TO THE PUBLIC!

Slight Increase in Motion Picture Admissions to Take Effect Next Monday at the Happy Hour.

Owing to the excessive rental prices of high-class productions now being demanded for films and the greatly increased cost of all advertising accessories, material and supplies incidental to the carrying on of the business, it is found necessary to fall in line with the majority of theatres all over the country to increase the price of admission. Therefore starting next Monday January 19th, the regular admission prices will be raised to 20c for adults and 15c for children plus 1c tax.

The Saturday matinee prices WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED as at present Adults 15c Children 5c.

Ninety-five per cent. of the Picture Theatres in the Maritime Provinces are charging 20c and more, while the balance will shortly be forced to advance their prices, go out of business or give poor pictures. West of the Maritime Provinces over ninety per cent of the Picture Houses are pricing their shows at 30c and more. Under these circumstances, we cannot sell first class picture programs in Newcastle with their cost increasing rapidly without losing money any more than can the grocer sell sugar, the hardware man sell glass, the druggist medicines and the clothier clothes, for cost or less. If this were attempted, would not our entire business structure become unhealthy?

We purpose doing business on purely business principles, and treat our patrons fairly and candidly, and give them the finest productions for the money as can be found in any city throughout Canada.

We will positively undertake never to charge a cent more for pictures of any kind, than is being charged for the same programs elsewhere. Is this not fair?

Conditions have forced us already to lose a great deal of money through an effort to establish ourselves in the confidence and good will of the Community.

The following is a list of some of the stars which will appear in productions for the year 1920, Marguerite Clarke, Mary Pickford, Nazimova, Anita Stewart, Vivian Martin, Pauline Frederick, Geraldine Farrar, Billie Burke, Mable Normand, Theda Bara, Madeline Trevers, William Farnum, Tom Mix, George Walsh, William Russell, William S. Hart, Jack Pickford, Tom Moore, Charles Ray, Wallace Reid, etc.

This year will see the greatest array of pictures ever presented to the Newcastle public, each and every production will be carefully selected. We desire the "good will" of every patron and if after a fair trial of the above policy we have shown ourselves deserving of your co-operation and friendship, the same will be greatly appreciated.

All Allied Powers, Except The United States, Now On Peace Basis With Germany

Ratifications of the Treaty of Versailles Between Great Britain, France and Other Allied Countries Became Effective at 4.16 O'clock Saturday Afternoon.

Paris, Jan. 10.—(By the A. P.)—Ratifications of the treaty of Versailles were exchanged and peace between Germany, France, Great Britain and the other Allied and associated powers, with the exception of the United States became effective at 4.16 o'clock this afternoon. There were eleven hour rushes of a further postponement, but these proved to be groundless.

The outstanding comment tonight on the ceremony is that it leaves the United States the only power which was actively at war with Germany, now not on a peace basis. That was the note sounded by Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German peace delegation in a statement to the Associated Press, immediately after the ceremony.

"I am naturally happy that peace has finally become effective," Baron von Lersner said. "Execution of the treaty of Versailles imposes upon Germany the heaviest sacrifices ever borne by a nation in modern times. We lost in the west and in the east territories that belonged to Prussia for many centuries. We have assumed enormous economic obligations. Nevertheless, I am glad that peace is at last re-established, because it will give back Germany her beloved sons still prisoners abroad."

Asked as to execution of the terms of the treaty, Baron von Lersner declared that Germany was ready and determined to do her utmost. He continued:

Hard Times Ahead for Germany

"We have already, even without being obliged by the terms of the treaty delivered a considerable quantity of products, including two and one-half million tons of coal to France, and I can say that Germany will go to the utmost limit of possibility in fulfilling all the obligations she has incurred. It will mean hard times for Germany, but with the recovery of our ardor for labor and production, we hope to meet every emergency."

"The recovery of our economic prosperity is as much to the interest of the Entente as it is to us, on account of the great economic difficulties that threaten all Europe. It is obvious, speaking chiefly of France, that her economic recovery of Germany."

Herr von Lersner said he had had several very satisfactory conferences with Louis Loucheur, French Minister of Reconstruction, regarding the resumption of trade relations between Germany and France, and added that he hoped the European nations, working together, would solve the great economic problems. The most thorny remaining problem appeared to von Lersner to be the question of the extradition of a considerable number of German officers, officials and soldiers to be tried abroad for crimes alleged to have been committed during the war.

A Proposal Allies Did Not Accept.

"I do not want to give up all hope," continued Baron von Lersner. "What among the Allies the conviction will finally prevail that by not availing themselves strictly of rights conceded in the treaty for the extradition of those accused they may cause the greatest embarrassment not only for Germany, but for quiet and order in Europe generally. We pointed out two months ago very frankly to the Allies the harmful consequences that might ensue if they did not accept extra-territorial jurisdiction of the courts of the Allies. It is the solution of the extradition problem."

proposition were that Germany would undertake to arraign before the Supreme Court of Germany all persons accused by the Entente; would exempt all such from the law of amnesty; and would consent to the presence of representatives of the Entente at the trial as public prosecutors with fullest rights of control. Germany, in the meantime has enacted laws to this end.

"The Entente did not accept our proposal before peace became effective but that does not preclude serious examination anew of the problem after the establishment of peace. Your conviction must be the same as mine that the desire of the Entente is by no means to satisfy revenge, but to punish the guilty with equality and justice."

"The Entente proposal for obtaining this object, however, far exceeds the demands made by Austria upon Serbia for the punishment of the assassins of the Archduke, demands which were refused by Serbia with the approval of the Entente. I cannot believe that our former adversaries have any interest in compromising the re-establishment of normal life in Germany by insisting in this question of extradition upon availing themselves unsparringly of rights the real end of which might be attained otherwise."

After the settlement of a few details connected with the arrangements of the execution of the treaty Baron von Lersner will leave for Berlin for a short rest, the first he has had since coming to Paris in advance of the German peace delegation.

Invited to Membership in League of Nations

Paris, Jan. 10.—In conformity with the peace treaty and the annex of the League of Nations Covenant Premier Clemenceau has telegraphed Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Spain, Norway, Paraguay, Holland, Salvador, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela that the treaty is now effective and inviting them to membership in the League of Nations.

London, Jan. 10.—Replying to a loyal message from the citizens of London on the occasion of the ratification of peace, the King has telegraphed the Lord Mayor of London as follows:

"With all my heart, I reiterate their hopes and fervently pray that, please God, this day may be the dawn of a new era, in which the people of the British Empire may forever live at peace with itself and with all men."

NEW BRUNSWICK AMONG HEAVIEST SUGAR CONSUMERS

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—The per capita distribution of sugar in Canada during the year 1919 was 94.95 pounds and of this amount Ontario had the heaviest share with 130.80 pounds per capita for her 2,250,000 people. British Columbia with 225,000 consumed only 62.88 pounds of sugar per capita and this is thought to be chiefly due to the increased development of the maple sugar industry in the province.

The figures were loaned by the Canadian trade commission and are based upon population figures compiled by the census of 1916. Statistics show that while in 1919 there was a general increase in the distribution of sugar, the returns created all provinces fairly evenly. Ontario, New Brunswick and Manitoba were placed among the heaviest sugar users and large consumers of the commodity.

Chatham Fails To Land McLellan Cup

The Chatham curlers, two rinks strong, led by Messrs Howard McKendry and S. D. Heckbert, and supported by a small but enthusiastic band of rooters, went to Bathurst Wednesday on the local express to try conclusions with the celebrated Bathurst curlers for possession of the famous McLellan cup.

The result was the one that has got to be generally expected in the games for the McLellan cup; the challengers were defeated and in this case by a large score. The victors had evidently prepared for a hard game with the Chatham curlers and they had two rinks made up of the very pick of the club. Skip Thibideau faced Skip McKendry and won out 20 to 5, while Skip McKay defeated Skip Heckbert by a 22 to 16 score, the defenders retaining the cup by a majority of 21 points.

The Cause of Heart Trouble

Faulty digestion causes the generation of gases in the stomach which inflate and press down on the heart and interfere with its regular action, causing faintness and pain. 15 to 30 drops of Mether Seigel's Curative Syrup after meals sets digestion right, which allows the heart to beat full and regular.

The drums may be considered the most useful of that period and many sizes and shapes were made. The natives hollowed out the trunk of a tree and stretched across the top a strong piece of dried skin. Another drum in use is from a smaller tree, hollowed out but leaving a thin sheet of wood at the top. The drums were played with two sticks.

Gongs, castans and blocks of wood and a rude form of xylophone were added.

Stringed instruments were suggested by the twanging of the bow string (bow and arrow.)

Tale Of The Orchestra

C. C. Laugher, Mus. Bac Bowmanville
The word Orchestra was originally used by the Greeks to designate the front of the stage. Later it was reserved for distinguished visitors, and now it refers to the place where the musicians are stationed and is also the name used for a collection of musical instruments forming a full band.

The last named is what I wish you to remember as the Orchestra of my talk, but from what and how came the orchestra of my talk, and from what and how came the orchestral instruments?

We will go back to the beginning and review from the days of the savage. The savages danced around the big fire, weird dancing, jumping dancing and yet this dancing was regular and rhythmical but not so graceful as we now understand dancing. Now with all dancing there must accompany it rhythmical expression or noise to announce the strong and weak accent. This was done by the Orchestra. (3 persons clapping their hands) emphasizing the rhythm. The hand clapping formed the natural instrument. Following this the rattles, clappers and drums were invented, these giving more taps producing variations with greater expression, which was heard at a greater distance.

The whistle of the mouth suggested the tube whistle or reed, or of a hollowed stick.

The wind instruments (horn) were suggested from the whistle of the mouth with hands placed around lips forming a bell to produce bigger tone. The horn of the antelope and the elephants' tusks were used and

These primitive instruments form the basis of our modern Orchestra which is now a wonderful combination of instruments, all well fitted for refined musical purposes. The Orchestra used for Operatic work is chiefly for the instruments to reinforce the various characters.

Now to mention some of the composers that I think were most instrumental in producing the advancement of the Orchestra:-

Lullie of the 17th century brought together various instruments and developed the Orchestra.

Rameau introduced the Clarinet and reed instruments.

Bach gave the Orchestra free and independent instrumental development.

Haydn (Grandpapa) gave a humorous expression to the Orchestra compositions.

Beethoven the great master of Symphonies introduced the technical mastery of the individual instruments.

Wagner gave character to the instruments which at that time was a daring innovation.

Berlioz introduced music of a program nature that was said to cause one eye to laugh and the other to weep, being distinctly conflicting.

Now a word of advice—Seek to hear the wonderfully matured symphony Orchestra of our time, and note the broad, musical and educational influence.

How to appreciate the music when listening to the orchestra.

This humorous phrase may suffice "after the orchestra had reached the first part of the symphony, a woman sitting just behind Dave Morrison began telling her companion at great length and in a decided loud undertone, how delightful it was to listen to the music with the eyes closed. Morrison put up with the muttering as long as he could, then turning to her said, "Pardon me madam, but did you ever try listening to the music with the mouth closed?"

Next article will be on the most popular musical instrument of the day.

The Railways And Agriculture

It is estimated that agricultural contributes approximately twenty-four per cent of the total Canadian railway freight tonnage. According to G. E. McIntosh, the officer in charge of transportation in the Fruit Branch of the Department of Agriculture of Canada, Canadian railways will this year have handled possibly 15,000 car loads of apples. In his article, which appears in The Agricultural Gazette for December, Mr. McIntosh points out that the country is today more interested in ample, safe, and rapid transportation than in cheap transportation. This applies to the fruit and vegetable industries even more forcibly than to manufacturing or other lines of industry. Growers and shippers, he states, in many producing sections of Canada are still marketing under adverse transportation conditions. Where the situation is such the Fruit Commissioner is prepared to afford the assistance of his Branch in an effort to strengthen the weak points. Mr. McIntosh concludes his article with the following:

"There is this to bear in mind, that proportionately to population, Canada is even better equipped in railway mileage than our neighbors to the south, who are five times better equipped than the European countries. This being the case, agriculture in all its branches and the railways of Canada are interdependent."

History moves in cycles. So with the cornucopia. It is coming back to popularity. One finds it on the street, in the workshop, behind the polished doors of bank directors' rooms. It is an old friend, returning to its old dress

The Storage of Ice For Summer Use

The storage of a few blocks of ice for summer use is a very simple matter where the ice is readily available. Any unoccupied corner of a shed will serve for the purpose of a rough ice house to provide 50 lbs. per day for 130 days, after allowing for a reasonable amount of wastage. The smaller the quantity stored, the larger is the proportion of waste.

The bottom of the enclosure should be covered with about 1 foot of sawdust. If the soil underneath is impervious clay it will be all the better if there is a few inches of gravel under the sawdust. In putting in the ice the boards can be taken away from one side and replaced after the ice is in position. A space of 1 foot should be left between the ice and the boards to be filled with sawdust, and the ice should be covered with about the same thickness. It is the sawdust which keeps the ice from melting. The drier the sawdust is the better the ice will keep, and it is a good plan, as the ice is removed during the summer, to throw out from time to time the driest of the sawdust where it will be under cover and continue to dry out and thus be in better condition to be used again the following year. The ice should be cut in blocks of uniform size and packed as closely together as possible.

If it is necessary to erect a special ice house the roughest kind of a shed that will keep out the weather is all that is necessary. Poles may be driven into the ground and lined up on the inside with rough lumber, or slabs, leaving a space of about one-half inch between each board, and the whole covered with a roof to keep out the rain. Of course, the ice house may be built with a regular frame, lined inside with rough lumber and, if a more finished appearance is desired, it can be given plenty of ventilation above the ice. The same procedure should be followed in storing the ice and covering it with sawdust as advised in the preceding paragraph.

If sawdust cannot be obtained, planer mill shavings may be used for packing the ice, or in case where neither is available hay may be used as a packing or covering material.

Marsh or "stough" hay or any fine wild hay which grows in low places gives the best results. If hay is used, the space around the ice or between the ice and the walls instead of being only 1 foot, should be at least 2 feet, into which the hay must be well packed. The ice should also be covered with about 2 feet of the hay.

A PROPHECY BY HEINE.

He Foretold Germany's Madness 80 Years Ago.

The war Germany waged against the rest of humanity was prophesied about eighty years ago by a great poet of Germany, Heinrich Heine, according to an article by Alfred Panzini, which appeared in the Giornale D'Italia, a newspaper published in Rome, Italy.

The writer quotes, in a translation direct from the German, Heine's prophecy. Following are the most significant parts of the quotation:—

"You have, oh Frenchmen, no suspicion of what it (the German revolution) will be like; the German revolution will be neither milder nor sweeter because the criticism of Kant, the transcendental idealism of Fichte, the philosophy of the philosophers of nature, preceded it. These doctrines have developed revolutionary forces, and are only awaiting the opportune moment to explode and fill the world with terror and admiration. Then will appear the followers of Kant, who will no longer wish to hear piety mentioned when referring to the world of facts any more than they allowed of it in the world of ideas; and they will turn upside down with club and hatchet our entire European life in order to eradicate the very last vestige of the past. On the same scene, will come the followers of Fichte and, will be impossible for vain volatile fanaticism to be dominated either by fear or by self-interest, for these philosophers live in the pure idea and disdain material things similar in this to those primitive Christians who were to be conquered neither by corporal punishment nor by the allurements of terrestrial joys. The philosophers of nature will be terrible in that they put himself in connection with all the original powers of the earth, evokes the occult forces of German tradition, calls to life again the forces of the entire German pantheism, revivifies that fury of battle, which we find in the assiduous Teutonic peoples which wish to fight not in order to overcome his enemy, but to fight simply for the sake of fighting.

"Then in that day, ah me! You will see! The God Thor will rise with his gigantic hammer and demolish the Gothic cathedrals. When you, oh, dear neighbor of France, shall hear the uproar and the tumult, be on your guard, and do not occupy yourselves at all with that which we in Germany will be doing, for you might get into grave trouble. Take care not to blow on the fire, take care also not to attempt to put it out, for you might burn your fingers. The peoples of Europe will group themselves as upon the steps of an amphitheatre around Germany to see a great and terrible game. I advise you, oh Frenchmen, to keep quiet, and above all, to take care not to applaud! We could so easily misinterpret your intentions, and push you a little brutally according to our coarse and impolite way.

"You understand perfectly that when the wish comes to fight with you, the Germans will have no difficulty in finding an excuse on that occasion. I counsel you to be on the alert. Whatever happens in Germany, whether the royal prince of Prussia or Doctor Werth becomes dictator does not matter. You, oh Frenchman remain always armed, and remain quietly in your place but at attention. I have for you only good intentions, and was almost terrified when I heard just lately that your ministers were contemplating the disarmament of France."

Fragmentary bits of the prophecy were quoted by French and Italian newspapers at the time of the bombardment of the Rheims Cathedral, but in that form it lost its significance. Alfredo Panzini was the first to quote it in its entirety.

A Prelude to Oblivion. Religious fanatics are again busy prophesying the end of the world, arguing that the four years of war-horror is but a prelude to oblivion for everyone.

Meanwhile, however, the man in the street is not worrying. Perhaps he remembers the many occasions when the prophets have tried to make his flesh creep with similar bogies.

Now and again, however, people have taken them seriously. The appearance of comets has often been thought to foretell the speedy dissolution of this world. If the tail of a comet touched the earth we should all go up in smoke in the fantastic rumor which has been revived at intervals during recent years.

The story of the comet spread great alarm, however, throughout Europe in 1832, and many persons refrained from undertaking or concluding any business during that year, in consequence solely of their apprehension that the terrible comet would dash us and our world to atoms.

October 13th has been a favorite day for prophesying the end of the world. This has its origin in the prophecy of the famous mathematical divine, Dr. Whiston, who, in 1736, said the world would be destroyed in that year on October 13th.

Crowds of people assembled in the big open spaces of London on that date, nothing happened, and Winston became the laughing stock of the metropolis.

Schleswig Rich Land.

Schleswig, the northern portion of the province, Schleswig-Holstein of Prussia, is adjacent to Denmark, says an exchange. The northern part of the former duchy is peopled mainly by Danes. Excellent harbors are on the eastern coast and the agricultural land is there also. The western coast consists of marshy but fertile marine alluvium. Agriculture is the chief occupation and much rye, wheat, barley and hay are produced. The province is famous for its excellent cattle, which are exported the world over for breeding purposes. Manufacturing industries are little developed. Its position relative to the Baltic Sea and the North Sea has increased its commercial importance to a great extent.

World's End Story Makes Many Insane

Detroit, Jan. 2—According to the City Health Commissioner, about 40 cases of either temporary or permanent insanity in major or less violent form has resulted in Detroit the last few weeks directly traceable to recent statements attributed to Prof. Porta to the effect that the world would end December 17.

Anticipation of such an event served in many cases, according to the commissioner, Dr. Vaughan, to develop an acute mental condition in a mind already burdened with heavy worries or troubles of one sort or another.

In a number of instances of this "sentimental infection," as the malady is termed, loss of reason did not come on December 17 itself, but days after, and even weeks later. Some may not have shown this latent condition even now, the Health commissioner asserts, but an irregular incident of some sort may serve to bring it out in minds whose resistance has been lowered by strain and abnormal excitement experienced preceding December 17.

"We had the same increase in mental diseases following the influenza epidemic," said Dr. Vaughan, but from a different reason. In the case of those who were recovering from influenza, the overdose of poison or toxemia, in the system, which had not been sufficient to cause death, remained in the body, and instead went to the nervous system, thus affecting the mind.

"It was abnormal excitement in both cases, however, which precipitated the condition. If people in general had not become so stirred up over the influenza epidemic, and so fearful of its after-results, many cases of loss of reason might have been averted. The same holds true of the false rumor which was spread abroad concerning the end of the world. Mental condition plays an extremely large part in the health rate of any city."

A SERIES OF TALK ON MUSIC

There are many of this generation whose never ceasing regret it is that they did not have in childhood the musical opportunities we are determined shall not be denied our children.

But we will see to it that music shall not be denied our children. Music is the God-given right of children and to deprive them of it is a serious matter.

We envy the rising generation. There is dawning upon parents and educationists a realization of the necessity of music in character building, in nation building and in developing citizenship.

The study and practice of music develops the child mentally and physically. It makes the boy or girl more nimble of mind, trains him to think rapidly and accurately, trains the eye and the ear, teaches discipline.

The author of them is a graduate supervisor of high and public school music. He is teacher of music and singing in the public schools of Bowmanville, Ont. The series was written by him to help the musical development of his town and particularly for the benefit of the children.

The condition of being "run down" is one that doctors do not recognize as a disease. The physician of today who gets his training in a hospital where only severe disorders are encountered knows little about it.

Power Gains Eighteen Pounds - Rheumatism Disappears After Taking Tanlac

"I consider what Tanlac has done for me to be worth more than a fortune," said George Power, of Halifax, Nova Scotia while talking to the Tanlac representative a few days ago.

"I've actually gained eighteen pounds since taking Tanlac, and I feel better in every way than I have in twenty-eight long years, and what's more I have spent hundreds and hundreds of dollars on medicines and never got a particle of good until I found Tanlac," continued Mr. Power.

"I noticed where Tanlac was being highly recommended by people right here in Halifax, so I decided to try it. And I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me.

N.B. Man Won High Honors

London newspapers report the retirement from official life of Sir Thomas Holderness, C.C.B., K.S.I. permanent Under-Secretary for India. A dinner was given to Sir Thomas at the Savoy Hotel, the seventy-five guests invited to meet him including his old chiefs, both in India and at Whitehall, among them Lord Curzon of Kedleston, Lord Morley, Lord George Hamilton, and Mr. Austen Chamberlain, the members of the India Council and past and present colleagues of Sir Thomas at the India Office.

"I consulted a doctor who gave me medicine, but it proved fruitless as I was constantly growing weaker. My appetite completely failed and I fell away in weight until I only weighed 125 pounds. I was sometimes taken with fainting spells, and finally felt compelled to resign my position.

Inquiry At Chatham Concluded

The investigation into the charges against the Prohibition Inspectors was concluded last Monday in Chatham. The Commission held by the Chief Inspector created by the Provincial Secretary was dated December 12th.

The evidence of David Johnstone, Philip McIntyre, Adam Dickson and James Dickson was taken on Monday and addresses made by the counsel.

The argument used by counsel for the G. W. V. A was that there was more force used than necessary. Mr. P. J. Hughes who represented the defendants read Rev. W. J. Bate's letter, which was published in the press and argued that the Rev. Mr. Bate's evidence did not support the statements made in his letter.

Mr. Hughes showed that Barry and Gatain admitted having violated the law and also showed that Gatain, on his own evidence was standing with a bottle in his hand when the inspectors appeared. He then showed from the evidence, that it was Barry who started the row. In reply to the argument of Mr. Dolron as to more force being used than was necessary, he showed that this was a matter which was not so early judged. In a matter of this kind the question arose, "Who is going to decide what force is necessary?" - the officer making the arrest, or the party or parties to be arrested. He then showed that if an officer did not use enough force to arrest his prisoner, then the law would be in contempt.

The Rev. W. D. Wilson, Chief Inspector, made no comment; but declared the court closed.

Will Sell Seeadler.

An echo of the German sea raiders comes from the South Pacific. There on the coast of Lord Howe Island lies the wreck of the Seeadler, of Atlantic fame two years ago. According to reports, the raider is to be sold by auction by the French government. Though her hull is badly damaged the Seeadler's engines are in good condition, and there is also a large quantity of saws, tanks, and other equipment.

Katie.

"Katie" is the soldiers' stuttering song. When little Mary first heard it she was amazed for she did not think that anyone except her little playmate Ruth stuttered. But when she heard it again and again she began to understand its nature. One day after hearing it she went to her older sister. "Margaret," she began, "don't you bet Ruth could sing 'Katie' better than anybody you know?"

Less Silver in Coin From Canadian Mint

Ottawa, Jan. 11—The silver contained in Canadian silver coins is greatly reduced by an order published in the Canada Gazette, which says that "On and after January 1, 1920 the standard for silver coins of the currency of Canada shall be that of one thousand parts of weight, eight hundred shall be of fine silver and two hundred of alloy."

The former standard was 925 parts of fine silver to 75 parts of alloy and at that rate, Canadian and British silver coins had the highest silver content of those of any country. The United States silver coinage contains 900 parts silver.

Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance said last night that this would bring Canadian coinage to the same level as that of many other countries and would check any melting of silver coins for the sale of silver. With the rise in the price of bar silver to such an extent many Canadian silver coins had been disappearing from circulation and it was practically certain that they were being melted down and the metal sold as such.

Price of Liquor Advances

Everything is going up and along with other lines it is said that now the price of whiskey is costing four dollars per bottle with a prescription. This is the price which it is claimed is asked for in Fredericton. The new schedule of prices has not been issued by Rev. W. D. Wilson, the chief inspector under the Prohibition Act, but it is said that the retail vendors in the capital have advanced the price because they claim the St. John wholesale vendors have made a general increase of ten dollars per case.

Chief Inspector Has Ruled Against Suitcase Imports

Travellers from Montreal to this province have not the right under the law to bring liquor in suit cases, grips or other baggage, said Chief Inspector Wilson. When shown a copy of the instructions given by Chief of Police George Rideout of Moncton, to his men, Chief Inspector Wilson meant was that persons travelling on trains from Montreal through Moncton to points outside this province and who had liquor in their baggage for personal use should not be molested, provided they did not carry it through the streets of the latter city.

The chief inspector added that when the federal provisions were in operation previously, successful prosecutions had been made in cases where persons had been arrested for bringing liquor here in suit cases from Montreal and these convictions had not been appealed.

Householders who wish to obtain liquor legitimately must have it delivered by common carrier or obtain it by prescription.

N.S. to be Asked to Help Teacher's Salaries

Halifax, Jan. 6.—A recommendation asking that a minimum salary of about $300 be fixed by the provincial government for teachers in Nova Scotia, and that all these teachers who are at present receiving less than $600 have their salaries increased $100, was unanimously passed by the school inspectors and other educational authorities of the province at their annual conference today.

It was suggested that funds for the increase in salaries must be raised by increasing the county individual tax from thirty-five cents to one dollar. Mr. L. A. DeWolfe, director of Rural Science in Nova Scotia, said that at present there were approximately ten per cent. of the schools in the province for which no teachers were to be had, and probably another ten per cent. whose teachers were unlicensed. He said there had been a large exodus of teachers to Western Canada last year. The majority of the teachers in Nova Scotia are young women.

Cost Of Living Goes Still Higher

Housewives, hotelkeepers, bread-winners and other folks are hard to convince that there has been a halt in the high cost of living. Indeed, the H. C. of L. movement may have halted for its second wind, but it is in motion again, as this morning's market prices show.

Sugar rose yesterday $2.50 per hundred weight and will go higher still, according to many grocers. The white refined is selling by retail at sixteen cents; at wholesale it is worth $14.60 to $14.65 per 100 lbs. and the yellow, $14.10 to $14.15. All meats have advanced this week three to five cents a pound and potatoes

Beavers Are Becoming Much More Plentiful

Beavers, long extinct in many sections of New Brunswick, are becoming more plentiful. They are so numerous in some counties and are causing so much damage by building dams and overflowing land and highways that permits have been given to trap a limited number. Kings county has been invaded by the industrious little animals and there is now quite a colony near Apohaqui, which is being visited by many persons. These beavers are protected by law and will not be molested just now.

In Northumberland county there are several colonies and at some points they are doing considerable damage. In Maine the beaver has been increasing so rapidly that it has been found necessary to declare an open season for hunting them in various sections.

10 CENT "CASCARETS"
IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

Notice To Advertisers
The co-operation of advertising patrons is requested in the direction of getting "copy" into the office on or before 12:30 p. m. on Monday. Very often the receipt of a large advertisement or even regular changes after that hour causes to dislocate the regular work of setting the paper made up in time to enter the mails—and not infrequently such ads. are at the last moment left out. This situation is not of service to either the advertiser or our readers and we therefore request that copy be received in the office before 12:30 p. m. on Monday.
On and after January 1st, 1920, our advertising rates will be increased. We are sorry to do this, but the increase in the cost of production compels us to do so.
