Edith—Forgive me, Bertha, but your husband plays the flute atrociously.

Bertha—I know, dear; but what can I do? He used to serenade me with that old tune. If I tell him now that he is no player, he will think my love is growing cold.

Minard's Liniment — Lumberman's Friend.

Some people can express a truth more intelligently than they can express an opinion.

It is poor policy to take advantage of other people because you have never had any advantage of your own.

True greatness does not consist in never falling, but in rising again after the fall.

GONE ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Tobey left today for Europe. They travel via C. P. R. to Montreal, and then take the steamer Lake Champlain. They will land in Liverpool, thence visit points of interest in England and other parts of Europe. Mr. Tobey is going partly on a business trip and partly for pleasure. He will purchase fall and spring goods for the firm of The 2 T's while he is abroad. Mr. Tobey is very observant and has promised to give The Planet some interesting letters about his trip and points of interest he visits.

CAN'T SECURE EXTRADITION

Was Canadian Justice Cheated in Indiana by officious Judge?

Alleged Kent County Criminals Who can now Laugh at Their Pursuers.

Special to The Planet.

Toronto, July 29.—Inspector Murray of the Provincial detective staff returned today from Fort Wayne, Indiana, where he had been trying to secure the extradition of Benjamin Reilly and William Archer, who are wanted on several charges of stealing grain from farmers in Kent and Lambton counties.

The attempt to get the men failed, and Inspector Murray is disgusted because the presiding judge allowed alibi evidence in the men's behalf, which is contrary to law. One of the prisoners' lawyers was ex-Judge Monk, who by the way, stands 8 feet in height. These lawyers have been witnesses, 25 in number, from all over Wells county, who swore the accused were in Indiana when the crimes were committed.

"The law says the alibi argument must not be heard in extradition cases," said Inspector Murray, "but Commissioner Logan ruled otherwise, and the big lawyer himself swore he had rented the men a house."

DISCIPLE OF CONVICT TRACY

Jas. McKenney on a Furious Rampage in Southern California.

Wounds Man Trying to Shoot Cards and Pumps Buckshot into Pursuing Citizens.

Fresno, Cal., July 28.—At Porterville, James McKenney, an ex-convict, shot five men and escaped into the country in a stolen rig. McKenney in trying to shoot the cards out of the hands of a player, wounded the latter slightly. He then went to a livery stable and at the point of a revolver secured a rig. As he was driving off a constable, a deputy and several citizens tried to arrest him. He opened fire, wounding four of the party, and escaped. Two years ago McKenney killed a man at Bakersfield, but was exonerated.

The trouble started in a saloon in this affray, when McKenney began shooting out the lights, and afterwards turned his attention to the card players.

William Lynn, a gambler, whose abdomen and legs were filled with buckshot, has succumbed to his wounds.

McKenney also filled the right arm of Geo. Barrows, a printer, with shot, and sent a bullet into the mouth of Deputy Marshal Willis, another into the arm of Deputy Constable Tompkins and a load of shot into the arm of W. D. West.

Before leaving McKenney awakened Dave Mosher and said to him: "I've got into a fight. They came after me, but I whipped them all. I killed three or four of them. They have not treated me right. I'll die game. You talk about Tracy; he won't be in it with me."

There was blood on one of his legs, and it is believed he was wounded. He is headed for Fresno county and it is supposed he will make for the mountains. He has a shotgun, a rifle and a revolver.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Rev. J. J. Ross last evening when the reverend gentleman united in marriage John Oliver, of McKenney & Trotter's staff, and Miss Flora Watson. The bride was attended by Miss Clara Cape, while John H. Watson was the groomsmen. Their many friends extend good wishes to the happy couple.

STANLEY AVE WALK LAID ACCORDING TO CITY'S BY-LAW

Mayor Said Through Cemetery was Proper Place—Walk Built and Council Wont Interfere—Library lot to be Bought at Once—The Property Committee's Gazoo Whistle.

The weeds in the city are to be cut. The account of Robt. Riddell, $2.25, was referred to the Board of Works with power.

The account of Stone & Co., $2.25, was referred to the Board of Works. Requests to trim trees from Mrs. Bragg, Emma St., and others were referred to the Chief of Police.

The civic pay sheets for the past two weeks, were passed, amounting to $253.67.

Ald. McCoig asked if there was any more measuring of walks charged for in the pay sheets.

Ald. McKeough replied that there were one or two items, as follows:—Queen St. walk, $2; Joseph St., $2; Emma St., $2.

Ald. McCoig said that it was an imposition to ask ratepayers to pay for this work when there were the City Engineer and foreman, both able to do the work.

Albert Trato wrote, offering to furnish street signs at a reasonable price. He didn't mention the amount, however. Referred to the Board of Works. The Mayor said that he would like to see the Board of Works take this matter up.

L. L. Davis, Secretary of the Public Library Board, wrote asking the Council to complete the purchase of the library lot.

The Mayor suggested that the matter be settled at once, so that the Library Board could go ahead.

Ald. McCoig said that there was no question but that the Council should take the steps to assist the Library Board. He had at first favored paying for the lot out of the general fund, but taking into consideration the extra expenses of this year, he now thought it a good idea to issue debentures, as suggested by some of the other aldermen.

Ald. McCoig then moved that the money for the purchase of the library lot be secured by the issue of 10 year debentures for $1,400, bearing interest at 4-1-2 per cent.

The Mayor—We should have a special meeting to pass that by-law.

Frank Granville, owner of the schooner Ontario, wrote asking $15 damages for detention of one hour and for lines broken in stopping the schooner from running into the Aberdeen bridge. The schooner in tow of a tug had arrived at the bridge at 12:15, but had not got to the S. Hadley dock till near 2 o'clock.

The Mayor said he was informed that the Council should have sent a copy of their by-law closing the bridges between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock to the Minister of Marine.

The Mayor was going to refer this matter to the Board of Works, when Ald. McKeough pointed out that it was clearly a matter of Finance.

Ald. Cowan—That's right; shirk it if you can.

Ald. McKeough—We don't want to shirk anything; and are perfectly satisfied to leave it with you to be referred.

The Mayor referred the matter to the Board of Works.

Ald. McCoig gave notice of a motion to instruct the Engineer and foreman to measure all walks put down and be responsible for same.

FINANCE.
Chairman McCoig, of the Finance committee, reported recommending: That William Drader's account of $1.75 be paid.

That a city directory at a cost of $2 be purchased.

That M. Houston be paid $10 for rent of Harvester Works for storing machinery.

That the estate of the late E. W. Seane be relieved from income tax from the time of the death of the late alderman.

That $20 be paid the estate of the late Wm. Douglas in full of all claims.

That W. R. Baxter's account, $1.75, be paid.

That the Harrison Hall account, $123.78, and the administration of justice account, $126.70, are both correct, and that they be paid.

That the G. N. W. Telegraph Co's account, 75c, be paid.

That the account of the City Solicitor, $1.12, be taxed as the committee consider the bill extravagant.

The report was adopted.

COWAN'S KICK.
The clause in the report ordering the payment of Judge Houston $10 rent of the Harvester Works for storing the city's machinery, aroused Ald. Cowan. He said the machinery wasn't kept as it should be. He said he understood that the machinery had been pushed out in a shed.

Ald. McCoig said that he had seen Ald. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Works, last year, and he had said that the agreement was correct.

Ald. Cowan—I wouldn't advise paying it. The roller is standing outside now.

Ald. McCoig—The arrangements were only made till the first day of April and not for the season.

Ald. Cowan—There is no question as to the contract being entered into. There is no question as to the integrity of Mr. Marshall or Mr. Houston, at least as to Mr. Marshall's honesty, but the machinery was not left where the agreement called for.

Ald. McKeough asked if the City Solicitor had offered a compromise on his bill.

Ald. McCoig said that Mr. Wilson

MAY LOSE ARM

Eugene Barnes, of Raleigh, is suffering from a severe attack of blood poisoning as a result of the breaking of a water blister on his hand. This blister broke one morning while he was doing his chores. He thought nothing of it, however, and went around at his work as usual during the day. Towards evening his hand began to pain him and he came into town and consulted a physician. It was found on examination that the man was suffering from blood poisoning up as far as his elbow. The doctor is endeavoring to save the arm, but he thinks it will be necessary to take off a couple of the fingers.

LEADER DEWET WILY AS EVER

He Arrives at Cape Town Unexpectedly and Upsets Plans of his Friends.

Botha and Dewet the Cause of an Unusual Scene in a Cape Town Church.

Cape Town, July 28.—General De Wet proved that he could evade friends as successfully as he did enemies by arriving here unexpectedly this afternoon, and upsetting all the elaborate plans prepared for his reception. He strolled through the streets casually nodding to his acquaintances and occasionally to a former opponent. Arrangements were quickly made by Afrikaners to entertain the famous leader to-night, at a semi-private dinner, tickets to which already stand at five guineas premium.

A striking contrast to De Wet's return was the scene on Sunday when Generals Botha and Delarey attended church. The building was packed, mainly by women, and the service was scarcely concluded when these Cape Town admirers stormed the pew in which the generals sat. With difficulty they retreated to the vestry. The congregation followed and Generals Botha and Delarey were lifted to the vestry table. The pastor of the church warmly remonstrated, whereupon a number of those present seized the generals and carried them to carriages, where another demonstration ensued.

POSSIBLE ELECTION.

Whether or not the London News is correct in its announcement that Mr. Ross will attempt another appeal to the people of Ontario, quoted in yesterday's Planet, this great home journal does not know. Mr. Ross hasn't as yet opened his heart to us.

We are strongly inclined to doubt the constitutionality of the course, but even at that Mr. Ross has demonstrated already that a little thing like the constitution doesn't bother him at all. The Globe maintains a discreet silence and the public must see the situation up for themselves.

But it can do no harm to prepare a careful organization among Mr. Whitney's followers. Here in the Kents it was largely lack of organization that aided in the defeat of Messrs. Davidson and Fraser at the last election.

We must not be caught napping that way again.

THE CASE OF CORBETT.

Both the city and the county authorities have a problem confronting them in the case of Stephen Corbett, now in Castle Mercer awaiting trial on a nominal charge of being, preferred by a kindhearted citizen at his own request to secure him a temporary domicile.

Corbett is a man of 72 or more years. He has apparently destroyed his constitution by habitual indulgence in intoxicants and is today practically a wreck at the mercy of the community.

Corbett, moreover, possesses a far from amiable disposition. It appears that the county provided a place for him in the House of Refuge, but that he wilfully violated all the rules of the institution and finally deserted it altogether.

Then he hid himself to Chatham, could not work and found no home. The county authorities declined to receive him back to the House of Refuge and the Chief of Police had no authority for granting his request to send him to jail.

Finally the services of a philanthropic citizen were enlisted and he has secured a week's board at the county jail.

The old man is in a pitiable condition. Unable by age and excesses to work, of disagreeable and ungrateful disposition, he must either meet death by exposure and starvation or hasten its coming by his own hand—UNLESS SOMETHING IS DONE.

Who will do it?

There's the problem for the commissioners.

ALL BRITISH.

The Minneapolis banker who predicts such a rosy future for Canadian wheat fields thinks that the influx of "Americans" into Canada will "Americanize" Canada. Just what he means by that vague term we cannot say. But if he means that the United States element will make Canada any the less a part of the British Empire, he is very widely astray. The "Americans" coming into Canada are not all United Statesers, but are in large proportion Canadians who are glad to get home again. The United States people who come in will become as good British subjects as any in the land. Why should they not? They will become infected with the national pride of Canadians in their own land and in the British Empire to which they belong, and they will rejoice in the greater freedom and personal liberty under the Union Jack. The citizens of the United States, as a whole, have almost as erroneous an impression of Canada and its relations to the British Empire as the Boers had of Great Britain. When they learn that Canadians enjoy absolute self-government by popular representation, as well as the free protection of Great Britain, they are astonished. Canadian nationality is quite strong enough to assimilate all the settlers who come in from the United States and make good British subjects of them.

AN UNFORTUNATE RULE.

One of our Canadian banks recently raised the salary limit at which its clerks would be permitted to marry. The limit is raised from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. Five clerks in a branch of the bank who, it is thought had so far compromised themselves in a matrimonial way that they resigned when their bank raised the limit. Their pluck and self-respect is commendable.

The Rev. Mr. Langtry the well-known Episcopal divine, has scored the bank severely in a letter to the Mail-Enterprise. In his letter he said: "What does it mean? Electing that four-fifths of the bank clerks can never marry at all. No one below an accountant ever gets $1,500 a year. And there is only one accountant to at least five other employees. And what does that mean? Hundreds of young men doomed to celibacy, not from any religious motive or choice of their own, but from the pitiless grasping greed of their superiors. Married men on a thousand dollars a year might ask for an increase of pay, or might be tempted to steal. But why don't the managers and assistants see to it that the capable, skilled, faithful men who are serving them, get sufficient salaries to enable them to live without tramping under foot the laws of nature and of life? And, again, who are most likely to steal the bank funds, married men, who are struggling on to keep themselves and their families on a scanty income, or men who fall into the dissolute ways to which life-long, constrained celibacy is almost sure to lead?"

Alluding to the suggestion of the Hamilton Herald, Independent, that "any increase in the salary of the premier of Canada ought to be accompanied by a substantial allowance to the leader of the Opposition," the Banner flies off its base again with the following, which would be funny if it wasn't so maliciously silly:—

Yes, the "duties" of Whitney were quite "arduous," but instead of a slice of government money, Whitney richly earned a bench in the penitentiary. The Herald's proposal would be a premium on vilification.

Mr. Whitney's connection with a possible increase to the salary of the Dominion opposition leader is not clear—but it's near enough for the Banner to utilize as an excuse for another frenzied outbreak upon the gentleman who has won the popular endorsement of the province. The Banner should curb its hysteria and utilize the kindly counsel of the Hamilton Spectator to "Keep Cool."

TRACY IN DEMAND.

Denver Republican.

Now that pursuit has been abandoned, doubtless Mr. Tracy will proceed to make his lecture arrangements.

HOW IT IS MADE UP.

London News.

The new city directory of Ottawa gives that city a population of over 73,000. We presume it is made up as follows:

Bona fide residents.....	23,000
Officials.....	40,000
Looking to be officials.....	5,000
Sore because they're not officials.....	5,000
Total.....	73,000

SMITH'S SUGGESTION.

Bobbygeon Independent.

Some years ago, the legislature in its regular annual tinkering with the assessment act, made the plant of railways, telegraphs, etc., assessable only as old metal or scrap iron, as it was called. It did not intend doing so, but it did. Last session the legislature made another attempt to put into an act what they intended and a decision just given by a Welland court decides that the act is rather worse than it was. Would it not be well for the legislature to have some four-dollar-a-week reporter from a daily paper dot down in plain English white talk, exactly what they intend, as an introductory to their act. Then the lawyers could follow with their rigmoroles of lingo, that the courts may interpret to mean anything or everything, and it would not be of any consequence.

GIBSON'S LUCKY COMPANIES.

Oshawa, Vindictor.

It is a fine thing for corporations to have a cabinet minister as president, and the members of the Ontario cabinet are presidents of about fifty corporations, so you see the corporations know a good thing when they see it.

Paine's Celery Compound

NATURE'S SUMMER HEALTH GIVER.

It Purifies the Blood and Multiplies the Number of Vital Red Corpuscles, Feeds the Nerves and Tissues and Gives True Physical Strength.

Weak nerves, exhausted tissue, poor thin blood, impaired digestion and sleepless nights, account for much of the present existing summer misery and suffering.

Dear reader, if you are unfortunately numbered amongst the sickly and weak mortals of to-day, it is now time to awake to a true realization of your danger. The weakening and depressing hot weather will only add to your miseries if you are careless and indifferent. There is absolute relief and a positive cure for you in Paine's Celery Compound. This wonder-working medicine is successfully conquering such troubles as yours every day. It is a fact verified by able physicians and thousands of testimonials that Paine's Celery Compound makes new, pure blood, builds up the appetite and gives vigor and strength to combat the discomforts of the heated term. Mrs. F. Wilcox, Creemore, Ont., says: "For years I have suffered from constant sick headache and nervousness; at times I have been so bad that I have been unable to sleep two hours a night for weeks. I have tried many medicines and doctors a great deal, but never received a hundredth part of the value from them that I have obtained from Paine's Celery Compound. After using three bottles I can sleep well, my headaches have ceased, and I feel fresher and stronger than I have done for years."

Drugging Will Not Cure Catarrh

This loathsome disease is caused by germs that invade the air passages of the head and throat, and are cured only by inhalation of medicated air. Stomach medicines, atomizers, snuffs are ineffectual, because they fail to reach the cause of the trouble. Catarrhoitis is successful because it is inhaled to every part of the breathing organs, and has power to kill the germ, heal the inflamed tissues and prevent droppings in the throat. Catarrhoitis treats more than one thousand feet of the mucous surface with every breath taken through the inhaler, and affords instant relief. It perfectly cures Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis. Sold by Druggists. Two months' treatment. Price $1.00. Small size 25c, or by mail from Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont.

We are advised by W. E. Rispen, City Passenger Agent Grand Trunk and Wabash Railways, that he has a number of special excursion trips available for intending tourists to Portland, Maine, to Tacoma, Spokane, Washington, Portland, Oregon, Vancouver, Victoria, and other British Columbia points, also summer tours to Atlantic and River St. Lawrence points, also lakes Huron, Superior and Georgian Bay, and would be pleased to give intending tourists full information and rates.

We have always heard that the tongue was the only edged tool that grows sharper by use. It is, too, the only edged tool that can heal wounds as well as make them.

Wear Brain Workers

Fagged out, ideas come as slowly as molasses. You think of things just a minute or two too late. Snap's gone! The buoyancy that made work a pleasure—that's gone, too. The doctor would tell you that you are run down, not eating enough nor digesting enough. Your stomach needs aid, your digestion needs a brace, too. Your blood requires Phosphorus and Iron that it may be formed readily. Now Phosphorus is a wonderful nerve brace and blood maker. It's food for the blood and nerves, it will make you strong quickly and permanently. Sold by McCall & Co.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

Bert Wilson, of Wallaceburg, is spending the day in town.

G. C. Scott, of Cedar Springs, is spending the day in the city.

A. A. Jordan returned last evening from a trip to Detroit and Toledo.

Miss Webster, King street is spending the day with friends at the Eau.

Rev. J. J. Ross left this morning to enjoy a day's fishing at the Eau.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Drew, of Wallaceburg, were visiting in the city yesterday.

Will Lister, of the Maple City Creamery, is spending a few days in St. Thomas.

Ed. Benson, has returned from Blenheim, where he has been working for Mr. Bell.

Miss Belle Heasley, of Brantford, is visiting her sister, Mrs. V. C. Mount, Lorne Ave.

W. Compton, of the Badner, leaves tomorrow, for Toronto, where he will be for some time.

Miss Laura Williams, of St. Thomas, is the guest of her friend, Miss Mabel Stone, Raleigh street.

Mrs. Jos. Tilt, Wellington street, left yesterday on an extended visit to friends in St. Thomas and London.

The steam barge Juno leaves to-day for Cleveland, having been up the river with a cargo of coal for the Gas Company.

A good crowd went to the Macca-bees excursion to Port Stanley this morning. The train was composed of ten coaches.

Frank Scott, of this city, is attending to Dr. Smith's dental practice in Essex while the latter is spending a few weeks in Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winterburn, of Windsor, formerly of Chatham, were in the city yesterday en route home from a trip to England.

The lacrosse club were photographed to-day at noon, by J. T. Baile. When finished the picture will be put on exhibition in one of the store windows.

One of the fine maple trees in Tecumseh Park was struck by lightning in yesterday's storm. The trunk was entirely stripped of bark and badly split.

Tom Pool and Miss Brownley, both of this city, were married last evening. Tom is a member of the drum and bugle band of the 24th Regiment, who took occasion to serenade them.

A number of the members of the 24th Regiment are talking seriously of forming an indoor baseball and a basketball team this winter. A meeting will be held next week when the matter will be discussed.

"We are going to have a great sewer on Hilliard street," said the city engineer to The Planet. "It will be about 1800 feet long, made of 12 inch S. G. tile, with an average depth of eight feet, running from the corner of Hilliard and Selkirk streets to Head street, and down Head street to St. Clair. The cost will be about six or seven hundred dollars. The work will be commenced as soon as the tenders are let."

CUT DOWN BY A TRAIN.

Vaudreuil, Que., July 28.—About 11 o'clock this morning, Mr. Leger Valois, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Vaudreuil, was killed while crossing the G. T. R. bridge. He had reached the east end of the structure when a west-bound freight train struck him. An east-bound passenger train was crossing the bridge, and it is supposed deceased was trying to keep out of the way. The body was picked up by the freight train crew and brought to the station here.

Tea Tablets

200 Tablets Make 200 Cups

Made from the best quality of Ceylon and Indian Tea, and carefully blended and prepared. They are unadulterated being Tea pure and simple.

Travelers, Campers, Picnic Parties and Everyone will find these a great convenience and readily carried. There is no waste, as one tablet dropped in a cup of boiling water makes a cup of tea as strong as ordinarily prepared at home.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

"There is no great cause for alarm about the crops this year," said F. P. Weldon to The Planet this morning. "The rains have caused the farmers a little more work with their crops, but it will be all right in the end. This scare is more talk than anything else. Three-quarters of the grain is out in the country and the heads are not sprouting. "I took a drive through Dover last week and made it my business to inspect these crops. A lot of the farmers are drawing in their grain. Corn looks elegant. Beans are fair, and will be an average crop. In a few places the beans are poor. "It is a shame when the people come in from the country and give such bad reports about the crops. I was surprised when I saw it for myself."

WORLD OF SPORT

BASEBALL

GOOD GAME.

A game of ball was played last night on Tecumseh Park between the St. George Street Greys and Drader's team, which resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 14-2. Batteries—Greys, Robert and Campbell; Drader, Wilson and Paps. The work of the Greys was characterized by brilliant fielding and opportune batting.

It would be interesting to note that this is the second time the Draders have met defeat at the hands of the Greys.

BOWLING CONTESTS

There will in all probability be a warmly contested game of bowling on Tecumseh Park in the near future. Skip Sawyer has challenged my four players in the club, barring Skip Taylor, to a match for stakes, he to play his London rink, Messrs. Tilt, son, Merritt, Vandewater and Sawyer. Another challenge is out by Messrs. Tiltson and Hutchison against any two members of the club.

A GOOD TEACHER

John Rogers, for the past year and a half principal of S. S. No. 6, Raleigh, Public School, has been appointed principal of the Lindsay Separate school, at a salary of $700 per annum, his duties to commence in September next.

With the departure of Mr. Rogers the teaching profession of West Kent loses one of its foremost members. During the five years and more he taught in the inspectorate, his schools have been always noted for the best of good management; and at the various departmental examinations he never lost a pupil. Mr. Rogers was deservedly popular, both with his pupils and with the community in general. In the discussions of the Chatham District Teachers' Association he always took a prominent part, and at the meeting of that institution in this city last April his fellow teachers honored him by a unanimous election to the presidency. Mr. Rogers leaves behind him a splendid record, to which he will add in the newer and wider field he is now entering.

TIRED MOTHERS.

It's hard work to take care of children and to cook, sweep, wash, sew and mend besides. It makes a shop of the home—a shop, too, where sixteen hours make a day and yet there is much working overtime. Heed's Sarsaparilla helps tired mothers in many ways—it refreshes, it builds, it improves the appetite, and assures restful sleep.

ERIEAU

July 29—A mistake was made in yesterday's items. Instead of Mrs. H. C. Philip, it should have read Mr. H. C. Philip, was the guest of T. Maisonneville at Dew Drop Inn. The storm which visited the city yesterday did not get out this far, but only a few drops of rain fell in the afternoon and a light shower in the evening. The Celery Farm is in a bad shape from the continued high water and it is necessary to pump day and night, several new dykes were built and everything possible is being done to save the crop.

Mrs. G. T. McKeough and Miss McKeough returned to their summer home, "Clear View," after a short visit in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rutley are guests of Judge Houston at Thurlowville.

Wanted—By two young ladies, one week's board at the Eau in a private family, from Aug. 2nd. State terms and address M. S. care of Planet.

The rule of three was in evidence last night. A party of three went for a row, three more went fishing three sat on a log and three on the sand. We took a trip to the bridge, and there were three fishers; at the Celery farm were just three more, and when we looked, we were three. There is luck in odd numbers and we are waiting patiently for it to appear.

Miss Lolla Dunkley, of the Celery Farm, is visiting relatives in the city. It is to be hoped that the bugs will not find out about the next band concert. They like everyone else, find the music of the 24th Reg. Band irresistible.

BARBER CP AT ERIEAU.

George A. Taylor, barber, has opened a first class barber shop and will give his customers the best service.

DAY'S DESPATCHES

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Woodstock, Ont., July 28.—Gladstone Green, aged 20 years, son of Aaron Green, a well-known farmer of East Oxford, was drowned in the Thames on Fitch's Flat in Blainford yesterday. He and several other young men were in bathing, and Green and his brother, who could not swim, got beyond their depth. Both went down and it was with great difficulty that either one was rescued. One brother was finally got out, but Gladstone got caught in a branch in a hole 18 feet deep. His body was in the water over four hours.

ROYAL MUSKOKA NOW OPEN

Guests Are Arriving Daily at the New Summer Resort.

The opening of the new Royal Muskoka Hotel on Lake Rosseau, Muskoka Lakes district, for the season of 1903, has been a source of satisfaction to the proprietors, and the reservations that have been made up to the present for accommodation at this resort assures the success of the venture. Guests are arriving daily, and by next week, hundreds of people will be enjoying the beauties of Muskoka with the advantage of sojourning in one of the best summer hotels in America.

Among the guests at the hotel now are prominent people from Buffalo, Chicago, New York, and other American cities, as well as many Canadians.

The Ontario Government, in conjunction with the Grand Trunk Railway system, is continuing the policy inaugurated last year of restocking the Muskoka lakes with parent bass.

The first brood was deposited in lake Rosseau, June 29, and a finer lot of bass have seldom been seen. Last year 10,000 fish were transplanted into the Northern Lakes with much success.

The fishing this year in the Muskoka Lakes is good, some excellent catches having been made, the bass weighing from two to four pounds and picked from two to eight pounds.

ALL CANADA AT TORONTO

There will not be a province or a piece of territory in the Dominion that will not be represented at the exhibition to be held in Toronto this year from Monday, Sept. 1st, to Sunday, Sept. 13th. To mark their appreciation of this evidence of the country's confidence, the Executive have increased the prize list until now it is proudly boasted that, with special, upwards of $37,000 will be distributed in prizes among the exhibitors, six-sevenths of which will find its way to the agricultural community. While this large sum proves the magnitude of the exposition, the enterprise of its managers, and the comprehensiveness of the exhibit, the fact that $90,000 is to be spent in attractions and special features, the latest inventions as well as the latest novelties in the amusement world, and including $7,000 for music, shows that while the agricultural and industrial interests of the country are to be well looked after, the people's enjoyment will not be neglected.

America and Europe have been securing for all that is best in every line of attraction. Bolossi Kiraly, the greatest master of spectacle on earth, has been secured to produce in all its brilliancy and gorgeousness his stupendous production "The Orient," which was the wonder of London, Eng., at Olympia for a year, and that is only one of the really costly features that have either been engaged or are being negotiated for. Then there are the new Dairy Building and the new Art Gallery, which will greatly increase the value of the exhibition as a factor in the education and elevation of the people. In the Dairy Building not only will there be exhibits of dairy products, utensils, and so on, but lectures and demonstrations will be given twice daily in a hall provided with seating accommodation for 600 people. Reduced rates will, of course, be available on all lines of travel.

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

This famous national park offers to the tourist and sightseer more novelties and curiosities than perhaps any other spot on earth. The stage ride from Monida is through scenery hardly inferior to the park itself, and this ride is one of the very many enjoyments of the trip.

The new route to the Yellowstone is via the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line Railroads to Monida, Montana, thence daily by special coach of the Monida & Yellowstone Stage Company to all points in the Yellowstone National Park.

An unfortunate error crept into the Plan correspondent of The Planet yesterday, when it was announced that Mrs. H. C. Philp was a guest at "Dew Drop Inn." The item should have read Mr. H. C. Philp and the blunder is sincerely regretted.

Floyd Hartwood, of Leamington, who went to South Africa with Chas. Ryall in the South African Mounted Police, was in the city yesterday, en route home. Mr. Hartwood went from South Africa to England to see the coronation, and says that the whole of the troupe will likely come home soon.

The Lake Erie are going to recoup their past record in Shenango excursions. They have decided to put this boat into excursion service and have fitted her up with camp stools, awnings, drinking water service, etc., and Mr. Tillson, the local agent, guarantees that there will be no complaint about the accommodation on any future excursion on the Shenango.

PAID THE COSTS

Two Jewish residents of the Maple City had a business tangle the other day. They are brothers-in-law and answer to the names of Isaac Sterling and Samuel Kovinsky, but their relationship did not prove a curb upon their business ambitions.

Accordingly they mixed up. Then Kovinsky alleges that brother Isaac lost his temper and said things that were not polite, which wasn't brother Samuel's way of settling a dispute.

A Police Court information for insulting language resulted, but the brethren got together this morning and the charge was withdrawn. Incidentally some $2.50 went into the civic coffers—perquisites to dallying with the court.

"THE BEST"

Such Will Shortly be the Character of the Big Plant of the Canada Flour Mills Co.

Very elaborate extensions and improvements are being consummated at the Canada Flour Mills, which will increase the already high prestige of this large and enterprising industry.

The mill is undergoing complete changes. New bolting machines are being established throughout. One carload of new machinery is now at the mill and two additional carloads are on the way. When installed this machinery will increase the capacity of the flour mill from 600 barrels to 750 and furnish one of the most complete equipments in Canada. It will require only ten days to install it.

The mill will likely shut down to-morrow evening and the whole force will proceed to the making of the changes.

The new elevator is also well under way. This addition will provide for the storage of 120,000 more bushels of grain than formerly. It will be completed in about 40 days.

This building will include the first oil chopper installed in Kent, also barley cleaners and a new system of chopping, which will make any kind of chopping as fine as flour.

A dump scale will also be provided, so that the farmers, on driving up a load of corn, simply touch a lever and they have and be paid for the shelled corn, all the work being done by machinery without labor to the farmers. Meanwhile the cobs are broken up and elevated to the slide for fuel to the boilers.

"When all our improvements are completed," said President Stevens, "chatting to The Planet this morning, "we will have, I believe, the most convenient and best equipped plant in the Dominion."

DRAINAGE CASE

The drainage case arising out of the recent rains was tried at Blenheim yesterday. Emmet, son of Hugh Palmer, charged Albert Smith, Geo. Smith, Tom Smith and Wm. Neil with unlawfully closing a culvert across the road. The case was tried in Blenheim yesterday. The charge against Wm. Neil was dismissed. After hearing the evidence of the plaintiff, O. L. Lewis, solicitor for the defense, asked for acquittal without putting in any evidence. Magistrate Gossnell reserved judgment, but intimated that the case would be dismissed unless Mr. M. Thompson, solicitor for plaintiff, could show some authority for dealing otherwise with the case. Magistrate Gossnell inclined to hold that there was no criminal intent and, if there was any liability the plaintiff had redress in a civil suit.

MOTION REJECTED

London, July 28.—In the House of Commons to-day, John G. MacNeill, Irish Nationalist, moved a protest against the appointment of Lord Alverstone, Lord Chief Justice of England, and Sir John Bigham, Judge of the King's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, who together with Major-General Sir John Ardagh, recently agent of the government on the South African claims commission, were appointed last week a royal commission to proceed to South Africa August 9th, and inquire into the sentences imposed by the military courts, with a view to ascertaining whether it is expedient that such sentences or fines be remitted or reduced.

MacNeill maintained that the attitude of Lord Alverstone and Sir John Bigham toward the Jameson raid commission, utterly unfitted them to fulfil their present duties.

Mr. Brodick, Secretary for War, defended the selection of Lord Alverstone and Sir John Bigham, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal leader in the house, supported the government.

Mr. MacNeill's motion was defeated by 210 votes to 64.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper

Dry Skin.
A mixture of glycerin and mutton tallow is excellent for restoring the oil of the skin when it is dry and hard.

Immature Fowls.
Never breed from immature fowls, no matter how handsome or perfect in looks. Continued early breeding is taking the very heart and life out of pure bred stock. Only well matured fowls should be used for breeding.

A Week of Suicides.
During a recent week there were no fewer than twenty-seven suicides committed in Madrid. Love and financial troubles claim most of the victims.

A Very Old Stone.
The seat of the coronation chair of England is made of a monster slab of sandstone. Brewer's "Dictionary of Phrase and Fable" says, "It was brought from Scone by Edward I. and is said to be the stone upon which Jacob rested his head the night of his famous vision."

Zero.
Zero, like many other popular standards, is arbitrary in its origin. It is the temperature obtained by mixing ice and salt, which Fahrenheit supposed to be the extreme of cold.

Asparagus.
Asparagus is the oldest known plant used for food.

Nut Candy.
Adults as well as children like nut candy. Butter a plate and place in it half a pint of hickory nut kernels, a pint of maple sugar boiled until thick. When hard, pour over the kernels and stir quickly.

Canine Intelligence.
By barking and scratching at him until he awoke a dog in Berlin has saved his master from death by asphyxiation. The man's wife had turned on the gas in the room where he was asleep, with the deliberate intention of causing his death.

The First Americans.
One theory is that America was peopled by migration from northwest Europe and northeastern Asia by land in the stone age.

Money in North China.
In the interior towns of northern China slips of the bark of the mulberry tree bearing the imperial "chop" and a stamp which denotes their worth have long been used as we use banknotes.

Marco Polo found this kind of money there in his time, and they still have an extensive local circulation.

North Sea Codmen.
A North sea codman carries an outfit of lines which extends eight miles in length and his usually fixed upon it the amazing number of 4,680 hooks, every one of which must be baited.

Electric Speed.
It takes about three seconds for a message to go from one end of the Atlantic to the other.

A GIRL OF THE PEOPLE

By Mrs. C. N. Williamson.

"Oh, it can't be the right Easel street!" I exclaimed, tremblingly. "Easel street, Commercial road. There isn't no other of the same name, miss. Shall I kn—"

"If you please," I meekly answered. "And—don't take down the luggage yet. I'll wait and see if I—"

"What d'you want?" shrilly demanded the woman. "Miggets or Newlyn?"

I drew my breath in sharply. My mother's name! There was no mistake, then. The cabman turned questioning to me, and I realized that I must answer. "I want Mrs. Newlyn," I reluctantly thrust out my head to explain.

"Owh!" returned the dweller on the upper floor. "I'm Miggets. Newlyn's the ground floor."

As my informant partially withdrew, a girl's face showed itself in the crack of the door; then the door was thrown wide open. She was about fifteen, with pale unwholesome skin, a pert nose, and an aggressive fringe of drab-colored hair. She fixed a pair of light blue eyes upon me, and slowly I descended from the cab, which seemed the only link left between me and familiar decencies of civilization.

"Is Mrs. Newlyn at home?" I enquired, in a voice which did not sound like mine, so dull and toneless was it.

"Yes, ma's 'ome," (I started). "D'ye want to see 'er?"

"If you please, May I—may I walk in?" Already the cabman's popping population of Easel street had come to its doors and windows to enjoy the sight—such as it was.

I felt curiously eddy. The suggestion in one of the first three words this girl had spoken had caught me by the throat. I entered the narrow passage, having again bidden the cabman wait, and the close odor of the house added to my faintness. A door a few feet down the passage was opened, and I had a dim impression that my companion was bidding me follow her into a room beyond. I obeyed, and then almost recoiled as I passed the threshold.

The room could not have been more than twelve feet square. The boards of the floor were uncovered, and not too clean; the low ceiling was blackened with smoke, and the wall, destitute of paper, was decorated with a few glances of the chromo-lithographs, held in place with pins.

In one corner was a tumbled bed, covered, pillows and all, with a dark calico quilt. There was one uncluttered deal table, spread with a few common dishes and a tin or two; there were three or four rough wooden chairs; a big box, heaped with a strange medley of cooking utensils and women's outdoor wraps; a mantelshelf, littered with odds and ends; and a kitchen range, into which a woman, with her back turned to me, was throwing a few coals from a battered shovel.

"May, 'ere's a liddy to see you," brusquely announced my guide. The woman turned, showed in hand. My eyes sought her face wistfully, imploringly, for the one gleam of hope left. But the last flicker died as our eyes met. No subtle voice of nature cried in my heart: "This is your mother; you are of one flesh and blood." She was a tall, thin woman, who might once have been pretty, even ladylike looking in better days, but there was hardly a vestige of past beauty remaining, though in years she was not really old. Her scanty, grizzled hair was pulled carelessly back from a lined forehead. Her small mouth had a fretful drop; slightly open, it showed that one front tooth was gone. The cheeks were hollowed in, the well-cut nose sharpened, the complexion of the uniform, faded gray most fashionable in Easel street among those who were not overboard. She wore a rusty black dress, and a colored cotton handkerchief was tied round the thin throat instead of a collar.

My tongue clove to the roof of my mouth. It seemed physically impossible to tell her who I was, to ask her if she were not my mother. But they were both waiting for my explanation. I had to speak. "I—I hope—" A few lame words had come stammering, when the elder of the two broke in. "If you're one of those district visitors, why, I can tell you as I told the last one, that you ain't wanted here," she said, acidly, with a rather better accent than the girl's.

"I—my name is Cope," I stammered. "At least, I always thought it was until to-day."

Still she stared at me, with little, if any, awakening comprehension in her eyes. I blundered desperately on. "Perhaps, if you don't know what I mean I may be a mistake after all. But Lady Cope is dead. I was brought up to believe her my mother, and now—" Suddenly the woman's pale face changed and reddened with a vivid flush. The small fire-shovel she had been grasping slid out of her hand and fell to the floor with a metallic crash.

"My golly!" she gasped, "it's Jenny!" A faint shiver ran through me. I was not even "Shells" any more. I was "Jenny."

"I heard to-day that—that—" I faltered. "I could not go on. But she took up the words with a shy, awkward sort of eagerness as if she were half-afraid of me; while the girl stood by, wide-eyed and dumb in bewilderment. "Did they tell you the whole story? Did they tell you who I was, and all?"

"Sir Roger Cope told me that you were—my mother," I said, dully. "Well, I never. He told you that! And after Lady Cope making me swear I'd never breathe a word to a soul so long as I lived."

"Oh, ma, it ain't true, is it?" cried

Rheumatism...

is Uric Acid in the blood. Unhealthy kidneys are the cause of the acid being there. If the kidneys acted as they should they would strain the Uric Acid out of the system and rheumatism wouldn't occur. Rheumatism is a Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills have made a great part of their reputation curing Rheumatism. So get at the cause of those fearful shooting pains and stiff aching joints. There is but one sure way—

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Hold your tongue and mind your own business," was the sharp answer; and I felt, rather than saw, the founce of her poor skirts and the toss of her tousled head that the girl gave.

The woman looked keenly at me, her face still flushed and excited, half-suspicious; but she did not take a step nearer.

"I don't think Lady Cope meant me to be told," I answered, choking back a sob. "But Roger knew from the first. Mother—Lady Cope only died a few days ago, though it seems a long, long time."

"You heard to-day, and you came straight here to see me," said my newly-found mother, reflectively. "Well, that was very good of you, my dear, but why did you let me know a better house for you to come to. But I haven't had any luck. To-day, get the young lady a chair. Dear me, I wonder now if you'd let me make you a cup of tea."

She still spoke to me as to a stranger of another class from hers, a visitor who must be entertained. She was nervous, and suddenly she became a pathetic figure in my eyes, though I had no stirrings of love. Perhaps this was unnatural, hard-hearted. I can not help that, for I must paint the picture truly.

I could have screamed or broken into hysterics as To-day rather sullenly placed a chair for me; but I almost fell into it.

"Is it possible that this is my sister?" I forced myself to ask. "Your half-sister," was the quick reply, as if there were relief in responding to definite questions. "After Lady Cope adopted you—it was hard enough to part with my only one, I can tell you, my dear, but why did you let me know a better house for you to come to. But I haven't had any luck. To-day, get the young lady a chair. Dear me, I wonder now if you'd let me make you a cup of tea."

So I had been sold for a price! was the thought that darted through my mind. But I was silent, listening.

As she went on there was a loud noise in the passage outside the door. The handle rattled. I started and turned round. What was to come now?

CHAPTER IX.
Home, Sweet Home.

A big, black-eyed girl in a coarse blue dress, with a large hat trimmed with feathers, bounced into the room, but paused at sight of me. This, I was sure, was my other half-sister. She was older than "To-day," quite a young girl in appearance, and she was so full of thinking herself pretty. No doubt she was a beauty—for Easel street. "I didn't know there was company," she remarked, bridling.

"It's a wonderful thing," happened, Fan," said the mother of us all. "This young lady—I never told you before my daughter by my first husband was alive—but it's so. And here she is."

The poor, faded creature spoke as if she were half-ashamed, half-proud of the startling revelation.

"Laws!" said Fan. Then, giggling: "She seems to have done pretty well by 'erself."

"She was adopted by a grand lady, a lady of title," answered the elder woman, with emphasis. "Things were different with me in those days. I was poor, goodness knows; but her father was a gentleman, if he had come down in the world, and he knew how to treat a woman. Yours brought me to this, as I was telling her when you came in."

"You never pride us a call before," said Fan, still laughing with a certain jealous defiance.

"She never knew who she was till to-day," said our Father, sharply, defending me from the innuendo. "I do hope, my dear," she continued, turning again to me, "that her ladyship left you well off! It's a pity you had a right to expect. And though, perhaps, I shouldn't say it, it would be a comfort if you could feel inclined to give us a little lift from time to time. For that we'd expect you to come often, or—"

"I've just six pounds in the world," I interrupted, impulsively; "nor shall I have any more till I've earned it. And I've even lost my home."

For an instant nobody spoke. "That's bad," that is bad," said my mother, gloomily, at last. "What a shame. Can't anything be done? Can't you go to law?"

I shook my head. "Lady Cope's nephew comes into everything." He was her husband's cousin as well, and has the title. No will was made, and I have no chance at all. Besides, I wouldn't fight him for the money if I could."

"Well, I don't see why!" exclaimed my mother. "I'd fight him for all I was worth. Your friends—your friends—would have a lot of grand friends—would pay the costs. You'd get something. But there, that's your father all over! It's wonderful how blood tells. He was on his beam-ends when he came to my mother's house to lodge, poor fellow, for he'd been unfortunate—everything had failed. But he was a gentleman. And he looked at things different from any man I ever saw. I didn't pretend to understand him. He had no relatives with some money; but when we were at our worst, and he'd try for lack of medicine and proper food, he wouldn't let me go to them. 'Let me die,' says he. 'I'm no more good to you or the baby. It's better I should die than they should know what I've sunk to.' Now, it's the same thing with you."

"What sort of fellow's the heir?" enquired Fan. (She pronounced it "hair.") "Is he young or old?"

"Over thirty," I answered. "Ow, not past the marryin' age. Couldn't you 'ave set yer cap at 'im? Then it would be bin all right. Jest like the stories in my 'Love' novelettes."

I shuddered. I fear perceptibly, for her face hardened and she tossed her head, with its wild profusion of dark locks. I had never before distinctly murmured something about "folks that were too stuck up to live."

"What are you going to do?" asked my mother. "I—I don't know," I almost sobbed. "Six pounds won't go far."

"No, indeed," I admitted. "You'll live with friends, I suppose, till you get something to do—governessing, or—or a lady's companion."

"I'm afraid I haven't anyone among the old friends who would take me in; no one, at least, that I would ask."

"There it is again. Just your father's pride. How it does bring back old times! I used to get cross enough with him till he'd rid me of the house, like as not, and stop away for hours."

My poor father, whom I had never known! My heart warmed to him; and I wondered if he cared for me in his freedom from the bondage of this so-called world; if he could see and feel sorry for me?

Quickly my thoughts traveled on to possibilities. To stay with my mother and her two daughters did not seem to be among them. Yet, with six pounds between me and starvation, what other way was open?

HOUSE OF STANLEY.

FIRST MAN WHO BORE THE NAME MYSTERY TO OLD CHRONICLERS.

Family settled in Derbyshire before the Death of Edward the Confessor. Name Made Famous in Reign of Edward the Third—The Present Earl Was Once Governor-General of Canada.

Who the first man was that bore the name of Stanley is a mystery that has baffled the most industrious of the old chroniclers, but it appears tolerably certain that the family was settled at Stoney in Derbyshire before the death of Edward the Confessor, and subsequently became allied with the Norman Ancestors. It was not until the reign of Edward III, that the name was made famous by John Stanley, whose prowess at the battle of Poitiers was remarkable even on a day of great deeds. The family tree may then be said to have been planted by this daring and successful soldier, whose next exploit was a combat with a French knight who won him his bride. After Poitiers, Stanley's hardest struggle was at Shrewsbury, a battle that had special significance for his race, for there Northumberland was slain, and amongst his forfeited lands the kingdom of Man was bestowed by a grateful Sovereign upon his trusty and well-beloved lieutenant. Sir John married the heiress of Lathbury, and thus became possessed of Knowsley, Prescot, the seat of his descendants ever since.

For several generations the family is less prominent in our annals until we come to Sir Thomas Stanley, who married a sister of Warwick, the king-maker. He was one of the few supporters of Richard Crookback who managed to keep his head on his shoulders, and eventually to get safely out of the clutches of the tyrant. Whether it was Sir Thomas, or his brother William, who placed the "Crown of ornament" a step ahead after Henry's death, is not certain, but the victor's manner of rewarding these noble brothers who had risked their lives for him was remarkable. Sir Thomas was rewarded with the earldom of Derby, and his brother William was executed for alleged complicity in the conspiracy of Perkin Warbeck, and banished to confiscate his estates, a step that was only a prelude to King Henry VII. The earldom of Derby, it should be explained, had long been merged in the Crown. It was first bestowed by King Stephen on Robert de Ferrers, who led the men of Derby at the battle of the Standard. Nevertheless historians have agreed to consider Sir Thomas Stanley as the first earl.

It was the last of the earls of Derby, who was the last of the nobleman's jester, enough for Henry to hear, "Tom, remember Will," whereat the monarch turned pale, so the story goes, and hastily took his departure. The earl was a cultured man and saved his family from ruin. He was also diplomatic and appeared at the Court of Edward IV. with both roses entwined in his helmet. His second son, Sir Edward Stanley, fought at Flodden, and it is to him the last words of Marston are addressed.

Of the succeeding earls the fifth, whom Spencer personated as Amyntas, died of a mysterious illness, possibly due to poison, and his brother, who was his successor, had been so long abroad that it required a lawsuit of several years' standing to constitute his family that he was the rightful heir. James, the seventh holder of the title, surmised the Great Earl, was a brave and noble Civil War hero, and his daughter, the Countess of Derby, was a woman of high rank and a determined host of Roundheads for three months was considered as great a feat in her time as the defence of Mafeking in our own day. In "Fevers of the Peak" Sir Walter Scott represents her, the Countess of Derby, as a woman of high rank and a determined host of Roundheads for three months was considered as great a feat in her time as the defence of Mafeking in our own day.

"What's the matter, Hercules?" Joe asked, as the former paused in his arduous work of cleaning the Augean stables. "I was merely longing for the horseless age," replied Hercules.

pointing him an extra Knight of the Garter, an honor hitherto reserved for princes. Nor did his countrymen miss the opportunity of paying him homage. A great banquet at Liverpool was amongst the compliments showered upon Lord Derby, and this was followed by a review of 11,000 Volunteers at Knowsley—the Earl was far-seeing enough to perceive that a great future lay before the much abused citizen soldiers. Then the Rupert of debate settled down in peace to complete his translation of Homer's Iliad, but the country could not allow him to plough his lonely furrow too long, and soon he was back in the political arena, making the whole country laugh at his humorous and maddening policy. His last administration closed in three years by his illness and resignation, and he died in 1869.

Lord Stanley, afterwards fifteenth Earl of Derby, had the unique experience of being a member of a Cabinet presided over by his father. He was the first Secretary for India, and later as Foreign Secretary it fell to him to draft the terms for settling the Alabama claims. In 1870, as Lord Derby, he married the widow of the second Marquis of Salisbury, for whose sake, it is said, he had remained single three and twenty years. From the Disraeli Cabinet, in which he was Foreign Secretary, Lord Derby retired after the Russo-Turkish war, strongly disapproving Turkish war.

The present Earl, born in 1841, has had a wide experience of public life. After holding the posts of a Lord of the Admiralty, Financial Secretary for War, and subsequently Secretary for the Colonies, he was President of the Board of Trade in 1886, and two years later went out to Canada as Governor-General, returning in 1893. He has been Lord Lieutenant of Lancashire since 1897.

It has already been shown how the Earl of Man came into the possession of the Stanleys. On the death of the eleventh earl, it passed to James Murray, Duke of Atholl, the grandnephew of the seventh earl. In 1763 the "interests and privileges" of the historic island were sold to the Lords of the Admiralty for £70,000, and in 1806 sovereignty of the island was purchased by the British Government, and what privileges remained were bought in by the Crown twenty years later.

Frightful Dangers of the Bath.

The London Lancet, which has for many years been engaged in the noble work of protecting the humanity from the dangers that keep continually springing up, comes forward with a timely warning against too much bathing. In the spring when people's underclothes begin to stick to the bath, the danger is particularly seductive. People who can go for a week in the winter without bathing frequently desire when the weather warms up to plunge into the water. This condition moves The Lancet to say:

"Too much bathing is harmful, as it tends to maceration of the skin, the bath of the epidemics, which is too frequently removed, and occasionally probably too rapid a proliferation of the cells of the malpighian layer."

Let people who are in the habit of giving themselves up to the pleasures of the bath pause and consider. It is doubtless a serious thing to bring on maceration of the skin, and the bath of the epidemics, and we shrink in dread from one who carelessly went about with a proliferation of the cells of the malpighian layer.

It is fortunate that The Lancet has pointed out the danger in time to head off an epidemic of the trouble mentioned, and we have no doubt that the warning will be in most quarters, be gladly heeded.

Burns in Germany. The speech delivered by Carlyle at the dinner given to Allan Cunningham at Dumfries, in 1831, has been unearthed by John Muir from the report of a contemporary newspaper, and it was worth unearthing, solely for the reference made in it to a communication which had recently passed between the speaker and the then idol of his literary and philosophical worship, says the Literary Digest.

For in the course of the remarks with which he prefaced his proposal of a toast to the memory of Robert Burns, Carlyle told his audience that within the last two months he had "learned from Goethe, the greatest living German poet, that the works of our immortal bard are under translation in Berlin, so that foreign countries will speedily be as happy with them as ourselves." Whether the translation was completed and whether Carlyle's anticipation of the "happiness" of the German reader of "Willie Brewed a Peck of Malt" in the language of the fatherland were realized we cannot say. But that we meet with no further reference to it in any Carlylean writings suggests that it may have proved a little disappointing.

Unhappy about the Youth. Burke once obtained a very early picture of the great artist, Reynolds. Calling on the great artist, Burke submitted the work as that of a young student who sought advice from the master. Reynolds had a long look at it, and then asked, "Is the painter a friend of yours?"

Burke replied in the affirmative. "Well," replied the great man, "I really don't feel able to give an opinion. It's a cleverish thing; but whether it is of sufficient promise to justify the young man in adopting art as a profession I cannot say."

Political Fences.

"The political expression 'keeping your fences fixed,' said an old campaigner, 'is due to a remark once made by Senator John Sherman.'"

"It was at a time when the senator had amassed the most of his fortune. He had a farm near his home town, and while preparing to drive out to it one afternoon he was accosted by a book agent, who labored hard to sell one of his books. Mr. Sherman was not in a mood to make any such purchases, and he finally silenced the man by saying: 'I can't afford to buy your book. It takes all my money to keep my fences fixed.'"

"In reality Mr. Sherman referred to the fences on his farm, but some of his political associates, hearing of the remark a few days later, took it up at once and made a political phrase of it. It was first confined only to the state of Ohio, but it has now become so common that no one ever takes the trouble to wonder where it originated."

STANLEY AVE WALK LAID

had offered to take $1,050, but the Finance committee preferred to have it taxed.

BOARD OF WORKS.
Chairman McKeough, of the Board of Works, reported as follows:—

That the request of the Board of Health re depositing tin cans on the Delahanty lot, Con. 2, Chatham township, be granted.

That D. W. Crow be allowed $5.75 for the two pieces of sidewalk that he built on Emma St.

The payment of a number of accounts referred to the Board of Works at the last meeting was ordered.

That 11-2 acres on Water street be purchased from Nancy Waddell, for $250, and one acre on Victoria Ave. be purchased for $250, from T. A. Smith. These lots are to get earth for filling purposes.

The report was adopted.

In reply to a query from Ald. McKeough, as to why the weeds were not cut, Ald. McKeough said that the Engineer had been instructed to have all weeds cut and all places reported to Ald. McKeough had been attended to.

The places Ald. McKeough called attention to were the Brooks lot on Cross St. and Inches avenue.

In reply to Ald. Fleming's query as to why the bad cement walks laid last year had not been rebuilt, Ald. McKeough said that the Board of Works were in communication with another person. The work on Grey street, it was decided to do by contract. Blight & Fielder offered to do the work for 9 cents, but no one has been closed with as yet.

In reply to Ald. Fleming's query as to what was being done with Harvey street, where two rigs had stuck in holes, Ald. McKeough said that incessant rains didn't make good roads. There was 70 feet of mud around this part of the country and the Board of Works were trying to do the best they could. The rains coming down gave the Board of Works little chance. Two men had been hired to fill holes, but owing to the rains they had been stopped. Citizens would soon have to do something for the streets. Ald. McKeough was glad to see that some residents were for brick pavements. Supt. Jones' scheme for graveling the roads would cost $6 or 70 thousand dollars.

If the council passed a by-law in accordance with the scheme, there would be a scramble of property owners on streets not mentioned in the by-law to have their roads gravelled. The Board of Works would be at their hands full keeping the water off the streets and looking after the many miles of sidewalk in the city.

In reply to the query of Ald. Mounter, Ald. Taylor said that the gazette whistle had not been placed in position at the waterworks station because Supt. Jones refused to allow it to be attached to the boiler. He had seen the water commissioners, but they had done nothing in regard to giving permission. Supt. Jones claimed that the whistle was used ten pounds of steam and, at a time when the engineer was forcing high pressure.

Ald. O'Brien said that they had one of these whistles at Sarnia which could be heard eleven miles.

Ald. Fleming was surprised at the stand Supt. Jones had taken. He had promised to give it a trial. He had promised to get on their knees to the superintendent and the Water Commissioners.

THE PLANET ALWAYS AHEAD.
In reference to the query of Ald. Waddell as to why the communication from Christ Church vestry board had not been read, the Mayor said that he had intended to read it, but he never published in The Planet. The Mayor thought that any communication so addressed should not be given to the public till it was read at the Council Board. The Council meeting was the time and place for the reporters and public to learn the council's business, and for that reason he did not read it.

Ald. McKeough said he wasn't satisfied to have this or that man's measuring sidewalks. The city had an engineer and the ratemakers took it for granted that he would do their part. They anticipated considerable traffic over the street to the pen and they wanted a good road.

Ald. McKeough said that the C. P. R. had purchased property at the head of Murray street, outside the city limits also, and they were going to move their hog pens there. He advised seeing the C. P. R. and asking them if they would be willing to do anything towards paving the street leading to their pens.

THE CITY AND THE COUNTRY.
Ald. McKeough asked that the city agree to pay all the cost of the walk on Stanley avenue past the jail and that the county be asked to pay for all the walk on Seventh street. The county agreed to pay for half the walk on each street, but as debentures couldn't be issued for the Seventh street walk, the walk would have to be paid for out of the general fund, unless the plan proposed by Ald. McKeough were adopted. Debentures could be issued for the Stanley Avenue walk past the jail.

On motion the city clerk was instructed to write the county council

Summer Clothing And Hats

Big Reductions

We are clearing out summer wear now at large and uniform reductions. It's a happy chance for men of all ages and for parents with families of boys to clothe.

Men's and boys' straw hats of every kind and quality are now selling here at half price. Months of wear ahead, but you can't pay us more than half for any straw in the house.

All distinctively summer clothing—men's unlined coats and suits, boys' washable sailor suits, men's wash vests—everything that belongs to warm weather has a straight fourth lopped from the price.

Splendid choosing; remember it is a whole summer stock that's reduced. And the sooner you come the wider the choice. Clothing doesn't stand still when reduced like this at the height of the season.

THORNTON &amp; DOUGLAS, In Liquidation

and ask them if they were willing to pay for the walk in this way.

Ald. Taylor thought it odd that the law should allow the county to benefit over ordinary citizens. He thought the county should pay for all the walks.

On motion of Ald. Waddell, seconded by Ald. McKeough, the letter from Christ Church Vestry Board was read.

THE SEWER TENDERS.
On motion of Ald. McKeough the sewer tenders were opened.

There were only two tenders. Richard Stevens tendered for the Kirk St. sewer at $74 and for the Delaware and Van Allen avenue sewers at $140.

Horn Bros. tendered for the Allen and Delaware avenue sewers at $800.

On motion the two tenders of Richard Stevens were accepted.

THE STANLEY AVENUE WALK.
Ald. Waddell said he was sorry any friet had arisen over the Stanley avenue sidewalk.

The Board of Works were unanimous as to the course the walk should be laid on. They had instructed the city engineer to lay the sidewalk on the street lines at present used. At the crucial moment the Mayor had intervened. He had done so in a summary manner and had given no notice to the parties nearest concerned. In consequence of the preemption order of His Worship, fences had been broken down and now the walk was partially laid through the cemetery. The Vestry Board protested against the work going on, but no attention was paid to the protest.

It would like an expression from the council that the statutory eight days' notice be given and a story of proceedings be ordered.

Ald. Waddell moved that the engineer be instructed to order the work stopped till notice was served on the Vestry of Christ Church.

Ald. Taylor—What were the complaints. You have told us what the Board of Works have done. Now tell us what the trouble is.

Ald. Waddell—The old street line was partially laid through the cemetery. It was necessary that notice should be given and a by-law passed. This was not done.

Ald. Taylor—I understand that the land was given as a cemetery and that when it ceases to be so used it reverts to the Crown.

The Mayor—Who are the trustees of the property.

Ald. Waddell—I think Judge Woods is one.

The Mayor—Why then should we pay attention to a notice from someone else?

The Mayor—Some years ago the council passed a by-law that the sidewalks should be laid a number of feet from the street line. The true line of the Stanley avenue was brought to my notice some years ago when I bought my home. We searched a whole day and couldn't find the street monument. We finally found it in the graveyard. The property has, of late, been an eyesore. M. Wilson, K. C. and Judge Woods are the trustees of the property.

Ald. Waddell—I don't think you are right.

The Mayor—I don't make statements unless I can back them up. The church can't dispose of the property. The minute they attempt to do so, it reverts to the Crown. In order to carry out the by-law, it was necessary to build the walks along the street lines. Ald. McKeough said he thought it better to straighten the street.

After the meeting of the Board of Works it was decided to follow the diverted street lines. I thought it my duty as mayor to see that the by-law was carried out and the street beautified and put in proper shape. I am glad to see the street as it is in view of the fact that a permanent work of 30 or 40 years' durability is being put down.

Ald. McKeough said that originally he was of the same opinion as the Mayor but Fred. E. Quinn and other residents of the street had requested that the diverted street line be adhered to. The Board of Works had endeavored to carry out their wishes as they were the most interested. He favored Ald. Waddell's motion and he thought the action was rather high-handed. The engineer was under the control of the board of works and Ald. McKeough said that he thought that the engineer should have carried out the instructions of the Board of Works. It would give the Engineer an opportunity another time to disooley.

The Mayor—I wish you had notified me to attend the meeting of the Board of Works. I thought you weren't in possession of the full facts of the case.

Ald. Taylor—If the street hadn't been straightened now, it was only a matter of time till it would have been. The lot was an eyesore to the neighborhood. The fence would have fallen down anyway. It didn't need much pulling.

Ald. Waddell—There were cattle in there.

The Mayor—Yes, and they were getting out daily.

Ald. McKeough—The city had no right to take down the fence without notice.

Ald. Taylor—I don't think the Mayor's action high-handed.

Ald. McKeough—Oh, that is all right as the Mayor has gallantly offered to assume all responsibilities and pay all damages.

There was no seconder to Ald. Waddell's motion and the matter dropped.

The street sprinkling by-law and the by-law re the grandolithic walk on the north side Stanley avenue were passed.

Ald. Waddell presented the following resolution—

Whereas strikes on the part of large bodies of workmen are of too common occurrence and instances are innumerable of the deplorable results following upon it in the way of loss of property, means of subsistence to the families of the strikers, and not infrequently loss of life, leading to the calling out of the military or the taking of other strong steps, tend to cause embittered feelings on one side or both.

It is therefore deemed by this council highly expedient in the public interest that a law be passed to deal with and direct the settlement of differences arising between Corporations holding public franchises and their employees.

Be it therefore resolved,

That the Council of the City of Chatham do petition the Dominion and Ontario governments to enact legislation providing for compulsory arbitration where differences arise as aforesaid.

That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the three members for Kent (two to each) for presentation to their respective governments.

The aldermen thought that there was no need of the city meddling in the matter as the city was not directly interested or likely to be. None of the councillors were opposed to the motion.

On the suggestion of Ald. Mounter, the resolution was laid over.

The following accounts were passed:—

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Folsom's Nervine, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nervine cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nervine is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you.

Roderick—Mrs. Twist learned how to play poker so that she could keep her husband's head at night.

Van Albert—How did the scheme turn out?

Roderick—Well, after she learned the game she organized a poker club among the women and goes out every night herself now.

Charming Summer Resort

Two interesting little books of the illustrated folder type have been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System, one being entitled "Songs of the Nipissing," and the other "The Eastern Coast of Lake Huron." The illustrations are very numerous, are of all sizes, and are scattered through the pages to elucidate the text and appear to the eye just as the story told in the letter press does to the mind. The prevailing note in these little works, upon which a profitable half hour may be spent by the reader, is the craving for change, and there can be no doubt that men and women who live in the stress and strain of to-day, and feel the throbs of advanced and advancing civilization, do require change—complete change for mind and body. The haunts described here minister to the intellectual as well as the physical health of the dweller in cities. The physical exercises that can be obtained among the woods and waters create and promote a perfectly sound bodily condition, while the multifarious life that is to be found, stimulates the intellectual faculties and prompt inquiry and investigation into nature's ways as they are revealed in her flora and fauna. The maps which are in these pamphlets enable the visitor to the wilds, to realize his bearings at whatever part he may be, and the general information given enables him to economize his time and spend it to the best advantage.

GRANDEURS OF PEAK AND CHASM

The natural attractions of Colorado are by no means confined to her mineral springs resorts, her splendid parks, nor to her beautiful mountain lakes. In whatever direction the traveler may choose by rail, if he go to the mountains, his journey is a succession of glorious scenery, varying in the characteristics of placid beauty grotesque ruggedness, an awe-inspiring grandeur. Up the cañons, by heavy grades and difficult curves, are stupendous walls rising perpendicularly or gradually sloping back toward the hills, and yet again leaning forward above the chasm, as if threatening to come tumbling down, projecting rocks that hang suspended over the train as it glides smoothly by it is a panorama of wonders and grandeur, such as belong only to the Rocky Mountains.

To enable persons to reach Colorado resorts the Union Pacific has placed in effect during the summer months very low rates.
