President of Irish Free State Has Established Himself in Sound Position.

POLICIES UNCHANGED By WILLIAM H. BRAYDON.

pecial Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright. Dublin, Sept. 20.-President Cosgrave has established himself in a position as strong, for all political purposes, as that of Premier Mussowas the greatest humanitarian who was the greatest humanitarian who ever lived. Would we could find any Dail—the first Free State parliament since the enactment of the Irish con stitution—unanimously elected him to another term as President. to another term as President.

Cosgrave has no serious rival in any group, and none of his colleagues shows the slightest ambition to replace him. He reminded the house in an address at the opening session that he had stated his intentions that he had stated his intentions pretty plainly in his election plat-form, and that none of the 109 mem-bers of The Dail who have taken the oath of allegiance had challenged them. The 44 elected Republicans he regards as a negligible minority.

President Cosgrave's attitude toward Eamon DeValera and the other imprisoned deputies is entirely unmodified by the unexpected size of their minority. It would be, he said,
"mere sentimentalism" to let them "mere sentimentalism" to let them out of jail, or even to afford them an opportunity of consulting together on a possible change of policy. He does not believe they have experienced any change of heart, and notwithstanding the cossition of violence withstanding the cessation of violence he still sees them in their old role—temporarily because they have been beaten.

All the president's sympathies are educational power in the world, but for the men and women who suffered they are not used as an inspiration. at the hands of Republicans. He had his share of this suffering, for his house was burned and his uncle was shot dead by Republican adherents.

Crown Attorney J. C. Elliott Will Not Act For the Attorney-General.

Motion for a habeas corpus order before the supreme court at the court house Saturday, on request of J. M. Donohue, counsel for the defendant, is expected to clear up several matters in connection with the case. According to information received in the city the attorney-general ex-pects to send a man to deal with the case at the weekly high court session Saturday morning. It has also been rupmored that an outside prosecutor will act at the murder trial or October 15. Sending a man to represent the crown Saturday seems give ground to the rumor, for it is argued that if the local crown attorney was going to conduct the prose-cution, he would act in the case of the motion. In several instances since the return of the Conservative government to power, outside prose-cutors have been used in several session of the council, McGuire had this to say: "I have tried to do the fair thing and as president keep aloof from the whole thing. Enrich Your Blood With This Newer Form of Iron

For many years physicians and chemists experimented to produce a newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood, because they realized that the old metallic irons often blackened the teeth and upset the stomach. Their examinations proved that three people out of every four were defi-cient in iron content in the blood and that thousands were weak, sick, nervous, ailing and run-down, and suf-fering from all sorts of alarming symptoms, when as a matter of fact their trouble was all due to iron starvation of the blood. At last they discovered this newer form of fron, like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples in highly concentrated form. It quickly helps put strength into your muscles and color into your cheeks. Get your doctor to take your red blood count today, then take this newer form of iron known as Nuxated Iron for a few weeks and watch your red blood corpuscles increase; see how much purer and richer your blood becomes; how much stronger and bet- and comment. you feel; what difference it makes in your nerves. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1923.

There Is Still Enough Law.

The court of appeals has decided that the Ontario Legislature went beyond its constitutional powers when it passed legislation stopping the publication of betting information by Ontario papers.

This court did not argue the worth or need of such legislation because it was not within its province to reach a decision.

Municipalities get their powers from the Ontario Municipal Act, and provincial and federal governments derive their powers from the British North America Act. Reverting to the latter, the appeal court judges found that the Dominion Government had passed legislation in regard to horse-race betting and the publication of information that would assist in the placing of bets. That being the case, it was held that the field was already occupied by the federal authorities. and that fact automatically precluded its occupation by provincial legislation.

The British parliament has much greater scope in passing laws than that possessed by either provincial or federal parliaments in Canada. The British parliament is a free agent; it can make laws or amend them or wipe them out entirely. It is not so in Canada, because all our enactments must come within the limits of the powers given in the British North America Act.

Looking at it another way: The Ottawa authorities might pass legislation on horse-racing or any other subject that would have a general bearing and interpretation in all the provinces. The Ontario Legislature might find that there were peculiar local conditions in this province that the general act of Ottawa did not meet, but because the Federal House had first occupied the field, or because it had legislative rights given to it by the British North America Act, the province could do little or nothing about it.

No matter what opinion one may entertain in regard to race betting and the publication of betting "tips," these primary facts must be faced. They are a our governmental fabric

London's Chance to Aid Japan.

Japan is today sick, hurt and helpless. The greatest calamity of modern times broke on her the first day of the month Earthquake, fire, pestilence have combined forces to Japan was our friend and faithful ally during the world war.

Canada has had some small experience in knowing used. what outside assistance meant. When Ottawa was burned, contributions to the total of a million dollars came from the outside. In the Halifax explosion the State of Massachusetts alone sent $800,000. When there was fire at Haileybury and epidemic at Cochrane help came from United States, New Zealand and Australia. So Japan faces us today, and that "us" means particularly the people of London and the district around us. The Red Cross is the logical body to handle or direct the work. Their appeals, whether made to the civic fathers or the people generally, should be, and will be, listened to and acted upon.

The Indian Living in the Past.

> The trouble is that the Six Nations, like other Indian tribes, are living in the past. Tribal instinct, the call of the easy outdoor life, having things pretty much free and easy, and with little restraint-all these things clash with the civilization of today. The Indian draws back a little farther. He regards himself as being

There can be no separate government for the Six Nations or any other in Canada. It is out of the question that they should be a law to themselves. Their best chance is to meet the problems of today with the best of the white man's equipment. The white man's influence and teaching has not been uniformly good: he has not given his red brother at all times a clean deal or a wise leadership.

The Indians have their chance now while the royal commission is in session. It is of small matter that do so, nor was such argument necessary to enable it to Deskehah swaggers around the streets of Geneva, or that the chiefs of the tribe refuse to let the commissioner use the council hall. It may hurt to face the fact that the day of the wigwam is past, and the Indian might as well buckle the flap on the outside and face the world along with the rest of us.

The Conscience That Works.

The Dominion Transport Company, of Montreal has received three letters from the same person, two of which contained $4 and the last $10, with the explanation that the money belonged to the company and could be classed as conscience money.

These people who send in conscience money would be worth meeting. There is something substantially worth while about them as there is in every man who can claim possession of a conscience that still functions according to original specifications.

A mental equipment that causes a man to retrace his steps in order to undo an act that was wrong is well worth having. There are too many seared consciences that glory in the fact that they "put one over" on the company.

May this troubled conscience idea increase in severity and in the scope of its action.

WHEN TRAIN HITS TRUCK

Escapes Death by Narrow Margin.

The engine of the Stratford local nd a heavy truck laden with bridge girders figured in a crash at the Asylum crossing on Dundas street east, in which the truck was entirely wrecked and the driver fortunately scaped without a scratch.

The truck, which belonged to was coming down Hale street, and when about to turn onto Dundas street at the railway crossing the driver saw the engine of the approaching train bearing down on him. In an effort to save his life, Anthony Rowe, the truck driver, turned his machine and crashed through the fence to the north of Dundas street. The truck stalled when it became entangled in the fence, and with brakes applied, the heavy locomotive crashed tangled in the fence, and with brakes applied, the heavy locomotive crashed into the truck and demolished it completely, while the huge structural girders were thrown in all directions.

Engineer A. J. McMillan, who was driving the engine, said he had never seen a closer call in all his experience. "Had it not been for Rowe's presence of mind in heading for the fence, I am afraid he wouldn't have lived to tell about it. I was not going fast at the time, but with the load he carried on his truck the impact

Parisian Importations! Doesn't the very phrase fill your mind with subtle suggestions of the distinctive charm, the refresh ing novelty and the haunting beauty of France? Direct from the Maison de Rodier have come the exclusive originations which I saw today For generations this house has devoted itself to the creation of novelty woolen materials, until now all knowledges its unrivaled sulatest inspirations of these master creators have been rushed across the ocean to us. Nowhere can you find a more bewildering array. Even their names are intriguing. though unpronounceable! Crepella Confetti and Graina Raillaine. The crepella confetti is descriptively named. On a background of pure wool crepe in the new camel's hair shade are sprinkled thickly and evenly small woolen dots the size and had just been sprinkled on, but they are really woven firmly into the fabric.

And the graina raillaine is a novel creation in Congo brown, for Paris favors any shade -so long as it is brown! It combines barred velour with broad stripes of confetti. For a distinctive wrap there is a length of pattern goods, which has a deen confetti border in Congo. Surmounting the border, a conventional motif of confetti has been appliqued on sheepskin wool crepella. Be sure to come in and see them the next time you are in town! They are conveniently and effectively displayed at our Silk Department on the First Floor. Or if you aren't near enough for that, just write to me about it. I'll enjoy giving you more detailed information about them.

Besides these, there are beautiful and novel effects in Poplavella and knitted stockinette as well as the more standard and less expensive French fabrics. The stockinette is in a hit and miss design of three colors, silver moon, Chinese green and black; harvest gold, silver and Congo; or wallflower, silver and black.

Aren't colors fascinating? It is a favorite device of authors to weave together a little poem chiefly composed of the names of faraway places of enchantment like Mandalay, Lucerne and Manoa. Why doesn't some one write about Pistache, Clover Pink, Sandalwood and Harlequin?

Henry Ford last night in his night-shirt—or rather. Henry Ford showed shirt—or rather, Henry Ford showed himself to The Advertiser in his nightshirt. For it is a known fact that there are no frills about Mr. Ford. The Advertiser came away with the conviction that he is just about the most unaffected man in the world.

When Ford's great private car depot last evening two reporters were on hand to interview him. They were told their ambition could not be satisfied. Mr. Ford was tired! He would see no one! J. H. Campsall, Ford's secretary, conveyed the depressing news. There wasn't a possible chance of speaking with his boss. Perhaps when he came back this way an interview could be arranged, but Mr. Ford was exceptionally fatigued tonight, and-Hopped On Train.

MAYOR'S OUTCASTS TRADING AUTOS OF HIS GOOD FAVOR

Wilson, Judd and Greer Say They Are Delighted To Be Off Wenige's Slate.

MAY SILENT

Four members of the city council were warm in their praise for Mayor Wenige-those gentlemen who learned through Wednesday evening's edition of The Advertiser that they were not to be included in Mayor Wenige's slate for 1924

From their comment today-brief but to the point—it is to be safely assumed that his worship has displayed rather excellent judgment by dropping them from the team. The pleasure is all theirs, they report, with evident sincerity and refreshing

But now that Mayor Wenige has prepared his own cot he must lie in it himself. So one must conclude from what Ald. Wilson has to say today about the mayor's pronouncement of yesterday

Another of the surviving quartet who professes immense gratification in this respect is Ald. Greer Dares 'Em. Ald. John Greer viewed the situation lightly, but in evident serious-ness stated that "the city council of 1923 had achieved but little." And there is one big reason for this, charges Ald. Greer—the lack of friendly co-operation on the part of Mayor George Wenige.

"A great deal would no doubt have been accomplished if we had been been accomplished if we had been able to have the co-operation of the mayor," stated Ald. Greer. "I may say that I have certainly not enjoyed my first term in the city council, and I am quite free to say today that there is but one way now to induce me to run again for the council, and that would be to have Mayor Wenige or someone else state definitely that I was afraid."

of August the malady has become so both hay and straw frequently cause general that hitherto unknown treatments have been used in an effort to rid sufferers of the unfortunate

Although few cases are submitted to the local institute of public health, private doctors report a record number. Dr. J. T. Bowman, 183 Wortley road, who specializes in hay fever treatment, is authority for the statement that this year the affliction has found a greater number of victims than ever before.

Dr. Bowman's theory is that the poor financial condition of farming communities has had the effect of breeding great quantities of rag-weed and goldenrod, the two most prolific sources of hay fever known to the medical profession. Farmers have this year found it unprofitable to cultivate large portions of their fields and the weeds have been allowed to their allowed to thrive.

Premier Baldwin's meeting with Premier Poincare in Paris Wednesday also had an encouraging effect, although it is not regarded as within the range of probabilities that these two statesmen actually co-ordinated their divergent policies in the course of a two-hour interview, carried on through an interpreter.

If M. Poincare has managed to

ALL LUIS FIRPO WANTS

Argentine Fighter Shows Good Sportsmanship in Public Statement.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 19.—The decision of the referee is sufficient for Luis Angel Firpo, and, despite the protests of his friends and many spectators of his fight with Jack Dempsey that he was unfairly treated and fouled, he asks nothing more than "another match" with the world's champion.

The true sportsmanship of the Argentine fighter is shown in a statement given by him to the Associated Press, in which he says:

"There has been enough discussion on the question of fouls in my match with Jack Dempsey. The charges against Horatic Lavelle are unjust, because Mr. Muldoon, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission, assured us that justice would be done to me.

"I have read what Mr. Muldoon has said on the subject of fouls, and I appreciate it. I have also read many reference to the same matter. But, activithstanding this, I want to make one thing perfectly clear: I accept the decision, and all I want is another match with Dempsey as soon as my arm is all right and I have had sufficient rest."

Horatio Lavelle was Firpo's second, and it has been charged that he neglected to claim an obvious foul.

Chicago, Sept. 19. - Two former national amateur title-holders and the national open champion, Bobby Jones, national golf championship tourna-ment at Floosmoor. The defeat of

Jones by Max Marston of Philadelphia Grand Rapids Club Finds Mint furnished the thrilling upset of a day

Gardner of Chicago, twice holder of the crown, also survived by ousting W. C. Founes of Pittsburg, another W. C. Founes of Pittsburg, another former champion, 2 and 1. In another close match Francis Ouimet of Boston, formerly national open and amateur champion, finally out-golfed Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, formerly premier golfer of Great Britain, and won, 3 and 2.

Another former titis-nolder to survive was Jess Guilford of Boston, who had a comparatively easy time in defeating Dexter Cummings of Chicago, intercollegiate champion, 7 and 6. In the other two matches, George Von Elm of Salt Lake City, playing superiative golf at times, defeated Jimmie Manion of St. Louis, 6 to 5. Joe Wells of East Liverpool, Ohio, ousted H. K. B. Davis of San Francisco, 4 and 3, and Densmore Shute of Huntington, W. Va., diminated Ned Allis of Milwaukee, 6 and 5.

The defeat of Jones, following that of Evans, who had tied with Jones for low qualifying score at 149, caused the greatest excitement of the day, although the prospects for a time that Hunter would down Ouimet as he had Evans kept followers on edge until the Boston golfer, by shooting par on the third nine and three better than perfect golf on the last last quarter up to the finish, finally disposed of the Briton. Jones downfall was all the more impressive, because he not only shot a record 70 for the 6.704-yard course in the morning, breaking par by four strokes and adjourning for lunch two up, but he kept within two strokes of par in the adventers.

Grand Rapids. Sept. 19.—Closing the books today, William T. Morrissey, president of the Grand Rapids Club of the Michigan-Ontario Baseball League, discovered that the team drew less patronage here this year than at any time during the three years the Central league was in operation, and including the season, when Grand Rapids won the pennant in the Central League, the paid attendance at the local gate was 63,000. The local club-owner made a profit.

During 1921, when the city was represented by a losing team, the paid gate was fin excess of 54,000, and in 1920, when the Central League was revived the gate climbed above the 61,000 mark, and a profit resulted.

There was no profit in baseball this season.

Galt Fan's Wit Is Far From Hit

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Sept. 19.—Mayor Charles Raven of this city received today what he terms one of the worst insults in sport ever per-petrated by any baseball fan. His worship, who is a lover of base-ball and who attended every O. A. worship, who is a lover of base-ball and who attended every O. A. B. A. game this season, received a case of footwear from Kitchener and on the side of the box was printed in conspicuous letters: "Good old Galt! What do you think of the Terriers now?"

The mayor said that he felt like shipping the shoes back to the factory, but did not think that the offence had been committed at Kitchener, but had been done by a "smart Aleck" in Galt, as the package passed through that city. The mayor is one of the fans who have particularly denounced the poor sportsmanship of the Galt fans, He declares they cannot see the playing of another team but their own. Discussing the incident he said that in Chatham the St. Thomas boys had been applauded with the Chatham players, which he thought was the proper spirit to display at all times. London fans, he said, were also very fair, and he liked to witness matches between the two teams.

7 to 6. Special to The Advertiser.

St. Marys, Sept. 19.—In today's junior semi-final lacrosse match between Hanover and St. Marys, the final score was 3-3, Hanover thus winning the round by one goal. Hanover kids handed the locals the surprise of their lives, as the latter were confident of winning the round.

The opening stanza opened strong for St. Marys. Both teams worked hard until with seven minutes gone. Hobbs bored in St. Marys' first counter. He bored in St. Marys' first counter. He tried again several times in succession, but was checked well. Dunnell took a pass from Hobbs behind the nets three minutes later, and tallied. St. Marys went strong for the remainder of the period, but time prevented further scoring. The second period opened with the visitors on the offensive, Bloom scoring for Hanover three minutes after the start. The game see-sawed up and down the field until when half the period was gone. Yeates was penalized. Taking this advantage, Bloom scored Hanover's second counter. St. Marys came back this advantage, Bloom scored Handrey second counter. St. Marys came back strong, but failed to tally.

The third stanza was all Handrey. Stevens in St. Marys' goal certainly put up a great game, and it was mainly due to him, coupled with the excellent work of Yates and Mossop, that held down the score. The period remained scoreless until, with three minutes to go. Brant scored Handrey signal counter. The fourth period St. Marys was again in the limelight with one St. Marys man in the penalty box. Hobbs scored six minutes from the start. Several minor casualties delayed the play, but St. Marys played on the offensive. The period ended St. Marys going strong.

Errors Prominent in Loss of Sudden-Death Clash At Clinton.

MEET OWEN SOUND

Clinton, Sept. 19. — Errors played a prominent part in Lucan's loss of today's sudden-death semi-final game in the North Wellington League play-off, when Wingham trimmed the Irishmen, 3—1 and qualified to meet Owen Sound in the final series.

Wingham gathered in a lone run lead in the first, when, with two out, C. ONNeil, in centre, fumbled Robinson's fly, allowing the runner to trip along to second. A wild throw, to get him stealing, allowed him to score. An error was again responsible for a Wingham run, when Robinson tripled in the fourth, and scored on an infield error of Irwin's grounder. Lucan scored their only run in the last half of the fourth.

Intermediate and Junior Squads Show Snap In Work

Big Gallery Watch Proceedings-Unusual Rugby Indication in London.

What was yesterday billed as "a little bit of everything" over at Tecumseh Park for London's rugby squads developed into a whole lot of everything. It was one of the best workouts staged this season, and, at that, probably had the bulge on some historic ones.

To some of the enthusiastic year-in and year-out fans. Tecumseh Park was a huge football plant, as squads and groups of 60 and 70 men outdid their stuff under the coaches' eyes.

For the intermediate and junior crews there were some 30 or more candidates out. These, with 35-odd of Central's hopes, kept the dull thud of pigskin, moleskin and sometimes plain elbow skin echoing for more than an hour and a half of solid drilling.

Most of the men showed that they were taking on condition rapidly. They chased around the track a few times, made to pass the ball backwards while running in a continuous circle, given plenty of practice on falling on an elusive ball, getting under punts, and ackling. It was a strenuous drill all the way, and most of the squad were ready for a training-table meal (as an appetizer) when they supplanted their caulked boots and padded moleskins with street attire. If London is not represented in both intermediate and junior O. R. F. U. this year with elevens that will carry the memory back to championship days, then several of the critical ones who formed an interested and enthusiastic line along the battle-front yesterday were all wrong. It's something new locally, this pre-season interest among the fans, and yesterday there were 40 or 50 out to watch. c.f.; Dundas, p.

Ontario Body Intends To Hold This As First of Three Events.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 19 .- The boxing commission of the Ontario branch of the A. A. U. of C. announced tonight that three tournaments would be held this winter, all of which will be run directly winter, all of which will be named as follows: Olympic tryout tournament, Ontario championships, and an intercity or international tournament. All receipts from the Ontario championships will go directly to the branch, as will 35 per cent of the receipts of the other to tournaments. The balance, 65 per cent, will be divided among the bona fide hoxing clubs.

clouds, reported to have been gathering for some time, have been cleared away, and all is in readiness for a big season in Ottawa. Tommy Gorman and Ted Day today disposed of all their assets and goodwill of the Ottawa Club to the Ottawa Hockey Association, Limited, of which T. F. Ahearn is president. As the latter body already has all of last year's world's champion seniors under contract, all will be clear sailing. Both Mr. Gorman and Mr. Day will be directors of the new company, and it is further reported that the former will be appointed active manager of the Senators.

Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, was here for a few days last week, and took an active part in negotiations that led up to the settlement.

Bransby Williams

ACTOR, ENTERTAINER POET, AUTHOR

One of the rare treats of the present theatrical season will be the appearance of Mr. Bransby Williams and his British Company in a British play, "David Copperfield." Mr. Williams is the greatest exponent of Dickensian characters on the English stage, where he has won his place by the sheer artistry of his impersonations. On the eve of leaving London for his Canadian tour, Mr. Williams sent the following letter to Mr. Frank D.

Waterman:

Dear Mr. Waterman: For fifteen years, I have carried and used various Waterman Pens. Apart from my heavy correspondence, I have written lectures, speeches and my book "An Actor's Story" also "Ten Books on Acting"—all my work has been done by my "Jolly Young Waterman." I have sketched in and autographed thousands of autograph books. I have often wondered what difference it would have made if Charles Dickens had been able to use a Waterman. His ideas flowed; but, alas! the continual "dip, dip" of his pen into his famous blue ink must have hampered him. If only he could have written with "Waterman ease," he might have left the world even more wonderful treasures than we already possess. I keep special pens—one for small writing and copying my poems and plays; another for letter writing; another for ornamental work and music copying. My Watermen and I are Pals—we are a united society of "nibs." I am now carrying my Pals across the ocean to Canada to present "Our Mutual Friend" "David Copperfield" where I have "Great Expectations."

Yours, till the "last Drop," Phansby Williams

Fresh, fragrant and pure. Try it.

Grace and Charmonly possible with correct corseting Nemo Self-Reducing Corsets are scientifically designed to bring out the naturally graceful lines of your figure—to impart additional style to your gowns. The corset that presses down uncomfortably or binds the limbs in sitting or bending inevitably destroys grace, and with it—charm. Clothes, no matter how costly, cannot look well over such a corset.

The patented Nemo Seif-Reducing Straps exert a constant gentle massaging action which gradually reduces any excess flesh. Utterly and delightfully comfortable, these corsets are ideal for both supporting and slenderizing the woman of medium-fall figure. 10 models 22-44, $4.50 to $9.00. LONDON FLOWER SEEDS

Heartfelt expressions of gratitude for boxes sent to the orphanage at St. Anthony, Newfoundland, have been recently received by Mrs. A. T. Little, president of the London branch of the L. M. M., from Miss Stirling, director of the clothing department, and from Frances E. Baier, superintendent of the institution.

The rooms were effectively arranged with quantitles of garden flowers and Mrs. Logan was assisted in welcoming the guests by the convener, Mrs. (Capt.) Earl Insley and the committee including Mesdames T. McMullen, C. Robinson, D. Allison, G. Banks, Oliver Brady, Charles Phipps, Rowland Munroe and Biggon.

Special to The Advertiser Ailsa Craig, Sept. 20.—In spite of wet weather the North Middlesex exition, which is being held this afternoon, has prospects of a big crowd and long entry list. Thhe weather has improved a great deal since early morning, and already a large number of visitors have arrived. Vegetables, flowers and fruits make a fine showing on the tables, and the exhibition of fancy and needle work is above the average for this show. The prize judging begins after lunch, and the competition will be keen in all the lines mentioned.

STAGE SPLENDID PROGRAM WYOMING BAPTIST CHURCH

Special to The Advertiser. Wyoming. Sept. 19 .- A successft entertainment was staged by the Baptist Church here last night. At 6 o'clock a magnificent chicken sup-per was served, and afterwards in the church the Coronanda Quartet of London gave an excellent concert. Their finest selection was "The Phantem Army," a memorial lyric to the fallen soldiers of Canada. Mrs. Southcott of London was well received in several recitations. Local friends who assisted included Mrs James, formerly of Wyoming, and Miss I. McIntyre. Rev. L. Stones, the pastor, acted as chair-

Everything the Farmer Trades In

Local Market

Trading on the local market this morning was rather slow, owing to the disagreeable weather. Feaches were a neavy offering and prices were steady. Tomatoes have been a disappointment this season, owing to weather conditions, which have prevented ripening. They are now selling at 40c to 60c for large baskets. Cucambers for pickling purposes meet with a steady demand. The first load of wood this season was brought in. It was a three-cord load of 12-inch length and was offered at $16.00.

Hay sales were fair at $12.00 to $14.00 per ton. No wheat was offered. New oats are $1.25 cwt. The old crop is entirely off the market.

Prices in other lines are firm. Potatoes, $1.00 to $1.10 bushel; apples, $1.00 to $1.25 bushel; dairy butter, 40c lb. grapes, 50c to 60c for 6's; green tomatoes, 30c; melons, $1.50 bushel; beets, carrots, etc., 40c dozen bunshes.

LONDON WOOL AUCTION

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 19.—The wool auctions were continued today, with offerings of privately-owned wool covering nearly 11,000 bales. Among the Australian merinos were occasional withdrawals, owing to the reserve prices not being reached. Among the best parcels were Victoria greasy merino combings at 24½d per pound. Similar quantities from Sydney were 32½d per pound and from Adelaide 32d. The best ice-cured merinos realized 50½d per pound. There was a large supply of greasy slips and crossbreds from New Zealand, which sold readily at 22d for best greasy and 26d for holf-bred slips, lambs. The price of greasy Cape wool was firmer, the best going at 29½d per pound. Most of the snow-white wool was withdrawn after bids of 48d per pound had been made.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—There was a very light market today, with only a few fresh cattle offering. These were speedily cleaned up at good, steady prices, together with a few remaining odd mixed lots of cattle left over from the carlier markets. There was practically no change in prices from yesterday's quotations. A telegram received today trom Winnipeg to the H. P. Kennedy Company would seem to indicate that there will be comparatively few westsurn and feeder cattle coming to Toronto and eastern markets in the next few weeks. The telegram notified the firm what no stocker cattle would be shipped east next week, except on definite orders. None would be sent on speculation, for the reason that Toronto prices were below prices in Winnipeg. Returns from cattle shipped from Winnipeg over the border to St. Paul this week showed an average of 50c higher than Toronto prices for the same class of cattle. There was a good inquiry for feeders in the Toronto market this week, but the offerings were light, and under present market conditions it is hardly likely that the Ontario farmer can look to the West to build up his stock for feeding purposes.

Imported Dutch Bulbs As for absentees from the schools, each principal daily hands a report to Mr. Sims, who checks it up and finds the reason for the absence. This is usually a legitimate excuse, and the purils are he pupils are excused

Few Truants. Very few children play truant from school, the reason being that with the adoption of an attendance officer and a card index system, the opportunity to do so and get away with is removed. In fact the children of school age today, who have no valid reasons, which must be acceptable by the attendance officer, for staying away from school find themselves up against an organization which enorces their attendance. The result is that the school children as a whole devote themselves more earnestly to their studies and lose no time that is essential to them in the early days of their education.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 20.—No steamer in distress was sighted east of here in Long Island Sound this morning when the fog lifted, and reports for twenty miles along shore failed to locate the vessel, which, by radio signals last night indicated that help was needed. The vessel, or reporting itself as the Occident, had given a position ten miles off New Haven, which would have been between Brantford river and Thimble sislands, at Stony Creek. Nautical opinion was that the location may have been on the ocean side of Long Island and not in the Sound. BULGARIAN GOVERNMENT Associated Press Despatch.
