Toronto, Nov. 4.—A boy named Pind touched a broken electric wire at Niagara Falls, Ont., and lost a finger as a result of the shock he received. He sued the municipality of Niagara Falls for $20,000 damages, and was awarded $2,000 for himself and $271.05 for his father. An appeal was taken on his behalf because of the smallness of the court award, claiming that he had intended being a musician, and the loss of his

Real Virginia—real satisfaction
The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.
Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep their houses without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.
Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.
It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Try Skin Absorption Instead of Cosmetics
The constant use of certain rouges, powders and creams invites a congested, puffed-up condition of the skin, eruptions, enlarged pores and wrinkles. If you've learned this from experience, suppose you quit cosmetics and try the following:
Ask your druggist for an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax and begin using it tonight. Apply like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Keep it up for a week or two. The wax will literally absorb the coarse, colored or bleached skin, but so gradually as not to discommode you at all. As you gradually feel the clear, velvety, naturally tinted under-skin coming to the surface, and mercurized wax becomes your everlasting friend.
For those wrinkles and large pores, take a face bath by dissolving an ounce powdered sassafras in a half pint of hot water. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties, and beneficial results come quickly.—Adv.

You Can't Dent an EDDY PAIL
The knocks, blows and bumps inseparable from day in and day out usage can't dent an Eddy Pail.
The Eddy Pail is a one-piece Pail. It has no joints or seams—no hoops to come off, no staves to fall apart.
It is as strong as steel and lighter than wood. Its glass sides look on to the machine-chartered pulp wood, defies the roughest treatment—can't collect odors or taints.
The Eddy Household Pail is moderate in price and will last four or five of the old-fashioned kind. Ask for Eddy's Household Pail.

STERN REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM
The Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood.
Every rheumatic sufferer should realize that rheumatism is rooted in the blood and that to get rid of it must be treated through the blood. The old belief that rheumatism was caused by cold, damp weather, is now exploded. Such weather conditions may start the pains, but it is not the cause. Liniments and outward applications may give temporary relief, but that is all they can do because they do not reach their sources in the blood. The sufferer from rheumatism who experiments with outward applications is only wasting time and money in depending upon such treatment; the trouble still remains, and it is all the time becoming more firmly rooted. Treat this disease through the blood and you will soon find relief. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on impure, weak blood; they purify and strengthen it, and so act on the cause of the rheumatism. Mr. P. J. MacPherson, R. R. No. 5, Cardigan, P. E. I., says: "About ten years ago I was attacked with rheumatism. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon the trouble disappeared and I am in better health than before. I also know of an old lady acquaintance who was badly crippled with rheumatism in her arms and legs, and who suffered very much. She, too, took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and is now able to do her housework. I tell you this in the hope it may be of benefit to some other sufferer."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at $3.00 a box or six boxes for $22.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.—Adv.

Madame Galli-Curci Hires Taxi To Drive Distance of 50 Feet
London taxi drivers are thinking seriously of publishing a booklet entitled, "Short Taxi Drives and Who Took Them."
The latest paragraph will be devoted to Madame Galli-Curci, the famous prima donna, who sang in London last Thursday night. The great songstress signalled a taxi driver Friday morning shortly after 10 o'clock, and asked that she and her party be driven from the Tecumseh Hotel to the L. and P. S. station, a distance of about 150 feet.
The driver concealed his surprise, packed the party into his car, honked the horn and drove across the Grand Trunk tracks to the electric line. Galli-Curci presented him with his fee of one dollar and added 25 cents for quick service, much to the surprise of the taxi man.
A shorter ride still was taken last week by a young and unmarried couple with "Just Married" written all over their faces, hailed a taxi driver at the foot of the Grand Trunk platform and asked how much it would cost to be driven to the best hotel. The driver told them 50 cents. This seemed satisfactory and so the love birds and all their baggage were tucked into the car.
The taxi man simply swung his car around to the curb in front of the Tecumseh Hotel and started to take out the baggage.
"What are we here already?" inquired the surprised bridegroom.
"You sure are," replied Mr. Taxi, "but don't you worry, I'm not going to charge you anything."
"That's all right," came back Mr. Newlywed, "I made the agreement, and the money is yours."
"These fellows who are just married don't care how they spend their money, but I bet they will change their minds in a few months," said the taxi expert, as he joined his friends on the other side of the street.

Guy Fawkes to Be Burned in Effigy Today by English People
SINCE the memorable day when Guy Fawkes attempted to destroy the British Houses of Parliament the people of England have held high celebrations on the fifth of November, burning Guy Fawkes in effigy to the accompaniment of the banging and crackling fireworks.
This is the anniversary of the day when Guy Fawkes, agent of the Catholic conspirators in England, tried to blow up the House of Lords in 1605, in an effort to kill the King of England and members of parliament.
He was discovered as he was applying the match to the gunpowder, and after a trial was publicly executed.
This plot, which has become known as the Gunpowder Plot, was concocted in revenge for the penal laws in force against the Catholics of England of that day.

BRAZIER REFUSES TO OBEY ORDERS
Claims He Does Not Serve the City Finance Committee.
Chairman Watkinson of the finance committee has recommended to Engineer Brazier that authority be granted for the installation of curb gasoline stations to continue. This was the desire expressed of the committee, he said.
Up to the present time, however, the engineer has taken no notice of the suggestion.
The city engineer's department comes under the board of works, and only from this body or the council as a whole does the engineer accept orders, Mr. Brazier stated.
Ald. Wenige stated Saturday morning that the engineer had disobeyed the committee's instructions.
Ald. W. A. Wilson, chairman of the board of works, said that his committee would not stand for the finance committee issuing orders to the engineer. The matter of the curb stations was being dealt with by the committee, and until a decision was arrived at, the engineer will not move in the matter.
The installation of the tanks will be further held up until No. 2 committee meets, which is in the third week of the month.

"LENMORE" IS SCENE OF Y.W.C.A. CAMPERS' REUNION
London Girls Who Spent Holiday at Port Bruce Re-enact Events.
The girl campers who spent a happy holiday last summer at the Y. W. C. A. Camp, Port Bruce, held a reunion on Friday night at Lenmore. The campers, who were attired in their regular camp outfits, imagined for the evening that they were back again at their delightful camping grounds.
The King Street Y was decorated with cedar branches and autumn leaves, which lent an out-door environment to the club rooms. Many stunts which were a common occurrence at camp were enacted, and several clever little sketches were put on by the various camp groups, including "The Trials of a Bachelor," by the earliest camp, led by the big chief, Jean Buchanan. "A Glimpse of Zenana," by Madeline Roddick as leader, and another skit led by Kitty White.
The girls of the fourth camp won the honors of the evening by presenting a circus parade, under the direction of their chieftain, Ruth Taylor.
The Y. W. C. A. officers who assisted in looking after the guests were Mrs. C. B. King, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. E. E. Reid, Mrs. F. P. Betts, Mrs. Taitton, Mrs. Leslie Amalgam, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Miss Bessie McCann, Miss Hilda Keene and Miss Helen d'Avignon.

APPEALING TO RETAIN TRANSPORT MINISTRY
London, Nov. 5.—(By Canadian Press Cable).—The ministry of transport, which may be regarded as superfluous government organization, evolved and, until recently controlled by Sir Eric Geddes, has found unexpectedly strong backing in labor quarters.
The heads of the labor organizations marshaled a number of arguments in a letter to Premier Lloyd George appealing for the retention of the ministry, and contend that it serves the useful purposes outlined by the Government when the ministry was established. They declare that the suggested closing down of the ministry would inevitably lead to the country into being less able to face continental competition in the absence of the elementary large scale industrial organization which foreign countries have adopted.

MILLER HUGGINS TO BE RETAINED
New York, Nov. 4.—Miller Huggins will again manage the New York Yankees in 1922. This despite the efforts of "Huggins haters" to have the little leaguer thrown out after he won the first American League pennant for a Manhattan team. "Those who have been working night and day to 'dispose' of Huggins were nonplussed when they learned that their favorite 'candidate' for the job, Eddie Collins, star second baseman of the Chicago White Sox, had made the unqualified statement that he had not been signed to succeed Huggins.
This morning Ed. Barrow, business manager of the Yanks, who was named by several of the anti-Hugginsites to succeed the pinstriped Yankee leader, declared Huggins would be retained.
Messrs. Ruppert and Huston, owners of the club, issued a statement in which they pointed out that every successful manager deserved another chance.

PROJECTED MERGER OF WELFARE ASSOCIATIONS
Local Institutions to Meet to Discuss Children's Interests.
A merger is contemplated by the several organizations interested in the child welfare movement in London.
A meeting will be held next Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A., at which representatives of the different organizations will discuss the project.
The Child Welfare Association will be represented by Col. Gartsch and Dr. Hill of the Institute of Public Health; the Soldiers' Aid by Ed. Lance; the Day Nursery by Mrs. W. S. Partridge; the Children's Shelter by Mrs. Hardy; Mrs. J. Weld and Mrs. F. E. Leonard; the Children's Aid by Mr. Barbour; the Catholic Orphans' Home by H. Rana-han. The matrons of the Salvation Army and the Protestant Orphans' Home will represent those institutions.
Dr. Hill said that if the merger is accomplished a great advance will have been made in this movement.

MRS. PENNINGTON.
Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES," New Rockland, P. Q.
"In 1919 I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath, and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.
"In the spring of 1920 I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' and in a few days the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7th, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives,' for I know how they must suffer.

GALT KIWANIS HEAR OF BOYS' WORK

Form Committee To Make Study of the Problem.

GALT, Nov. 4.—District Governor Bevan Hay paid an unofficial visit to the Kiwanians today and delivered an inspiring message, laying stress on the importance of the club having an objective. He then told of what London Kiwanians were doing to help the underprivileged boy. Sixty-five orphans in the Forest City now had a Kiwanian daddy. The work had done the "daddies" a lot of good, and he hoped that the care of the underprivileged boy would become the main objective of all Kiwanian Clubs in the Ontario and Quebec district. As a result of the address President Billy Milne and Kiwanians, Mayor S. E. Charlton and H. O. McGuire were appointed a committee to consider the situation in Galt.

Will Feature Comedy Drama

Majestic Management Announces "Bought and Paid For" Next Week.

In making the selection of "Bought and Paid For," George Broadhurst's famous four-act comedy drama, as the bill for the coming week at the Majestic Theatre, Mr. Grew has added just a little more evidence of his untiring efforts to provide theatre-goers of London with the very best obtainable in the way of that better sort amusement. To those more closely acquainted with theatricals, "Bought and Paid For" will be remembered for its long and sensational run on the great "White Way" of New York. For two years it held forth, drawing capacity houses for its entire run. Of late, it has been played on the road by numerous companies, meeting with stupendous successes everywhere.

The story itself is woven round and about the lives of two young girls, Virginia and Fanny Blaine. The elder of the two sisters, Virginia, is a telephone operator, and in the course of her duties becomes acquainted with Robert Stafford, who is a millionaire bachelor. Robert induces Virginia to marry him and then the story with all its sordid wickedness begins. Mr. Hyman, well known to London folk for his masterly interpretations of the most tense situations, will take the leading part.

Thanksgiving, 1921.

By proclamation of the Government, Monday next will be observed in our Dominion as a day of special thanksgiving for the many blessings and favors of the past year.

This is a custom that is liked by many of our people. The editor of a paper in Muskoka fell asleep and dreamed that the churches of Bracebridge were filled to the doors with devout worshippers on Thanksgiving day. He awoke, however, to find that the churches were all but empty, and nearly everybody had gone out to try and kill something. It is probable that some will not spend the day as gratefully as they should—think of it merely as a secular holiday, the chief point of interest centering in sport, or in the dinner, where the traditional turkey graces the board. But many will recognize it as a time for recounting personal and national favors, and none can do so thoughtfully without feelings of sincere gratitude.

Naturally it behooves all thoughtful citizens of this favored and prosperous country to pause and meditate upon the reasons we have for giving thanks.

First of all, perhaps, that which is uppermost in the minds and hearts of all is gratitude for a fairly good and bountiful harvest, and this is perhaps especially so in Ontario. The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, and He hath surely scattered bountifully, for verily "our barns are filled with plenty."

In the matter of national wealth we can only think of the words of the psalmist, "God hath not dealt so with any nation." The natural resources of Canada are fabulous and, as yet, undeveloped. Our mines, forests, fisheries and agricultural wealth are beyond calculation. A country of such unbounded and undeveloped wealth is bound to become the home of many millions in the next generation.

Amid all the national blessings that are ours, and which are so apparent even in these days when so many nations are troubled and torn, let us not be guilty of the worst of all national crimes, that of forgetting God. This is not a sermon or a homily, yet it might be well to turn to the book Deuteronomy, 8th chapter, and read the proclamation of thanksgiving issued by Moses, some thirty-three hundred years ago, at a period in the national life when the people were as much inclined to forget God as are some in Canada today.

Home is the natural objective point for everyone at the Thanksgiving season. Many homes will be happier because of the happy reunions and visitations which are associated with the observance of this day. Widened the circle so that it may include at your dinner table, your boy's chum, who cannot go to his distant home to be with his own people on the happy day. Let your daughter invite one or two of her girl friends to share Thanksgiving with her. With gratitude at this Thanksgiving time, the Saviour's words, "Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

We are perhaps old-fashioned, but we believe the custom of former years was a good one, that in which the people gathered in their respective places of worship on the day appointed and spent an hour in song and speech, mingled with earnest thanksgiving for the personal and national blessings of the year.

"Come, ye thankful people, come,
Raise the song of harvest home;
All is safely gathered in,
Ere the winter storms begin."

The Washington Parley.

The eyes of the civilized world are turned toward Washington, the meeting place of representatives of the nations of the world.

The session has in it the makings of the greatest and most memorable gathering of the century, or the most dismal failure that ever overtook any movement that had in it the betterment of people of the world over.

There are two things that can happen at this conference:—

(1) It can succeed, and the usions of the world can come together to try and understand each other's problems. Measures can be taken to limit armament and barbarous methods of warfare, or (2) it can fail, and the failure will be the pistol shot to send a world already burdened and staggering under a weight of debt which this and succeeding generations cannot shake off, into a mad, ruinous race for armament and still more armament.

These are the two possibilities. There are lesser sidelights such as the bringing together of a limited number of powers if failure overtakes the larger endeavor, the grouping of the Anglo-Saxon nations against the rest of the world, and other line-ups that have been suggested from various quarters.

In a big way, though, two worlds

You'll Be Surprised How Good It Makes You Feel!

alone can describe the Washington conference, success or failure.

Failure can hardly be turned into success by subsequent smaller alliances and secret understandings, which have been the curse of international dealings.

Success will come when confidence is established between nations.

Success will come when as much effort is made by nations to understand each other as has been used in the past to foster misunderstanding.

Success will come when the people of these nations come to realize that they can have peace or they can have war, and that the control of their destinies lies in their own hands.

The disarmament conference is not going to be merely an academic discussion. The world is sick of such. It must not be a place where meaningless rhetoric and display of meaty-mouthed talk shall crowd in and force aside the more serious issues of the gathering.

The people of the civilized world should anticipate results. The motives prompting the gathering, the tremendous issues at stake, and the overpowering need for concerted action to draw the teeth of war are such as to drive the nations of the world to their knees before Almighty God in prayer and supplication that wisdom, toleration and humanity may come in and be accorded their rightful place at the sessions.

The issue is plain and distinct, war or preparation for war or world understanding and world peace.

If the conference ends in failure, then God help the world, for none else can.

Toronto's Show Off.

Toronto has failed to live up to its much-heralded plans for a winter fair and live stock show. Breeders and exhibitors do not appreciate the way the matter has been handled.

The trouble in the first place was that exhibitors with high-class stables and pens were not attracted by the prize list which was aimed at quantity, instead of making the show simply a case of the survival of the fittest.

People can see a collection of cows and sheep at any stock yard, but it is not so many years ago that people came from all sections of the province in order to see one prize animal at Guelph, that came from the McGregor herd in Manitoba.

Russian Trade.

The British Trade Commission to Russia is to be recalled, according to reliable information. The Manchester Guardian believes this is a mistake, basing its view on the amount of merchandise shipped from Britain to Russia. The Guardian says:—

"Whatever view one may take as to its volume, the important point is that the movement of our trade with Soviet Russia has thoroughly justified the policy expressed in the Trade Agreement. For we have exported in July alone more than in the whole of 1920, and we are heading the list of exporting countries, with nearly one-third of the total imports into Russia during the first six months of this year."

Quite so, but back of it all lingers the suspicion that countries trading with Soviet Russia are placing their feet on a bear trap that will be sprung in the future. The gold that Russia pays with is stolen property, and cannot form the basis for clean or decent business in the future.

There is no guarantee that Russia, while pretending to be anxious to re-open trade with Britain, is not planning and scheming how best to extend her treacherous teachings to stab British prestige in India.

The truth of the matter is that Russia, as established today, is not to be trusted, and any relations built up with her are as houses stuck on a sand bank.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest, As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1896.

NOVEMBER 5, 1896.

For the week ending Oct. 31, the C. P. R. receipts increased $32,000.

Mr. John Law, in discussing improvements to Victoria Park, stated that the public could be of considerable assistance to the public works department in keeping the park in good condition. In a conversation with Superintendent Grant, he learned that it was not the old people who annoyed him, but the boys, who persisted in walking on the grass beside the walks, and making fresh paths when there was no necessity for it. Mr. Law appeared to be anxious to assist Mr. Grant in his efforts to retain the beauty of the park.

The board of management of the London Convalescent Home on York Street, near Burwell, held their eighth annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the home parlors. After the devotional exercises, which were led by Dean Innes and Canon Richardson, Mrs. Harriet A. Boomer, the president, gave her report, stating how the home had been blessed with growth and prosperity. She stated that it had been possible to meet all expenses and pay $100 on the purchase of the home. The matron, Miss Elsie Stringer, then gave her report, stating that 22 inmates had been unable to pay anything, and the remainder had only been able to pay a small part. Thanks were extended to the medical faculty of the city for their kind services, especially to Dr. Niven, Meek and English.

In five years the number of water services in London has increased from 5,824 to 7,554. Extra springs have had to be captured.

The Romance of Words.

—By Extorior.

The study of language is a science. Language itself is an art, and while it is the earliest of the arts, it is also the newest of the arts.

It necessarily antedates all history, for it is the instrument of thought, and without the communication of thought between man and man, the formation of even the simplest forms of society would be impossible.

It is the newest of the arts, because we see it daily in the process of development in the mouths of little children, because we see new words admitted into it continually, as well as changes in the construction and pronunciation of old words.

It is a rich, beautiful and exquisite art, capable in the words of a master-spirit of assuming forms that influence the whole history of a race; capable, too, on the lips of eloquent speakers, of infinite charm.

We have every right to regard it as the highest of the arts, for it is without uttering a sound, or in any way putting it into concrete shape.

Yet it can be materialized to accord with the needs of man, and on the results of civilization is that it has been taught to reach other senses than that of hearing—the written word. Thus language reaches us through the medium of both ear and eye, and in the case of the blind, through the sense of touch.

The whole intellectual system of the old Aryan languages, from which sprang the tongues of Europe, was an almost unconscious development, devised slowly, and point by point, to meet immediate needs of man and man; and so, through many forms our language progressed, until the changes made have been so great that to the casual observer there appears no relation between the English tongue and the Sanskrit of India and yet, the root forms are the same. The English of Chaucer is a sealed book to the average reader of today.

There may have been a time when an instinct for poetry was possessed by all nations, as it still is by many uncivilized races. Among European nations (and I include the polyglot races of the American continent) this instinct seems to be dead forever. We can no longer name a mountain nor a flower, Mount Stephen, Mount Perry, and such-like names present but a sorry figure beside the peaks of the Bernese Oberland, the English Lakes or the Highlands of Scotland.

Even in Ireland the Golden Spears (near Dublin) are now known as the Great Dublin and Little Sugarloaf! Occasionally a race which is brought into close contact with nature may have a happy inspiration, such as Drakensburg (Dragon Mountain), and Wassen (Weaving Mountain), and the daughter of Retief's Boers scene of the slaughter of Retief's Boers by the Zulus under Dingaan. But the Cliff of the Falling Flowers, the preening piece over which Korean queens cast themselves to escape dishonor, is an imaginative realm closed to us.

The herald who names a new flower gives the honor to the originator, like Dahl, Fuchs, Lobel, Magnol and Wister, while fresh varieties are named to immortalize a florist and his family.

Names of fruits are even duller than the names of flowers. The only English names are apple and berry. New fruits either retain their foreign names, cherry, peach, pear, quince, or are violently converted into the apple and berry, usually as the typical fruit. Thus the orange in North Germany is called the pomelo, in the Pomerania, from the pomelo (apple), arancia (orange). Melon is Greek for apple, whence comes marmalade, through Portuguese, marmalada, quince jam, a derivative of Greco-Latin melleum, honey-apple. Pine-apple meant "fir-cone" up to the seventeenth century, as a French pomme de pin still does. Pomegranate means "apple with seeds." We also find the lemon (pomotiron), quince and apricot described as apples.

In the next article I propose to explain how the philologist works, and how he takes a word to pieces in order to find the languages from which the parts came.

NOT ON THE CARD.

[Fort Worth Telegram.] They were in a railway train and were discussing Dickens. "Well," said one, "John puts 'Bleak House' first and 'Martin Chuzzlewit' second. 'Excuse me, gentlemen,' said a husky voice from the seat behind, 'I don't know your pal, John, but you're belted! There ain't no such horses runnin'!'"

BEARDS AND MEN

HE early races of mankind were bearded. It would be interesting to examine the portraits of different generations and nationalities and to discover to what extent portraits could be assigned to their proper places in history by the record of the work of the razor.

In Greece shaving the face came in with Alexander. He was a young king, and it became popular to appear young.

Greek sculpture commonly represented beardless men, for the reason that the sculptors largely chose athletes for their models, and these were young men. But when they chose other types, as Homer or Sophocles, they made them bearded—Homer with a long and flowing beard, Sophocles with a beard of moderate length.

In Arabia a man is honored in proportion to the length of his beard. "Tarry at Jericho till your beard is grown," is the word the hostesses who had been sent back with the insult of clipped beards. The beard of Aaron has won renown for thousands of years; it came down to the skirts of his garments.

Then the mustache became our most popular adornment. And now we have fallen upon the day of the safety razor and the beard is in little regard. But it will come to its own. Styles change. The day will arrive when men will be as proud of a good beard as they now are of a smoothly-shaven face, and they will rejoice in their deliverance from the tyranny of the razor.

The day may come when even side whiskers are popular again. But let us hope that that will be after most of us are dead.

How would Michelangelo have gotten on with his statue of Moses if he had been compelled to represent him as bearded?

There is something to be said for the beard.

MRS. COCKSHUTT ENTERTAINED

Wife of Lieutenant-Governor Is Guest of Municipal Chapter At Hunt Club.

Following the reception to Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt and his wife, on Friday, Mrs. Cockshutt was taken to the Hunt Club where she was guest of honor at a luncheon, given by the Municipal Chapter, L.O.E. The guests included the executive of the chapter, the war memorial children's hospital committee and the ladies of the primary chapters of the L.O.E. also of the leading women's organizations in the city.

Mrs. Cockshutt, who wore a navy blue dress with a steel head, a collar of squirrel and a large black hat with wide feathers, charmed all those who had the pleasure of meeting her with her gracious manner.

The tables at which covers were laid for one hundred, were extremely attractive, decked with yellow mums, gay autumn foliage and bright red berries. Those who assisted in serving were Misses Lorraine White, Ruth Robinson, Jessie Gillespie, Margaret McCrimmon and Miss Auden.

Before leaving the Kennels Mrs. Cockshutt was presented with a large bouquet of roses by Mrs. C. I. Campbell, treasurer of the hospital committee, who also received a corsage of roses. Mrs. Cockshutt gave a little in address, thanking the chapter for their hospitality and cordial reception.

Guests at Tea. Following the ceremonies at the Sick Children's Hospital, the Lieutenant-Governor, Mrs. Cockshutt and the staff were the guests of Lieut.-Col. Cartshore and Mrs. Cartshore at the nurses residence, Col. and Mrs. Cartshore were assisted in receiving by Miss Elizabeth Ross, superintendent of the hospital.

A tea-table, which was effectively decorated with mums and large ferns, was presided over by Miss Robertson and Miss Davidson, who were assisted in serving by the head nurses. During the tea hour, Mr. McDonald gave delightful selections on the bakpipies.

WITH BRIDES

MURRAY-SUTHERLAND.

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, Oct. 23, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Sutherland, of the 7th Line of West Zorra, when her niece, Miss Mary Sutherland, daughter of Mr. Alex. Sutherland, was married to Mr. Angus Murray, Rev. J. H. Huxley officiating. The bride looked charming in a navy blue gown with fringe and bead trimmings, and wore the groom's gift, a wrist watch, also a pearl necklace, a gift from her aunt.

Mention Mrs. Edwards As Ontario President

A signal honor is conferred upon the Women's Institutes of Western Ontario in the fact that Mrs. George W. Edwards of Komoka, convenor of the Western Ontario executive, is mentioned for the honor of the presidency of the Ontario Federation to succeed Mrs. William Todd of Orillia, who is retiring, owing to the fact that she is now president of the Dominion Federation. Mrs. Edwards, it is understood, has been approached on the subject and will give her decision when she goes to Toronto for the Ontario convention which opens on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

Need Last Hundred Thousand Before Hospital Can Open

"After the inspiration of the address of his honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, and the fine enthusiasm shown today, we feel we can go forward with renewed energy and strength to the task of completing this hospital," said a prominent member of the executive of the War Memorial Children's Hospital at the close of the unveiling ceremonies on Friday afternoon.

"When do you expect to have it completed?" asked someone who had overheard the remark.

"We could have it done by the end of the year if we only had that last hundred thousand. We will finish the hospital as soon as we get that."

"But, where are you going to get it?" "Providence only knows," and the reply was accompanied by a shrug of the shoulders. But there came an instant change of mood. After what his undertaker in faith, we mustn't start doubting now that we will get all the money that is needed, and get it promptly."

"We are going to carry on in faith until our dreams are realized, and then, I suppose, we shall start dreaming about extensions."

The plan which is being carried out is on a much more ambitious scale than was at first conceived by the committee, beyond the dreams of the convener, Mrs. Arthur H. Smith, who first suggested the idea of the living cenotaph in the form of a children's hospital for London in the summer of 1919.

Build For Future. The first idea was to build on the old plan, but it was found that this would not be satisfactory, and that it would be the better part of wisdom to build for the future.

When completed, it is estimated that the total cost will be $282,000, and of this amount, $180,000 has been guaranteed. Fifty thousand dollars was given by the city, $12,000 from the County of Middlesex, $15,000 from the United Welfare and $20,000 from the provincial government, payable this month. "The rest, states the honorary secretary, Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, represents actual hard work on the part of the L. O. E. Women's Institute branches, the Red Cross, charitable and fraternal societies.

A campaign early in the new year is a plan under consideration to get the "last $100,000" under way. In the years to come, crippled children will have very special reason to bless the inspiration that started the hospital, the faith, patience and perseverance which carried it through.

The building of the memorial gives Ontario its second orthopaedic hospital, and the only one in the province outside of Toronto. From the beginning, the movement was enthusiastically endorsed by the medical profession in London.

One of the very first steps taken by the pioneers was to lay the project before the Academy of Medicine for endorsement.

Friday afternoon, after the proper sealing of the foundation stone by the Lieutenant-Governor, scores of visitors made a tour of inspection of the new building, now very much "in the raw."

The committee members, however, saw it as it is to be, in all the completeness of furnishings and equipment. A large, rectangular space, of which the chief beauty at the time was the number of windows and the view, was pointed out as an ideal ward, with sunroom beyond, to catch the first rays of dawn in the east. Here were three, and no less, so the story was proudly told.

When the last $100,000 is rounded up, the work of blessing the lives of little children will begin through making their twisted limbs straight and strong, saving them of their diseases, and having them for happiness, usefulness and service to the nation, in memory of those who died for them in Flanders fields.

Confessions of a Movie Star

CHAPTER 13.—MOTHER DEAR TO THE RESCUE.

THEN Rose telephoned for a dinner to be sent in from the nearest hotel. To me it seemed a feast, but Rose explained that McMaisters never before had been her guest, and she must do something elaborate.

And wasn't it a pity she couldn't pick up Henry on the line? I agreed that it was, and suggested that she try again. To be frank, I had not heard her make an effort to locate her husband by phone.

A waiter from the hotel came to lay the covers. I was resting in Rose's room at the time. When I returned to her wee bit of drawing-room I had to pass through her wee bit of a dining-room.

The table was set for two. I noticed because I had lingered to look at the exquisite blossoms at each place. Evidently the waiter had been stupid. I felt sorry to have Rose bothered by a miserable detail of housekeeping at the end of a hard day of acting. I did not call her attention to the omission. I spoke to the waiter. The dinner, he said, had been ordered for only two.

Of course I couldn't argue his orders with him, and his assurance made it impossible for me to speak to Rose. She would remedy the mistake in time.

McMaisters came, and looked rather handsome in spite of being too pink as too complexion and too kinky as to hair.

He greeted his hosts as if they had been boy and girl together. He greeted me as if I were a princess and himself an underling. He asked about Henry, and didn't wait to hear Mrs. Henry Larkin's reply. He sat down by my side and picked up Rose's script of his next production, "Love to Toronto for the Ontario convention which opens on Tuesday, Nov. 8."

I had not yet studied my own script.

I felt like a school girl who had neglected to get her lessons. So I told him, and he laughed gayly.

"Twinkle! Twinkle, little star!" he said as smugly as if nobody ever had made that little quotation before. "Oh—you—little—star!" Before I got through with my career, you'll be the Venus of the movie universe."

"You're awfully good, Mr. McMaisters," I murmured. "I'll do my own part—I'll make—"

The sight of Rose in coat and hat made me stop abruptly. "So sorry!" said she. "I'll have to leave you for a few minutes. If the man comes with the dinner, let him serve it. I'll be right back."

She disappeared. I settled back on the divan with a shaky feeling around my heart. I was not at all equal to the fuss of entertaining McMaisters alone, even for a few minutes.

But McMaisters didn't appear to think so. He picked up some dishes of me-made and made flatteringly comments. I waited that Rose would hurry.

The man arrived with the dinner. McMaisters admitted him. I noticed that he slipped the waiter a yellow bill.

"Why—why—such a huge tip?" I asked myself.

The waiter's eyes passed over me slowly, insolently. I continued to grow nervous.

When the door bell rang loudly I rushed to open it—expecting to let Rose in.

I threw the door wide—revealing—my Mother!

And close behind her, as if she had seen her entering the building and had hurried after her, came Rose, a little natural flush showing around the edges of her cheeks.

ACHIEVES OBJECTIVE. The Croyne Memorial bazaar, held this week, was a great success, the proceeds being over $2,000, which was the objective. Besides the large returns which came in from the various booths, thanks are due to Masters Walter Childs and Douglas Kennedy for the great success of the art gallery which they conducted.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS. MR. GORY'S NEIGHBORS [By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"I take the eggs along when I go," said Goby, and then, like grass-blades, for they could lift up the shell just as easy and slip their mouths under, and Mr. Goby knew it. To say nothing of Spike Star-Fish, who could pick up a cockle-shell with his suckers as easily as you could pick up a raisin cookie with your fingers. Yes, poor, dear Mr. Goby decided that he'd stay at home and starve to death before he'd let anything happen to his children. But he was cross just the same about Mrs. Goby's adding.

Nancy and Nick went on to Mr. Pipe-Fish's home, but he was away. They met him, however, hunting for his wife. "I take the eggs along when I go," said he, tapping his pocket. "Then they're safe." The kids looked too thin to move himself around, let alone a batch of eggs. What queer 'uns the Wigs-ifs were! (To be Continued.) (Copyright, 1921.)

New Corsets More Popular Than Ever

BY MARIAN HALE. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Of "corset" is all settled.

Meaning that the question under discussion at the beginning of the season has been decided once and for all. The well-dressed woman refuses to do without corsets and has influenced their design to such an extent that no longer do they offer any excuse for old-time prejudices.

Not only is the new corset more popular than ever, but its low-busted, slender-lined lines have become an aesthetic delight of varied necessity. It is the woman of today who has corsets for all occasions.

There is the all-rubber, flexible short girdle for sports. There is the elastic hip for dancing. Gorgeously and hip for evening wear. Handsome brocades combined with lace and ribbons run from orchid, pink and blue—yes, to black. The black corset, once regarded as suspiciously utilitarian, is now the smart thing with thin black evening gowns. White satin shades attention, with brocade for bridal corsets.

Brassieres are, of course, necessary with these low-busted corsets for women who are not built on ultra-slender lines.

The first time since her marriage, on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at her residence, Centre Court, Alexandra Apartments.

Miss Eleanor Robinson is home from Macdonald Hall, Guelph, and spending the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson, St. James' street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smallman, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Morgan and Mr. Ernest Weld are taking their horses over to show at the Detroit Hunt Club races.

Miss Beryl Jewell, Miss Mabelle Purdom and Miss Shirley Johnston of Branksome Hall, Toronto, are spending the week-end with their parents in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormick left Friday to spend the week-end in Port Dover, and while there will be the guests of Mrs. McCormick's mother, Mrs. Joseph Ivey.

Mrs. C. S. Hyman, "Idlewyde," was the hostess recently of a delightful luncheon. The tables were effectively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, and covers were laid for twelve.

Lieut.-Col. W. A. McCrimmon and Mrs. McCrimmon, accompanied by Col. and Mrs. Murphy, motored to Port Dover this week, and while there were the guests of Col. D. Smith, Rosebank.

Miss Farleigh Hungerford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hungerford, Wellington street, who is attending school in Toronto, arrived home last night to spend the week-end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, 120 Horton street, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Laura, to Mr. Harold M. Stover of Sombra, to be celebrated on Saturday, Nov. 13, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Campbell, 120 Horton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fraalick, Bruce street, announce the engagement of their daughter Vera to Mr. William Henry Corby of Windsor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Corby of Byron. The marriage to take place on Nov. 17.

While in the city this month to address a meeting under the auspices of the Women's Liberal Association, Mrs. Grant Needham of Toronto will be the guest of Mrs. E. E. Reid, Talbot street.

Mrs. Frank Steele has returned to the city after a sojourn of four months in Colorado, U. S. A. Mrs. Steele took part in several mountain-climbing expeditions, but, unfortunately, was seriously injured during the last month of her stay. Her many friends will be glad to know that she is making a quick recovery.

Miss Lorna Rumball, who is attending Whitby Ladies' College, is spending the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Rumball, Dufferin avenue. Miss Rumball brought with her as her guest Miss Marjorie Holmes. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holmes of Toronto are also guests with Mr. and Mrs. Rumball.

Mrs. Charles Keene, who was general convener of the bazaar held this week at the Croyne Memorial Church, was presented on Wednesday evening with a new Canadian Prayer Book, besides a large basket of roses, by the conveners of the various bazaar branches. Rev. G. Q. Warner made the presentation, giving a short address, in which he expressed the thanks of the women for the splendid work Mrs. Keene had done in making the bazaar a success.

Col. W. Hendrie of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Jockey Club, was a distinguished figure on the G. T. R. platform on Friday forenoon, among the many who wished to pay their respects to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Cockshutt, upon their arrival from Toronto. Col. Hendrie was stopping over for a little visit in town with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, "Tudor," on his way to Detroit, where he is to be a judge at the Detroit Hunt Club races. Major Lawless, who represented the military with General U. M. Panet and Lieut.-Col. F. T. Ware, had the interesting experience of shaking hands with one another for the first time since meeting in France.

29 JUNIOR LEAGUE MEETINGS TO ALERT HOCKEY MEETING

ALL ANXIOUS TO GET IN TO TRAINING GRIND

8 TEAMS FOR INDOOR BASEBALL L.C.I.'S LEAVE FIELD

AND WOODSTOCK WINS

Sole Use of Ice At Curling Rink Granted Alerts, According To Letter Read At Meeting—Start Training Early.

Twenty-nine husky aspirants for the ice, the Alert Club Junior O. H. A. team turned out to the get-together meeting in the Alert Club rooms on Friday evening. This is the largest turn-out of juniors in years. The enthusiasm shown by the boys to get into training at once was loudly evident, but no definite action on this was taken. The executive, however, have two training quarters in mind, and it was intimated that the indoor work would commence during the week of Nov. 29.

Early Training. The junior team will be given early ice training, however, as a letter from the chairman of the rink to the committee of the London Curling Club, Limited, was read, advising the club that the committee had granted the sole use of the rink for either junior or intermediate hockey teams on Tuesday and Friday evenings. It is the intention of the junior officials to give the candidates at least six weeks training before the season opens, with about two

The boys at the meeting last night are considered the best junior hockey players in the city. Practically all the Coves Rangers were out as well as a number who played with churches last year. Judging from the meeting the Alert Club will have no trouble in collecting juniors. Several stars in embryo did not turn up, but sent regrets.

Those who turned out last night were: George Smith, Robert Kirkpatrick, Edward Rickman, H. Stewart, T. Westman, L. Wilson, C. Wood, H. Baker, M. Forbes, A. Lewis, H. Adair, B. Hensell, I. Pew, H. Topham, C. Fortner, J. McKay, G. Daidish, Tucker, R. Woodcock, A. Hoffman, E. Ruse, L. Wilcox, W. McGreene, H. Gattick, V. Christy and W. Kenney.

Plestina Threatens' Break In the Wrestlers Combine

Joe Marsh, manager of Martin Plestina, this week called the bluff of the combine who have been threatening to break out his wrestler, and laid the foundation for the early appearance of Plestina in Chicago against the leading heavyweights of the country. The denouement came at a meeting called by the United War Veterans in an effort to iron out the differences between rival wrestling managers, and to insure free competition for all aspiring aspirants to the championship. Marsh made good his previous offer to donate his share of the gate to any worthy cause in a match with the champion, and gained many followers by his frank attitude.

Efforts to pit Stanislaus Zhyzsko against Plestina after the first of the year were met with the statement that Zhyzsko would be an ex-champion by that time if present plans went on, and that in such a case conditions would be altered, and any terms offered for such a match should not differentiate between the two, which was agreed upon by the major. A date early in December is sought for the Zhyzsko-Plestina match on the basis of Zhyzsko still holding the so-called championship at that time.

Jealousy Reason. Jealousy was declared to be the chief reason for the wrangle in the wrestling world by one promoter. "If they should all be in jail, along with their managers, at the wrestling say against one another, they would be all knuckers, and they are all knuckers and jealous. No matter how good they may be, it hurts them, and they get a date and some money. Wrestling is a good game, and the wrestlers are honest as decent as the boxers, but they give themselves

Queens is getting ready for the U.S. hockey tour. Queens has some good material in Boucher this year, formerly of Sudbury, and Adams of Woodstock; there is also a dark horse from Timmins.

Frank Calder, National Hockey League, says that if Canada is to have a "dictator" in professional hockey the coming season, it will not be President Frank Patrick of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association. He picks William Foran of Ottawa for the job.

The signing of "Reg" Noble by the St. Patrick's Hockey Club has resulted in the Ottawa Hockey Club sending out formal contracts to all the members of that year's team with the exception of Sprague Cleghorn. Cleghorn's status has yet to be decided by the National Hockey Association. This player is claimed by Hamilton, and probably go there. The Ottawa Club has several proposed amendments to the constitution of the National Hockey League, which they will present at the annual meeting to be held in Toronto in the near future.

The strength of the Dominion Bank hockey team is an obstacle to the continuance of the Bank League. They had all the stars corralled last year nearly in Conacher, Aggett, Jeffrey, Burch, Reeves, Rutt and Cochrane, and have added Roach, Granites' sensational goal-tender of last year. If the league continues, the Intermediate series will be dropped.

Several senior teams have been hot on the trail of John Ross Roach, goalkeeper extraordinaire. Following the Granite team, and the fans will know next Tuesday what decision Roach will make, as on that night he intends to turn out with either Granites or Aura Lee. He has announced that he will remain with the team that he practices with first. There will be many anxious moments for the officials of both clubs between now and next Tuesday, as Roach is regarded as without a peer among amateur goalers.

If Roach goes to Aura Lee he will have to secure the written consent of the Granite management, but the latter will hardly stand in his way if he desires to sever his connection with the Granite team. Following the Granite team, however, will be dumb-founded if he fails to line up with the Green and White again. Roach broke in with Aura Lee Juniors two years ago, and last year shifted allegiance to Granites, where he immediately sprang into prominence as one of the greatest goalers the O. H. A. ever produced.

BRVES TO CHANGE CAMP.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The Boston Nationals will not return to Galveston, Tex., as training grounds this spring. Manager Fred Mitchell said Friday that he was looking elsewhere for a spring camp. An excess of moisture at Galveston was one of the reasons responsible for the decision to change, he said.

BASKETBALL, HOCKEY NEXT ON PROGRAM

All Leagues Should Be Success With Type of Youth They Are Now Filling Up With.

The Garrison Indoor Baseball League was formed at a meeting last night in the armories, with eight teams entered. The league opens Thursday, Nov. 17. All players must be certified to, as bona fide members of the mill they represent, and this clause should keep down any tendency to "importations." Every unit in the city is represented in the league and it will add considerably to London's winter sport program.

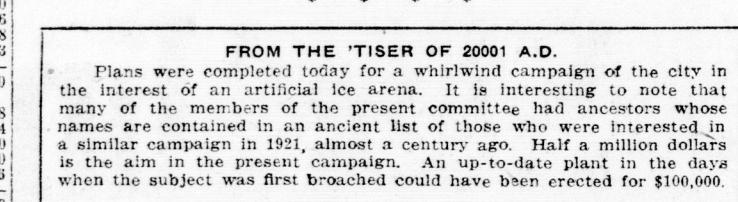

Yale, Harvard and Princeton were the big three in American football for years, and gradually this illusion gave way to the big Conference groups, but in recent years, with the smaller colleges going in for high-priced coaches, the so-called majors of American rugby get bumped frequent and hard. The Big Three refuse to see it, but rugby has reached the stage where Jack is as good as his master. What applies to American rugby is slightly reversed in Canada.

For a long time the outside game was considered too rough for the colleges, and their own set of rules kept them in a sort of an exclusive state. There were three representative teams to battle for Dominion honors, with superiority always to be proven on the field and not on paper or through tradition.

Why foreign fighters don't do well in the United States seems to be a matter of much thought on the part of the Yankee sport scribe. One says they lack the method of fighting and training used on this side, and therefore, though regular scrappers at home, are doughts when they land on this side.

If they look over the names of the fighters that represent either Britain or the United States, a better reason might crop out. There are few Anglo-Saxons in the game, compared to the number of Italians and Jews. There are more honest-to-goodness Britons fighting in Britain, however, than there are in the United States.

It was noticeable that when the British police boxers came over and met the American amateurs, British training didn't make a bad showing.

Plans were completed today for a whirlwind campaign of the city in the interest of an artificial ice arena. It is interesting to note that many of the members of the present committee had ancestors whose names are contained in an ancient list of those who were interested in a similar campaign in 1921, almost a century ago. Half a million dollars is the aim in the present campaign. An up-to-date plan in the days when the subject was first broached could have been erected for $100,000.

A man named Kingston offered President Baker of the Phillies $500,000 for his baseball club. Only slight traces of the fugitive have shown so far.

A howl will likely go up from Woodstock over the action of the L. C. I. in leaving the field to the third party of the game Friday. It's an unfortunate position for both the team and the referee involved in such a predicament. Games really should be played out under protest in such cases.

The boxing game is getting to be as much of a woman's sport as it is a man's. A few years ago, very few, the lady who sat at the ringside was the "par bon, comrade" among the tea-sippers. But today—well the pine boards look like a woman's apron.

A featherweight championship match between Kibane and Frush, a third of the audience was made up of women.

Of some of the new talent in the Printers' League it might be said: They weren't much on bowling, but they knew the ball was round, and that the ten pins set straight up, and you had to knock 'em down.

THE CROWD GRUMBLED. New York, Nov. 4.—Denatured wrestling may have the "kick" put back in by the state commission as a result of its unsatisfactory debut here last night. "Strangler" Lewis, former champion, tonight won a prize fight by a "Bolt" weighing 185 pounds, in straight falls, the first in 6:40, and the second in 4:19. Lewis did not attempt any of the forbidden holds. The crowd was disappointed and filed out of the hall grumbling.

ENGLISH WIN AGAIN. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 4.—The English women's hockey team added another win to their unbroken string of victories in their tour of this country by defeating the Sargent School of Physical Education here today 11 to 1. The Sargent girls crossed the visitors' goal line in their single brilliant dash during the game.

Will Maines Abdicate Shaky M.-O. Throne?

TODAY and tomorrow's confab of the M.-O. at Hamilton will decide whether George Maines is to lead the Mint League again next year. So far there haven't been any signs of the Mint prexy folding up his robes and silently stealing off and probably if the directors are given a private showing of the special films George took at the world's series, they may change their various minds and decide that the M.-O. can't survive without this sort of publicity.

Really more important than this, however, is the salary limit and the reorganization of the league's financial affairs, which will all be put into the grist and unground.

CUT KENTUCKY PURSES.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4.—The Kentucky racing season of 1921, now a matter of history, is understood to have been disappointing, not only to the horsemen, but to the management of the several tracks as well. Business depression was reflected by a growing slump in the gate receipts, as well as a dropping off in the volume of money wagered in the pari-mutuels at some of the tracks.

This slump was borne by the race track owners exclusively, but there are many who profess to believe that a considerable reduction in the value of purses will be made next year. The management of the Kentucky Jockey Club tracks has not yet announced its policy for 1922, but it is by no means safe to predict that the same big stake events with the same amount of added money will be offered the horsemen in Kentucky next year as prevailed during the season of 1921.

PAID $2,000 FINE ESCAPED JAIL TERM

WINDSOR, Nov. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—Two thousand dollars, the maximum fine for violations of the Ontario temperance act, was paid by Fred Predhomme, Sandwich, when Magistrate Gundy convicted him in Windsor police court today on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Several weeks ago Predhomme reported to a police that his home had been robbed of 24 cases of liquor which he had placed in sacks. After an investigation the license department officials decided that the burglary was not bona fide. Predhomme in paying the fine escaped a three months' jail term.

TO BUILD BIG STOCK YARDS.

CHATHAM, Nov. 4.—Big improvements to the extension of Lacroix street from Park avenue west to the sixth concession in Raleigh Township were announced by Mayor Briscoe this afternoon. He stated that the city and county would work together so that the heavy trucks of the Swift Canadian Company could utilize the road in passing to and from the stock yards they are erecting west of the city.

The company recently purchased 112 acres of land from O. J. Faubert for $75,000. The erection of the stock yards, which will cover many acres, will commence within the next few days.

Executive In Pittsburg Mine District Calls Walkout Monday.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—The executive board of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, at a special meeting here today decided to call a strike at midnight Monday, Nov. 7, in the Pittsburg district. This action was taken after President Robert R. Gibbons had been notified by R. W. Gardner, commissioner of the Pittsburg Coal Producers' Association, that the coal operators would no longer continue the "checking off" system.

Referee Wade's Decision Considered Outside Rules On Alleged Offside Play—Score 6-1 At Time For L. C. I.

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 4.—Woodstock Collegiate today won the decision over London Collegiate in a scheduled Oxford-Middlesex Union rugby match at Victoria Park here. The game ended in the third quarter when the London team taking vigorous exception to a ruling by Referee Wade, walked off the field, with the score, 6-1, in their favor. Referee Wade of Woodstock and Mace of London then awarded the game to Woodstock.

THE LOCAL VERSION. Capt. Syme of the L. C. I. gave the following version of the game, which ended in the local colleges leaving the field at Woodstock yesterday: "Lawrence punted from London's 35-yard line and the ball, uncaught, bounded down the field. Hunter, London's flying wing, was following down under the kick, and as soon as a Woodstock player made a grab for the ball, just barely touching it, and dashed for Woodstock's touch line with no opposition in front. The referee's whistle halted him about five yards from the line. Referee Wade ruled that it was an offside play, though the Woodstock player admitted touching the ball. He then penalized the London team 25 yards from where the whistle was made. The play on L. C. I.'s ten-yard line with Woodstock in possession of the ball.

THE OFFSIDE RULES AND THE PENALTY is: "In case of an offence against this rule, the opposite side shall have a scrum 25 yards in advance of the place where offence occurred." The Londoners call attention to the fact that even if there was an offside offence, they should have been taken back 25 yards from where Hunter touched the ball and not 25 yards from where Lawrence made the kick.

Shortly after the game commenced Woodstock got a kick to the dead line for their only point. A little later the Londoners got a try when they grabbed a loose ball and put it over. There was no score in the second quarter, but in the third Referee Wade ruled that a London player was offside, and the Londoners left the field. The play was very even; although the locals were on the short end of the score when the game was called, they had a slight edge of the play.

Following were the line-ups: London Collegiate—Hunter, flying wing; Lawrence, Critch and Arlie, halves; Beard, quarter; Johnson, snap; Wilson and Hill, middles; Williamson and Daley, outsides; Murphy and McCausland, insides; Lawrence, Birrell and Rourke, spares.

Woodstock Collegiate—Hill, flying wing; McMullen, Struder and Roadhouse, halves; Stevenson, quarter; Gibson, snap; King and Appleby, middles; Baker and Gardner, outsides; Voles and Sinclair, insides; Start, spare.

Referee—S. Wade, Woodstock. Judge of play—Mace, London.

Hoppe Ruling As Favorite

Chicago, Nov. 4.—With the 18.2 balkline championship tournament but two weeks away, followers of Willie Hoppe have begun drawing their purses and are laying wagers 10 to 1 that the champion will trim the field. Hoppe, however, is mum on the subject despite the fact that Edouard Foreman, Belgian champion, has flaunted a wager of $1,000 even money, that he will emerge victorious from the title play.

It is eleven years now since anyone but Hoppe has boasted the title of balkline champion. Following his victory over Maurice Vignaux of France sixteen years ago, Hoppe suffered several setbacks, but each time came back again victorious. Finally after getting the 18.2 balkline title from Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia in 1910, he has gone on in steady possession of every championship he has played for.

Despite this wonderful record, following the 1921 season, it is understood to have been disappointing, not only to the horsemen, but to the management of the several tracks as well. Business depression was reflected by a growing slump in the gate receipts, as well as a dropping off in the volume of money wagered in the pari-mutuels at some of the tracks.

This slump was borne by the race track owners exclusively, but there are many who profess to believe that a considerable reduction in the value of purses will be made next year. The management of the Kentucky Jockey Club tracks has not yet announced its policy for 1922, but it is by no means safe to predict that the same big stake events with the same amount of added money will be offered the horsemen in Kentucky next year as prevailed during the season of 1921.

Lady Laurier Will Her Home To Champion of Liberal Ideals.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—In her last will and testament Lady Laurier bequeathed to Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King her residence on Laurier avenue, and the gold casket bestowed on Sir Wilfrid Laurier when the freedom of the City of London was conferred on him at the Guildhall, when as premier of Canada he visited the British capital.

It is understood that this disposition of the property was the express wish of Sir Wilfrid.

had been stabbed to death by a 19-year-old boy. Admiral Baron Kato, the ranking member of the Japanese delegation, and Mr. Hara's most intimate friend, was so affected by the announcement that he burst into tears—something that he had never done before.

President Harding expressed his horror at the outrage. It was an unhappy discordant note, he said in a formal statement, at a time when all were seeking to come together around the conference table and add to the great understanding and goodwill throughout the world.

Dominant Politics. The death of Premier Hara, who had attained a dominating political influence in the Japanese Empire, and who was expected personally to shape the coming conference, is a very serious loss to Japan at a time when that country is passing through a period of intense transition.

The emperor, Yoshihito, is incurably ill, mentally and physically, and is no longer able to carry on his duties. Premier Hara was looked upon by the Japanese as a popular leader as a rather critical time in their history, and it was a common saying at Tokyo that it was his decision alone that always obtained.

Sennohuke Yokota, chief of the legislative bureau of the Japanese Government, and a personal representative of Premier Hara at the conference, decided to return to Japan immediately.

Before the Japanese delegation left Japan threatening letters were received by its members, including Prince Tokugawa, to whom were forwarded suggestive and sinister drawings of the assassination of the minister Mori in 1889 and the recent murder of Yasuda, a millionaire banker.

Later he was promoted from fireman to locomotive engineer, and held all the prominent offices in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. After retiring from municipal activities he was appointed legislative representative of the B. of L. E. at Ottawa. The only son of Mr. Lawrence, Lieut. CHARTER NEW KIWANIS CLUB

London Kiwanians Among 300 At Guelph Inaugural Banquet.

[Special to The Advertiser.] GUELPH, Nov. 4.—The Kiwanis Club of Guelph received its charter tonight at an inaugural "charter night" banquet, attended by 300 or more members of Kiwanis, representing, in addition to the newly-organized local club, members of Montreal, Toronto, West Toronto, Hamilton, Galt, Kitchener, Ingersoll and London clubs.

The charter was presented by J. B. Hay of the London club, district governor for Ontario and Quebec, to J. M. Kearns, the first president of the Guelph Kiwanis Club.

Vern Buchanan of Ingersoll outlined what "Kiwanis" means, and J. B. Hay in his address set forth the principles and ideals of the Kiwanis movement.

Blake Halliday, president of the West Toronto Kiwanis Club, urged that all the Kiwanis clubs in the district co-operate closely and earnestly to make it their business to promote a better understanding between the British Empire and the United States, and especially between Ontario and Quebec.

The people of Quebec, said Mr. Halliday, were exerting the finest steady influence in Canada today. They had no labor trouble, no bolshevism—in a word, were hard-working, honest, devoted, home-loving people.

W. E. Buckingham, president of the Guelph Rotary Club, assured the members of the new Kiwanis Club of Guelph that they would have the whole-hearted support, warmest co-operation and best wishes of the Rotary club in promoting good feeling and earnest co-operation between the towns and cities of Western Ontario for the building of better citizenship.

POTATO CROP MUCH BETTER THAN EXPECTED

Farmers Buy Cattle For Feeding at 5c a Pound.

BLENNHEIM, Nov. 4.—The potato crop in this district seems now that it is being marketed to be much better than was anticipated some time ago. Potatoes have been delivered in town at from $1.50 to $2 per bag, the higher price having been paid for choice potatoes for seed for next year. Some potatoes of excellent quality are being shipped in also from Northern Ontario, and are being offered as special at $1.50 per bag.

Some of the growers on the reclaimed marsh lands in what is known as the Burk Drainage Pumping scheme, south of town, on the shore of Lake Erie, have excellent yields and of splendid quality this fall. A large quantity of these have been brought to town and have commanded a good price. All potatoes, especially the late species, are of as good a quality as have been grown for several years.

A shipment of hogs was made from this point today. The price paid to the farmers was around $8 per hundred. The cattle market is very quiet. Feeders are purchasing for winter feeding good cattle at a price around 5 cents per pound. Some of these cattle could have been sold last spring at 7 cents or 8 cents per pound.

A very impressive service was held in Trinity Church last Sunday morning when a double stained glass window was unveiled by the rector, Rev. J. Carlton McCracken, in loving remembrance of the late John K. Morris and his wife, Sarah Morris. The window was furnished by the surviving family of these much esteemed citizens of the town. Mr. Morris was postmaster for many years here. In fact when he resigned the position it is said he was the oldest postmaster in the service of the postoffice department in Ontario.

THOUGHT SHE HAD SWALLOWED TEETH

TARA, Nov. 4.—With the impression that she had swallowed her false teeth, Mrs. Schremley, a resident of Tara, was rushed to the hospital, but after a thorough examination with the X-ray the doctors could find no trace of the teeth. Mrs. Schremley claims that when she lay down to have a nap after the noon hour the teeth were in her mouth, but when she awakened they were missing, and she at once concluded that she had swallowed them. However, as no trace of the teeth could be found in her system and Mrs. Schremley suffered no ill effects, the supposition that she swallowed the teeth is apparently a mistake. Up to the present no trace of the missing teeth has been found.

Embryo

EMBRO, Nov. 4.—The Y. P. S. of the Congregational Church met Monday night to reorganize and to hold a Halloween party. George Flack, president, and the following officers were elected: President, Miss May Colby; vice-president, Miss Helen Riser; secretary-treasurer, Burns Campbell; pianist, Mrs. R. J. Mooney; assistant pianist, Miss Winnifred Flack. During the evening Halloween games were played, and lunch was served.

The Busy Bees met in Knox Church on Sunday afternoon. The time was spent in practicing and making preparations for their thanksgiving meeting, which was to have been held on Friday night, but which has been postponed.

The thanksgiving collection at the Holiday Missionary Auxiliary meeting amounted to $43.73.

Rev. Mr. Veal of Dorchester is to conduct the anniversary services at the Methodist Church on Sunday. The Beachville choir will supply the music for the evening service.

The C. G. I. T. Club held a successful Halloween social in Knox Church on Monday night, many being in Halloween costume. The prize winners were: First prize for seniors, Mrs. Wm. Dawes; first prize for juniors, Miss Anna Findley. The program was put on by the Trail Rangers and C. G. I. T. Club, which was very good. During the evening some time was spent in community singing, and lunch was served. The proceeds amounted to $23.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Murray celebrated the 59th anniversary of their wedding on Monday, Oct. 31. During the day a great many relatives and friends called to offer their congratulations.

Meighen Issues Thanksgiving Message To Canadian People

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister of Canada, gave out the following Thanksgiving Day message here today:

"Thanksgiving Day has now been fixed so that it falls in the week in which the anniversary of the armistice occurs. This gives us opportunity to acknowledge our manifold blessings and will recall the cessation of the great struggle and our obligation to those who strove to secure the blessings of peace. To the conference at Washington our minds at this time will turn with thankfulness that the nations are to meet in a spirit of concord, to seek the removal of causes and means of dispute and conflict."

Canadian Business Outlook Optimistic For Coming Year

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—Confidence in general business conditions throughout Canada is shown in the weekly report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, issued today. From Montreal and Quebec advices show that wholesalers and business "still improving." Manufacturers are also stimulated by the demand from Canadian wholesalers, but find export demand almost nil.

Toronto and Ontario reports state that as a rule manufacturers find the revival in trade sustained with a good outlook for the early part of 1922. In several lines wholesalers report volume larger than last year, but, of course, with prices lower.

The improvement is also noticeable in retail circles. Collections are "fair." Winnipeg wholesalers are, as a rule, busier than a month ago, when inquiries showed a distinct revival in many lines, such as drygoods, ladies' wear, boots and shoes, furniture and musical instruments. Retail circles report business showing improvement.

ARE STILL PICKING RIPE STRAWBERRIES

Second Crops of Vegetables Growing in Ruthven Districts.

RUTHVEN, Nov. 4.—As one of several reasons that the fall of 1921 will be long remembered, the fact that in many gardens in this district are showing flowers in full bloom, while in many vegetable gardens the plants are producing vegetables equal in flavor and quality to those grown during the summer.

Several growers report that they are still picking this luscious fruit and that the vines are still loaded with green berries.

Seeds from early wax beans, which ripened in July and fell from the pods, are reported to have taken root and produced a second crop. Some of this second crop have been used by the owners and are said to have been fully equal to the first crop.

The PLAYHOUSE and the MOVIE THEATRE

EDITED BY HELEN McMILLAN.

"Under the Lash" Is Gloria Swanson's Worst Picture

BY CASR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Gloria Swanson told me several months ago that she liked "Under the Lash" better than any picture in which she had appeared.

When I asked her why she liked it best she replied that it gave her the opportunity to do serious acting, "something heavy."

I went to see "Under the Lash" the other night. I think it is by far the worst picture in which Miss Swanson has appeared. To me, it was the worst because she was trying to play a heavy part and was almost completely incapable of playing it.

The charm of most of Gloria's pictures has been of a personal nature. She possesses a certain pliancy, a loveliness of face and figure rarely combined in one woman.

These attributes were displayed to advantage in "Male and Female" and "Something to Think About." Her work in those two pictures elevated her to stardom.

Having been made a star she is committing the folly of others who have preceded her in the film firmament—she renounces the very sort of characterization which lifted her to stardom.

The ambition to advance in any art is a worthy one, but advance is not made along strange roads without guide posts. If Gloria Swanson had the talent to enact the part assigned her in "Under the Lash" she was not properly directed in the use of that talent. "Under the Lash" is the film title of "The Shulamite," the story of a beautiful young woman married to an old miser who believes it is sinful for a woman to possess knowledge gained of books. He also believes a wife should be beaten when she meets her husband's disfavor.

Gloria enacts the role of the submissive wife. Her glorious femininity is swathed in severe clothing. The married is combed from her hair. What she doesn't fit the role and she enacts it none too well.

Gloria Swanson lacks the maturity essential to a heavy part.

RELATIVITY.

[Canadian Churchman.] The talk had turned on the subject of the arrival in England of Professor Einstein.

"What's all this 'ere talk 'n' started about relativity?" said an old man. "I'm thinking," answered his companion, "Not so very new, either," said a listener. "I've suffered from it, I reckon, ever since me mother-in-law has been me mother-in-law."

ALLEN WILL SHOW "GOD'S CRUCIBLE"

"God's Crucible," an adaptation from the great Canadian author's (Ralph Connor) famous story, "The Foreigner," a Canadian drama, taken in the Canadian West with a superb cast featuring the celebrated actor, Wilton Lackaye, will be the attraction at the Allen on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Nearly all lovers of good books have read "The Foreigner," and the pictureization of this famous drama brings the characters to real life.

The story deals with Michael Kaimar, who is jailed in Russia for political reasons, and his children, Ivan and Irma, are forced to flee to Winnipeg. Here they meet Makaroff, who hates their father. Ivan attracts the attention of Sir Robert Menzies' daughter, Marjorie, and incurs the enmity of Mortimer Stanton, district attorney of Winnipeg, who is in love with Miss Menzies. Stanton insults Ivan and makes him feel that he is "a foreigner." At a gathering at the house of Makaroff, Irma is insulted. A fight follows, the lights go out, and the insult is slain. Ivan is accused of the murder and put on trial. Michael Kaimar, who has arrived in Winnipeg, announces that he has killed his daughter insulter. Ivan is released and his father is sent to prison. Young Kaimar becomes the foreman of a coal mine owned by Jack French. An attempt is made by Makaroff to steal the mine. From then on many complications are interwoven with a charming love story, which ranks this story above any of Ralph Connor's previous efforts.

Constance Talmadge's Latest.

That happy combination of varied and elusive elements necessary to comprise a completely entertaining as well as interesting and amusing photoplay is declared to have been found in "Wedding Bells." Constance Talmadge's newest comedy, which will be the feature attraction at the Allen on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. So busy Field, as author of the successful stage play from which the film version was adapted, is undoubtedly entitled to credit for the basic structure upon which the picture was founded. Let Constance Talmadge, as the winsome Rosalie Wayne, be never more charming than in her role in this production. Juvenile Star Coming.

Grand Presents "The Title" As Thanksgiving Day Attraction

Arnold Bennett's Satirical Comedy Comes To London Before It Is Shown On Broadway — Lumsden Hare Will Take Leading Role in Play — Newest De Courville Revue, "Hullo Canada" Billed For Tuesday and Wednesday Next.

Grand Opera House patrons will have an opportunity on Monday, Thanksgiving Day, of witnessing a high-class English attraction before New York sees it.

"The Title," Arnold Bennett's satirical comedy of the British honor system, has been engaged for a season at the Belmont Theatre, New York. By a fortunate combination of circumstances it was possible for Trans-Canada Theatres to secure this attraction for a brief Canadian tour before the New York opening.

"The Title" has already appeared in Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa, and has been a success in those cities as well as in pronouncing it the cleverest English comedy which has visited Canada this season. Heading the producing company is Lumsden Hare, a distinguished actor, who produced the original play in the Royalty Theatre in London, and who will continue in his original role. Supporting him is Selene Johnson, one of the most talented of the younger London leading women. The company includes other London favorites, and the whole production is pronounced one of the most artistic now before the public. The local engagement is limited to matinee and evening performances only.

"HULLO, CANADA!"

Few Canadians, unless they have visited London, England, and seen one of the famous De Courville revues, have any conception of the magnitude of "Hullo, Canada," the newest De Courville production, which was prepared especially for an all-Canadian tour. "Hullo, Canada" includes the best features of the several De Courville productions, which have become such an outstanding feature of the London (England) theatrical season.

Starring are Harry Tate, the foremost English comedian, and beautiful Shirley Kellogg, both known and admired by every Canadian soldier who witnessed the De Courville productions. Tate as a comedian ranks by himself in the English theatrical world, while Shirley Kellogg is equally famous through her long association with the De Courville productions. The company, which will appear at the Grand on Tuesday and

"Mid Channel" At Loew's Monday

Stars Clara Kimball Young in an Interesting Story of Married Life.

Clara Kimball Young's achievement in her latest vehicle, "Mid-Channel," which will be shown at Loew's next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, reveals new wonders in the versatility of her interpretation. Unlike so many photoplays that are "all icing and no cake," "Mid-Channel" offers a substantial feast of human interest. It mirrors the life of every married couple in dramatic fashion and throws new light on the most burning problem of personal life. It can be said without exaggeration that to witness this photoplay is an experience that will never be forgotten.

In addition to this wonderful picture, the program will include a Larry Seamon Comedy, "The Bakery," Loew's Screen Picture, supreme vaudeville including Mr. Wm. McElbourne, a former London boy who is playing the role of the "Devil" in his mythical, musical satire entitled "Fascination." His many friends will indeed be glad to welcome him home again. Also Loew's big pipe organ and classic orchestra.

"AT THE END OF THE WORLD." Milton Sills plays the part Gordon Deane, a novelist, in "At the End of the World," the Paramount picture starring Betty Compson, which comes to the Loew Theatre next Thursday.

The story concerns the beautiful daughter of an Englishman who keeps a gambling hall and cafe in Shanghai, China. The father is killed in a gambling row and the girl, although in love with Gordon Deane, marries William Blaine, a Shanghai banker, thinking Deane has gone away never to return. As the story progresses, the destinies of the two other men, Donald MacGregor, a deeply religious seafaring man who believes that Cherry loves him, and Harvey Allen, a weakling who commits a forgery in order to shower her with gifts, are interwoven with her own. The climax takes place on a far-away lighthouse island where fate has brought the three men and the girl together.

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS."

An announcement of particular interest to motion picture patrons concerns the engagement of the great Douglas Fairbanks picture "The Three Musketeers." This picture is now playing on Broadway, and setting new attendance records every week of its stay. It is by all odds the greatest picture in which Douglas Fairbanks ever appeared, and presents the favorite screen star in the role of Dumas's fascinating hero, d'Artagnan. The spectacular scenes are said to be among the biggest ever staged, and the whole production ranks with "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" as the greatest picture production of the year. "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks

SHEILA COURTENAY, well known in British theatrical circles, will take a leading part in "The Title," clever comedy, to be presented at the Grand on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and evening. Lumsden Hare, the noted English actor, plays the leading role.

Prodigality of mounting and costuming, which characterizes all the De Courville productions. In Montreal and Toronto it has been pronounced superior to "The Passing Show," and it is interesting to note that at the close of its Canadian engagement it goes to New York as a competing attraction against the Hippodrome and Winter Garden productions.

"WAY DOWN EAST" RETURNING. There has been such a demand for a repeat production of "Way Down East," the D. W. Griffith picture production which scored such a success when seen here last season, that it has been booked at the Grand for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, with matinee and evening performances daily. The picture, which is precisely the same as delighted thousands on its last appearance here, is said to represent the art of Griffith at its very best. It is replete with thrilling scenes, and

BULLETIN.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—Congress will be asked for $10,000,000 for the enforcement of prohibition during the next fiscal year, an increase of $2,500,000 over the appropriation for the current year. Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, in making the announcement today, said the increase would be sought to enable a more complete and efficient enforcement of the prohibition laws through enlarged forces and facilities.

(Copyright, 1921.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Use of rubber stamp signatures on permits for withdrawal of liquor from warehouses has been found responsible for flooding the United States with millions of gallons of liquor.

Abuse of the permit system last year released 12,000,000 gallons more liquor and alcohol than in the wet year, 1918-1919.

Amazing ramifications of the warehouse permit evil have been uncovered in the national investigation of the breakdown of prohibition enforcement.

Rubber stamp signatures were in use in New York and elsewhere—even in Washington. Judge Harold C. Hart, recently assigned as state prohibition director in New York, said its use was "authorized in Washington."

Counterfeiting of permits became children's play under the rubber stamp signature. Only an initial, written by pen, was necessary to make a rubber stamp permit good.

Millions of gallons of liquor have been withdrawn from bonded warehouses by this method. At intervals prohibition authorities have banned all withdrawals—as occurred recently in Pennsylvania—in an effort to dam the flood. But the dam has never held.

A Pittsburgh businessman was offered

$2 per case to use influence to get a permit for 20,000 cases.

Major Samuel Wolf, just resigned as assistant state director in Pennsylvania, said one of his clerks was approached by a bootlegger who for some strange reason wanted to buy office letterheads and envelopes. He said he didn't need permits—he had counterfeited plenty of them.

Whiskey labels and revenue stamps also are counterfeited by the whole-sale by clever counterfeiters, who find this game more profitable and not so risky as the counterfeiting of currency.

Fake Drug Stores Arise.

Bootleggers who deal in liquor withdrawn from warehouses on bogus permits, or permits obtained through graft or political influence, or who sell liquor smuggled into the country from the Bahamas Islands frequently inform the authorities of the activities of those who forge revenue stamps and labels. These are always used for "doctored" booze.

The "high grade" bootlegger doesn't like to see his customers killed off by such deadly concoctions.

Fake drug stores, wholesale and retail, there were 29,961,895 gallons of whiskey in warehouses. Based on the rate of withdrawal this is a five-years' supply.

Alcohol in warehouses totalled 8,208,248 gallons, gin 870,760, brandy, 641,558, rum 414,671, cologne spirits 264,920.

Thefts from warehouses have reached a tremendous total during the year. Also thefts from warehouses holding liquor seized in raids.

WOMEN VOTERS LEARN WHAT TARIFF MEANS

Liberal Leader Explains Political Issues in Terms of Home.

ECONOMICS SIMPLIFIED

King Shows How Cost of Government Affects Fireside of Canada.

BY HELEN McMILLAN.

The women of London are no longer "outsiders" in the political field.

Last night's Liberal gathering in the Winter Gardens found them so strongly represented that they can never again be charged with lack of interest in the country's coming election.

It was with a thrill of pride in my sisters of the recently-acquired vote that I found them congregated last night, up to five or six hundred in numbers, to hear what the Hon. Wm. Lloyd Mackenzie King, Liberal leader of the Dominion, and his followers had to say upon the questions of vital interest to the whole country.

It was with a still further feeling of pride that I saw them enter so heartily into the spirit of the gathering and demonstrate their approval of the real issues of the day by overcoming their restrained femininity and cheering with the men.

I noted their intense interest in every matter which closely touched the home and sensed their enthusiastic applause of statements which presaged a better and a more liberal administration of the country's affairs after Dec. 6.

Listen Attentively.

They listened attentively to the explanations of the tariff and railway problems, but there was a vagueness in their faces betokening that they did not quite understand. It was as if they reiterated the question of the woman who once said to Mr. King:

"When you talk about the tariff and the railway situation, how can we be expected to understand?"

And the Liberal leader didn't expect them to understand.

He brought the political situation to them in a way which they could appreciate by associating it with their homes.

"The high cost of government affects the high cost of living," he declared. "And after all, to my mind, the high cost of living is the most important question of the day."

Taxation Affects Home.

Of course they became interested in hearing of a heavy taxation which ultimately draws upon the resources of the home, whether it be applied through the tariff, through taxation of the capitalist or through direct taxation of the home builders themselves.

And they demonstrated their enthusiasm in this phase of the political subject by enthusiastic and energetic applause.

The principal speaker's humorous remark:

"No wonder ladies' dresses are so short: when the cost of living is so high was a serious statement for many a mother with children outgrowing their frocks each year."

Every one of the speakers last night recognized the importance of the new voting body, so largely represented, and made a direct appeal to the women.

Often the appeal was veiled in humorous garb, the Hon. C. H. Hyman declaring: "The women have always been so far above us, that we are now glad they are at last on equality with us."

But always the heart of the appeal was made in all seriousness, as to an important voting class.

Strong Spirit of Fight.

The woman entering for the first time into a study of the political situation could not help but notice the strong spirit of fight in the men who are upholding the Liberal standards of the country, as demonstrated in their political speeches of last night, and I wondered how soon women would absorb the same fighting spirit in the cause of their country.

"Winnipeg Kiddies" At Grand Prove Versatile Entertainers

From the time that the first number of a long program, a colorful picture of Fairyland in wintertime, opens in a whirl of blue and white and to the music of dancing sleighbells, the revue presented by the Winnipeg Kiddies, at the Grand Theatre for the rest of this week, is a continuous and decidedly entertaining round of music, litting song, dancing, burlesque and comedy.

It is a show that would be clever even if it had been presented by actors more mature in years, but the fact that every members of the troupe of twelve has yet to see a fourteenth summer, the performance is really little short of marvelous.

There is such a diversity of entertainment crowded into the two score numbers of the program that not a dull moment is experienced in the whole evening. The little actors prove as versatile as their program is diversified, for now they appear in numbers calling for serious interpretations and perhaps for the very next appearance each and every one plays equally well in burlesque. Each contribution to the program was greeted by generous applause from a fair-sized audience, while on several occasions the auditors begged for encore after encore.

The singing as a whole was excellent, the dancing, especially of three or four of the misses, was well done, and the comedy was wholesome throughout, when a bit of the risqué was introduced in a song by Dorothy Mackay.

Miss Mackay was the little leading lady. She is not very large, but she has a pleasing personality. There seemed nothing that she could not do, for she sang, too-danced and contributed considerable comedy.

Of the boys, honors must go to Jackie Finesilver. He is a born comedian and attempts little else. He left the audience wishing for more of him. Then, while each and every member of the cast really deserves mention, space will only permit the names of the Holmes Twins, singers and musicians; Edna Patrick, Irene Jones and Vera Montgomery, to appear as those who deserve special honors.

The costumes throughout were dainty and fresh.

AT ALLEN'S.

At the Allen Theatre the latter part of this week there is a film being shown that is out of the ordinary, not that it is a super-feature, but just that it is different.

It has many of the plot ideas of Jules Verne's "Two Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and is entitled "Wet Gold."

Of course, there's a love tale included. Nothing on land or sea has been so interesting as the tale of an honest man; who is captured by a pirate band, escapes and is recaptured. After many submarine adventures, the crew of the undersea boat is killed by a gas leak in the boat. However, the hero is saved, and gets a chart to the hidden treasure. He lands on a desert island, and, of course, meets the father of the heroine. They plan to get the treasure together. The villain overhears them planning, and he takes a hand in the plot development. Until the last reel he gets in his work, and then comes the usual photoplay finale.

It's a treat for fans who like to see thrills, but it can not be said to be among the first rank of productions.

Other attractions include one of James Oliver Curwood's short features, "The Northern Trail"; a Christie comedy, "Scrappily Married," and an Allen News Travelogue.

ONE SUGGESTION.

[Toronto Saturday Night.]

He was a professional conjurer. "Now, ladies and gentlemen," he said, with a wave of the hand, "this is the magic cabinet. I invite any lady in the audience to enter this cabinet. I will then close the door, and when it shall be opened again the lady will have disappeared, leaving no trace."

There was an impressive silence until a little under-sized man in the second row turned to an enormous woman who sat by him and breathed eagerly: "Marie, dear, won't you oblige the gentleman?"—Toronto Saturday Night.

The Foundation of Health is Habit

"For every man who has lost his life by what he did in the last five minutes a hundred men have died because of what they had been doing in the last five years."

Life is made up of habits. There is the health habit. And also the habit of ill-health. It is surprising what a lot of people have developed the latter.

What hosts of women have bilious spells and bilious headaches about every so often, year in and year out, and never think of correcting the action of the liver, and thereby removing the cause of this oft-recurring trouble.

They have formed the habit of being bilious.

Many are the men, indoor workers as well as those who spend their time in the open, who frequently suffer from backache, and yet neglect to get the kidneys in healthful condition.

It is the backache habit which is robbing life of its pleasures for them.

These are dangerous habits.

Some people live for many years with their systems poisoned by impurities—they live and suffer.

Others soon develop Bright's disease, diabetes, high blood pressure or hardening of the arteries, and quickly have their lives snuffed out.

The greatest rule of health is "daily movement of the bowels."

This is also the most valuable of health habits.

To get back to this rule, to awaken the sluggish action of the liver and kidneys, to cleanse the system and purify the blood, there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

By using one pill a dose at bedtime two or three times a week, just as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular, you will in a few weeks restore the healthful action of these filtering and excretory organs and correct any derangements of the digestive system.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you as nothing else can to get back to the habit of healthful living.

You will live a longer and a happier life by reason of their use

These letters will interest you, and a test of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will prove their exceptional merits in relieving the common, every-day ills and preventing the more serious ones. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Kidney Trouble

Mr. George Stevenson, Rounthwaite, Man., writes:

"For seven months I suffered from Kidney trouble, backache and dizzy turns, and could get no relief. My back ached so severely that I could not turn in bed, and finally I had to quit work. One day I received a copy of Dr. Chase's Almanac through the mail, and after reading how highly Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended, I gave them a trial. I had tried various other pills and remedies with no effect whatever, but immediately I started using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I got relief, and two boxes made me well."

Bilious Headache

Mrs. John Ireland, R. R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headache and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me, and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

Rheumatism

Mr. George Weathers, Huntsville, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with rheumatism for eighteen years, and although I tried a number of different treatments nothing did me any good. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and can truthfully say they completely relieved me."

WEAK HEARTNERVES BADLY SHATTERED

Many a woman who should be strong and healthy, full of life and energy, is bound by the shackles of ill-health. Some disease or constitutional disturbance has left its mark in the form of a weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and an exhausted condition of the whole system.

In MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS they will find a remedy that will supply food for the exhausted nerves, one that will strengthen and regulate the weak heart and invigorate the whole system. Mrs. W. W. Pearce, 14 Seaton street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was left with a weak heart and in a run-down condition from the flu. My nerves were badly shattered, and I had such pains around my heart I could not sleep much at night. I took several doctors' medicines without getting any better. My husband got me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking six boxes I got relief, and after taking six boxes I have been well and not bothered since."

Maines Sas PresidentHeard Was Notified*of Meeting

By GEORGE MAINES.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The report from London that Mr. Heard, of the London Club, was not notified of a meeting at Hamilton for Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6, is untrue. President Heard and the London club received exactly the same notice as the other members of the league received, and I have taken the trouble to find out that he personally received this notice.

The idea in calling a meeting for the two days was to give those members who desired an opportunity to informally discuss important matters on Saturday if they wished with the regular directors meeting Sunday. No M.O. League official would ever think of trying to hold any kind of a league meeting without proper and due notice to every club; it never has been done, and never will be done, as long as the present officials are in office.

NEW ZEALAND FINANCES SOUND.

London, Nov. 5.—A Reuter cable from Wellington says that the financial statement made to the New Zealand Parliament by Premier W. F. Massey shows the country is in a sound financial position.

MANY LAKE SHIPS CAUGHT IN STORMConsiderable Damage Is Done by Gale That Sweeps Wide Area.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—There is some anxiety here concerning the safety of lake vessels afloat last night during the gale that raked over Lake Ontario and other parts of the Great Lakes. There are no definite reports of vessels in trouble, but it is known that several were in the track of the storm.

In and about Toronto considerable damage was caused by falling signs, trees, etc. About two inches of snow greeted the early riser here, but the white blanket soon disappeared.

Telegraph companies were especially hampered by the gale last night and this morning. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National telegraphs, and the Bell Telephone Company all have a large number of poles down near Montreal. Gangs of men are working in an endeavor to restore early communication with all points.

Ottawa ExperiencesIts First Blizzard

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Blizzards weather descended on Ottawa last evening, delaying trains, affecting long distance communication, and causing minor accidents in the city streets. Starting with a few flurries of snow in the late afternoon, the storm assumed the proportions of a blizzard by 8 o'clock, and kept up steadily all night, covering the ground with more than an inch of snow. Weather forecasts give little hope of the snow melting away, as it is predicted that strong northwestern cold winds will follow.

Reports from Montreal this morning indicate that transportation facilities are severely hampered by the storm.

Vessels At KingstonRemain in Shelter

Kingston, Nov. 5.—A strong wind prevailed here last night, but no damage has been reported. The vessels in port took no chances and did not get out until the high seas had somewhat abated this morning. There was a flurry of snow during the evening.

CHARLES WILL NOT BE INTERNED AT GALATZ

Bucharest, Nov. 5.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria and his wife apparently are not to be interned at Galatz, on the Danube, northeast of this city. It was indicated by plans made public here yesterday. The former emperor and empress left Orsova, a town on the Danube, near the Rumanian frontier, yesterday morning, being placed on board a special train, which did not pass through Bucharest. They were due in Galatz last evening.

It was reported here during the day that the couple would embark at once on the British light cruiser, Carfax, which would be under the command of a British vice-admiral. It appeared to be the intention to have the cruiser sail at once, as it was said she would be conveyed by four Rumanian launches.

SINN FEIN ATTACK BRITISH GARRISON

and Sir Edward Carson, former Ulster leader in the House of Commons, but this was denied by the Ulster premier upon his arrival.

There is no question of a consultation between the Sinn Fein delegates and Sir James over the week-end. With the exception of Arthur Griffith, the delegates left for Ireland last night. Mr. Griffith might go today, it was said this forenoon.

It is stated that the trip of the delegates to Ireland is without significance, and that they will return to London Monday.

Developments in the negotiations toward an Irish settlement are now understood to hinge on the conference which Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, will have with the Sinn Fein delegates on Monday. A special meeting was held by the Ulster cabinet in Belfast Friday prior to the departure of Sir James for London. He will spend the week-end with his son at Eton, meeting the prime minister, it is expected, on Monday.

Promised Solution. At Sinn Fein headquarters today it was said that the British representatives and the Sinn Feiners had reached a measure of accord that promised a solution of all issues and that Ulster now was as great a stumbling block in the path of the negotiations from the Government's point of view as that of the Sinn Fein.

Desmond Fitzgerald, of the Sinn Fein party, in a statement this afternoon definitely denied a number of reports published in London newspapers relative to points on which an agreement was said to have been reached by the conference.

He declared untrue rumors that the Sinn Feiners had accepted the principle of dominion status and British control of Irish ports and had agreed to contribute from the Irish treasury to the imperial treasury.

He refused to disclose any points which have been agreed upon thus far, but it is said in other Irish quarters that the determination of the Sinn Feiners not to accept the principle of allegiance to the British crown remains unshaken.

An "Associate Nation."

It is intimated in these quarters that a formula has been agreed upon, bridging the difficulty whereby Ireland would not be designated as a British dominion, but as an "associate nation." It is further stated that a solution of the Ulster problem must come, if it comes at all, through Ulster's recognition of the principle of unity in Ireland.

Two weeks from the present is the date now considered possible for Prime Minister David Lloyd George to go to Washington for the armaments conference, according to his secretary.

"Our bags are not packed in anticipation of momentary departure," the secretary stated this afternoon, "but almost every other preparation except the actual packing of baggage has been made and should the present obstacles be cleared the prime minister will make quick work of his leave-taking."

It developed today that the report made public yesterday from Belfast to the effect that all the Sinn Fein prisoners in the Ballykinlar internment camp near that city, numbering about 1,700, had been released was erroneous. The giving out of the report, it seems, was based on the release of a number of prisoners from this camp, owing to congestion there, but no general freeing of the interned men occurred.

WILL PROVIDE WORK IF COMPETITION REMOVED

London, Nov. 5.—Canadian Press Cable.—Six million pounds to be spent mostly in the direction which would find work for 20,000 of London's unemployed, is the inducement which Lord Albert Henry Stanley Ashfield, head of London's great underground railway omnibus combine, holds out to the Government if it will reciprocate by granting the combine certain safeguards against competition. The Government's answer is being awaited with keen interest.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Cargill, Nov. 4.—Melvin Sweiger, an Elderslie Township lad, while on his way home from Cantire school on Thursday, had a narrow escape from death, when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by a resident of Paisley. Fortunately the wheels did not pass over his body, and he escaped with only a few bruises and a bad scare. Young Sweiger, along with two other boys, was walking along and did not hear the approaching car until the horn was blown, and in his excitement he ran directly in front of the car.

CUT OUT COUPON BELOW--- WORTH FIFTY CENTS TO YOU

Good, at Local Druggists, as Long as the Free Supply Lasts, for One 50-Cent Package of the External "Vapor" Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night—Croup in 15 Minutes.

Each Local Druggist Will Give Away 50 Free Packages, 6 of Which Are Full Size 50-Cent Jars.

Twenty-five years ago, in a little North Carolina town, a druggist discovered a process of combining the old-fashioned remedies—Camphor, Turpentine and Menthol—with certain volatile oils such as Eucalyptus, Thyme, and Juniper, so that, when applied externally, the body heat would vaporize these ingredients. These vapors, inhaled all night long, carry the medication with each breath, direct to the air passages and lungs.

Today this vapor treatment, Vicks VapoRub, is almost universally used throughout the South in preference to internal "dosing." It is quick in its action, and what is more important, particularly to mothers with small children, it is applied externally and hence does not disturb the most delicate stomach. Colds are easiest treated at the beginning and Vicks makes the ideal preventive for the entire family.

This preparation comes in salve form and its action is twofold. Externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. Internally, the vapors inhaled loosen the phlegm and open the air passages. For croup or colds, just rub a little over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. One application at bedtime often prevents a night attack of croup.

For very severe chest colds, tonsillitis, bronchitis, or incipient pneumonia, hot wet towels should first be applied over the parts to open the pores of the skin, and then use Vicks. For head colds, asthmatic or catarrhal troubles, a little Vicks can be rubbed up the nostrils or melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled.

The manufacturers know that an actual trial is the best way to prove how valuable Vicks is in the home and they have accordingly furnished each druggist in London with 50 free packages, to be given away on presentation of the coupon below.

DIET FREE OF SALT CURES SOME ILLS

Russians are the most neurotic of any nation in the world.

The patients appear on the stage of the auditorium in full view of the audience, and one sufferer was carried from the hospital to the medical school on a cot. In each case X-ray photos disclosing valuable data on the nature of the illness were shown to those present.

Dr. Barker was introduced to the academy members by Dr. Moyle, now on the medical staff of Byron Sanatorium, who is a former pupil, having attended Johns Hopkins Medical School. He paid a tribute to Dr. Barker's manner which proved agreeable to pupil and teacher.

Gives Credit to Osler. In responding to these compliments, Dr. Barker said: "It was a feeble attempt to imitate my old master, Sir William Osler. Let me congratulate you on this magnificent building. Medical education does not pay for itself. It is fortunate that your Government has recognized the need of subsidizing medical education. It is a great thing for Ontario, particularly Western Ontario, to have such a school and modern equipment. You had the men, but you did not have the building and equipment."

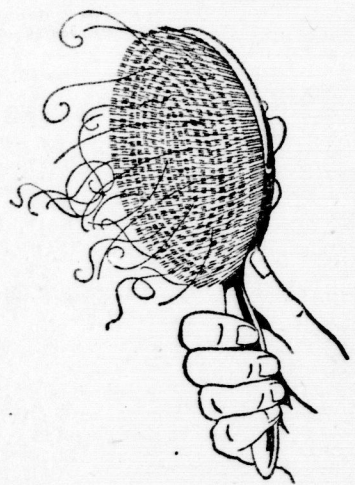

Following the clinic, which was witnessed by several hundred people, with the auditorium packed to capacity, Dr. Barker was the guest of the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine at an informal dinner held at the Tecumseh Hotel. Dr. Barker is a native of Canada, Norwich, Oxford County, being his birthplace.

Will Come to London. Dr. F. W. Hughes, president of the academy, presided at the meeting, and announced that he had received a telegram from Lieut.-Col. Sir William Taylor of Dublin, who is in the United States attending the convention of the American College of Surgeons, stating that he had accepted the invitation of the academy to visit London next Wednesday. Sir William Taylor will likely be the guest of the academy at a dinner party next Wednesday, and may deliver an address to the members present. Further details will be announced early next week. He is a reputed writer of medical works and president of the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland.

An effort is being made to bring Sir Robert Wood, a prominent member of the faculty of Dublin University to London to address the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine. He is one of the foremost harpists of the British Isles, and is at present in the United States.

Our Thanksgiving Message

Once more, like some revolving light that gladdens the sailor's eye, the Day of National Thanksgiving comes again. And from a thousand temples the song of gratitude will ascend; from uncounted homes the voice of love and mirth will greet the returning feet of unforgotten friends; from innumerable hearts a silent hymn of praise will chant the blessings of the by-gone year.

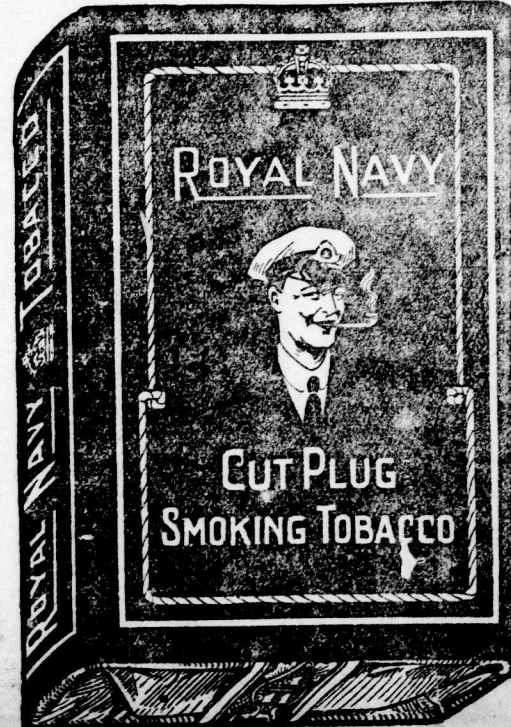

And our young and awakening nation, our beloved Canada, will again repeat the familiar strain of gratitude and trust—and seldom with fuller heart than now. Coupled with our sense of many a deficiency, our consciousness of many a fault, will be our ever-deepening paean for growing prosperity and increasing achievement and enlarging vision. Amid the surging billows that oversweep so large a portion of the world, Canada stands, like a kindly beacon, with the morning light upon her brow, virgin among the great nations of the earth. Learning from the often bitter experience of older lands, she seeks to avoid their errors and to emulate their virtues; and, while rejoicing in her ever multiplying harvests, her ever-widening manufactories, her ever-increasing wealth, she still seeks to remember that her life "consisteth not in the abundance of the things that she possesseth," and that her true crown and glory are in the nobility of her sons, the happiness of her homes, the faith and honor of her national life. In all of these we rejoice on this Thanksgiving Day, which now sets apart as forever sacred that hour when white-robed peace returned with healing in her wings.

OAK HALL is thankful for a year of prosperity, for an outlook fairer than she has known before. But OAK HALL is a thousand times more thankful for this—for the confidence of countless patrons, for the friendship and gratitude of the host who began as customers and now continue as tried and trusted friends. Such is OAK HALL'S contribution to the far-flung song of thanksgiving.

SEVERE SLUMP IN MARKS.

London, Nov. 4.—German marks today suffered the severest slump they have yet experienced in the London exchange market, being quoted during the noon hour at 95 to the pound sterling, after opening at 87 1/2.

The market was down a loss to account for the depreciation in the quotations, beyond the influences already known to be at work, and the fact that selling orders were heavy.

New York, Nov. 4.—German marks, which have been declining steadily here, dropped to a new low record today, selling at 43c. This was a drop of 2 points from yesterday's low. Weakness of German exchange in London accounted for the latest drop here.

WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4.—After new low levels had been reached early in the

was quoted at 3c over and a fair amount of business was transacted.

there is a good inquiry for the lower

THANKSGIVING

EXPRESS THE TRUE
SPIRIT OF THE DAY

Thanksgiving

A LAY SERMON—By John M. Gunn.

"IT IS a good thing," said the Psalmist, "to give thanks unto God." And not only did he SAY it was a good thing, but he made his practice conform to his preaching. Everywhere throughout the Psalms we find him bursting forth into songs of gladness and of praise, and exhorting others so to do. Thanksgiving was not with him an occasional thing. It was the very breath of his nostrils—the atmosphere in which he lived. "From David," said Jeremy Taylor, learn to give thanks for everything. Every furrow in the Book of Psalms is sown with the seeds of thanksgiving."

While the thankful heart finds its fullest expression in the Psalms, it is not by any means confined to that book. It blossoms everywhere in the Old Testament. It was the habitual attitude of mind of all devout Jews. And certain annual festivals had for their object the expression of their national gratitude for the harvest, which they recognized as coming from the bountiful hand of God. The culminating festival of the year was the Feast of Tabernacles, and while it had other meanings, it was pre-eminently and essentially agricultural. It was the feast of ingathering—the harvest home. It was distinctly religious. Every man of Israel was obliged to appear before the Lord at the sanctuary to bring offerings and render thanks for the garnered blessings of vineyard, wheat field and olive grove. The celebration lasted several days, and the people lived in booths erected in the open places of Jerusalem, on the roofs, and in the courts of the houses, in the precincts of the temple, and in the open country outside the city walls.

Though we find nothing exactly similar among the practices of the early Christian church, we find the same beautiful spirit exemplified in a purer and sweeter form. Anyone who thinks the New Testament a gloomy book proves by that very fact that he has never read it. It is the most exultant and joyous book ever written. It was no vain promise of our Lord to his disciples that their joy would be full. It was always full. And it was never dependent on outward conditions and circumstances. When Paul and Silas were thrust into the inner prison at Philippi, and their feet made fast in the stocks, they sang hymns of praise in the night until an earthquake burst asunder the prison doors. The note of thanksgiving is the dominant note of the New Testament. When the aged apostle was lying in a foul Roman dungeon, suffering from disease, chained to Roman soldiers, with whom he could have nothing in common, far away from earthly friends, and expecting hourly to be led out to a martyr's death, he wrote to his beloved Philippian converts, and told them that he had learned one of the greatest lessons taught by the Great Teacher. "I have learned," he said, "in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." "Rejoice evermore," he urged them, and to emphasize it by repetition, "Again, I say, Rejoice." "In everything by prayer and supplication WITH THANKSGIVING, let your requests be made known unto God."

And this ringing note of praise has been heard in all the history of the church just in the measure in which her faith and devotion has approximated to that of the early Christians. Every great revival of religion has been marked by this spirit. The great Wesleyan revival of the eighteenth century in England burst out in songs of praise that have been echoing for nearly two hundred years, not only in the motherland, but throughout the world. So it was with the great Moody and Sankey revival of the last century.

Though the church has always recognized the place of thanksgiving, it has only, within modern times, been made the occasion of an annual national festival. And it is very interesting and noteworthy that we are celebrating this autumn the 300th anniversary of Thanksgiving Day on this continent. For the day, as we know it now, is a distinctively American institution.

The story is one of pathetic and entralling charm. Late in the year 1620, the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock. They were men and women of brave hearts, but ignorant of the conditions they had to face, and but ill-prepared to endure the hardships ahead of them. During the first year they underwent the most dreadful suffering from lack of suitable food and clothing, and the more subtle but probably keener pain of loneliness and homesickness in a strange land. Of the little company of one hundred and two who landed in 1620, half had died of exposure and disease before the first year was gone. They sowed grains in the spring of 1621, but the record says: "Barley and Indian corn were the only crops." "The pease were not worth gathering, for, as we feared, they were too late sown." Notwithstanding all this, the good Governor Bradford, at the request of the people, appointed "an especial day on which to give special thanks for all their mercies." They were short of food. Four men were sent out foraging, and brought in enough game to last the whole company for a week. And that was the genesis of the yearly Thanksgiving Day. "It is our annual time," said Dr. James M. Ludlow, "for saying grace at the table of eternal goodness."

We have reason, first of all, to thank God as individuals. Most of us have prospered in material things. But these are often of little account. Enough is as good as a feast, and there are few in this favored land who have not enough and to spare. Excess of riches do not increase happiness. Indeed, the deceitfulness of riches was emphasized by the Highest Authority of all. There are some things, and the best of things, that we all may have—the things of the spirit for which we should be ever giving thanks: the autumn sunset, the fleecy clouds, never twice the same, the singing of birds, the beauty and fragrance of flowers, the love and the laughter of little children, the comradeship of friends. We are well employed, as someone has said, not in looking for happiness to a remote past or a distant future, but in weaving a song out of our passing days and years.

The grateful heart adds a new grace to personal character. It was a saying of good old Isaac Walton that God has two dwellings—one in heaven and one in the meek and thankful heart. "May God incline us more and more" was the prayer of Dr. William Adams "to that unambitious, unselfish, contented, cheerful, thankful temper which is at once a medicine and a feast, an ornament and a protection." This temper will come to those who can see cause for thanksgiving not only in the things of sense which gratify us, and not only in the so-called successes of life, but also in the hard things which

As citizens of London we have abundant reason for thanksgiving. We can boast, as the great apostle did, that we are citizens of no mean city. We have reached a steady, normal growth. We have reached a point where we have all the advantages of a large city without any of the disadvantages. We have no slums—no congested quarters, crowded realizing the highest moral ideals. The British treatment of the conquered Boers in South Africa, which changed them in a few years from bitter enemies into devoted subjects and friends, is perhaps without a parallel. And the present conciliatory attitude of the British Government toward the Irish people in the honest desire to solve an age-long problem has been marked throughout by the highest principles of Christian forbearance and unselfishness. And as this year we couple our Thanksgiving festival with our celebration of Armistice Day, we may well give thanks for the spirit of heroic devotion and self-sacrifice throughout the whole Empire which never flagged or faltered during the awful days when civilization itself seemed tottering to its fall.

And lastly—for even a lay sermon must have a "lastly"—we can be devoutly thankful as citizens of the world. It is true, we are surrounded by chaotic conditions of turmoil and un-

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—Albert Slade, alias Norman Ryan and Patrick O'Hara, were this afternoon committed by Judge Lanctot to stand trial on charges of attempting to rob the Park avenue branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here on Oct. 25 last, and at the same time in pursuance of their object, attempting to murder H. F. Carnegie and George T. Drew, manager and teller, respectively, of the branch. Another charge read against the men in court was to the effect that they had held up and robbed the sum of $2,843 from the account of the Molsens Bank at the corner of Mount Royal avenue and Bordeaux street on Aug. 12 last. The latter charge was laid during the hearing of evidence in the first two cases, and arose from the discovery that Slade was wearing an overcoat alleged to have been stolen from the teller of the Molsens Bank branch when the hold-up took place last August. Both Slade and O'Hara showed little interest in the proceedings. Voluntary statement in the case of the Bank of Commerce hold-up was filed for Nov. 10, and in the case of the Molsens Bank for Nov. 8.

Meighen, At Montreal, Asks Support of French-Canadian Women.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—Windsor Hall was crowded to capacity this afternoon when Premier Meighen made the first of his two addresses in this city. The great majority of those in the audience were women, the meeting being held under the auspices of the Women's branch of the National Liberal and Conservative Association.
It was under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. Henry Joseph and Mrs. A. E. Labelle, the respective presidents of the English and French-speaking sections of the Women's branch.

Mrs. Labelle read a brief address on behalf of the women of the National Liberal and Conservative Association,
in which she commended the Government and the premier for carrying out the promise implied in the phrase "Je me souviens" (I remember).

She assured Premier Meighen of the support of the French-Canadian women in the coming election.

Hon. Rudolph Monty devoted a few minutes to a discussion of the military service act. He claimed that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had brought in what was practically a measure of conscription in the year 1904.

The premier referred in opening to the fact that women had been granted the franchise. He had never felt that any great credit was due to the Government, or would have been due to the Government for this. It was done
"not as an act of generosity, but of justice."

He remarked that all the opposition to granting women votes in the House of Commons had come from the followers of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Sees Hurdled Scramble.
"There has been a very hurried scramble all over Canada, but especially in Quebec, to get away from the issue on which Mr. King and Mr. Crevier challenged the Government," declared the premier, turning to a discussion of the tariff. The Liberals and Progressives were "hunting for emergency exits" to get away from it. Sir Lomer Gouin discussed a grave railway issue. Mr. King was "frightened out of his skin by high explosive charges" and last, but not least, "Hon.
Charles Murphy, three months after my return from England, is thunderstruck by the course I pursued there and calls upon Canada to condemn me for sacrificing the nationhood of this country."

SALEM WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.
The Salem Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Jackson on Nov. 24, at 2:30, when Rev. G.
W. M. Crawford of Wilton Grove will address the meeting and a good program of vocal and instrumental music will be given. The delegates to the W.
I. convention in London will give their reports.

HOLD HARD TIMES PARTY.
Mrs. Dr. Ross was the hostess of a most enjoyable hard times party, when she entertained the Hyde Park Tennis Club. After being compelled to step over the witch's broom, six ghosts entertained the guests to the spacious living-room, where Halloween games were played. An old-fashioned square dance followed, after which a dainty supper was served.

LIBERAL WOMEN PLAN MEETING

The high cost of living, otherwise of making ends meet, from the standpoint of "The Tariff and the Housewife," is the subject on which Mrs. Grant Needham of Toronto has been asked to address a mass meeting in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, under the auspices of the London Women's Liberal Association. Plans for this meeting, with other important business, were dealt with at a meeting of the executive held Friday afternoon in Hyman Hall, presided over by Mrs. Jared Vining, the newly-elected president. Mrs. Grant Needham has given long and careful study to the subject, is possessed of a charming personality, and is an able and forceful speaker. C. C. R. Somerville, L.L.B., Liberal candidate for London, will also speak at the meeting on the 15th.

The executive of the Women's Liberal Association is considering a series of educational meetings, and among names of later speakers mentioned is that of Mrs. A. H. Beaton, the gifted president of the Toronto Women's Liberal Association.

CHICKENS WITH INTEREST.
Bill—Ugh, 'Emery! Got that crate of chickens you sent the wife all right, but next time I wish you'd fasten 'em up a bit more careful. Comin' from the station the beastly things got out. I spent hours scouring the neighborhood, and then only found ten of 'em.

'Emery—Ugh, Bill! I only sent six.

LOBO, Nov. 4.—The hard times social given by the members of the Epworth League of Melrose Methodist Church in Melrose Hall on Monday evening was a great success, the prize given for the best hard times costume going to Miss Bessie Jackson. Miss Selinda Smith received the prize for the best fancy costume, while the prize for the best comic costume was given to Mackey Gray.

Miss Culver and Mr. Ralph Jackson acted as judges. The evening was spent in games and other amusements, after which the young ladies served lunch.

Mrs. H. D. Steele and Miss Ruby McVicar were among the members of the Lobo Women's Institute to attend the annual convention held in London recently. While in London Mrs. Steele and little daughter Gladys were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Harris, 40 Evergreen avenue.

Miss Bessie Jackson leaves on Thursday next for St. Thomas to enter the training school of the Amasa Wood Hospital there.

INTERNAL BATHING
ENDS CONSTIPATION;
DRUGS THROWN OUT

"After using your J. B. L. Cascade for four months I feel it my duty as a thankful patient to express my enthusiasm for the great blessing it has been to me," writes William Devoy of Lethbridge, Alta., to the Dr. Tyrrell Hygienic Institute, Toronto. "Previous to using it I could not go a day without a drug of some sort, and since using it I have not swallowed five cents' worth of drugs. I spent more than $300 in two years' previous to hearing of the J. B.
L."

Chronic constipation is never cured permanently by the use of medicines.
Larger and larger doses usually become necessary to obtain even temporary relief, the consequence being a weakening of the system.

Nature's own cure, just sterilized warm water, is the only scientific and permanent treatment for constipation, and its attendant ills—headache, indigestion, sleeplessness and loss of energy.

T. Babin, proprietor Hotel Alexandria,
Ottawa, writes: "I have used the J. B.
L. Cascade two years. It has made a new man of me. In reality I feel that I would not sell it for all the money in this world if I could not buy another."

The J. B. L. Cascade will be shown and explained to you by Standard Drug Company, Limited, London, Ont., who will give you free on request an interesting booklet by Dr. Charles A. Tyrrell, on "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per thousands of years ago, man depended on flour and Bread.

Not Bread as you have it today, made tender, light and nutritious by every device known to the baker's art, but cakes made from wheat and barley, coarsely ground on stones.

Pretty poor stuff you would think it today, by contrast with your loaf of

Good White Bread

The tenderness, rich flavor and appetizing appearance of this generous loaf, containing the pure, high-quality ingredients that make it true energy food, indicate the forward march of civilization and represent the present high peak of purity and nourishment in Bread.

For health, for enjoyment, for economy,
eat more Bread at every meal.

COBOKONK MAN SHOT

WHEN HIS RIFLE SLIPS

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 4.—Badly in-resident of Cobokonzk village, is in a critical condition at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

The accident occurred yesterday a few miles from Weaver's home. He had loaded his loaded rifle against the veranda of a house, when the gun slipped, and the contents lodged in his abdomen.

Little hope for his recovery is entertained.
