TRETTIS O.K. TRUSTS MOST BEHAF

President Taft Says Administration Will Not "Run Amuck," But Laws Must Be Obeyed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—President Taft, speaking before an exceptionally representative audience of Republicans at the Lincoln Day dinner of the Republican Club, in the Waldorf last night, reassured business interests that the administration had not the slightest idea of "running amuck" in the same time he said unequivocally that the laws would be enforced, and made this significant statement:

"If the enforcement of the law is not consistent with the present methods of carrying on business, then it does not speak well for the present methods of conducting business, and they must be changed to conform to the law."

There was no promise on the part of the Republican party to change the anti-trust law, except to strengthen it, he said, or to authorize monopoly or a suppression of competition.

Using recent figures of tariff receipts, he declared they showed that while the revenues had been increased, the burden of the tariff upon the people as a whole had been materially decreased. He said:

"We shall be called upon to respond to the charge in the next campaign that the tariff, for which we are responsible, has raised prices. And we must not be blind to the weight of such an argument in an electoral campaign. The reason for the rise in the cost of necessities can easily be traced to the increase in our measure of values, the precious metal gold, and possibly in some cases to the combinations in restraint of trade. The question of the tariff must be argued out."

"The prejudice created by the early attacks upon the bill and the gross misrepresentation of its character, I have no doubt, in any case if I can only get it into the minds of the people. Should disaster follow us and the Republican majority in the house becomes a minority in the senate, it may be possible that in the Democratic exercise of its power the people of this country will see which is the party of accomplishment, which is the party of acquiescence, and which is the party of words and irresponsible opposition."

"The bureau of statistics is authorized by the statement that during the first six months of the operation of the Payne law, which has just ended, the average rate of duty paid on all dutiable imports was 21.09 per cent. ad valorem. The average rate of duty paid on all imports for the same six months for the four preceding years under the Dingley law was 24.03. This would show that the reduction in the Payne law is 2.94 per cent. of the duty on the goods, or a reduction below the previous tariff rates is 12 per cent., showing a downward revision of this extent in those goods which are dutiable."

"But this is not all. Under the Payne law 51.6 per cent. of the gross imports for the last six months have been entered free, while under the four years preceding the Payne law the free list amounted to 45.16 per cent. of the total importations; so there was not only a reduction of duty on dutiable imports of about 12 per cent. but also an enlargement of about the same percentage of the free list."

Will Wipe Out Deficit.

"For the six months that the total receipts from the customs and internal revenue have been $322,939,231.91, while the disbursements have been $322,783,283.08, showing that the expenditures exceeded the receipts by only $155,948.77, which is a collection as yet from the corporation tax. For the corresponding period last year, the expenditures exceeded the receipts by over $40,000,000. This showing indicates that under the present customs law the deficit will be promptly wiped out, and that to meet our normal expenditures we shall have ample revenue."

"I am far from saying that the Republican party is perfect. No party which has exercised such power as it has exercised for the last 17 years could be expected to maintain either its rank and file or its management, men of the purest and highest motives, and I am the last one to advocate any bait in the prosecution and condemnation of Republicans, however prominent and powerful, whose conduct requires criminal or other prosecution and condemnation."

"It should be well understood that with the Republican party in its present condition, with its various divisions subjected to the cross-fire of its own newspapers and its own factions, any halt or failure on the part of those in authority to punish, and condemn corruption or corrupt methods will be properly visited upon the party itself, however many good men it contains."

Re-assurance to Wall St.

"I only want one more word. Right now, at this time, the administration of the government tends to create a panic in Wall-street and to disturb business. All I have to say upon that subject is this: That certainly no one responsible for a government like ours would foolishly destroy values and confound the pleasure of doing so, no one has a motive as strong as the old

Dandurand May Head the Navy

Will Likely Succeed Hon. Mr. Borden in the Cabinet as Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

HON. RAOUL DANDURAND,
Now of the senate, who is spoken of as a cabinet likelihood.

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The changes in the federal cabinet which the world forecasted a fortnight ago are expected to begin this week. Indeed, The World man is informed to-night in the most definite terms that Hon. L. P. Brodeur's resignation as minister of marine and fisheries will be announced in the house of commons by the premier within the next few days. But the expected rarely happens where Sir Wilfrid Laurier is concerned, and a week or so may elapse before an official announcement is made.

The question uppermost here is who is to be Mr. Brodeur's successor. Hon. Rodolph Lemieux is anxious to get the portfolio in view of the probability that it would give him the control of the Canadian navy, but The World is informed that Hon. Raoul Dandurand, former speaker of the senate, will enter the cabinet as minister of marine and fisheries.

There has been a strong sentiment in favor of the control of the navy being placed in the hands of an English speaking minister, but as the game of politics is played here, there is no reason to doubt that the new "Canadian admiralty" will be put under the control of a French-Canadian. It means votes in Quebec.

There is practically no change in Mr. Brodeur's condition. He is still confined to his room.

WINDSOR PASTOR DEFENDS HIS BELIEFS

WINDSOR, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—Rev. L. S. Hugison, pastor of Bruce-avenue Baptist Church, made a public statement from the pulpit at the service to-night in which he replied to recent criticism from Dr. William Stewart of the Toronto Bible Training School. Dr. Stewart had declared that Mr. Hugison was not straight on the Bible.

Mr. Hugison declared in his statement that Dr. Stewart made these criticisms because of his (Stewart's) zeal in trying to get a student of his school into the position as pastor of Ossington-avenue Baptist Church, Toronto. Mr. Hugison declared he was not an applicant for the pastorate of the Toronto church.

If his view of God's word were ever brought into question, he held the historic Baptist position on that matter, while recognizing the possibility, but not the belief, that subsequently the views of all may be modified.

Mr. Hugison was on the senate of McMaster University and signed the report of the McMaster senate committee of Prof. I. G. Matthews. This is the alleged cause of trouble with Dr. Stewart, and Mr. Hugison declared, as a result of his signing the report, that effort had been made to prevent the churches in Toronto and St. Thomas from extending a call to him, on account of his alleged unsound views on the Bible.

"What I do regret is that, in this view of your age and my desire to speak evil of no man, I have characterized you as a French-Canadian. I was very sincere and zealous for the eternal truth of God, and thus far I pardon you."

"What I do regret is that, in this view of your age and my desire to speak evil of no man, I have characterized you as a French-Canadian. I was very sincere and zealous for the eternal truth of God, and thus far I pardon you."

"I regard all Scripture as it came originally, to be inspired of God and our sufficient guidance and our understanding in His things. If you understand in any one who sits under my ministry, or ever had sat under my ministry, you would not have made the error you have made. I feel, at least, in the suddenness with which you reached out to steady the ark of God which you fancied to be trembling, you unwittingly smote a servant of God, and that the heaviest weight of the blow fell on the Lord Jesus Himself."

UNCLE SAM: He's an honest, steady goin' feller, but I don't callate he's any brighter'n the law allows.

GERMAN SOCIALIST RIOTS OVER SUFFRAGE PROTESTS

Many Serious Clashes With Police Sunday—Over Two Score Mass Meetings Were Held.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—Socialist mass meetings to protest against the suffrage bill were held in most of the cities of the kingdom to-day. Nearly all the meetings passed off without incident, but at several places collisions with the police occurred.

At Halle, after the close of the meetings, about 2000 socialists attacked the police, who drew their sabres and wounded many.

At Koenigsberg, where the socialists returned in a body from the suburban meetings, the police, in attempting to divert the crowds into the side streets, used their side arms. They also made a number of arrests.

At Duisburg on the Rhine, the socialists, in a series of street demonstrations after the meetings, came into collision with the police. The latter used their sabres and several of the manifestants were cut and bruised.

At Cologne huge crowds assembled in Cathedral-square, intending to march in order to the meeting places in the suburbs, but strong cordons of police held the chief thoroughfares and forced the crowds to take side streets.

Halls Overcrowded.

The meetings were so largely attended that the authorities could scarcely get them filled, in order to prevent overcrowding. The speakers urged the socialists not to offer resistance to the police. Sharply ordered resolutions and several of the resolutions were adopted.

In the suburbs of Berlin about 40 meetings were held in crowded halls. The majority of them were peacefully conducted, but in Potsdam, a southern suburb, the population of which numbers close to 100,000, an immense crowd gathered in the public square and listened to speeches by several of the leaders. A policeman called on the crowd to disperse, but they refused to obey. The police thereupon tried to break up the meeting, and some of the crowd responded with a shower of stones, slightly wounding the lieutenant and a policeman.

After the meetings large processions paraded through the principal suburban streets, singing the workmen's march-songs. Some of them tried to reach the central sections about the Schoens-Platz, but the police held all the approaches, and dispersed the crowd without serious difficulty.

Charged With Drawn Arms.

Later in the afternoon the police ordered a crowd at Kronprinz Bridge, composed largely of half grown youths to disperse, but were greeted with shouts of "shoot us!" and a shower of stones. An officer ordered the men to charge with drawn arms, and several of the rioters were wounded.

At Essen also several socialists or their supporters received cuts from the sabres of the police, but no one was dangerously injured.

At Neumunster, in Holstein, a workman was mortally wounded by a knife thru the lungs, another's hand was cut off, and a third lost an ear.

EXTREMISTS WINNING OUT VETO BILL BEFORE BUDGET

Believed That Asquith Has Yielded to Their Demands—Signs of Another Election Campaign.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Rumor is busy with the prime minister's visit to the King at Brighton on Saturday, but Mr. Asquith went immediately to the house of lords until after Easter, and neither the names of the new ministers nor anything authentic regarding the government's policy has been allowed to leak out. It is believed that a final decision will be taken when the premier communicates the King's views to the cabinet council to-morrow.

It is said, however, that at the last moment Mr. Asquith yielded to the extremists and the Redmondites, and on the ground that discussion of the address of the budget would postpone the question of the veto, the house of lords until after Easter, had consented to introduce the veto bill before the budget, even though this course endangers the budget and may bring about another general election in a few months.

According to the latest report, Winston Spencer Churchill will succeed Mr. Gladstone as the home office, Augustine Birrell and John Burns retaining their present posts as chief secretary for Ireland and president of the local government board respectively.

SHIPWRECKED, 205 SAVED FATE OF 88 IN DOUBT

British Steamer Goes on Rocks in Straits of Magellan—Chilean Warship Hastens to Rescue.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Feb. 13.—Immediately on receipt of the news that the Pacific Navigation Co.'s steamer Lina had been wrecked on a reef in the Straits of Magellan, and that 88 persons had been left aboard, the Chilean government despatched the protected cruiser Ministro Zenteno to the rescue.

Following quickly in the wake of the cruiser are five steamers, which the navigation company ordered to proceed at top speed to Magellan. The fate of those who were left behind by the British steamer Hatmet, which rescued 205 of the passengers and crew, will not be known until the Ministro Zenteno, which carries wireless, arrives there.

No further word was received to-day from Ancud, where the Hatmet put in with the survivors. According to late despatches last night there is some hope that the remainder of the passengers and crew on the Lina may be able to hold out if aid reaches them quickly.

The Hatmet, after taking off 205 persons, was compelled to proceed on account of the danger of being swept upon the rocks by the storm that prevailed at the time.

The Lina was a British steamer, 401 feet long, registers 2115 tons and was built in Glasgow in 1907.

The place where the steamer was wrecked is probably Huambin Passage, located between the south shore of San Pedro Island and Chileco. It is a narrow passage, full of dangers and very difficult of navigation. Huambin Rocks, two in number and 65 feet high, mark the entrance to this passage.

HEN LAYS COLORED EGGS

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 13.—So contagious is the Cornell spirit that a white Hiba hen of the most unblemished character, has been persuaded, after a course of dietetics with professors of the Cornell State College of Agriculture, to lay eggs bright with the Cornell colors. The yolks are red and the albumen is white.

A harmless dye was given to the hen with her food, and when it was laid, the yolks began to turn a delicate pink, her eggs were examined and found to be more deeply colored yet. Other admixtures of dye turn the yolk of the egg pink and the hen's feet pink.

N. Y. PREACHERS' GRAVEYARD

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—This city is a graveyard for preachers, said the Rev. Wm. Carter, pastor of the Madison-avenue Reformed Church, in his sermon to-day.

"After two years work I had to go abroad for a year's rest, but when I met there three other New York pastors, abroad for the same reason, and one of them took his life from melancholia."

Three of the prominent Fifth-avenue churches paying the largest salaries are without pastors, after extending call after call. Clergymen are avoiding rather than seeking New York.

"The reason for it is that a minister here is compelled to bear his whole burden alone. The congregation says in effect, 'We're paying your salary, now go ahead.'"

"There must be active co-operation if the church is to do its best work."

LEONARD MAY RETIRE

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—There is a report going the rounds of the railway world to the effect that J. W. Leonard, general manager of the C.P.R.'s eastern lines, will soon resign and will be replaced by George Bury, who is now general manager of the company's western lines, while the Winnipeg position will be filled, so it is said, by F. P. Busted, now general superintendent of the Pacific division.

OIL AS FUEL FOR NAVY

Report That Admiralty Has Decided to Do Without Coal.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The Daily Express asserts that the British admiralty has decided to adopt the principle of oil fuel as a substitute for coal in the navy, and has ordered 20,000 tons of liquid fuel for the current year.

HALIFAX, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The Tumbler arrived to-day after eight days of stormy passage. Among the 800 passengers were 150 officers and men destined for H.M.S. Albatross at Vancouver. They will go west by special train.

The Empress of Britain, which sailed to-day, carried off Pilot Martin, who, on account of the heavy sea, was unable to return to shore.

LIBERAL WHIP SERIOUS

Admits That Difficulties Are in Way of Passing Budget.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
LONDON, Feb. 13.—Radicals are hopeful that Redmond did not mean business at Dublin on Thursday, and that his language in Ireland in the past has not always been an index to his action in London. They also declare that if he forces the defeat of the budget the government will resign. This is probably in the belief that he will recoil from such disastrous consequences.

John Fuller, Liberal whip, speaking at Truro, said he was free to do as he liked in the last three days, difficulties had arisen which made it quite possible that the commons would reject the budget. The King's government, the navy and old age pensions had to be carried on, and the government had to get money somehow, but one thing was certain, they would not tax food. He urged them to keep their weapons sharp and powder dry, as they did not know what was immediately in store for them.

The Chronicle opines that the veto Augustus George, said he was free to do as he liked in the last three days, difficulties had arisen which made it quite possible that the commons would reject the budget. The King's government, the navy and old age pensions had to be carried on, and the government had to get money somehow, but one thing was certain, they would not tax food. He urged them to keep their weapons sharp and powder dry, as they did not know what was immediately in store for them.

DRINKS LAUDANUM

Minnie Ella Heater Could Not Stand Toothache.

Minnie Ella Heater, 45 years old, an employee of the skirt department of the T. Eaton Company, living at 261 Mulgrave-street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday evening by taking two ounces of laudanum.

Miss Heater had been suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia in the teeth, and stating that she could stand the pain no longer, she took the drug. Dr. Norman Allen was called in by her sister and with the aid of two policemen a stomach pump was forced into her throat. She was later moved to St. Michael's Hospital and is out of danger.

BOYCOTT RAISES MEAT PRICES

CLEVELAND, Feb. 13.—The live stock quotations on all grades of hogs advanced to $9.10 a hundred pounds Saturday, the highest price here since the civil war. Dealers attribute the cause to the meat strike, which first lowered the prices with the result that the market became short on stock. The lack of supply causing the increased price, they say.

CROSS ATLANTIC IN BALLOON

ST. MICHAEL'S CHOIR STRIKE
Only Two Old Members, With New Organist, in Place.

Owing to the resignation of Dr. J. Dickenson and the choir of St. Michael's Cathedral, the musical services were somewhat curtailed yesterday.

According to the statement of an ex-member, there were only two old members in the choir, one of them being an employee of St. Michael's Palace.

An emphatic contradiction of the statement which appeared in an evening paper on Saturday that most of the members of St. Michael's choir were Englishmen was made to The World yesterday by several of the choir.

"We wish to state," they said, "that the statement is entirely incorrect, as there was not an Englishman in the choir, the members being either Irish or Canadian, the latter predominating, and not one of them was brought to the choir by Dr. J. Dickenson."

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—The grievances of the British baronets have been frequently aired in recent years. At last something has been done to restore a little tranquility in the bosoms of these not quite noble but aristocratic theists. A commission of inquiry was appointed some time ago to investigate the abuses of a special register of baronets, and unexpectedly borne fruit in the shape of a royal proclamation. An official roll is to be prepared and kept at the home office. Only those of the great many existing baronets who are not registered will have the right to be registered at the home office, and of course this will result in the ready exposure of fakers.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

What God Requires of Us—Text, "What Doth Thy God Require of Thee, But to Do Justly, and to Love Mercy, and to Walk Humbly With Thy God?" (Micah vi. 8.)

Sermon by Charles T. Russell, Pastor of Brooklyn, N.Y., Tabernacle.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 13.—Somehow a whole sermon is preached in a few words. No man will dispute the reasonableness of the divine requirement as stated in our text. Our Creator could not justly or with self-respect ask less than this of His creatures who would enjoy His favor. The interests of all demand that these principles should be required of every creature who is permitted the enjoyment of eternal life. Now let us see the scope of this divine requirement, whose justice we have already acknowledged. We note the natural division of our text into three parts:

- (1) Doing justly.
  - (2) Loving mercy.
  - (3) Walking humbly.
- The requirement of justice in all our dealings with our fellows commends itself to every rational mind. It includes the whole law of God. A brief statement of that law which had our Lord's approval reads, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and all thy mind, all thy being and all thy strength; and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." These two propositions hang all the law and the prophets. It is but just that we should recognize our Creator as first; that we should glorify Him in the blessing that came therewith; that we should be obedient to His righteous requirements that make for our own happiness and that of others. It is also but right that we should recognize the rights of others, as we would have them recognize our rights. The Golden Rule is the barest of justice. Not a hair's breadth less would come within its requirements. Our own pleasure is not our end, but our neighbor's pleasure is. Let us see how we may do this.

Begin at home. Let each one criticize his words and his deeds toward his parents; toward his children; toward his brothers; toward his sisters; toward his husband; toward his wife. Do we in all our relationships of life treat those who are under us as we would have them treat us? Do we do toward them as we would have them do toward us? If not, after making it our first duty to our Lord, striving to render to Him our homage and obedience, let us close-up our hearts every word, every act of the home life and see to what extent these can be brought upon and made to be really just.

Follow the matter up and consider the justice or injustice of your words and deeds in daily life with your neighbors and your associates. In matters of business do you drive a bargain with them that you would think just for them to make with you? Do you blow no more than you breathe in the face of your neighbor when you would like to have him blow in your face? Are you as careful about your neighbor's property as you are about your own? Do you treat all men, women, children and animals as kindly as you think would be just? Do you treat your neighbor as you would have him treat you? Do you speak as kindly of your neighbors as you would have them speak of you? Do you hold up the name of your Lord as a shield, as you would like to have them hold up yours?

Do you not begin to see, dear friends, how God requires of us much more than we are willing to do? Do you stand appalled and tell me that it would be impossible to do fully up to that standard? I agree, saying, "We cannot do the things which we would." The Scriptures again agree and declare, "There is none righteous, no, not one." All shall be brought to the glory of God.

Suppose we do our very best daily to measure up to our highest conception of the good and just and merciful standards, would we accept of this and count us worthy of His favor and of eternal life? Surely not. The law of the Lord is perfect. Justice is the Lord's. Not the law, but the lawgiver, the well-pleaser, receives the reward, but the obedient. Here, then, we find ourselves in difficulty. With our best efforts we are unable to do what God requires of us. We approve of His law, but find as St. Paul says, that we are unable to do it. We wish to do it, but we cannot. We wish to be obedient to Him, but find, as St. Paul says, that we are unable to do it. We wish to do it, but we cannot. We wish to be obedient to Him, but find, as St. Paul says, that we are unable to do it.

It may astonish some that God requires even more than justice, which is His legal standard. In His permission of sin and its wage of death He has shown the sinner His own mercy or love. And it is for the sinner's benefit and for the good of all, that God requires that all who will have the full benefit of His mercy shall be required to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with His God. This requirement assures us of the security of the divine empire against all treason in the future. We shall be admitted to the eternal life conditions either now or in the millennium, except the humble. Let us hearken then to the lesson of our text and conclude with the words of the apostle, "Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time." (1 Peter v. 6.)

Won't Prevent 'Tipping'—WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The inherent right of a man to give away his own money is the rock upon which the newest anti-trust bill has again been split and broken by the district commissioner to whom Congressman Murphy's bill, applicable to Columbia district, was referred.

God's Law represents himself and cannot change. He cannot require less than perfection. To do so would be to deprive the universe of all eternity with depraved and imperfect beings. God has a higher plan than this and declares, "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways." (Isaiah lv. 9.) He explains that His ultimate purpose is that there shall be no imperfect creature in all His universe. All whose hearts are loyal to Him and the principles of His government shall be perfected, and all others shall be destroyed in the second death. Thus, eventually, every knee shall bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God. Then every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth shall be heard saying, "Blessing and honor and glory and power be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the lamb who was slain." (Revelation vi. 13.)

Possibly God could have arranged some other way of dealing with sinners, but He would not have required the death of Jesus. He would not have required the purchase price of the redemption price for sinners. But the fact that this method was adopted by our great Creator assures us that no other method could have been so beneficial. No other method would have so fully demonstrated God's Wisdom, Justice, Love and Power.

AT THE THEATRES

Marie Tempest Talks About Her Playwright.
Miss Marie Tempest, the English actress, who is to open her engagement in "Penelope" at the Princess Theatre tonight, arrived yesterday afternoon from Montreal, where she played last week. She said last evening that she would not be at all surprised to receive a visit from W. Somerset Maugham, the author of "Penelope," in Pittsburgh, where she is to play next week. "Mr. Maugham is a very peculiar man," she said. "He told me just before I left London that he was very anxious to see America, and that he might run over while I was in Pittsburgh. 'Why Pittsburgh of all places?' I asked him. 'Oh, I long to see Pittsburgh,' said he. 'They tell me it is ugly and dirty, but I don't believe it. I know it is a beautiful place.' Imagine that! It just goes to show the whimsical working of his mind."

"Beverly" at the Grand.
One of the most popular plays yet made in the Grand Opera House should be "Beverly," which will be presented at the Grand Opera House this week. It is a story of an American girl's adventures in the mythical kingdom of Graustark, and like all of McCutcheon's works, the interest is never allowed to flag. The scenic effects are very elaborate, and include a brigand's camp in the mountains, a moonlight view of Graustark, and a moonlight view of Graustark, and a moonlight view of Graustark.

"Is Matrimony a Failure?"
The entire company which will be seen in David Belasco's production of Leo Dittichstein's delightful comedy, "Is Matrimony a Failure?" at the Royal Alexandra Theatre to-night, which will open a week's engagement, arrived by special train from New York last night. The company numbers fifty-six, which is the largest that has ever appeared in a comedy. It also contains the names of many famous names.

Shea's Theatre—Irene Franklin.
Irene Franklin, the queen of vaudeville, is the popular headliner at Shea's Theatre. She is living up to her title in a truly royal manner, and her reign is becoming more successful every week. Her domain now extends over every city and town where she appears. She comes to Toronto with an immense repertoire of songs and dances, and is assisted by the composer, Bert Green, who presides at the piano.

English Poly Company.
This first appearance here this season of the ever popular English Poly Company, a jolly aggregation of comedy players, is a most interesting one. They claim to have an entirely new line of up-to-date entertainment to offer. They will play at the Grand Opera House, and in their present tour they are touring the city in the way of topical interesting and musical comedy. The company includes John E. Cain, Van Broek, Henry, Thoma, Vynar, Blanche Newcomb, Henrietta Wheeler, Miss Beatrice, Brownie Carroll, Nina York, and the fun going at a fast and furious rate.

Kyrle Bellew Next Week.
In the personal selection of the supporting players for the distinguished actor, Kyrle Bellew, Charles Frohman fully determined upon Gladys Hanson for the position of leading woman, much to the chagrin of his most prominent leading ladies, who were more than eager for the part.

Williams Imperials.
The attraction at the Star this week is Williams Imperials. The bill promises a point of interest in the company, a very excellent comedy together with musical and vaudeville. The comedy is "The Imperials," and a hotbed of burlesque, is supplied in a comedy entitled "The Imperials." There are shapely figures, who make up a large and well-appointed musical comedy and several comedians, among them Harry Cooper, the quaint German funmaker; James Brownie, the musical comedian; and Johnny Dove have important roles.

Dr. Ludwig Wullner Recital.
The sale of seats for Dr. Wullner's recital next Friday, Feb. 18, opens at Massey Hall this morning, and this great artist can be heard here, giving a great welcome on his first appearance in our city. The Detroit News says: "Dr. Ludwig Wullner, the German pianist, who has been heralded by press bodies which were almost rapturous, made his first Toronto appearance at a private house yesterday afternoon, and for nearly two hours held his audience in a spell not only by his playing, but by his conversational and somewhat cold classed conversation. Detroiters are not inclined to emotionalism, but yesterday afternoon the artist raised them by his dramatic reading of beautiful songs quite away from their traditional characteristics."

Eleanor Robson Leaves Stage to Marty.
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Robson to August Belmont was made last night. Miss Robson closed her season last night in Brooklyn, passing with the fall of the curtain from professional to private life. She will return to her home in this city, where she will remain until the marriage.

University Sermon

"In the United States, the divorce evil is one of our crying scandals," said the Rev. J. Aron Stokes of Yale University, in his sermon in Convocation Hall yesterday.

Preaching from the text, "Until we all come unto a full-grown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ," the speaker went to quote the fundamental elements which go to make up the perfect man.

"Let us think," he said, "of the full-grown man as exemplified by Christ. Various versions of the Scripture differ in their rendering of this particular passage, but I prefer that given by the revised version which uses the term 'full-grown in love of perfect.'"

"We are all agreed on the fact that some particular goal is necessary for us to strive for. If we merely choose to drift aimlessly along, the chances are that the end of our journey will be like a rudderless ship, come to grief either on the rocks or by being wrecked in mid-ocean. The question, therefore, is what goal we should choose? We will reach no higher than we aim; why not have a goal as high as any can reach? It seems to me that no man can have a higher aim than to fit himself to be a full-grown man."

"I have been deeply saddened by observing the number of partially developed men about us, who have been stunted in some portion of their development. Our hospitals are full of men intellectually and morally strong, but physically weak; our jails are full of men physically strong, and in many cases of high intellect, but morally defective; our asylums are full of men physically and morally strong, but intellectually weak, and it is in contrast to the marbled, developed men of the past that we would hold up that type of the strong man, the four square man, as an eminent American divine has called him. I shall enumerate four of the cardinal elements which go to make up the full-grown man.

"Firstly, he is as physically strong as he can be made by his own and the efforts of others. The splendor of the human body has been the subject of an eloquent appeal by Bishop Event of the Philippines, which I would study which I commend to you all to read as a Christian duty.

"In the northwest provinces of India, I saw an Indian devotee who had held a fast for a year, which was gradually eating his eye out. He had been doing this for years, his motive being that by demonstrating the inferiority of the flesh, his soul should be absorbed and a spiritual service performed.

"It was a heathenish idea; but there are many men, both in Yale and this university, who are allowing other flames to sap their vitality and consume their power. There is not a day passes without a university officer coming across some young man who has been blighted by lack of care in earlier days.

"The second element necessary is that the full-grown man should be mentally strong. At Yale, and at other institutions also, the moral standard of life is higher than it has ever been in the past. There is no more need to-day than clear thinking in things moral and spiritual. It is a debt we owe to Almighty God that we should strengthen our minds to the fullest capacity.

"Then the third element is that of the heart, the social element which has to do with sympathy. There is a place in the world where this social sympathy is more needed than amongst the young men of a university. It seems to me the greatest mistake that a young man can make is to limit his friendships.

"Then we come to the fourth element, that of moral and spiritual strength which has to do with the soul. Every man has sins and temptations to conquer, difficulties and hindrances to face, and therefore, he needs the strength and physical comfort which can only come thru communion with God."

Mr. Stokes, referring to the speakers who frequented Boston commons for the purpose of airing their views on the evils of present day life, said that he had listened to one speaker debating on the divorce evil; to another who spoke of the evils of the divorce evil; and to yet another who dealt with the curse of intemperance.

THEY WANT TO GET HOME.

No one can blame the Street Railway Company after this with regard to consideration for its patrons—Oh, no! The superintendent over his own name has published a three-column advertisement commending the good advice of the city engineer to the public.

The Toronto Railway Company, we are informed, has been giving the same advice for years, and is grieved to find that it is not so generally accepted as might have been expected. People ignorant of transportation problems have been amused at this advice.

Statistics prove that the next car is not so crowded as the one you can't get into. Instead of having to hang on to the steps you may be able to get up on the platform. After many years' experience Mr. Gunn is able to say why people are obsessed with this mad idea of taking the first car instead of waiting for the next.

The reason," says Mr. Gunn, "probably," (note the fine restraint, "is that they want to get home." Mere observation would never have arrived at that. After the accumulation of countless statistics, the use of induction, deduction, synthesis, analysis, intuition, the keenest was brought to bear on this problem.

"Supposing they have to let two cars go by?" Mr. Gunn is not unreasonable. He can imagine extreme cases where these foolish people rush madly to get home, and two cars might be so full that the gentle passenger would venture into the swirling mob.

Councillor Fleet, in speaking on behalf of the agreement with the Ontario Government, pointed out that this was a most unfair and selfish point of view. Councillor Kneal, who last year voted to discontinue the system of good roads building, stated that in the meantime he had over some miles of the good roads throughout the county, and that his views had entirely changed.

The Evening Telegram positively refuses to go to Cleveland to hear the Mendelssohn Choir sing "O Canada." An American company is putting in an oxygen plant at Welland. Could we not get one installed at the city hall? Oxygen has such an enlivening effect.

There are a good many things to be done by the street nomenclature committee before they have remedied all the grievances now existing. When a man asks for Howland-road, for example, and a policeman sends him up to Bloor-street, and he finds that he has to travel some miles back to Gerard-street East, he is not in a frame of mind to compliment the committee.

But it is reported that ministers had no difficulty in reaching a unanimous conclusion, and the comparatively brief duration of their meetings afforded no presumption to the contrary.

Thus far events support the belief that the reintroduction of the budget bill will be the first task of the government. The financial year closes on March 31, and the more the debate over the address is prolonged the more urgent will the settlement of the existing financial muddle become.

ONE DAY IN SEVEN.

Toronto needs additional police if the lives and property of its citizens are to be sufficiently protected. It requires equally that its police force shall be conducted in the manner which will afford the maximum of efficiency.

Just now the men who preserve order in the city have each one day off in the month. It is not enough, indeed is only a degree better than none at all. Day in and day out, Sunday and Saturday, with that poor exception, Toronto constables have to discharge their important duties—duties that expose them to every vicissitude of weather, however inclement, and necessitate constant vigilance.

OXFORD AND GOOD ROADS.

The county council of Oxford has decided to retain the good roads program which has been carried on for several years, and has wonderfully improved the highways of that enterprising section of the province.

A resolution to discontinue the system was defeated by a vote of 13 to 7, or almost 2 to 1. It is interesting to note that opposition came largely from sections of the county where good roads have been constructed, the evident desire of this representation being to avoid sharing in the expenditure necessary for the townships where the work was just about to commence.

Councillor Fleet, in speaking on behalf of the agreement with the Ontario Government, pointed out that this was a most unfair and selfish point of view. Councillor Kneal, who last year voted to discontinue the system of good roads building, stated that in the meantime he had over some miles of the good roads throughout the county, and that his views had entirely changed.

BRITISH PARLIAMENTARY SESSION.

To-morrow the new British parliament will assemble in order to prepare for a session certain to be full of interest and possibly of surprises. The remainder of this week will be occupied by the sweating in of members and in the house of commons by the election of a Speaker who, following the admirable British precedent, will again be a Conservative.

couraged, not discouraged, and every landowner should be compelled to make the best possible use of his holdings. This can be done by taxing all building sites at their true value.

Expropriation as the only effectual remedy for street railway grievances is being regarded with increasing favor. On anything like fair terms, it would give immediate relief and be no more burdensome to Toronto than it has proved in other cities that have resumed their franchises.

To strengthen the imperial navy by the gift of two Dreadnoughts will neither derogate from Canadian autonomy nor prevent the establishment of a Canadian navy. In the stress of partisan debate, this has been questioned and the distinction between a temporary and permanent contribution ignored.

President's Message Assigned As Cause of Market Decline

World Office, Saturday Evening, Feb. 12. Another clearing up of outstanding weak long accounts was accomplished during the first three days of the week on Wall-street. The ostensible reason for the break was the president's message to congress. New Yorkers never fail to discover a first-class argument whichever way they want the market to go, and it must therefore be assumed that the Talk message was a secondary matter in relation to the market's movement. Those who are looking beyond the immediate present argue, and that with good grounds, that Wall-street has scented a business reaction, and is paving the way for a change by its actual results are plainly visible to the man on the street. If such is not the case, the question is asked, and no reply is available, why such a heavy decline in stock prices in a few days without any apparent cause?

Wall-street is crowded with forecasting business conditions and discounting them a long time ahead. There is nothing unnatural in this, and it is not with any great knowledge that the ordinary man to admit the fact. All the big Wall-street financiers, and every one of them plays the market, are connected either directly or indirectly with most of the big companies, industrial and otherwise, and more especially so if the shares of the concern are dealt in on the New York exchange. The first sign, therefore, either in earnings or falling off in orders is immediately known to these individuals, while the public are only apprised of a change by the statements which are given out at periods of from one to several months. The insider has a certain knowledge, and uses it for the advantage of himself and friends.

The legislation as proposed by the president should market affairs, but the genuine idea of putting companies under the obligation of obtaining federal charters and compelling them to make full and adequate reports for the information of the public and shareholders is a method that should give substance to stock values if anything could, and the attempt to throw the onus for the exchange on New York is one of the proposed legislation is sheer nonsense. It is admitted that the steel business is really active than it was, and it is recognized that the active securities markets will remain general increases in wages must result, with consequent decreases in the earnings of the corporations. The trader who is watching those who desire to be on the right side of the stock market.

No surprise was expressed at another decline in money rates by the Banks of England and Germany this week. It has been felt that money was gradually getting more plentiful, and, barring an outbreak of wide business expansion, will continue to do so. It is not always an argument to have cheap money. Usually the reverse is the case, as active business is necessarily accompanied by a good demand for money. Because of the active securities market, there are materially below what they were a few weeks ago should not lead to the inference that bargains are being offered on the active securities market on Wednesday is quite in order, but it is not likely to go far. It would seem that stocks are gradually making for lower prices, and the block of shares has been distributed.

Canadian securities of late have demonstrated their ability to withstand the effect of movements on Wall-street. Scarcely before has the Toronto market not acted in sympathy with any big movement in American stocks. There can be only one reason for this, and that is the one recognized among those who know the actual state of the market, and that is that few new securities have been placed on the Toronto exchange of recent years, and the older issues have consequently become lodged in the hands of people who are holding them more for investment purposes than for speculation. Towards the latter part of the week a great deal of interest developed in practically all the active securities with Mexicans in the lead from this point of view. The introduction of another Mexican security

A Little Bit of "Thrums" Has Been Brought to Simpson's

YOU all will mind "A Window in Thrums," the book that Mr. James M. Barrie made out about the hand-loom weaver bodies of the Lowlands and the women folk and the ministers, and the little bare white house and poor Jess at her window overlooking the brae, for twenty years an invalid.

Simple, happy, poor, God-fearing folk, these people of Thrums, who wove the tweeds and plaid shawls which made Scotch weaving famous long, long before the advent of the power loom.

And yet one lifetime spans the transition from the primitive to the modern, from the cottage weaver and his hand loom to the great factory with its hundreds of looms and its organized array of employes.

Standing beside the old loom one realizes, too, the truth of Jamieson's words to that effect, and to just such a village.
