Twelve Hundred Citizens At Open-Air Mass Meeting Give Cheers For New Hotel

Hear Plan Explained. Ask Questions and Are Thoroughly Convinced.

VOICE NO OPPOSITION

Augurs Well For Adoption of Both Questions at Polls.

Support at the polls tomorrow
similar to the enthusiasm evidenced for the hotel proposal at the public meeting on Federal square last night will carry both bylaws by handsome majorities.

"What about this hotel?" asked A.
E. Silverwood, chairman, after the speech-making had been concluded, and after every question heard from the audience of 1,200 or more interested citizens had been satisfactorily answered from the platform. "How do we stand on this hotel, anyway?"
queried Mr. Silverwood. "Has it gained any support?" came back the crowd in a chorus. "Let's build this hotel."

"Well, then, let's give three cheers
for the hotel."
And three cheers were given with a will.

J. J. McHale, president of the hotel campaign committee, in his speech dwelt upon the endorsement and support being accorded the new hotel by the service clubs of the city.

Mayor Appeals.
Mayor G. A. Wenige delivered a forceful appeal to the citizens as citizens and to those who had personally supported him in the past to get behind the hotel and to vote "yes" on both bylaws for the improvement and progress of the city. Ald. Homer Neely and Dr. Alfred Grant also seconded the mayor's remarks along this line.

James G. Trainer, vice-president of

DR. DANIEL M. GORDON,
a former principal of Queen's university, who died on Tuesday. He was the father-in-law of Attorney-General Nickle of Ontario.

the Lynch Construction Company of New York, promoters of the hotel, and W. A. Lyman, vice-president of W. W. Ahlchlagler, Inc., Chicago, arrived at the meeting, touched upon different points of the plans from the inside, as to details of construction.

But it was in the answering of questions from the audience so effectively, so positively and so convincingly, by Mr. Trainer and Mayor Wenige that proved the keynote of the meeting and proved beyond the shadow of a doubt the soundness of the proposition. Realizing that "the searchlights" of scattered questioners in the crowd proved futile in bringing to light any weakness in the chain of favorable arguments for the adoption of the two bylaws. Those opposed to the new hotel, presumably the authors of the anonymous letter sent out to the ratepayers condemning the proposal, failed to accept the open invitation to the platform to debate the question on its merits and to have their claims as completely refuted as were the groundless rumors which have been bandied about the streets, the echo of which was heard in some of the questions asked at the meeting last night.

Use London Labor.
"Will London labor be employed, will union labor be employed, and will the fair wage clause be in effect
in the construction of the hotel?"

Mr. Trainer: "London labor will be employed entirely dependent upon the class of labor local contractors employ. The Lynch Company is going to submit all contracts, but the company will insist, in every subcontract, upon union labor being employed and upon the fair wage clause
being observed."

"How will men be employed in construction this winter if the legislature has to endorse the vote of the people on the bylaws?"

Mr. Trainer: "The question was put to Mr. Trainer, and he said that if the citizens voted 'yes' on both bylaws then his company is prepared to take a chance on the legislature approving of the vote later and beginning construction immediately the money is raised." (Mr. Trainer added that his company "hoped" to begin work within five weeks of the passing of the bylaws, that the hotel can be built in ten months and be ready for occupancy early next fall.)

"Does the city have to pay the Mc-Cormick Manufacturing Company
$25,000 more if anything else than a city hall is built on Federal Square corner?"

There is absolutely nothing in the agreement to this effect on file in the city hall.

"What is the assessment of the hotels now in the city?"

Hotel Assessments.
The total assessment on the seven hotels in the city is $312,000, and one hotel, which was assessed for hotel purposes at $13,000, was sold recently at a price reported to be $150,000.

"Why does the hotel company want to build on Federal Square, and not on Richmond street?"

Mr. Trainer: "Because there would not be enough store rental on the ground floor of a hotel built on the Richmond street site, and because the auto traffic, which is three times
the railroad traffic, is chiefly east-and west through London, and Dundas street is the main highway in that direction."

"Isn't the Federal Square property
more valuable than the Richmond
street site?"

"The federal square corner was assessed for $52,300 two years ago.

The Lloyd George site was assessed for $45,000 on the land and $85,000 on the buildings. One building has since been destroyed, but allowing $17,500
for that building, it still leaves a comfortable margin of $5,000 for the federal site. And besides the city will get $25,000 on the deal.

"Would there be any difficulty with the foundation of a building on the Lloyd George site. Is it not quicksand?"

"At the time the Bank of Montreal
building was torn down Anglin & Norcross, Montreal, a reliable firm, took soundings and declared that the foundation was absolutely right in every particular, and the Lloyd George hotel was to have been ten stories on the same site."

"Why will it cost the city less to carry the Richmond street site than the $10,000 you say it costs to carry the federal square?"

"It will cost less because it is assessed for less; because the city is going to get $25,000 in cash; because the city will get out of the interest on $125,000 on the deal; because the purchase of the site; because the Merchants' bank building is bringing in $1,400 as compared with only about $600 for billboards on the federal square now; because the city will be getting $22,000 annually in taxes
from the hotel."

"What will the city do with the barren Federal square site after the hotel company?"

Mr. Trainer: "The city will still be securing revenue from the property owned from the corner up to the armories, and also some-ent, and the antiquated city hall across the street (laughter), all this property will be doubled in value by the erection of a new hotel on the Dundas and Wellington street corner."

"What guarantee is there that the Lynch Company is not getting at present, the Lynch Company for speculative purposes, an dthat after they do secure the site that a hotel will be built?"

Mr. Trainer: "The contract to be signed by the company, prior to the transfer of sites, calls for the erection of a hotel on the Federal Square site and also, before the contract is signed, the Lynch Company will put up a surety bond, approved by the local hotel committee, that the hotel
will be completed, ready for occupancy within a given time."

Mr. Trainer and those responsible for putting the meeting on were agreed at the close that much had been gained in having the meeting, in answering all the questions that had been asked concerning the proposition. Mr. McHale and Mayor Wenige voiced their confidence that the open invitation to be heardly endorsed tomorrow.

PUNCHER LOSES HAND
ROPING WILD BRONCHO

Serious Mishap Occurs in Rodeo and Stamped at Sudbury.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Sudbury, Sept. 3.—While lassoing
a wild broncho this afternoon, Josh McKeddie, 26, of Battle River, Alta., here in connection with the rodeo,
was stamped and his right hand severed just below the wrist. Josh had cast the noose over the head of the broncho while riding his own steed, and in some manner or other the cord flopped across the back of his hand and caught.

The cow puncher was unable to free the member in time to avoid the strain of the struggling broncho at the other end. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital and hopes are entertained that it will not be necessary to make another amputation in order to save his arm.

McKeddie is a cow puncher of considerable note. In 1923 he won the Canadian championship at the Calgary rodeo and has captured prizes all over the world. As the result of his accident today he will be out of the game for the rest of his life.

Fraser and Morris introduce a mirthful oddity with human puppets,
which pleased the audience, as did Berne and Clark in song and talk.
Pretty Ladies is the story of a Follies queen who had success as an actress, plenty of money, and the applause of the multitude, but she didn't have a real love. She finally reveals her longing for a real sweetheart, his capture, loss, and finally his recovery, and a happy one. ZaSu Pitts and Tom Moore are featured, as is Ruth Stonehouse. Also Pennington of Broadway fame, and a special Hollywood chorus of dainty girls.

The Sleuth, a Stan Laurel comedy, Lesop's Fables, and Topics of the Shooting of Chinese Laundry-

Tong Warfare.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Sept. 3.—Tong warfare broke out again tonight in Chinatown with the killing of a Chinese laundryman and the wounding of his two sons. The dead man was said to be a member of the On Leong Tong, and his assailants, the police believe, were gunmen of the rival Hip Sing Tong.

Gong Marquon, 50, was shot to death while working in his laundry.
His two sons, 19 and 17 years old,
were seriously wounded by their two assailants.

The shootings, the police believe,
were acts of vengeance taken by the Hip Sing Tong for the killing of one of its members by an On Leong Tong man last night, despite the promise made today to District Attorney Banton that the tongs would not renew hostilities.

Mr. Crerar's Fourth Party.
 Hon. T. A. Crerar, former leader of the Progressive party at Ottawa, has found it necessary to come out in the open with a statement telling what he said behind closed doors regarding the formation of a new political party in Canada. There was a session of the Saskatchewan Progressives held at Regina, and it was there that Mr. Crerar unburdened his soul in secret. Some person talked to the press afterward, so it became necessary for Mr. Crerar to tell in detail what he hoped had been unfolded in secret.

Mr. Crerar put the three political parties in Canada on parade and took the box seat in the reviewing station for himself.
 The Liberals, he contended, had failed in their term of office to do the things that might have been expected, they had not gone as far in tariff reform as he desired, nor made a sufficient cut in expenditure to have an appreciable effect on taxation. He desired to see more definite action than he had noticed on the part of the present government.

When the Conservative troops marched past Mr. Crerar told the Regina gathering that he law no hope in them. His own words were: "The only important suggestion in the program of the Conservatives was an increase in the tariff if returned to power, and that this would only place additional burdens upon Western Canada and in no way improve conditions, but rather the reverse."

When Mr. Crerar analyzed the Progressive movement he spoke with less freedom. He said: "I pointed out that the Progressive party, for reasons which I need not give here, but which I gave to my fellow western members at the meeting, had failed to make any appreciable appeal to Eastern Canada."

Mr. Crerar's solution is that a new movement, national in its outlook, should feel its birth pangs in the west, and come forth bearing in its hands the solution for the railway situation, extension of markets, "a tariff based primarily on the needs of revenue rather than looking alone for the protection of industry," a new immigration policy, and a view that was national rather than sectional.

There is no new definite panacea in Mr. Crerar's statement; it is so general that he has committed himself to nothing at all. As far as his suggestion for the creation of a new party is concerned, it is as hopeless as his platform is vague. The one way any party can bring to pass the ideals it professes is to have the numerical strength to do it. If Mr. Crerar's fourth party were to have any chance of doing this it would have to supplant both Liberal and Conservative forces and also the Progressives, unless it saw in the latter some timber that might be salvaged for the new structure.

A party that struck root in the west, and found its strength there, though it might claim to have a national vision, would find itself gravitating toward the western viewpoint. If it did not, it could not muster volunteers from the west. A party that found anchorage and direction in the east alone would do exactly the same thing. Both would fail because neither would be able to look clean across from Atlantic to Pacific with that sympathetic interest necessary to the all-round development of Canada.

The premier had very pointed experience on this point. He tried to help western development, and to do so in a way that would work no injury on the east, but he found that he could secure support from the Progressives only when he was moving in their direction. When he came to the point where he considered it desirable to stop in the interests of the east the support of the west was withdrawn. Mr. Crerar's idea that he can take the Progressive vessel and cast it on another mold and make of it an image that has one eye turned toward the east and the other toward the west would result in a crossed vision. His plan does not look any more feasible since he brought it out in the open than it did to those with whom he discussed it in private.

The Vote on Saturday.
 All the facts bearing on the hotel proposition in London have been fairly placed before the citizens. In any move of this character it is right that there should be the most thorough investigation before the people vote, that all questions be fairly answered, and that the electors feel certain that their interests have been safeguarded.

The taxpayers of London are not committing themselves to the expenditure of one dollar of public money. They are being asked to approve of two things, (1) the exchange of that section of the Federal square known as the McCormick site for the Richmond street property where the old Merchants Bank building is situated, and the land adjoining. The city is to receive $25,000 in cash as the appraised difference in the value of the sites. (2) The sanctioning of an assessment of $200,000 for a period of ten years on the hotel property. This is for general tax rate only, and for school rates the hotel will have no exemption.

The city at present secures a revenue of not over $600 from the Federal square, and the carrying charges based on the purchase price of $125,000 amount to $7,500 per year in interest alone. The erection of the hotel will give the city in taxation alone around $17,000 per year instead of a loss of $7,500. That is entirely apart from the increased value to other city property that will result from the completion of a modern hotel building. Replacing a loss with a revenue will be a good stroke of business. There are sufficient guarantees that the hotel project will proceed after the citizens have given a favorable answer to the two bylaws. These have been carefully attended to. There will be no exchange of properties until

(1) The local subscription of twenty-five per cent of the hotel stock has been met.
 (2) Until there is assurance from a bond or trust company, approved of by the local committee, that the Lynch Construction Company has furnished ample security for the depositing of its seventy-five per cent of the cost of construction.

(3) Until the tenant of the building has committed himself to the furnishing of the hotel throughout, with no lien notes against his ownings, and has produced his bond for the carrying out of such plan.
 Ratepayers should have no hesitation in expressing approval of the two bylaws. It is a straight business proposal with enough merit to warrant its hearty approval by the voters.

Fight To a Finish.
 Usually a squabble between a banker and the men with whom he does business is a purely local affair, yet the rumpus between the combination of German bankers and Dr. Edmund Stinnes has been great enough to interest an audience in every continent.

Herr Hugo Stinnes up to the time of the war was one of the crowd. The war made him, and the aftermath that ruined thousands of others made Hugo Stinnes greater than ever. A situation that meant panic and ruin to others spelled prosperity and domination to him. The hunger and privation of his own people meant to him cheap labor and plenty of it. His hand touched coal, iron, steel, shipping, textiles and banking, and invaded the fields of films, flour and motor cars. Stinnes was the industrial and financial dictator of Germany.

He died, and as the banking powers turned from the perfunctory honors they paid his grave they met to plan their own re-establishment as the dictators of finance in Germany. Such a policy is not banking as we know it, but it is the policy in Germany. Today his son, Dr. Edmund Stinnes, offers shares in the motor car works in lieu of wages, and appeals to the government for a loan of what his father would have called a trifle—$25,000 to pay pressing bills and carry on.

Had his father lived he might have saved the structure he had built, but it is doubtful. A business that was built on inflation of currency is bound to sag when money becomes standardized, and it takes a financial giant to take up the drift.

The Manchester Guardian sees in the situation a straight fight to a finish for the dictatorship of Germany—the industrial monopolists vs. the banking interests. The financial plotters couldn't put the bridle on the father, but it looks as though they would soon have a whole set of harness on the son.

Note and Comment.
 No mean man ever makes the discovery that he is mean.
 Home-brewing, according to statistics, has outdistanced home-cooking.
 Get out and vote for the hotel bylaws before you start out on your Saturday trip.
 Despite the best efforts of the shooters Chicago's population is now over three million.
 The average man is troubled now and then by mosquitoes and the politician by misquotes.
 The fact that oysters are scarce this season provides the season's alibi for the usual shortage of them in the soup.

The city council of Berlin may raise dog tax from $10 to $15 to pay deficits on the opera houses. The bark of the dog will pay for the snarl of the villain.
 An Indian near Ancaster brewed beer that was 26 per cent alcohol, and the braves from Hamilton have surrounded his wigwam lest he escape with the secret.
 Up Bruce way the Conservatives have nominated a monument manufacturer for their candidate, and of course Mr. Meighen will welcome this brother to the ranks.

Ottawa Journal commends police there for catching burglars, and adds "more power to their elbows." Is that how it's done? Use their elbows to poke the burglars in the ribs.
 Three doctors were nominated by the Conservatives in East Lambton, but all withdrew. Why should any doctor, with a good practice, desire to leave it for a seat in the ranks of the opposition?
 A member of the British K. K. K. had a rough time at the hands of the Canadian K. K. K. at a Woodstock meeting. Apparently the British organization can't claim connection with the Canadian.

"Babe" Ruth, of baseball fame, had a fall-out with the manager of the New York Yankees. He was fined $5,000 and suspended. On going home he was met by a mob at the station that he could hardly get to a taxi. When he got to his house there were photographers there and an army of reporters. His trouble got columns of notice in all the papers of the country. And all because he can knock out home runs. Apparently it pays to be able to do one thing particularly well.

John Henry's Easy
He's always fussin' with his car, and spinkin' on some trinkets too, he falls for everything they've got and bites at everything that's new.

John Henry drove his car around, it was a bright and shiny thing, he'd jockeyed some four thousand miles since when he got the cart this spring. I never seen the like of him for puttin' nick-nacks on his car, he had so many that I can't just tell you what they really are.
 But first of all he got a horn, some fellow blew in town one day—John Henry listened to his tale and to the juff he had to say. The horn it is a monstrous thing, it's made to shout at those afar, but they just grin and holler out here comes John Henry and his car.

Another agent come along explaining how he had a trap, that made the gas flow easy like as now and then it took a nap. So he bought one and blowed as how the time had surely come to pass when he would ride for fifty miles upon a quarter's worth of gas.
 John Henry read about some juice that chased the carbon from the back, and if it wasn't what they said they'd gladly ship his duets back.

And so John Henry stripped his coat and bought a full five-gallon crock, he boastin' how a thimbleful would make his engine stop its knock. Next week he bought some patent soap, some chap he came unto his door. John Henry said that now his oil would run ten thousand miles or more.
 John Henry drives around at night, he's always gettin' something new, now he has headlights on his car, and one is red, the other blue, and round behind and at the side he has more lights to shed their ray, his chariot the folks allow looks like a bloom-in' circus day.

I never seen the like of him for spendin' money on his back, a Turkish rug upon the floor and silken curtains side and back. And every agent comin' in what has some new gewgaw to sell, he asks the first man that he meets just where does this John Henry dwell.—ARK.

Blondin's Daring Feat
 THE blond of Bobby Leach to swim Niagara river below the falls prompted a reader of The Advertiser to inquire when it was that Blondin walked over the falls on a tight rope and if it were true that he carried a man on his back.
 It was 65 years ago that Blondin performed the daredevil feat at Niagara, and the man he carried on his back was Harry McColcord, who for some years was Blondin's manager and assistant in circus work in several countries. McColcord got $1,000 for his share in the performance.

The rope, although drawn as tight as possible by a windlass worked by 16 horses on the American side, sagged 50 feet in the middle, where it was only 27 feet above the water. For 60 feet of its length, too, it swayed in the wind and the draught from the falls with a play from side to side of 50 feet.
 When he was fairly over the water Blondin had to pause for a rest. McColcord alighted and stood on the rope with his hands on Blondin's shoulders. He then climbed on his shoulders and the trip was started again. McColcord's description was:
 "The rope was comparatively steady until we reached the center, where there were no guy lines. We had made about ten feet on this when Blondin tottered in an effort to walk straight, the balance pole going furiously up and down. He had lost his balance. In that awful moment his advice most forcibly impressed itself upon me, and I strictly followed it, resting passively and nimbly upon his shoulders, to stay or fall with him as might happen. Discipline rose superior to instinct. Unable to regain his balance, he ran along the rope, the impetus keeping us up, his pole thrashing madly up and down for 50 feet, when we reached the first guy line and it snapped, but with wonderful agility he ran for the next and, on reaching it, gave me the order, 'Get down quick.'
 "Again I mounted his back and in a few minutes we walked up the incline of the rope to the land. It seemed like a lifetime, but it was just 46 minutes."

EAST OXFORD GIRL IS KILLED BY AUTO
 Edna Dukes Run Down On Highway by American Tourist.

Special to The Advertiser.
 Woodstock, Sept. 3.—Edna Dukes, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dukes, second concession of East Oxford, was instantly killed shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon on the provincial highway, a mile east of Woodstock, when she was struck by a car driven by Raymond F. Montgomery of Schenectady, N.Y.

The girl was returning from Bonds Corners school, and with her brother had been given a ride in a car driven by H. Gibson of Orangeville. After alighting from Gibson's car the children waited for an eastbound car to pass, and, thinking the road was clear, the girl ran across, being struck by the American tourist, which was following the first car. The girl was instantly killed and the accident reported to city police by Montgomery, who with his wife and mother, was travelling eastward, will be present for the inquest. The preliminary hearing is scheduled for tomorrow night.

LABOR IN FAVOR OF SOVIET TRADE
 Congress Backs Resumption and Improvement of Russian Relations.

Canadian Press Despatch
 Ottawa, Sept. 3.—"The resumption and improvement of trade relations with Russia" was advocated in a resolution passed by the trades and labor congress today after a brief debate. The second clause in the resolution committed the executive of the congress to exert all efforts to secure whatever orders came from Russia to Canada for industries employing union labor.

The only dissenting opinion in the convention was that of T. Buck, Toronto, who was strongly in favor of direct assistance to Russia. Canadian labor should adopt the same attitude in this matter as had been taken by the British labor party, he said.
 The congress convention will continue tomorrow, when the election of officers and executive will take place. It is not expected that there will be any radical changes in the leadership of the congress. The Communist representation is not as large this year as it was at the convention in London, Ont., last year, when it was unable to secure control of the executive offices.

HOPE STILL LIVES FOR LOST FLYERS
 Guard Ships Aid in Search For Missing Non-Stop Airmen.

Associated Press Despatch
 Honolulu, Sept. 3.—Perfect weather today gave every aid to the searchers for the missing navy seaplane PB-9 No. 1, but commander John Rodgers and his four co-aviators remained lost.
 The seaplane was forced down through a shortage of gasoline during a storm during Tuesday afternoon, while en route from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor, Oahu, on an attempted non-stop flight.
 Lieutenant-Commander Millington

B. McComb, of the Pearl Harbor air station, reiterated today that the searchers had by no means given up hope of finding the five flyers and their plane, which, if it survived the shock of lightning, is believed still afloat. Large sections of the Pacific Ocean on which the aviators may be hidden, still are to be explored, navy men declared.
 All of the guard ships which had remained at their stations in expectation of the attempt of the PB-1 to make a non-stop Hawaiian flight, were ordered late today to proceed to the searching area and join in the hunt for the missing seaplane and its crew.

Compulsory Tests For Motorists Come Too Soon, Police Declare.

MANY INCOMPETENT

Raising of the Speed Limit on Country Roads Advocated by Motor Club Official.

Compulsory examination for all motorists cannot come too soon, according to Magistrate A. H. Graydon and Chief of Police Robert Birrell, who have both been advocates for revised regulations governing auto driving qualifications.

The strike of anthracite coal miners is merely a "scare" to give the motorists a chance to raise their heads.

The majority of motor drivers at the present time are incompetent, Chief Birrell declares.

AIRSHIP COMMANDER HAD PREMONITION

Concluded From Page One.

Her first husband was killed when the ZR-2 was destroyed. She had recently married Lieut. Commander Louis J. Hancock, who was second in command on the Shenandoah.

A little girl, daughter of James W. Cullen, of Buckingham, N. Y., was waiting to celebrate her fifth birthday when she was told of her father's death.

Later Mrs. Lansdowne said she had not intended to criticize the secretary of the navy in her comments on the advisability of the flight.

From another source it was learned today that Commander Lansdowne, before starting on the ill-fated trip, had criticized the water-recovery system installed aboard ship.

Among men who understood the ship's construction it was freely predicted that the ship could not weather the storm with the old system.

Over 90 per cent of the accidents are caused by reckless and incompetent drivers, Secretary E. Bennett of the London motor club, stated, in commenting on the subject.

"I would recommend a very rigid examination for anyone driving a car," Thomas Terry stated this morning. "In granting a permit I would not only take into consideration his ability, but his character."

"Broadcasting" was the last entry in the ship's log. The greatest wish of Commander Lansdowne, unfulfilled, was to fly over the north pole.

The Jealous Wife Whose Only Rival Is a Picture Lady.

Dear Miss Dix—My husband is good and kind to me in every way, but he is madly in love with one of the famous motion-picture artists.

Answer: Just laugh at him, and at yourself, and reflect that as long as your only rival is a picture on a screen you are a lucky woman with nothing to worry over.

Probably no young and romantic girl ever read the idylls of the King without thinking how wonderful it would be to be swept off her feet by a Launcelot, or worshipped by the maidens who have not had cases on matinee heroes and who are a trifle envious of the ladies who play opposite Rudolph Valentino and Milton Sills.

It all grows out of our desire for something more romantic, more beautiful, more stirring than our commonplace daily life.

So don't bother your head over your husband's infatuation for a picture. If this vamp should walk past the screen, and begin rolling her eyes at him, he would turn and flee.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Please give me a recipe to prevent my falling in love. I am a girl of 20, and have already been in love three or four times, and to my disgust I find that I am falling in love again.

The miles and miles of hard surface roadways and side-walks are very wonderful, but, being hard, non-resilient, and excellent conductors of heat and cold, they torture our poor feet unmercifully.

It has been found that if tired, sore feet are bathed in warm water containing a few drops of Absorbine Jr. they will be delightfully cooled and refreshed.

But this is not the only use for Absorbine Jr. It is a germicide, antiseptic, and germicide in one—the handiest, most useful article in the family medicine cabinet.

Not only does it kill germs and prevent infection in open cuts and sores, hastening the healing—not only does it limber up to new freshness, tired, stiff muscles, but as a mouth wash, throat spray or gargle it protects you against wandering disease germs and leaves behind a pleasant, clean taste and odor. $1.25 a bottle at your druggist's.

can provide. Fruit cannot jelly without that natural element. Yet even the fruits that are richest in the jelly-making element vary from year to year and it always grows less as the fruit ripens. That is why cook books have always said it was safer not to try to make jam or jelly of fully ripe fruits. They are likely not to have enough of the necessary jellying property. Any fruit will jelly now every time. So that if a woman sees a bargain in rich and juicy fruit, she may take them home with the assurance that she knows how to make them jelly. Even in the winter-time she can put up extra glasses of perfect jelly from bottled fruit juices, not to mention jam from canned or dried fruits, and

Orange Custard (serves 7)
2 cups Borden's St. Charles Milk.
1 cup hot water.
8 tablespoons cornstarch.
3 eggs.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 cup cold water.
1/2 cup orange juice.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
Grated rind of one orange.
1 cup sugar.
Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt dilute with cold water. Add to scalded milk and hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, afterwards occasionally; cook fifteen minutes. Add orange juice and slightly beaten eggs that have previously been mixed, mix thoroughly, add the lemon juice and orange rind. Cool and serve.

Caramel Custard (serves 6)
1 tall can Borden's St. Charles Milk with enough water to make 1 quart.
5 eggs.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
1/2 cup sugar.
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg.
Gradually sift sugar into a hot skillet, shaking the skillet vigorously all the time to prevent burning. The sugar should melt about as fast as it is sifted into the pan. When it turns to an amber color (a light resin color) set on back of stove and add milk, being careful that milk does not bubble over, as is liable on account of the high temperature of sugar. As soon as the sugar is melted in the milk, add mixture gradually and stir slightly. Add egg and milk mixture. Bake in custard cups in a moderate oven.

ONTARIO WILL ENFORCE REVISED REGULATIONS

All Drivers Must Be Licensed and Compulsory Examination Planned.

RAISE SPEED LIMIT

Suggestion Is Advanced For Dealing With Headlight Glare Problem.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Sept. 3.—Every man and woman who drives a motor car in Ontario next year will first have to obtain a driving permit. Hon. George S. Henry, minister of public works and highways, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Automobile association here today. The issuance of these permits would in all probability in due course be followed by compulsory examination for all drivers, he said. Any convictions for traffic act infractions registered against a motorist would be entered upon his permit, and could lead to the permanent revocation of license to drive.

Referring to extensive road building program which had been carried on in this province, the minister stated that next year would see the completion of a comprehensive system of provincial highways, and from then on the capital outlay would not have to be so heavy, as the main expenditure would then be directed to maintenance.

Speaking of the motor bus situation for passenger transportation, Mr. Henry said he could hardly see his way clear to justify direct competition with publicly-owned radial lines in which a large public expenditure was involved, and which provided an all-year-round service. The eighth cent per passenger seating capacity per car mile schedule, which worked out at about eight or ten per cent of the gross receipts, and applied whether the seating capacity of the bus were occupied or not. Since the inauguration of the three-cent tax on the buses to one-tenth cent per passenger mile, he felt that the province was entitled to at least ten per cent of the gross receipts, to be applied toward roadway upkeep.

Dealing with the headlight glare problem, the minister of highways put forward the suggestion that the left light of each car be dimmed. This would permit a good light on the right-hand side of the roadway association, who presided, in his annual address gave an outline of his recent transcontinental tour across Canada, and the progress made in roadway development. The officers of the association were re-elected for another year, as follows: Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president, and G. W. Robertson, secretary, and treasurer. The presidents of the various provincial motor leagues were given the office of vice-presidents. W. H. Phelan, K.C., president of the Ontario motor league, becomes vice-president for this province in the Dominion organization.

Provincial Treasurer Sends Check For $23,444, Covering All Grants.

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Sept. 3.—George Hamilton, county treasurer, has received a check for $23,444.02 from the provincial treasurer, covering legislative grants to the schools of North Perth. It is understood that this sum is slightly larger than the grant of last year.

The amount of the grant to each township will be as follows: North Easthope, $2,249.53; Ellice, $2,874.53; Elmas, $3,618.68; Logan, $3,567.45; Mornington, $4,369.35; Wallace, $3,257.20; Mitchell, $2,392.10; Milverton, $1,276.18; No. 4, Wallace and Grey, $450; No. 10, Wallace and Howick, $230. The two union schools, Wallace and Howick and Wallace and Gray are in Huron county.

Missing Driver Found In River

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Sept. 3.—The body of Omer Barrett, taxi driver, whose empty cab on the waterfront last Sunday night gave rise to fears that he had met with foul play, was found this morning floating in the St. Lawrence river a few miles below the city. There was an indication that he had met with violence, and a gold watch belied the theory that he had been robbed.

and permit vehicles approaching on the left side free of a glare almost directly in their pathway. A. W. Campbell, dominion commissioner of highways saw no good reason for the continuation of the 20 to 25-mile per hour speed limit regulations, which only a few old women observed anyway. He considered instead of trying to enforce speed regulations a much better plan would be examination of all drivers before being allowed to drive, and the elimination of all reckless drivers from the highways through revoking their permits to drive. Instead of a speed limit sign, he would have "Caution" signs.

The mayor remarked that government statistics showed the annual estimated revenue derived from motor tax was between $10,000,000 and $200,000,000, and that it was hoped this year the revenue from this source would approach the $200,000,000 mark. Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the

What radio set shall I buy?

With radio as an industry taking solid form, with radio research and engineering agreed on fundamentals, with values of radio products definitely established, frank statement runs no risk of misinterpretation or of becoming a disorganizing factor in a new art.

In this message to the public the Canadian General Electric Co. will endeavour to pierce some of the clouds of exaggeration and conflicting claims which have been surrounding the sale of radio receiving sets. It will attempt, simply and frankly, to answer the questions uppermost in the mind of every prospective radio purchaser.

Of these, the first and most important question naturally is "WHAT RADIO SET SHALL I BUY?"

- The essentials of a perfect radio set (so far as performance is possible) are four: 1. QUALITY OF TONE—reproducing the human voice and instrumental music without mechanical impairment. 2. SELECTIVITY—enabling the user to choose broadcasting from any station without interference from another nearby station. 3. VOLUME—bringing in the program you select, full and clear.

4. DEPENDABILITY—achieved by standards maintained day by day, under every condition, and upon every occasion—assuring you all these qualities, plus long distance reception, and uninterrupted enjoyment as long as the set is in use.

Of the millions of owners of radio receiving sets, not a few will probably admit that a constantly sustained perfection on all four points may not yet be possible.

But the owners of radio sets are reasonable. They are willing to accept the miracles of the modern receiving set, thanking heaven that they live in a period when even those from the simplest and most remote homes, can enjoy front seats at the opera, an arm-chair at the ring-side, reports from the football or baseball field, and a little more of the Bible than reached them before the advent of radio.

Although the Radiola of today marks a tremendous advance over the instruments available two years ago, the first Radiolas are still the subject of complimentary references in the correspondence received by this Company.

For, after all, in buying a Radiola, of any type or at any price, the purchaser has the assurance of becoming the owner of a product in which the highest form of scientific research and engineering has been combined with quality of materials and manufacturing skill.

Radiolas by C.G.E. chosen by Brunswick

The Brunswick-Balke Collender Company of Canada, Ltd., after conducting a thorough investigation coupled with a series of experiments in their own laboratories, selected C.G.E. Radiola equipment to the exclusion of all other radio receivers for use in their combination instruments.

The Brunswick Company's experts saw in the C.G.E. Radiola Super-Heterodyne a fundamental and basic principle of radio reception, permanent in value and not likely to be superseded by an overnight development. This endorsement coming from a concern so highly respected in the talking machine industry, speaks volumes for C.G.E. Radiola equipment.

When shall I buy a Radio Set?

The radio art has progressed to a point where famous scientists are willing to say that it is doubtful whether any basically better reception circuit is apt to come from the laboratories. Fundamentally, the SUPER-HETERODYNE marked the location of rock beneath the sand and gravel. It is the foundation on which future Radiolas will be built. And there are other good Radiolas—Radiolas requiring aërials, but which bring the full miracle of radio into your home—selling for as low a price as $35.00, and the reputation and skill of C.G.E. are behind them. And so we say, buy your Radio Set now. Provided it is a Radiola on which the name of the Canadian General Electric Company appears, you run no risk of disappointment.

VOTE YES

On Both Hotel Bylaws Tomorrow

HERE FOR YOUR INFORMATION ARE THE STRAIGHT, UNCHALLENGEABLE FACTS CONCERNING THE HOTEL BYLAWS ON WHICH YOU ARE ASKED TO VOTE "YES" TOMORROW.

And You, as an Interested Citizen, Should Vote

Here Is All That the City of London Is Asked To Do:

To transfer to the new Hotel Company the vacant lot only, on the corner of Dundas and Wellington Streets having a frontage of 198 ft. on Dundas, and 165 ft. on Wellington, for which the city paid $125,000, and to receive in exchange from the Hotel Company $25,000.00 cash and that piece of property on Richmond Street, extending from Fullarton to Queen's Avenue, having a depth on Queen's Avenue and Fullarton Street of 200 feet and a frontage on Richmond Street of 124 feet, including the Merchants Bank building, now standing on that property, which property was acquired for the sum of $100,000.00.

The transfer will not be made until an absolute contract has been entered into, guaranteed by a surety bond that a hotel costing at least One Million Dollars will be erected on the Dundas and Wellington Streets site within eighteen months.

As regards the fixed assessment bylaw, the City of London has for the past eleven years been paying interest at the rate of 5 per cent. on this investment, or at the rate of $6,250.00 per year, and has received no taxes in return. Upon the erection of the proposed Hotel, the City will receive approximately $22,143.00 in taxes annually from this enterprise.

That portion of the building given over to Hotel purposes only being entitled to any exemption and that only applies to the general rate; all School Tax and Public Improvements Tax being assessed at the full valuation.

All stores or other business conducted in the Hotel premises being subject to full assessment on all taxes, including business tax.

REMEMBER, ALSO, THAT A SURETY BOND WILL BE PUT UP GUARANTEEING THE ERECTION OF THE HOTEL IMMEDIATELY AND THAT THERE WILL BE NO TRANSFER OF LAND UNTIL THE AGREEMENT IS FULFILLED.

THE CITY OF LONDON ASSUMES NO LIABILITY AND GUARANTEES NO BONDS.

Flitter the Bat When At Home In Farmer Brown's Big Barn

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

When Flitter the Bat left Peter Rabbit he very quickly disappeared. You remember it was raining and Flitter was in a hurry to get home. Peter wondered where that home was. He hadn't the least idea where Flitter the Bat lived. He would have been considerably surprised if he had followed Flitter and seen where he went.

Straight over to Farmer Brown's flew Flitter. He flew across the barnyard straight to Farmer Brown's big barn. Way up in the stable a straight through that open window into the barn. High up, in a dark corner, Flitter hid himself up by the beams to a rafter.

"What luck?" squeaked a very squeaky voice. It was the voice of Mrs. Flitter, who already was hanging there to that same rafter. "No luck. No luck at all," squeaked Flitter. "What luck did you have, my dear?"

"I never gave a funny little sigh. I never was more hungry. And the youngsters are no better off than we are. They both gave up before I did and were here before I got home. But we are not the only ones in trouble. Mr. and Mrs. Forktail have had very little better luck than we have. I have been listening to them over there on their rafter. It is a lucky thing that their babies are big enough to look out for themselves. Just listen to them chatter." Flitter listened. Mr. and Mrs. Forktail the Barn Swallows and their four children were sitting on a rafter only a few feet away and the children were complaining. Finally their father said he sharply. "Weather is something we have to take as it comes. It isn't pleasant to have to go without food, but when the sun comes out you will find all the more because of the present rain. All the insects that fly will be out to try their wings the moment the sun shines. Meanwhile we will have to make the best of things. You don't hear those Bat children over there fretting, and and nulled that rubbery membrane, which, you know, is a kind of elastic skin. In his effort to get it thoroughly clean and to set at every part of it he looked around his head. He wrangled it right around his head. He combed out his fur. To do this he used the little hook on the top of each wing. These two little hooks made very good little combs. Mrs. Flitter did the same thing. When they had finished they yawned two or three times and then hanging heads down, they went to sleep.

About an hour later they were awakened by the excited chattering of their neighbors the Barn Swallows. They opened their eyes just in time to see the last of the Swallows dart out of the open window, and they were darting right straight into a bar of golden sunshine. The rain was over.

"It isn't often that I envy anyone," squeaked Flitter to Mrs. Flitter. "but just now I do envy those Swallows." "Why?" squeaked Mrs. Flitter. "Because they don't need to wait until dusk before hunting for some-thing to eat," rumbled Flitter. "If it were to be so very bright out there I would be tempted to go out myself. However, it will be good hunting after jelly, round, bright Mr. Sun toiler. Flitter went all over those wonderful wings of his. He stretched them in, and at last we will be

SEAMEN'S STRIKE IS NEAR COLLAPSE

Few Ships Delayed As New Men Being Constantly Employed.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Sept. 3.—So far as British ports are concerned, the unofficial seamen's strike is petering out, owing to the ease with which men are found to replace the strikers.

At Hull, not a single ship is detained. At Bristol and Avonmouth, the strike appears to be collapsing. In fact, very few ships of any size are detained anywhere, and although cross-channel passengers are slightly inconvenienced by a tie-up of some of the channel steamers, there are no serious delays.

At Liverpool the situation is rather more difficult; several vessels have been delayed, but the position of the strikers has not been helped by the refusal of the authorities to pay unemployment doles to them.

In Australia and South Africa there is little change. Big fruit cargoes are held up at Capetown at the risk of spoiling. The crews of the Goatland, with a big cargo of macadamia nuts, and the Benningo at Durban, have gone on strike. Tam Walsh and Johansen, the strike leaders, appeared today before the deportation board at Sydney, Australia, but the hearing of the case was adjourned until Tuesday next.
