In Plea For Food, Says Allies

TO MOVE BEYOND RHINE.
 BERLIN, Thursday, Jan. 16.—Under the terms of the prolongation of the armistice, Germany must deliver by February 17 some 58,000 agricultural machines of various kinds.

As a guarantee for the fulfillment of the demands the Entente also reserves the right of occupying the sector of the fortifications of Strasbourg formed by the fortifications on the right bank of the Rhine, together with a strip of territory from five to ten kilometers in front of it.

WILL HOLD TO BLOCKADE.
 LONDON, Jan. 17.—The admiralty has no intention of relaxing its strict blockade against Germany, the Central News says it learns.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 17.—The armistice between the Allies and Germany has been extended to that effect being signed by Matthias Erzberger, the German armistice commissioner, at Treves, Wednesday, according to a Berlin dispatch received here.

The meeting between Marshal Foch and the German delegates was featured by protests by Matthias Erzberger, representing the German armistice commissioner, at Treves, Wednesday, according to a Berlin dispatch received here.

Talks Like Holweg.
 "When will you raise the blockade?" Herr Erzberger asked. "The food conditions in Germany are daily growing worse and hunger will produce a mental state, which the Allies cannot desire. Your people's thousands are not proof against a world revolution."

"Will the Entente," he continued, "undertake binding obligations regarding the return of the German prisoners of war? When will you be in a position to conclude a preliminary peace?" Germany has asked six times for negotiations for a preliminary peace, but has received no reply.

Says Allies Are at Fault.
 Herr Erzberger, who made these statements in a speech in the Reichstag, declared the Germans had fulfilled the terms of the armistice up to the limit of possibility. In cases in which the terms had not been complied with the Entente was responsible, he believed, especially so far as regards the delivery of transport material.

Herr Erzberger complained that the freedom of movement had been impeded between the occupied territory and the rest of Germany, and he declared that the measures taken by the Allies in Alsace-Lorraine proved that France aimed to the complete destruction of the provinces without respecting the right of the people to self-determination.

WARSAW, Thursday, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Colonel Grove of the American mission in Poland left Warsaw today for Lemberg, where the situation is reported to be considerably improved.

Colonel Grove was accompanied by British and French officers, and they will arrange armistice terms which are expected to permit the release of Polish troops in that region for transfer northward to oppose the Bolshevik tide from Russia.

UNITY OF COMMAND.

OMSK, Russia, Thursday, Jan. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Unity of command on the Siberian front has been arranged, and the French general, Jules Janin, who has been commander of the Czechoslovak forces, is to have supreme direction of the Allied forces in Russia.

The appointment of General Janin is hailed as a defeat for the Bolsheviks. General Knox, chief of the British military mission and also in charge of the commissariat, is occupied in the task of selecting a representative commission to study and formulate a plan for the election of a national assembly.

The newspapers call attention to the fact that the workmen's co-operative organizations of Omsk and elsewhere have proclaimed their support of the new government. The Government is actively negotiating with the powers for recognition and also for participation in the peace conference.

Three members of the present Cabinet will be in the new ministry, which will be constituted primarily of non-political experts. The new Cabinet is subject to the approval of German Poland. It will continue in office until elections are held within the next fortnight.

Peace Must Equal Price of Victory, Declares Marshal Foch.

TRUCE NOT PREMATURE

Allied Commander-in-Chief Points Out What Must Be Done To Protect All.

Treves, Wednesday, Jan. 15.—It is the conviction of Marshal Foch that the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He expressed this clearly today when he received American newspapermen. The marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice.

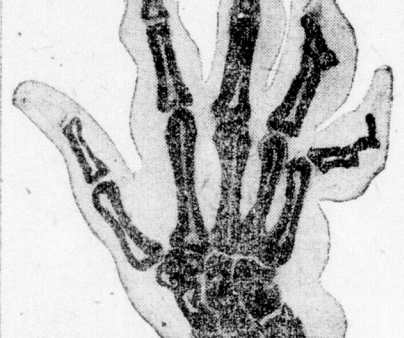

Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome, and said that peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany now was beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a comparatively short time was quite possible. It was now the duty of the Allies to prevent further aggression.

Armistice Not Premature.
 The armistice was not concluded too soon the marshal said, and the Allies got all they asked for from Germany without fighting. The Allies were prepared for another offensive stroke which would have forced the Germans to give up. This was to have been made in Lorraine on November 14, with six American and twenty French divisions.

Marshal Foch, when asked by the correspondent if the armistice was not too soon, replied: "It was not possible to do otherwise," answered the marshal, "because the enemy gave up everything that we asked for at once. They satisfied all of our conditions. It was difficult to ask more."

"Doubtless any general would have preferred to have continued the struggle, and to have battle when the battle which offered itself was so promising, but a father of a family could not help but think of the blood that would be shed. A victory, however easy, costs the lives of men. We held our ground without any further sacrifices. We took it as it came."

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

A 75c BOX FREE TO ANY SUFFERER

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that knocks out the pain in a matter of hours. It is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders. After other remedies have failed entirely, it seems to be the only one that has not failed. It is the blood, driving all the poisons, clearing waste from the system. Sores, pain, stiffness, swelling, just melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that his other work everybody who suffers from rheumatism or who has a "front" as it is called, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do for you. Before a penny is spent, Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, without long standing the case, and even after all other remedies have failed, send you a full size 75c package free, if you will just cut out the coupon and send it to your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally." J. E. Delano, 341-P Wood Building, Syracuse, N. Y., can send only one Free Package in an address.

Ignorant of the fact that it faced a colossal disaster. When it surrendered, everything was prepared for an offensive which would infallibly have succeeded. On the fourteenth were to attack in Lorraine with twenty French divisions and six American divisions. This attack would have been supported by other movements in Flanders and in the centre.

"The Germans were lost. They capitulated. There is the whole story. And now we must make a peace which will correspond with the magnitude of our victory. We must have a peace as absolute as was our success and which will guard us against all future aggression."

"France has a right to effective measures for protection after the formidable efforts she put forward to save civilization. The natural frontier which will protect civilization is the Rhine."

The Rhine It Must Be.
 "It is on the Rhine that we must hold the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for them to recommence the coup of 1914. The Rhine is the common barrier of all the Allies, precisely of all those who united to save civilization. The Rhine is the guarantee of peace for all the nations who have shed their blood in the cause of liberty. Then let us watch on the Rhine."

"We have no idea of attacking Germany or of recommencing the war. Democracies such as ours never attack. They ask but to live in peace and to grow in peace, but who can say that Germany—where democratic ideas are so recent and perhaps very superficial—will not quickly recover from its defeat?"

"England has the channel to cross. America is far away. France must always be in a position to safeguard the general interests of mankind. These interests are at stake on the Rhine. It is there that we must prepare to guard against the painful surprise of the future."

"The armistice is signed, but peace is not yet concluded. So long as the status of Europe has not been settled, let us watch, let us watch together, so that we lose not the fruits of our common victory. Let us remain united as we were in battle."

DOCTOR TELLS HOW TO STRENGTHEN
 EYESIGHT 50 PER CENT IN ONE
 WEEK'S TIME IN MANY INSTANCES

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the prescription of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to spare the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Non-Opto tablets. Drop one Non-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid inside the eye two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent physician whom the above article was submitted said: "Non-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by the Standard Drug Company, W. T. Strong and others.

NO LAND FOR SOLDIERS.
NO MORE DISMAL failure to meet the apparent need of the time has been revealed than Union Government's complete "fall down" in regard to land settlement for returned soldiers. In Alberta five thousand veterans who are ready to bend their energies and strength to the work of production cannot get land on which to work. The authorities at Ottawa, after four years' of the dumbest kind of inaction, coolly announce that there is no land available and that it has no scheme for making land available.

Here was one of the most obvious duties of this country. To get as many as possible of the returned men on the land would not only be performing a service for the men themselves, but utilizing them to the best possible advantage of the whole country. And in connection with the ministry of the interior there have been no absorbing war duties. Surely the holder of this portfolio could have ascertained conditions by the most superficial investigation, but the Cabinet appears to have devoted most of its time to the work of importing a large settlement of Mennonites on land that WAS AVAILABLE. It is almost unthinkable that after four years of war, and with the land policy discussed on every platform the returned soldier comes back to find that no provision has been made for him. It would have been no more culpable to have failed to provide ships to bring home the men. Major Leo Redman, Unionist M. P. for Calgary, is the latest public man to express his exasperation. He is right on the ground and should know. He said that there was no tangible scheme for the settlement of the would-be farmers, and flayed the Government, under which he sits, for its indifference. Surely Canada has land that can be given to the returned men, land that is not too remote from city or town, and land that is suitable for cultivation. Has all the great homestead prairie land been taken up? What has become of the land the Government should have acquired on taking over the C. N. R.?

It is time that such disgraceful incapacity at Ottawa be remedied.

FAREWELL J. B.
UNCLE SAM has climbed on the water wagon or off the booze wagon, whichever you care to put it. The United States has voted itself "dry," thirty-four of the forty-eight States having ratified the amendment to the constitution which makes prohibition a law of the land. Should President Wilson cancel the war prohibition act which goes into effect next July the great drought will not be officially on until 1920. Should he decide to carry the war measure through John Barleycorn will pass away next summer so far as our neighbor is concerned. J. B. has been badly battered and bumped of late the world over. War legislation hooted him black and blue and he has become a sorry cripple. Powerful distillery and brewery interests in the United States will endeavor to put him on his feet again, but the come-back can be but temporary at best, or worst. The determination to do away with alcohol is too deep seated, too widespread, not to prevail. What a few years ago we considered the fanaticism of a few has become the calmly-reasoned-out conviction of overwhelming majorities. The most powerful elements in labor unionism have lined up with the "dry" forces. The movement to dethrone King Booze is nothing if not democratic. By voting "dry" the United States is helping mightily to keep the world safe for democracy.

LIEBKNECHT.
THE DEATH of Karl Liebknecht, leader of the Spartacists, while trying to escape the fury of a Berlin mob, probably ends the terror for the German capital. Liebknecht had been leading his band of extremists to ruthless killing as he endeavored to replace the Ebert Government with a Bolshevik administration. He perished after the manner he had decreed for all those antagonistic to his political views and acts. In spite of this, however, the world will, we think, be inclined to forgive Liebknecht much. His was another case of a good man gone wrong. He has been called the German-Lenin or Trotsky, but while he finally adopted a measure of their methods, his whole previous record held nothing of their treachery, cruelty and general beastliness. He was much less deserving of the violent end he met than the pair of rogues who lead the Russian Reds. Liebknecht from his earliest youth strove valiantly to force popular government from the Hohenzollerns. It required high spirit and unquestioned courage to beard the Potsdam tyrant and his junker-gang by preaching the destruction of militarism, but personal loss, suffering or humiliation could not compel Liebknecht to drop his crusade. He cannot be excused for attempting a short cut to power by way of a bloody insurrection, but the honesty of the man's motives will in time modify the world's disgust at his brief championship of the Red Terror.

LUDENDORFF'S CRIMES.
WITH THE object of heading off retribution at the hands of his fellow countrymen Ludendorff is writing a book to prove he was not involved in the launching of the war.

Germany is unrepentant for its black sinning against civilization, but is enraged at the men who started the trouble because they failed to make good and because of the anarchy that has resulted from that failure.

But, if Ludendorff makes out a case that will enable him to escape the wrath of his own people he still has the Allied world to reckon with. Lloyd George and Clemenceau have definitely and distinctly declared that the big criminals of the Hun war leaders, the men who initiated frightfulness and carried it to hideous extent by land and sea, shall be adequately punished. Of these, next to the brutal von Tirpitz, Ludendorff heads the list. Only when Atilla swept over Europe has there been such devastation as Ludendorff visited upon Northern France, while his record in Rumania is not much better. He laid waste with a calculating devilishness when there was absolutely no military necessity for it. Neutral investigators have estimated that 80 per cent of the destruction caused by the Germans while in France was due to systematic vandalism that had no relation whatever to manoeuvrings.

Only when his armies were being booted back to Germany, a situation which threatened reprisals, did Ludendorff let up in his frightfulness towards the civilian population of the invaded lands. He may bring evidence to show he was not a Potsdam conspirator, but if he ever comes before an Allied court, thumbs will be turned down. The evidence of his crime against civilization and humanity is the dreadful scar many miles wide and deep across Northern France. That exhibit will be too strong for any excuse he may put forward.

HARRY LAUDER "SETTLING PRELIMINARIES."
HARRY LAUDER addressed the Rotary Club at their noon-day luncheon at the Tecumseh House. It was a very able effort. He is a great comedian of world-wide reputation, and was at his best, when playing the "Auctioneer." He proved that the New York man's statement was true, "Gee, that guy could sell fur earmuffs in August," and actually got a Scotchman to pay one hundred and seventy-five dollars for a book. That same Scotchman's father, many years ago, when addressing a gathering of Scotsmen on St. Andrew's night, quoted the words which we take from memory only:

"That I for dear auld Scotland's sake
Some honest, useful book might make,
Or sing a song at least."

And then with a twinkle in his eye, added:
"I've made mony a buik."

He was a bookbinder.

It was, however, not in comedy, that Harry Lauder entranced his audience. Coleridge says: "Tragedy is poetry in its deepest earnest; comedy is poetry in unlimited jest," and this description of tragedy is a good description of Harry Lauder's address. It was "poetry in deepest earnest." It shot from the heart to the heart. The language was strong, forceful and appropriate. The delivery that of a finished artist. An old lawyer once said, "Before I go into court at the trial I want to have all the preliminaries settled." Harry Lauder's idea is that the preliminaries have been settled, and the parties are in court. The trial has begun. An ordinary trial takes days, but in this trial and judgment years will be as days. It may take many years to bring in the findings, but those who fought and triumphed on land and sea, and in the air, and suffered there and died, will demand strict unbending, accurate justice. The British seaman will demand this from the Government, and failing a favorable response, will close the commerce of the world until the murderers receive justice on the yardarm of a vessel out at sea. The Kaiser will realize that, bad as his condition is, "worse remains behind"—the punishment is to come.

One out of every three of the male population of Great Britain fought under the colors, and Great Britain furnished more men and more money than any one of the Allied nations. Their cause was just. The men who fought and died on the Allied side fought and died for humanity.

Particularly pathetic were his references to the grave in France of his boy, and the poem on "Granny's Boy" with which he closed his powerful, full and gripping speech. Every one present was deeply moved and mentally said:

"Better lo-ed ye canna be,
Will ye no come back again?"

THE DEADLY COOTIE.
[Utica Press].
The cootie is as deadly as a high powered gun. It is responsible for at least a million lives in the war zone. The house carried perma of typhus and trench fever, and the spread disease over many countries. Typhus is a house-borne disease, and Serbia alone nearly 1,000,000 persons were infected. The cootie is a deadly pest.

WOMAN'S CHANCE.
[Kingston Whig].
There are men, and their numbers are growing less, who from young giving women a place in the sun. Her sphere, they insist, is in the home; she is too good and noble to be subjected to depraved political and social surroundings. We think if women can get a chance at these things she can clean them up effectively. Her hand has been trained in defacing blots and blurs on the pure fabric of society.

A PROPHECY VERIFIED.
[Guelph Mercury].
When the N. E. was introduced in 1878, the country was told that it was in the interest of the farmers and also for the purpose of fostering the infant manufacturing industries of the country. The farmers, as a whole, seem now to be getting their eyes opened. Opponents of protection have said that as time went on and the favored industries reached maturity, the system would be hard to throw off. This has proved to be the case.

TYPICAL TORY ARGUMENT.
[Quebec Telegraph].
To prove the wickedness of the laborer under free-trade, the Toronto News quotes from Carlyle in "Past and Present," who in 1849, in the days of high protection in England, thus wrote: "The people commenced the desecrating movement of tariff reduction. The sage of Ecclefechan who despised the wages of the English before the repeal of the corn laws in the work quoted by our contemporary."

PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH.
[St. Thomas Times-Journal].
In the meantime people are advised to eat more beans, than which there is nothing so nutritious. Also, the Government might well consider an advertising campaign in the interest of protection. People would eat more beans if they were prepared in as inviting a manner in hotels and restaurants as they are at home. And beans are not used as they ought to be in the average home. Better be a confirmed bean eater than a meat eater to an excess.

THE PROGRAM.
[From the Liberator, the Mouthpiece of "Reform" in the U. S.].
"This shall be a government for the proletariat, for the proletariat, for the proletariat, if you do not renounce your capitalist privileges (meaning the ownership of private property) we will have a republic of workers, and we intend this so really and truly that nothing can stop us, not even justice, nor principles of democracy, nor the rule of the majority, nor any of those slogans of ancient morality."

THE EDITOR HAS A SNAP.
An exchange says: Most anyone can be an editor. All the editor has got to do is to sit down at a typewriter, and week, four weeks out of the month, and twelve months out of the year, and edit such stuff as—
"Mrs. James of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."
"A mischievous lad of Picketown threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the alley last Thursday."
"John Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week and threw a brick and fell, striking himself on the back porch."
"Isiah Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda."
"Mr. Fong, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."

KINDLINESS.
[Exchange].
The kindly man will not lack for friends; his own life is the happier for the courtesy and consideration he shows for others. In the end, the cause of him is a better place to live in. A good saying, often repeated, is this: "I shall pass through this world, but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to my human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it—for I shall not pass this way again."

The genre art of appreciation, practiced at home, in the office, on the street, helps to brighten the world. Smile, and the world smiles with you—yes, if the smile is genuine. It is well to be spendthrift of thanks and cordial greetings.

THE WAR AND DRUG TAKING.
[Toronto Star].
There has been a great deal of discussion in the English press as to the growth of the habit of taking drugs. It is attributed by some to the strain and excitement of the war, the desire to obtain sleep or relief from worry. The objections to the habit are so obvious that they need hardly be stated. Narcotic drugs afford no permanent relief. They cause reactions of anxiety and depression, and the dose must be repeated and increased.

If the war is the main cause the evil will tend to diminish as people get back to the normal frame of mind. Regular, constructive work, good food, pleasant surroundings, exercise, recreation for the mind are the natural remedies. The war, however, has its importance of improving the national health as a part of a general policy of reconstruction. The restoration of the mental balance and the checking of emotionalism would naturally demand the attention of those who are to carry out the policy.

DOWN THE LANE.
By R. Ray Baker.

"And so you think you've got to call this off, this wedding of ours, do you?" He was an angular young fellow, with hair that bordered on the yellow, and he wore a striped green and red shirt, overalls and boots that were like the proverbial snow shovels. His eyes were grey, and he had just a few white hairs peeping through a heavy coat of tan. Altogether he was not unprepossessing. Dress him up in a store suit, polish his shoes and his speech and his manners, place him in a ballroom and he would have no trouble filling his card.

"Yes, Joe, I've got to. You see, all the prospect before me here is hard work on a farm. If I marry you I'm just a farmer's wife. What I want is to see the world, to live in the big city, where there are exciting automobiles and clanging street cars, and lots of lights and operas and those things."

He grinned a rueful sort of grin and rested his chin in his hands and his elbows on his knees while he looked intently at a colony of ants at a short distance from his feet without seeing one of the insects seated near him on the log. His dress was plain blue gingham, and he wore a motor car and yachts and the supposition served as a frame for an oval face, flushed with health, and deep-set eyes that looked straight at you and prevented several wisps of luxuriant hair from peeping out at the edges. Some of the bonnet's biggest it could not prevent several wisps of luxuriant hair from peeping out at the edges. Some of the bonnet's biggest it could not prevent several wisps of luxuriant hair from peeping out at the edges. Some of the bonnet's biggest it could not prevent several wisps of luxuriant hair from peeping out at the edges.

Finally she rose and walked along the path in the direction opposite to that which Joe had taken. She was absorbed in thought and scarcely noticed where she went. She was walking on a path that led down to a stocky, tawny-haired youth of about seven, carrying a rake over his shoulder. She had passed from the woods and was traversing the edge of a field.

"Hello, sis," was the youth's greeting. "Where you going—home? To get ready for the trip to Cleveland?"

She was startled. This boy was Joe's brother, although he had always referred to her as his sister, probably because of her plainness. Surely Joe had not seen him so soon and told him of her plans.

"What do you mean, Bub?" she asked. "What's this about a trip to Cleveland?"

The boy spread his mouth in a wide, knowing grin.

"You can't fool me," he asserted. "Didn't I hear Joe atellin' the folks 'bout it last night? Didn't I hear him?"

War Service Gratuity

As soon as a soldier is discharged from the army his first concern is to find a job. He may not find a job at once. During his period of unemployment he will however be in receipt of his War Service Gratuity.

Before the Armistice was signed "post discharge pay" was granted to discharged soldiers. Upon the signing of the Armistice it was felt necessary to make certain changes.

A larger grant will now be made to all who have served at the front whether discharged before or after the Armistice. Those who were on active service on the date of the Armistice, but had not served at the front, will also receive a gratuity on a higher scale.

The War Service Gratuity is given over and above any "back pay," pension or clothing allowance to which a man may be entitled.

It is given in addition to all the care, attention and service which the Government will devote in order to restore our fighting men to civil life.

To Whom Awarded.
All soldiers discharged on or after November 11th, 1918, who have served with good conduct will receive War Service Gratuity according to their class.

Soldiers discharged before November 11th, 1918, will receive War Service Gratuity only if they served at the front in any actual theatre of war.

If a soldier discharged before November 11th, 1918, did not serve in an actual theatre of war he will be entitled only to post discharge pay—according to his class on the old scale.

The Amount of the Gratuity.
The gratuity consists of a continuation of a soldier's pay, field allowance and separation allowance for a period beyond his discharge.

This period is graded according to the length and character of service.

If his service has been in part overseas his gratuity is figured on a higher scale than that of the man who has served only in Canada.

The maximum gratuity for the man who has served overseas is six months.

This is given to the man whose total service amounts to three years or more.

Three months gratuity is the maximum for the man who has served in Canada only, and it is given for three years' service.

If the monthly pay and allowances for a man whose dependents have been receiving separation allowance should be less than $100 he is given $100 per month as gratuity. A part of the gratuity equal to separation allowance will be paid direct to the dependent entitled to it.

If the monthly pay and allowances for a man without such dependents should amount to less than $70.00 he is to receive $70.00 per month.

Further, every gratuity granted will amount to at least one month's pay, field allowance and separation allowance.

When Payable.
Men who have already been discharged will be given the gratuity to which they are entitled (less any "post discharge pay" they have received) after February 1st, 1919.

Application for an adjustment must be made to the paymaster of the district from which the soldier was discharged. The necessary forms to be filled out in support of each claim for adjustment may be obtained from the military headquarters of each district, from district and unit paymasters and from officers commanding militia units.

Men who are still in the service will receive their first month's gratuity immediately upon their discharge—unless they are "boarded" to receive treatment and full pay and allowances from the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-Establishment.

Men who are in the care of the Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment will get their gratuity as soon as they cease to receive full pay and allowances.

By this token Canada will record her appreciation of her soldiers and sailors—to a degree more generous than that shown by any other nation.

BEAUTY AND TALENT COMBINED IN S. J. MEREDITH'S LATEST PLAY "OWING TO THE WAR"

Musical Comedy Featuring Many of London's Prettiest Young Women To Be Shown at the Majestic Week of January 27.

Under the auspices of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, at the Majestic Theatre, week of January 27, S. J. Meredith and Company will present Mr. Meredith's latest musical comedy, "Owing to the War." The entire proceeds are going to provide comforts for the returned wounded soldiers at the new Westminster Military Hospital. The music has been especially written by Mr. Keith Handyside and will be on sale in the theatre during the performances to augment the fund. The boxes are also on sale, at $5 apiece, and can be procured by telephoning Mr. Meredith's office, No. 4473. The money raised from the sale of boxes, music and programs, it is hoped, will greatly increase the fund. The cast, which includes Miss Anita Black, Miss Marjorie Skinner, Miss Marie Coughlin, Miss Rita Brown, and many others who have previously assisted in the Meredith productions, is larger and more brilliant than ever. Mr. Meredith has been fortunate enough to secure the assistance of Miss Alice Graves of New York, who will do a special waltz feature sensation, and also Mr. Learn, a pupil of Mr. Jordan, whose delightful singing is already known to many of the London public. Mr. Learn's special song feature with Miss Marjorie Skinner will be one of the many unusual attractions, which Mr. Logan and Mr. Meredith have prepared, for this super-production. The production is directed by Mr. T. R. Meredith, to whom the company owes a debt of gratitude for his tireless efforts and splendid executive, and it is anticipated that "Owing to the War" will eclipse all of the company's previous attractions.

A SCREAMING COMEDY.

One of the most amusing comedies seen here in many months, it is said, is "Sluths," the new Paramount-Mack Sennett production, featuring Ben Turpin, Charles Lynn and Marie Prevost, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This trio of funmakers supplies scores of laughs in the interpretation of their respective roles. The comedy is said to be a scream from start to finish.

MARGUERITE CLARK, WILLIAM S. HART AND LILA LEE AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE NEXT WEEK

Three Famous Screen Stars Appear in Feature Photoplays at Popular Theatre—New Comedies, Weeklies and Vaudeville.

Maria Thompson Davies, one of the best known of contemporary novelists in this country, has written a delightful story in "The Golden Bird" which has been pictured by Paramount under the name of "Little Miss Hoover," and which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, with Marguerite Clark in the stellar role.

The scenes of the story are laid somewhere in Maryland. The heroine is a winsome creature who shows all the signs, upon every occasion, of being adorably helpless and tearful, but always rises to the need of the moment and is adequate to every call that is made upon her. Some financial smash has left her and her grandfather suddenly bankrupt, after years of affluence and they retire to an ancestral and down-at-the-heel farm where the young woman undertakes to retrieve her fortunes, and aid in the winning of the war, by growing chickens and vegetables.

The story introduces a magnificent white Legion roster which, with a squad of similar hens, the heroine hopes will prove the means of their support for the immediate present and their fortune in the future. The various needs of herself and her chicken yard bring to her elbow aid and comfort in the form of a mysterious, handsome, red-headed person with an extraordinary knowledge of scientific farming and a magic way with animals.

This man proves a good deal of a mystery to the spectator and to the heroine almost until the end of the picture, and whether she is going to find her fate with him the picture must tell.

William S. Hart, in "Branding Broadway," Showing at the Majestic Theatre On Wednesday and Thursday Next.

They put "Big Bill" Hart in a dress suit at the studio where he was engaged on his new caricature picture "Branding Broadway," and thereby rendered him as uncomfortable as a cayuse in harness for the first time. Of course, if art demands that I wear the thing, I'm game, but give me a soft shirt, a pair of overalls and chaps and I'm contented as a Comanche with a bottle of snake-bite.

"Bill" looks well enough in his rig, but he is manifestly uncomfortable. To make the slight concession to his Western temperament, he wore his Stetson and sombrero when he was working and the combination was decidedly incongruous. Mr. Hart has accomplished wonders with the picture, which has much of its action in little old New York. It will be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

Scena Owen, Mr. Hart's leading woman in the new photoplay, had to acquire the difficult art of flipping pancakes in order to appear to the manor born in a restaurant scene. "Just the same," declared Miss Owen, "my appetite for flapjacks is destroyed. I never want to look another one in the face."

Tom Brierly, Art Director at the studio, had to rack his brains to find a way of clearing the stage for a set representing a fashionable New York cabaret, which required all the floor space. But he did it. The set is said to be as great as any of the scenes in this unusual photoplay.

Lila Lee, Appearing in "The Secret Garden," Showing at the Majestic Theatre Next Friday and Saturday.

An entirely new type of story, has been chosen for Lila Lee in "The Secret Garden," which presents the charming little Paramount star at the Majestic Theatre next Friday and Saturday in a role unlike anything she has previously essayed. She appears in this picture as a little girl in far off India who later is sent to England where, at an old-time home of wealth, she is involved in a despicable plot for the estate. An invalid lad stands in the way, but through the ministrations of the little girl he recovers and is saved. The Indian scenes, it is said, have been charmingly presented, even to the use of tropical animals, such as a leopard cub, which is one of the principal pets of the youthful heroine. Miss Lee is declared to have given a wonderfully pleasing performance in this charming photoplay.

Fire Which Destroys Roman Catholic Edifice Caused Loss of $350,000.

Quebec, Jan. 17.—The fire, which last night caused the entire destruction of the splendid Roman Catholic Church at Chateaufort, was started through the exploding of the heating plant, so rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible to save anything in the church, even the Host being destroyed in the sacred receptacle. The loss will run up to $350,000, menegely covered by insurance. An original painting by Rubens, valued at not less than $100,000, was destroyed.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief. You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"The Unearned Increment"

"The unearned increment" is what some call the income we may not live to earn. It is this unearned income that the life insurance company deals with. If the assured dies, then the company steps in and provides the bereaved family with the whole or a part of the "unearned increment."

So that the insurance company deals with the future—it has nothing to do with the past. It looks forward, not backward, and anticipates the earnings of the years you yet expect to live in the ordinary course of nature.

Insurance looks ahead, and if death occurs prematurely it gives to your family a portion at least of the income that "might have been" had life been prolonged. Life insurance guarantees to your family the "unearned increment."

Besides, insurance can guarantee an income which a man might NOT be able to earn during old age.

Under the benefits of a Mutual Monthly Income policy, you can provide now for a monthly income for your own old age and also for your dependents.

On the 20-year Endowment Plan, for example, at the end of that time if living the assured will begin to receive an income, monthly, guaranteed for 240 months, and as much longer as he may live. In case of death during the Endowment term the beneficiary receives the same benefit immediately.

Write for full particulars of these policies.

INGERSOLL CARRIES INDUSTRIAL BYLAW; GETS TWO PLANTS

INGERSOLL, Jan. 17.—The bylaw which will mean the acquisition of two industrial plants was today carried by the overwhelming majority of 209 to 25, against the bylaw 25.

The result was received with evident elation by citizens as a whole. The almost unanimous vote is everywhere regarded as the strongest endorsement of the policy enunciated by Mayor Buchanan, the board of trade, and others, to build up the town during the present year. The bylaw gives the town authority to lease the Ingersoll plant from the John Morrow Screw and Nut Company, by whom it was purchased some time ago, to sub-lease it for manufacturing purposes, and to grant exemption from taxes for a period of ten years.

The two companies, which will begin operations as soon as their equipment has been installed, are the Ingersoll File Works, formerly the Port Hope File Works, and T. E. Russell Company of Elora. It is understood that a third industrial proposition is at the present time engaging attention of the council and that there may be important developments in the near future. The organization behind today's voting was the strongest used in many years.

TIGHTER LAWS AGAINST SINN FEIN COMING?

Proclamation To Suppress Organization Hinted At.

GOVERNMENT'S EYES OPEN

Drastic Action May Come When They Try To Form Own Parliament.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—The Government, it is reported here, is about to issue a decree tightening the laws against Sinn Fein. Some months ago a decree was issued under the crimes act declaring that the Sinn Fein were dangerous. This was the necessary preliminary step to the suppression of the organization, but no subsequent step has yet been taken.

Once a proclamation suppressing the Sinn Fein is issued it becomes a crime to belong to the organization, and the Government can prosecute any member and send him to jail.

Imprisonment does not affect the Sinn Fein unless they do not get their own way. They cause trouble in the prisons and at the present time there is virtually a state of siege in the Mount Joy prison in Dublin, because of Sinn Fein there is not treated as a political prisoner.

The Sinn Fein intend to summon its own parliament and has already held two preliminary sessions. They treat the last election as an act of self-determination and look upon all persons held, regardless of party as members of the Irish Republic assembly.

Accordingly, they have issued invitations to their own members as well as the Sinn Fein and Nationalists, but no one of the other parties is taking any notice of it.

This four of the Sinn Fein elected are imprisoned in England and Ireland, while Patrick McCarten, Liam Mellows, and Darrin Lynch are in the United States. The situation has delayed the calling of the national assembly.

What Will Be Done? When the assembly is called the question is whether the government will ignore it or suppress it. Two influences are operating on the government of the Lord Lieutenant, Viscount French, who is the real ruler. One side declares that the Sinn Fein have an impractical policy and will wear themselves out if let alone, while if they are harassed they will retain the support of the country.

It is said that Viscount French leans to this view. He is a home ruler, but will insist on obedience to the law.

The Sinn Fein intend if the National Assembly meets to nominate Professor De Valera, Arthur Griffiths and Count Plunkett as delegates to the peace conference. They will claim representation as if Ireland were a separate state like Belgium or Serbia. They do not expect that their claim will be granted, but are doing all they can to get President Wilson to raise the Irish question.

Wants Federal State. The Sinn Fein are not the only people who look to President Wilson for aid. Another group is a section of moderate opinion under Captain Gwynne, a former member of Parliament who has acted as chairman for Home Rule along federal lines. This plan involves a parliament for all affairs, other than imperial, common to Ireland and three or four provincial parliaments with full power, including taxation over their own local business. This scheme would give Ulster protection without putting it in a privileged position.

It is believed that Ireland would accept this or a similar plan if it came from a neutral tribunal instead of from the British Parliament. If President Wilson should become interested in such a plan it is argued by its supporters the Government would be relieved of a difficulty and the president would get credit from Irish-Americans for finding a way out of a critical situation.

Outflank Sinn Fein. They declare that the Sinn Fein, although they probably will still test against a link with England, would either have to accept the plan or be deserted by their supporters.

If some such settlement is not reached it is believed there will be the usual disorder and imprisonment. Ireland, some hold, will probably reply to imprisonment by more disorders. There is said to be a good deal of ammunition and explosives in the hands of wilder spirits.

Meanwhile, there is comparative calm in Ireland. The leading Sinn Fein in their speeches are at times to carry out their policies and deprecate immediately violence.

REFUSES INJUNCTION TO STOP THE ERECTION OF WINDSOR CHURCH

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Justice Ross today refused to grant an injunction to Leo Page of Windsor, who is suing Wallace Campbell and Fred M. Allworth, wardens and trustees of the Protestant Episcopal congregation and lots on the west side of May avenue, Windsor, and the purchaser resold them to the church. Now the congregation is building a frame structure on them, to be used as a mission or church, and later as a parish house. Mr. Page argued that the site must be confined to residences only.

COLLINGWOOD WANTS TECHNICAL SCHOOL

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—A deputation from Collingwood waited on Hon. Dr. Coyle today and urged him to consider in his plan of technical education for the province, the erection of a school in that town.

It was pointed out that a technical school located at Collingwood would serve the counties of Dufferin, Simcoe and the Island of Manitoulin, and that there was no institution for the district doing similar work. The minister of education assented to the delegation that he would consider their claim in carrying out his province-wide plan.

The boys pleaded guilty to robbing Taylor, and will be sentenced on that charge today.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE MANY BOOKS FROM LIBRARY

Figures for the year which have just been compiled at the public library show that during 1918 there were 22,000 volumes of supplementary reading loaned to the various schools of the city. This is an increase of 50 per cent over the figure of 1917.

Under an arrangement with the board of education, this work is handled entirely by the public library. The books being sent out in lots of 40 and 50 to the various grades and returned to the library when the children have read them. In this way the children, during the public school course, get some acquaintance with literature apart from their regular school work.

A large number of the books contained in the supplementary lists now can be found in the East End branch of the public library and it is the intention of Librarian Fred London to place many of them in the new south branch for the convenience of students.

MANY ACCIDENTS ON GREAT LAKES IN 1918

DETROIT, Jan. 17.—Anxiety to put forth maximum efforts in the transportation of commodities necessary for the winning of the war was probably responsible for the unusually large number of accidents on the Great Lakes during 1918.

Damage of $1,756,000 was sustained in 139 accidents to vessels. "The one redeeming feature of the entire situation," the report adds, "is that we have come through the entire year without a single loss."

The Record of The Salvation Army In Peace and War

Fifty-three years ago a man so loved the world and his fellow-man that he consecrated his life to the relief of distress and the service of the Master.

The world scoffed at his Salvation Army toiling to raise outcasts from the gutter, but General Booth lived to see scorn turn to reverence, and when he died, kings sent their representatives to his funeral.

His greatest memorial is the Salvation Army laboring in 63 countries, speaking 40 languages, serving behind the trenches since the twelfth day of the war, with Huts, Hostels, Rest Rooms, in addition to the work among soldiers' families here at home.

And now comes the crisis. With the homecoming of 300,000 soldiers, and all the many problems that involves, the additional strain on the Salvation Army will be enormous. But the Salvation Army faces the mighty task ahead, confident that the necessary funds will be forthcoming.

The work the Salvation Army will be called upon to do is a vital factor in Reconstruction. Notwithstanding all the work the Government has undertaken, including the granting of pensions, there is still need for the organized effort and the uplifting influence of the Salvation Army, and, with confidence, business men's committees ask your earnest support of the Human Evidence of the Work Among the Soldiers' Families

Here a returning soldier sees his baby for the first time. In the Salvation Army Maternity Home the mother received the best of care and medical attention. The Salvation Army Lassies found her struggling along without help. Two lives in all probability saved.

Picture a discharged soldier, out of a job. He is unable to provide maternity attendance for his wife. Imagine his relief when he finds the door of the Salvation Army Maternity Home is open to her.

Multiply these cases by hundreds and thousands and you will not be wide of the mark. Then consider the case of other mothers—

Who would deny the right of even the "love child" to enter the world surrounded by the loving care of the Salvation Army workers, nurses and doctors in the Maternity Home?

The Salvation Army is one of the organizations whose objectives extend beyond material comfort. Everything it does is ultimately directed to the extension of the Kingdom of Christ.

It approaches very practical problems in a very practical way, and achieves RESULTS. If you approve of its aims—spiritual as well as material—you will gladly give your help to raise the fund, without which much suffering must remain unrelieved—suffering among those who offered their lives a living sacrifice to our comfort and protection.

PLAIN TALKS ON INVESTMENTS

By Mark Harris

Not very many years ago a man formed a small company to drill for oil and gas in Southern Ontario. The first hole was not successful, neither was the second, but the man persevered, and in the end he had the satisfaction of selling the properties to the Cities Service Company for a sum that meant several thousand per cent profit for every shareholder.

Later on this same man organized another company, and after a few years' hard work he once more sold out to the same big company, and the properties he sold have made millions for the new owners.

In those days you could buy Cities Service stock at a fraction of what it costs today, and at the time it was probably the best investment in Canada.

The Cities Service Corporation reports earnings of more than a million dollars a week now, and after paying substantial dividends they are putting a million dollars a month back into new development and improvements, so it is only logical to anticipate even larger earnings year after year.

During 1918 this remarkable company earned nearly 70 per cent on its outstanding common stock, and that is the reason why the stock sells at nearly three times its full par value.

The big opportunity to invest money in the Cities Service Company has passed, but there are other oil companies whose shares can be purchased today at bargain prices, and one of the best on the entire list is a Canadian company recently organized by the same man of whom I spoke in the opening paragraph of this article.

This man has always been very successful in oil, and I know he looks on this new company as the best of them all when future possibilities are considered.

This oil company was organized a little over four months ago, and within this short period of time the company has just doubled its producing oil wells.

Now, when a new oil company brings in eight new wells in four short months, it is fairly good evidence of efficient management, but, on top of this, when the same company has no less than five new wells drilling at one and the same time, it is time to step in and purchase the stock—that is, if you want to get in before the big advance.

I would like to see every reader of this paper buy a few shares of this remarkable Canadian oil company, because I firmly believe the stock will bring you back more in dividends in the next few years than the total cost of the stock today.

I know this is a mighty broad statement, but if you knew of the big profits in oil you would understand why I make it in connection with this particular company.

In the first place, the company is already earning and paying handsome dividends (the next dividend being due on February 10 to all shareholders of record January 31), and as these are being earned from the producing wells on one property, and as the company is drilling new wells on two other properties, one in a district where gusher wells abound, it is only logical to expect these earnings to increase year after year.

You can purchase stock in this new company at one dollar a share (the par value), and at this price it nets you exactly 18 per cent yearly on your money.

Surely a company which can pay such handsome dividends with only a few hundred acres developed out of a total of more than 10,000 to be developed, is worthy of your hearty support. Surely a company which has already made such a remarkable record in four short months is the right kind of a company to join, and if you will follow my advice you will become a shareholder in this company on or before the end of this month.

After January 31, the books of the company close, and as they do not open again until after February 10, you lose a nice dividend of $4.50 on each 100 shares of stock if you do not purchase before January 31.

Write me for further data.

Faithfully yours,

Mark Harris

GERMANS PAY HIGH TRIBUTE TO SCOTS AND SOUTH AFRICANS

Members of 9th Division Fought to Last Against Overwhelming Odds.

London, Jan. 18.—Remarkable German tributes to the fighting qualities of the 9th Division, composed of the South African Brigade and Scots, are now officially published. A staff officer, who was captured by the Germans near Corbie in March, 1918, states that after capture he was taken to the German battalion headquarters for examination by an intelligence officer, who, referring to the 9th Division, said the fighting it had put up was considered one of the best on the whole front, particularly the last stand of the South African Brigade at Marlesburg Wood, which was taken. Both officers and men fought to the last against overwhelming odds. The brigadier himself was captured firing a machine gun, while his brigade was killed beside him. Many other German officers spoke to the staff officer about the splendid fight of the Scots, who were stopped by the Kaiser, who asked if anyone present belonged to the 9th Division, and that he would meet the 9th Division or he would have had no more troops with which to attack.

WALL STREET REVIEW

New York, Jan. 18.—Various phases of the reconstruction work assumed more definite form this week, mainly in the curtailment of or complete abandonment of operations. For example, reduction of output was reported from some of the prominent steel and copper companies, while one of the leading railroads announced its decision to forego new construction at an important terminal. The stock market reflected these conditions, when it did not anticipate them, by irregular declines in the quoted values of many issues. What amounted to a general reaction occurred in some of the more vulnerable shares. Ralls suffered from the abnormal restraint imposed by the proceedings now before the Senate and the injection of labor difficulties, the last problem also causing some of the more distinctive lines of industry.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The following dispatch has been received from Fred James, official correspondent with the Canadian corps in Germany, dated from the front:

The people seem to be accepting our presence with tolerable good grace, as far as outward appearance indicates. Many of them are honestly glad we are here, for they fear the Germans are much more to be feared than we are. The burgomaster of Bonn told me he had received no complaints from the Canadians; in fact, they had been favorably impressed, he said. The second German official, who is a very common man or woman, said he was very common here, and in Cologne. The bread is almost black and as sour as the butter. Everything is a "graze" or state of starvation. What is served as coffee is not coffee at all. It is a state substitute, made of flour and sugar, and it is found it to be a black, hot, tasteless liquid.

Then there is the state tobacco, a mixture of beech leaves and some native tobacco, that has an incense when smoked, like an incense in a shop here. It is thirty times as strong as the tobacco that is sold here, and it is difficult to get at that price. I saw some bars of chocolate in a shop here at three shillings.

IF STRENGTH DECLINES AS AGE ADVANCES, FOLLOW THIS SUGGESTION

So many women grow old before their time, perhaps your wife or sister. A little while ago, buoyant, full of vigor and activity—she enjoyed life and imparted pleasure to the whole family. But now in a few short years she has faded and lost color and strength. She is just ready to develop some disease that will further weaken and debilitate. You remember how it began, failure of appetite, tired in the morning, found housework burdensome, always nervous and a little irritable. It's a shame to let her go down hill further when you can build her up so quickly with Ferro-China. The change this nourishing tonic makes in a weak woman is surprising. It gives great rest for food, increases appetite and digestion enormously. The blood gets richer and stronger and adds new life to every organ in the body. A rebuilding process works through the system. The first week will show an improvement, and a month or two will fatten up the thinnest, most run-down woman you can think of. Take Ferro-China for men and children, too, because Ferro-China is harmless and safe, 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Cataract Company, Kingston, Ont.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT MUSIC CLUB RECITAL

The fortnightly recital of the Woman's Music Club, held Thursday evening, as usual attracted a large audience. On this occasion, the pleasing program was arranged by Mrs. W. G. L. Barrington and Mrs. L. H. Barrington, who secured a special treat, Bandman Sidney Johns, tenor, who contributed a group of numbers; Miss Nettie Jones, mezzo-soprano, who has a voice of much promise, sang for the first time at the club, her offerings including an old English song, "So Sweet is She," and "The Wind That Shakes the Valley" (Herbert Browning).

Both the interpretive ability and rich, full mezzo-contralto voice of Mrs. Cummings were revealed to advantage in three numbers, "In Heaven," "The Blackbirds" (Cyril Scott) and "Mon Coeur s'ouvre a ta voix" (Saint Saens).

Miss Lenore Coughlin, pianist, played with brilliancy and style, "Fantasia Impromptu," Op. 66 (Chopin), Victor Herbert's "Pavane," and a contrasting final number, "Serenade" (Jensen). Another pianist who made a most favorable impression was Miss Helen McDougall, contributing "Sous Bois" (Victor Strauss) and "Melodie Italienne" (Mozzart).

Miss Geraldine Regan's violin group added interesting variety. She played a couple of Elgar numbers, "Chanson de Nuit" and "Chanson de Matin." Announcement was made of the presentation by the Woman's Music Club, on the evening of Jan. 28, in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, of the celebrated baritone, late of the Metropolitan Opera, Club members will be admitted on their membership tickets.

Why Not?

Why not carry a good watch? There is no good reason why you should be carrying an Ingersoll or some other cheap watch, is there? You have the time, usually within five or ten minutes of the correct time. Why not carry a watch that, when you look at it, you know is within 20 or 30 seconds of the correct time?

We have them in nickel cases from $9.00 up. In guaranteed gold-filled cases from $15.00 up.

All these watches are "guaranteed, of course." They come from "YOUNG'S."

Come in and see them or look in the windows.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON CHANGING CANADIAN SOLDIERS TO CIVILIANS

Q.—Who is in charge of the demobilization of the Canadian army?
A.—The actual demobilization is in charge of the militia department.

Q.—Why say "the actual demobilization?"
A.—Because a new department of the Government has been formed to give the after-care that Canada owes to her invalided and disabled soldiers.

Q.—What is this new department?
A.—It is the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment with headquarters at Ottawa. Sir James Loughheed is the minister in charge.

Q.—What does this department do?
A.—It is hard to say in a paragraph all that this department does. It first comes into contact with the soldier in England. There it finds out the soldier's previous experience, the employment he now prefers to take up, the locality in which he intends to settle.

Q.—How is this information obtained?
A.—Through questionnaires, which will be signed by every Canadian soldier now overseas.

Q.—What is this not done on the transport?
A.—Because the information must be secured and sent to Ottawa before the men sail on the transports. But there is a representative of the department on every transport to inform the men exactly what the country is prepared to do for them, to advise them and to give them the necessary officers of the employment office, who will see that the returned man gets the preferential treatment to which he is entitled.

Q.—Does the department do anything else?
A.—Lots of things the most important is this—special representatives have been appointed whose duty it will be to travel about the country interviewing returned men, hearing complaints, making suggestions and reporting generally to how the Government machinery is working.

Q.—This is all for men in good physical condition. What about disabled and invalided men?
A.—Special provision has been made for disabled and invalided men. If their cases require continuous treatment, they are taken on the strength of the department and receive the same pay and separation allowance as they receive in the army. In addition, they are granted an allowance for their families in place of patriotic fund allowance.

Q.—What about men who need temporary treatment, or artificial limbs, or vocational training?
A.—These are all taken care of. They will be subjects for another series of questions and answers.

30 WESTERN ONTARIO MEN OFF SCOTIAN ARRIVED LAST NIGHT

Returned Soldiers Say Conditions on Ship Satisfactory.

LIEUT. "BUD" McNAB HOME

Thousands Took "French Leave" on Armistice Day in England, Say Men.

About thirty returned soldiers ticketed for points in Western Ontario came on the C. P. R. at 7:30 last evening. Most of those in the party whose homes are in the city, were met by relatives and friends and whisked away in automobiles. The remainder were taken in automobiles to Princess Avenue School, where they were provided with "cots" and were given a welcome by the representatives of the various organizations, which are particularly interested in returned men.

The party traveled from England on board the Scotian, and the men stated that conditions on that ship were satisfactory. The food was good and plentiful, and the space was not crowded. The fact that hammocks were slung over that part of the troop-deck where meals were served, was the subject of somewhat adverse comment from one or two men, but even these declared that the inconvenience was a slight one, and that everything considered they had fared well. Several of them also declared that both the food and the accommodation were considerably superior to what was provided when they went overseas from Canada.

"Bud" McNab Back.
Lieut. Bert (Bud) McNab, who relinquished his position as assistant civil engineer here to take an appointment in the Canadian Engineers, in which corps he went overseas about a year ago, was in charge of the London party, which included quite a number of men for Windsor since the armistice here, as well as a few whose homes are in the United States and who propose to go on there as soon as they can.

Adrien Breen, who hails from Detroit, and who was in Nelson, B. C., at the time war broke out, came from there to London to enlist. He went overseas with the C. A. M. C. He is on his way now to Detroit, where he expects to return to London and to make his home here for a time at least. He was wounded at the Somme, and has a medal, ribbons, and that of the West African campaign. He was wounded at Arras in April last, after having been at the front nearly two years.

Trooper William Young, a London man, who went overseas with the divisional cavalry under Lieut.-Col. Leonard in June, 1915, was also through the greater part of the war, and wears the King's and Queen's ribbons for that campaign. He was gassed at Dettie Vim.

Another South African veteran, wearing both the ribbons, was Pte. J. J. Stewart of Oshawa. He went overseas with the 116th Battalion, and served for two years in France with the 13th.

Chatham Man Home.
Pte. Harry Parker, who went overseas with the 24th Battalion, and who was wounded twice, once at the third battle of Ypres in June, 1916, and again in July of last year, spent altogether nineteen months at the front. His home is in Chatham.

Strained wounds in both hands and both legs sent Pte. Richard Emmet back to "Blighty" from the front last September. He went overseas with the 1st Hussars, coming here from Detroit to enlist. He says he intends to stay in London.

Fred Douglas, a colored boy, whose birthplace was Jamaica, came to London from South America some years ago, and went from here to Detroit but he returned to Canada to enlist with No. 2 Construction Company, and went overseas with that unit. He also expects to stay here at least for some time.

Some of the men were discussing "Peace Day" in England. A few of them were fortunate enough to be in London on leave at the time the armistice was signed, and one of them apparently voiced the thought of the others when he said:

"Oh, boy, that was some night! I'll never forget it, but I could not describe it for a fortune. Everyone just went crazy."

He stated that thousands of the men in camps in different parts of England took French leave, and journeyed to London to "get in on" the celebration, and they did their best to make the British capital upside down. Nothing was done in the way of punishing these men.

NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENTS TO HEAR MISS C. BOULTON

Miss Constance Boulton's educational mission under the auspices of the Navy League and I.O.O.F. has been meeting with great success in the city during the past week; such success, indeed, that a special opportunity of hearing her has been arranged for the Normal School students on Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The public will be made most cordially welcome on this occasion. After leaving London, Miss Boulton will continue her mission in Windsor, Chatham, Walkerville, Goderich and Lenington, addressing school children and gatherings of adults in these places.

"TROOPER" MULLOY TO SPEAK BEFORE COMMERCE CHAMBER

The program committee of the London Chamber of Commerce has been fortunate in securing Lieut.-Col. (Trooper) Mulloy, the blind hero of the South African war, to address the next forum meeting. His subject will be "The Mental Attitude of Returned Men, Caused by Their Training."

An invitation to attend is being extended to the G. W. V. U. the executive of the Soldiers' Aid Commission and the Red Cross, the Ministerial Alliance and other organizations working in the interests of returned soldiers.

FORMER LONDONER DIES IN MONTREAL

Frederick William Godschall Johnston of Montreal, who died on January 15 in that city, was the son of the late Chief Justice Sir Francis G. Johnston and nephew of Mrs. H. A. Bommer of this city. His death was the result of pneumonia after but a few days' illness. He leaves one brother, Charles R. C. Johnston of Montreal, and two sons, but lately returned from overseas.

Are Your Children Getting Upbuilding Bread?

MOTHER—"I'm so worried about my little girl, doctor. She isn't eating, but she is too thin. She's so active, she hasn't time to put on flesh, and I don't know what to give her to make her fat."

DOCTOR—"Six years old and weighs only 40 pounds! That's not enough. A child should weigh 35 pounds at 4 years, 45 pounds at 6 years, and 55 pounds at 8 years. Don't give her candy, though, or an overdose of fruit. Give her eggs, milk, meat, AND PLENTY OF GOOD BREAD AND BUTTER. There is nothing more nourishing and wholesome than a good bread, and the child will soon acquire a natural, healthy craving for it. Never deny her the bread, for it's one of the best foods she can have."

The mother investigated. She tried the product of several bakeries, and finally chose NEAL'S for keeps. First her eye was attracted by the loaves—"so exactly what she was looking for" in outside color and texture.

A cut slice made her think of the golden halo surrounding perfect purity, but even with her eyes shut she couldn't be mistaken. The very FEEL of NEAL'S bread—light, tender, soft, fragrant, foretelling the taste of crisp, crunchy crust, that made the mouth water, the smooth downy-soft crumb that melted on the tongue—the sweet purity and satisfying combination of both.

Enjoy this wonder-bread. Have the best there is! Ask your grocer, or 'phone for a wagon to call.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Soldiers' Wives' League and Knights of Columbus To Provide New Accommodation.

Meeting yesterday afternoon for the first time in several weeks, the demobilization committee of the London Chamber of Commerce, which has as its mission the co-ordinating of the various agencies working in the interests of returned men, heard reports showing considerable progress had been made.

At the last meeting, which was also the first of the committee, Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, Lieut.-Col. W. G. Child and Major Gordon Ingram were appointed a committee to prepare a report on the appointment of a district officer, who would be able to advise and give information desired by returned men in their district, the appointment working to the time when all agencies working exclusively for returned men will be housed under one roof. Yesterday the unit demobilization officer, Lieut. Fred Fisher, who has been appointed in the meantime, was present to confer with the committee and explain his duties.

Better Recaptions.
Reporting in regard to recaptions accorded returned soldiers, T. M. Moore stated that more people had turned out in the past few weeks and put more demonstrative enthusiasm into the welcome home.

Difficulties, however, are anticipated in the way of making recaptions possible when the men begin to arrive, for it was stated, to detain at Quebec street, and expedite matters to the extent of arranging for the discharge of men in good condition in one day.

ROWAT'S COFFEE

It was also stated that this is what the returning men desire. Describing the duties assigned to him, particularly with relation to employment of returned men, Lieut. Fisher emphasized the point that the best kind of welcome the returned man can get is to get his old job back again.

While the trade union had done splendid work in organizing the various crafts, it did not meet or cover the present-day needs in the political class of the working class. He pointed out that the strength of the opponents of the working class was not in the moral righteousness of their position, but in their legal power to call on police and army to enforce their claims.

Hence the great thing to aim at was to organize and educate the working class, to work on constitutional lines through the ballot box in the political control legislation and secure the complete freedom of the democratic process from autocracy and bureaucracy in the hands of the few.

Sergeant T. A. Crosswell spoke on the relationship of the G. W. V. U. with the L. P. A. and explained that the G. W. V. U. would be willing to operate with the L. P. A. that the latter would meet a delegation half-way down the street with a brass band to show that there is no hard feelings between the parties.

On War Gratitude.
He referred to low wages paid by a large firm here.

A returned veteran, H. R. Davidson, who represented the G. W. V. U., spoke on the war gratitude. Mr. Davidson said that the men who had seen fighting in the trenches were sure of getting their gratitude, but it was "but" for the men who in good faith had had time to reach the firing line.

The greatest mistake the soldier ever made was when he voted for the Union Government, Mr. Davidson stated, adding that the soldier was going to get the gratitude if it took every dollar the workmen had in Canada.

The evening closed with dancing. In the early part of the evening, music was played, and a program of songs was much enjoyed. Those who took part in the program were Sergeant T. A. Crosswell, a song; Joe Hill, a song; Miss Queenie Hill, a solo; and Miss Mould, a recitation.
