

Scott Act Cases

On Friday, Feb. 5th, W. S. Brown, of Newcastle, was placed in jail for sixty days in default of payment of $100 and costs recorded against him for a second offence against the Canada Temperance Act in August last.

On Friday, Feb. 5th, a conviction was recorded against Mrs. Catherine Fitzpatrick for a second offence against the C. T. A. The case was tried before John Niven, Esq. In default of payment of the fine of $100 and costs Mrs. Fitzpatrick was on Monday last lodged in jail for ninety days.

A complaint was entered against Mrs. Helen Stewart, of Newcastle, for violation of the C. T. A. The case came up for trial before Police Magistrate J. Niven, Esq., on Saturday last. On the evening before she went and acknowledged the offence and was fined $50 and costs or ninety days in jail.

A case against Harry Graham was down for trial on Saturday last before John Niven, Esq., when in consequence of the absence of witnesses it was adjourned until Friday next.

Catherine Davidson, Blackville, against whom a complaint was entered for violation of the C. T. A., the case being set down for trial on Wednesday, 17th inst., before S. U. McCully, Esq., presented herself on Monday, acknowledged her guilt and was fined $50 and costs.

Adjourned case against George Palmer, Chatham, came up for trial before S. U. McCully, Esq., on Tuesday, 16th inst., when it was dismissed for lack of evidence.

The Late Fire

The insurance awards have been agreed upon and satisfactorily settled. Mr. Donald Morrison gets the full amount of his insurance $2,000, from the Quebec Fire Insurance Co.

Mr. Stables gets his full amount of $300 from the Sun Co., of London, G. B. Mr. James Rendle gets the $1500 out of his insurance of $750 in the Union & Phoenix of London, G. B.

Mrs. Wheeler gets the full amount of her insurance on her house and store $400 and is allowed $150 damages for the loss of which was insured for $300. The damages allowed is not considered enough as the pedlar was broken off and the case considerably scratched. Insured in the Sun Co., of London, G. B.

Mr. Lonsbury is to be allowed for damages to stock in the hurried removal. Mrs. Demers, who had $300 on her stock is allowed $300 for damages. Her insurance is in the Atlas of London, and Mr. Street, the Agent here handled over a cheque for the amount on Monday, just one week from the date of the fire. A cheque for $2000 was also received the same day by Mr. Street, for the insurance in the Atlas on the engine house.

Mr. Phinney expects to commence building at once, and will erect a double store and workshop on the land owned by him and that on which the lock up stood. He will erect the workshop at once.

Mr. Doyle, it is reported, will rebuild on the site of his former property. Mr. James Robinson will build on the site of the buildings occupied by Mrs. Demers and Mr. John Clark.

Mrs. Wheeler, report says, will also build on the land leased by her from the county. Mr. Lonsbury will build on the lot adjoining his warehouse, the lease of which has been made over to him by Mr. Geo. Stables.

A small building is in course of erection on the fire engine house site, (over the outlet from the station well on the square), to accommodate the fire appliances until a new building is erected. We understand it is proposed to erect the new fire engine house further down the wharf so that the river water will be within reach of the suction hose at all states of the tide.

Strathadam Notes

Strathadam, Feb. 15th, 1897. The winter has been very remarkable so far. A great number of our feathered friends have remained with us, although they do not sing, their bright colors still enliven the landscape. Robins have been seen several times and sometimes found dead in the snow. Snow birds in great numbers fly past with a merry chirp. They are indeed welcome companions and we hope they will not be frozen by the cold.

Merit Made Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is perfectly clear that if you want to save your muscles or any other delicate fabric you must use a soap free from excess of alkali. Such is ECLIPSE a neutral soap with full detergent properties. One bar will convince you. TRY ONE. Order a twin bar from your grocer.

Granby Rubbers. Modelling each year to fit all the latest shoe shapes. Extra thick ball and heel. They Wear like iron.

Not Discouraged. I beg to inform my customers and the public generally that I intend building at once on the old site, but as it will be the first of June before I can have the new building ready for occupation I am putting up a temporary place near the old site and in a few days will be able to attend as usual to the wants of all who may favor me with their patronage. Notice of new stock will be given next week.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have just received a large supply of PATENT MEDICINES, consisting of South American Rheumatic Cure, Kidney Cure, and Nervine Tonic, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for Coughs and Croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and Dr. Agnew's Head Cure, Catarrh Powder, Ointment and Pills.

Munyon's Remedies. Kola Wine, and Excelsior Egg Preserver always in stock. The Newcastle Drug Store, 21, Leith Street, Proprietor. Newcastle, Sept. 14th, 1896.

TO CURE AN OBSTINATE COUGH. Leading doctors recommend CAMPBELL'S WINE OF BEECH TREES. It is sold in bottles of 1/2 and 1/4 gallon. Ask your Druggist for it. K. CAMPBELL & Co., Montreal.

PROVISIONS. Consisting of Flour, Beef, Pork, Ham, Bacon, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Harley, Peas, Soap, Lard, Bran and Feed, Rolled oats and standard Oatmeal and Cornmeal in bins, and 4 lbs., Ontario and Montreal Cracked Feed, etc. American Heavy Oil, etc.

Removed. My Customers and the public generally are hereby notified that they will find my office and warehouse in the building on the Public Wharf, formerly occupied by John McEgan, Esq., where I will keep on hand a full supply of No reasonable offer refused. Store in the Power Building, fronting the Square.

Merit Made Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is perfectly clear that if you want to save your muscles or any other delicate fabric you must use a soap free from excess of alkali. Such is ECLIPSE a neutral soap with full detergent properties. One bar will convince you. TRY ONE. Order a twin bar from your grocer.

Granby Rubbers. Modelling each year to fit all the latest shoe shapes. Extra thick ball and heel. They Wear like iron.

Not Discouraged. I beg to inform my customers and the public generally that I intend building at once on the old site, but as it will be the first of June before I can have the new building ready for occupation I am putting up a temporary place near the old site and in a few days will be able to attend as usual to the wants of all who may favor me with their patronage. Notice of new stock will be given next week.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have just received a large supply of PATENT MEDICINES, consisting of South American Rheumatic Cure, Kidney Cure, and Nervine Tonic, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for Coughs and Croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and Dr. Agnew's Head Cure, Catarrh Powder, Ointment and Pills.

Munyon's Remedies. Kola Wine, and Excelsior Egg Preserver always in stock. The Newcastle Drug Store, 21, Leith Street, Proprietor. Newcastle, Sept. 14th, 1896.

TO CURE AN OBSTINATE COUGH. Leading doctors recommend CAMPBELL'S WINE OF BEECH TREES. It is sold in bottles of 1/2 and 1/4 gallon. Ask your Druggist for it. K. CAMPBELL & Co., Montreal.

PROVISIONS. Consisting of Flour, Beef, Pork, Ham, Bacon, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Harley, Peas, Soap, Lard, Bran and Feed, Rolled oats and standard Oatmeal and Cornmeal in bins, and 4 lbs., Ontario and Montreal Cracked Feed, etc. American Heavy Oil, etc.

Removed. My Customers and the public generally are hereby notified that they will find my office and warehouse in the building on the Public Wharf, formerly occupied by John McEgan, Esq., where I will keep on hand a full supply of No reasonable offer refused. Store in the Power Building, fronting the Square.

Merit Made Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is perfectly clear that if you want to save your muscles or any other delicate fabric you must use a soap free from excess of alkali. Such is ECLIPSE a neutral soap with full detergent properties. One bar will convince you. TRY ONE. Order a twin bar from your grocer.

Granby Rubbers. Modelling each year to fit all the latest shoe shapes. Extra thick ball and heel. They Wear like iron.

Not Discouraged. I beg to inform my customers and the public generally that I intend building at once on the old site, but as it will be the first of June before I can have the new building ready for occupation I am putting up a temporary place near the old site and in a few days will be able to attend as usual to the wants of all who may favor me with their patronage. Notice of new stock will be given next week.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have just received a large supply of PATENT MEDICINES, consisting of South American Rheumatic Cure, Kidney Cure, and Nervine Tonic, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for Coughs and Croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and Dr. Agnew's Head Cure, Catarrh Powder, Ointment and Pills.

Munyon's Remedies. Kola Wine, and Excelsior Egg Preserver always in stock. The Newcastle Drug Store, 21, Leith Street, Proprietor. Newcastle, Sept. 14th, 1896.

TO CURE AN OBSTINATE COUGH. Leading doctors recommend CAMPBELL'S WINE OF BEECH TREES. It is sold in bottles of 1/2 and 1/4 gallon. Ask your Druggist for it. K. CAMPBELL & Co., Montreal.

PROVISIONS. Consisting of Flour, Beef, Pork, Ham, Bacon, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Harley, Peas, Soap, Lard, Bran and Feed, Rolled oats and standard Oatmeal and Cornmeal in bins, and 4 lbs., Ontario and Montreal Cracked Feed, etc. American Heavy Oil, etc.

Removed. My Customers and the public generally are hereby notified that they will find my office and warehouse in the building on the Public Wharf, formerly occupied by John McEgan, Esq., where I will keep on hand a full supply of No reasonable offer refused. Store in the Power Building, fronting the Square.

Merit Made Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is perfectly clear that if you want to save your muscles or any other delicate fabric you must use a soap free from excess of alkali. Such is ECLIPSE a neutral soap with full detergent properties. One bar will convince you. TRY ONE. Order a twin bar from your grocer.

Granby Rubbers. Modelling each year to fit all the latest shoe shapes. Extra thick ball and heel. They Wear like iron.

Not Discouraged. I beg to inform my customers and the public generally that I intend building at once on the old site, but as it will be the first of June before I can have the new building ready for occupation I am putting up a temporary place near the old site and in a few days will be able to attend as usual to the wants of all who may favor me with their patronage. Notice of new stock will be given next week.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have just received a large supply of PATENT MEDICINES, consisting of South American Rheumatic Cure, Kidney Cure, and Nervine Tonic, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for Coughs and Croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and Dr. Agnew's Head Cure, Catarrh Powder, Ointment and Pills.

Munyon's Remedies. Kola Wine, and Excelsior Egg Preserver always in stock. The Newcastle Drug Store, 21, Leith Street, Proprietor. Newcastle, Sept. 14th, 1896.

TO CURE AN OBSTINATE COUGH. Leading doctors recommend CAMPBELL'S WINE OF BEECH TREES. It is sold in bottles of 1/2 and 1/4 gallon. Ask your Druggist for it. K. CAMPBELL & Co., Montreal.

PROVISIONS. Consisting of Flour, Beef, Pork, Ham, Bacon, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Harley, Peas, Soap, Lard, Bran and Feed, Rolled oats and standard Oatmeal and Cornmeal in bins, and 4 lbs., Ontario and Montreal Cracked Feed, etc. American Heavy Oil, etc.

Removed. My Customers and the public generally are hereby notified that they will find my office and warehouse in the building on the Public Wharf, formerly occupied by John McEgan, Esq., where I will keep on hand a full supply of No reasonable offer refused. Store in the Power Building, fronting the Square.

Merit Made Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is perfectly clear that if you want to save your muscles or any other delicate fabric you must use a soap free from excess of alkali. Such is ECLIPSE a neutral soap with full detergent properties. One bar will convince you. TRY ONE. Order a twin bar from your grocer.

Granby Rubbers. Modelling each year to fit all the latest shoe shapes. Extra thick ball and heel. They Wear like iron.

Not Discouraged. I beg to inform my customers and the public generally that I intend building at once on the old site, but as it will be the first of June before I can have the new building ready for occupation I am putting up a temporary place near the old site and in a few days will be able to attend as usual to the wants of all who may favor me with their patronage. Notice of new stock will be given next week.

NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE. We have just received a large supply of PATENT MEDICINES, consisting of South American Rheumatic Cure, Kidney Cure, and Nervine Tonic, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for Coughs and Croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and Dr. Agnew's Head Cure, Catarrh Powder, Ointment and Pills.

Munyon's Remedies. Kola Wine, and Excelsior Egg Preserver always in stock. The Newcastle Drug Store, 21, Leith Street, Proprietor. Newcastle, Sept. 14th, 1896.

TO CURE AN OBSTINATE COUGH. Leading doctors recommend CAMPBELL'S WINE OF BEECH TREES. It is sold in bottles of 1/2 and 1/4 gallon. Ask your Druggist for it. K. CAMPBELL & Co., Montreal.

PROVISIONS. Consisting of Flour, Beef, Pork, Ham, Bacon, Tea, Sugar, Molasses, Harley, Peas, Soap, Lard, Bran and Feed, Rolled oats and standard Oatmeal and Cornmeal in bins, and 4 lbs., Ontario and Montreal Cracked Feed, etc. American Heavy Oil, etc.

Removed. My Customers and the public generally are hereby notified that they will find my office and warehouse in the building on the Public Wharf, formerly occupied by John McEgan, Esq., where I will keep on hand a full supply of No reasonable offer refused. Store in the Power Building, fronting the Square.

McALLISTER'S Way Down on Groceries & Provisions. 3lb Sodas for 20c. 3 doz. Apples for 20c. 5 cakes Soap for 20c. 11 Lemons for 20c. Good Tea, per lb. 17c. Molasses, per gal. 40c. Cranberries, per gal. 25c. Onions, 3lb for 25c. Pork, Beef, Flour, Meal, as much for $1 as you want. Choice Confectionery for 10c. per lb. Canned goods of all kinds, spices of all kinds. All my goods are at a reduction. JOHN McALLISTER. Newcastle, Feb. 15.

Clarke & Co.'s Cash Store. Great Clearing Sale of Boots and Shoes. In order to make room for our spring goods, which we expect to arrive shortly, we have marked down our entire stock of shoes at prices to clear at once. Large stock of grey and white cottons, sheetings, pillow cottons, tickings and flannellets have just been received and marked at our NEW CASH PRICES. All winter clothes, etc., reduced in price. CLARKE & CO., Newcastle, Jan. 26th, 1897.

Miramichi Foundry STEAM ENGINE & BOILER WORKS CHATHAM, N. B. JOSEPH M. RUDDOCK, PROPRIETOR. Steam Engines and Boilers, Mill Machinery of all kinds; Steamers of any size constructed and furnished, complete. GANG, ROGERS, SHINGLE and LATH MACHINES, CASTINGS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS. Iron Pipe, Valves and Fitting of all kinds. Designs, Plans and Estimates on Application.

Removed to My New Building. I return my thanks to my customers for their generous patronage since I started in the Tinware business. I have now removed to my new shop just above the Ferry Road and shall be glad to have my customers and the public generally call upon me when they want anything in my line. My stock comprises—Hall and Parlor Stoves, Cooking Stoves and Ranges, Furnaces of improved make promptly fitted up. TINWARE. In Tinware I have everything a housekeeper needs. The following is a few of the lines kept in stock—Fish Skimmers, Pancake Turners, Kitchen Spoons, Flesh Forks, Flour Sifters, Pie Tins, Washington Cake Pans, Mrs. Potts' Sad Irons, Coal Hoops—fancy and plain, Stove Pipe and Elbows, Dampers and Collars. Tinware made to order or promptly repaired. Contracts taken for Roofing in iron, tin, mica and felt. FRANK MASSON. Newcastle, Nov. 23, 1896.

TREMENDOUS CASH Slaughter SALE of Fall Dry Goods at J. D. Creaghan's. Dress Goods, Household Drapery, Carpets, Men's Clothing, Cottons Flannellets, Ladies' Jackets, Capes and Furs. Many lines of staple goods at less than 1/2 price. Rich pattern printed Flannellets, worth 12c, now only 7c. Men's all wool underclothing $1.00 a suit, formerly $1.50; everything else priced accordingly. Our prices are less than the lowest quotations of Toronto or Montreal firms. NO GOODS ON CREDIT DURING THIS SALE. WHOLESALE & RETAIL. J. D. CREAGHAN, Newcastle and Chatham. Newcastle, Oct. 12th, 1896.

Printing of all kinds neatly done at the ADVOCATE Office. Without any doubt, the premium picture offered by the Family Herald and Weekly Star is the grandest picture ever offered newspaper readers. There is a perfect scramble from all parts of the world to secure a copy. Some subscribers who have received it would not part with it for a $10 bill. The publishers will without the premium shortly. We have made arrangements, however, with the Family Herald publishers, whereby they guarantee to supply the "ORPHAN'S PRAYER" to all names sent in by the Union Advocate on or before 15th February. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is the recognized leader of all weeklies in America. We offer "THE ORPHAN'S PRAYER," THE Family Herald and Weekly Star, (One Year) and The Union Advocate, (One Year) All for $1.75. Don't Fail to Secure a Copy. Send subscriptions to the Advocate Office, Newcastle, N. B.

SHARP'S BALSAM OF Horehound and Aniseed cures Croup, Coughs, Colds. 50 YEARS IN USE. Price 25c a bottle. I am off for McLeod's. When you come to Town let us make you a Suit of Clothes. Something that will Fit You, for course if you want a poor cheap suit we are not in it but for good cloth, good wear and good fit this is the spot at moderate prices. Cutter Block where the Bank of Nova Scotia and yours truly have plenty of money. Simon McLeod, Newcastle, Feb. 12th, 1897.

SHARP'S BALSAM OF Horehound and Aniseed cures Croup, Coughs, Colds. 50 YEARS IN USE. Price 25c a bottle. I am off for McLeod's. When you come to Town let us make you a Suit of Clothes. Something that will Fit You, for course if you want a poor cheap suit we are not in it but for good cloth, good wear and good fit this is the spot at moderate prices. Cutter Block where the Bank of Nova Scotia and yours truly have plenty of money. Simon McLeod, Newcastle, Feb. 12th, 1897.

Relief for Lung Troubles

THE BEST COMBINATION YET

"The Family Herald and Weekly Star," "The Beautiful Premium" "Orphan's Prayer," and "The Union Advocate."

All for $1.75.

On the crest of the wave of success is The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, a paper too well known to need any description. The Family Herald and Weekly Star has a beautiful premium picture this season for all new and renew subscribers. It is entitled "The Orphan's Prayer." The Family Herald and Weekly Star, together with the Union Advocate and the premium plate will be secured for $1.75, by remitting direct to the Advocate office.

Something New

Copp's Royal Warm Air Heater.

For Dwellings, Churches and Stores. The most powerful and economical heater made. A constant fire can be kept going night and day. Call at D. Morrison's store where you will see one in operation.

J. H. Phinney, Agent for Newcastle. Newcastle, Oct. 6, 1896.

PROPERTY FOR SALE,

To be sold at private sale the house and lot known as No. 222, The above premises will be disposed of at private sale.

For Terms and other particulars apply to HENRY, REVVER, Newcastle, Jan 23rd, 1894.

Just Received

A Fresh supply of

WINDSOR'S

Canned Salmon and Lobsters, also the celebrated

SALABA TEA.

Come and get a sample package of this choice Ceylon Tea. It is put up in 1/2 pound at 15, 20 and 25c.

Fresh Fruit Arriving Daily.

Geo. Stables.

DR. CATES, DENTIST

Will occupy his dental office, over Mr. Thomas Russell's store, in the Hays' building.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR RHEUMATISM.

Is there a chance to rise in your business? asked the young man who had answered an advertisement.

TAILORING

I wish to remind my patrons and the public generally that I am still

Carrying on the Tailoring

in the old stand over Messrs. Sutherland and Creighton's Store, I have a fine

An Inducement to NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

A TRIAL TRIP.

The Toronto Weekly Globe and the Union Advocate will be mailed to new subscribers for one year, for the sum of

$1.60

The Toronto Weekly Globe has been an equal to sixteen pages and will contain a page for the Boys and the Girls. Of particular interest ladies-The Household-Will be among many new features which will receive special attention.

Send us your subscriptions at once to this office and get the papers for the full year.

W. C. ANSLAW, ADVOCATE OFFICE, NEWCASTLE, N. B.

METEOROLOGICAL.

Reported for the Dominion Government by J. P. CONNOR.

JAN.-FEB.

DATE	Hour of Observation	Barometer	Thermometer	Minimum Thermometer	Maximum Thermometer
Sun. 31	8 a.m. 30.560	56.0	34.0	4.0
	11 a.m. 30.498	58.0	35.0	5.0
	2 p.m. 30.465	58.0	35.0	5.0
Mon. 1	8 a.m. 30.355	14.0	34.5	11.5
	11 a.m. 30.221	31.5	34.5	11.5
	2 p.m. 30.164	35.0	34.5	11.5
Tue. 2	8 a.m. 30.057	17.5	35.0	9.5
	11 a.m. 29.985	34.0	35.0	9.5
	2 p.m. 30.001	34.0	35.0	9.5
Wed. 3	8 a.m. 30.198	9.5	23.0	6.0
	11 a.m. 30.217	20.5	23.0	6.0
	2 p.m. 30.219	20.5	23.0	6.0
Thu. 4	8 a.m. 30.245	7.0	27.5	1.5
	11 a.m. 30.200	25.5	27.5	1.5
	2 p.m. 30.242	27.0	27.5	1.5
Fri. 5	8 a.m. 30.373	6.0	33.5	7.5
	11 a.m. 30.348	30.5	33.5	7.5
	2 p.m. 30.410	32.5	33.5	7.5
Sat. 6	8 a.m. 30.455	1.0	34.0	3.0
	11 a.m. 30.353	28.5	34.0	3.0
	2 p.m. 30.346	27.5	34.0	3.0

Average temp. for January 14.3.
The minus sign, thus -- at the left hand of the figures denotes below zero, its absence denotes above.
The maximum and minimum columns show the highest and lowest temperatures in the 24 hours.

MINARD'S LINIMENT is the Best.

Maud--What do you consider man's greatest fault?
Edith--His scarcity.

Miscellaneous.

A GREAT RISK.

Two impetuous Scotchmen came upon a salmon. They had only 'aspens' between them, so they ordered one 'slip o' whisky.' They were hesitating who should have the first drink, when an acquaintance joined them. Pretending that they had just drank one of them handed the new comer the whisky requesting him to join them in a drink. He drank, and, after a few minutes of painful and silent suspense, said: 'Now, boys, you'll have one with me?'

Selected Literature.

A YELLOW ROSE.

BY MARGARETTA M. MORLAY.

(Conclusion.)

Pushing the book away, with a gesture of impatience, she bowed her head upon her arm and fell into a reverie, from which she was only startled by voices in the office. Realizing, all at once, that the hour was late, she rose hurriedly from her chair; and the impromptu verses never again occurred to her mind until she was brushing out her long, yellow hair before the mirror in her own room.

As the memory of them flashed upon her, her heart stood still; like one turned to stone, she paused, her brush in midair, powerless to move a muscle.

There was no doubt that when Emerson Dwight recovered his book he would find the lines, and it was equally certain that, finding them, he would at once recognize the author by the handwriting, and-- She waited no longer to pursue this horrid possibility, but twisting her long hair into a hasty knot, prepared to go downstairs. The verses must be regained at any cost!

Late as it was, a few men still sat smoking and chatting in the office.

Passing them as quickly as possible, Rose stepped out on the piazza and was immediately filled with consternation to find two figures bending over the fatal table. One was Mr. C., the conductor of the excursion; the other, Emerson Dwight.

There was no mistaking the handsome profile and finely turned head silhouetted against the lighted wall. The girl's heart gave a bound. How long had Mr. C. been with her friend? was the momentous question which confronted her. While they were together Emerson Dwight was not likely to open his book, so that there were nine chances to one that he had not discovered her paper.

Night had deepened on the Sound. A few faint stars glistened in the sky, but the dark curtain in the south remained still unbroken.

'Pardon me, Mr. Dwight, but I carelessly left a paper in your 'Poe' while glancing it over this evening; may I trouble you for it now?' Rose wondered at the coolness of her own voice as she waited, all tremblingly, for the reply. Mr. C. glanced at her in some surprise and offered her a chair, as he exclaimed:

'What! Is it you, Miss Rose? Well, you are one of the few who can afford to lose your beauty sleep.'

'That pretty compliment applies to you and Mr. Dwight as well, does it not?' retorted Rose, with forced gaiety.

In the meantime Emerson Dwight had been searching his book for the desired paper, and, as she ceased speaking, he extended it to her with a low 'Emerson Dwight frequently made gesture take the place of words, and as his Mistress--Here it's 8 o'clock and you're still in bed, and no breakfast ready. Do you expect me to get it ready?

Servant--Oh, I don't mind, mum, as long as you don't take too long about it.

Ask your grocer for Windsor Salt

CASTORIA

For Table and Dairy, Purest and Best

'I say, writer this game's just a little too old.'
'Never mind, sir, you'll find the port new enough.'

WANTED--SEVERAL FAITHFUL men or women to travel for responsible established house in New Brunswick. Salary $750, payable $15 weekly and expenses. Position permanent. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The National, Star Building, Chicago.

She--You were under the influence of the drug the last time you called on me.
He--I haven't any good excuse for coming this time.

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Recipe Book, his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His largest medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Castoria Care are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

MINARD'S LINIMENT is the Best.

Maud--What do you consider man's greatest fault?
Edith--His scarcity.

MINARD'S LINIMENT Cures La Grippe.

She--They say I have my father's eyes.
He--I hope you will inherit something else from him.

Selected Literature.

A YELLOW ROSE.

BY MARGARETTA M. MORLAY.

(Conclusion.)

Pushing the book away, with a gesture of impatience, she bowed her head upon her arm and fell into a reverie, from which she was only startled by voices in the office. Realizing, all at once, that the hour was late, she rose hurriedly from her chair; and the impromptu verses never again occurred to her mind until she was brushing out her long, yellow hair before the mirror in her own room.

As the memory of them flashed upon her, her heart stood still; like one turned to stone, she paused, her brush in midair, powerless to move a muscle.

There was no doubt that when Emerson Dwight recovered his book he would find the lines, and it was equally certain that, finding them, he would at once recognize the author by the handwriting, and-- She waited no longer to pursue this horrid possibility, but twisting her long hair into a hasty knot, prepared to go downstairs. The verses must be regained at any cost!

Late as it was, a few men still sat smoking and chatting in the office.

Passing them as quickly as possible, Rose stepped out on the piazza and was immediately filled with consternation to find two figures bending over the fatal table. One was Mr. C., the conductor of the excursion; the other, Emerson Dwight.

There was no mistaking the handsome profile and finely turned head silhouetted against the lighted wall. The girl's heart gave a bound. How long had Mr. C. been with her friend? was the momentous question which confronted her. While they were together Emerson Dwight was not likely to open his book, so that there were nine chances to one that he had not discovered her paper.

Night had deepened on the Sound. A few faint stars glistened in the sky, but the dark curtain in the south remained still unbroken.

'Pardon me, Mr. Dwight, but I carelessly left a paper in your 'Poe' while glancing it over this evening; may I trouble you for it now?' Rose wondered at the coolness of her own voice as she waited, all tremblingly, for the reply. Mr. C. glanced at her in some surprise and offered her a chair, as he exclaimed:

'What! Is it you, Miss Rose? Well, you are one of the few who can afford to lose your beauty sleep.'

'That pretty compliment applies to you and Mr. Dwight as well, does it not?' retorted Rose, with forced gaiety.

In the meantime Emerson Dwight had been searching his book for the desired paper, and, as she ceased speaking, he extended it to her with a low 'Emerson Dwight frequently made gesture take the place of words, and as his

Ask your grocer for Windsor Salt

CASTORIA

For Table and Dairy, Purest and Best

There are thousands of sickly school-girls all over this broad land that are dragging their way through school-life who might enjoy that abundant life which belongs to youth by simple attention to hygienic laws and a proper course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. This would make the blood rich, the heart-beat strong; check that tendency to exhaustion and quicken the appetite by strengthening the digestion. Our book tells more about it. Sent free.

Locked once more in her own apartment, Rose Monroe threw herself in a chair with another exclamation of relief.

May I never be tempted to write poetry again? she ejaculated fiercely. 'If all the world-bee rhymesters were punished as severely as I have during the suspense of the last half hour, the reading public would be delivered of much trash.' Oh! that yellow rose, why wast thou not born a thistle?

She unfolded the paper with a tragic air, and was about to re-read her lines, when the mocking smile on her lips gave place to a look of blank amazement.

Instead of her address to the rose, the paper contained some lines in Emerson Dwight's well-known handwriting. She read:

'The secret, lady fair,
That my poor petals hold
I'll give to thee with joy,
If I may be so bold.

'Thy warm, and sweet caress
Gives joy and hope and life;
With passions warmest flow
My withered leaves are rife.

'Ah, hold me to your lips!
My perfumes lives again;
And in your soft eyes' light
Forgotten is all pain.

'The secret's told; I'm sure
Your eyes have read it true.
My perfume holds one dream--
That, lady fair, is you.

'If cold on bed of ice I lie,
'Tis that my memories may not die.

The L'Envoi was scrawled across the page just as hers had been, and the whole paper resembled hers so closely that it was a small wonder she had been deceived in it at first glance.

So Mr. C. had not been with Emerson Dwight during that fatal interval, and he had had time to open his book! What must be the reason of what he found there? Rose lost herself in a maze of doubt and fell to sleep murmuring:

'Forgotten is all pain.'

The next morning Emerson Dwight appeared at breakfast with a yellow rose in his buttonhole.

'I believe that rose is artificial,' sang out Mr. C. from an adjoining table, 'for it seems as tho' you'd worn it a week. The florists out here can't understand their business to put such everlasting as that on the market.'

'I have a method, all my own, for "keeping it fresh," answered Dwight, with a grave inclination of the head toward his vis-a-vis.

'Miss Monroe is in the secret, and can divulge it if she likes.' Rose blushed furiously.

After breakfast, Dwight asked her to walk with him on the piazza. She acquiesced; and they lingered a long time at that farther end where the pet bear is chained.

They were finally interrupted by one of their travelling companions who came to announce the good news that the last bridge had been repaired, and that they were no longer prisoners. The pretty girl arrived just in time to hear Emerson Dwight say:

'Yes, I found it, and as I believed there was no hope of seeing you before this morning, I killed time by writing a reply. I joined me just as you stepped upon the piazza, and, as that ended all prospect of our having a tete-a-tete, I could not resist giving you the wrong paper. I would not part with the other, not even to you. By the way, Rose, we must change the L'Envoi to something like this:

'Most precious Rose, you're a vice,
You're doomed to bridal wreaths and rice.'

'Oh, Emerson, that is really shocking,' retorted his companion merrily. 'Let us agree, from this time forth and forever, to resist all temptation to indulge ourselves in composing poetry.'

There are thousands of sickly school-girls all over this broad land that are dragging their way through school-life who might enjoy that abundant life which belongs to youth by simple attention to hygienic laws and a proper course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. This would make the blood rich, the heart-beat strong; check that tendency to exhaustion and quicken the appetite by strengthening the digestion. Our book tells more about it. Sent free.

Locked once more in her own apartment, Rose Monroe threw herself in a chair with another exclamation of relief.

May I never be tempted to write poetry again? she ejaculated fiercely. 'If all the world-bee rhymesters were punished as severely as I have during the suspense of the last half hour, the reading public would be delivered of much trash.' Oh! that yellow rose, why wast thou not born a thistle?

She unfolded the paper with a tragic air, and was about to re-read her lines, when the mocking smile on her lips gave place to a look of blank amazement.

Instead of her address to the rose, the paper contained some lines in Emerson Dwight's well-known handwriting. She read:

'The secret, lady fair,
That my poor petals hold
I'll give to thee with joy,
If I may be so bold.

'Thy warm, and sweet caress
Gives joy and hope and life;
With passions warmest flow
My withered leaves are rife.

'Ah, hold me to your lips!
My perfumes lives again;
And in your soft eyes' light
Forgotten is all pain.

'The secret's told; I'm sure
Your eyes have read it true.
My perfume holds one dream--
That, lady fair, is you.

'If cold on bed of ice I lie,
'Tis that my memories may not die.

The L'Envoi was scrawled across the page just as hers had been, and the whole paper resembled hers so closely that it was a small wonder she had been deceived in it at first glance.

So Mr. C. had not been with Emerson Dwight during that fatal interval, and he had had time to open his book! What must be the reason of what he found there? Rose lost herself in a maze of doubt and fell to sleep murmuring:

'Forgotten is all pain.'

The next morning Emerson Dwight appeared at breakfast with a yellow rose in his buttonhole.

'I believe that rose is artificial,' sang out Mr. C. from an adjoining table, 'for it seems as tho' you'd worn it a week. The florists out here can't understand their business to put such everlasting as that on the market.'

'I have a method, all my own, for "keeping it fresh," answered Dwight, with a grave inclination of the head toward his vis-a-vis.

'Miss Monroe is in the secret, and can divulge it if she likes.' Rose blushed furiously.

After breakfast, Dwight asked her to walk with him on the piazza. She acquiesced; and they lingered a long time at that farther end where the pet bear is chained.

They were finally interrupted by one of their travelling companions who came to announce the good news that the last bridge had been repaired, and that they were no longer prisoners. The pretty girl arrived just in time to hear Emerson Dwight say:

'Yes, I found it, and as I believed there was no hope of seeing you before this morning, I killed time by writing a reply. I joined me just as you stepped upon the piazza, and, as that ended all prospect of our having a tete-a-tete, I could not resist giving you the wrong paper. I would not part with the other, not even to you. By the way, Rose, we must change the L'Envoi to something like this:

'Most precious Rose, you're a vice,
You're doomed to bridal wreaths and rice.'

'Oh, Emerson, that is really shocking,' retorted his companion merrily. 'Let us agree, from this time forth and forever, to resist all temptation to indulge ourselves in composing poetry.'

There are thousands of sickly school-girls all over this broad land that are dragging their way through school-life who might enjoy that abundant life which belongs to youth by simple attention to hygienic laws and a proper course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. This would make the blood rich, the heart-beat strong; check that tendency to exhaustion and quicken the appetite by strengthening the digestion. Our book tells more about it. Sent free.

Locked once more in her own apartment, Rose Monroe threw herself in a chair with another exclamation of relief.

May I never be tempted to write poetry again? she ejaculated fiercely. 'If all the world-bee rhymesters were punished as severely as I have during the suspense of the last half hour, the reading public would be delivered of much trash.' Oh! that yellow rose, why wast thou not born a thistle?

She unfolded the paper with a tragic air, and was about to re-read her lines, when the mocking smile on her lips gave place to a look of blank amazement.

Instead of her address to the rose, the paper contained some lines in Emerson Dwight's well-known handwriting. She read:

'The secret, lady fair,
That my poor petals hold
I'll give to thee with joy,
If I may be so bold.

'Thy warm, and sweet caress
Gives joy and hope and life;
With passions warmest flow
My withered leaves are rife.

'Ah, hold me to your lips!
My perfumes lives again;
And in your soft eyes' light
Forgotten is all pain.

'The secret's told; I'm sure
Your eyes have read it true.
My perfume holds one dream--
That, lady fair, is you.

'If cold on bed of ice I lie,
'Tis that my memories may not die.

The L'Envoi was scrawled across the page just as hers had been, and the whole paper resembled hers so closely that it was a small wonder she had been deceived in it at first glance.

So Mr. C. had not been with Emerson Dwight during that fatal interval, and he had had time to open his book! What must be the reason of what he found there? Rose lost herself in a maze of doubt and fell to sleep murmuring:

'Forgotten is all pain.'

The next morning Emerson Dwight appeared at breakfast with a yellow rose in his buttonhole.

'I believe that rose is artificial,' sang out Mr. C. from an adjoining table, 'for it seems as tho' you'd worn it a week. The florists out here can't understand their business to put such everlasting as that on the market.'

'I have a method, all my own, for "keeping it fresh," answered Dwight, with a grave inclination of the head toward his vis-a-vis.

'Miss Monroe is in the secret, and can divulge it if she likes.' Rose blushed furiously.

After breakfast, Dwight asked her to walk with him on the piazza. She acquiesced; and they lingered a long time at that farther end where the pet bear is chained.

They were finally interrupted by one of their travelling companions who came to announce the good news that the last bridge had been repaired, and that they were no longer prisoners. The pretty girl arrived just in time to hear Emerson Dwight say:

'Yes, I found it, and as I believed there was no hope of seeing you before this morning, I killed time by writing a reply. I joined me just as you stepped upon the piazza, and, as that ended all prospect of our having a tete-a-tete, I could not resist giving you the wrong paper. I would not part with the other, not even to you. By the way, Rose, we must change the L'Envoi to something like this:

'Most precious Rose, you're a vice,
You're doomed to bridal wreaths and rice.'

'Oh, Emerson, that is really shocking,' retorted his companion merrily. 'Let us agree, from this time forth and forever, to resist all temptation to indulge ourselves in composing poetry.'

There are thousands of sickly school-girls all over this broad land that are dragging their way through school-life who might enjoy that abundant life which belongs to youth by simple attention to hygienic laws and a proper course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. This would make the blood rich, the heart-beat strong; check that tendency to exhaustion and quicken the appetite by strengthening the digestion. Our book tells more about it. Sent free.

Locked once more in her own apartment, Rose Monroe threw herself in a chair with another exclamation of relief.

May I never be tempted to write poetry again? she ejaculated fiercely. 'If all the world-bee rhymesters were punished as severely as I have during the suspense of the last half hour, the reading public would be delivered of much trash.' Oh! that yellow rose, why wast thou not born a thistle?

She unfolded the paper with a tragic air, and was about to re-read her lines, when the mocking smile on her lips gave place to a look of blank amazement.

Instead of her address to the rose, the paper contained some lines in Emerson Dwight's well-known handwriting. She read:

'The secret, lady fair,
That my poor petals hold
I'll give to thee with joy,
If I may be so bold.

'Thy warm, and sweet caress
Gives joy and hope and life;
With passions warmest flow
My withered leaves are rife.

'Ah, hold me to your lips!
My perfumes lives again;
And in your soft eyes' light
Forgotten is all pain.

'The secret's told; I'm sure
Your eyes have read it true.
My perfume holds one dream--
That, lady fair, is you.

'If cold on bed of ice I lie,
'Tis that my memories may not die.

The L'Envoi was scrawled across the page just as hers had been, and the whole paper resembled hers so closely that it was a small wonder she had been deceived in it at first glance.

So Mr. C. had not been with Emerson Dwight during that fatal interval, and he had had time to open his book! What must be the reason of what he found there? Rose lost herself in a maze of doubt and fell to sleep murmuring:

'Forgotten is all pain.'

The next morning Emerson Dwight appeared at breakfast with a yellow rose in his buttonhole.

'I believe that rose is artificial,' sang out Mr. C. from an adjoining table, 'for it seems as tho' you'd worn it a week. The florists out here can't understand their business to put such everlasting as that on the market.'

'I have a method, all my own, for "keeping it fresh," answered Dwight, with a grave inclination of the head toward his vis-a-vis.

'Miss Monroe is in the secret, and can divulge it if she likes.' Rose blushed furiously.

After breakfast, Dwight asked her to walk