A CABINET HAS BEEN APPOINTED FOR HAITI

American Gunboat Has Landed Bluejackets to Protect Property.

[Canadian Press.] Cape Haitien, Haiti, Feb. 6.—Senator Davilmar Theodore, who has set up a provisional government here, has appointed the following cabinet: Minister of War—General Charles Salsnave. Interior—Emmanuel Thezan. Foreign Affairs—M. Vaugues. Public Instruction—R. Rigal. Finance—M. Montreuil. Agriculture—Stephen Archer. General Monplaisir, the returned exile, was permitted to land here by authorization of Theodore. There has been some pillaging, and last evening an American gunboat landed blue-jackets. The consular corps has requested that another warship be sent from Port Au Prince to protect foreign interests.

RAISING RATES FOR PULLMAN SERVICE

When Occupied by Only One Person—The Increase Considerable.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Feb. 6.—On March 1 a new and higher rate for Pullman compartments and drawing rooms, occupied exclusively by one person, will go into effect, unless objection is raised by the interstate commerce commission. Notice of the new tariff adopted by practically every railroad in the United States has been filed with the commission. Instead of charging a single railroad fare and a single drawing room fare at heretofore, the roads will now charge for exclusive use of a drawing room by one person double the railroad fare plus a single drawing room fare; and for Pullman compartments for the exclusive use of one traveler, the present charge of one railroad fare plus the compartment fare will be increased to one and half railroad fare, plus the present compartment fare.

SCHOONER ASHORE.

[Canadian Press.] Norfolk, Va., Feb. 6.—An unknown three-masted schooner was ashore today south of Nagshead on the North Carolina coast. Life-savers went to her assistance. The wind was blowing 30 miles an hour from the east, with high seas, and the vessel was in great peril.

English Beauty Tells Complexion Secrets

["Beauty" in American Home.] Through a fortunate meeting with an English lady, noted for her dazzling complexion, I recently learned the full meaning of that old adage, "Beauty is but skin deep." She taught me how to remove my muddy old skin, revealing the young and beautiful skin underneath. The process is so simple, harmless and inexpensive, I'm sure you'll be glad to know about it. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at any drug store and apply nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so. Every morning in washing off the wax, tiny particles of worn-out cuticle come off, too. The action is so gentle and gradual, there's no discomfort. It's a wonderful treatment, as it not only peels off the faded or discolored skin, but all of its defects, as chaps, roughness, freckles, pimples, blotches, blackheads. I am indebted to the same lady for a remarkable wrinkle-removing formula. One ounce powdered saxofite is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Used as a face bath, this is so effective that just one application causes the finer lines to disappear, and soon even the deepest ones go.

TIMES CHALLENGES PRESIDENT'S POSITION

Considers Wilson's Mexican Policy Impracticable, Having No Retreat With Honor.

[Canadian Press.] London, Feb. 6.—While "respect for his high character and fine ideals" moves the Globe to wish President Wilson well out of his troubles in connection with Mexico, Peru, and Haiti, whose "blood-stained administrations" challenge the President's policy of non-recognition, it considers his position impracticable. The newspaper continues: "The expedient of sanctioning and supporting civil war in a neighboring state is a declaration of war in a form which can hardly be reconciled with the comity of nations. The danger of the situation from the point of view of the United States is that there is no retreat with honor from the uncompromising, if impracticable, position President Wilson has taken up."

JAPANESE INCENSED OVER NAVY SCANDALS

Demand Resignation of Premier, and Suicide of Rear-Admiral Fujii.

[Canadian Press.] San Francisco, Feb. 6.—Premier Yamamoto of Japan was invited today to resign by a delegation of citizens and politicians from the province of Fukuoka, because of the scandals that have arisen out of contracts for naval supplies, according to cable advices received here from Tokyo last night. The delegation made its next visit to Rear-Admiral K. Fujii, and demanded that he commit hara kiri because of his alleged connection with the so-called graft case. Members of the party accused him of having received money from the Japanese branch of the Siemens Company of Germany, which has supplied various kinds of apparatus for new battleships. At a big meeting held yesterday in Tokyo, the same advices say a resolution was accepted impeaching the present cabinet. Interest in the naval scandals has become the sole topic of conversation, and a rigid investigation is urged by the masses.

THOSE DEPORTATIONS ARE STILL WORRYING

Situation in South African House—Buxton to Succeed Gladstone.

[Canadian Press.] London, Feb. 6.—Some of the special dispatches from Cape Town, dealing with the speech of Minister of Defence Smuts, justifying the government's declaration of martial law and deporting strike leaders, consider that it is still doubtful whether the minister of defence will secure a majority, when the question of confidence in the government comes up for a vote. According to the Daily Chronicle, Viscount Gladstone has long desired to resign from his post in South Africa, but, as retirement now would be liable to misconstruction, he will remain for a few months longer. He will then be succeeded by Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, whose place in the cabinet will be taken by C. F. G. Masterman, financial secretary to the treasury.

TRAVELLING BALLROOM.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—A big freight car, filled with a hardwood wax floor, on which passengers may dance, will be a part of a special train which will take a number of Chicagoans to the Mardi Gras, New Orleans, on February 21, according to announcement today. The freight car will be transformed into a "travelling ballroom" by means of tapestries and artificial flowers.

For the First Saturday of 1914 Business Year

While the word from buyers abroad is that business is sound and prices firm, yet there is a temporary surplus of merchandise and a disposition on the part of most manufacturers and jobbers to turn their surplus stocks into money quickly. That this store affords manufacturers a quick outlet for standard, serviceable goods, when it comes to a point of clearing, lies in the fact that the policy referred to above, which is so active this season, is, and always has been, the policy of this store at all seasons. No surplus stocks are allowed to accumulate here. They must be kept on the move, and we are therefore always open to accept opportunities, providing the quality of merchandise measures up to our standard. January was our greatest January, and 1913 the greatest year in our history, and with so favorable an outlook for special purchasing in the immediate future, this will doubtless be our greatest February, and we believe our 1914 business will far exceed that of 1913. Note the opportunities for Saturday.

"The Family Friend for 40 years." A new failing relief for Croup and Whooping Cough

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

She was the sort of girl one falls in love with and remembers the rest of his life.

Take her now, for instance, as she swings along the highway, fresh, trim and graceful, her chin uplifted, her cheeks warm, her eyes clear and as blue as sapphires, and we experience the most intense, unreasoning desire to be near her at her side, where chance could touch her and the very spell of her creep over one to make a man of him.

The kind of woman one wants to draw close to him because his heart is sweet. She had the blood of a fellow creature on her hands—the blood of one who had yet we men will overlook one commandment for another. It is a matter of choice.

What of her present position in the house and in the heart of the one woman who of all those we know is abnormally unfeminine in that she subordinates the natural and instinctive animosity of a husband, no matter how unworthy or how hateful he may have been to her behind the screen with which she hides her sores from the world. The answer is ready: Hetty was a slave bound to an extraordinary condition. There had been no coercion on the part of Chas. He had loved her; no actual restraint had been set upon the girl. The situation was a plain one from every point of view. Hetty owed her life to Sara, she would have paid with her life's blood the debt she owed. It had become perfectly natural for her to consider herself a willing, grateful prisoner—a prisoner on parole. She loved her jailer with a love that knew no bounds; she loved the walls Sara had thrown up about her; she was content to live and die in the luxurious cell, attended by love and kindness and mercy. After all, Hetty was even more feminine than we seem able to convey in words.

Not in that she lacked in pride or sensitiveness, but that she possessed to a self-satisfying degree the ability to subordinate both of these to a loyalty that had no bounds. There were fine feelings in Hetty. She was honest with herself. She did not know how to be small or to shrink from the truth. She was as bright as they could ever be, of that she was sure. She was not a coward. She was a woman of the world, and she was a woman of the world.

She lived as one charmed by some powerful influence, and was content. Not once had the fear entered her soul that Sara would turn against her. Her trust in Sara was infinite. In her simple, devoted heart she could feel no prickle of dread so far as the present was concerned. The past was dead; the future was the past, and its loathsomeness was moderated by subtle contrast with the present. As for the future, it belonged to Sara. It was hers.

If Sara were to decide that she must be given up to the law, all well and good. She could meet her fate with a smile for Sara, and with love in her heart. She could pay in full if the demand was made by the wife of the man she had left in the grim little upstairs room at Burton's Inn on that never-to-be-forgotten night in March.

The one great, inexplicable mystery to her was the heart of Sara Wendall. She could not fathom it. She could not understand her own utter subjection to the will of the other woman; she could explain it satisfactorily to herself, and she could have explained it to the world. Self-preservation in the beginning, self-surrender as time went on.

The Delicacy of Baby's Skin

Cold Air, Rough Winds, Strong Soaps Often Bring on Chronic Eczema.

More beautiful than the rose is baby's skin when in health, and so delicate that it is susceptible to anything which irritates. For this reason baby's skin troubles are many, and frequently chronic itching eczema is developed.

Nothing can be better for baby's skin, when irritated, than Dr. Chase's Ointment, and when eczema is developed by the use of his preparation with the knowledge that its wonderful record as a healer of the skin is due to the success it has proven in the cure of eczema.

The intense itching of eczema of the face and scalp is very hard for the little one to bear, and is a source of worry and anxiety to the mother. The itching parts are scratched, and nasty and colored sores are formed. Eczema naturally becomes chronic, and spreads over the body. You can positively control eczema and cure it by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. What is better still is to use this ointment for all chafing and irritation of the skin and prevent eczema from getting started.

In jest," she cried, shocked by his glib remark. "You didn't know Chas.," he cried almost surlily. She held her breath. After a moment, the points of his little moustache went up again in the habitual, barometrical smile. Rather a priggish, supercilious smile, she thought, glancing at his face.

OFFICERS IN FAVOR OF CAMP IN AUGUST

Would Go to Goderich in Preference to London—Hard to Get Recruits.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Clinton, Feb. 5.—At the annual meeting of the officers of the 33rd Regiment here today, the question of training either in June or August was discussed thoroughly, and the majority were strongly in favor of August.

It was pointed out that under present conditions, it is impossible to get the young farmers in June or August. Officers have had the hardest kind of work for several years past in getting even a percentage of really good men to turn out.

Many of the officers were most emphatic regarding conditions, and it was shown that many had resigned rather than undertake the task of recruiting under conditions which have prevailed.

By common consent Goderich was placed as a place to train in preference to London on account of better grounds.

The officers present were: Lieut.-Col. Wilson, of Seaforth, who presided, Majors Combe, Rance, Shaw and McTaggart, of Clinton, Capt. Dunlop, of Goderich, Heaman, of Exeter, Naffel and Rindell, of Goderich, and Sinclair and Varcoe, of Colborne, and Lieut. Town of Clinton, Swan, of Blyth, and Hodgins and Stanbury, of Exeter.

PRESIDENT AGAINST TOLLS EXEMPTION ACT

Will Use Every Means to Have All Vessels Treated Alike at Panama.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, Feb. 5.—The President announced today that he would endeavor to have repealed at the present session of Congress that provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from the payment of tolls. He made his position clear to callers today in unequivocal terms.

The President believes that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations, including the United States, in the matter of tolls, and that the United States is in honor bound to charge American vessels the same tolls it imposes upon those of foreign origin. The President expressed upon his callers that he would use every legitimate influence at his disposal to have the exemption clause eliminated from the Panama Canal act.

the people of Strathroy are divided in their opinion.

Opinion is Divided.

"Many of the businessmen take the ground," he said, "that it would transfer a lot of home business to London. Several argue that if Strathroy merchants cannot compete with London firms it is up to them."

"Some time ago there was a 60-cent fare on the railway to London and scores of people used to go in every Saturday. Local merchants got together, and asked the railway to discontinue the cut rate, as they were losing a great deal of business. This was done."

"Some people do not altogether like the idea of London being made the radial centre. They forget that it is the natural centre of the district. Up around Galt, Guelph and other points there is no business centre towards which radials can converge as they can in London."

Mayor Owens is optimistic over the outlook this year for Strathroy.

"We must have Sunday cars run at least to the city limits, so that our citizens who are going to the cemetery for the purpose of renewing their grief, will not have to walk from their homes," said a London public man, addressing the street railway directors. What a pleasant prospect it must be to think through the week of being able to "renew one's grief" on the seventh day? It must be something after the order of "enjoying poor health" or being "quite poorly, thank you."

STOP THE MASSACRE.

OUR genial friend, Mr. Roy K. Moulton, here below, suggested in his "Side Talks With Girls" that "an old birdcage smashed out of shape with an axe" would do for a hat. If only the girls would not wear the bird, they might do what they liked with its "old cage."

Man-made laws, as the militants say, are beginning to curb the feminine propensity for birds of paradise, lyre-birds, white herons, ospreys, humming-birds, and albatross down. The United States has prohibited the importation of wild plumage; Australia has shut down on the traffic, and it is expected that in the approaching session of the British Parliament time will be made for an exclusion bill in the passing of which the hostile factions can, for a moment, join hands.

It is high time that the barbaric vanity which demands the feathers of tortured birds or the murdered birds themselves for headgear, should be put under restraint. The worst crime of all is that of wearing the albatross produced by white herons only in the breeding season. The shooting of the parent bird means the death of its young by starvation. Another pleasantness in the lady's ornament trade, is the cutting of wings from the living albatross, or the slow starving of the birds to free their skin from fat and grease. Photographs show islands covered with hundreds of thousands of their skeletons and carcasses. The Ancient Mariner was a saint.

CHICHE.

ONCE upon a time old-fashioned debating societies argued the question whether or not to chew gum. With many it has been somewhat of a moral problem. Now there are gum trusts and legal battles for rights and advertising on the most continental scale, and the gentler sex from bashful fifteen months to the widow of fifty joins sportive man and boy in the ritual of gum.

The chewing of the chicle is a sort of dance. Some turn it to utilitarian uses, aid to digestion, or scouring of the teeth. With young ladies it may be an aid to silence, or with young men to thought. It may even carry a suggestion of kneading bread or pounding sand or other serious industries. But chewing gum is, after all, first and last a pastime, a care-de-stroyer like rocking in a chair or canoe or any other dance. Useful or even ritual it may incidentally be, but primarily it is play. It is akin to music in its rhythmic joy.

The writer remembers hearing a vigorous sermon in a New York church, whereafter the young man in frock coat, speckless shirt-front and cuffs, and supremely ironed trousers, who passed the collection-plate, was chewing gum the while. The sermon had so lifted him into the upper joy of things. Some rhythmic utterance had to be. His teeth danced a chastened, religious minuet, as it were.

Other sports have come and gone since chewing gum came in. Bicycling, roller-skating, cricket have faded but ill. But the festive chicle holds its own. The child takes it up and the child is father of the man.

THE STRESS OF LIFE.

A noted American clergyman recently declared from the pulpit that the heart and mind of women were becoming hard and unwomanly and that before long the normal womanly nature would vanish and with it the family and the home. He charges these conditions to the decay of faith, but in so far as they exist, are they not due to the grind of necessity to a large degree? It is pointed out that luxuries which but a few centuries ago could be had only by the royal or the rich have become the common necessities of today, but as the average head of the average household cannot supply these for a fair-sized family out of his income, it follows that the boys and girls must become breadwinners. And because of the qualities of womanhood that have been developed in the home for centuries—submissiveness, meekness, dependence—woman enters the arena of employment under a great handicap. Wasn't it to be expected that a spirit of revolt would take hold of the woman in order to secure for herself fairer treatment? In her struggle to get along, to make a living, she necessarily meets with rough conditions and it is reasonable to suppose they have their effect; but, after all, she only appears hard when compared to the shrinking, timid creature of the past. In the rough and tumble scramble of competition, the timid and submissive will go under, and in order to hold her own, the modern woman is developing the fighting, staying qualities of her brothers.

But beneath this cold, hard surface, we think that men and women have not changed so much. The faith is still there, although we may hurry through the observance of church forms in a manner that would have shocked in other and more placid days. We are all of us racing at top speed and sadly in need of more reflection and introspection than the rushing life of today will permit, but we haven't altogether lost our grip on faith and high ideals.

SHIP BUILDING ON THE PACIFIC.

BRITISH Columbia papers, irrespective of politics, express great satisfaction because a noted British ship-building firm, Yarrow & Sons, has purchased the works of the Marine Railway Company at Esquimalt, and is prepared to construct vessels of all descriptions. In fact, Mr. Yarrow, in an interview, declares that whenever the Canadian Government is disposed to construct a Canadian navy his firm ought to be able to do the work as well as it could do it in Scotland. Of course this is not the opinion of Messrs. Borden, Churchill & Co., but it corresponds with what other authorities in the ship-building line have already told us. We notice that the Conservative papers in British Columbia are giving the Conservative members of Parliament from that province credit for their exertions in securing this new industry. But if the firm is only going to carry on the business of its predecessors, and build little ships for the coast trade, it does not appear that anything has been gained. It is safe to assume that the jubilation over this event are based on a general opinion that there will be something better doing in the future; and the British Columbians are more pleased at the thought that naval construction on a larger scale may be looked for some day than they are over a simple change in the ownership of a plant.

ILLEGAL STRIKE-SMASHING.

TRADES union men everywhere will be interested in the methods used by the South African Government to suppress the general strike recently started there. It appears that the general strike was proceeding in an orderly way. But General Botha, the premier, proclaimed martial law, prohibited all strike meetings, public speech and all written inducements to strike, and used the troops to effect arrests of men breaking no law and to disperse crowds. The only excuse for all this was that the strike organizers had declared they were at war with society and aimed at nothing less than the establishment of an "industrial republic."

The strike was by such means crushed. It lasted only a week.

Probably the fundamental cause of the Botha Government's arbitrary action lies in the presence of the large black and Hindu population. The employers must keep the white worker down or the negro, and still more the Hindu workers, will be also making uncomfortable claims. The Hindu labor question is in fact still unsettled. Hence the panic of the Government.

Martial law thus employed is a bad precedent in the English-speaking world, but it is not likely to be followed elsewhere than in South Africa. It is dangerous to a popular government to use methods calculated to drive legitimate agitation underground and make every labor movement a conspiracy against the Government. The fundamental rights of British citizenship cannot be attacked without cost to the assailants themselves.

FINANCIAL.

[Washington Post.] Apparently the only use Turkey will ever have for the new battleship bought with borrowed money will be to stand off an attempt to collect the loan.

BRIGHT THOUGHT.

[Western Mail.] The railway ticket collector put his head in at the carriage door and addressed the jolly individual inside.

"Ticket please," he said. The smiling one looked at him with alcoholic sadness. "Got no ticket. Don't bother me!" he said, settling down again. The collector at once produced his receipts book, and after consulting a table of affairs exclaimed: "Five-and-six, please!" "What's that?" queried the merry one. "Five-and-six, please," repeated the collector. The other thought for a moment, and looking up, said, "Eleven."

OLD BOYS' REUNION.

[Stratford Beacon.] The tendency seems to be to find other forms of amusement for old boys' reunions and other civic celebrations than the street carnivals. Mayor Graham, of London, is opposed to having a street carnival in London this year, and St. Thomas, which on one or two occasions has had such a carnival, does not seem inclined to repeat the experiment. Our experience of this class of amusement has been confined to that of last summer. While there were some good features there were many more so good, and the objection that the streets should not be used for such a purpose is strong. The streets were intended for traffic of vehicles and for the use of pedestrians, and to have this interrupted for a whole week is too much, even if everything about such a carnival were unobjectionable in other respects.

A GOOD SIGN.

[Galt Reporter.] The Bank of England has again lowered the rate of discount, and the latest indications of this great barometer of world finance, points to increased industrial activity, particularly concerning Canada.

A Cascarets tonight will surely straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Date Is Heat Producer --Makes Nourishing Meal People of the Orient Value the Fruit Very Highly--Some Recipes.

The Nourishing Date.—The Eastern people have known for centuries just what we are beginning to learn, that the date is more than a mere delicacy, being almost a perfect food. Until recent years, dates, figs, nuts, etc., were regarded by Canadians as luxuries with which to top off a substantial dinner or eat between meals like candy. The present idea, however, that these products are food is right. We need not think of them as delicacies, but may put them on a cost basis with other products.

By chemical analysis, the date contains: Protein, 2.1; carbohydrate, 78.4; fat, 2.5; water, 15.4; ash, 1.3; with put into the starch and sugar class of "carbohydrates." It is just in this winter season that we need the heat and energy furnished by carbohydrates, and so the date offers a heat-producing food at a comparatively low cost.

Dates are most frequently eaten raw, but are equally good in many cooked forms, as many of the following recipes will indicate. When combined with nuts and used with milk, they form, indeed, a complete meal as vegetarians have often proved.

Dates With Cereal.—Wash a pound of dates and let them stand in a pint of water overnight. Let them come to a boil, then simmer gently for a few minutes, having with a few drops of lemon or lime or orange juice. Remove the fruit, add a little sugar to the liquid left in the sauce-pan and simmer until thickened. Pour over the fruit and serve cold.

Date Sandwiches.—Chop stoned dates until soft enough to spread. Use thin slices of buttered bread and make sandwiches. Instead of buttering the bread one may substitute finely chopped nuts. If desired, these sandwiches will make a most satisfying luncheon.

Date Gems.—Stone and chop half a cup of dates. Beat separately the yoke and white of an egg. Add the yolk to the dates, with a pinch of salt, a half a pint of sweet milk, two scant cups of flour, into which two teaspoonsful of baking powder of oil of butter and beat in whipped white of egg. Bake briskly for twenty minutes.

Date Souffle.—Make an orange or lemon gelatin. When this begins to congeal slightly upon being taken from the fire and whipped, while cooling, add the well beaten whites of two eggs and one cup of chopped dates. Place a mould and set on ice.

Cure For the "Chaps."

Dear Miss Grey: Thank you very much for Billie Burke's cold cream recipe. I have one I clipped from the New York Herald some few years ago, the same ingredients and amount, with 30 grains of borax added. A physician said the borax was an improvement. Will you please give me a hand cream, non-greasy, for one that does home work, and has rough hands. I would like the preparation that looks like cooked starch and dries quickly on the hands. I got some from a friend, but she will not tell how she made it. I found a small particle of gum, or something like gelatin in it. Thanking you for your valuable information. Yours gratefully, J. K.

A.—Yes, I think the borax would be a very good addition. I do not know just what formula the preparation you speak of would be made from. But I fancy it might be something of the same description as the following: Talcum powder, 1 ounce; alcohol, 2 ounces; glycerine, 1 ounce; rosewater, 1 pint water. Soak the talcum powder in the water two days, then strain and add the other ingredients. Dip into the glycerine, and then into the water, if too thick, add more water and bottle for use. Said to be excellent for chaps.

Fond of Reading.

As I am so fond of reading your corner and your good advice to others, I would like you to answer these for me: 1. Do you think I am far enough advanced when in senior fourth and am 14? 2. What are the meanings of these names: Aethia, Lena, Letitia, Tena, Bessie, Isabelle, Edith, also Janet? 3. Do you think that a girl skirt is all right for spring wear with white shirtwaists? 4. Will you please print the recipe for chocolate fudge? 5. Do you think the Elsie books are good books for a girl of 14 to read? M. H. K. G.

A.—1. Yes, but I should advise you not to waste any time in the next year.

2. Lena means light; Tena, derived from Christina, means a follower.

3. Christ; Bessie from Elizabeth, meaning consecrated; Isabelle, worshipper; Edith, happiness; Janet, gracious gift.

4. Two cups white sugar, 2-3 cup milk, two teaspoons of cocoa powder, lump of butter. Stir all together and boil for ten minutes, or until a little dropped into cold water will form a soft ball. Remove from the stove and after adding a little vanilla, beat for a few minutes and pour out into buttered pans.

5. Yes; read them by all means, but don't get so absorbed in the doings of Elsie and her relations that you forget your studies or overlook helping mother with the dishes.

It's No Trouble.

Dear Miss Grey: I am again coming to you for advice. Will you please answer the following questions: 1. Will you tell me what to do for blackheads on the nose? 2. Will gasoline take grease out of a navy blue serge skirt? If so, would it be better to wash the whole skirt in the gasoline or just the spots that need it? In some materials, I find it leaves a ring when washed the latter way. 3. Will short, separate coats be as fashionable for spring as suits? 4. Is it proper for a young lady, when being introduced to a young gentleman in her own home, to shake hands with him?

5. When a young girl is boarding at a private home and is expecting a gentleman friend to call for her, who should answer the door, the young girl herself or the mistress of the house? I am sorry to trouble you again with the last two questions, but the paper failed to come the last time they were published. GRAY EX-158.

A.—1. To keep "eternally vigilant," never neglecting the nightly scrubbing with warm water, soap and a rough wash cloth, is practically the only remedy. Rub a little cold cream on after drying. To do this, and to remove them carefully as they appear, is all you can do.

2. You might try this way before applying the liquid solvent. Place the spot over a piece of blotting paper; sprinkle with French chalk and place a piece of blotter over that; with a warm iron press the paper down over the material. The chalk and blotters together then be treated with gasoline or benzine if deemed necessary.

3. Yes.

4. Yes, it seems more cordial.

5. Either way would be quite alright. But as the girl is expecting him to answer the bell herself, in some instances, where the mistress of the house takes a motherly interest in her girl boarder and is willing for the girl to entertain her friend in the parlor occasionally, she might make a point of greeting him when he calls, to reassure the young man that he is not regarded as an intruder.

Necessary Questions.

Dear Miss Grey—I read your column daily with great pleasure and I now come to you for advice for I am very sure that you can help me. I must excuse myself for such a budget of questions but truly they are necessary.

1. How do you remove tarnish from silver?

2. Preserve or pickle artichokes?

3. Remove odor of onions from knives?

4. Make tomato bouillon from canned goods?

5. How is clam chowder made and served?

A.—1. Either buy a silver polish at a jewelry store or try this recipe: Sift a little whiting till no grit remains, wet a tannin rag with ammonia water, dip into the powder and rub silver. Polish afterwards with clean cloth and then with chamois.

2. Make a strong brine and boil the artichokes in it two or three minutes, drain on a sieve and pack into jars when cold. Boil a little nutmeg, mace and ginger in enough vinegar to cover, put into hot jars and seal the jars.

3. Use household ammonia in the water.

4. Strain one quart of tomatoes (canned) through a fine sieve; prepare a meat stock of one pound lean beef chopped finely to pour over it one pint of cold water, place over the fire in a porcelain kettle, cover tight and let simmer three or four hours; strain off the liquid and let cool; mix with the strained tomatoes, adding another pint of water, or more if the bouillon seems too strong; let boil up twice, skimming from time to time, then add pepper and salt and strain through a cheesecloth or old napkin.

5. Take one quart of clams and chop them fine; 1 large fresh cracker, 1 onion, sliced, 6 potatoes cut in dice. In an iron pot fry two slices of salt pork; take it out soon, leaving the fat in the pot, put in two or three slices of onion, a layer of the chopped clams, sprinkle well with salt and pepper; then a layer of broken crackers, and continue until the dish is full; add the clam liquor and enough water to more than cover them. Cook 20 minutes or until the potatoes are done; add two cups of hot milk just before serving. Sufficient for eight persons.

Better Not Write.

Dear Miss Grey—My engagement has been broken with a young gentleman and I very much desire to hear from a boy I used to be great friends with. He lives in another city and does not know I am free again. Would you be so good to write? If so, what should I say? Violet.

A.—No Violet, I do not advise you to write to the other young man. It would seem decidedly forward. He will without doubt, hear of your broken engagement before long and may write to you himself.

His First Appearance.

Dear Miss Grey—Am a constant reader of "The Advertiser" and as this is my first appearance I hope you will answer the following questions, viz—

1. I have brown hair and blue eyes. What are my colors? Do you think I am old enough to be married?

2. How long should a young man court a young lady before giving her a ring?

A.—1. The "becomingness" of colors depends largely upon the complexion, whether rosy, pale or sallow. Brown tints and blue-black serge will likely look well on you.

2. Yes.

3. A year is perhaps the usual length of time.

Coats will have the bottom of their skirts much extended. The flare at the hips is shown on all the new wraps.

THE HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1914.

Far better fate wait till it's late.

In the earlier hours of this day Jupiter and Uranus are in adverse aspect, but after dark Neptune and Mercury rule strongly for good. Astrology finds the evening auspicious for planning business enterprises and signing important papers.

There is an ill omen for dealings with scholars, university professors, lawyers, judges and senators. Bishops, priests and the minor clergy of every sect are subject to conditions that are unfavorable, astrologers announce.

Under this government of the stars athletes are supposed to be at a peculiar disadvantage.

Grocers and all who handle food supplies have the augury of pure luck. Agitation concerning the high cost of living will affect their profits seriously.

A signification to householders and advertisers is read as indicating losses on new books and periodicals of the higher class. The introduction of cheap novelties is foretold.

Actors, musicians and all who depend on personality for their success should be cautious this evening, for the stars are threatening.

Specialists in Germany will create much anxiety this month. The Kaiser will be concerned by widespread agitation. A crisis is foretold in government and domestic affairs.

Radicals are still under a government which presses shrinkage in profits, disasters and strike troubles.

There is a highly malignant away, indicating deceit and misrepresentation while this conjunction lasts.

Jupiter has kindly power today for persons who are magnanimously inclined in their business or domestic affairs. The star is fortunate for all who devote the hours to high ambitions and profitable pursuits, but unkindly for the mercenary and domineering.

The moon is in a sign believed to add scientists, especially mathematicians, and to incline toward moderation in all things.

Persons whose birth-date it is have a happy augury for the year. They may expect prosperity and happiness, if they do not make radical changes in their business or domestic affairs. Children born on this day will be exceedingly clever. They should succeed best as employees. Girls have the ill-omen of marriage with men who drink too much.

DID MARGUERITE RESIST THIS PLEA?

Pathetic Words of Old Song Would Surely Melt Heart of Stone.

"M. R." "Nancy" and a "Young Reader" send copies of "Marguerite," recently requested by a subscriber.

"Blue Eyes" writes: Will you kindly publish a very old song, which has these words in it: "It was from Aunt Dinah's quilting party, I was seeing Nellie home."

Thanking you in anticipation.

MARGUERITE.

I dread the day you'll not be mine, Marguerite.

And still, I know it soon will come, The festive dance, the rich, the gay.

So different from our home, Marguerite; 'Twould not chide thee, chide thee, sweet, Marguerite.

Nor mar one joy of thine, so sweet, so sweet, Marguerite.

I wandered down by the little babbling brook.

It's every ripple speaks of thee; The roses, too, they droop their heads in sympathy with me, Marguerite.

If this brought word was mine to give, I would proudly lay it at thy feet; But, oh, the thought you'd not be mine Will break my heart, Marguerite.

FASHIONS AT A GLANCE

By Mabelle Mortimer

The new silhouette shows hips. Just as women have succeeded in eliminating them Dame Fashion says they must have them.

The skirt, while showing signs gaining in width, is still narrow at the bottom. Bouffant hip draperies bustle and paniers effects represent the most important changes.

Both dress and separate waists are extremely transparent, much bloused and easy fitting. We will be apt to hear much grumbling on the transparent waist this summer, as we did over the transparent skirt of last year.

Sleeves still cling to kimono shape, and coats and separate waists the "set in" raglan sleeve will be much worn. It is said that after March 1st, over 75 per cent. of the sleeves will be short.

PRESENTATION FOR MISS M. WALLACE

Members of Finch-Fashion Staff Pay Warm Tribute to Departing Employee.

A pleasant event occurred at the Finch-Fashion store, 286 Dundas street, on Tuesday evening, when Miss Margaret Wallace was presented with an appreciation address, and a handsome rocking chair. Miss Dickens read the address on behalf of the staff, and expressed warm appreciation of the pleasant relationship always existing between Miss Wallace and her fellow-workers of their regret at her decision to sever her connection with the firm, and the best wishes for her success in her new position.

The presentation was a complete surprise to Miss Wallace, but she responded briefly, thanking her fellow-workers warmly.

The entire staff then sat down to a substantial banquet in the Finch-Fashion store, at the conclusion of which a number of toasts were proposed and heartily responded to. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

CAROLINE COE'S TESTED RECIPE FOR PORK LEFT-OVERS.

Cold roast pork, in the estimation of many persons, is far better than when served hot. Cut in small, thin slices and serve with apple sauce.

The tender white meat of a roast of pork may be made into a salad. Slice and dip in egg and roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in deep fat until golden brown. Serve with baked apples.

PORK CROQUETTES.

Pork croquettes are most delicious if made with a cup of mashed potatoes to each cup of diced pork. Mix together and add one or two drops of onion juice, a little pepper and salt to taste. Use one-half cup of very thick sauce or pork gravy. Mix all together. Form into shape and set in cold place for three or four hours. Slice and dip in egg and roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in deep fat until golden brown. Serve with baked apples.

MITCHELL BEAT SEAFORTH
IN FAST AND CLOSE GAME

Mitchell, Feb. 5.—Mitchell defeated Seaforth in a Northern league game here tonight, the score being 6 to 5 for the home boys. The ice was keen, resulting in very fast playing, although much fault was found with the referee who often failed to see the errors of the visitors, and seemed to be enjoying the game as a spectator. McKay started for the visitors, while Thorne was in the limelight for the home boys. The line-up: Mitchell.....Goal. Smith. Seaforth.....Right defence. Desman. Cuse.....Left defence. Coppin. Dollie Heather, of Warton, Was Presented Wit Moccasins and Horseshoes.

Harriston, Feb. 5.—Good progress was made today at the Harriston bonspiel. An interesting event took place when Dollie Heather, the regular skip of the Warton rink, was presented by his numerous admirers with a fine pair of snowshoes and moccasins. Mr. W. G. Chambers, M.P.P., made the presentation, and the genial recipient made a characteristic and most happy reply.

Again the gallery was crowded tonight with a delighted audience, a large percentage being from the country, attracted by the 'April and Lucknow Pipers' Band. The final in the trophy was being played at a late hour between Anderson, of Fergus, and Holton, of Harriston. WALKERTON DEFEATED
PORT ELGIN BY 6-4

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Walkerton, Feb. 5.—In a fast and close game in the Northern League here this evening the Walkerton seven defeated Port Elgin by a score of 6 to 4. The half-time count was 3 to 2 in the locals' favor, and both teams scored the same number of goals in the second half. It was an exciting and interesting game and a large crowd witnessed it, despite the fact that it had no bearing on the district standing. The teams were:

BAD BLOOD IS THE DIRECT CAUSE OF Pimples.

Pimples break out on the face and body, and it is impossible to get rid of them, unless you cleanse the blood of all its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters is without a doubt, the very best medicine for this purpose.

This old, and reliable medicine has been in use for nearly forty years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other preparation for removing all the impurities from the blood and banishing the pimples.

Mr. Edward Paquette, Navan Centre, Ont., writes:—"One month ago my face was covered with pimples and a rash. I had tried a number of these so called blood purifiers with no avail. Seeing an almanac of yours in which you strongly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to try a bottle, and after I had taken it I could see a decided change, and after using three bottles more all the pimples had completely disappeared."

SOME BIG STAKES FOR PANAMA EXPOSITION

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—Announcement of the completion of plans for the construction of the race track at the Panama Pacific exposition was made today by the exposition management. Stakes to the sum of $27,000 will be offered to the competing horses in the 24 days' meet schedule. All classes and ages of horses will be allowed to be entered.

The guaranteed stakes offered for pacers and trotters reach as high as $20,000 each. There has existed a general impression that a California law prohibited running races, but this is not the case. A law, however, prohibits all forms of book-making and gambling. When this law went into effect the California Jockey Club announced that the holding of running races would be discontinued.

PURDOM'S PRIDES BEAT HOWDEN'S HOCKEYISTS

The hockey septet of the Purdom Hardware Company handed a 6 to 1 trouncing to the D. H. Howden Company team at the Simcoe street rink Thursday evening. The "Old-Named Kids" were in great form, and some brilliant hockey figured in the defeat of the Howden aggregation, which put up a stiff argument.

"Baby Ben" Jones, who played centre for the Purdom team, displayed marked goal-getting, while the efforts of the Howden players in this direction were rendered futile, except in one instance, by the work of Tom Purdom in goal.

The victors' line-up was as follows:

JOHNNY BRENNAN MAY LOSE SIGHT OF ONE EYE

Montreal, Feb. 5.—Johnny Brennan, the well-known former lacrosse player, and present N. H. A. referee, is confined to his home, and may lose the sight of one eye.

While coming home from Quebec a week several, when he was struck by a trolley, Mr. Brennan was leaving his berth when he fell and struck a hook of the wall. The sharp corner of the hook penetrated his eye and inflicted a very serious injury, which has refused to respond to medical treatment as well as expressed that the popular sportsman may lose the sight of one eye.

Old Bridge Rebuilt As Traffic Went On

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Feb. 5.—How the old C. P. R. railway bridge over the St. Lawrence River at Leclaire, erected as a single track structure in 1885, has in the last two years been practically rebuilt as a double track bridge, without any interference with traffic, was told to the Canadian Society of civil engineers tonight in a paper read by P. B. Motley.

Two independent single track bridges were built, and the old bridge removed in sections. While this was being done an average of 18 trains a day passed over the bridge during working hours. This was accomplished by cantilevering the old bridge by singling pneumatic caissons, by employing floating barges, and transferring traffic from the old to the new spans as the latter were completed. In the old structure the entire weight of metalwork was about 4,100 tons; in the new bridge 14,231 tons. The cost was slightly under $2,000,000.

INTO THE NORTHLAND AFTER AN OFFENDER

Story Told of Chase and Capture of Ace Huntingdon.

[Canadian Press.]
Regina, Sask., Feb. 6.—The story of a dash into the bad lands of the frozen north country by a party sent from Athabasca in December to find Corporal Harper, of the mounted police, is told by Supt. MacDonald, who personally conducted the relief expedition. The story tells of the flight of "Ace" Huntingdon, a trapper, from Montana, with a fifteen year old girl, acknowledged beauty of the district, into the barren northland, of the pursuit and capture by Corporal Harper, and finally of the expedition headed by MacDonald, by which reports reached him that the corporal had met with foul play on the trail.

During the chase Harper lost his rifle and it was the finding of this by an Indian that led to reports of disaster to the expedition. Huntingdon has been committed for trial.

Consequently, the hope is growing that a satisfactory settlement regarding steamer rates may be arrived at very shortly.

FALL FAIRS' EXHIBITS NEVER SO GOOD BEFORE

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Feb. 5.—That fair and exhibitions have prospered throughout the province in the last year was demonstrated this afternoon at the opening session of the fourteenth annual convention of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions. Several hundred delegates heard the optimistic report of Superintendent J. Lockie Wilson.

"Perhaps never before in the history of our fairs and exhibitions in all classes of live stock were exhibits as numerous or of as high quality," said Mr. Wilson.

In certain sections of the province the root and vegetable crops were a partial failure owing to the dry season, and the entries in these classes were not so large as in previous years, but those shown were of good quality.

KILLS BLACK-HANDER AND GETS ACQUIT

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Feb. 6.—Carmini Lyonslak on trial for murder, told a story of Black Hand persecution to a jury, in general sessions court yesterday that resulted in his acquittal. Lyonslak shot and killed Luigi Giordano in November last.

He testified that for a year he had been followed by Giordano's gang; that the gang had put four bullets in his body at different times, and that once they had placed a bomb in his brother's store. On the day of the shooting he said Giordano accosted him on the street and demanded "the money" mentioned in a Black Hand letter, sent to the defendant.

GRAND TRUNK TEAM WINS ANOTHER TROPHY.

The second competition between teams from the shops of the various companies interested for the Canadian Ambulance Association trophy presented by the Dominion Bridge Company was held at the Railway Y. M. C. A., Sebastopol street, Point St. Charles, on Saturday afternoon last. Four teams competed: The Dominion Bridge Company, the Canada Steel Company, the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk. This trophy was held last year by the C. P. R. team. The Grand Trunk team carried off the honors. The members of the winning team being as follows:

No. 1.—A. Poltar, rolling mill staff.
No. 2.—E. Castles, wheel shop staff.
No. 3.—H. Slack, freight car shop staff.
No. 4.—F. Russell, iron foundry staff.

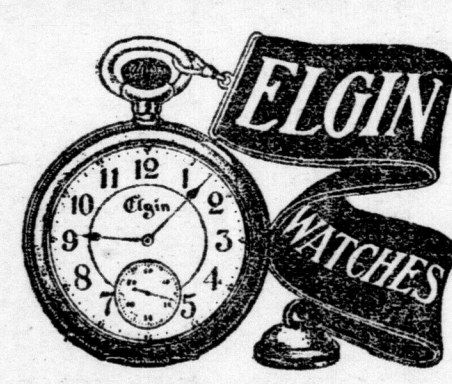

No. 5.—R. Seed, boiler shop staff. The judges were: Drs. W. J. Patterson, Robert Wilson and H. B. Carmichael. The result is specially complimentary to the winning team, as this is the second important competition in which they have captured the honors, having won the Wallace Nesbitt Challenge Trophy on Jan. 16.

The work that is being carried on by the St. John Ambulance Association is a very praiseworthy cause. The Grand Trunk centre was first organized at their Point St. Charles shops in 1911 with about 12 members, today the membership number forty-five, and the work of organization is being extended to all terminal points on the system. Classes are now being formed at Ottawa, Toronto, Stratford and London, and it is the ultimate intention to extend work to the trainmen and even the general offices.

GABY REFUSES HYDRO SURPLUS BY 50 PER CENT

Notifies Water Commission
That It Should Have Provided for Depreciation.

IT CUTS OFF $21,716.32

Declares That Amount Should Be Set Aside From the General Surplus.

The much-vaunted surplus of $36,411.64 in the city's electrical department will be reduced by more than 50 per cent, if Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby, of the Ontario power commission, has his way.

In a letter to the water commissioners, read at the regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, Mr. Gaby pointed out that 5 per cent of the capitalization of $434,362.49, or in other words, $21,716.32, should be deducted from the surplus of $36,411.64, for depreciation. This would leave the department with a surplus of only $14,695.32.

May Show Deficit.
Equipment, consisting of switchboards, converters, transformers and other machinery, and costing, it is said, in the neighborhood of $30,000, is now under order by the department for the purpose of supplying the London Street Railway Company with Niagara energy. If this amount is taken out of the capital account it would appear that the department will show a deficit of some $15,000 instead of the surplus announced.

Should Cut Off 1912 Surplus.
In his letter to the commission, Chief Engineer Gaby also pointed out that a similar percentage should have been deducted from the profits in 1912, for depreciation. The surplus then, the books have it, was $17,296.76, but apparently nothing was taken out for depreciation, although the deduction of 5 per cent for this purpose, is said to be the rule in all municipalities using hydro.

Says Percentage Is High.
General Manager H. J. Glaubitz expressed the idea to the commissioners that the percentage for depreciation asked by the chief engineer, was quite too high. A general manager argued that if such a sum was taken out of the surplus annually it would mean that in a few years there would be more than enough in the depreciation fund to put in an entirely new system. He said he did not see why the present generation should be asked to provide in this way for future generations when all the responsibility and expense of the hydro project was upon the shoulders of the ratepayers of today.

Want Gaby to Change.
Chairman Philip Pocock and the other members of the commission were inclined to agree with General Manager Glaubitz, and Mr. Gaby, however, was left in his hands, apparently with the idea that he would communicate with Mr. Gaby, and try to reach a different understanding in the matter.

SIR HUGH REFUSES.

promised the balance when the bill went through.

An Explanation.
Before it was decided to call C. B. Carpenter, a former city lawyer, who, the Daily Mail has claimed, "budded into" the passing of the bill of the Montreal Fair Association, Mr. Marchal rose and explained that he had not been responsible for the departure of Guy B. Biddinger and other detectives. Mr. Marchal said he wanted to examine Mr. Biddinger about Mr. Carpenter's supposed part in the deal to put the bill through.

Sir Hugh's Statement.

Sir Hugh Graham made the following statement at the outset:
"I am at a total loss to know why I am summoned before this committee. Until the 18th of January this year I never heard of bill 158. I have no personal acquaintance with the gentlemen to whom the charges have been made, and no knowledge of the proceedings, and had not heard of them until the 18th of January in the evening, when a gentleman telephoned to me, and asked if I might come to my house with Mr. Davidson Beck. He said over the phone that he had something of a startling nature to disclose. I asked if I might have my counsel, Mr. A. J. Brown, K. C., present. After a moment's delay, he said yes. Mr. Brown was in my library when these gentlemen arrived. A summary was read of the charges, which I say I had never heard of before. They were offered to me for use in the journals which I had, or were supposed to have an interest in. On the advice of my counsel I declined to have anything to do with them."

Sir Hugh then stopped and waited for Mr. Beck's question.
"You are the owner of the Montreal Star, are you not?" was the first question.
Sir Hugh replied: "I am the chief shareholder, and I am the president of the company."

Mr. Beck said: "In fact, you control everything in the newspaper?"
Sir Hugh: "I am the president and control a majority of the shares."

Mr. Beck: "Did you have an interest in the Herald?"
Sir Hugh: "I came here determined to answer any question that was relevant and my own disposition would be answered any question relevant or irrelevant, but I have been advised by those who know more than myself that I answer only irrelevant questions. It might result in a thousand of such questions, and if I should refuse to answer one such question my refusal would be misconstrued. Therefore, I have been advised not to answer irrelevant questions."

Mr. Beck Insists.
Mr. Beck argued that since Mr. Edward Cronyn & Co.

Members Toronto Stock Exchange, INVESTMENTS Information on all securities gladly furnished.
Telephone: Main 1111, Adelaide 1112, CROYN BLDG, 71 BAY ST., TORONTO

Beck yesterday had refused to answer a question as to the owner of the Herald, to whom he offered the revelations, the point might be considered as relevant.

Mr. Davidson pointed out that Sir Hugh Graham had absolutely no knowledge of the revelations until January 18.

Mr. Beck started by protesting that Mr. Davidson was trying to close the witness' mouth.

Mr. Davidson contended that the ownership of the Herald could be of no interest to the committee.

Mr. Beck said an answer to his question was necessary, as he wanted to know why the Herald refused to publish the revelations. He argued that perhaps if there was conspiracy, as contended in the oath witnesses took, it occurred before the matter was offered to the Mail for publication. It would lose an important point as to the reason why papers had refused to publish the disclosures.

MacNab Surprised.
Mr. MacNab then jumped up and said: "I am very much surprised to see the advocate who represents witness get up on his feet and suggest that there are ulterior motives."

Mr. Davidson—I object to my friend referring to me in this way. I represent Sir Hugh Graham and the gentleman now on his feet has no right to make any reference to my witness.

Mr. MacNab—I am making a statement of fact. There has been an insinuation upon my good faith in connection with this matter. I ask the clerk to read the oath upon which Sir Hugh Graham was sworn.

A Conspiracy of Silence.
When the clerk had read it, Mr. MacNab continued:—The oath itself specifically states that there is a conspiracy. By not saying so in exact words, the inference is that this conspiracy is confined to the oath witnesses who are concerned to bring out the truth. I think a fair inference would then be that there is a conspiracy of silence as well as a conspiracy to bring out the truth, and I claim that in order to justify the good faith and the public interest claimed by the Daily Mail that this veil of silence be lifted. It is a conspiracy of silence on the advice of counsel, made by a man who knows the newspaper business from the top to bottom, and who can say, after 25 years of personal experience and contact behind him in nine cases out of ten, he disregards his lawyer's advice and takes the bit by his teeth, and goes ahead and puts matter in publications controlled by him, which on all occasions might not bear the scrutiny that could be brought to bear upon it.

The Chairman—You had better keep to the point.
Mr. MacNab—Very good, I shall. I claim, therefore, that a direct answer to the question put to this witness is necessary in order to develop the conspiracy charges which are mentioned in the oath. You have called us here to demonstrate our good faith. This which we put before this honorable body was collected for what paper? For the Daily Mail. It has been collected, it was collected for the Herald. I claim, therefore, that it is the duty of the committee to tear away this veil of silence.

Chairman Rules.
Chairman—The question of ownership of the Montreal Herald was not being inquired into. The committee was inquiring into the allegations against members of the Upper House and into the newspapers' refusal to publish them.
Mr. Beck asked for a vote on the chairman's ruling and the committee sustained Mr. Chapsal.

Mr. Beck—Did you hear of a bill coming from Montreal called the tramway bill?

This question was ruled out.
Mr. Beck—Did you not refuse these articles on account of their not helping some of your partners in the tramway company, members of this Legislature?

The chairman refused to allow the question to be put.
Mr. MacNab—Sir Hugh said: "Will you state to the committee what reasons were given by your counsel when they advised you not to publish these articles?"

The chairman said that was the question in another way, and he could not allow it because it was not relevant.

Mr. MacNab—This is an extraordinary thing, I think you will admit. I am an old journalist, that a matter of this kind should not be submitted to a man who, at least, is the owner of the Montreal Star. He has admitted that he has stated to the committee that he refused to open up this great question.

Intimidation?
Mr. MacNab then drew Sir Hugh's attention to an article which appeared in the Star, relating to the possibility of witnesses being arrested despite the immunity promised by the Legislature. He insinuated that this article initiated witnesses, but the chairman intervened and prevented Sir Hugh from being examined on this article.

KEPT IN STAGES THREE-MINUTE MYSTERY DRAMA

How Distinguished Londoner's Great Coat Was "Pinched" From Train.

WAS IT A "MOVIE" PLAY?

Alleged Thief Cornered While Train Was Held, But Nobody Could Identify Him.

It happened at Kerwood, and thereon hangs a tale of how a certain distinguished citizen of London overtook the chief magistrate of the town and a large proportion of the citizenry.

When moving train in pursuit of a man who took his overcoat from the baggage smelter and got off just as the train was leaving the station in that famous butter burg.

The London man was looking out of the window at the time, but saw the thief slip over the overcoat and roll sprawling on the ground. The London man laughed and called the attention of his companions, laughed for a moment, but on second thought, no, did not laugh. The coat looked familiar, but the man carrying it did not seem to be the man who had taken it.

The movement is following out the road's policy of safety first. The construction of the new bridges is not only to give a greater stability to the road, but as a precaution against possible accident. There have been many instances in roadbuilding where wrecks of a serious nature have been narrowly averted.

The first of the new bridges to be built in the tracks where the bridge should have spanned a cut or ravine, and which had been a danger to the road.

The company in London state that the road is taking no chances in the operation of its fast trains.

The first of the new bridges to be built on the system will be in Walkerton.

STOP THE TRAIN. cried the Londoner, unable to suppress the sudden insurrection of his feelings at the prospect of losing his great coat. "Stop the train," cried his companions, and some of the less pulled the bellcord, but the Londoners were already far in pursuit of the thief before the train stopped.

The owner, however, was hot in pursuit of the culprit, and catching up with him, accused him of pinching his coat.

To the man's surprise, the man made no answer. A crowd of villagers gathered, and all made the same degree of stolid dumbness, despite the man's expression of feeling of the man who had lost his coat. "Who is this man?" asked the Londoner, pointing to the man who had taken it.

"Who is this man?" they asked again. "That's the chief magistrate," piped a small boy, but he referred not to the thief, but to a thoughtfully-looking man who came and was drinking in everything, but saying nothing, nor making any inquiries.

"Come on you, come on you—fellows," cried the conductor, waving his arms in frantic motion down the track. Where the train was waiting, "I can't hold the train all night for a blooming overcoat."

The well-known Londoner said a few more things about the man who took his coat, about the people who had gathered, but would not tell him the man's name, about the town in general, and not forgetting a few choice remarks for the chief magistrate for not taking a more active part in the impromptu tribunal of justice.

In the meantime the overcoat had been found, and the thief was taken to the train, which was starting without them. It had all taken place in the space of three minutes. The railway company has the name of the thief, and has been asked to take the coat, and he may be asked what did not belong to him.

"Perhaps it was a 'movie' stunt, and may yet see the whole thing on local news."

IN POLICE COURT

Pleads Guilty to Theft.

Albert Stinchcombe, charged with stealing a set of harness from William Southcott, appeared in court today, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to one month in the house of correction.

C.P.R. TO REPLACE WOODEN BRIDGES WITH STEEL ONES

Notifies Local Division Engineers to Make Necessary Preparations For the Changes.

Modern steel and cement bridges and culverts will shortly replace the wooden ones now in use on the tracks of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Constructional work from headquarters in Montreal contains comprehensive plans for a complete revolution in the construction of the smaller bridges of the road, and steps will be taken at once on the London division to carry the plans into execution.

The local engineering department is at work at present going over the London division in anticipation of commencing construction work with the opening up of the warmer weather. Surveyors are at work, and preliminary preparations are well under way. Work will probably be begun west of the city, where there are several culverts and small bridges.

For several years the company has been steadily replacing the wooden bridges with steel structures. The present work is considered inadequate and unsatisfactory from every standpoint. They are not durable, and there is a danger of a glowing coal from the firebox of a locomotive igniting the timber and destroying the bridge, and so causing an accident.

The movement is following out the road's policy of safety first. The construction of the new bridges is not only to give a greater stability to the road, but as a precaution against possible accident.

There have been many instances in roadbuilding where wrecks of a serious nature have been narrowly averted.

The first of the new bridges to be built in the tracks where the bridge should have spanned a cut or ravine, and which had been a danger to the road.

The company in London state that the road is taking no chances in the operation of its fast trains.

The first of the new bridges to be built on the system will be in Walkerton.

London Man Finds Wife and Happiness In City of the Straits

Pursues Departing Spouse and Has Her Brought Before Immigration Inspector.

Some two weeks ago, Frederick Major, a resident of Oxford Park, returned home to find that his wife, Mary, had departed for parts unknown, leaving him alone to the fact that she was going over to the States, where life was worth living.

Major found that his wife had secured a ticket for Detroit, and he moved bag and baggage to Windsor.

Thursday, Major found his wife in Detroit and had her brought before Immigration Inspector Frick. He asked the latter to do something to keep her from leaving him. He told the inspector that his wife had been leaving him quite frequently and he would like to have his domestic troubles cease.

Inspector Frick ordered the woman to be deported with a threat of prosecution if she again appears on American soil.

Major and his wife left the immigration office, arm in arm, and wreathed in smiles.

North Bay Mad Over Request for Berlin's Demand

Request Rogers Not to Move Man as Asked in Recent Resolution.

(Canadian Press.)
North Bay, Feb. 6.—The resolution forwarded to the Government by the Berlin anti-Georgian Bay canals, asking to be permitted to name one member of the commission to be appointed to inquire into the commercial possibilities of this waterway, has called forth the following telegrams to the Government from the local Conservative Association:

"Hon. Robert Rogers, Ottawa: This association is strongly opposed to the request of the Great Western Association in asking to be allowed to name a man on the Georgian Bay Canal commission. We feel the best results will be obtained by putting men so prejudiced as they are, or anyone they could name, to such a commission. We have confidence that the Government will appoint the proper persons. (Signed) 'North Bay Conservative Association.'"

CITIZENS OPPOSED TO VOTING IN COUNTY

Does Government Fear Losing One Seat If Two Are Made?

Opposition in the new annexed districts of the city to the proposed redistribution, which would place Knollwood Park, London Junction, Baling and Chelsea Green back in East Middlesex for federal election purposes, continues to grow.

James Homister, who, although residing in the city proper, is a principal property owner in the Baling district, declared that he could not see the justice of proposing to reduce the number of electorates in Middlesex to two, while at the same time requiring a part of the residents of the city to vote in East Middlesex.

He thought the residents of the new district had every right to vote in the city.

"It looks very much," said one resident of the Baling district, "as if the Government was afraid that with the new districts included, there would be too much clamor for a new member for London, and in this case, it is doubtful if two Government members would be elected."

Moran, 335 Horne, has issued a writ in the county court against the London Street Railway Company for damages for injuries received when the wagon, which he was driving, was struck by a street car at Waterloo and Central avenue, December 26. Extend Garbage Zone.
Superintendent of the garbage zone, plans submitted by Walter C. Dodd, for an extension of the present collection system to outlying portions of the city, and now under consideration, are that the extension will mean the employment of extra men and the purchase of four additional trucks. The cost of the extension, and also for a motor truck, will be called.

Controller G. E. Ross thought that the motor truck might be used to good advantage in the downtown district, and the controllers decided to see how much one would cost.

The city engineer was again criticised for going ahead with somewhat expensive repairs to the steam rollers without the authority of the controllers, and it was decided to hold up the work until the rollers are decided to be replaced by steam rollers. It is possible that a new one may be purchased. The cost of such a machine is about $3,000.

Secretary's Scheme.
Industrial Commissioner Gordon Philip had a long distance telephone conversation this morning with W. E. J. Edwards, secretary of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association, and discussed the proposal to hold the convention of the association in London each year in conjunction with an annual fair stock show. The secretary seemed to be favorably impressed with the idea, and will be in London in the near future to discuss it with the local promoters.

COMMISSION MAY GET DOWN TO BUSINESS

Return of Hon. Adam Beck Expected to Start Things on L. and P. S. Board.

With the chairman, Hon. Adam Beck, abroad for a number of weeks, the new London and Port Stanley Railway Commission has been lying low and saying nothing. Mr. Beck is at present in Toronto, but will return today, and it is expected that the meeting of the commission will be held in the course of a few days.

The appointment of a manager for the road is one of the matters to be discussed, although it is contended in some quarters that the new commission has not power to make such an appointment or to transact business in connection with the line, the application for the right of the lesser and applicant of the commissioners not having yet come before the Legislature.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eating of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach acrid, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging the night, up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases. W. T. Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color of the hair, and restores the scalp to its normal state. It is a sure remedy for dandruff, itching scalp, and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick, and glossy. A. W. WHITE IS HEAD OF CANADIAN CLUB

Chosen at Annual Meeting
Thursday Night.

REMUNERATE SECRETARY

Past President Vining Draws Attention to Indifference Shown Club by Members of Local Public Bodies.

Arthur W. White was elected to the presidency of the London Canadian Club at the annual meeting held in the Tecumseh Thursday evening. The largest attendance that has ever been present at an annual meeting, gathered to transact the business arising out of the year's activities. While the retiring president, Jared Vining, had some criticisms at some of the more recent luncheons, the reports showed that the club had enjoyed a year of steady progress. Its financial position was sound, and the membership on the increase.

The Other Officers.
B. C. McCann was elected first vice-president, and Rev. C. C. Waller was chosen for the office of second vice-president. F. H. Greenless was elected secretary-treasurer.

The honorary vice-presidents for this year are: Sir George C. Gibbons, K. C., Hon. Adam Beck, M. P., and Major Thomas Coffey. They had all been re-elected, as were also the honorary vice-presidents. School Inspector C. B. Edwards, S. F. Glass, M. P., and Capt. T. J. Murphy. R. P. Pearce was elected chairman of the membership committee and C. B. Edwards chairman of the membership committee. The names of the members added to the executive committee.

Mr. White accepted the position of president, reluctantly, stating that his business obligations would, in some measure, prevent him from giving the club as much of his time as he would desire. He thanked the members, however, for the honor, which he considered one of the highest in the city.

On motion of Andrew Stevenson it was decided henceforth to pay to the secretary a salary of $50 annually for his services. The time of the annual meeting was changed from November to the end of January, on motion of the past president, Jared Vining.

The meeting this year was held three months late, owing to unforeseen circumstances, and Mr. Vining thought a more convenient time for the future. A motion that the change be made was carried unanimously. Insulting remarks moved a hearty protest of thanks to the former secretary, P. W. C. McCutcheon, and a committee was appointed to prepare a properly addressed letter to be sent to him. Mr. Edwards also moved a vote of thanks to the retiring president for his able, diligent and conscientious management of the club during the past year, in which he had discharged the duties of his office during the past year.

More Public Men Needed.
Recalling Mr. Vining's thanks to the members for their support during the year, he also drew attention to the fact that very few members of public bodies in this city were members of the Canadian Club. The reflection for this was not upon the Canadian Club, but upon the public bodies.

"I think if they would attend some of our meetings, they would see some new ideas of the speakers we have here. It would be a good thing for them. They owe it to the city to give support and owe it to the Canadian Club, and by so doing they would better qualify themselves for the offices they hold."

The Canadian Club, declared the past year was the best public body in the city, and a source of good. The president-elect announced that he proposed sending a letter to each member of the club in the near future asking for an expression of opinion on the desirability of continuing the club as at present, and also what hour would be best suited to the majority.

Votes of thanks were tendered George O'Neil, proprietor of the Tecumseh Hotel, for his services, and the Women's Canadian Club for co-operation during the year. Several joint luncheons in which the women could take part, was suggested by C. B. Edwards as a portion of the coming year's program.

THINKS SHERMAN LAW GOES TO THE EXTREME

New Haven Chairman Doubts Economic Result of Breaking Up System.

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 5.—Doubt as to the wisdom of the demands of the department of justice in reference to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad was expressed tonight by Howard Elliott, chairman of that board, in discussing the resolution of the House of Representatives, which would break up the system. "Whether these demands are all for the best interests of New England, and a sound basis for the reconstruction of the railroad, is a question which I do not think the Sherman law may not be economically wise," he said.

"The demand for the breaking up of the New Haven system is because of a lack of sufficient organization to supervise all details closely, and give prompt service to the public, rather than because of any real objection to the idea of a comprehensive system. We are finding that one telegraph system, one street car system, are rather better organized and managed than the service rendered to the public is apt to be better. Elimination of waste, efficiency, the avoidance of duplication of facilities are perhaps just as important as competition. Now that the Government can and does regulate and control rates and many features of management."

TO PUT WIRES UNDERGROUND

Water Commissioners Decide to Take Necessary Steps to This End.

The necessary steps will be taken by the water commissioners with a view to getting an order from the Dominion Railway Commission to compel the placing of all wires underground in certain sections of the city. This was decided upon at a regular meeting of the commissioners on Thursday afternoon.

Want More School Taxes.
Chairman H. W. Wickersham, Secretary William Boer and Daniel Duncan, of the Byron school board, waited upon the commissioners to ask that the $100 paid annually on the Springbank property, as school taxes at Byron, be increased to $125. The five-year agreement between the school board and the village of Byron, on this basis, expires next May. A request would be considered.

It was decided to purchase second-hand equipment from the city of Berlin, at a figure of $1,400, in order to convert alternating current into direct current to supply a number of users in the business section who have motors of the latter type. General Manager E. J. Glauzitis

MARIE LLOYD AGAIN BARRED FROM STATES

"Moral Turpitude" Keeps English Variety Actress Out.

LEGAL POINT TO THE CASE

Bond of $4,000 Put Up When Last Admitted Expires in March—Question as to Whether It is Still In Force.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, Feb. 5.—Marie Lloyd, an English vaudeville singer, was refused readmission to the United States when she made formal application to cross the international border after the completion of a theatrical engagement in Vancouver. She was refused on the ground of "moral turpitude," the provision in the American immigration regulations under which her application was considered when she first applied for admittance at Ellis Island. An appeal in the present case will be made directly to the Secretary of State.

Miss Lloyd was allowed admittance to the United States in the first place by putting up a bond of $4,000. The time limit on the guarantee expires in March. A legal point arises as to whether the bond is still in force at the crossing of the international border to Winnipeg by the actress when she visited the Canadian Northwest to fulfill engagements automatically cancelled the bond or whether it is still in force. She was accompanied Miss Lloyd on her trip across the Atlantic, married her on Chicago about a month ago, on receipt of a cable from London announcing the death of Alec Hurley, her first husband.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A NEW DISCOVERY.
Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night, that because of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food didn't work hard enough, and the plain truth is you haven't got enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folk all over the world. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction. Fear and greed, the foolish foods and funny savoury diets. Omit the flesh cream, omit everything but the plain truth is you are eating now and eat with the rub-ons. Cut out every one of those single Sargol tablets in two weeks, note the difference. Piled up to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol changes your blood, purifies blood with millions of fresh red blood corpuscles, gives the blood carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and expensive, and all druggists sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.—(Adv.)

Eating Relieves Stomach Trouble

A Prominent Physician's Advice.

"Eat good foods and plenty of them. Dieting, in many cases, is almost criminal. Get back to normal. To do so you must have the proper quantity of nourishment. You need it for brain or physical work. Probably there is nothing the matter with your stomach except acidity. That is merely an abnormal secretion of acid in the stomach. Neutralize that acid and your stomach trouble will end at once. Neglect may mean ulcers that not cancer of the stomach. Do not take patented medicines or peppin tablets. For dyspepsia, simply take a neutralizer of acid. Sargol, the best neutralizer in ordinary druggists' warehouses. You can get it at any drug-store for a few cents, get it at any drug-store for a few cents, water after each meal. The relief will be immediate.—Adv."

SISTERS DIE SUDDENLY

Toronto, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Wm. Fosldek, 56, of 1000 Bloor street, died suddenly from heart failure tonight, and half an hour later her sister, Mrs. Mary A. Jenkins, in an adjacent house, succumbed from the shock of her sister's death. W. J. Fosldek, the husband of the former, is travelling in Quebec, and has not yet learned of his double bereavement.

POLICEMAN KILLED

New York, Feb. 6.—Police Officer Edward Murtha, shot under the heart last night by a gunman he was endeavoring to search, died today. James O'Connor, a bystander, who was wounded by the gunman, is in a critical condition.

Starting the Day Right

Do you begin the day with a "grouch"? Are you tired in the mornings? Do you fail to benefit by the restorative influence of sleep, which should make good the energy and vitality consumed by the day's work?

Then you are rapidly becoming bankrupt so far as health is concerned. You should look to your habits of eating, make sure that you get lots of fresh air in your sleeping apartments, and restore wasted vitality by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure does not induce sleep by any drugging effect, but when you have been using it for a few days and get the nervous system into condition you find yourself resting and sleeping naturally and healthfully. By keeping up this restorative treatment you will be able to make good the waste and fill the exhausted nervous system with new vigor and energy. This means thorough cure of such symptoms as headache, sleeplessness, indigestion and tired, listless feelings.

COMMONS DISCUSSES THE DEATH PENALTY

Mr. Bickerdike Presses For Second Reading of His Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—To abolish or not to abolish. That is the question which troubled Parliament several times today. Hanging, capital, titles of honor, land equities in St. Peter's Reserve, revolver, detective phones, and the hundred deposit required of Federal candidates, were all submitted to the survival test. Some of them went down and some did not.

The question of capital punishment received the most extended attention. Mr. Bickerdike asked the House to give second reading to his bill for the abolition of hanging in Canada, and to limit extreme penalty to flogging and life imprisonment, on the ground that "capital punishment is a blot on Christianity, and a blight on religion."

"Man had no right to take what he could not give, and the man who was not fit for earth was not fit for heaven," he said.

Amending the Divine Law. "I have never found anything to justify human law amending the law divine, only He who gave life has the right to take it," were the terms in which Hon. George Graham sided with the bill.

That capital punishment was justified by the scriptures, that hanging is a deterrent of social evil and that the abolition of the death penalty does not decrease crime, but rather the reverse, was the way W. F. Nichol, of Kingston, looked upon the proposal.

Canada has reached a stage of civilization where capital punishment is not necessary and hanging is not a deterrent from murder, were the reasons which Levi Thompson gave for supporting the measure.

ent stage of Canada, was the opinion of Hon. Frank Oliver.

His Honor Judge Doherty, minister of justice, whose words should guide the House, commended the humane precepts of the debaters who supported the bill but for himself and others, after thus condemning Mr. Bickerdike's measure to death, he gave it reprieve by adjourning the debate. The measure goes to the foot of the list, and may be reached again this session and may not. Its success in any case is dubious.

Mr. Broder's Anti-Cigarette Bill. Andrew Broder, who does not use tobacco in any form, has introduced a bill for the abolition of cigarettes.

Another abolition proposal was from the Government for the cancellation of the agreement by which the Indians of St. Peter's in Manitoba sold their lands in the time of the late Government. The minister of the interior and the minister of justice said that there had been irregularities in the transaction which they proposed to test by a case in the Manitoba courts for the cancellation of the agreement of sale. From that court there could appeal to the exchequer or the supreme court of Canada.

To Restrict Detectaphones. Another abolition proposal came from Mr. Verville, the Labor member who introduced a bill which will make illegal the unrestricted use of detectaphones and the right of employers to arm employees, a fine of $1,000 or a year in prison are the penalties proposed.

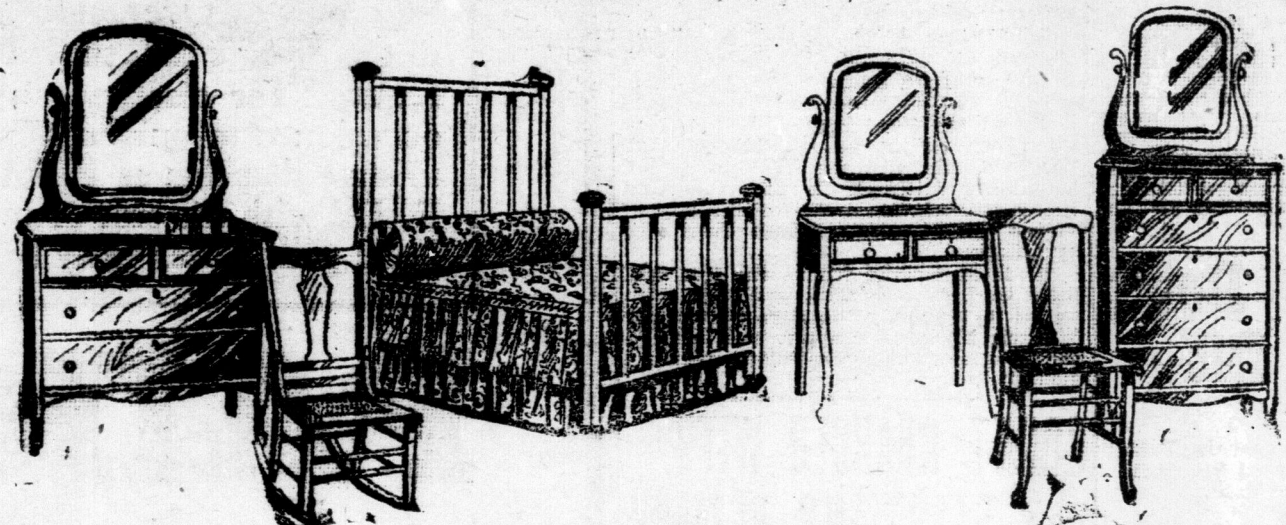

Mr. Foster Against This Bill. The measure to abolish titles was urged by its promoter, Mr. Burnham, on the ground that titles threatened the Can-

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city. He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then. This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith—do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

adian spirit of democracy. That Parliament did not create honorary titles and had therefore no right to abolish them, was the view of Hon. George E. Foster.

"How about military titles?" asked Mr. Pender.

"They are now so common that they are no longer honorary," said Mr. Foster jocularly.

That titles were undemocratic and out of harmony with democracy, was the opinion of Sir Wilfrid, the only knight in the House at the time. He said that Mr. Burnham had tackled the job in the wrong way. Titles came from the King, and if their abolition were desired the King should be addressed to that end.

When premier, he had taken the stand that titles were the prerogative of the crown, and had left them to the Governor-General, who, however, had not made recommendations without consulting the Government.

The bill was defeated without division.

C. P. R. Supplies Cooks and Waiters With Complexions to Match Dining-Cars.

The C. P. R. has disclosed a subtle ingenuity in advertising; nor did this suffer impairment in a comparatively recent instance. The company wanted, to be exact, 670 cooks and waiters for its dining-car service last spring. It has tried the American cooks and waiters to be exact, indeed, there were at least 2,000 persons, at one time or another, who applied. There was a severe weeding process, with the result that the requisite number were employed and shipped out—fair and dark-complexioned men—to harmonize with the setting of the particular car to which each shade of color should be confirmed. And it is the fact that the C. P. R. desires, in its aesthetic way, to produce in each dining-car what might be called a synthesis as to the color and height and general appearance of the men—the idea being in decorations and general ensemble to present a harmonious whole for the delectation of the passengers. The point of interest is this—that whereas the American cooks and waiters who had before-time been employed by the company were for the most part unreliable, leaving after two or three months' employment, the men found in London remained the whole season; and at this moment of the entire number 500 are still in the employment of the company. Some left to better themselves; a few went back; but the greater bulk are at work quite contented, as the commissioner, sent out recently "Answers" and who talked with the men, avouches. These men are Swiss, Scandinavian, Germans to some slight degree, and British. The Swiss speak at least three languages, and are most adaptive. This matter of help on the dining-cars is one of the serious problems to be faced by Mr. W. A. Cooper, the manager of the sleeping and dining-car service—the difficulty of getting and then retaining the right men; but the experiment of going to London and advertising for them has proved an unqualified success. It seems unthinkable remote to consider the big posters of the early days which announced, rather riotously, the advantage of the C. P. R. in the matter of gastronomic enjoyment. The delicate aestheticism which the company now provides marks the apogee of advance and elaboration.

LAMBETH.

Lambeth, Feb. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. George Copeland have returned to Grosse Pointe, Mich., after visiting Mrs. A. G. House for some time.

Mrs. D. Anguish is quite ill at her home.

Miss Marjorie Lyon, of London, was a recent visitor with Alice Carley.

Mr. Edwin Cutler is ill at her home. The Fire Insurance Company meeting held here on Monday was very largely attended, and a large amount of routine business was disposed of.

Mrs. George Carley, who has been ill for the past few days, is improving nicely.

BADLY SHAKEN UP.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Goderich, Feb. 5.—Mr. John Marriott, the well-known carter, met with a serious accident this afternoon. Mr. Marriott was loading a shipment of organs for the organ company, when a crate fell upon his team. They ran into a large stone crusher at the American Road Machine Company, throwing Mr. Marriott against the machine and shaking him up badly.

GRAND TRUNK AT PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION.

The Grand Trunk System has received word from the chief architect of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, that the design submitted for the Grand Trunk Building at this great event, which takes place during the year 1915, has been approved. The information is of great importance as being the first of the proposed Canadian railway buildings that will be erected at this exposition. It will in a way set the pace for the balance of the Railway Plaza in which this building is situated, and where all the other Canadian railway buildings are to be placed. The group of buildings therefore will be of one design and all will follow the Grand Trunk style of architecture, which is taken from the Spanish Renaissance and which follows to a certain extent the general scheme of architecture of the Main Palaces at the exposition.

The location of the building is in one of the best parts of the exhibition grounds and faces on the south side the entrances for the ferries from the many towns and cities across San Francisco Bay. On the west side it faces the Machinery Palace. On the north side are located the beautiful Sunken Gardens, that will be part of the landscape scheme of the exposition, and on the east side is San Francisco Bay.

Estimates for the construction of this handsome building, which will contain 10,000 feet of floor space, are now being secured, and construction will proceed at an early date. It is the intention of the Grand Trunk to install one of the finest exhibits they have yet assembled for this exhibition and one which will place before the people of the world Canada's illimitable resources, its scenic attractions and its haunts for fish and game.

My Meals Don't Hurt a Bit

A Little Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Will Aid Your Exhausted Stomach To Digest Any Meal.

Isn't it a real joy to see children eat? There is almost a ridiculous humor about it. The same joy that a child feels at meal time should be experienced by "grown-ups" and would be if they would only do as children do.

The work, worries and woes of adult life exhaust the digestive apparatus and nature very often is not allowed time or opportunity to renew or repair the exhausted organs and depleted digestive juices.

"Well What's You Think of a Big Feed Without Pain?"

A Stuart's tablet goes into the stomach like food. It contains nothing but natural digestive elements and when at work in a weak stomach it aids the worn-out gastric glands, supplies the right mixture of stomach juices and under the action of the stomach it thoroughly permeates all the food. Thus when the stomach work is done the meal goes into the small intestine in better shape to be assimilated by the system.

One element of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is so strong and efficient that one grain of it will digest 3,000 grains of mixed food such as meats, vegetables, grains, fluids, etc.

The simple habit of eating a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal will readjust your digestion in a very short time so that you will no longer need assistance.

Go to your druggist and obtain a box today; price, 50 cents.

RESURRECTION WILL REVEAL TRUE LIFE

Rev. Father Nolan Tells a Big Audience How It Will Strip Off Hypocrite's Mask.

An audience of about twelve hundred men heard an address on the "General Judgment," by Rev. Father Nolan in St. Peter's Cathedral last night. The speaker chose as a text Matthew 25, verses 31 and 32. A feature of the service was the congregational singing, joined heartily.

Father Nolan spoke of the resurrection of the body and the final sentence which affects the total separation of the sinner from the face of his Maker.

"The just shall rise to glory and the reprobate shall fall to corruption," he said. "After the resurrection, all shall assemble in the great valley of Jehosaphat for Christ shall reward the good and punish the wicked."

With dramatic emphasis, the preacher showed how each man would stand before the whole world to give an account of his whole life.

"The mask of the hypocrite will be thrown off and his sins, secret and public, will be manifest to the whole world. The abandonment of the drunkard and the lecherous will appear in all their heinousness. The unjust, the un-Godly and the irreligious may seemingly triumph in life, but God being eternal, can wait for the day of virtue which will triumph over vice and Satan."

"It is in heaven where the just will meet God, face to face, and know him as he is known. The reprobate souls in their blackest despair, are sent to their doom of everlasting punishment."

COUNT CHARGED WITH STARTLING REMARK

But Russian Denies He Made Incriminating Statement.

Budapest, Hungary, Feb. 6.—"Russia will not demobilize her army until the Russian flag floats over the Carpathians." This was one of the startling statements attributed to Count Vladimir Bobrinsky, president of the Russian Constitutional Conservative party in the Duma, and leader of the Pan-Slavic movement in Russia, when the trial was resumed today at Marmaros-Siget of the 94 Ruthens, charged with inciting to rebellion against the Austro-Hungarian government.

Dullakovic, a detective, was on the witness stand giving evidence. He put the sensational phrase into Count Bobrinsky's mouth.

Count Denies.
Count Bobrinsky was immediately recalled to the witness stand where he emphatically denied that he ever made the incriminating statement attributed to him. He admitted he had consorted with Dullakovic, but his agents had warned him against the detective. The court gave Count Bobrinsky permission to return to Russia when he had concluded his evidence.

Interest in Trial.
The trial has been in progress since December 9. Great political interest has been aroused throughout Europe by the proceedings.

THREE MEN DROWNED ON MYSTERIOUS ERRAND

[Canadian Press.]
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—Investigation of a mysterious errand, which resulted in the drowning of three men last night in the icy waters of Lake Michigan, while they were making efforts to reach a waterworks intake crib, in a small boat, was begun today by city authorities. William F. Campbell, keeper of the crib, Stephen Varley, and a man named Wilson started for the crib in a small open boat, which was perfect in shape. The sides and angles were uniform, and it would appear that the noisy transients were students, in distinct at least, of some of the higher branches of mathematics. At first it was supposed Campbell had attempted to take a physician to the crib to attend his wife. Later, however, two women, who gave their names as May Smith and Mary Wade, were taken from the crib in a police boat. They said Campbell and his companions had gone for provisions.

DEATH OF JOHN REIDY.

Mount Forest, Feb. 4.—John Reidy, third son of Patrick Reidy (one of the early pioneer settlers of Arthur Township), died in Strathcona Hospital here on Monday, February 2, following an operation for appendicitis, and after a short, but very painful illness.

Few deaths in recent years have caused the widespread regret that is felt at his removal in this early manhood, being just 30 years of age. He was beloved by all who knew him, being a pious Catholic, and an honest citizen, possessed of a rare and ready wit, intelligence and sound judgment.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Margaret Stack, daughter of Patrick Stack, Arthur Township; a daughter, aged about 15 months; two brothers, Michael Reidy and James Reidy, and his father, Patrick Reidy, all of Arthur Township.

The funeral took place from St. Mary's Church here this morning. There was a solemn mass of requiem celebrated by Rev. Father Kelly, P.P., to the accompaniment of music. The church was filled with a congregation of sincere mourners. After the mass the body, accompanied by Father Kelly, was taken for burial to Holy Cross Cemetery.

DIRECTIONS FOR EGG PRODUCTION

Mrs. Lawless, 1228 Dundas Street, Tells How Her Four Hens Laid 98 in 31 Days.

Here are the directions Mrs. Lawless of 1228 Dundas st. gives, to make four pullets lay ninety eggs in thirty-one days.

"First," she told the reporter who called on her, "you must have some high-class fowls," and she pointed to a couple of "blue ribbon" record-breakers strutting about in the yard. "Those have all taken prizes at the New York poultry shows."

"Second they must be kept in a place, with lots of straw around."

"Third, they must be fed properly and regularly."

"The bill of fare that Mrs. Lawless considers appropriate for her record-breakers, is: Morning, a sprinkle of oats. Noon, a slice of bread and butter, and a sprinkle of wheat."

Besides this, making pets of the chickens is essential to get the very best and, more important, the most eggs.

"Biddle" is the favourite of the Lawless coon.

"She follows me around all the while I'm in the yard," said Mrs. Lawless. Biddle laid thirty eggs in the thirty one days of January and four of them were big triple-size double-yolked ones too.

"The pullets run around in the yard and scratch in the straw of the coop, and every now and then, one of them goes into nest and lays an egg," said the owner.

"Any egg records here?" the Advertiser's egg reporter asked Mrs. Lawless. "Why no-er-lat's see now, judging by most of London's chickens, I guess maybe I have too."

"Oh yes, and what is the record?" asked the reporter getting out pad and pencil.

"Well we have twenty-five chickens," "Yes," said the reporter expectant.

"And," continued Mrs. Lawrence. "They haven't laid an egg since November."

WINTER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

Hundreds of Canadians and our cousins across the border have been enjoying the pleasures offered by Algonquin Provincial Park during the past two months. The Highland Inn, the Grand Trunk Hotel in this wonderful territory has been the scene of jolly crowds from all parts of the continent. In the past a southern trip seemed to be the best, and to seek for heat where the cold proved unendurable, but more recently there has been a keen appreciation of the dry friendliness of the north, and Algonquin Park is becoming more popular every winter for those who desire rest and recreation. The territory is 2,000 feet above sea level, and the air is always dry and cold, and the days usually bright. Write our Grand Trunk agent, or to the Resident Manager of the Highland Inn, Algonquin Park Station, Ontario, for handsome descriptive booklet.

BRITISH-AMERICAN WAR UNTHINKABLE

[Canadian Press.]

London, Feb. 5.—The London morning papers heartily endorse the suggestions made at the meeting of the British committee for the celebration of the centenary of peace and hope that the public will respond promptly to the appeal for $250,000.

The Times, in an editorial, says: "Anglo-American relations fortunately stand in no need of artificial sustenance."

Referring to Secretary Bryan's peace treaty the Times says: "War between Great Britain and the United States is unthinkable. With that central and indisputable fact we might well rest content, especially as the Anglo-American treaty should have taught the statesmen of both countries the folly of forcing the pace and overemphasizing facts and conditions that may safely be left to develop in their own way and at their own time."

Referring to President Wilson's proclamation, relation to Mexico, the Times considers that this will hardly bring a permanent solution of the problem, but says that whatever policy they may eventually be driven to adopt the Americans may be confident that no difficulties will be placed in their way by the British Government.

"We have had too much experience in similar predicaments," adds the Times "not to sympathize with the hesitancy of American statesmanship in the face of such a difficult situation."

PROGRESSIVES OPPOSE
TWO-YEAR CONTROLLERSSay Present Members Have No Authority For Extending Terms.The East End Progressives, at a meeting last night, placed themselves on record as emphatically opposed to extending the term of the present board of control to two years, and it was moved, "that our representatives be instructed to state that we consider that the board of control was elected for one year as an experiment, and that without coming to the people for their sanction, we do not see why they should extend their length of service."

Favors Ridout Subway.

The meeting was in favor of the Ridout street subway and urged that some action be taken in the near future towards providing a subway at Essex street and the G. T. R.
The street railway service, the proper division of teaming among the teamsters of the city, and the hydro rates, were all discussed, but no resolutions adopted. Owing to the illness of the person in charge of the report no report was submitted in connection with the Western Fair grounds, but a report was promised for the next meeting.

Market is Discussed.

After some discussion regarding the initiation of an east end market it was decided that the terms asked for a six-foot strip of property adjoining the proposed site, were too exorbitant, and a resolution was passed that if any additions were needed they should be made on the property on which the city has an option.Passenger train service has been put into operation on the Grand Trunk
Pacific Railway between McBride,
1,135 miles west of Winnipeg, and Prince George, 1,279 miles west of Winnipeg, leaving McBride at 8:00 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, returning, leaving Prince George 8:00 a.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. There is now only 116 miles of a gap west of Prince George to be completed of this great new transcontinental railway to link up the whole system from coast to coast.

here at the end of the week, according to advice received by General Manager H. J. Gault, who has been in charge of the project. The whole plant will be ager H. J. Gault, of the waterworks-hydro department, is planning a carnival for the children, to be held on the skating weather lately has had such an effect on the ice that it is doubtful if the affair can

1:30 o'clock this morning.The train left the Toronto Union Station at 11:05 last night, running on a non-stop schedule between the Queen City and Sarnia Tunnel, with the exception of a half-minute stop at Brantford for inspection.Right of way over all trains was included in their routing orders. Every freight, whether through or way, was side-tracked for half an hour previous to the appearance of the cannonball.No restrictions were placed on her time, the way being left open for the driver to make his record look pale.The few frequenters at the local depot this morning who the special rolled through, rubbed their eyes and wondered what had broken loose. Trailing a white plume of steam from her lofty valves, and with a salute from her whistle that could be heard for blocks,

the train sped by the familiar G.
T. R. station, and a small crowd was calculated to remove the shingles from the ancient structure. The shilling pullmans, and the baggage car, with their vestibules resembling to the tail of a meteor.
