Beligious Miscellany.

The Prayer of Submission. Father, I know that all my life Is portioned out for me, And the changes that are sure to come.

I do not fear to see : But I ask you for a present mind, Intent on pleasing Thee.

I ask Thee for a thoughtful love,-Through constant watching wise-To meet the glad with joyful smiles, And wipe the weeping eyes; And a heart at leisure from itself, To scothe and sympathize.

I would not have the restless will That hurries too and fro, king fer some great thing to do or secret thing to know; I would be treated as a child. And guided where I go.

Wherever in the world I am, In atsoe'r estate, I have a fellowship with hearts To keep and cultivate, And a work of lowly love to do, For the Lord's own welcome wait.

So I ask Thee for the daily strength, To none that ask denied, And a mind to blend with outward life While keeping at Thy side; Content to fill a little space, If thou be glorified

And if some things I do not ask In my cup of blessing be, I would have my spirit filled the more With grateful love to thee : More careful not too serve Thee much, But to please Tree perfectly.

There are briars besetting every path That call for patient care : There is a cross in every lot, And an earnest need for prayer; But a lowly heart that leans on thee, Is happy everywhere.

In a service which Thy will appoints, There are no bonds for me. For my inmost heart is taught the truth That makes thy children free ; And a life of self-renouncing love Is a life of liberty.

The way is rough and thorny For the little dimpled feet Often the winds will gather. Oft will the tempests beat.

Who knows what bitter trials Will lie along her way. What night of thickest darkness Will usher in her day !

The cross is not yet lifted That will prove so hard to bear ; The pure child heart is throbbing Unchecked, unchilled by care.

This is a world of changes, Of mingled joy and tears, Where the light and shadow blending. From the warp and woof of years.

But still we bid thee welcome ; Whate'er thy lot may be, Where'er thy path may lead thee. We can but welcome thee.

God bless our little darling. And keep her for his own Until she join his children Around the great white Throne !
