

IDENTITY OF GIRL VICTIM IS STILL IN DOUBT

Police Still In Dark As To The Identity Of Suit Case Murder Victim—All Clues Have Failed.

GRUESOME COLLECTION CONTINUES TO GROW.

Tiverton, N. B., Oct. 13.—After several hours of practical certainty, the identity of the young woman whose body was found dismembered near here, lapsed into doubt late tonight. The daily contribution to the gruesome collection of several parts of the body was again forthcoming today to aid in building the whole. Today the arms and a leg from the knee down were found at a place off Bulgermarsh Road nearly a mile west of the point where the rest of the legs were found on Monday. As in the case of all the other parts, the arms and portion of the leg were hidden just off a by-path. This is taken to indicate that a vehicle must have been used, the disposer of the body making excursions into the underbrush at various points along the road. A minor result of the day's search was the finding near Bliss' Four Corners of a hair "rat" and handkerchief, both blood-stained.

More Finds. Before and during the autopsy today a considerable posse of searchers traversed the underbrush and swamps in the vicinity of the previous findings, for the missing portions of the body. Until late in the afternoon their efforts were unrewarded. Then, George Heywood and Frank Suppeman, both of Fall River, came upon the dismembered arms and lower legs. These were rolled in three copies of a Boston newspaper of September 28, 1909. The place was 15 feet back from the Bulgermarsh Road and on the side of a stone wall opposite the road. It appeared that the person who hid them had walked up the path and thrown them over the wall. The hunt for the head, tomorrow morning will be begun upon a plan of campaign laid out from observations of the methods used in disposing of the other portions of the body. If the head has been buried, however, the hunt will be even more difficult. Searchers are to do the sides of every little path along Staccato, Bulgermarsh and Fish roads. Several small ponds in the vicinity will also be dragged. From marks on the body it was thought to be that of a young woman in North Scituate but practical comparison disproves this. A No. 3 shoe was tied on the foot of one of the limbs and was found to fit it exactly. The young woman who is missing from Scituate wears a No. 5 shoe.

SENSATIONAL SCENES IN KENTVILLE COURT

BRODEUR FOR BENCH IS THE SCHEME NOW

Latest Batch Of Rumors Slates Minister Of Marine To Succeed Mr. Justice Girard.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—The Hon. L. P. Brodeur to be appointed to the Supreme Court bench, replacing Mr. Justice Groulx, retired, Mr. Hy Beland, M. P. for Beauce, to succeed Hon. Mr. Brodeur in the cabinet, and the Hon. R. Dandurand, to be a Minister without portfolio, constitutes the latest batch of political rumors which are likely to become accomplished facts before the opening of Parliament.

The Quebec Deputation. The Quebec deputation is not very fruitful in men of cabinet strength hence the probability of all three portfolios being located in the district of Quebec. To be sure the Postmaster General is looked upon as a Montreal man but he does not exercise the patronage of the Montreal end of the Province of Quebec. This has along fallen to the lot of the present Minister of Marine, whose place in the cabinet, although perhaps rumored to the member for the county of Beauce—Mr. H. Beland—who stands head and shoulders above any man in his district, although perhaps not in the same class as Mr. H. Germain, M. P. for St. James. To square matters with the Montreal supporters of the Ministry, Sir Wilfrid's choice, so it is stated, is Senator Dandurand who was speaker of the Senate during the session of Parliament and who will keep Montreal's share of the Government patronage in this city. It is understood that the only difficulty in carrying this change into operation is in the fact that Mr. Beland does not represent Montreal constituency and the Postmaster General being unwilling to vacate Gaspe the Dandurand promotion appears to be the one way out of the dilemma.

BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS ONE AT MONTREAL

Plug Blows Out Of Boiler At Turkish Bath Hotel And One Is Killed, And Another Injured.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 13.—A boiler explosion occurred this afternoon about half-past one at the Turkish Bath Hotel, by which one man, an employe of the hotel was instantly killed, and another, a colored man, also employed by the hotel, was severely injured.

The casualties are: Killed—Arthur Ouellette. Injured—Charles Binks, colored, slightly scalded about the face and arms, treated in outdoor department of the General Hospital. Not serious. The authorities of the Turkish Bath Hotel refused to make any statement, but from guests of the hotel it was learned that the accident occurred in the furnace room, in which the water is heated for the bath, and the hot rooms attached to it. The colored victim was an old and popular servant of the hotel, employed in the bath department. The dead man, Ouellette, was employed as bell boy, and was in the boiler room by accident. The plug in the boiler blew out. The cause is not yet known.

WANT MORE CENTRAL PLACE OF MEETING

Special to The Standard. Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—The effort is being made to have the coming general conference of the Methodist church which is appointed for Victoria, B. C., changed to either London or Ottawa. It is claimed that the proposed place of meeting will necessitate an extra expenditure of $10,000 over what would be required were the conference held in either of the two latter named cities.

here this afternoon. Her husband and two sons, Miles and Herbert, and one daughter, Miss Alice Dennison, survive. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon and interment made in the Methodist cemetery here. The deceased was born in Keswick, York County.

Miss Chalefour, With Whom Sir Frederick Borden Is Alleged To Have Committed Improprieties, Is Heard In Evidence—Complains of a Deficient Memory, and Alternates Between the Affirmation and Denial of the Authorship of Certain Letters—Caps All By Destroying Matter Placed In Evidence—Mrs. Archambault Testifies.

Special to The Standard. Kentville, N. S., Oct. 13.—Interest in the famous Sir Frederick Borden versus Carruthers case is still at fever heat and the thermometer of public interest is rising. Every hotel is filled to overflowing and private houses last night harbored commercial men and others not lucky enough to get rooms in the hotels. The scene in the court house when the morning session opened was impressive and significant of the great interest in the case. On the bench was His Lordship, Judge Drysdale, keen-eyed and ever alert. Below were the officers of the court.

Mrs. McPartland. In one corner sat Mrs. McPartland, the woman alleged to have been taken away from her husband by Sir Frederick. On the right of the bench sat Mrs. Archambault, the woman in whose house at Montreal Sir Frederick is alleged to have committed the alleged breaches of propriety. A French woman, her accent was largely tinged with French. Of small stature and ripe years, with hair gray and with shoulders bent by hard work, she sat through the long trial, the cynosure of many eyes.

At the end of the table at which sat the lawyers and reporters, sat Mrs. Allison, the now noted author of the letters to the Eye Opener. Of good physique, well dressed and self confident, she never for a moment seemed to lose interest in the proceedings. At one time she was seen to look at the prisoner's box at the defendant. More than six feet in height, grey haired and clean shaven, except for a moustache, he was a striking figure. Apparently one of the least concerned persons in the court room, he was none the less keenly interested in every move.

The Counsel. Back of a long table sat the counsel. W. E. Roscoe was assisted by H. H. Wickwire, K. C., J. J. Ritchie was supported by A. E. Dunlop. The intellectual giants were well matched and no ground was lost by either side without an attack from every side. All these persons were in a position where they could easily be seen. On the side the jurors were massed with their foreman on their right. They have been well watched and will not be allowed to separate till a verdict is given. Back of the rail in the doorways, in the ante rooms, hallways, on window sills, clinging to wall mouldings, occupying in fact every available spot of vantage sat and stood the spectators. Many of the spectators had come many miles to be present and not only appreciated the many interesting situations, but enjoyed the retorts of the ladies and the lawyers. The Kings County court house was certainly a centre of interest. If Sir Frederick's character, as Mr. Roscoe contends, is not a matter of public interest, it certainly is a matter interesting to the public.

A Sensation. At the afternoon session Mr. Wickwire sprang a surprise when he called Miss Chalefour in rebuttal. Her identity was established. She gave her age as 45 years. She went to Montreal on account of ill health and for a time was employed in the crown and lumber office of the Quebec Government.

Special to The Standard. London, Eng., Oct. 13.—Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, interviewed by a representative of Canada Illustrated, said today that in regards to the conditions at the Prince Rupert end of the Grand Trunk Line everything practically hinged upon the supply of labor. "Personally," said Sir Charles, "I have never been able to appreciate the position taken by the people of British Columbia, for in this respect the completion of the road means much to the province. The temporary employment of from 3,000 to 4,000 Asiatics would save three years and their introduction would not employ a single native Canadian. When their contracts ended they would be taken back to the Oriental port from whence they embarked."

The funeral procession was the largest ever held here in many years. The faculty and students of Kings College in caps and gowns and the boys of the collegiate school conducted by the headmaster, Mr. Handsomby, wearing his cap and gown, formed an imposing part of the long parade. The rector, Rev. G. R. Martell, conducted the burial service, assisted by Dr. Bowman and Canon Vroom. A large number of prominent Conservatives and Liberals came to attend the funeral. Among them were Premier Murray, W. A. B. Ritchie, barrister, Robt. Finn, M.L.A. Halifax, C. Campbell, M.L.A., Kings county, J. B. Bailey, M.L.A., New Glasgow, E. A. DEATH OF AN OLD INTERCOLONIAL EMPLOYE

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 13.—Fedal Bourque, for over thirty years an employe of the Intercolonial, died at Shediac this morning, aged 72 years.

She explained here whereabouts up to two years ago when she was in Louisiana for her health. Twenty years ago she left home on account of ill health and unsatisfactory conditions at home. She went to a friend's home, but her mother followed her there and she left. Objections by Mr. Roscoe were received.

Taken Back. Miss Chalefour stated that she went to her aunt's in Toronto at one time and was taken back to Ottawa by her uncle Mr. Graham. Her mother said nothing on her return. On a previous occasion her mother had pulled her out of bed by her hair.

Not in Good Health. Miss Chalefour said that she was not in good health. She had not noted the time. Mr. Ritchie asked for the stenographer's notes which were read in the night. She went to the left after lunch at one o'clock. Miss Chalefour said she had hired a rig to take her to the next hotel where she wanted to get ever getting. She arrived in the evening at the Aylesford Hotel about 9 o'clock. She had no particular reason for leaving the hotel near Kentville. She had left this morning for Kentville at 9 o'clock.

Her Position. Miss Chalefour's position in the Crown and Timber office was secured for her through the good offices of a former boarder at her mother's. She had stayed there a week after leaving the hospital. Sir Frederick Borden had never visited her at Mrs. Archambault's house. Sir Frederick Borden had never had improper relations with her. She had never had her board paid by Sir Frederick nor had she ever been helped financially by him. She had at one time to leave her house because she could not pay her board. She had to work hard for her money.

By Way of Apology. She said this by way of apology. Miss Chalefour said she stayed at Miss Ellen Williams as a guest. She did not see Sir Frederick Borden there. She had stayed at Madams Clements for a month. The next year she had been in Boston in 1886 about a month or six weeks with a lady, a companion. She could not remember the street or the hotel. She had never stayed at the Stanley House, Montreal. Miss Chalefour spent a year at Jacksonville, staying at a hotel called The Palms part of the time. A letter was handed to Miss Chalefour to state to read it through. After a while she said every page was written by her and she swore that while she had written it, it was not true. Another letter was identified as written by her and still another. She said she had done everything in her power to get her mother down south. There are three or four more letters were produced and identified. "You're in the habit of lying when you are not on your oath?" "Yes, especially to my mother. I would lie to beat the band. If you knew my mother you would not wonder."

SIX LIVES LOST IN GREAT LAKES DISASTER

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13.—In the wreck of the steamer George Stone of Cleveland, Ohio, on Point Pelee, Ont., today, upper Lake Erie, added a gruesome chapter to the history of marine disasters on the Great Lakes. Six lives were lost and twelve lives were saved and the end of the recent gale is tonight lashing a hopelessly broken vessel which was not insured and belonged to M. A. Bradley of Cleveland. The six victims lost their lives when Captain Paul Howell, Peter Daley of Erie, Pa., who was passenger and six of the crew were capsized in the surf attempting to go ashore for assistance. Two of the crew clung to the overturned boat four hours until they drifted ashore, six were drowned when the lifeboat capsized and the remaining ten of the crew were taken off the wreck about noon by the steamer F. M. Osborne of Cleveland and brought to Detroit late today. One of the ten brought to Detroit, John Dieckrich, was knocked into the Detroit river by a crowd of strikers on the docks and narrowly escaped drowning after his arrival here.

SUSSEX CASE ADJOURNED TO RESUME HERE

Hornbrook Inquiry Goes Over For A Time When Argument By Counsel Will Be Heard—Yesterday's Evidence.

Special to The Standard. Sussex, N. B., Oct. 13.—The Hornbrook inquiry, so far as Sussex is concerned, is over. When Commissioner Hazen adjourned the hearing this afternoon he stated that he would hold another session in St. John when arguments of counsel will be heard, and the evidence of a couple of witnesses taken. The afternoon was wholly occupied in the cross-examination of Magistrate Hornbrook.

Weyman Recalled. The most interesting point brought out today was the reversion to the question of accounts submitted to the county council. Former Inspector Weyman was recalled and strongly maintained his former assertion that two fines were imposed on Seymour Cole instead of the one accounted for. The exhibit showing the financial statement was then examined and the fact established that Magistrate Hornbrook had charged costs for three cases, one of which resulted in the acquittal of Cole. Further evidence on this point will be taken later.

DRIVEN TO BAY DARING BANDIT KILLS HIMSELF

Sensational Daylight Robbery In Chicago — Fashionably Dressed Bandit Holds Up Entire Office Staff Of Bank. PURSUED, HE COM-MITS SUICIDE.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—A fashionably dressed bandit who early this afternoon robbed the savings bank of D. M. Erskine and Company, in Highland Park, Ill., an aristocratic suburb on the lake shore, 25 miles north of Chicago, committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth when driven to bay by the Highland Park marshal and a posse of citizens. A companion of the robber who had driven him to the bank in an automobile was captured immediately after the robbery, forcing the principal perpetrator of the daring daylight crime to flee on foot. He was engaged in a running duel with Town Marshal John Sheehan, who was the target for many bullets from the fugitive bandit's revolver, one of which went through the sleeve of his coat.

Took Shelter. After running several blocks and failing to drive back his pursuers, the robber ran into a shed closely followed by Sheehan. When he saw Sheehan entered the shed with his revolver leveled at him, the fugitive put the muzzle of his own revolver into his mouth and fired a shot which resulted in his death almost immediately. Neither he nor his companion is known. The man arrested, who appeared in the guise of a chauffeur, positively refused after his arrest to discuss anything concerning his or his companion's identity. The robbery was conducted in a deliberate and sensational manner. The bandit stole about $500 in gold coin and bills after he had forced John C. Duffy, cashier of the bank; Miss Nell Fitzgerald, the bookkeeper and Joseph F. Richards, the receiving teller into the cashier's cage just after business closed for the day. In the morning the automobile bearing the robber and his chauffeur drove up to the bank. The man who is now dead entered the bank and inquired of the cashier that "Mr. Williams" was in the bank. Duffy said he knew of a Mr. Williams at Libertyville, Ill., some miles west of Highland Park.

RETURNED LATER

The visitor thanked him and left. He drove away and returned a little after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He cleared the bank while his companion remained outside in the automobile. "Did you find Williams?" asked Duffy when his visitor re-entered. "No, he wasn't there," the stranger replied. Duffy became suspicious and his visitor took to the street and talked with the chauffeur, returning again to the bank and standing in the automobile in the room while Duffy cleared the front doors. The side door he left open for the stranger to depart. Fearing something was wrong, Duffy hurriedly took a large amount of money and locked it in the vault. Several hundred dollars were still in the cage. As he entered the case Duffy was confronted by a robber who covered him with a revolver. "Call everyone in here into that cage," said the bandit, "or I'll blow your head off. Hurry up."

MISSING LIBRARIAN FOUND IN ROAD HOUSE

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13.—After a mysterious disappearance since August 12, Elizabeth G. Johnson, librarian at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and private secretary to Professor H. R. Cross of that institution was located today at the Observation Hospital at Deer Island. She was identified by a cousin, Miss Mary Hope of Brighton. Miss Johnson was found by the local authorities after enduring about the city two weeks after her disappearance from the home of her uncle, Professor Thomas E. Pope, of the Institute of Technology with whom she lived and her mental condition was such that she was admitted to the Observation Hospital on Deer Island. Worry over the sickness of a sister and an aunt unbalanced her mentally, it is thought, for she was unable to recall her name or address.

MARRY GATHER FOR TODAY'S INAUGURATION Distinguished Gathering at Hanover For Dr. Nichols Inaugural — Ambassador Bryce Present.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 13.—Upon the time-revered campus of old Dartmouth, guarded by the same towering mountain sentinels which a hundred and forty years ago looked down upon a wilderness of forest and plain and saw a little band of white and Indian students studying their classics and philosophy by the light of pine knots, there thronged tonight a host of distinguished men of learning, academics, theologians and kings of finance and industry, as well as hundreds of prominent graduates of the college, all come to witness the inauguration into office tomorrow of a leading scientist, Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, as the tenth president of Dartmouth College.

Above the tower of Dartmouth Hill floated the British flag, beside the Stars and Stripes, in honor of the most distinguished guest of the inauguration, James Bryce, the British ambassador to the United States, the recipient of a doctor's degree from Dartmouth eight years ago, who comes as a representative of the English constituency, which through the house of Dartmouth has possibly the founding of the college by its generosity, 140 years ago.

Perhaps the most noted groups of physicians that has probably ever gathered together in this or any other country outside of a scientific conference, is here to witness the induction into office of one of their most prominent men. Practically all of Dr. Nichols' former associates on the faculty of Columbia University are present, while a hundred college presidents and delegates from as many more institutions of higher learning, are tonight scattered throughout the town in the homes of the members of the Dartmouth faculty, or will tomorrow have made their appearance at the Mus. hall.

PROFESSIONAL BETTING SHOULD BE MADE A CRIME

Committee Of General Synod On Moral And Social Reform Pass Strong Resolutions—Other Business Transacted.

Yesterday the sessions of the committees of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada were continued in Trinity church. In the morning an address of welcome was presented to the Primate of Canada and the House of Bishops by the executive committee of the Diocese of Fredericton. A meeting of the Sunday school commission and the House of Bishops was held in the afternoon.

In the evening a meeting of the Moral and Social Reform committee was held at which considerable important business was transacted. Archdeacon Armitage presided.

A resolution was passed expressing the conviction that all betting was demoralizing and calling upon the Dominion Government to so amend the criminal code as to make professional betting a crime.

The Government was also to be petitioned to pass laws making adultery a criminal offence.

It was decided that a special protection by law should be afforded for the women and girls in the matter of immoral intercourse with white men, and it was decided to request the executive sub-committee to frame a resolution on this subject.

The committee expressed itself in favor of a system of provincial police for the enforcement of the law, and, such police in rural districts to be mounted men.

It was recommended that a female officer or officers be appointed in every large centre of population, whose duty it should be to meet unattended girls and women coming into the district and advise them as to proper conduct in the streets and everywhere it was the all-absorbing topic.

It was recommended that a committee of women be formed for the purpose of causing to be passed before eleven of the committee will meet again next April. Today the M. S. C. will meet.

County Court To Adjourn In Alberta

MISS CHALEFOUR ON STAND DENIES ALL KNOWLEDGE OF IMPROPER TREATMENT EXTENDED TO HER BY SIR FREDERICK BORDEN TELLS OF HER ILLNESS WHICH SHE DESCRIBES AS PERITONITIS—MISS ARCHANBAULT MAKES UNWILLING DISCLOSURES.

(Continued From Page 1.) mark that the sheriff should clear the court if he could not get order. The witness said that constables were there already. Orders were given to arrest the next offender.

"No," one of those letters was written by me, she said. Every time she said a letter was mine, I told a lie, and I told it under oath. I never wrote such trash. My signature is always on my letters. I acknowledge no letter without my name. Flipping the papers to the floor she said she had sworn they were hers in sarcasm. To Judge Drysdale she recalled her statements that she had lied.

"Do you notice the postmark is Jacksonville?" "It looks like that don't it," was the answer. "It was there at that time. The letter is not in my hand writing."

Each successive letter was reproduced in turn. Miss Chalefour said she had been in New Orleans before going to Jacksonville. She first said she was there a year. Then she said it was in Louisiana. A letter produced was owned, witness saying that the writing looked like her mother's.

"I don't want to get you into trouble," said Mr. Ritchie. "You need not worry about getting me into trouble," was the reply.

After letter alleged to be hers were repudiated. A fresh supply of letters was produced. The mother, but a like fate awaited these.

At this point a jurymen left the room and the proceedings were held up a quarter of an hour. During the interval Miss Chalefour called Mr. Wickwire to her and talked with him.

A bill for nursing in which a charge for delivery $20, was produced. Miss Chalefour jumped up and secured it. She said the doctor did not know what was the matter with her. He had said she had valvular disease of the heart and peritonitis. The doctors did not know what ailed her.

The stenographers' table was literally piled with letters repudiated by witness and still she protested that she knew nothing of the letters. With alternate smiles and gestures of defiance she repudiated the letters which were in turn initialed and filed. Witness said she was in Crowley near New Orleans two years ago. She swore she was not in Crowley in April in spite of a letter exhibited.

Photographs Produced. The photograph of the witness exhibited in the morning was handed to witness. It was taken at Crowley. Witness seized it and tore it up. She said she would be prevented from doing so. "I am not going to have my mother have my photograph. Everybody gazed in wonder at the sight of the witness as a breach of the court rules."

Miss Chalefour was not repentant Judge Drysdale told her of the enormity of the offence of destroying her own letters. She must act differently, he said, or he would have to send her below.

"I hardly know what to do with you," said his lordship. "I am not on trial," said Miss Chalefour, rising to her feet in anger. "I'm here to give evidence, gentlemen," she said, stretching out her arms. "I fall to see why my private letters have been brought into court and given to the public. I have said on my oath that Sir Frederick Borden was talking to do with me."

Mr. Ritchie called attention again to the improprieties of the witness's actions. His lordship said she would say to behave in a proper manner. She placed her in custody and adjourn the court. Another letter was handed to witness, she promising not to tear it up. It was from Jacksonville. She referred to the picture she had just turned up. "Charlie and Elsie mentioned it in even her cousins, the letter was not from her."

"That you have sworn to has been all lies," said Mr. Ritchie. "Yes, they are all lies. I have been caught in lies, sure. Great evidence you got," she said.

The court adjourned at 5 o'clock amid scenes of great excitement. Crowds discussed the sensational developments of the streets and everywhere it was the all-absorbing topic.

Kentville, N. S., Oct. 13.—At the opening session of the evidence, the woman alleged to have been taken from her husband by Sir Frederick Borden was among those present.

At the opening of the morning session the question of the admissibility of evidence was argued by Messrs. Ritchie and Roscoe, K. C. Mr. Justice Drysdale said that he had found the rule to be the same in civil as in criminal cases. He would follow the civil procedure and the admissions of Sir Frederick Borden would have proved in the regular way. That would not be received in evidence from Mrs. Allison was the effect of his decision.

Went to Montreal. To Mr. Ritchie, Mrs. Allison said her daughter went to Montreal June 1896. A week after Sir Frederick left her house. In the interval she had had two conversations with him. Sir Frederick went to Montreal nearly every week after her daughter went to Montreal (objection). Mrs. Allison said a cab called for Sir Frederick on the last Saturday in August.

An attempt to introduce the conversation at this time failed. A telegram from the daughter to Sir Frederick was not admitted. The notice that it was to be introduced not having been given.

Eye Opener In Evidence. Handing Mrs. Allison the copy of the Eye Opener put in evidence, Mrs. Allison said she had seen her daughter about four times in Montreal. She had seen her in September last in Baltimore. The daughter returned to her home over Sunday and searched for the telegram a week after (Mrs. Allison) had found it.

Here again an objection was raised by Mr. Roscoe and the information sought could not be elicited.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF SIR FREDERICK AND HIS DAUGHTER WERE IDENTIFIED BY THE WITNESS

The non-jury case of Margaret Sullivan vs. John McNamee, the last case on the docket, was heard at the adjourned session of the September Circuit Court which opened in the Equity Chambers yesterday morning.

The action is for trespass to land in the Parish of Simonds, on which the plaintiff's land, belonging to the defendant, was trespassed. The plaintiff alleges that about February last the defendant entered upon the land in question and set down and hauled away trees and stumps.

The defendant, in his plea, says that the land does not belong to the plaintiff, and at the time of the alleged trespass was in the possession of Josephine McGill and Maria Sharkey, and that he (the defendant) committed the alleged trespass as a servant of the owners.

Mr. N. Skinner, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. A. Powell, K. C., and Mr. J. H. A. L. Fairweather for the defendant. The proceedings at both sessions were attended by frequent fits between counsel. The evidence was also amusing at times.

Morning Session. In opening Mr. Skinner for the title of the land was not disputed, but the title of the land was the real point in issue. The plaintiff was in a position to produce deeds showing her title to the property. Also she would claim by possession as the plaintiff had been in possession for over twenty years.

Whitman Moran, of Somerville, Mass., formerly of this city was the first witness.

Examined by Mr. Skinner, witness said that plaintiff's father lived in the gravel pit on the land from 1872 to 1883. One O'Shea, pastured cattle and sheep on this property. The O'Sheas lived in Simonds from 1850 to 1855.

The hearing was then adjourned until the afternoon.

Afternoon Session. Miss Mary Kelley, sister of the previous witness, was the first witness examined on resuming in the afternoon.

Mr. Skinner—What is your age? Witness—Really, I could not tell you.

Pressed, witness said that years ago she was between 36 and 38 years of age.

Q.—When was this? A.—When I went to live in the States.

Q.—When did you leave this country? A.—I do not know.

Continuing witness said 52 years ago she helped plaintiff's father hoe potatoes in a field near the disputed land.

Cross-examined by Mr. Powell witness stated that she did not know her exact age.

The question of the distance of a potato patch from the gravel pit arose. Witness said she did not know the distance to the gravel pit?

Ans.—I do not know. Q.—What is your judgment as to the distance? A.—I have no judgment. I will not tell lies for all the lawyers in the world.

Mr. Powell—Do not engaged in an argument with me. Mr. Skinner—I guess you are the person presenting the argument.

Under re-examination by Mr. Skinner witness said that a hundred feet was a hundred feet.

Witness remembered seeing Sullivan's cattle pasturing on this disputed land.

Re-examined by Mr. Powell. Q.—What was the color of these cows? A.—Some were red, some brindle and some black and white. pit arose.

HEARING YESTERDAY IN CIRCUIT COURT.

St. John people were given an opportunity last evening at three public missionary meetings, to hear a number of the distinguished churchmen attending the General Synod committee meetings being held in the city.

The meetings were held in St. John's school room, St. George's church, Carleton, and St. Luke's school house.

Archbishop Matheson, Primate of all Canada, spoke at the St. John's meeting and predicted a great Empire for the Dominion of Canada.

There was room not only for three dioceses but for the whole of the Dominion. He was warmly welcomed by the young men of the party who have formed a pact with a view to bring pressure upon their leader, Mr. R. J. Borden so that he shall not support the government policy of imperialism.

It is understood in fact that should the Conservative government support the government policy on naval defence he will lose the confidence and approval of his young supporters in the district of Montreal.

There was room not only for three dioceses but for the whole of the Dominion. He was warmly welcomed by the young men of the party who have formed a pact with a view to bring pressure upon their leader, Mr. R. J. Borden so that he shall not support the government policy of imperialism.

Archbishop Matheson referred to his own diocese of Rupert's Land, comprising the Province of Manitoba. In the six years of his episcopacy, 77 new churches had been built representing an outlay of $208,700; 27 vicarages at a cost of $54,000; in the City of Winnipeg there were 19 churches. In another year or two he expected to see the diocese stand independent among the self supporting dioceses.

Canon Tucker. Canon Tucker answered the people who said they did not believe in missions. Aside from the fundamental principles that God was the father of all mankind, that Christ came to save all men and that the Holy Spirit was the comforter of every one, missions could stand for themselves before any intelligent audience.

Under the old order of things if a clergyman did not get along in his parish or in his diocese, he was sent to the mission field. There he was the best man of the colleges were chosen as missionaries. It was not a reasonable proposition that the pick of the university graduates of Christian lands could devote their lives to service in heathen countries and no good result.

After referring to the comparatively small amount of money raised for missions, Canon Tucker closed with an eloquent appeal for the work in China. The Chinaman, he said, the best specimen of manhood in mind and body of any nation in the world. They worked all day and part of the night uncomplacently, and only a little rice for food. They were 400,000,000 of them, one quarter of the human race and one half of the heathen people on earth, as many as the entire Christian population of the world.

Instead of looking back 800 years to the time of William the Conqueror, the Chinaman looked back over the ages, 5,000 years ago, and his blood was the same as yours and mine. He was making astronomical observations while Abraham was tending sheep. When Moses gave the law in the wilderness, the Chinese were ruling in China. Ladies in the Chinese court were garbed in richest silks while women in Boadicea's land daubed themselves with wood.

It was little wonder that the Chinese were exclusive and wished to keep to themselves. Their bitter experience with the European nations taught them this. First came the Portuguese buccanniers then the British in the shameful opium wars, and the seizure of Hong Kong, followed by Japan, Germany and France. The empire of Peking had been defined.

China had at last awakened. She was following in the way of Japan and adopting European customs, dress, and methods of warfare. An army of 10,000,000 trained men will be put in the field and she will defy the world.

It rested with the church to meet the peril. Missionaries were welcome for the Chinese were eager to learn and the gospel the Prince of Peace must be carried to them.

Dr. Tucker closed with an appeal for contributions and Bishop Richardson presented some figures as to the amount required from St. John. A large number were in attendance and the meeting was a most successful one.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH. St. Luke's church was well filled last evening and the congregation listened with close attention to the Bishop of Moosemees, the Bishop of Athabasca, and Principal Rexford of Montreal. His Lordship the Bishop of Moosemees was the first speaker. He referred to the mission work as being the grandest work in the world. Christ began it and left to His servants.

Much has been said of foreign missions, but very little was heard of the missions in the great Northwest. One might be led to think that Canada was being neglected but this was not the case. The bishop gave an interesting account of the work in the diocese of Moosemees.

He said he had visited the Department of Indian Affairs on his way to St. John and urged that larger grants be given, and that the Government would comply with his request.

The Bishop of Athabasca. Bishop Holmes of the diocese of Athabasca was the next speaker. He also spoke of the good work which was being done in the west and of the hardships which are encountered by the missionaries. He stated that he would like to see the people who are continually nagging about the ministers walking round with nothing to do but wear good clothes make a tattered the wedding.

The first was from John Sullivan and wife to the plaintiff. It was dated January 8, 1922, and recorded on November 8, 1922. The second deed was given by George Walters, executor of George Godfrey Gilbert, to John Sullivan, plaintiff's father. This deed was dated July 9, 1872, and was recorded on February 11, 1873. This latter deed was a conveyance of the same property described in the first deed.

Mr. Skinner called to His Honor's attention that the latter deed contained a reference to the plaintiff's father as occupying the disputed premises prior to the time of its execution.

IMPERIALISM SCORED BY FRECH PRESS

L'Action Sociale Declares That The Young Men Of The Conservative Party In Quebec Are Opposed To Policy.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Oct. 13.—The Montreal correspondent of L'Action Sociale of Quebec who is generally well informed on political matters says: "The news that the government at the coming session will support the naval defence has created a great deal of interest in both political parties. I am informed that an important group of Liberal Conservatives and especially the young men of the party have formed a pact with a view to bring pressure upon their leader, Mr. R. J. Borden so that he shall not support the government policy of imperialism."

It is understood in fact that should the Conservative government support the government policy on naval defence he will lose the confidence and approval of his young supporters in the district of Montreal.

WILL AUTHOR PLAY PROVE HIS PLAY RE COMING LITIGATION

London, Oct. 13.—Everybody heard of J. M. Barrie, the author who became a famous playwright. He wrote the Little Peter Pan, and lately what is known as "The Boy David." Everybody knows that he has this information from a gentleman of very high standing in the Conservative party.

It is understood in fact that should the Conservative government support the government policy on naval defence he will lose the confidence and approval of his young supporters in the district of Montreal.

There was room not only for three dioceses but for the whole of the Dominion. He was warmly welcomed by the young men of the party who have formed a pact with a view to bring pressure upon their leader, Mr. R. J. Borden so that he shall not support the government policy of imperialism.

TALKED TOO MUCH.

A most unhappy diplomat is Mr. Charles R. Crane, Minister of the United States to China, whose promotion to the position of ex-minister will have taken place when the President has received his resignation. Mr. Crane's term of office was exceedingly short. He was called back at San Francisco, when he was about to sail for China. To lose a position so interesting and so important at a time when it offered great diplomatic opportunities, and after all the congratulations had been received, farwells spoken and bouquets flung, is an unpleasant experience. But that is nothing to the sad reflection that he will always be pointed out as the ambassador who was retired because he talked too much before he got to work. It is a situation that cannot be explained away, for the more Mr. Crane tries to explain about it, the more people will be liable to say that they understand now how it happened. Only silence on the part of Mr. Crane will vindicate him as a man who does not talk, and if he could not keep silence as a minister he will surely find it hard to do in private life.

Mr. Crane conceived the idea, or was confidentially informed that he was going to Asia to repress the arrogance of Japan, and to cause that ambitious little nation to loosen her grip on Manchuria and her authority over the court of Peking. And behold, or ever he had felt the gentle swell of the Pacific under him, Japan has reached over that ocean and caused Mr. Crane to disappear from international politics and to go back to his own house. So vanish the aspirations of Mr. Crane, buried under the chrysanthemums.

When the United States lent the city of Portsmouth to Russia and Japan for treaty purposes and threw in her good offices as part of the bargain, Washington began to consider that she would have her share of suggestion as to the operation of the compact. Russia gave up all control of Manchuria and has not since tried to modify the sacrifice. Japan was understood by the United States to have promised an open door in that province with an equal chance for all. But Japan construes this treaty in her own way, and keeps a large assortment of preferences for herself in Northern China. China may object in her way, but she allowed Russia to dictate in Manchuria as an incident to the control of the railway. She is allowing Japan to do the same and Japan follows the Russian example by keeping a small army on the ground disguised as railway police, by taking other railway concessions, by opening to herself certain ports, and generally by an effectual suzerainty.

Meanwhile Europe seemed to be obtaining some financial control which was not extended to the United States. Capital jointly provided through the banking interests of several European nations was furnished for a national railway system. The United States was left out of the international deal. Protests followed, a re-arrangement was made and the United States was allowed to lend a part of the money and so get a share of the revenue then that went with it. By this time the situation so developed that it was thought well to send a strong man as United States minister to China. Mr. Crane was that strong man. He was appointed. He went to Washington and discussed the situation thoroughly with the President and Secretary of State.

Afterwards a Chicago paper explained in great detail what Mr. Crane had on his mind, telling how Japan must not be allowed to go on securing China, how it had been found necessary for the United States to hold up China and force a loan on that country, with a general idea of the secret position. Mr. Crane said that he did not tell the paper these things, but that they were, and the Japanese minister at Washington saw it all. The statements were as exact as Mr. Crane or the Foreign Secretary could have given them, and they were connected with Mr. Crane's appointment. Moreover he had made several speeches not nearly so instructive, but referring to some of the same matters, and taken with the newspaper articles exceedingly unfortunate. Further Mr. Crane was talking with him as a kind of secretary, a clever young writer who had already discussed China and the concessions from a strongly anti-Japanese standpoint. The position was such that Mr. Crane could not go to China as minister without a severe strain on the relations between the United States and Japan. Hence he remains at home.

Even then Mr. Knox, the Minister by whom he was appointed, and by whom he is recalled, was to work out a heavy programme of explanations with Japan. He must induce Japan to pretend to believe that there was no design of suppressing Japan in the appointment of Mr. Crane. Diplomatic and Oriental courtesy will cause the assurance to be accepted, but the next appointment will be watched with great care from Tokio. Mr. Knox will find his second choice much harder than the first, and the appointee will find himself involved in clouds of Eastern suspicion probably discernible to the naked eye in spite of exquisite compliments.

The new minister might spend a few preliminary days at Washington in a study of Ambassador Bryce. He will thus learn the fine art of concealing his thoughts without holding his tongue.

THE EVIDENCE AGAINST COOK.

It is plain that Commander Peary was over-confident when he announced that the publication of his statement would convince all the people that Dr. Cook had never been at the North Pole. The statement has been given out. It leaves the multitude where they were before, some believers in Cook and some not.

produced by Commander Peary and signed by some of his associates it is certainly explicit and circumstantial. If these were civilized white men and free from influence or ray kind, their evidence would be convincing. Dr. Cook says that they have simply carried out their promise to him not to tell where he had been and what he had done. In that case they have obeyed with much supervision. They have not only refrained from saying where he was on the days that he was going north, and in the first part of his return, but they have found other places for him and have invented new sets of facts of an interesting character beyond the range of their ordinary experience. It is difficult to see how their story could have been so circumstantial if it were not true or had not been concocted with expert assistance.

But then see where the acceptance of the story leaves us. It makes Dr. Cook's whole narrative, which occupies some twelve chapters in the press, a series of impudent falsehoods. The marches that he made day by day were never performed. The observations taken as he went forward were all bogus. Those leads which he describes so fully did not exist. His storms of wind and snow were all of the mind. The photographs which he displays of the igloo and the Eskimos and the flags at the pole were deliberately arranged elsewhere. All the story of the disappearing provisions was invented since he got back to the starting point with his sleds loaded down. The statement made to Whitney was untrue. The letter he wrote to Bruner was untrue. All the detailed information given to the Danish learned societies in Copenhagen, and all the scientific records which he has submitted or prepared for submission, are a mass of fables, and he has himself been guilty of the most contemptible scheme of false pretence ever imposed on the public.

We must take our choice, or hold our mind a little longer in suspense, while others accustomed to the kind of evidence submitted shall try to pass upon it. The attitude of suspense will probably be taken by most serious and thoughtful people.

But it is pitiful that an explorer great enough to accomplish a task which has been attempted by many heroic souls, should now be devoting his powers to the work of proving that another explorer is a fraud and a fakir. This is not the high argument in which the splendid band of Arctic navigators expected to be engaged in if they had survived.

THE HARBOR BRIDGE.

The Telegraph is discovering that it is Mr. Hazen's fault that there is no bridge over St. John harbor. There would soon be no Provincial money or credit to build anything, or pay the ordinary expenses of the province if Mr. Hazen were to pay for all the things that all the people would like to have. The suggestion that the bridge would be built if the city would pay a third, the Federal Government a third, and the Dominion Government a third, is familiar. There are three reasons why it has not been worked out. One is that the city Government has not undertaken to pay a third. Another is that the Provincial Government has not undertaken to pay one third. The other is that the Dominion Government has not undertaken to pay one third. No one of the three parties has made any promise or given any assurance, or taken any kind of decisive action. If the city of St. John is willing to pay one-third of the price it has not said so, and until the city has indicated its willingness it is not likely that either government will make a proposition calling upon the citizens to contribute.

At present the Street Railway Company and the Provincial Government are ascertaining whether the existing Suspension Bridge can be used for the street railway line, and if not what will be the cost of a new superstructure.

The New York Sun refers to a remark of Professor Sumner of Yale who foresees the possibilities of a return to the general belief in witchcraft. Professor Sumner's suggestion is recalled by a current event in New York. The leaders of a large and growing religious body have suspended the best known teacher of that faith in the city of New York, charging her with the offence, among others, of using "malicious animal magnetism." "It is alleged," says the Sun, "that she was able to cause great distress and injury to her enemies by the exercise of a 'mysterious power.'" The Sun admits that the charge of the Christian Science leaders against Mrs. Stetson, is not attribute personal relations with the Evil One, but they bring irresistibly to mind the days of the Salem trials and support the theory of a possible revival of witchcraft.

It is not often that a man under sentence to the penitentiary and out under bail is elected to the presidency of two large transportation companies. This has happened to Charles W. Morse, whose sentence to a long term of imprisonment is confirmed. Pending the result of the appeal, Mr. Morse has reduced his debts from seven millions to five millions so that it is fair to expect that a few more months of freedom would enable him to restore everything that has been lost through his dishonesty and misfortunes. There will doubtless be strong pressure on the executive for his pardon, but the case for mercy will not be stronger than that of any other convict who could return the smaller amounts obtained by crime.

Mr. Thomas Cole is not to be Deputy Minister of Marine, but Government agent at Paris in the place of Mr. Fabre retired. Mr. Fabre has not accomplished much for Canada in Paris. The office could only be useful in connection with immigration, and France does not spare many settlers. Immigrants from France, especially farmers, would be an excellent class of people to get, and if Mr. Cole, who is much younger and more vigorous and aggressive than Mr. Fabre, can encourage such immigration he will justify his appointment. He is obviously much better suited for that than for the management of a great spending department.

It is not shown that Mr. Bourassa has joined the Conservatives, or intends to do so. During his last few years in the House of Commons, Mr. Bourassa strongly condemned graft. On several occasions he voted for motions in favor of investigations into charges of corruption. Once he proposed a motion calling for inquiry. At Quebec he has pursued a similar course. If this means joining the Conservatives, so much the worse for the Liberals.

The Halifax Chronicle is strongly urging that the naval shipbuilding programme should go forward with commercial shipbuilding, and that construction works should at once be established at Halifax. It urges that the claims of Halifax be vigorously and intelligently pressed by the people, and that no effort be spared "to bring this great industry to our midst." Has St. John no mind, and have we so soon forgotten the Imperial Dock Company?

Usually one finds the Government press giving full particulars to the Opposition papers of the doings of ministers. But the Minister of Militia is causing one Mr. Carruthers of Kentville to be prosecuted for criminal libel. The first day's proceedings were reported in the Halifax Chronicle in a one inch paragraph of three sentences. The Halifax Herald reports it in three double columns, equal to nearly a page. The minister's activities surely deserve more publicity in his own press.

The estate has been sworn at $7,700, and the provisions include the bequest of the beautiful homestead property on Waterloo Row to the widow.

Another Company.
Montreal, Oct. 13.—The Canadian Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, of which Mr. J. O'Brien is the chief Canadian representative and a British firm, believed to be Vickers, Maxin and Sons, is interested, are at present considering a site and Montreal may be selected if satisfactory terms can be arranged. This scheme along with the Lewis and Clark plans proposed by the Harland and Wolff interests, will provide Canada quite adequately with the necessary plant for providing and caring for the Canadian navy.

Fatal Collision.
Coastlook, Oct. 13.—A fatal collision took place here last night when the local C. P. passenger train from Montreal ran into a freight train on a siding, killing brakeman N. Last Spike Driven.
Windsor, Oct. 13.—The last spike was driven in the National Transcontinental Railroad near Wabougon River yesterday afternoon, and as a result it would be possible today to run a train through to Port William via this line far north of the C. P. R. line. The greater portion of the road will be opened for traffic of any kind before next spring. The contract price, exclusive of station houses, was about $1,000,000. The work was started on what is known as section "B" the construction of the road has been carried out quickly and speedily. The difficulties of building a line through a rock country, intersected by lakes and other obstacles, have been surmounted, some times in entirely new ways. Four miles will be staked out along the line by the Ontario Government, which will supervise the sale of them. The C. P. R. has now practically completed the line from Port William to Edmonton, somewhere in the neighborhood of 1500 miles.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Standard:
Sir—Permit me to make a statement regarding a reported utterance of Dr. Pringle at the Synod and allusion to politics by Dr. Sedgwick. The resolution regarding the members of state functions was:—
"In view of the great evils that have come from the use of alcohol as a beverage, and in view of the fact that the members of Provincial and Federal legislatures, Provincial and Federal judges, and members of the Executive Council, are in the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors, it is recommended that the members of the Synod of Nova Scotia, Provincial and Federal Legislatures, Provincial and Federal Judges, and members of the Executive Council, be requested to abstain from the use of alcohol as a beverage."
In the discussion of this resolution there was misunderstanding. Pringle is reported as having said that the resolution was an intrusion into state affairs. He is reported as saying that it referred only to state functions and not to private life. The Government House he is reported as saying was not to be sold for it—and I suppose Dr. Pringle for the resolution—and why should not the Synod of Nova Scotia (representing the use of liquor in public dinners in Government House) at any public function arranged by members of Parliament counter this custom and encourage drinking, will it not affect the members of the people? In view of the fact that the members of the local house are in the habit of drinking, will it not affect the members of the people? In view of the fact that the members of the local house are in the habit of drinking, will it not affect the members of the people? In view of the fact that the members of the local house are in the habit of drinking, will it not affect the members of the people?
Rev. Mr. Grant had a perfect right to try and displace the Government House, but he had no right to do so in the present court.
Upon which let me remark, that the resolution for provincial prohibition applied to Nova Scotia, as well as Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Conservative Government.
Why did Dr. Sedgwick not ask each member of the moral reform committee and each member of the presbytery of the Maritime Prov-

ASEPTO washes clothes, fabrics, floors, etc., quicker and cleaner than soap.

ASEPTO SOAP POWDER
As ASEPTO is an antiseptic preparation, it is a germ-killer as well as the best soap powder made. Odorless, harmless to clothes and hands, most economical. ASEPTO makes the best soft soap. Dissolve a package in boiling water, pour in two gallons of water, stir and let stand until cool. This gives two gallons of soft soap for 5c. Discerning grocers all sell ASEPTO.

The game today was played with the thermometer hovering between 35 and 40 degrees above zero. A chill which blew from the southeast swept across the field, but the immense grandstand protected the great majority of the spectators. Despite the unfavorable conditions, 21,706 persons saw the game and the receipts were $32,173. Of this sum the National Commission receives $3,217 and each club share in the receipts for the first four games in the series, $18,108. Each club owner has now received $36,786 and the National Commission, $15,610.

At the bat Wagner made one hit in four times up, but reached first three times. In the fifth he was an easy left and in the seventh he was hit in the back by a pitched ball. He dropped to the ground and was evidently in great pain, but he soon recovered and trotted to first base.

Clarke's home run, Wilson opened Pittsburgh's eighth with a double between D. Jones and Crawford, which the former lost in the sun. Wilson scored on Gibson's single to right. Gibson stole second but was caught trying to steal third, Schmidt to Moriarty. The score:

BERNARD CRIBBS.

likely he will remain here and attach himself to one of the local clubs. As this is his first season and he is practically an intermediate his record would go to show that he is "some class" as a runner and no doubt would prove a valuable find for a progressive organization. His greatest victory was won at Boiesston on July 20th when over a hilly course on a rough road he trimmed Pat White and other fast ones in a five mile race in 28.40. At Campbellton on Labor Day he achieved the distinction of winning first in the 100 yard dash as well as the five mile road race.

ROTHESAY 5 FREDERICTON HIGH SCHOOL 0

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 13.—The "13" hoodoo didn't interfere today with the Rothestay Collegiate school football team administering a defeat to the Fredericton High school fifteen at their home grounds in the first interscholastic football game of the season played at College Field. The Rothestay team's victory was due largely to their superior organization and better knowledge of the game while in following up the ball when in play they showed to advantage and altogether a clever lot of "future greats."

First Run Up.
D. Jones, the first man up in the first inning, hit the ball into the first base which had been built around the outfield for the overfow. There was no overfow from the permanent stands and it appeared easy to hit the ball over the low fence.

Tied Score.
Pittsburg tied the score in its half of the first. Byrne hit past Bush and Leach laid a safe hit along the first base foul line. Clarke sacrificed both runners along Stansby's left. Wagner drew a pass and the bases were filled. Miller struck out, but Abstein worked Summers for a pass and Byrne was forced across the plate. Wilson ended the inning by striking out.

AROUND THE CITY

Circuit Court Will Not Adjourn. Just before the Circuit Court adjourned yesterday afternoon, Mr. Justice White announced that the September Circuit would not adjourn sine die until the court en banc handed down its decision in the MacDougall reserved case which will be argued this term. This means that final adjournment will not be made until late in November.

Twenty Million More Logs Rafted. The rafting season on the river closed yesterday with the completion of the work at the Mitchell boom. The season has been a good one, there having been one hundred and ten million logs rafted that year against ninety million last year. The tug Flushing is now on her way down river with the last of the season's logs. It is expected that she will arrive today.

His Wife Missing. Mr. W. H. Scribner, of Acadia St., an employe of Mr. J. S. Gregory, is mourning the departure from home of his wife and has been making some inquiries in an endeavor to locate her. Mrs. Scribner left home on Sunday and in a note she left behind said she would never return. Her note gave no substantial reason for her act. Mr. Scribner has communicated with the police, but they have not seen any trace of the woman, and it is thought she has gone to the states.

To Launch New Motorboat Today. The new motorboat Arrow, which has been built for Mr. E. L. Jarvis, will be launched this morning from Lower Cove Slip. The boat is of an altogether new design, and presents rather an unusual appearance. She is 25 feet overall and is built in the shape of large V. The boat was designed by Mr. Wm. Hans, of New Bedford, and was built by Mr. John Dunlavy, of this city. A 15 horse power Ferro engine has been installed, and it is expected the boat will be very speedy.

The gang were at work on a wall near the epidemic hospital, and the sailor made a dash down the embankment to City Road and was soon out of sight. He is still at liberty. Duggan, who made his escape on Tuesday, has not been heard of since. Healy joined the chain gang a week ago.

An organ selection by Dr. M. C. Baldwin was warmly received. The church choir rendered an anthem and the Misses Smith received a hearty encore for their piano duet and were obliged to respond with a second number.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor McClellan paid a visit to the Seaman's Mission yesterday afternoon and expressed himself as highly pleased with the building and with the work of the seaman's mission. Speaking to Mr. Gorbell, manager of the mission, he promised that should the subscription from now until May 1st, 1910 total $100 he would make his subscription $100 in order to make up the first $1000 towards the sum needed to carry on the work. HARDSHIPS TOLD OF YUKON TERRITORY ARE PURE MYTHS

A. B. Mersereau Formerly of Patterson Settlement Tells Of Experiences In Far North—Away 25 Years.

That the people of eastern Canada have little idea of the extent of the Yukon territory and the value of the country is the sentiment expressed by Mr. Alfred B. Mersereau, a former New Brunswicker, who has made good in the far north and is in the city on his way to visit his old home at Patterson Settlement, Sunbury county. Mr. Mersereau has been away from his native province for 25 years and first settled in Montana, but later removed to Seattle and joined in the very first rush to the Klondyke district in 1897. Following a brief and successful mining venture, Mr. Mersereau engaged in mercantile business and after some years spent in Dawson City removed to Fairbanks, Alaska, where he is at present located. When interviewed by a Standard reporter last evening Mr. Mersereau said that many of the stories told of the hardships of the north were pure myths. Many women went over the trail the first winter and there was no suffering to speak of.

Berries in June. He preferred the climate of Alaska to that of New Brunswick and real farming there was little comparison between the two countries. The berries were ripe in June owing to the many hours of sun and the farm crops ripened correspondingly early. To give an idea of the size of the country Mr. Mersereau said that Fairbanks was more than 1000 miles from Dawson City. In the winter stage lines were run from White Horse to Dawson City and over 200 horses were used on the route. The Yukon River is navigable for 2000 miles without any obstacles in the way of steamers. Mr. Mersereau left last evening for Hoyt Station and will probably remain in the province during the winter.

Baxter, received the third largest number of votes with Ald. McGoldrick a close fourth. HARRY FINN SET FREE BY ORDER OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Chief Clerk Received Wire Last Evening From Edmonton—Finn Thinks Mother Intervened.

On the strength of a telegram received by the chief of police from Inspector Worsley, of the North West Mounted Police at Edmonton, J. Harry Finn, who was arrested Monday charged with the money under false pretences, was given his liberty at 7.30 last evening. The telegram which was dated Oct. 11, the day of the arrest, was as follows: Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 11th, 1909. Chief of Police, St. John, N. B. Attorney general here directs that Finn be released. Please send account of expenses.

INSPECTOR WORSLEY. Mr. Finn was brought from the guard room at Central Police Station and the message was read to him by Chief Clerk, who advised him to take better care of himself in the future than he had been in the habit of doing since coming to St. John. When interviewed by a Standard reporter after his release Mr. Finn said that the outcome of the proceedings was no surprise. He supposed that his mother had arranged everything satisfactorily. He intended leaving for the west this morning.

Habeas Corpus. In connection with Mr. Finn's arrest Mr. E. S. Ritchie acting on his behalf, applied to Judge McLeod on Tuesday for a writ of habeas corpus. His Honor granted the writ, returnable yesterday at noon. Chief of Police Clark, on whom the writ was served, appeared yesterday and showed cause. The chief, in resisting the release of Finn, cited several authorities in support of his argument. The chief's authorities went to show that a prisoner can be held on the strength of a telegram until the proper authorities arrive. Mr. Ritchie argued the police had no authority to hold Finn on the strength of a telegram to the effect that a warrant was issued. He contended that as the liberty of a subject was involved Finn should be released. His Honor reserved his decision. Speaking of the matter last evening Chief Clerk said that although he was glad to see Finn receive his liberty, still he wished it to be understood that the release had nothing to do with Mr. Ritchie's application and he had no doubt that Judge McLeod would have upheld the stand he had taken in resisting the release.

HOUSE OWNERS TO BE PROSECUTED BY BOARD OF HEALTH

Steps To Be Taken Against 53 For Unsanitary Premises—Few Cases Of Tuberculosis Reported.

At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon orders were issued that the prosecution of fifty-three owners of houses in the city, who have not modern sanitary conveniences on their premises should be at once proceeded with. The inspectors of the board have reported these cases and up to the present this number have made no move to fulfill the regulations of the board. The action will probably be taken within a few days. The matter of distributing literature bearing on the prevention of tuberculosis was also discussed. It was reported that the schools had been provided with the suitable pamphlet through the offices of Inspector McLeod and Superintendent Bridges. Literature has also been sent to the homes of those from which a case of tuberculosis has been reported by medical men. The books for making such reports were opened at the local Board of Health rooms on October 1st, but so far only a few cases have been entered. A large amount of routine business was transacted at the meeting.

"A FOOL FOR LUCK." Pythian Play is Making Great Hit at Opera House—Orchestra a Special Feature.

The St. John amateurs participating in the comedy "A Fool for Luck," at the Opera House added to their laurels last evening when they gave the second production of the show before a large and appreciative audience. The nervousness and nervousness of the first night were entirely absent and all acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. The staging and the costuming of the piece and specialties were all commented on most favorably. One feature of the production that has been most highly spoken of is the excellent music furnished by the special orchestra of twenty members under the direction of Fred C. Jones. Many have been heard to remark that it is the best aggregation of the kind St. John has ever had. The performance will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night when in the entire point to two more big houses. Tonight members of the Uniform Rank of the K. P. will attend in uniform, adding interest to the occasion.

Mahoney-Dugay. A pretty wedding was solemnized in the cathedral last evening at eight o'clock, when Mr. Timothy Mahoney, of St. John, was united in marriage to Miss Dugay, formerly of the North Shore, but now living in St. John, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Meahan. Many handsome and valuable gifts received from friends testified to the popularity of the young couple.
