La MARQUISE de FONTENAY

Sale of Noted Painting For Quarter Million by Peculiar Old Earl Who Does Not Need the Money

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.)

The sale, by Lord Feversham to Henry C. Frick, of the famous Rembrandt picture "The Portrait of a Dutch Merchant" brings nearer the realization of the wish of the old masters to see their work within the boundaries of the United States, and in the homes of American millionaires, and in museums, enriched by the liberal private donations of art objects by rich and public spirited citizens.

A wall of regret has been sounded in British art circles, and there is some talk about parliament passing a law, similar to that in force in Italy, forbidding the transfer of works of art to foreigners without first getting the government's option of purchasing. At the first blush, however, such a scheme seems to be impracticable in Great Britain, where the spirit of the law is so diametrically opposed to interference with private property and freedom of making lawful contracts. But of late years the government has attempted to do many things that two decades ago would have been looked upon as outside the domain of practical politics.

I notice that the sale price of Rembrandt's "Portrait of a Dutch Merchant" is given as $250,000. While this is a large sum, I cannot understand why it should be an overvalued item to Lord Feversham to so far deplete his famous art gallery. His Lordship is very rich, and cannot need the money, unless certain stories of heavy losses are true. But then he is eccentric, though his peculiarities do not take the shape of avarice and selfishness; on the contrary, he has the reputation of being very generous. He is now in his eighty-fourth year. He has (or had) an income of more than $20,000 a year, and a fine family of sons and daughters, all famous for their good looks. His daughter, Helen, for instance, was one of the greatest beauties at the court of St. James. She is married to Sir Edgar Vincent. Another daughter was the beautiful Lady Hermione, Duchess of Leinster, famous all over Europe for her perfect loveliness. She died of consumption.

An Odd Procedure

I have referred to Lord Feversham's eccentricities. His habits are innumerable. One of the most peculiar—so this is not the right word to use, for with better excuse many others may be found no doubt, with the same falling—one of the most unpardonable in a man with so large a bank account, is his habit of paying any bill whatever, until absolutely forced to do so. The result of this is that his servants, his butler, his baker, his other tradesmen, all go on strike, and he would be "marooned" in his beautiful country seat, Duncombe Park, if he did not capitulate. This he always does, in the most light-hearted and cheerful manner, without the least grudge or resentment against the strikers.

As regularly as clockwork, and at intervals that might be exactly measured, the following comedy is enacted. Lord Feversham, seated in his study, or library, rings his bell, no result. He rings again. No one comes. All in silence. The place seems deserted. He keeps up a continuous ringing. At last his butler appears, strolling in in a leisurely manner, as though relieved of the usual domestic discipline.

"Where's John?" Tell him to bring me up a cup of coffee!"

"He says he won't come!" replies the butler. "His wages have not been paid, my Lord!"

"Confound his impudence! Then bring me a cup of coffee yourself!"

"There is no coffee, my Lord. The grocer or the baker, if there were any, you couldn't get it, for the chef won't work, because he hasn't been paid. Besides, he's had a fire, for the coal man has not been paid. In short, my Lord, none of the servants will do any work for you, and none of the tradesmen will let you have anything to eat or drink until you pay them what you owe!"

"Deuce take their insolence! Here, hand me my check-book! How much is it altogether?"

The list is handed to him, the check is signed, everybody is paid right up to date, and peace and contentment reign supreme until there is another upheaval and the same farce is repeated. Of course the list is very silly, and the only thing that can be said in favor of Lord Feversham is that the strikers are never reprimanded, or made to suffer in any way on account of their rebellion.

Duncombe is the family name of Lord Feversham. Duncombe Park, in Yorkshire, has been in the possession of the family for generations. It was purchased by Sir John Duncombe, who was lord mayor of London in 1708, from the executors of the Duke of Buckingham. The great hall is sixty feet long by forty broad, and is surrounded by fourteen columns, which convey the impression of much greater size.

Lord Feversham's eldest son died in 1887, leaving a son, who bears the title Viscount Helmsley, and who in 1890 was elected unionist member of parliament for the Thirsk and Malton Division of the North Riding of Yorkshire. He was private secretary to the first lord of the admiralty, Lord Selborne, from 1892 to 1895. In 1895 he married Lady Marjorie Greville, only daughter of the fifth Earl of Warwick, by whom he has several children.

Lord Feversham has a son still living, who spent some time in the United States, in a kind of exile, for society here seems to have ignored his presence. When still a boy, having reached his majority, he had married a music hall artiste or variety actress. Old Lord Feversham,

Daily Hints For the Cook

DELMONICO POTATOES.
Cut five cold potatoes into fine dice. Make a white sauce from one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one cup milk and salt and pepper to season. Toss the potatoes in the sauce, turn into a baking dish, sprinkle the top thickly with half cup grated cheese and bake until it is a light brown.

CHEESE BOUTCHES.
Make some small patty cases from good puff-paste and at serving time fill with the following cream and serve hot. Make a smooth, white sauce, using a cupful of milk, a level teaspoonful of flour, and an ounce of butter, all boiled together until smooth and thick. Season with salt and cayenne or paprika, and standing the saucepan containing the mixture aside, other of boiling water, stir in four ounces of thinly sliced cheese and continue stirring until the cheese is all melted and the whole smooth and well mixed. Then fill the patty-cases and serve hot.

Delicious Home-Made Bread
Your bread-baking will always turn out successfully if you use White Swan Yeast Cakes. Can be had in packages of 6 cakes at 25c. from your grocer. Why not send for free sample? White Swan Spices & Cereals, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A BREAKFAST IN CEYLON would not bring you a more delicious cup of tea than you may have at your own table by using

"SALADA"

It is the world's choicest tea, at its best—the finest hill-grown Ceylon—in sealed lead packets.

BLACK, GREEN or MIXED

FOLD TELLS.
When ironing handkerchiefs, I fold the best ones in the ordinary way, says a Ladies World contributor. Those worn or stained are folded three-corner-wise. I use the same rule in ironing sheets, towels, napkins, and tablecloths, folding the old ones in a different way from the good ones. Then, when going to my linen closet I can tell at a glance what I am getting without unfolding, and I am saved, when using a clean handkerchief, the mortification of exhibiting a ragged one.

CHOOSING BROOM.
A heavy broom should be chosen for thorough sweeping; in preference to a light one, for the weight adds to the process, says an exchange. Test a new broom by pressing the edge against the floor. If the straws bristle out and bend the broom is a poor one, and should be rejected; they should remain in a firm, solid mass.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE.
LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world-wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove, 25c.

One Way to Make a Boy Tidy
By RUTH CAMERON

TWO mothers were comparing notes on the habits of their respective sons.

Said one mother with a sigh: "Oh, I do wish Philip were as tidy as your boy. I never saw anything neater than your boy's room. And those dainty curtains and that nice rug. I shouldn't say more than have things like that in Philip's room. They'd be ruined in no time. Why Philip?"

For several minutes the other mother listened to a catalogue of Philip's sins of untidiness—how he tracked mud into his room, put his feet upon the chairs, kept his bureau perpetually littered, his shoes scattered about the room and his clothes draped over the furniture. Finally, at a slight pause, she managed to put in: "Mark used to be just like that."

"Why, I thought he was naturally orderly."

"He certainly was not. His room used to be such a sight that I dreaded to go into it. I'd lecture him almost every day, but it didn't do the slightest good."

"Well, what on earth did you do then?"

Mark's mother smiled. "You know you just spoke of the dainty curtains and nice rug in Mark's room," she said. "Well, they are part of the secret. You thought I put them there because Mark was neat and careful. As a matter of fact, it was the other way around. He is neat and careful because they are there."

"You see, I went up into my boy's room one morning to clean up after he had gone to school, and it was in such a state of disorder that I was really discouraged. He ought to live upon the barn instead of the house. And when I saw how somehow I got to thinking, and I looked around the room and realized it wasn't so unlike a barn either. I had had the girl's room papered twice since his was done because I thought a boy didn't care. And yet, that paper was faded and altogether hideous. Instead of the pretty hangings like the rest of the house, I had put cheap sack curtains in his room. The carpet was threadbare, the furniture was cheap and old. In fact, I realized that there was really nothing to inspire the boy with a desire to keep the place neat and tidy."

"My husband and I had a conference that night, and the next day I started to make Mark's room as pretty as the girls'. And positively it hurt me to see how pleased he was. You see, I had always been foolish enough to think that boys didn't care. Well, to make a long story short, Mark lives up to his room now just as he lived down to it before. Of course the change didn't come all at once—that was four years ago—but you can see it's pretty complete now."

"Yes, I've certainly learned that the best way to develop responsibility and pride in children is to give them something to be responsible and proud about. It is no more work than fretting and scolding all the time, and it is certainly a more pleasant method and one that brings more results."

"I wonder," said Philip's mother dubiously, "if that would ever work with Philip?"

"There's one very good way to find out," said the wiser lady briskly.

HOME HELPS.

After cleaning the shelves and inside of pantry drawers, give a coat of varnish or enamel, and they will clean as easy as oldsh.

Keep some folded newspapers handy upon which to place soiled pots and pans, and save cleaning empty rings from the tables.

Use light-weight rugs on painted floors for ordinary purposes. Stair the floors with a damp mop. Hang out such rugs in a brisk wind and the slaking is done for you. If thin rugs refuse to stay in place, sew a strip of velvet along the under edge.

Avoid open shelves in kitchen or pantry; have at least a curtain to keep out the dust. A window shade of the right size is liked by many.

Place the pretty china in a glass cupboard away from dust rather than on open shelves.

Try setting the lamps in a cupboard during the day instead of on an open shelf, and see how much longer they will keep clean.—Montreal Star.

MONCTON TORIES AT ODDS

(Moncton Transcript.)

Our esteemed morning contemporary throws a wet blanket over any enthusiasm which might be aroused in the community by the Tory nomination on Monday night. It finds the mode of calling the so-called convention and the peculiar manner in which it was conducted so important that it devotes time to the subject of party conventions, and omits to congratulate the community and the party upon the choice presented by the Conservative organization. Our contemporary says:—

who is very proud of his lineage, was deeply offended, and stopped the young man's allowance, which, until then, had been very liberal. Hubert Duncombe and his wife, who were neither of them of a saving disposition, ran heavily into debt, landing in the bankruptcy court. Then the old earl relented a little. He agreed to give his son an allowance of $2,000 a year on condition that he lived anywhere out of England. The pair crossed the Atlantic and drifted around from one city to another. Weiried of this life, they returned to the States, where the lady went back to the stage.

Duncombe served afterwards with so much gallantry in the South African war that he won the Distinguished Service Order. He was member of parliament for the Epsom Division of Cumberland from 1885 to 1890, and now he must have become reconciled to his father, for he gives his address as Duncombe Park, MARQUISE DE FONTENAY.

GIRL'S CLOAK.
Choose for your little girl's spring cloak a good quality of bengaline silk in a muted shade, says the Pittsburg Post. Cut the coat perfectly plain and make the fronts double breasted. Have the collar and cuffs of the same material, in black or some shade of rather dark brown which will go well with it. Close the coat with two handsome front, matching the color of the cuffs and collar.

THE NEW THEATRE.
H. L. Watkins, manager for the B. F. Keith interests was in the city yesterday in connection with the proposed new theatre on the south side of King square. Walter Golding, the local manager, said last evening that in the course of a few days, several sets of plans and specifications will arrive in the city and will be placed on exhibition at Neil Brodie's office for the convenience of contractors. Mr. Golding said that work would be begun as soon as possible.

USE WASH BELTING.
One of the delightful and convenient things they have not changed in the spring skirts is the high extension belt made of wash belting, to the top of which is attached the skirt, says the New York Times. It is infinitely better than any other method for properly hanging a skirt at the waist line.

DEBUT OF A NEW CARUSO IN LONDON

Giovanni Martinetti Has Jumped Into Fame in a Single Evening

WAS A BANDSMAN

"Discovered" by Leader Under Whose Baton He Played a Clarinet--Regarded as Great Tenor's Equal in All But Experience

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, April 27--Standing in the centre of the stage at Covent Garden Opera House, at the end of "La Tosca," the night before last, while one of the most aristocratic and critical audiences of music-lovers in the world rose in its seats to proclaim his discovery as a great new tenor, the sensations of Giovanni Martinetti must have been a bit curious.

London, April 27--Standing in the centre of the stage at Covent Garden Opera House, at the end of "La Tosca," the night before last, while one of the most aristocratic and critical audiences of music-lovers in the world rose in its seats to proclaim his discovery as a great new tenor, the sensations of Giovanni Martinetti must have been a bit curious. Barely two years ago, this good-looking young Italian singer, who is now in his triumph at Covent Garden, is being hailed as a new Caruso, was a common soldier in the Italian army, and a clarinet player in a military band. Before entering the army, Martinetti, who today is a dandy of dandies, with a wife at one of the costliest of the London hotels, was a wood-carver, the only son of a day laborer in the town of Montepulciano. But thanks to his glorious voice, whose quality was first recognized by the leader of the band in which Martinetti played, he has emerged from obscurity, but in an amazingly short time has climbed nearly to the pinnacles of operatic fame. It would be hard in fact, to discover a singer who has ever attained such heights in so brief a time as this Italian tenor. As he remarked, when seen at his hotel today, that until his "discovery" two years ago, he never had had a single singing lesson, although he always had been passionately fond of music.

In every way, Martinetti appears to be a marvel, for he declared, too, that until Tuesday evening last, he never had appeared in "La Tosca," and that it took him only six nights to learn the part. "Yes," he said, "I had come in one joyed at what they call my success at Covent Garden. "It is quite true that I was a military bandsman," Martinetti added. "One day our leader heard me sing and thought that I was a singer. Many remedies have been devised but few are satisfactory. In LIVERETS we believe we offer you the best remedy for CONSTIPATION. JEWS PLAY A BIG PART IN ENGLAND

Hold Large Share of Governmental and Administrative Positions

THREE IN THE CABINET

Four Hebrews in British Peerage--They Are Also Prominent in the Privy Council, in Knightly Ranks and in Army and Navy

(Times' Special Correspondence.) London, April 24--Recently published official figures emphasize the remarkable extent to which Jews are beginning to dominate things in the country. In proportion to their numbers, the representatives of no other nationality owing allegiance to the Union Jack--not the English themselves, or even the Scots--are cutting such a figure in Great Britain as are those of the Jewish race.

According to statistics just made public, the Jews in these islands represent just half of one per cent of the whole population, or one in two hundred. On this basis they should have among them only three members of parliament, whereas they actually have eighteen, including some of the most brilliant members of that body. It is the same in the London County Council, the body that really governs this metropolis. In London there are two Jews in one hundred of the population, and as the "L. C. C." has 118 members, one would expect there to be only two Jews on its roll. There are no fewer than twelve.

On the basis of population the Jews in this country are beginning to outnumber the Hebrews of the House of Lords and the House of Commons. Lord Rothschild, Lord Swaythling, Lord Micholson, and Lord Wandsworth. In the "government," which numbers fifty members inside and outside the cabinet, the Jews should have only "one-fourth" of a representative, but they have three, in the persons of the attorney general, Sir Rufus Isaacs, perhaps the greatest lawyer in the country, the postmaster general, Herbert Samuel, and the under secretary of state for India, the Hon. E. S. Montagu, brother of Lord Swaythling. In other words, they have five times as many members in parliament, and twelve times their proportional representation in the government--a good proof of popularity, as well as of ability.

But this really is only the beginning of the tale. The privy council numbers four Jewish members, among them Arthur Cohen, the king's counselor, and Sir Edgar Sisson, a banker, and there are eleven Jewish baronets, including two ex-lord mayors of London--Sir George Paulet-Phillips and Sir Marcus Samuel--and Edward Sassoon. There are Jewish knights, perhaps the most famous are Sir Indro Spillmann, the art critic, and Sir Philip Magnus, a great authority on education. In the British army, there are a dozen Jews, and in the navy 100; twelve of whom are officers.

It was Mark Twain's joke--was it not?--that there were no Jews in Aberdeen, because they couldn't get a living in that reputedly tight-fisted town. As a matter of fact, there are ninety-nine representing .06 per cent of the population. Leeds has comparatively few Jews, but some recessions may occur at times, and the purchasing power of the provincial dollar is smaller. Our Chicago correspondent reports that beef on the hoof sold this week at $9 a hundred pounds, said to be the highest price reached in two decades. Lambs and sheep are high, the former bringing $10.65, the highest on record, and, of course, the advances denote increased costs for the cut-up products. It is to be noted as a result that receipts of all stock increased this week and that sheep and hogs closed weak. Heavy losses of spring pigs from cold, wet weather are reported from Iowa and Missouri. Retail prices in New York for round steak are up five cents the pound from a month ago, and have advanced six cents, tendrilon a similar amount, legs of lamb five cents, and loin four cents. Potatoes have been and are fetching fancy prices, and we have imported liberal quantities because home crops last year were poor. Moreover, weather conditions have militated against early arrivals of new crop southern tubers, but supplies increased this week, wherefore the quotation went off ten cents. The price situation is not to the liking of merchants.

In the matter of beef prices, the unthinkable are wont to cast anathema on the heads of the beef packers. The ultimate consumer blames the one nearest him, the retail dealer, who, in turn, charges the advances to the wholesaler who lays them to the farmer. Certainly an animal producer is scarce and very high in price, probably at a record high point, but he is not the one to be blamed. On that account butter is in light supply and its price is higher.

Such influences are well calculated to bring about advanced quotations, but over and beyond all, and speaking particularly

The Sharp Upward Turn in Price of Meats--What Bradstreet's Says

(Bradstreet's.) Prices for meat-producing animals and their products experienced a sharp upward turn this week. Three meals a day cost considerably more than a month ago, and signs point to further advances, though some recessions may occur at times, and the purchasing power of the provincial dollar is smaller. Our Chicago correspondent reports that beef on the hoof sold this week at $9 a hundred pounds, said to be the highest price reached in two decades. SEE THE MAIDEN WITH THE RING

See the maiden with the ring--Diamond ring! What a sweet assurance that she has him on a string!

See it glitter, glitter, glitter. With a radiance rich and rare, While her lady friends they titter With a soft and bird-like twitter, As they pipe the solitary. And their eyes shine bright, With an optimistic light, In the cheering scintillations that so glowously spring From the ring, ring, ring, Ring, ring, ring, ring, From the gleaming and the beaming of the ring! --May Lippincott's.

BEADLE AND MINISTER

A good story is told about a West country minister and his beadle, showing the familiarity that used to exist between the minister and his man. The minister and John had got into an argument, and it became so hot that John was like to lose his temper. The minister naturally tried to throw oil on the troubled waters. "Man, John," he said, "it's a good thing you are not all of one mind. For example, had everybody been of my mind everybody would have been wanting my good wife, Jane!"

"Very true," replied John. A little surly, "for if everybody had been in the same mind as me nobody would be 'a' on her awa. She may mak a gud enough minister's wife, but she would hae made a pair show aside my Jean!"

Children sit in their schools and are stuffed like Strasburg geese, says the Archbishop of Liverpool.

George Bourne Wins Praise From English Critics For Latest Work

LITERARY GOSSIP Rider Haggard Changes Eclipse of Sun in King Solomon's Mines to One of Moon - Wonderful Travel Stories of Man Never Abroad

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, April 29—Once more the critics are unanimous in praising a new book by a writer whose personality turns out to be uncommonly interesting.

Bourne, who has now been writing for ten years or more, first came into notice with some striking little sketches of humble life in the rural districts, which appeared in the famous "Cornhill Magazine," and a few years ago made something of a sensation with a work called "The Bette-worth Book," which was almost as careful a biography as Bowdler's of a typical specimen of the fast-disappearing type of English peasant—a garrison, but absent-minded fellow, who happened to be Bourne's gardener.

Since that time, Bourne has published half-a-dozen other works, all dealing with rural life, and all really valuable studies. "Change in the Village," his latest work, deals with the modernizing of the English countryside by what the author calls "the country house influence," and which he deplures.

So it was rather surprising to learn from an intimate friend of Bourne's that this acknowledged literary artist is, by profession, a coach-builder and wheelwright. When he is not writing his books he sits in an office in the town of Farnham and directs the big business of the manufacturing business founded by his father but, though he originally studied every department of the business and today could turn out a wheel as well as the best of his own employees, his heart is in literary work.

Oddly enough, Bourne, who is forty-seven, discovered that he could write, largely by accident, as a result of transferring his bachelor establishment, through health considerations, from the family residence in Farnham to a country cottage, some miles from that town. A fondness for studying human types and characters, which he has inherited from his father, led him to study the lives of his humble neighbors, and he began writing about them.

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN; WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

"THE CONFESSION" St. John will see its first performance of James Halsek Reid's play, "The Confession," on Thursday evening, May 16, at the Opera House.

Mr. Reid has used, in the theme of his play, a most powerful and vital subject, and yet there is not a line that would offend the most sensitive. Rather, he has compiled a story of intense dramatic interest with a strong uplift, purpose and a great lesson.

His play will be interpreted by some of America's foremost and distinguished players, artists whose names have appeared prominently in every dramatic offering.

A PLEASING BILL A strongly dramatic story of life among the peasantry of Russia was one of the several interesting offerings yesterday at the Gen Theatre, a playlet by the Vita-graph Co., entitled "His Mother's Shroud."

NEW YORK, May 8—The destruction of the famous "Jackson wire pool" cases by officials of the American Steel & Wire Company, one of the big subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, was the principal subject of the testimony in today's hearings of the government dissolution suit against the corporation by Commissioner Henry P. Brown.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 8—The most serious outbreak in the anthracite coal region, since the suspension of mining went into effect more than five weeks ago, occurred today at Minersville, in the Schuylkill region, where four men were shot and a woman injured during a fight between 100 men and a detachment of state police.

OTTAWA, May 8—Hon. G. E. Foster is to receive the degree of doctor of laws from the University of New Brunswick. He will leave for Fredericton next week.

GAZETOWN CLERGYMAN WEDS. In Gazetown yesterday morning Miss Lillian Florence Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson, of Canterbury, England, was united in marriage to Rev. William Smith, rector of St. John's church in Gazetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Clement Whaley. The bride was given away by Canon Smith. Rev. Edward Halliwell of Fredericton, supported the groom. After the wedding luncheon was served at the home of S. Sherman Peters.

A NEW FACE WITHOUT SURGICAL SKIN PEELING "I do not approve of the surgical operation of face peeling," says Julia Off. "It is too radical, too often dangerous. There is a better way of removing offensive complexions and one that is entirely safe and rational. Ordinary mercurized wax causes the devalued skin to come off, but gradually and gently. Unlike the surgical process, the skin is not forcibly taken off in big pieces all at once, but almost invisible flaky particles are absorbed by the wax, and from ten days to two weeks are required to complete the transformation.

"Nature renews complexions the same way, shedding tiny cutaneous scales day by day. But deficient circulation, or other abnormal condition, may interfere with the shedding—a 'bad complexion' result. Then mercurized wax assists Nature by hastening the removal of the aged, faded or discolored top skin. Thus only the lively, young, healthy-hued skin is evidenced, as in robust girlhood. This is why mercurized wax produces the indescribable beauty of ever-renewing youth. The wax is put on at night like cold cream, and washed off in the morning. You can produce it at any drugist's, an ounce is sufficient. J. L. Peony will return about sufficient."

HAMILTON HAS HOUSE PROBLEM

Pathetic Conditions Are Revealed by Report Submitted by Medical Health Officer. (From Hamilton Spectator) The board of trade room was packed to capacity last night by a representative gathering of Hamilton's citizens, to discuss and discuss whereby the housing problem which confronts the city at the present time might be alleviated.

What Inspectors Found. In all 283 families were visited and inspected. The 283 families aggregated 2,200 people or between eight and nine per family, were housed in 1,094 rooms, an average of four persons for each family. The total monthly rental paid by these 283 families amounted altogether to approximately $5,000 per month, or $20,000 per year; an average of $11.25 per month for each of four rooms.

REASONS FOR ACTION. In practically all overcrowded premises sanitary conditions were bad; the bedding dirty, floors and walls neglected, and have come under my personal observation where beds have to be shifted with every change of weather to avoid the rain which comes pouring through the roof.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Mrs. Hannah E. Wetmore took place yesterday. Mrs. Wetmore was in her 77th year and had been ill about three weeks. She was well known in the city, having been a resident of St. John practically all her life. She is survived by one son, Edward of this city and one daughter Mrs. A. D. Ross of this city and one sister Mrs. Fred Fenwick of Clifton Kings county. There are five grand children. The funeral service will be held at her son's residence, 94 Kenneth street, Friday night at 8 o'clock. Interment will be on Saturday at Clifton, Kings county.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Budget of News Concerning Stage Favorites Known to St. John Audiences.

May Robson, who will probably appear again in St. John next fall, had a bad fall downstairs recently in the theatre in Montreal, Ore., where she was to have appeared in "A Night Out." She tripped on a stage trap at the top of a dark ten-foot staircase leading from the stage to her dressing-room, and fell all the distance, landing on her head, sustaining a broken finger, a fractured collar-bone, and other injuries. It was feared at first that her injuries were most serious and might compel the closing of her tour. She was able, however, to resume in Portland, Ore., with the finger in a plaster cast.

The next professional attraction at the St. John Opera House is "The Confession," which will play on May 16, 17 and 18. It is a strongly dramatic story and has met with much success in the states and elsewhere in Canada. A portion of the proceeds are to be devoted to the Good Shepherd's Monastery.

Wm. A. Brady's big success, "Bought and Paid For," is among the attractions listed for early next season, while the Scottish comedy, "Bunny Pulls the Strings," is to be played next September. These are both this season's hits in New York, and have a steady run since opening some time ago.

There are many followers of the stage in St. John who recall the visit of the Royal English Bell Ringers to this city twenty-five years ago, and the management of the Opera House has secured them for another visit. More than half of those who played here last time are still sounding the music of the bells in the company, under the leadership of J. E. Jessop. They are now making a Canadian tour from their native place, Haverhill, England. Their last visit was when the thirty chimos were being installed.

May Robson will present her new play, this season's starring vehicle, "A Night Out," and "The Rejuvenation of Mr. Mary," the rollicking comedy in which she made such a hit on her last appearance here, when she again made a portion of the coming summer. "The Gay Musician," a musical comedy with about fifty in the cast and chorus, will be another summer attraction, showing here in June. For the holiday, May 24, "Billy, the Kid," a play which has been running in the west, will be presented. It has to do with cowboy life.

On her appearance in Vancouver last week, Margaret Anglin filled the large theatre to an extent which could all previous records. Nearly 30 extra seats had to be provided for the accommodation of those who desired to see the great Canadian star. She will present "Green Stockings" and an emotional play for a certain reason when she appears here in July next.

Emmy Wehlen has been more successful in bidding for the favor of American audiences than have some visitors from Europe. She comes from Vienna, the home of the Merry Widow waltz, Viennese coffee, and other delicacies. Perhaps for this reason her rendering of "Benben, Benben I've Been Thinking," in "The Moulin Rouge," has a tang that makes that ancient ditty sound like the latest thing from Paris. Miss Wehlen's first appearance in the United States was under the Leiber management last season in "Marriage à la Carte," at the Casino. Her stage-coach and her equally exacting vivacity are her most individual traits.

The Passion Play will be presented this year at Erie, in the Tyrol, where it is said to have been done since the fifteenth century, and is accredited with more effectiveness than the Oberammergau productions.

SICK DAUGHTER NOW WELL

Mrs. C. Cole Tells How Her Daughter Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in writing to thank you for what your medicine has done for my daughter. Before taking your medicine she was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, could not walk but a short distance at a time, and had severe pains in head and limbs. She was very nervous and prostrated. She had begun to cough a good deal and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. I cannot find words to express my gratefulness for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter. She feels and looks like another girl since taking it, and I shall always feel that I owe you a great debt. You can use this letter for the benefit of others if you wish, as I shall always recommend your medicine for female troubles."—Mrs. C. COLE, Fitchville, Ohio.

CONVICTS ORGANIZE

Law and Order League With Lofty Sentiments in Arizona Prison

Phoenix, Ariz., May 8.—Two hundred convicts in the Arizona state prison at Florence have organized themselves into a so-called "law and order league," the constitution of which sets forth the belief of the members in "God, prison reform and Governor Hunt," and names as the purpose of the league the improvement of better morals and the abolishment of crime.

The membership includes 90 per cent of the prisoners, who above their signatures have agreed to observe the following seven rules: "To try each day to do some good deed; To set aside from each day a certain time for the study of pure and noble thoughts; To assist each other in all matters of grievance; To assist the officers in the discharge of their daily duties; To avoid and prevent disorderly conduct; To refrain from profane language; To respect each other, assist the weak and do all in our power to uplift the principles of prison reform and the policy of our new state."

Richard B. Porter, late of St. John, United States immigrant inspector at Fort Belknap, Me., was here for several weeks, went to Portland Thursday last to consult physicians. From there he went to Washington, where his daughter is located, and where he will probably enter a hospital for treatment.

HELP THE CHILDREN

There's Need of It, According to Associated Charities Reports on St. John Conditions

The need of the legal machinery by which proper care could be taken of children whose homes are undesirable was the subject of an interesting discussion at the monthly meeting of the Associated Charities yesterday. The secretary, Mrs. Hall, said that she had been told of a family where the husband and father drinks heavily, and his wife and mother is suffering from tuberculosis, and the children are not properly cared for. She had reported the case to the public health officer, but as the physician attending the woman had not stopped food fermentation and cure Indigestion, backed up by legislative authority. A committee was appointed to get information as to the best way to deal with this subject in other cities and persons or families required were given the next session of the legislature to prepare a bill and arouse a public sentiment which would demand its enactment.

Reference was made in the discussion of the number of idle and drunken men who are more or less a burden upon their families and the public, and a representative of the Salvation Army stated that in this respect St. John was worse than any other city in which he had labored in Canada. The report of the assistant secretary showed that during the month of April 1912 applications had been received at that port. The following are the shipments of men and women: 101,112; Boston, 440,319; New York, 228,280; Montreal, 225,081; Halifax, N. S., 1,231,291; St. John, N. B., 31,686; Annapolis, 17,754. Total, 2,764,409, 1,630,125.

SO TIRED OF TIRED FEET! USE TIZ

Gets the "Tired" Out in a Few Minutes Makes Your Feet Sore-Proof

"O fudge! It's awful how tired feet make you feel, and all over—so dead tired. Then, when you've got a corn beside, and a bunion, and a few blisters, and your feet are terribly swollen, you don't care if you've got a million dollars—you're tired, that's all. A million dollars can't help you, any more than 25 cents will."

A quarter buys a box of TIZ—a wonder for tired, sore, tender, chafed, blistered, swollen, sweaty, amily feet, corns, calluses and bunions, chilblains and frost-bites. The moment you use it, you give a sigh of relief, and then you smile. There's nothing as good as TIZ, so don't accept that I got another box, and before I finished it I could enjoy sleep from 10 p.m. until 9 a.m., and now feel good. TIZ, 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct, on receipt of price, by Walter Lether Dodge, Co., Windsor, Ont. Recommended by all Drug Stores, departments and general stores.

Learn why PURITY FLOUR is unlike any other brand

PURITY FLOUR is unlike any other brand of flour. No two milling companies follow exactly the same process of milling. In fact, no two different brands of flour in the world are exactly alike in quality. And here is another fact worth knowing: Every wheat berry contains both high-grade and low-grade portions.

PURITY FLOUR "More bread and better bread"

MAGINE, if you can, how much whiter, and more toothsome, and more nutritious, the bread made from such a HIGH-GRADE flour must be.

YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE WILL BE ENDED FOREVER Indigestion, Heartburn, Gas and All Stomach Misery Goes in Five Minutes

If your meals don't sit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating; if you are unable to stop food fermentation and cure Indigestion, backed up by legislative authority.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poison, excessive acid and stomach gas, which sour your entire food—interfere with digestion and cause so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilemness, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is different; you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments in your stomach, producing much acidity.

BIG APPLE SHIPMENTS

Apple shipments from St. John in the last season, as will be seen from the following table, were far in excess of those of the preceding year. Halifax led all the ports in amount of shipments, nearly one-half of the total amount having gone from that port. The following are the shipments from all the principal Atlantic ports, the total being the largest for years: 101,112; Boston, 440,319; New York, 228,280; Montreal, 225,081; Halifax, N. S., 1,231,291; St. John, N. B., 31,686; Annapolis, 17,754. Total, 2,764,409, 1,630,125.

EMPIRE DAY IN THE HALIFAX SCHOOLS

Empire Day in Halifax will be celebrated on May 23. At the last meeting of the school board arrangements for presenting officers for Empire Day were made. The following instructions have been issued by Supervisor Mackay: The principals are requested to arrange a programme of songs, recitations, and other exercises appropriate for the occasion—also to assist in securing, at the earliest possible date, at least two good speakers to address their pupils.

MAN MASTERED BY HIS BUSINESS

When a man cannot forget his business when he lays his head on the pillow at night, it is time to consider the condition of his nervous system. Otherwise his business will wreck his future by undermining his health. For a time he may keep going on stimulants, but if health is to be restored and old-time vigor brought back the nerve cells must be revitalized by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. A few weeks' use of this great food cure will do wonders for any business man or woman whose nervous system has failed to stand the strain. Gradually and rationally the blood is enriched and vigor and energy are restored to mind and body. Appetite is sharpened, digestion improves, you sleep well and regain the strength which makes you master of yourself and of your business.

BABIES HAVE ITCHING ECZEMA

Itching, almost constant and well-nigh unbearable itching, with the marked symptoms of eczema. The direct cause is usually friction or irritation of the skin. In babies the trouble often arises from infrequent changing of napkins.

When you have used Dr. Chase's Ointment in a case of eczema you can scarcely realize the relief which this treatment affords. Gradually the sores are cleaned up and replaced that which has been irritated and diseased. Dr. Chase's Ointment at hand, along with the bath soap and using it whenever chafing or irritation appears you can keep baby's skin in perfect condition, save him much suffering and yourself much anxiety.

Athlete U. N. B. Meets.

The Fredericton Mail says: The U. N. B. field and track meet on Saturday next, May 11, will give an opportunity to learn what the chances of the U. N. B. track team will be at the inter-collegiate meet, which is to be held on May 22nd. It is not expected that any of the records set up in previous years will be broken on Saturday, but nevertheless some exciting contests will occur, as there are a number of probable entries in all events, who are very evenly matched. A class relay race is to be added to the programme and will add to the interest of the events.

Other Colleges Strong.

Both Acadia and Mt. Allison are reported to be strong in track athletes and probably will fight out between them for the championship of 1912. The men who seem to be making the best showing in practice so far are: 100 and 200 yards dashes—Kuhring, H. B. Murray, Mainman. High jump—O'Halloran, H. B. Murray, M. F. Howe. 440 yards dash—Shives, Mainman, Locky. Broad jump—H. B. Murray, Oty, Murby. Hurdles—Kuhring, H. B. Murray, Oty. Pole vault—Kuhring, Shives. Hammer throw—Kuhring, McDonald, Howe. Mile run—Melrose, Patterson.

They Want Gandil.

A wire from Cleveland asking President S. E. Leitchstein, of the Montreal Ball

Club, if he would dicker for First Base man Gandil, was answered by "what have you got to offer." The competition for Gandil will be a keen one if the Royals management can pull the strings the way they want to. With the Boston Nationals, Chicago Cubs, Washington and Cleveland all wanting him they should get something pretty good out of any deal.

Diamond Sparkles.

Marty O'Toole made his Chicago debut on Sunday by suffering a defeat, 6 to 2. Although pitching in fine form, he became wild at critical times. In the fourth he struck out Zimmerman, Evers and Leuzon in a row.

Chicago increased its lead for the opposition in the American League Sunday, defeating Cleveland 2 to 1. Neil Ball, famous for making a triple play unassisted, practically gave Chicago the game. He held the ball after failing to catch Collins' stealing second in the sixth inning, and watched Bodie race home with the winning run. Bodie scored two runs, and also made two double plays.

All of his ventures abroad were successful.

Flynn Takes a Chance.

"Jim" Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, who is to fight "Jack" Johnson for the heavy weight championship of the world on July 1 at Las Vegas, New Mexico, has no idea what he will get for his bit. Flynn is willing to take the chance on the possibility of beating Johnson and grabbing the title, thereafter reaping a golden harvest, if not in the ring on the vagrante life.

Johnson is assured of $30,000 as his catch win, lose or draw. Flynn has entered the proposition on a percentage basis, and is not to get a cent until after the excitement has been defused, which practically means that he will get a small portion of all over $60,000 that is taken in at the gate, the history pugilists there have been but two fights which have drawn $60,000 or over.

It is only then that the chance Flynn is taking. Not only is he gambling in a monetary way, but he is also gambling upon taking a beating and being knocked out. He is not taking a chance on being hit, but he is taking a chance on being hit and not being able to get up.

Methodist Church and the Amusement Question.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 9.—That the "amusement question" is to be settled definitely by the Methodist General Conference in session here, is the belief of the delegates. Not a session has been held in which the question has not been up. Its repeated discussion has brought it strongly to the front.

The plan suggested by Rev. F. M. Larkin, of California, to take the liquor question out of the other paragraphs of the church discipline and enact it into a separate paragraph, is winning favorable comment. Delegates who are in a minority of opinion regarding dancing, card-playing and theatre attendance, but there are a number of delegates who are in a majority of opinion regarding the liquor question.

Provincial Elections.

(Moncton Transcript.) It would be just as well for the general public not to be placed off its guard by the specious arguments of the Fredericton Gleaner. It is certain that the uncertainty interferes with business and that if the elections are not to be held next month, the premier should make an authoritative statement to that effect. In the meantime it would be just as well to at least arrange for candidates in the various constituencies.

Amherst Wants Natural Gas.

At the last meeting of the Amherst board of trade, Percy Black brought up the matter of the introduction of gas into Amherst from the Montreal Trolley and Gas Company, and pointed out the importance that such a step would be to the industries of the town. Wm. Knight, J. R. Douglas, John Crossman and others endorsed the views expressed by Mr. Black and on motion, W. H. Tennant, Percy Black, John Crossman and A. G. Robb were appointed as a committee to confer with the company at Moncton relative to introducing gas pipes into the town at an early date.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Saint John Real Estate Company was held yesterday afternoon. The officers for the coming year were elected and the reports of the year read, showing a highly successful period with many turn-overs bringing a handsome advance. R. G. Haley was elected president, J. M. Queen, vice-president and L. P. D. Tilley, managing director. Hon. Robert Maxwell, M. P., and F. Neil Brodie were re-elected directors.

Chatham Pulp Mill.

Commercial.—Last week Mr. Steffanson, of Toronto, who is connected with the pulp and paper business, was in town and while here took the opportunity of looking over the pulp mill. He subsequently called on Mr. Dick and asked for some figures on the property, but he declined to say what his object was in looking over the mill or for whom he was setting.

Fire at Black's Harbor.

Beacon.—Fire at Black's Harbor recently, destroyed the Harbor View Hotel and stable. Loss $2,000, partly covered by insurance. At the time of the fire William Olive resided in the lower flat. James Thompson and Frank Brown occupied the second flat. Messrs. Oliver and Thompson saved everything, but Frank Brown, who was at work, lost everything he had, except a sewing machine.

THE ERROR COLUMN IN BASEBALL

(Winnipeg Telegram)

The fourth list in the tabulated scores of a ball game is the important one of errors. To put it simply and shortly, an error in any play which allows a runner to advance a base. A base on balls, a hit by pitched ball, a balk, a passed ball, a wild pitch through advancing a man are not put in the error column. These are letting errors and have a place by themselves in the summary.

Neither is a catcher charged with an error when he makes a wild throw to get a man stealing, provided that the runner is not advanced an extra base. For instance, a base runner starts for second and the catcher throws wild so that the runner is safe. The runner is credited with a stolen base, but the catcher does not get an error unless the runner goes to third because of the bad throw.

The catcher also escapes a bad mark, as does any infielder, who throws badly in trying to complete a double play one of the runners having been put out, unless the wild throw advances a runner another base. So, too, a fielder cannot be charged with an error when he drops a fly, provided he recovers it in time to force a man out of the bases. As long as no mistake is made on a play that is an error.

On the other hand, a baseman who does not get a ball accurately thrown or at least try to get it, must get an error and not the thrower. For instance, if a catcher makes a perfect throw to second, but nobody covers the bag, the catcher is not given the error, as used to be the case, but the player who should have taken the throw. Of course, if the runner does not advance an extra base there is no error—but a stolen base.

In the case of bad throws it is not the catcher who gets the error, but the thrower. Any ball that hits the dirt in front of a baseman is a bad throw, also if any ball thrown so wide as to pull the baseman out of the bag—too far to one side, too high, or too low—goes as an error to the thrower.

The scorer must use his own judgment as to whether a ball is a wild pitch or a balk. The pitcher is expected to handle it cleanly, if it strikes the ground before the catcher so gets it. If it is too high for the catcher to get, if it is the pitcher's no passed ball or wild pitch.

It continues a fielder misjudges a ball and as a result fails to catch a fly he should have caught. It is the worst kind of error, but it is not charged against the fielder but goes as a hit. It is what is called an error of judgment and players who make them often are usually looking for new jobs. Of course, every body knows that a common failure to catch or hold a ball is just the garden variety of error and is duly chalked up.

Beginners must be careful not to be too harsh in charging errors on difficult plays. You must give a man an error when he drops a ball after a hard run, even though he gets one or even both hands on it; you must give an error when the sun blinds a man so that he can't see an error when he drops a ball; you must give an error when three or four men are charging errors on difficult plays, though any one of them could have got it easily; you must give an error when a man on first, the batter hits a shortstop, who throws to second and he to first, putting two men out. The score would read 6-4. A triple play just means that three men are put out by a continuous play, and every man who handles the ball must be noted in the score.

The Lord Mayor's Motto.

Sir Wm. Theobald when Lord Mayor of London, said: "My motto for womanhood is, 'The better the cook, the happier the husband.'"

There is no earthly reason why wives should not, nowadays, perfect themselves in the gentle art of cooking. Instruction of the very best is open to them; the accumulated experience of centuries is theirs to command and culinary helps such as have never been available before, are brought within the reach of the narrowest purse.

Take, for instance, the delicious H. P. Sauce, introduced only a short time ago from England. The different choice mixings of Oriental fruits and spices are perfectly blended in this new and delightful relish, and the young housewife, with a bottle of H. P. Sauce at her elbow, will make a certain success of the little stews, ragouts, and hashes, which are so much of a puzzle and trial to the inexperienced cook.

"Will you be tried now or by a jury at the sessions?" asked the Birmingham magistrates' clerk.

The Prisoner:—"I don't want to be tried at all."

LOCAL NEWS

NINETY-SEVEN YEARS OLD
Mrs. Mary McQuarrie, aged ninety-seven years, passed away early Tuesday morning at her home, 81 Cornwallia street, Halifax.

REPORTED
Joseph Gallagher, aged sixteen, has been reported by I. C. R. policeman Smith for lying and larking in the Union Depot on the arrival of the train from Boston and Montreal yesterday.

The Royal Gazette says:—"His honor the lieutenant governor has been pleased to remove from office Robert Crawford, provincial constable."

A SLIGHT FIRE
The fire department was called out at two o'clock this afternoon for a slight fire on the roof of John Vanward's dwelling house at the corner of Charlotte and Duke street. The fire was extinguished before any real damage was done.

TO START TOMORROW
The first work on the new wharf to be built in Carleton by Michael Connolly will be done tomorrow. The start was made today on the first crib, but owing to the disagreeable weather it was deferred until tomorrow.

POLICE COURT
In the police court this morning one prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $4 or ten days in jail. Margaret Sullivan, arrested on charge of wandering about in St. Patrick street between twelve and one o'clock last night, was allowed to go on condition that she leave town.

STOLE $100 FROM HOUSE
A daring robbery took place in a Brunswick street house a few days ago, when a sneak thief entered the home of Mrs. Harry Baig and stole $100. Mrs. Baig conducts a small store at 18 Brunswick street. The police are working on the case and expect to make an arrest at any time. It is understood that a woman is under suspicion.

THE FRESHET
The heavy rain of last night and today is expected to effect a material change in the freshet. The water in the river at present is still much above the normal, and with the additional flow from the rain today the rise is expected to be considerable. It is thought that the rain is too late to benefit the lumbermen much, but it will be most welcome in relieving the farming districts.

ANKLE BROKEN
While on his way to work this morning, standing on the footboard of a shunting engine, Martin Malady, employed with the I. C. R. on the coal pockets, stumbled in stepping from the engine and in falling broke his ankle besides injuring his hand quite painfully. The accident happened about six o'clock at the I. C. R. crossing. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance.

PRESENTATION
At the monthly meeting of the teachers and officers of St. Luke's church Sunday school last night, Rev. E. McNeil presented to Miss Leona N. White, one of the teachers, a handsome Oxford Bible. Miss White is leaving St. John in a few days for Calgary, where she will reside, and her fellow workers in the Sunday school took this opportunity to present to her a remembrance. Superintendent A. B. Farmer presided at the meeting.

THE RIVER STEAMERS
Repairs on the steamer Hampstead are being made in Indianopolis preparatory to taking the vessel to Fredericton to be placed on the run to Gagetown for the summer. The new steamer Stella Maris is also undergoing repairs before being placed in commission. New decks are being placed on her and she is being entirely overhauled. There is a possibility that she will go on as a suburban steamer, giving daily service to those having homes along the river during the summer months.

DRISCOLL TOBIN
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tobin, 23 Erin street, last night, when their daughter Margaret was united in marriage to John T. Driscoll, Rev. W. W. Brewer officiated. The bride was attired in a dress of blue silk and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. There were no attendants. After the ceremony a dainty supper was served. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll will reside in St. Patrick street. Both the bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents, among which was a dinner and tea set from the Cobblers' Outing Club. The groom's present to the bride was a substantial cheque.

JAMES R. ORR
The death of a former citizen of St. John, James Robert Orr, took place yesterday at his home in Everett, Maine, at the age of 60 years. He left here about forty years ago and has resided in the states since that time. When in St. John he learned his trade as a blacksmith with the late John Bell, who in his time was one of the best known in this vicinity. Mr. Orr later became a veterinary surgeon and practiced the profession in the states. He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Annie Spence of this city, and two daughters living in the states. Mrs. E. A. Stillwell of 109 Princess street, is a sister, as is Mrs. Nobles, wife of Rev. B. N. Nobles, of Woodstock.

WANT SCHEDULE CHANGED
A petition to have a slight change made in the schedule of the C. P. R. suburban service is being circulated among those who have summer homes along that line. It has been understood that the suburban schedule would come into effect in part about May 20, when the early morning inward train would be run, but that the 8:10 p. m. outward suburban would not be started until later. Under this arrangement those desiring to make their home in the country this month would have to leave the city on the 1:05 p. m. Fredericton train. The petitioner asks to have the later evening train placed on the route about May 20.

VERDICT FOR $15,000 AND INTEREST; IN ALL $19,687.50

Important Judgment on Matter of Commission in Sale of Richards Lumber Property

At the adjourned sitting of the circuit court this morning, Mr. Justice Landry presiding, a very important judgment was given in the case of John T. Rundle of Newcastle, president of the Miramichi Lumber Company, vs. Arthur S. Porter and Frank B. Chapin, which has been the subject of litigation for some time, for about two years. A verdict of $19,687.50 was entered for the plaintiff.

This was an action to recover $20,000 as the plaintiff's share of the commission on the sale of the William Richards lumber property in Northumberland county. The deal was put through in 1906. When the sale was made to the present owners for $675,000. The defendants were the promoters who put the deal through, receiving a commission of $100,000, and the plaintiff's share of the commission was to be $20,000 according to the contention.

Chapin appeared at various times during the proceedings by Barristers, Ewing & Sanford, but he was not represented at this morning's hearing. The plaintiff, John T. Rundle, E. A. McCarly, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Newcastle, and David Ganson, bookkeeper for the Miramichi Lumber Company, gave evidence, telling of the detailed arrangements and how the deal was put through in 1906. It was said that Mr. Rundle agreed to accept $15,000 as his share of the commission, at the time the transfer was made, so a verdict was entered for that amount with interest, since January 31, 1906, making a total of $19,687.50. Powell & Heston appeared for the plaintiff.

After this hearing the court adjourned until tomorrow morning, when argument will be heard in the case of Richmond Rochester vs. Miles E. Agar.

Chancery Division.

Hearing in the case of the Anglican church of Gagetown vs. John T. Dickie has been set for June 4, before Mr. Justice McLeod in chambers.
