SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Sixty Years Ago Democratic Governments Were Rare, now they are the Rule. Abyssinia the Latest to Adopt Popular Government.

Abyssinia or Ethiopia, known to every schoolboy by the famous march of Lord Napier, undertaken to release some British prisoners confined at Magdala by King Theodore, who was little better than a savage, is to have a constitution. The country was for a time practically in the hands of the British, the principal native chiefs being friendly, and it was Sir Bartle Frere's opinion, having regard to the passage to India by the Red Sea, that Britain should not wholly have abandoned the country. It was decided, however, not to retain possession of any part of Abyssinia, and, as a consequence, it made little progress until a few years ago. The population is still described as numbering from three to four millions, as it was forty years ago; there is still no popular literature and no education; and industry—that is, all manufacturing work—is looked down upon as degrading, as compared with the profession of arms and agriculture. Yet the kings claim descent from Menelek, the son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, and the filling race was converted to Christianity about 600 A. D., by monks from Egypt; though their own tradition ascribe their conversion to the eunuch of Queen Candace, mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles. But the Abyssinian Christians have long been isolated from the rest of the Christian world. Abyssinia is about three hundred and fifty thousand square miles in extent, or about the same size as the Province of Quebec, and its population is sharply divided. On the north-east the people are akin to the Caucasian, and in the south-east to the negro, and in the mountains to the Arabic—some are pagans, some Mahomedans, and some Christians. To these people the Emperor (Negus Negusi, or King of Kings) Menelek of Shoa (or Sheba), who has reigned over the country for eighteen years, is giving constitutional government, having as a first step already appointed a cabinet, with ministers of foreign affairs, justice, finance, commerce and war. The world does move. We are reminded that, less than sixty years ago, only one little corner of continental Europe, Piedmont, had a secure free government. Even the government of Great Britain, although democratic by contrast, was then elected by an aristocratic suffrage. Today, with the exception of Russia, there are parliaments almost everywhere, and even little Montenegro has its Skupstina, although it is without a bank and without a railway, and until recently was without a wagon road to the sea. Persia, too, like Abyssinia, has essayed to join the constitutional nations. All these constitutions are modelled on that of Great Britain, which was more or less a natural Anglo-Saxon growth.

Farewell to General Booth.

A great open air demonstration was accorded Gen. Booth, founder of the Salvation Army last week upon his departure from New York. Although 60 years of age and though suffering from illness the venerable head of the Army has been making a vigorous campaign in America. Everywhere he has been received with honors fitting a man who has done a great work for humanity.

In departing from New York, Gen. Booth made an affectionate farewell to the people of America. At his great age it is not probable that he will ever again visit this continent. This appeared to be the opinion of the crowds that bid him hearty bon voyage. His work must soon be entrusted to other hands.

Re Assessment.

MR. F. HARRISON SUGGESTS THE NEW ZEALAND LAW FOR NOVA SCOTIA.

THE EDITOR "THE PEOPLE."

Sir:—The Ratepayers of this County owe a debt of gratitude to you for the amount to Mr. A. L. Davidson for his exposure of grossly unfair assessments. He says that, later, he intends to show how this state of affairs can be remedied.

I hope he will suggest some feasible scheme that will meet with general support.

All property ought to be assessed at its full value that is, the value the owner sets on it, and to facilitate this, and to compel owners to place a true value on their properties. An Act similar to one in force in New Zealand should be passed. By this act the Government can take over any property at its declared value and sell it by auction to the highest bidder. It seems to me no fairer way could be devised than his for getting at the value of property for taxation purposes.

It fills me with amazement to see the farmer of this country is content to sit with folded hands and watch the rich, the avaricious and the unprincipled gradually, but surely getting all the power into their hands, while the poor farmer sits there, happy with the few crumbs they occasionally send to his table, and he is to be kept miserably disposed.

Yours, etc.,
F. HARRISON.

Art Building for Acadia Seminary.

Wolfville, Nov. 8.—The Alumnae Society of Acadia Seminary since its organization in 1892 has sought not only to cherish the past associations of its members but also to assist in a practical way in meeting the material wants of the school. Manifest needs of the Seminary at the present time are a pipe organ and a building to provide for the better equipment of the department of music, art and elocution. The first contribution of the Alumnae Society to the fund for securing these requirements of the school will be the proceeds on a fair to be held in the Alumnae Hall of the Seminary on December 14 and 16. Many useful and decorative articles, some of which are from foreign countries, have been contributed by former pupils and friends of the school and will be on sale at reasonable prices. There will also be a tea room, and home made sweets and Christmas cake will be sold. Much interest is being shown in the fair, which will be the great event of the present term.

At Sackville on Saturday Mt. Allison defeated Acadia's football team with a score of 8 to 0.

The Trees.

FOREST PRESERVATION AND REFORESTATION.

From this time forward New Brunswick will evidently devote much more attention than formerly to the matter of protecting its forests, setting before it a policy under which scientific cutting will enable the people to market a large amount of timber without materially diminishing our capital in so far as it is represented by forest wealth.

In a great degree the interest of Canadians in forestry matters is intensified by the rapid diminution of timber resources in the United States, more especially in those states which lie within a reasonable distance of our own wooded districts, and some of those industries are becoming more and more dependent upon the Canadian supply of wood. A day or two ago Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Chief Government Forester of the United States, completed a six months' inspection of forest areas, during which he travelled 5,000 miles. In speaking of what he had seen, he said: "In twenty years the timber supply in the United States, on government reserves and private holdings, at the present rate of cutting, will be exhausted, although it is possible that the growth of that period might extend the arrival of the famine another five years." He urged the public not to underestimate the danger of the situation. His views are worthy of consideration in every part of Canada, as indicating the disastrous effect of a wasteful lumbering policy on government and private lands, which effects, Canada may yet in great part avoid, if it will be guided by the experience of its neighbors.

Mr. Pinchot pointed out that the United States uses more timber than any other country, and that every man, woman, and child, will be affected. He decried the policy of discounting the future of the country by failure to protect the natural resources.

LOSS FROM BURNING OF CREAMERY AND CANNERY $8,000, WITH LITTLE INSURANCE.

We are sorry to report the loss by fire, of the creamery and canning factory here on Friday night. It is supposed the fire started from the pipe leading from the sealing stove. The Oddfellows Lodge was in session and as soon as the alarm was given 50 men were on hand. Quite a lot of goods were saved out of both buildings and the fire was kept from spreading to Stephens' mill and lumber piles. Had a strong wind been blowing from the east the warehouses would have all been destroyed. The loss is over $8,000, with small insurance. We hope the factories may be rebuilt, as they are very valuable to the community. Mr. Barnaby, of Somerville, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Parrish.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Melvern Square, N. S.,
23rd Oct., 1907.

Mrs. Lydia Cassidy, Kingston N. S.

Dear Madam:—
I beg leave on behalf of Lieut. Col. Northrup and members of the K. C. H. Rifle Association, to convey to you and Miss Cassidy an expression of our sincere sympathy and sense of loss in the passing from us of our friend and fellow-worker Capt. Cassidy. Cordial, efficient, ever ready to help the young shots, or as Range Officer to supervise the work on the Range, your husband did much to advance the interests of rifle shooting in this district.

We will miss him sadly in the work of our association. Assuring you again of our deep sympathy in your bereavement, I have the honor to be, Madam, Your obedient servant
W. E. Outhit, Capt.

Sec. K. C. H. Rifle Association,
Kingston Station, N. S.,
Oct. 26th., 1907.

Dear Mrs. Cassidy:—
It is the deepest feeling of sympathy that prompts Kingston Lodge No. 65, I. O. O. F., to address to you, through its Secretary, words that tend to soothe the feelings and assure you of our remembrance to the widow and fatherless, as laid down in principle in our beloved order. Your husband, our brother, a kindred loss. Brother Cassidy's active interest in everything pertaining to the general welfare of our Lodge, is a matter of memory and record. One of the founders of Kingston Lodge showed his views on the great problem of the brotherhood of man, the great social problem of our age. We will miss Brother Cassidy a good deal. You will miss him more.

We hope in future to be affiliated again in the Great Brotherhood beyond!

Please accept this short note of sympathy as intended. We could go on and on in our praises, etc., but you know all this is dross.

Yours truly,
A. H. HILTON,
Rec. Secy.

The Companion as a Christmas Gift.

Nobody is too young, nobody too old, to enjoy reading the Youth's Companion. For that reason it makes one of the most appropriate of Christmas gifts—one of the few whose actual worth far outweighs the cost. Well come as the paper may be to the casual reader on the train, at the office, in the public library, it is, after all, the paper of the home. The regularity and frequency of its visits, the cordial sincerity of its tone, make for it soon the place of a familiar friend in the house. Like a good friend, too, it stands always for those traits and qualities which are typified in the ideal home and are the sources of a nation's health and true prosperity. Is there another Christmas present costing so little that equals it?

On receipt of $1.75, the yearly subscription price (with 50 cents added for extra postage on Canadian subscriptions), the publishers send to the new subscriber all the remaining issues of The Companion for 1907 and the Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1908 in full color.

Full illustrated announcement of the new volume for 1908 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

Mackerel Shipment.

When the steamship Prince Arthur, Captain Kinsey, arrived this afternoon from Yarmouth, N. S., she brought a record shipment of fresh mackerel to this port. The Prince Arthur was three hours late getting in, due to the fact that her departure was delayed three hours at Yarmouth in order that the mackerel might be shipped immediately. The steamship usually sails at five o'clock, but was held up by word being received that a very large shipment of mackerel was on the way by rail for her. The fish did not arrive until five o'clock, and then it took three hours to load them. Usually these shipments of mackerel amount to between thirty and forty barrels, but the one brought in to day comprised 550 barrels.—Boston Transcript.

S.; Mrs. Lane of Rock Port, Maine; Mrs. Fred Goucher Annapolis Royal; and Mrs. Edwin Randall Cambridge, Mass.; five grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Charles Pierce of Kingston, N. S.

Heavy gales on the Newfoundland coast the first of the week are believed to have carried off several vessels.

A London, Eng., despatch says a batch of 2,000 miners sailed on Nov. 2 for Nova Scotia to work for the Dominion Coal Co.

It is said there are over 1,000,000 men working on the railways of the United Kingdom who receive less than $5.00 per week.

The Practical Lesson.

A Sunday School teacher persuaded a friend to take his place one Sunday, explaining to the substitute that all he had to do was to read the questions on the leaflet.

The lesson was the parable of putting new wine into old bottles, and, by aid of the questions, the substitute got on excellently, until, in an unguarded moment, he asked:

"Now, boys, what practical lesson may we learn from this parable?"

He hadn't the faintest notion himself, and as each youngster dubiously shook his head, the teacher began to grow nervous. But, to his relief, the last boy's face showed he had an answer.

"Please, sir, I think it means that if you put new religion into an old man, it will bust him."

Difficult.

A teacher in a certain eastern school asked her class to draw a picture of that which they wished to be when they grew up. The pupils went diligently to work with paper and pencil, some drawing pictures of soldiers, policemen and fire ladies, etc. They all worked hard, but one little girl, who sat quietly holding her pad and pencil in hand.

The teacher, observing her, asked: "Don't you know what you want to be when you grow up, Anna?"

"Yes, I know," replied the little girl. "I know I want to be married but I don't know how to draw it."

—Harper's Weekly.

The professor had complained that the world in general still looks on science in a slighting way, and that reminded one of his companions of a story of a western trapper.

The trapper, noticing a place where roots had been dug up, examined the spot carefully. Then, as he rose and brushed the earth, from his knees, he said, with calm conviction:

"This was done either by a wild hog or by a botanist."

There is a police court magistrate of St. Louis who frequently evinces pretty wit when dealing with fresh or facetious offenders.

To one vagrant brought before him not long ago, his Honor put the question, "What occupation?"

"Nothin' much at present," flippantly responded the prisoner; "jest circulate round, judge."

"Retired from circulation for thirty days," dryly observed his Honor to the clerk of the court.

Read the Papers.

The chaplain of a Southern legislature began his prayer thus; "O Lord as thou hast seen by the daily papers, we are honored today by a visit from a distinguished fellow citizen from another State."

Through Train for Digby.

On Monday night Oct. 28th, 1907, the first "through train" started for Digby from Caledonia over the much talked of line of railway by that route, but it only went smash through the end of the engine house out into the lake near by. Luckily no one was injured, the engineer Mr. Ralph Harlow of Westfield, when he discovered what must inevitably happen, reversed the engine and he and the fireman jumped to safety.—Caledonia Gold Hunter.

It is thought the fishing schooner Orion of Grand Banks, Nfld., Capt. Edward Evans with 17 men must have gone down in the gale of a month ago as nothing has been heard of her.
