London, April 1.—From a statement made by Mr. Chamberlain, the co-lonial secretary, in the House of Commons today, it appears that the South African war has relieved the British Chartered South African Company of all financial liability in regard to the Jameson raid, the colonial secretary admitting that the claims of Transvaal had not passed to Great

Chinese Plenipotentiaries Reject the Manchurian Convention

Regardless of Russia's Threat to Slam Shut the "Open Door"-Russian Reports of the Situation.

London, April 1 .- "The Chinese Emperor, I am officially informed, has instructed the Chinese plenipotentiaries." says the Pekin correspondent of the Daily Mail, "not to sign the Manchurian convention, even in a modified form." Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Pekin, March 28, says: "The Yang Tse viceroys have carried the day. Li Hung Chang, who wired Tuesday urging Emperor Kwang Su to reconsider his decision, received an answer that the throne's decision, in the presence of the unanimous advice of the chief provincial officials, was irrevocable, and that the Manchurian convention would not be signed. IN SPITE OF RUSSIAN THREATS. In spite of her threats Russia seems disinclined to slam the door. Negotiations between Li Hung Chang and M. De Giers were certainly proceeding yesterday, when M. De Giers agreed to several formal amendments to the text. Russia's cynical and bold diplomacy appears for once to have over-reached itself. TERM EXPIRES WEDNESDAY. St. Petersburg, April 2.—The new term within which the signature of the Manchurian agreement is demanded will expire Wednesday. The confidence that the treaty will be accepted substantially in its present form is apparently unshaken here, though no

GERMANY'S POLICY. The Berliner Tageolatt publishes the following dispatch from Shang-"The German first-class battleship Weissenburg has started from Shanghai toward Nankih and the north, her purpose being to impress the Chinese and the allies that Germany means to preserve and heighten her prestige and interests in the Yang Tse Valley. The German gunboat Tiger has relieved the Iltis at Han-kau, where the Iltis stayed five months, because of the shallowness of the Yang Tse at that point. RUSSIAN REPORTS. A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette, from St. Petersburg, dated April 1,says robber bands, Boxers and Chinese soldiers have been causing fresh disturbances in Manchuria, in the neighborhood of Chang Tu Fu. Gen. Kaulbars is strengthening the railway military posts between Karbin and Chang Tu Fu. Gen. Kaulbars has asked Governor-General Grodrock for reinforcements, as a general revivement of the Boxer movement is expected in the spring. The Russian garrison at Tsi Tsi Bar has been compelled to camp outside the town, owing to the presence of the decomposing bodies of those who were killed during the cold weather or who perished of hunger. Missionaries have reported to the United States legation that they have received reliable information that a German expedition from Shanghai, 3,000 strong, has reached Thai Yuan. The Germans at headquarters deny having any knowledge on the subject. FORTS TO BE DESTROYED. Pekin, April 1.-Regarding the de-

PROBLEMATICAL. New York, April 2 .- According to the Express, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, 71,000 square miles of territory in the Chinese Provinces of Shan Se and Hoo Nan, rich in iron-coal and petroleum, have been leased to a British syndicate. If there should be any truth in the story the contented at-titude of Lord Lansdowne in the face of Russian designs on Manchuria would readily be accounted for. THE PAN-AMERICAN

Fifteen Thousand Visitors Were on the Grounds Sunday-Good Prospects of the Show Being Opened Promptly on Time.

Buffalo, April 1.-There were 15,000 visitors at the Pan-American grounds yesterday, among them President John G. Milburn and Director of Works Carlton, of the Exposition Company. In reply to a question, Mr. Milburn said: "This weather is full of promise for us. With a continuonce of reasonably fair weather, the entire exposition will be finished and ready for opening on May with little or nothing remaining to be done. Mr. Carlton said: "If the weather continues good in April, everything inside the lines of the canal and on the Midway will have a sand-paper finish on it before the opening day. The buildings in the section set apart for the various states and foreign governments will be about all that will not be finished. We are at work already on the roads and open spaces, and on Tuesday we will begin working the men in three sections, so as to work all night, as well as all day, on the asphalt and crushed stone roads."

The work of removing the scaffolding from the electric tower is well under than ever before. Toronto retail milk dealers will have to pay more for their supply in August, September and October. This was decided at a large meeting of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association. Whether the increased price will be maintained after October was left for way, and the beauty of that structure was more plainly apparent yesterday

a future meeting.

Disbrow sisters, two widely-known in a gloomy mansion on the Boston of years no one in New Rochelle could post road, overlooking the Sound, are both dead. The older sister died a week ago of pneumonia. Now Cor-It is believed that both were considerably over 80. Their father was Capt. Henry C. Disbrow, a United States naval officer, who was lost at sea. At the time of his death, about 60 years ago, the sisters left New York city probably go to a nephew.

INSPECTION Mr. Fisher's Bill Under Discussion in the House.

Canada Invited to Discuss With the Imperial Government in Reference to Changes in Privy Council's Ottawa, April 1.-In the house this afternoon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply to a question by Lieut.-Col. Hughes, stated that the government of Canada has been invited by the imperial authorities to send a representative to England to consult with them in reference to a change in the constitution of the judicial committee of the Privy Council. The Guelph Junction Railway Bill was passed, and

Junction. Mr. Tarte replied that the site had not been selected. In reply to the questions: If no site has yet been selected what steps have been taken to do so? If nothing has been done, why not? Is it the intention of the government to place a sum construction of said building? Has the government abandoned its intention, declared last year, of proceeding with its construction? Mr. Tarte said that the matter was engaging the attention of the government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed Lieut.-Col. Prior that the government had received a copy of the resolution of the British Columbia Mining Association, passed at the meeting held at Nelson, asking that a portfolio or bureau of mines be established, with a responsible minister of the crown in charge of the department, but that no conclusion had been reached in connection with the matter.

BILL RESPECTING FRUIT PACK-

The house again went into commit-tee upon Mr. Fisher's bill to provide for the marketing and inspection of packages containing fruit for sale, Mr. Fisher proposed that in order to meet the objections advanced when the bill was last before the committee, an op-tion be given to have the brand "A tion be given to have the brand "A No. 1 Canadian" or "A No. 1 Nova Scotia." He explained that at present there are two recognized brands of Canadian apples in the British market, "No. 1. Nova Scotia" and "No. 1 Canadian." The proposition to have one brand only of standard apples, to "A No. 1, Canadian," was objected to by the Nova Scotia growers, who, having achieved a reputation which had some value, were unwilling to be deprived of that which they regarded as their right.

Mr. Clancy objected to any province setting up a standard for all Canada. The house would not desire to deprive Nova Scotia of any reputation which that province had earned, but last year the apples sent from Nova Scotia had been very poor in quality.

Mr. Robinsor (Elgin) said the peo-ple of the other side of the Atlantic knew very little about provincial dis-tinctions, but they did know us all as Canadians, and he protested against the word "Canadian" being dropped the word

Mr. Holmes insisted that the people of Ontario were as jealous of the reputation of their fruit as the people of Nova Scotia, and insisted that no province be given a preference or privilege over other provinces.

Mr. Jabel Robinson asked that in order Mr. Jabel Robinson asked that in order to protect purchasers who may reside in another province a clause be inserted providing that whenever a barrel of apples is found to be contrary to the act, upon an affidavit being made by three parties as to the quality of the fruit, the index where the purchaser resides may judge where the purchaser resides may impose the penalties of the act upon the packer.

TO CLOSE SUNDAYS.

Replying to Mr. Brodeur and Mr. John Charlton, both of whom had questions upon the order paper, Mr. Fisher said that it is the intention of the government to close the Canadian exhibit at the Pan-American Exhibition on Sundays.

Mr. Wallace asked a series of questions in reference to the selection of a site for a public building at Toronto Junction. Mr. Tarte replied that the

IT IS IMPORTANT

To Know What You Are Taking When Using Catarrh Medicines.

Catarrh is the short route to consumption, and the importance of early and judicious treatment of catarrh whether located in the head, throat or bronchial tubes, cannot be too strongly emphasized.

The list of catarrh cures is as long as the moral law and the forms in which they are administered, numerous and confusing, from sprays, inhalers, washes, ointments, and salves to powders, liquids and tablets.

The tablet form is undoubtedly the most convenient and most effective, but with nearly all advertised catarrh remedies it is almost entirely a matter of guess work as to what you are taking into your system, as the proprietors, while making all sorts of claims as to what their medicines will do, always keep it a close secret as to what they are. The success and popularity of the catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is largely because it not only cures catarrh but because catarrh sufferers who use these tablets know what they are taking into their systems. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being composed of Eucalyptol, Hydrastin, Guaiacol and similar valuable and antiseptic ingredients, are pleas-ant to the taste and being dissolved in the mouth they take immediate effect upon the mucous lining of the throat, nasal passages and whole respiratory tract. The cures that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have accomplished in old chronic cases of catarrh are short of remarkable, and the advantage of knowing what you are putting into your stomach is of paramount importance when it is remembered that the cocaine or morphine habit has been frequently contracted as the result of using secret catarrh remedies. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets meet with cordial approval from physicians, because their antiseptic character render them perfectly safe for the general public to use and their composition makes them a common sense cure for all forms of catarrhal troubles. All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full sized packages.

third reading. If the bill is passed it will become effective this fall.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill from the senate to amend the Canada evidence act was put through its final stages, and the house adjourned at 11:20.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Majority of Fifteen Against the Opposition.

Mr. Carscallen's Nickel Ore Tax Resolution Voted Down - The University Bill.

Toronto, April 2.- The long-standing motion by Mr. Carscallen that a tax be imposed on nickel and copper ores, to be remitted when refined in Canfavor with Mr. Carscallen's party friends, who united on an amendment in which they deprecated so-called government by order in council. This amendment was carried by 34 to 19, the largest majority of the session against the opposition.

Hon. Mr. Davis moved an amendment to the main motion, expressing the view that it would be premature to impose the tax at present, and this was carried by a vote of 31 to 21.

During the afternoon the good roads bill passed committee with a very brief discussion.

THE UNIVERSITY BILL. A number of deputations saw Hon. Mr. Harcourt with reference to the university bill in the afternoon. This measure will include several minor amendments when it is again taken up, but it is understood that its main features will be unchanged. Hon, Mr. Davis introduced a bill to simplify the act respecting the driv-ing of logs, having special reference to the apportionment of costs where two or more persons are driving together.

RATHER NOT SIT FRIDAY. Mr. Whitney drew attention to a paragraph in the Globe to the effect that the house would sit Friday or Saturday, if necessary, to conclude business. He thought the majority of members would not like to do that. If they could not finish by Thursday night they should adjourn until the following Wednesday. The premier said that the matter was in the hands of the members. If It was impossible to finish by Thursday night, and the members so desired, he was perfectly willing that adjournment should be made until

GOOD ROADS BILL AMENDED. The premier's bill for the improvement of public highways was considered at length in committee. The premier explained the changes made since the second reading. The intention was to secure county systems. There were about 400 rural municipalities in the province, so that, roughly, they would be entitled to $2,500 each, or $25,000 for each of the 40 counties.

The clause exempting municipal corporations from damages for accidents on such roads after they had been constructed or repaired and maintained up to the standard provided in

Where the townships disapprove of the roads designated by the county council, the selection is to be left to an arbitrator. The bill was reported as amended.

The premier's bill to facilitate the purchase of toll roads by municipalities was considered in committee and INSURANCE.

Mr. Gibson introduced a bill to am-end the insurance companies' act, the chief nature of which is that the difference between fraternal societies and straight insurance companies is made more clear. When the affairs of any of these fraternal societies are being wound up the bill provides that holders of unmatured policies are not to rank as creditors to a share of their policies, as would those insured in regular compaies

ONTARIO GAME. The game commissioners of Ontario, in their report make the following ob-servations regarding moose-hunting: "It is said by those who have hunted part of the territory, by surveyors, and others, that Ontario has a territory extending from the Quebec boundary on the east to the Lake of the Woods on the west, and over two hundred miles in width. which is teeming with moose and in some districts caribou. If this be the case, and we have no reason to doubt we have here a mine of wealth which should be worked properly to be of the most benefit to the province. In view of the large number of moose in the country, the opinion is ex-pressed that the province can afford to allow moose to be killed at a proper season in each year, or at least every alternate year, instead of every third year, as at present. This should not be done until a thorough inquiry is made by Park Wood and other rangers, etc., when their report can be acted upon intelligently. commissioners strongly object to the extension of the deer hunting season beyond two weeks, pointing out that it is estimated that by hunters, of whom 4,200 took out deer and 105

BIG HEARTED BEN.

A C. P. R. Engineer Who Never Loses an Opportunity to Help a Fellowman in Hard Luck.

Haywood, Man., April 1 .- A pathetic hard-luck story, but with a very happy ending, is being told in this neighborhood. The subject of the story of Peter Lavique, a woodchop-per, and the hero is Ben Rafferty, the well-known C. P. R. engineer. As told by Mr. Lavicque himself, it is something like this.

"I have a family of five. It takes me all my time to keep the wolf from the door. When I am well and able to work hard every day, we can get along, but for the last few years my back had been failing me.

"At last it gave out altogether, and I had to quit work. I tried day after day to do a little chopping but had to stop and come home again. I was in such despair for my poor family that I would have shot myself, had I not met Mr. Ben Rafferty.

'He bought me two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I commenced on three pills a day. In two weeks I was working as hard as ever, and have not had any trouble since."

DIED SUDDENLY

Unexpected Demise of Lieut.-Col. Wm

Soon after rising from the supper table last night, Lieut.-Col. William Moore, of Elmwood avenue, was seized with an illness that caused his death almost immediately.

He had lived in this city since 1843, having come to Canada from Sligo, Ireland, where he was born in 1819, some eight years before. He was in the distillery business in the East End until 1863, and five years later he entered the inland revenue service, where he remained until superannuated a short time ago. Among the public offices that he held were those of councilor and reeve, and lieutenant-colonel of the East Middlesex militia. He was the oldest Masonic past master in Ontario. He was the oldest member of St. John's Lodge, 209a, and was also a member of St. George's Royal Arch Chapter. He was married to a sister of the late Judge Mackenzie, of Sarnia, and a family of ten children, of whom the surviving members include John M., engineer of the waterworks department: James P., of Fraser & Moore, barristers; and R. G. B., merchant, of Aylmer, were born to the union.

A trembling second was about to announce the signal to fire when a forester appeared, and the seconds fled. One of the frightened principals involuntarily pressed the trigger of her revolver, with the result that one of the fleeing seconds fell screaming with a bullet in her arm. THAT MUTINY. London, April 2.-In the House Commons, Mr. Chamberlain, confirming the dispatch from Accra, Gold Coast Colony, announcing that a number of men belonging to the British West African Regiment, who deserted at Kumassie, had marchen, armed, to Cape Castle, where it was feared they would loot the town, said that between 400 and 500 men of the West African Regiment had mutinied because they had not been returned to Sierra Leone at the time they understood they would be sent home. NEW AERIAL MACHINE.

London, April 2.-Unusual success has attended the trial trip of a new aerial machine sent up in the Crystal Palace. The balloon, which is cigar-shaped, soared up in a spiral course like a pigeon preparatory to its straight flight. It was navigated in the large concert hall by a series of short tacks, believed that several lives have been oblique or spiral course whenever regoing off at a sharp tangent on an quired. In short, it was a most obedient model.

The contemplated machine will be 100 feet long by 30 in diameter, inflated with hydrogen, and having a lifting power of 7,000 pounds. It will take a crew of five men-a captain and four motormen. In still weather a speed of 35 miles an hour is guaranteed for the detained through the blocking of the invention, which is that of M. Gaudron, Frenchman.

Its screws, four in number, are suspended from a bar which is hung on the cigar balloon, with the old method of movable weight to keep the body straight or to cause it to rise or fall. Four petroleum motors of ten-horse power each will be used. The screws make 1,000 revolutions a minute. They are six feet long and two feet wide.

The Dregs of Grippe and Poison Germs Keeping Thousands in Poor Health.

Paine's Gelery Compound

the System, Braces the Nerves and Keeps People in Good Health.

If the dregs and poisons of Grippe are still lingering in your system causing weakness, debility, sleeplessness, headache, nervous prostration, rheumatism, heart trouble or blood disease, the use of Paine's Celery Compound for two or three weeks will completely banish the poisons of death, purify the life stream, brace the weak and ustrung nerves and build up the entire system.

Mr. J. Irvine, Heckston, Ont., who was brought near the grave by troubles arising from poisonous Grippe germs, was marvelously restored health by Paine's Celery Compound after several doctors had failed in the work. Mr. Irvine says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe I was left in a weak and very debilitated condition. My health was almost wrecked, I had no strength and felt tired all the time. I was so weak that my legs would not support my body, and I have often fallen to the ground when trying to attend to my work, and would be compelled to lie where I had fallen until I could muster sufficient strength to rise. My appetite was all gone, and when would try to eat in order to gain strength, I would suffer untold misery for hours. It seemed to me that I was slowly starving to death. "Doctors could not benefit me by their treatment. My friends thought I was going to die, and I verily believe I would have died had I not used Paine's Celery Compound. I bought six bottles and received more benefit from it than I had ever dreamed of. From the first, I began to improve in health, and today I am completely restored. I can do as good a day's work as I ever could and can eat any kind of food and sleep as well as when I was a boy. I send this testimonial unsolicited."

Exemptions.

The 'Attorney-General's bill proposing to give to municipalities the power to remit taxation in whole or in part, or to enter into an agreement with persons exercising or about to exercise within the municipality any public franchise, for the supply of water, light, heat, transportation or other public service, as to the amount of taxation to be imposed, is meeting with opposition. Mr. Whitney declares that there never was a bill introduced since Confederation that deserved more severe and distinct condemnation than this bill.

We favor the bill. There may be many instances in which it would be a very wise thing indeed to do. Take a short time ago, when the St. Thomas street railway was in difficulty and could not make both ends meet, it might have been a satisfactory way out of the difficulty. Take this city, which a few years ago had several vacant factories. Fixed taxation or exemption was preferable to idleness. We are aware the bill does not deal with that class, but the argument or principle involved is the same. Take the present position of London. It is without any public hall or opera house suitable for its requirements. It would be reasonable to give either exemption or fixed taxation in order to secure such.

We do not argue that the bonus system or exemption system is not one that may be sadly abused, but it also. wisely used, has its benefits. As a rule, legislation that seeks to prevent the freedom of contract, when applied to individuals, is vicious. The same rule might be applied to municipalities. Within the scope of each municipality the councilors or aldermen are most likely safe to trust. They know their own particular want. It does not follow, if they have the power, that they will do wrong, or even that they will use the power at all. The just inference is they will act with discretion. The power proposed to be vested in them continues for three years only, and would not apply to schools and local improvements.

We cannot agree with Mr. Whitney's view. Our faith is that the average councilor and alderman wants to do right, and while in all bonuses and exemptions or fixed assessments granted there is an element of injustice, we do not think the discretionary limited powers proposed could work other than good.

Education and the People.

Dr. Watson, of Queen's University. recently made an important deliverance on the question of popular education; these statements made both in Toronto and Kingston will no doubt call forth considerable discussion. The Kingston Whig seems to be under a misapprehension in its cry to "save the schools of the people," from academic attack. In looking over Prof. Watson's address, we note many points worthy of careful discussion, but at present we can simply dwell upon one point, and it gives | not know why. In England they are us great pleasure to observe that. As might be expected, Dr. Watson's synipathies are not simply with a small educated class, but with the whole people. At the very opening he says: "We must always remember that a really national system of education must be so constructed that the children of the poor, as well as the rich, should have the opportunity of 'an open career.' This is what is meant by the statement, that the public and high schools should be kept in close touch with the universities; it is not that the public schools are to be made "mere feeders" of the universities, whatever that may mean.

quite well aware that the universities Thirty Men and Officers of Gen. Caile's exist for the people, and not the people for the universities. It is well to keep in mind, then, in this democratic country and age, that a boy out of any of our families may be called to pursue the path of scholarship, and if the foundation is well laid at the beginning there will not be so much difficulty with the superstructure. Hence, the wisdem of Dr. Watson's advice, "We "Gen. Geronimo, commanding Eastmust, then, be careful in constructing our educational system, not to divide the community into those who are from the first intended to enter a profession, those who are meant to be engaged in industry or commerce, and manding Northeast Panay and Sulzan, those who are intended to be artisans. No doubt the social forces will continue to operate along these lines; but it should rather be our aim to moderate should rather be our aim to moderate Angell, of the University of Michigan, these tendencies than to encourage has reiterated his decree against forcethem; that is, we should regard every boy as capable of any career, even the highest, until he is proved incompetent warfare. As the result of last night's for it."

The enlightened university man is

Speaking of the effect of the banishment of Greek and other subjects which have always been considered essential chief trouble with this practice is that to the highest scholarship from the high schools, Dr. Watson says: "I fore- are hurt." see that, if the present system continues, the universities will be forced to give an elementary training in the subjects not acquired by students in the high schools, or we shall be compelled to establish more schools of the type of Upper Canada College." "To the institution of more schools after the model of the English public or grammar school, I have no objection; they would probably apply a better discipline and training to the sons of our wealthier citizens-often the most pernicious because the idlest element in the community—than the ordinary Thirty Thousand Scottish Miners Go schools accord, but, from the nature of the case, such schools would not remedy the defects of the present system, but would rather tend to accentuate them by abandoning our high schools to the tender mercies of those bold bad men.' the advocates of optional studies in our high schools. What we need is an education of the highest kind; open to all; an education which will do the best that can be done for lever boys, however poor their parents may be." This should certainly be the aim in a free self-governed country. and the people have a right to expect that the way to all kinds of knowledge shall be kept open to all.

The Attorney-General's Law-Reform Bill.

It would appear as if the Attorney-General would be taking the safe course if he lets his Law Reform Bill stand for another session. No doubt there is much truth in the hint thrown out, that the same thing was said a year ago, and would likely be said a year from now. For all that, we say,

Let it stand a year. The Attorney-General appears to have conceded that he will strike out the provisions giving county courts jurisdiction in slander, libel and quashing bylaws. He may as well let the balance of the bill stand.

The principal omission in the bill is that it makes no provision for the appointment of a guardian in each county for infants, lunatics, etc. This provision is of more practical consequence than all the amendments or alterations in the bill proposed. Why is this change not made? There is time yet to add this clause, and it should be done. We do not need to give our reasons for this. We have on more than one occasion given them, and we have heard no reason advanced by anyone for a continuance of the present system. Remedy what is an evil, known and acknowledged, but do not too hastily change the law in matters fairly open to discussion.

We hope, therefore, to have the law amended in the way indicated and to let the Law Reform Bill stand for further consideration.

The Liability of a Railway Company for Damages.

particularly in the summer time, when the grass is dry and burnt up. Farmers are much interested in the law on this point, which in effect is that the farmer whose trees or crops have been destroyed must prove some negligence on the part of the railway company. It is not enough to show that a fire has occurred, for which it is quite clear the farmer could in no way be to blame. That is not enough. The railway company reply that they are not liable because they are operating the railway under statutory powers, and unless they have been guilty of some negligence, they are not liable. Railway appliances have been so perfected that no such fire should occur if the railway employes do their duty; but how is a farmer to know that the employes have been guilty of negligence, and if so, of what the negligence consists. He only knows his crop is burned or his fences or barns or trees, as the case may be. He does evidently changing the law to throw the responsibility on the company, on the theory that if there was no negligence there would be no fire. An English paper has the following notice.

The majority appears to be ample: The bill rendering railway companies liable to make good any damage caused to crops or plantations by fire arising from sparks emitted from locomotive engines was read a second time, after some discussion, by 307 to Large quantities of perishable goods lie rotting on the docks. Twenty-one steamers are awaiting discharge. Sexton Murray saw the body of a man hanging from a tree which grew beside the grave. He was familiar with the facts of Mr. Irmer's devotion to his wife and his first promonition as to what it was was quickly verified by investigation. The tree limb was so low that Irmer was compelled to draw his legs up to keep his feet from touching the ground. Irmer came here a little over two years ago from Detroit. He had lived in Iowa for a few months before com-ing here. His wife died last July and three children were scattered among strangers.

100,000 TROOPS

Ready to Rescue the Emperor of China

From the Reactionaries and Escort Him to Pekin-Waiting for the Powers' Moral Support-A Russian Threat.

London, April 1.-The correspondent of the Globe at Shanghai says he understands that the Yang Tse viceroys and Yuan Shi Kai, the military governor of Shan Tung, are prepared to dispatch 100,000 troops to Sian Fu to rescue the emperor from the hands of the

if a little pressure and promise of moral support is forthcoming from the powers interested in the "open door." The correspondent adds that the suggested expedition would prove popular in Central and Southern China, would result in the destruction of the antiresult in the destruction of the anti-foreign elements and would lead to the establishment of a progressive gov-assistant rector at St. Thomas Church,

RUSSIA'S THREAT.

Washington, April 1. - Information has reached here to the effect that the Russian Government, being seriously perturbed by the course of China in not signing the Manchurian agreement, largely because of the protest made by the several powers, has conveyed a distinct and unmistakable indication to China that if this course is persisted in there may be an interruption of diplomatic relations between Russia and China, and a termination of the present intercourse between them.

This is little short of an ultimatum that China must sign or take the consequence of a termination of her friendly relations with Russia. The census of Bombay City just taken shows a population of 770,000, or a over 50,000 as compared with the census taken ten years ago. The returns from the rural districts of the Bombay Presidency show ter-rible decrease in the population through famine.

THE FRENCH PREMIER ILL. Paris, April 1.-The premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, is suffering from an abscess in the throat. JAPAN'S PROTEST.

London, April 1.-"Japan has made direct representations to St. Petersburg against the Manchurian convention," says a dispatch to the Times from Tokio, dated Saturday, "but the result is not yet known. Japanese public opinion is very strong on the subject. The cabinet is prudent and pacific, but impressed by the national enthusiasm which is certain to become uncontrollable if there shall be undue yielding."

CHAPTER VI.

Abby Knapp was true to her word, and mmediately acted upon Clifton's suggestion to seek work for Shirley.

Wherever she went to get fine washing or ironing, she mentioned the skill of her protege with her needle, displaying the samples of her work with great pride, and Shirley soon succeeded in getting all the sewing she could do.

She gave such entire satisfaction that many of her employers tried to get her to come to their homes to work for them.

But this the young girl steadily refused to do, feeling that she could be far more independent and have more time to herself if she took her work home. If she went out she knew that she would be obliged to apply herself closely for a certain number of hours every day, and she had no intention of breaking down her health by overtaxing her Morever, she liked to help Abby now

"Law! Miss Shirley, I don't begin to et as tired as when I had every step take for myself," she would often say to her, in a grateful tone, while the many dainty touches which Shirley added to the various rooms afforded her unbound-ed delight.

he once confidently informed Clifton, then she was telling him how much the young girl did for her. "Even Miss Annie herself was never sweeter nor cheerler than Miss Shirley, and I shall never cease to thank you for bringing her to me, Master Clifton. I'm sure I don't know what I shall do when she goes away, as of course she will, some day; a little lady like her couldn't be expected to be content in a place like this for very long."

Clifton could not gainsay this, while he himself began to feel that the world would lose much of its brightness if Shirley should "go away."
He could not arrange for his sister to make Shirley's acquaintance, for Annie make Shirley's acquaintance, for Annie had been taken ill shortly after he had proposed to bring her to see her, and as soon as she began to be convalescent her physician advised change of air, and she was sent to the Vining cottage in the Clifton continued to be most faithful in the performance of his business duties: but, though he visited his sister very often during her illness, he was still so bitter against his father that he could not be prevailed upon to listen to any suggestion of a reconciliation, which Annie most earnestly entreated.

When Mr. Norwood, fearing that he would overwork himself and become weary of such close application, began to talk of a vacation, and gave him an invitation to visit his place in the coun-

Vacations were ex-pensive, he remarked, to say nothing of the loss of time, which would be quite tisement will bring good news of great value. Dr. Chase's Ointment has grown in populartiy until today it is recognized the world over as the standard ointment for the cure of itching, burning skin diseases, and as absolutely the only preparation that can be relied upon to cure every form of piles. It seems strange that anyone should suffer the wretched uneasiness and acute torture of burning, itching piles, when it is so easy to procure Dr. Chase's Cintment. Nearly every dealer in medicine keeps Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can apply it at home without any inconvenience. The first application is usually sufficient to put end to the itching, and it is rarely an item to him, now that he had to support himself.

"But your salary will go on just the same," Mr. Norwood replied, while he regarded his young secretary with some surprise, for he had never before had a clerk who did not eagerly jump at the suggestion of a vacation.

"Thank you," he responded, "but I have been at work so short a time that I really do not need a vacation, even if have been at work so short a time that I really do not need a vacation, even if I felt entitled to it, and I think I will keep on with my work for the present." So nothing more was said about the matter, but Mr. Norwood was sure there must be some attraction in the city, stronger than the mere desire to save money, and he resolved to keep his eyes open upon his young secretary's moveopen upon his young secretary's move-

Clifton was a more frequent visitor than usual at the home of his old nurse after the little tiff regarding his compliments to Shirley.

It had seemed to break down all reserve between them, and to establish them upon more friendly relations than before. Clifton frequently accompanied the young girl, when, after her day's toil was done, she went to take home the work

One Saturday they went for a long sail—Clifton always having the afternoon of that day—and, having persuaded Abby to accompany them as a sort of chaperon, they took a dainty lunch along, intending they took a dainty lunch along, intending to stop off at some quiet point and eat it on the rocks by the shore.

They carried out their plans and had a most delightful time; then, after the sun went down, they took a returning steam-ed to go back by moonlight, that glorious planet being just now in all her full-orbed splendor. Clifton arranged some seats in the prow of the boat, on the lower deck, where, as the place was almost deserted, they could enjoy the sail without being disturbed by the chatter of the crowd. But poor Abby, who could have washed But poor Abby, who could have washed all day long without being one-half as weary as from this unaccustomed pleasure, was obliged to succumb to her exhaustion, and so went in the cabin, where, throwing her tired frame upon one of the couches, she was soon unconscious of either place or her surroundings, and snorting audibly to the accompaniment of the paddle-wheels.

Meantime, the young people above gave themselves up to the enjoyment of each other's society and to the charm

"That is a very tender quotation." Clifton remarked; then added: "And Homer has very aptly described the moon as 'A silver-footed queen.'

His eyes rested with fond admiration upon the fair girl beside him as he spoke, while he said within himself:

Hosts of cases in which Dr. Chase's Dintment has actually cured serious and long-standing cases of piles have been reported in the Canadian press. Presented at Last Night's Meeting of the City Council-No Grant Made to Old Boys-Estimates Yet To Be Considered.

As estimates were not considered at last night's meeting of the city council, the session was not as lengthy as was first expected. Very little business other than that which arose from committee reports, was transacted. The council ratified the finance committee's decision to make no grant to the Old Boys, in view of the city's financial condition. The much-vexed question of giving Mr. Kingston help was settled by deciding to allow him and the chairman of No. 1 committee to choose his assistant. Engineer Graydon was given power to keep a closer record of con-tractors' work.

A PLEASING TASK. At the conclusion of the meeting Mayor Rumball had an unusual and decidedly pleasant task allotted to him. Ex-Ald. I am glad to know, too, that you are connected with an institution whose work is to save young men from vice. I hope that you will long continue to wear this medal as a reminder of your deed of bravery."

Mr. Butterworth was warmly applauded, both by the aldermen and an audience that had assembled to witness the presentation, as he accepted the much-coveted medal.

In No. 3 committee's report was a clause referring to a petition for an not to put a light there.

The council revoked No. 2 commit-tee's decision to enforce the street watering bylaw on Pall Mall street, between Adelaide and Waterloo streets. Otherwise the committee's report was adopted.

On recommendation of No. 2 committee, all contractors' work will be recorded in a special book to be kept by the engineer; also the manner in which the work is performed, and their at-tention will be drawn to the penalty clauses of all contracts in the case of non-completion of work. In this way the committee hope to know who are safe contractors. No changes were made in the committee's report. NO GRANT FOR "OLD BOYS" DE-MONSTRATION. The finance committee's determination to make no grant to the Old Boys was noted in its report. Some discus sion followed, in the course of which Ald. Garratt, the mayor. Ald. Stevely and Ald. Jolly spoke in favor of the matter being laid over till the estiof the performance were the ring drill mates are gone over, when possibly it by girls, sword drill by boys, and flag might be considered in another light. Ald. Greenlees, Cooper and Olmsted said that such action was unnecessary,

As the council had no power to act in the matter, the R. E. O. P. A.'s communication re the alleged over-policing of the city was filed. Ald. Garratt sug-

as it would be injudicious to make gested that it be referred to the board of police commissioners Mayor Rumball explained that the matter had been before the commissi ers, and that it was useless to send it back again.

Ald. Jolly thereupon moved that the board's estimates be reduced to $28,000, otherwise that the recommendation be laid over. This latter suggestion was adopted. The council will act with other mun-cipalities in petitioning the Dominion Parliament to pass an act restricting Bell Telephone Company's fees. HELP FOR THE CITY CLERK.

In amendment to No. 1 committee's suggestion that Mr. F. Coles be transferred to the city clerk's office, Ald. Campbell moved that Mr. Kingston be empowered to select his own assistant when help is required, his choice to be sanctioned by the chairman of the finance committee. This carried.

History Repeats Itself.

Tis but a few years since Fit-Reform first made its initial bow.

Staying qualities in the interior of garments, collars molded by hand, electric pressing machines, etc., these points were all given to the public as a part of the platform upon which Fit-Reform had been founded.

Yet, today a re-hash of these attributes now appears-"borrowed plumes of course"-by other makers of clothing not Fit-Reform.

There are details in the manufacture of Fit-Reform, more up-to-date than these, which accounts for the increased demand for Fit-Reform garments from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

of the board would be reported to the council for ratification or rejection. Ald. Cooper moved that the council revoke its decision to grant $200 to be used for sugar beet purposes. He at-tempted a lengthy explanation of his position, and was called to order by the mayor, who drew to his attention a rule that denied to an alderman the privilege of speaking to a motion for reconsideration. Ald. Cooper's motion s negatived. The street watering bylaw was the source of some discussion, in the course of which Aid. Jolly moved that the cost of watering streets on which are parks or public kuildings be paid out of the general rate, instead of as at present, when only the people paying watering rates bear the expense.
