in town. The Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, and the Duke and Duchess of Fife, are all in Scotland, but many other fashionable people, including the Ogden Goelets, have returned to Lon-

HOME LIFE OF THE CZAR. A French newspaper publishes a description of the home life of the czar and czarina, which, it says, is very simple. The czar, it appears, often remains at his desk until late at night, and frequently receives his counselors at midnight; but, the paper adds, they rarely finds him alone, as the czarina is generally seated beside him, embroidering or sewing. When a stranger eppears, she picks up her scissors and

Mr. Charles Russell, the representative of Sir Thomas Lipton, the challenger for the America's cup, has been interviewed on his return here from the United States. He spoke in a Home Life of the Czar and Czarina strain similar to that of Wm. Fife,
The British Shiphuilding Record jun., the yacht designer, who also visited America recently. Mr. Russell says this party met with a most courteous reception in New York. Every suggestion we made was readily met on their part. Mr. Russell heartly concurred in the Yachting World's suggestion of postponing the race if the excursion steamers were unruly and has sent a copy of the suggestion to each member of the cup committee to the New York club. Mr. Russell added that he believed that this committee will do anything in reason to save the yachts from interference. BRITISH SHIPBUILDING-A GREAT RECORD.

The British shipbuilders have broken the record this year with 598 merchant vessels, of 1,364,250 tons, under construction on Sept. 30, being 351,000 tons above the previous best record, while 92 warships of 376,434 tons are also building. Great Britain's maritime supremacy is shown by the fact that 498 out of the 598 merchant ships are being constructed for British owners.

AWFUL POSSIBILITY. The Medical Journal publishes the report of Dr. Cinel, of Paris, asserting that guillotining does not immediately affect the brain. The French doctor says the blood first comes from the larger vessels of the neck, and that there is hardly any drain upon the circulation in the cranium. The brain, he adds, finds nourishment for an hour after decapitation, during which time the person decapitated retains his or her senses of hearing, smelling and seeing. Absolute death, Dr. Cinel claims, does not ensue for three hours. Thus, it is pointed out, guillotining, instead of being speedy, is one of the most prolonged and horrible forms of capital punishment.

Sensational Report Regarding Anglo-French Relations.

Officers accompanying Gen. Kitchener say that Major Marchand, the French officer at Fashoda, behaved himself with great moderation and courtesy.

General Kitchener denies the story that the French at Fashoda fired on the British, mistaking the latter for

Dervishes. Mr. Neufield, who was a prisoner of the khalifa for a long time, and who was released when the British entered Omdurman, has written from Cairo a strange letter to his brother in Berlin, indicating that his mind had been affected by his privations. London, Oct. 8 .- A detachment of 66 Russian soldiers, with two 7-pounders, | $21,000. 25 British marines and 30 German marines arrived at Pekin yesterday, and marched through the city to the quarters assigned to them. They will protect the legations of Russia, Great Britain and Germany. Large crowds witnessed the arrival of the European reinforcements, but there was no extraordinary incident. The Chinese appeared to be cowed. The Pekin correspondent of the London Times says: There is good reason to fear that the Russian Cossacks, who have arrived here to protect the Russian legation, will be retained as a permanent escort. This action is taken without waiting for the reply of the Porte to the note of the powers. The council of foreign admirals has taken the necessary measures to insure the enforcement of the terms of the note presented to the Porte by the representatives of the powers demanding the immediate evacuation of Crete. The presentation of the note and the action of the admirals caused

OF THE KAISER

Politics in the Coming Imperial Pilgrimage.

A Scarcity of the Staples, Bread and Coal.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.-That the Russians regard the trip to Palestine of the German emperor as nothing more than a political scheme, is evident from the following remarks of the Novoe Vremya, of St. Petersburg:

"The political significance of the German emperor's trip to Palestine is beyond all doubt. The inhabitants of the Holy Land and Turkey as a whole are not in the habit of seeing traveling emperors. They are to be impressed in the most striking manner with the greatness and power of Germany.

"The emperor evidently desires to familiarize himself with Asia Minor, the theater of German colonization movement in the near future, although Germany has her colonies in Africa, Turkey and Asia Minor have particular attractions for her government.
"All recent efforts have tended toward the direction of immigration into that quarter. The great powers are concerned in these developments on account of the evidence afforded that Germany seeks to solve the eastern question in her own interest. "The sensation-making journey cannot be treated as a religious pilgrimage. A new epoch is to be opened in the history of the eastern question." Berlin, Oct. 8 .- The National Zeitung reports that, in anticipation of the festivities planned for the kaiser's reception and sojourn in Jerusalem, the city is already thronged with crowds of German and Austrian tramps and vagabonds. These men, the Zeitung says, are a dangerous set, who spend their time for the most part in the wineshops, and are forming regular bands of brigands, who commit all sorts of crimes. Unless the Holy City is cleaned of this canaille, concludes the report, before the arrival of the kaiser in Jerusalem, the lives of his majesty and the imperial party would be greatly imperiled during their visit.

The National Zeitung in another article also expresses the fear that, in consideration of the nervous unrest in old world politics, a two months' absence of the German sovereign from the fatherland cannot fail to prove detrimental, and is a very risky adventure at any rate.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Queen Victoria, it is reported here, invited Emperor Nicholas to Balmoral after the funeral of Queen Louise of Denmark, with a view to a personal discussion of the eastern situation; but it is said the czar is not likely to accept the invita-tion, owing to the critical position of Odessa, Oct. 8 .- An economic crisis is great scarcity of the two chief neces-saries of life-bread and coal. The stock of grain will be quite insufficient to meet requirements, and a severe crisis, if not a famine, is expected. Prices of coal have already gone up 20 per cent, and will probably be doubled before the winter is over.

GOLF. LONDON CLUB'S ANNUAL CON-

TESTS. The match between the Cleveland Golf Club and London golfers, which takes place today, is exciting great interest among local players. Crowell, of Cleveland, who won a high place for himself in the recent amateur championship matches at Morristown, will doubtless find in London's champion, G. T. Brown, an obstinate op-ponent. The club grounds are now in first-class condition, and the members will be pleased to have all those interested in the game present at this match. Tea will be served at the club house to members and their friends from 4 to 6. Next week not only will the annual competitions for the Labatt and Brown trophies commence, but the October handicap and other matches wil be started.

BABY WEIGHS ONE POUND

Annette Passeckel the Smallest Infant Ever Born in New York.

New York, Oct. 8 .- When the Passeckles received an expected addition to the family at the home, 315 East Seventy-Fourth street, New York, recently a "doll" baby came to them. Little Annette is the smallest child ever born in Gotham. When eight days old, though born of parents who together weigh nearly 400 pounds, Annette tipped the scales at just one pound, one and one-half ounces

The neighbors daily flock to see the little one. Notwithstanding her diminutive size she is perfectly formed, and with proper care and nourishment, there is no doubt she will flourish and grow up to be a good-sized woman. This, at least, is the opinion of the doctors of the Norwestern dispensary, in East Forty-Ninth street, who were called in to attend the mother since the birth of the "tiny doll," for that is what her little brothers call An-The couple have three other children, of whom, the smallest, a girl, weighed fourteen pounds at her birth, and the heavies a son, sixteen at his birth. The father is 6 feet 2 inches in height, and his normal weight is 190 pounds. The mother is about the average height and hoasts as much average height and boasts as much avoirdupois as her husband. As far back as they can remember their ancestors have been large.

A distressing feature of the event is the destitute condition of the family. The father recently returned from the city hospital, where he was ill for months with pneumonia. He is not yet strong enough to work, although he has been looking for employment in vain.

VEGETARIAN CONGRESS

The London Times Combats the Theory in Toto.

There has just been concluded, in England, a Vegetarian Congress. There are, it seems, three classes of vegetarians: (1) The Vems, who use eggs; (2) the Vegs, who do not even use eggs, and (3) the Edenics, who do not cook their food at all. The London Times editorially reviews the congress, but declines to accept the vegetarian theories. Says the Times:

"The truth is, that if there be any question which has been thoroughly thrashed out by physiologists and physicians, it is that of diet. By scien-tifically conducted experiments, sometimes upon individuals under laboratory conditions, sometimes upon masses of men in barracks or prisons, and sometimes upon nations by observation of their habits and of the development, whether physical or mental, which these habits have produced, we possess complete information upon all ques-tions relating to food and the influence it exerts. We know that the maintenance of a high standard of bodily and mental capacity requires the consumption of proteids, hydro-carbons and salts, in definite quantities and proportions, and their carbons are provided to the carbon portions; and that, as far as the effects are concerned, it is a matter of indifference in what proportion these are furnished by the animal or by the vegetable kingdom. The source from which the food is derived has absolutely no moral influence whatever, and universal peace is just as much or as little likely to be obtained from a diet of beefsteaks as from a diet of cabbages. If purely vegetable feeding were indeed calculated to promote the evolution of the "higher man," the human race would surely have been outstripped ages ago by the frugivor-ous apes; and descendants of the Pithecanthropus erectus would at this moment be accomplishing, in a better way, the work on which mankind is engaged. It is trite to observe that vegetable feeders, from the game-cock to the rhinoceros, are among the most combative and the most ferocious of the brute creation; and that the dog, next to man the most remarkable example of life maintained upon a mixed diet, is also next to man in intelligence and educability. The khalifa and the amiable Arabs of the Bag-gara trible doubtless fall below the Crystal Palace standards and are not even absolute 'Vems,' far less 'Vegs' or 'Edenics,' but they are smaller consumers of meat than Europeans, and eat only a little boiled mutton or boiled camel's flesh on special occasions, their ordinary food consisting mainly of roughly-ground wheat or other grain, fruits and vegetables. The average Bedouin of centuries past, to whom 'rapine was a business and massacre a sport,' lived on a few dates soaked in butter and a mouth milk; and the 'mild Hindu' of the mutiny was an example of a similar The vegetarian nations, persort. haps not as a consequence of their diet, but unquestionably as a matter of fact, have either never attained or have failed to preserve a position among the ruling peoples of the earth; and the Vegetarian Society, if that be its proper appellation, has not yet, so far as we have been able to ascertain, been a nursery of discoverers, of explorers, of philosophers, of authors, or of statesmen. It has appeared to consist, so far, of very commonplace peoples, and to have put forth none but commonplace ideas. Its contentions in the matter of diet are mainly nonsense; and its members have made no serious effort to refute the ordinary and obvious objections to their doctrines; which are, first, that a vegetable diet, in the conditions of this country, would be needlessly expen-

Tells How Distressing Pains in Her Back and Kidneys Have Vanished Since Taking

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mrs. K. Burns is well known in Fredericton as an enterprising business woman, who keeps a grocery store on King street. By careful attention to business she has succeeded in building up a good trade, and is always anxious to satisfy the wants of her customers. She gave our representative an interview in the matter of taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and related the story of her experience with this remarkable remedy, as follows:

"For over a year I have been afflicted with intense pain in my back, extending from the base of my spine up to my shoulders. I sometimes felt dizzy, and could scarcely venture upstairs without sitting down to rest. I ascertained that my distress was due in a great measure to the deranged action of the kidneys. My loins ached continually, and I could scarcely bend my back. I did not pay much attention to my trouble at first, thinking it would wear away, but in this I was disappointed, as it gradually grew worse. "Not getting any relief from the many home remedies I tried, I became more anxious about my condition, and began to look around for a cure. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box through Messrs. R. T. Mack & Co., druggists here; and before I had finished a month's treatment I was completely cured, and now I am feeling as well as ever, and my back is strong and without ache or pain. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for lame back and many distressing troubles arising from the

wrong action of the kidneys." Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Backache, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Kidneys in Children, Headaches, Numbness, Fe-male Troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c a box, or 3 boxes for $125. Britain and America in China. In connection with the statement that two of Dewey's cruisers have been sent to Chinese waters, the article in the October North American Review, by the Hon. Mark B. Dunnell, on "Our Policy in China," gains additional interest. This essay shows that British policy in the far east is on the side of American interests, and deserves the loyal support of the republic. The writer is not by any means a Russophobist. He acknowledges the great success that Russia has had in her of these unfortunate people have lo-Chinese policy, and the great work she cated in Cyprus; the remainder, over may do for civilization in that quarter, but he is equally emphatic in main- it is desired to place them on farms in taining that England and America the Canadian Northwest. ought to stand side by side for "the open door." "The only serious obstacles to this course of action lie in the historical enmity between this country and | militarism, is no sign of pusillanimity. England, and our traditional policy of avoiding alliances. Happily, recent events have done much to remove both these obstacles." The writer goes on to show how the late war brought Britain | physical and moral courage. No doubt and America into sympathy with each other, and how the policy of isolation is giving way under the stress of new, sect in the Northwest, just as there conditions. As to the duty of his own country he gives no uncertain sound. "Although our Government has stood aloof in the recent negotiations, it has not been because we were not corcerned, but rather in accordance with our customary practice of culpably ignoring our interests abroad. As respects number of residents and volume of trade, the United States has much larger interests in China than any European power, save England, and yet, when these large interests were threatened, our government ignominiously left their defense to England. If the administration has any policy in China, it would appear to be the inglorious one of leaving England to fight unaided the battle for open markets, and then come in and enjoy the fruits of her valor under the 'most favored nation

In the following passage he meets an objection which is commonly urged against vigorous action on the part of cago. Says the Hamilton Times: America: "It has been urged that we are stopped from fighting for open markets in China, because of our protective tariff at home. Nothing could well be more absurd. It is not a question of fighting for new rights, but for the preservation of rights we already possess. At present, we have a treaty right of admission to all the markets of China through the 'open ports.' upon the payment of a nominal cuty. Certain powers of Europe threaten this right by securing territorial concessions from China, without insuring us against discriminating duties within the territories granted. It is not a question of China giving away her own. These concessions are forced from her. It is simply a question whether we shall weakly allow ourselves to be pushed out of valuable markets, to which we have a possessory right." Hence the conclusion is, "Along these lines the two great branches of the English race seem destined to act in concert, with incalculable benefit to themselves, and the world at large."

clause.' "

These views, Mr. Dunnell supports ing behind financially. It was much with an array of stubborn facts, which the same in the case, a few years ago, will no doubt influence thoughtful politicians in the United States, and tend to make the Anglo-American alliance an influential reality,

Increase in Insanity in England.

It was stated in these columns a short time since that lunacy was on the increase in the Dominion. This country seems not to be alone in this regard. The annual report of the lunacy commissioners of England and Wales proves that there has been a steady increase in the number of cases of mental break-down from the time of the establishment of official statistics until the present time. In 1859, for example, the total number of lunatics in England and Wales was 36,762, which has grown till it has now reached 102,-000. In 1859, the number of lunatics per million to the population was 1,867; now it has increased to 3,248. The number of sane persons to each lunatic was, in 1859, 536; but it has now fallen to 303. Another significant fact is that the average rate of recovery has declined in the last ten years, as compared with the previous fifteen. This is not due to any retrograde movement among the lunacy experts who have charge of the asylums, but, according to the lunacy commissioners, is considered to be due to the fact that in recent years many more cases of mental failure from mere old age have been removed to the asylum. A table in the report, possessing peculiar interest, shows the proportion of lunatics compared with the population under several groups according to their profession or occupation. With clergymen, the ratio of luraties in 10,000 of the population is 11.1; physicians, surgeons, and general practitioners, 16.4; barristers, solicitors and attorneys, 15.4; chemists and druggists, 14.6; soldiers, 10.5, and so on. In all these instances the population for the census is taken separstely, which serves to increase the female ratio. The proportionate cases of lunacy in the poorer class in which old uge is assigned as the cause, continue to advance. This is no doubt due to the worry of attempting to "make ende meet," where the income of the poor Britishers to spend their money in de- son before the age of 70.

Immigrants for Canada.

A movement is on foot to remove to Canada several thousand members of Russian sect known as the Doukhoborstis, who are distinguished by an unflinching adherence to a moral prineiple-they will not enter military service. In Russia this is a crime which has drawn on them the most terrible persecution. They were banished to the Caucasus, but through the entreaties of the Dowager Empress of Russia, the Czar has permitted them to emigrate. Count Tolstoi and other eminent philanthropists are interested in the sect, and agents are now at Ottawa trying to enlist the sympathies of the Dominion Government. Over 1,000 6,000, have still to be provided for, and

The Doukhoborstis are a clean, thrifty, religious people. Their refusal to wear the brutal yoke of Russian A people who will suffer persecution for righteousness' sake-or what they believe to be right-may be peculiar in these days, but no one can deny their there will be some objection by the partisan press to the location of this was in the case of the Galicians. The Doukhoborstis are a better type of people than the Galicians; yet the latter have made good settlers, and are improving their lot from year to year. We do not want our Northwest to be swamped with European riff-raff merely to fill up our vacant lands: but we can accommodate in those fertile regions a limited alien population of the right sort, so long as it is judiciously distributed as the Galicians are. Our homogeneity will not be weakened by a moderate Slavonic graft. The Anglo-Saxon element is strong enough to assimilate all others.

Toronto Religion.

Things seem to be getting rather hot in St. Andrew's Church (formerly Rev. D. J. Macdonnell's), Toronto. Its minister has been speaking his mind, and is likely to accept a call from Chi-

"In discussing the strictures of Rev. W. J. McCaughan, of St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, on his congregation for being behind in their finances so that he cannot have the $1,000 check for his quarter's salary paid, a contemporary berates the people for their niggardliness, and remarks: 'And, after all, possibly the enjoyment their shriveled-up souls get from the services is not worth more than they contribute.' May it not be that church affairs, like style and society functions, are run at too high a pressure? Why should a $1,000 congregation try to have a $4,000 preacher? Probably 99 out of every 100 to whom he preaches have to struggle along on less than $1,000 a year. Hasn't false pride something to do with it?"

Another point is this: What are the people fed on, in some of the churches where the financial call is too clamorous-bread? or sensational froth?

The case of Mr. McCaughan's Toronto church starts up some reflections about the financial value of what are called "rounders" i.e., those who run about from church to church. Mr. Mc-Caughan's church is crowded nightly to the doors, and yet it has been goof Dr. Wild's church in Toronto.

The ward system must go.

The Spanish-American peace commission may end in a row.

There will be some objection to the abolition of the ward system. It will come from would-be aldermen who would be wiped out if the wards were.

Ottawa has a full-fledged Tammany Society. On Wednesday night it was addressed by two of Croker's lieutenants, fresh from New York. It is not recorded that they condemned the ward system.

Mayor Wilson told the Conservative Club that his official position had compelled him to stay out of politics this year. The report of his speech in the Free Press does not state whether the audience laughed or not.

It is hinted that the Russian Cossacks now in Pekin will remain there as a permanent escort. In consequence the British troops there will probably postpone their departure, somewhat as they are doing in Egypt.

When the Canadian and American commissioners reach an agreement, it will be known as the treaty of Quebec and will be signed in that city. Coneidering the good time Quebec has given the commissioners, this is the least the old capital deserves.

The London Times' correspondent attributes the weakness of the Government machinery in the Yukon to the difficulty of communication with the outside world. That is a misfortune that would have been remedied before this had the Dominion Government not been blocked by a partisan Senate.

The Ontario Government has again been instrumental in attracting British capital to Ontario, and millions will be spent in pulp and paper mills at Sturgeon Falls. The London Free Press tries to make a political point out of the commutation of young Guilleman's sentence. Is it still ignorant of the fact that the trial judge recommended the remission of the death penalty, because some of the evidence pointed to Guilleman's innocence? If so, it had no business to criticise the Minister of Justice without knowing the facts of the case.

The municipal reform movement has reached St. Thomas. The Journal says: "The Journal has frequently deplored the fact that men best fitted by experience and ability to conduct the city's affairs cannot be induced to allow themselves to be put in nominationnot so much because of a disinclination to serve their fellow-citizens as an objection to canvassing and soliciting votes, and using the other means necessary to secure election-and we have advocated from time to time the formation of a citizens' association, who would select a ticket and put forth all possible effort to secure its election, thus relieving its candidate from the necessity of buttonholing voters.

The whole matter of divorces, as a matter of fact, constitutes a national scandal which must sooner or later receive attention. Gen. Lee Before the U. S. War Investigation Committee.

Washington, Oct. 8 .- The war investigating commission held two sessions Thursday. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee detailed the conditions prevailing at the camp at Jacksonville. He said the site was a good one, the supplies were plentiful, the men were well taken care of and he had no complaints to make of the war department's treatment of his command. He also took occasion to say that he did not con sider that he had been slighted in the war question.

Gen. Garcia's Mission Already Bearing Fruit-U. S. Losses in the War -Clever Political Scheme.

Havana, Oct. 8 .- Owing to the vast amount of red tape required to obtain burial permits, many bodies of the poor, picked up in huts and the streets, are left for days unburied, even after they are taken to the cemetery. Two nights ago an old woman died in the middle of the Calzada del Cerro, a street in Havana, about 9 o'clock. At her head sat her little daughter in the last stages of consumption, her haggard eyes red and swollen with tears. Horse cars run along that thoroughfare, and many persons stopped before the sad picture of distress and death. A purse was made up for the little orphan. Next morning the body was removed, twelve hours after death.

CUBANS DISARMING.

New York, Oct. 8.—A dispatch from Santiago says: Gen. Garcia left the city on Thursday morning with an escort of 60 men on his mission through Santiago Province, acting as an agent of the American Government, to arrange the details for the disbandment of the Cuban army in the east. The officials of the American administration here prophesy good results from his negotiations, and that his efforts will be successful in getting the province rid of a large number of insurgent bands, who are living in the country in a state of outlawry.

Gen. Garcia is, however, daily losing influence among the Cubans. of the latter characterize him as a renegade, and openly avow that he is allowing himself to be sold to the Am-

A scheme will be presented to the Cuban assembly by 100 officers of the Cuban army, proposing the raising of a fund locally among the planters to pay the insurgent army.

OCCUPATION OF CUBA-Washington, Oct. 8 .- Gov. Beaver, of Pennsylvania, during the examination of Gen. Lee, gave the war department a shock by exposing the plan to start the occupation of Cuba, and have the hurrah naturally consequent thereon just when it will have the best effect for Republicans at the polls. Gen. Lee had just come from a long conference with Secretary Alger and other war department officials, when the Dodge commission called him. The actual date when Gen. Lee is expected to start is Oct. 27. The administration has decided not to go into the election this fall without some showing in Cuba. It is considered imperative by the G. O. P. leaders that when election day arrives the country shall be engrossed in the hullabaloo of sending troops to Cuba, and with the probable stories of how the Spaniards are being pushed out much faster than they want to go. Gen. Lee himself prefers to land his troops at Mariel, some miles west of Havana, because he fears fighting will occur if he enters Havana itself before the Spaniards get out, and, as he must get to Cuba before election, he must necessarily reach there a good while before the Spaniards leave.

Fifty Passengers From Dawson -Schooner and Barge Beached-Rush for Golovin Bay.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8.-The steamers Brixham and Tillamook have arrived from St. Michaels with 150 passengers, about fifty of whom were from Daw-son. On September 20 the Tilamook picked up the small steam schooner Fortune Hunter, of San Francisco, about fifty-five miles south of St. Michaels. The Fortune Hunter was water-logged and in a serious condition. Besides her crew, she had ten passengers aboard. The Fortune Hunter left St. Michaels Sept. 16 for Golavin Bay, with a barge in tow, and was caught in a storm. The barge was beached and the schooner stood out to sea. She became unmanageable, and was drifting south when picked up by the Tillamook, which towed her to Golavin Bay, where she was beached. Sterling Martin, of Chicago, was left on the when the Fortune Hunter abandoned

FAMOUS MEN

Strong Character of the Empress Regent of China.

An English Journalist's Amusing Experience-Emperor William's Fondness for Photos - The Austrian Empress' Jewelz.

London, Oct. 7.-The King of China, whose fate at the time of writing seems uncertain, was only 26 years of age, though he had been the occupant of Dowager, who has now deposed him, to take the place of the late King Tung Chih. He appears to have been little more than a figure head of state, the Empress Dowager having, as far as could ever be ascertained, been chief director of the destinies of the empire, as she has been for nearly 40 years.

The Empress Dowager, by the way, is not, as is generally supposed, the cother of the Emperor. She is the widow of a former Emperor, Hsien Fung, who died in 1861. The Emperor Tung Chih, predecessor of the present deposed or dead emperor, was a son of a secondary wife of Hsien Fung, and the present Empress Dowager ruled the state during Tung Chih's minority. Kwang Hsu, whom she has now dewas a son of a younger brother of Hsien Fung.

The Empress Dowager is a woman who has had pretty much her own way in private as well as in public life. She was not only a skillful diplomat in her own peculiar way, but she was a strong woman at court, ruling its per-sonnel with a firm hand. She even chose the Emperor's ladies of the harem; acted as her own court spy; and though many attempts were made to undermine her authority, they were never successful, especially as she had a powerful supporter in Li Hung

A JOURNALIST'S ADVENTURES. Journalistic circles have been brightened by the return of Mr. Knight, the adventurous correspondent of the Times, from Havana, with a fund of adventures to relate. One of the most amusing occurred when he was imprisoned in Fort Monro before his identity was established. He landed on the coast in rage, and when he got to the prison asked that a tailor should be sent to him. The tailor came, but was not admitted to the cell in which Mr. Knight was confined. However, he measured the war correspondent through the bars of the window, and next day returned with the garments cut out and pinned together for the trying on. This was accomplished with some difficulty, Mr. Knight standing up close to the bars while the tailor did the fitting. The suit proved to be a remarkably good fit, and Mr. Knight wears it with pride in London, WILLIAM'S VANITY. The Emperor William is very fond of being photographed, and is said to astonish his photographers by the rapidity with which he changes his dress. The other day he had no fewer than forty separate portraits taken of himself in the pilgrim's dress he intends o don on his coming visit to the Holy Land; and, as if this were not enough, he had a couple of cameras simultaneously leveled at him, the Empress, who is an expert photographer, seizing the opportunity while her husband was In the vein, to secure some portraits on her own account.

THE AUSTRIAN JEWELS.

Among the late Empress Elizabeth's magnificent collection of gems was the most perfect and complete set of black pearls in existence. These she had not worn for twenty years; but they may be seen at the treasury chamber in Vienna on obtaining a permit through Sir Horace Rumbold. The only corresponding collection of pearls in the world is the "Cumberland" collection of "rose" pearls worn by Queen Victoria at her coronation, which has since gone back to the Cumberland family, and are now worn by Princess Frederica of Hanover, wife of Baron von Pawel Rammingen. The state pearls of Austria can only be worn

IS ANDREE ALIVE? Dr. Eckholm, who was to have acocmpanied Andree in his first attempt to reach the pole by balloon, has pub-lished in the "Illustrated Aeronautische Mittheilung" his views as to the fate of the Swedish explorer and his comrades Strindberg and Fraenkel. Dr. Eckholm declined to take part the throne for 18 years. It was in 1875 in the second venture, because he that he was chosen by the Empress satisfied himself that the balloon was too leaky for any protracted voyage In his opinion Andree probably discovered the correctness of this judgment a week after his start, and in that case he would have descended, and perhaps pushed on overland to within two degrees of the pole. On this hypothesis the party might still be found alive on Franz Josef Land. If, however, in the vain hope of traversing the Arctic circle Andree threw stores and provisions overboard to keep the balloon afloat, then he must

At this time he wrote two letters, one to a relative, one to a chum with whom he always discussed the faults of their respective relations, and accidentally put these letters into the wrong envelopes. Everybody Ran Until Policeman Callan Arrived and Killed It.

New York, Oct. 8 .- A series of eartieth street station as he was slowly walking across Fourth avenue at Twenty-third street last night. The sounds came from the top floor of the Academy of Design building. Callan started for the door, but was stopped by a small boy, who came tumbling down the stairs.

"Dere's a snake five foot long, an' you'd better hurry up," gasped the youngster, as he continued on his way to the street. Callan hurried his pace. and had mounted about two steps when he collided with a man who was in such a hurry he did not stop to see where he was going.

"There's a snake ten feet long up there. Shoot it and save the woman, velled the man, and he, too, ran on at full speed. Callan grew nervous, but continued to climb the stairs, and just before he reached the top a woman plumped herself into his arms. "Save me, officer!" she cried. "There's a snake in there fifteen feet long!' "I'd better hurry, or that snake will get so big I can't kill it." said Callan with a worried look, as he started the woman downstairs.

He entered the room where the American Institute is holding a fair, and encountered the panic-stricken crowd that was hurrying toward the door. At the other end of the room he saw a snake about five feet long moving leisurely across the floor as if it realized that it was monarch of all it surveyed and rather enjoyed the commotion its visit had caused.

Callan and several of the attendants sight of his brass buttons charged on his snakeship. The reptile hissed angrily, and stuck out its forked tongue at them with a lightning-like rapidity, but they beat it to death with clubs without anyone being bitten. Then Dr. Robert Taylor, of Greenwich. Conn., one of the managers of the fair, stepped forward and declared that he knew all about snakes, as he had at one time been part owner of the old aquarium at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street.

"It was a water-snake," he said, after an examination, "and could not have done any harm."

Policeman Callan picked the snake up by the tail and dragged it ignominously downstairs and threw it into the sewer. Much speculation was indulged in as to how the snake got into the building. Some declared it had come through the sewer. Others opined that it had come in a barrel of produce intended for the agricultural end of the exhibition. One man, a friend of the press agent of the exposition, shook his head admiringly and laughed.

"Al has been with lots of fairs." said he, "but this beats them all. I'll bet he could tell how the snake got there. Mr. Allen S. Williams indignantly denied the imputation.

of Trade in the Dominion

As Reported by the Commercial Agen cies-Trouble in the Wool Market Across the Border.

New York, Oct. 8.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: Reports from Canada are, on the whole, favorable, although there is no indication of remarkable gain.

St. John shows improvement in the grocery and clothing trade, with better demand for shoes.

At Halifax the weather is good and favors business prospects, although there is not much change as yet. Quebec reports satisfactory trade and collections; and at Montreal the money market is yet 5 per cent for call, but shows strength, though re-cent warm weather has somewhat checked activity in heavy goods. General groceries are active.

Wholesale trade at Toronto is good in groceries, leather, canned goods and dried fruits, and retail trade is good. Winnipeg reports unfavorable weath er, slightly depressing business, and collections are slow.

Victoria reports wholesale trade quite satisfactory, and collections average, with retail grocery business quiet. At Vancouver trade in leading lines is steady, with encouraging outlook.

Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says: Warm weather early in the week checked by ing of heavy goods at certain cities of the Dominion, but better conditions later have favorably affected distributive trade. Toronto reports heavy Northwestern buying, with farmers in that section still depositing wheat in elevators. Deliveries are more liberal, although prices are still above an export basis in Ontario. American lumbermen are reported hiring large numbers of men for work in Canada this winter. Drygoods are in a fairly good demand at Montreal, and the demand for shoes is improving. Hardware is moving well, and woolen manufacturers are better satisfied with the out-Ocean freights are advancing,

OVER THE BORDER. New York, Oct. 8.—Bradstreet's say: With the exception of small parts of the south, where there have been heavy storms, and yellow fever sec-tions were under quarantine, the distribution of a large business appears to be going on, though complaints of narrow margins of profit are well-nigh unanimous. While the bank clearings of September point to a slightly smaller business done in the country than that of a year ago, yet reports show a fair gain over last year, and therefore over all previous records of this week for last year. Unseasonably warm weather is credited with wrecking the retail and wholesale demands for woolen cioths and shoes, but cooler weather recently has imparted a better tone to this business.

Accompanying the increased move-ment in wheat this week have come splitting shrieks of the feminine variety, and an equally vociferous ming-ling of oaths of the genus male startled Policeman Calian, of the West Thir-tight street, gratical startled with husiness in tax tiles, particularly woolen goods, least favorably situated. The general industrial situation is a less favorable one. Marked activity continues to be a features of the iron and steel trades, but the immense rate of production at present, in the absence of immediate new demands, has caused a shading of some few grades of pig iron and steel billets. Movements in an upward direction, however, are reported from the west.

For the first time this year monthly bank clearings are smaller than the like total a year ago. Prices of leading staples are, in the main well held. R. G. Dun & Co.'s review: The last quarter of 1898 begins with sensational troubles in wool, the Tradesmen's National Bank having failed, with larger reported loans in the wool warehouses while the Wool Exchange has stopped sales, and the Cash Wool Record has stopped publication, and the same week witnessed the failure of the Sawyer mills and the Plymouth mills. It can do no good to disguise the fact that the large eastern advices on wool to hold for higher prices had helped to retard the natural decline in tha product. The truth is, that demand for goods is not helped by high prices for wool. The cotton industry shows better conditions, in spite of the fall of cotton to the lowest quotation ever known, and there is a larger demand for most stable goods.

The boot and shoe industry moves on quite regardless of the high quotations who had recovered courage at the for leather and hides, though leather quotations have been somewhat reduced, and shipments from the east have been larger than ever before for the week, notwithstanding a considerable advance in price of hides at Chicago. The iron industry still gains so rapidly that an unhealthy boom would seem to be in progress but for the peculiar conditions. The battle between the great sugar producers has reduced prices of refined sugar over 1/2c during the past week, and yet the opposition companies find no satisfactory ground for agreement, and the contest may continue for some time.

Failures for the week have been 169 in the United States, against 212 last year, and 23 in Canada, against 29 last

FAMISHING DOWN IN CUBA

Condition of Insurgents Worse Than in War Times-Starvation Thinning the Ranks of the Army.

New York, Oct. 8.-The members of the Cuban junta are much concerned about the stories of suffering from lack of food received by them from the Cuban army. Letters have come which state that the condition of the army and of the rural population in Cuba is now worse than even during the continuance of the war. The junta officials here maintain that the course adopted by the Spanish is resulting as effectually in causing death to the Cuban insurgents and pacificos as did the policy of reconcentration and extermination adopted by Weyler.

Following is an extract from a letter received by Horatio S. Rubens, counsel to the junta here: "Nobody can form an adequate idea of the horrors of our position. Famine causes more deaths in our ranks than have heretofore the bullets of the enemy. If within a month we do not receive much food more than one-third of the Cuban army and of the rural population will cease to exist, and even a month may be too late."

Counsel Rubens said this extract was but one of a score or more similar ones received by him. The Spanish hold the coast towns and the Cubans control the interior. The Spanish maintain that the statu quo provided by the protocol is that they in the towns take care of themselves and the Cubans in the country, including the rural population, supposedly in sympathy with the insurgents, take care of themselves, all warfare ceasing. This, continued Counsel Rubens, is carrying out the policy of reconcentration, and necessarily of extermination, as the Spanish will not allow the importation of food through the coast towns. To lay before the president the advices of this nature received here and to urge if possible the speedy insistence by the American peace commis-sioners at Havana of the discontinuance of the excessive Spanish duties on food importations is said to be the chief reason for the visit of the dele-gate, Thomas Estrada Palma, to Washington just now.

Fatal Runaway at Aylmer-Section Foreman Struck by a Freight Train-Two Miners Killed.

A BURSTING FLYWHEEL KILLED HIM.

Waterloo, Ont., Oct. 8.—A shocking accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Michael Hergott's cider mill, near St. Agatha, a village about six miles from here. A farmer's son, about 18 years of age, named Ellert, employed at the mill, was struck by the bursting of the flywheel and instantly killed. REPORTED SUICIDE.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 8 .- A report is in circulation that a woman named Mrs. Weist, of Weisenberg, a small outlying village, had committed suicide there by drowning.

MINERS KILLED.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 8 .- William J. White and Frank Oscar Waati, two miners employed in No. 5 shaft of the Calumet mine, were killed in a slope at thirty-fourth level by a premature explosion of powder. The two were alone at the time.

THE RAZOR

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.-A gang of toughs got into a row in a hotel here. Three of them pulled out razors, and, before the fight could be stopped, one of them named McGowan was badly cut. The men were farm hands from North Dakota.

SECTION FOREMAN KILLED. Longford Mills, Ont., Oct. 8.-John

Bidwell, a G. T. R. section foreman here, was struck by a freight train at Rama Crossing, about two miles from here, yesterday. He was brought home in an unconscious condition, and died without regaining consciousness. SERIOUS RUNAWAY AT HAMIL-TON.

Hamilton, Oct. 8 .- Fred Trevaskis was riding a horse vesterday afternoon, when the animal became frightened and ran away. Young Trevaskis was unable to control the horse, and was thrown violently to the road. He was removed to the hospital in an unconscious state, and his injuries are of a probably fatal nature.

GIRL BICYCLIST BADLY HURT. Hamilton, Oct. 8 .- Roxina Shaver, 14 years of age, was run down by a team of horses, driven by Mrs. Bradt, of North Glanford, Thursday night, and sustained serious injuries to her spine and other portions of her body. The girl was riding a bicycle at the time, and Mrs. Bradt lost control of the MURDER AND ATTEMPTED SUI-CIDE.

Finlay City, Mich., Oct. 8.-William Schaal, a German, about 55 years old, murdered his wife by cutting her throat. He then cut a severe, but not fatal, gash in his own throat, and, after dressing the wound, went to the house of a friend and reported that his wife had died. Schaal is in custody. He claims that his wife attempted to kill him, and, failing in this, cut her own throat and ended his life. claims she was despondent because of trouble with her parents. His statements are very contradictory, and the evidence points to him as the murderer.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

Aylmer, Ont., Oct. 8 .- A very sad runaway accident took place east of Aylmer yesterday, while Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and child were driving to town. The horse took fright at a bicycle, and, becoming unmanageable, threw the occupants out and severely bruised them. The latest report say there is very little hope for the recovery of the daughter.

TRAMP SHOT.

Toronto, Oct. 8.-Constable Hartnett, a G. T. R. detective, caught three men in a flatcar near the Don station last night. He was going to arrest them for trespassing, and caught Hugh Sheridan, a glass-blower from Indiana. Sheridan broke away from him. and Hartnett shot him in the back. He was taken to the general hospital. Hartnett gave himself up. The other two tramps were arrested later. Their names are William Casey and Dennis Gallagher.

Chronic Eczema Cured.

One of the most chronic cases of Eczema ever cured is the case of Miss Gracie Ella Aiton, of Hartland, N. B. On a sworn statement, Mr. Alton says: 'I hereby certify that my daughter, Gracie Ella, was cured of Eczema of long standing by using four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment." William Thistle, druggist, of Hartland, also certifies that he sold four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which cured Gracie Ella.

Presbyterian Augmentation Committee in Session.

Opening of the P. H. C. Triennial Council at Washington.

Toronto, Sept. 7 .- The Presbyterian General Assembly's augm mittee met yesterday morning at St. Andrew's Church. Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Renfrew, occupied the chair, and the following members were present: Rev. Dr. Lyle, Hamilton; Rev. Dr. Sommerville. Owen Sound; Rev. A. F. Findlay, Barrie; Rev. W. G. Wallace, Toronto; Rev. Dr. Kelloch, Rev. W. Clark, London; Rev. J. C. Tolmie, Windsor; Rev. S. Houston, Kingston; Rev. T. Herridge, Ottawa; Rev. Dr. Wright, Portage la Prairie; Rev. Dr. Warden, and Rev. J. A. Macdonald, To-

The committee passed claims for augmentation of various congregations for the present half-year amounting to between $12,000 and $13,000. It also considered applications from the presbyteries of the church for grants for the year beginning Oct. 1 amounting to about $25,000. It was agreed to forth a special effort, by issuing a leaflet for distribution, to increase the revenue so as to make the fund total $30,000. Representatives will also visit the congregations with a view to stirring up enthusiasm regarding this branch of the church work.

The reports presented by members of the committee from different parts of the Dominion showed that the church's finances were benefiting perceptibly by the good times. A large number of congregations were removed from the augmentation list during the year, but mission stations were added, making the appropriations about the same as last year.

The proposal of the General Assembly to establish a special fund in connection with the opening of the new century came up for discussion, and the committee adopted a resolution expressing their hearty approval of the scheme. They also pledged themselves to co-operate with the General Assembly's special committee which was appointed to mature a scheme for raising from half a million to a million dollars, PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Washington, Oct. 7.-The triennial council of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States is meeting in the Church of the Epiphany. Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, delivered the triennial sermon. The Rev. Morgan Dix, D.D., of New York city, was unanimously chosen presiding officer. It was determined to make a pilgrimage on the 15th instant to Jamestown Island, in the James River, Va., where, in 1607, the Episcopal Church was first founded in this country. The house was informed that a deputation from the Church of England in Canada was in the city and desired to confer with the council. Thereupon it was resolv ed that the houses of bishops and deputies meet together Friday and receive the deputation representing Canadian church. The house of bishops organized by electing Bishop Doane, of Albany, as presiding officer, and re-electing the Rev. Samuel Hart, D.D., of Hartford, as secretary.

SIGNIFICANT SESSION. A significant special session of the Episcopal triennial council was held yesterday, when the House of Bishops joined the House of Deputies in a joint meeting to receive and do honor to a ueputation from the English Church in Canada. The deputation was headed by the Right Rev. Archbishop Lewis, Archbishop O'Mara and Judge Herbert McDonald, the latter being lay representative. After the visiting delegates had been escorted to the platform, Bishop Doane, of Albany, the presiding officer of the House of Bishops, extended them an eloquent welcome. He greeted them in the name of a common church-one in England, in America, in Canada. "As it is impossible," he proceeded, "for the waters of the St. Lawrence to create disturbances between things ecclesiastical in the United States and things ecclesiastical in Canada, so, too, it is impossible for the waters of the Atlantic to create disturbances between these two great nations."

Archbishop Lewis responded in feeling terms, expressing the deep love and admiration of the church in Canand admiration of the church in Can-ada for the sister church on this side of the border. "It does seem to me," he proceeded, "that it is the will of Providence that these great English nations should together take great part in the advancement and civilization of the world, and in so doing it will redound to the glory of God. Every time, in drawing closer together these great nations, it is in the interest of civilization and Christianity. coming of this delegation of Canada is but one sign of common action, showing we are in truth twin sisters."

Right Rev. Dr. O'Mara, of Winnipeg, followed in behalf of the clergy the Canadian West, and spoke of the great aid the church in the United States had given to that in his section.

CENTENARIAN LED THE DANCE

Spry Woman 108 Years Old Active at Her Birthday Festivities.

Sellersville, Pa., Oct. 8 .- Sprightly Mrs. Catharine Watts, 108 years old danced yesterday with four generations of descendants, in celebration of her birthday, in spite of her great weight of years she was able to show them a lively step. Hundreds of relatives and friends called on her during the day to extend their congratulations. The old lady was supremely happy.

Mrs. Watts is a Pennsylvania German, and speaks no English. She works actively about her home every day, and reads without the aid of spectacles. On Sunday she walks regularly to a church several miles from her home. Her youngest child, from a family of ten, is 70 years old. She has 50 grandchildren, 200 greatgrandchildren and 20 great-greatgrandchildren.

New York, Oct. 8 .- A novel decision has been given by a jury in the supreme court in the suit of Mrs. Grace Frezevant against Mrs. Mary L. Frezevant, claiming $50,000 for alienating her husband's affections. The verdict was as follows: "A rich woman cannot alienate the affections of another woman's husband if he is poor. For, being poor, he will try to win the affections of the rich woman, and she should not further suffer, pecuniarily, if she reciprocates the poor man's love, real or pretended."

ROBT. A. CUNNINGHAM,

THE BATTLE

The Use of Cavalry as a Decid ing Stroke.

$ Broke the French Center-Description of the Great Fight.

Marlborough resembled Hannibal in his use of cavalry for the deciding stroke in a great battle, and at Blenhelm he had no less than 8,000 horse, a long line of nodding plumes and gleaming swords, ready to taunch on Tallard's center. Behind were steady battalions of infantry, under the cover of whose fire the horsemen might reform the attack failed. In front was the long slope, soft with grass and elastic o the stroke of the galloping hoofs, an idea field for a great cavalry charge. Fallard had drawn up his cavalry in two lines, and had interlaced them with batteries of artillery and squares of infantry. These were drawn up slightly below the crest of the ridge, so as to exactly cover the summit with

At 5 o'clock Marlborough launched the great attack. Slowly at first, but gathering momentum as they advanced, the long lines of horsemen came on. The air was full of the clangor of scabbard on stirrup; the squadrons were just stretching themselves out into a gallop, as they reached the summit of the ridge, when they were smitten by the fire of the French artillery and infantry. So deadly and close was the volley that the leading squadrons went down before it, and for a few wild minutes, under the canopy of whirling smoke, Marlborough's horsemen were in fierce confusion. That was the moment for a counter-stroke. Tallard saw it, and gave the word to his cavalry to charge. They were more numerous than the British, yet they fal-tered. "I saw an instant," wrote the unfortunate Tallard, "in which the battle was gained if—" his cavalry, in brief, had charged. But it failed to hoofs, came the British cavalry.

Tallard's center was broken as with the stroke of a thunderbolt. His infantry was swept into ruin, his cavalry hurled into disordered flight, and his army fairly cut in twain. His left wing fell back, fighting desperately; but his right, the elite of the army, was hope-lessly shut up in Blenheim itself. As night fell Mariborough drew his lines Thousands Tortured by It, and closely around the village. Webb, with the Queen's regiment, blocked one avenue of escape, a cavalry force-one egiment of w lich consisted of Scots Greys-guarded the other. The French general in command of Blenheim, believing the situation to be desperate, ignobly abandoned his men and tried to swim his horse across the Danube. and was very properly drowned in the attempt. For a time the fight round Blenheim was furious. Part of the village took fire, and in the light of the red flames Frenchmen and Englishmen fought hand to hand with fiery valor. But with the center destroyed and the left wing in full retreat, the condition of Tailard's right, shut up in French infantry laid down their arms as prisoners of war. The great French army, 60,000 strong, composed in the main of veterans and familiar with victory, practically ceased to exist.

The battle changed the course of history. It destroyed the dream of a universal empire, which Louis XIV. had cherished so long; it secured for the Anglo-Saxon race that opportunity of free development which has made the empire of today possible. - Cornhill

POSTPONE OLD AGE

A Doctor Who Knows All About It-His Dietetic Regimen.

This desirable result may be effected, we are told by Dr. W. Kinnear, by avoiding food in which earthly salts abound. He says in the Humanitarlan (London):

Anatomical experiment and investigation show that the characteristics of old age are the deposits of earthy matter of a gelatinous, fibrinous character in the human system. Carbonate and phosphate of lime, mixed with other salts of a calcareous nature, have been found to furnish the greater part of these earthy deposits. As observation shows, man begins in a gelatinous condition; he ends in an osseous or bony one—soft in infancy, hard in old age. By gradual change in the long space of years the ossifi-cation comes on; but, after middle life is passed, a more marked development of the ossific character takes place. Of course these earthy deposits, which affect all the physical organs, naturally interfere with their functions. Partial ossification of the heart produces the imperfect circulation of the blood which affects the aged. When the arteries are clogged with calcareous matter there is interference with circulation, upon which nutrition depends. Without nutrition there is no repair of the body.

None of these things interfere with nutrition and circulation in earlier years. The reparation of the physical system, as everyone ought to know, depends on this fine balance. In fact, the whole change is merely slow, steady accumulation of calcareous deposits in the system. . . When these become excessive and resist expulsion, they cause the stiffness and dryness of old age. Entire blockage of the functions of the body is then a mere matter of time; the refuse matter deposited by the blood in its constant pass age through the system stops the delicate and exquisite machinery which we call life. This is death. It has been proved by analysis that human blood contains compounds of lime, magnesia, and iron. In the blood itself are thus contained the earth salts. In early life they are thrown off. Age has not the power to do it. Hence, as blood is purified by assimllation of the food we eat, to this food we must look for the eathy accumula-tions which in time block up the system and bring on old age. . most everything we eat contains more or less of these elements for destroying life, by means of calcareous salts deposited by the all-nourishing blood. Careful selection, however, can enable us to avoid the worst of them.

Ask your grocer for

Earth salts abound in the cereals, and bread itself, though seemingly the most innocent of edibles, greatly assists in the disposition of calcareous matter in our bodies. Nitrogenous food abounds in this element. Hence a diet made up of fruit principally is best for people advancing in years, for the reason that, being deficient in nitrogen, the ossific deposits so much to be dreaded are more likely to be suspended. Moderate eaters have in all cases a much better chance for long life than those addicted to excesses of the table. Fruits, fish, poultry, young mutton, and veal contain less of the earthy salts than other articles of food, and are therefore best for people entering the vale of years. Beef and old mutton usually are over-charged with salts, and should be avoided; a diet containing a minimum amount of earthy particles is most suitable to retard old age, by preserving the system from functional blockages. . . . The daily use of distilled water is, after middle life, one of the most important means of preventing secretions and the derangement of health. As to diluted phosphoric acid, it is one of the most powerful influences known to science for shielding the human system from the inconveniencies of old age. Daily use of it, mixed with distilled water helps to retard the approach of senility. By its affinity for oxygen the fibrinous and gelatinous deposits previously alluded to are checked, and their expulsion from the system hastened.

To sum up: Avoid all foods rich in charge. The moment of possible vic- the earth soils, use much fruit, espe-tory vanished, and over the crest, with cially juicy, uncooked apples, and take bent heads and wind-blown crests, the daily two or three tumblerfulls of disgleam of a thousand swords, and the tilled water with about ten or fifteen thunder of innumerable galloping drops of diluted phosphoric acid in each glassful. Thus will our days be prolonged, old aged defied, and wealth insured.

RHEUMATISM

Hospital Treatment Fails to Cure It.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Are the Only Sure and Permanent Cure - They Root the Disease Out of the Blood.

Toronto, Oct. 7 .- Thousands of patients enter the hospital here yearly to be treated for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lame Back, and kindred diseases, or complaints that spring from the ailments named.

In not one case out of every hundred condition of Tallard's right, shut up in le a permanent cure made. The pati-Blenheim, was hopeless, and 11,000 ents are treated with electricity, massage, oils and liniments, etc., which do absolutely no good.

In every case the disease runs its course, then abates, and the patient is told he is cured, and is then discharged. After a time, the disease makes its appearance again, and again its victim goes to the hospital.

The fault of hospital treatment lies in the fact that it is applied to the effect of the disease, instead of to the cause. Its object is to relieve or ban-cause of the pain. Now Rheumatism, Lumbago, and the other diseases named above are caused by the Uric Acid in the blood. This should have been strained out of the blood by the Kidneys. But as they have not strained it out, we know they are defective, or diseased. Rheumatism, Lumbago, etc., are, therefore, the effects of diseased Kidneys. Remove the disease from the Kidneys and the Kidneys will remove the Rheumatism from the blood. Now, the only medicine known man, that will remove any and all diseases from the Kidneys is Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills, therefore, are the only medicine on earth that can cure Rheumatism. And Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured every case of Rheumatism for which they have ever wouldn't be one-tenth of the drinking been used. Release of a Famous European Who Was Captured by the Ma_di.

Interesting History of Dr. Neufeld Whom the Fall of Omdurman Has Released.

When Omdurman was taken by the Anglo-Egyptian forces, Karl Neufeld, the famous European doctor, who settled in Upper Egypt many years ago, was rescued unharmed. Neufeld tell into the hands of the mahdi's followers in the neighborhood of Dongola in the late spring or early summer of 1887. He was the last European male captive of importance remaining in the power of the dervishes. Various accounts are given of his early career. According to the Neues Weiner Tagblatt, Neureld, shortly after the conclusion of his college course at Leipsic, where he studied medicine, severely wounded an opponent in a duel, and was obliged to go abroad. He settled as a physician at Assouan, Upper Egypt, where he practiced his profession from 1879 to 1881. When the rising of Mahomed Achmed took place in the latter year, Herr Neufeld was obliged to give up his residence at Assouan. While yet at the university, he had given many proofs of his hardinood of character and love of adventure; and he now joined the English troops, during the operations in the Soudan, as an interpreter of the Arabic language, in which position his knowledge of the people and of their political relations, together with his shrewdness and courage, caused him to be highly appreciated. In 1888 he saved a whole detachment of English officers by putting the enemy on a wrong scent. For this service he was appointed purveyor to the British troops, in which capacity he set up business at Assouan, and established branches in other parts of the country.

In April, 1887, he set out on a journey, ostensibly for purposes of trade, with a caravan of over forty retainers. Various accounts were given of the object of his expedition, one being that it was undertaken with a view of rescuing Slatin Pasha, then a prisoner of the mahdi; while other accounts represented that he was merely trying to ascertain the position of the enemy. Evidently recognizing the danger he was about to run, Neufeld, before leaving Assouan, deposited his money in an English bank, and sent his wife and only child to his relatives at Leipsic. His apprehension proved to be but too well founded. Through the treachery of an Arab, he and his whole caravan were taken by the dervishes. The first report received after his capture was that the whole party was beheaded. A later report represented that Neufeld had been spared, but placed in fet-

Finally, a letter was received from him, dated at Khartoum, where he said he was being treated in a very friendly manner by the mahdi. He nearly lost his life when the mahdi was told that Neufeld was an English or Egyptian spy sent to ascertain whether Mudir Mustapha Pasha was favorable to the English. The mahdi, highly incensed, declared that he regretted not having hanged Neufeld, and had him loaded with chains and cast into prison, where he remained

Ultimately, a scarcity of powder arose in the Soudan, and Neufeld's knowledge of chemistry was brought into requisition for its manufacture. It appears that he collected saltpeter, and made the explosive; but the same narratives that gave this information described him as still in fetters, and carrying iron rings upon both feet.

His next clever exploit was subsequent to the death of the mahdi, and under the rule of the khalifa. Neufeld decorated the tomb of the mahdi, whose dome the British gunboats have just partially demolished, and did the work so effectively, that according to Father Rossignolli, who escaped from Khartoum in 1894, the widows of the prophet were "quite touched." After that he became a mechanic, and— still according to Father Rossignoli— "tried all sorts of inventions, and took greatest trouble to construct the machine for making coins." Meanwhile, he appears to have "acted as editor" khalifa's proclamations, in addition to writing books, illustrating them himself, for a limited circulation among the dervishes.

NON-TREATING

ish the pain, instead of removing the It Has Caught On Wonderfully at Chicago, and Will Spread.

> You hear much about the appetite for strong drink and the frightful effects of it: but we believe it to be a fact that most of the drunkenness in this country is not the result for the appetite for drink. Comparatively few of those who get drunk do so because they are "slaves of drink." Most of them get drunk because they are the slaves of custom-custom in the form of the treating habit. The abolition of the treating habit would be far more effective than legislative prohibition as a promoter of temperance.

Every man who frequents bar-rooms knows this to be the case. There wouldn't be one-tenth of the drinking habit. A man feels thirsty and goes into a saloon for a glass of beer. Three or four acquaintances are there, and one of them asks him to join them. It is all he desires and all he needs; you have Rheumatism? It ought to be. but he feels bound to treat in his turn. Then another party does the same. and so on until each one has treated. And so this man who only wanted 5 cents worth of beer, comes out with four or five drinks in him, one or two of which are probably whisky or gin. Or a party of young fellows meet in the evening for some purpose, business or pleasure, and adjourn to the nearest bar for drinks. Some of them may want one drink, some perhaps don't want any. But every man of them feels that he must buy the drinks, else his companions will set him down is the constant, steady, unintermitted as a sponger. So they sit or stand, as fire that counts. temperance movement on antitreating lines is a sensible sort of temperance movement. Such a movement was recently started in Chicago by a railroad official named E. T. Monett, and it has "caught on" wonderfully all through the west. Mr. Monett is astonished at its success. He founded a "non-treating club," principally for traveling men, and designed a button and a card for all who wished to join the association. Thousands of demands for the buttons and cards have al-ready been met, thousands more buttons and cards are being prepared, but the means of supply are far short of the demand. The button has a white surface, with the letters "N. T. C." in a blue scroll. It is to be worn on the vest, and displayed whenever the wearer is invited to take a drink. Here is the card:

NON-TREATING CLUB

OBJECT. - When you want a drink, take it, and don't imagine you will offend anyone by not asking eight or ten to "join you."

PLEDGE. - Wear the button and make a pledge to yourself not to treat anyone who is a member.

The pupils in the one district school of a New Hampshire village are taught a cheerful combination of music, morals and mathematics.

A visitor to the school had the privilege of joining in the chorus of the song, in which the results of this mixed teaching were plainly shown. It was the lively "Yankee Doodle," which the words were set, and the first verse was as follows :

"The surest way on earth to make A great and glorious nation, Is for each boy and girl to get A thorough education. Five times five are twenty-five,

Five times six are thirty, Five times seven are thirty-five, And five times eight are forty." When John Farmer was chosen by the governor of his state to command a regiment of minutemen at the time of Morgan's raid, his sole qualifications for office were common sense, endurance and perseverence. He was convinced of his duty, and when commissioned was told to get his troops in order and lead them down to the place where Morgan would probably appear. This order he carried out in the following original manner:

"Get into two strings in the road here, all looking the same way, and when we start out I want you to walk right clus together, and stick to yer gait until we get where we're goin' to; and when the battle begins, I want you to come right up in a bunch and stay there, and load and fire until old John Morgan turns and runs. Now grab yer guns, powder, shot and other fixin's, and we'll go after Morgan."

"I think I'll take a walk," remarked away from the hotel. "Which is the way to Dewey street?"
"We hain't got any Dewey street," said the man on the hotel steps. "The city council passed an ordinance changing the name of Olive street to Dewey, all right enough, but the mayor vetoed

'Who is your mayor?" "He's a man named Sampson. He said he reckoned we'd better wait till the war was over."

According to the war notes of Mr. John Fox, jun., in Harper's Weekly, Kentucky volunteers had for some time a difficulty in getting their ra-tions from Uncle Sam. The colonel fared like the privates and treated them as if they were sons of his, but this did not alter the fact that at first they almost starved.

The boys kept up their spirits, however and were even disposed to indulge in pleasantries at their beloved colonel's expense, and one morning a company lined up before his tent, sang him a song, and told him how hungry they were. Then they told him they had a request to make, which they feared he might not grant. The colonel told them to make the request fearlessly.

"Please, sir, have you a calendar?" asked a deep voice respectfully, at one end of the line.
"A calendar?" repeated the colonel. "Why, certainly. Orderly-But what do you want with a calendar?" he asked, a bit mystified. "Please, sir," said a squeak from the littlest man at the other end of the line, "we should like to eat the dates," and thereupon the soldiers ran. Somehow the story of the dearth of food got abroad and proved a blessing. It touched the hearts of the mothers in blue-grass and bear-grass, and after Old Mr. Warner came every weekday, but all he ever asked for was a ticket entitling him to work sawing tweet entitling him to work sawing wood in the wood-yard that had been with the hay nights now. I count it a real this hed as an adjunct to the restablished as an adjunct to the reestablished as an adjunct to the re-lief bureau. The matron of the relief room, Mrs. Lewellyn, looked distressed. Mr. Warner was much later than usual today, and she, supposing he was not coming, had given his wood-yard ticket to another man.

"I'm real sorry, Mr. Warner," apologized Mrs. Lewellyn.
The old man looked frightened. "Isn't there any ticket for me?"

"Not today," she answered. A trembling seized the old man. Slowly he turned and went out. "He's driven from pillar to post,like the rest of us, I guess," said one wo-

"He isn't fit to saw a stick of wood," murmured the troubled mat-ron; "but he'd do it if he had a woodyard ticket. I'll be sure to have a ticket for him tomorrow."

After a long walk Mr. Warner came to the less built upon blocks of the On an otherwise vacant block, stood the large barn, in the loft of which Mr. Warner and Gran'pa Jamison lived. Mr. Warner climbed the ladder inside the barn, and passed between the bales of hay piled in the loft to a space that formed a sort of room. Here was some loose hay on which the old men slept at night. A door opened from the barn-loft to the outer air, and this door now stood open for light and ventilation. A white-haired, clean-looking old man sat on some hay.

"See what I've brought you, Gran'pa Jamison!" said Mr. Warner, cheerily.

"I was afraid the ladder wouldn't be where you could find it to get up here." said Gran'pa Jamison. "The ladder was right in place,"

The ladder was a source of anxiety to the two old men. must attend to the norses. Tonight, while waiting for the expressmen, Don thought of taking away the ladder again; but he heard the old men's voices in the loft, and, climbing part way up the ladder, Don sat down When no idea of being overheard the old men talked in the dark.

"When I was a little fellow," Mr. Warner was saying, "I used to go nights and sit on my stool by my father and put my head on his knee, and we'd talk. Father said things to me then that I've never forgotten, and one of them was that every person ought to be a blessing to the neighborhood he lives in. I've thought of that all my life. Now, Gran'pa Jamison, are we a blessing to this neighbor-

When boys ain't cared for, it's no wonder they get rough, and maybe go wrong, after a while. Gran'pa Jamison, you and I must study how to be

"Yes, Mr. Warner," assented Gran'pa Don heard an express wagon coming, Jamison. and he softly slipped down the ladder. "They're goin' to be a blessin' to only a young man's importance in newly-acquired authority.

There was a faint sound from the he ran to attend to the express horses. Nobody around there had ever cared much about being a "blessing" to Don. Nobody here knew that, two years before this, Don had run away from his home in another state. His mother, a widowed dressmaker, had Lever since then heard from Don.
After the first night's listening on the ladder, Don began to go often and sit there evenings, surreptitiously hearkening to what was said in the loft. He listened to Mr. Warner singing Gran'pa Jamison to sleep every night. Don was used to rough words expressmen and others. The great attraction to him in listening on the ladder was that he sometimes heard himself mentioned, and always kindly. One day Gran'pa Jamison gave the

Don to himself. Afterward, when, from nightly sitting on the ladder, he had learned how scanty the fare of the two old men was, Don was seized with remorse for time he sang "Home, Sweet Home," receiving the apple.

The old men had always taken pains to nod or speak to the boy when they met him, but Don, used to surly treatment, had seldom responded. Now he there had been another, dearer home began to shamefacedly nod back or than a barn-loft for this old man who mutter some sort of answer. If Gran'pa Jamison or Mr. Warner had exsang. Perhaps he thought of that vanished home tonight; but the old voice pressed their wish to be a "blessing" to him, he would have laughed at them; did not stop, for Mr. Warner sang to comfort an older and more helpless but the fact that the boy had secretly discovered that there was such a wish had some effect on him. So had the words of praise old Mr. Warner would

"An exile from home," crooned the old voice, beginning another stanza. The new express owner swallowed a lump in his throat. He stepped down and went softly from the barn. 'I won't turn those two old men

The Canadian Advisory Board, as already organized, is composed of practical, responsible men, who have had wide experience in produce, refrigerating and shipping business.

In London and its suburbs, with its six millions of inhabitants, a field exists for a wholesale and retail Canadian produce trade of great magnitude and immense possibilities. Sixteen mechanical refrigerating warehouses, distributed in suitable localities around London, are already in operation. Corporation reserve supplies will be carried in these Cold Storage Warehouses, and there will be telephone communication between them and the Corporation establishments.

The successful introduction of mechanical refrigeration has opened up a new era in food supplies. Perishable products are now successfully carried in Cold Storage Warehouses, preserved without deterioration, and furnished to consumers in excellent condition all the year round at reasonable prices. This Corporation has selected the newest and most approved system of refrigeration for its storage requirements, and has secured the services of firstclass men, who are thoroughly experienced in the produce and refrigerating

The German soldier is supplied with a small devotional book in which are prayers for the different circumstances in which the exigencies of the service may place him. The Emergency Closet.

A number of valuable hints as to the fitting up of a general supplydrawer for cases of emergency are given by a writer in Demorest's Magazine. She says:

A supply-drawer containing bandages, plasters and other necessaries in case of sudden illness or accident, is as great a household convenience as the medicine chest.

The drawer or shelf that is to hold the emergency supplies should be near the medicine chest, and it is most im-portant that it should always be in

The nature of the supplies must depend somewhat upon the needs of the family. If there are many chil-dren, with their various childish aches and pains, the closet should hold a generous supply of old muslin for plasters as well as a roll of fiannel for hot applications.

When there is a band of turbulent boys to be considered, bandages galore will be required, and surgical plaster for the many cuts and wounds.

For general home supplies, first in importance is the hot-water bag. It is well to have two of these useful ar-ticles—a large one holding two quarts and a small one holding a pint of water. The smaller size is much better to use about the face and neck.

The closet should also contain one two-ounce package of absorbent cotton, one roll of one-inch-wide surgical plaster, and on-half yard of oil-silk. Heated, the cotton makes an excellent pad to ease severe pain, where the weight of a bag would be irritating. It is also a superior dressing, as it is absolutely free from all important and absolutely free from all impurities and has the extra advantage of absorbing moisture from the skin. The plaster will hold together a cut or keep a bandage in place, and the oil-silk may be used to cover hot applications to keep the heat in and prevent the moisture from spreading.

A good supply of old flannel is a positive luxury. It is, however, well to remember that it should always be boiled before being admitted to the supply-closet. Canton flannel, which is soft and holds the heat well, will serve where old flannel can not be ob-

Old table linen makes the most useful sort of pieces for plaster, etc., and old sheets are equally valuable. They may be torn in wide strips and folded away. Sheets are, however, best torn in three-inch-wide strips for bandages, each strip being rolled up as tight as possible and pinned.

When there is much demand for bandages and old muslin is scarce, cheese-cloth can be used. The cheap unbleached variety is best. It should first be boiled with a little washing oda in the water, and when dry torn in strips and rolled. Cheese-cloth can also be used for poultices. It should be boiled as for bandages, and cut in squares the width of the cloth.

This same inexpensive material, cut in smaller squares, makes excellent handkerchiefs in case of hay fever or pulmonary difficulty, as the squares can be burned after being used. To keep such a closet in order costs

Extra Sleeves.

The substitution of transparent sleeves for those of heavier material, or the supplying of sleeves to an evening tollet that one may suddenly wish to render somewhat less dressy for afternoon use, is not uncommon, certainly economical practice. White satin sleeves, covered with cream or black lace or figured silk net, transform a waist whose sleeves were originally plain black. Supposing color is introduced on the bodice, that same color will supply a foundation for the undersleeves of chiffon net or lace, and now that we cannot count on the permanence of any fashion, it is absurd to purchase many gowns at one time, for, by a little trouble and attention to detail—remembering that trifles make as well as mar matters sartorial one can always compass that variety which every dainty woman likes to introduce into her attire.

How Tiresome.

Many of the gowns of the immediate future will fasten at the back. The woman who does not have some one to help her will find this an inconvenient style. But those who keep up with the procession of the well-dressed must expect to be inconvenienced. The princess gown owes its charm to this arrangement in a great measure. Word has come from Paris that we must prepare for the return of buttons; and wonderful buttons they are, too, Large stones, cameos, emeralds and amethysts, diamond shaped, oval and square, are to be used extensively as the season advances.

Caring for Garments.

If garments are put away clean and free from moths' eggs, and are protected from the flying moths, they are safe without camphor or any of the disagreeable odors that are resorted to. A number of stout calico bags sewed up with double seams, and tied tightly at the top with tapes, are most useful. Let all be distinctly labeled, and not be so large but that each can be devoted to one class of garments. Coats, dresses, etc., that must not be tumbled, may be nicely folded, wrapped in newspaper and laid in large boxes, labeled and put on the closet shelves.

Moulded Eggs.

Butter well some individual timbale moulds; chop some parsley very fine, and powder the inside of the buttered moulds with it. To do this, place a teaspoonful of parsley in a buttered mould, cover it with the hand and shake it well; then invert the mould, and strike it on the table to free it of all that is loose. Break into each mould an egg, letting it go in slowly from the side so no air bubbles will be held. as they make holes and uneven surface in the cooked egg. Sprinkle the top with salt and butter. Place the moulds in a pan of hot water, half covering them, and poach in a moderate oven eight to ten minutes, or until firm enough to stand, but not very hard. Serve them on a flat dish with a spoonful of white, Bechamel or tomato sauce under each form. This is a very simple way of preparing eggs, and makes a good luncheon dish.

Deviled Fish.

Take two cupfuls of any cold cooked whitefish, measured after it has been flaked and the skin and bones removed. Scald one cupful of milk, add one cupful of fine bread crumbs-stale, not dried-stir over the fire for a moment, then take off; add one tablespoonful of chopped parsiey, the chopped yolks of three hard-boiled eggs, a dash of cayenne, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika, one scant teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of onion juice. Mix and add the flaked fish. Fill shells or individual dishes, cover with fried bread crumbs, and heat in a quick oven. This will serve eight people.

Army pets whose sterling worth is appreciated by their masters and their masters' cronies are numberless, but dogs who rise to the position of "regimental pets," who become part and parcel of the regiment at home and in | she was. action, and who receive official recognition, are comparatively few. Of this class are two canine soldiers, whose records are given in the English Illustrated Magazine: Bob was the regimental pet of the Second Battalion, Royal Berkshires, and a soldier dog to the backbone. He accompanied his regiment to Afghanistan, and went through, at the battle of Maiwand, one of the most terrific day's fighting that has known during the past generation. Man after man was cut down, but

Bob would not be denied his share in the fray. He kept on running to the front, barking fiercely at the enemy, until at length a bullet laid him low. The wound was serious enough, as it tore nearly all the skin off, his back, but he recovered, and once again accompanied his old corps into action. When the regiment returned to England the next year, Bob received great honor at the hands of the Queen, her Majesty not only decorating him with the medal for the campaign, but tying it around his neck with her own hands when the regiment paraded before her at Osborne House. Like many another warrior, Bob did "Regimental Jack,"the Scots Guards' dog, took part in the hottest fights in the Crimea. He became the pet of the virtues of Diamond Dyes, mothers in Guards in a curious fashion.

One cold winter's night he was found by a sentry in St. James' Palace Gardens. Someone had been brutally illtreating him, and had ended by flinging him over the high wall.

went joyfully to find his protector. Find him he did, but he was among the slain, and Jack was disconsolate. When the regiment came home, the Queen graciously noticed Jack, and he was invested with a miniature Victoria Cross and the Crimean medals; but he pined away from sheer lack of interest in life, and one morning, shortly afterwards, he was found beneath the snow, sleeping his last sleep.

Jenny.

We went out to drive with Jenny yesterday. She was in the shafts and we were on the seat, and we all looked very nice. Jenny is brown, with long, smooth ears, and large, soft eyes, and she is the prettiest donkey anywhere about. But-well, mamma says that beauty is only skin-deep. At first Jenny trotted along nicely, and we said, "Oh, what a pleasant thing it is to have a donkey!"

Presently she stopped and began to eat grass; we knew she could not be hungry. "Go on!" we cried; but Jenny would not go on. I beat her quite hard, but she only shook her ears and did not seem to mind at all. backed round till the cart stood directly across the road, and not another foot would she stir.

Pretty soon a carriage came along, and the horse was frightened at Jenny, and began to rear and plunge. "Take your donkey out of the way!" shouted the driver. We beat Jenny again till

I got out and tried to push her, but I might as well have pushed the stone wall. Then the man turned round and drove away, but we stayed there. were tired and the sun was hot, but Jenny did not mind the heat.

Another man came by-or, rather, a big boy-and he laughed at us, and said, "Ho! before I'd give up to a donkey!" so we asked him to help us. and he came and he tried to push Jenny back from the road. He pushed and pushed, setting his chest against her forehead, and shoving till he was purple in the face; but Jenny planted her four feet and laid back her ears and stood still; and we sat and laughed, for we could not help it.

At last the big boy said he was not going to stand there and be made a fool of, so he went away growling and grumbling; and Jenny looked after him as if she were laughing. Perhaps

At last something seemed to come into her mind; she looked all about her; then she turned round and ran home as fast as she could go. She bolted into the garden, and, upsetting the cart, and throwing Bessie and me out, with the cushions on top of us. Then she ran over the flower-beds, and at last the gardener caught her and put her into the stable. We are thinking of giving Jenny away.-Laura E. Rich-

The Catholic Club Has Now Entered Upon Its Third Year.

Strong Staff of Officers Elected-Annual Meeting-Has a Membership of 200, and a Cash Surplus.

The Catholic Club, of this city, is entering upon its third year. The hospitality of this club and the genial character of its members are too well strike wil lend in a few days. known to need comment. The club, since its inception, has steadily grown in membership, and its keynote has been sociability throughout. The members as a body and individually have taken a deep interest in the in-stitution, with the result that it now stands as one of the foremost clubs of the city.

Last night the second annual meeting was held in the club's spacious and handsomely furnished rooms on Richmond street. There was a large turnout of members, who displayed keen interest in the reading of the reports and election of officers for the ensuing year. The chair was occupied by Mr.
John O. Dromgole, and Mr. John Loughlin acted as secretary.
The annual reports showed a membership of nearly 200. A cash surplus also remained, and the year altogether was a most successful one. The seven principal officers were for the present. Steps will be elected by acclamation. The honorary to have the investigation made, president is Bishop O'Connor, and Mr. James Egan was chosen to succeed Mr. among the Indians for their stand Dromgole as president. Mr. P. Pocock is first vice-president; Mr. M. O'Hagan, second vice-president; John Forrestal, treasurer; E. R. Dromgole, secretary, and Joseph Leach, secretary of committees.

The election of two auditors and the executive committee will be held on Friday next. Messrs. P. F. Boyle, A. J. McRae, O. Labelle and M. O'Sullivan were nominated for the former position, and for the executive committee, Messrs. P. Walsh, M. Quirk, M. P. McDenough, Joseph Pevler, W. P. Regan, O. Labelle, Jerry McDonald, jun., and John M. Daly were named. Five are to be elected.

declined renomination as president. Addresses were subsequently made by James Logan, P. H. Bartlett Walter Morgan, Ed. Flock, James Colerick, Campbell Becher, Arthur Essery, Ernest Ruse, Thomas Beattie, M.P., Mayor Wilson and Dr. Roome. Mr. Arthur Estery accepted the nomination partly for the reason that "no one bearing the name of Essery ever took a back seat." Mr. Beattle said they were sorry to lose President Gray. He doubted if the people were satisfied with the record of the Liberal Government, who had failed to keep a single pledge. As for Ontario, the Conservatives could have carried the province had they had confidence. Mayor Wilson said he was proud to belong to the old Conservative party, ther Brady for Christian doctrine, awarded to Jessie McGregor.

Because She Used Dodd's Kidney Pills and So Cured Female Weakness.

Norwich, Oct. 3 .- Mrs. J. S. Hooper, wife of Mr. J. Stanley Hooper, of North Norwich township, is a living proof of the unapproached value of Dodd's Kidney Pills, in the treatment of diseases Mrs. Hooper was a martyr to Female Weakness and Kidney Disease for 12 years. Norwich, Detroit and Buffalo physicians treated her unavailingly. She then tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes cured her thoroughly, and made her as healthy, strong and vig-orous as she ever was. Dodd's Kidney Laborers' Strike In Paris Is Spreading.

The Situation Is Causing Consterna tion-Clashes With Police and Troops Are Frequent.

Paris, Oct. 8.-The strike of the laborers here has extended to nearly all the building trades, and it is feared the railroad men will join in the movement. Work on the exhibition buildings and underground railroad has completely ceased.

About 60,000 men have gone out on atrike and the situation is causing consternation. The attitude of the strikis increasingly aggressive and fights between strikers and so-called "blacklegs" are incessant, involving the intervention of the police, troops and mounted republican guards, have been obliged to repeatedly charge the strikers.

There are great apprehensions lest the agitators turn the strike movement to political ends. The Temps declares that the leaders of the men are aiming at a general strike, if not a revolution. The latest news this morning is that the municipal council and the contractors have come to an agreement regarding the demands of the laborers, and hopes are expressed that the

Gen. Bacon Says He Has the Indians Whipped.

The Pillagers Are Good Farmers and Have Been Peaceful Till Now.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 8.-A special from Duluth says Gen. Bacon has sent word that he has the Pillager band whipped, and does not need further reinforcements. The Indians have scattered in their canoes to various islands in that section. Gen. Bacon will remain at Walker for the present. Steps will be taken a view of fixing the responsibility against the government. Washington, Oct. 8.-Indian Commissioner Jones, says: The Pillager In-dians numbered 1,153 and were a branch of the Chippewa tribe, which were scattered over the country near the scene of the trouble. The Pillagers were all advanced to civilization, were industrious farmers, and the crops they produced compared favor-ably with those of the whites in that vicinity. They had heretofore been peaceful, and the only explanation he They had heretofore been could give of the present difficulties was that they were caused by the whites. While the present troubles were purely local, it was undoubtedly brought about by the proposition to remove the Pillagers from Leech Lake to the White Earth reservation. An item of $35,000 was originally carried by the last Indian appropriation bill to pay the Indians for the im- John Morgan has received the approvements on their property, but was stricken from the bill before it became law. Mr. Jones thought the Indians had been led to believe they would be noved and would receive no pay for their improvements, which was the beginning of their ill-feeling.

Death of a Felmont Pioneer-Ailsa Craig Postmaster Dismissed,

On Tuesday last Mr. C. Walker received a letter from the postmastergeneral announcing his dismissal from the postmastership of Ailsa Craig. Mr. John Morgan has received the appointment.

There died, a few days ago, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Peter McVicar, con. 7, Lobo, Mrs. Mary Gray, widow of the late Neil Gray. Deceased was 83 years of age, a native of Argyleshire, Scotland, and lived in Lobo over half a century. She leaves three sons and two daughters to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother, namely, John, Duncan and Neil, of Manitoba; Mrs. McKillop, of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. McVicar, of Lobo. Belmont Times: The death of Mr. Wm. McKellar, which took place on Monday at the family residence, just west of the village, has cast a gloom over the neighborhood. Deceased was ada for the month of September as per 49 years of age, and was the fourth son of the late Alexander McKellar. He was unmarried, and lived with his mother, sister and brother. He was sheep and lambs, 7,257, £11,130; bacon, a quiet, industrious man. Besides his aged mother, he leaves one sister, Miss Effie, at home, and six brothers-John, of St. Thomas; Alexander, of Seattle, Washington Territory; Dugald, in the Southern States; Ellar, of Stillwater, Cattle—Receipts, 300; market dull and weak. TORONTO, Oct. 7.—Owing to several causes the export cattle trade is exceptionally low, practically dead, said one of the largest dealers in the western cattle market today. The British market is low, for one thing, and all the available shipping space is being filled up direct from the Northwest. There are several lots of export cattle which have been standing in the market for two weeks, and there were 20 of them left today. Stockers are low, because the Buffalo market is low. The market here has in consequence dropped. McDougal, Bran-don & Austin, of Fenton Falls, bought a load of stockers at $3 30, two loads at $350 and one load at $315. Butchers' cattle sold from $3 to $3 50, the market being very dull. Crawford & Hunniset sold one load of exporters, extra quality, at $405; extra good butchers, at $385; the same firm paid from $2 75 to $3 30 for some stockers.

Hogs are low and will be down to $4371/2 next week, for the very best selections. Export sheep are quoted at from $3 50 to $3 65; lambs, $3 75; extra quality, $4 10; bucks, $2 75 to $3; Calves, $3 to $6. The deliveries on the market were very heavy today, com-prising 92 loads. council held here at the reservation, a demand was made by the government arough Indian Agent Sutherland that the men concerned in the killing of soldiers near Bear Island be given up to answer the charge of murder. Marshal O'Connor and 250 troops commanded by General Bacon will move to the agency on the reservation today. Boats have been chartered, and another effort will be made to apprehend the 20 Indians, for whom the marshal has issued warrants. Information given out by one of the Indians at the council yesterday was that 19 young bucks composed the force which engaged Gen. Bacon's command near Bear Island. Gay-She-Gwon-Ay-Yosh, or, as the English version would be, Strong Voice of the Wind, was the leader, and directed the plan of battle. The band, excepting the killed, are now on Bear Island, and refuse to come in or take part in the council. It is likely that such renegades as they can induce to join them will make fining themselves to depredations on small settlements. The report that Bog-A-Mah-Ga-Shik was killed by one of the sharpshooters is denied: the chief refusing to take

The number of cases entered for hearing before Police Magistrate Parke numbered 1,439. Of these the summary trials for indictable offenses, such as stealing, assault, non-support, housebreaking, indecent exposure, indecent assault, etc., numbered 84. There were 72 juveniles before the court. The total number of summary convictions for non-indictable offenses, such as drunks, breach of bylaw, vagrancy, etc., numbered 388, of which 143 were drunks. The total amount of fines collected amounted to $1,133.

FULL INQUIRY

Governmen. Will Investigate the Conduct of Yukon Officials.

Mr. Ogilvie Given Full Power-Miners' Complaints-A New Gold Commissioner.

Ottawa, Oct. 8 .- Commissioner Ogilvie has been empowered by the government to make an inquiry under oath into the allegations of official wrong-doing in the Yukon. This action has been taken, not because of any definite charges against anyone, but because the desires to afford an opportunity for the fullest and most searching investitask no exception can be taken. He cannot be challenged on the ground that his judgment will be swayed by political partiality, his probity has withstood every temptation that the allurements of the Yukon can present, and his ability is conceded.

A MINERS' PETITION. No charge of any kind against any official of the government in the Yukon reached the minister of the interior until a couple of days ago, when Mr. Sifton received a petition signed by a number of men who professed to, and doubtless do, represent the miners' committee in Dawson City. This document makes charges in general terms against the administration, particularly in attacking the gold commissioners of Canada. The petition asks for the appointment of a commissioner to inquire into the truth of the statements which are made. No specific instances of misconduct are given. Immediately upon receipt of the petition, Mr. Sifton laid it before those of his colleagues who are in the city, and it was decided to issue a commission to Mr. Ogilvie to make an inquiry and take evidence under oath. In his desire to let in the fullest light upon the administration of the Yukon, Mr. Sifton has Causes & Commotion in the Church Congress.

Bradford, England, Oct. 8 .- At the meeting of the church congress, one of the most important Anglican bodies in England, Mr. Justice Grantham made a bitter attack upon Mr. Kensit, the anti-ritualist agitator, and his followers. He said that churchmen would not allow themselves to be dragged at the heels of noisy demagogues or itinerant street brawlers, nightly pouring out their venom into the ears of the church's most pronounced enemies; they exposed cloven hoof of self-interest as the motive power of their action. (Cries of "Shame!") "Such base disloyalty to the church," he added, "will do more to make us tolerate practices we dislike than all the eloquence of those who favor them." (Loud cheers.) Mr. Kensit, on rising to reply, was received with hisses, and spoke amid repeated interruptions. He declared that the needed alterations in the church would have to begin with the archbishops and bishops. They swore banish all erroneous and strange doctrines. Did they do it? The meeting shouted "Yes." "Then," said Mr. Kensit, "do they encourage me in exposing ritualism?" There was as big a shout as before, but this time it

NOT LOVED, YET WEDDED

However deeply a man or woman may love, if the social status of the object be much beneath their own, it is impossible for them to divest them-selves of the feeling that they are conferring a favor. Though Lord Caris-ford had not been conscious of this, Maria's rejection somewhat awakened the sensation, and he felt hurt as well as miserably disappointed.

He could no longer hope, she had not left him the faintest possibility. Henceforth Maria could be nothing to him, and, a dulled, stunned sense upon his brain, he proceeded to a side street where he had left his groom with his

As he went he remembered his cousin, and reflected how pleased she would be to hear again of the com-panion she had so liked. No doubt it would serve to cheer her in her illness. Consequently, mounting, Lord Cecil rode at once to the earl's, Mayfair.

He had not seen Lucille since her illness, but on learning that she had risen and was in her boudelr, he sent up a request to do so, to congratulate her on her convalescence. The message the footman brought back was to the following effect:

Her ladyship had already exerted her strength overmuch that day, therefore would Lord Cecil excuse her not receiving him until the morrow, when she might feel better able to do so.

"Assuredly," responded the young nobleman. "But take this paper to the countess. I am certain it will give her much pleasure, and not do her any possible harm." And he wrote on a scrap of paper

these words:
"Dear Lucille, "I am so delighted to have such good news of you. My visit was to say that at last I have found Maria S-. She is living in Chester Square. I will tell you all when I see you tomorrow. "Yours affectionately,

Dispatching this, he lounged for a few seconds about the drawing-room, then had entered the hall to depart, when the footman, hastening down the stairs, said that the countess would pe exceedingly glad to see him for a

She was yet attired as in the morning; her face was pale and worn, making more ghastly brilliant the sparkle of her eyes and the small bright spot on each cheek, caused by feverish excitement.

Her swoon had not lasted long, but instead of awaking to greater prostration, the suffering she had gone through had produced a fever of the system which supplied a fictitious

Fictitious or otherwise, Lucille little cared since it enabled her to carry out the purpose which, in a brief, painful conversation, she had, with the earl's full approval, arrived at. This was that she should start immediately for some quiet locality in the south of France, after which the earl, who had now learned all about the Squelchers, and experienced intense compassion for Lucille, promised to take upon himself the task of privately breaking the intelligence to the marquis and obtaining his advice. Thus her ladyship had been occupied in giving directions to her attendants relative to her quitting England early on the morning of the day following the morrow, and was lying back fairly exhausted when Lord Cecil sent up his

"My dear Lucille," exclaimed Lord Carisford, hurrying forward, "I never knew you had been as ill as your must have been. Are you not trying your strength too soon? Have you not too early left your apartment?

As he took her hand she smiled up into his face, saying: "Pray do not look so concerned Cecil. I am better, almost well." "Almost! My poor Lucille!" and, stooping, with a cousin's love he kissed her forehead.

Yet holding his hand, she remarked in a tone of forced galety: "How kind you are, Cecil. Everybody spoils me. Remember what Goethe says, 'There is something in every man which, if known to his fellow, would make him hate him.' I wonder if it be true?"

"Possibly, for Goethe spoke of man, not woman," laughed Lord Carlsford.
"My sweet cousin, before I would believe that of you I'd discredit my own

"Thanks! 'tis a compliment I will prize," she replied. "Never of my own will would I risk losing such an opinon. But come, relate to me all about Maria Saproni. I am full of anxiety and impatience, for the day after tomorrow I quit England."

"Quit England!" ejaculated Lord Cecil, sitting by her chair and leaning over her, "in your state of health?"
"It is my state of health that necessitates it," she rejoined, yet dropping the lashes over her eyes. "My indispositing has been tiring on the nerves. Change of air and scene are the best curatives. All my illness now is weakness; that is what makes me so tired." and she raised her eyes, smiling faintly

Lucille listened in silence, though she never removed her gaze from his face. She saw the color come and go; she beheld the manly effort to stifle mental pain in his eyes and on his features, and partly guessed the truth. This was no lover, throbbing with eager gladness, expectant joy; rather one conscious of disappointment.

Her heart bled for him, for that passion buried in his own solitary breast; and, actuated by a sudden, sympathetic impulse, placing her hand on his shoulder, she exclaimed:

"Cecil, though I apparently grew callous about Signora Saproni, you, for over two years, have sought to find Dear cousin, when a man takes all this trouble to discover a woman, he can only be actuated by one feel-He raised his eyes quickly and look-

"Love," she added, meeting his gaze. He bowed his head so low that it rested on the arm of her chair. "Lucille," he said, with a break in the voice like a sob, "you have guessed my secret. I love Maria Saproni with my whole soul." "Poor, poor Cecil," she whispered, gently," woman-like touched by, and grateful for a love confidence. "Un-

"My poor Cecil, I can forgive your using my name, aware you used it for no sinister intent. I am very, very sorry for you. Nevertheless, Maria has acted wisely; in time you will think so o. You will forget her."
"Never!" he exclaimed, resolutely. "But her own lips have made me aware I have no hope; therefore, enough of myself." he added, as if throwing the subject from his mind. You leave England the day after tomorrow, you say: then you will not have time to see Signora Saproni?" "Not only shall I make a point of doing so, but, if possible, I also hope to persuade her to accompany me. Now, Cecil, you will, I am certain, pardon my asking you to withdraw; the excitement of your intelligence over, I begin to feel faint and weak."

He perceived that she spoke truth, for all the color had faded from her countenance; consequently he instantly rose to take his departure. Before he went, stooping, he kissed her affection-

Reforms Vetoed-Kang Yu-Wai's Statement-He Urged Britain to Save the Emperor

London, Oct. 8 .- The Pekin correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Thursday, says: "The Tsung Li Yamen, having unavaningly entreated the foreign legations to spare China the humiliation of bringing foreign escorts to the capital, agreed to the demand of the powers to bring the escort from Tien Tsin tomorrow." The Pekin correspondent of the Times, telegraphing on Tuesday, says: "The restoration of the regency is complete. The empress dowager receives the cabinet daily, seated beside the emperor openly, and not, as formerly, behind a screen. The government is more retrograde and reactionary. Young Lu, one of his trusted friends, succeeds the late Prince King as the chief Manchu, while the vice-roy of the province of Chi Le is a Manchu. Nevertheless, despite assertions to the contrary, the balance of power between the Chinese and Manchus in high offices is unaltered in the central government, though there is a small proportionate increase of Manchus in provisional posts. The Tsung Li Yamen contains no member cog-nizant of foreign affairs. Its chief working member is Hsu Yung Li, the negotiator of the Gerard convention of 1895, who was subsequently removed from the Tsung Li Yamen at the instance of Sir Nicholas O'Connor, then British minister to China, for breach of faith, but who was reappointed last month. He says his chief colleague will be Hsu Ching Cheng, former minister to Russia, and now director of the Trans-Manchurian Railway, who long received Russian financial assistance. The Russians welcome the change as increasing their influence. The immediate exciting cause of the change was the impending edict ordering officials to abolish the queue and to adopt foreign dress. A search of the house of Kang Yu Wei, the reformer, resulted in the discovery of papers proving that he was carrying on a correspondence with the Kang Yu Wei said that on June 16 he had a two hours' audience with the emperor, who, anxious about the Russian encroachments, was ready to listen to any plan to secure the integrity of the empire. The Times' correspondent

leaders of the anti-dynastic movement

continues: "Kang advised replacing the Conservative ministers by young progressives, and the employment of Englishmen and Americans to effect suggested reforms. He advised the emperor to study the progress of Japan under western methods. The emperor admitted the cogency of his argu-ments, but expressed his regret at being unable to remove high officials, suse of the empress dowager. Kang then urged his majesty to strengthen his friendship with foreign powers, and particularly to seek an alliance with England. The emperor said he realized that foreign countries were no longer insignificant states, and observed that it was a pity that his ministers had not averted the impending trouble." Kang says the real power at Pekin is held by Li Luen Yan, a sham eunuch, and that the dowager's illegitimate son, Chun Ming, will probably be made emperor. On the morning of Sept. 18, Kang received two letters from the emperor, dated, respectively, Sept. 16 and Sept. 17. The first represented the difficulties of his position, the empress dowager's anger, and his fears that he would be unable to protect his throne, and commanded Kang to consult with his colleagues as to how to save the emperor. In the second letter his majesty said: I have commanded you to superintend the establishment of an official organ. It is strongly against my wish. I have great sorrow which I cannot describe with ink and pen. You must proceed immediately outside to devise means to save me without a moment's de-lay." The letter concluded with an expression of gratitude for Kang's faithfulness, a warning to him to take care of himself, and an expression of hope that matters would mend ere

Kang promptly visited the American missionary, Rev. Timothy Richard, whom he asked to call upon the British and American legations. Sir Claude McDonald, British minister, was at Poi Tai So, and the American minister. Mr. Conger, was at Shan. Ominous rumors were in circulation that day, and Kang fied. He was astonished that England protected him, and he urges the British Government to take prompt action to save

CONVICTEDOFBIGAMY

Cornwall Woman Thought Her Hus band Dead and Married Again.

Cornwall, Oct. 8.—Three weeks in the county jail was the sentence meted out by Judge Pringle to Mary Laughrin, the North Lancaster woman, whom he found to be guilty of bigamy. The extenuating circumstances doubtless saved Mary from a longer sentence.

The case was a peculiar one. The prisoner's maiden name was Mary prisoner's maiden name was Mary Compo, and in 1874 she was married at Cornwall by Rev. Father Murray to Patrick Laughrin. In 1890 Laughrin went away, and although he claims to have written to her several times, she denied having heard from him, and swore that she believed that he had been killed at Mille Roches. A letter addressed to her from San Fran-cisco, and signed by him, had been read to her, but she still persisted in thinking him dead. When Laughrin returned to this section he found his wife had been married a few months before at Lancaster to John Trickey, She was arrested and sent to Cornwall to await her trial, which took place on Thursday.

Steamers Being Fitted Up With Special Ventilation Devices.

Ottawa, Oct. 8 .- Prof. Robertson has received a cablegram stating that the last shipment of Canadian pears in cold storage had been sold at 5 shillings and 6 pence per case of about 26 pounds. The steamships sailing from Montreal are being fitted up with special ventilation devices designed under Prof. Robertson's direction, with a view to the transportation of Canadian apples in prime condition. The device consists of a ventilator from the main deck, which carries pure air into the compartment, from which the vitiated air is carried off by means of an electric fan. All the steamship people approve of this plan, and will have their vessels equipped in time for the fall exports of apples.

BUGGY BECOMES KINDLING-WOOD

Accident at the Grand Trunk Tracks on Egerton Street.

Fred Dickison Injured While Driving Over the Railway Orossing-Hurled a Distance of Thirty Feet-Horse Unhurt.

At the Egerton street crossing of the G. T. R. (Stratford branch), about 6 o'clock last evening, Fred Dickison, of No. 109 Wharncliffe road, was badly injured. Dickison was driving, and when close to the track tried to back his horse to allow a number of cars that were being shunted from the west to pass. The horse became fractious and dashed forward. When squarely on the tracks the buggy was struck by the train and totally wrecked. Dickison was thrown against a fence 30 feet distant with such force that two of the boards were broken. The horse escaped unhurt. The accident was witnessed by a number of people, who hastened to the assistance of the injured man, and Dr. Seaborne, who was summoned, had him removed to his home in the ambulance. Dickison had two ribs fractured, as well as internal injuries, the exact nature of which cannot be ascertained at present. His escape from being ground to pieces under the car wheels was a narrow one

"TEXAS THE TERROR"

Stole His Clothes From the Clothes Roomiin the Jail, Climbed the Wall and Escaped.

"Where's that fellow gone? Where's Texas?" was the oft-repeated query yesterday of the county jail officials, whose flurry of excitement only abated when it became known that "Texas" was gone-goodness knows where.

Clinton Elder, alias Albert Gilroy, alias "Texas Jack," was on Monday sentenced to three months' hard labor for assaulting Isaac Ingles, of 66 Bathurst street. For a week "Texas" worked like a Trojan. He has a smooth manner and a face equally as smooth. Yesterday "Texas" was instructed to exercise himself carrying in wood from the yard to the kitchen. He started about this, but had not been there long before Turnkey Marsh was called away for a few minutes. "Texas" took advantage of the turnkey's temporary absence, sneaked into the clothesroom, and stole his clothes. Going to the yard, he divested himself of the prison garb, then went up the waterpipe like a kitten to the top of the wall, along the roof and dropped on the outside. It was an easy matter when outside to steal away unnoticed. When last seen he was at the Maitland street crossing of the G. T. R., waiting for a freight. He has not been seen nor heard of since. This is the third escape within a little over a year. Elder made his escape by a pipe on the wall of the woodyard, relatively in the same position as that in the exercise yard, by which John Glassford got away. Turnkey Marsh was called away from his work for a few minutes to attend to other duties, rendered necessary by the absence of Turnkey Stickles, who is at present away on his holidays. When he went away no one was put in his place, as the county council only a short time ago advocated a reduction of the staff.

interspersed with catchy music, songs, duets, trios and dances, and is being presented by one of the strongest musical companies now on the road.

"UNDER THE DOME" TONIGHT. It is rarely an author loses confidence in his play. The average author, until he has acquired recognition, must live entirely off his never-failing supply of self-confidence. Singularly enough, Lincoln J. Carter, author and owner of "Under the Dome," which comes to the Grand tonight, had almost no faith in it before its production, and stood ready to shelve it at once. It has proven by all odds to be the greatest suc-cess he has ever scored, and it is said to be not only a magnificent production scenically, but to be a wonderfully cleverly written and highly interesting

WILLIS P. SWEATNAM. The biggest spectacular musical farce comedy extravaganza success is Chas. E. Bianey's latest effort, "A Female Drummer," which appears at the Grand on Wednesday evening next. As its title suggests, the play deals with a woman in this, to her sex at least, comparatively new phase of commercial life, and is also a pleasing satire on the modern department store. The comedy abounds in catchy music, amusing incidents, and pretty girls. The company engaged to interpret the cast in "A Fe-male Drummer" includes such well known favorites as to need but little introduction. Johnstone Bennett, the original Jane, in the role of Hesa Bargain, the female drummer, has a part that is said to fit her like the proverbial glove. The comedy deals with the firm of Smooth, Silk & Co., the proprietors of a large department store, and Hesa Bargain, a female drummer. The character of Smooth, the senior member of the firm, is in the hands of the wellknown comedian, Mr. George Richards, so long with Hoyt's "Temperance Town," while that of Silk is interpreted by Tony Williams, late of Frank Daniels' company. Mr. Eugene Canfield, as Buttons, the elevator boy, causes his employers much trouble by imagining himself to be an amateur detective. Super, a superstitious negro, is filled by Mr. Willis P. Sweatnam, whose many years of minstrelsy have adapted him to the part, while the role of Carrie Cash, whose name suggests her occupation and causes endless worry to the firm and employes by her constant habit of chewing gum is taken by the charming ingenue, Miss Nellie O'Neil. The comedy is in three acts, and the special scenery is realistic. The first act introduces the company in the business offices of Smooth, Silk & Co.; the second act shows the interior of a large department store, with Hesa Bargain forcing a special sale of her line of corsets and hosiery at bargain day The third act is that of the salesladies' ball in the tropical gardens of a well-known New York hotel. Considering the exceptionally strong cast and the manner in which it will be staged, "A Female Drummer" has proved to be one of the successes of the sea-

THE SCENIC EFFECTS OF "A LADY OF QUALITY."

To those who have read Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's stirring romance, "A Lady of Quality," which Julia Arthur and her company of players will present Monday at the Grand, the arrangement of the scenic Grand, the arrangement of the scenic effects might be of interest. The picturesque, romantic epoch of the time in which the play is laid, England, 1701, during good Queen Anne's reign, allows of great brilliancy and uniqueness of design in the settings.

Mrs. Burnett, herself, in her play, so well and clearly described the surroundings that it might be thought an easy work for the scenic artist to follow her ideas. Manager Arthur Lewis, therefore, in arranging for the details of the production, engaged Miss Homer F. Emmons, one of the bestknown scenic artists of New York, to superintend the scenic embellishments. Great care was also brought into play to have the effects as nearly historical as possible, and special designs were made from original drawings in the

The second act has been enthusiast. clothes. ically praised for its poetic beauty. It pictures the famous rose garden scene of the play. In the foreground is the decaying sun-dial, and about, like withering serpents, are the trellised roses. In this scene over 1,000 artificial flowers are used. In the background, in the distance, is seen the house of Wildairs, and yet nearer, in perspective, are the green hedges, which, in comparison with the brilliant pink of the roses form a striking and pink of the roses, form a striking and beautiful effect. The light effects upon this scene is promised to make it one long to be remembered. The third and fourth act occurs in the paneled parlor at Dunstanwolde town-house. It is light in hue and of the Rennaissance style so much affected in Queen Anne's time. This scene is embellished with rich drapery and furniture; in it will occur at the end of the fourth act, that startling, dramatic climax, the death of John Oxen, which critics have said to be as powerful an episode as Sardou ever conceived. As this will be the reception parlor of the Duchess of Dunstanwolde, it will be one of fare beauty

In the distance is seen the green meadows in which the sweet Sister Anne finds the doves, which whisper forgiveness to Clorinda's troubled soul, and approaching consummation of her own saintly life.

The production of "A Lady of Quality" has been pronounced to be the most complete seen upon the stage. Every bit of furniture for the production is carried, as well as all details of properties and accessories. "THE GIRL FROM PARIS." The far-famed success, "The Girl from Paris," which has enjoyed such long runs in London and in New York, will receive its presentation here on Thursday next, Oct. 13. The story of the play is woven around the adventures of Mr. Honeycomb, a sort of "shining light" in the wilderness of his neighborhood, who, tiring of his virtures, journeys to Paris, where, under the name of Dingle, he has a "huge time," as it were. He is sued for breach of promise by Julie Bon Bon, and the is a worder of the promise by Julie Bon Bon, and she is awarded a verdict of £10, 000. Not having the money to pay, and fearing his wife's wrath, he flees to Switzerland and goes under the name of McWusky, a Scotchman of the most ultra-Ian Maclaren type His wife and Julie follow him there, thereupon many humorous complications arise. The story is told in and charmingly light vein by George Dance, while the music of Ivan Cary is equally pleasing. No production of modern times has received such marvelous approval as this production of Edward E. Rice, which is practically comic opera, as presented by a superb company of some 50 people. It is the fin de siecle of music, humor, beauty and artistic diablerie. By special arrangement the regular $150 price of admission charged for this attraction has been reduced to $1 for this en-
