MIKADO'S MEN FOR MUKDEN

Unconfirmed Rumor That They Broke Through the Russian Flank.

Cossacks Surprise a Japanese Out-Post and Bayonet Twenty-One.

London, July 22.—According to a special despatch from Moscow, the Russky Listok, of that city, confirms the Associated Press report from Liao Yang that the Japanese have broken through the Russian left flank and are marching on Mukden.

A Russia correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Mukden, under date of July 19, says:

"A fierce fight has been raging during the past two days and it still continues. The Japanese, who are in superior strength, attacked with great daring and coolness. The Russians are contesting the ground splendidly."

"The Japanese flanking movements to the east are the real cause of our retirement. Heavy losses have been sustained. The Japanese artillery has again shown its superiority."

The scene of the fighting is not mentioned by the correspondent.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—The most sensational piece of news from the front is the Associated Press despatch from Liao Yang, dated July 20, reporting a persistent rumor that the Japanese have broken through the Russian left wing between the respective position of Lieut.-Gen. Count Kriller and Gen. Rennenkampf, and are marching upon Mukden.

The report received from Gen. Kuropatkin bearing the same date says that there has been no change of importance in the situation, and a close study of the despatch shows that the rumor probably refers to the Japanese advance against Gen. Rennenkampf on the northern Samotzsa-Liao Yang road, when they drove the Russians back as far as Houtsitzze, twenty-six miles east of Liao Yang.

A later despatch to the Associated Press shows that Gen. Bersheim commanded this detachment of Gen. Rennenkampf's cavalry, and that he turned and took the offensive, subsequently compelling the Japanese to retire in the direction of Sikeyan.

Further, but incomplete details of Gen. Kaler's attack at Mollen Pass, July 17, sent by the Associated Press correspondents, show that the fight lasted all day and was a bloody affair. The Sevsky regiment rushed eight of the Japanese guns with the bayonet, but later were compelled to abandon them.

A Russian detachment which crossed the Lian river at dawn on the opening of the fight discovered a Japanese detachment under a hill, dressed in the Russian uniform and hailed the soldiers in Russian as friends, but when the Russians got within easy range the Japanese opened fire.

Tokio, July 22.—A fisherman reports that the Vladivostok squadron was off Miyako yesterday, going in a southeasterly direction at a speed of ten knots. If this course and speed is maintained the squadron will be off Yokohama late to-day. The eastern coast of Japan is shrouded in fog. Shipping has been suspended, awaiting the location of the Russian fleet.

MILNE-DALE

A very pretty wedding was quietly celebrated on Wednesday evening, by which Miss Mary B. Dale and Andrew Milne, both of this city were united in marriage. The wedding was performed by Rev. Mr. MacGillivray, at the parsonage, Victoria Ave., in the presence of a few immediate relatives. Miss Maria Dale, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Geo. Milne, of Detroit, as groomsmen. The bride looked very becoming in cream voile over blue taffeta, and wearing a large chignon hat, decorated with pale blue blossoms. The gifts were many, amongst which was a beautiful bouquet of flowers from the bride's brother, and a lovely piece of jewelry from the groom.

After the marriage ceremonies were performed, a reception was held at the bride's home on Park Street East, where a very dainty repast was enjoyed, and the bride and groom were the recipients of the hearty good wishes of all.

A CLOSE SHAVE

In speaking this morning of the recent cyclone which swept across the country near Sandwich and Walkerville, Harry Flowers, of Westmans Hardware said:

"Just about eight years ago a cyclone went across the very same country doing damage to the farmers all along the route. I remember it well, for I was in Walkerville at the time. It went west from Sandwich to Walkerville and then across Lake St. Clair. I have good reason to remember it for at that time I had a very narrow escape from death by it."

"A party of young people from Walkerville came down in a little pleasure trip to Chatham in the yacht 'Bosa B.' We had a very pleasant trip down and when we were returning home we just missed this cyclone. It passed just behind us tearing up the water at a great rate. You can't imagine how relieved we felt when we landed at Walkerville that night."

A TIP TO CHATHAM

With permission from the mayor, to smoke and remove their coats, the members of the Windsor council were able to enjoy a little comfort at Monday evening's meeting.

PASSED AWAY

The death occurred at Wheatley yesterday of Mrs. Elijah Backus, at the age of 73 years, after being ill for some time. Deceased was a Miss Brundage before her marriage to Mr. Backus and leaves one brother—Sam Brundage, of Windsor, and one sister Mrs. W. H. Gonne, of this city.

Mrs. Gonne and son, Harry, left this morning for Wheatley to attend the funeral, which takes place at Wheatley to-morrow.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Barrie, Ont., July 21.—James Freeman, superintendent of the Barrie waterworks department since the inauguration of the department in 1890, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking Paris green. Some months ago Mr. Freeman lost his left hand through blood-poisoning, and since then had never been quite himself. He leaves a widow, five sons and a daughter.

AUTO TOUR

J. T. Baikie, Mrs. Baikie and daughter Ethel, have returned from an automobile tour. They left here Saturday night and stopped till Sunday evening with Mr. Venning, Jeanette's Creek. It rained Sunday and their departure was delayed till Sunday night. From Detroit, they made trips to Pontiac, Orchard Lake, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. They reached Jeanette's Creek on their return trip yesterday and came in to the city this morning. Mr. Baikie reports a delightful trip.

REGIMENTAL BAND

The large crowd, which attended the band concert on Tecumseh Park last evening thoroughly enjoyed the excellent program rendered by the 24th Regimental Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Watson Walker.

This band, practically organized this spring, has made rapid strides and holds in the not far distant future to become one of the best bands in the country.

Bandmaster Walker deserves credit indeed for the way in which he has developed his band into the fine musical organization heard last evening.

The band is holding an excursion to Port Lambton next Monday evening for which they have prepared special dance music and an excellent program. It is to be hoped that the concert on the park will be continued.

KILLED THREE LADIES

James Chinnick, County Commissioner, returned from Crawfordville, Indiana, yesterday. He brought back with him the remains of his brother John, whose sad and sudden death in that city was noted yesterday. No one was with John Chinnick when he was killed. He had just been to the city of Crawfordville, some distance from the station, and purchased a lantern. He inquired of the station master what time his train left, and finding that he had an hour and a half said that he would go down to the car and have a sleep. This was the last seen of Mr. Chinnick alive. It is thought that the light of his own lantern and the electric lights blinded the deceased to the fact that the through freight was approaching and he stepped across the car and directly in front of the train.

At South Bend, Indiana, the express carrying the remains of the late John Chinnick ran over three ladies who were out driving and killed the whole party. "The people in Indiana are the kindest that I have ever met," remarked James Chinnick. "Even the officials on the road were considerate, and I found when I arrived that everything possible had been done for my brother. I am indeed indebted for their kindness."

GREAT CROP

The reports concerning the present crops throughout the County have not, to say the best, been of the most encouraging. The farmers everywhere have been of the opinion that the wheat, oat and corn crops will be almost a complete failure. This may be and is, no doubt, true in many instances, but as far as the oat crop is concerned it will not be the case with Mr. L. English, of Harwich.

At the ice cream social held at his residence last evening Mr. English exhibited a bunch of oats six feet four inches long. The stalks were covered with a good bunch of oats and it was, in fact, an excellent sample of grain—one of the best samples that Mr. English has ever grown.

"From present appearances, I will have a good crop of oats," said Mr. English, "as the rest of the field is just as good as this sample." This is good news in the face of the discouraging reports which have been received, and it is to be hoped that other farmers through the County will find that their crops are in better condition than it was anticipated.

J. M. Park and Wm. Somerville were at the social and pronounced the sample of oats one of the finest they have ever seen.

GRAND LODGE ENDS SESSION

Ben. Allen, of Toronto, Unanimously Chosen Grand Master.

Other Officers Elected—The Jubilee Meeting Will be Held in Hamilton.

Brookville, Ont., July 21.—The Masonic Lodge closed its deliberations for another year and voted to hold the Jubilee meeting at Hamilton, where it was instituted. There is reason to believe that the brethren of that city will make the communication one long to be remembered. The "loose and careless" manner of entering and retiring from the Grand Body at their meeting just terminated was very greatly improved upon. Decorum and order from first to last were insisted upon by Grand Master Harding, and the delegates acted upon the suggestion contained in his address, and attended strictly to the business which they had been sent to perform. The hotel accommodation was inadequate, as many had anticipated, but private residences were placed at the disposal of the local committee, and the visitors who could not find lodgings at the hotels were comfortably housed elsewhere. (The folly of holding a Grand Lodge meeting of the Masons of Ontario in a town of the size of Brookville was never better exemplified than during this week. The people are all that could be desired, but sleeping apartments were at a premium, and this fact detracted to a large extent the pleasure anticipated on occasions of this kind. Only the larger cities should be chosen, and they would be but for the unfortunate demands of the residents of smaller places to be given an opportunity of seeing what they can do in this respect. No more trials will be granted for some time to come.)

RESULT OF ELECTIONS.

The result of the first was then announced by the scrutineers as follows:—Grand Master, Benjamin Allen, of Toronto; Deputy Grand Master, J. H. Burritt, of Pembroke; Grand Senior Warden, W. H. Harrison, Brookville; Grand Junior Warden, J. D. H. Brown, Sault Ste. Marie; Grand Chaplain, Rev. Baynes Reid, Norwood; Grand Registrar, L. K. Cameron, Toronto; Grand Tyler, W. Bro. W. Tocher, Hamilton. The members of the Board of General Purposes elected for two years are—Bros. W. D. McPherson, Toronto, 429; J. C. Hegler, Ingersoll, 344; Fred Guest, St. Thomas, 336; J. S. Dewar, London, 201; and F. J. Skinner, of Gananoque, 255. The Grand Master appointed the following for a similar period—Bros. McWatt, Sarnia; Shaw, Kingston; Rea, Ottawa; Dymont, Thessalon; and Eakins, of Toronto.

SEND-OFF TO DUNDONALD

Ottawa, Ont., July 21.—Lord Dundonald will take his departure from Ottawa at 9 p. m. Tuesday next, and will be given a grand send-off at the station. A strong executive committee of citizens with the Mayor as chairman, has been appointed to arrange the farewell demonstration which is expected to be participated in by 20,000 people. There will be a torchlight procession to the station and several bands.

SPLENDID SOCIAL

One of the most successful lawn entertainments, which have been given this summer was the ice cream social last evening at the splendid home of L. English, Harwich. The affair was gotten up by the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Church, Harwich, and these enterprising ladies have reason to feel gratified at the success of their entertainment. The night was an ideal one for a social and there was an excellent attendance, including a number from Chatham and a crowd of loads of young people from Blenheim.

Ice cream, cake and an excellent array of eatables were served and greatly enjoyed. Pritchard's Orchestra furnished excellent music while the supper was being served.

The program, which followed the tea, was an excellent one. Dr. Russell was chairman and he made an excellent one. Dr. A. W. Thornton, of Chatham, and Dr. Jamieson, of Blenheim, were present and delivered excellent addresses. They were very interesting and entertaining. Mrs. S. C. Walker, of Chatham, gave a number of solos and Mr. Roden, of Blenheim, and R. W. Angus, of Chatham, also sang. The orchestra gave several selections during the program. Mrs. Walker is the leader of a choir in Harwich, where she is very popular. Her singing was very much enjoyed by the large audience and remarkably well received.

Mr. and Mrs. English have an excellent home and an ideal place to hold a gathering of the kind. They made every one of their guests perfectly welcome. The proceeds were donated towards the choir fund of St. Paul's Church.

The 24th Regiment ran an excursion to Port Lambton next Monday evening. Train leaves at 7.15. Dancing.

FRIDAY, JULY 22.

THE WHITE FEATHER.

The recall of Lord Dundonald, instigated by misrepresentations in the House of Commons and in the Liberal newspapers, is in reality a striking testimonial to the ex-Commanding Officer, says the Montreal Star. It is a confession that the Government of Canada could not stand any more popular demonstration like the Toronto meeting.

Men strong in their position and strong in their stand on such a public question, would have been content to argue out the controversy to its very end. The Liberal Government of Canada, unable to stand up against this one man, Dundonald, have communicated to the British authorities, by means of lies and innuendoes, a desire to get Dundonald out of Canada as quickly as possible. The British Government has acceded, and in acceding, they practically say that it is up to the people of Canada themselves to declare their approval or disapproval of the meddling politicians when they are presented with an opportunity to vote.

BRITISH IGNORANCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visits to England have led to much misunderstanding of Canada by the British people, says the Hamilton Spectator. As was shown in the debate in the House of Commons last night, even members of Parliament imagine that the bulk of the people of Canada are French, and that it was the Canadian French who hurried to help the empire in the South African struggle. Notwithstanding a recent attempt to doctor the Canadian census, the French are very much in the minority, and their relative importance is decreasing every day in these times of big immigration. And the number of French-Canadians among the rank and file of the regiments sent to Africa was so small as to be hardly worth mention. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was praised in the Commons last night as being "one of the staunchest friends of the empire in the time of its great struggle" (the Boer war), did all in his power to prevent the sending of a man or a gun to South Africa.

Lord Dundonald will be able to enlighten some of the British people concerning Canada.

SWEARING AND THE VOCABULARY.

The theory is advanced by The Chicago Inter-Ocean that the swearing of uneducated men is due to a defective vocabulary. There is probably a good deal of truth in this comments The Toronto World. Swear words are commonly used with very little sense of their meaning, and often with very little evil intent, merely to add emphasis to an assertion, and prevent language from degenerating into tameness. The educated person has other resources. Theological controversy is especially rich in the language of invective, Milton, in one of his pamphlets, referred to this antagonists in this manner—

"They shall be thrown down eternally into the darkest and deepest gulf of hell, where, under the despicable control, the trample and spurn of all the other damned, that in the anguish of their torture shall have no other ease than to exercise a raving and bestial tyranny over them as their slaves and negroes, they shall remain in that plight for ever. The basest, the lowliest, the most dejected, most underfoot, and down-trodden vassals of perdition."

That was perhaps rather close to swearing, but Daniel O'Connell, in a casual encounter with a fishwife, was able to steer quite clear of profanity, and yet come off victorious. When the lady had exhausted her stock of expletives, the great orator described her as a polygon, a rhomboid, a scalene triangle and a parallelogram; whereupon the poor woman burst into tears, and said she had never been so abused in her life. The Globe did not swear at Garney, but by comparing him with Barabbas, Titus Oates, and other persons of unsatisfactory character in history, sacred and secular, it accomplished all that is usually aimed at by the profane.

The game of golf is productive of situations in which the vulgar would find consolation in bad words; but as these, besides breaking the almost Sabbath calm of the links, are wholly inadequate, the missing of the stroke is followed by what is described as a profane silence. Few men, however, are able to rise to this serene height. To avoid bad language, they must either restrain their passions or enlarge their vocabulary.

Mrs. Maybrook is out of prison and will now be in the papers for a while.

For a supreme court judge, Sir Henri Taschereau appears to take rather too close an interest in politics.

Our Solicitor General Lemieux should be a proud man this day. He demanded the recall of Dundonald, and the British government promptly recalled him.

A proper speed for automobiles on busy streets would be about midway between the speed at which some of them are now driven and the speed at which the road roller moves.

Land companies in western Canada which bought land for a dollar an acre, are being praised in the Dominion parliament for their successful contributions to the settlement of the west.

When the Russian government sees that both Britain and Germany are intensely in earnest in their protests against interference with merchant vessels by Russian "volunteer" warships in the Red Sea, it will no doubt disavow any responsibility for the doings of these volunteer vessels.

A remarkable feature of the Dundonald demonstration was the presence in Massey Hall of such a large number of ladies. Women's instincts may not be always safe political guides, but we can depend on them to invariably find out if a man has been wronged, and to sympathize with him.—Mail and Empire.

Since Lord Dundonald turned on the searchlight the several Ministers of Militia in the Cabinet have been falling over one another in the rush to carry out his suppressed recommendations. The main features on the new Militia Bill are based on his suggestions. After disregarding his advice as to the need of additional sources of ammunition, the Government now announces a plan for the securing of new cartridge factories. If Lord Dundonald makes a speech or two more, the panic-stricken Ministers will not stop till they have completed his whole program of reform. As ex-Commander his influence is accomplishing more than they would let him do in office.—Mail and Empire.

A HOT TIME.

Kingston Whig.
Hamiltonians are now paying for the privilege of having a mountain at their back. In that sheltered city on Sunday last it was 98 in the shade. Just think of that, and in Canada, too.

ROUGH ON THE SCOTCH.

Toronto Telegram.
When the Globe and the local imitator of the Hamilton Times contemplate Lord Dundonald's lack of manners the organs are almost ashamed of being Scotch.

OUR FORMIDABLE MILITIA.

Ottawa Journal.
It is satisfactory to learn that another ammunition factory is to be established in Canada. A militia armed with an hour's supply of cartridges is a force.

HOW TO ENFORCE THE LAW.

Bobcaygeon Independent.
A Hamilton hotel keeper has been sent to Central prison for four months, for a second offense against the liquor law. The present law is well within the limit of public opinion, and should be rigidly enforced. This is the way to enforce it. Fines are little use.

REAL MEAN.

Ottawa Citizen.
The editor of the Globe went to the Dundonald meeting in Toronto to "cheer lustily" and was only restrained by the fact that the general exposure of the Globe as a deliberate falsifier. His reverence then went home, and instead of retracting and apologizing, declared it was mean to introduce politics into such a gathering!

CANADA'S PRIZE.

OUR PEDAGOGUES.

Provost Macklem Gives Some Good Advice to Embryo Teachers.

The closing exercises of the Toronto Normal School were marked by forceful addresses to the students from the Minister of Education and Rev. Dr. Macklem, provost of Trinity University.

Mr. Harcourt dwelt on the importance of inculcating Christian character in the minds of children. Added to this was perseverance, which was the foundation of genius, a high aim and tenacity of aim. The habit of reading should also be inculcated, and the direction of pupils in the selection of literature was most important.

Provost Macklem said that teachers were looked to just as preachers to foster higher ideals and assist in the formation of character. That the Canadian youth required training in manners was hardly open to question. The average boy knows little of respect and nothing of reverence. The Bible Society meeting in Massey Hall, of which they were thoroughly ashamed, proved there was much to be done. The lack of good manners ran like a thread through our whole social system.

"Each of you should become such a book to your pupils that in future life they will keep you on the shelf of memory," said the speaker in referring to the inspiration which each should give to the scholars. "Success was impossible without discipline and true success was achieved easily and naturally and not forced. Tact was the greatest possession, and it was comprised of joy, love, faith, meekness, confidence and moderation."

In conclusion he impressed upon the graduates high ideals, broad sympathies and unflinching hopefulness. Narrowness was always weakness, while broadness meant strength; and they should always keep in touch with the best and greatest in the movements of the world.

A Successful Canadian.

Dr. Adolf Lehmann is a Canadian who has met with success in India. A native of Simcoe County, Dr. Lehmann was graduated from the Ontario College of Agriculture, Guelph, in 1889, and later went to India. Five years ago the Maharajah of Mysore decided that his Government should take up the question of scientific agriculture, and to this end, Dr. Lehmann was appointed to establish the department and to be its head. The appointment was for five years, and when the term elapsed a few months ago he was re-appointed for a similar term and given a year's furlough. The other day he was at the Parliament Buildings renewing acquaintance with Mr. C. O. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. Dr. Lehmann said that there were very few Canadians in Mysore, a fact which caused the doctor some surprise. He thought that Canadians would do good work in the Indian Civil Service. The examinations had to be taken in England, but the appointments were very lucrative, ranging from $2,000 a year up as high as $20,000.

WILL GET BAKED BEANS

The Crop in Kent Will Be a Good One—Wheat Was Ploughed Up.

Barley and Oats Took Its Place and Do Well—Tobacco Growers Do Well.

J. A. Aikin, writing to the Toronto Globe from Chatham says: The tendency to specialize in agriculture is nowhere better illustrated in Ontario than in the counties of Kent and Essex. Ridgeway is the centre of a district where beans are the heaviest source of revenue from export produce. Leamington is in the heart of a section 10 by 40 miles, where tobacco is being raised with profit, and upon an increasing acreage each year.

Fully twenty acres in the hundred are given to bean-raising in the neighborhood of Ridgeway. One farmer has 55 acres of beans on a farm of 300 acres, another has 70 acres in beans out of 120 acres. Between Ridgeway and Rondeau, an exceptionally fine country, beans are grown in paying quantities off the same land year after year by keeping it well fertilized. North of Ridgeway one more of them are seen than of any other one crop. Beans pay well, and like wheat, yield a good return in cash. They will average 25 bushels to the acre, and if the price is up to say, $1.25, they pay well, for the labor in working them is not great with the improved machinery now in use, and they are a sure crop. The price, however, is not steady from year to year, sometimes going as low as $1, or as high in recent years as $1.85.

BEAN CROP IS GOOD.
The crop is late this year, but looks particularly well, and with a fair price the income from beans will go far to relieve the shortage in wheat.
Ninety days from the time beans are planted they are ready to cut. The market for them is chiefly in the United States, where the Ridgeway product finds a ready sale, to be turned out as the famous Boston baked beans.

WHEAT POOR, HAY LIGHT.
Wheat in Kent, Essex and South Lambton is poor. Very little is to be seen, for the reason that most of the crop was ploughed up, and oats and barley put in. Both these grains look well. I have never seen finer oats than are growing between Ridgeway and Rondeau, and everywhere they promise a big crop. They ought to be cheap this fall on account of the western peninsula.

Hay is light and pasture thin in the western counties. There are plenty of cattle in the fields, but not many are changing hands. Farmers are as yet holding out for good prices, but unless pasture improves very soon they will be forced to sell. There will be an abundance of grain feed for the stock this coming winter. Barley is an extra food crop here, and if the corn gets a long season a shortage on hay will not be so serious.

DEVELOPING A TOBACCO INDUS- TRY.

The production of Canadian tobacco has developed to quite large proportions. The quantity grown in this district last year amounted to about two and a half million pounds, and was valued at $250,000. The area given over to tobacco this year is greatly increased, and it is confidently expected that the crop will exceed six million pounds. Practically the only plant grown here is the Burley leaf, which is used entirely for chewing tobacco, because it best absorbs the sweets in preparation. In 1895 Louis Wigle, ex-M. P., raised the first Burley tobacco from Kentucky seed, and was so successful that it has been raised ever since in greater or less quantities. In 1897 the price was 12 cents a pound. The year following about eight million pounds were raised, and, as that was far in excess of the demand, the price dropped to six cents. Last year it brought 11 cents, but even should the amount of this year's crop reach the figures of 1898, the demand is now much greater, and the price will be higher than that year.

NOT ON A LARGE SCALE.

Tobacco, like sugar beets, lends itself to a system of petit culture.
Few farmers have more than five acres in tobacco, though I met one man who has twenty, and learned of another who has forty. The income from its production varies. One man made $1,350 out of six and one-half acres; another $1,020 out of four and one-half acres, and another $1,650 out of eleven acres. Tobacco requires intensive rather than extensive farming. The present condition of the labor market also accounts in part for the small amount of land given to its cultivation. It is scarcely necessary to say that all the tobacco grown in Canada is used in the Dominion.

THE FRUIT CROP.

Peaches in the Leamington district suffered severely from the frost and ice of last winter. It is estimated that about 75 per cent. of all the peach trees in that vicinity were destroyed. Cherries were a profitable crop, and apples promise well. There is a lot of corn all along west to Windsor, and it will require a very favorable summer if it is to be a good crop in the fall. The weather just now is favorable for corn. There is more wheat around Chatham than farther south, and some of it is quite good. The other grain crops look well, and folks are in good humor generally.
The Rondeau Provincial Park shows signs of improvement and has an increasing number of visitors this summer. It was a wise step on the part of the Ontario Government to conserve that strip of 5000 acres for the benefit of the public. The parks and private walks of Quebec left as a rich heritage to the citizens of Rome were not more appreciated than are these parks preserved to the Province by the foresight of her rulers. The municipal affairs of a summer resort are sometimes difficult to manage, since the residents are sometimes absent more than half of the year.

There ought to be little difficulty at Rondeau. All the land is owned by the Province and is leased to tenants. There are no taxes; only ground rents. All improvements will be made by the Government at its discretion.
Deer and game are protected, and while there are some efforts at adornment, the general aspect is that of a natural park, whose chief attraction is the rugged beauty of its wild state. Some stately oaks still stand in the park, and not a few good walnut trees, all of which will be preserved.

FUEL AND LIGHT.

In connection with the boom in oil around Leamington, it is noteworthy that, apart from the money made out of oil, many of the farmers get fuel and light out of the natural gas which is found wherever there is oil, and in places where up to the present no oil has been struck. The gas found here does not give forth the offensive odor of the rock gas common in Ohio and Pennsylvania. The well that turned out to be such a big strike last week still gives out about 70 barrels a day.
Others in the same neighborhood are flowing freely, and new ones are being drilled. The town is filling up with oil men, but there is no excitement.

HOG, CHOLERA UNDER CONTROL.

Two years ago the western counties were plagued with the hog cholera. It cost the Dominion Government about $50,000 that year in compensation and expense of stamping it out. Inspector Perdue, of Chatham, and his seven assistants find vigilance to be the price of success and are therefore active and watchful. Only yesterday a herd of thirty-one hogs had to be destroyed near Kingsville. Where an owner gives information himself he is entitled to one-third value on the hogs that are diseased, and three-quarters value on the rest of the herd that are contaminated. Where there is evidence that a man knowingly conceals the presence of disease his herd is destroyed without compensation.

The disease first came in here from Michigan, but the vigorous action of the Department of Agriculture checked its spread into the rest of Ontario.
The damp climate close to the lakes makes it essential that the farmer should take care to have his hogs properly housed in the fall, which is the time of the year especially favorable to the disease. It is a mistaken notion that hogs will stand any kind of rough treatment. Like all other stock, they require care if the best results are to be obtained. Cattle, horses and sheep are in excellent condition in all western Ontario.

WARM WEATHER BAD STOMACHS

Done up the Stomach with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and Neither Heat nor Work will bother you.

The warm summer days give one a disinclination to eat, more especially those who are unable to escape to the mountain or seaside. That's what causes that languid, lazy feeling—that disinclination to do anything except yawn.

Do you know that it's your stomach that's to blame. Watch the man who can eat a good hearty meal how much better he can stand the heat and do a day's work as well.

Your stomach needs toning up and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the greatest stomach tonic ever known.
They cure all stomach ills. Isaac Jenkins, 116 Dundas street, Toronto, says:

"I had been troubled for one year with Sour Stomach and Heartburn and could eat no rich food. I was told Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets would cure me and had only to use half a box when I was cured."

REMARKABLE PHENOMENON.

A curious phenomenon has been noticed in the tropics that can never be seen at higher latitudes. A mining shaft at Sombretre, Mexico, is almost exactly on the tropic of Cancer, and at noon on June 21 the sun shines to the bottom, lighting up the wall for a vertical depth of 1,100 feet or more.

MYSTERIES OF NATURE.

Some of the Many Things That Find No Ready Explanation.

Whatever opens up new doors or windows for us into the world about us, whatever widens the field of our interests and sympathies, has some sort of value, says John Burroughs in Country Life In America. But much of the so called nature study opens no new doors or windows. It affords no mental satisfaction or illumination or aesthetic pleasure. It is mainly potter-ing with dry, unimportant facts and details. Do you know the edelweiss flowers or our own matchless arbutus after you have merely analyzed and classified them? No more than you know a man after having weighed and measured him. The function of things is always interesting. What do they do? How do they pay their way in the rigid economy of nature? How do they survive? Why do the roots of trees flow through the ground like "runnels of molten metal," often separating and uniting again, while the branches are thrust out in right lines or curves?

Why is our common yellow birch more often than any other tree planted upon a rock? Why do oaks or chestnuts so often spring up where a pine or hemlock forest has been cleared away? Why does lightning so commonly strike a hemlock tree or a pine or an oak and rarely or never a birch?
Why does the bolt sometimes scatter the tree about and at others only ploy a channel down its trunk? Why does the bumblebee complain so loudly when working upon certain flowers?
Why does the honeybee lose the sting when it stings a person, while the wasp, the hornet and the bumblebee do not? How does the chimney swallow get the twigs it builds its nest with? From what does the hornet make its paper?

I have never been greatly interested in spiders, but I have always wanted to know how a certain spider managed to stretch her cable squarely across the road in the woods about my height from the ground.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

The aimless life cannot be the endless life.

A rough diamond is worth much polished dirt.

There is no comfort where no compassion is.

They who put pleasure first are the last to find it.

Awkward deeds are better than eloquent dreams.

The finest music heard in heaven is made on earth.

No man ever reached a joy by jumping over a duty.

Wandering afar is not essential to the welcome of home.

Finding flaws in the sermon is easier than following it any day.

People who advertise their troubles never clear off their stock.

There is no promise of pardon for confessing the sins of others.

Living on a Few Cents a Day.

The problem of living on a few cents a day is not so difficult of solution if one cares to limit oneself to the actual necessaries. For instance, we could point to the workers in the turpentine forests, who labor hard from sun to sun on a bill of fare that costs not more than 5 or 6 cents per meal. The average ration of a turpentine "hand" in the woods per week is five pounds of bacon or pork, one peck of cornmeal, one quart of molasses and a pint of salt. The value of this ration is about $1 to $1.10.

The real problem, then, is not really how cheaply may one live, but how many of the extras of eating one is willing to do without.

Where He Made His Start.

A squirrel in a certain town had just finished marrying a young couple and proceeded in a paternal way to give them good, solid advice. Turning to the bridegroom, he said:

"Never spend your money extravagantly and be saving in every way possible."

The bridegroom listened respectfully and then remarked:

"Well, judge, we might as well begin on you." And he proceeded to give the squire 50 cents for tying the knot.

"Stonewall's" Comment.

At a council of generals early in the civil war one of them remarked that Major — was wounded and would be unable to perform a certain duty for which he had been suggested. "Wounded!" said old Stonewall Jackson. "If that is really so I think it must have been by an accidental discharge of his duty."

A Doubtful Compromise.

"I've worn out six pairs of shoes," said the collector, "coming after you with this bill."

"Don't let that bother you," replied the editor. "I've got an old pair that'll just fit you."

The Face.

"You hear so many people talking of the pace that kills. I wonder what they mean exactly?"

"Well, it depends. There's the messenger boy's pace, for instance. That merely kills time."

Making Himself Agreeable.

"Uncle George says I was born with a silver spoon in my mouth."

"A spoon in that little mouth! Oh, I see—it was one of those after dinner coffee spoons."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it.
I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."
—MISS ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.
The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses.
They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit.
A friend advised me to try Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief.
"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women?
All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and without hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

The new Eastern Flyer on the Grand Trunk System, which will in future leave Detroit daily at 4.10 p. m., reaching Chatham at 5.08 and Toronto the same evening at 9.30, made its first run very successfully yesterday. The magnificent new passenger coaches and buffet car are each 85 feet long and fitted up in the most beautiful and comfortable manner. Travellers who came on the train and others who inspected the train on its arrival here, united in stating that they were the most elegantly-fitted and most comfortable cars they ever travelled in.

A FUTILE ATTEMPT

London, July 22.—The correspondent of The Times at Tokio says: The Vladivostok cruisers sank the Japanese steamer Takashima Maru, of 318 tons, carrying a cargo valued at £50, and captured another steamer. Their subsequent proceedings are wrapped in mystery. The whole affair is ridiculed in Japan, where it is regarded as a new and futile attempt to create a diversion.

The Mikado has sent congratulations on the victory at Motien Pass direct to the second division under General Nishi. His Majesty states that the Japanese were outnumbered by two to one.

General Oku reports that the Japanese casualties at Kaiping from July 6th to the 9th were 24 killed and 129 wounded, including five officers.

ALLEGED FORGERY

Ottawa, July 21.—Charged with forgery and issuing checks, Whitley B. Atkinson, a young man who boarded on Slater street, appeared in the police court this morning, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until Tuesday. It is alleged that Atkinson collected a check for $72.40 from a civic official to which he forged the names of McCormick, Girard and Ellard, a firm which had the contract for doing some work for the corporation. Atkinson is also accused of uttering checks for different amounts, and elected to be tried by the magistrate. He was bookkeeper for the firm and bore a good reputation.

MEAT STRIKE
STARTS AGAIN

Donnelly Calls Out Union Men in Every City Affected Before

He Says Packers Have Violated Their Agreement—Wouldn't Let All Men Go to Work

Special to The Planet.

Chicago, July 22.—The packing house strike was to-day ordered renewed in Chicago and all other cities. Violation of agreement by the packing house proprietors is assigned as the reason.

The following telegram was sent by President Donnelly to all the employees of various packing houses in the different cities affected by the previous strike:

"Order out all departments again. Company violated agreement. (Signed) Michael Donnelly, President International Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen."

To-day 3,000 cattle butchers reported at the stock yards here for work. Only half of them were given places. Therefore, all refused to work. They reported in a body at their union headquarters. The general order for a renewal of the strike was soon forthcoming.

President Donnelly, of the Butcher Workmen's union, has requested leaders of all allied trades to order out their men on sympathetic strike.

MANY SYRIANS ARRIVE

Quebec, July 21.—There was an unusual scene of excitement witnessed in the vicinity of the breakwater and immigration buildings this afternoon in connection with the arrival of the ocean steamer Lake Simcoe, with 370 Syrian immigrants from Havre, France. The medical inspectors and other officials of the immigration department had an exciting time of it in the performance of their duties, and fully one-half, if not more, of the passengers will have to be deported or detained on account of being affected with trachoma. There were many pathetic scenes connected with the inspection. One old woman was allowed to go free, while her children were detained. Children were separated from their parents, and sisters from their brothers for the same cause, but the medical inspectors were obligated in the performance of their duty. They were under instructions to stop all incurable cases from landing, and those curable sent to the hospital.

There's Ham, and Ham, and a great difference in them. What we sell are the choicest put up. Small hams, properly cured and cooked enough. The cooking is important, some packers not cooking them nearly enough. The more they are cooked, the more they lose in weight—that's the reason,

Be Ready For the Emergency.

Good luck is desirable even when you have done your best to succeed, but remember that the most favorable circumstances or strokes of fortune are of little value unless you have prepared yourself to take advantage of them. Of what advantage would Hayne's fiery speech have been to Daniel Webster if he had not, with the instinct of genius, long before equipped himself for the assault which he repelled with such crushing energy?

Had he not previously weighed and refuted in his own mind the charges of his opponent his reply, instead of ranking among the greatest masterpieces of oratory, might have only revealed his own weakness. Thousands of men had seen the prints of a horse's hoofs in the soil before Faust discovered by them the art of printing.

Woeful Lack of Confidence.

A prominent actor tells about a Chicago theatrical woman about to wed who was one day amusing herself by going over the marriage service. To a friend who discovered her, prayer book in hand, she said:

"I always make it a point to do this, for no matter how well you may have known a part in the past it should always be rehearsed before the piece is revived." Then, rather playfully, she read the words, "Till death do us part."

Whereupon her friend interrupted: "How foolish that is, isn't it, dear? Sounds like one hasn't any confidence in the courts!"

The Doctor Had Nothing to Say.

A certain physician told some of his patients that as long as they kept their feet dry they would be safe from the attack of the grip. He was surprised to receive a letter from one of his patients in which the latter said that he had in two wooden legs and yet he had the grip for five consecutive years. The letter was unanswered.

Sure Bait.

"How did you manage to sell that piece of goods that's all out of date to Mrs. Hild?"

Clerk—I told her it was a great bargain, but I thought Mrs. Richcota had had it laid aside for one of her daughters. Then she took it right off.

TO A ROSE.

Hail, charming, pleasing little flower, I love to walk around thy bower, And see thee decked by nature's power. In smiles again, sweet floral gem, Thou dost delight both rich and poor.

In winter time when frost was keen, Our garden has so dreary been, Because thy color was not seen, My pretty flower, But thou hast conquered once again Each chilly hour.

Ah, time is bringing thy decay, But short with us thou hast to stay, Until thy beauty dies away From off thy stem, And will return into clay Once more again.

This lesson thou dost truly give, Though many changes we may have And troubles that will surely grieve While we are here, But yet bright days may come again And give us cheer.

CHOICE LOTS FOR SALE
The lots still left in the Athletic Ground Survey are undoubtedly the best value offered in the city at the present time. Why is it that you can buy certain properties in the city to day for about one-half of the original cost? Simply because some persons were foolish enough to select cheap, and then build a good house on it. Such properties must be sacrificed when put on the market in order to effect a "cash" sale. Be Wise, Get a Good Location. The best residence property is always the cheapest. When you want to sell you will have no purchasers.
The man who would build a good house on this property worth from $1,500 to $2,500 could readily dispose of it before it would be ready for occupancy, at an advance of $500 to $800, and still get the purchaser good value, as the actual value of these lots is certainly double what is asked for them. Call at the Business College to see the

CHAPTER XVII.
ALICE PAGE'S first impression of Frank Nason did not do him justice. She thought him a big, good natured, polite boy, rather conscious that he was likely to be sought after and disposed to sulk if he wasn't. His plea for sympathy on the score that his life of idleness was a bore, which he made the day they went sleighing, only provoked her derision, and as she was disposed to judge all men by the standard of her self-reliant brother, he came near awakening contempt on her part. It was not until the last evening of his visit that she discovered her mistake and realized that he had more depth of character than she had thought. It is likely the keen enjoyment which he seemed to feel when she sang for him had weight, for we are prone to like those who like us, and it was natural also that she should feel a little gratitude for what he had done for her brother.

Her life, hidden as she was in a by-way corner of a country town and seeing no one all the week except her small band of pupils, gave her plenty of time for thought. Once a week, usually on Saturday, she received a letter from her brother, and that, together with the mild excitement of Sunday churchgoing, was all that broke the monotony of her life.
A week after the Christmas visit she received a package containing a new book, three of the latest popular songs and a box of candy, and pinned to the candy Frank Nason's card, on the back of which was written, "For the girl who wanted to kiss her teacher."

She wrote a polite note of thanks. It was midwinter and two weeks after her brother wrote that Frank had begun studying law in his office when she received a letter from that young man that surprised her. He wrote:

My Dear Miss Page—I trust you will pardon me for intruding myself upon you, but I wish you to know that a few pointed words spoken by you while I was enjoying your hospitality have not been forgotten and have influenced me to make an effort to be something better than an idler in the world. Your brother kindly consented to let me read law in his office, and I am now hard at it. I do not imagine this will interest you, but I felt that you had scant respect for useless people, and as you could rightly so regard me I wanted you to know that I am capable of rising above my aimless life.
I have recalled so many times all the little incidents of my visit to your home and lived over those evenings graced by your presence and lit by a cheerful fire time and again. Do not think me insincere when I assure you that they were the most delightful ones I ever passed.
If you find time to write a line to one who is now a worker in the hive instead of a drone, it will be gratefully received by me.

To a girl with Alice Page's sympathetic nature and tender feelings words like these made her feel she was what she most enjoyed being—an inspiration and help to others. In this respect Frank Nason had read her better than she had read him, or else some fortunate intuition had led him aright. She answered the letter at once, thanking him for his flattering words, but forbidding him to use any more of them.

"I do not like flattery," she wrote, "because no one ever can feel quite sure it is sincere. I will answer all your letters if you will promise not to tell Bert we are corresponding. Not that I am ashamed of it by any means, but he is inclined to tease me, and I love him so dearly I can't bear to have him do so. The little girl you sent the candy to was both astonished and grateful. I did not tell her who sent it, for the fact would have been all over town in a week if I had, and I do not like to be gossiped about. I merely told her a good fairy had sent it, which was better."

Once a week thereafter Alice received a long letter from Frank and as regularly answered it.
"Frank is getting along nicely," Albert wrote Alice in the early spring.
"I believe he has the making of a capable lawyer in him. He grinds away harder than I ever did when reading law and has never yet complained of how dry and dull it all is. He is a big, warm hearted fellow, too, and I am growing more fond of him every day.
He is more devoted to me than a brother, and we have made a lot of plans for a month's outing on the Gypsy this coming summer. I like his family very much, and Mrs. Nason and both her daughters have invited me to bring you down when your school closes to make them a visit. I think I shall run up in June and stay over Sunday and bring Frank with me. I imagine he would like to come, for once in a while I overheard him humming 'Ben Bolt'."

"A very nice worded little plot, but don't you imagine, my dear Bert, I do not see through it?" was the mental comment of Alice when she read the letter. "The young gentleman has bravely set to work to become a man instead of a cipher. My brother likes him; he whistles 'Ben Bolt'; my brother is to bring him up here again; I am expected to fall in love with Mr. Cipher that was and help him spend his money, and I am to be barely tolerated by mamma and both sisters! A most charming plot, surely, but it takes two to make a bargain. I think I know just the sort of people mamma and sisters are. He told me she read him a lecture every time he dined twice with a poor girl, and now I am expected to walk into the same trap and cringe to her ladyship for the sin of being poor. I guess not! I'll teach school till I die first, and he can think of me as having a 'slab of granite so gray' to keep me in place."

But this diplomatic "Sweet Alice" wrote to her brother: "I am delighted that you are coming up, for I am so lonesome, and the weeks drag so hard!
Bring your friend up, by all means, and I'll sing 'Ben Bolt' till he hates the name of Sweet Alice. The country will be looking fine then, and he can go over to the cemetery and select the corner I am to occupy. Pardon the joke, and don't tell him I uttered it."

To Frank she wrote: "Be sure to come up with Bert. I will sing all the old songs and the new ones you have sent me as well. If you come up on a Thursday you may visit my school Friday afternoon, and then you can see the girl you sent the candy to. She wears a calico pinafore and comes to school barefooted."

Alice's faithful reply to her brother's letter, coupled with his own sincere affection for her, brought her a response by return mail in the form of a check for $100, with explicit orders to spend every cent of it before he came.

CHAPTER XVII.
SANDGATE was just budding forth in a new suit of green, the meadows dotted with daisies, and here and there a bunch of tiger lilies waved in the breeze when one Friday afternoon the teacher at the north district school heard a knock.

The class in reading, then in evidence, were halted in their sing-song of concert utterance, and Alice Page opened the door to find two stalwart young men standing there. With a quick impulse of propriety she stepped out and closed the door behind her, only to find herself clasped in a big brother's arms and to receive a smack that was heard by every pupil in the little schoolroom. With a very red face she freed herself and then presented a small hand to the other young man with the remark:

"I think you are both just as mean as you can be to surprise me in this way!"
When explanations were duly made, the two visitors were invited inside and given seats. The class in reading was then dismissed and that in spelling called to what was now seemingly to them an unexpected misery. A bombshell or a ghost at the window would not have produced any more consternation than those two strange visitors.
This class, that one by one filed up in front of the teacher's desk and ranged themselves in line, stood trembling, and the boy at the head, to whom was put the first word, was unable to utter a sound. The next one spelled it wrong, and it was tried by two others and finally spelled right by a girl who could hardly do better than whisper it. She was told to go to the head, and after that the rest did better. The search for knowledge in that school had received a setback, however, for that day, and Alice decided to do the wisest thing and dismiss her band of pupils without delay. When the room was cleared of them she turned to her two callers and said with mock seriousness, "The first class in deportment will now define propriety."

"Propriety is— Propriety," replied her brother, "consists in two young men surprising one small and very saucy schoolma'am and letting a lot of imprisoned boys and girls escape to the woods and enjoy an extra hour of freedom."
"Not right," said Alice severely. "The next pupil will now answer."
"Propriety," answered Frank, "consists in two young men escaping from the city and relieving one tired schoolteacher from her duty and permitting her to go and gather flowers if she will.
But which was the girl you told the fairy tale to, Miss Page?" he added as Alice began putting her books away.

"The only one in the spelling class you two bold bad men didn't scare half out of her wits," she answered.
Frank walked about the room, peering curiously at its rather primitive fittings.

"So this is what you call a temple of learning," he remarked as he surveyed the barnlike room. "It is a curiosity to me, and the first time I was ever in an old time country schoolhouse. I should like to peep through one of the knotholes some day and watch the performances and hear a scared boy speak a piece."

"You had better not try it," answered Alice, "unless you want two or three farmers to swoop down on you armed with scythes and demanding to know what you are doing there."

When she had locked the schoolhouse door they got into the carriage the two young men had come in and left the forlorn little temple to the solitude of the trees and bushes that almost hid it from sight.

"I will stop in the village," said Albert as they drove away, "and leave you two to go home or take a ride, as suits you best; only, mind, be home by tea time, for I shall be hungry."

There is no time when a drive along wooded country roads is more charming than when the trees are fast growing green and the meadows spangled with daisies and buttercups.

"Let's go around by the mill pond," said Alice after leaving her brother in the village. "The road to it follows the brook up a mile. We may find a few lilies in the pond."

The brook beside which they were soon walking the horse was a charming bit of scenery as it came leaping over mossy ledges, laughing, chattering and filling the pools with foam flecks, and the old mill, with its great wheel dripping and clattering, and the mill itself proved even a greater curiosity to Frank than the schoolhouse. He hitched the horse, and, helping his fair companion to alight, the two went inside the mill and watched the rumbling wheels. Alice introduced her escort to the miller, and after they had been shown the mysteries of grinding he invited them out to the pond, and after bailing the old leaky boat so it was usable the two visitors started after the lilies.

"Mind you don't tip me over," said Alice. "I can't swim."

"If I do I'll rescue you or drown with you," he answered gallantly.
What silly notions these two young people uttered as they made the circuit of that long wood bordered pond! One at least was just tasting the first sweet illusion of love, and the glassy surface of the water that reflected the trees bending over it, the bunches of water flag growing here and there and the scattered patches of broad lily pads, with now and then a white blossom, made a most picturesque background for the girl who sat in the stern. Her piquant face, shaded by a broad sun hat, was fairer to his eyes than any of the lilies she plucked, and as she drew one sleeve up a little to reach for them the round arm and dimpled hand she thrust into the water looked tempting enough to kiss.
The miller had shut the gate and gone home when they returned to the mill.

"Do you know," remarked Frank when they had left the mill behind and were driving through a bit of woods, "that I have anticipated this visit for weeks? I know scarcely anything about the country, and it is all a revelation to me. I've seen pictures of old mills and ponds covered with lilies, but no painter can ever put the reality on canvas. Why, that great wheel, covered with moss and churning away all day so steadily, with a willow bending over it, is a poem in itself!"
"The miller is built over a hundred years ago," observed Alice, "and has been grinding away ever since. I love to visit it, for it takes me back to childhood, and," she added, a little sadly, "it makes me live over the happiest days of my life, when father used to take me with him everywhere he went."

Men Restored to Vigor

Are you one of the thousands of men, young and old, who lack virile power? Do you crave to be robust and vigorous, to have perfect manhood?
Thousands know they are weak and impotent, but hesitate to take the right steps to regain their full vigor and strength. Are you one of them?
Thousands suffer in ignorance of their real condition, believing themselves to be strong and well when they are far from it. Perhaps you are one of them. It is worth your time to ascertain your true condition of health, if you have any reason to doubt or suspect that you are not what you once were.

Be Honest With Yourself.
If you have been a victim to the follies and indulgences of youth, committed excesses in married life, if you doubt your strength, if it is your duty your duty to those you love and who love you—to at once, today, consult an honest, reliable, respected physician—a specialist who has a record for curing weak men. But do not go astray. Consult no quack. Take no patent "Cure All." No two cases are precisely alike. Every individual needs a treatment particularly suited to him. No other remedy can get the right treatment for your case.

Cure Yourself at Home.
If there is no successful specialist near you, write at once to Dr. Goldberger, the noted specialist. He is the possessor of 31 diplomas and certificates which he received from medical colleges and state boards of medical examiners and he will send you his method free, to use in the privacy of your own home. It does not interfere with traveling, as it can be taken with convenience anywhere.
If you have stricture, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicose, lost manhood, blood poison, hydrocele, rheumatism of parts, loss of memory, etc., or any complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, etc., write the doctor and he will accept your case for treatment. It is equivalent to the subject, containing the full discussion of the case for treatment, and remember you may

Pay When You Are Cured.
The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It would seem, therefore, that it is to the best interests of every man who suffers from the above troubles to consult Dr. Goldberger, and confidentially lay your case before him. He sends the method, as well as his booklet, the subject, containing the full discussion of the case, entirely free. Address him simply

WALL PAPERS.

How to Choose Them So That They Will Prove Attractive.

Wall papers are attractive when they are chosen, first, of a color suitable to the temperament of those whose walls they must adorn; second, in a shade or a tone of that color which produces a pleasant sensation.

A plain or an inconspicuous paper is needed for a room where pictures are to hang.

A frieze is always lighter in tone than the walls below it, and the ceiling lighter still.

A low ceiling should not be decorated, as a general thing, as it then seems to rest on one's head.

The woodwork of a room should suggest a frame for its walls and ought never to be radically different in tone unless the architectural lines are good.

Figures, flowers and complicated designs in wall papers are distracting if certain laws are disobeyed.

As, for instance, a paper with gilt in it can play strange tricks. It is promising and cheerful enough under certain lights, while when turned the other way for an instant it becomes formless and shiny and out of harmony with its surroundings.

Figures that do not match perfectly have destroyed the comfort of many invalids, and aggressive flower papers grow to seem like "noisy visitors, against whom one can never close the door."

The walls of our houses make the setting for our everyday lives and for our possessions.

THE UGLINESS OF IT.

A Bad Temper Not Only mars Beauty, but Spoils Life.

Of all the recipes which are suggested for the process of beautifying the simple one of a good temper is left out, and yet there is nothing more personally ugly and unattractive in woman than a bad temper, though she often does not realize this till her beauty is marred and her life spoiled thereby. Other women may forgive bad temper, but men never do. It is their eyes the unpardonable sin, and rightly so, seeing that nothing so quickly creates and insures a thoroughly unhappy home.

Let the girls who are being trained for life remember that a bad temper will as effectually ruin their chance of a happy future as any other hideous deformity, and when they would be ready to sacrifice so much for the attainment of such power as beauty, brilliance or fascination it is surely worth while to swallow something for the acquirement of so great and lasting a charm as good temper.

If a girl were to announce that she was subject to sudden fits of madness, but they were soon over; would it be likely that she would be wanted as an inmate of her own or any one else's home? Yet what else is an uncontrolled temper?—Edith H. Fowler in London Mail.

MARRY NOT A MAN—

Who never dresses up or cares how he looks except when he goes to see some lady.

Who thinks that a comfortable home and plenty to eat and wear should satisfy any woman.

Who thinks that the woman who gets him for a husband will be lucky beyond the rest of her sex.

Who bosses his sisters and does not think it necessary to show them the same consideration as other girls.

Who boasts to his men friends of his conquests among the fair sex and thinks that no woman can resist him.

Who does not regard marriage as a partnership in which there must be mutual concessions, but would be likely to think he owned his wife.

Who would like to humiliate his wife by making her beg for every dollar she desires for herself and tell what she is going to do with it.—Success.

Afternoon Tea.

Afternoon tea is becoming more and more a regular custom in this country now that we are learning the gentle art of idleness. A few suggestions of things that I have found decidedly appreciated at this function may not be amiss. Homemade bread cut in very thin slices, buttered and laid in squares on a bread and butter place is always relished with a good cup of tea. Current loaf, served daintily in the same way, is very popular. In making it, take two small cups of the sponge out of the general baking and place in a different pan. Take one-half cup of butter—a small cup—a half cup of sugar, a whole cupful of currants (or raisins if preferred), one egg, and stir all together. Then mix enough flour to make a dough and set it in two bread tins to rise. When risen sufficiently, put into the oven and bake a half hour.—Brown Book.

Tooth Powder.

An excellent tooth powder that is inexpensive, pure and efficient may be easily made by any one. Mix two ounces of pulverized borax with four ounces of precipitated chalk; add one ounce each of powdered myrrh and pulverized orris. Sift through fine bolting cloth, and it is ready for use. Tooth powder bottles with adjustable covers, such as shop powder is put up in, may be saved and filled with this home-made product.

Fried Nuts.

Fried nuts are dainty little additions to the luncheon or supper table. Good Housekeeping furnishes the recipe. Cold cooked farina, oatmeal or other cereal is reheated and seasoned with butter, salt and pepper. When cool enough to shape with the hands into small balls, dip in crushed walnuts, then in beaten egg, again in walnuts, and fry in deep fat.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

The uniform success of this remedy has made it the most popular preparation in these for bowel complaints. It is everywhere recognized as the one remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant to take. It is especially valuable for summer diarrhoea in children and is undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of a great many children each year. For sale by All Druggists.

Chinese Gamblers.

In China drunkards as well as total abstainers are almost unknown. Gambling debts are pre-eminently debts of honor there and are more willingly and speedily paid than any others. To pay them a Chinaman will pawn all his property and even sell his children.

All Druggists will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaints and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

The plain man is often the one the women fancy.

SAVED THREE LIVES

Toronto Young Lady Went Out in Canoe and Rescued People.

Toronto, July 21.—Miss Rae Petrie, daughter of Mr. H. W. Petrie, of 379 Huron street, whose summer home is on Clamhoye avenue, Center Island, has earned any reward the city has to offer for daring and courage.

About half-past five yesterday afternoon a canoe containing three people upset about half a mile off the shore opposite Clamhoye avenue and Main street. The beach was crowded, several men being among those present. The unfortunate people in the water were clinging to the upturned boat and calling for help, but no one made any move to go out to assist them.

"Well," Miss Petrie said, "if no one else will go out, I will."

Miss Petrie has been in a canoe often enough, but does not claim to be an expert canoeist. In spite of this she jumped into a canoe which was on the beach and started out. A man on the beach called to her to come back and to get some one to go with her, and she did so and persuaded a boy to get in the canoe with her.

They went out together and went alongside the upturned canoe. The people clinging to the boat were Mr. Murdoch, Miss Cosgrave and Miss Kinder. By the time Miss Petrie reached them, Miss Kinder had let go her hold and had sunk once. When she came up, Mr. Murdoch caught her and held her. Miss Petrie's canoe, Miss Cosgrave also caught hold of the canoe.

In the meantime, Miss Cosgrave, a sister, had started out in another canoe. Mr. Murdoch got Miss Kinder into his boat and got her out of the water. Miss Petrie succeeded in getting Miss Cosgrave into her boat, and all returned to shore safely.

On landing, Miss Petrie received quite an ovation, and has been the recipient of many congratulations. By her pluck and prompt action she succeeded in preventing a very serious drowning accident, and all the island residents are enthusiastic in singing her praises.

TOMMY RODE FOUR WINNERS.

New York, July 21.—The feature of the racing at Brighton Beach to-day was the riding of Jockey Tommy Burns. Out of five mounts he rode four winners and finished third on his other mount. His ride on Dapple Gold, in the last race, was especially good. Getting off in a good position, when he moved out and in a terrific drive won by a head from Buckleby. His other winning mounts were Tractor, Grand Opera and Humo.

FATALLY INJURED

The Story of the Sad Accident Whereby the Late John Chinnick, of Raleigh, Lost His Life.

John Chinnick, of Chatham, Ontario, a prominent Canadian stockman and farmer, lives at the Culver Union Hospital, if not fatally injured. He was run down by through freight No. 67 going south on the Vandalia Monday night just north of the depot on East Main street. He was walking along on across the track when struck by the engine and was alone. The engine that struck him was attached to a through freight, which makes no stop at the station. From the place where he was struck to the point where the train came to a standstill was perhaps four car lengths.

The unfortunate man had been dragged and rolled under the engine and was found so tightly wedged beneath the pilot that it was necessary to back up before he could be removed. He was in a terribly mangled condition and was at first thought to be dead. He was placed upon a truck and taken to the waiting room until Dr. Ensminger and Keegan could arrive.

The physicians discovered that his right leg had been severed below the knee, there being nothing left but a small piece of skin, the foot of which was literally stripped of the skin and portions of flesh. The knee of the left leg was fearfully bruised, the right shoulder was mangled and lacerated and his skull on the right side of the head had received an awful gash eight inches long. All of the wounded portions were ground full of grease and cinders, making a pitiable and shocking spectacle. He pined and his hands were cold and the pulse so nearly gone that it was not perceptible. The physicians and bystanders had every reason to believe that the man was dead.

Carver & Carver were sent for and he was taken to their undertaking parlors on North Washington street about 1 o'clock this morning. He was attended by both physicians, who gave him all possible aid until 5 o'clock, when he had so far revived as to make it expedient to take him to Culver Union Hospital.

After he had been placed upon the cot Undertaker Carver stated that there was a piece of skin which he would cut off if he could secure a pair of shears, whereupon the injured man sat straight up and cried "Oh, my God, my foot and leg are immediately raised into unconsciousness again. He groaned and moaned pitifully as though suffering intense agony. The physicians stated this morning at 9 o'clock that it was unsafe to amputate the wounded leg or cleanse the wounds on account of his very critical condition. The unfortunate man has one chance in a thousand to recover.

He had come here last Friday from his home with Dan Keefe. They brought a stallion with them which he had exchanged for another one from L. W. Cochran. He expected to take it back home and was going to start on the homeward journey at 10 o'clock. The stallion had been placed in the car by Cochran's men a short time before 10 o'clock. The engineer stated he saw a lantern appear and vanish on the track in front of him and thought the man had stopped aside. The next thing he knew he had struck the man. He reversed the locomotive and applied the air brakes and soon brought the train to a halt a car length north of the Vandalia platform.

Mr. Chinnick is well known to horsemen as he has been a number of times. He is a quiet pleasant gentleman who is well liked by all who know him. Dan Keefe, the well known horseman, who has been working with Mr. Chinnick during the summer, returned to this city with the unfortunate man and has taken a position with Cochran. He speaks in highest terms of Mr. Chinnick and his family, as does Mr. Cochran. The injured man has a beautiful residence and stock farm at Chatham, Ontario, forty-five miles from Detroit.

Mr. Cochran sent a telegram to the family this morning and will keep them informed as to the injured man's condition.

He sent W. H. Everson to Chatham with the stallion this morning.

LATER.

At 3:30 o'clock the injured man was still alive, but in weaker condition. The superintendent at the hospital stated there was a chance but even that one chance was a poor one. The terrible shock he received making it impossible to perform any operation whatever except to keep him as comfortable as possible. His death is not unexpected at any time.

Members of his family will reach here to-morrow.—The Journal, Crawfordville, Ind.

HOT WEATHER INNOVATION

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 21.—Rev. George Elliott, Cooley created an innovation at St. Paul's Church last Sunday morning, which was greatly commended. The heat was very oppressive and after the opening service the organist played a voluntary while the ushers passed down the aisles with trays of glasses filled with ice water.

THE UMBRELLA

AND THE BOY

"Speaking of umbrellas," said a well known commission grain merchant near the market, this morning, "they are worse than babies to look after. A few days ago I took a trip down to Detroit. Very foolishly—as you will see—I borrowed an umbrella from a friend of mine—a valuable one and one he prized very highly from sentimental reasons. Well, sir, that rain stopper gave me all kinds of worry. On the way down to Detroit I would no sooner get interested in the scenery we were tearing up than that blamed umbrella would start to worry me. At last we got to the City of the Straits, and then my trouble came in large juicy bunches.

If I went into the cracked ice parlors to cool my parched throat I had to lay that umbrella somewhere, and its sombre, black form would rise before me as I blew the froth off the cooling liquids. It was useless to think of talking business to a man. Just as I got busy with a business proposition in which there was enough money to sink a ship, I would suddenly stop and turn pale. While my business friend ran to get some restorative I was dashing out to the elevator, where I had left that pesky umbrella.

"Well, all that day I worried over that borrowed fiend. At last I was on the train bound for home. All had gone well so far and I had kept a strange hold on the umbrella. But here was where I and the umbrella parted as strangers. A very fascinating girl was on the train, and we became so engrossed in conversation during the trip that the umbrella was forgotten entirely. I got off at Chatham, and the train carried my umbrella on to St. Thomas, Buffalo and various far Oriental cities. I have not seen it since, and have had to buy my friend an eight dollar umbrella to calm his troubled thoughts. Give me a baby instead of an umbrella, take care of every time."
