British Elections To Cost Voters $16,000,000 Next Month

POLITICIAN'S IN GERMANY

EXPENSES OF CANDIDATES ARE LIMITED

British Elections to Cost the Country a Tremendous Amount of Money.

REVISION COST "Out-of-Pocket" Expense and Statutory Fee is Accepted, Act Says.

(By Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 27.—The cost to the country of the forthcoming general election, it is estimated, will be about £2,000,000 in addition to the £1,200,000 spent this year for the registration of the voters.

According to an act of parliament these registration lists must be revised twice instead of once yearly as formerly, the cost of each revision being £800,000.

Half of this sum is paid out of funds provided by Parliament, while the other half is contributed by the area concerned.

The expenses of each candidate are limited by statute to not more than five pence an elector in a borough constituency and seven pence an elector in a county division.

BOOTLEGGERS HIRE WOMEN AS CONVOYS

Pay Them to Ride in Limousines to Divert Suspicion, Dry Agents Say.

New York, Nov. 27.—That women are hired to ride with the drivers of limousines carrying liquor landed on the Long Island and New Jersey coasts to divert suspicion from the bootleggers, is charged at local prohibition headquarters.

The seizure of two limousines with liquor aboard by State troopers in New Jersey was reported here.

In one of the cars was a young woman who admitted the prohibition agents said, that she had been paid $25 to accompany the chauffeur to lull suspicion.

The woman said she was Miss Nan Woods of Atlantic City. She was arrested with Samuel Lampe of Baltimore near Hammond. The troopers reported that they found twenty cases of liquor in the car.

Lampe is alleged to have admitted that when he bought the liquor he expressed fears that he would be caught by troopers or prohibition agents on the White Horse Pike. The bootlegger suggested that the presence of a young woman in the car would enable him to travel without attracting attention.

According to the coopers Miss Wood agreed to ride with Lampe as far as Collingwood for $25. The driver and the young woman were held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury by United States Commissioner Isard at Atlantic City.

Japanese Steamer Crew Fate Unknown

The vessel's wireless operator stopped sending yesterday noon and a minute later an hour gap continued late into the night.

W. of Nova Scotia, from his conviction and sentence of two years' imprisonment for sedition, will come before the full bench of the Supreme Court at the end of the docket of Cape Breton cases. The Cape Breton docket is expected to be reached about Thursday.

Iron Divining Rod Finds Illicit Rum

Washington, Nov. 27.—F. A. Haseltine, Division of Prohibition Chief for the Florida-Porto Rico area, several years ago walked over the sands of Peru, poking here and there with an iron rod. He was searching for the mummies of Incas. Now he has been poking into the sands around Fernandez, Fla., with a like rod, with uncomfortable results for liquor smugglers.

MORE FUNDS MADE AT TOMB OF KING TUT

Howard Carter Discovers Gold Monkeys, Sentries in Outer Shrine.

Luxor, Nov. 27.—Continuing his investigation of the contents of King Tutankhamen's tomb, Howard Carter, head of a British expedition, is said to have discovered against the outer shrine another huge bouquet of flowers, failed to a drab color by their long preservation.

On a back beam of the outer shrine which encloses the inner shells around the sarcophagus were found two statues covered with gold representing monkeys, one seated on a miniature chair and the other so placed that she curled around the woodwork. It is believed they were posted there to represent sentries protecting the sanctity of the inner shrine and whatever lies beneath them.

FLEET ON CRUISE

Special Service Squadron Starts on 307-Day Round World Trip.

Plymouth, Nov. 27.—A special service squadron under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field will sail today for a 307-day round-the-world cruise which will take the vessels to the British Dominions, the U. S. and South America.

Preparations for the voyage have been in progress for a long time. After calling at Sierra Leone, the squadron makes Cape Town, where it will spend Christmas. From this port the vessels proceed to India, Singapore and Australia, reaching Honolulu at Whitsuntide. The next ports of call are Esquimaux and Vancouver, whence the fleet proceeds to San Francisco for July 4. Leaving the U. S. coast the Hood and the Repulse will pass through the Panama Canal on the start of their journey home, while the light cruisers will go to Galapagos, to take part in the Peruvian independence celebration.

The main purpose of the cruise is to show the ships in some of the chief ports of the Empire.

GAINS ARE REPORTED FOR BALDWIN

Liberals are Hindered by No Apparent Policy to Aid Unemployment.

ATTACKS DWINDLING

Few Surprises are Announced in Nominations in British Elections.

BY HARRY N. MOORE.

London, Nov. 27.—As the campaign continues a definite swing of the electorate towards the Conservatives is noticeable. The apparent lack of any policy for the relief and cure of unemployment on the part of the Liberal party is being severely against them.

The reunited party, while promising much in public is beginning to realize the fact that its platform lacks any really constructive measures.

The present Liberal campaign is largely confined to attacks on the Government and attempts to ridicule the theory of tariff reform aiding industrial growth.

Conservatives Gaining. While the nominations provided few surprises, they would seem to indicate that the strength of the Conservatives is greater than was generally believed, and the most experienced experts refuse to forecast the result at present, owing to the largely increased register of voters and the difficulty of reading the public mind on economic questions.

Since the war there have been great developments in industry and the feature of the campaign is the decisive factor in Britain's unemployment situation.

RUMORS ABOUT NEW CARDINALS HEARD

Secret Consistory on Dec. 20, Public One Dec. 23—U. S. Archbishops Mentioned

Rome, Nov. 27.—At the Vatican there is complete silence concerning the names of the new cardinals Pope Pius may appoint at the secret consistory to be held on December 20. Even the nationality of the new cardinals is not yet known.

If any new cardinals are to be appointed in the United States, Archbishop Hayes of New York and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago are mentioned as the persons most likely to be accorded the honor.

The Pope may appoint another South American Cardinal, especially after the suggestion made by the King of Spain to the Pontiff by his advisers.

It is likely that at least one new Spanish cardinal will be created. Among the names mentioned are Cardinal Cisneros, Valencia, Sevilla, Compostella and Saragossa. King Alfonso also made reference to this fact when he addressed the Pontiff.

It does not seem likely that any English or Irish prelates will be created. Italian who, it is believed, may be honored with the red hat are Monsignor Nazario Perosi, Assessor of the Holy Office, and Monsignor Zenari, Archbishop of Naples. Another Italian likely to be honored will be the new Archbishop of Turin, who has not yet been appointed.

Pope Pius has decided to hold a public consistory December 23, it was announced yesterday.

Pastor and Rabbi On Same Platform

Boston, Nov. 27.—Dr. Charles Herbert Rust, pastor of the Baptist Immanuel Church of Scanton, Pa., and Rabbi Bernard Heller, also of Scanton, speaking from the same platform in Ford Hall Forum Sunday night declared that the religious world is becoming more united fundamentally. Dr. Rust, who spoke on "A Christian's Appreciation of Judaism," declared that Judaism is the mother of Christianity. "Abraham Lincoln," he added, "was named Abraham because his mother believed in Jews."

Rabbi Heller, talking on "A Rabbi's Appreciation of Jesus," said that "the blindness, bigotry, prejudice and ocean of prejudices and troubles between employer and employee would not exist today if the world would only follow the teachings of the Nazarene."

IS PICKED OUT OF LINE AS SLAYER

Joseph Diamond Pointed to As Man Who Shot Bank Messenger.

New York, Nov. 27.—A witness to the actual shooting picked Joseph Diamond out of a line of police headquarters last night as the man who shot and killed Mr. Barlow, one of two bank messengers murdered in a $65,000 hold-up in Brooklyn, eleven days ago.

Joseph Diamond is a younger brother of Morris Barlow Diamond, brought back from Cleveland yesterday and formally charged, after hours of interrogation, as one of the murdering robbers.

Joseph was brought to headquarters last night, after his brother had admitted the automobile license plates found on the abandoned motor car belonged to him.

FREE STATE LOAN PROVING POPULAR

Progress Continues to Give Satisfaction to Irish Government—Church Supports It.

Dublin, Nov. 27.—The progress of the national loan continues to give great satisfaction to the Irish Government. Additional applications for larger blocks of the stock were made yesterday, while the number of small applications is rapidly increasing.

Reports from Cork say the loan is being boomed in the south by both the leaders of the Catholic and Protestant churches, and that the subscriptions there are likely to be large. The harbor board yesterday decided to transfer 25,000 pounds of British war loan stock to the new national issue, while many local firms have subscribed sums varying from ten to twenty thousand pounds.

IS DOVE OF PEACE

Wife of Hon. Mr. Asquith Quells Meeting in Campaign at Glasgow.

Glasgow, Nov. 27.—Margot Asquith, wife of the former Premier and stormy petrel of English autobiography, was the dove of peace at a riotous political meeting here last night.

When Mrs. Asquith's brother, H. J. Tennant, Liberal candidate for the central division of Glasgow, started to address the meeting at the city hall he was subjected to noisy interruptions which rapidly worked into general rowdiness, until the meeting was in an uproar.

In the midst of the turmoil Mrs. Asquith mounted the platform to her brother's side and announced:—"This gentleman is my brother. You have a perfect right to come here but no right to do what you are doing now. Those who don't want to listen can go."

Some of the hecklers went, but most of the audience remained to hear the candidate continue his speech while his sister kept a watchful eye on the crowd.

WHAT'S A NEWSPAPER WORTH?

Scores of letters received at The Times-Star office recently pay a great tribute to this newspaper. Many say that the tremendous improvement in the last few weeks stamps the paper as one of the best in Canada.

This is gratifying to those responsible for its production. BUT THE TIMES-STAR IS THE ONLY NEWSPAPER IN CANADA—some say the world—that is selling for ONE CENT. The newspaper is indispensable to the home. Yet it is the cheapest purchase on the family weekly budget.

Day after Day St. John citizens are realizing that The Times Star is "A Great Newspaper, Growing Greater," and they know that it IS "The Paper That Goes Home and Stays Home."

BLAMES MEN; THEN SAYS HE FIRED BARN

Boy Causes Sensation in Fire at Kennebecassis Island.

FEARED TO ADMIT IT

Detectives Bring Out Story of Accidental Dropping of a Match.

There was considerable excitement about Millidgeville and Kennebecassis Island late last night caused by the burning of a barn owned by Leonard Keith, and a report that it had been deliberately set by two men who were escaping in a row boat. About 11:30 o'clock Mr. Keith was awakened by a boy who had formerly been in his employ, and was informed that one of his barns was on fire. While he was dressing the boy told him he had set the fire and then hurried to the water and start for Millidgeville in a row boat.

Mr. Keith had a member of his family notify the local police and Detectives Saunders and Kilpatrick went to Millidgeville. A search for the men was kept up in a motor boat for some time and then abandoned. Later Mr. Keith, while questioning the boy became suspicious and this morning he brought him to central police station here on a charge against the boy so long as it was an accident, but the police are holding him on another charge. He is accused of breaking a window in a store owned by Patrick Gilbert, 127 Prince Edward street, last Sunday night after having deliberately cut the putty off the pane.

He said he was returning to his car when he was fired to the barn. As it was very dark he lit a match to find his way to the loft and part of the match fell and ignited the dry hay. In a few minutes the building was a mass of flames. He said he was afraid to confess to Mr. Keith that he had been the cause of the fire and had concocted the story about the two men.

Mr. Keith said he had no desire to press any charge against the boy so long as it was an accident, but the police are holding him on another charge. He is accused of breaking a window in a store owned by Patrick Gilbert, 127 Prince Edward street, last Sunday night after having deliberately cut the putty off the pane.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Ninety-five per cent of industrialists will displace the services of their employes between the ages of 14 and 16 years if the provision of the Adolescent School Attendance Act regarding part time instruction be strictly enforced. Basing his statement on an extensive canvass conducted by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, George Bridgen made this prediction at yesterday's meeting of the special committee appointed by the board of education to consider the enforcement of the act in Toronto.

Says $20 A-Week Working Girl Should Spend 22 Per Cent. Of Income On Clothes

New York, Nov. 27.—A twenty-dollar-a-week working girl should spend 22 per cent of her income, or $28.00 a year for her wardrobe, which should include lots of silk stockings but no fur coats, according to an exhibit arranged by the Plymouth Church Institute of Brooklyn.

The exhibit shows the clothes that actually can be bought, taken from the regular stock of a department store.

There are wardrobes for $20, $25 and $50 a-week salaries, complete from underwear to coats, fuzzy shoes to handkerchiefs. No fur coats are included, but even the $20 budget provides a fur collared winter coat, a sport coat, three dresses, a skirt, a sweater, blouse and three hats. When one gets to $50 a suit is included and the underwear is silk.

The exhibit, which was originated by Mrs. Nowell Dwight Hills, wife of the pastor of the church, was planned with modern business girl strictness in mind. The silk stocking allowance is especially large.

WHEAT PRODUCTION IN FRANCE GAINS

Increase is Reported 90 Per Cent. More Than Before The War.

Washington, Nov. 27.—France is producing about ninety per cent, as much wheat as it did before the war, according to a department of agriculture report made public today and which is restoring the soil, factories and mills to working order has increased the population in that area from two million at the time of the armistice to 4,207,000 at present.

The French wheat production of 290,474,000 bushels in 1923, an increase of about fifty million over the 1922 crop, is attributed to a "raise wheat" campaign conducted by the Government which resulted in an increased planting of about six hundred thousand acres. All except one million of the eight million acres in the war zone requiring treatment have been cleared of barbed wire and trenches, while explosives have been removed from practically the entire acreage. Almost all soil formerly under cultivation that can be made to yield again is said to be under cultivation.

PROPOSED CHANCELLOR IS SHUNNED

Leading Political Candidates Abandon Dr. Albert in Fight for Power.

EFFORTS FRUITLESS

President Ebert Refuses to Receive Delegation from Opposition.

BY CARL D. GROAT (British United Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Dr. Henrich Albert not only had failed today to form a cabinet, but all the leading political candidates abandoned him and proposed a ministry of their own headed by Dr. Jarres, ex-Mayor of Duisberg.

Jarres, a strong Nationalist, is branded as a pan-German. General Von Seeckt, chief of staff, is backing him, and the Nationalists, peoples party, Centrists and Bavarian people's party joined the new move.

The inexperience and naivete of German politicians in the crisis is emphasized by the fact that President Ebert, in the face of the political revolt, adheres to Dr. Albert and wished him to continue his fruitless efforts.

The various parties of the Reichstag today jointly interpellated the government as to what it intends to do.

Is Favoring France? Although the principal plank of the new group is "observance of the Versailles Treaty," the point has not been clarified. Jarres, on the other hand, has often been accused of wanting a breach of the treaty and is alleged to have fathered a plan to throw the Reichstag out.

President Ebert has thus far refused to receive a delegation from the group supporting Jarres.

H O P E ANGLICANS WILL JOIN UNION

Six Thousand at Rallies Held Last Night in Toronto—Prominent Speakers.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—With an attendance of 6,000 people at three meetings held last night in Massey Hall, Metropolitan Church and Bond Street Congregational Church, a grand church union rally was held to inaugurate a conference campaign of thirty meetings in Ontario to "proclaim the vision and task of the United Church of Canada." It was said by Rev. C. W. Gordon, (Ralph Connor) of Winnipeg, that the union rally was a "red letter day" in Canadian National and ecclesiastical history. Of special importance were the hopes expressed by several of the speakers that it would be only a matter of time until the Anglican church entered the union.

Among the principal speakers at the meetings were Dr. G. C. Pidgeon and Principal Clarence MacKinnon of Pine Hill College, Halifax. The latter remarked that he believed that four fifths of the people present would hold up their hands for union with the great Anglican church if that could be obtained at once. He also believed that the Anglicans were equally sincere in their protestations of friendship but that the Anglicans were at present in the difficulty that if they were to unite the orders of the united church would not be recognized by the mother Anglican church. He hoped, however, that that bar might eventually be removed.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Senator Hiram Johnson, only announced candidate for the Republican nomination for President, said here yesterday that Frank H. Hitchcock, Postmaster-General in President Taft's Cabinet and a Republican leader for years, had been appointed general manager of his campaign.

DR. CROSSLEY IS HEARD BY 1200

Evangelist Stirs Congregation by Address on the Secret of Health.

A member of the congregation in the Exmouth street Methodist church last night has given the following description of that memorable occasion. Last night the Exmouth street Methodist church was again filled to its limit, when fully 1200 people were crowded into the auditorium, gallery, lobby and choir loft to hear and witness the celebrated physical culture lecture by Dr. H. T. Crossley, evangelist, who told of nature's secret of health and long life. Dr. Crossley was at his best and though the people were literally jammed into every corner and revolve available they listened intently and enthusiastically and very frequently during the two hours, were moved to laughter and applause, as the lecturer demonstrated the entire culture course, explaining how many of the ailments which are prevalent or eliminated entirely. The lecture was exceedingly practical, simple and clear, yet comprehensive and made a strong appeal. Young and old alike were highly appreciative and fully convinced from the doctor's ability and suppleness that his system was workable. Rarely has the writer ever heard a more acceptable and better received lecture put before a congregation of people. Nor was it a frivolous and irrelevant demonstration, but the speaker helped his audience to appreciate the gospel of good health and God's simple method to procure it. At the close an appeal was made for a clean, pure, inner life to be the building God gave. The lecturer thrilled the vast audience and a deep wave of spiritual emotion swept over the people as he sang the famous old song, "The Pearly Gates and Golden." It was an evening never to be forgotten by any of those present and an hour of triumph for Dr. Crossley, although he humbly received all the ovation given. Michael Kelly rose to express a heart felt vote of thanks to Dr. Crossley for such an intensely interesting, instructive and helpful lecture and more than 1,000 hands were enthusiastically lifted to express the delight and appreciation of the audience.

THIS MAN TELLS YOU HOW TO KEEP FIT? Bear River, N. S. - "My back was so bad I could hardly work. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy, and everything seemed to worry me. I also had terrible pains in my right side. I felt badly for about eighteen months, and could not do my work as it should have been done. I tried several doctors, but also bought about $200 worth of put up medicines, but I found no relief until I took Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Doctor Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid) Tablets. I have taken two bottles of the Discovery, and four of the Anuric Tablets, and can say that I feel as well as I have felt for the last ten years. I advise any sufferer to give Dr. Pierce's remedies a fair trial. I cannot recommend them too highly for what they have done for me and shall be pleased to answer any one who cares to write me." - Norman E. Trimmer, R. R. 1.

There is Much Anxiety Over Children's Colds

WE do not mind so much having colds ourselves, for we imagine we can tell when they are getting serious and apply the remedy. But when the children cough it is different. Especially does the sharp, metallic cough of croup send a thrill through the mother's nervous system. The trouble is the child does not realize the danger, cannot describe the trouble, and all depends on the prompt action of his elders.

I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. WHAT WE TALK ABOUT
A Bi-Product of The Real News

Looks like another day or so at least before the winter ashes should go on. Housewives hate to risk these late fall rains on their outside windows. They like to wait for the first frosty pines, the windows remain cleaner after that. Long time between Dec. 1 and April 1 to let outer windows go unwashed.

What's gotten into the motorized ladder truck these days—it has speared up wonderfully. We're like a regular big city now turning out to see a fire—speed, accurate navigating of corners and real professional fireman stuff. For a while there it looked as if the big wagon was little if any improvement on the horse-drawn outfit as far as speed was concerned. Somebody seems to have found the combination at last. Hardly an automobile owner or mechanic but has had some remarks to make about the suppressed power and agility of this big truck, and many wondered if it was for dead levels only.

The ambulance, too, seems to have found a new stride. Its siren alarm certainly clears the traffic. Drivers of cars and horses have quickly learned to stand still on the proper side of the thoroughfare and give hospital and fire apparatus a wide berth. People who visit large centres know that it is an understatement that such fast-moving salvage outfit has the right of way on either side of the street, or are always bound to make the proper turn if the road is clear. In some cities physicians' cars with distinctive marks are allowed special privileges, but this practice was found to be abused by speed-loving motorists, so the privilege was cancelled.

Dr. Cook's sentence to a long term in jail for fraudulent use of the United States mails brings to mind the time he landed in Denmark with that other fellow about having discovered the North Pole. Captain Peary had been passing through St. John several years previous on route to his jumping off place, Sydney. He had become a newspaper man, a Bluenoser, and he made a number of train-shed newspaper acquaintances here. Peary came trailing in from the north soon after Cook's fake claims he was being made by reporters. One scribbler had the temerity to ask the rather brusque explorer why he sided-tracked the Canadian, Captain Bartlett, his faithful co-laborer for years, and denied him the honor of sharing in the final short dash to the pole, a sort of solo performance on Peary's part. "None of your damned business" was the scornful reply. The explorer got real warm over this innocent query and aimed upon the intelligences of exploration managers and so forth. It made splendid copy, and the whole interview, with its picturesque remarks and exclamations, went on the Associated Press wire for general consumption all over the continent. The old sense of train-riding newspaper men today says that that was too much of a poser for the lance discoverer.

Courtesy Bay development is assured, the new hotel is about to be started, the city is being modernized under fact and built up in new directions, and it would seem as if the next logical thing is the new depot and Mill street overbuilding. I've heard older citizens tell of the "victrol" scheme over the Mill street trackage—seems to me they said it was one of Sir John Macdonald's Government pet schemes. This overbuilt bridge was designed to give the railway full play for shunting and yard room. All vehicular and pedestrian traffic would take the bridge at the head of the hill, about where North street intersects, and land again near the foot of Main street. This would give good even today, although it is said there has been another proposal, one to build the viaduct over the tracks from the Y. M. C. A. building, Hazen avenue, to Rockland road. This would give draught teams and all vehicles an almost level level thoroughfare from the centre of the city to North End, dodging the railway head-up, and eliminating bad hills.

Ever meet Capt. Palm, the Australia-Canadian military man who has organized a large section of our city's boyhood into a cadet corps? To meet him is an inspiration. He concentrates on boys and their physical training by military methods. He's an old hand at the game and Woodstock in this province will tell you the wonders he can work with raw material. Some people deride the military training of boys as a fostering of the warlike spirit, but Capt. Palm and the movement which he represents mean to stimulate Canadian manhood by this process. Of course, if the nation is in danger, in years to come these "defenders" will be partially equipped and certainly heartened to meet the foe. But this future war idea is the last thing thought of in the Cadet movement. Capt. Palm talks quietly and with much assurance. He expects to have a battalion of more than 1,000 boys, and possibly as many as 3,000 by next summer. His chief worry is uniforms. It will cost close to $1,000 to make the boys look alike and then there should be a moderate expenditure for a pipe band, or a life-and-drum outfit. To the casual thinker such an outfit for such a movement perhaps seems unnecessary just now but just chat with the captain fellow for a few moments and he'll change your mind so quickly that you will wonder you have ever had any mind at all.

Perhaps some of the older boys of St. John can tell Capt. Palm how successful the Boys' Brigade was about thirty years ago in this city. They can also recall the High School Cadets for his education and encouragement. Both of these organizations thrived justly, the former initiated by Rev. T. F. Polteringham of St. John's Presbyterian church, King Street East, as the first overseas branch of the Boys' Brigade of Scotland and for that matter the British Isles; the latter under the primary patronage of the late Doctor, McWhorter and some of the senior school teachers. Besides regular drills these boys' military organizations, having religious and educational objects as well, held wonderful summer camps, turned out with their uniforms at times and were conspicuous upon public occasions of a general public character. Hundreds of men today owe their daily physical regimen—shoulders erect, measured cadences, proper breathing, saving of the arm—their early training. What was fun for the boys of those days has turned out to be essential to their physical well-being and many departments in later years.

WANT LAPS SCORED ACCURATELY IN LONG-DISTANCE RACES

Accurate scoring of laps is a matter that needs special attention in long-distance races on tracks, according to The London Athletic News. Great country men do not encounter this difficulty, even when they get a course of several laps, although there is on record one case in which a championship had to be re-run. But associations that central track races in which lapping is likely to occur should be held responsible for the accurate scoring. In the recent A. A. A. ten-mile championship one of the runners was officially lapped three times, although it has now been shown that if he had been lapped a third time he would have had to stop running and merely walk the rest of the distance.

NAME CLEARED BY DYING STATEMENT

Embezzler Confesses Using Name of Dead Friend to Hide Own Identity.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 27.—A brief note left by an embezzling accountant when taking his own life clears the name of an innocent man, and bares a story of assumed identity reading not unlike a fiction plot.
The suicide of Jacob M. Arnoff was revealed after discovery that the local office of the United States Shipping Board of Health had been defrauded of a large sum of money through manipulation of the books. Later a confession was made public in which the suicide made known that his real name was Harry Wolfe of New Orleans, who died before flying, he said, to clear Arnoff's name.
Wolfe declared in his confession that Arnoff, who came from Arkansas, was drowned while canoeing with him here on Nov. 7, 1920. Instead of reporting the death to the police, Wolfe assumed Arnoff's name and passport. He resembled his dead companion except for a scar on the face, and he completed the resemblance by making a similar scar with acid.
His plan was so successful that he was able to draw money regularly from Arnoff's father without arousing suspicion. He obtained a position as the shipping board's accountant, and by systematic methods robbed the office of a total of more than 40,000 pesos.
Wolfe said he did it "by handling the books so that nobody was able to make head or tail of them." He concluded: "I alone am guilty."
Shipping board officials and the police express the opinion that the confession is untrue in respect to the claim that the suicide's real name was Wolfe. They are still of the opinion that his name was Arnoff.

Whiter teeth have come to millions in the past few years. You see them everywhere. The dingy film which used to coat them is now combated daily.
Those whiter teeth mean cleaner, safer teeth. You will want them when you know. Learn how to get them by this simple test.
The cause is film
Film is the cause of cloudy teeth—that viscous film you feel. Under old methods, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats, which once were more common than now.
Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.
All of these troubles became alarmingly common under old methods of teeth cleaning.
Then dental science found two film combatants. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation.

Nice Folks
Delight in this method of combating film on teeth
The other removes it without harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.
Leading dentists everywhere began to advise it, and now it is used the world over.

Boston Tailor Out On Rum Switching

Boston, Nov. 26.—When a South End tailor was raided by liquor officers the other night he hit upon a ruse that disposed of all the evidence in his shop, but which cost him a suit and overcoat.
Several pints of liquor were cached in the drawer of the tailor's workbench. He threw a suit and overcoat across the bench while the officers searched high and low. Then a man, known to the tailor, walked into the store.
"Here's your clothes," said the tailor, slipping the liquor into the clothing pockets.
The man took the clothing and walked out of the store. Later when the officers had departed the tailor hurried to the home of the man to whom he had given the clothing and liquor. The man refused to return either clothing or liquor and challenged the tailor to make a complaint to police. The tailor is still wondering why the brilliant plan was not a success.

Police Magistrate Says St. John Needs Juvenile Court

ROTARIANS HEAR JUDGE HENDERSON

Days of Severe Corporal Punishment Recalled in His Speech.

FAULTS OF PRESENT

Points Out Evils of System Which Throws Children into Cells.

The following is Judge Henderson's address to the Rotary Club yesterday on the subject of a juvenile court and probation system for the City of St. John of which he declared himself to be unreservedly in favor.

Within a hundred years there was at the foot of King street on the site of the Memorial fountain a building called the Market House. That fact accounts for the name that the locality bears today, as well as the slip and the wharves on each side of the slip. The City Market was in the first storey and in the basement there were cells for "lock up" purposes, while the upper portion was used for courts and public offices. The upper flat was reached by exterior stairs, under which a portion was grated off within which grating unruly boys were placed. They were in full view of persons passing over the square. Among other offences which placed them in so unhappy a light or plight was disregard of Sabbath ordinances. They were thus confined on Sundays as well as other days of the week.

Days of the Stocks

There seemed to be the feeling that a salutary punishment for bad boys was the public disgracing of them by putting the young scamps in so public a place. Upon the same principle was the punishment of adults when they were placed in a frame called the stocks, their head extending above the frame and firmly fixed in position and their hands on each side of their head locked in the same frame, they were thus deprived of all defence when passed by some one of the crowd. For graver offences cages and turnips were used, frequently being the loud crying of unfortunate persons who were being flogged in the goal yard. All these punishments were administered in this good City of St. John within the last one hundred years. In addition to which was the cropping or cutting off of the ears of culprits, the branding in some conspicuous place with red hot iron of some letter which would indicate that he or she had been found guilty of some crime. Malefactors found guilty of certain offences received sentence of death for their sins and were publicly hanged in the presence of throngs who came from far and near.

Public executions have been abolished, so have the stocks, and so has the cropping of ears, and the tendency of juvenile punishment is to have it done quietly and in segregation. Parental punishment of children has undergone quite a change, very seldom is a young child placed in a black hole and thoroughly frightened. This used to be a favorite way to punish along with the child would be deprived of food and water according to the gravity of the offence and the mind of the person punishing.

These methods are not much employed today and even the old fashioned laying across the knee to the accompaniment of "I'll never do it again" is a good deal disused. It is said that Solomon said "Spare the rod and spoil the child." I cannot find that he used the words but concede (Continued on following page)

Youngest College Boy

GORDON ELTON PRALL

Gordon is only three. Yet already he attends the University of Omaha. He's a mascot there. Gordon takes his mother with him when he goes to the "U." She's Mrs. F. G. Prall. She's a student, too. She's taking a teacher's training course. Gordon spends a couple of the morning hours at the university kindergarten. He's the youngest member of the class. Then he plays around the corridors a while, frequently visiting some classrooms. He's a favorite in all of them. The latter part of the afternoon he spends with mother at her studies, keeping very still. Gordon has three ambitions:— 1. To blow a "big horn" saxophone. 2. To puff smoke rings, as some of the young men students do. 3. To own a typewriter and make it go "click, click, ding, ding."

CATHOLIC CLUB FORMED Decision to form the "Catholic Club of the Acadian Youth of Moncton," was reached at a meeting held in the Sacred Heart Academy, Moncton, on Sunday afternoon. Election of the officers nominated at the Sunday meeting will take place this week. Already there are over 200 members and it is expected that more will be obtained this week. The building, their headquarters, will be formally opened out on December 15.

INSURANCE COMPANY RAISES RATES ON SILKS AND FURS

Preference of Robbers for These Articles Jumps Premium 25 per cent.

New York, Nov. 27.—The National Burglary Underwriters' Security Association soon will announce an increase of 25 per cent. on insurance rates for silks and furs. This decision was taken at a meeting of the members of the association.

Reports of the alarming increase in silk and fur robberies placed before the representatives caused them to decide on an increase of premiums from $40 per $1,000 of insurance, the present rate, to $60 per $1,000. The figures presented at the meeting covered the experience of the last three years and showed a sudden upward curve in recent months. It was said that the losses were about 40 per cent. above premiums paid. An animated discussion of recent "kick-in" robberies, where burglars operated boldly despite protection alarms, seizing all the goods they could get in a few minutes and then escaping before the arrival of the police, preceded the fixing of the new rate for silks and furs. It was also decided to ask Police Commissioner Enright to assign more police to the protection of the loft district, where the majority of the robberies occurred. Since the first of this year 250 robberies have occurred in the loft district, in some cases as many as six to the building. These robberies include only the number on which insurance policies have been written. A large increase in the number of home and apartment robberies where the sums involved were comparatively small were also noted. This topic will come up for further discussion and possible action at a subsequent meeting. The representatives agreed to permit the carrying out by the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Company of its special discount of 10 per cent. on homes guarded by dogs.

Blouses Wanted. Despite neglect of the two-piece suit by Parisian dressmakers, the blouse is as much in vogue as ever. They are as distinct from the skirt as the waists of bygone days.

All Sunbeam Users Know That They Have Heated Their Stores and Homes With Their Sunbeam Furnaces More Economically Than They Could With Any Other Heating System Made

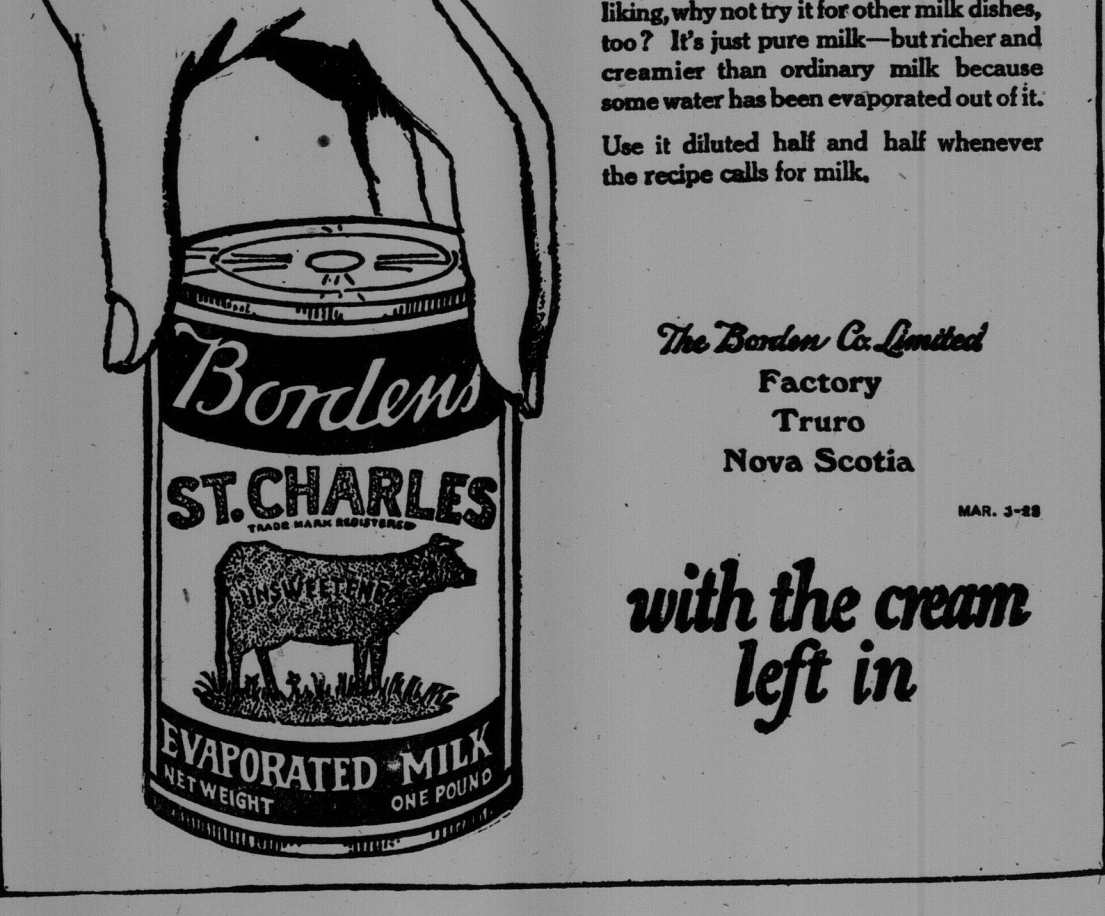

There are many SUNBEAM users to whom we will gladly refer you who annually consumed eighteen to twenty tons of hand coal to heat their stores, and last winter with a SUNBEAM Furnace burned less than five tons and were more comfortable than any winter previous. The SUNBEAM Furnace heated many eight room homes last winter on less than five tons of Soft Coal. The SUNBEAM Furnace is so constructed that it extracts every unit of heat from the fuel and sends it directly into the house, and its capacity for taking cold air out of the house is greater than any furnace made. If you have a cellar in your store or home it will pay you to investigate the SUNBEAM Heating System. We have in the last fifteen months installed over two dozen SUNBEAM Furnaces within three blocks of our store, as well as dozens of others through the City and County, all of whom we will gladly refer you to.

good milk for everything

Very often a woman will use Borden's St. Charles Milk for one recipe which has been recommended to her, or which she has proved out to her own satisfaction. She will go out of her way to buy a can of Borden's St. Charles whenever she wants to make up that particular recipe. If you have tried Borden's St. Charles Milk in one recipe and found it to your liking, why not try it for other milk dishes, too? It's just pure milk—but richer and creamier than ordinary milk because some water has been evaporated out of it. Use it diluted half and half whenever the recipe calls for milk.

Chauffeurs Sign Safety Pledge

New York, Nov. 27.—To insure the maximum of safe driving by the chauffeurs employed by Bloomingdale Brothers, an automobile accident prevention plan was recently devised by Samuel J. Bloomingdale. Every Monday morning before starting on his rounds each chauffeur is required to sign a weekly pledge which reads: "Realizing that accidents due to careless driving are increasing in our city, and as a proof of my loyalty and earnest desire to co-operate with Bloomingdale Brothers in their efforts to eliminate this condition, I hereby declare that I will at all times strictly observe the traffic regulations of the Police Department and will take every precaution to insure safety and avoid any possible injury to life or property." The pledge is also signed by the garage manager as witness. ROTARIANS H E A R JUDGE HENDERSON

That some of his wisdom is along that line, if he practiced what he preached the result was not altogether flattering to the method.

The old caken bucket that hung in the well had a companion in the old leather strap that hung on the wall, and the recital of the former would often feelingly apply to the reciter when the words "I remember, I remember" were used.

Between the hanging of a boy for theft, or burglary if you will, and the placing of a lad in a moral reformatory for the same offence there is the space of about a hundred years, a long as we look at events in the light of the sight of our Father God, from out these lands the centuries fall like grains of sand.

The Juvenile Court

The modern method in representative homes is to take the young child and not break his will, but lovingly and without passion to take and pointing out to him the seriousness of his conduct or offence and indicate the right direction for his way, and thus capture his confidence, affection and judgment. Something like that is behind the Juvenile Court act.

A child for breaking some law of the land is brought before some court, his parents are notified for the case is heard, and being found guilty the law calls for punishment in prison or reformatory. The judge decides doing that, so the boy is lectured, scolded and cautioned and allowed to go to his home, to the very environment that had promoted his delinquency without any constructive work being done for the child's welfare, and with the prospect of his being brought before the same court again.

While in custody the boy would be kept in the same lock up or goal as adult prisoners, would listen to their bad talk and in every way his moral qualities would be injured. The boy has not had a fair start or having had it, misfortune has given him a wrong direction. Many cases come before a court and upon enquiry being made it is found that the child has entered the home, one or other parent has been taken by death or possibly the father has deserted, and the mother finds herself where she is obliged to go and work for possibly five children. She may have been able to get them ready for school; who is to look after them in the hours when they are not at school? Does the trust habit, perhaps the first step in delinquency, has been formed. Should it be the mother who will face the case is still worse. In either event the children are more than likely to go astray.

Ward of State

The new thought regards the child as a ward of the State and not an accused or convicted criminal and calls for separate care for children's cases and a system of probation, returning the child to his home and providing officers to improve his environment to help and encourage him.

This idea is at the basis upon which the modern system in reference to juvenile delinquency is built. Probation has been found to be the effective way of dealing with the youthful offenders. Children are children, and should be treated as such, and not as adult criminals, and a consideration should be extended to them which an adult is not entitled to.

And so the preamble to our Canadian Juvenile Delinquents Act refers to the inexperience of classing or dealing with youthful offenders as ordinary criminals, and to the advisability of guarding them against association with crime and criminals, by subjecting them to such wise care and control as will tend

He Laid Flowers on Harding Bier And Now Goes To Join His Chief

New York.—The small, bliping voice of little Ambrose Higgins, Jr., who placed a wreath he bought with his own pennies at the bier of President Harding, is still heard in death.

His tiny body was crushed beneath the wheels of a lumbering truck as he dashed carefree across the street from his home in 164th street here in New York, to a candy store.

Ambrose has joined his friend—President Harding.

While the world was mourning the death of the nation's chief executive as his body lay in state in the East Room of the White House, Ambrose followed through the stony gate of soldiers and police with his bouquet for the president.

"Pwease, pweiceman, for we pweident," he countered, holding out flowers whenever he was halted by members of the guard. It was his passport.

Thus he gained entrance to the East room, where few had the opportunity to enter. Soldiers, with fixed bayonets, stood guard—as motionless as statues.

Midst the flowers of respect sent by a sorrowing world, Ambrose placed his offering—the single and concentrated offering from the childhood of the land.

"Rest in peace" was scribbled in his own youthful scrawl on the attached card.

It was a small boy's epitaph for his dead chief.

May it be his own.

to check their evil tendencies and to strengthen their better instincts. An act based upon this principle has become a system in many countries, such as Great Britain, Australia, United States, Germany, Sweden, and various other countries, and is likely to become adopted throughout the world.

The Delinquent Court would be busy with boys and girls long before they appear, as at present, in courts on serious charges.

For successful bringing up, all children need the same conditions, homes of physical and moral decency, fresh air, education, proper recreation, and the fond care of wise fathers and mothers. These essentials curtailed at any point, the degree of human wastage grows with the curtailment.

Environment Counts.

It is the environment in childhood that counts in the making of true citizens or criminals, and the true and only way to cope with crime is to improve the environment, when it is possible.

What chance has the daughter of a prostitute of life, when she is brought up in the same environment as the child of a thief, and why should that girl be condemned through no fault of her own to a life of prostitution, or that boy unwittingly to a career of crime?

The State has rights and should not be trifled with by parents, who are trained either by example or by neglect to disobey her laws.

The Juvenile Delinquents Act, often spoken of as the Juvenile Court Act, has received mature thought by its makers. It is the law of the land to come in force by proclamation in a city or town or other part of the province.

FASHIONS CAUSE GOVERNMENT LOSS

Hoover Puts 10,000 Sealskins in Storage—Talks of Furs.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The United States Government is losing money because American women have changed their fashions in furs and are showing less interest in sealskins, Secretary Hoover said. Moreover, the Government has in stock some 10,000 fur pelts, which may have to be held for a considerable period.

The British, Japanese and Russian Governments, the secretary said, were facing losses also as a result of the change in styles.

The Government, Mr. Hoover explained, has practically a monopoly on seal for production, by reason of its ownership of the Alaskan islands where the seals have their rookeries. In recent years as many as 25,000 or 30,000 sealskins have been taken. This year's take, which was cut down to 12,000 when the depression appeared, was put on the market some time ago, with about 800 seals for sale at $80 apiece.

About 2,000 skins were sold, and then the demand died. The pelts will keep, Mr. Hoover explained, but the Government had put them in storage.

Japan, Great Britain and Russia lose seal because under the treaties controlling the sealing operation, shooting the animals in the open Pacific has been prohibited. Since the United States has joined in sharing with the United States profits of the hunt on the islands. Since the Soviet regime was established in Russia, however, the American Government has been deferring payments to that Government.

It also looks like a hard winter for the furs on the Alaska islands. The Government has been rearing of the Government has a profitable side line. Hitherto they have not before exhibited at Amherst, N. S., Dec 10th—13th.

The twentieth Maritime Winter Fair and Fur Show will be held at Amherst on December 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th, next. From the point of view of entries and specialties the fair is expected to exceed all its predecessors. A number of Nova Scotia's largest breeders, for example, will be entering the lists this year with many of their choicest animals.

One of the most interesting and promising promotion ventures of the Dominion Department of Agriculture in recent years is the organization of Boys' Heifer Clubs and of Boys' and Girls' Stock Judging Competitions.

There is some possibility that this may be the last year for the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst. The show has been in its present accommodations, and the matter is at present up before the City of Moncton. Plan to attend and encourage the improvement of livestock in these provinces.

"RED DIP" TO VISIT GIRL GUIDES HERE

A "Red Dip" will visit the St. John Guides early in the new year. It was announced at the annual meeting of the St. John District Association of Girl Guides last night in the Y. W. C. A. recreation centre with Mrs. Murray Maclearen, the president, in the chair. A "Red Dip" is a Guide with a Red Cord diploma, a very high rank among guides. This "Red Dip" will come from England and will land either at St. John or Halifax about the end of January. She will spend one week in St. John training the Guides, and it is hoped that some candidate may be secured to take the place of the one factor that remains for the Red Cord official. If a Blue Cord is obtained by a new Brunswick Guide, the holder of the cord is entitled to conduct training classes for other leaders. A room must be secured for the holding of the cord, and early in January to provide funds for the "Red Dip" competition.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Murray Maclearen; vice-presidents, Mrs. E. A. Schofield; second, Mrs. W. S. Allison; secretary-treasurer, Miss C. McAvity; commissioner, Miss Dorothy Purdy. Miss Purdy submitted a gratifying report of the activities of the third year of the association's existence, showing that there were now 200 members and two Brownie packs. The 3rd Rothery troop was recently organized among the pupils of Netherwood School.

It was decided to open an office in the Y. W. C. A. King street home, where the business with headquarters might be attended to each Saturday morning. Questions with regard to uniforms were decided and a committee was appointed to arrange for badge examiners. The committee consisted of Mrs. Guy Short and Miss Ruth Starr.

IF NOT TURKEY-- Sister Mary Suggests Other "Pieces de Resistance"

BY SISTER MARY

In some parts of New England chicken pie has become second to turkey for Thanksgiving dinner in the old days. Often both turkey and chicken pie were served at the many dinners. This seems out of place to us but why not serve chicken pie in place of turkey?

While turkey is more or less traditional with Thanksgiving, any "extra" roast or meat with an abundance of vegetables makes a satisfactory dinner.

A fresh ham, boned and stuffed, is a delicious substitute for turkey, and no one will sigh for the absent bird. "Very good" this is well pie, when you know the lady as made it," proclaimed Mr. Weller. So why not serve a veal and ham pie instead of turkey?

Then there is crown of lamb or pork quite compatible with a gala day, and of course roast goose or duck or chicken. However, prefer a turkey for Christmas or New Year's dinner. Keep the Thanksgiving dinner simple and old fashioned in its menu, if you would express the original spirit of the day.

Chicken Pie

Two year-old chickens, 1 small onion, 2 sprigs parsley, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cream, 2 tablespoons butter, short crust, 4 hard boiled eggs (optional), 1/2 pound mince.

Clean and disjoint chickens. Put in a kettle with onion, parsley and boiling water to completely cover. Simmer until tender, about one hour. When chicken has cooled half an hour add salt and pepper. Remove from broth when tender and strain stock. There should be 4 cups. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add broth and cream, stirring constantly.

Line a deep bread pan with short biscuit dough rolled three-eighths of an inch thick. Arrange chicken and hard boiled eggs in slices in the pie. The chicken and gravy should be cool. Add gravy to cover. Fit top crust over pie, pinch edges together and bake half an hour in a hot oven.

If a large pan that has no table rack is used, pin a neatly folded napkin around the pan before sending to the table.

Crust is made as follows:

Chicken Pie Crust

Four cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup butter and lard, mixed, 1/2 teaspoon salt, egg yolk, water, make a soft dough.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt in a bowl. Rub in butter and lard with fingers. Beat yolk of egg slightly with 1/2 cup water and cut into flour.

Miss Purdy submitted a gratifying report of the activities of the third year of the association's existence, showing that there were now 200 members and two Brownie packs. The 3rd Rothery troop was recently organized among the pupils of Netherwood School.

It was decided to open an office in the Y. W. C. A. King street home, where the business with headquarters might be attended to each Saturday morning. Questions with regard to uniforms were decided and a committee was appointed to arrange for badge examiners. The committee consisted of Mrs. Guy Short and Miss Ruth Starr.

She gets relief from DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE SYRUP PEPSIN

And so do the children

Some Families Are Never Ill

Fortunate are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowels obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are lazier in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; old people's blood pressure increases 25 per cent. Clara M. Smith, Big Valley, Alberta, recomends Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for all and especially for children and old folk; Mrs. Bettles, 8 Napanee St., Toronto, keeps it always in the house for family use.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian pepsin with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

A MATING IN THE WILDS

OTTEWILL BINNS ILLUSTRATED BY RALPH SUTHERFIELD

BEGIN HERE TODAY Hubert Stane is a discharged convict. He rescues Helen Yardley when her canoe drifts into dangerous waters.

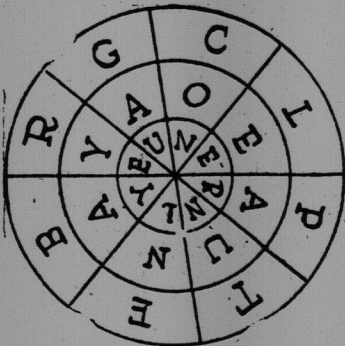

NOV GO ON WITH THE STORY "I will lie down," she said with a little laugh, "but I am afraid sleep is a matter of my mind is in a ferment."

"Do you feel equal to facing the possible danger, Miss Yardley?" "I am not afraid," answered Helen quickly, "and if I were I wouldn't own it—or show it, I hope."

In due time they reached the cabin without mishap. They had found no sign of the enemy of the previous night. If he still lurked in the wood he kept himself hidden and Stane hoped that he had withdrawn for good.

"No!" he answered sharply. "No!"

A PUZZLE A DAY

There are three circles in the drawing; and each is divided into eight sections, with a letter in each section.

Yesterday's Answer: If a clock made three strokes while a cuckoo clock made two, and the last stroke of the ringing clock came to a "cuckoo," and was followed by two more "cuckoos," the hour was five o'clock.

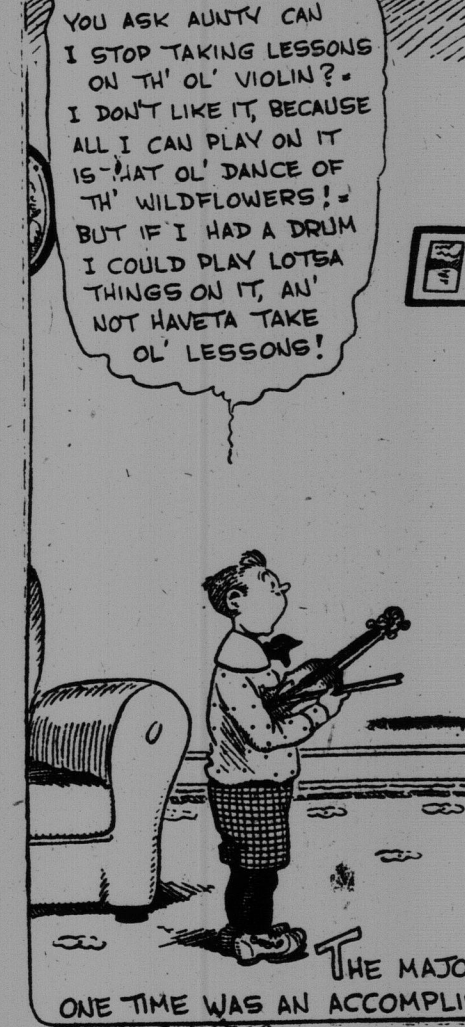

"Then what does she in the lodge?" "That is due to an accident. She drifted down to the great river, and I saved her from the water, and started to take her back to Fort Maloun.

Stane pursed his lips to whistle at the news. There was more behind it than appeared, and he knew that Chignok, the murderous half-breed, was not the framer of the plot, however he might be the instrument for its execution.

"Canst thou not leave the bright-faced woman, and I will show thee a way through the woods. We will go together."

with the girl's name, reached her quite clearly, and struck her like a blow. She did not wait to hear more, but retreated to the cabin.

There was a short lull, then something heavy smashed against the shutter and it collapsed in the room. As it did so a gun barrel was thrust in the opening, and a shot was fired, apparently at random. The bullet struck the cabin wall a full two yards from where Helen was standing.

HERE'S THE REASON

Here's a sale that is bound to be the success of a decade. The verdict will be unanimous, for the large assortment of fall and winter styles will establish themselves in your confidence so emphatically that you will find yourself saying: "How can they sell this merchandise at these prices?" And here's the reason:

The weather has been mild the last few weeks and we are frank in admitting that we have not sold the usual amount of Fall and Winter merchandise, but much rather would we make our sacrifices now than wait until January when every store is having a sale, so we are going to strike while the iron is hot.

While our jobbers and manufacturers are warning us that prices will be higher the next few months, we are accepting that statement with a grain of salt and we are taking our chances by doing two months' business in the course of the next ten days, beginning Wednesday, Nov. 28th. No time could be more opportune than the present for buying seasonable merchandise, as it is the most striking occasion of the year and right now—when the Fall and Winter season looms ahead—comes this sale that eclipses any sale we've ever held—and you know our sales! The quality, the quantity, the values, make this a supreme achievement.

News Notes Gathered From the World of Stage and Screen

THINKS ETHEL BARRYMORE IS MUCH TOO BRILLIANT FOR PLAY

Dean Says "Royal Fandango" Without Her Would be Only Fair.

BY JAMES W. DEAN

New York, Nov. 27.—In one respect Ethel Barrymore is the most pathetic figure on the American stage. This thought came to me as I watched her in Zoe Akins' "The Royal Fandango."

The tragedy of Miss Barrymore lies in her great talent. Call that paradox, if you will, but the fact remains that Ethel Barrymore is pretty generally greater than her play. Her action of the play seems hobbled by heavy lines and ponderous situations when the truth of the matter is that her own talent for expression is speeding far ahead of the play's pace.

Miss Barrymore's brilliance completely submerges the slender merit of "The Royal Fandango." This is so true that a verdict by first and second-nighters has already been returned against the play. The jury has been produced by Miss Barrymore. With a less glamorous figure in the leading role, "The Royal Fandango" would unquestionably be rated a "fair to middlin'" play.

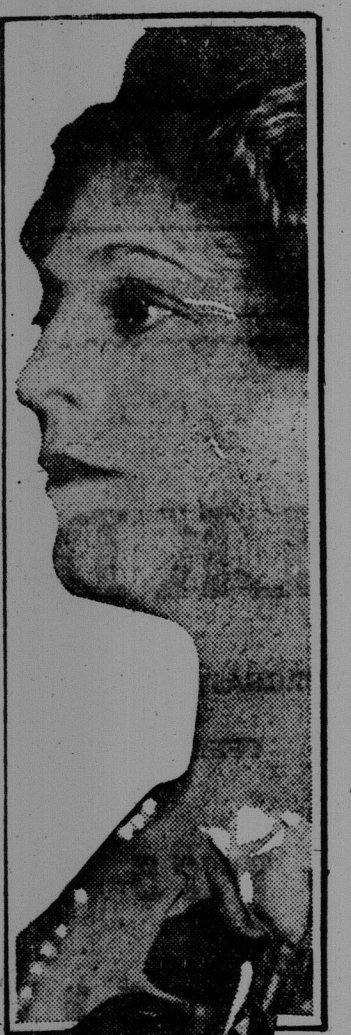

Zoe Akins, as usual, constructs one smoothly perfect act and places around it acts that fall far short of perfection. In "The Royal Fandango" the best act is the first one. The action of the second act slacks off. I cannot render a complete account of the last act, because for the first time in my life I went to sleep in the theatre.

In the first act a matador (excellently played by Jose Alessandro) falls desperately in love with Princess Amelia (Miss Barrymore). The matador is a man of exemplary habits, never having smoked a cigarette until the princess asked him. He had never kissed a woman and the princess did everything but ask him to do that. The brush between the royal couple and the virgin bull-thruster is first-rate romance.

However, Zoe Akins was unwilling to follow out this romantic lead. Hero and heroine are made to look a bit foolish when the kiss is still held in abeyance in the second act. In the third act the kiss is not even an elusive object of the chase and the princess returns home with her husband.

Perhaps you see in this brief digest of the play why I say that Ethel Barrymore is a pathetic figure. The have seen Miss Barrymore was the reverse condition true. That was "Romeo and Juliet." Providence just did not equip her to be a Juliet.

Is Pathetic Figure

ETHEL BARRYMORE

The American theatre owes Ethel Barrymore a great play, a thing that play falls as far short of her talent as "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Laughing Lady." In only one play in which I redounds in the quality of beauty. And it is time that the debt were paid. From Columbus, O., comes a note.

FILM CLASSIC IS WONDERFUL WORK

Actual War Scenes in "Enemies of Women" at the Imperial.

One of the most artistic and lavish productions yet shown in the Maritime Provinces is the film version of Vicente Blasco Ibañez' latest novel, "Enemies of Women," which was screened at the Imperial Theatre yesterday to overflow crowds.

The action of the picture takes place in Monte Carlo, in Nice, Paris and in Russia. In order to have the locations entirely accurate, the entire company was sent to Europe and spent six weeks in Monte Carlo, Nice and Paris.

Perhaps the most striking feature about this altogether wonderful film presentation were the actual scenes of the Russian revolutionists in the "Nevsky Prospekt," Petrograd; saw German submarines sinking French and English vessels, saw the French jet-propelled Verdun, the British Navy patrolling the North Sea and the Kaiser's army on the march. This gave wonderful strength and vividness to the story. People sat agape with it.

The interior sets for the picture were made on a lavish scale. These were designed by the noted Viennese artist, Joseph Urban. His palace of Prince Lubimoff is one of the most gorgeous ever built for pictures. The Prince's villa at Monaco is just as beautiful in its way, but not so big a scale.

Only arranged receptions come Alicia, Duchess de Lille, (Alma Rugens), a noted beauty whose reputation for amorous adventures rivals his own. An unexpected thrill is provided for the guests of this reception when a Co-sack officer breaks into the palace and challenges Prince Lubimoff to a duel for the betrayal of his sister. The fight is a most thrilling, realistic and hard-fought duel ever screened.

As duelling had been banned by the Emperor, Alicia places Lubimoff in her car and succeeds in escaping the clutches of the Co-sacks. The Prince is greatly attracted by Alicia, but, meeting her in the palace and the son of whom she has been concealing, he takes him for a youthful lover of the Duchess and deservingly from the Government, and returning to his villa in Monte Carlo, forms, with his companions, a society he styles "Alicia loses all her money gambling at Monte Carlo and is driven to length to appeal to Prince Lubimoff for aid. Finally, giving a woman money to aid her lover, he scornfully accedes to her request, and it is not until the boy falls dead from a weak heart just after refusing to shoot the Prince's supposed lover is in reality her son. The Prince had been determined to shoot the boy for his part in the decoration for bravery which was pinned to his breast. He is overcome with horror committing and gets a new perspective of life and of himself. He joins the Russian Legion and turns his hands over as a hospital for wounded soldiers. How affairs between the Prince and Alicia are straightened out in the end.

AMERICAN PLAY IS HIT IN LONDON

"Dulcy" Takes Well at Critterion—Stage Gossip From Old Land.

London, Nov. 27.—The American comedy "Dulcy," by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, produced at Southampton and Hammersmith with much success, was presented in London at the Critterion Theatre last Tuesday evening. It was received with much hearty laughter, and the consensus of the critics is that it is a bright and amusing play.

Dr. Mark Stones has written a play called "Our Ostriches," which has aroused considerable thought and discussion. When produced at the Court Theatre it proved to be mainly propaganda for birth control, for which Dr. Stones is an ardent advocate. Nevertheless, there are humor and characterization in the piece, and these, together with the fine acting of the company, made the play acceptable to the majority of the audience, although a few received it with hisses.

Donald Calthrop seems to have succeeded in establishing a Shakespearean repertory theatre in London. His two productions, "Twelfth Night" which he is playing in the evenings, and "Midsummer Night's Dream," at matinees, are going well and promise to remain until after Christmas. The latter, in particular, is drawing the patronage of girls' schools, not an unimportant asset where a theatre as small as the Kingsway is concerned, and once the reputation of the company is acknowledged among educational circles, it will have gone a long way toward success. Calthrop has taken the theatre for seven years.

GALES OF LAUGHTER GREET PERFORMERS

"She Walked in Her Sleep" at the Opera House

A sure cure for the worst case of blues in the world is the farce presented this week at the Opera House by the F. James Carroll Players, "She Walked in Her Sleep." The dialogue is funny all the way through, and also carries a lesson to over-jelous wives and teaches that sometimes what looks like a big "whooper" is the real truth, and all men are not the horrible deceivers many would make them out to be.

Miss Edna Preston, in the part of the maid, saw everything that was going on, but "didn't know a thing," gave a fine performance, and her efforts to portray the sleep-walker who took no chances" were mirth-provoking, especially the clings-a-hunt.

Miss Marsh, as the jealous bride of a year, who was going home to mother and never look at a man again, acted the role in her usual finished manner. Miss Munroe, as her mother, trying to give good advice which was not heeded, gave an excellent performance. Daphne Arnold, as the sleep-walker, played by Miss Odeon, was an artistic piece of work, and her contention that when awakened by nothing at all on seemed very real.

Jimmie Coote gave an excellent exhibition as the sleep-walker and his partner in crime, Bill Bruce, played by Clyde Franklin, was fine. Owen Colt, as John Arnold, father of the sleep-walker and the inventor of an explosive which foes were trying to obtain, had everybody terrified.

The orchestra played a fine programme of music between the acts and this added much to the enjoyment of those attending.

After the matinee this afternoon Miss Odeon will hold a reception on the stage.

May Show Films in British Prison

The British office of the First National Pictures, Inc. informs us that the English Government is debating whether motion pictures shall be shown in prisons. The question came up after permission had been received by the American film concern to show "Mighty Lak a Rose." It is said that the experiment was a success, one that was warmly praised by the Governor and the Chaplain.

Gossipy Notes of The Screen People

Holmes Herbert will play the part of Major Hillgrove in John S. Robertson's production of "The Enchanted Cottage," Richard Barthelmess' next starring vehicle. As the blind major who dominates many of the scenes of "The Enchanted Cottage," Mr. Herbert will have an opportunity to create the screen character.

Circus clowns and stage comedians find work before the camera easy to master. This is attributed to the fact that clown comedy is usually a pantomimic performance. "Foodies" Harnford, the well known Hippodrome clown, has just finished his first comedy, called "No Laughing." A bold feature of this comedy is that there is not a woman in the cast.

In "Uncensored Movies," Will Rogers will impersonate every one in the motion picture industry from David Wark Griffith to Rodolph Valentino in his guise of "Shick." He caricatures Bill Hart in his wildest west mood, and intersperses his picture with illuminating remarks on the value of "the human touch" as applied by Cecil de Mille, Douglas Fairbanks and Tom Mix.

Another F. Scott Fitzgerald story for the films. This time it is "Grit," with the much heralded New York underworld and leaders of gangs as its subject matter. It will be a Film Guild picture, however, so that we may expect a slightly new angle. Glenn Hunter and Clara Bow, the recently discovered "happies" of "Down to the Sea in Ships," will have the leading roles.

HELPING THE BLIND A canvass for the school for the blind, at Halifax, is being instituted by the Local Council of Women of Seckville.

LOYD IS SUED ON FILM "WHY WORRY"

Producers of Play "Success" Say Movie is Their Idea.

New York, Nov. 27.—Harold Lloyd, his manager, Hal Roach, and the Harold Lloyd Corporation are being sued in the Supreme Court for $10,000 damages and an injunction by Lewis & Gordon, producers of the play "Success," now being shown at the Sam H. Harris Theatre, on the ground that Lloyd's film "Why Worry" is composed of the same characters, situations and story as "Success."

The complaint alleges that "Success" was dramatised by Owen Davis from a story written by Edith R. Brainard and Robert H. Davis called "The Wreck." It was named "The Nervous Wreck" when dramatised and later became "Success."

Well, Sir, we've stopped doing some others that we haint started doing since they haint started doing 'em. The judge he pointed out one—and that's to her a juvenile court. Now they hied a little feller eight years old up to the police court 'other day. Does anybody tell me that little feller orto be locked up? Oh, we'll get kind o' human after a while—and think most as much about boys an' gals as we do about calves an' colts. Now, if we hed them old stocks back agin—'you know who I'd put 'em in? I'd put some fathers—an' some mothers—an' some other folks that hied to make bad boys an' gals—an' I'd put 'em facin' one another an' let 'em think it over fer a spell. Mister—we're comin' on to Christmas. We'll all be talkin' about Sandy Claus—an' what a good feller he is one day in the year. Let's do better this next year. Lord love the little critters—they need us—but we need them, too—the wint' o' 'em—to give us somethin' to think about besides ourselves. Fer we haint no great shakes when all's said an' done—no, s'tree."
