CRISP AND TO THE POINT.

Mrs. Frank Creed who has been very ill with pneumonia is rapidly recovering her strength.

December 26th is the day fixed for the marriage of a young lady teacher of Prince William, and a popular resident of Lincoln.

George E. Torrens, a son of Alexander Torrens, a former resident of this city, died at Somerville, Mass., a few days ago, after a lingering illness of consumption.

Prayers are being offered daily at the Cathedral for the success of the Church of England mission at St. John, and will be offered as long as the missions continue.

L. W. Pond and E. W. Pond, who had the contract for the handling of the corporation drive above Grand Falls, handled in all some seventy millions of logs during the past season.

Lee Spragg, who was supposed to have been drowned on the 10th of June, last by the capsizing of his canoe in the water of the Kings Co., has lately been seen in New York.

At the St. Andrew's night entertainment at Chatham, Surveyor General Tweedie recited with telling effect "Bohemian," with which he has charmed his Fredericton friends on several occasions.

Don't make any other engagement for next Monday night. Secure your tickets for yourself and family; don't forget to take the boys and girls as they will want to know about the "Making of Our Canada."

Mr. Isaac Barpee a member of the University senior class, has arrived in the city to continue his course, after having spent the vacation and autumn months at the engineering staff of the Bangor and Amosook railway.

Henry Doherty of this city, laid a heavy piece of iron fall on his foot, while at work in the Canada Eastern Railway shops, several days ago, and sustained a very painful injury. He expects to be able to resume work in a day or two.

Private James Garvie of the R. R. C. I. was taken seriously ill Sunday at his home on St. John street, and his recovery is doubtful. He has suffered at different times from severe hemorrhages, and is now attacked with heart trouble.

During service at the Cathedral Sunday evening, His Lordship Bishop King recited a letter from Dean Partridge, in which he expressed his heartfelt thanks to the members of the church, for their generous gift to him before his departure for Bermuda.

James White of this city, formerly of the Royal Gazette office, had the misfortune to cut his foot very badly, a short time ago, while chopping in R. A. Estey's lumber woods on the Tobique. He returned home on the 6th, and will be laid up for some time.

The large smoketack at Blair's wood-working factory on King street was blown away by last night's gale, and smashed to pieces. A temporary affair had to be erected this morning to allow the engine to be kept running. It will require $40 to repair the damage.

The ice, which has been running freely for the past few days, became jammed and frozen up during the night, and the river is now practically closed for the season. Unless a heavy thaw sets in before long, there will be very little skating on the river this season.

A horse attached to a sleigh, and belonging to D. McQueen, became frightened and ran away last night, and smashed up his shop on Queen street, where it had been left standing. The animal started off down street at a lively clip, and bolted for home by way of Regent street. No serious damage was done.

The Fredericton DAILY HERALD is the latest addition to the journalistic family of New Brunswick. It is the only Liberal newspaper published in the city, and will be a strong reinforcement to the Liberal cause, not only in Fredericton, but throughout the Maritime Provinces.

His Lordship's bright, fresh, vigorous and edited with marked ability.—Toronto Globe.

The residence of T. Clowes Hall of Douglas was completely destroyed by fire on the 5th inst. Mr. Hall was confined to bed at the time the fire broke out. Friends and neighbors, who rushed to the scene managed to save the piano and one or two other articles, but the greater part of the furniture was destroyed. The property was insured for $500, with Frank I. Morrison of this city.

Auctioneers Wetmore sold a rather ancient looking piece of horseflesh at public auction at Phoenix Square on the 7th. The animal, though he had drawn a milk cart about the city for nearly a quarter of a century, possessed some exceedingly strong points—points that you could hang a hat on with ease. Owing to the discouraging outlook for river racing this season, horsemen did not bid as lively for the beast as they should have done, and so it was finally knocked down to Edward Beattie, the butcher, for the low figure of $2.25.

Graham L. and L. No. 20, held their regular meeting on the 6th, when the following officers were installed by Past County Master Anderson—Worshipful Master, A. D. Thomas; Deputy Master, John Beattie; Financial Secretary, Alderman Adams; Recording Secretary, Geo. Black; Chaplain, Rev. F. C. Hartley; Treasurer, J. N. Ferguson; Director of Ceremonies, G. M. Chappell; Foreman of Committee, Jas. S. Parks.

Committeemen—O. B. Stockford, Chas. Hall, Wm. Gainer and Chas. Seeger.

Interesting addresses were delivered by the Past Master, the retiring and newly elected officers.

Mrs. Jeanie Macfarlane, of the primary school staff, St. Andrew's, who tendered her resignation to the school trustees with the intention of abandoning the teaching profession for that of music, has reconsidered her decision, and has withdrawn her resignation, says the Beacon.

Mrs. Macfarlane possesses all those qualities essential to a successful teacher, and her retirement will be a great loss to the teaching profession. She has been engaged for another term.

[Mrs. Macfarlane is a daughter of Geo. Macfarlane, of Nashwaakias, and her many friends will be glad to hear of her popularity at St. Andrew's.—HERALD.]

THE RESIDENCY QUESTION.

Active Steps being taken to bring the Matter to a Practical Result.

The University Senate, at its recent meeting, having resolved to reestablish residency at the University, appointed a committee of its members, viz., Prof. Dr. Harrison, Hon. James Mitchell, Dr. Coulthard and Dr. Murray McLaren to look over the University building and report on the accommodation, etc., it will afford to the students, with the changes necessary to be made.

The members of the Alumni Society are active in the promotion of the residency idea. They have appointed Dr. Murray McLaren, Judge Van Wart, J. A. Belyea, John R. Dunn, Geo. A. Hughes and Dr. E. D. Walker, a committee to secure funds for the purpose, and these gentlemen are about issuing a circular, asking all graduates to subscribe, one member of each class to collect from those of his own year.

Dr. Inch, the president of the University, is also co-operating with Dr. McLaren and J. D. Hazen, M.P., in the work, and they had a conference at St. John this week. It may be stated that one wealthy Alumnus has already given the committee encouragement, which makes them feel sanguine of large practical assistance in a day or two.

It is proposed that the University building be utilized for the present, but the committee hope to be able to erect a separate building for residency in the near future, and $25,000 is the sum estimated as necessary for the purpose.

We understand that a special appeal will be made to the citizens of Fredericton in an effort to increase the enrollment of the University, that the apparent necessity of reducing the staff may be avoided and the professors given adequate salaries.

"A BAND OF INJUNS"

Gave the Inhabitants of the West End a Bad Scare Yesterday Afternoon.

The peaceful and law abiding denizens of the West end were badly scared Friday for a time, and they had very good reason to be. About two o'clock in the afternoon a double team halted in front of Estey's mill, and there alighted therefrom six noble looking Indian warriors, robed in blankets and other paraphernalia peculiar to the Indian costume. They at once began to unload the contents of the sled, which consisted of stoves, hunting utensils and a complete camping outfit, and began to make themselves right at home. People thought a general Indian uprising was in order, and began to look about for means of defence. H. C. Mackay, Mr. Estey's bookkeeper, noticing the strange and apparently hostile actions of the braves, at once began to marshal the forces of the mill and make ready to meet the attack, which he thought was about to be made. Just as he had about completed preparations to resist the onslaught, one of the braves approached him, bearing a flag of truce in the shape of a written order from F. H. Estey for a quantity of lumber which was to be used in the construction of a camp at Gardie's creek for that gentleman, and which contract the Indians had secured. Mr. Mackay finding that his visitors possessed no hostile intentions, at once dismissed his force and sent them back to their work.

The Indians loaded their sled up with lumber, replaced their traps, and departed as peacefully as they had come, all unconscious of the great war preparations that had been made for their benefit.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

A New Circle Organized in This City.

Another circle of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons has been formed within the last few weeks in our city.

The circle, which has already a membership roll of eighteen, has named itself "The Ministering Circle" and has elected the following officers: Mrs. Twining, Pres.; Mrs. O. H. Sharpe, 1st Vice Pres.; Miss Nell, 2nd Vice Pres.; Miss Sayre, 3rd Vice Pres.; Miss Lou, Secretary; Miss Annie Tibbitts, Rec. Sec.; Miss Edith Gregory, Treas.

As many probably already know, the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons was only formed in New York in 1885; since that time the increase of circles, both in the United States and in Canada, has been remarkable. In New Brunswick alone there are 59 circles with a membership of 660.

The order is a moral, social or fraternal bond which binds all together being "a hand-in-hand in His Name." The object which "The Ministering Circle" has in view, is to relieve cases of need, particularly in sickness. The members will be most glad of assistance in the form of money, clothing, unmade material, groceries, etc.

Gifts will be gratefully received by the officers or by any member of the circle. Gratefully acknowledged: E. H. Wilton, $5.00; Geo. F. Gregory, $1.00; Mrs. F. P. Thompson, $1.00; clothing, Mrs. Dr. Coburn; clothing, Mrs. Robert Davies.

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Remains of the Late Stephen Glastier Interred at Lincoln Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Stephen Glastier took place on the afternoon of the 5th, from his late residence, Glenisler, Lincoln, Sunbury County, and was one of the largest ever seen in Sunbury County. People came far and near to pay their tribute to that man who was the departed octogenarian. Among those who drove down from this city were: Chas. W. Beckwith, and W. K. Allen, sons-in-law of deceased, Chas. E. Duffy, T. Carleton Allen, E. H. Allen, Charles Duffy, J. C. Allen, J. J. C. Beckwith.

Rev. G. B. Payson of this city conducted the burial services, which were very impressive.

A large number of beautiful floral offerings from friends and relatives of the deceased, adorned the casket.

The chief mourners were: Parker, Arthur and George Glastier, of Lincoln; C. W. Beckwith, W. K. Allen, J. C. Beckwith, and John C. Allen, Jr., of this city; R. A. Payne, Fred. Coombes, G. H. Miles, St. John. The remains were interred in the old Glastier family lot at Lincoln. Undertaker John G. Adams, of this city, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Miss Ida Lagrin has an elegant assortment of ladies' fancy work of her own manufacture, which will be offered for sale at the residence of W. P. Flewelling. The stock consists of beautiful toilet sets, hand painted calendars, containing views of local scenery, and a host of other pretty and useful articles. The sale commenced Friday and will continue for five days.

CROCKET UNMASKED.

The Creature who has Been Assaulting Respectable People.

Given a Dose of his own Medicine.

To the Editor of DAILY HERALD.

St.—In accordance with a Resolution of the Fredericton Curling Club, I forward you the following communication. Please publish the same in your next issue.

Yours, etc., Dec. 5th, 1895. Sec'y F. T. C. Club, FREDERICTON, Dec. 4th, 1895.

At a meeting of the Fredericton Curling Club held this date, an article from the "Herald" dated 7th November last, was read, which article reflected seriously against the character of the Club. As the article was entirely unwarranted and untrue, the president of the club, E. H. Allen, promptly gave the lie to the Editor of such paper, Mr. Crockett, by expelling him from the Club.

[A few observations regarding the above article in order. Some weeks ago the Gleaner made a most ungenerous and unwarranted attack on the members of the curling club, charging them with improper conduct while playing matches abroad, and converting their club house into a gambling den. The president of the club, E. H. Allen, promptly gave the lie to the Editor of such paper, Mr. Crockett, by expelling him from the Club.

It is proposed that the University building be utilized for the present, but the committee hope to be able to erect a separate building for residency in the near future, and $25,000 is the sum estimated as necessary for the purpose.

We understand that a special appeal will be made to the citizens of Fredericton in an effort to increase the enrollment of the University, that the apparent necessity of reducing the staff may be avoided and the professors given adequate salaries.

FARMERS UNDER THE N. P.

How the Tillers of the Soil Fare UNDER THE TORY PARTY POLICY.

The interest of the N. P. in permitting the price of wheat to fall to present low quotations, must surprise all who in past years put their trust in its efficacy and beneficence. The all-important product has been carefully protected from the intrusion of outside competition by a custom import of 15 cents a bushel, but in spite of this encouragement we read of sales in the west at 40 cents a bushel, and even in Ontario sales have practically ceased, because the farmers will not sell their grain at the prices which can be obtained. The position is Stellar With Potatoes, another important crop. The N. P. has most carefully guarded this product with a duty of 25 cents, yet in spite of this, fivefold, farmers are glad to get 15 cents a bushel for the finest and earliest Early Rose, Beauties of Hebron and Thorburns. Is it possible that the attention of the great wonder-workers at Ottawa, has not been called to this profitable state of affairs? The "protection" on these articles should be increased at once if the N. P. is not to be utterly discarded, even in the house of its friends.

The Apologists for the Government, will probably point out not exactly what the Government has done for the farmers but what it has tried to do. It has sought everywhere for markets, except where it might have had some chance of getting them. Mr. Simeon Jones was despatched to the Argentine Republic, and—reported. Mr. Foster paid a visit to the West India Islands. Quashee is a fellow-colonist, and his long stomache ought to be made known to our four foot potatoes. Mr. Foster went to see him about it, and talked about the glorious empire, the sun that never sets, and the drum-beat, and incidentally potatoes, which excellent wheat and potatoes were growing here. He came home—and reported. We did not sell any more goods, however. Then the entire Cabinet studied the Map Very Carefully.

What was wanted was some inoffensive agricultural policy which would buy our surplus agricultural products and would have no embarrassing desire to pay for them in manufactured articles to the detriment of the unwashed N. P. It is not to be utterly discarded, even in the house of its friends.

It is possible that this creature thinks his disgrace concealed only from those who witness the proceedings of the new market. In the lower left hand corner of an enormous island labelled in plain letters Australia. Here was the place that had long been sought. Its very name was synonymous with gold. All that seemed necessary was to ship whatever we had to get and get in return dockloads of gold. But the delusion of the new market was in its remoteness.

A rail journey of 2,500 miles and a sea voyage of six or seven thousand lay between it and our beloved Canadian canisters. Such a distance, with its incidental chances of shipwreck, though not quite so delusive as a 60 per cent. tariff, was the next thing to it. It seemed prodigally far in the illimitable waste of waters, far away from the very beach ideal of a protectionist market—it was as remote as can be got on this planet, and the protection of the tariff was as difficult as could well be conceived.

This was the promised land, and Sir Mackenzie Bowell started for it with traveller's samples and a book convenient for looking orders. The adventures there were not of the nature of a trifling kind. It was at once arranged that the duties which are imposed on iron to compel the use of Nova Scotia iron should be refunded to the maker of an implement sent out of the country. It is a little complicated, and looks as if a lot of trouble were taken not to accomplish what you set out to do, but when men undertake to evade natural laws of any kind they are not to be blamed if they are constantly involved in contradictions and absurdities.

It may be asked what benefit the farmer Gets From All This. It is quite clear that the taxes he pays on the use of the necessities of life, go to make up the sum of $120,000 that is paid for the monthly steamship service. None of the tariff that he raises is carried by the steamers, as the Americans do not seem to need our agricultural products, but to look extremely as if the cheap beef, mutton, butter, and other agricultural products of the Americans are to be brought by this service, subsidized with the money, to compete against the Canadian farmer in an already depressed market. To still further handicap him the duty which he has to pay when he buys an agricultural implement is remitted, as we have shown, when the customer is an Australian, Argentinian or other foreign farmer. But

THE LATEST DEVELOPMENT

The Tory policy is the earnest desire that has sprung up amongst them that the Salisbury Government should put duties on all agricultural products going into England. The Tory press are industriously recording the growth in England of a tendency towards this species of protection. The other day the Belleville

FARMERS UNDER THE N. P.

Intelligencer, which the Premier formerly edited, and in the direction of whose course he is doubtless still influential, published a number of extracts from the utterances of English public men, showing that the only hope of the agricultural interest in England lay in protection. The Tory policy, therefore, for our farmer would seem to be the cultivation of distant markets, which do not want his products, and the closing of convenient markets which do.

Month Kewick Notes. Dec. 6.—A terrible storm is raging here today, about six inches of snow has fallen but the wind has carried it in heaps which leaves neither wagon nor sleighing.

Mr. Chas. E. Hawkins, who lately left this place and removed to Hamilton, Me., has gone into the hotel business there, and a letter received from him yesterday, announces that his hotel is doing a good business. He has thirty steady boarders besides his transient patronage. His business amounts to between $100 and $150 per week.

Mr. Wellington Shephard, our local haulier, is doing quite a business in horse-trading.

Our rival shoe shops are both doing a fair business. The patrons are well pleased with prices as footwear is now cheap.

Councillor Frank Bird, of Bright, has exposed the community with his action against Mrs. Whitfield for scandal. It is reported that Mr. Estey has engaged Geo. F. Gregory to defend his wife in the suit.

The Douglas and Bright Parish Sunday School Convention meets with the S. S. at Jones' Park, next Tuesday, December 10th. The District Council, R. T. of T., also meet to transact business with Geo. A. Ahead Council, of this place, next Tuesday. A public meeting, it is likely, will take place in the evening.

R. R. C. I. PROMOTIONS.

Pleasant News For Drill Serg. Fowle and Corp. O'Brien.

In the R. R. C. I. Sgt. Instructor Fowle has been promoted to the position of Sgt. Major vacant by Capt. McKenzie's transference to Sussex, and Corp. O'Brien succeeded to the Sgt. Bughership, via Hayes transferred to Toronto. Both men well merited promotion, and are receiving the congratulations of their friends.

Sergt. Major Fowle has been connected with the Infantry school here since its formation in January 1884, when he joined as a private. He is a New Brunswick boy, and is recognized as one of the most efficient military instructors in the Dominion.

Ensign Sergt. O'Brien has also been a member of the corps for a good many years. He has long been recognized as a skillful musician, and held a leading place in the band. Since the removal to Toronto of Bugle Sergt. Hayes, he has held the position of bandmaster, and the present efficient state of that organization, speaks highly of his ability.

The Gibson Foundry.

A meeting of the stockholders of the proposed foundry at Gibson, was held at A. McN Shaw's office Gibson, Saturday evening, to talk over the project and make arrangements for carrying forward the enterprise. Among the gentlemen present were: J. E. Simmons, John F. Miles, Daniel Babbitt, P. A. Logan, Edward Johnson, A. McN. Shaw, Alex. Gibson, Jr., Mr. Simmons presided, and Mr. A. McN. Shaw acted as secretary.

It was found that $14,000 of the $20,000 capital stock of the company had been subscribed, and steps were taken to procure the incorporation of the company. W. H. Butler has the contract for the erection of the building, and the company expect to have the foundry in running order by the 1st of March.

Mr. Martin on the School Question.

WINNIPEG, MAN., Dec. 5.—The Hon. Joseph Martin thinks the coming session will be a long one and full of interest. He believes that the Dominion Government has not the slightest intention of passing a remedial bill in relation to the teachers and friends in the East. He thinks they may bring down a half measure but nothing like what they have pledged themselves to do. The series of compromises, he says, are only sent up by the Ottawa Government to keep up the spirits of the teachers and friends in the East. Disappearance of An Old Man.

A. McAdam correspondent writes that a man by the name of H. Hanna, or H. Harman, of about 70 or 80 years of age, and living mostly alone in rather poor circumstances, about two miles west of that place, suddenly disappeared over two weeks ago, and nobody knows anything of his whereabouts. His hat, or cap, is just in appearance as if he had lain down to rest or sleep. All his traps, etc., are where he usually kept them, and still no trace of him is to be seen or found anywhere. The general opinion around here is that he probably went out to the woods not far away and became weak and laid out and died.

Had to be Inserted in the Machine.

For the encouragement of the iron industry a stiff tax was levied on that indispensable article of almost all manufactures. It was now found that the manufacturers of articles into the making of which iron largely entered could not sell their goods at a profit abroad. But an ingenious and paternal Government could not be embarrassed by a trifle of this kind. It was at once arranged that the duties which are imposed on iron to compel the use of Nova Scotia iron should be refunded to the maker of an implement sent out of the country. It is a little complicated, and looks as if a lot of trouble were taken not to accomplish what you set out to do, but when men undertake to evade natural laws of any kind they are not to be blamed if they are constantly involved in contradictions and absurdities.

CHAPTER XV. UNHAPPY IS THE BRIDE THE RAIN FALLS ON.

CONTINUED.

Suddenly some one looking from the window saw a horseman ride up to the front door and hurriedly dismount. And a moment later a note was slipped quietly into Frederick Easton's hands as he was coming hurriedly down the broad corridor.

Here, and now, we must digress in our story, dear reader, and return to the scene of the prison confinement that had started all London a few months previous, and in which many a brave and noble freeman had lost his life.

In the little town of Glen Haven, some distance from the Thames, a few hours later, Dr. Rodman sat at a late breakfast, scanning over the London morning paper as he sipped his coffee.

"A man to see you, doctor, said the little fellow, popping his head in at the door of the room.

"I have a slight wound here I should like you to dress, he said, baring his arm.

The doctor started. Why, this is by no means a trifling affair, he said; your arm has been burned almost to the bone; you must be enduring excruciating torture.

"I see nothing that would answer; nothing at all. I shall have to place myself in Lator's hands, and there never was a more dastardly traitor; he would betray his own brother if he saw that a big stake could be obtained by it."

"His eyes had rested upon a small vial containing a whitish liquid, and bearing a lengthy label in Lator's handwriting. His action immediately, he repeated, exactly what I require; as a general thing these applications take a week or more to accomplish their purpose."

"Some twenty minutes later, a figure stole hurriedly out of the side door of Lator's laboratory, taking care to close the spring-locked door noiselessly and securely after him.

"A few experts would have recognized in the golden haired stranger, possessing of a luxuriant blonde moustache, and whose fair hair clustered about his temples in a way that would have charmed an artist, who issued forth on to the busy London street, as the same dark man who had been seen in the room of the late Lator, who had recently entered Lator's shop; even his clothing had undergone a radical change. He had helped himself to the Frenchman's best suit, which he found in a closet behind the counter."

"With Lator's ignorance of what his disguise really is, I can feel tolerably safe in mingling once more with my fellow-men, and a laugh from his lips that was not pleasant to hear."

"As is the habit of many a man, Monsieur Lator made the mistake of leaving his well-filled wallet very often in his coat pocket. The stranger benefited by that carelessness now."

"Hailing a hansom cab, he gave orders to be driven at once to the nearest cafe and to be glancing at the doctor saw that the man's gaze was fixed intently upon the paper."

"The stranger had read breathlessly every syllable of the account; it was when he had come to the list of those known to be killed outright, and whose bodies had been found, that he gave that sudden start. The list was headed with the name of Leon Forrester, and beneath were the words—'face burned beyond recognition; identity established by a deep red, triangular scar over the breast.'"

"A score or more of times the stranger read that paragraph; it seemed to hold a peculiar subtle attraction for him, and something very like malignant triumph gleamed in his black eyes."

"Well, Leon Forrester, he muttered, if you lost your life in that fire, you are certainly dead to the world. What a cry there will be raised among your enemies about retribution. Bah!"

C. FRED. CHESTNUT, DRUGGIST.

There is no more attractive and so to date drug establishment in this city than that of C. Fred. Chestnut, and a more efficient and competent apothecary than his proprietor, would be indeed hard to find anywhere.

His store, which is one of the handsomest in the province, is completely stocked with everything usually found in a leading drug establishment. Mr. Chestnut makes a specialty of high class perfumes. During the holiday season, his stock of these goods is the most elaborate ever offered for sale in this city.

It consists of the productions of such celebrated makers as Violet, and Messrs. Roger & Gallet of Paris, who lead the world in the manufacture of perfumery. His stock of toilet requisites is also very large, and consists of all the latest novelties from the leading makers of the world.

Mr. Chestnut carries a complete assortment of fine imported cigars, and smokes' requisites. He is the sole agent for Hirsch's Perique Mixture, which is without a doubt one of the finest brands of smoking tobacco in the market.

All the leading patent medicines of the day, are kept in stock. Special attention is given to the compounding of physician's prescriptions, and only the purest drugs obtainable are used. Mr. Chestnut gives his personal attention to this department, and patrons can rely on receiving satisfaction. Since after Christmas presents in making their gifts, are invited to give Mr. Chestnut a call.

HATT & CO. GROCERS. That groceries are a necessary adjunct to a successful and prolonged existence, no person, unless he be an Esquimaux or an inhabitant of the North pole, will attempt to deny. That choice, fresh groceries, such as are usually found in a first class establishment are superior to the mass of best diseased assortment handled by the cheap John grocer who does not advertise, is also a statement, the truth of which cannot be gainsaid. Just where to procure the right article at the right price is a question that some few worry the intelligent housekeeper, but it should not trouble any one in a city like Fredericton.

Take for instance the grocery of Hatt & Co. Where in all New Brunswick could you more tastefully arranged, and complete line of groceries be found. Orders by telephone are promptly attended to. Their goods are bought in the best markets, at the lowest prices, and are sold at prices that will compare favorably with those of any other concern in the city. We invite our readers to purchase their Christmas groceries, to take a glance at Hatt & Co's stock before buying elsewhere.

OWEN SHARKEY, DRY GOODS. As cold weather approaches the demand for dry goods increases. They are a commodity that is in constant demand, and with our rigorous climate, a person may economize to a certain extent by carrying less dry goods around on his or her person, but in the winter season if this is practicable, it is not possible to do so. If we go through this large establishment, we will not be surprised that there is such a charm and attraction for the shopping public.

Shall we enter with those ladies, who are going in at the upper entrance? What beautiful goods we see all around us; one entire side of the store given up to dress goods, and silks, and velvets. Elegant fabrics for street wear, or home wear; beautiful silks for evening wear; trimmings of all kinds; laces, etc., delight the eye as one looks around.

Or would you enter again by the lower door? You are right in the cloth department, and a little farther along, the jacket department, and opposite the cloth, the glove and hosiery department, so well known to those who have hands and feet. And the ribbons and fancy work department, thousands of yards of beautiful art shades in ribbons. What a quantity is used now-a-days.

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-Liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anemic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-Liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Do not be misled to accept a substitute! Scott & Bown, Belleville, 50c and $1.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

Mrs. WISLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child crying with pain of Cutting Teeth, send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Wislow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation. It is pleasant to the taste. The prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. 25c per bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WISLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."

Mr. Campbell is agent for the celebrated Granby rubbers, which are admitted to be the finest in the market. Another class of goods sold by him is the celebrated rubber boots, which do away with the necessity of wearing rubbers, and are used what is required to secure unimpeded locomotion on our slippery sidewalks. Mr. Campbell though he makes a specialty of boots and shoes, also carries an extensive stock of hats, caps, trunks, valises, etc., and is prepared to give astonishing bargains in these lines.

All of the large stock is tastefully and conveniently arranged, and the obliging staff of clerks know exactly where to put their hands on anything that may be called for.

It is hardly necessary for THE HERALD to remind its readers how essential it is to be well shod at this season of the year, in order to procure the health. So the only advice we have to offer is to take your feet with you, and go to Nelson Campbell's when in need of anything in his line, and you will have no reason to regret having done so.

HAMMONDVILLE JOTTINGS. A Great Budget of Interesting News From Our Wide Awake Correspondent.

Dec. 3.—Superior Strange is around, looking after the washouts, caused by the recent rain season, manufactured by the Empire Manufacturing Company. This machine is guaranteed to remove the seeds from a pound of raisins in five minutes, and undoubtedly fills a long felt want in the household. The famous "China knives" which were also kept in stock, have been reduced in price, specially for the holiday trade.

We venture the statement that there is no place in the city which carries such a large stock of goods, from which useful Christmas presents can be selected. And HERALD readers are cordially invited to visit the establishment, and make an examination themselves.

TENNANT, DAVIES & Co. A good many people usually wide awake in other matters of business, make an almost inexcusable blunder in supposing that it is necessary to wait until Christmas to purchase their presents. Orders by telephone are promptly attended to. Their goods are bought in the best markets, at the lowest prices, and are sold at prices that will compare favorably with those of any other concern in the city. We invite our readers to purchase their Christmas groceries, to take a glance at Hatt & Co's stock before buying elsewhere.
