FIRST TRAIN INTO TORONTO BY THE NEW RAILWAY FROM PARRY SOUND

President Mackenzie and Other Officials of the Canadian Northern Ontario Reached Union Station Last Evening After a 8-Hours Journey.

The first of the Canadian Northern trains to make the journey between Parry Sound and Toronto steamed into Union Depot at 5.50 last night. The news that the train had passed the Grand Trunk signal box at the Don quickly spread around Union Station and a large crowd, anxious to see the first Canadian Northern train, quickly gathered on platform No. 5. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, was the first to step from the "Aukokan," the first of the two coaches of which the train consisted. After the president came D. B.
 Hanna, third vice-president, Frederic Nicholls, Noel Marshall and A. W.
 Smith.

The second coach was occupied by Superintendent F. M. Spaldal and other officials of the road.

The train left Parry Sound for Toronto
 in charge of Engineer Findlay.
 No. 1 engine, at 11.45 yesterday morning, and arrived promptly at 5.50 p.m., accomplishing the 140 miles in seven hours five minutes, an average of about 27 miles an hour. No great speed was possible owing to the slippery condition of the rails, the drizzling rain making the tracks even more than if it had been a heavy downpour.

The journey up to Parry Sound was commenced at 10 o'clock Saturday night, the president and party arriving at 4.35. After breakfast Superintendent Spaldal joined the party and a trip was made up the line for about ten miles above Parry Sound. This little trip was made at the desire of Mr.
 Mackenzie, to see how the line looked.
 On the return trip a stop was made at a few of the principal stations. The president was delighted with the trip, but felt a little fatigued after the long journey.

D. B. Hanna, when asked if the line would be opened for passenger service to-morrow, replied in the negative.

"We are in no hurry," he said, "but it will not be long now."

A GREAT NEW NATIONAL POLICY.

There are no new, progressive and inspiring departure that ought to be made in this province of Ontario to-day?

There is, and it is a clear, bold enunciation that Ontario is in the railway, telegraph and telephone business for keeps, and for the public good.
 Ontario to-day owns the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, running partially and projected completely from North Bay (220 miles from Toronto) to Hudson Bay. Nearly 200 miles is in operation; some fifty more will put it up to its crossing of the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It runs thru the famous Cobalt mining camp, 100 miles north of North Bay. It is opening up a great mining, lumbering and agricultural country. Out of the silver mining that has come and is to come about Cobalt, the Province of Ontario stands to collect several millions of dollars a year in royalties. Even the companies that own the mines expect to have to share with the government, and the people certainly expect a royalty to be levied. Already it is levied in certain mines; it will be in more; why not in all? This great mining camp, the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the demands of settlement and lumbering have made this national railway an immense success. It is overcrowded with business. The telegraph system is taxed to handle the messages. A telephone service and a direct telegraph service to Toronto are absolutely necessary.

But somebody is quietly trying to "knock" this national railway and its telegraph service. Connections in regard to trains, the despatch of freight, the forwarding of telegrams, are not as good as they might be.
 The national line is at the mercy of the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Pacific and the telegraph lines allied to these systems. The Bell Telephone also is not friendly.

The only cure for this condition is that the government immediately string a telegraph and telephone service from Toronto right up to the end of the national railway.

But something even more significant has to be done. And that is to acquire a railway or extend the national line from North Bay right into Toronto!

The Ontario government is in a splendid position to do this. It has proved that it can handle a road to pay. It has the money and the credit.
 By reason of its sovereign powers and its power of taxation it can force, if it cares to, the Grand Trunk to sell its line from Toronto to North Bay to the province. But it does not need to force: it can negotiate.

It can say to the Grand Trunk, we must have a line direct from Toronto to Hudson Bay. We are in the railway business, and a tail-end line is of little use. We want a line from the capital of the province at the south to its most northerly limit—from Lake Ontario to Hudson Bay—a seaport of our own. We will buy out your 220 miles. And in return we will give you splendid terms for running rights over this national system for your Ontario system and its connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific line. We will let you run your own trains over it, but we want at the same time to have a line of our own. We will build this national line for the benefit of the province, its people and its business men. We will be a power to ourselves in railways. We will do the best that can be done for the greatest mining camp in the world, and that camp happens to be in our country. We can collect enough royalties in two, or four, years, without the camp feeling it to build or buy such a system.
 We also intend to build telegraphs and telephones into that country direct from Toronto. And if we do not force you, and if we do not buy you, we can still build such a road as will put you at a great disadvantage. And we are going to revise our law in regard to railway taxation.

The World believes the Grand Trunk would negotiate such a deal.
 Even the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern would be advantaged. If the Grand Trunk did not come in, if the government did not force them, the Canadian Northern is available. Its road to Parry Sound is available, and it would not be much to build a line from some point on that system to North Bay. But the Grand Trunk is the better plan.

This, then, is the great project that we think Mr. Whitney ought to undertake. Let us recount:

A national railway, telegraph and telephone service from Toronto to Hudson Bay.

A royalty on the silver mines.

The government of Coleman Township and adjacent mining townships by a strong and powerful commission, crown appointed, with power to municipalize a local traction system, waterworks, and the generation of electricity for lighting and driving the machinery of the mines.

That is a good policy, has it a complement? Yes.

The nationalization of the electric plants at Niagara Falls, the taking over of the transmission lines, and the electric road projected from Toronto to the Niagara River. This would be the keystone of a national distribution of power and light all over Ontario in conjunction with the municipalities.

And just one thing more: Toronto as a part of this system would have to be allowed to immediately municipalize the local power companies and the street railway by arbitration.

This is the most forward, and, we believe, most practical, national policy outlined in Canada for many a day.

Ontario wants a spine, a backbone, of her own from the Niagara River to a seaport on Hudson Bay.

BOY KILLS COMPANION BY ACCIDENT IN HUNT

Says Gun Accidentally Discharged
 While Hunting on His Knees.

London, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Charles Hodgins, a 15-year-old boy, is dead, as the result of a shooting accident on Saturday afternoon.

In company with a companion named Barker, he was hunting. He had shot a squirrel which fell on a brush heap, and, while searching for it, gave the gun over to Barker, who rested it across his knees, where it accidentally discharged and the bullet entered Hodgins' head, killing him instantly.

Barker claims that his finger was not on the trigger, and that the gun had discharged itself once before during the afternoon.

THREE DAYS IN OPEN BOAT HALIFAX CREW PICKED UP

Barkentine Marion C. Abandoned at Sea After Pumps Were Worked a Day and a Half to Keep Her Afloat.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The Norwegian steamer Farmand of Bergen, Capt. J. Corneliusen, bound from New York to Miramichi, put into port Saturday to land a shipwrecked crew of eight men of the barkentine Marion
 C. of Halifax, abandoned at sea.

The barkentine was from Bridgewater, N.C., lumber laden, bound to New York and was in a hurricane shortly after leaving port. Then the vessel sprung a leak, and after a day and a half at the pumps it was decided to abandon her, and she sank some hours later. The captain and crew in a ship's boat then went in search of assistance.

After 28 hours' hardships in the open boat the crew were picked up 100 miles off Sable Island and brought to Hal-fax. Two of the men had to be removed to the hospital.

Hundreds to-day viewed the boat in which the crew had remained over three days. It is a regular ship's boat, about 22 or 25 feet long and about 3 feet wide.

CAT ONLY LIVING THING FOUND ON WRECKED BARQUE

Why Crew Risked Lives in Terrible Sea Must Remain Mystery.

Richibucto, N.B., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—
 The wrecked barque Adeona was reached by life-savers to-day. There was nothing of life on board but a cat.
 No doubt is felt about the fate of the eleven men who composed the crew.
 They were all in a boat which left the ship on Monday last. Everything about the deck and cabin was found in good condition. Why the crew left the vessel and risked their lives in the terrible sea and breakers must always remain a mystery.

Ontario Finds No Valid Reason Restricting Expansion to North

Reply of Premier Whitney to Manitoba's Contention

At Conference at Ottawa To-Day Representatives of This Province Will Favor Annexation of Keewatin East of Manitoba's Boundary Projected Northerly to the Churchill River.

WHAT IT MEANS TO US.

The present boundary between Ontario and Manitoba is on the 95th meridian, west longitude. Ontario's northern boundary is now the Albany River.

It is proposed by Ontario's representatives to divide Keewatin by running this boundary north on the 95th meridian to the Churchill River, the middle of which would form the boundary to Hudson Bay. The two provinces, giving both a safe and navigable seaport. A portion north of the proposed extension of Manitoba is desired by Saskatchewan to give access to Hudson Bay.

Ontario now measures 260,862 square miles, or 222,000 exclusive of water. With the additional area to the north, the province will measure approximately 400,000 square miles, as large as Egypt, or as France and Germany taken together.

Manitoba, now 73,732 square miles, would be trebled in area by the proposed extension, and equal the present Ontario in land area.

NO IRREVOCABLE AGREEMENT WITH FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Premier Whitney is to-day, at Ottawa with the assistance of Hon. J. J.
 Foy and Hon. A. J. Matheson engaged in negotiations which, it is hoped,
 may result in nearly doubling the size of Ontario. The province is now 260,- 862 square miles in extent, should the extension of boundaries, which is hoped for, be acceded to by the Dominion government, Ontario will survival British Columbia with its 372, 620 square miles.

The present conference has been adjourned from the gathering of provincial premiers a month ago, when the boundary question was left over to be dealt with by those immediately concerned. These were Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Quebec wants to have her boundaries extended to Hudson Bay.

Ontario has ancient claims to a seaport on the big bay, which James Bay does not afford.

Manitoba has been notoriously contricted ever since confederation, and is entitled to a liberal allotment of the north country.

Saskatchewan wants a seaport also, looking forward to the day when population will have swarmed up to the sixtieth parallel and dotted the country over with towns and villages like Ontario, and when Hudson Bay will be as frequented by shipping as the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

SS. KENSINGTON ASHORE.

Quebec, Nov. 11.—The steamer Kensington of the Dominion Line, which left Liverpool on Nov. 1 for Quebec and Montreal, went aground during a snowstorm about 5 o'clock this morning at Matane, 203 miles below Quebec.

She is reported to be badly damaged and making water very fast.

She had on board 140 steerage passengers and 75 cabin and a general cargo of Quebec and Montreal. All the passengers are safe.

They were taken on board the steamer Caspasia at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and will arrive here to-morrow noon.

HAARON IN ENGLAND.

Portsmouth Eng., Nov. 11.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Haakon of Norway, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf on board, anchored off Spithead at a late hour to-night.

King Haakon and his family will be the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra at Windsor Castle during their stay in England.

ENGLISH SPEAKING ARMIES HIGHEST IN DEATH RATE OF WORLD'S FIGHTERS

Low Mortality in Foreign Countries
 Accounted for by Fact That Sick Die Out of Service—Report of U. S. Army Medical Department
 Made Public.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The report upon the work of the medical department of the United States army by Surgeon-General R. M. O'Reilly, which has just been made public, compares the health of the different armies of the world as far as possible in view of the different conditions in each army. The United States and Great Britain are the only countries whose statistics include that part of the army serving outside of the home country. Many of the countries have a low death rate because their sick are promptly discharged or retired, and die out of the service, instead of on the sick report.

The highest rate of admission to the sick report is held by the Dutch army, whose rate is 13.21 per thousand men, with the American army ranking second with 12.95, and the Russian army holding the lowest rate of 3.48 per thousand men.

Britain's High Rate.

The British army ranks first in the death rate, with 7.13 deaths per thousand men, the American army having the next highest, 6.52. The Prussian army has the lowest rate, 2 per thousand men.

An important factor in judging the relative healthfulness of the different armies, is the average duration of each case of sickness, the American army, according to their standard, exceeding all others, except the Dutch and Bavarian. The average duration of each case in the United States army was less than one-half of that of the British, and a little more than one-half of the Spanish army.

The surgeon-general states that the total number of admissions in the sick report during the year was 73,742, equal to an admission rate of 1296.97 per thousand men, compared with 1264.80 for the previous year, and 1903.31 for the sexennial period from 1888 to 1903.

The death rate was also much better than for the previous year, there being 383 deaths from all causes, equivalent to 6.28 per thousand, as compared with 6.77 for the previous year and 7.13 for the six years period.

Port Niagara, N.Y., which last year had the lowest admission rate, this year occupies the same favorable position, and in addition has the lowest non-effective and discharge rates.

GUERIN THREATENS SPLIT IF WALSH STAYS IN FIELD

Blake Club Asks Hon. L. P. Brodeur to Withdraw Nominee.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The mix-up in St. Anne's division still continues. Last evening the Blake Club waited on Hon. L. P. Brodeur and offered to withdraw Dr. Guerin if the Liberal party would withdraw J. C.
 Walsh from the field and substitute either Charles R. Devlin or ex-Ald.
 Thos. Conroy.

The minister of marine gave the delegation very little encouragement, and Dr. Guerin says he will stay in the field. It is not probable, however, that the doctor will take any extreme position in the matter.

 ever determine Australia to withdraw her naval subsidy and attend to defend matters herself.

INSURANCE COMMISSION TO HEAR POLICYHOLDERS

Deputation Will Go to Ottawa To-Morrow by Appointment.

The board of directors of the Policyholders' Association met at the Queen's Hotel Saturday evening.

The secretary reported he had received a communication from Henry T. Rosa, K.C., secretary of the insurance commission.

On account of the notice being so short, he had requested a postponement till Thursday, G. F. Shepley, K.C., had telegraphed in reply that Thursday was not possible.

The directors then resolved to send a deputation to Ottawa to appear before the commission to-morrow.

Dr. Moorhouse, president; W. S. B. Lawrie, Toronto; William Robins, Walkerville; vice-presidents, G. F. Ronald, W. N. Stark, C. Goode, (Toronto), A. O. Hogg (Mariposa), Charles Jenkins (Petrolia), John Ransford (Clinton), P. A. Reid (London), Widmer Hawke, William Christie (Toronto) compose the parliamentary committee of the association.

The meeting was well attended by directors representing the country generally.

The general opinion expressed on the street is that Mr. Hyman cannot clear his skirts by resigning and running again.

NO FAITH IN RAILWAY BOARD HAMILTON CARMEN ARE LEERY

Cateract Power Company Will Not Try to Operate Cars To-Day—Pastors in Many Pulpits Express Sympathy With Strikers.

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The situation in connection with the street railway strike remains very quiet. Mayor Biggar is still trying to secure a settlement, and the Ontario railway and municipal board will be on the job Monday morning.

The company will not try to operate its cars Monday, but will probably do so early in the week. It is doing a normal business on the radial, but the Dundas people have completely boycotted the Hamilton and Dundas line, and hardly any passengers are being carried.

The company has a force of detectives guarding the power plants. The men spent the day in the church. In nearly all the churches the ministers spoke in sympathy with the men.

At Zion Tabernacle, Rev. P. Holmirk assured the men of the sympathy of the churches. He felt that unionism was the salvation of the men, and he advised them to keep up their courage, for they would surely win out.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

BOOKS.

WORLD'S PATTERN DEPARTMENT.
Designed by Mildred Cassells.

When the years gather round us like stern foes,
That give no quarter, and the ranks of love
Break here and there, untouched there
All abide in a coil in keeping Friends from whom no adverse fate can wound or move.

A deathless heritage, for these are they
Who neither fall nor falter; we, alas!
Can hope no more of friendship than to fill
The mortal hour of earth and mortal pass.

Steadfast and generous, they greet us still,
Through every fortune with unchanging looks,
Unasked no counsel give, are silent folk,
The careless minded lightly call them books.

Of the proud peering of the mind are they,
Fair, courteous gentlemen who wait our will,
When come the lonely hours the scholar loves,
And glows the heart and all the house is still.
—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

Church of England Boarding House for Young Women.
It has been suggested by a number of citizens of Toronto to establish a boarding house in this city for women who are earning their own livelihood, which they may obtain all the elements of home in keeping with the average wage a woman is able to earn in the offices, department stores or factories. The Church of England has undertaken to establish such a house, and a committee has been formed to carry on the work of organization, consisting of the following: Mrs. E. B. O'Connor, Mrs. E. B. Brown, Mrs. A. W. Broughall and Mrs. W. W. W. Women of all denominations will be welcomed, and will find accommodation at a lower cost than could be furnished to them in the ordinary boarding houses. It will be the special effort of the promoters to arrange for all the privileges of home life in the evening, which is so often denied. Also, special arrangements will be made for a laundry, to accommodate the club as district chairmen. It is with piano and everything to conduce to health, amusement, is contemplated, and rooms would be always ready for strangers coming to the city, so that no one should be turned away. It is confidently expected that after the house is purchased and equipped it will be self-supporting.

Women to Campaign for Pure Food.
A "common sense" pure food campaign, which may culminate in a national pure food congress to be held in Chicago under the auspices of the women's clubs of the country, has been inaugurated by the Chicago Woman's Club.

Every housekeeper in that city is to be ex-officio, a member of the campaign committee, with the 900 members of the club as district chairmen. "We don't need pure food laws," said Mrs. Mary R. Plummer at the club's meeting in Music Hall. "We don't need anything but the power for housekeepers to know what they want and then to go to market themselves and insist upon getting it."

The average woman is much to blame for not knowing her own business—the provisioning of a household. While live the simple life too much by telephoning over to the grocer for a can of something and then trusting to providence that what's in it won't hurt.

R. M. Allen of Lexington, Ky., state secretary of the recently formed National Food and National Food and National Food and National Food Departments, furnished the clubwomen with this campaign platform:

- Don't buy foods that contain artificial color and antiseptics.
- Exhibit an interest in the origin and quality of your food.
- Buy your milk from the "short route"—i.e., bottled and sealed immediately after it is drawn and cooled.
- Call into your meetings the officials of the health and pure food departments of the city and government; get in touch with the inspectors.
- Insist on a detailed report from the health department on the hygienic condition of every dairy supplying milk to Chicago.
- Insist on cement or tile floors in every slaughter-house, large or small, at the stock yards; insist on good sewage and clean methods for working up by-products into sausage.
- Insist on a detailed report on the hygienic condition of every fruit and vegetable factory, bakery, ice cream factory, and restaurant.
- If such reports are denied employ fair and intelligent workers and get the reports yourself.
- Insist on the appointment of the best talent for inspection work in dairies and stores.
- Don't drop the subject for at least two years.
- The city meat markets and groceries, dairy farms, and the stock yards will be the immediate objects of attack.

The Season's Furs.
Furs this year exhibit a new big novelty note. They are no longer submitted to themselves. It is their trimmings that counts and that designates them the latest fashion. For instance, the Russian pony, which has been visit of Mrs. Chas. Birks, president of the Women's Christian Association in Adolphus House. She addressed a large drawing-room meeting at the residence of Mrs. Robert Kilgour, being a very interesting account of the work of the Association. Arrangements have been made for the observance of the "Week of Prayer."

A MESSAGE FROM THE KING.
Dominion Club Thanked for Birthday Congratulations Cabled.

Friday was a noteworthy day, not only as the birthday of His Majesty the King, but also of H. H. Dewar, K.C., formerly county crown attorney. There is a newly organized club in the city, which has taken the name of The Dominion Club. W. H. Moore is president and A. J. Jackson is secretary-treasurer. The members are some of the most prominent in the city. The club first of all sent congratulations to His Majesty the King, conveying its best wishes and congratulations on His Majesty's birthday, to which an almost instantaneous reply, as follows, was received:

"The King commands me to thank the Dominion Club for their loyal birthday good wishes and congratulations. "Knollys."

At a meeting of the club in the evening in the dining room of the Leader Hotel, the meeting was presided over, of course, received with enthusiasm. President Moore was in the chair and Mr. Dewar with an address signed by W. H. Moore, president; A. J. Jackson, secretary-treasurer; J. F. Lounsbury, secretary; and C. T. Gillespie, P. L. Bally and C. T. Gillespie, the subscribers to the testimonial.

POLISH NATIONAL MOVEMENT.
50,000 Children Refuse to Use the German Language.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—Fifty thousand Polish children persist in refusing to respond in the German language to religious instruction in the public schools, and the Prussian Government continues to apply measures designed to convince the children and their parents that their resistance will be of no avail.

All Prussian Poland is stirred by the outbreak of race and political hatred. The events in Russia, the Polish national movement, so that the Polish newspapers and Polish agitators have taken up the cry of resistance against the government, selecting the Prussian education ministry's requirement that religious instruction be given in German as the principle to combat, because in Poland the religious feeling of Catholics is so strong that the Prussian Government cannot expect to win from the Catholic church in Poland the same time the government has been weakened by the protest of the German Catholic party to oppose their Polish religious instruction.

The government's position, the Associated Press is informed authoritatively, is as follows:

The authorities are fully determined to proceed with the policy of the Germanization of Poland, through the German language, both in and out of school, are showing great moderation. Children refusing to receive religious instruction in German are kept in after school for one or two hours. The government is determined to persist in the policy of Germanization of Galicia, where Germanism, it is said, has almost disappeared.

LADIES' BOX-PLEATED WAIST, CLOSED AT THE FRONT.—No. 1068—A smart style of shirt waist is here illustrated. The front and back portions are laid in box-pleats; those in the waist line, and those at each side of front to yoke, depth. The bishop sleeve may be finished with deep cuffs, or in short length, with a band. Flannel, cashmere, Henrietta, or silk will develop this model nicely.

The pattern is cut in five sizes—32, 34, 36, 38, and 40-inch bust measure. For medium size it requires three yards of fabric, 36 inches wide.

World Pattern Department.
Please send the above-named pattern, as per directions given below, to:

EDITOR'S 70TH BIRTHDAY.
Henry Mills Arden of Harper's Monthly Receives Felicitations.

New York, Nov. 10.—In the famous old Harper Publishing House in Franklin-square, to-night, nearly 350 men and women prominent in American literary life, celebrated with Henry Mills Arden, for 37 years the editor of Harper's Monthly, the 70th anniversary of his birth.

During the dinner letters of congratulations from President Roosevelt and Samuel J. Tilden, were read. The president, in his letter invited the editor to visit him at the White House should he visit Washington this winter.

Mr. Clemens' letter said, in part: "Alden, Dear and Ancient Friend, it is a solemn moment. You have now reached the age of discretion. You have been a long time arriving. How often we recall with regret that Napoleon once shot at a magazine editor and missed him, and killed the publisher. But I remember with charity that his intentions were good. You will reform now, Alden."

BEAT DAUGHTER TO DEATH.
Ohio Woman Found Guilty of Manslaughter—Used Stick With Nails.

Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 10.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Jennie Anderson, charged with the murder of her six-year-old stepdaughter, Elsie Anderson, on July 1, returned a verdict of manslaughter to-day. This means a penitentiary sentence of from one to twenty years.

The testimony showed that the little girl died from the effects of 79 blows and wounds inflicted by the breaking of both her arms and other injuries.

Mrs. Anderson was accused of beating the child with a stick with a nail in each end, and a wound over the eye indicated that the child had been struck by a nail or some other sharp instrument.

The Last Call. — John Smith, American Civil War veteran and pensioner, is dead, aged 73. He lived in Galt 23 years and was a comrade-in-arms of Col. Ryerson, U. S. consul here.

Happy at Last
Her Husband no longer Gets Intoxicated—Samaris Tastes Remedial Cured Him.

This lady says: "For the first time since I have been married I am happy and content—my husband has cured his habit of drinking. Several months ago you sent me a free sample of your remedy at my request, and without my husband's knowledge, I gave it to him in his tea and food, and he got full treatment and was cured. I am so wonderfully, and I cannot sufficiently thank you for the change it has brought to my home."

Free Package and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials, and price of the medicine, sent on request. Correspondence strictly confidential. THE SAMARIS REMEDY CO., 90 Jordan Chambers Jordan St., Toronto. Also for sale by George A. Bingham, 100 Yonge-street, and at Kendall's Pharmacy, 1406 Queen-street west.

RADICALS CONQUERED.
FRANCE AVOIDS A CRISIS

Paris, Nov. 10.—Unless the Vatican authorities cause some radical changes in the situation the fears of a religious crisis resulting from the enforcement of the law providing for the separation of church and state, are regarded as dissipated in consequence of the middle course steered by the Clemenceau cabinet. The extreme radicals under Combes and Pelletan, who insisted that a policy of spoliation and persecution should be pursued, have been passed by the announcement that church property not claimed by cultural associations on that date will be attributed to the communes at the end of the ensuing year. In the meantime the churches will remain at the disposal of the clergy, and a road for retreat is let open by the admission of the possibility that church property can be transferred by the state to associations formed before Dec. 31, 1907.

This speech of Minister of Public Worship Briand yesterday, explaining the government's intentions, was extremely conciliatory in tone, and especially designed to make it plain that the government is not anti-religious, and that the Pope's "motu proprio" is entirely "de facto" and "de jure" completely disarmed the clericals by his intimate knowledge of what happened during the recent meeting of the French episcopate when a majority of ten voted in favor of complying with the law. The chamber of deputies, by 376 to 98 votes, ordered the government to be authorized at the cross roads through France.

In view of the tremendous majority insuring parliament's support the cabinet has a ready-made ultimatum that the Pope is preparing to accept the inevitable or that at any rate there will be another meeting of the episcopate. It is shown by his report, which will be conciliatory, will be confirmed.

VATICAN NOT AFFECTED.
Rome, Nov. 10.—The speech of the French Minister of Public Instruction and Worship, M. Briand, outlining his government's policy toward the Catholic church in France, has not created much of an impression at the Vatican, as just such an attitude as outlined by M. Briand had been anticipated. It is stated that the Vatican will not recede from the ground it has taken, but will leave the vindication of its position to time and the wisdom of Frenchmen.

TRY THIS FOR YOUR COUGH.
Mix half ounce of the pure Virgin Oil of Pine with two ounces of glycerine and a half ounce of whisky. Use in teaspoonful doses. A famous throat and lung specialist, whose camp followers have taken the pine woods of Michigan for their winter headquarters, declares the above formula will break up a cold in twenty-four hours, heal the lungs and cure any cough that is not cured from any drug store at small cost.

Care should be exercised in securing the best quality of glycerine and whisky, while the Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased only in the original half-ounce vials, which are securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, and the name Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) plainly printed thereon. Cheap adulterated oils which are sold in bulk always cure the cough, and never effect the desired results.

SHOOTS WIFE IN STREET CAR.
Efforts at Reconciliation, After Long Separation, Had Failed.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 10.—Jacob Stehman, a boilermaker employed at the Pennsylvania Steel Works at Steelton, near Harrisburg, Pa., shot his wife in the crowded Broad-street market, and fled.

Stehman and his wife have been living apart for some time, she being employed as a dressmaker in the city. She went to the market to-day and, after failing to persuade him to return to his home, she shot her four times.

She was 48 years old and the mother of four children.

WEEK HEART SYSTEM WAS RUN DOWN.
When the heart is healthy and performing its functions naturally, it should beat regularly seventy-two times a minute without causing its owner the slightest inconvenience or distress.

When it begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time, then slow and seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through unnatural action of their heart.

To all such sufferers

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

can give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. F. Fletcher, Sault Ste. Marie, West. Ont., says: "I have been troubled for four or five years with weakness, and run-down system. My feet were always cold and I felt almost dead. My heart was weak and I was so nervous I could hardly walk across the street. I started taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after using three boxes I felt much better. I continued their use until I had taken twelve boxes and I am now well."

C.P.R. SUDBURY EXTENSION.
Supt. Murphy Takes Charge

It was announced at the Union Station on Saturday that the operation of the C. P. R. Sudbury extension line as far as Craighurst will be included in the jurisdiction of Superintendent Murphy of the second division.

The arrival of the news had the effect of putting a damper on the spirits of a few of the aspiring young C. P. R. men around the Union Depot. To say that the news created a surprise would be giving it mild. Everybody was under the impression that a superintendent would be appointed for this extension line. All hope, however, in a somewhat getting the job has not been given up, as a vacant place of the line in Mr. Murphy's division is until further notice. Mr. Murphy will take charge on Dec. 1, the opening of the line being definitely fixed for that date. The officials have the assurance of the contractors that the line will be turned over by them on the 25th of this month, and that it will be gone over by the government inspector.

May Move Mail-Room.
There is some talk of moving the mail room at Union Station from the upstairs waiting-room down to larger and more commodious quarters on platform No. 3. The matter is being given the attention of the officials, who will decide some time next week.

The action of the Pennsylvania Railroad in increasing the pay of freight employees 10 per cent, and the likelihood of other American railroads following the lead, has been discussed in local railway circles.

Last Link Completed.
The switch to connect the old Grand Trunk Bell Line with the Canadian Northern Railway, which sheds at Cherry-street was laid Saturday afternoon. At 2 o'clock a C.N.R. work train came down over the Don Flats on the line, and a gang of laborers was put to work. The officials of the C.N.R. have not yet definitely fixed a date for the opening of the passenger service, but from the appearance of things, it seems as if a freight train will be first experimented with.

Bernard Hill of the C.P.R. freight department at Union Station has resigned and is going west to Edmonton.

Canadian Ticket Agents' Ass'n.
The annual convention of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association was called to order at Mobile, Ala., on Saturday, with 188 delegates present. President William Burton of Toronto, Ontario, delivered his annual report, and the feature of the session was the reading of a paper on "Railway Development in Canada" by H. J. Pettigrew of Forest, Ont. The officers were chosen: W. McIlroy, president; Peter Hobson; C. R. Coleman, first vice-president; W. R. R. Craig, second vice-president; Coburn, J. Hanford, third vice-president; Kingsford, De la Hooke, secretary-treasurer; London, P. R. Rodgers, auditor; Clinton, Ontario, secretary.

Denver, first president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, said to-night that he had received advices from Chicago to take a freight train from Chicago to the Pacific coast. This increase, it is claimed, will affect all the yards from Buffalo to the Pacific coast. The probability of a strike, Mr. Heberting said, was past.

Special Exhibition This Month of Stelwaga Art Pianos.
The great house of Stelwaga & Sons have been the leaders of the world in all that pertains to piano construction. They have also been the pioneers in the art of art creations in designing and finishing of pianos.

They have succeeded in interesting some of the greatest decorative artists never before known to give the Canadian public an opportunity of seeing an assortment of these wonderful instruments by having an exhibition in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa.

Their Canadian representatives, the Northlander Piano Co., will during the week of the 15th to the 24th have the exhibition at their Toronto warehouses, where there will be afternoon recitals on these instruments by eminent musicians to whom the public will be welcome.

Further notices with particulars will be given very shortly.

WOMAN'S SUDDEN DEATH.
Simcoe, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Joseph Jackson, wife of Sheriff Jackson, of Norfolk County, died suddenly at the afternoon of heart failure, at the family residence, West-street.

She was in her usual health only a few hours before her death.

Christmas in New York.
The Lackawanna Railroad will run another of their popular fifteen (15) day excursions to New York on Dec. 14th. Round trip tickets from Toronto $12.50, or $9 from Buffalo. The stores are in their best before the Christmas holidays. Christmas gifts are there in lavish display; theatres have put on their newest plays; it is the climax of the winter season in the most wonderful city in the world. For full particulars, time of trains, reservations, etc., apply to A. Leadley, C. F. and P. A., 75 Yonge-street, Toronto, Telephone Main 3547; or P. R. 22, Box 289, Main-street, Buffalo.

GEORGIAN BAY SHIP CANAL COMES BEFORE COMMISSION.
Chicago Man to Interview International Waterways Investigators on the Subject.

Telford Burnham of Chicago is in Toronto in the interest of his pet scheme of deep water connection between the upper lakes and ocean ports. He is stopping at the Walker and will go to Buffalo on Tuesday to interview the International Deep Waterways Commission.

Speaking to The World Mr. Burnham said the most practical and most economical scheme would be a ship canal and railway to connect Georgian Bay with Lake Ontario. The drop from Georgian Bay is 335 feet, and it would be accomplished by a deep cut and then three railway portages, would carry the heaviest lake vessels to the Lake Ontario level. This proposal is not new, but has been discussed for years by men associated with the transportation problem.

It is pointed out by Mr. Burnham that vessels of a deeper draught than 17 feet are unable to pass the Limekiln Crossing in the Detroit River, thus necessitating "speaking" bulk at Detroit.

Another important piece of news comes in the statement that the trustees have been dissolved, and that the year's bitter warfare between big shows will be resumed.

HIGHWAYMEN STEAL BALLOTS.
That's the Supposition Now That the Messenger Has Disappeared.

Benoa, Nov. 10.—Tom Nighting, an Indian, runner, to whom the election ballots and returns of Wonder Mining District were given, Wednesday, has disappeared and deputy sheriffs yesterday were scouring the country for miles east of Reno for him.

Upon the returns rests the fate of the candidates for judge in the second district and of several Churchill County candidates.

It is believed that the Indian was intercepted and robbed of the returns and fled to the hills for fear of prosecution.

800 MORE HINDUS COMING.
Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 10.—In addition to the large number of Hindus already in British Columbia, 800 more are en route.

Already strong protests have been made from British Columbia to Ottawa against the arrival of this class of immigrants.

Killed in Scrimmage.
Great Falls, Mont., Nov. 10.—In a football game at Fort Shaw this afternoon between the Great Falls team and the Fort Shaw Indian team James Galt was killed in a scrimmage. Internal injuries bringing about death.

Tammany Tigers Win 19-1. Tammany Tigers pulled up another notch in the junior O.R.F.U. race when they trimmed St. Michael's College.

Saturday's game, in spite of the one-sided score, was a nice struggle to watch.

The star of the game was White of the Tigers. His running was superb. He tore off two or three forty yard runs in the second half.

LeVack never converted, but he had the majority of the points to handle. Baillie did his best work stopping men who broke through the line.

Harper was a good player, but he was not as good as the other players. He was not as good as the other players.

Argonauts and Peterboro played the last senior O.R.F.U. game of the season on Saturday on Varsity Athletic Field.

The score at half-time stood 4-2 in favor of the Argonauts, and at full time 12-4, favor Argos.

It was hard to believe that it was the same Argos of a week ago that were playing the team which had the snap displayed in the Tiger game.

Three Peterboro players were hurt, and in the quarter Peterboro played eight men, and in the first half they were down to five.

University reports do not as a rule appeal to the general public of their respective localities, much less to the public of another place or country.

But the report of Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell, for 1906, just issued, has this time a special interest for Canada and Toronto, inasmuch as it regards the completion and dedication of Goldwin Smith Hall for the exclusive use of the arts department of the university.

"Languages and literature," the president remarks, "history, political science, mental and moral philosophy, have always been taught at Cornell and taught by accomplished professors; but hitherto the work has been done in different buildings, no hall ever having been assigned exclusively to the humanistic departments or to any division of them. Henceforth they can boast the largest, the most beautiful, the best equipped and the most imposingly located hall on the campus."

Describing the dedication ceremony of the Goldwin Smith Hall, during commencement week, Dr. Schurman gives felicitous expression to the sentiment which prevails in Cornell regarding our distinguished fellow-citizen, who, to quote from Dr. Tamblin's admirable eulogy, estimate and review which appeared in yesterday's Sunday World, "took the apparently strange step in 1868, of leaving the old world, England and associates behind in the prime of his life, and accepting Andrew White's invitation to become professor of English constitutional history in the newly founded Cornell University."

Says the president: "The illustrious scholar whose name it bears, the ever constant friend of Cornell University, in spite of his four score years, came from Toronto to give the address of dedication, which, while a model of domestic informality, was also a message of moving eloquence and quickening inspiration."

Mr. Goldwin Smith, on the following day, at the urgent request of the alumni, spoke at their banquet, and at commencement, by special request, he also addressed the graduating classes. Rarely, if ever, has a speaker impressed himself so profoundly upon an academic community. Gifts, attainments, fame, character, largeness and clarity of vision, increasing aspiration, and finally, affection towards to the students and interest in Cornell graduates and students combined to draw all minds and hearts to the speaker, who, as a scholar whose service to the university began a generation ago, and whose name will remain for generations to come an ideal for the scholars who cultivate letters, philosophy, history and politics in the Goldwin Smith Hall which he so fittingly dedicated.

THE STRIKE AT HAMILTON. With the country at large so prosperous, and the City of Hamilton growing so rapidly in wealth and population, the street car strike comes as a discordant note. A strike is always to be lamented, not only for the financial injury done to employer and employee alike, not only for the inconvenience inflicted upon the public thereby, but even more for the alignment of citizens into classes, and the possible collision between the government and some of the people. Nothing is more hurtful to a city or state than distrust between those who have and those who toil; and nothing is more odious in a free state, than an impression among the poor that the government is to be treated as an enemy, instead of to be appealed to as a friend.

That such consequences not infrequently flow from strikes is a matter of common knowledge. All good citizens should strive to avert them. As a matter of fact, the mayor and other civic officers of the City of Hamilton have been tireless in their efforts to avert this particular strike.

Their failure, if they have failed, is to be laid to the Traction Company. The points in difference were submitted to arbitration. The company has ignored the award of the arbitrators. It has likewise ignored all subsequent efforts by the city officials to bring about an accommodation.

A street car strike is largely a local affair, and The World is not inclined to thrust any advice upon the people of Hamilton, but the following facts are universally admitted and require no comment:

(1) The present company acquired its system by purchase, and voluntarily assumed the rentals and royalties due to the municipality.

(2) It has permitted its roadbed to become worn-out and dangerous. Its cars are old, poorly equipped, and altogether unfit for an up-to-date city like Hamilton.

(3) The wages paid to the men have been low wages, and, in many instances, the men were required to be on duty for 18 hours a day in order to be paid for 10 hours' work.

(4) The present strike was brought on by the company, which now states that the road is losing money. No effort has been made to run a car for an entire week, although it is said that an effort will be made to do so this morning.

The company is seeking to compel the city to give it a more favorable franchise; it is using the strike for that purpose. The Traction Company, by book-keeping, it is true, may show a deficit; its earnings are largely swallowed up by its parent and owner, the Cataract Power Company, which no doubt charges it for power at the same extortionate rate, evidenced by the charge of $84 per light to the City of Hamilton.

BUT IF THE FRANCHISE IS A BURDEN TO THE COMPANY, LET THE COMPANY BY ALL MEANS SURRENDER IT, AND LET THE CITY MUNICIPALIZE THIS ESSENTIAL UTILITY.

One other suggestion. For several days past soldiers in Toronto have been expecting at any moment to be hurried to Hamilton. They may be needed, and good order must be maintained. But do not corporations too readily call for soldiers, and do not officials too readily yield to their importunities?

In the United States, where strikes involve at times 100,000 men (many of them newly-arrived from Southeastern Europe), where trains are wrecked, mines dried, and whole counties given over to insurrection, it is necessary for the civil power as a last resource to call for troops. But in the orderly, prosperous, law-abiding City of Hamilton it is likely that the 150 men on strike, mainly native-born citizens, with wives and families and owning their own homes, are suddenly to menace civilization, terrorize the remaining 74,850 citizens, and require an army to hold them in check?

The strikers protest that they desire good order; they are at present out of employment; why not swear them all in as a posse comitatus? The "man on horseback" will come soon enough, without our trying to hunt him up. Montreal handled a street car strike without calling upon the militia. Mayor Biggar is strong enough and popular enough to handle the strike in Hamilton.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM. It is indeed a grave question that our staff-writer "The Captious One" asks in the Sunday edition of this paper. He quotes an instance, which with him, we fear, is one of many, where a woman—a fairly well-to-do mechanic's wife who could afford to do $27 a month—a five times refused houses because she had young children. She had been advised to leave her present dwelling because of the draughts and dampness, and because consumption threatened the family. But the treasurer of the household blocked the way. In another case a room-letting refused to take in a family because more could be made by renting the rooms to girls, two or three of whom would room together, or to men who would do a like thing.

This is surely an alarming state of affairs, thereby warranting the important questions that The Sunday World writer puts: "Do we propose to encourage race-suicide, immorality, unsanitariness and the creation of slums and to foster crimes? All these questions are inextricably involved in the housing problem. Whether it is the duty of the city to step into the breach and find a solution or not, the matter is palpably of the gravest concern, and one calling, not for spasmodic, but systematic action. Not alone will race-suicide be encouraged by a do-nothing policy, but as long as draughty, damp houses exist, and trolleys and autos make overwhelming dust, just so long will efforts at the abolition of the big white plague prove more or less ineffectual. We may not be able to altogether suppress the dust nuisance, but there are remedies that can be applied against draughty and damp houses. And therein, it rather appears, lies work for the city medical health officer, who from the disposition he manifests to accept new duties appears to think that in his primary position he has not sufficient employment.

If, as many people seem to think, it is inadvisable for the city council to take action by guaranteeing or supplying funds for the erection of houses for small wage-earners, there can assuredly be no objection to the appointment of a commission to investigate the housing problem.

pointment of a committee of enquiry as to the extent of the evil. Two or three years ago the combined charities sent the city relief officer over to England to study the housing problem, but seemingly no good result was forthcoming. Sundry gentlemen, with a promoter at their head, got together and formulated some scheme for a company. Various options were secured, but real estate men showed their fangs, foreseeing a depreciation in value, and the project was dropped. This, we believe, is what Dr. Goldwin Smith referred to when he said: "It is difficult to see why business men frowned upon the scheme."

"The Captious One" says the all-important fact is that they did so frown, thus emphasizing in a most pronounced way the difficulties of the situation. That something must be done, and done quickly, if Toronto is to maintain her reputation for morality, for health and for cleanliness, as a city of homes and as a city without slums, becomes daily more evident. The pressing question of the moment is what form shall the doing take and who shall assume the initiative?

BRANCH BANKS AND LOCAL PROSPERITY. Among the addresses delivered before the thirty-second annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, held at St. Louis last month, was one which took the shape of a review of the currency problems. With the immediate questions discussed by Mr. A. J. Frame, president of a country bank in Waukesha, Wisconsin, it is not proposed to deal. But in the course of his address Mr. Frame took occasion to refer to the currency methods of various countries, including Canada. His criticism was not altogether complimentary, for he admitted that Canada had an elastic currency, it had also three and a half millions of square miles of territory.

"Her population," he remarked, "is a measly five and a half millions; her total banking power is not equal to that of little Massachusetts, with only 8315 square miles of territory; neither is it equal to that of Illinois, Pennsylvania or New York; she has 34 central banks, with several hundred branches. They issue currency based on a 5 per cent deposit, and a first lien on assets in the case of banks with not less than $50,000 subscribed capital. Banks pay out only their own notes, and send all others home for redemption."

Mr. Frame then proceeded to draw a comparison between the independent banking system of the United States and the branch banking system of Canada, and the branch banking system of Canada, very much to the advantage of his own country. But, he will not get many Canadians to accept his conclusion, he certainly indicated a possible danger to the local industries of Canada, which a system of head offices in the great cities and numerous branches scattered throughout the country, appears well adapted to create, and one which should be carefully guarded against by those who control Canadian banking policy. Remarking on the statements made in the paragraph quoted, Mr. Frame said:

"Under such conditions it is clearly against our policy to adopt her system of elasticity, because we have prospered so greatly under our independent banking system that we are not ready to surrender to any branch banking system, and my mind, the paralysis of progress in Canada is largely because, unperceived by her, a branch banking system, the cities and towns, and branches are located receive practically no taxes for the license to enter the field, and these branches simply skim the cream from the localities to enrich the exchequers of the monopolists at headquarters. Only a few branches in the district, with limited authority at the office, are substituted for our officials, boards of directors and local stockholders, to whom all profits are distributed. Surely the persons whose fostering care life and property have come to the cities and hamlets in which our independent banks are located. Surely the banking system of Canada cannot be quoted as a pattern to us in any respect."

This view of the ultimate advantages of an independent over a branch banking system is certainly questionable, but undoubtedly a strong temptation exists in a young and rapidly developing country like Canada, to use local branches simply as sources for the supply of funds to be utilized for the needs of the business centres and for the furtherance of the plans of great capitalists and financiers. This may be a profitable policy for the banks themselves, but it is detrimental to the interests of the small towns, whose industries are discouraged by the refusal of credits which would otherwise be given, or by their undue limitation. Where the branch offices are conducted primarily for the benefit of the community that supports them, and operate substantially as an independent local bank would do, they are fulfilling their proper function. But if local development is hindered that the head office may have funds for investment elsewhere, they are open to animadversion such as that passed upon at the American Bankers' Association.

Of late years there has been a remarkable increase in the number of branch banks in Canada. As The News editorially pointed out on Friday, in 1900 our thirty-odd chartered banks boasted about 700 branches—today the number is over 1500—; in other words, the number of the branch banks has increased more than 200 per cent. in six years. Commenting on this and on the monopoly enjoyed by the chartered banks of Canada, The News rightly condemned such of our great banking institutions as fail to fulfil their whole duty to the commercial element of the country by neglecting to open branches at points where they are required. But, their duty goes further. Not only should branches be established in small towns which, in the United States, would be served by individual capitalists, but they should furnish, as the individual banks would do, the banking facilities of all kinds needed for the furtherance of local business and industry. In this respect the Sovereign Bank of Canada is doing excellent service. Its guiding policy has been to make the small trader as welcome as the big corporation, and to do this properly necessarily implies that every one of its 76 branches comes a local bank, run for the benefit of its own immediate community. No better service can be rendered to Ontario or Canada to-day, and the steady pursuit of this policy cannot but build the Sovereign Bank into a great provincial national institution.

TRUSTEES HAVE TO PAY. Orangeville Banner: A meeting of the trustees of the Trust Co. of Canada, No. 6, Mono (Harshaw's) School, was held in the schoolhouse to discuss the revised public school regulations. The meeting was attended by 20 of the representative farmers of the section. The consensus of opinion, as expressed by the meeting, was decidedly unfavorable to the new regulations. The salary requirement came in for general criticism, and the regulations calling for the engagement of a caretaker and the providing of additional school equipment were strongly objected to as vexatious and unnecessary. The teacher in this section has been getting $350 a year. The assessment is $125,250, and the trustees therefore have to pay $400 in the future.

Time to Quit. Brantford Expositor (Lb.): There are rumors that Hon. C. S. Hyman will resign his seat for London and seek reelection. This would seem to be the main reason for the resignation. Evidence has been disclosed which would show that the minister of public works in any way abetted the offences against public works which were prevalent in his last election, or that the general result was affected thereby but we feel certain he would strengthen his position by resignation by taking the course indicated.

WANT TO GO TO SCHOOL. Steps Taken to Accommodate Russian Jew Colony in New Ontario. A colony of Russian Hebrews, established at the Second Crossing of the Blanche River, ten miles beyond Englehart, are eager for education, but, not yet being naturalized, they are unable to vote school taxes or otherwise to help in the support of the same. Most of the colony come from Toronto, and were sent up by the government. Thirty-five of the children are attending school in the settlement. Inspector J. V. McDougall, Nipissing, has had the matter in charge, and has consulted the department of education, which is anxious to help towards a solution. Hon. Dr. Fyne, Hon. Nelson Mouthie, Deputy-Minister Colquhoun, Director Southworth and Inspector McDougall are discussing the situation with this end in view.

Inspector McDougall reports Norwegian, Finnish and a large number of French colonies in his district, there being 50 bilingual schools out of 150.

ANNEXATION MOVEMENT IS PROGRESSING UNSEEN. Goldwin Smith, in Interview With Philadelphia Paper, Predicts Continental Union.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—In an interview with a North American correspondent in his home at Toronto, Goldwin Smith, the publicist, critic, historian and master of English style, dismisses the new spelling in fifteen words. Discussing President Roosevelt's order to the departments, Mr. Smith said, with a broad smile playing around his mouth:

"What a thing for him to do! But then it will not make much difference. The correspondent, describing the aged writer, says of him: "He foresaw the union of the German States before Palmerston would acknowledge the possibility of such an amalgamation. He foresaw the union of the United States and Canada to-day, while many dispute its probability."

"He has been closely connected with more great evolutionary movements than any other Englishman now living. He has been intimate with more men and women of note than any other two men."

"The annexation of Canada to the United States will probably come, but none can say how soon or in just what way. Two countries so closely related by nature and so similarly populated can hardly forever remain apart. Great movements often progress unseen for a time you know, and so it is with this one."

"England has already withdrawn her military from the Dominion. And not long ago the Canadian minister of justice, in an effect that Canada would be safe under the Monroe Doctrine. Suppose England were to go to war with some other nation, and that nation decided to attack Canada; could England defend it against the enemy? Would the United States defend it simply as a neighborly act, and having no other interest, withdraw and hand it over to England again?"

"And do you consider the form of government of the United States the best for Canada?"

"No Statesman. I cannot say I consider your present form of government the best for yourselves. You are trying to run a government by committee. Your president's cabinet is made up of men selected at large, not men who are trained in the affairs they undertake to supervise. You have no trained statesmen."

"So soon as a man has served his few years as a leader in the presidency you set him aside, and another man might be his influence, it is not made use of. You seize upon a man because he coins a striking metaphor, and lift him to the leadership of a great political party."

This gentle thrust at Mr. Bryan was accompanied by the remark that the speaker considered him a "good lecturer."

"There would seem to be no good reason why the government should not own the railroads so long as it owns the highways," said Prof. Smith, "but have a care as to where you begin confiscation. That is a dangerous thing with which to deal. And have a care, also, as to how you attempt to deal with fortunes that are not 'morally' made."

"Socialism is a rebellion against trusts and combines. Use of political power to enforce a great monopoly is surely what we cannot be expected to bear. Hence, if it is tempted to do well to bear in mind that formidable competition may be coming on the scene."

"In China there is a highly industrial population, reckoned at 400,000,000, to which these troubles are apparently unknown. The influence may not be directly felt, but it is likely to work round. Besides, capital has wings!"

Zaddick foretells perils for about half the crowned heads of Europe, and also grave trouble for the British Government.

His catalog of disasters for the year may be summarized as follows: January—Plenty of shipwrecks, earthquakes and famine. February—British Government in a quandary. March—Frequent and destructive rail accidents; "Snows dyed with human blood." April—Great Indian crisis at hand. May—More trouble for the British Government. June—Religious strife and fanaticism in the east. July—Strange sights in the heavens. August—Nothing doing. September—Floods and earthquakes. October—Lawyers and doctors get busy. Religious revival. November—Nothing in position awkward and somewhat unsafe. All these troubles to come are prophesied in a little book, that is sold for sixpence.

Two countries so closely related by nature and so similarly populated can hardly forever remain apart. Great movements often progress unseen for a time you know, and so it is with this one."

"England has already withdrawn her military from the Dominion. And not long ago the Canadian minister of justice, in an effect that Canada would be safe under the Monroe Doctrine. Suppose England were to go to war with some other nation, and that nation decided to attack Canada; could England defend it against the enemy? Would the United States defend it simply as a neighborly act, and having no other interest, withdraw and hand it over to England again?"

"And do you consider the form of government of the United States the best for Canada?"

"No Statesman. I cannot say I consider your present form of government the best for yourselves. You are trying to run a government by committee. Your president's cabinet is made up of men selected at large, not men who are trained in the affairs they undertake to supervise. You have no trained statesmen."

"So soon as a man has served his few years as a leader in the presidency you set him aside, and another man might be his influence, it is not made use of. You seize upon a man because he coins a striking metaphor, and lift him to the leadership of a great political party."

This gentle thrust at Mr. Bryan was accompanied by the remark that the speaker considered him a "good lecturer."

"There would seem to be no good reason why the government should not own the railroads so long as it owns the highways," said Prof. Smith, "but have a care as to where you begin confiscation. That is a dangerous thing with which to deal. And have a care, also, as to how you attempt to deal with fortunes that are not 'morally' made."

"Socialism is a rebellion against trusts and combines. Use of political power to enforce a great monopoly is surely what we cannot be expected to bear. Hence, if it is tempted to do well to bear in mind that formidable competition may be coming on the scene."

"In China there is a highly industrial population, reckoned at 400,000,000, to which these troubles are apparently unknown. The influence may not be directly felt, but it is likely to work round. Besides, capital has wings!"

NEW YORK ONE VAST MAN

GORKY VENTS DISLIKE

In Bitter Book Novelist Says Men Are Slaves, and Statues Are Ashamed.

Milan, Italy, Nov. 11.—Maxim Gorky's resentment against the United States is expressed in a book he has just issued here entitled, "The City of the Yellow Demon."

As Gorky, in his narrative, points out to him is the gigantic statue of Liberty, and he feels duly impressed.

But once he arrives within New York he writes that he realizes that he has penetrated "a stomach of stone and iron, that engorges, assimilates and digests millions of men, and greedily awaits an endless influx of others."

He finds, he says, that he has entered a city of slaves.

"The face of the man is immobile, calm. None of them betrays that he is a slave of this monstrous city's life—in truth its daily victims. These men in their dotage blindness believe themselves to be the masters of their destiny, but in reality they do not understand that their independence is none other than the independence of the bruta in the hands of the whitewasher; of the hammer in the hands of the smith; of the bricks in the hands of the mason builder, who, rippling with pleasure, constructs for every one of them an enormous and secure prison."

"Many energetic faces are to be met with, but all the first thing that strikes you is their teeth. The inner liberty of the spirit sparkles not in their eyes. This energy without liberty recalls the cold brightness of the knife, the freshness of new unused cord. Their liberty is that of slightless stenils in the hands of the Yellow Demon."

Huge City. "This is the first time I have ever seen so huge a city. Never before have men seemed so unenveloped by life. And at the same time never have I in any other place encountered man so tragically satisfied as in this greedy, engorged, loathsome stomach, which from cupidly has fallen into idleness; which consumes brains and nerves with the most insatiable mastication."

Gorky, sees, in the busy-scrappers and general architecture of New York, further tokens "of pride in its own state and of brutishness, lack of liberty and vitality, and, above all, after this city resembles "a mastodontic mouth, with black, irregular teeth, puffing clouds of smoke toward Heaven, and, in its throat, a heart-disease," while inside New York in its "inelegant, heavy, ugly houses, shorn of all beauty, are incarcerated in these gloomy, dark and windowless pericentric neither flowers nor children. Statues Corrupted.

"In the public squares, both great and small, where the dripping leaves hang from motionless boughs, the trees stand aloft statues, their faces covered with a stratum of filth. Their eyes, that once gleamed with love of fatherland, are now veiled in the dust of the city. Those figures of bronze, dead and solitary, instead of the four-story houses, seem like pyramids amid the dense shadows of immense masonry. It would seem that, smitten by the same thought, each seems to ask: 'Is this, forsooth, the sort of existence I wished to find?'

"Statues Will Find Some Day. "Some heroes have their hands by their sides, but their eyes are fixed on the heads of the passers-by, as if to say 'Stop! this is not life, but lunacy!' They feel themselves superfluous in the din of the streets. They feel they are not at their posts amid this savage cupidly, this narrow prison of frenzied crime, glass and iron. Some might they be glad to leave the city, but their feet, as if by magic, will fly, with painful footsteps, to some refuge far from this city, to where fields are fresh and the moon

will go to EDMONTON.

Ingersoll, Nov. 11.—(Special).—Rev. E. E. Marshall has notified McDonough, Methodist Church, Edmonton, Alberta, that he has accepted the invitation extended to him.

Sin Against Health

Why the Usefulness of All Organs is Destroyed by Costiveness.

Most important to health and comfort is proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes, and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Habitual costiveness is best overcome by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which establish regularity that is exactly consistent with nature.

Not a drastic purgative—not even a pain or sensation of gripe, because Dr. Hamilton's Pills are vegetable and free from irritating mineral substances, found in so many widely advertised remedies.

In every case, Dr. Hamilton's Pills do away with the harmful effects of headache, biliousness and other manifestations of constipation.

James McConnell of Walkerton writes: "Since I was comparatively young man I have not enjoyed real good health."

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong."

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was distended, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings."

"Last winter I read through the Poleson's Almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Poleson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

resplendent; where there is air, light and silence." Of various phases of New York life, Gorky writes as follows: "The hand has flung from the windows into the muddy streets on the pavement. These little ones resemble the vegetable upon which the birds nibble their poor bodies, nourished with the gross emanations of the city, are pale and yellow; their blood saturated with poisonous air; their faces excited by the incessant, intolerable din of clanging metals and blazing showers of sparks.

"I ask myself, is it possible these babes can grow into sound, healthy, ardent men?"

"After 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, or still later, you may find them still rummaging among official and germs of misery. Living beings, they are rich. In these streets everything is saturated with filth—the walls of houses, the glass of windows, the clothes of dwellers, and their bodies, their brains, their desires, their ideas."

"The insides of their houses are so filthy, purulent wounds in the fissures of their walls. Cast down your glance at the darksome stairways, littered with rubbish. It is as though everything within and without were a part of a single corpse. The man appears as worms. At the dead of night, when puny, solitary men disappear like flies into the blackness, policemen loiter at street corners; gray caps on head, staffs in hand, masticating tobacco with a slow movement of the jaws.

"At daytime, in the squares, this man with the gray cap, whose beardless face shines like burnished metal, is supremely calm, invincibly strong; for he holds that little baton in his hand, which begins to vibrate, and he raises it, wherein is stored the power of the policeman's desk, and the raised, the truncheon a little higher, the critic of the crowd break forth more rarely; its trunk begins to vibrate more and more; meanwhile its head is raised higher and higher, and vacillates, while it wishes to hiss."

Sunday in New York. "Men taught to work, but not to live, find the day of rest difficult. On six days in the week life is simply colossal energy, whereof men are the component parts. Everybody knows his own place; therein his face is familiar in its dirty concealment.

"On the seventh day of repose and idleness life comes before the man in a strange form; its face contorted and unrecognizable. Outwardly all these beings resemble one another. All these men, gazing at the world, wear in their hands in their pockets. They move with tranquil men and eye serene. They speak, but little, and then with ill grace. Everybody isolates himself—remains alone."

The result of the election held on Wall-street, if the astute and disinterested vote be eliminated, it will be found that there still remains an immense vote, especially in this city, eager to express its disapproval of the present administration, as revealed in the various exposures of one kind or another during the past few years. On the whole, the present administration is a very large majority of the active voters in this state are apparently intent upon the removal of the present administration, and the election of a new government.

This spirit of opposition has evidently been thoroughly aroused, and it is not to its determination to have results, it is sure also to express itself in a good deal of hostile legislation in the future, and in continued aggressiveness on part of the administration at Washington against the trusts. The new government was elected for the purpose of clearing up political and financial messes, and of restoring Wall-street to its normal condition. The decision of the public with more or less timidity. As a precedent, the political effect of this election in this state is far-reaching; other states will follow suit, and should the movement go no farther than simply to clear up the mess, the trust corporations to obey the law and behave themselves, the same as ordinary people, then all will be well and hopeful, and in the end the country will be benefited by the agitation. But if no head is paid to rising radical tendencies, and if public grievances are to go on uncorrected and ignored, the attack upon vested interests will increase in intensity and become more dangerous. Capital is notoriously timid, and possesses exceptional facilities for self-protection, and if pressed too hard will be likely to leave the country, to the serious detriment of all concerned, especially labor, upon whom any check in the business industry would fall with greatest severity. The country will look forward with interest to Mr. Hughes' conscientious efforts for remedial reform. He should have the hearty support of all concerned, without regard to political affiliations.

Another depressing influence of greater importance is the condition of the money market. The transfer of loans from London to New York last week was quite large, but out-of-town institutions and New York trust companies provided for a considerable part of the interest on the clearing house banks, hence the bank statement was not so immediately affected. The clearing house banks have been misled, as they appear somehow to have been misled in the process of making the change of loans with New York. New York banks will indirectly have to suffer for the interest on the clearing house banks, hence the bank statement was not so immediately affected. BUTTERICK PATTERNS—END OF BOOK SECTION

Women's Stylish Fall Boots $3.50 a Pair.

This special sale of Women's New Fall Boots promises to be so popular that we have decided to keep it going for two days. There is an unlimited supply of boots, so that no matter how great the crowd on the first day we will have just as good a showing on the second. Remember, they are the best New York and Boston make, being made from patent calf, vic kid, Russian and gunmetal calf, with both medium and extra heavy Good-year welt extension soles; the regular price should be $4.50 a pair, but as the manufacturer delayed the shipment he has to stand the loss; all sizes on sale to-morrow at a pair 3.50 12-Button-Length Gloves, $1.50 a Pair.

Long Gloves still seem to be popular. If we are to judge from the large sales that these gloves bring in, and in order to give our customers a special sale, we have got together a collection of about 15 dozens, made up of a broken lot of white, gray, brown, mode and pink, 12-button length gloves, which, in the regular way, we sell at $2.25 a pair, but which on Tuesday we will clear at a pair 1.50

BRUSSELS CARPET TO CLEAR AT $1 A YARD

Here is a very fine collection of some of our best Brussels Carpet, that we usually sell at $1.20, $1.35 and $1.50 a yard, but in order that we may clear this special line we have decided to let it go at $1 a yard; there is a splendid range of colors and designs, nothing gaudy or glaring, but all in good taste and suitable for practically any room of the house; there are eighteen different patterns, and the lengths range from 15 to 80 yards, so you see there is a good range to choose from; special for Tuesday 1.00 quantity, are not always a reliable guide to money conditions from one week to the other, as most skillful financing can be carried on by the trust companies and the banks to affect the bank statement. As the banks have a clearing house, the trust companies ought also to have a clearing house, and if each would make their weekly statements on Saturday, by putting the figures of both together a more satisfactory conclusion could be reached as to the money situation.

The Stock Market. Stock market liquidation continues to progress gradually. Bullish sentiment has almost disappeared for the time being, owing to a realization of depressing monetary and political influences. At the same time there is no pronounced bearishness, and the under-stratum of confidence has not been in any serious degree impaired. Prices are now considerably below the high level reached last January, but the not down to the low price level of last May. Activity has been much diminished and lower prices or new developments seem to be needed to stimulate buying. The Harriman-Pisa controversy has an unsettling effect, inasmuch as it indicates a lack of harmony in high financial circles. Conditions outside of the stock market are unchanged. Activity in trade and industry continues unchecked. In spite of these facts, there is a very considerable degree of conservatism in business circles arising from the fact that commodity prices are excessively high, and the cost of production has been so heavily increased that the feeling prevails that present conditions cannot continue much longer without some sort of reaction or readjustment. On the other hand, there is a degree of optimism abroad, and speculation which has temporarily left the stock exchange, is drifting into mining securities. The present outlook for the market is for an irregular decline, that is likely to continue until the relations between the money market and values have undergone some degree of adjustment. As we have remarked before, there is an abundance of money, but, owing to the great rise in values, it is unable to do the work which was intended, and consequently seems scarce. The best remedy is not more money, for that means continued inflation, but liquidation which will bring us back to normal relations between the currency supply and values.

HEBREWS ORGANIZE LEAGUE TO LOOK AFTER THEMSELVES

Will Take a Greater Interest in Public Affairs and Eventually Elect an Alderman.

Three hundred Hebrews met at St. George's Hall on Saturday night and organized the "Hebrew Citizens League," objects social and political.

A further meeting was held at the McCaul-street Synagogue yesterday afternoon, when more money was put up and many signified their intention of joining the society.

On the platform at Saturday night's organization meeting were the mayor, Controllers Hubbard and Jones, C. G. Cash, L. Gurofsky, H. Cohen and C. G. Spigel, L. Swiger, H. Moses, P. Levy and C. G. Garkinkel, who compose the executive committee.

"I understand that there are a few of certain leaders in the Jewish settlement," said Mr. Levy, "who are supposed to control the Jewish vote."

Mayor Coatsworth had only a few minutes to speak. It was a good thing for the Jews that he did not discuss matters pertaining to their welfare.

"Any position in the country is open to any Jew," said the mayor. "You are entitled to run for alderman and hold the same rank as the other alderman."

"I am very anxious that the Jewish citizens should take part in the municipal government of the city, and that each man shall decide for himself."

Mr. Gurofsky pointed out what Jews were accomplishing in Winnipeg and Ottawa by such an organization as was contemplated here.

Continuing, he said: "I am a Jew first and foremost, and I am proud of it. I am for my country, care nothing for either party. Parties come and go, but Canada goes on forever."

But, concluded the mayor, "you must not be the best man in the world, you must be the best man in your ward where the least little spark would cause a great conflagration."

Mr. Gurofsky wanted justice, and thought by organizing in this way was the quickest and most permanent mode of securing it.

At this point a short, stout Jew got up and told the members of the board of control who were present that he was going along Sherbourne-street when a policeman called him into his office and searched him without cause.

"I have never begged for support," he said, "because I believe that every man is capable of choosing for himself. There has been a great work done by the city fathers this year. If you are satisfied with the work of the present members, you can pay them a great compliment by giving them another term."

"On every hand and in every country the Jews have made a name for themselves," said Controller Jones, "and England has been well served by Jews whom she entrusted with her government. There is nothing lacking in this city, however, and I think it should be looked after. It is a matter of fact that the Jewish citizens lack that means for intelligence and learning that is already afforded the other citizens."

"It would be a grand thing if a Jewish institute was established in this city, where instruction in English and other branches of learning could be given the immigrant Jews—if we could find as it were a public home where Jews could go for instruction. I think that we should go to the government and ask for an appropriation to that end. If the government would grant a site, along with subscriptions from wealthy Jews, this could be accomplished, and if this matter is thought advisable, I would be glad to be one of a deputation sent to the government regarding it."

Controller Jones was in the field all night, and was very busy with the newspapers to talk. Men how days were just as big as their accomplishments. The question for the voters to ask themselves is, what have these men done for the city? If they have done the work, vote for them, if not, run them out."

J. S. Granatstein explained in Yiddish the plan of campaign and the ideas of the organization, which he designated as a protective organization, entirely independent of politics.

He claimed that the representatives of the Third Ward did not do their duty, inasmuch as the streets and sidewalks in that district were in a disgraceful condition the year round, and nothing had been done to repair them.

He argued further that the sale of Louisa-street School should not have been put thru until another school had been erected for children who were huddled in small rooms in another already overcrowded school.

D. Cash thought that it was a hardship that the Jewish bakers and butchers were not allowed to supply meat and bread to Jewish citizens on the Sabbath. If they could get a change to work till 2 o'clock Sunday morning, they would be able to supply meat and bread to Jewish citizens.

"We have never been united. A very few of us have taken an interest in public affairs, as all good citizens should, but the majority of Jews have got to be up and doing. We have large sums invested here, and we have a large stake in this town. We have got to take a great interest in public affairs, and we will never be respected until we do."

"The country needs the help of every Canadian citizen, whether he is a native-born or adopted. The Anglo-Saxon is not the only race here now; there are other races besides the English, Irish and Scotch."

"Making money and minding your own affairs benefits the individual, but to benefit the whole community we have got to take an interest in public affairs. We do have a say at the ballot box, and we should have a representative in the council for this ward, the largest and wealthiest ward in the city. We have not yet enough strength to place a man in the field, but we should have a strong man that we can place there until we can elect a Jew who is well versed in municipal affairs and has behind him a strong organization."

"We want to make this a Jewish society and a protective association to look after the interest of the Jew. We are not asking for anything, we are asking for the right to be heard. The times have got to change, and it's up to us to do it. I for one am not going to stand and look on and see a Jew victimized. I am going to have his hide, too."

Mr. Gurofsky pointed out what Jews were accomplishing in Winnipeg and Ottawa by such an organization as was contemplated here.

Continuing, he said: "I am a Jew first and foremost, and I am proud of it. I am for my country, care nothing for either party. Parties come and go, but Canada goes on forever."

SUBJECT DISPUTE IN DRY OFFER OF DOMINION GOAL

Company Issues Statement Giving Its Side of Quarrel With Dominion Steel.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 11.—(Special).—The Dominion Coal Co. issued on Saturday a statement in re Dominion Iron and Steel Co.'s dispute in part as follows:

The Dominion Coal Company refuses to run of mine coal from the Phalen seam as contract calls for, and the Coal Company notified the Steel Company that the contract was at an end. The Steel Company closing down, while thousands of tons of coal was on its side, was intended to lead to the conclusion that the Coal Company was to blame.

"If the Coal Company submitted to the claims of the Steel Company it would be the end of the Dominion Coal Company as a business. It means bankruptcy for the Coal Company if the position of the Steel Company is sustained.

"A reference to the public documents and other references to be found in the Dominion Coal Company's files, as well as that of the Dominion Coal Company, will show that the Dominion Coal Company is not a party to the dispute between the Dominion Coal Company and the Steel Company.

THIS COURT'S DECISION CAN SCARCELY HOLD GOOD

What the Assessment Act Has to Say Concerning Taxation of Income.

Following the decision of Windsor's court of revision, sustaining the appeal of George Scott, an employee of the Michigan Central Railway, against his assessment for income tax, on the ground that wages by the day do not constitute an "income," an application will be made to the Windsor City Council for the remission of the income tax assessed against about 800 employees of different railways here. The railway men allege they were unjustly assessed, as they are paid only by the day. The Scott case was brought as a test.

"It looks foolish on the face of it," went on Mr. Forman, who thought the decision at Windsor could hardly have been given under the new provincial Assessment Act, which came into force Jan. 1, 1905, and which allowed no such loophole of escape.

Mr. Forman quoted sub-section 5, section 2, of the act, which reads as follows: "Income shall mean the annual profit, or gain, or gratuity (whether ascertained and capable of computation as if by wages, salary, or other means) or emoluments, or as being profits through trade or financial or other business (so called), directly or indirectly received by a person from any office or employment, or from any profession or trade, or from any business, or from any other investment, and also profits and gains from any other source whatsoever."

the summoning of Mr. Cockburn and his associates. Explanation will be given of the entry in the minute books of some of the directors, all purchases and sales to be reported to the board, and Mr. Cockburn will be questioned about the incident referred to by Mr. Langton, who is expected to be the general manager looking over the ledger containing the "active" accounts.

Mr. Cockburn, when spoken to last night regarding the minute alluded to, but did not wish to recall the name of any other Ontario Bank matter. Anything that he had to state would be given in immunity for witnesses.

"I think the president's desire to be $50,000 is rather strange, because, if they think the coal was suitable and the contract was made, and are willing to arbitrate, why should they be better for all concerned to have done so before repudiating the contract, as $500,000 is not to be compared with the damage which will result from their action. On Tuesday or Wednesday we will start operating one of the blast furnaces on coke and coke obtained outside the Dominion Coal Co. and hope very shortly to have three of our blast furnaces again in operation."

Lift Lock Closed. Peterboro, Nov. 11.—The lift-lock closed on Saturday. The season has been satisfactory, as the lock has not been closed once for repairs, and the volume of business was in excess of any previous year.

Waters Are Receding. There seems to be no doubt that the waters of the St. Lawrence are receding rapidly. Dr. Bell notes that, within living memory, islands now several feet above water were formerly submerged. On Saturday, however, the waters of Port Churchill are therefore a necessity for the province, and the proposal to divide the river between Manitoba and Ontario is a matter of necessity.

It is possible that the conference will be concluded to-day. It is altogether improbable that it should be prolonged over to-morrow.

The mouth of the Churchill River has a fine harbor. The geological formation is different from that of the shore farther south, and the coast is of a different character. Lieut. Gordon found a depth of seven to ten fathoms, and four fathoms at low water.

There is a perfectly sheltered harbor nearly a square mile in extent, with excellent holding ground and recently safe. It is admirably adapted for a railway terminus, and docks could be easily and cheaply built.

The northern boundary of Ontario is a matter of necessity. The waters of the St. Lawrence are receding rapidly. Dr. Bell notes that, within living memory, islands now several feet above water were formerly submerged. On Saturday, however, the waters of Port Churchill are therefore a necessity for the province, and the proposal to divide the river between Manitoba and Ontario is a matter of necessity.

MINING STOCKS ACTIVE ADVANCES WELL HELD

Trading in Cobalt Shares Increases, But is Concentrated on a Few Issues.

World Office.
 Saturday Evening, Nov. 10.
 The mining share market was dull to-day and perhaps due to the weakness of the New York stock market. The active local issues really lay to ground, but there was not the display of buoyancy that was present earlier in the week. Saturday closed a week of extreme activity in the Cobalt shares. The principal issues which have contributed to the activity were Foster, Silver Queen and Trethewey. These stocks have climbed to popularity and have secured the principal speculative and investment following. Foster and Silver Queen have advanced fully 4 1/2 shares since a week ago, and at the end of the week the advances are practically all held. Trethewey came into prominence since a week ago and was promptly put up 60c a share. The discovery on the Green-McKinnley property has influenced Red Rock stock, the property of which has recently changed hands. Nipissing stock has controlled the market the last few days and a 1 1/2 in the shares of this company has had its effect on general speculative sentiment. The Foster directors issued a statement during the week dealing with the preliminary results of the week's trading in the shares of the company, and this has caused the issue to attract more attention in the market. A campaign is being attempted in Silver Queen and considerable blocks of the shares have been taken. Those who are in close touch with the market and know the position in which the Silver Leaf Company is placed view the operations in the shares as due to flagrant manipulation. The clients for the better class of Cobalt shares is gradually increasing and the mining market gives every promise of continued activity. Many additions to the trading list will be made as soon as the preliminary results can be worked out.

The North Bay Smelter

Montreal, Nov. 10.—(Special)—J. H. Brown, chief engineer of the Montreal Reduction and Smelting Co., is in the city to-day from North Bay and reports that the continuance of open weather has been of great advantage to the company, having enabled him to complete the construction of the buildings.

and accessory works in a most satisfactory manner.
 The chief engineers of the Temiskaming R.R. have met Mr. Brown's views and fully adopted his plans for the necessary spurs and sidings, which are now approaching completion.
 Mr. Brown says it is too early to set a date for the opening of the plant, as it is impossible to provide against delays in the delivery of all the machinery necessary, and that therefore he has been obliged to decline many contracts which have been urgently pressed upon him for the treatment of ores.

Camp Will Be Larger Than Expected

Visitors to the Cobalt camp who returned to Toronto yesterday say the outlook is brighter than ever. It is rumored at the mining centre that many of the litigations will shortly be satisfactorily settled, and that the properties will then be placed on the market. An eminent New York engineer, who came down from Cobalt Saturday, was highly impressed with what he saw. His impression was that previously conceived ideas of the size of small, and that the camp was fully ten times as large as the original estimate.

Cobalt Merger Rumor Again

Cobalt, Nov. 11.—The rumor is spreading in Cobalt that the manipulations going on in Foster stock are due to a deal being struck for the amalgamation of the Foster, Lawson, Kent Lake and University, the whole to be added to the Nipissing, the capital of the Nipissing Company, according to the rumor, to be increased $50,000,000.

Developing the Nipissing

The Boston News Bureau of Saturday says: The principal criticism of the Nipissing property by mining men who have recently visited Cobalt, is the lack of modern mining methods employed. It is said that it is apparent that the principal endeavor has been to get out as much silver as possible and as quickly as possible. Specimens are said to have been taken in producing mines. The huge gold mine of South America, which is owned by George I. Whitney of Pittsburgh and his associates, has capital stock of $65,000,000, and not a dollar of it is for sale.

No Settlement of Lawson Tangie

A highly interesting meeting between the conflicting parties as to the possession of the rich Lawson property was held at the King Edward Hotel on Saturday last. Those present were D. A. Dunlop, John McMartin, H. Timmins and their solicitor J. B. Holden, on the one side, and J. C. McCreag, S. Clark and Sclater C. Miller, on the other. It was found impossible to arrive at a compromise and the final settlement may not now be reached until the court trial next spring. It is understood that J. B. Holden proffered C. Miller for his clients, a large interest in the property if capitalized at $2,000,000, but this was declined.

MINERS GET INCREASES

Butte, Mont., Nov. 10.—Twelve thousand employees of tin mines and smelters in Montana have been granted an increase of wages, averaging 25 cents a day, beginning Nov. 15.
 The increase in the wages of the Amalgamated Company employees was ordered by H. H. Rogers.

Says Good Things of Cobalt

Samuel Silverman of the Alaska Mines Security Company, who has just returned from Cobalt, says that he saw more ore opened up in a small area than he had seen in the past 25 years of his mining experience.—New York Commercial.

McKinley-Darraga Showing Well

At a place on the Darraga property at Cobalt, Ont., is 140 feet deep, with 50 feet of drifting at the 75-foot level. Shaft No. 2 is 60 feet deep and has 50 feet of drifting. No. 1 vein runs four feet wide and is stripped for over 400 feet. More silver was run from 600 to 800 ounces of silver to the ton. No. 2 vein is stripped for 420 feet and gives assays of 3000 ounces of silver to the ton. No. 3 vein is stripped for 400 feet and runs 3000 ounces to the ton.

Trading Inactive Pending New Issue

The meeting of the Trethewey shareholders took place to-day (Monday) to decide upon the conversion of the $5 shares into those of $1 denomination. Trading in Trethewey is restricted until the new shares are available, as few want to be bothered with the transfer of the old stock into the new. There is no doubt that the change will be effected, but the new shares will scarcely be freely available until the end of the week.

$100,000.00 of Stock at $1.00 per Share Now Offered by us.

DON'T WAIT FOR THE RISE---BUY NOW.

We recommend this stock to our customers because it has more than ordinary merit. Low capitalization, 120 acres of mining land, 17 veins already discovered running high in silver, 2 shafts being sunk, a shipper, we think, by February. This stock should have a rapid rise. The demand is heavy from people who know what the GILPIN is. Orders filled as received.

WE HANDLE NOTHING BUT PERSONALLY INSPECTED PROPERTIES—ONES THAT WE CAN RECOMMEND.

WHEN EVERYONE WILL FLY.
 Paris, Nov. 11.—"Ten years from now the air will be full of people flying about. Just as ten years ago the roads were full of people peddling about on bicycles. Airships will be much cheaper than automobiles, and consequently will be within the reach of more people's purses.
 Such is the statement made by M. Santos Dumont in the role of prophet and philosopher.

SLEEPING TWO YEARS.

For 28 Years German Has Laid In-sensible of Pain.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—A remarkable case of sleeping sickness is puzzling German specialists. Herr Arnhem, a former government official, aged 45, has been sound asleep for two years, he fell into a deep sleep, which has up to the present time been unbroken. He slept with intervals of wakefulness for ten days, and then, on June 26, he fell into a deep sleep, which has up to the present time been unbroken.

A NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

At the end of the present month, there will be a change in the editorship of The Canadian Engineer, Stanley Groves, who has been with the paper since June, 1905, is retiring from the position. The directors of The Monetary Times Printing Company, who control The Canadian Engineer, have not yet appointed Mr. Groves' successor.

NO WOMAN CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL.

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted endure.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural. They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages. Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old. Leo Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what is, cure you. Mrs. John Young, Harwood, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for some time and my back was so lame I could scarcely get around. After using two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I am completely cured. I find there is nothing like them for the cure of all kidney troubles."

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS A MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR RAILROADMEN KILLED

Rev. J. W. Pidgeon's Impressive Address on the Duty in Life of Railway Employes.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 11.—The first annual memorial service, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railroad Conductors, the Order of Railroad Trackmen, the Car Men's Association, and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, was held at the Victoria Presbyterian Church, Toronto Junction, this afternoon. Two hundred members of the orders attended in a body. On the platform, with one exception, the pastors of every church in the Junction had seats. Rev. T. H. Hazen, acting as chairman, and Rev. Mr. Simpson and Rev. T. Cowan conducted the devotional exercises. Special music was provided by choir and J. Augustine Arledge sang "Come Unto Me."

In his sermon to the railroad men, Rev. Geo. C. Pidgeon extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the community. In honoring the departed dead, the relatives of whom had heartfelt sympathy, the consideration of new plans and obligations was of vital import. The preacher took his text from Matthew xxiv, 4, "Be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." A principle of the true railroad man was faithfulness to duty at all times and all hazards. It was sweet to remember that the departed brothers had stuck to their posts and so their lives, this was the highest mark of human nature. The danger made no difference and all humanity was greater for their self-sacrifice.

"The glory of humanity," said the speaker, "is the fact that men do not call of duty. We find it on every hand, and it is essentially divine." The railroad man had many obligations, and the text was most appropriate to him. The greatest of these was, probably, vigilance in the presence of danger. When a brave man snatched his living from the jaws of death, the besetting sin was recklessness. It was the spirit that moved the soldier to burl defiance at every difficulty. There was a great difference between bravery and recklessness, and it was the duty of the railroad man to live on the level of the brave man. The courage that dared was highly commended, but the recklessness that imperiled the lives of a great many passengers, needlessly, was criminal. Not only should the railroad man be ready for physical, but also for the moral and spiritual responsibilities. The test of greatness was the readiness for the unusual. The men, not ready to meet all unexpected difficulties, were not fit to be given the trust of their fellowmen. Fidelity to duty and right were also essentials of the railroad man's responsibility. By their everyday conversation and conduct they could put to proper use the talent that had been entrusted to their care.

Railroad men came in contact with pure young lives every day. They could do a world of good or evil. If the boys starting in on the road, if a passenger is killed, that is only a matter of time, but that boy that came on the road six months ago, and would be ruined forever if his comrades did not accept their responsibility. One was a material death, but the other spiritual death. Compensations do the greatest good or the greatest evil.

"You can do what the angel Gabriel can't do, for you have a certain talent," he said in conclusion. "It is your duty to use your talents every day to up-build and make happy the lives of your companions."

The names of the departed brethren are as follows: Engineers John McCann, Edward Coleman, William Campbell, William Jones, Thomas Cotterill, J. Atton, J. Kyle, J. Dwaney, James O'Connor, D. W. Washburn, Robert Greenfield, Firemen William Atkinson, George Hunter, C. Winger, Norman Morley, W. Keeney, William McAuley, George Oliver, T. Ferguson, William Cochrane, Joseph Barnes and Broad, Conductor T. Mahoney, P. Twan, Frank O'Dell, James Young, G. A. Atkinson, E. Brackman, William Fields, William McGraw, W. D. K. James Ness, Sid Adams, W. Speers, D. Traynor, D. Lunello, C. Woodville, Trackmen T. Curtis, J. Brompion, Muna, Charles Campbell, Telegraphers J. M. Whalton, Frank Atkinson, John James Paterson, J. McKee, Thomas Thompson, and M. Moore, man J. Colvin, Locomotive Foreman J. Kyle, Car Foreman Jos. O'Bryan, and John Dodds, John Wanless, Councillor of the bridge and building department, Councillor Armstrong. It is reported by his physician, will soon be convalescent.

The property committee of the public school board on Saturday night recommended that legal action be taken to compel W. J. Adair to place in proper condition the back of the lot of Carlton School property, which they consider he has damaged by excavating gravel too close to the line fence. The Alumni of the Collegiate Institute will hold their annual at home in the auditorium next Friday evening. Contractor W. W. Hodgson has nearly completed all the west side of Keele-street excavating preparatory to putting down cedar blocks. A chimney on fire at the house of William Bobson, 138 Pacific-avenue, gave the department a run to-night. No damage. There are fifty-seven cars of stock in the Union Stock Yards for Monday's market. The eleventh anniversary of the Union Mission Sabbath School was held this afternoon and evening at the Mission Church, corner Mulock-avenue and Herbert-street. J. A. Backhouse, general secretary of the Ontario S. B. Association, delivered a stirring address. An evangelistic service was held by a number of students from the Bible Training School, Toronto.

North Toronto. The funeral of the late Rev. James McCaul took place from Moore Park on Saturday afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and was largely attended. The Rev. D. C. Hossack, pastor of the Deer Park Presbyterian Church, was assisted by the Rev. J. A. McGillivray of Bonar Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Parsons, Rev. Dr. Nell, Rev. McP. Scott, and others. Rev. Jas. McCaul was born on Christmas Day, 1841, in Scotland, and came to Canada when eight years old, and with the exception of six years he spent his life in Canada. His last charge was of the Church of St. Clement on Avenue-road, of which congregation he was pastor for seven years, resigning his pastorate in 1901.

The Rev. J. Powell, rector of St. Clement's Church, presented each of the class of newly confirmed with a handsomely bound copy of "Holy Communion." Mrs. Waugh of St. Clement's Sunday school presented scholars of her class, who were confirmed last week, with a handsome present.

There are a few cases of diphtheria in town at present. One case proved fatal Saturday afternoon, when Beatrice, the 5-year-old, and only child of Wm. Jones, York-street, Davyville, succumbed. The child was buried yesterday afternoon at Mount Pleasant. Her father's aunt is also suffering from the disease.

Judge Morgan will hold a court of revision of the voters list in the town hall this evening at 7.30. Quarterly meetings were held in the Davyville Methodist Church yesterday, which were well attended.

Stouffville. It is estimated that 80 carloads of sugar beets have been grown in this vicinity this year. The sugar manufacturers are, however, causing considerable uneasiness among the farmers, by asking them to hold back shipments for a time, as they are being shipped so rapidly and in such large quantities that they are unable to handle them to advantage. The second handling of them will cause the farmers considerable additional expense.

Nearly all the apples bought in this vicinity for shipment are now packed. Hatchell & Co. of Stouffville are shipping 1500 barrels.

The plate glass in Collard's drug store was badly broken a few nights ago. The dealer has been unable to find out how or by whom it was done. It cost about $75.

Messrs. Wallace, Baker, Casely and Lloyd returned Friday night from their hunting trip in the Sound district. They were gone 10 days, and brought back eight fine deer. One buck weighed 225 lbs.

A pretty wedding took place at Thornhill, Nov. 7, when Mr. Thomas Stoddard married Miss Annie Chatterly. After the ceremony the guests participated in a dainty repast. The bride wore white silk with intricate lace and a high collar. The maid of honor, Mrs. McNeil, wore a gown of blue and gold. The bride's bouquet consisted of white and pink flowers. The groom, William, with a pin with pearls, the bride's traveling suit was resplendent with blue and gold. The guests from Toronto were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Croft, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Croft, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Croft, Mr. and Mrs. D. Emery, and Mrs. Asher; Mrs. John Croft, Mr. and Mrs. Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dickson, Miss Brillinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Hall of Thornhill.

A public meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Ryerdale Business Men's Association in Danforth Hall, Danforth-avenue, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, to discuss the question of a high level bridge over the Don in the northern part of the city, preferably to connect Bloor-street with Danforth-avenue. The meeting will be addressed by W. F. Maclean, M.P., and others. Besides the members of the Dominion and provincial houses, Mayor Coatsworth, controllers and aldermen of Toronto, and the reeve and councillors of the Township of York, will be present. The topic should interest every property owner in the city.

Editorial Note. In your Saturday issue, in the county news column, I representative reports me as saying I am in favor of discharging the engineer from the York Railway. It is unfortunate that he so misinterpreted me. What I did say was that I am dissatisfied with the work of the engineer's department, and if he were discharged, I would have the council take more direct control of the expenditure in the works department and establish more system.

I have been honored with a seat at York Township Council board for the last four years, and have been frequently urged to lead in the discharge of the present engineer. I have consistently refused to move in that direction, thinking Mr. Gibb was doing an efficient officer if working under a thorough system. Geo. L. Henry, Lansing, Nov. 10.

Riverdale. The funeral of the late Cyril F. J. Storey, which took place from his father's residence, 189 First-avenue, on Saturday afternoon, was attended by a very large gathering of the friends and members of Branch Lansdowns, No. 6, Juvenile Foresters, of which deceased was member. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew attended service in St. Matthew's yesterday, when a number of recruits were added to the ranks. A baptismal service took place. H. Ward will conduct the teacher training class in the basement of St. Matthew's on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. B. Kennedy will lecture in First-avenue Baptist Church to-night on "A Man's Man for a That." St. Clement's Church was yesterday thronged to the doors, the occasion being the annual sermon to the brethren of the Court Star of the East. A.O.O.F. of Queen and Broadview, and the members of Court Star were joined by Branch Lansdowns, No. 6, A.O.O.F. of Queen and Broadview, and they marched together to the church.

Anniversary services were held in First-avenue Baptist Church. In the morning the pulpit was occupied by Dr. E. F. Kelly, and in the evening by Rev. J. A. Lebean. Dalmy Beach. At the last regular meeting of the Beaches Lodge, W. M. Bro. John McP. Ross was presented by the brethren.

RUSSIA'S HOLD IN NORTH PROVES MENACE TO INDIA

Thriving Cities Along Caspian Railway Garrisoned by Many Troops.

London, Nov. 11.—Polled in Manchuria and not knowing what will be the outcome of the present disastrous condition of affairs at home, Russia is still proceeding in traveling east in the Trans-Caspian Railway, town after town and city after city worthy of Europe are passed and in the region between the Caspian and the Pamirs, there is a standing army of some half a million men.

Twenty years ago these trans-Caspian territories were waste places covered with the ruins of long past splendors. Today in traveling east in the Trans-Caspian Railway, town after town and city after city worthy of Europe are passed and in the region between the Caspian and the Pamirs, there is a standing army of some half a million men.

Even at the most critical stages of the Russo-Japanese war, there was no wholesale denuding of Trans-Caspian. Its troops were never allowed to fall below 100,000 with the proper proportion of horses and guns. It is drawing attention to the above facts, the Post points out the importance thereof to the Indian government and notes how serious the general idea that an army marching against India from the north would have to cross hundred miles of desert wastes.

Won't Live in a Glass House. John Kerwin, no home, was arrested Saturday night on the charge of trespassing in the gate market. Previous to his arrest he threw a stone through the window of the hotel at King and Niagara-street, and another thru the window of a King-street car. The police say Kerwin wishes to get put away until summer comes again.

Rev. Thomas Porter. Kingston, Nov. 11.—Rev. Thomas Porter, formerly an English Church clergyman here, is dead at Haliburton, where he went some years ago to work among the miners and lumbermen.

Mr. A. F. Sheldon of Chicago, president of the Sheldon School, is registered at the King Edward. Mr. Sheldon is to be the guest of the Canadian Club to-day at luncheon. He will speak in St. George's Hall to-night.

Tricked by Dyspepsia. The Doctor Couldn't Tell Where the Trouble Lay. "For the past seven years I have been a victim of dyspepsia and chronic indigestion, and have consulted the most noted specialists to be found on diseases of this character. None, however, seemed to locate the difficulty or give relief. In addition to this medical treatment, I have resorted to the use of many remedies, and have given them faithful trial, but all to no purpose.

Upon the recommendation of a close friend, I purchased a 50c package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and in less than five days noticed that I was feeling more benefit than from any remedy I had used before. I continued to use the tablets after each meal for one month, and by that time my stomach was in a healthy condition, capable of digesting anything which my increasing appetite demanded.

I have no experienced an return of my former trouble, though three months have elapsed since taking your remedy."

We wish that you could see with your own eyes the countless other bona-fide signed letters from grateful men and women all over the land who have suffered years of agony with dyspepsia, tried every known remedy and consulted eminent specialists without relief, until they gave Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial. Like the doctor above, they couldn't locate the seat of the trouble.

Dyspepsia is a disease which has long baffled physicians. So difficult of location is the disease that cure seems next to miraculous. There is only one way to treat dyspepsia—to supply the elements which nature has ordained to perform this function, and to cause them to enter the digestive organs, supplying the fluids which they lack.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. We do not claim or expect Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to cure anything but the disorders of the stomach and other digestive organs, but this they never fail to do. They work upon the inner lining of the stomach and intestines, stimulate the gastric juices and aid in the secretion of juices necessary to digestion.

REWARD FOR INCENDIARY. There is a reward offered of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties responsible for the fire which burned a 6-foot square hole in the roof of a stable at 38 West Richmond-street on Saturday night. Percy J. Breakey offers the reward. His reasons for believing in incendiarianism seem well founded. The stable was gutted in May last, when eleven horses were burned. On Saturday a new roof was put on, and at 5 and 8 p.m. Mr. Breakey himself inspected the stable and found it all serene. By 11 o'clock the firemen of Bay-street chemical were having something to do.

While the loss was slight, horses were would like to find out who caused the fire. Dr. John Ferguson will lecture this evening in Bloor-street Presbyterian Church on "The Bible and Christian Science." There will also be a program of music and recitations by Mrs. A. M. Dow, Mrs. J. Massie, Misses Grace Rankin and G. Harris. The public are cordially invited.
