WOULD HAVE BROTHER OF QUEEN IN THE VAN OLD LEADER OF QUEEN'S DEAD

Francis of Teck Passes Away After Attack of Pleurisy

King and Queen Present When End Came—Prince Had Served in Army in Egypt and Africa and Retired in 1902

London, Oct. 22.—Prince Francis Joseph Leopold Frederick of Teck died today. He had been ill for some time and recently submitted to two operations. Last night an attack of pleurisy was followed by a critical turn from which he did not recover.

King George, Queen Mary and Rev. Canon Edward Sheppard, of St. George Chapel Windsor Castle, were present when the end came.

The prince who was a brother of Queen Mary, was born at Kensington Palace in London in 1870, the second son of the late Duke of Devonshire and the late Princess Mary Adelaide. He served in the army in Egypt and South Africa, retiring in 1902 with the title of major. He was fond of hunting.

Political affairs in this country are becoming interesting, and dramatic surprises may be expected before the end of next month. The trust between ministers and the opposition which was called on the death of King Edward has been loyal, but during the conference of the leaders of the House of Commons, which was held in the House of Lords, which is now practically at an end, the tariff reformers, in despair of Mr. Balfour's lead, are talking of a general election in the autumn if Mr. Chamberlain should come back to public life, and on the other hand the Liberals are more than usually hopeful and enthusiastic.

The League of Young Liberals is now preparing its 70,000 members for a campaign all over the country in defence of free trade. They are sending speakers to their opponents everywhere. This autumn and winter may see the fiercest struggle in England since the days of Bright and Cobden, when free trade was won. In these days, however, the battle will not rage round tariffs only, for now there is the great constitutional question of the lords' veto, and equally important the position of the labor party in parliament.

We are doubtless approaching the solution of the long-standing problem of payment of members. The Osborne judgment in the courts, and payment of all classes of the people's representatives in the House of Commons is coming to the fore, generally acknowledged as the true basis of democracy. So long as parliamentary representation is maintained by the power of the purse, so long will the labor party be a danger instead of a bulwark to the constitution.

Immigration Criticized

The emigration movement is being loyally supported by all British imperialists and never a day passes without some gratifying article descriptive of Canada appearing in a London newspaper, either Liberal or Conservative. It is, however, a curious fact that amongst the working class and their leaders of public opinion there is a feeling of distrust of most emigration schemes and against the government organization dealing with the shipping of emigrants.

An able writer of experience is now writing his experiences of the Life of an Emigrant, and in a popular Sunday newspaper of great circulation and influence among the working class of England he paints a vivid and distressing picture of the passage to Quebec, and by rail across the dominion. It is honestly written and must have a great deterrent influence upon many intending emigrants. His opening article is in effect an attack on the official system which controls emigration to Canada.

To this I understand that Oled Smith, superintendent of Canadian emigration in London, has made an effective reply which is not as yet published in the newspaper which publishes the sensational articles. Emigration of vast crowds of poor folk, many of them unclean, and a few of them coarse and offensive—must under the best regulations be nasty, as described in Zola's "Le Vent du Nord." The writer, who is inspired with feelings of anger and injustice at the social conditions of an unemployed and handless folk, who are driven from their own lovely country, cannot help exaggerating and unconscious bias.

Considering the influence of such writing, it might be wished that the answer to it should come from some wholly disinterested source. It might be worth while for the immigration superintendents in every Canadian province to collect evidence from recent immigrants and publish letters in the rural papers in England and Scotland. A Canadian commission of disinterested and experienced persons might do a great service to Canada, and to the old country, if it collected evidence. The immediate effect of such commission would be to reform any existing abuses, and to

CRIPPEN GUILTY OF MURDER; SENTENCE OF DEATH IS IMPOSED

LeNeve Now To Stand Trial As Accessory After The Fact

Morning Taken Up With Addresses to Jury By Crown Counsel and Judge—No Hope Held Out as Judge Sentences Crippen to Die—Pale and Trembling as He Leaves Dock, Posing His Innocence

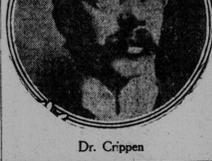

London, Oct. 22.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen was today found guilty of having murdered his wife, known on the stage as Belle Elmore. The case was given to the jury at 2.17 o'clock and the deliberations were brief. The jury was out just thirty minutes.

Addressing the condemned man Lord Chief Justice Alverstone said: "You have been convicted on evidence which can leave no doubt in the mind of any reasonable man that you cruelly murdered your wife and then mutilated her body."

"I advise you to entertain no hope that you will escape the consequence of your crime. I implore you to make peace with Almighty God."

When the Lord Chief Justice concluded a policeman stepped forward and in the hush that had fallen over the court room, led Crippen from the dock.

Crippen will be hanged. No date for the execution has been fixed but it will be done probably within a month. The trial of Miss Ethel Clare LeNeve as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mrs. Crippen will begin on next Tuesday.

OSTRICH PLUMES FOR KING'S CORONATION

Movement Started in South Africa for Special Recognition of Beautiful Hat Decorations

Grahamstown, South Africa, Oct. 22.—A movement has been started with the object of securing special recognition for ostrich feathers, by making the plumes, with the approval of King George and Queen Mary, the prevailing fashion at the coronation.

It is proposed that Queen Mary should be requested to accept an ostrich fan as an expression of loyalty from Cape Colony.

EXPECT TO GET LOS ANGELES DYNAMITERS

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—The evidence in the Times dynamiting case is complete. All that remains is to arrest the man who did it. This is the announcement of Attorney Earl Rogers, after an interview with Mrs. Belle Lavin, now in jail on the charge of murder.

"I have about 'sifting' the guilty persons," Rogers was asked.

"It's almost assured," he replied, "and when we get them we have a case the clearest lawyer in the world could not break down."

THIEVING FOLLOWS FIRE IN A MONTGON STORE

Monten, N. B., Oct. 22.—(Special)—On Thursday night the grocery store of S. C. Carpentier was gutted by fire. Last night his store was broken into and a considerable quantity of goods stolen. Ernest Cormier, eleven years old, was arrested this morning on suspicion. Other arrests are likely.

TURKEY ARRANGES LOAN OF $30,000,000 IN FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 22.—An official note confirms the announcement that an agreement has been reached between Turkey and France for the floating of a $30,000,000 loan in Paris.

The note adds that France has obtained the guarantees which she demanded from Turkey.

GREAT BEDS OF COAL FOUND NEAR VALPARAISO

Valparaiso, Oct. 22.—As the result of the borings in the district of Talahuana large coal beds have been discovered. It is estimated that the beds will yield 100,000,000 tons.

FATALITY ON C. P. R.

Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 22.—(Special)—Galen Love, of St. Stephen, a C. P. R. brakeman, was instantly killed at Beechwood at 10:20 last evening. With another brakeman, named Seely, he was setting off cars at the siding and tried to get between the cars and was caught and instantly killed. The coroner gave permission for the body to be brought here and it was placed in a casket and forwarded to St. Stephen this morning.

Financing in Haiti

Port Au Prince, Haiti, Oct. 22.—The senate has voted authorization for the new bank which will act as a treasury for the loan of $13,000,000 recently issued at Paris at 7 per cent, the proceeds of which will serve for the redemption of the interest on the loan and the retirement of paper money.

Go to Rest, But Work

Canadian ministers and officials who come to England for a rest and a summer holiday, are acquiring the dangerous habit of carrying their department work everywhere with them, till at length the rest cure is superseded by the killing work. The latest victim of too strenuous zeal is A. S. Barnard, the secretary of immigration and industries in Nova Scotia, who, after an attack of illness came here to rest, and for a time was recuperating at the Rochesay "Hydra" in Scotland, but even there work was uppermost, and now he is laid up in Glasgow with a sharp attack of pneumonia, from which his friends will be glad to know he is fast recovering.

The return of so many English public men who have this summer been visiting Canada, will give a fillip to the discussion of Canadian trade enterprise. A shrewd observer is Sir Robert Perks, late M. P., who has made a great position among English finance magnates and contractors. The interest of such men as he in Canadian opportunities, is sure to be fruitful in big industrial ventures. He is by profession a solicitor, and has been years a leading politician and radical and free trader, but it is well-known that as a man of business he has lost influence in political circles, and he reported interference on the fiscal question in Canada counts for nothing in political circles.

BIG WORK PROJECTED IN ST. JOHN PASS BILL WITHOUT A DIVISION

Hon. Mr. Pugsley, Here Today, Speaks of Several Important Matters

TRIP OVER G. T. P.

Road as Level as a Floor, Says Minister—Courtney Bay Work, Warehouses, Army, and Longshoremen's Shelter at Sand Point

Hon. Mr. Pugsley, minister of public works, returned to the city this morning on the maritime express, after a trip of inspection over the eastern section of the new Transcontinental railway. The minister was accompanied on the tour by President Hayes and officials of the G. T. P.

To a Times reporter Dr. Pugsley said the party went from Moncton to within about twenty miles of Plaster Rock, on the Tobique. They did not go the entire distance to Plaster Rock, though the line is completed to there, as they were obliged to return to catch the train at McGovney's, on the Canadian Eastern branch of the I. C. R., so that Mr. Hays could return to Montreal.

"It is a magnificent road in all respects," said the minister, "seeming to be about as level as a floor the whole distance. It is remarkably free from curves also. Mr. Hays expressed himself as more than pleased with it. With the exception of a short distance on the McManus section, east of Chipman, and about a mile west of Chipman, which requires about a month's work yet to be done, the line may be said to be completed over the whole distance to Plaster Rock."

"This, however, does not apply to improvements such as the building of station houses, section houses and round houses, which still have to be provided. At Nappadogan, which is to be a divisional point, a very fine yard has been provided and tracks laid for the accommodation of and for the use of the accommodation can be doubled if needed."

"Mr. Hays is conferring with the engineers as to the operation of the road next year, from Moncton to St. John, not it can be operated this winter, but this is a matter that Mr. Hays will look into, and will be necessary, of course, to have accommodation for the locomotives and something will depend on how soon the Clipping man work."

Asked with reference to the work at Courtney Bay, the minister said it was his intention, as soon as he returned to Ottawa, to communicate with the common council and ask them to take up the matter of deciding the location of the station house for development work there to the government and ask their sanction to proceed with the work at once.

Tenders would close on Monday, he said, for the warehouses to be built on No. 8 and 10 wharves and the contracts would be let immediately so that work could be started this fall. The matter of building a shelter for the longshoremen at Sand Point was also being considered and a grant would be asked for this work at the coming session of parliament.

Regarding the new drill hall, he said the architects of the department were now at work on the plans and he expected the tenders would be called for soon. The minister said he understood the department had been very busy preparing plans and specifications for public buildings, and a large number were being erected, and he had therefore been delayed in getting the plans for the St. John building.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley will leave this evening on his return to Ottawa.

FEAR LIVES OF 50 PEOPLE ARE LOST

New Orleans, Oct. 22.—A cable from Rio Janeiro to the Prayner, says the steamship Wally was wrecked near the Light House at Arraoual de Paraya, and is a total loss. Some of the passengers were rescued, but it is believed that nearly fifty were drowned.

Hall, a mate and a cook, the British steamer Constellation Water has arrived here with four of the Fooks' crew. The men rescued are two Jamaica negroes and two Mexicans, none of whom speak English. They were found afloat off the Cuban coast, where the Fooks foundered.

STEEL BRIDGE TO SPAN MIRAMICHI

Newcastle, N. B., Oct. 22.—(Special)—Fire early yesterday morning on the Leno reservation at Red Ground, caused considerable excitement. An Indian named Lemy Renou lost his house and belongings, while he and his little girl had narrow escape. The loss will be a heavy one to Lemy. The Indians have a conveyance and will consider fire protection for the settlement.

The party of G. T. P. officials here this morning included District Superintendent Foss and Contractor Foschou. They accompanied President Hayes and Dr. Pugsley over contract yesterday, and visited Nappadogan. A steel bridge is to be erected across the Miramichi. Mr. Foss of G. T. P. returned home today.

DEDICATE NEW PAUL'S CROSS ON OCTOBER 31

London, Oct. 22.—After an interval of nearly 2 1/2 centuries the citizens of London will once more see a Paul's cross standing within the shadow of their mighty cathedral. The new cross has been erected on the site of the old preaching and meeting cross and is to be dedicated on Oct. 31 by the Bishop of London. It consists of a raised platform enclosed by a balustrade wall of Portland stone and black marble, from which preaching may still take place.

From the midst of this platform rises a column in the Italian Renaissance style, surmounted by a bronze statue of St. Paul. The height of the monument is 32 feet. The design was prepared by Reginald Blomfield, A. R. A., while the figure at the top and the ornamental work at the base of the column have been executed by Beatrice Macdonald, A. R. A.

In the olden times when political and religious stress almost invariably went hand in hand, Paul's cross was the vortex of the public life of both city and nation, and was consequently the scene of many interesting episodes. The spot served alike for preaching and citizens' meetings; preachers held forth, while Kings and princes listened more or less attentively; abject petitioners stood with lighted candles in their hands, and heretical books were burned there. 1288 Queen Elizabeth attended a thanksgiving service there for the destruction of the Spanish armada; in 1296, while the lord mayor was at service, there, he received an order from the Queen to raise 1000 men immediately to aid the French to defend Calais, and within 24 hours the 1000 men had been recruited, fully armed and equipped, and were on their way to Dover.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

AN INTERESTING DISCUSSION

A visitor at one of the hotels this morning read in a morning paper that Engineer Murdoch had expressed the opinion that there would be no more leaks in the water main in the dry lake. Being unfamiliar with the terminology of the St. John water department, he asked a citizen set out to do so, and a second citizen joined in the conversation. Then a third citizen came up and took a hand, and all three sought to make the water understand by St. John gets its water supply, how much it has cost, and how much it is likely to cost before the system is in complete working order. At 2.31 p.m. the visitor asked to be excused long enough to get a light lunch, but promised to come back and spend the afternoon or evening on the job. Greater progress in the work of enlightening him would have been made if the three citizens had themselves been fully agreed on all points. Talking about a dry lake is naturally conducive to thirst, and the party adjourned several times to the bar for a glass of water. It is expected that before midnight the visitor will have accumulated a large and varied assortment of information, and a high opinion of the quality of the St. John water supply when it is properly served.

JAMES' WAXY PROOF.

"Now that Mr. Hays has left town," said our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. James Jones this morning, "I want to say in my own opinion, which is supported by the Standard, he never was here at all. Where's the evidence of it? Are there any steamers in Courtney Bay? Has the Municipal House been moved down to Missep? Are the street cars running out to Crecheville and Little River? Hays wasn't here at all."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WHAT dull, when you do not know what gives its loveliness of form to the lily, its depth of color to the violet, its fragrance to the rose; when you do not know in what consists the venom of the adder any more than you can imitate the glad movements of the dove. What dull, when earth, air and water are all alike mysteries to you, and when as you stretch out your hand you do not touch anything the properties of which you have mastered, while all the time nature is inviting you to talk earnestly with her, to understand her, to subdue her and to be blessed by her! Go away, man; learn something, understand something; do something, and let me hear no more of your dullness!

—Sir Arthur Helps. I was reminded of that quotation the other day when, while waiting in an intelligence office to interview a prospective mail, I drifted into conversation with the woman beside me.

She was a fine looking woman, evidently about sixty if you judged her by her casual mention of married children, and numerous grandchildren, but not a day over fifty if you judged from her fresh cheerful appearance and her alert manner.

The thing that impressed me about her and reminded me of the quotation was what she said when I asked her if she had been waiting long.

She consulted her watch, and appeared surprised. "Why, it's about an hour," she said, "but it doesn't seem half so long. Most of my friends think that lunning up or half is the worst bore in the world, but do you know, if I'm not too busy, I actually enjoy sitting in an intelligence office. It's so interesting to study the people who come in. Why, it's really as good as a matinee to me."

At ninety, if she lives—and I hope she does, for the world needs more like her—that woman will be happy, and still a good companion, both for herself and other people.

Sir Arthur says there are so many tantalizing, defiant mysteries, so many invitations to thought and speculation in nature, that no one has a right to be dull. Seems to me there are even more delightful mysteries, even more alluring invitations to thought and speculation in the world of men and women about one.

The reason that woman looked fifty instead of sixty was undoubtedly because she had accepted those invitations and had been too busy and too interested to grow old.

An intelligence office, a trolley car, a shop, a hotel lobby, a business office—all these can be as absorbing as a drama or as tedious as a dictionary. It just depends on you. Which will you have then?

Daily Hints for the Cook

BIRD'S NEST PUDDING.

Six or seven cored and pared apples; put in a buttered dish. Mix five teaspoons of flour, one teaspoon salt. Wet it to a smooth paste with cold milk, and add yolks of three eggs, well beaten, then whites of three eggs and more milk, using one pint in all. Pour over the apples and bake one hour. Serve at once.

SPANISH RICE.

Eight to ten slices of bacon fried until brown and crisp, one onion sliced and put in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by restoring the constitution and assuring nature in doing its work. Catarrh patients have much faith in it. They have cured themselves for One Hundred Dollars. For an exact case that it fails to cure, send for latest testimonials. Address R. J. CHENEY CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by restoring the constitution and assuring nature in doing its work. CREAM PIE.

Heat pint milk, add half cup sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch, yolks of two eggs, Cook but do not burn. Take from stove and flavor. Have crust baked and add above. Spread on top beaten whites sweetened. Brown in oven.

COCOANUT CAKES.

Two cups coconut, one cup confectioner's sugar, whites of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth, two tablespoons flour. Stir all together, make in little cakes and bake on buttered paper on greased pan in slow oven until a golden brown.

TO WARM OVER.

"Then this," asked the rejected suitor, "is absolutely final?" "Quite," was the calm reply. "I return your letters."

"Yes," please," answered the young man. "There's some very good material in them I can use again."

OBITUARY

William McAvity

William McAvity, for forty-five years associated with the firm of T. McAvity & Sons, and supervisor of the manufacturing branch of the business, died at his home, Sydney street, at about 8 o'clock last evening after a lingering illness.

Seven years ago while he, in company with Mrs. McAvity, was returning from New York, where they had gone to be present at one of the international yacht races for the America's cup, he was taken ill, suffering from a stroke of paralysis.

Since that time he was unable to be about except to move about his room and go for a drive occasionally. It was only during the last three months, however, that he was confined to his bed. Up to the last he was able to recognize those about his bedside and the end came peacefully.

Deceased was born April 29, 1846, and was married December 26th, 1868, to Annie Sawyer Collins, of Boston, who survives him. He was a son of Thomas McAvity, the founder of the McAvity firm, and leaves four brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Thomas, John A., George and Stephen S. McAvity, and the sisters are Mrs. W. O. Stewart, Montreal, and Mrs. E. N. S. Stewart, Mrs. F. V. Bizard and Mrs. G. H. Flood, of this city.

In his kindly way he delighted to have his friends call and see him, throughout the years that he was prevented from going among them, and took much enjoyment talking over the old times with which he was very familiar. He bore his illness with great fortitude and patience and it was fitting that the end should have been peaceful. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon with service at the house at 2 30.

He was an enthusiastic yachtsman in years gone by and was one of the charter members of the St. John Yacht Club, now the Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club, and continued his membership up to the time of his death. Of a most genial disposition he was popular among the yachtsmen who will remember him as one of the jolliest in the cruises of early yachting times on the river.

His apprenticeship in some of the large Boston machine shops served him well in his forty-five years' direction of the large manufacturing end of T. McAvity & Sons' business, as he was an expert machinist.

He took a keen interest in the working man, being a staunch friend of the laboring class and among them he numbered many friends and admirers.

His apprenticeship in some of the large

Hon. Geo. F. Hill

St. Stephen, N. B., Oct. 21.—Hon. George F. Hill, ex-M. P., and at one time speaker of the local house, died at his home here this evening. Mr. Hill, who has been out of politics for some time, had led a quiet life during the last few years. He was in failing health for weeks, and his death was not unexpected. He is survived by three brothers—Arthur, Edgar and Henry E.

Deceased was the son of Hon. George S. Hill, of the state of Maine, who came to New Brunswick in his infancy and served in the New Brunswick assembly and legislative council for thirty-two years and in the government of New Brunswick. His mother was descended from English Puritans, and was born at Stephen Hill, and at home and in the United States, and was admitted an attorney in 1854 and in the same year went into mercantile pursuits, retiring in 1882. He was official assignee for Charlotte county, 1869-1878, and a member of the legislature for twenty-five years, fifteen years in the legislature, and ten in the legislative council. He was elected to the assembly in 1885, defeated in 1890, and elected again in 1895, remaining in the legislature until appointed a member of the legislative council in 1892. He was president of the legislative council from 1887 until the dissolution of that branch in 1892. He was again returned to the legislature in 1895, and was re-elected at the general elections 1890 and 1903. He was speaker of the assembly, which office he resigned Aug. 31, 1900.

THE TRICKERY AND TRIUMPH OF JACOB

Sermon Preached in Main Street Baptist Church By Herbert Booth, in His Series of Evangelistic Services Here

The words I have to say to you this evening will gather themselves around one of the most instructive characters in the Bible. I want to speak about the Patriarch Jacob. We shall consider his life in four special aspects, each of which are indicated by four sentences in the Scripture narrative. They are found first in Genesis 21, verse 30: 'Is he not rightly named Jacob?'

Notice then how Jacob comes upon the stage of history to represent the deceitful and modern fraternity of tricksters. 'Is he not rightly named Jacob?' Observe, first, he began by the attempt to make an unlawful purchase—'sell me thy birthright.'

Those Who Profit By Sin. Again Jacob represents these who profit by their sin. 'The man greatly increased.' You say 'That's funny.' I thought your Bible said 'the way of transgressors is hard.'

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER

Wall Street Experts' Comment on the Business Situation Especially as Regards Cotton—Improvement in Dry Goods

Furnished by J. M. Robinson & Sons.

New York, Oct. 22.—The upward movement in progress a week ago was stimulated by evidence of a continued good demand for spots in the south, the readiness with which spot values advanced, and the appearance of low temperatures north-west of the belt which influenced speculative sentiment by suggesting the possibility of a frost. Frost, however, failed to develop and after the market had sold through the 15 cent level for January, and later the necessary movement set in which, by the close of last night, had carried prices from 30 to 40 points below the high level of the week.

This decline was accompanied by a partial revival of bearish sentiment among those local operators who make a business of trading in cotton futures, on the ground that the continued good weather in the south justified increased estimates of the crop; on expectation of a fall in spot demand following the completion of October engagements; and on a theory that, speculatively held cotton in the south would come on the market as soon as prices showed signs of declining.

Some attention is attracted to the unsettled European political situation as reflected by recent events in Portugal, apprehensions of disturbances in Spain, the French railroad strike, and unsettled conditions in Berlin but the relatively firm ruling of the Liverpool market, where European conditions unfavorably affect the cotton trade logically find their readiest reflection, with reassuring in this respect, and as a matter of fact, reviews of the dry goods situation have indicated an improvement in the world's trade, with the domestic markets advancing, and with American mills increasing their production.

Bills of Lading

Possibly the failure to settle the bill of lading question in London, and the reaction, but this morning it is reported that the time limit on the old form of bills of lading has been extended until December 31, during which period a settlement of the difficulty is confidently expected.

The leading southern spot markets have responded partially to the setback in futures, but these are markets which usually by sympathy with the course of contracts, and such fluctuations as have occurred from the high point of the season, may have been caused by a speculative reaction rather than by any change in the attitude of interior holders. The near months in the local market have been relatively firm on the decline, suggesting that the selling has been of speculative, rather than trade origin; that it has resulted from speculative reaction on the pressure, rather than from pressure of actual cotton.

Exports are now running very large, reflecting the large business transacted earlier in the season, and possibly a rush to get cotton on to the docks before the short supply ahead necessitating prompt replenishment. This, in itself, indicates a demand for cotton, and has absorbed the new crop movement to date at advancing prices, so much to the surprise of those who had expected a heavy sale of the new crop, and the showing of speculators' taking for the past week, in excess of the same week last year, is a further demonstration that the demand for cotton has been largely responsible for the strength shown by the southern markets.

We still hear reports that a good deal of cotton is being taken off the interior markets as a speculative venture by comparatively small interests in the south, but it seems from the statistical position, that these holdings have hardly accumulated to the point of introducing a probable source of weakness.

On the whole, therefore, we cannot escape the conviction that trade demand has been the real factor in the strength shown. Speculative sentiment has been bullish, but it has been so frequently reactionary, that speculative buying has been liquidated and with the late months showing nothing like carrying charges, it is evident that the spot situation has dominated; and that bull speculation in the accepted sense of the term has "traded" rather than led the advance.

This, of course, should mean a healthy situation from a speculative standpoint, and it certainly suggests that the south has been so trained to a belief in higher prices, that holders will pay attention to future markets, but will endeavor to hold cotton for their own prices, which at the moment appears to be somewhere between 14 1/2 and 15 cents in the interior.

Meanwhile, some of the recently unfavorable features, such as the French railroad strike and the bill of lading controversy, have either been settled or eliminated as immediate market factors, and while we have as yet had no frost in the belt, this is such a late crop that if frost appears by the first of the month it would not be considered a bullish argument. Moreover, every bale taken off the market by the early trade demand is a step toward strengthening the attitude of remaining holders which tends to offset the tendency toward an increase in estimates of the crop as a result of the past month of unusually favorable weather conditions, and some of the people who started buying on a bullish view of the crop, placing it even below 11,000,000 bales, are now taking a more conservative view of the yield, but remain bullish as to the ultimate course of prices owing to the optimistic view of probable requirements, and a gradual abandonment of the theory that "no matter what the size of the crop, or the ultimate course of prices, the market cannot be sustained during the early rush of cotton to market."

Yours truly,
E. & C. RANDOLPH.

A Few Of Our PREMIUMS

Why We Are Associating Others With Us

IT HAS BEEN CUSTOMARY to give premiums in connection with the soap business, but so many wrappers were required that it was almost impossible to ever get an article of value; the result is that many worthless articles are offered as premiums. We have over 200 premiums. Every premium that we put out will be guaranteed.

We are getting dealers in different lines to enter into the premium plan with us, giving coupons with every cash sale made by them. The coupon has the same relative value that a soap wrapper has. A bar of soap sells for 5 cents, therefore a 5c. purchase from one of our dealers entitles you to (1) coupon and a dollar ($1) sale to 20.

We will have about 500 stores on this plan in different localities, and it means that we can procure articles for premium purposes at the lowest possible cost. Figure the total of your purchase required to get one of our premiums and compare it with what the same article would cost you if bought at retail, and you will see that it means a saving on your purchase of from 10 to 15 per cent.

J. V. Russell's branch stores at 977 Main Street and 8½ Brussels Street, carrying a full line of footwear at the lowest prices consistent with first-class quality, give our coupons with all cash purchases.

Wm. H. Turner, 440 Main Street, custom tailors, ready-to-wear clothing, gent's furnishings, etc., gives our coupons with cash purchases; and we will soon announce other local merchants that are going to embrace this plan.

Banner Spices, Banner Flowering Extracts and many other lines enumerated in our premium book, carry coupons in proportion to their value.

Asepto Soap Powder, Asepto Soap, Naphtho Soap, Venus Floating Soap are our lines and the wrappers apply.

THE TRICKERY AND TRIUMPH OF JACOB

He said there is nothing to do; nothing has been put right, and so you can imagine the scene. I think I see Jacob, with the dread of vengeance upon him, rounding up his stock in the wilderness. The very bleating of the sheep and the braying of the asses and the grunting of the camels would seem to say to him—"You got us, a desolate land. You must go and leave me. God knows how much easier it would be to cast myself into this cold stream than let you pass over without me into the unknown terrors of this night. Rachel it was my fault. It was I who brought this sorrow upon you, say you forgive me, before you go." Then I see the tender embrace, the lips pressed together, and the vanishing figure into the gloom, and with that fading form there passed over the brook, "all that he had" and "Jacob was left alone."

Oxydonor Victory Over Disease

This is what Mr. McGouhey has to say about Oxydonor:

Dear Sir,—It is with pleasure I write you, to tell you of the benefit I have derived from your Oxydonor, No. 2.

For over two years I have been suffering from Sciatica Rheumatism. I have been laid off for two and three weeks at a time, at several times during the year, that I could not get up. I was so far gone from pains that I never expected to be cured, as I have been using all the different kinds of medicines that were recommended to me, but have never had any results. I was cured from rheumatism.

On his recommendation, I bought one, and after using Oxydonor for four weeks, I was cured that I am a perfectly healthy man. My sister who has been suffering from nervous headache, was cured by the use of your Oxydonor, No. 2. I was cured by the use of your Oxydonor, No. 2. I was cured by the use of your Oxydonor, No. 2.

Beware of imitations. The inventor of Oxydonor is patented by the Canadian Government. The name is plainly stamped on every instrument, look for the name, and be sure you get the genuine one. Do not let your familiarity of names lead you to confuse Oxydonor, with any other article. We have the original, the only genuine instrument in the market.

We have two sizes, No. 1, $15.00 and No. 2, $25.00. Oxydonor is a life time, and serves a whole family. It applies to every disease, for adults and as for children. Do not delay to investigate this marvelous instrument. Call or write for particulars and free booklets.

The Giving In

He gave in—"I wrestled a man with him. I will not let thee go." There were two parties to this divine wrestling match. There were two aggressors. The defence at the start of the battle is always so with the tactics of Jehovah. God is always the aggressor at the beginning of the conflict. He starts the wrestling—"There wrestled a man with him." It was not the first time God had wrestled with Jacob. He had been wrestling for twenty years. Wrestling by the smart of bitter bondage. Wrestling by many a woe in the wilderness. Wrestling by the unhappy consequences of the unpardonable past. Wrestling by the vision of an ascending and descending angel. There have been many words about the identity of this strange visitor that night. The philosophers and commentators badly mixed on the matter, but go to the Bible and ask Jacob who it was. He knows. He was close to the event and was able to judge. Listen to his explanation—"I have seen God."

Jacob knew he was face to face with that contending power which had striven with him since the hour that he fled from his father's house. Oh my brother, God always begins this wrestling. His spirit strives with all the sons of men. You resisted it like Jacob, and many are the treasures which have shrunken in your grasp by the touch of God's fingers. Yet it may be said of you as it was said of Jacob, that "He prevailed not against him." You have resisted and revolved, but there came one touch in Jacob's case which may you be spared. It was a paralyzing touch, which converted him in one instant into a desperate pleader for mercy. He owned up. I hear the desperate cry of the wrestling and wounded Patriarch, who, driven now by his sin and his helplessness to lay hold with a life grip on his heavenly visitant; Pleads his meanness and his unworthiness. The morning breaks; Esau is all but here. My thigh is out of joint. Only your blessing can restore me. Then I think I see the angel closing his struggle for a moment and looking his pleader in the face. I hear him say, "Very well, then, but first tell me thy name—make thy confession—keep nothing back. Tell me the real thing that you are—share in no absolutism for you without confession." Then I hear the reply—"My name is Jacob! Jacob! suppliant, triester—Jacob by name and a fool by nature—that is me—that is how I got on and grew rich."

Now, my friend, every man has his name. It is not always the name on the family register. Nor the name he answers to. There is a name under every other name—a name which goes with the character. That name which is the true designation of the thing you really are. What is that name of yours? Is it cheat? Is it hypocrite? You know, but you will get no blessing till you own up.

He wrestled. "As a prince I have shown power with God." A prince? Tell me what it gives a man the right to so great a designation before heaven? A prince! How is a man to be a prince among the preachers with God? By what means do we triumph with Jehovah? What is the principle by which we may take captive the very treasures of heaven? There is only one, it is the principle of faith. The greatest thing a man can do with God is to trust Him.

Jacob did this. He would not let go. He put the whole of his life into that one desperate encounter. He had confessed now he trusted, and without that act of trust, that resolute daring commitment of himself to God, that audacious faith that would not take no for an answer, he would never have prevailed.

Resolute Faith

My friend it is this resolute faith that does it. It is the one thing that guarantees the blessing. It is the supreme thing without which, though you may do all other things you can find no forgiveness. Praying, Hoping, Confessing will all be worse than failure without trust. O that tonight you would simply trust the exceedingly precious promise and be saved. Did you notice how beautifully this narrative closes? It closes with a blessing imparted to Jacob's heart, not a question answered for his intellect. Jacob wanted to know who it was. He was in danger of prying unwarrantably into divine mystery. The reply came not in the shape of a gratified curiosity, but in the form of an imparted inspiration. Oh how good for some of us it would be, if we could cease our anxious efforts to understand everything, and go in for the "fellowship" of the "mystery." "He blessed him there." Right there. There is nothing like getting your blessings on the spot. Don't go home for them. Don't say tomorrow, next week, but here and now. He blessed him there.

And so I see the Patriarch coming across the Fords of Jabbok. The light of God upon his face. The reflection of the fading sky upon the rushing waters. The mist of night rolling upon the hills already aglow with the rising sun. A new day has dawned also for Jacob. The old life, the old name, the old nature, left on the other side of the rushing brook. Henceforth, the Israel experience, the princely power; and though he limps as he goes, there is a leaping in his heart, no joy could excel, and ere he leaves I think I hear him say "Oh! This place." This wonderful place. The place of my wrestling, the place of my surrender, the place of my consecration. What shall I call it? Yes, call it Peniel—the presence of Jehovah—for here "I have seen God face to face!"

CLEANLINESS IN DENTISTRY

If people have the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is.

No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

PLAYGROUNDS AND NEW SQUARE FOR CARLETON

Work to Be Begun Next Week on Courtenay Hill

Will Be Called King Square and There Will Be Children's Playground and Baseball Diamond—Plot South of City Hall Also to Be Improved

West St. John is not going to be behind in the matter of playgrounds and public squares if Alderman Smith, the representative for Guy's ward and Rev. W. R. Robinson and Rev. W. H. Sampson can help it. For years the citizens on the west side have been urging that something be done to make Courtenay Hill, near the Albert school, a public playground. As it is at present this spot is of no attraction, but with a little work in the right direction it can be made a pleasing playground and public park.

About a year ago Rev. W. R. Robinson and other citizens of the ward, waited upon the alderman in a committee meeting and urged that steps be taken to have Courtenay Hill, or as it is proposed to call it, King square, converted into a public playground for the children. As a result, a grant of $300 was made, but no action was taken for some time to carry on the work.

Alderman Smith has fastidiously himself in the project and arrangements have been made for the work of leveling the ground and converting it into a children's playground and baseball park. The city engineer has planned the improvements and work will be commenced next week. It is proposed, in addition to the playground, which will be largely for the benefit of the scholars in the Albert street school, to have benches placed on the hill during the summer months and there residents of Carleton can have a resting place, and at the same time be afforded a splendid view of the city and harbor.

Rev. Mr. Robinson speaking of the project said it was proposed to have the chain gang to the work and he would give his time to supervise the operations. It is desired to have a baseball diamond and football field and a running track.

Next summer it is hoped also to have swings and other paraphernalia for the younger children. Mr. Robinson thinks a playground is very much needed, in fact he thinks there should be half a dozen of them in the city, and that there are plenty of vacant lands that could be made suitable for the purpose at very small expense and that appearance of the land would be greatly improved.

Another project for the beautifying of the west side is the formation of a public square on the north side of Carleton City Hall, similar to Tilley square on the north side. At present this portion is low and rough and it will be necessary to build it up considerably. However, Alderman Smith has already had about 150 boxes of refuse dumped there, and he is planning on having about 200 boxes more. When this is done, probably by next spring, he will ask the common council for a grant to carry on the work.

It is proposed to lay the square out with walls, plant trees and have a nice grass lawn. A drinking fountain for the center is also being arranged for. Already the alderman has subscriptions for $250 toward this object.

POLICE COURT

Stealing Two Boxes of Cigars is Charge Against Boy

Ernest Peacock, charged with stealing two boxes of cigars, the property of Mrs. Loden, of Lakeswood, on Thursday last, was before Judge Ritchie in the police court this morning. Phyllis Loden, aged 14, said that on Thursday last she rode to the city to purchase the cigars for her mother, who keeps a store at Lakeswood. After making her purchase she tied the parcel on the bicycle, but on the way stopped at Mrs. Kane's on the Westmorland Road, and got some things to take to the boxes, and came out of the store to find the parcel gone. She said that she met Peacock, and asked him if he had seen any one take the cigars and he said that a small boy, pointing to one about three years old, had taken the boxes. The little boy had denied this. She reported the matter to the police.

Harry Beckwith, a small boy, said he saw the prisoner with the parcel running away.

Acting Sgt. W. H. Finley said he went to Peacock's home, but the lad denied all knowledge of it. On being pressed, however, he said he could take the witness to the place where the parcel was hidden. A witness who went to a vacant house on the Westmorland Road and found it in the cellar. The next story the parcel from another boy, who had stolen it, and placed it in the cellar for safe-keeping. On a second visit being paid to his home he admitted that he stole the cigars.

The matter stands for the present.

Roy McPherson, who was released only yesterday after paying a $8 fine for drunkenness, was in court again this morning on the same charge, and was fined a like amount. William Brady was fined $4 and William Foley remanded on drunkenness charges.

There was argument of counsel in the Brundage case. H. H. Pickett for Walsh and Phillips, and Dr. W. B. Wallace for the family of Harry Brundage, the lad who was shot in a shooting booth during the Dominion Fair. Arrangement was made till Saturday next.

Michael Clunan, former caretaker of Reid's castle, and Thomas Sharkey, the present caretaker, were in court as the result of the claim of Sharkey that Clunan had not handed over various utensils for gardening purposes. They were told to try to settle the matter out of court.

BOYS SCOUTS.

At a meeting in the interest of the A. O. H. cadets last night, plans were discussed for forming the cadets into patrols in connection with the Boys Scouts. It is expected that five patrols of Boy Scouts will be organized among the cadets. Much interest has been shown by the boys in the movement, and it is hoped that details will be drawn up for completing organization along the lines indicated. The winter plans for the cadets were also discussed, and something more definite will be decided upon at the next meeting.

The Every Day Club fair will open Monday evening, when a large orchestra will be present and furnish music. His Worship Mayor Pank will formally open the fair and Magistrate Ritchie will be present and speak. The hall has been decorated.

In Order to Have Heat We Must Have Fire And We Want To Be Easy on Fuel

The fuel question is very essential when you are looking for a stove to heat your home. There are stoves on the market that are good heaters so long as you keep throwing the coal into them. Then there are more modern built stoves that are made to give you the heat besides being very light on fuel. That is the way our Glenwood Oak is built. In the first place we built the Glenwood Oak without flanges. We built it with a hall bearing grate, and like our ranges, it can be removed any time. Then we have a large ring around the top of the fire pot that has three removable nickel rails on it. This throws the heat back to the floor. On the inside of the pot we have a ring with holes in it to consume the gas. As a heater the Glenwood Oak is O. K. Come and see them for yourselves.
