Durand, Mich., Aug. 26.-Clinton A Davis, of Montreal, and Fireman Geo. Nelson, who were seriously injured in morning when walking down the street the Grand Trunk wreck east of here he was attacked by a vicious dog and Wednesday night, were reported today as resting easily. The five injured who were taken to Hurley Hospital at Flint, also passed a comfortable night, except in the case of Engineer Bert Mitchell. The latter's condition is very serious, but it is now believed that he will recover. Grand Trunk officials will begin an investigation of the cause of the wreck! today at Battle Creek.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 26.-Superintendent J. E. Ehrke, of the Grand Trunk Railroad, last night gave out a statement that six passengers were killed, five passengers and three trainmen were injured, and eight passengers escaped injury in the passenger collision three miles east of ere, when the Pullman car Nebraska, on the rear of east-bound train No. 14, was demolished and set afire by the locomotive of passenger train No. 4.

Mr. Ehrke says the assertion that only nineteen passengers were on the wrecked car is borne out by the train chart of Pullman Conductor Haynes, and the list given out at Chicago by H. G. Elliott, first assistant general passenger agent of

The uninjured passingers, according to Mr. Ehrke, who has charge of the Grand Frunk lines west of the Detroit and St. Trunk lines west of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers during the absence of Superntendent Egan, were checked up when the train started after the wreck.

John Carl Hickey, son of Mrs. M. Hickey, of 46 Cartwright street, who has charge of a cafe car on the G. T. R., on a run between Chicago and Niagara Falls, was on train No. 4, until ten minutes before the wreck near Durand, Mich., that resulted in the deaths of several people late Wednesday night. A dispatch to The Advertiser states that he was in the wreck, but was uninjured. The cafe car had been taken from the train at Durand, to await a morning train for the Falls, and while the men in charge, including Mr. Hickey, were still in the car at Durand, the message came back telling of the terrible accident, Mr. Hickey sent a brief message to his mother in this city yesterday morning, telling of the affair, and informing her that he was not on the train. # MADE REAL HARBOR OF DR. PUGSLEY EXPECTED TONIGHT

Board of Trade Delegation Will Meet the Minister of Public Works and Lay Plans Before Him of What Is Required.

CHANNEL SHOULD BE WIDENED HUGE BREAKWATER NECESSARY

City Does Not Intend to Leave a Stone Unturned to Have the Port Brought Up-to-Date for All Lake Traffic.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley, minister of public works, will pass through the city

Owing to the fact that Dr. Pugsley was delayed by heavy storms from isiting Port Stanley, he will not be able to make a visit to London as the guest of the board of trade. However, they will not allow him to get away rom this city, as he passes through, without a definite promise as to when he will visit London and Port Stanley, and discuss the proposed improve-

A number of the members of the board will meet whatever train he goes through on, and they will endeavor to obtain a promise from him as to a definite date for his visit.

NOW IN WINDSOR. Dr. Pugsley is at present in Windsor, and will pass through London, either on the Grand Trunk or C. P. R., this evening.

In the meantime, the locals are going ahead, preparing plans, and making arrangements to lay what information they have received before Dr. Pugsley in the most impressive fashion.

Drawings have been made of the improvements desired. They were shown The Advertiser this morning, and if the Government carries out the plan outlined by the local board, Port Stanley will be one of the most complete harbors in Canada.

WIDEN THE CHANNEL

They first suggest that the channel be widened. At the present time it s 80 feet wide. It has been learned that the Government intend widening the channel to 200 feet,

Plans to that effect have been prepared. The cement dock on the east ide will be run some distance out into the lake, and will afford unloading facilities for several boats of good size.

The rest of the Government's plans are not known. The board of trade, however, want the Government to carry this cement dock out a sufficient distance in order that a slip dock, capable of handling and unloading two big lake boats be built to the east of this dock.

The slip docks as suggested will be somewhat similar to that at present used by the Pere Marquette.

A BREAKWATER.

Then, there is the breakwater. This, if the suggested plan is followed. will be in the form of a crescent. It will start opposite the end of the present breakwater, leaving an opening of 300 feet or so, and swinging a thousand feet or more east and north in crescent shape.

That would indeed make a harbor ideal in every respect, and the cost, it is thought, would not be excessive in view of the necessities of the case. ast night was responsible for the ar- Behind the breakwaters any number of vessels could anchor in safety, no matter what sort of storm there was blowing. The wreck of the ill-fated Bessemer, the lack of proper harbor accommodation, the need of a each and $2 costs or one month in harbor of refuge on the north shore of Lake Erie, the enormous increase in traffic, and the demand of manufacturers for good shipping facilities for London, are arguments that the Government cannot get away from, it is

New Nicaraguan Ruler Promises Redress for the Killing of Groce and Cannon.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.-Mr. Huntngton Wilson, acting secretary of state, made public a cablegram received from Gen. Juan J. Estrada, leader of the revolutionary forces in Nicaragua, and addressed to Mr. Knox, which says:

"The first official act of the new president of Nicaragua is to assure the American people of the warm regard entertained for them by the victorious party of the revolution.

"I desire to inform your excellency that Nicaragua is willing and eager to make the proper restitution for the unfortunate killing of your citizens, Cannon and Groce, and for other atrocities committed by my predecessors.'

Mr. Wilson also made public a statement. Here it is in part: "Mr. Olivares, the consul at Managua, reports under date of Aug. 20, 11 o'clock at night, that Dr. Madriz that afternoon had turned over his de facto authority to Jose Dolores Estrada, who thereupon issued a manifesto, in which hope for early restor-tion of peace is expressed. 'The consul's report also states that officials of the penitentiary called at the consulate on the night of Aug. 19 and voluntarily made affidavits to the effect that the commandant of the prison had natched a plot to blow up the institution and its inmates in the event of the downfall of the Madriz faction.

"Mr. Olivares had informed Dr. Madriz, who had undertaken to look into the matter the next morning, in the meantime guaranteeing that this catastrophe should not occur. In a paper read before the convention.

Chief Edward F. Croker, of New York, declared that the most disastrous fires that have visited this country have been due to inadequate water facilities and that mains, good ordinarily, fall in the configgrations and that this is due to the failure to cope with them. Chief Edward F. Croker said that fire departments should not he state to ask for all needed in any one of the shop's private detectives with stealing some cheap and that fire departments should not he state to ask for all needed in judgments. The Conference has acted wisely. Many good Methodists have considered these clauses of the discipline a weakness, not a strength, to the church. They realize that there is a widespread disregard of the vows of memhibited practices which many Methodists do not believe to be essentially sinful. This condition of things, they feel, urch has been a great deterrent, and younger members to indulge in these pleasures, may be abused, and made for the amendment with misgivings: but henceforth less will be heard about Methodist inconsistency. If the principles into her members, the details of their conduct will regulate them-

Mr. Hardman Wolfgang Just, C.B., C.M.G., secretary of the imperial conference and one of the under-secretaries of state for the colonies, is making a tour of Canada, gathering information at first hand.

His visit recalls a recent statement in the House of Commons by Colonel Seely, chief colonial under-secretary, in reply to an inquiry as to how far the Government had performed its obligations to reform the colonial office and to set up an imperial secretariat. Colonel Seely said the Government had carried out all it undertook in Lord Elgin's dispatch, and all it was entitled to do in view of what was devided at the imperial conference of

When Mr. Lyttelton was at the head of the colonial office he made a proposal for an imperial council. It was favored by Premier Deakin, of Australia, but was not accepted by the conference. At that time Sir Wilfrid Laurier thought it would not work well and opposed it, being supported by General Botha. The Imperial Government, therefore, could not take a sten of such importance which the self-governing dominions had shown a desire to adopt.

On the merits of the case, Col.

Seely did not claim that no reform is advisable or might become so, but he was not at all sure that many of the remedies proposed would either meet the case or the wishes of the selfgoverning dominions. One proposed that the dominions' department should of Canadian land with the purpose be put under the lord-president of the of introducing the tenancy system, it council, but that, the under-secretary said, would not satisfy the self- The Record adds with truth: governing dominions, which, if any change is made, desire the department put under the prime minister. "If." said Col. Seely, "the department were put under the prime minister, how was he to find time to do the work And if he did not find time to do the work, would not the dominions be in a worse position than they are at the present time?" Col. Seely added that each successive prime minister had declared that the amount of work he had to do was almost greater than any one man could perform even as it

TALES FROM ARABIAN NIGHTS

THE SECOND VOYAGE
OF SINDBAD—PART TWO

(On his second voyage, Sindbad is left by his comrades on a desert island, from which he is carried by a large bird to a rocky place covered with diamonds. While he is picking these up a piece of raw meat falls lose beside him.)

Now, I recollected a tale I had heard some time ago about diamond hunters—a tale that had always thought not true, but that here proved itself to be so. Merchants come to diamond valleys like these the eagles have young ones for whom they must provide. They throw these great pieces of meat into the valley, and the diamonds, on whose points they fall, stick to them. Then the great eagles pounce down and carry the meat up to the tops of the precipices to their nests. The merchants run to the nest, drive away the eagles, and take the diamonds that stick to the meat. saw that this would be the means of saving my life.

First I collected the largest diamonds that I could find and put them in my leather bag. Then I tied nyself to the largest piece of meat, placing the latter on top of me. In a very little time one of the eagles picked up the meat to which I was fastened and carried me to his nest. The merchants began their shouting, drove away the birds, and, coming to the nest where I lay, were much surprised to see a man inside it. The other merchants came crowding about me, and all were amazed to hear my tale.

To each one I gave a large diamond. Next morning the merchants made ready to depart, and took me with saw a strange animal with one long island where grew a tree from which an elephant, and as they were fighting, camphor was made. The trees were so strange to relate, a roc came along and large that a hundred men could easily sit under the shade of one of them.

At a meeting of the board of works last night, Engineer Wright was instructed to look over Dundas street, from Ridout street down the hill, and report on as possible what he would recom busy to go into the matter thoroughly yet

Ald. Saunders pointed out that whatever as the street is used by a large number of people on their way to Mount Pleasant netery, and in addition has a good deal of other traffic. As no representatives from the county been done in regard to the contract of Martin for repairing Oxford street, Ald: Saunders moved that the work be done by day labor, as it will not cost at the outside more than $500. It was decided to do this.

A Light on Tracks.
Superintendent McNeillie, of the C. P.
R., wrote asking that a light be placed near the C. P. R. tracks on Richmond street, as at the present time it is impossible for the watchman in the tower to see vehicles and people passing until they are quite close to the gates.

This frequently results in confusion, and in order to avoid any possibility of accidents, he asked that the light be there as quickly as possible. Engineer Wright suggested that the matter be laid over until the hydro-electric lights are ready, and that one be placed at the crossing them. He said that under the present contract with the London Electric Company a new light could not be placed there very well

Tecumseh Avenue. A ratepayer asked that the board gravel and grade Tecumseh avenue, between street since it was surveyed. The matter of repairing the breakwater at Front street was also brought up. It was decided to allow Parks Superintendent Pring ten days' holidays to make an inspection of nurseries in other places.

It was a picnic party, too, and into this his lordship entered with enthusiasm. He was not above eating council were present, and nothing has ice cream cones with the children, nor entering into any amusement that would make the youngsters happy for the time being.

After an hour's friendly visit, Bishop Williams took the chair, and called the gathering to order.

The Visitors.

Among the visitors who took seats on the platform were Rev. Mr. Miles, Aylmer; Rev. A. E. Doan, Luton; Rev. T. Merton Shore, Warwick, formerly rector of Port Burwell: Rev. H. P. In beginning the programme, Bishop Williams expressed his pleasure at being present on such an occasion. He was delighted at the beautiful farming country through which he had motored from London.

"We live in a glorious country," he stated. "My appreciation of it was never greater than it was today, when Edward street and the Wharncliffe road, I passed through the fine stretch of as no gravel had ever been put on the farm lands between London and Grovesend. ### COBB'S HOME RUN WINS FOR TIGERS

His Third Hit Good For Circuit.

RALPH WORKS TWIRLS

Allows Nationals But Five Hits and Is Very Effective-Score 3 to 2,

Washington, Aug. 25.—The Tigers and Nationals were scheduled to play a double-header here this afternoon. Early in the day they decided to transfer one of the games to an open date in Detroit. Regardless of this, the two teams did their best to give the fans as much baseball as is contained in a double bill, or at least to play as many extra innings as possible. Had it not been for Tyrus Cobb they would probably have accomplished their purpose, for the Georgian gave Detroit a victory and made play useless after the eleventh inning by smashing the hell for eleventh inning by smashing the ball for the circuit and giving the Champs the long end of a 3 to 2 score. ### SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pilis cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy.

Don't neglect kidney trouble-it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifing the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's.

Nothing that has occurred since the conference began has brought such hearty applause as the letter read by the secretary this morning from the Methodist missionary at Port Simpon, as follows:

The Premier Observes Sunday. "While passing through Prince Rupert on Saturday last an incident came to my notice which. I feel sure, will be of interest to you and all who are in sympathy with the Lord's Day act. One of the features planned for the entertainment of Sir Wilfrid was a Sunday excursion. When this was mentioned to him he courteously declined the pleasure, saying that inasmuch as the Government has a law called the Lord's Day act, it is incumbent on the representatives of the Government to observe it. You will be pleased to know that on Sunday morning, despite the numerous duties of the preceding day, the Premier of Canada wended his way to the house Yours, sincerely, George H. Raley."

The conference greeted this announcement with enthusiasm ong-continued hand-clapping. The fraternal delegates from Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, in saying farewell, referred to the visit of Premier Laurier to the conference as one of the things Chancellor Burwash was unanimously chosen as representative to the British Wesleyan Conferences.

Ex-London Man Honored. Dr. Burwash suggested that Mr. N. explained that the conference had never sent more than one man to England. It was felt, however, that as LIKELY TO DROP Mr. Rowell had rendered such distinguished service to the church, and as he would be in England next summer. the late Donald McLachlin, who died A Big Harvest Is Looked For Very he should be accredited to the British Conference as suggested. "Mr. Rowell has always done us honor," said Dr. Carman, "and we shall be glad to have him represent us in England." This was agreed to heartily. Amusements Question. One of the most exciting debates that ever took place in a Canadian Methodist conference occurred this afternoon, the subject being the vexed question of amusements, which has engaged so much attention in the past and given rise to so many warm discussions. A few years ago the fol-owing note was added to the general rules of the church: "The general rules are to be understood as forbidding the neglect of duties of any kind, imprudent conduct, indulging in sinful temper or words, buying, selling or using intoxicating liquors as beverages, dancing, playing at games of chance, encouraging lotteries, horse races, circuses, dancing parties, taking such other amusements as are obviously of misleading or questionable moral tendency and all acts of disobedience to the order and discipline of the church.' During the past twelve years this has been a bone of contention, and strenuous efforts have been made at previous general conferences to elimnate it, with no success.

The last conference in Montreal appointed a commission to deal with the question. This commission brought in to take the place of this footnote.

MEN IN THE SEWER FAILED TO COME UP

For a Time It Was Feared That City Employees Had Been Overcome by Gas.

City Engineer Wright and the Board of Works department had a great scare yesterday afternoon, and it was thought city engineer's office, and Mr. Sid Lovelace, the sewer foreman, had met with some accident in the sewers.

The men entered the King street sewer to take the measurements of the box drains emptying into it. A workman was stationed at the manhole. Half an hour passed, and the men did not come up for air. An hour passed and still there was no sign of the staff hurried back to the sewer, and

The man then became nervous and hustled over to the city engineer's office, and reported that he thought omething had happened the men. Off to the Rescue.

Mr. Wright started down to hunt for the lost ones. He got nicely started when he saw them coming back and was greatly relieved. "A person cannot usually remain in a sewer any length of time on account of the gas," declared Mr. Wright, when questioned about the episode. "When they did not show up for an hour or so the watchman became alarmed and thought they had been overcome. However, the boys were in good shape, the
