NEW YORK LIES UNDER SNOW BLANKET

Traffic Demoralized by Heavy Blizzard Last Night. Third Severe Storm in as Many Weeks Reported.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, March 2.—Under the third blanket of snow in as many weeks, New York and vicinity today is suffering from one of the worst storms in its history.

Five persons have been killed so far as reported, railroad traffic tied up and wire communication crippled. Streets and sidewalks are covered with an icy coating, making walking difficult and dangerous and vehicular traffic is almost impossible. Few trains are leaving to-day over any of the trunk lines for the west or south and street cars and elevated traffic in the city and suburbs is lame and in many instances suspended. Not since the blizzard of 1903, which old residents point to as the worst in the history of the city, has a story resulted in so much suffering. A milk famine was the most feared to-day, because of the suspended train service in New Jersey and New York state.

Nine and one-half inches of snow fell yesterday and when it stopped a howling gale set in. The temperature, which had remained at a few degrees above freezing dropped many degrees, freezing the sleet and snow that fell with only 3 per cent. of the snow from the previous storms removed from the principal streets, the city street cleaning department faced a new problem to-day. Already $80,000 has been spent in snow removal work and city officials were unable to make an estimate of the probable cost of the latest storm.

With the telegraph and telephone lines crippled and tracks drifted high with snow, the Pennsylvania Railroad made no attempt to run a train out of New York after 7 o'clock last night and all incoming trains from the west and south arrived from 2 to 11 hours late. A local train from Atlantic City arrived at a 4.30 o'clock this morning, 7 hours and 53 minutes late. The conductor reported that the storm was still raging along the coast and that the snow was drifting badly.

In Pennsylvania station, 40 sleeping cars remained on the tracks all night. In them were 800 passengers, many of whom slept peacefully ignorant that they were not on their way to their destinations. In the waiting rooms were hundreds of persons waiting for the resumption of traffic. Lunch rooms and dining halls were kept open all night for their accommodation.

Trains on the New York Central lines fared but little better. The storm put the every wireless station along the coast hereabout out of commission and after 6 o'clock last night, communication from ships at sea was also impossible. The aeriads of the station were so crippled with sleet and snow as to render them useless; it was reported.

In New Jersey, where the force of the storm was most severe, many towns including Trenton, the capital, Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken, were in darkness last night as the result of feed wires breaking under the weight of wet snow. The storm held up liners in the outer harbor all night and menaced shipping along the coast. Two barges sank off Governor's Island. Both had been torn from their moorings by the gale.

Brantford Named As One Of The Exceptions Where Inebriety Is On Decrease

Number of Cases of Drunkenness Doubles in Province, But Telephone City Shows A Decrease.

The area of "dry" districts may be steadily widening in Ontario, but the ominous fact remains that drunkenness is becoming yearly more prevalent in the Province of Ontario. The 1913 report on the administration of the License Act records an increase in commitments to jail for drunkenness nearly twice as large as in any year as far back as the records go. During 1913 there were 9,363 commitments, an increase of 1,750. Since 1909 the number of "drunks" whose condition landed them in jail has more than doubled, and the rate of increase each year has been larger than the previous one.

The increase was pretty well distributed over the province, but curiously enough, Toronto, which has probably had a larger percentage of increase in population than any other part of the province in the past seven years came considerably short of doubling the number of her "drunks." During the past year the fines collected amounted to $37,433 in licensed areas and in local option districts to $14,764.

LORD MINTO DEAD AT HIS HOME IN SCOTLAND

Former Governor-General of Canada and Viceroy of India Passes Away.

LONDON, March 2.—The Earl of Minto, former Governor-General of Canada and Viceroy of India, died at 4 o'clock this morning, aged sixty-six. He was born at Murray Kynmood, Ellon, the fourth Earl of Minto, was essentially a country gentleman and a sportsman rather than a statesman or a diplomat, yet he twice filled high offices as the Crown's representative with conspicuous success. He achieved national popularity during the six years, from 1898 to 1904, when he was Governor-General of Canada. It could not be said that he left any permanent impress of his personality upon the nation, but he earned and maintained a reputation—not universally characteristic of governors—as a man of inflexible tact. Lord Minto could always be depended upon to do or say the right thing at the right moment. In Toronto he was best known as a lover of horse racing. His visits here for the Woodbine meetings became established events in the social calendar, and he was the "off day" at the track in every sense of the term when Lord Minto was not on the lawn or in the paddock surrounded by prominent men and pretty women.

Earl Grey succeeded Lord Minto as Governor-General of Canada, and shortly afterwards Lord Minto was appointed Viceroy of India. His selection for this post, brought down a torrent of complimentary criticism on the British Government, as it was declared that the ruler of India should be possessed of qualities of constructive statesmanship such as no Governor of Canada would be expected to display. Quite a little controversy was stirred up in this country, and the situation was not relieved by the publication in an English weekly of a photograph of the Minto family, all in voluminous furs, and labelled "from Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand." The storm, however, blew over almost as quickly as it had come up, and Lord Minto filled the office of Viceroy for five years to the complete satisfaction of the government displaying great judgment in selecting the best counsel of his advisers at all times.

Lord Minto was born in 1847. He was educated at Eton and at Trinity College, Cambridge, and entered the Scots Guards as an ensign at the age of twenty. He was in Paris during the Communist uprising of 1871, followed the Carlist army in Spain as a war correspondent, witnessed the operations of the Turkish army in the Danube, and was with Lord Roberts in the Afghan campaign, later serving as the general's private secretary in South Africa. Lord Minto fought the Egyptians as a captain of mounted infantry in 1882 and was severely wounded at Maghar. Lord Minto was possessed of great inherited wealth and estates. His heir is Viscount Melgund, and he leaves also a widow, a younger son and three daughters.

Sir George Ross collapsed and is not expected to survive many days.

HURRICANE AND SEVEN BELOW ZERO

Brantford Got its Share of March Lion's Rampage.

Electric and Telegraph Companies Suffered Most Damage.

March surely came in like a lion. Before the first twenty-four hours had passed the lion was on a real rampage which blew people indoors and made them tremble as the hurricane rocked chimneys and spires. By tonight it is said the lion will be wagging his tail good bye. The weather will moderate and March having arrived in ferocious lion-like manner will proceed to go out sheepishly or lambl-like.

Blowing at the rate of 90 miles an hour, Brantford was visited yesterday by one of the worst windstorms in the history of the city. Electric lighting systems, the street railway, trams and telegraph wires were put out of commission partially.

The only damage done to any buildings in this vicinity was at the Mohawk Park school where the windows were blown in. Otherwise buildings throughout the city and country were not damaged. The Hydro-Electric company were perhaps the greatest sufferers in the wind played havoc with the heavy wires, breaking them in many places and plunging the city and the homes of users into darkness. The power was off and on for the better part of the night and the employees of the commission were busy making repairs nearly all day.

The Western Ontario Electric Co. also suffered heavily. The street railway, which is run by Western Counties power was up and the first cars did not get out of the barn until after 9 o'clock this morning.

The C.P.R. telegraph wires were unharmed by the high wind, but at the Great North Western office, three wires were thrown out of service for a while. Most of the trains were running two and three hours late all day yesterday, the west bound trains being held up the most.

Brantford escaped damage much more than surrounding cities. The whole of Ontario suffered from the hurricane, it entering from the United States and gradually shifting and becoming worse as each hour passed until about 10 p.m. when it reached its maximum velocity. The temperature also dropped and at Mohawk Institute the mercury dropped to 7 degrees below zero. The highest temperature registered was 27 degrees above zero.

The wind, though decreased materially, still continues to blow with a biting intensity from the west to-day and the weather man promises not to let up until to-night. Mails Held Up. Postal service has been very much delayed by the gale which raged last night. It caused two or three hour stoppages on most of the morning trains, whilst the London mail was delayed for over six hours. Owing to the failure of the electric light during early morning, the Brantford postal workers were held up and nothing could be done until daylight supplied the necessary illumination, for the progress of work. The local men, however are not much behind with their delivery.

Three Families Burned Out

[By Special Wire to The Courier] QUEBEC, March 2.—Three families were homeless as the result of a fire that broke out last night in a house at 250 Daiguillon street, occupied by Mrs. Arthur Cloutier, and besides destroying the building gutted the adjoining buildings, 252 and 254 on the same street. The fire also extended to a stable where fifteen cows and three horses, the property of one Sime Avois, milkman, were unscathed. Four of the cows were suffocated. The loss will reach over $10,000.

Tree Butchery Raises Storm of Protest From Brant Ave. Residents

Hydro Electric Department May be Prosecuted—Trees Spiked Up, Big and Small, and Damage is Quite Serious.

Tree butchery about the worst ever perpetrated in the city, the result of sloppy workmanship by the Hydro-Electric department, has caused a general wave of indignation among residents of Brant avenue, and there is serious talk of prosecution being commenced. Big trees, and small trees and medium sized trees show 50 to 75 marks almost an inch in depth and too numerous to count. Not only has the appearance of the trees been marred by indiscriminate limb-cutting but it is believed the life of several maples has been jeopardized by the spiking to which they have been subjected.

At for the Street Railway poles, most of them on Brant avenue are scarcely recognizable and will have to be repainted. What has caused amazement among the residents of the avenue is the fact that elsewhere throughout the city ladders were used in order to preserve the trees and posts from injury, but on Brant avenue, by the looks of things, an attempt was made to do as much damage as possible. The Hydro-Department from the Engineer down is, as a result, coming in for some hard rap, and the end is not yet. There is serious talk of taking the matter to the police court and prosecuting the responsible parties. A Courier reporter was informed this morning that a fine of $30 was imposed on the late Dr. Ickes for the same offence with the Grand Valley was constructed up Brant Avenue.

Mayor Spence visited the Avenue Saturday afternoon and saw for himself the carnage which had been wrought. "Any men who did not have any more brains than that should be dismissed," said the Mayor, who instructed Superintendent Waller of the Parks Board to plug the holes in the trees up with a solution of some kind and to repair the damage as much as possible. A resident of Brant Avenue called at the police court this morning to lay an information.

NO LONGER DOUBT HOW BENTON DIED

Was Slain in Villa's Office, Probably by the Bandit Personally.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Evidence regarded as unimpeachable of the manner in which Wm. S. Benton, the British rancher, met his death, has been received in Washington. This evidence bears out completely the most revolting accounts of the Britisher's fatal encounter with General Villa, which have heretofore lacked corroboration and sustains the charge that Benton was murdered. This evidence, which has been laid before all persons in Washington having an official connection with the Benton investigation, shows that Benton was shot while in Villa's office in Juarez. It also establishes the fact that Benton went to Juarez wholly unarmed, and that, therefore, Villa's statement that the Britisher attempted to assassinate him can hardly be true.

Officials heretofore of open mind toward the case are now convinced that Benton was first shot either by Villa personally or at his direction, while in the rebel chieftain's office in Juarez. His body was later fired into. It is not known whether the first wound inflicted upon Benton with a revolver would have proved fatal or not.

These developments caused the solemn and deliberate preparations now being made for a commission of American and British representatives to view the body of Benton, said to be in Chihuahua, to pale into secondary importance. In fact, few in Washington take seriously the contemplated expedition to Chihuahua on Villa's invitation, though the State Department is going ahead with plans for acting on the rebel leader's offer.

In view of the convincing evidence now in the possession of those most deeply interested in the case, there is talk that Villa should not be honored by the commission going to Chihuahua to view whatever may be presented as the body of Benton. It is regarded as almost an insult to Villa's intelligence to assume that he will permit the body to be viewed in Chihuahua or anywhere else as long as it is in such condition as to corroborate what is now the accepted account of how the Britisher met his death.

An official statement by General Carranza, in which he demands recognition by Great Britain before he furnishes any information to the State Department in Washington regarding the killing in Juarez of Wm. S. Benton, a British subject, was given out at the headquarters of the Mexican revolutionists yesterday.

MOTOR SHOW AT HAMILTON. HAMILTON, March 2.—R. M. Jaffray, manager of the motor show, announces that it will be up to the high standard of the Toronto show in almost every particular. Some of the manufacturers who exhibited at Toronto will not be here, but then others will exhibit who did not show at Toronto and it will be about a even break in the matter of numbers. A splendid musical program has been arranged for the week and there is every assurance that Hamilton's first auto show will be a credit to the city.

Centrage comes from conviction. The way to learn to dare anything is to learn to believe something.

ENQUIRY MUST STOP FOR THE PRESENT

Commission to Investigate Benton's Death Is Halted.

President Wilson Says "Wait" to Those Who Are Impatient.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, March 2.—Secretary of State Bryan has ordered the commission inquiring into the circumstances of the death at Juarez of William S. Benton to wait at Le Paso. Francis Dyke Acland, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, made this announcement in the House of Commons to-day. He said the British Government had been informed from Washington that Secretary of State considered it unsafe for the commissioners to proceed.

Mr. Wilson Interviewed. WASHINGTON, March 2.—Asked whether in view of the new developments a change of policy was intended by the United States, immediately the President pointed out that a country the size and power of the United States could afford to await just as long as it pleased; that nobody doubted its power and nobody doubted that Huerta was eventually to retire; that there need be no hesitation in waiting the judgment that what the United States wished to accomplish in Mexico would be accepted, but that those people who were in haste to have things done, were forgetting that they would have to do themselves, that they would have to contribute brothers and sons and sweethearts to do it, if they wanted something done right away. If they were willing to wait the president indicated such a step might not be necessary.

The President was referring, it was supposed, to speeches in congress demanding radical action of some kind or armed intervention, which he seemed to deplore.

Carranza Is Boss. CHIHUAHUA, March 2.—General Villa said to-day that the orders directing the Benton investigating commission, which was halted at Juarez yesterday were issued by General Carranza, who has determined to handle all diplomatic subjects himself.

Trial to End By To-night

McGibbon Affair in Quebec Sequel of 20 Years Quarrel.

STE. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., March 2.—The trial which has been the grim sequel of the twenty-year feud between the McGibbon families that caused the shooting affair on August 21 in which John McGibbon was killed by his cousin, Leonard McGibbon, now charged with murder, will reach a conclusion, it is expected some time to-day. This morning R. P. Delaronde, counsel for the accused, addressed the jury rounding out the plea made in the evidence of witnesses for the defense that the shooting was done by McGibbon to protect his father, who had been wounded by John McGibbon. Mr. Delaronde addressed the jury all in French. It seemed a strange irony of fate that the people most concerned are English-speaking and knew not a word of what was going on. Even the accused did not understand a word of the defense his lawyer was putting forth. Legault for the crown, and Judge Robitaille will speak this afternoon.

Quiet Week In The Commons

[By Special Wire to The Courier] OTTAWA, Ont., March 2.—The parliamentary program for the week is uncertain to-day, but unless the railway estimates are taken up, precipitating discussion on the National Transcontinental Railroad report, there is not likely to be much excitement in the Commons. The N. T. R. report is printed, but the evidence and exhibits are not yet ready. After Wednesday next Government business will have precedence every day. The work of the redistribution committee is expected to be finished within the next two weeks.

Slowly Sinking

TORONTO, March 2.—Sir George Ross is slowly sinking, with little noticeable change since Saturday.

BAUCH IS DEAD. CHIHUAHUA, March 2.—General Villa to-day indicated his belief that Gastav Bauch is dead when he said that Bauch, an American, was liberated at Juarez and "doubtless was assassinated by some of his enemies." Villa said Bauch had many enemies and added: "Of course, I can't be held to blame for that."

WILL VISIT POPE. TORONTO, March 2.—Archbishop Neil McNeill, accompanied by his secretary, Rev. Father Kernahan, will leave Toronto early in April for a visit to his Holiness, Pope Pius. During 1914 all the cardinals, archbishops and bishops not resident in Rome will visit Rome.

LEAVES THE HOSPITAL. TORONTO, March 2.—It was announced this morning that Sir James Whitney would leave the hospital for his home to-morrow.

SUNDAY IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

Inspiring Services Throughout City—Helpful Sermons.

ALEXANDRA PRESBYTERIAN

"God's Guidance of His People" was the Rev. D. T. McClintock's theme for the morning service at Alexandra Church, Paul was called by the spirit from one country to another." The pastor's evening sermon was on the eighth commandment "Thou Shalt Not Steal." If the text comes to dishonesty of failure, let it be failure. At the final summing of our column by the Great Judge, may one balance be found on the right side.

The music for the services was especially pleasing, which included solos by Miss Irene Chave, entitled, "Turn ye unto Me" Costi, and "I have a Saviour kind and tender." A solo "Into Thy Hands," by Mr. Cox. In the Anthem "O, Worship the King" the solo was sung by Miss Marlett. In the Anthem, "O how lowly are Thy Dwellings," the solo was sung by Miss Josephine Waldron. The services were inspiring and profitable.

WELLINGTON STREET

Rev. R. D. Hamilton continued his sermons on "The Lord's Prayer," taking for his meaning, them "Daily Bread." It was a powerful sermon delivered in vigorous manner to a large audience. More children were present than usual. Mrs. Robert Thompson very capably sang the solo and obligato in the anthem. During the offertory, Mrs. M. G. Savage rendered a pleasing solo. Mr. Walter J. Davies, the efficient church treasurer, presented a very satisfactory financial statement. The first and junior league met at 10 a.m. The Sunday school attendance was decidedly better than usual. A pleasing event was the presentation of beautiful pocket testaments, bound in brown leather, to two star classes of seven members each, taught respectively by Mrs. Wallace and Miss L. Hainer. Mr. W. G. Ranton, superintendent, was the donor. Rev. Hamilton and Mr. T. W. Standing made the presentations. Miss Cann contributed a solo in her own inimitable manner. "Why men do not go to church," was the pastor's evening subject. During the eloquent sermon Mr. Hamilton remarked that scholars were sent to school in certain wards, men voted in definite polling places, but church members went to church in a section of the city far distant when there was a church of their own denomination quite near to them. A male choir was present and rendered excellent service. Those assisting were Messrs G. T. Strickland and F. Snodden, P. Houghton, W. G. D. Darwen.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the Congregational Church last night the pastor, Rev. M. Kelly continued his series of sermons on the "New Spirit coming into business life," based on Gerald Lee's recent book "Crowds." The text chosen was found in Matt. 5:6 "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst . . . for they shall be filled."

The trouble with most people, said the speaker, is that they have too few appetites and they don't thirst enough. Beecher's comment on his own life, just before his death, was that he had lived a "full" life. Two many people only lived a partial life. People, rich and poor, are usually satisfied with initial or rudimentary things. Gerald Lee, in his volume, thinks that the business of the church is to produce in the people greater thirst and more numerous appetites for higher things. This was fittingly illustrated by references to the book.

John D. Rockefeller was referred to as an unsuccess and lonely man, in view of the new kinds and sizes of men God was raising up in society, who were ashamed of the old grasping selfish tactics of business. Instances were given of prominent business men and corporations who had transformed their life and augmented greatly their own business happiness by giving an increasing place to the consideration of "the other fellow."

In other words, men are beginning to see in their own private concerns and even in the government of cities, what the Golden Rule can do if it is only given a chance.

A brief and easily remembered creed was at this point suggested by the pastor for Christendom and he particularly recommended it to his own church people. (1) The Headship of Christ; (2) The practice of the Golden Rule and (3) The love of each other. Religious people have tried almost everything else. Is the time not opportune now to try what Jesus commands.

The music included: Anthem, "The King of Love, shepherd is I," solo, Mr. Crooker; duet, Mrs. Brooks, Miss Campion; trio, Mrs. Brooks, Miss Campion, Mr. Crooker; Anthem "Incline thine ear," solo, Mr. Crooker; duet, Mrs. Bronson, Miss Campion; quartette, "Now I'm Coming Home," Brant Male Quartette.

Laid at Rest

The Late Richard Yeates.

Impressive scenes of sorrow marked the funeral of the late Richard George Yeates which took place from the late residence, 187 Nelson street, on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Holling who officiated, conducted very impressive services and Mr. H. E. Ayliffe sang appropriately the "Glory Song" and "Abide With Me." The sympathy of the Bricklayers' Union was demonstrated by the very large representation of that body, who followed the cortege to the burial ground at Mt. Hope cemetery. The pallbearers were W. Lister, Dan McKinnon, Sam Dymond, Ted Roberts, Tom Maloney and Robert Kerr. The great wealth of floral tributes, necessitated the use of a vehicle for their conveyance, and they were received from the following: Pillow, father wife and family; Broken Wheel, Mr. Ther, Father, Sisters and Brothers; Schultz Bros., basket; harp, Schultz Bros., Outside Employees; Wreaths, Bricklayers Union No. 6, Bricklayers Union No. 1, Hamilton; anchor, employees of Yeates and Co., Guelph; sprays, Colborne St. Brotherhood, Choir Colborne St. Church, H. The Late Richard Morris Business was entirely closed down at St. George on Saturday afternoon and the Methodist church crowded to the doors, as a tribute to the memory of the late Richard Morris, who resided here 15 years. The service was conducted jointly by Commissioner Coombs and the pastor of the church Rev. Robert Keefer, assisted by all the ministers of town; a former pastor, Rev. D. W. Snyder, as well as Major Phillips and Captain Best of Toronto, representing the Salvation Army in Canada and the Territorial and Staff Bands, respectively. Floral offerings included remembrances from St. George business men, public school, Brantford W. C. T. U., St. George Methodist church, Epworth League, and Sunday school. The flowers were carried by 12 girls and boys. The late Mr. Morris is survived by his wife, two daughters and four sons, one of the latter being Major Frank Morris of London. Further details of Wednesday afternoon's accident indicate that Mr. Morris had proffered his help to a friend, Mr. Drake, in taking down a tree. When about to leave, he stopped to push it over, and it swung toward him, striking him in the region of the heart.

Toronto's new City Directory estimates the population of the city of Toronto at 305,000.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. Herendeen.

Mrs. Isabella Herendeen, wife of James Herendeen, proprietor of the Herendeen Hotel, Windsor, died suddenly of heart disease as she was about to retire early this morning. During the evening she helped to serve a banquet at the hotel and, though not feeling in good health, continued at work until late.

She was assisted to bed by her husband and, complaining that she could not lie down because of suffocation, started to sit upright in bed, and fell dead.

Mrs. Herendeen was born in Norfolk County, 58 years ago and had lived in Windsor nine years. She had been in poor health for several months. Less than six months ago a sister died in Detroit.

Besides the husband there are surviving, two children, Charles Brown, of Brantford and Mrs. Minnie Buckverough at home. Mr. T. J. Barton of Brantford, is a brother.

Lae Richard Franklin.

There passed away on Saturday, a former well known resident of Brantford city, in Buffalo when Richard Franklin was borne to his last long rest. It is over thirteen years since the late gentleman left Brantford with the best wishes of a large number of friends. He, when resident here was employed by the Brantford

Gas Co., and was a pillar of the Colborne St. Methodist church. Four children are left besides a sorrowing wife; they are, Richard of Chicago; James of Buffalo, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Stokes of Buffalo. The sad death took place on Saturday evening at the late residence in Buffalo, 492 Plymouth avenue. To-night the remains will be brought to this city and conveyed to the home of Mr. Leslie Anguish, 16 Balfour St., from where the funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to Greenwood cemetery.

Bishop Scollard, opening a new Roman Catholic school in Sault Ste. Marie, said Public school teachers only thought of putting in their time as easily as possible and drawing their pay.

MURPHY STILL IN CUBS AND PHILLIES

Owns Part of Chicago and Phila. Parks—Leafs Get Fred. Herbert.
NEW YORK, March 2.—Although the deal whereby Charles Webb Murphy and the National League parted company was completed more than a week ago, mystery continues to envelop the transaction. Murphy stated that he received more than half a million for his majority stock in the Chicago Club and still retains his interest in the grounds on which the stands and fields of both the Chicago and Philadelphia National Leagues are built.
Murphy at the time of the schedule meeting of the National League apparently desired to give the majority of the stock to the Chicago club, which he owned 53 per cent. of the Chicago club stock which could be bought at the rate of $10,000 a share. Frank Chance, former manager of the Cubs declares that Murphy never owned more than 15 or 20 per cent. of the club stock, and that this stock was purchased out of the profits and salary he received under a contract with Charles P. Taft, the real owner of the Cubs.
Chance says the report that Murphy held a majority of the stock was on a par with previous stories Murphy permitted to get into print by inference rather than by actual declarations. Chance is backed up by Mordecai Brown, former star twirler of the Cubs and now connected with the Federal League.

While no figures are yet available the Ottawa Hockey Club made some money this winter, and made a fairly good haul. Last year the club finished something like $3800 to the bad. This winter that sum will be made up and the club will be ahead of the game by close to $2000 after all expenses are paid.

FEDS. SEASON OPENS APRIL 13
CHICAGO, March 2.—The Federal League's playing season will be opened April 13, one day before the National and the American League's begin their campaigns, will include 154 games.
The end of the season, President Gilmore said Saturday, will come early in October, about the time the National and American play up.
"We will be ready to play for the world's championship the second week in October," said one of the club owners.
Manager Phillips of Indianapolis, was pleased with Saturday's appointment, which brought him Jimmy Esmond, the former Cincinnati and Montreal second baseman.

TORONTOS BEATEN ON WATER-COVERED ICE

PROSPECTIVE N. H. A. CHAMPIONS WENT DOWN BEFORE QUEBEC—SCORE WAS 5 TO 3.
QUEBEC, Mar. 2.—In a game that was remarkable for its numerous end to end rushes and fierce attacks on the respective goals the Toronto hockey team, prospective champions, went down to defeat Friday evening before the Quebecs by a score of 5 to 3. The ice, owing to the mild weather, was in poor condition, with water over it in many places. Notwithstanding this drawback, the match was stubbornly contested, both teams showing the greatest determination to win, and every man played as if on him alone rested the issue of the contest.
The first period opened with an attack on Quebec's goal and Moran had to stop a couple of hard shots. After some end to end play Hall secured the rubber and shot it past Helmes, scoring the first goal for Quebec. Walker responded for Toronto and tied the score. The play was kept up with the greatest vigor, and the fast pace and heavy ice was beginning to tell on the men. The second period was slow at the start, but soon warmed up. The period ended with Quebec 2 and Toronto 1.
The third period was hard contested and goals were attacked in rapid succession. The attendance was about 5,000. The teams:
Quebec: Moran, goal; Hall and Munnery points; Smith, centre; Malton and Crawford, wings.
Toronto: Helmes, goal; Cameron and Marshall, points; Royston, centre; Davidson and Walker, wings.
Referee: H. Pulford, Judge of play, H. Westwick.

While no figures are yet available the Ottawa Hockey Club made some money this winter, and made a fairly good haul. Last year the club finished something like $3800 to the bad. This winter that sum will be made up and the club will be ahead of the game by close to $2000 after all expenses are paid.

ONE MORE EXPOSURE

There have long been rumors of gross irregularities in connection with the administration of the Trent Valley Canal under Liberal auspices.

Recently an investigation has been completed, and as the outcome the Minister of Railways and Canals has ordered the suspension of several officials.

The enquiry has disclosed many grave improprieties in connection with the canal management and administration, and the superintendent on the stand admitted that certain of the canal funds were diverted for Liberal campaign funds in the county of Peterboro.

Accounts which, if proper, should have come in and been paid in the regular way have been paid by padding the pay lists. One amusing feature is that in the padding of the payroll the names of prominent bankers, lawyers, doctors, dentists and other professional men of Peterboro appear as common laborers. This seems to have been the common practice for some time past, and is admitted by the suspended officials.

PARTING WITH A GOOD FRIEND.

It has been the good fortune of Canada to have the position of Governor-General filled by men of proved ability, pleasing presence, and resourceful tact. Not only this but practically without exception, in office and out of office, they have proved themselves splendid agents on behalf of extolling the Dominion and its vast possibilities.

The late Earl of Minto was no exception to this gratifying rule. During his occupancy of the post in 1898 and five succeeding years, not much of moment transpired, but he filled the duties devolving upon him with much geniality, and he exhibited keen interest in the aspirations of Johnny Canuck and much pride in his many notable achievements.

The position, of course, is largely ornamental, as action is taken on the advice of the Ministers of the day, but at the same time, there are many exacting demands whose discharge requires well trained equipment, and the proper temperament. It is the one appointment made from the Old Land and that fact symbolizes a cordial and affectionate tie which should not be lightly loosened.

Earl Minto has been called home, but the members of his sorrowful family have at least the gratification of knowing that he was one of a noble band of men who have done so much for the Empire.

THE SITUATION IN MEXICO

Latest reports are to the effect that it is now practically established that William S. Benton, the British rancher done to death in Mexico, was deliberately murdered, and that he was unarmed when he went to General Villa's office to protest against the raiding of his cattle.

Under the Monroe doctrine the United States practically assumes a guardianship over the peoples of South America. This pronouncement was delivered by President Monroe in a message delivered in 1823. In effect he declared that the States would regard as an unfriendly act any attempt on the part of European powers to extend their systems on this continent, or any interference to oppress, or in any manner control, the destiny of governments whose independence has been acknowledged by Uncle Sam.

It is for this reason that John Bull has been looking to Washington for the safeguarding of life and property interests, but our neighbors up to date have done nothing but adopt a waiting attitude.

Ex-President Taft in a recent speech endorsed this course. He said that those who lightly talked of intervention were either utterly regardless of a heavy loss of life and the expenditure of immense treasure, or else they did not realize what armed intervention would mean. Mexicans took naturally to guerilla warfare, and would rather fight than work—that is, rather fight and run than work—and the difficulties which an army would have to meet in order to restore law and order would be appalling. It would involve the garrisoning of all centres and towns and the organization of columns to chase the guerillas into their mountain fastnesses and across trackless desert plains. In short, the subjugation of 15,000,000 people generally well armed and who hold life and property in very cheap regard.

To the average onlooker it would look very much as if our neighbors should abandon the Monroe doctrine, a declaration of very doubtful force or effect in any event, and ask for the co-operation of all the powers interested, with reference to a combined ultimatum to the warring factions.

CANADA'S FIRE LOSSES.

The annual loss in Canada with reference to fires still continues to remain at a very high, yes criminal figure. Mr. J. Grove Smith, Bachelor of Science, has made a careful and authoritative study of the subject and the figures he discloses are startling.

Taking the average of the last three years, the total reaches the large sum of $45,083,695, despite fighting adjuncts, such as brigades, water-works, etc., representing an investment of $35,719,672.

That something wrong dominates the situation is evident by a comparison of Canadian with European conditions. In the following table the per capita losses, and fires per 1,000 of the population, are given for representative towns and cities of England and Canada:

Table with columns: Per Capita Loss, Fires per 1000. Rows include Canada, 1912, Hamilton, Vancouver, Calgary, Regina, Halifax, Toronto, Brantford, Winnipeg, London, Saskatoon.

Table with columns: Per Capita Loss, Fires per 1000. Rows include England, 1912, London, Glasgow, Birmingham, Manchester, Sheffield, Leeds, Belfast, Bristol, Edinburgh, Dublin.

That rank carelessness is responsible for much of the tremendous levy is clearly demonstrated. There is in this country altogether too much indifference on the basis that the insurance companies mainly have to foot the bills, an altogether fallacious idea, for the simple reason that with heavy losses there must be correspondingly high rates.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

March came in like a den of lions and also lammed things in general.

Green wigs are said to be the latest Paris stunt for the fair sex. This is what might be termed a proof of an old saw.

Judging from the flattering shutters last night, it almost sounded as if the Grit opposition at Ottawa had been let loose on this community.

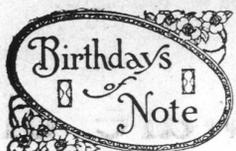

A Frenchman has been sent to prison for biting his signature off a document and swallowing the same. This should be regarded as an awful warning to those who swallow themselves.

Hydro Electric power has been turned on in connection with the London street car system and has proved a big success, enabling a much more rapid service. That's what we want also for Brantford's municipal line.

Market Report.—The market report for the month of February shows that $170.50 was collected in market fees.

Ice Races at Alfred St. Rink.—The manager of the Alfred St. Skating rink has prepared a good card of ice races for Wednesday evening. There are nine races on the program which includes open events and races for boys, girls and ladies. Good prizes have been secured for each event.

Moved Pile Driver.—P. H. Secord's men worked overtime Sunday, when the pile-driver was moved from the south side of the bridge to the north side, where it is to be used to drive piles in the retaining wall. The work was done yesterday on account of the necessity of closing up the street and Sunday was the only day the city would allow them to close it.

MORNING NOISES.

At early morn one's sleep seems best, and man would get all kinds of rest, if silence would obtain; but 't is the first faint peep of day the world wakes up and gets too gay; and he is all in vain. In town the milkman comes along and makes a racket with his gong, while drowsy people swear; and wagons rattle through the streets, the newsboys shriek the morning sheets, and noise is everywhere. And so the man who fain would sleep just hands out curses large and deep, and sighs: "I'll leave the town; I'll seek the quiet countryside, where man, when tired and heavy-eyed, can hold some 'nother down." So to some lonely spot he speeds, convinced 'twill soothe all his needs, and with a face as sad; and in the morn when dawn is gray, he hears the hoot and caw and caw of all the barnyard hordes. The cows the lawling passing well, the frisks, unless rear up and peck the parkers voice their woe; the goats, the guinea hens, the geese get busy and dicker with the peacocks, the lighousen roosters crow. And in the dawning, cold and bleak, the victim swears in French and Greek, in Gaelic and low Dutch; he swears in dead and living tongues, art, though he wears out both his lungs; it doesn't help him much.

COURAGE.

Venture to take the wind on your face for Christ.—Rutherford. Make of disaster an opportunity for your courage.—G. S. Merriam. Be courageous. Be independent. Only remember where true courage and independence come from.—Phillips Brooks.

"Never mind me," said a wounded soldier when a comrade tried to carry him to a place of safety. "Don't let that flag go down." Have we courage enough to be self forgetful?

He who has only gained the day has gained the battle! Do thou but gain the moments. For when thou hast subdued unto thyself Each moment, thou hast won the whole of life. Hast made the whole of life a beautiful thing!

—Leopold Schefer. Courage is just strength of heart, and a strong heart makes itself felt everywhere, and lifts up the whole of life, and enables it, and makes it move directly to its chosen aim.—Rev. Henry Van Dyke, D.D.

The inner side of every cloud is bright and shining; I therefore turn my clouds about, And always wear them inside out. To show the lining. —Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities creep in. Forget them as soon as you can. To-morrow is a new day. You shall begin it well and serenely and with too high a spirit to be encumbered with your old nonsense.—Emerson.

BROTHERHOODS AT THE CITADEL

Plea for Earnestness and Union Made by Adjt. Hargrove to All.

Yesterday the Associated Brotherhoods gathered at the Y. M. C. A. and marched via Dalhousie street to the Salvation Army Citadel. On the way the band rendered the Army's war song, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Serjt-Major Uden and Adjutant Hargrove respectively bade the visitors welcome in some well chosen and earnest sentences.

being called upon to speak Mr. Hutley the associate president thanked the members for their attendance and spoke of the need of unionism, organization and enthusiasm to further any just cause in city and spiritual life. He referred to the army and showed therefrom a concrete example of idealism, endeavor and cohesive action.

Following their associate president the various league presidents testified as to social and spiritual aspects of Brotherhood work.

On behalf of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Thompson said it was time now for sectarian ideas to be laid aside, for all creeds to unite in the work which the Salvation Army had set out to seek; to raise up the fallen, to inspire those down and out, and to realize the brotherhood of Christ. Before sitting down Mr. Thompson closed his remarks with an appeal for funds to further the social work of the Army.

Some musical selections then followed the band playing "Lead Kindly Light," "Festival arrangements." A song of praise by Mr. H. C. Ayblife entitled "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling," was given and much appreciated.

The address from Adjutant Hargrove then followed. It was chanted on the text from 11 Timothy 5th chap. "Franch the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort in all long suffering and doctrine."

Taking the text and the circumstances which marked its address to Timothy, and referring to the spirit of St. Paul, which must ever animate all forward evangelical work, Adjut. Hargrove held his hearers for over half an hour.

"Be earnest" was the keynote of his teaching, in religious life, in daily life and in everything. Quoting the life of the Rev. Chas. Singer, who, as he paced his study, always felt that the portrait of Henry Monoton, exercised over him such fascination, that the lips seemed to speak the words: "Be earnest—don't trifle."

Deploing the pursuit of pleasure and its subsequent laxity and indifference, asking for a higher idealism in business and in politics; from aspect an theory to practical application of remedies, he showed how much there yet remained to be done in Brantford. The Christ life and ideal was the only salvation. Men sometimes were mis-named religious "cranks," and apropos of this name he told the story of the farmer who found he was unable to start his motor plow, all because he had no "crank" supplied.

There is a need of "cranks," he continued, a need of earnestness to help every man whose life was outside the pale of churches and in the byways of a city's life. For men and women who fear no criticism and can live for Christ, to go out and work for the harvest which is ripe for a reaper.

The closing sentences were filled with lofty enthusiasm; one felt the magnetism of the speaker's personality; the vibrant note that resounded after his words were finished; the high call for Christ which under all skies the Army is sounding day by day.

COCKSHUTT WON FROM GRAND TRUNK

The Cockshutt Plow Co. office hockey team on Saturday again displayed their superiority over local teams by trouncing the railway boys by the score of 8 to 1.

Despite the soft condition of the ice, both teams played a fast and interesting game, although the team men were almost continually forced to skate in an inch of water.

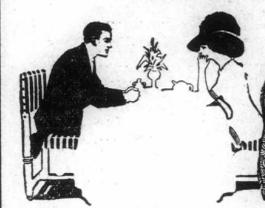

Woolman, as usual, was the star, but considerable of his brilliancy was lessened by the clear work of Ashbury and Cockshutt. MacKay and McGraw played consistently and exhibited their ability to get the puck much to the chagrin of their opponents. Plant and Hanley made sensational rushes down the ice only to be met by that proverbial brick wall in goal (Kew), and retreated to their respective positions sad but wiser men.

The Cockshutt boys have not as yet lost a game, Saturday's game being their seventh consecutive win.

Line up:
Grand Trunk—Fish, goal; Cleator, right defence; Plante, left defence; Harris, rover; Hawley, centre; Thomson, left wing; Walton, right wing. Referee—Ed. Slattery.

CITY IS URGED TO SEND DEPUTATION

Great Waterway Proposal to be Presented at Ottawa.

City Clerk Leonard this morning received a communication from J. W. Lyon, Secretary-Treasurer of the Great Waterways Union of Canada, urging the city to send a deputation to Ottawa regarding the proposed Georgian Bay Canal project. He asks that the city council take the matter up and appoint a delegation to accompany other delegations from the various cities and towns of Ontario who are going to visit the Dominion government.

The government has under consideration two transportation projects which are urged on them by two different faculties. One is the construction of a 22 foot Georgian Bay canal locking over the height of land between Georgian Bay and the Ottawa River at a cost of several million dollars. The other is a waterway 35 feet deep from Montreal to the Upper Lakes by nature's course.

It is evident the government cannot proceed with both projects and the Waterways Union asks: "Which is better?" They are in favor of the latter project and a monster deputation headed by Hon. Adam Beck is being organized and will go to Ottawa during the latter part of the month. As this is a question in which all Ontario cities and people are interested in, the union urges the city to take the matter up at once and appoint a delegation to accompany the others which will go to Ottawa.

With the City Police

Frank Clouse was committed for trial this morning at the police court by Magistrate Livingston on each of two charges of theft, one of a bicycle and the other of a watch. Wm. Dick said that he had left the machine outside the Bodega Tavern on Feb. 16th, and it was missing when he looked for it. He estimated the value at $35. Jack Blakney met Clouse with the bike, when he wanted to put it in his house on Chatham St. He took it away when Blakney refused.

Isabella McCummins had also seen a defendant with the wheel. From her he had stolen a watch valued at $5 which she had not recovered. Clouse, himself elected to go for trial before a jury.

A billed man said he got liquor from Richard Scott, a friend of his, on Colborne street. He did not think his chum knew he was billed, although the two of them had often met and conversed for some time. The statements about about Scott will be inquired into, and he may have a charge of obtaining liquor for a billed man, to answer.

Levi Dominick proved to have a very convenient coat before the Bench, when he was charged with the theft of a coat from the store of Max Harris, at 74 Waterloo street. Whilst waiting at the counter, Mrs.

"VILLANS" WHITEWASH THE "PENSIONERS" AT CHELSEA

Chelsea Beaten on Own Grounds by 3 Goals—International Soccer Game Ends in Tie—"Shamrocks" Beat "Thistles" at Rugby.

The soccer game between Scotland and Wales played at Glasgow, ended with the scoresheet a blank. The ground was in a rain-sodden condition and a splendid exhibition of the game was put up. Brownlie (Third Lanark) and Peers (Wolverhampton) were the two goalkeepers, put up great games, and made some remarkable saves. It is possible that there will be some radical changes in the Scottish team before it meets Ireland. Only a small crowd of 10,000 witnessed the game. The teams were: Scotland—Brownlie (Third Lanark), Kelson (Dundee), Dadds (Celtic), Nellies (Hearts), Purcell (Queen's), Anderson (Raith Rovers), Donaldson (Bolton Wanderers), McMeney (Celtic), Reid (Airdrieonians), Croal (Falkirk) and Browning (Celtic).

Wales team—Peers (Wolverhampton), Jennings (Bolton), H. Jones (Burslem), Hughes (Manchester City), Lloyd Davis (Northampton), Lot Jones (Manchester City), Meredith (Manchester United), Wynn (Manchester City), Davis (Millwall), Evan Jones (Oldham), and Vizard (Bolton).

Irish Win Rugby Game. In the handling game at Dublin, Ireland beat Scotland by six points to nothing. This was the fourth match of the Rugby international series. In the first match England beat Wales. In the second match Wales beat Scotland. In the third match England beat Ireland.

Preston Down Burnley. Turning to the First Division soccer games the surprise of the day was the defeat of Burnley by Preston North End at Burnley. The Preston eleven are at the bottom of the league table and are fighting hard against relegation as was proved by their 4 to 3 away from home victory yesterday.

Bradford City put one over on last year's champions at Sunderland and carried two points back to the Yorkshire town with them. The battle of the giants at Old Trafford between the two Uniteds of Manchester and Newcastle ended in a draw both teams scoring two goals. The "Villans" had no difficulty in disposing of the "Pensioners" at Chelsea and three more goals are tallied up for them.

Notts County Still Lead. Notts County are still leading the Second Division table and their 3 to 0 victory over the Yorkshires at Bradford Saturday will help them to stay there. Hull City dropped down from second to third place on account of their defeat at Clapton. The "Pensioners" are coming back strong and they trimmed the Barnsley boys at Elland Road by 3 clear goals. The surprise of the division was the tie between Notts Forest and Fulham at Nottingham. Fulham should, on form, have had no difficulty with the tail-enders, but the glorious uncertainty of the game again prevailed and the "Forest" got another point.

Swindon Lead Again. Swindon Town are back on their old position at the top of the Southern League as the "Palace" were beaten by West Ham and they got a decision over Norwich City. It looks as if it is going to be a fight between these two clubs for league honors this season.

Celtic Defeated at Falkirk. Falkirk downed the Scottish League leaders by 1 goal to nothing Saturday, but Celtic have some excuse as they were minus McMinnis, Dadds and Browning, who were assisting Scotland in the international with Wales. The Rangers gave Queens Park an awful beating at Ibrox Park, 6 to 0. It looks more like cricket. The amateurs are not in the same class as the Rangers this year. Following are Saturday's scores with the league standings compiled up-to-date:

OVERTIME REQUIRED TO BEAT ONTARIOS

Ottawa Won After Twenty Minutes Extra Play—Que. 5, Tor. 3.

TORONTO, March 2.—Ottawa came through in a pinch on Saturday night at the Arena in their N. H. A. game with Ontario. The tail-enders made the Senators play to the limit to win, and at the expiration of the regular playing hour, the teams were at a deadlock in the matter of goals, each having notched two. Without a rest they continued and after twenty minutes of play Roman beat Hebert on a shot from the side.

Nothing was dependent on the game, and the teams did not exert themselves to any great extent. The locals did work a little harder than their opponents, especially in the matter of back-checking. The visitors forward line were content to do the attacking, and seldom gave assistance to their defence. They displayed more speed than the locals, however, and it was only the effective blocking of McNamara and Lake on the defence, especially the former, and the good work of Hebert in goal which delayed the Ottawa victory.

Ontarios had many good chances to score, but spoiled them by faulty work in front of the nets. A few minutes after the overtime play had commenced Lake, with two forwards, carried the puck right in on goal, drew Benedict from his net, but the former Ottawa player missed by a foot. He had nothing to do but poke the puck into the net, but shot instead and the rubber went wide.

Ottawa did more damage when they attacked. Their shots were nearly always dead on the goal, but mostly from outside the defence. Ontarios missed many chances to score by failure to have a man to trail the puck-carriers. Another fault was the absence of a man to take the pass into centre ice from the corner.

The visitors were minus both their regular defence men, Shore and Merrill. Darragh and Gerard started on the defence, but Wilson replaced the former early in the game. Benedict was also in goal in place of Leseuer. They tried out several spaces, while the locals changed a number of times but with only one spare player, namely Doherty.

CHAPTER I. In the Wilds.

I HAD this story from one who had no business to tell it to me or to any other. I may credit the seduc-tive influence of an old vic-tore upon the narrator for the beginning of it and my own skeptical incredulity during the days that followed for the balance of the strange tale.
I do not say the story is true, for I did not witness the happenings which it portrays.

The yellow, mildewed pages of the diary of a man long dead and the records of the colonial office dovetail perfectly with the narrative of my convivial host, and so I give you the story
as I pieced it out from these several various agencies.

If you do not find it credible, you will at least be as one with me in acknowledging that it is unique, remarkable and interesting.

From the records of the colonial office and from the dead man's diary we learn that a certain young English nobleman, whom we shall call John Clayton, Lord Greytroke, was commissioned to undertake a peculiarly delicate investigation of conditions in a British west coast African colony from whose natives another European power was known to be recruiting soldiers for its army, which latter it used solely for the forcible collection of rubber and ivory from the savage tribes along the Kongo and the Amazon.

We learn also that on a bright May morning in 1888 John, Lord Greytroke, and his bride, Lady Alice, sailed from Dover on their way to Africa.

A month later they arrived at Freetown, where they chartered a small sailing vessel, the Fuwalda, which was to bear them to their final destination.
And here John, Lord Greytroke, and Lady Alice, his wife, vanished from the eyes and from the knowledge of men.

Two months after they weighed anchor and cleared from the port of Freetown, a half dozen British war vessels were scouring the south Atlantic for trace of them or their little vessel, and it was almost immediately that the wreckage was found upon the shores of St. Helena which convinced the world that the Fuwalda had gone down with all on board, and thus the search was stopped ere it had scarce begun.

We know now that the crew of the Fuwalda mutinied, slew her officers and spared John Clayton and his wife because of a favor done to the leader of the mutineers by Clayton. Later the crew, fearing discovery, set John Clayton and his wife ashore on the wild west coast of Africa, giving them sufficient arms and tools to enable them to maintain life with work.

Near the shore Clayton built a little cabin for himself and his wife. They endured much hardship, seeing no human creature, but watched often by the giant apes which infest that region.
One day Clayton imprudently left his wife alone, and she was attacked and injured by one of the great apes. Clayton slew the beast and bore his wife
back to the cabin.

That night a little son was born in the tiny cabin beside the primal forest, while a great tiger screamed before the door and the deep notes of the lion's roar sounded from beyond the ridge.

Lady Greytroke never recovered from the shock of the great ape's attack, and though she lived for a year after her injury was born, she was never again outside the cabin, nor did she ever fully realize that she was not in England.

In other ways she was quite rational,
and the joy and happiness she took in the possession of her little son and the constant attentions of her husband made that year a very happy one for her, the happiest of her life.

Long since had Clayton given up any hope of rescue, except through accident. With unremitting zeal he had worked to beautify the interior of the cabin.

Status of lion and tiger covered the floor. Cupboards and bookcases lined the walls. Odd vases made by his own hands from the clay of the region held beautiful tropical flowers. Curtains of grass and bamboo covered the windows, and, most arduous task of all
with his meager assortment of tools,
he had fashioned lumber to neatly nail
the walls and ceiling and lay a smooth floor within the cabin.

During the year that followed Clayton was several times attacked by the great apes, which now seemed to infest the vicinity of the cabin, but as he never ventured out except with both rifle and revolvers he had little fear of the huge beasts.

He had strengthened the window protections and fitted a unique wooden lock to the cabin door, so that when he hunted for game and fruits he had no fear that any animal could break into the little home.

At first much of the game he shot from the cabin windows, but toward the end the animals learned to fear the strange lair, whence issued the terrifying thunder of his rifle.

In his leisure Clayton read, often aloud to his wife, from the store of books he had brought for their new home. Among these were many for little children—picture books, primers, readers—for they had known that their little child would be old enough for such before they had hoped to return to England.

At other times Clayton wrote in his diary, which he had always been accustomed to keep in French and in which he recorded the details of their strange life. This book he kept locked in a little metal box.

A year from the day her little son was born Lady Alice passed quietly away in the night. So peaceful was her end that it was hours before Clayton could realize that his wife was dead.

The last entry in his diary was made the morning following her death. In it he recites the sad details in a matter of fact way that adds to the pathos of it, for it breathes an apathy born of long sorrow and hopelessness, which even this cruel blow could scarcely awake to further suffering:
"My little son is crying for nourishment.
Oh, Alice, Alice, what shall I do?"
And as John Clayton wrote the last words his hand was ever destined to pen he dropped his head wearily upon his outstretched arms, where they rested upon the table he had built for her who lay still and cold in the bed beside him.

For a long time no sound broke the deathlike stillness of the jungle midday
save the wailing of the tiny man-child.

In the forest of the tableland a mile back from the ocean old Kerchak, the ape, was on a rampage of rage among his people.

The younger and lighter members of his tribe scampered to the higher branches of the great trees to escape his wrath, risking their lives upon branches that scarce supported their weight rather than face old Kerchak in one of his fits of uncontrolled anger.

The other males scattered in all directions, but not before the infuriated brute had felt the vertebrae of one snap between his foaming jaws.

Then he spied Kala, who, returning from a search for food with her young babe, was ignorant of the state of the mighty male's temper until the shrill warnings of her fellows caused her to scamper madly for safety.

But Kerchak was close upon her, so close that he had almost grasped her ankle had she not made a furious leap far into space from one tree to another
—a perilous chance which apes seldom take, unless so closely pursued by danger that there is no other alternative.

She made the leap successfully, but as she grasped the limb of the further tree the sudden jar loosened the hold of the tiny babe where it clung frantically to her neck, and she saw the little thing hurled, turning and twisting, to the ground thirty feet below.

With a low cry of dismay Kala rushed headlong to its side, thoughtless now of the danger from Kerchak, but when she gathered the wee mangled form to her bosom life had left it.

With low moans she sat cuddling the body to her, nor did Kerchak attempt to molest her. With the death of the babe his fit of demoniacal rage passed as suddenly as it had seized him.

Kerchak was a huge king ape, weighing perhaps 350 pounds. His forehead was extremely low and receding, his eyes bloodshot, small and close set to his coarse, flat nose; his ears large and thin, but smaller than most of his kind.

His awful temper and his mighty strength made him supreme among the little tribe into which he had been born
some twenty years before.
Now that he was in his prime, there was no simian in all the mighty forest through which he roved, that dared contest his right to rule, nor did the other and larger animals molest him.
Old Tantor, the elephant, alone of all the wild, savage life, feared him not,
and him alone did Kerchak fear. When Tantor trumpeted the great ape scur-ried with his fellows high among the trees of the second terrace.

SCHOOL TEACHERS LAZY, SAYS BISHOP SCOLLARD

In Opening New Catholic School at Sault Ste. Marie, He Says "Sisters" Have Conscience - No God in the Public School.

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont., March 2

With imposing ceremony the Right Rev. D. J. Scollard, Roman Catholic Bishop of North Bay, opened the new St. Mary's school in Sault Ste. Marie, Sunday afternoon.

Reflection on Public School Teachers

Bishop Scollard was very emphatic in his declaration that it was their duty as Catholics to take their children out of the public school, in support of his contention, he stated that the Separate schools throughout Ontario would compare favorably with the Public schools, the difference between the Public school teachers and the sisters being that the sisters had a conscience and worked every minute of their time, while the Public school teachers only thought of getting in their time as easily as possible and drawing their pay.

Re sons f - Building School.

Bishop Scollard's address in this connection was all the more significant because of the incident which led up to the building of the school, owing to the fact that their children were compelled to cross three sets of railway tracks in order to attend a separate school. The property was in the town of Steelton, and because of the alleged neglect on the part of the Separate School Board of Sault Ste. Marie to provide the foreign section in the west end of the Soo with proper school accommodation, about two hundred Italian families last year.
