INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED

Several Additional Witnesses in Shooting of Joseph Roy Heard—The Verdict.

The adjourned investigation into the mystery surrounding the shooting of Joseph Roy, of Charlott, on Sunday, Sept. 24th, 1921 at the headwaters of the Benjamin River, was concluded here on Monday before Coroner Dr. A. Martin. The finding of the jury did not serve to elucidate the mystery nor to establish the identity of the person or persons responsible for the tragedy, but read as follows: "That the said Joseph Roy was found dead on the 25th day of September, 1921 in the Parish of Colborne, County of Hastings, and that his death was caused by a rifle bullet of large calibre fired by some person unknown at present. The jury which was composed of H. S. Alexander (foreman), Gordon Campbell, L. P. Dwyer, Celestine LeBlanc, Fred J. McLean, J. J. Bernier, and Blaise Lutz, recommended that further inquiries should be made in an endeavor to establish the identity of the party responsible for Roy's death. Six additional witnesses were examined at Monday's session.

The Tragedy

Although the reopened investigation has so far produced no valuable clues, the evidence submitted at the two sessions has developed facts in connection with the tragedy which were previously known to only a few. Three or four days before the shooting, the victim, accompanied by P. W. Hamilton, of Charlott, the latter's son and a tanner, went into the woods in the vicinity of where the tragedy later occurred. It is believed that the trip was made for game as the party was season was open. Sometime prior to equipped with rifle and shot, the shooting of the party separated, Roy and Hamilton senior proceeding to the headwaters of the Benjamin river, somewhat out of the hunting ground usually traversed by them. It is alleged that Roy intended looking over some timber lands with a view to some shooting and that he intended to have Hamilton ignorant of this. Whether or not these allegations have any significant connections with the mystery has not yet been proved. Just after lunch on Sunday, the 25th of September the men heard what they believed to be a moose call proceeding from up the west branch of the South arm of the Benjamin River. According to Hamilton, Roy went to the bank of the stream to call the moose while he remained beside the fire. A few moments later Hamilton heard a shot, but owing to a deafness in one ear was unable to discern from which direction it had come. He also heard Roy give a muttered exclamation. Hurrying to the bank he found his companion lying in the stream and upon examining him discovered that he was fatally shot. Pulling the unfortunate man from the water he called repeatedly for help but upon receiving no answer he left the body and started for home. Arriving at Charlott he notified Coroner Dr. Ellis of Jacques River, who with a number of others accompanied him back to the scene of the tragedy. The body was examined and the first inquest held right at the place of the shooting. Nothing was determined except that the deceased had been shot. An examination of the immediate vicinity was then made. This, however, was not carried far owing to the density of the trees, for it was readily agreed by the party that the shot had come from a gun discharged nearby. Opinions as to the result of this examination seem to conflict but it was brought out clearly by a witness at Monday's session who was one of the party, that no visible signs of anyone having been around could be discerned as the ground was covered by thick ferns and moss, the readiness of which made it impossible to detect a foot-print thereon even a few moments after it was trampled upon. The bank of the stream opposite the place where Roy received his death wound was also searched but this was likewise productive of no possible clue to the mystery.

Secret Investigation

After the first investigation the matter rested for a time until stories began to circulate and a general feeling spread that the first inquest had been a farce. This feeling was intensified by the statement of Dr. Ellis that the victim could not have been killed by a bullet from the position he was in, by a spent bullet. Mr. Coon Pong of the Canada Cafe on the morning of the tragedy, who was being productive of no new clues, Mr. Kelly set a constable from Campbellton to investigate, but with no success. ACCORD COLLINS NATIONAL FUNERAL

Dublin, Aug. 23.—A national funeral with full military honors will be accorded to Michael Collins, head of the Provisional Government and of the Free State army, who was killed from a bullet wound near Bandon, County Cork, last night, it was stated this afternoon. His body will lie in state prior to interment in the Glasnevin cemetery, where Arthur Griffith was buried a few days ago.

ESTIMATES WHEAT WILL COME CLOSE TO BANNER CROP

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The Grain Trade News, in its weekly crop report made public here today, estimates the wheat yield of the three prairie provinces this year at $50,000,000 bushels. This compares with a total crop in the year 1915 of $60,000,000 bushels. However, the total acreage in 1915 was only 18,867,715, while this year the acreage provinces has been between 20,000,000 and 21,000,000 acres sown to wheat.

According to the dominion bureau of statistics based on conditions prevailing at the end of July, the prairie provinces should harvest 297,761,000 bushels.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, in its weekly crop report issued yesterday, estimated the yield of the prairie provinces at $17,000,000 bushels.

Pekin, Aug. 23.—The republican cabinet announced today that President Li Yuan-Hung is willing to resign in favor of Sun Yat Sen, deposed head of the republic. China government provided parliament approves such action.

Harry Colligan were then secured during his spare time, and it was chiefly through the results of his work on the case that the investigation was ordered re-opened. Considerable delay was experienced in securing the necessary court order for opening the investigation again, the first order which was obtained from Frederick having been lost in the mails. This necessitated a second application and the second order was granted by Mr. Justice Crockett. The fact that some of the necessary witnesses were working in various lumber camps during the winter and also the illness of Mr. Kelly representing the Crown contributed to further delay the case but it is believed by the investigating officials that this delay, creating the impression that the matter had been dropped entirely, served largely as the basis for the secretly conducted investigation.

Later Evidence.

Among the facts established by the new investigation which were not previously known was that there were two other men in the woods at the time of the fatality, although these men claim that they were not in the vicinity on Sunday afternoon. They insisted having heard shots, but could not determine from what direction they came. Several other hunters were in the neighborhood on Friday and Saturday preceding the tragedy while others were also in the forest on Sunday, although they claim, not in that particular vicinity. Some clues have also developed as to the probable location of a rifle of the same calibre as that which discharged the fatal bullet.

It was at first claimed by the widow of the deceased that a cheque for $100.00 which her husband took to the woods with him was missing. But at Monday's session a witness gave evidence to the effect that Mrs. Roy had later found the missing cheque in the house. Another fact which is obviously significant is the statement of Dr. Ellis that the victim could not have been killed by a bullet from the position he was in, by a spent bullet. Mr. Coon Pong of the Canada Cafe on the morning of the tragedy, who was being productive of no new clues, Mr. Kelly set a constable from Campbellton to investigate, but with no success. CAMPBELLTON BONDS SOLD

American Investigators Are Very Favorably Impressed With Our Supply.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held Monday evening, His Worship Mayor McKay presiding. Couns Belle-Isle, Gilkey, St. Onge, Graham, Duncan and Marquis were present. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with. His Worship explained that the meeting had been called to re-consider the appointment of the Street Commissioner and the consideration of tenders for bonds. Coun. Belle-Isle contended that the matter of the street commissioner should be dealt with by the Public Property and Streets Committee. It would be the proper procedure for this committee to discuss the matter and then come to the council with a recommendation. He was aware that the work of the Street Commissioner did not please all, especially the auto owners, but he should not be too severely criticized. The commissioner had been kept busy on other work. He had to haul pipe and cement, tear up old sidewalks and do grading for this permanent work. His Worship said that since taken off the permanent work he had not obeyed orders. He had been placed under the direction of the Engineer, but it was found that when given a job he did not follow orders. Coun. Gilkey asked if the commissioner had ever made a report. His Worship—Only verbal ones. Coun. Duncan thought there were too many houses and not enough work conflicting orders from the departments until it took two men to drive a team of horses. If the horses were kept busy working on the streets they would not feel like dancing or running away. The streets were full of holes. But the commissioner was not all to blame. He had been put at other work. Chairman of Committee should give him explicit directions. His Worship said we were paying this man $125.00 per month. The chairman of the committee should not have to follow him around, he should have brains and use them. Coun. Belle-Isle moved that the matter of reconsidering appointment of street commissioner be left in the hands of the Public Property and Streets Committee to report with their recommendation at the next regular meeting. Motion carried.

On motion of Coun. Duncan the ten- of These, Armstrong & Bell and the Royal Securities Corporation for $50,000 at $98.06 were accepted. Coun. Belle-Isle moved the following resolution:—

Resolved that the Town Council has been called to the great danger to our citizens on account of the large number of level crossings in the town and as it is the opinion of this Council that on account of the rapidly increasing traffic some provisions should be made at once to safeguard the interests of the public.

Therefore resolved that the Town Clerk be instructed to write the railway authorities requesting that gates be placed at Andrew, Cedar, Prince Wm., Dalhousie and Ramsay Street crossings at once. And further resolved that as a further precaution special instructions be issued to all trainmen that trains be not allowed to run through the town limits at a faster rate of speed than twelve miles per hour. Carried unanimously.

Coun. Graham gave notice of motion as follows:—

At the next regular meeting of the Town Council I will move or cause to be moved a resolution to amend the by-law adding to section No. 22 sub section 17th following:—

"And a fee of $2.00 per annum for upkeep of said sewers."

And that the Town Solicitor be instructed to apply for necessary legislation at the next meeting of the Local Legislature.

The meeting then adjourned.

LEADING LADY ON "STAGE WORK"

Miss Florence Hackett, With "Unloved Wife" Says Some Interesting Things.

(Byline Record.)
Within the past few years women have become identified more and more prominently with many phases of stage work which heretofore have been considered only open to men. Particularly did this apply to the position in theatrical organizations. Women producers, managers, advance agents, etc., were up until a few years ago practically unknown. But the last few years have found the women in just such roles, and, to the surprise of many, they proved quite as efficient as their male competitors.

It remained to Miss Florence Hackett, now playing at the Strand Theatre in the "Unloved Wife" and who will play at Campbellton next Tuesday night, to take up the one position which has always been held by a man—that is the job of stage manager. To the average person, unacquainted with the backstage workings of a theatrical troupe, the title of stage manager means very little, but it is a very important position and one which involves a great deal of work and responsibility. It is the stage manager who sees that the settings are put up correctly, the properties used by the actors are in their places, and the thousand and one little details incidental to the performance. In addition it is the stage manager who must see that the scenery is properly loaded on the "getaway" night, and last, but by no means least, that every truck belonging to the troupe of the company is accounted for each time the troupe moves.

It is not an easy job and is one in which women have talked from the time the first theatrical company was sent down to the present day. So Miss Hackett is very proud of her position and the fact that she is the only woman stage manager of the road to-day.

When questioned as to her reasons for accepting so strenuous a position, Miss Hackett answered: "It's just this. I wanted to know every angle of the business. I have always loved the theatrical game, and during my school days in Boston, where I was graduated from the Girls' Latin School, and later studied at the Curry School of Expression, I used to take part in private theatricals, and gave me a taste of what the stage would be like.

"Then I began to write some one act for a nineteen year old girl!"

S. M. H. A. FAIR PLANS MATURING

"The Fair" Will Be Better and Bigger Than Ever—A Good Cause.

The various committees in charge of arrangements for "The Fair" have the matter pertaining to their particular task well in hand and this year's Fair gives every promise of being bigger and better than any previous effort.

Profiting by the experience of past years the ladies of the Aid plan to add many new features in the way of amusements.

Farmers, manufacturers and housewives, those who excel in culinary arts or in any way are asked to send exhibits to "The Fair." All such exhibits will, after the evening of the game, be sold for the benefit of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, surely a most worthy object.

As plans progress, further mention will be made of "The Fair."

A party composed of P. H. Gillin, N. T. Everett, B. A. Ethel and S. M. Grace of Bangor, Me., arrived here by motor Sunday. This morning after spending the night at the Baker House they left for Matapedia, Que., where they will fish for some time.—Fredericton Mail, Aug. 24th.

plays, skits and other things which were presented. It was then I realized what a tremendous help it would be to know the stage manager's end of the game, so after I had worked in every truck belonging to the members of the company is accounted for each time the troupe moves.

"My particular business back of the stage is answering calls and directing the work of the property man, as well as playing the part of Phoebe, the little crypie in the play. For many years he was in command of the Northernmost Regiment and entered active service in 1915 when he organized and took to England the 132nd North Shore Battalion. Upon it being broken up he was appointed Canadian Base Depot at Etaples, France, where he remained two years. Then a condition of ill-health set in and he returned to England and when well enough to return to Canada he came to Doaktown in 1919 and retired from the active militia two years ago with the rank of full Colonel. He later spent some months in Western Canada.

His wife, Mary Elizabeth Cowper, was a real live producer, writing his own plays, staging them myself, designing costumes and everything. Do you think that is too high an ambition to be like."

Raised 132nd, North Shore Battalion for Active Service in as School Inspector for Years.

Doaktown, N. B., Aug. 21.—Colonel George W. Mersereau, M. A., for more than thirty years School Inspector for Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche Counties and who raised the 132nd North Shore Battalion during the war, died suddenly at his home here on Saturday afternoon about 5:15 o'clock.

He had been a sufferer from heart trouble, more or less ever since his war experiences in France, and was in hospital both in England and Fredericton. Of late his health had seemed exceptionally good and he was in the performance of some light duties at his home when he quietly passed beyond into higher service.

Colonel Mersereau was the son of George and Elizabeth Mersereau and was born at Doaktown July 9th, 1852. His education was completed in Fredericton at the Baptist Seminary, the Provincial Normal School and the University of New Brunswick. For eight years he was Principal of the Bathurst High School, and in 1884 he was appointed Inspector of Schools for Northumberland, Gloucester and Restigouche Counties. His most faithful and valuable service in this capacity for thirty years has made its lasting impress on the thousands, both young and older, with whom he came in contact, and a deep sense of personal loss will be felt by his very many friends.

Col. Mersereau was a man of action, and gave his energies to much good work. He was a Past Master in the Masonic fraternity and was High Chief Ranger of the Province in the Independent Order of Foresters. For many years he was in command of the Northernmost Regiment and entered active service in 1915 when he organized and took to England the 132nd North Shore Battalion. Upon it being broken up he was appointed Canadian Base Depot at Etaples, France, where he remained two years. Percival, of Boston, Maine, and Ruford Falls, Me., and one sister, Miss Sarah M. Mersereau, of Boston, also survive.

In religious belief, Colonel Mersereau was a Baptist and throughout his life many were the evidences of his devotion to the cause of high character and of right. He was a teacher and active worker in the Sunday School at Doaktown. He lived for others who mourn the first break in others and was beloved by all.

—Lively Discussion Re Road Commissioner.

Fredericton, Aug. 21.—The present condition of the lumber business and the fact that the hardwood limits in the Maine and others in the United States are becoming depleted is causing attention to be directed toward the hardwood possibilities in New Brunswick. Americans interested in hardwood manufacture have been in this province conducting investigations. They have been favorably impressed with the opportunity and have said so. There also is the possibility that lumbering firms in the province, which have directed their attention to the manufacture of soft woods, will alter or extend their plants to manufacture hardwood.

One difficulty is the way of American interests coming in is the fact that much of the hardwood area is tied up by leases from the province to operators located in the province, who have developed only the soft wood stands on their properties. Arrangements would have to be made whereby newcomers could timber the hardwood.

One of the oldest hardwood industries in the province is the manufacture of last blocks. It is carried on extensively at Mavis Mills, an English company controlling the industry, which has been in existence for many years, and has been considerably devalued. Last blocks have been made of her mother Mrs. John T. Reed who elsewhere in the province, and at one time were fashioned by hand in large quantities.

The price received for hardwood flooring and other forms of manufactured hardwood, have been sufficiently high for some time to attract attention to possibilities of manufacture in this province on a large scale. The hardwood supply in this vicinity is very abundant and we should endeavor to interest these Americans. The I. N. R. passes through virgin hardwood forests and the supply is abundant within a few miles of Campbellton.

Attraction Well Spoken of Will Be Here Tuesday Evening, Aug. 29th.

The Majestic of Halifax, has a fine attraction or Carnival week in the play "The Unloved Wife" which at both performances yesterday, are becoming depleted is causing attention to be directed toward the hardwood possibilities in New Brunswick. There also is the possibility that lumbering firms in the province, which have directed their attention to the manufacture of soft woods, will alter or extend their plants to manufacture hardwood.

The Unloved Wife is an interesting play, original in its sayings and situations, and alarming in bright lines and being firms in the province, which have directed their attention to the manufacture of soft woods, will alter or extend their plants to manufacture hardwood.

REVENUES INDICATE PROSPERITY RETURN

Bouyant Revenues Say Canada's Prosperity Is Returning With Leaps and Bounds

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Indications of returning prosperity are furnished by increasing Federal revenues and the success of the new stamp taxes as money makers is being demonstrated early. Although the tax has been in operation only a fortnight, revenue from this source has gone as high as $1,500,000 in a day. This figure is not a record and is attributable to firms companies paying in one day for the embossing of their checks for a month, thus obviating the necessity of fixing stamps.

An ordinary day's receipts from the stamp tax, however, is around half a million. How it works out is exemplified by comparing a single day of July with one in August. On July 15, before the new levy came into effect the receipts were around $80,000. On the corresponding day of August they amounted to $800,000, will not be surprising if the month's revenue from this source aggregates $5,000,000, with prospects of increasing because August is a dull month commercially and the operation of the tax has not yet acquired its "ring."

Simultaneously, customs receipts are going up. These for July showed an increase of over $3,000,000, compared with the corresponding month of June, while the August increase is estimated to be more marked again. Estimates will be exceeded.

A GOOD MOVE.
Coun. Graham is to be commended for his courage in giving notice of motion to amend the by-laws so that a yearly tax of two dollars will be collected on all property owners, by whose property the sewers pass. We trust that all will be taxed, whether the sewer is used or not. In this way a revenue will be provided to pay interest on our heavy indebtedness for these services.

This course is followed in many towns and cities, and although previously advocated here, has never been put before the council. With a council with a reputation for keen business ability we feel sure that the reasonableness of this small charge will be admitted and the amendment carried without a dissenting voice.

COL. G. W. MERSEREAU.

The passing of Col. G. W. Mersereau is sincerely mourned by his many friends throughout New Brunswick, and especially in the northern counties of the province where for many years he acted in the capacity of inspector of schools and where, during the early months of the war, he raised the 132nd North Shore Battalion, which unit he led overseas. Despite his advanced age, he saw two years of strenuous service in France, although ill health prevented his actual participation in the fighting and finally compelled his return to England and thence back to Canada.

Col. Mersereau was an admirable type of citizen, ever ready to assist in the promotion of any worthy cause, and with the welfare of his native province always at heart. His faithful services in an educational capacity were an appreciable contribution to the province and this together with his service in the great war have won for him a notable distinction and a record any New Brunswicker might be proud of.

MATAPEDIA.

The community was shocked on the morning of August 24, to hear of the death of Miss Eva Irving, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Irving. The deceased young lady who was twenty-six years of age, had been ill for quite a while and was for a time a patient at the sanatorium connected with the Jeffray Hale Hospital, Quebec.

She is survived by her parents, five brothers and two sisters, all of whom have the sympathy of the community. Interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery on the 10th inst. mass being sung by Rev. Fr. LeTourneau.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful testifying to the esteem in which the deceased young lady was held.

Times When Witlessness Is Unwise.
Is witlessness funny? Does it pay to be funny?These questions are asked withspecial reference to the case of a man who is seeking a job and has progressed as far as an interview with an employer.Testimonials may give some ideaof the man's qualifications, but his temperament and personality—a keen employer desires to know something of these—are revealed by the man himself at the interview.Some men are naturally serious;others are naturally humorous.
Which is the better? Which is an asset, and which a fault?"Pretty good at figures, eh?"queried a business man, peering at an applicant for a job."Ought to be, sir," was the reply."I've turned four thousands of times in the army.""Mildly funny, but the employerfrowned. And that man did not get the job."Are you one of those who watchthe clock?" asked another employer of the same man."Wrist-watch, sir," he said, bring- ing it into view.

But, because his testimonials weregood, he interviewed another employer.The latter put an ordinary ques-tion or two, and then asked:
"You in a union?" If the reply had been in the negative the job would have been secured, but the man chuckled:"Not yet, sir. Come to it sooneror later, I expect."
The reference was to the brick-and-mortar "Union"—the workhouse, and an employer with a sense of humor might have smiled. But this particular one didn't. And the man lost his chance of the job.The moral seems pretty obvious.Humor may have a saving grace—when it isn't out of place. There's a time for everything, and the time for wit needs wisdom in the choosing. Funny folk can hardly blame others if they are not taken seriously.
There's much truth in the saying that we should laugh with our equals and at our inferiors, but neither at nor

"What I did cough which was my sign to piece"

"One very hot evening, while in the theatre, I suddenly caught a cold. I felt a slight chill, but thought nothing of it. The next morning I was worse. I had a cough, but instead of the usual tickling sensation of a cold, I had a burning sensation in my throat. I tried ever so hard to get rid of it, but when I went to bed I laid down the idea of starting and the only way I got was to sit up in the morning. I was exhausted, I couldn't sleep. During the day I was getting worse. I was getting times in these severe spasms I was left weak. Anything I tried temporary relief. I was anything but liquid sleep. I was losing my mind. I was in intense agony with my friend of mine told me to try it. "What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces."

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I uttered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

ACADIANS AT GRAND PRE

Chapel At Historic Spot Dedicated—Many Visitors Present.

Grand Pre, N. S. Aug. 18.—As pilgrims to a shrine, 100 Acadians from all parts of Canada and many parts of the United States, gathered at the Grand Pre today and dedicated the chapel which has been built on the site of the old Acadian chapel burned during the tragic expulsion of the Acadians in 1776 and which was immortalized by Longfellow in his poem "Evangeline."

The service of consecration consisted of a pontifical high mass, at which His Right Rev. Bishop LeBlanc, of St. John, N. B., pontificated. He was assisted by a number of Catholic clergy gathered from many parishes of the maritime provinces.

The second event of the programme was the blessing of the corner stone of the chapel, Rev. A. B. Cormier, delivering the address in this connection. The sermon at the mass was preached by Rev. Thomas Albert of Grand Falls, N. B., and was an eloquent appeal for commemoration of the traditions of the Acadians, and putting aside of the lamentations for the things of the past.

The afternoon events included addresses by Hon. D. V. Lasky, former minister of public works, New Brunswick, who also presided as chairman of the occasion, and Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, New Brunswick. Prominent among those present were the following from New Brunswick: S. R. Leger, M. P. P., for Gloucester, who led the choir, selected from all the parish choirs of the maritime provinces; A. T. LeBlanc, Campbellton; O. T. Turgeon, M. P.; Oloffe, the danger spots between Newcastle and Bathurst have been eliminated; much to the delight of the motorists; as more accidents have been reported from this hill than any other in the county. The work which occupied over three months, necessitated the cutting away of two hills and making a fill of over 200 feet by nearly a quarter of a mile.

TITLED BRITISH WOMAN TAKES UP BUSINESS CAREER

Lady Poynter, wife of Sir Ambrose Poynter, the famous architect, has decided to start in business as a house decorator. She states that her scheme is solidly businesslike and not the whim of a society woman. Not wanting to presume upon her title, she decided to work under the name of "Toucan." She has studied for her business for over two years and is able to give estimates and knows where and how to get necessary material.

PARTRIDGE SEASON DURING OCTOBER

Government Decided on Open Season But Will Stop Illegal Selling

An open partridge season in New Brunswick for the month of October, opening on the 1st and closing on the 31st, was ordered for this year by the Provincial Government last night.

Premier Foster, in announcing the open season, said that the last year, according to reports reaching the government, a good many partridges were illegally sold in the province. "They were even served at hotels, clubs and all sorts of places where they must have been secured by purchase," said the Premier, "and if that kind of thing is to go on we shall have to maintain a closed season and not allow partridge to be shot. The Government is proclaiming an open season for the month of October and also issuing instructions that a greater effort must be made to prevent the illegal sale of partridges."

ROCKEFELLER HEALTH WORK

Official Advice That Funds Will Be Available to Start Work September 1.

Fredericton, Aug. 20.—Advice of official confirmation by the International Health Board of the proposition under which New Brunswick receives $27,000 a year for two years from the Rockefeller Institute for carrying on medical inspection in the public schools of the province upon the agreement of the Provincial Government to carry on the work permanently thereafter was received yesterday by Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health, and presented to the Cabinet meeting here.

The advice came in the following telegram from the International Health Board: "Executive Committee International Health Board have adopted a resolution approving the arrangement $27,000, a year beginning September 1st next for rural health programme in New Brunswick. Payment will be made by check payable jointly to the Provincial Secretary Treasurer and the Minister of Health, the first check for the period from Sept. 1st to Nov. 30th to be mailed late in August." The message also advised that a letter from Dr. Wycliffe Ross, general director of the International Health Board, was following with full particulars in regard to the arrangement.

The $24,000 which is thus coming to New Brunswick in two years will be the province's share of the $48,000,000 which the Rockefeller Institute have provided for the International Health Board to expend throughout the world, $24,000,000 of which has been allotted as Canada's share. Hon. Dr. Roberts remained in the city today, following the close of the meeting of the Government last night, to complete plans to put the new programme immediately into effect.

Will Be Demonstration Area.

"New Brunswick will be a demonstration area which the Rockefeller Institute will watch," Hon. Dr. Roberts declared this morning. "This will be the only state province or territory throughout the world giving medical school inspection to all its rural population and the eyes of the universe will be upon this work." Six permanently engaged doctors will be employed as medical school inspectors, the province being divided into that many districts. These appointments have been virtually completed, but will not be announced for a few days, and then the appointments will come here for conferences. The appointments later they will be required, affording the winter, to take post graduate courses of six weeks as outlined, when they will take up public health work generally and special work in inspection. Campbellton, either New Brunswick or Moncton, Fredericton, Hampton or Sussex, Woodstock and St. John will be the headquarters of the six districts.

Arrangements are also being completed for carrying on an extensive work in connection with the training of public health nurses and general public health work at the new health centre which has been opened at St. John, Caverhill Hall property having been secured for the purpose.

HIS "CATCH" WAS DELAYED.

Tommy went fishing the other day without his mother's permission. The next morning one of his chums met him and asked: "Did you catch anything yesterday, Tommy?"
"Not till I got home," was the rather sad response.

Cargoes Sailors Dread.

Recently three members of the crew of a French ship were killed by the cargo they were carrying. This consisted of onions. Not only are these apt to swell when touched by water, but they give off a very unpleasant gas after they have been at sea for some time.

Grain is heartily disliked by sailors. Grain must be taken that no moisture reaches such a cargo, or the grain will swell and burst the ship like an eggshell.

The crew of a ship have to put up with many restrictions when the vessel is carrying explosives. They must keep any sort of light away from the cargo, and must smoke only in certain parts of the vessel. On entering port, the ship flies the red burgee or danger flag. Other ships, seeing this warning, give her a wide berth.

Deck cargoes are always dangerous, especially if they consist of timber or trucks. In a storm they are likely to break apart, no matter how securely they may be lashed. Before now ships have been lost as the result of such accidents.

"Valley of Roses."

Bulgaria's famous "Valley of Roses," which supplied 90 per cent. of the world's supply of attar, or oil of roses, is threatened with ruin. Over half the rose bushes in the valley, situated at the foot of the Balkans, comprising thousands of acres, have been seized with a disease resembling very much a cholera. The nature of the disease is not yet known.

The invention of an effective remedy for the disease was made by the Last year's crop of attar was only 3,000 kilograms, and the great decrease is due chiefly to the mysterious disease, which attacks the roots of the rose bush.

PETER B. KYNE

This eminent Californian has an independent and assured place among American fiction writers. His popularity is immense and to the present day he occupies a position as an exponent of the West, somewhat similar to Bret Harte's in the last generation. Millions have read "Cappy Ricks," "The Long Chance," and "The Valley of the Giants." In a later story, "Webster—Man of Man," his principal characters are Americans, but the most stirring incidents occur in one of those sleepy-on-the-surface but fiery-underneath revolutionary Central America countries. You will have the pleasure of reading it as a serial in this paper. Be sure to get the opening installment.

The Diamond Beetle.

One of the most beautiful of all insects is the "diamond beetle" of Brazil. According to the recent investigations of an American naturalist who has lately visited that country, the sparkling colors of this beetle, which blazes with extraordinary brilliancy in the sunshine, originate in an entirely different way from the hues of butterflies. The scales of the diamond beetle appear to consist of two layers, separated by an exceedingly thin interspace, and the light falling upon them experiences the effect of interference, so that the resulting colors correspond with those of thin plates or of the soap bubble.

A Delicate Machine.

An ultra-interometer has now been devised which is so excessively sensitive as to measure these one-thousandth parts of an inch with a quarter-inch steel bar the minute depression made registers the fly's weight.

Last year 11,026 books were published in Great Britain, 8,330 in America, and 32,346 in Germany.

The terms of the offer of the Minister are decidedly favorable to the investor and it is probable that a large amount and later they will be required, affording the winter, to take post graduate courses of six weeks as outlined, when they will take up public health work generally and special work in inspection.
