GENUINENESS!!

The fact that this great Dissolution Sale is so absolutely genuine is what is contributing to its great success. The hundreds of customers who have been daily visiting this store in such increasing numbers can surely testify to the genuineness of this great sale and to the savings made in their purchases.

Stop a moment and consider the business side of the proposition. A partner withdraws from the business and naturally wants to take his money with him. In the ordinary course of business it would take considerable time to pay him off. We agree to pay him in thirty days and are in consequence compelled to take extraordinary means to do it. That's the reason in a nut shell for this GREAT SACRIFICE SALE.

GEORGE FRY MEETS INSTANT DEATH AT BLONDE'S MILL

His Head Was Caught In The Elevator Shaft and Was Almost Severed from His Body --- Distressing Scene

George Fry, a carpenter, who for the last few years has been a valued employee of the Blonde Company, was instantly killed in the factory this afternoon at half-past two o'clock. His head was caught in the elevator shaft and was almost severed from his body.

No one means to know definitely how the accident happened. All of the men in the vicinity of the accident were busily engaged in their work at the time, and did not notice anything until the alarm was given by the man on the elevator. Drs. Bray and Sullivan were called, and at the time of going to press the coroner was considering the advisability of holding an inquest.

It appears that Mr. Fry worked on the second floor. On this floor there is a gate where the elevator comes up the shaft. The only reasonable explanation of the accident is that the unfortunate man must have been standing at the gate and looking down the shaft when the elevator came up with terrific force. The floor of the elevator then struck him and pinned him in between the elevator and the wall of the shaft. The other explanation is that Mr. Fry was on the elevator coming up, intending to get off on the second floor. If this is the case he must have put his head out too soon and the same result followed. At any rate, his head was caught in the shaft, and he was instantly killed. It was a ghastly sight when greeted the eyes of the workmen when they found him shortly after the accident happened. The floor was literally covered with gore. Besides the injury to his head, his side was badly bruised and torn.

The deceased man was much respected both by his employers and his fellow employees. He was a man about 32 years of age, and was married just a year ago. His widow survives.

The accident has cast a gloom over the employees of the factory and the people of the city generally who knew the unfortunate man.

CALL FOR CLEAN MEN

Rev. Mr. McCosh Points to Canada's only Hope For Reform

Exposed Craft and Dishonesty should be an Object Lesson

The blackened pages in the political history of Canada to-day brings the blush of shame to honest men's faces.

"What we want in our legislatures and offices of power are men of integrity and high moral attainments. The cry is going up now in our land for such men; and we must pray that the cry will grow and strengthen until we may go out and cast our vote, free of all party prejudices, for honest, moral men; and when we can place such men in power in our land we will be rid of the practices of graft and dishonesty which have so recently been exposed."

The above is in part, the remarks of Rev. Robert McCosh, rector of Christ Church, during the course of an eloquent and forceful sermon Sunday morning, in which he took his text from John, chapter 13, and verse 13, "You call me Master, and I am."

At the evening service the reverend gentleman continued his remarks on this text, and referred to the pure, noble and unselfish life of Christ as the Master. It was to be deplored that a greater effort were not made to follow His example by the rulers of the land to-day.

Large congregations were present at both morning and evening services.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Roy Mason, the 14-year-old son of Wm. Mason, Wellington street, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon while visiting relatives in the country. The little boy, along with several others, was playing in the barn. One of them had a pitch fork and was running it along on the floor when suddenly it came in contact with the foot of the little Mason lad. The prongs of the fork penetrated through the foot in two places. The accident was a painful one, but it is expected that in a short time he will be well again.

POLICE COURT

Saturday must have been a particularly bad day for unquenchable thirst, to judge by the line-up of celebrants in Police Court this morning. All pleaded guilty, and all were penitent faces when they faced the Judge.

The following is the list of the inebriates who were taxed one dollar and costs, five dollars in all, each, for the privilege of over-indulging—Johnson Small, an Indian, Hugh Cameron, A. Sturgeon, and John Gates, an English immigrant.

It is usually a safe plan to be polite when approached by a stranger.

RED MAN IN TROUBLE

Too much Fire Water lands Johnson Small in the Toils

He and a Colored Man Create Big Row on Murray Street

Residents on Murray street were startled Saturday night about eleven o'clock by the piercing screams of an Indian woman, whom an Indian and a colored man were apparently dragging into a lumber yard near by. In the excitement, someone sent in an alarm to the Fire Department. The Brigade responded quickly, but when they arrived they could find no one. The woman and the two men had apparently disappeared.

Later, Officer Dodson made an investigation, when he came upon the trio. The colored man made his escape, but the policeman was successful in rounding up the Indian and the squaw. They were placed in the cells for the night. The Indian was quite intoxicated, and he said that the squaw was a cousin of his.

This morning in Police Court he gave his name as Johnson Small, and pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly on the public streets. He was fined $1 and costs—$5 in all, and was given the option of taking fifteen days in jail. He said that he was employed by Mr. McGarrin, and that he would await that gentleman's arrival before paying his fine.

The squaw, whom it seems was not intoxicated, but was only trying to get her erring cousin to come home, was released.

A SONG SERVICE

A very large congregation attended the song service held in the First Presbyterian Church last evening. These services, which are given at different intervals in this church, are very popular and a source of delight to not only the members of the congregation, but also to the general public. The splendid choir was at its best last evening, and added very much to the interest and profit of the service.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. MacGillivray, during the course of the evening, gave short addresses on several of the psalms, which were afterwards sung by the congregation. Two psalms were sung as anthems by the choir, and a selection was given by the male quartet.

An Editor's Troubles.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Frederick Older, managing editor of The Bulletin, and prominently connected with the graft prosecution, was arrested here on Saturday evening on warrants sworn to by Luther Brown, who charges Older with criminal libel.

Stabbing at Brantford.

Brantford, Sept. 30.—In a fight between two Polacks in an hotel Saturday night, one was stabbed and is in a critical condition. The other is under arrest.

The Whole Story

As one journeys through life one's shoe necessities are pretty apt to increase, so that the purchasing power of every dollar must be used to its utmost. That leads to but one conclusion—namely,

"Our Footwear."

We have decided that the only way to increase our business in these days of competition is to give more for the money than "the other fellow" does. Our orders are placed early and are made large enough to obtain for us every possible price concession, and our profits are figured on the basis that "many a mickle makes a muckle"—or, as it has been stated, "many a nickle makes a dollar."

Our Footwear, therefore, you will find to be small profit to us—large profit to you.

An auto touring party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Eckhardt and Mrs. (Dr.) Gray, of St. Catharines, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pike, of this city, have returned from a very enjoyable trip to Windsor by way of the lake shore route.

Mr. Pike says that the trip was one of the most enjoyable he has ever experienced, and that Mr. Eckhardt's four-cylinder Buick car made the eighty-five mile trip in four and one-half hours. The Essex Fair was on Thursday while they were passing that place, and he says that the W. E. & L. S. Railway was doing a big business in carrying people to the town.

CHINA ANNIVERSARY

Caretaker Thomas Stephenson and wife, of the 24th Regiment Armouries, Friday night entertained a large number of friends in honor of the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. About thirty-six guests were present, and a most enjoyable time was spent in music, cards, etc. Many beautiful presents testified to the esteem in which the popular couple are held.

The encore prizes were won by Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. J. B. Algar.

ANOTHER POINTER.

Berlin affords another pointer for Stratford in the use made of the park in that town as an attraction to bring in visitors. Between 250 and 300 picnic parties, great and small, were held in Victoria Park, Berlin, and it was estimated that from 17,000 to 20,000 people were attracted from out of town. Special trains had been run from Toronto and intermediate points, from Hamilton, Barrie, Walkerton, St. Marys, Galt, Guelph and other places. Stratford's park is improving fast, but the out-of-town excursion business waits to be worked up, as the only excursion from out-of-town this year to the Park was from Palmerston. They were so well pleased that the Park Commission should feel encouraged to try to organize a scheme to attract others here.—Stratford Herald.

This should be a pointer for Chatham. We have in this city a Park which is probably not equalled in any other city in the Dominion as a picnic ground or a field for sport. This is yearly recognized by the employees of the Pere Marquette, who have for several years chosen Tecumseh Park as the spot on which to hold their big outings. Others should know of Chatham's superior advantages in this respect, and if a little advertising were done the result would be good for the city. This is a matter which the Board of Trade might well take up at their meeting Friday night. Chatham should be known far and near as the summer resort city of the Dominion, and an ideal spot for summer gatherings. Chatham has possibilities in this respect that both Stratford and Berlin cannot hope to have owing to their less favorable natural advantages.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

By the platform adopted at the Liberal convention held in Ottawa in 1893, and on which Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to the country in 1896, we were to have the tariff reduced, and free trade as in England put in force, points out the St. Thomas Times. The public debt was to be reduced, and there was to be a general reduction of expenditures. Public lands were to be sold only to actual settlers, and speculators were to be barred. The senate was to be reformed and brought into harmony with the principles of popular government. The right of the

and his colleagues, who obtained office by false pretences.

In his incisive way Mr. Borden is bringing these things to light, in many cases quoting evidence given in court, which cannot be contradicted. Sir Wilfrid himself may be above suspicion, but that he has allowed his subordinates to plunder the public chest is undoubted. If he did not know of the rascality, he has been remiss in his duty.

The town of Orillia will make a profit this year of nine thousand dollars from its light and power plant. This is according to a statement presented to the Orillia Council on Monday evening. The actual revenue from municipal enterprises, including waterworks, is thirty-four thousand five hundred dollars. The receipts and expenditures of the waterworks department just about balance. Owing to the increased profits the Council has been enabled to reduce the tax rate from twenty-five to twenty-three mills.

TOM GROVES IN IRELAND

He Sees a Manson Campbell Fanning Mill at The Exposition

Meets a Man From Sandwich—Pretty Irish Girls

The following is a letter received from Tom Groves, before the one published in Saturday's Planet:

Dear Planet,—I have heard from a friend of mine that he is enjoying my letters and tells me to keep on. My trip to Ireland is one long to be remembered. I booked through Ripon, through Leeds, and changed at Manchester, and took the London and Northwestern for Holyhead. Wales is a beautiful country. We run through Chester, got a glimpse of the Cathedral, and then pass within a short distance of Hawarden Castle, the seat of the late, the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, nestled in among a number of very large hills. We also pass a very beautiful summer resort, Colwyn Bay, within a very short distance of Landudno, the most famous in Wales. When we reached Holyhead, our boat was waiting—a very fine craft—and a large crowd got aboard. I had an idea that it was going to be rough by the way the boat was acting at the pier, and the strong wind blowing. It was very choppy when we got outside, and the game commenced. It was a lively time, and when the spray came over the boat and it started pitch nearly every one on board was sick. It got very rough. But, however, we all made Dublin about 8.30 p. m. It takes about half an hour to run up the Liffy and get ashore. I had a little trouble about getting a hotel. Every place seemed to be full. However, things came my way. I gave the clerk a good tip and he said he would get another fellow to double up and I could have his room, but they are charging three times more than the ordinary rate. They pull your leg in great style. In the morning I was up bright and early. I was a little disappointed in Dublin. I expected to see a finer city. Of course it was very nice, but I have always heard Dublin cracked up to be a fine place. Sackville street is a very fine street, in fact it is the main street, and if it was only asphalt instead of stone blocks it would show off to better advantage. There are some fine old buildings about College green. The city on the whole seems to be a very busy place. I was very much pleased with the Exhibition and put in quite a lot of time in the several buildings, but when you come to the Canadian exhibit everyone takes off his hat. It's in everybody's mouth as the best. I was very much pleased myself. It was simply grand. I went to the office to sign my name, and the man in charge looked at it. Chatham, Ontario, he said. I replied yes. He said I am from Sandwich. So he said let me introduce you to the Chief. So the head push asked me into his private office and we had a long talk about the Exhibit and how the people all enjoyed it. One thing pleased me very much, that was the Manson Campbell fanning mill. It was shown and attracted a great deal of attention. It would be a grand idea if the Government of Canada could see their way clear to put on an exhibit something similar to the one in Dublin at the Toronto Fair, because I am satisfied it would be an education for the majority of Canadians. I had a few hours to spare and went to Carrigrohane races. They were good. There are things that look odd to a stranger in Ireland, the janting cars, etc. The Irish girls are fine and good looking, but I had better stop there, because I have to return to Chatham, so I bid farewell to Erin, and sailed for old England, which has got them all beat. My next place will be London. With my kind regards to the citizens of Chatham, I am,

Yours sincerely,

TOM GROVES.

ANYONE CAN PREPARE THIS

People Taking Less Patent Medicines and More Home Remedies

Relieves Kidney Trouble, also tells how to find out if They are Affected

A well-known authority states that there are more cases of kidney trouble here now than ever before, while recent reports show that more people succumb each year to some form of kidney disease than any other cause.

When there is sickness, examine the urine. Rheumatism is only a symptom of kidney trouble. It is nothing more or less than excessive uric acid in the blood, which the sluggish, inactive kidneys have failed to sift out, leaving it to decompose and settle about the joints and muscles, causing intense suffering; frequently resulting in deformity; often reaching the heart when death ensues.

Pains across the back, frequent, painful and suppressed urination, and other symptoms of weak bladder are not the only signs of kidney trouble; many cases of stomach disease, headache, pain in the heart, inactive liver, etc., are but symptoms; the cause of which can be traced to feeble, clogged kidneys.

The physicians for the insurance companies always carefully examine and report on the condition of the urine. It is certain sign of sickness or health of the human body.

A test of the urine should be made by every man and woman at least once each year. A simple test is to void a small quantity of urine in a bottle or glass and let it stand over night; next morning, if there is a reddish, brick-dust sediment, or white, fleecy substance present, either consult some reputable physician or take a good vegetable treatment. The following prescription is recommended highly in these cases, and if desirable the sufferer can mix it at home. Any good prescription pharmacy has the ingredients, which are harmless and inexpensive: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. Where any of the symptoms enumerated above are present, good results are sure to follow immediately the use of this simple prescription.

Ursuline Nuns Expelled.

Gravelines, France, Sept. 28.—The Ursuline nuns were expelled from their residence on Thursday by a detachment of troops, assisted by gendarmes.

A large crowd gathered and expressed their displeasure at the proceedings. They threatened the nuns, and the gendarmes were powerless to disperse them.

Not an uncommon experience was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmet, of Shuler, N. S. Doctors failed, still a quick cure was found in Catarrh Cure. Notice this statement. I have been a most dreadful sufferer from bronchial trouble and catarrh. On damp days I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines, but didn't get permanent relief till I used Catarrh Cure. I have strengthened my throat, cured my cough and made me entirely well. Eastport, L. I., Sept. 28.—Although unable to read or write, Llewellyn Jenkins, who died at his home here last night, left a fortune estimated at more than $100,000.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

POLL TAX IS COMING

Officers will soon Commence Their Rounds for Collection

Young Men of the City May Form an Anti-Poll Tax Club

Will the young men of this city submit to the obnoxious poll-tax this year once more. This coming week the police will commence their annual rounds to collect this tax, which is to the authorities themselves a distasteful duty, and now if ever is the time to take united action.

Phillip Bowyer, M. P. P., and Herbert S. Clements, M. P., our parliamentary representatives from Kent, have both openly declared themselves as being opposed to this hounding of young men for a paltry dollar, which Mayor Stone admitted in Council last winter was almost entirely eaten up in fees before it reached the city coffers. His Worship put himself on record at that time as believing that the poll-tax should be wiped off the books, and all of the Council agreed with him.

It has been suggested that the young men of the city get together and hold a meeting to discuss what is best to be done in order to have the tax removed. If the matter were fought out in the Courts, the uselessness of the tax might be proven. Certainly the young men are foolish to submit to this tax if they are not legally bound to do so, and many of them would be willing to contribute more than the dollar to defeat the measure.

It is, therefore, up to the young men themselves, and it should be no difficult matter to form an Anti-Poll Tax Association, and subscribe funds to aid in proving that the tax is neither beneficial nor necessary, but a nuisance.

The two big engines were reduced to junk by the impact, but the worst damage was done to the smoker, which was telescoped so completely by the baggage car that every seat was thrown out of the coach. Every occupant of the smoker was badly injured. The passengers in the other day coaches and two Pullmans were thrown from their seats, but not seriously injured.

Engineer Galbraith was burned to a crisp. The injured were taken to the Glendale, W. Va., and Bellaire hospitals.

General Manager Fitzgerald, who was in the neighborhood on an inspection tour, and General Superintendent W. C. Loree of Wheeling personally superintended the rescue work. Great difficulty was experienced in removing the injured passengers from the wrecked smoker. Work was slow because every movement of the debris caused someone to shriek with pain, the victims being entangled in a mass of timbers and twisted iron.

Theater Company's Experience.

Among the passengers on the wrecked train were the members of Richard Carlos Spring Chicken Opera Co., which was to have played at Wheeling yesterday. All the members of the company escaped serious injury, except Alfred Belby, the musical director. It was found necessary to amputate his right arm, thus ending his career in the profession. He was riding in the smoker and was found with a heavy timber tightly binding him by the arms.

Engineer's Terrible Ordeal.

Engineer E. A. Lipscomb of the passenger train was caught beneath his engine, and it was found impossible to remove the broken iron from his body on account of the way in which one of his legs was entangled. Escaping steam across his face made it impossible to administer anaesthetics, and as a result physicians amputated the leg as he lay there conscious.

Despite the burning steam and the pain of the operation he bore it bravely.

FLEET TO MANOEUVRE

London, Sept. 30.—Under the supreme command of Lord Charles Beresford, the combined home, Atlantic and Channel fleets will leave Portland about Oct. 14 for the autumn manoeuvres, which are being conducted in the North Sea this year, and will be somewhat similar to those held in the spring off the coast of Portugal. The greatest interest is being taken in this gathering of England's first line of defence, for while the usual fleet manoeuvres and exercises will be carried out, the main object, it is believed, is strategical, to teach the officers what the Admiralty would expect of them in case of war with Germany. The program is being kept a strict secret and journalists will not be invited to accompany the ships.

Lord Charles Beresford will be accompanied by no less than nine admirals, and the big ships of his fleet will include 25 battleships, 14 armored cruisers and 10 protected cruisers, with a fleet of smaller vessels, including torpedo-boat destroyers numbering over 60.

The naval attaches have not been given any information, and will not be present, except the Japanese, who as Great Britain's allies have in recent years been the guests of the officer in command on occasions of the kind.

The meeting of the fleets and so many officers is also to be taken advantage of to test the suitability of Cromarty, on Moray Firth, as a place of anchorage for big ships and its eventual adoption as an auxiliary naval base to that being developed at Rosyth, on the Firth of Forth.

To say little and perform much is the characteristic of great minds.

GETS YEAR IN CENTRAL

Frank Rawson, alias F. E. Brown of New York, is Sentenced Insulting Language Case is Aired in Police Court To Day.

Frank Rawson, of Newark, New Jersey, alias F. E. Brown, of New York city, charged with pilfering Mrs. Snell's boarding house, came up for sentence this morning. He was arraigned on two charges of theft, and was sentenced to one year in Central Prison on each, the sentences to run concurrently.

No evidence was taken, as the prisoner pleaded guilty to both charges. Mrs. Snell's boarding house, came up for sentence this morning. He was arraigned on two charges of theft, and was sentenced to one year in Central Prison on each, the sentences to run concurrently.

The troubles of Mrs. Fogler and Mrs. Mary Lapp, two residents in the Ebenezer Block, were aired in Judge Houston's Court this morning. Mrs. Fogler claims that Mrs. Lapp called her daughter a low name, while the latter says that the daughter called her a vile name first, and this was the cause of the row.

During the taking of evidence, Mrs. Fogler admitted calling her daughter a pup and a brat. Judge Houston severely reprimanded her on this, and remarked that she could hardly expect other people to have proper respect for her daughter if she called her hard names herself.

Judgment was reserved till next Monday.

A MEN'S MEETING

The men of the First Church will hold their inaugural meeting tomorrow night, when they will be addressed by Hon. R. F. Sutherland, Speaker of the House of Commons.

His subject will be, "Church and Country." He has recently returned from the West, and it is expected that his address will be a very interesting one. All the men of the city are invited to this meeting.

POLYGAMY AMONG CHURCHES

Taking as a basis of his remarks H. John, the speaker, Elder R. C. Russell, in the L. D. S. Church, laid special stress on the admonition of John that we were not to receive any preacher into our churches nor assist him on his way who denies the doctrines of Christ.

"The Bible," said he, "emphatically denounces as a criminal the person who teaches or preaches polygamy. Jesus taught monogamy—one wife only—as a doctrine for all nations, and in Matt. 23, 19-20, He sent his ministry into all the world, and as they went to all preach the same thing and see that there were no divisions among them; and as long as they would do so He would acknowledge them by what is known as the Pentecostal blessings.

In 1890, Joseph Smith organized the L. D. S. Church, which from the beginning at home and abroad, has denounced polygamy in the strongest terms, claiming that what is a vice in Canada cannot, by an all God, be considered a virtue in India, Abyssinia, Utah or any other country.

Then, as though this were not enough, the Methodists and Baptists in one of the fair cities in dear old Canada loudly advertised the great Abyssinian High Priest, Father Cheizell, of the Coptic Church, as one of the worthies to fill their pulpits, while at the same time he publicly admits his church allows him three wives, and he would not deny having them, but claimed that he was likely to be deposed by his church because he was engaged to a lady in the Northwestern States, to whom he would soon be wed, and for exceeding the limit he would lose his job of preaching. He also stated from the pulpits that the church of which he is a leader denies the messiahship of Christ. Then, according to H. John, this man is nise the messiahship of Christ. Then, why not come out boldly, and from our pulpits denounce such men, rather than receive them and thus sanction their evil deeds.

A woman is never as proud of her brains as she is of her beauty.

DR. J. R. BATTISBY, PH.D.

The Esteemed Pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Which Celebrated its Anniversary Yesterday.

Yesterday. Much credit is due Miss Mary Brackin, the talented organist and directress. Miss Brackin has just recently assumed charge of the directorship of the choir, and her first attempt at anything of a special nature won the approval of everyone. Miss Beatrice Smith, the soprano soloist, and Mr. Garnet Brackin, the basso, both recently engaged, were appreciated very highly in their solo and chorus work.

In the morning two anthems were rendered by the choir, "Great and Marvellous," and "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." The singing of the choir was full and spirited, and earned the appreciation it received.

Besides these two numbers, Miss Gertrude Potter sang very sweetly, and Mr. Brackin gave an able rendition of "The Door of Hope." Both of these solos were rendered with much artistic execution and telling effect.

In the evening two anthems were given, "Great and Marvellous," being repeated, and the other one being "Let Us Now Praise The Lord Our God." Miss Beatrice Smith sang also, "The Day is Ended," and a duet, "Lord I Have Loved The Habitation," was rendered by Miss Smith and Mr. Brackin. This last number was one of the treats of the day. It will be repeated at the concert to-night.

The annual tea meeting will be held to-night, and it is expected that it will be a fitting climax to a most successful anniversary.

Residents on Queen street complain of two defects in the pavement which are being left unrepaired, and are liable to become worse unless something is done towards fixing them up before the cold weather sets in.

The first is a hole which was cut in the pavement at the corner of Queen and Richmond streets by a surveyor, and which has only been filled in with loose material, and the second is a big bulge in the pavement at the corner of Queen and Grey streets. This latter was caused, it is said, through the Gas Company's workmen forcing a main under the pavement. The citizens want to know when the Board of Works intend to have these matters attended to.

CHURCH IS PROSPEROUS

Splendid Anniversary held in St Andrew's Church Yesterday

Fine Addresses and Excellent Music—Large Crowds Attend

Very large congregations attended the anniversary services held in St. Andrew's church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Sarnia, occupied the pulpit morning and evening and preached two eloquent and inspiring sermons. Mr. Patterson is a very able preacher, and his remarks were listened to with a great deal of interest and profit.

The church was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms and ferns. It is safe to say that it was one of the most successful anniversary ever held by this church, and both pastor and congregation are to be congratulated.

The work of the year has been most satisfactory, and the church stands now upon an even stronger basis than ever before. The year has been marked by unanimity of thought and action, and this combined with untiring and earnest effort has combined to establish an enviable record.

The special feature of the services yesterday was the excellent music provided by the choir. During the last few weeks, several changes have been made in the personnel of the singers, and the improvement was clearly noticeable to the congrega-

HOME LIFE IN LONDON

FACTS LAID BEFORE THE INTER-NATIONAL HOUSING CONGRESS.

Right Hon. John Burns Gives Statistics—London Making Progress—Advocates Larger Dwellings—Improved Public Taste—Suggests Ideal City—Gaiety, Comfort and Cleanliness.

Right Hon. John Burns, president of the Local Government Board, gave a number of very interesting facts concerning the people's home life, so far as it concerned the houses in which they lived, to the four hundred delegates who are attending the International Housing Congress, at the Caxton Hall, London.

The Minister said:—

Housing Statistics.

"Notwithstanding what the pessimists and Jeremiahs might say, London was making progress, and it had done more in that direction during the last decade than in the previous century. It was not true of London to-day, as Charles Dickens said of London sixty years ago, that 'the very crutches on which the ruins are propped are decaying,' or that the poor of London lived in 'brick boxes with slate lids.' But at the present time in London, 1 in 7 of the population lived at the rate of two to a room.
In Manchester, it was 1 to 6, in Edinburgh, 1 in 3, and Glasgow 1 in 2.
He could not understand how so intelligent a race as his countrymen, who, whilst leading in all the primal virtues and aboriginal qualities, should be content with that condition of things. The population, per house, in England, where they lived in cottages, was 5; in London it was 8; in New York, where they lived in tenements, 20; in Paris, where they lived in flats, 26; in Berlin, where they lived in barrack dwellings, there were 46 per house. Battersea, with one-tenth of the population of Berlin, had more houses than that German city. In New York there were 350, 000 dark rooms, and 2,300,000 persons lived in 82,000 tenement houses. It was possible with larger dwellings to have a better sanitary effect than in a small cottage, where there was a lack of discipline, cleanliness, sobriety and no sense of order. The more people were multiplied on a given area, the more did they increase phthisis, tuberculosis, personal uncleanliness, immorality, and were deprived of the amenities and comforts which only a good home could offer.

Fashions in Houses.

"London was more than sufficiently supplied with lodging-houses for young men, the vast proportion of whom ought to be married, and he was glad to note that that class was diminishing. Out of 93,000 male beds provided, only 21,000 were occupied last February. In England and Wales there were now 500,000 empty houses, London having 50,000. That was due to the improved taste of the people which housing reformers had developed.
Modern suburbia would no longer live in basement houses. Thirteen thousand families left the inner ring for the outer ring of London per annum. The greatest boon to London had been the City Council, with its parks, its housing, and, above all, its cheap, popular, rapid tramway system.

"The taking of the tramways over the bridges did more to revolutionize the mind of the industrial people than twenty-five years of previous housing agitation. The development of that system must go on, until London owned 1,000 miles of tramways, and had a maximum universal fare of one penny, with halfpenny stages, and longer loan periods for borrowing purposes. Any Government or Congress that put anything in the way of the London transit system was making a blow at the leisure, pleasure, and treasures for which a subsequent generation would never forgive them. He hoped the West End of London would cease carping at the tramways, and lose their prejudice against that valuable adjunct to housing. At the present moment they in the West End were suffering self-inflicted, costly, and deadly restriction for the foolish way in which they had opposed the passage of the tramways over the bridges.

Mr. Burns' Ideal City.

"He would like a city with the gaiety of Paris, the alignment of Germany, the comfort of England, the picturesqueness of Venice, the cleanliness of Amsterdam, and the climate of Italy. He was pleased to see the excitement of town life was being revealed in its true light, and that the day was coming when people would prefer 30s. a week and life in the free country air to 35s. a week for a town life. The immobility of the unskilled laborer was a most depressing and unfortunate matter.
That was one of the reasons for his antipathy to relief works in towns.
They had a tendency to anchor men to town life, with bad conditions. He was inspired to try his 'pioneer hand' on a 'housing bill' for next year, but he pressed the hope that the individual movement would not slacken. They must stimulate the individual, infuse the life, and encourage the township."

Army Pigeons Abolished.

For some reason as yet unexplained the British War Department has abolished its carrier pigeons.
Many of the birds were presented by patriotic pigeon owners, and under the direction of Capt. Allatt interesting and valuable experiments have been carried on. The birds have now been sold and the lofts destroyed.
In Germany and France the numbers of pigeons kept for military purposes was never greater than now, and the English naval authorities still maintain their lofts at Portsmouth and Devonport, under Lieut. Barrett.
As it will be many years before small, scattered sections of an army can carry their own wireless telegraphy apparatus, it is difficult to assign a reason for the action of the military authorities.

BIG ENGINEERING FEAT.

Water To Be Transported 375 Miles to the Western Gold Region At a Cost of Fourteen Million Dollars.

It is expected that the next few years will witness the development of the most remarkable system of water carrying in Western Australia that has ever been seen. The plan is to repeat, again and again, the successful engineering work that is now supplying the great gold mining region of Coolgardie, far out in the desert of the interior, with plenty of water brought from the coast mountains, 325 miles away.

The Western Australia desert contains perhaps the largest waterless regions in the world. When David W.
Carnegie made his second journey across it, several years ago, he traveled 800 miles without finding anything that suggested a permanent source of water. For many days he saw nothing but prickly spinifex covering the sand ridges, which were 40 to 50 feet in height, and extended east and west, parallel with one another. He wrote that he crossed more than 80 of these sand ridges in eight hours' travel.

Great Thirst Region.

But under repellent sands lie the great gold resources of Western Australia that are now supplying more of the metal every year than all the rest of the Commonwealth. When the rush of miners to this great thirst region began, the eager search and the frantic strife for water were sometimes tragical.

The Government sought for underground sources of supply, but most of this water was found to be so impurated with salts that it was unfit for use. Engineers finally devised a plan of water delivery from the western coast mountains, about twenty miles to the south of Perth, which involved the largest pumping scheme that has yet been carried into operation in any part of the world.

The works were completed only two years ago, and they are attracting all the more attention because the population that is paying $14,000,000 for them is still small.

The amount of rainfall in the basin of the Helens river, which flows through the Canning Hills south of Perth, is about thirty inches a year.
It was found that by impounding the river a supply of 5,000,000 gallons a day would be available for transportation into the interior.

Pipe On Surface.

The problem was to transport this water a distance of 350 miles, for it was proposed to extend the aqueduct to the Kalgoorlie diggings, east of Coolgardie, and this has been done.
Mundaring, the place where the Helena River was dammed, is only about thirty feet above the sea, but the surface of the desert to which the water was to be carried is about 1,650 feet above sea level, so the water was not only to be transported as far as from New York city to Lake Erie, but to be lifted during the process about 1,300 feet.

The water which collects back of the dam in the Helena River forms a fine lake seven miles in length. The large delivery pipe that carries the water is not buried in the soil, but lies on the surface or in open trenches, for there is no danger of freezing.

There are eight pumping stations, a little more than forty miles apart, and the water is kept moving up the long but very gentle incline. It finally reaches a reservoir many miles west of Coolgardie, and from this point gravitation takes it to the 454,000 inhabitants of the Coolgardie mining camp and to the Kalgoorlie region beyond.

Only a Little One.

London, Sept. 23.—(C. A. P.)—The Manchester Courier says that Premier Bond has made a great fight on behalf of his country's laws, but it will be small consolation to him to know that, whether or not Sir Edward Grey's action be constitutionally correct, he would hardly have dared act so strenuously had one of the great colonies been a party to the dispute.

SILVER CITY ROMANCES.

La Rose, the First Discoverer, Makes $32,000, Gets a Sweetheart, and Settles Down.

The first man to be made wealthy out of Cobalt was John La Rose, the Rockingham contractor with the Kamming and Northern Ontario Railway construction gang. He climbed up the steep rocks at the head of Cobalt Lake to get hardwood for his forge fire. While wielding his axe, he slipped, nearly chopping his foot, but making his fortune. The keen steel glanced off the log on to the rock, scrapping away the dirt, and lodging against a protruding leaf of pure native silver. He did not stake the first claim, however, but imparted the information to somebody else, who registered their "discovery" before La Rose. However, the blacksmith was quick enough to get the property on which he first found the silver, and which is now the location of the valuable mine which bears his name. He sold a half interest in the mine to the Timmins Syndicate, for $5,000, and subsequently sold the other half for $27,000. This netted him $32,000 to the first discoverer, not a big sum, in comparison with the fortunes which have been made since. But La Rose was as poor as the average habitation before his find. His tastes were modest, and the $32,000 was to him a big fortune. It is related that the blacksmith was invited to the heart of a French-Canadian ladies, and is now living in a little village near Quebec City, still pursuing his calling. Oblivious of all the millions which are now being made out of the mineral wealth which he discovered, he lives a contented, happy life, as the village blacksmith.

The Indian Tradition.

The story of a still earlier Cobalt romance is as follows: For centuries the Indians roamed the rocky banks of the Nipissing Lakes, utterly unconscious of the stupendous wealth they were tramping under foot. When at last they received an inkling of the valuable deposits, jealousy of the white man's inroads on their territory prevented their disclosing the secret of the district. It became a tradition among the redskins that he who discovered the position of the silver deposits to any man with white blood would meet death before the next new moon.

Tradition Fulfilled.

Twenty-seven years ago, it is stated, the white men knew in a general way of the existence of deposits of the valuable metal near Lake Temiskaming.
All the bribes that could be offered the redskins were not sufficient to induce them to impart the secret.
The beautiful daughter of a big chief became the wife of a half-breed near Fort Temiskaming, and told him the secret hitherto sacred to her full-blooded ancestors. It is said that she was stricken with the "white plague," and died within two weeks. Then the half-breed, crazed with grief, hid himself in a settlement on the Spanish River, where he promised a dealer in liquor to direct him to the silver lodes in consideration of copious drafts of intoxicants. The agreement was that the trip was to be commenced the following morning. That night, however, in a paroxysm of drunkenness, the half-breed was overtaken from his cane into the river—another fulfillment of the tradition. In 1873 lumbermen heard of the silver, and sent experts through the country to make an examination. They were brought back with a discouraging, and no development was attempted.

Book Romances to Come.

Cobalt, with its incalculable rock-bound wealth, will probably be the basis of many a stirring book romance of the future. Already Dr. W. H. E.
Drummond, author of "The Habitant," and other works that have made him a leader among Canadian writers, has established himself in a pretty cottage on the Drummond Mines property, on Kerr Lake, about four miles south-east of Cobalt town. There, overlooking the active and hot springs, he has written a novel, "The Habit-

The Dominion King's Printer.

Dr. S. E. Dawson, King's Printer, and Comptroller of Stationery for the Dominion, who has recently been honored with a C.M.G., is one of the best known and most honored of the public writers of the Dominion. He is a son of the late Rev. E. Dawson of the Reformed Episcopal Church. Born at Halifax on June 1, 1833, and educated at McCullough's school in that city, he early entered the book-selling and stationery business in connection with his father. Afterward the firm became Dawson Bros. In 1871 Mr.
Dawson aided in the founding of the Dominion Bank Note Company, and one year later of the Montreal News Company. In 1881 he was appointed a delegate to Washington to confer on the subject of international copyright.
He was long a member of the Board of Protestant school commissioners in Montreal, and for a time was President of the Board of Arts and Manufactures of the Province of Quebec.

No Hindu Cremation In B. C.

Unable to secure permission from the Canadian officials to cremate their dead according to their religious beliefs, the Hindu residents of Western Canada are sending their dead to Seattle, Wash., for cremation. After preparing the dust is scattered over the sea. According to the Hindu rites, the dead body must be covered with brush, and burned until not even the bones remain. The Canadian officials are having considerable trouble with these Orientals, who are now flooding British Columbia. The latter are again taking up the matter with the officials in regard to the erection of a Hindu crematory, but there is small chance of success. They say that the cremation system used in Seattle is not in accordance with their religion.

SURVEYORS ARE SHOT

Six Wounded in Alaska by Guggenheim's
Guards

Surprised by Ambush in The Canyon—Fusillade
of Bullets

Valdez, Alaska, Sept. 23.—Six surveyors and workmen were shot and wounded in a clash between the Guggenheim forces of the Copper River & Northwestern Railroad and the Alaska-Nome Railway. All the wounded were men of the latter company.
The party was making a preliminary survey for the Nome Railroad, which is planned from Valdez to the summit. They had advanced 100 yards up the canyon when they were surprised by an ambush of the Guggenheim men, headed by Edward Hassey, once a United States marshal.
Hassey hailed the surveyors and ordered them to stop, saying his men would shoot if any further advance was made. The surveyors believed Hassey was bluffing and continued working. They were met by a fusilade of bullets. Deputy marshals are searching for the assailants.

WANDERING DOUKHOBORS.

In Danger of Being Run Down by Trains Near Kenora.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—The O.P.R. authorities to-day wired to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. F. Borden, pointing out the condition of affairs in regard to the Doukhobors who are at Kenora and Whittemouth. The telegram reads, in part:

"They are now proceeding on their march. With the sparse population around Lake Superior, the cold winter coming on and the danger resulting from walking along the tracks, action should be taken at once."
"We offered to take them back to Yorkton, but they persist in their march along the track."

Premier Roblin has stated that the government can take absolutely no part in the affair.

NOT OBSTRUCT NAVIGATION.

Wreckage of Quebec Bridge Lies In Deep Water.

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Engineer Cowie of the harbor commissioner's staff, in replying to people interested in St.
Lawrence navigation, who expressed fear that the wreckage of the Quebec bridge would be detrimental to the early opening of navigation in the spring of 1908, states that the steel work is in such deep water that it cannot possibly make any difference or interfere with the passing out of the ice, neither can detached parts be moved and become dangerous, as the whole mass of steel is solid and may never be moved. The shore portion might collect some ice, but it can cause no trouble.

A Ferryboat Tragedy.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 23.—A special to The Advertiser from Mobile says that Leslie Vermille, a white boy of Mobile, and 15 negroes were drowned in the Tombigbee river at Mc-Craw's Shoals on Thursday, while crossing the river in a ferryboat from the Government's works, where they were employed. They were on their way to dinner when the accident occurred. About mid-stream the little boat drifted from control of the men into the rapids and soon capsize.
Two of the negroes in the boat scrambled on top as it overturned, but the other occupants were thrown into the swift current and were drowned almost instantly. On account of the strong undertow, rescue work was impossible. Late in the evening two of the bodies, both negroes, were recovered, and the others are being dragged for.

Indemnity Not Discussed.

Tokio, Sept. 23.—(C. A. P.)—It is authoritatively stated here that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Commissioner Ishii did not at their recent meeting touch upon the question of an indemnity for the losses which the Japanese incurred in Vancouver, and the restriction of immigration. They discussed only the measures to be taken to prevent a recurrence of disorders and the maintenance of the existing treaty. The consul-general at Ottawa has since had under consideration the various claims made, but the particulars are as yet unsettled.
The Japanese Government is appointing an extra official to supervise immigration affairs.

An Enquiry at Once.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The Department of Marine has ordered a commission of enquiry into the collision of the steamer Hurons and Mongolian off Amour Point, in the Lower St. Lawrence. The necessary subpoenas will be issued to-day, and the enquiry will open in Quebec on Monday, under the presidency of Commander Spain.

Testimonial For Palma Victors.

New York, Sept. 23.—The executive committee of the National Rifle Association has decided to open a public subscription to secure a testimonial to the members of the American rifle team which recently won the Palma Trophy at Ottawa.

One Hundred Drowned.

Malaga, Spain, Sept. 23.—A renewal of the rain yesterday is causing fresh inundations and a suspension of the rescue work. A bread famine is feared.
The bodies of about 100 drowned persons have been recovered near here.

Strike Gas at Calgary.

Calgary, Sept. 23.—After boring for natural gas for the last 14 months the efforts of the Natural Gas Co. were rewarded on Thursday by its discovery in paying quantities. The strike was made at 2,800 feet.

CANADA IS ADVANCING

WILL BE WORLD'S CHIEF BREAD BASKET FOR YEARS TO COME.

English Writer Eulogizes the Dominion—Prosperity and Progress Everywhere—Optimism the Prevailing Spirit—Climate is Splendid—Country Has a Great Destiny—Its Possibilities Are Enormous.

"The spirit which animates Canada is—whisky." That was what a dour, sour Presbyterian minister said in the train one day in sharp retort to a remark of mine. He was no doubt right in implying that many Canadians drink too much. Club life in Canada, for instance, exhibits a degree of hospitality which leaves an Englishman aghast at the number of cocktails and "gin fixes" and whisky sours which he is expected to consume before sitting down to a meal. I can't all events pay the country this tribute—that all the while I was there I never saw a single person drunk in the street.

But, to get back to the main point, the spirit of which I had spoken to my gloomy Presbyterian friend as animating Canada was not a magnificent optimism which one finds everywhere throughout the Dominion to-day. The Northwest has it naturally in fullest measure, for it is the Northwest, with its 200 million acres of the richest wheat land in the world, which has set Canada's foot upon the ladder of Prosperity and Progress. But the feeling that the country is going rapidly ahead exists from end to end of this immense land, of whose size and possibilities few English people have any conception. Why, the Canadians are only just beginning to realize it themselves.

A Great Country.

Between the great lakes and the Rockies was believed to stretch a barren territory, of no use to anyone but the fur-trader, the tinker of whose dog-trains across the prairie was the only sound that ever broke the stillness of that vast, waiting land. The selfish fur-trader did all he could to keep up this belief, just as the greedy Devon cod fishers hindered the settlement of Newfoundland. But the delusion could not last for ever. The "barren" land was killed, these and there, and proved to be richer in black vegetable mould than any other land on earth. Then the railway began to bring settlers. American farmers began to cross the border. The world found it was wealthier than it thought, and Canada began to realize that she had as good a chance of becoming a great country as her smaller neighbor, the United States. . . . It is safe to prophesy that Canada will be the world's chief bread-basket for a great many years to come.

It is this certain, which ensures everyone a good living in return for labor, and makes everyone feel, to use an expressive American phrase, that Canada is it. The good fortune which has come to the Northwest reacts upon the east, whereas the Northwest at present draws most of its supplies from the Canadian spirit. Of all with whom I talked I can recall very few who were not looking on the bright side.

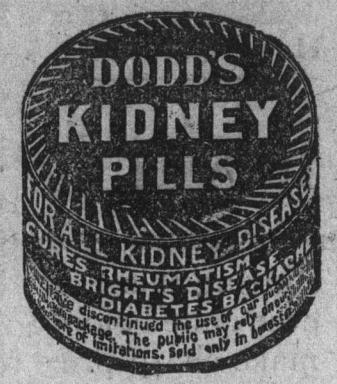

Naturally these immensely energetic, optimistic people are annoyed that England should know so little about their country. Nearly everyone I talked with on this point told me about the letter written from the Lord Chamberlain's office to a British peeress who wished to "present" a girl from Montreal. It told her ladyship to communicate with the United States Embassy!

Canada Has Choice.

Yet another popular anecdote tells how an old gentleman in England met a man from Ontario, and said he had a son out there, but later on corrected himself, and said it was Oregon he meant. That sort of stupidity is particularly galling to people who cannot be worse mistaken than to be confused with, or even likened to, the inhabitants of the United States. It is hard to believe that there was ever any real movement in favor of Canada joining the American Union. Lucky for England that the McKinley tariff killed it dead! Canada has now the choice between remaining in the British Empire and ultimately becoming its leading state, or of founding another Republic on the American continent. The spirit of nationalism, of which the Canadian clubs in all large centres are a significant sign, is too strong to admit of any manner destiny. The question is, Are we going to offer Canada any inducement to take the former course?

What the Pink Tape Did.

The United States consul of Birmingham, England, tells this story: "A farmer noticed customers in the grocery shop picking over the celery to find the best looking bunches, and it occurred to him to take more pains with his celery and see if it would bring a better price. He bought some pink tape and tied the celery with it in neat bunches and found that it sold quickly and brought more money. After that he marketed all his produce in the most attractive manner, putting labels on his fruit basket with the name of the variety, wiping his apples, selecting and labeling his bunches, always bringing his fruit and vegetables as if they were worthy of distinction. The fame of his produce grew, he enlarged his business and became a wealthy man, all because of the pink tape on the celery."

TRAIN CREWS FUGITIVES.

Attacked by Friends of Victims of Railroad Wreck.

Bakersfield, Calif., Sept. 28.—In the wreck of a South Pacific work train, which collided with a freight near here on Thursday night, eight Greeks were killed and twenty others injured. The crews of the trains are now fugitives, hiding in the hills to save themselves from the enraged comrades of the victims, who attacked the trainmen.

THIS TONIC BUILDS UP.

Many medicines, stimulate, break down, leave you worse than ever. Ferrozone is different—it's a blood-former, nerve-strengtheners, a body builder. Pale anemic girls are given color and vigor. The tired and sleepless are strengthened and restored. "Better than all tonics," I found Ferrozone," writes Mrs. F. F. Castleton, of Woodstock. "I was completely run down, cheeks were bleached, lips white and had every sign of anaemia. Ferrozone added to my weight, gave me strength, ambition and good health." Nothing better; try Ferrozone yourself. 50c. per box at all dealers.

Police Officer Drunk.

St. Catharines, Sept. 28.—Another lively meeting of the police commissioners is now expected owing to the second police constable, within three weeks, having been, it is said, found drunk on duty. On Thursday, it is alleged, William Groff, whose appointment was strongly opposed by Judge Carman at the meeting two weeks ago, was reported helplessly drunk in the vicinity of Welland station, Geneva street, and was taken to headquarters by Sgt. McArthur, where he was suspended by Chief Parnell, who reported the facts to Police Magistrate Comfort, secretary of the commission.

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.

That's how pain comes. We sit near an open window, get stiff neck or sore back. Perhaps cool off too quickly after exertion—rheumatism develops. Spend what you may, but money can't buy anything better than P-I-son's Nervine. It's penetrating power enables it to reach deep tissues—that's why it cures aches that all else can't touch. For outward application we guarantee five times more strength than in any other liniment. Inwardly it's harmless and as sure as the hereafter to ease at once. Don't accept a substitute for P-I-son's Nervine, which is the one great household panacea of today.

Blaze at Chelsea, Que.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The new barns and stables of W. D. Hopper at Chelsea, Que., with their contents, were totally destroyed by fire on Thursday. The loss is estimated at $15,000, with partial insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated by spontaneous combustion.

Heart Relief in Half an Hour.—A lady in New York State, writing of her cure by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, says, "I feel like one brought back from the dead, so great was my suffering from heart trouble and so almost miraculous my recovery through the agency of this powerful treatment. I owe my life to it."

QUEER LIZARDS.

These Have the Power of Spouting Blood From the Eyes.

That certain lizards have the power to emit a stream of blood from their eyes has been a tradition of the southwest from time out of mind, but many scientists have classed it with the jewel in the toad's head and the hoop snake. Raymond Lee Dittmars, curator of reptiles in the New York Zoological society, made exhaustive research to ascertain what foundation in fact, if any, there is in the tradition of the blood spouting lizards. He had nearly made up his mind that it was purely mythical when he came upon a startling demonstration of its truth. He had received a particularly fine specimen of the Mexican horned lizard and after photographing it proceeded to measure it. The result he tells in his "Reptile Book."

"The latter process," he says, "seemed to greatly excite the creature. It finally threw the head slightly upward, the neck became rigid, the eyes bulged from the sockets, when there was a distinct sound like that produced if one pressed the tongue against the roof of the mouth and forced a small quantity of air forward. This rasping sound, consuming but the fraction of a second, was accompanied by a jet of blood at great pressure."

"It hit the wall four feet away at the same level as that of the reptile. The duration of the flow of blood appeared to be about one and a half seconds, and toward its termination the force gradually diminished, as noted by a course of drops down the wall and along the floor to a position almost under the spot where the reptile had been held. The stream of blood seemed to be as fine as horse-hair and to issue from the eyelids, which was momentarily much swollen. After some time after the performance the eyes were tightly closed, and nothing could induce the lizard to open them. Within two minutes after it was placed on the ground the protruding aspect of the eyeballs had disappeared."

"Most surprising was the amount of blood expended. The wall and floor showed a course of thickly sprinkled spots about one-eighth of an inch in diameter. There were 103 of these spots."

THE PAY CAR.

Its Coin Rack, Crammed With Yellow Boys, a Tempting Sight.

The good old days are gone. In these heathen times railroad men are paid by check. Of the pay car and its luxurious travels C. F. Carter writes in the American Magazine as follows:

"A metal coin rack crammed to the muzzle with three denominations of yellow boys, flanked by silver, and on the desk behind it a very large wooden tray, on which were large columns of yellow coins—d'ye ever see anything so pretty in all your life? No wonder your eyes stuck out until you could have used them for bat wings."

"And all the time an exquisitely musical 'tinkle, tinkle, clink-clink' welled up from coin rack and counter in response to the calls of the assistant paymaster. Talk about Beethoven's symphonies!"

"If it were not for that strong wire screen you could have touched that fascinating tray. For the infinitesimal fraction of a second a wicked thought flitted through your brain. Then you almost fainted as your roving eye stared down the barrel of a monstrous revolver. It was only in a rack, but it was within easy reach of the paymaster's hand and most eloquent for all that. Half a dozen of its fellows lay in the handiest places, while as many Winchester's lying on tables and settees came in strong on the chorus."

"Hurriedly your vagrant wits bustled themselves with all the Sunday school lessons you had ever learned. As your subconsciousness perceived that the head of the road's secret service department stood on the platform with his eyes intent on every man in the car, at once, while Conductor Linkenberry stood on the ground outside very much alert, with his coat tail bulging suggestively, your bosom swelled with pride over the watchful care the company had exercised to bring its honest tollers their hard earned money."

Power of the Waves.

The power of waves, says M. Bronin in La Nature, is the sum of two efforts, one dynamic and due to the orbital movement of the water particles, the other static and dependent on the height of the center of gravity of the mass raised above its normal position. Theory and observation seem to show that the total power of waves is divided equally between these static and dynamic effects. If a body of water meets the wall of a structure there is a shock, and this is most violent at the water surface, diminishing with the depth. At the moment of meeting jets of water rise sometimes to very great heights.

His System

Shippin Clark to his employer, leaving the office—Oh, Mr. System, haven't you forgotten your umbrella? It's raining. Mr. System—Can't help it. I have made a resolution to have one here and one at home to provide for all emergencies. Now, if I take this one they'll both be at home.—London Tit-Bits.

Boozing Women.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 28.—Rev. Fredrick E. Hopkins, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, went home on Thursday night both convinced and "tackered out."

All afternoon he had led a party of several men on a tour through many of the leading downtown restaurants, obtaining on what he terms "boozing women."

Following are net results: Women seen in restaurants, 463; number of women drinking liquor, 269.

A childless woman is a cheerless home. The maternal instinct exists in every woman, and when it is ungratified she is deprived of much of the happiness of life. It often happens that childlessness is due to some cause which can be removed, and often is removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The vigor and vitality which this remedy imparts to the delicate womanly organs, puts them in a condition of normal health, the lack of which is often the sole obstruction to maternity. Every woman should read Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages and 700 illustrations. It is sent entirely free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper bound volume, or 50 stamps for cloth covered. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Drank Horse Liniment.

St. Stephen, S.B., Sept. 28.—Charles Core, who has been drinking heavily for some time, went into Core's Livery Stable on Thursday night and drank a quantity of horse liniment, supposing it to be whiskey.

The mistake was soon discovered, but efforts to save his life were unavailing, and he died at six o'clock yesterday morning.

Stomach troubles, Heart and Kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the Stomach, etc.

DARKEST TORONTO.

The Making of a Pauper Told By Sympathetic Writer.

The dictionary defines a pauper as "an indigent person supported by alms." Here in Toronto the meaning might be enlarged. A pauper may be a person who works hard for his living, says a writer in The Toronto News. He may earn nine dollars a week, and neither drink, gamble or otherwise waste his substance, and yet be a pauper. If he has seven children and a wife, and pays ten dollars a month for the four rooms they live in, he can scarcely help being a pauper. They are—four certain rooms at such and cover, all told, about the space of an ordinary drawing-room. There is a departure from the perpendicular in the flooring, that, by the law of gravitation, encourages a congestion of occupants, furniture, and, most especially, any unwary visitors, towards the lower end of the incline. The walls carry out the same trend of architecture, and the ceilings harmonize. City water is obtained from a tap somewhere below. It is shared with ten other tenants of the premises, about twenty-five in number.

The certain man who lives in this particular abode earns nine dollars a week and has eight children. He is an honest, sturdy-looking chap, and his wife a bright, thrifty little creature, and it seems as though something is wrong somewhere that they have not enough to eat.

When you drop in to see them you fancy they are giving a children's party, and that all the neighborhood is present. The eldest child is only eleven, so that it is quite a task to arrange the others consecutively, for the one seven years old is taller than the one that is nine, and the one that is six is just the height exactly of the one that is eight. The two babies might be taken for twins. If it were not for a look in the mother's eyes, and the glimpse of some carefully hoarded bones and crusts, you would not come away with a choke in your throat. The youngsters have rounder cheeks and harder, straighter little bodies than many a carefully-tended, scientifically-fed child that we know. They have thickets of golden hair befitting cherubs. It seems all the greater pity they should be starved—bodily and morally.

Big families and big rents are not the only means of making a worker a pauper. There is another person, who is one because she hasn't a kitchen stove. She is a poor, lonely old colored lady that reminds you of hoe cakes and stories of the Civil War, and laundries as well as you could wish. Unfortunately she is deaf as the proverbial post, and more unfortunately, possessed of an uncertain temper addicted to sudden and violent squalls. They are harmless, but apt to prove somewhat terrifying to a timid employer, and her engagements consequently are few. Formerly she had sufficient wits to keep the ball off and hunger from the door, but the infirmities of old age have gradually overtaken her stove, and nothing but a smoking, smouldering fire can be coaxing to boil the soap suds and heat the irons. A look at her arms convinces one that she is not lazy, and her muttered invocations to that evil to descend upon the delapidated range were an ample testimony to the fact that she would rather have washed than charity. One could only believe at her, by way of comfort, that perhaps Santa Claus would put a new one in her stocking at Christmas. If any tender-hearted friend of the working woman has a suggestion as to how this particular one might be aided, would they be kind enough to let us—or Miss McIntosh at the Mission Union on Hayter street—know it.

There is a woman who works in a down town restaurant from eight in the morning until eight at night, yet the only roof she could find to cover her head was the roof of a stable. You would through many a refuse to the ladder that leads to these filthy hay-loft apartments, and wonder if White-chapel could be very much worse. The rents would probably be lower. For these two bits of dark, damp cells she paid two dollars a week. Her wages at the restaurant were three. Miss was some small ground for clemency when one of her three children was arrested the other day for taking a drink from a neighbor's milk bottle. Through the efforts of the mission workers better quarters have been found, and the child brought back from the shelter.

But there is still only three dollars a week and left over scraps from the restaurant to shelter, clothe and feed four people. The husband eats opium and deserted some time ago. It is a fight against pretty stiff odds, and a woman's equipment for fighting at its best is frail. The weapons of a mother's love will not be laid down, but the arms that hold them are easily broken. A mother's arms were not meant to hold weapons.

Some people, even, possessed of the means to accede to the iniquitous rents, are wandering about homeless. No kind of decent quarters will be let to a family of children. A certain poor widow wandered not long ago up one street of the Ward and down another, across to the east end, and over again to the west, interviewing one obdurate landlord after another, in the vain endeavor to find an abiding place for herself and her six lusty offspring. Finally she was reduced to a gruesome strategem. She took the last six, led them to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, cast them within the gate, and repaired to the owner of a vacant cottage. And when he made question concerning her progeny, her eyes dropped, her countenance shrouded itself in gloom, and her voice quivered out the reply, "I have six in the graveyard, sir." She and the six are living in the house today.

Lives on Sweet Milk.

The case of Mrs. Joseph Mailloux of Honey Lake, Essex County, puzzled physicians. She is 74 years of age and has for the past 40 years lived wholly upon a diet of sweet milk, with a little sugar. She is unable to digest a particle of solid food, nevertheless, she is able to perform all the duties of a farmer's wife, is robust and is the mother of 11 children.

A LEEDS WOMAN.

Miss Maria Goodyear, Who Lost and Regained Her Sight by Accident.

After Twenty Years.

Miss Maria Goodyear, the Leeds woman who recovered her sight in a remarkable manner after twenty years of total blindness, told the full story of her cure to a Chronicle representative the other day. "Once I was blind," she said, "now I can see. I can see you plainly, and I can see what you are now holding in your hand—a piece of calico; but I am enjoined not to sew, or read, and as yet I do neither. My blindness came about as the result of a practical joke, whilst I was engaged as a machinist for Mr. H. Conyers, in his boot and shoe factory, Great William street, Hunslet, some twenty-two or twenty-three years ago.

"I was seated at the machine just as you see me now (cutting the action to the word), when the calumny tell me. Behind was a table above which was an iron wheel winding the bobbins for the shop. I was sitting at the machine when a mischievous girl, a fellow-worker, crept under the table and tied a cord to the side of the table. It was a mercy that I was not killed. My head was not cut, but I was stunned.

"I became unconscious, and could not take food for a considerable time. For fully twelve months I could not bear the full light of day, and the gaslight was unbearable. The late Mr. Jessop, the noted surgeon of Park Square, and the late Mr. Halliday, surgeon, both attended me. I very suddenly and unaccountably lost my sight entirely. It came about as in the twinkling of an eye.

THEY KNOW HIM NOT

Toronto, Sept. 27.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Prime Minister of Canada, whose picture looks out from the newspapers of Canada with a regularity that should make him known to every resident of this great Dominion, walked the streets of Toronto this morning and few recognized him. Even the policeman on the beat failed to spot him. Bright and early the Premier was out for a stroll and on the south side of Queen street amused himself looking into the windows of the pawn shops and Chinese stores. One window before which he lingered was one where he contemplates snakes and squirrels with appreciation. At noon, Sir Wilfrid lunched with Senator Melvin Jones, and this evening with Cavithy Mulock, from where he went direct to his train for Ottawa.
