THE DORNFONTEIN IS HUN VICTIM

Burned by Submarine at Mouth of Bay The Crew Are Safe

St. John, Aug. 8.—Shot at and burned by a German submarine 75 miles from St. John is the official word given out by the military and naval authorities in regard to the four-masted schooner Dorffontein, recently launched from the yards of the A. Construction Company, Canada, Ltd., and which sailed Wednesday morning for Durban, South Africa, with a cargo of lumber. The crew are reported safe, after having been taken on board the submarine and landed at Gannett Rock, southeast of Grand Manan. The vessel and cargo are insured.

Mr. D. M. Baker, president of the Marine Construction Company, Canada, Ltd., from whose yards the ill-fated craft was launched, on June 11 last, is due here at noon from Montreal.

The crew of the schooner will be brought to the city by a patrol vessel this afternoon, and will be interrogated by the naval authorities.

Following announcement of the sinking of the Dorffontein by a submarine operating in the bay, prompt measures have been taken by the military, naval and civic authorities to deal with the situation.

The crew of the ill-fated vessel arrived at Gannett Rock, arriving there at 7 this morning, and they were cared for by the life-saving crew.

WITNESS CONTRADICTS MURCHIE EVIDENCE

Says That Murchie Was Paid $100 to Reduce Total of Scale—Adjourned to Meet at Moncton Aug. 13th.

The Currie enquiry was resumed Tuesday morning. James H. Friel, presiding with J. B. M. Baxter appearing in support of the charges. A. T. LeBlanc for Hon. Mr. Currie and A. B. Copp for the Provincial Government.

Robert Myles was called by Mr. LeBlanc. At one time the witness was manager for the Prescott Lumber Co. until the company was sold to J. & A. Culligan, two years ago. He said that in 1908-9 Archibald Murchie had charge of all their logs as government scaler. About the time they closed the winter operations, Murchie went to his office with a statement prepared for his report to the government.

Mr. Baxter objected to the evidence, but the objection was not sustained.

The witness continued, saying that Murchie asked him to look over the figures. The witness told him some of the operations were too large and Murchie agreed to reduce them and did so.

Q.—For a monetary consideration?
A.—In a way. I told him I would do something for him. When he returned the estimate, I called in the book-keeper and had a check made out for $100 for Mr. Murchie.

Q.—For reducing stumpage?
A.—Yes.

Entered as Best.

Arthur Barbour, secretary of the Prescott Company, gave evidence in support of Mr. Myles' statement regarding the payment. The witness, on Mr. Myles' instructions, had made out the check for Murchie, signed it and given it to Mr. Myles. He testified when the $100 was charged up to Murchie's account Murchie was credited with $100 worth of best. This was to cover up the payment.

To Mr. Copp the witness said that from 1909 until W. H. Berry retired from the government service the latter looked after the arrangements for the stumpage. Afterwards they dealt with Murchie again. When the company was sold to the Culligans, the lumber was sold on the basis of the mill scale, but stumpage was paid on Murchie's scale.

In the winter of 1916-17, the witness said, their cut was 8,546,088 feet and Murchie's return totalled 2,999,000 feet. No payment was made to Murchie in that year and no attempt was made to influence him. To the chairman the witness said that in 1916-17 they paid stumpage on half a million

BLESSING OF THE CORNER STONE

Interesting Ceremony at Upper Charles Sunday Afternoon Last.

The ceremony of the blessing of the corner stone of the new Roman Catholic Church, which is being erected at Charlottetown, Restigouche County to replace the old one which was destroyed by fire last year, was held on Sunday, August 4th at 4 p.m. before a very large attendance of people from the counties of Restigouche, Gloucester and Bonaventure.

The ideal weather that prevailed helped to make the celebration a grand success.

On the upper corner of the new edifice, which is being constructed with Citadel Brick, ornamented with Terra Cotta, was seen the British flag, with the Sacred Heart, French and Academic flags flying prettily to the breeze.

In the absence of his Lordship Bishop O'Leary, who was detained in Chatham, by the serious illness of his Lordship Bishop Barry, Rev. A. A. Boucher, of Dalhousie, N. B. presided at the ceremony.

The following clergymen were present: Rev. R. Robichaud, the zealous priest in charge of the Charlottetown congregation; Rev. John Carter, Petit Rocher; Rev. Father De La Coleriere, Rev. John Wheten, Bathurst; Rev. A. Melanson, Balmoral; Rev. Ed. P. Wallace, Campbellton; Rev. Theo. Van de Moortel, Belledune; Rev. Wilfrid E. Sernany, Riverview; Rev. Eugene de La Garde, Natch's Creek; Rev. Father Daigle, Jacquet River; Rev. Father Elhatton, Petit Rocher.

Following the blessing of the corner stone eloquent sermons were preached in French by Rev. Wilfrid E. Sernany and in English by Rev. Theo. Van de Moortel.

The collection taken for the building fund gave the handsome sum of nine hundred dollars.

ROUMANIAN BOYS BOUND TO DEATH

Of 2,500 Deported Only 47 Survived Horrors of Journey.

London, Aug. 8.—Two stories of inhuman treatment of children by the German and Austrian military authorities are told in despatches from Zurich as having appeared in Lommas, a Bucharest newspaper. Deputy Food-recess depicts the sufferings of young Rumanian boys on the way to Moldavia after the occupation of their territory by the Germans. They had to travel on foot and by the time they reached Chitila, which is only a few kilometres beyond Bucharest, the first signs of fatigue became apparent. As the procession advanced more and more children dropped out, so that at last, of 2,000 who started, only 47 reached Huseh. Of another 500 who started for Russia all died and the leader returned with 500 death certificates as proof.

Further details of the shooting down of women and children in Pilsen Bohemia, for which the Czech members in the Austrian Chamber of Deputies will attempt to bring about the punishment of the military leaders responsible, have been published in a Bohemian newspaper. It seems there was a slight disturbance in a street of Pilsen, so slight that not even the police were summoned. The military commander sent a detachment of infantry and without giving any notice whatever the commander of these men, named Wiril, ordered his men to fire.

Misses Bell, Smith and Metzler are graduates of Mount Allison Conservatory, and Mrs. Livingston is a soprano soloist in Ottawa.

DAMAGED PROPERTY.
A few weeks ago considerable damage was done to the property of the Loch Lomond fishing club, including the breaking of the lock that made the boat secure, and getting away with a bag of fish. An enquiry was put on foot, when it was found that two men from one of the mills near town were the guilty ones. A warrant was at once issued for their arrest, but the constable was a little late, as they had escaped, and had gone to the lumber camps. The club is determined in future to prosecute all trespassers on their property.

AN OPPORTUNITY.
Hundreds of young ladies go to business college for six months to learn stenography, and about half of them get positions yielding $30 or more a month, few get over $50. The Graphic has an opening for a young lady with a good education to learn to operate a linotype, and also set type. An average linotype operator can earn from $50 to $100 per month. We want a Campbellton young lady only. Apply by letter in own handwriting.

LISTEN TO THIS!
SAYS CORNS LIFT
RIGHT OUT NOW!

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the finger.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

*You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

"OTHERS DIED LIKE HEROES—ALONE!"

The Head of a Hospital in France Writes Home.

From Montmirail, near Chateau-Thierry, scene of hard fighting, has come the graphic letter printed below.

It was written while the Germans were driving toward Paris in the great June offensive that resulted in their capturing Chateau-Thierry, from which they have been driven out.

The writer is Mrs. Herbert G. Squires of New York, and the letter was written to her sister, Mrs. Frank H. Potter. The nursing work of Mrs. Squires has been a constant source of comment among her friends, who have marvelled over her ability to endure the physical strain after spending seventeen peaceful years as a diplomat's wife and rearing a family of seven children.

Hospital de St. Vincent de Paul, Montmirail, Marne, June 10th, 1918. Dearest Flora: This is the first day I have found time to write to you of all we have passed through in the battle of Chateau-Thierry. As I wrote you, every one was waiting breathlessly for the offensive, and when and where. I felt positively certain it would be here, for in history all Generals try to recover lost ground, and in this case especially, the Marne and Paris, which was the bitter pill for the Germans.

As I wrote you, we had evacuated all our convalescents, and were painting our hospital and getting ready for the offensive.

Sunday night the General invited us to a dinner in the park of the chateau, and, oh, such a glorious night! Monday we invited them to dine here, also Captain Maurice, whom I knew at the siege of Peking, but—no dinner. For Maurice rushed in, saying the offensive had begun. The Huns had taken Chemin des Dames and were pouring down in streams, and that everyone was leaving Montmirail at once.

I immediately began to get the hospital ready, and by 5 on Tuesday, we began to receive the wounded.

Wednesday and Thursday I served at two operating tables from early morning till mid-night. Bombs were bursting in the distance, and news came that the Huns were nearing Chateau-Thierry, only a few miles from us.

Everyone here worked like dogs. Thursday night the medic chief, the infirmiers, all left. They said they had orders to go. My maid fled with the rest.

I was left alone with Hoytie Wiborg, Lady Abinger, my English friend, and the two Milles, Gobinet, all of whom did the most glorious work.

The hospital was a slaughter house. I finally went to a wounded Captain, who, seeing the chaos, sent for surgeons and men to come in at once. Then the Red Cross came and a rolling canteen. One English nurse arrived; she had lost her formation and walked miles to get here. It seemed as if God had sent them from Heaven!

We took all cases we could care to the operating room, the others we had to leave in the courtyard to die like heroes, alone.

We had many English and Americans among them, and they are buried here in the garden. I have put the Stars and Stripes over our American dead. The Red Cross was splendid. They went to Paris and brought out in trucks everything we needed.

Hoytie Wiborg did such splendid work. She never had her clothes off for nights, and you will probably see her in a moving picture, taken at the station here, where she and Mary Peyton and Mrs. Hammond were cheering and caring for 600 wounded. I could not be there, for as infirmiere Major I had to be here as head of everything.

I had in between times to see that the surgeons had everything they needed, and from every side every one calling for help. Through it all, I was up every morning at 4 and never got to bed till midnight. All this, while cannon was roaring, star shells exploding, bombs dropping around us, but nothing touching us, thank God!

For eight days we were in a seething hell. Oh, how glorious our men fought. The 7th Machine Gun men were a marvel, and such a surprise to have to face. The French and English are all enthusiasm over our men. Oh, how proud I am of them! They will help to save dear France.

The spirit of our men is glorious. Two of the 7th Machine Gun men had their legs cut off, and, of course, we did not tell them. At five, about it, when they found out one turned to the other and said: "Well, your leg has gone, too, old boy." One of their

CHIPMUNK CALLERS

There is no more widely known—or generally loved—little animal in all North America than the humble, inquisitive chipmunk. It's brownish-yellow and striped back flash in and out of almost every roadside wall, and we are likely to hear his chattering cry in every thicket and wood or to see his puffed cheeks and quivering nose suddenly appear at the opening of his burrow. He is always ready to be friendly, and if you make the proper advances soon becomes intimate. To what extent his intimacy may go Mr. Elmer A. Mills, author of The Rocky Mountain Wonderland, describes in writing about the chipmunks that live in his yard. They are delightfully tame, and will climb upon his head or shoulder, eat nuts from his hands or go into his pockets after them.

One day, he says, I stooped to give one some peanuts. While he was standing erect and taking them from my fingers a strange dog appeared. At once all the chipmunks in the yard gave a chattering, scolding alarm cry and retreated to their holes. The one I was feeding dashed up into my coat pocket.

Standing up, with forepaws on the edge of my pocket and with head thrust out, he gave 'the dog' a tempestuous scolding. This same chipmunk often played upon the back of Scotch, my collie. Occasionally he stood erect on Scotch to sputter out an alarm and to look about when some thing roused his suspicions.

Often the chipmunk's come into my cabin for food or for paper to use for bedding. Sometimes one will sit on my knee or shoulder, looking off intently into the yard; other times apparently seeing nothing, but wrapped in meditation. More often, however, they are storing peanuts in their pouches, or deliberately eating a kernel. Rarely is the presence of one agreeable to another, and when four or five happen to call at the same time they forget their etiquette, and I am the centre of a chipmunk scrimmage.

Once five came, each stringing in behind another. Just as the fifth came in the door there was a dispute among the others, and one started to retreat. Evidently he did not want to go, for he retreated away from the open door. As number two started in pursuit of him, number three gave chase to number two. After them started number four, and the fifth one, after all the others. The first one, being closely pressed and not wanting to leave the room, ran round the centre table, and in an instant all five were racing single file round the table. After the first round they became excited, and each one went his best. The circle they were following was not large, and the floor was smooth. Presently the rear legs of one skidded, and the fore-feet of another, and now and then one lost his footing and rolled entirely over, then arose, looking foolish, but with a leap entered the circle and raced on again at full speed.

THE CANADA FOOD BOARD

The following cable has been transmitted to Canada from the Food Controllers' Conference in London:

"Resolved that while the increased production of the United States and Canada rendered it possible to relax some of the restrictions which have borne with peculiar hardships upon all our people, yet it is absolutely necessary that rigid economy and elimination of waste in the consumption and handling of all food stuffs, as well as increased production, should be maintained throughout the European Countries and in North America; that it is only by such economy and elimination of waste that the transportation of the necessary men and supplies from North America to the European front can be accomplished, and stocks of food stuffs can be built up in North America as an insurance against the ever present danger of harvest failure and the possible necessity for large emergency drafts to Europe; and further, that we cannot administer the food problem on the basis of one year's war and that we must prepare for its long continuance if we are to assure absolute victory."

The conference was held on July 22nd and the Food Controllers of Great Britain, United States, France and Italy were present. Most encouraging was the report as to the success that has been achieved by the efforts of Canada and the United States to tide over the extremely critical period which set in at the beginning of the present year. Mr. Hoover's speech has heartened Allied Europe, and shown Germany the hopeless prospect she has of starving. Great Britain and her Allies by her submarine frightfulness. Owing to the success of the hog production campaign on this Continent and economy of the consuming public in the use of bacon and all pork products, Canada may now relax, for the time being, the regulations affecting public eating places by which pork was conserved for export.

The Canada Food Board have announced that as a result of the two efforts—production and conservation—the net exports from the Dominion for the year passed, have been increased by 125,000,000 pounds, or 571 per cent over a five year pre-war average.

That these encouraging results of past efforts do not mean that all danger is removed and that every necessity for further effort has been passed, is, however, not to be, for one moment, forgotten. Rigid economy and elimination of waste in all food stuffs must be continued throughout Allied Countries to guard against harvest failure and the possibility of having to feed larger military drafts from America to Europe. Increased food production and conservation are still vital to the successful prosecution of the war, as the above resolution, passed at the Food Controllers' Conference and cabled to the Canada Food Board at Ottawa, emphatically states.

PORK RESTRICTIONS REMOVED

Owing to the success of the hog production campaign in Canada and the United States, and conservation efforts of both countries in the consumption of pork, the Canada Food Board has removed the restriction applying to public eating places on pork of all kinds which may now be served at any time by such places operating under a Canada Food Board License. Net exports of pork from the Dominion have been increased by 125,000,000 pounds per annum, of 571 per cent over the five year pre-war average.

CANADA'S WAR BREAD.

Canada's war bread is made from 90 per cent wheat flour and 10 per cent substitutes. This makes the loaf a little darker and it is just as palatable as ever, if probably made, and just as nutritious. The Canada Food Board warned bakers not to use artificial means of whitening war bread.

GO BERRY-PICKING OFTEN.

Fruit will be scarce this year and jam will be needed badly next winter. If you have a wild berry patch near your place pick all you can, and can all you can pick. Jam saves better. Save sugar from other things and use it for jam making.

Don't waste sugar at the fountain. Sugar for sweetening 500,000,000 soda fountain drinks has been sent to the bottom of the sea by submarines.

STARTLING FOUGHT

Five Minutes' Battle Ended in Victory for Smaller Bird.

NEW YORK, July 29.—In the American Museum of Natural History there is a department of birds and mammals which is now the second largest in the country. F. M. Chapman is Curator and Nelson De Witt Miller assistant curator. It is a favorite place for ornithologists, who never grow tired of viewing the large collection.

Mr. Miller estimates that in this city and nearby places there are about 190 land and 110 water species of birds. Nonmigratory birds common here are the starling, sparrow, downy, woodpecker, cardinal, which is becoming scarcer every year, and a few native birds. During the migratory period birds often tarry in City Hall Park, while Central, Bronx and Van Cortlandt parks are fairly alive with them. The bald eagle is to be found in the lower Hudson, and as many as six or eight of them have been seen on a winter's day standing on floating floes of ice, from which they patiently wait for fish. Robins, woodpeckers, sparrow hawks and other birds nest in Central Park. The European goldfinch and skylark inhabit certain parts of Long Island. Screech owls make their home in the city, but other species are scarce, although the barn owl is sometimes seen within the city limits.

Such an owl not long ago roosted in a big tree in the grounds surrounding the West 177th street police station at Haven avenue and the Hudson river. Policemen attempted to capture, but could not.

Employees in the grounds of the American museum recently witnessed a spirited struggle between a large hawk and a starling. The hawk, soaring above, spied the starling, and swooped down upon him so quickly that the smaller bird scarcely realized what was happening until he felt himself seized. He at once began to fight with all his strength to free himself. The battle lasted fully five minutes, and then the hawk, apparently frightened by the spectacle, suddenly released his hold and flew away. Although the starling was exhausted he appeared to have suffered no injury beyond a few lost and ruffled feathers. He took refuge in the branches of a nearby tree.

The starling is about as tough and hardy as the sparrow and, like the latter, is able to subsist on a variety of food, being none too particular what he eats. The starling was brought here from England in 1890 by a naturalist, who turned several score of them loose in Central Park. Although the starling is not migratory, he is often something of a wanderer. After being turned loose here it was not until eight years later that he made his appearance in Plainfield, N. J. He is now to be found from Maine to Washington and his number runs into the millions.

"Birds," Mr. Miller said, "get used to noise and scarcely mind it at all. They are singing brightly on the battlefields of Europe, where big guns booming loudly day and night can neither frighten nor discourage them. I know a bird which has built its nest on the girder of a bridge over the Lehigh Valley Railroad where the roofs of the cars are but a few feet from the girder. On each side of the track there are numerous inviting trees, yet the bird, in selecting its home, chose the girder with its noise."

Persons have often wondered why pigeons are seen so frequently on tall buildings about cities while they are rarely seen in the country unless in captivity. Pigeons in their native state make their home along sea cliffs. The pigeons, Mr. Miller explained, imagine that the tall buildings and skyscrapers are cliffs and hence are found on such places.

and fruits retain the flavor of fresh products, you need no sugar to preserve them. Try drying your vegetables and fruits this summer.

CAN VEGETABLES.

The green vegetables are your best "summer vitamins." Can or dry them for next winter whenever more than you can use are ripe ready. Keep it up until the frost comes, you will need them all.

CANADA'S SUBSTITUTES FOR WHEAT FLOUR.

A supply of substitutes for wheat flour in Canada is being rapidly augmented. The Quaker Oats Company of Peterboro have installed a mill to produce corn flour, corn-meal, oat flour and oatmeal, at the rate of 7,000 barrels a day. Two mills to produce 200 barrels of substitute flour for day are being installed in London and Portland, respectively.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR ABSENTEES

Given Until August 24th to Report Without Liability Under the Military Service Act.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—An extra of the Canada Gazette issued last evening contains a proclamation removing deserters and absentees under the Military Service Act from liability to punishment if they report for duty between now and August 24th. It is recognized that many men who failed to report because of lack of proper understanding of the Act, will be glad and willing to do so if a period of grace is allowed. It is believed that the establishment of such a period will bring to the colors many men whom it would be difficult to otherwise reach.

Men who are still classed as deserters and absentees subsequent to August 24 will the proclamation states "be pursued and punished with all rigor and severity of the law subject to the judgments of our court-martial, which will be convened to try such cases and other competent tribunals."

The proclamation provides that "those who employ, harbor, conceal or assist such men will be held strictly accountable as offenders and subject to the pains, penalties and forfeitures in that behalf by law provided for their offense."

WATCHING THE HANDS GO ROUND.

France has many black fighting men from Senegal in the field; nor are they the only troops recruited from savage or semi-savage races that are engaged in the great conflict. A young British officer found himself one day by a roadside, his motor cycle stranded by the way, and far from the destination he must reach at dawn, and with only a little group of negro stragglers anywhere in sight. He was tired, having had no sleep for many hours. One of the Africans talked the pidgeon English of a coast town, and this man informed him that some motor lorries would be coming along soon, upon which it would be possible to get a lift.

"Soon," in the mouth of an African, is an elastic term; but the captain thought he could afford to wait an hour before setting forward on foot in search of some other means of transportation. Meanwhile, he wanted a nap, wanted it desperately, but he could not trust himself to wake at the end of the hour. The African could not tell time, but the captain determined to depend upon him, nevertheless. Showing him the dial of his wrist watch, he explained that he wished to be waked when the long hand, there, then he lay down, with arm extended, and the negro crouched beside him, with his eyes on the dial.

Exactly at the right moment the sleeper was called; and as he opened his eyes they fell upon the African, in precisely the same position, with something strained in his aspect that suggested inquiry. It appeared that he had not dared look away during the entire hour.

"For sure him clock trabbel slow, massa," he explained. "S'pose him stop go wake, wake? S'pose him go pump, jump?"

Upon a river steamer in Africa, Miss Mary Kingsley, the English explorer, once heard other passengers giving directions to the native steward in the adjoining main saloon:

"You savvy si: o'clock? When them long arm catch them place, and then short arm catch them place, you call me in the morning time."

An interval of silence than another voice:

"You savvy five o'clock? When them long arm—" And so it went on, until each passenger had pointed out on the clock face the proper relation of the two hands to each other at the moment he desired to be called. The ignorant native steward, who could not tell time and could not learn to was yet sufficiently Boirvaint to place his reminder the calls correctly; he never got them mixed.

TOOK IT LITERALLY.

With an air of great importance the small boy of a Sunday school in Belfast imparted this happy fact to his teacher:

"The devil is dead," he said, solemnly.

"What makes you think that?" asked the startled teacher.

"Dad said so," explained the boy. "I was standing in the street with him yesterday when a funeral passed, and when Dad saw it he said: 'Poor devil! He's dead!'"

Many a man who has a reputation for talking too much doesn't talk enough at the right time.

ITALIAN FARMER SOLVES MYSTERY

Italian Farmer Gained Wealth and Ease in His Latter Days.

Several years ago there died at Mantua, Italy, a prosperous farmer, Annibale Tosci, who gained the wealth and ease of his latter years by solving a mystery which had baffled some of the keenest intellects of Italy. For nearly half a century the first of Naples was observed by many people of Naples in an attempt to find a solution for the baffling riddle presented by a marble shaft erected in the vicinity of the monastery of San Vito. It was about a century ago that a wealthy but very eccentric Frenchman who had long lived in the Italian city erected a monument to himself in a busy street not far from his home and near the monastery. It was a plain shaft, surmounted with a bust of the Frenchman. When first erected the column bore no inscription, but when the Frenchman died a little later he left instructions in his will that the shaft bear the following inscription:

"On the first of May every year I have a head of gold."

The "head of gold" aroused the curiosity of every Neapolitan, and when May Day came around the streets in the neighborhood of the column were blocked with people. The credulous and superstitious portion of the population expected a miracle to take place, and many believed that the head would actually turn to gold. After a few hours the crowd about the memorial began to thin, but many remained all day, with their straining eyes fixed on the shaft. Nothing happened, and the Frenchman's head on the marble column remained as it had been, the marble lips twisted in an inscrutable and cynical smile.

Nearly half century passed and the shaft and its strange inscription remained a mystery. The authorities had unearthed the foundation of the shaft, but found nothing, so replaced it. Experts had examined every inch of the shaft and the bust, but the marble was solid.

At length the people came to believe that the whole thing was a hoax, and the May Day pilgrimages to the monument ceased, except for a devoted few. Then Annibale Tosci, a ragged beggar, shiftless as were all of his kind, was promptly served.

The solution was simplicity itself, and when Tosci discovered was made known, all Naples joined in the cry: "Now, why didn't I think of that?"

The beggar noticed that the shaft cast a long shadow, and on the next May Day at sunrise he went to the spot armed with a pick and dug at the place where the shadow of the shaft's head rested. Only a foot beneath the surface he found a rotting bag, filled with gold. The amount the beggar found has been variously stated, but it is known to have been a very large sum. Tosci was permitted to keep the greater part of the money and became a wealthy farmer and landlord, as industrious as he had previously been lazy. When he died he left a large fortune to his heirs. The shaft has been removed, for it no longer speaks the truth.

SPRUCE BUD WORM.

Following all the talk about the Tussock moth pest which is doing damage in this city, and that of the Grain scab, which has been discovered in certain areas of the wheat crop in the down river sections of the province, now comes a report of another pest, the spruce bud worm, which is killing spruce and, in some cases, fir and hemlock in sections of the province. It has been reported from different countries, to a more or less extent, and has lately been discovered by parties cutting pulp wood in York county. The damage being done at present is only in some small areas. It is now in its fifth year in certain parts of New Brunswick, and that is the period which kills the trees according to some authorities. Word to this effect is coming now to the Lands and Mines Department.—Gleaner.

CROWN LAND TIMBER LIMITS

Government Increases the Price for Renewal of Leases.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 1.—Hon. E. A. Smith yesterday and to-day was in conference with Deputy Minister T. G. Loggie, concerning the matter of up-set prices for 400 square miles of crown land timber limits, the licenses of which expire to-day. The minister announced this morning that upset prices had been set for all the lots. It is understood that there is an upward trend in the prices compared with what has been received by the crown land department in past years.

The advisory board of the Department of Lands and Mines will meet here on Wednesday for the purpose of reviewing the results of the examination of candidates for positions as forest rangers. One hundred and ten candidates wrote the papers and the report of the examiners will be presented to the advisory board. Recommendations for appointment will then be made. When the results of the examination is known—the organization of the forest service will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible.

The hearing at Campbellton, in the second case in which the Department of Lands and Mines is prosecuting, for the setting of fires at Malpas, with resulting destruction of private property and crown land timber, is being held to-day. Judgement in both cases is expected. The department is represented by counsel.

THE INTERESTING MOVING TIME.

(London Daily Mail.)

There is always some gossip-loving soul in a company who, a day or two before the time for relieve is due, will go dodging round the traverses in the front line telling everybody—sometimes with his tongue in his cheek, more often hoping it is true, but always with a great air of secrecy—that "We are going down the line for about three months to A—."

The time always runs into months and the place is always A—. It is a sort of standing joke, an evergreen companion that enlivens the life.

The lads go "down the line" with the same sort of champagne feeling that people who visit the seaside once a year take their holiday. They talk about nothing else for days; every company "knows" every platoon has its pet rumor. You are going to Vimy, Ypres, Arras, Mesopotamia, Egypt, Saloniki.

Every sector has its backers, every battlefield its admirers. You are going in omnibuses, in trains; you are going to the—th Corps as storm troops; pioneers; on lines of communication; guards at G. H. Q.; fatigues at the base. You pick your tale, or if you don't like any of them you invent one of your own.

Eventually you are relieved, and it is then that you feel certain—supposing you have had a fairly easy time—that you will be hit going out. It would be "just your luck." But you don't get hit, and wonder of wonders, this time you are met by omnibuses and next day to go in a train.

This is a great time. You rig up your stove on the truck floor among numberless equipments, rifles, and feet, and you make endless tea and eat your parcels that were waiting you. Maybe you get your water from the French engine-driver, whose patience is never exhausted, and you have adventures running to and fro—for the train always starts when you are out of the truck. And you may sit and dangle your legs through the side and let your eyes dwell on the restful green fields slipping slowly by and begin to wonder if it is true that yesterday you were in trenches.

At some wayside place you leave the train and march off your hand of bugles or pipes through the villages and along the sunlit country roads. And maybe the old lads that are left begin to troll out the favorite marching song of the days that the gone and the newer lads pick it up; and the old rhythms phit-phut, and the quick, glancing shadows and the creek and tap of equipment all there, and health life is good and sweet again.

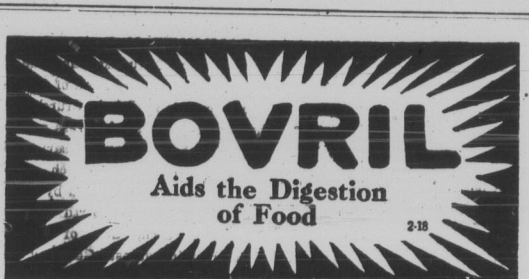

Necessary Expenditures.

"I say, Brown, can't you manage to pay me that $10 you owe me? I need the money."

"Awfully sorry, old man, but I can't do it."

"I notice you manage to go to the theatre two or three times a week, though."

"That's just it. The thought that I owe you money is worrying me so that I have to do something to help me forget it."

BEGINNING TO FIND OUT.

(Manitoba Free Press.)

When Ambassador Gerard was after some hesitation, given his passports by the German Foreign Office, the understrapper who delivered the papers informed the ambassador that the Americans would not fight any war.

The Kaiser and his satellites are beginning to find out whether the Americans will fight. What has happened to date is a mere foretaste of what is to come when a couple of million Americans, lined up with the British, French and Italian allies will march forward "over the line and across the Rhine," shouting "Hip-hip hooray!" as the Yankee war-song has it.

There is the less excuse for the German misconception about the Americans because they had previously admitted their parallel blunder about the British armies. Contempt, first for the British armies, and then for the Americans sprang from the same cause; a feeling that only a militarized nation, in the grip of a military caste, with an hereditary aptitude and taste for war, can successfully make war on the modern scale.

They knew nothing about the fighting power of aroused democracies. But they are learning, with most of the lessons yet to come.

PUBLISHERS TO MEET.

The newspaper publishers have been called to meet at Sackville on Wednesday, August 14th, for the purpose of reorganizing the Maritime Press Association, which has been dormant for the past few years. An exceptionally strong programme has been arranged for the meeting and items of interest to the press will be discussed from all points of view. War conditions have revolutionized the newspaper industry, and there is no doubt much good will accrue from the coming meeting.

DALHOUSIE.

DALHOUSIE, N. B. Aug. 7.—Sunday the 4th of August being the anniversary of the formation of the congregation of St. John's Church, Dalhousie, some eight odd years ago, being also the sixteen anniversary of the opening of the present church, erected to replace the one destroyed by lightning in 1901, and the fourth anniversary of the declaration of War by Great Britain against Germany and her allies, special services relating to these events were conducted most interestingly by the minister, Rev. J. H. McLean.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the whole service was much enjoyed by a large congregation.

Miss Wilkinson of Quebec and other friends assisted the choir very effectively in the musical part of the service.

A special offering to wipe off a debt of two hundred dollars due on the name sufficed to relieve the congregation of further liability.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haddow celebrated their marriage at the home of Rev. Mr. John of New Mills, on the second of August, returning to their home in the evening in time to receive the congratulations of friends nearby.

The Dalhousie Convent will reopen Sept. 4th as a large number of applications have already been received, it is hoped that this will be one of the best years since the convent has been opened.

A regular commercial course will be continued and attended by many young ladies of all denominations.

The school year ending June 28th was attended by very gratifying success. Twenty two music diplomas, from the Dominion College, Montreal, were obtained by the young ladies, Miss Bernice LeBlanc winning the beautiful medal offered by the same college for distinction in her examinations, Senior and Laweate.

Twenty of the candidates for Normal School Entrance were successful. The following young ladies getting first class: Misses Elaine Hache, Corine Elisiger, Bernice LeBlanc, Lola Doucet. Those getting second class were: Misses Yvonne Roy, Marguerite LaPointe, Corina Blanchard, Amelia LeTourneau, Blanche Geron and the three other candidates third class.

The following pupils won medals for speed as typists:—Master Romeo Laviole, aged fourteen, winning one silver medal and two gold ones, taking his place as third speed typist in Canada with one hundred and five words per minute. Misses Lola Doucet, Joseph Herrell also won silver medals, and Misses Kathleen Delaney, Annie McInerney, Lucienne Gauthier, Blanche LaPointe Celina Landry, winning diplomas from the Underwood Co. Toronto. Miss Helen Elisiger obtaining the bronze medal for efficiency as a typist.

The Gold Medals awarded by Reverend Father Boucher to the Normal School candidates were won by Bernice LeBlanc and Yvonne Roy. Miss Corine Elisiger being the successful winner last year.

Daring British Airmen

Perform Numerous Acts That Read Like Romances

Now it is permitted, writes a correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, to transcribe from Admiralty records the story of certain typical achievements, occurring in different countries at different dates, of the R.N.A.S. Those records read like a sort of "Arabian Nights Entertainment."

There is, for example, the "Story of an Airman who Tried to Bomb the Kaiser and then Butted into a Mountain."

On one occasion particular attention was paid to Chanak, in consequence of information that the Kaiser and his entourage was paying a visit there. Only one of the machines reached the town, on which the pilot dropped a number of bombs. After that his luck changed. In returning he struck the side of a mountain in the darkness, and the machine caught fire on crashing. But things might have been worse, he thought severely injured, the hero was able to climb out of his machine, and he was found next morning by a Greek shepherd.

Posterity is at dawn on the following day, in extremely bad weather, and in spite of heavy anti-aircraft fire, British machines effectively bombed Chanak.

The reader may now like to peruse the "Brief History of an Airman Who, After a Busy Day, Went Home by Train."

In October, 1916, a number of R.N.A.S. machines were despatched from Imbros to Bucharest, a distance of 310 miles. Thunderstorms and thick mists were encountered, and all those airmen had a bad time. But we have to do merely with one of them. After passing westward of Adrianople he got mixed up with shocking weather, and an electric storm cost him the control of his machine. From 3,000 feet he fell to 1,000 feet, which height he emerged upside down out of a cloud. Fortunately control was regained at 500 feet. While in the cloud he several times looped the loop without wanting to, and his compass became useless.

He decided to land, with a view, if possible, to an adjustment of fittings. Alas! he came down near a Bulgarian camp. Having discovered his mistake, he was "tagging" off, when a party of Bulgarians opened fire upon him. Turning, he charged his enemies, whom he scattered with a few rounds from his machine-gun. Presently our young hero was following the course of a river, in the hope of striking the Danube. Thirty Bulgarians on a barge opened fire upon him with their rifles. So he swung round and emptied a tray of ammunition into that barge. With the result that all those Bulgarians were soon in the water. But the day was not yet over. After crossing the Danube he ran into rain and fog, completely losing his bearings, and ultimately he crashed down in Russian territory. Thence he returned to Bucharest by train.

Finally, I should like to find room for the case of "A British Pilot Who Did Not Mind Cold." Of Middlekerke he encountered five hostile machines at 15,000 feet. He attacked them single-handed and four retreated. Into the fifth, a Fokker, he fired twenty rounds, causing it to dive steeply into the sea at Ostend. Then he noticed, not far away, a large Aviatik that seemed to want something, so gave it the rest of his tray. Then the Aviatik likewise dived steeply. But this is not quite all. On his way home the British pilot encountered another Aviatik, and, diving at it from 15,000 feet, he forced it to descend.

A service which, although at the outset of war included only some five or six dozen machines, has now doubled that number of officers, now has to its credit two V.C.'s (Flight-Lieut. Warrener and Wing-Commander Bill Davies); 29 D.S.O.'s, the annihilation of three Zeppelins, innumerable bombardments of Zeppelins and the docks of Ostend, the bringing of nearly two dozen London raiders, the dropping of 12,000 lbs. of food and a quantity of medical stores in besieged Kut, and the winning of praise from Sir Douglas Haig for services rendered in the present prolonged and colossal battle.

ooks Balls Foot Powder.

An amusing story is being told relative to the American expeditionary force in France. The army cooks at a camp in France lately had a sudden windfall in the shape of an unexpected ton of white flour. They worked that flour for all it was worth. Some of it went into bread, more of it went into pies. And when these appeared for use the reputation of the cooks was made.

But before even a sample could be taken an angry officer stormed the camp kitchen to demand the lifeblood of the men who had laid ill-fated hands on a ton of foot-powder for which he had successfully indentured a week before. Over the fate of the good things a bill has been closely drawn.

A Wonderful Service.

How great have been the demands upon the British merchant marine for the preservation of ships for purely military purposes is shown by the statistics of the first two and a quarter years of the war. During that time 2,000,000 tons were transported across the sea and over a million sold and destroyed. Of supplies and explosives 2,450,000 tons were carried, besides 1,000,000 horses and cattle, and 47,000,000 gallons of petrol. If the channel tunnel had been built in the days before the war, a vast amount of merchant tonnage, now employed on transport service, would have been available for the world's commercial service. — Science Magazine.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can grow a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of coconut oil. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, yellowishness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.
Get three ounces of lemon juice and three ounces of coconut oil from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this lovely, fragrant beauty lotion and wash it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smooth rough, red hands.

From Experience.

The meeting was in full swing and the Suffragist speaker was holding forth in a valiant manner on behalf of her cause.

"Yes, she cried, 'women have been wronged for ages. They have suffered in a thousand ways.'

"There is one way in which they have never suffered," said the meek-looking man in the rear.

"What way is it?" demanded the Suffragist.

"They have never suffered in silence!" was the sad reply.

HISTORICAL CHURCHES IN CANADA.

Everyone interested in church history should read the article by Madge Macbeth in the August Canadian Magazine entitled "Historical Churches in Canada". While Mrs. Macbeth sketches the foundation of Christianity in Canada and traces its progress down to recent times, her article is instructive and very interesting. To Quebec Province naturally attaches most of the early events, but Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Ontario have their share, and the record comes down late enough to embrace the old church at Bath, Ontario, and the Mohawk (Indian) church at Brantford.

Sheep On Every Hill Side In New Brunswick

The New Brunswick Government through the Department of Agriculture has arranged with the Chartered Banks to help the Farmers—where assistance is needed—to buy Sheep.

The Department will not only arrange to buy Sheep FOR the Farmers, but will also buy good breeders FROM the Farmers—in other words, this branch of the Agricultural Department WILL SUPERVISE
ALL PURCHASES AND SALES OF SHEEP.

IF A FARMER NEEDS CREDIT TO BUY SHEEP he should consult his local banker who has the necessary forms.

If you cannot buy sheep in your locality, inform the nearest banker who will notify the Agricultural Department, or, better still, notify the Department yourself and say how many Sheep you want.

KEEP YOUR EWE LAMBS

Every Ewe Lamb, weighing 80 pounds and over and of reasonable quality, should be retained by farmers for breeding purposes. Sell the males and the inferior females for butcher purposes. If you have more ewe lambs than required, induce your neighbor to purchase.

THE VALUE OF WOOL

Unwashed Wool of the best quality brought 80 cents a pound this spring, or about $5.00 a fleece.

SIXTY MILLION SHEEP

Have been lost in Europe since the war started. Wool in enormous quantities is now required to re-clothe the returned men in civilian dress. Prices will likely be high for ten years.

New Brunswick has the pasture, hay, root and a climate suited to Sheep. Every farmer should consider investing in a small flock as a foundation. The first year will give approximately $4.00 worth of wool per sheep, the sheep will cost about $15.00. Is it not a good business proposition?

If you cannot purchase locally, place your order with your banker. Orders will be filled, if possible, in the order filed at this office through the banks.

J. A. TWEDDALE,
Minister of Agriculture.

Devonshire.

PROCLAMATION

GEORGE the FIFTH, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, KING, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.

To all to whom these presents shall come or whom the same may in any wise concern,—GREETING:

A Proclamation of conditional amnesty respecting men belonging to Class I under the Military Service Act, 1917, who have disobeyed our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, or their orders to report for duty, or are deserters or absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

E. L. NEWCOMBE, WHEREAS considerable numbers of men belonging to Class I under our Military Service Act, 1917, called out on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada under our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, although they have thus become by law soldiers enlisted in the Military Service of Canada.

Have failed to report for duty as lawfully required of them under the said Military Service Act and the regulations thereunder, including the Order in Council duly passed on April 20 last.

Or have deserted.

And it is represented that the very serious and unfortunate situation in which these men find themselves is due in many cases to the fact that, notwithstanding the information and warning contained in our Proclamation aforesaid, they have misunderstood their duty or obligation, or have been misled by the advice of ill-disposed, disloyal or seditious persons.

AND WHEREAS we desire, if possible, to avoid the infliction of the heavy penalties which the law imposes for the offences of which these soldiers have thus been guilty, and to afford them an opportunity within a limited time to report and make their services available in our Canadian Expeditionary Force as is by law their bounden duty, and as is necessary for the defence of our Dominion of Canada.

NOW KNOW YE that we in the exercise of our powers, and of our good will and pleasure in that behalf, do hereby proclaim and declare and cause to be published and made known THAT THE PENALTIES OF THE LAW WILL NOT BE IMPOSED OR EXACTED as against the men who belong to Class I under our Military Service Act, 1917, and who have disobeyed our Proclamation aforesaid, or who have received notice from any of our registrars or deputy registrars to report for duty on a day now past and have failed so to report; or who, having reported and obtained leave of absence, have failed to report at the expiry of their leave, or have become deserters from our Expeditionary Force, PROVIDED THEY REPORT FOR DUTY ON OR BEFORE THE TWENTY FOURTH DAY OF AUGUST 1918.

AND WE DO HEREBY STRICTLY WARN AND SOLEMNLY IMPRESS UPON ALL SUCH MEN, and as well those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist them in their disobedience, that, if they persist in their failure to report, absence or desertion until the expiry of the last mentioned day, they will be pursued and punished with all the rigour and severity of the law, SUBJECT TO THE JUDGMENT OF OUR COURTS
MARTIAL WHICH WILL BE CON-VENED TO TRY SUCH CASES or other competent tribunals; and also that those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist such men will be held strictly accountable as offenders and subject to the pains, penalties and forfeitures in that behalf by law provided for their said offence.

Provided however that nothing contained in this Our Proclamation is intended to release the men aforesaid from their obligation to report for duty as soon as possible, or to grant them immunity from arrest or detention in the meantime for the purpose of compelling them to perform their military duty; Our intention being merely to forego or remit the penalties heretofore incurred for failure to report, absence without leave or desertion incurred by those men of the description aforesaid who shall be in the proper discharge of their military duties on or before the said twenty-fourth day of August, 1918.

Of all of which Our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent, and the Great Seal of Canada to be hereunto affixed. Witness Our Right Trusty and Right Entirely Beloved Cousin and Counsellor, Victor Christian William, Duke of Devonshire, Marquess of Hartington, Earl of Devonshire, Earl of Burlington, Baron Cavendish of Hardwick, Baron Cavendish of Kilgilt, Knight of Our Most Noble Order of the Garter, One of Our Most Honourable Privy Council, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Knight
Grand Cross of Our Royal Victorian Order, Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of Our Dominion of Canada.

At Our Government House, in Our City of OTTAWA,

Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the ninth year of Our Reign.

A black and white photograph showing a large, dark, and heavily textured surface, possibly a piece of industrial machinery or a large animal. The surface is covered in numerous scratches, dust, and irregularities. In the lower right quadrant, there is a small, light-colored circular mark or hole. The overall image is grainy and has a high-contrast, somewhat abstract quality.

By Western Canada, despite its variable record for grain crops, is producing a live stock country. It is well adapted for the growing of grain crops to supply much of the requirements of the three Prairie provinces: Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. It is capable of supporting a large number of cattle and horses and many of the settlers, however, have found it difficult to get a start, or have been unable to do so, on the qualities of live stock, but these obstacles are being gradually overcome by the introduction of improved breeds of cattle, and such companies as the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Although British Columbia is an experimental state the schemes that have been introduced in Manitoba and British Columbia. Through the Department of Agriculture the farmers of the Government buy seed and stock. The Government is also buying the first year or so of some 2,500 cows were supplied to the farmers of the province. About the whole of them were ten per cent. of their total amount in the form of a "title" may be branded with the government brand, and, with their technical property, remain the property of the government. The remainder of the property of the progeny becomes the property of the purchaser immediately. This scheme has been tried in the United States for a year, and already more than seven thousand head of cows have been placed in the hands of farmers. Not only has the number of cows increased their incomes considerably and enhanced the prosperity of the province, but it has also shown that the government can control the country, with the result that they are being acquired in increasing numbers by the private citizen.

By reason of the enormous number of cattle that can be raised in the national districts and grazing lands of the United States, the United States of America, the raising of live stock is one of the most profitable branches of farming there. This is recognized by the government, and in order to encourage the practice of mixed farming among settlers on irrigated land in Canada. Their fall sales to foreign buyers of its lands, if they are able to comply with certain conditions, by advancing the stock of the value of $1,000 on a cash payment of twenty per cent, credit being given for the balance.

All these advantages are crying for great benefit to the settler in western Canada. Their fall sales to foreign country will not be numerous for a number of years, but somewhere, fair success is due, and it is to be expected that the new impulse of the week rising in Western Canada, the enthusiasm abroad, if not at home, even, than the growing of grain.

lent in practically all sections, and the diseases, which frequently have done much damage to this important crop have not secured a footing. There are but two more diseases which can do any great damage to the potato field. These are the late blight or rust, and

G. C. Cunningham, Dominion plant pathologist, recently made a tour of the lower St. John Valley, going as far south as Browns Flats. He reported the potatoes free from disease as a general thing. There was an appearance of late blight in some areas.

S. J. Moores, of Truro, represents the Maritime Provinces of the seed division, of the federal department of agriculture, will be at the Dominion experimental station, in Fredericton, on Tuesday next, for the purpose of instructing the men who will go out through the province as judges in the standing field crops competition. They are to go out earlier than in the average year on account of the advanced condition of the crop.

DO NOT NEGLECT YOUR EYES

We hear much of people who sacrifice everything to sartorial splendor. They would go without dinner every day for a new pair of shoes.

Sacrificing health for appearance is not good policy—it does not make for health a real happiness.

Not only do you squint and frown when you neglect your eyes, but you seriously injure your health.

Better have a careful examination made.
