

REPARATIONS TERMS ARE CONSIDERED IMPOSSIBLE BY GERMANS

CONLEGATE PLANS SHOULD BE FINALLY SETTLED AT MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Board of Education Will Hear Report Presented by Number 3 Committee—Teachers Salaries Will Receive Fulllest Publicity.

What the board of education will do with the recommendations of No. 3 committee in regard to the provision of high school accommodation in the city forms the outstanding feature of interest in the regular monthly meeting of the board at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The report to be presented by No. 2 committee contains little of outstanding importance, its main business being the reporting of progress in connection with the public schools and the extension work now in hand at the Victoria street, Wortley road and Knollwood schools.

Progress in regard to the matter of teachers salaries will be reported by No. 1 committee. The committee has in hand at the present time demands for salary increases from the teachers of both the public and high schools as well as from the janitors of the schools and all these have been reserved for consideration at a special meeting.

In reference this morning to the discussion of salaries The Advertiser was assured that "the fullest possible publicity will be given to the whole matter so that the citizens who have to pay the bill may thoroughly understand the situation from both the teachers' and the trustees' point of view. So far as the locked door incident is concerned," said the speaker, "I am prepared to accept the claim that it was accidental owing to the spring-latches on the doors, but I don't think such an accident will happen again."

The extent of the high school building program will probably create a lively discussion in view of the claim in certain quarters that the civic elections in

German Government Leaders Claim Allied Reparations Demands Impossible To Meet

Foreign Minister Simons Declares Execution of Terms Would Bankrupt Germany, Whose Financial Collapse Would Drag Down France and Other Countries in Central Europe—Tax Levy on Exports Condemned by Bank Official—German Mark Declines in Value When Terms Are Announced.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Germans regard the reparations terms offered upon the supreme Allied council in Paris last week as fantastic and impossible of execution, and it is the general opinion that the Government cannot agree to them. The cabinet, which received the text of the Allied note yesterday, was in executive session until late last night, and the note was not released to the public until too late for editorial comment.

"Madness" is the term leaders of the Reichstag used in discussing the reparations conditions. Foreign Minister Simons declared the execution of the terms would produce chaos not only in Germany, but throughout Central Europe, as the bankruptcy of Germany would also bankrupt part of Germany's war creditors, among whom is France. Herbert Guttman, of the Dresdener Bank, said: "The reparations figures are absurd, and the tax levy on exports is absolutely beyond understanding. The latter would hit the German export business, and how does the Entente expect Germany to pay if she cannot export her products?"

The German mark showed a sharp decline toward the close of yesterday's session as the house when the terms became generally known.

PRIESTS ACCUSED BISHOP FALSELY, STATES TRIBUNAL

Findings in Defamation Case Brought by Bishop Fallon Are Published.

NO LABELS UTTERED

Advices Holding of Court Outside London Diocese.

Rome, Feb. 1.—The sacred Rota tribunal has made public its findings in the defamation case brought by Mgr. Fallon, bishop of London (Ontario), against the Revs. Loiseleur, L'Heureux, Langlois and St. Cyr, the last of whom is now dead, all ecclesiastics belonging to his diocese.

The case, which caused a considerable sensation when it was begun, has been going on for a long time. The tribunal says there were no labels on either side, but asserts that the admission of the ecclesiastics contained a false accusation against Bishop Fallon. The tribunal recognizes the competence of the ecclesiastical court of London in the case, but admits the advisability of holding the trial elsewhere because of the danger of local excitement.

The controversy between Bishop Fallon and the clergyman originated in articles appearing in Canadian newspapers in 1910, accusing Bishop Fallon of favoring the Irish as against the French citizens. The attacks extended to the apostolic delegates at that time, and some Catholic institutions in the United States also were said to be involved.

GARFIELD BROTHERS SENT FOR TRIAL BY POLICE MAGISTRATE

Holdup Victims Formally Identify Prisoners.

HAVE NOTHING TO SAY

Garfields Reserve Stories for Future Trial at Court House.

Norman Jerome Garfield and Andrew Denton Garfield were this morning committed for trial by Magistrate A. H. Graydon on charges of robbing Louis Haddad, 768 Dundas street, and Norman Garfield was also committed for trial on a charge of robbing Vincent George Perry, 688 Talbot street. Charges of vagrancy which had been laid against the pair were adjourned sine die. Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop was prosecuting. M. Nesbitt of Woodstock and E. W. M. Flock defended the prisoners.

Louis Haddad, 768 Dundas street, swore that at 10:10 o'clock on the night of January 17 the Garfields came into his store while he was in his residence at the rear nursing his baby. He heard a bell ring, and thinking that it was either the telephone or the cash register came to the door leading to the store. He saw Norman Garfield pointing a gun at him.

"He ordered me to come to him, but I refused," said the witness.

At that moment, he declared, Denton Garfield left the cash register.

Haddad went upstairs to see if his landlady was asleep, and when he could fight the two men.

He saw them in his store, and when he returned, he saw the men had disappeared. Haddad saw a car turn on English street.

When he heard that two men had been arrested on suspicion, he came to the store and saw the men. He saw one of his own free will, and not at the store. This man was the same man who robbed him.

He identified them as the men who robbed his store.

"Did you go away then?" asked Mr. Flock.

"Sure, I did. Do you think I want to live here?"

He stated that $19 had been taken from his till.

The prisoners had nothing to say regarding the matter, deciding to reserve their evidence until the day of their trial.

Vincent G. Perry declared that on the night of January 3, he was returning home after having been out for the evening. When he was on John street, fourteen miles from Port Niagara, he was in an alleyway in the downtown business section at 12:45 o'clock this morning, with his hand in his pocket, when he was stopped by two men.

At 1:40 o'clock this morning in Mount St. Mary's Hospital.

House is said to have been in a Riverway hotel with several other soldiers from Port Niagara early in the evening. He engaged in an argument with an Italian. His friends took him out of the place and returned later without him. The Italian whom the police have not obtained, is said to have disappeared and was not in the place when House's friends returned.

The police are searching for him.

Several men and women who were in the hotel where House was last seen alive have been arrested.

DIVORCEE SUIING YOUNG MILLIONAIRE FOR HALF MILLION

Mrs. Richard Blum Declares Kingdon Gould Promised to Marry Her.

New York, Feb. 1.—Existence of a $500,000 suit in which Kingdon Gould, youngest son of George Jay Gould, is charged with breach of promise to marry Mrs. Richard Blum of Arkville, N.Y., was disclosed today in a report of supplementary proceedings begun yesterday in the supreme court here.

Mr. Gould appeared in court yesterday and denied statements made by Mrs. Blum, who asserted he employed detectives to gather evidence on which she obtained a divorce in June, 1917. They previously had agreed, she said, to marry when she was free, and were on friendly terms until his marriage with Miss Annunziata Locci on July, 1917.

HOT DISCUSSION ON PLUMBING REGULATIONS EXPECTED TUESDAY AT BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING

Dr. F. C. Dallyn, Provincial Plumbing Inspector, Will Lock Horns With Dr. O. I. Cunningham, Chairman of the Board on the Question of Vents.

Dr. F. C. Dallyn, provincial plumbing inspector, will meet the local board of health next Tuesday to discuss plumbing regulations. It is probable that the discussion will be an interesting one and will have a decided influence on the situation here. Dr. Dallyn and some members of the local board have been discussing the matter since the last meeting. He is chairman of the board of health, and he asserts, and in any event, no serious harm can result from the lack of proper ventilation in a house. Gases cannot carry disease germs, he claims, and people wish to pay for protection against them there is no objection, but he maintains that the board of health is not justified in imposing a protective system as they would be the basis for regulations to be adopted here.

Dr. Dallyn, the provincial inspector, is, on the other hand, convinced that the complete carrying out of the provincial regulations is necessary to the public health. It is hoped that the conference next Tuesday will reveal some points of agreement which will be the basis for regulations to be adopted here.

AMENDMENTS TO FORDNEY TARIFF BILL INCREASING

Latest Acquisitions Cover Duties on Sunflower Seed and Nails.

DEBATE TO CONTINUE

Senate Will Vote on Petition for Closure Tomorrow.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill, awaiting action in the Senate, has begun to resemble a wooden ship adrift in a hurricane-infested sea. Every day sees enlargement of the bill by the addition of new duties on a score of products. Senators and their friends, and the latter today began to see visions of shipwreck beneath the waves from the weight imposed.

The form of amendments appeared today in proposals to place an import duty on sunflower seed, on nails, on Scotch whisky, on Missouri, sponsored the sunflower seed tariff, and Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, presented the amendment which would protect the United States nail industry. Neither senator made any statement in presenting his amendment.

The bill as it left the House provided for duties on about a score of products. Even Senate clerks were unable to estimate the number of commodities that would be subject to additional tariff levies should all the amendments offered since the measure reached that body be adopted.

The bill in the meantime faced another round of debate today—some senators said probably its last full day—for tomorrow the Senate will be called upon to vote on the petition for closure. The bill, as amended, was presented yesterday by Chairman Penrose of the Senate Commerce Committee. It was agreed that a vote on the bill on February 15 had met with objection. To close down partially on debate and proceed to vote on the bill will require approval of two-thirds of the Senate, and the danger of its introduction into the Senate has been increased by the fact that many of the amendments offered since the measure reached that body have been adopted.

Agriculture Department Prohibits Shipments From Several Counties.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—By Canadian Press.—Official notice is given by the department of agriculture of a quarantine of "corn fodder or cornstalks, including broom corn, whether used for packing or other purposes, green sweet corn, roasting corn, on the cob or corn cobs," grown in certain townships of Westland, Hamilton, Huron, Elgin, Middlesex and Kent counties in Ontario, because of the prevalence of the European corn borer in those townships, and the danger of its introduction into other portions of the province by reason of the shipment of the corn and corn products.

OPERATIONS ARE RESUMED ON CONSERVATIVE BASIS IN BIG STEEL PLANTS

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 1.—Many independent steel manufacturing concerns in Pittsburg today increased operations on what executives were united in saying was a "cautiously conservative" basis, after about six weeks in which operations have been entirely suspended or greatly curtailed. It was predicted that within a few days operations would be about 40 per cent of capacity, with prospects of increased activity, if conditions warranted.

Of the 55 independent blast furnaces from which reports were received by steel authorities here, 21 were in operation.

From points outside the immediate Pittsburg district came similar reports of increased operation today, including plants at Youngstown, Canton and Warren, Ohio.

Many plants resumed operations under changed labor conditions, in some instances wage reductions were accepted by the men, and in others the working time was reduced so as to bring operations within the limit of the eight-hour day and thus avoid time and a half pay for overtime.

LONDON AUTO SHOW OPENS AT ARMORIES

Mayor Little Conducts Initial Formalities Before Crowd of 2,000 Visitors—Wondrous Array of Cars, Trucks and Automobile Accessories—Closed Cars Are Outstanding Feature of Exhibition.

With music and speeches and a wondrous array of automobiles, the 1st annual London Motor Show, held under the auspices of the London Automotive Retailers' Association and the London Chamber of Commerce, opened on Monday night in the armories. Before a crowd, estimated by the officials of the show at 2,000, scattered amid a maze of cars, Mayor Little and Alderman John Bridge conducted the opening formalities from the balcony.

To one used to the more or less luxury car of the war years the sight of so many richly-built and beautifully-lined motor cars was a revelation, and to say the least, somewhat bewildering. Luxury and beauty of finish seemed to be the keynote of the whole exhibition, for these qualities were incorporated even in cars built for the most practical purposes. The cars clearly show an evolution which carbuilding is evidently passing.

Closed Cars a Feature. Of the 75 cars gracing the main floor of the armories, closed cars play a prominent part. In fact, it was roughly estimated by the directors of the show that this class of automobile formed 50 per cent of the total exhibits. This fact, they claim, indicates much to those who are in touch with the automobile business. The car of the future would be the closed car, was the prophecy of T. C. Kirby, manager of the show. A few years ago, he claimed, the closed car formed a small percentage of the total output. Today it is 40 closed to 50 open cars. In the near future there will be a far greater demand for closed cars of every description.

Although closed cars form such a large part of the exhibits, the exhibit of open touring cars and roadsters of every style and color imaginable is an extraordinary spectacle. The great feature of this class of cars is the number of new ideas introduced generally.

The cars on exhibition involve an enormous amount of money, for they range in value from the homely car at $500 to the luxuriously-appointed creation valued at $12,000. With the average placed at $4,000, the total value of the exhibit will run well over $300,000.

Trucks Big Exhibit. Besides the pleasure car, the commercial truck plays an important part in the exhibition. Among the different exhibits, trucks of all descriptions are scattered and a room at one end of the building is utilized entirely as a truck showroom.

Along one side of the main room, automobile accessories, tires, garage equipment, demonstrations of shock absorbers, non-glare lenses and bicycles have been put on exhibition by London merchants. The individual rooms at the north side of the building have also been turned over for the same purpose.

Mayor Little, who officially declared the show open, was introduced by Wilfred Hodgins, president of the association. The mayor said that the association had done much that deserved credit under the most unfavorable conditions. He told of the havoc the luxury and war cars had wrought with the automobile trade, and how as a result many dealers and firms had been forced to close. He said that the tax was most unfair, and that it

ASK THAT WOODMAN AVENUE BE EXTENDED

Petition To Be Presented to No. 2 Committee.

And Provision for Relieving Unemployment Will Also Be Discussed.

Opening Woodman avenue from the city council at its meeting tonight, the present city street, which is located between Quebec and Charlotte streets, is only one block long, extending from Dundas street to Queen's avenue. Residents of the little thoroughfare claim that comparatively few changes would be necessary to extend the street another two blocks. They will present a petition to this effect to the committee tonight.

Provision for relieving unemployment by authorizing further public works will be another matter for consideration. A report from the acting city engineer on the advisability of laying a number of gravel roads is expected. MANY DELEGATES TO ATTEND PROVINCIAL "DRY" CONVENTION

London Churches and Organizations to Send Representatives.

Every organization in the city that is interested in temperance will send one or more delegates to the Ontario provincial prohibition convention, which will be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, on February 22, 23 and 24. The meeting is an annual one, but has been called at this date expressly for the purpose of discussing the campaign in which every society and organization in the province is working for prohibition. It will take an active part, Professor James H. Bowman, chairman of the county temperance organization, announced.

The objects of the convention, Professor Bowman stated, were to win decisively in the coming campaign to prohibit liquor importation, to continue education for prohibition, to establish improve laws and to maintain organized efforts for effective law enforcement. The convention will also discuss the various methods of enforcing the law, and will appoint men to meet in the future to hold some time prior to this date.

After Snowden's wound had been dressed by Dr. Douglas, house surgeon at the hospital, he was taken to his home.

DRURY SCORES

FACTORY MONGER

Says Those Who Stir Up Ill-Feeling Are Disloyal to Nation.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Premier Drury was the principal speaker at the annual meeting and dinner of the Ottawa Board of Trade tonight. The premier said that since he had been brought in to deal with the nation's problems, he had been struck by the fact that the nation was not united. He said that the nation was not united because of the ill-feeling that was being stirred up by those who were not loyal to the nation. He said that the nation was not united because of the ill-feeling that was being stirred up by those who were not loyal to the nation. He said that the nation was not united because of the ill-feeling that was being stirred up by those who were not loyal to the nation.

Better Understanding. They must have a little better understanding between farmers and those who were not farmers. They had to realize that they were dealing with men of flesh and blood, who think the same as they do. "And the people on the farms do a lot of mighty sound thinking," he said. "They are the people who are the backbone of the nation. They are the people who are the backbone of the nation. They are the people who are the backbone of the nation."

Mr. Drury then turned to the other great problem of the day, the unemployment problem. He said that the unemployment problem was a problem that was not only a problem for the nation, but a problem for the world. He said that the unemployment problem was a problem that was not only a problem for the nation, but a problem for the world. He said that the unemployment problem was a problem that was not only a problem for the nation, but a problem for the world.

Turning to the Ontario Government, Mr. Drury said that he did not believe in class legislation. He said that he did not believe in class legislation. He said that he did not believe in class legislation. He said that he did not believe in class legislation. He said that he did not believe in class legislation.

"There is no room for class," he said, "for any class or clique who think they can get away with anything. They are the people who are the backbone of the nation. They are the people who are the backbone of the nation. They are the people who are the backbone of the nation."

His greatest hope lay in the fact that the people were beginning to think. He said that the people were beginning to think. He said that the people were beginning to think. He said that the people were beginning to think. He said that the people were beginning to think.

The provincial premier was given a great reception, the audience heartily cheering him. He said that he was glad to be in the province. He said that he was glad to be in the province. He said that he was glad to be in the province. He said that he was glad to be in the province.

G. B. Greene was elected president of the board of directors of the Ontario Temperance Association. He said that he was glad to be elected president. He said that he was glad to be elected president. He said that he was glad to be elected president. He said that he was glad to be elected president.

OLD FOLKS' COUGHS, CATARRH, BRONCHITIS QUICKLY RELIEVED

This Tells of a Method That Relieves Without Using Drugs.

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia.

Cough Syrup seldom does much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "CATARRHOZONE," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrhozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—your simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich, piney, balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsamic vapor with the Catarrhozone, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. Parts are soothed, and the piney, medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through burning the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrhozone inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months, small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.

STARTLING FACTS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Great interest is being aroused by the lectures given at the University of Toronto by Professor J. C. McLennan and E. F. Burton, Toronto, and Professor Silberstein of Rome University, and further development of recent discoveries will revolutionize certain industries. The age-old search for the secret of the transmutation of metals may soon prove successful. Professor McLennan inferred that investigations indicate that all substances are built up from elementary atoms of hydrogen. Photo shows, left to right, Professors Silberstein, McLennan and Burton.

TAKE CARE OF THAT COUGH

Some people get a nasty cough and don't pay much attention to it, saying, "Oh, it will wear away in a short time," but while it may wear off, serious injury may have been done to the lungs and respiratory organs by the prolonged, harsh, racking coughing.

On the first sign of a cough or cold get a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It will stop that nasty, troublesome cough, ease the tightness across the chest, and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Wm. Earnshaw, Apsley, Ont., writes: "Last winter I caught a bad cold, had a sore throat and a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I tried quite a few remedies, but they did not do me much good until I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I feel that 'Dr. Wood's' has no equal."

When you get Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, you are not experimenting with new and untried remedies, but one that has a reputation extending over thirty years.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 35c and 60c a bottle, manufactured only by The T. M. M. Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BURGLARS MAKE $1,000 HAUL

Get Away With Jewelry While South Londoners Are At Theatre.

Burglars, who pried open a rear window in the residence of Alfred Fraser, 191 Elmwood avenue, Monday night, during the absence of the family at a theatre, secured as booty diamond and other jewelry, probably exceeding $1,000 in value.

Gaining an entrance through the window, the lock of which appears to have been too light or insecure, and readily yielded, the intruders pulled down all the blinds and turned on all the lights in the house, leading the neighbors to suppose that the occupants of the residence were at home. The house had been thoroughly ransacked, but only jewelry boxes appeared to have been pillaged, and other small and valuable articles taken.

Mr. Fraser stated to The Advertiser that he went to the theatre about 7 o'clock, and discovered that his house had been burglarized when he returned about 9:45. Late last night he could not state just how great his loss was, as there had not been time to check up all the articles that were probably missing. The burglars apparently having gone carefully and systematically through the house, selected what they wanted and then thrown everything else about in corners and under the bed.

Among the more valuable pieces of jewelry missing were a diamond ring and a diamond brooch, the ring alone being valued at upwards of $600.

The police were notified, but late this afternoon had no clue as to the prize, the only arrests made last night being for disorderly conduct or drunkenness.

A rumor of a previous burglary which partook of the nature of a hold-up on Sunday night, and the fact that the house could not be verified, the police declaring that nothing of the kind had been reported, and the fact that the house was locked in the cellar while his house was pillaged.

DIFFERENCES DATING BACK TO CIVIL WAR AT LAST SWEPT ASIDE

Talequah, Okla., Feb. 1.—Tripartite differences dating back to the civil war when the powerful Cheekie Indian nation broke into three factions over the question of slavery, were swept out here yesterday when several hundred delegates met and unanimously elected Levi Grits of Muskogee, full-blooded principal chief. Levi Cookson, a mixed-blood, living near Gore, Okla., was chosen assistant chief.

For the first time in the history of the United States, white men, members through intermarriage, sat at the council and voted. Many of them were unable to speak Cherokee, and the proceedings frequently were halted while translations were made. When the solemn came 60 years ago, older members recalled yesterday, a majority of the Cheekies voted in favor of joining the Confederate forces. The others, a band of no mean proportions, cast their lot with the Federal troops then operating in Kansas.

DEPUTATION WILL ASK COUNCIL TO HELP UNEMPLOYED

Social Service Organization Names Committee To Appear Before Civic Body.

The problem of unemployment in the city was seriously discussed at the annual meeting of the London Social Service Council held on Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. E. A. Pocock and Harry Wray, president of the council, Rev. D. C. MacGregor, Rev. J. G. Stuart and other members mentioned the fact that during the course of a week many out of work, come and ask assistance in some manner or other. In the discussion it was found that there was no organization to which a man seeking a meal or bed could be referred. The council as a whole lamented the conditions of unemployment in the city, and appointed a deputation composed of those following to wait on the city council, and ask that by some means or other, work be opened up for the men or the federal system suggested. Rev. D. C. MacGregor, Rev. J. G. Stuart, James Gray, W. E. Kelly, Miss B. Smith, and Rev. T. D. McCullough.

Pitiable Tales. Rev. R. G. Peever said that he had heard from teachers of the pitiable tales of woe that came to the teachers' ears from undernourished little children whose fathers are out of work. Several of the members spoke of the out of work as being slow to accept charity; in every case they asked for work and shunned charity, but because of a wife and children they were obliged to accept it. During the war it was reported that there were workless citizens who have asked for help would not have done so.

A small committee was also appointed to look into the matter of allowing a representative from the labor representation committee on the social service council. It was pointed out by the president that no organization that had political affiliations was represented.

An Excellent Report. An excellent report of the year's activities was given by the secretary, Rev. T. D. McCullough. "The Social Service Council has made a name for itself in the community," he said, "and its mothers' allowance act, not to mention all the other work done," said President Peever, "following this report. The report showed that the council had been the means of establishing the three mothers' allowance act, and that the pool, though only receiving half of the amount of money allotted for this purpose, the council had been able to provide for a child until it is 18 years of age. Peter Bryce, in reference to the act, said recently that he was confident that the work would be the best on the continent, when amended.

Movie Investigation. The council's movie pictures also reported progress. The survey, the secretary announced, would also be completed shortly, the religious census having held it up for some time. The success of the past year was due, Mr. McCullough said, to the work of the 80 voluntary workers. Every undertaking throughout the year had been accomplished.

The officers elected for the year were: Dean L. N. Tucker, honorary president; James Gray, president; Rev. R. G. Peever, first vice-president; Miss G. Smith, second vice-president; T. D. McCullough, secretary; and J. MacGregor, treasurer. A vote of thanks was tendered to the council for his excellent work during the year.

Mr. McCullough, in reply, said that he would move the motion that one for the council, social service was only on the eve of the great things which would be done before long.

QUASHES CONVICTION OF FIVE SOCIALISTS

U. S. Supreme Court Reverses Decision—Debs Must Stay in Prison.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Conviction of Victor L. Berger and four other members of the Socialist party for violation of the espionage act was reversed today by the United States supreme court on the ground that Judge Landis should not have heard the suit after his eligibility had been taken.

Those convicted, who were in the federal court at Chicago were Adolph Guerner, national secretary of the party, William F. Krus, editor of the Young Socialists' Magazine, J. Louis Engdahl, and Irwin St. John. Berger and the other four were convicted under the section prohibiting attempts to cause insubordination and disloyalty in the United States naval and military forces, and sentences ranging from 10 to 20 years were imposed.

The appeal was brought to the supreme court on the ground that Judge Kenealy Mountain Landis, who presided at the trial, had shown "personal bias and prejudice" against the defendants because of their nationality.

DISCUSSION IS BLOCKED. Washington, Feb. 1.—Consideration of a resolution to investigate the newspaper market and prices was blocked in the Senate by Senator Penrose yesterday. Senator Penrose moved that the resolution be referred to the committee on printing and the motion was adopted.

Taken from the Manhattan Mercury, June 8: "Last night at the Gillett's Hotel Parlors a tone test recital was given before a number of representative people of Manhattan, in which the following machines were used. Starr Phonograph and..... machine.

Mr. Chas. Hughes, ex-officio county attorney, and J. T. Cresly, a prominent citizen of Manhattan, were appointed as referees or sponsors for the machines. The test was given in a rather unique manner, but in a way that could leave no doubt as to the machine preferred.

The three machines were placed back of portieres, so that the ones who wished to enter into the voting contest could not see the machines, in fact only the judges who sat behind the portieres could see the machines.

The machines were played in rotation from first to last, using the same record on each machine until six records of standard make were played.

Cards marked one, two, three, were issued to those who wished to vote on the machine they liked best.

The result was the Starr Phonograph received 68 votes, the received 16 votes, and the machine received 9 votes.

POISON PEN DOOM SEEN IN DISCOVERY BY A FRENCHMAN

Anonymous Letter Writers Will Be Unable To Disguise Their Work.

FAKES ARE REVEALED

Mathematical Diagrams Correlate Up and Down Strokes Perfectly.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The day of the anonymous letter writer, who vilifies his political enemies with the pen, is at an end. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred he will not be detected, is about to end. Thanks to years of research by Dr. Locard, director of the technical police laboratory in Lyons, a system of correlating up and down strokes of handwriting by means of mathematical diagrams has been perfected and will be made known to the police all over the world.

Those who have already investigated this new idea assert that it is just as great a stride along the lines of criminal detection as Bertillon's finger print identification system or the plan by which Bertillon's successor, D. Bayles, solves crimes merely by studying the pores of various parts of the body of the suspected criminal.

Dr. Locard's discovery is based on the theory that no matter how hard an anonymous letter writer tries to disguise his handwriting, even by scribbling with the left hand, there is always a definite character formation in the letters. Experts have been called to testify in thousands of handwriting cases, but in nearly all such instances there has been counter testimony by other handwriting experts, with the result that none of the conflicting testimony could be accepted in proof of guilt.

But Dr. Locard's new system known as graphometry, does not merely reveal characteristic differences, but classifies them numerically. By comparison of suspected documents with the real or faked scribbles of their author identification is immediately possible.

What a boon this will be to the feelings of husbands who are maliciously informed in the morning that the wife is unfaithful. It will no longer be necessary to employ detectives. Just send the letter to Dr. Locard with same.

REBEL WHO LED ATTACK IN CORK TO BE EXECUTED

Court Will Take No Action in Appeal of Joseph Murphy.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—On the appeal of Joseph Murphy, who was found guilty by court-martial of having led an attack in Cork, October 8, against the military, and sentenced to death, the court today handed down a decision that it was powerless to stay execution of the sentence, but that it thought the prisoner should be given time to make further representations before the court-martial.

Murphy had asked the court of appeal to upset the former proceedings on the ground of the refusal of the court-martial to permit of a certain cross-examination on behalf of the prisoner. It was also contended that the proceedings were held prior to the proclamation of martial law, and that the court-martial had been established according to statute, and was competent to impose sentence, and that therefore interference with it would be unprecedented.

URGE ABOLITION OF FEE SYSTEM

Many Complaints Regarding County Constables Aired
At Sarnia.

SARNIA, Jan. 31.—The recommendation contained in the report of the advisory board that $100,000 be appropriated for expenditure on the county good roads system was incorporated in a bylaw, given the necessary readings, and adopted by the county council at its concluding session today. The request of the suburban road commission for an appropriation of $7,000 for the construction of a permanent road on the mileage taken over did not find favor, and the bylaw adopted authorized a grant of but $1,000.

The report of the legislative committee submitted by Reeve Jennings recommended that no action be taken at the present time on the request of the village of Port Lambton for incorporation as a village.

A communication from the Sarnia Automobile Club, pointing out the evils of the present method of paying rural constables and magistrates, and advocating the abolition of the fee system, was one of the last items under discussion, and after several councillors had recited personal experiences, and also cases that had been brought to their attention, in view of pending legislation it was decided to withhold any action until the June session.

Sarnia Railwayman Had 12
Quarts of Liquor in Baby

Twelve quarts of liquor were in the quilt pockets. Hammond's excuse for smuggling the liquor over from Sarnia was that he was buying a house on a contract and intended to sell the liquor to meet the house payments.

THE TIRED BUSINESS MAN

PLOTTING CROOKS AND ADVENTURERS SWARM IN VIENNA

Political Intrigues Are Thick
Among Refugees From Many Places.

MUCH SPURIOUS MONEY
Curb Dealers in Exchange
Manipulate Rates and Fleece Unwary.

Vienna, Jan. 27.—Vienna continues to exercise an irresistible charm on all those accustomed to the narrow and often dangerous conditions in Eastern and Southeastern Europe. For the residents of many Russian, Polish and Hungarian communities, Vienna is an island of refuge and comfort, and a safety of existence which they have found since the beginning of the war. Thus it has been an asylum for all sorts of refugees and adventurers from the time of the first Russian invasion into Galicia to the present day.

The chief contingent has been concentrated by Eastern Jews of all nations, but besides these there is also a constant influx of other people of various countries, especially since Austria became a democratic republic. Hungarian Bolsheviks and Russian counter-revolutionaries, Ukrainians, anti-Czechs, Slovaks, anti-Serbian Croats, former Austrian officials of German nationality who were dismissed by the governments of the new national states, all have come to Vienna and are trying to spin their webs of intrigue, and to find a living.

And for not a few it is not what counts. Instead of the expected deploration of the Austrian capital, it is overpopulated, and this has added greatly to the difficulty of provisioning the city.

As the line between honest and illegal trade has become hard to determine in the innumerable and often impossible to spin every morning and afternoon thousands are supporting themselves by the more or less dark transactions which go on under the collective name of "schleicher."

"Currency Curb" Full of Action.
One war creation that has become a permanent feature of the city is the "currency curb" of the Galician refugees, most of them Jews, who walk up and down in gesticulating groups on the Schottenring before the Stock Exchange every morning and afternoon during the business hours, apparently interested in nothing but their conversation. From time to time one will rush off through the crowd to some mysterious destination. Others cluster together in the cafes or fill the narrow waiting-rooms of the little banking-houses which have been opened by the dozens in the surrounding districts. It is a decidedly eastern sight, and one gets the impression of an Oriental bazaar. If one listens to what these strange persons say, one will hear nothing but transactions in Austrian crowns, Italian lire, American dollars and so on. Despite occasional police raids and confiscations of their foreign money stocks they all seem to get on fairly well, as their costly fur coats and diamond rings testify.

Some are said to belong to the wealthiest inhabitants of Vienna. From the fiscal point of view they are dangerous, not only because they always try to drive the exchange rates up and down as quickly as possible, but also because they are the most cunning of international money smugglers and employ not only false but even bona fide diplomatic couriers in their business.

Another favorite and sometimes profitable line of business is to settle down in Vienna as a political agent and conspirator. Never before have there been so many political causes for which large sums are squandered. Political intrigues in cafes and other public places or in private apartments have become part of the city life.

Refugees Stirring Strife.
Hungarians, Russians, Croats and Slovaks who had to flee from their countries for political reasons are not content with awaiting calmly their chance for an unobstructed return, but want to influence events and to have a hand in the game of international politics. They form revolutionary committees, engage unemployed Austrian journalists as "chiefs" of their press propaganda and improvise secret emergency courts of justice, which pass death sentences only.

Sometimes these sentences are even executed if the condemned person is caught enough to leave the grounds of Austrian territory. Of course, "business" of all sorts is mixed up with this underground political activity, and many are the bundles of worthless rubles which have been foolishly bought from "statesmen" for real money.

Austria has four revolutionary national movements of importance in its immediate neighborhood—the Slovak movement against the Czech-Slovak state, which is supported by the Magyars; the Croatian movement against the Jugo-Slav union, the Bolshevik-Hungarian movement and one Ukrainian movement directed against Poland. Besides many Russian counter-revolutionary committees choose Vienna for a meeting place from time to time.

If one turns to the guild of professional swindlers and adventurers who act on their own account and choose their political or commercial mask according to their tastes or the requirements of the moment, one finds that the disguise of Russian princes is still much in favor. Although experience teaches that 99 out of 100 Russian princes are not genuine, the 99 false ones can still count upon finding profitable credulity. It seems to have become the rule that the real Russian princes hide under plain names without titles and only the false ones wear the titles publicly.

A young Russian committed suicide in a Viennese hotel last summer because his means were exhausted. When the police searched his room it turned out that he had been a real prince of a well-known family, whose huge estates in Russia had been socialized.

TOPIID LIVER FOR OVER FOUR MONTHS

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

When the liver becomes lazy, slow or torpid it is not working properly, and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills quickly remove the secretions, clear away the waste and effete matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the passage through the bowels easiest of allowing it to get into the blood, and cause so many troubles.

Mrs. Alice Mehll, Napanee, Ont., writes: "I was very badly run down, and had a torpid liver for four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a box of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials, and I am a different person today. I can safely recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 35c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"HANG THE EXPENSE" IS CONSERVATIVE CRY

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—Realizing that a defeat there would rob it of the last scrap of prestige which it has left, the Government is throwing all its resources into the contest in West Peterboro. The coming week will find the county deluged with campaign literature, overrun by canvassers and party henchmen, and deafened by orators and near-orators of every description.

If wind, noise and judiciously distributed funds will win the election for Roland Denne, then the Government ought to be successful. The cry has been sent out: "Hang the expense. Go to it." In the meantime tenders are being invited for the printing of a weekly or monthly propaganda publication of three hundred thousand numbers per issue to be sent broadcast throughout the Dominion for the conversion of the unfaithful.

Each issue will, it is estimated, cost $3,000 to publish. It will cost in addition $3,000 an issue to send through the mails. Where, the electors of Peterboro ask, as did the electors of East Elgin, is the money coming from?

DRY FORCES WILL MEET AT TORONTO

Ontario Alliance Will Plan
Campaign To Make Ontario "Desert."

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—(By Canadian Press).—"To wit" declaiming in the preaching campaign to prohibit importation of intoxicating liquor into Ontario. This is the big question to be discussed at the convention of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, called to meet here on Toronto on February 22, 23 and 24.

The convention call issued by the officers of the alliance describes the coming gathering of the prohibitionist delegates as the "provincial prohibition parliament" of Ontario. It will be the 44th annual convention of the temperance forces of Ontario.

In addition to the main objective above mentioned, the convention will have before it the following great tasks," according to the official program:

Continue educational work and propaganda work in order to establish and improve provincial prohibition laws. To maintain organized effort to secure effective law enforcement. Effectively to press for complete nation-wide prohibition.

19,000 UNDER-NOURISHED IN TORONTO SCHOOLS

Toronto, Jan. 31.—A report just issued by the board of education contains a statement by Chief Inspector Cowley, to the effect that there are 19,000 under-nourished children attending public schools in this city. This is based on a survey of certain schools and it develops the remarkable fact that one school, situated in one of the wealthiest districts in the city, had 15 per cent of its pupils in the ill-nourished class, as compared with 14 per cent in a downtown school, the best record of any of the schools included in the survey.

"This goes to show that it is not altogether the quantity of food, but the quality of it that counts," commented the chief inspector.

FEARWORLD-WIDE CONTROL OF MEAT BY PACKERS OF U. S.

London Board of Trade Expresses Apprehensions.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Apprehensions of a world-wide meat control by American packing firms were disclosed in a recent report to the board of trade by a sub-committee of the standing committee on trusts.

"At present the American meat companies have nearly 60 per cent of the beef output from Argentina and Uruguay, and about 75 per cent of the capacity of the meat plants built or building in Brazil," the report stated. "Moreover, they control the high one-half of the whole trade of Smithfield (the great London meat market), and they have also a solid footing in Canada and Australia."

"Fears as to the extension of their activities are not confined to the United Kingdom, but are equally strong in the dominions," it continues. "The more they may be able to extend their operations in South America, the more they may be able to divert supplies from reaching the United Kingdom; and the more they are able to control distributive business here, the more securely they will have the British consumer in their grip."

Suggestions were made by the committee to restrain, by taxation and by subsidizing refrigerated shipping companies, the expansion of foreign interests here, and an international investigation was recommended to go into the whole situation with a view to taking common action.

A rejoinder to the committee's findings is made by E. E. Cabell, the London manager of Armour & Co., who, in an interview with a Press Association representative, complains that none of the American firms were heard by the committee, and charges that the latter's report was compiled "under strong compulsion."

"Several passages in the report show a clear but ill-informed animus against the American firms," Cabell states, "particularly in its reference to Argentina. No one would guess from the report that the Chicago packers entered the Argentine market at the entreaties of the British firms which had opened up the territory, and had paid heavily for their experience, and were anxious to be bought out."

Mr. Cabell suggests that part of the supposed animus disclosed in the report is due to the reluctance of certain British firms to sell at the high prices of the American packers, and that the latter's report is a "wasteful and more efficient method of their American rivals," and he says the only effect of the report must be to raise meat prices all over the United Kingdom.

MUMMY INDUSTRY ACTIVELY REVIVED

Dealers in Fake Egyptian Antiques Approach European Collectors.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Now that international commerce is restored over nearly all the trade routes of the high seas, there are signs that the "false mummy" industry, one of the most fascinating of Egyptian tricks, is being revived. Dealers in fake Egyptian antiques are approaching European collectors and museums of Europe. During the last few weeks agents of the "false mummy" have approached well-known Paris collectors, trying to sell at phenomenally low prices the mummified remains of ancient Pharaohs, Ramses II or their servile functionaries.

According to one collector who was offered a set of ancient scarabs engraved with hieroglyphics telling the story of some unidentified Egyptian princess, the market is being flooded with faked tomb relics of all sorts. The bulk of duplicates offered by natives of the regions of Gurna, Qus, Luxor and Delli-el-Bahari, where British and French excavations have unearthed thousands of dollars worth of real relics, which were eagerly bought by museum directors on both sides of the Atlantic. The natives' work before the war was frequently humorously called "dyes being used to imitate—but partially only—the glazing processes of the ancient Egyptians. As a result the fabricated mummies were of a newness that often would have failed to convince the merest beginner in the art of Egyptology."

Now, however, the mummy makers have learned their lesson and are leaving no loopholes for detection. They know they are safe as far as the interior of the mummy is concerned, for once opened the casings lose their value. In order to increase their deception, the "fake builders" of the Nile are now bolting their mummy cloths in a solution containing the debris of real mummies, and when the finished object is delivered to an unsuspecting purchaser he is struck by the odor of the tomb, and promptly empties his purse into the eager hands of the complacent fellow. Even gold shell rings, turned out in hundreds in an upper room of a Cairo tenement, when treated with this solution are said to have a mysterious convincing odor of the genuine connection with the history of the Egyptian dynasties.

Meanwhile, experts are cautioning individual and museum collectors to be on their guard against the return of the "false mummy" dealers, and many interesting comments are being passed as a result, on the ease with which even the experts have been deceived in the past. Even M. Cabart, director of the Musée du Centenaire at Brussels, once paid 10,000 francs for two ancient scarabs—artificially carved by an Egyptian student who had purchased the rough scarabs at a Paris sale for a few centimes. But the best-known incident of the gullibility of experts as far as Egyptian relics are concerned is that of the Louvre which paid $40,000 for what it believed to be the tibia of Saitapharnes, and it was not until the precious relic had been displayed in the Louvre collection for seven years that a casual Egyptologist discovered evidence that the tibia had never seen Egypt, having been fabricated in a Brussels jewelry shop.

FOUR NEW CASES OF BOTULINUS POISONING

GRAND RAPIDS, Jan. 31.—Four new cases of botulinus poisoning have been it was announced today. None of them, it was announced today. None of them, however, is regarded as serious. A laboratory analysis made at the University of Illinois, following the death of three hospital attacks and the illness of 25 others last week, has definitely established the presence of poison in preserved spinach served at the hospital, according to the state food and drug department.

CANNED IN CALIFORNIA. CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The preserved spinach which caused the death of four persons at Grand Rapids, Mich., recently was canned in California in 1919 and sold through a Chicago broker last year, the food inspection bureau said it had learned today. An investigation was started here to ascertain if any of the spinach was sold in Chicago.

MOVE TO CHECK TARIFF DEBATE

Senate Republican Leaders Try To Enact Closure Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senate Republican leaders, in accordance with their program for procedure with the Fordney emergency tariff bill, today asked unanimous consent for a vote February 15 and, upon objection, presented their petition for cloture or limitation of debate.

Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, objected to the proposal for a vote February 15, after an address in which he denounced the bill as "taking away everything that goes on the breakfast table of the workman."

The cloture petition, presented by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in charge of the bill, bore names of thirty-four Republican senators, and will be voted on at 1 o'clock Wednesday. It requires a two-thirds vote for adoption, and its defeat was conceded tonight by Republicans and Democrats.

In presenting the cloture plan, the first time an attempt has been made to invoke it since the Senate controversy over the peace treaty, Senator Penrose said he had exhausted every reasonable effort to get an agreement for voting. He did not indicate what would be done with the bill in event of defeat of cloture, but Senators McNamara of North Dakota and Borah of Idaho, Republicans, served notice that they would attempt to bring the bill before the Senate and make every effort to get a vote before the session ends. The notices of these two senators were regarded as likely to change plans for laying aside the bill in event of failure of cloture. It was said that instead of sidetracking the bill formally it probably would be laid aside "temporarily" from debate to give consideration to the session appropriation bills. Private predictions were that, however, there was little prospect of enactment of the measure.

Several passages in the report show a clear but ill-informed animus against the American firms," Cabell states, "particularly in its reference to Argentina. No one would guess from the report that the Chicago packers entered the Argentine market at the entreaties of the British firms which had opened up the territory, and had paid heavily for their experience, and were anxious to be bought out."

Mr. Cabell suggests that part of the supposed animus disclosed in the report is due to the reluctance of certain British firms to sell at the high prices of the American packers, and that the latter's report is a "wasteful and more efficient method of their American rivals," and he says the only effect of the report must be to raise meat prices all over the United Kingdom.

GALT FIRMS ARE IN QUANDARY OVER RAIL FACILITIES

Grand River Franchise Expires At Midnight Tonight.

GALT, Jan. 31.—At midnight on Tuesday the Grand River Railway's franchise on Water street will expire, and on Wednesday morning cars on this line, as well as the Lake Erie and Northern Railway, will enter the city over their own right-of-way, the new line of the former into the city being ready for the change. Since 1894 the Grand River Railway, originally the Galt and Preston Railway, has been running on Water street, and the change to Main street is to give a high-speed service between this city and Kitchener to correspond with that of the other line, the L. E. and N.

As to whether the industrial area on the west side of the city is to continue to receive the benefits of the switching service provided by the Grand River Railway is still a matter of doubt. The railway company wants a five-year franchise, but the hydro-electric commission, which is to make this a centre for radials, refuses to consent, and the power rents with it. Unable to agree, the city asked the Dominion Railway Board to adjust the differences in regard to the continuance of the operation of the line, but Hon. P. B. Carvell, in a letter to the city clerk today, points out that there are many difficulties from a legal viewpoint, and furthermore, with the expiration of the Grand River Railway franchise on Water street on February 2, the railway board's jurisdiction over the line on the street ceases. He suggests that the interested parties get together and settle their differences. Manufacturers who depend largely on the spur line are now in a quandary as to the future.

Mike Keoleneuch, 427 Montmorency street, says he was robbed of $35 last night while visiting London and (last Madeline, at 61 Glenagarry avenue, charges of assault, robbery and selling liquor were laid against the pair today. Two guests in the place were arrested. Albert Smith, 42 Victoria avenue, reported that his house was entered early today, and a police dog got up and found a man in the cellar. THE SUPREME COUNCIL.

Ever since the League of Nations was launched it has been "knocked"
by the Republican press of the United States. With the greatest confidence its early break-up was predicted. But the league has shown, through the Geneva Conference, that it can function to good purpose. Now, in the amicable decision reached as to German reparations by the Allied Supreme Council, the League newspapers have received another disappointment. But the effect on the American people should be to win
a lot more sympathy for the courageous attempt the Allies are making through the league and the supreme council to straighten out
the tangle in world affairs, with justice to foe and friend.

There is little doubt but that the scheme of reparations agreed upon at Paris will help to stabilize European conditions. The old world now knows exactly what Germany must pay, and this should have an excellent effect on world trade. The decision reached is in the nature of a compromise, France making concessions to the British desire to encourage the recuperation of German industry, and Great Britain approving a rigid carrying out of the plans to pluck from Germany every means of further mischief-making. The once great war machine is to be completely scrapped, and that at once.
That, perhaps more than anything else, will appeal most directly to the world at large. On the other hand, the vast sum Germany is asked, and rightly so, to pay will be spread over two score years. This should enable the Germans to get on their feet industrially much quicker than would have been the case had the original French proposal been accepted. The speedier Germany's recovery from her prostration the sooner will she settle. That is the British attitude, and it is good business.

As both Lloyd George and Briand point out, the most important thing about the supreme council decision is that it shows the Allies presenting a united front. Had the council split on the terms it is certain that Germany would have evaded much of the chastisement she deserves, and there would have developed a political hostility in Europe that might easily have led to a new war.
Standing together the Allies can compel Germany to pay for her crime, and at the same time keep her harmless to injure her neighbors or start a new adventure.

LIBERALS AND FARMERS IN PETERBORO.

All sorts of platforms on the tariff
are now before the country. You can take your pick as you order your tea or boiled eggs. There is a range all the way from the connection stewed by Melghen and his friends to the tariff weak as water
proffered by the Farmer leaders,
through the golden hyson of medium strength served by Mr. King. And here is Mr. Campbell of West Peterboro strengthening up his cup to be just like Mr. King's. Or, again, between the hard-boiled product of the Government cuisine and the cold, uncooked egg of free trade, comes the moderate tariff designed by Liberalism for all tastes and the general good.

The Government plans a tariff to suit its fattest friends. It compares the Liberals "injecting" the tariff issue into the Peterboro contest! It prefers to have the tariff arranged in a quiet, modest way, as it tried to help the sugar speculators. With the Government the tariff is not a national issue but a private scheme.

Similarly the Labor party scrutinizes the tariff for what its particular supporters can make out of it.

The farmers also tend to approach
the tariff from their own occupational viewpoint, and in so far as the agricultural industry is our most basic and employs the largest number of our citizens, the farmers'
attitude makes the least objectionable of the group platforms.

But Mr. King's stand on the tariff is the only non-sectional, national and patriotic position of them all.
He takes the people's part for cheaper food and clothing and against a tariff that would assist monopoly. To infant or struggling industries Mr. King would still extend a reasonable protection, but not to those who abuse protection to exploit the home public. Against the high-as-Haman's gallows proposition
Mr. King favors reasonable protection. He is not a free-trader under present conditions, but he would put an end to extortion under the aegis
of the tariff.

A tribute to the fairness, logic
and broad patriotism of the Liberal tariff policy may be found in the manifesto of Mr. J. C. Campbell, the U. F. O. candidate in West Peterboro. Discarding the one plank that differentiates the Farmer platform distinctly from the Liberal, viz., free trade with Great Britain in five years, he now agrees with the Liberal plan of simply increasing the British preference, and in every other vital respect. Why Mr. Campbell should be running against the Liberal candidate and not supporting him is not clear. Imitation, however, is the sincerest kind of praise.

QUEBEC'S NEW LIQUOR LAW.

Whatever may be the opinion as to Quebec's attitude on the liquor question, it must be admitted that the new legislation covers very fully
the situation as it exists in Quebec, and appears to be the best way to handle the liquor issue until Quebec decides to go bone-dry. The scheme which the Government has approved,
after long and careful consideration, places the entire liquor business in the hands of the Government. Under the new regulations
there can be no trading in alcoholic beverages by private interests. The Government will have exclusive control of the sale and importation.
From stores operated directly by the Government consumers will be able to purchase liquor in reasonable quantities at a fair price, and, of course, the Government will guarantee the quality. The sale of beer will be under the same conditions as prevail today, but the brand, under Government supervision, is to be greatly improved. This will wipe out trade in impure, dangerous drinks that has developed from the present liquor laws of Quebec. It will also stop violations of the license
act, which have become a scandal,
especially in Montreal.

The Government has endeavored to strike a neutral point between prohibition and license, as the Montreal Herald points out in the following comment:

The vast experiment of prohibition
in the United States has not been
and according to official testimony
has not diminished drunkenness.
With rigorous regulations for the strict enforcement of the Quebec law, it is believed that temperance will be promoted without infringing
on the time-honored laws of hospitality. The people of the province, not smarting under a sense of injustice or deprivation, will be well inclined to support the administration of the law and less inclined to seek to evade its restrictive provisions.

It will be of interest to watch
how the experiment will work out.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Gilbert Chesterton is asking
what's the matter with the world.
Well, if he doesn't know, nobody does.

In an attack on England, Bishop Gallagher of Detroit declared, "the world is a jail and King George the jailer." The pity of it is that there are some who will believe this silly, foolish remark.

WILL NOT REDUCE HOUSING PAYMENTS

Windsor Council Refuses To Consider Request of Labor
Alderman.

WINDSOR, Jan. 31.—A bylaw providing for a 5 per cent instead of a 10 per cent down payment on Government constructed houses, was introduced by the Windsor Housing Commission from three to five members, was introduced in the council by Archibald
Hooper, Labor alderman.
The decrease in down payments, Ald.
Hooper said, is necessary owing to the building plans which the city wishes to carry out this year.

The present 10 per cent initial payment means $450. This, Hooper said, is working a hardship on people trying to buy their homes by the Government plan.
Almost any frugal working man has
at least $200 in the bank for emergency, which he can use in getting a home," said the alderman. "The $450 is demanded of the man who has to go to some private corporation
and pay a high rate of interest."
Effort to increase the number of commissioners is being made by securing the appointment of a Labor member to that body. W. E. Gundy, police magistrate, a member of the commission last year, will not serve again because of pressure of work. W. J. Ailin, another member, has resigned, thus leaving two vacancies.
The council declined to reduce the down payment necessary, but agreed to the appointment of additional members.

EVERYTHING

THEY CAN'T HELP IT.

President Edward L. Donnelly of the Mexican Petroleum Company, was talking in New York about a mean man.
He said:
"Like all mean men, he can't help his meanness. Sometimes he tries to be generous, to loosen up; but it's no use."
"They tell a story about him. It seems that once, in the bad old days before the blessing of prohibition decided on us, he invited two men into a saloon. He lined them up at the bar, gave them each a jovial slap on the back, and said heartily:
"Now, then, which of you fellows is going to have a drink on me?"

THE LIMIT.

Samuel Untermyer, the brilliant lawyer, was talking about the great which he has unearthed in the New York building trades.
"These grafters," he said, "are the limit. Really, you know, they are inhuman. They remind me of the farmer at the Palm Beach hotel.
"This farmer came down to breakfast rubbing his hands briskly.
"What ye got for breakfast, boy?"
he said to the waiter.
"Fried chicken, ash," the waiter answered, "terse, broiled fresh mackerel,
liver and bacon, sausages, buckwheat
cakes, chops and mushrooms, doughnuts with maple syrup, tea and coffee, ham."
"Bring me all that, boy—and six nice fried eggs."

SUSPICIOUS OF HISTORY.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]
A writer in the New York Evening Post, last week, delved into history and brought out the fact that there is no
proof that Louis XV. or whatever Louis
it was ever said "L'Etat c'est moi."
Then he goes on and finds that Galileo never said "E pur si muove." This excites him, and he investigates further.
He finds that C. Caesar never said "I et alia"—that, in fact, he never even crossed the Rubicon. Other startling discoveries open up to him; we have lost our copy of the paper and can't remember exactly what they are, but we believe Goethe's "Meh'r Lieth" was proven apocryphal. And—a final, crushing blow, this—there is no evidence whatever that Gen. Pershing ever paused in front of the La Fayette tomb
on the Rue Picpus and said "La Fayette, nous vola!"
We know that Washington cut down
no cherry tree; that Wilhelm Tell shot
no apple; that the Connecticut "Blue Laws" were invented by a London journalist. Why the hesitancy about carrying these facts to their logical conclusion? We have enough instances to deduce a general law. History did not happen. We are absolutely in the dark as to anything we don't remember personally—and the new psychology warns us that we may not be sure even of that. The only thing we may count on is fiction and poetry, which are frankly imaginative. As for history, throw it all overboard. It just didn't occur.

DON'T SHIVER.

[Moonbeam World.]
The figures 1921 total 13; but don't shiver—you may yet be one of the lucky ones. If 13 is your lucky number, then you can place your wagers on the present year. Of course, most people aren't the least bit superstitious nowadays;
but even the most practical minded can't help noticing queer coincidences and strange omens. So when you add 1 and 9 and 2 and 1 and it tottles up to the mythic 13, you just naturally pause for a few moments to consider what the ominous number has usually brought to you. If it's your lucky number, then wealth, fame, and a Ford runabout may be your portion during the new year. If,
on the other hand, 13 is your hoodoo,
good night! Be your finish, and then some. Oh, boy, watch your step for you are facing 365 Jonan days, no less.

HEIR TO THE OPEN.

[Minna Irving in New York Herald.]
With his head in the stars and the moon round his neck
And feet that can hardly be common
earth trek,
Behold him, the proudest and happiest man
This old world has seen since creation
began.
You can't interest him in trivial things
Like earthquakes and Bolsheviks,
taxes and kings;
And he pities the people who happen
to be Less lavishly favored by fortune than he.

He's taken to wearing a dinky brown
cap.
And snatching odd minutes to study
a map Criscrossed with a network of highways that run
Over the continent, hither and yon.
He has inherited all of outdoors,
Mountains and valleys and meadows
and moors.
Beautiful roads that go winding afar,
Lo! and behold! he has bought his first car.

ORIGIN OF "TENDERFOOT."

[Edmonton Journal.]
No term used in the Far West is more significant than "tenderfoot," and in no connection is it more used than in relation to horsemanship.
If a person approaches a horse to catch him or saddle him from the "order," or mounts or dismounts on that side, he is more sure to be styled a "tenderfoot" than when he cannot shoot straight.
The tough western mustang or broncho used in the mountains and on the ranches in the southwest was formerly never shod. His hoofs grew so tough that a hindrance, for tough, unshod hoofs are much more sure-footed on rocky trails than are iron shoes. After once being shod, however, the hoof always needs it, and becomes very tender and lame without an iron shoe.
As nothing is more useless to a western ranchman or guide than a lame horse, and as shoeing was not easy in the early days, a "tenderfoot" was despised. The unshod "toughfoot" was valued. Hence we have the western term "tenderfoot" to denote a "greenhorn."

ONTARIO.

[J. Lewis Milligan in The Beckoning
Skyline (McClelland & Stewart).]
The Hemlock and the Cedar.
The Spruce and Monarch Pine.
Waved o'er the tents of Kedar
Where now the harvests shine.

But who can tell the story
Of all the toil and stress
That ours might gentle be;
Which wrought a land of glory
From out the wilderness?
From Highland cot and Lowland
They wrestled o'er the seas,
They left their homes for No land—
A land of lakes and trees.
From dawn to dusk they wrought it,
They smote it left and right;
With blood and sweat they bought it—
Then passed into the night.
Their hands were rough and horny
That ours might gentler be;
The path was steep and thorny
That ours might smoother be.
The Hemlock and the Cedar,
The Spruce and Monarch Pine,
Waved o'er the tents of Kedar
Where now the harvests shine.

OTHERS' VIEWS

MORMONS TO FAST FOR EUROPE.

[Springfield Republican.]
A fast day throughout the Mormon Church has been proclaimed by President H. J. Grant and his counselors, in behalf of the starving children of Europe. Sunday, the 23rd, has been set aside as a special fast day. All Mormons will be expected to go without two meals, "feel the pangs of hunger which millions of little children are feeling in Europe, and contribute the fast of two meals to two big relief projects—the Near East and Europe."
"Years ago," said a member of the Mormon Church, "when the early pioneers needed food, clothing or money for charitable or other emergency purposes, when it could not be raised in any other fashion, the spiritual fast day was made the vehicle
for accomplishing the desired end."

DANTE ON THE FILM.

[London Times.]
It is reported that a new cinema-graph company has been formed in Italy
for the express purpose of producing a notable film on Dante. The actors have already been selected at a cost of some $600,000 lire (about $20,000 at the present rate of exchange), and the work will begin immediately. The film, which will be the most ambitious of the Divine Comedy, and also, it appears,
the Divine Comedy itself, will be shown a great deal abroad.

WHAT DO COLLEGE BOYS READ.

[Chicago News.]
Educational journals have been discussing the interesting question whether there has been any improvement in the literary and intellectual tastes of college boys. Inquiries have been conducted in one or two state universities in the hope of obtaining authentic information. The theory is this—The world has undergone terrible upheavals since 1914. War, revolution, readjustment, stirring controversies over the peace treaties, solemn referendums, what not—surely all this is calculated to arouse interest and curiosity in the average college student supposed to be fitting himself for life. What, then, does he read, aside of course, from assigned lessons? One student made the startling statement that college boys read nothing. Others
mentioned very popular periodicals,
more entertaining than the world's favorite pulchritude of college youth. Wise educators shake their heads solemnly over the melancholy showing. Is anything the matter with college boys of this day and generation? Well, hardly.
Reading does not come by nature. The love of it must be cultivated, and if college boys and their instructors are to blame, certain courses in "literature" produce a profound dislike for literature, as so many educated men have said. It is something of an art to introduce boys—and girls—to the world of books and periodicals and to many educators have failed to acquire that art. They mistake grammar and syntax for the spirit of literature. The reading of boys, all boys, is determined chiefly by the tastes and habits of those who guide them.

THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

[Manitoba Free Press.]
The Canadian demand for the removal of the British embargo on cattle from this Dominion cannot go beyond a certain point. We can rightly complain that the embargo has been maintained for nearly twenty-nine years
under the unjust pretence that Canadian cattle are diseased; and we are entitled for an explanation as to the reasons which the British Government refuse to ignore the engagement which it gave in 1917 that the embargo would be removed after the war. But obviously we are not in a position to press our case unduly. If the British people want to keep their choicest meat market for their own breeders by barring out cattle from the outside world, there is nothing to be done about it, though it would be more seemly if they would say straight out that they are animated by a desire, not unknown in other lands, to protect their special home interests.

HE DARKENED HIS GREY HAIR

TELLS HOW HE DID IT.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:
"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture of home-made hair darkener, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum,
a small box of Orle's Compound and 1/4
ounce of glycerine.
These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy
and does not rub out."

McLAUGHLIN

McLaughlin Master Six Coupe.

With a car that occupies such a commanding place in a nation's favor as does the McLaughlin, a new model arouses unusual interest. It must have its influence on the whole trend of motor styles in Canada.

For that reason the lines of the new McLaughlin closed cars have been fashioned to give lasting pleasure to thousands of owners rather than to please the passing whims or fancy of a season.

The power, the positive satisfying performance

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 31.—London Alerts, Intermediate O. H. A. six, beat the St. Thomas Granites here tonight in a scheduled game by the score of 8 to 0. London started to prove their superiority after the first three minutes of play, and continued their good work right up to the last minute of play. Johnny Burgess, Art Gilles and George Arthur were the shining lights for the Alerts. Burgess opened the scoring for London after two minutes of play in the first period. Arthur took matters into his own hands after that, and scored three at intervals of three minutes. "Garge" made a hit with the fans for his splendid work and clean playing. Not once in this period were London's nets in danger.

Arthur took matters into his own hands after that, and scored three at intervals of three minutes. "Garge" made a hit with the fans for his splendid work and clean playing. Not once in this period were London's nets in danger.

When seven minutes of the second period had elapsed, Burgess accepted a pass from Harry Mays, and the puck found a resting place in the locals' nets. Burgess repeated this two minutes later on a pass from McKay, and at three minutes from the start of the second period, Burgess scored another goal through individual work.

London eased up their fast work in the last period, and went on the defensive, but in some manner Burgess was "Johnny on the spot," and all of Burgess' efforts to get the London defence line failed. With but two minutes to play Gilles accepted a pass from Mays in a scramble in front of the nets and shoved it in, making it the last counter of the game.

It was stated that the largest crowd of hockey fans that has yet witnessed a game here was present. They showed their appreciation of good plays and players for both teams by a display of encouragement. Mays came in for a

TO PROVIDE WORK

Canadian veterans of the Great War, out of work during the industrial depression of the autumn and winter, have been provided with work by the commencement of the provincial highway between Windsor and Talbotville. At the present time a staff of about fifty men are employed in opening a new right of way across the Neal Farm, about three miles south of the city of Windsor. The provincial highways construction plan was evolved by Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of roads and highways, to alleviate distress among returned soldiers and their families.

CURIOUS CUSTOMS PREVAIL IN SNOWBOUND COUNTRIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Although the Eskimos have no national game, they lack neither in number nor in variety the diversions suited to their life. In its relation it is of interest to note the games which are played by children along the shores of Bering Sea, where, as life is, children can still find amusements that put them on an equal footing with those of more favored races. Football is played with a bag stuffed with hair. "Tag" is the same game the world over. Children are fond of "teetering," standing upon the end of the plank instead of sitting down. Another amusement, which requires skill, is the sling tossed up in a blanket. A walrus hide is used, and the trial of skill is to see who can stand on his feet and be tossed into the air the highest.

Small children have miniature sleds which they load with mice skins and all sorts of trinkets, so as to play trader. Boys practice archery. Of course, they slide down hill, but he sled is the seat of a stout pair of eskimo trousers. Athletics are also much indulged in. One difficult feat is to walk on the hands, the legs being outside of the arms and held straight out in front, parallel with the ground.

Lifting matches are also frequent, but very few natives are as strong as the average white man. Hurling the spear likewise practiced, and small darts guided by goose feathers are thrown with great accuracy, so that they often hit a mark at thirty feet. The faculty to throw a stone is innate in every boy. In fact, the small boy is the same the world over.

Girls play with dolls carved out of ivory, which they dress up after their own fashion in clothing of ermine, fur or other skins. One of their games is to kick a ball of ice or snow about the size of a baseball, the object being to keep it in the air all the time without touching it with their hands.

They also toss pebbles very skillfully, some being able to keep six or seven in the air at a time with one hand. They frequently wear bracelets of silver, on which are strung bits of iron, brass or anything that will jingle. Stories are tossed in the air, the hands catching each other between the tosses, jingling the bracelets, keeping time and accompanying the play with a sort of chant.

Only Hope for Million Women Is To Emigrate.

BRITISH JILLS SEEK JACKS IN AMERICA

London, Jan. 30.—"Jackless Jills" are emigrating in considerable numbers from England in the hope of finding "Jill-less Jacks" for husbands in the United States, according to North March, bachelor of science. Her comments on England's "marriageable women who may never marry" before the national birth rate commission, some time ago, were widely discussed in the British press.

Government figures show there is a surplus of a million women in England whose only hope of marrying depends on their migrating to some parts of the earth where there is a more even distribution of the sexes. According to Miss March, they are coming in. She says she is receiving letters from America that are "significant of the loneliness of some men's lives."

"Women are enterprising today," she added. "Many are emigrating who a few years ago would have feared to take the great adventure."

WINDSOR, Jan. 31.—Work on the new freight terminal of the Canadian Pacific on Carleton avenue will not be started before spring. It was officially announced today. WINDSOR, Jan. 31.—Because property to be purchased by the city for the erection of the new $150,000 police and fire department headquarters was deeded to the Catholic diocese of London in 1856 forever to be used for Catholic common school purposes, a hitch in negotiations for the purchase of the land from the Bishop of London was threatened at tonight's meeting of the council, when Ald. Frank Mitchell introduced a resolution upholding all former plans and advocating erection of the proposed building on the city hall site at the rear of the present municipal building.

The move failed, however, when the city solicitor was instructed to hasten negotiations whereby London, Ont., executives of the diocese would furnish a clear title and facilitate preliminary work in order that Windsor's six hundred unemployed might have immediate work.

PARE ESTIMATES SAYS TREASURER

Finance Committee Is Warned To Go Easy On the Expenditures.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 31.—The finance committee of the council was today advised by the city treasurer to avoid an extraordinary expenditure, as the year is not one that would allow for an increased rate. The treasurer submitted a report of the demands of the different committees and the total increases over that asked for last year amounted to $76,521. If the estimates provided by the committees were all allowed without a reduction, a levy of 36-1-10 mills on the dollar would be necessary. Last year the rate was 34 mills.

The committee after looking over some of the estimates, saw that some of the less important items might be eliminated and a suggestion was made that all committees meet again during the week and make an endeavor to lower the compiled estimate to a sum that will allow for the same levy as last year.

Rate Fairly High. In a comparative per capita cost for educational purposes it was told by the treasurer that St. Thomas is 9-1/2 the highest in the province of similar population. Kitchener pays 5.84, Guelph 5.99, Grandford 6.66, Chatham 7.00, Stratford 7.29, and Catharines 8.01. Among the excess items mentioned which must be provided for are widows' pension fund, $4,920; exemptions granted to returned men, $4,600; 1920-21 exemptions granted to returned soldiers, $4,600; to complete public lavatories, $3,500.

The committee will again meet during the week. The council will hold a special meeting Friday to strike the rate.

Before considering the several applications for increase of salaries, grants to societies and musical organizations, the estimates will again be considered. Among those applying for salary increases were the city engineer and the health inspector.

RABBIT SHOW PLANNED. BRANTFORD, Jan. 31.—Plans are being prepared for the Ontario Annual Rabbit and Cavy Show here. Rabbit mites from all parts of Western Ontario were in the city over the week-end looking over the prospects.

INSPECTOR RETIRES. WOODSTOCK, Jan. 31.—Walter Shaver, license inspector for North Oxford since 1905, and for the whole county since the Ontario temperance act came into force in 1916, gave up his duties today. His successor is Wm. C. Killing, for several years chief of police here. Under the terms of the superannuation act, which came into force during the past year, Mr. Shaver, who has passed the three score and ten milestone, is automatically retired.

PLAN TO SAFEGUARD SUPPLY OF MILK

Sarnia, Jan. 30.—Sarnia health board favors medical examination of every one handling milk from the stable to the customer, and this is being advocated in some quarters as a means of safeguarding the lives of children dependent on the local milk supply. Since the board appointed a veterinary last year to examine all stables, cattle and utensils of the dairies where milk sold in this city is produced, the grade has been much improved, until now the milk is purer than it ever was, and compares favorably with that of any city in the country.

FIXES EXCHANGE FOR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

I.—A Meeting at the Stile.
A sunny afternoon in May, a sky of young and delicate blue—soft air blowing with a hint of coming life in the woods. A faint stirring of growing things in the woods.
Down the winding road which led into a little green world came the sound of approaching footsteps, and around an unexpected bend in the road appeared a tall, broad-shouldered young man in a shabby suit of tweed.
Close to an old-fashioned stile which led into the cool greenness of the woods he halted. From one pocket he drew forth a pipe—a disreputable, much-loved specimen of its kind—and, as tenderly as the mother-bird in the big elm overhead at that precise moment filled her offspring's little yawning beak, so did he insert the tobacco in its accustomed shrine. He fumbled once more in his shabby pockets. Silence. More anxious fumbling. Then—
"Hang!" The word came explosively. "If I haven't got the matches!"
It was the proverbial last straw. He jerked his long length down into a re-emerging position close to the stile, hunching his shoulders drearily, and staring moodily into the blue distance far away, topped by some oddly-distorted chimney-stacks.
He had a strong, square face, tanned and leathery. His eyes lay in every line of it. His lips were firm and well-cut. His eyes were dark and deep-set, and held a look of boyish disappointment, of "disappointment" with the world in general.
The silence was broken by a wild clatter of horse's hoofs. In a whirl of dust and at a tremendous speed came a high dogcart, swaying and rocking at every turn of the way.
Between the horse and the dogcart he got the full view between his teeth and was far beyond control. The girl in the driver's seat sat well back, dragging at the reins with all her strength, but unable to check the frightened animal.
With an appearance of complete sangfroid the tall young man stepped into the road. Just as the whirling equipage went by he made a sudden leap at the horse's bridle, caught it securely, dragged along the road in a cloud of dust, but hung on grimly till the brown mare stopped.
With one hand still on the bridle he took a square look up at the occupant of the driver's seat. A girl—and she had neither screamed nor fainted! She was looking none the less, even voice, without a tremor in it.
"I don't know how to thank you, eno!"
The tall young man stood staring up at her, tongue-tied. Who on earth could she be? Not one of the country girls, surely—yet no suggestion, no atmosphere of town clung around her. She looked so young, so fresh, so unsophisticated—so utterly different from the women he had met only an hour ago. His gaze went momentarily across the woods to the Manor House, and a shadow fell across his face as he thought of the house party collected there from New York.
With a quick movement the young girl stepped down and was beside him on the road.
"I think I'll have just a few moments' rest," she said, and crossing to the stile, seated herself daintily on its lowest crossbar.
She was extraordinarily pretty and appealing. Was she really dark or fair? After all, it was wonderful—curly little copper tendrils in the sunlight, dark in the shadow. But her little delicate face was a soft, glowing, big, deep-rimmed eyes a soft grey.

You haven't been kind enough to tell me your name yet." The very tones of his voice changed when he spoke to her.
She gave a little laugh. "It's a stupid, old-fashioned name—just Betty," she said.
"Betty," said the young man, aloud, lingering over the word. "Why, it's a beautiful name—and it suits its owner." She flushed all over her pretty face, and stiffened her shoulders with a little air of dignity.
"It was stupid of me to mention only my first name," she said hurriedly. "My real name is Gordon—Betty Gordon."
He noted the changing expression on her face and hastened to make amends. "Miss Gordon," he spoke the words with formal little bow that must disarm all suspicion of undue informality. "I am very glad to have met you and to have been of service. My name is Trevor—Jack Trevor—and—"
"I am very glad to meet you," she interrupted. "I should like it so much if you could look upon me as a friend."
The time slipped by as they talked of many things. The slanting shadows of late afternoon had lengthened over the green little world about them when she rose to go.
She looked at her wrist watch, and gave a little cry of horror, shaking the dark curls from her eyes.
"Why, it's half-past five here for two hours. Isn't it dreadful?"
"Not dreadful—wonderful!" came the answer.
She did not seem to hear. She was busily untangling the knotted reins from the style.
"Good-bye—and thank you, Mr. Trevor," she said, smiling shyly, and holding out her hand.
"But—but this isn't good-bye!" He stammered over the words in his eagerness, grasping her outstretched hand in his.
"I've got to see you again. When can I see you?"
"I don't know."
"I'll call tomorrow afternoon. Do let me. Say I may come!"
She drew her hand back gently, lifted the reins and climbed into the driver's seat. Then she laughed outright with a little happy lilt in the laugh. She gave the reins a little jerk, and the brown mare started forward at a swinging pace.
"Good-bye!" she called out softly over her shoulder, looking back at the bare-headed young man who was standing gazing after her. "And—and I'll be at home tomorrow afternoon!"

The sum of $5,500 is set aside for salaries at the new Elmwood school, and $10,000 for repairs to the Collegiate Institute and public school.

The accident happened about three miles east of Aymer, when the car of Mr. Cohoon was standing on the north side of the road, and when Mr. Kolb was driving west his auto hit that of Mr. Cohoon. HEART FLUTTERING EASILY CORRECTED

Good Advice to Folks Both-ered With Palpitation, Weakness, etc.
If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, overexertion or emotion may cause it.
If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.
If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It relieved A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Dizziness, Sinking Feeling, Heart Pant, Short Breath, Weakness.
Mr. Beattie says: "I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness.
"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations. Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great restful."

PREFERS AUTO TRUCK TO RADIAL RAILWAY
TORONTO, Jan. 31.—H. A. Telfer of Telfer Bros., Limited, baluic manufacturers, this city, testifying before the Hydro-Electric Power Commission's radial railway schemes, here today as a witness for the municipalities opposed to the projected radials, stated that for big shipments for short distances the manufacturers preferred the motor truck service to that of the railways. There was less liability to damage owing to delay by motor shipment than shipment by rail. Mr. Telfer and the motor truck guaranteed delivery to customers.
T. U. Fairlie, head of the rail engineering department of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, was on stand again today and covered part of the ground previously covered. In the autumn of 1919 to obtain options on right-of-way, and had made purchases of right-of-way on the line between Stoney Creek and St. Catharines. Mr. Fairlie promised to get the details of the various options for the railway commission later.

Dyspepsia Spoils Beauty

A Good, Sharp Appetite and Perfect Digestion Are the Surest Ways To Attain and Keep Beauty.

Nothing will spoil the complexion, dim the eyes, and cave in the cheeks quicker than indigestion allowed to go on without proper relief.

"My Beauty Secret? Just Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for Good Digestion; Let Nature do the Rest."

The poisonous by-products of fermentation may be absorbed into the blood and simply ruin the good looks. A bad complexion, haggard appearance and emaciation may result from neglected indigestion. By taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the distresses due to dyspepsia are avoided and thus the menace to good looks and good digestion is removed.

Get a 60c package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store.

GO NO FURTHER IN TIMBER SIFT?

Commissioners' Statement Indicates That Probe Is At An End.

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—Whether any further evidence will be taken by the royal commissioners inquiring into the timber returns made to the late Hearst Government from the Northern Ontario concessions is a question. A statement which was given at this afternoon by the commissioners, Judges Riddell and Latchford, indicates that the probe in this case is ended.

Following is the statement: "The Denison inquiry has three purposes:—

"1. That criminal prosecutions may be advised against certain persons in authority.

"2. That the remedy be advised of declining to renew the license to cut from the timber concessions.

"3. That inquiry may be made into the observance by the company of the conditions in the Quebec reserve limits.

"We make interim reports when in any particular matter the inquiry is completed and action is to be recommended; an interim report was made in this matter, and legal action has been taken by the crown. We shall not consider any inquiry absolutely closed until our final report, but in the special circumstances, we do not think it wise, after action is brought (unless in the parties request it), to take further evidence.

"I. Advised Prosecution. "The Crown has advised criminal prosecution of those who seem to have been guilty of crime, and have been given the license to cut timber from the crown and its legal advisers to determine who should be prosecuted, and the action has been taken.

"2. It is for the administration under its responsibility to the Legislature, and through the Legislature to the people of Ontario, to determine whether to grant any license to those acting in the company's name to have done. This is not a question of law or fact, but of policy. If an opinion be desired by the administration, counsel in charge of the action may be asked to advise as to the remedy to be sought.

"3. The Quebec reserve license is in litigation. We do not think it is a matter for the company to determine, but a matter for the court to decide. The department may inform itself of the situation by its own officers or other inspectors, and produce the evidence before the courts in the action, if necessary or advisable.

"How the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company has borrowed $5,000,000 from the strength of a promise to reserve the 5,000-square-mile pulpwood limit from the crown, and the company has dealt with by crown counsel. The company made application for the limit on September 15, 1919, and on September 25, Mr. Ferguson replied, saying that while the grant would not be made forthwith, it would be made in time to allow the company to purchase an issue of notes to finance erection of the plant.

"Mr. Ferguson's letter was inclosed. Quite Satisfied.

On October 3 Alex Smith, president of the Peabody, Houelling, Griggs and Company, of Chicago, replied, stating that they were quite satisfied to accept Mr. Ferguson's assurance, and they could rely on the act of an honorable government, and they would thereupon purchase the $5,000,000 of Spanish River notes.

After the election Hon. Mr. Ferguson wrote the letter, saying that he had returned from his holidays. Being overworked, he did not put the letters on the file at once. Without was secured for his carelessness is not having reported receipt of such an important letter.
