Advance on Pekin to Be Made as Speedily as Possible.

A German General Selected as Commander of the Allied Forces-Danger of a Massacre of Europeans When the Advance on Pekin Begins-Fighting in the Amur Distriot Between Russians and Chinese-The Christians Plundered.

Shan Tung has telegraphed to United States Consul Fowler that the Tsung Li Yamen directs him to notify the ions at Pekin and Tien Tsin are unsettled," only messages in plain language, without cipher or reference to military affairs, will be delivered to the ministers.

The governor says that the rebels occupy Peo Ting Fu, and Consul Fowler fears that the missionaries there have been murdered. The allies now confront a difficult and dangerous problem. Without doubt the ministers are held by the Chinese as hostages, and the outcome of the advance on Pekin, which in all probability has already begun, will be awaited with intense anxiety. The latest dispatches show that the allies, notably the Japanese, have been pushing their preparations with feverish haste, organizing a service of pack carts, trains and junks.

UNDER GERMAN COMMANDER. It is reported from Berlin that Lieut .-Gen, Von Lessel, commanding the German forces in China, whom Emperor William has just promoted rank of general commanding an army orps, has been selected as commander-in-chief of the allied forces. The Chinese are strongly entrenched at Wang Tsun, from which position, however, it is believed they can be ejected without great difficulty. THE DANGER.

The danger is that, if defeated there, the Chinese will retire to Pekin and put the remainder of the Europeans to death. It is also possible that the advance of the allies will be the signal for the Chinese authorities to compel all foreigners to quit the capital, in which event they might become the prey of the fanatical Boxers. feeling of the newspapers here is that nothing whatever should now delay the advance, and that no negotiations of any kind should be countenanced until the allied troops reach Pekin and assure themselves regarding the fate of the foreigners.

FIGHTING IN AMUR. Official reports have been received at St. Petersburg that the Chinese again bombarded Blagovestchensk, capital of the Amur Government, on July 26 and 28. The Russian guns replied and reinforcements were then approaching. On July 28 a steamer arrived at Lu Cha Su, towing three boats from Harbin. with 1,500 refugees, including 120 sick and wounded. A Russian force crossed the frontier at Abagitu on July 26. Work on the railway has been resumed there. The Russians have burned some Chinese villages and expelled a Chinse garrison of 2,000 from the fortress at Bajantun, capturing five Krupp guns, which had not yet been mounted, the carriages of four naval guns and a quantity of ammunition.

TO WIPE OUT THE RUSSIANS. The Russian consul at Kuddia sends the following, under date of July 27: The governor of Kuddja received ders from the empress to exterminate the Russians, and the Chinese were preparing to execute the command, but since the arrival of Russian troops for the protection of the consulate matters have been quiet. The Rusisan consul at Kasghar reports an alarming state of affairs, there owing to the excitement among the Chinese troops TROUBLE IN MANCHURIA. St. Petersburg, July 31.—The Russian general staff has received dispatches from various commanders indicating a serious state of affairs in Manchuria. The revolt in the neighborhood of Mukden and northward has assumed such proportions that the Russian from Mukden southward. At Ajasandzian on July 8 the Russian column was surprised and surrounded by Chinese troops. Reinforcements were sent, and the withdrawal of the column was effected to Daschizao, with 48 casualties. The railway from Mukden to Telin and Daschizao has been completely destroyed, and the fate of the workmen and the railway officials north of Mukden is not known. The whole Mukden district is menaced by large bodies of Chinese troops. On July 17 the garrison at Sinjudshi was shelled from the town, three men being killed. an inspection of affairs in Gaodun Pen-

AQUILA O. GRAYDON,
ALD. W. H. WINNETT, City Engine
Chairman No. 2 Committee. 24c City Engineer.

Che Foo, Aug. 1.-The governor of insula was attacked and surrounded by Chinese troops on July 21. The Russians eventually repulsed the Chinese, with a loss of eight Cossacks killed, and ten wounded. Similar reports have been received from other points.

NO BARGAINING. London, July 31.—United States Ambassador Choate saw the prime minister this evening and ascertained his views with regard to the changes in th Chinese situation brought about by the direct dispatches from Pekin. Lord Salisbury assured Mr. Choate that Great Britain had no intention of delaying the advance on Pekin, nor, so far as he knew, had any other power. Lord Salisbury entirely acquiesced in Secretary Hay's desire that the advance be undertaken as speedily as possible. He had no intention of bargaining with China in any way, shape or form, until the ministers were safe under their own military escort. China is making strenuous efforts to come to some agreement with the powers previous to handing over the ministers, but this will not be considered for a moment. AFTER PEKIN IS REACHED. Once Pekin has been reached and the ministers have regained their liberty, the powers have agreed aggression will cease and reparation will become a matter of negotiation. Salisbury believes it may still be proved that the Chinese government is not responsible for the attacks on the legations, except in so far as all governments are responsible for the maintenance of order. It is expected lished twenty or thirty miles nearer that within a few days free communication will be established with the Pekin, and supplies will be assembled ministers in Pekin.

SAFETY OF THE CONSULS. Important additional confirmation of the safety of the legations was ceived in London last evening by Mr. Duncan Campbell, representative in Europe for the Chinese customs service, from the commissioner of customs at Che Foo, in the shape of a Pekin dispatch, not dated, but be-lieved to have been written on July 21, signed by both Sir Robert Hart, inspector-general of customs, and Mr. Robert Bredon, deputy inspector-general, to the following effect: "Staff and family are safe." This has been toms in Shanghai, who telegraphed last evening: "Authentic; inspector-general safe 22nd." A Berlin dispatch says: Hope rein Pekin now runs high in Berlin. The of flooding the low-lying expanse of German foreign office no longer doubts that the ministers, except Baron Von Ketteler, are alive. The papers take Ketteler, are alive. The papers take the same view, and urge that there be no delay in the advance upon Pekin. A special dispatch from Tien Tsin says the missionaries report that all the Americans in Pekin and Tung Chau are safe, but their property has been destroyed.

HELD AS HOSTAGES. A dispatch received at Rome says: "The Chinese government is detaining 600 Europeans as hostages, including members of the legations." It is believed at Rome that when war is of-ficially declared these will be ordered to leave Pekin within 24 hours. The commander of the Italian cruiser Elba, at Tien Tsin, received the following telegram today from the Japanese military attache at Pekin, dated July 22: "The legations are eagerly awaiting relief. Cannot hold out long. Sixty Europeans killed."

LOOKING TO LI. The Shanghai correspondent of the Times says the general aspect of the situation confirms the opinion that the Manchu party, fearing the effect of further violent measures, rely on Li Hung Chang's negotiations to prevail upon the powers to forego vengeance in return for the release of the sur-

STATE OF WAR.

The Tokio corespondent of the Daily Telegraph, wiring yesterday, says: "Kwang Su is reported to have sent a second dispatch to Emperor column has been compelled to retreat Nicholas, admitting that a state of war exists at Tien Tsin, but that the Russians are fully protected at open ports. The Chinese emperor adds that the disturbance in Manchuria were caused by a rebellious general in Amur. That he has instructed the Chinese generals to refrain from hostilities, and that he desires the czar to reciprocate his action.'

THE CHINESE BOLTED.

Shanghai, July 31.—Private advices from New Chwang says that the Russians attacked the Chinese settlement yesterday morning. The engagement lasted an hour and a half. The Chinese bolted from their stockades, but the Russians, after holding them for a short time, returned to their own settlement. The Chinese say they won, driving back the Russians. The Russians had four wounded, and the Chinese six killed and ten wounded.

First Fight Expected to Take Place at Pei Tang. London, Aug. 1 .- "The allies began the advance from Tien Tsin this morning," announces an agency bulletin dated at Shanghai at 11:10 a.m. today. It is assured that the Americans, the Lord British and the Japanese are taking part in this forward movement, wether other nationalities are or not. An advance base will probably be estab> preparatory to a direct stroke at the STRENGTH OF THE ALLIES. Of the 60,000 allies debarked at Pe Chili ports, English military observers consider that 30,000 are available for

THE CHINESE FORCES. according to the vague gatherings of the allies' intelligence officers, up to July 27, were disposed in a great arc thirty miles long and distant ten or fifteen miles. The numbers and exact location of the several divisions are confirmed by the commissioner of cus- utterly unknown. The Pei Ho River is blockaded by sunken, stone-laden junks for twenty miles beyond Tien Tsin, and farther up, and according to Chinese spies of the allies, a dam garding the security of the foreigners has been constructed for the purpose of the relief expedition will probably be at Pei Tang where the viceroy of Yulu personally commands. The following information was brought to Tien Tsin Wednesday, July 25, by a Chinese missionary, who was sent to the British legation at Pekin. He was unable to deliver the message intrusted to him and left Pekin, July 18. He saw a few troops between Pekin and Yang Tsun. No works has been constructed. Food in Pekin was scarce, the ministers and their families and and the city would be quite unable to endure a siege.

the country. THE FIRST ENGAGEMENT

Among the scraps of information brought by another courier who left Pekin, July 14, was the fact that Gen. Ma, a notable Boxer chief, had been killed by the legationers. Shanghai telegrams of this date say the foreign consuls met yesterday and decided to invite Admiral Seymour (British) to take command of the Shanghai defenses. Consul-General J. Goodnow, and the French consul, Gen. M. De Bezaure, on behalf of the consuls, visited Admiral Seymour, and he promised to draw up plans and submit them to a council of officers. The Shanghai municipal council objects to the consular action. The British Second Infantry Bridage has been ordered to debark at Hong Kong to form a flying column to serve

This rather dubious honor, he, acting on the advice of the Queen's ministers, declined. In February, 1866, Prince Alfred, who had by that time attained the rank of captain in the royal navy, was granted by parliament an annual income of £15,000 sterling, with an additional £15,000 sterling, with an additional £10,000 a year when he should marry. On the Queen's birthday in 1866, among the honors announced in the London Gazette, was the fact that Prince Alfred was, on the peerage of Great Britain, created Duke of Edinburgh, Earl of Kent and Earl of Ulster.

In the beginning of 1867 the Duke of Edinburgh sailed from England in command of the frigate Galatea, and on that memorable voyage he visited nearly every country and the world. He proceeded at first to Australian waters, where he remained some time. where he remained some time. At every place he visited he was most enthusiastically received, the inhabi-tants of the various localities and towns vying with one another as to who could do him the greatest honor.

ESCAPED ASSASSINATION. while in Australia occurred an incident which happily had no evil results, though it might have been most calamitous. This was the attempted assassination of the duke, while at a public picnic at Clontarf, N. S. W., organized in his honor, by an individual named O'Farrell. This attempt was made on March 12, 1868. A letter was received on Monday from Walter D. Bapty, Royal Canadian Artillery, dated Bloemfontein, July 1:

I have a new a good many remounts. I have a new team of bright bays. As they belonged to the Royal Horse Artillery before they were at the remount depot, they are well trained. I think it would be a good idea for the Bed Cross Society to send us some bath brick or emery paper to brighten the steel on our harness. Major Hurdman is making us clean our steel, and as we have only mud to clean it with, it is no snap. We are encamped at a large artillery camp. There are several 15-pounders, 5-inch howitzers and a couple of pompom Maxims. We are about four miles outside the town. It seems as if we will soon be leaving for somewhere, I will soon be leaving for somewhere, I don't know whether Kroonstad, Pretoria, home, China, or where.

The heaviest, but not the longest, terday. Mr. Payne, who was a respected colored resident, was born at Bowling Green, Kentucky, twelve years before the battle of Waterloo was fought. He lived in the States until the later fifties, when he came to this city. The old man told many tales of the vicissitudes of his race in the early days, and of the conditions that prevailed when he first came here. His death was due to the weakness of old age. He had been in bed only three days when the end came. He is aged wife, one son, Thomas, who is on the police force of Chicago, and one daughter, Mrs. Mary Duncan, of Detroit. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

THE ASSASSIN. Monza, Aug. 1.—The assassin, on reaching the guard room of the Carbineers, was in a pitiable condition, his hands and arms being lacerated and bloody, and his clothes torn by the angry crowd. Replying to questions, he hissed through his clenched teeth: "Tell them I came from America on purpose to kill Humbert. I have only just arrived from America, and know no one. I spent a day at Bologna, and then came on to Milan." A search made at his home at Prato resulted in the finding of several compromising letters from New York. SALISBURY ON THE REGICIDE.

London, Aug. 1.-Moving an address to the Queen with reference to the assassination of King Humbert of Italy, the premier, Lord Salisbury, in the House of Lords yesterday, recalled that the last half of the century had seen the assassination of three presidents of republics and two monarchs. "It was a fearful thing," Lord Salisbury said, "to contemplate this depth of human villainy beneath the smiling surface of society, which threatened the destinies of society in the early future." The premier paid a glowing tribute to the character of King Humbert, who had worked unflaggingly for the bene-fit of his country and people. The assassination of such a man could not be considered private revenge; it was nothing but that morbid thirst for notoriety, which is the plague and curse of modern civilization, and had time and again led men to the com-mission of the foulest crimes. It threatened the very existence of society if it could not be arrested. He did not propose to speak of remedies for such a state of things, but he had never hesitated to express his own views in that respect. Modern society had erred on the side of leniency.

The Earl of Kimberley (Liberal) seconded the motion, which was adopted both in the House of Lords and in the Commons.

REDUCTION OF PUBLIC DEBT

The Dominion Government Last Year Reduced It by Nearly $1,000,000.

Canada's Growing Time-Prosperity on Every Hand Throughout the Dominion.

[Toronto Globe.] The result of last year's operations by the Dominion Government has been a reduction of the public debt by about a million dollars. This is the third time since confederation that the entire expenditure of a year, both capital and ordinary, has been met out of current revenue, leaving a balance to be applied to reduction of debt. Had this been accomplished by stinting the pub-lic services, by delaying necessary outlays or levying onerous burdens of taxation, no special credit would attach to the Laurier ministry, but the good results have been secured without the adoption of injurious means. The burden of federal taxation never sat more lightly on the people of Canada than it does today. In 1895, when the expenditure exceeded the revenue by $6,891,897, and in 1896, when the expenditure was $5,422,505 greater than the revenue, the burden of taxation was straining the endurance of every important line of commerce and manufacture. Then we had the distressing phenomena of dull times. Merchants and manufacturers were struggling against adverse conditions, and in that unfair struggle many were forced to succumb. It was not the amount of federal taxation but the unscientific method in which it was levied that imposed so heavy a burden on the Can-adian people through the years that are still remembered with regreat even by those who financially survived.

Taxation was levied with the avowed object of causing the maximum obstruction to trade with the minimum of revenue, and in many cases it actually destroyed the commercial activity from which the revenue was to have been collected. A much greater revenue, if intelligently levied, would have been far less burdensome to the indus-try and commerce of the Dominion. History tells of an Egyptian tax on date trees, which forced the people to cut down all the old trees and also all ing trade with a view to suppressing it entirely. Not only was taxation so levied as to meagre results. This latter defect was postal agreement which includes the not avowed as a line of policy, but re- United States, and, notwithstanding resulted from incompetence and the the enormous cost of extending an adtriumph of nefarious influences. Had the revenue been wisely and honestly in which it was levied would not have result of new conditions. The foreign trade of the Dominion are higher than at any time during the period of extreme protection.

in 1896, a gain of $133,000,000, or 55 The total exports and imports last year were $372,000,000 against $239,000,000 experienced in 1896. But although we went into debt to the extent of more than twelve millions in two years, our public services were comparatively neglected, and the people were forced to bear a double infliction. The Intercol-onial Railway illustrates the difference between the old regime and the new. From a helpless project, subserviently feeding the Canadian Pacific Railway and running from the coast cities to nowhere, it has been converted into a serious competitor for the trade of the Maritime Provinces, connecting the commercial capital with the Atlantic ports. It has been transformed into a live enterprise, of service to the shipping interests and the traveling public, and creditable to the Dominion as an example of public management. The postoffice is another illustration of the difference between the old and the new methods. A poor and expensive service resulted in en-ormous deficits year after year. A three-cent rate in the Dominion and to any part of the United States, and a five-cent rate to Britain and other parts of the empire, tended to restrict the young ones, leaving only those in their best bearing period. This finds an exact parallel in the system of taxrying of the mails and other services. A shrunken revenue improperly expended had the same result in this deimpose the greatest possible obstruction, but the revenue was expended in such a way as to produce the most cent rate throughout the empire by a equate mail service to the Yukon Ter-per cent. in four years. This appears n striking contrast to the slow growth of the old regime, when the total increase was only $66,620,000 in eighteen The average yearly years. during the past four years has been close on half the gain during the long period of obstruction and waste. The sudden life that has appeared in all departments of trade and industry shows the result of freedom and wise economy. The Dominion has obtained value for every dollar of taxation contributed, and the tariff has been so adjusted as to increase instead of lessening the power of the people to bear burdens. Our exports during the past year happily disappoint the predictions of the ruin of our industries through the adoption of the British preferential tariff and the policy of general relief. Goods, the product of Canada, exclusive of the pregions metals, were exive of the precious metals, were exported to the value of $152,818,917 last year, a gain of $46,440,165 as compared with similar exports in 1896. This increase is almost $6,000,000 greater than during the previous eighteen years. During the last four years the exports During the last four years the exports of manufactured goods increased from $9,365,384 to $13,692,773. Although the destruction of our manufacturing industries was predicted, they have made their way into foreign markets to almost as great an extent during the most as great an extent during the Liberal regime as during the previous eighteen years. These statistical records are interesting and instructive, but they do not appeal to the average business man, manufacturer or workman as strongly as the activity and prosperity obvious on every hand throughout the Dominion. Prices are good, demand is strong and continuritory, the deficits have been greatly ous, employment is steady and wages

East and West.

The position of East and West is st now one of mutual fear and dis-The weeks pass by and the ws is still to a large extent conflictg and confusing. The darkness is nnoying as well as perplexing. It is fficult to know what China is doing, find out whether there is any guidg head or shaping hand, and if so, hat is the policy that is being workd out. One thing only is certain, him: amely, that Europe has a big Chinese goods to consume them, you must pay roblem on hand, which will not be olved for many a day. This is, we are told, largely a quesion of superiority. The conceit of the Chinese is colossal; theirs is the Celesial Kingdom, and there are no human beings to be compared to them. They are the ancient and honorable people; ill others are striplings and upstarts. On the other hand, Westerners think themselves to be a higher class than Asiatics, whom they rank as barbarians, They not only want to force rade on their own terms, but they expect a certain amount of personal nomage. Hence the Chinese and other Asiatics have a perfect hatred to "the foreigner" and his works and ways. This may be very ignorant, stupid and bigoted on their part, but it is to a a common manhood, and the breaking down of class distinctions and caste feeling all over the world. We believe that events are moving in that direction, but we do not expect such movement to go on without a great deal of friction. This friction may now be painful and involve much sorrow and loss; but in the end it will, we are sure, be more healthful and peaceful. The time has come now when the world seems small; in these days of steam and electricity it has shrunk into smaller dimensions. It is felt that no part can now be completely cut off from the rest. It must all be brought into the service of civilized man, and made subservient to the world's progress. White men, brown men, yellow men and black men must all play their part. They must learn to live together or trade together on principles of equal righteously. Europe, having forced its way into China, must not seek revenge merely, but must learn to help China in the unfolding of her life.

Thus, out of all these conflicts, dark and dreadful as they are, something good will come.

Hon. Mr. Paterson on the

The speech of Hon. Wm. Paterson on the financial standing of the Dominion, the prosperity of the country, and the effect of the policy of the Administration thereon, was one of the most interesting delivered in the closing days of the parliament. The Minister of Customs, with his usual candor and effectiveness, met the cry that the Government had added to the expenditure while it had entered office with the promise to reduce taxation. He claimed, and produced official returns to support his position that the Government had kept its promises, though the circumstances of the country had vastly changed for the better, and had necessitated many expenditures that did not have to be made prior to 1896. Giving the official figures, which have already been printed in these columns, the Minister of Customs said: "When these figures are applied, according to the Honorable Finance Minister, it will be found that the expenditure of last year on ordinary account and the expenditure on capital account, and such expenditure as will have been incurred for the contingents sent to South Africa, will all be paid out of this year's revenue, and leave, as we hope and believe, no debt upon the country at all. Under these circumstances, of what avail is it to talk about the public utterances made in 1894-95, when, with an expenditure of $38,000,000, we (that is, the late Government) had to borrow and go into debt to the extent of $4,000,000 to pay the ordinary expenses of the country outside of capital expenditure, and when we added over $6,000,000, nearly $7,000,000 to the public debt? Circumstances have changed. Not only are we paying the current expenditures, but we have a surplus, as we have estimated, of $7,500,000, and we are using that $7,500,000 to enlarge our canals, to develop our waterways, to improve our railway system, to do as the honorable acting Minister of Public Works (Mr. Mulock), is doing from the Atlantic to the Pacific, doing what was neglected for years and years by honorable gentlemen opposite, putting the harbors, rivers, lighthouses, piers and public buildings of the country in a proper state of repair, and giving facilittler to trade and commerce of the This is being done, and done successfully. I have not the slightest difficulty in reconciling the statements made by honorable gentlemen opposite in the year 1894-95, when we had an expenditure of $38,000,000 with the expenditure which we are called upon to make, exceeding the expenditure of 1894-95, by millions, it is true, but an expenditure not made out of borrowed funds, not running the country into debt, paying not only out of ordinary revenue for the current expenditure, but paying for the capital expenditure well. But honorable gentlemen say: What about your debt? Well, I have just pointed to the fact that we are not increasing the debt. During these our years, with all the expenditure on pital account, with millions and milexpended in the direction I have ng transportation to the pro-

the country, we have only added less than $2,000,000 a year to the net debt of the country, as against $6,000,000 added every year on the average, by honorable gentlemen oppo-

This is how Mr. Paterson exposed one of the false cries raised against the present Administration at Ottawa:

"When did they ever propose that the revenues of the country should be less? What they did pledge them-selves to, and what the Government was responsible for, was to reduce the rate of taxation, and that they have carried out. The Parliament of Canada does not make the price at which goods are sold in foreign countries. The Parliament of Canada has not dared, nor would it seek to ask any member of this House, or any person in this Dominion, to purchase more or less goods. Every individual can adjust that for himself. But, there is one way, and one way alone in which this Covernment do stand between the con-Government do stand between the con-sumer and the goods he uses, and that is on certain lines of goods they say to Before you can acquire these far into the public treasury, to carry on the government of the country.

That is the only way in which the Government stand between the people and that which they consume. That is termed the rate of taxation. The Government ernment were pledged to reduce the rate of taxation, and they did it. While they reduced the rate of taxation, the volume has swollen, it is true, not swollen by compulsion on the part of the Government; for, as I said before, the Government do not determine what quantity of goods shall be purchased by any one in this Dominion, nor do they determine the price at which goods are sold in foreign countries. They only determine the number of cents on the dollar that they will take from the consumer to put into the public treasury to carry on the affairs of the Dominion. We were pledged to reduce the rate of taxation, and we have done so. Let me give you now the figures of this and let us rememcertain extent natural, and it cannot ber that all the expenditure that I have mentioned is applied to the public The situation can only in the fullest sense be relieved by the recognition of a common members, and the breaking these millions more in the direction that I have indicated, and that while we have done that, we have reduced the rate of taxation, that we have lessened the burdens they were under for years preceding our government com-ing into power, then, I think the peo-ple will say: You have managed our affairs very well indeed."

The Minister of Customs then gave a strong illustration of the amount saved to the taxpayers by the reduction of taxation effected under the tariff as it has been revised in the interests, not of a class, but of the whole people of Canada. He said:

"In 1900 the goods entered for con-sumption, dutiable and free, were ap-proximately of the value of $183,209,273, on which we collected duty to the amount of $28,866,986. That was an average rate of taxation on all goods imported for consumption, dutiable and free, of 15.76. In 1896 the total value of goods imported was $110,587,480, on justice. There is no going back. America, having brought the blacks from Africa, must learn to treat them or a reduction in the rate of taxation of nearly 14 per cent. To show what that means to the cou honorable gentlemen opposite that if their rate of 1896, 18.28 per cent were levied upon the imports for consumption of last year, it would take from the people $33,490,655, while the duty actually collected was $28,868,986, or less by $4,623,669 than it would have been at the former rate of taxation. With the reduction in the postal rate, which honorable gentlemen opposite said would amount of $750,000, and with these reductions in the revenue of the country, we find that we have been able to spend millions, which honorable gentlemen opposite lament, we have seen able to pay all our ordinary expenditures, and all our capital expenditures, and all the expenses of sending our troops to Africa and come out without adding a dollar to the debt of this country."

Mr. Davin—The expenses of the troops were charged to capital.

The Minister of Customs—I am explaining that according to the estimate Finance Minister, which we think will be realized, not only all the ordinary expenditure of this year, but all the capital expenditure on railways, canals and other objects will be paid out of revenue, and that without adding anything to the burdens of the

Dealing with the Liberal demand that the public debt should not be increased, Mr. Paterson said:

"Honorable gentlemen say: You pledged yourselves to reduce the pub-I do not know that we did; but the platform of the Liberal party did recite that we viewed with alarm the great increase of the public debt; and well we might, with deficit after deficit meeting us, and with the debt representation is having full sway in the Opposition circles these days. being added to on the average during the whole eighteen years to the extent of over $6,000,000 a year. As I have pointed out, in the four years in which we have been in power we have not added to the public debt $2,000,000 a itor. He is terribly exercised over year; but in my judgment we have virtually reduced the public debt most materially. If-I say if, because I have not the means of ascertaining the exact fact-if we have added, as I believe we have, half a million people to the population of this country since we came into power, we have virtually decreased the public debt to the people while nominally adding to it $7,500,000. Why do I judge that we have added half a million people to the population of this country? I ask you, in the first Mackenzie Bowell, who ought to know place, to look at the volume of trade. Granted that the people are better off than they were, and no one will deny it; but look at the vast increase in the importations of goods, which means an increased consumption by the people, and that not by displacing goods manufactured in our own country; for every factory, I might say al-most without exception from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is busy. The steam whistle all over the country would give the denial to any statement that the production of our home industries is less now than it was be-Everything bears testimony to the fact that there has been an era of great expansion in the manufacturing industries of this country. We find that our home production is greatly enlarged; you read in the papers that there are orders for more goods in many lines than can be got out by the new year. When we look at our increased importation, at our immigra-tion returns, at the signs of expansion about us in every direction, we must believe that we have added largely to the population of this country, and I think it is not extravagant for me to place that increase at half a million. If I might use expressions of honorable gentlemen opposite, I might find confirmation of that belief.

I do not wish to distort their remarks, because I know their figures were given in the rough; but more than once the leader of the opposition has spoken of the population of Canada e as being now 6,000,000, and the honorable member for York (Mr. Foster) last year spoke of Canada as having mow a population of 6,000,000. I do not take so high an estimate; but if when we came into office the population was 5,200,000, and if I put it at 5,700,000 now, I do not think I am out of the way, for the population was taken. I say that the only proper way to measure the debt is at so much per head; and if you take into account the half million people added to the population, with the addition of $7.500,000, to the public debt, since we came into power, you will find that we have virtually reduced the public debt of this country by $3 per head, or $15 per family. Any man knows that if a municipality, and double the wealth of its assessment, you have virtually cut the debt in two. The same is true with the public debt of Canada; and therefore while there has been a nominal addition to it of $7.500,000 in the four years, yet by the increase of population and trade of the country and the reduction of taxation, there has been actually a very material reduction in the public debt."

The showing which was made by

The showing which was made by Hon. Mr. Paterson will interest the people of the country as it interested Parliament. It is something to have an era of deficits and big additions to the public debt, such as occurred under the late Government, succeeded by a period of such prosperity and progress as have been prevalent throughout Canada.

Let us briefly chronicle the more important achievements.

The public debt. per head, has been

Dominion and Imperial Penny Postage has been established, and $750,000 a year saved to the taxpayers.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 of our young men have been sent to South Africa, to represent Canada in fighting, side by side with the troops of the Motherland and of sister colonies for the reestablishment of justice for our fellow subjects of Queen Victoria.

Many public works have been undertaken that were delayed because of the deficits in revenue occurring under the restrictions and tariff kept in force by the late Government.

And all this, and more, has been accomplished without adding to the indebtedness of the people, and under a tariff lowered to meet the needs of the people, and providing for preferential treatment of products of the Motherland when brought into Canada.

Is any one surprised that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his associates express readiness to go before the people and put their record and achievements in the balance with that of their predecessors who were driven out of office four years ago, with full assurance that the result will be the declaration of the electors that the present most satisfactory condition of affairs shall not be disturbed.

Drownings.

This year, many persons who have been proved to be good swimmers have been drowned. Their fate is not an argument against learning to swim, but it is a strong argument in favor of those who go into the water acting with discretion. Two many swimmers behave as if there were no danger in the water if one is a good swimmer. There is always danger when one is beyond his depth, and the wise swimmer will take good care, first that he is physically in good condition to enter the water, and, second, that he is never far from human aid, in case he may require it.

Is it not just that if the Government is made bear the blame in the case of dullness of trade, it should get credit for the plentifulness of employment? That is the last thing, however, that the Opposition partisan will concede. Yet it seems only fair.

Every now and again we observe the Huntington Gleaner-a Quebec journal-classed as a Liberal paper by the Opposition press. How hard up for argument those Opposition papers must be. The Gleaner is no more a Liberal paper than the Toronto World or the Hamilton Spectator. The policy of mis-

Dog day weather is having disastrous effects on the Ottawa Citizen edeverything that concerns the administration of Dominion affairs, and professes to be profoundly disgusted with every executive act, and all in the vain hope that he may manufacture public opinion in favor of the Tupper-Montague-Caron-Wallace-Taylor combination of politicians, who but a very short time since were described by Sir them, as 'a nest of traitors."

Heaven will pay for any loss we may suffer to gain it; but nothing can pay for the loss of heaven.—Bax-

THE JURY'S VERDICT

In the Hodgins Case-Came to Their Death by Reason of Their Own Negligence - More Watchmen at Orossings Recommended

The Hodgins inquest was brought to a close last night at the police station. The witnesses heard were David Patterson, Guest Guymer, Clifford Shoebottom, Wm. Reeves and Harold Mc-Conneil, who were eye-witnesses of the accident, and Dr. Stutt, who performed the post-mortem examination, described the injuries to the bodies. Death, he said, was instantaneous. The jury returned a verdict that Richard Hodgins and his wife Elizacame to their death by reason of their own negligence. A recommendation was added that the city council insist on watchmen being employed on every crossing from Adelaide street to the depot.

The Sifton Examination Resumed-Byidence of John Siften and Dr. Me-Meil, Who Attended the Injured Man.

Although the hour of 10 o'clock was set for the opening of the Sifton prewas one hour later before Squire J. B. Smyth mounted the bench. The court room was filled at the time, and the crowd increased later as the proceedings progressed.

Alfred Sifton, the last witness heard on Monday afternoon, was recalled for Hogs-Singers, 6%c; fats, 5%c; lights, his cross-examination. Mr. Magee first asked a couple of questions, which he omitted to ask on Monday. Witness told of the persons who were present to $5 15; selected feeders, steady strong, $4 to $4 75; mixed stockers, $3 to $4 50; heifers, $3 40 foot, then shortly after he gave a cough or sneeze. Froth came from the cough or sneeze. on the afternoon of his brother's death.

To him witness said that from the time he came to the house till a few minutes before Joseph's death, the patient was lying flat on his back, and did not change his position. His breathing did not change during that time. To Mr. Magee, witness said that Dr. McNeil said it would be better not to leave the patient alone. Mr. McEvoy did not cross-examine the witness.

John Sifton was then called. He testified that at Dr. McNeil's suggestion ers; $5 60 for pigs and $4 60 to $4 90 for roughs, and $3 75 to $4 for stags. The and put them away securely. The axe > called. He testified that Gerald Sifton came to him on the morning of Joseph Sifton's injury, and said: "Father is terribly hurt. He fell out of the barn. He may not be allie when you get to the house." Gerald had a one-seated cart and could not take witness with him. Witness asked Gerald to take witness' grip while witness wheeled to the house as fast as he could. Witness entered the house and found Sifton lying on the couch in the north room. His breathing was stentorious and pulse feeble, irregular and sometimes imperceptible. The room was crowded with a number of articles as well as a couple of people. Witness wished to administer a hypodermic injection, but his hypodermic syringe was not in his case, and he had to return to his home for it. Neither Gerald nor Her-bert were in the house before he went. but Mary McFarlane was. Witness hypodermically injected whisky into the patient's abdomen. Witness also injected digitalis at the same time. Witness ordered Mary McFarlane to make fire and heat water. Witness then ordered the room clearthe room, except a table and the couch, with John and Alfred that Gerald Sifof blood. The clotted blood was diffi- accidental death, but if any facts came telling him that money would be no consideration, that his father was un-

Witness did not think the injured man would speak before the end. Witness then proceded with the dressing of the wounds, turning the patient's head toward the witness. He asked Mr. Sinker to turn the head so as to put in the stitches. Witness then fixed patient more comfortably on the couch, propping up the head of the couch. On the right side of the head, midway between the ear and the crown, was a wound about two inches long, with a slight turn down at the end and much abrased. In the center of the scalp was a bruised cut, and near it another contused wound, deeper in the center and lacerated all round. A considerable portion of the scalp on top seemed separated from the skull.

Gerald said he did not see his father go up or fall out, but heard the swish the fall; but Herbert, who was twenty feet away, said his father had the axe in both hands, gave a board a tremendous blow, and fell out of the hole, with the axe in his hands. John and Alfred Sifton said they would like to have another doctor, and Witness agreed. They decided upon Dr. Wishart. Witness then drove to town with John Sifton, but before they returned with the doctor Alfred Sifton drove in and said Joseph was dead. Before witness left for the city he saw the patient. When he touched the wound dressing patient shuddered. Witness expresed the hope to John, Alfred and Miss Sifton that if there was a depression, and it raised, I would not be without a bottle of it in my house."

Witness took for granted from what he heard that it was the upper beam from which Joseph Sifton had fallen. Witness ordered John Sifton to put away the bricks and the axe, as, if anything was said, they would be there if wanted. The witness next saw the bricks and the axe when he delivered them to High Constable Mcwas covered with blood on both sides, and there was also hair. Witness identified the bricks and aex produced. Joseph Sifton's hair was brown, and there was a great deal of it, with no sign of baldness. His age would be between 55 and 60. About 11:30 Saturday night witness was at Joseph's house. He called to get his cases, which were on the table in the room with the corpse. The remark was made to him that Joseph died ed of its encumbrances. Herbert was without a struggle. Campaign in South Africa Winding Up.

Botha Likely to Surrender When His Allies Have Dispersed -Mrs. Botha a Guest of Lord Roberts.

London, Aug. 1, 6 a.m.,-The campaign in South Africa is now closely connected with China, for the speedy collapse of the Boer resistance will enable the British government to take a more decisive line in the impending conflict than it has been following. There is probably no truth in the current report that Lord Roberts has telegraphed Lord Lansdowne that the war will be speedily brought to an end, for the war office has a remarkable talent for keeping its secrets, and Lord Roberts is not in the habit of forecasting events. There is, however, a strong conviction among members of parliament that the close of hostilities is in

COLLAPSING.

The collapse of the Free State forces will be complete when Dewet and Stein are surrounded and compelled to surrender, and Botha has been credited with the intention of giving up the fight when his allies are dispersed. Lord Roberts has recalled Gen. Hamilton's column to Pretoria, either to reinforce Col. Broadwood or relieve Gen.

Balden-Powell. KIPLING A WITNESS. Mr. Rudyard Kipling, testifying be-fore the South African hospital inquiry commission today, said he found little fault generally, except with the Wood-stock hospital, at Cape Town. This, he said, was unspeakable. It was horribly foul, and drains ran through it. ROBERTS ENTERTAINS MRS.

BOTHA. Pretoria, Tuesday, July 31.-Mrs. Botha was the guest of Lord Roberts at dinner yesterday evening.

The Boer animosity to President Kruger grows on account of the fact that he and his officials are persuading the people that South African paper money

The proed Kingdom. During the past two weeks I have seen the representative parts of Ulster, from the beautiful and prolific agricultural districts between Limavady and Derry, South Antrim and Down, to the unprolific bog lands of South and West Donegal, as well as the exceedingly poor and stony reaches in Northern Donegal, from which so many pounds sterling have been extorted and taken by rack-renting, inhuman and most unscrupulous landlords. I have sat in the houses of the people of all classes, among the peasantry, and dined in some of the best residences of the country, in all cases gathering information regarding the present state of Ulster, and I am forced to state that I consider the outlook gloomier for the small farmer than it ever was before. In fact, the much-despised Donegal is and is going to be more prosperous than the other parts of Ulster, because the patches of land are no longer relied upon for the means of subsistence. There are hundreds of small farmers in Derry, Antrim, Armagh, Down and Monaghan putting on a respectable front who have scarcely "two half-pence to rub against each other," as one said. Now, sir, if this be so, and I think there are few that will feel like contradicting me, how will the small

another year or two the price of cattle will be much lower, for two principal reasons: The first is that the United States will soon have a surplus of their own, despite their 78,000,000 of a

which will tend to such an abundance of cattle and farm produce that we statements. They contained news of the Canadian regiment's doings up to June 26, and also information regarding other corps with which the Canadians had been working. Pte. Hennessy, writing to the Manhattan Club, of which he was a member, says it is hard to see the company which left here in October over 100 strong reduced to 35 men. He also tells of the entry into Pretoria, and says that of the 21 men of the Seventh who arrived at Cape Town only seven were in the ranks when the Transvaal capital was from March 25 to April 10 was captured by the Boers, thus keeping the boys without news from home for a considerable time. At the time of writing, the opinion seemed to prevail that the regiment would not be called upon to do any more hard work, and that it would soon be homeward bound.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. James Scrimgeour, one of Stratford's oldest citizens, died. He was born in Scone, Perthshire, Scotland, 72 years ago. With his father and three members of the family he came to Stratford about 1850 and went into the lumber business. Mr. Scrimgeour was widely and favorably known. About six months ago he was taken to the hospital, where he remained tili a few weeks prior to his death, which was the result of consumption. Mr. Scrimgeour was a Reformer in politics and a Presbyterian in religion. He is survived by two brothers and three sisters—George, of San-tiago, Cal.; Davis, Miss Margaret and Mrs. James Basson, of Stratford, and Mrs. John Dunn, of Tara.
