John Buchan

It is with deep regret that we are called upon this week to chronologize the death of John Buchan, who departed this life on Saturday last at the City hospital, Hamilton. The sad news of his death came as a sudden shock to his many friends here, who were not aware of his serious condition. Being of a friendly and jovial disposition, his presence in our midst will be greatly missed.

The late John Buchan was the son of Robert and Matilda Buchan, and was born at Waterdown 54 years ago, receiving his education in the schools of this village. Thirty years ago he married Miss Minnie Sinclair, of Aldershot, and for a number of years engaged in gardening and fruit-growing on the Plains road. About 20 years ago he returned to Waterdown and entered the baking business which he successfully conducted until recently.

Deceased was one of Waterdown's highly respected citizens, always taking an interest in the welfare of the village, and for a number of years served on the village council. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the I. O. F.

Besides his widow, he leaves to mourn his loss, three sons, Norman, Prosper and Earl, and two daughters Mrs. A. J. Thomas, Waterdown, and Mrs. John Yeoman, Hamilton.

The funeral, which was in charge of Waterdown Lodge, A. F. & A. M., took place on Monday afternoon last from his late home, Dundas street, to St. Matthew's cemetery, Aldershot, Rev. H. J. Leake officiating at the home, church and grave. The pallbearers were, F. W. Crooker, E. T. Sawell, H. Slater, R. Forth, F. Speck and G. H. Greene.

Presentation

A number of friends and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. John Prudham, prior to her departure for her new home in Galt, and presented her with a lovely ladies' travelling companion and the following address.

Mrs. John Prudham.

Dear Friend and Neighbor:
We, a few of your friends, neighbors and fellow-workers in the Master's vineyard, having learned with regret of your contemplated removal from our midst, desire in some way to express to you our kindly feelings and best wishes for the future. We are grateful to you for your activities in the various enterprises of the church and community, those things which tend to the uplift of our fellows and making the world a better place in which to live. We will miss you from the song circles and various other associations in which you have taken an active part and our best wishes will follow you wherever your lot may be cast in the future. We trust that the days that are to come may prove for you the best days, and that your activities along the lines of Christian endeavor may result in bringing into your life many blessings. We ask you to accept a slight token of our regard with the prayer that He who never leaves nor forsakes those who put their trust in Him may be your Guide, keeping and sustaining you throughout the remainder of your journey, and then at the eventide may it be light, and at last "When the Roll is called up yonder" may we all meet again to sing His praises in the land of endless day.

Peter McGregor

At the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Ross, in Waldemar on November 30th, 1920, Mr. Peter McGregor of Waterdown passed away after an illness of four weeks. A short service was held at the Manse in Waldemar, conducted by Rev. W. Carr and Rev. S. Lundy of the Presbytery of Orangeville. The body was then removed to Waterdown to the residence of his brother, Dr. J. O. McGregor, where service was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Wedderburn, of Knox church on Friday afternoon last, interment being in Waterdown cemetery. The pallbearers were, Robert Spence, Thos. Radford, W. A. Ryckman, J. J. Green, Thos. Little and Geo. Stock.

The late Mr. McGregor was born in Nelson Township, February 1835, being the son of John and Phoebe McGregor. He was the eldest of a family of twelve, of whom three brothers and four sisters survive.

In 1861 he married Miss Mary Wilson, who predeceased him fifteen years ago at their home in Dundalk where Mr. McGregor was engaged in the general store and lumbering business. After retiring from business he moved to Waterdown, residing here until a few months ago, when he went on a visit to his daughter.

Mr. McGregor has always taken an interest in public life. He was reeve of Proton for a number of years, the first reeve of Dundalk, was Police Magistrate of both Grey and Wentworth counties, and at the age of 82 served on the Exemption Board for Wentworth county.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church, being an elder for over 50 years. In politics he was a conservative. A family of five survive him, J. Russel of Gore Bay, Mrs. James Marshall of Milton, Mrs. J. A. Ross of Waldemar and Mrs. A. P. Hanley of Medicine Hat, Alta. There are also eight grandchildren.

Mountsburg

Miss Mary Scott has taken a position in Hamilton.

Mrs. Enmons has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. B. Page, for the winter. She is under the care of Dr. King of Morrison, suffering with rheumatism.

Miss Velma Sheppard of Waterdown has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bogle, for the past three weeks.

Miss Fannie Mount gave a birthday party to a few of her girl friends last week.

Miss Sheppard and Mr. W. Woolsey took a flying trip to Freulton and had tea with Miss N. Adamson.

Quite a number of young people from this vicinity took in the anniversary services at Morrison on Sunday evening.

Miss Pearl Hanna, Public school teacher, has sent her resignation to the Trustees, and is leaving at Christmas.

Mr. Albert Hewens sustained a nasty cut on his head while assisting at Mr. Chas. Hewen's threshing.

The pupils of the Public school intend holding a concert at the school on the evening of Dec. 21st. Everybody welcome. Silver collection.

The General store is putting on an Xmas appearance these days. —

Freulton W. I. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Freulton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Beeton. The meeting was opened by singing one verse of the Maple Leaf, after which the minutes of the previous meeting was read and the roll call answered by suggestions for Christmas gifts.

A splendid paper was given by Mrs. Kirk on the value of a good education to the young county people, also a reading was given by Miss Lindsay which was much appreciated. It was decided that the Institute would give a play in the near future.

There was a good attendance and several new members were received. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant half hour spent. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Anderson in the evening on Dec. 14th. A very cordial invitation is extended to all the members and their families.

Xmas Shower for H. of R. Inmates

The Waterdown W. I. will give a shower of Xmas cheer for the inmates of the county House of Refuge, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Ryckman on Tuesday, Dec. 21st at 2 o'clock. Donations of raw or canned fruit, pie, cake and candy, in fact anything that would be a treat to the residents will be gratefully received. The Institute would be glad to forward any gifts donated by anyone.

Recital

A Recital will be given by the pupils of Mrs. Neilson Wright next Wednesday evening, Dec. 15th at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Sunday school room, under the auspices of the Mission Band, assisted by Miss Urith Cameron Taylor, reader. Miss Emily Sommerville, soprano, and Miss Lily E. Bailey, violinist. Adults 20c, children 10c.

Two Heroes

Once upon a time a long time ago there lived in the south part of Africa a Dutch Boer who had a wonderful horse. It was known far and near for its beauty and intelligence.

One day there was a great storm, night was falling, the people on shore caught sight of a ship in distress. They were feeling very sorry for the people on the ship, and tears were falling because they had no help for them.

At last the Dutch Boer came to the shore, but never stopped a moment but went dashing through the waves to get to the ship. He had a big rope tied around his body, and when he got to the ship a crowd of people caught the rope and came safely to shore.

Again he spoke a gentle and low word to his horse and he dashed in again and brought another load. The third time he said to his horse, "Can you do it?" and the horse turned and looked at her master as if to say, "I will try." So once again they started out. The people on the shore held their breath, but they got to the ship and the third time got the last load. When they got about half way to the shore the horse tried to get another breath but failed and sank with all the load. These were very brave heroes, and were friends in life and in death.

Two Heroes

There once was a Dutch Boer and his horse who lived in Africa. He was known far and wide for its beauty and intelligence.

One night a dreadful storm arose and a ship was approaching. They heard the cries of the merchants, and the people on the shore were sad because they could not help them.

His horse was very brave. She would dash through fires and creeks if her master wished.

Now the Dutch Boer thought he must save these lives with his horse, so he came down with a rope around his waist and stopped a minute and spoke a word to his horse. Then she dashed through the water one foot after the other helped her to the dying crew. She reached the boat and brought back some of the men.

She made her second trip to the ship and brought them safely to shore. He asked the horse if she could do it again. She turned her head and seemed to say, "If you wish I'll try." She went out and rescued them all, but when she was about half way between the ship and land she tried to get a breath, but sank deeper in the sea.

The Dutch Boer perished in the sea with his brave horse. They lived together and died together, but saved the crew of a sinking ship.

Christmas Suggestions

Paper given by Mrs. W. G. Spence at Waterdown Women's Institute Meeting.

Madam President and Members,

I almost wish you had asked me to talk on Christmas, instead of Christmas Suggestions, for the papers and the stores are so full of them, each one advocating their own wares that there is little left for me to say. However here are a few thoughts I would like to leave with you.

Christmas is especially a children's time and I think we owe it to our little ones, to make our homes just as attractive as ever we can. A time that they will look back on with pleasure in after years. I do not think we should stop there, but extend our good will to the stranger within our gates.

Many people seem to me to have lost sight of the Spirit of Christmas. To many it is a very sad time. Sad, why? Because they have lost the dear ones, who helped to make Christmas so happy and joyous. But one can look about and try and help some one less fortunate than themselves, to know a little of the blessings of Xmas. By so doing adding greatly to their own happiness.

R. L. Stephenson says, "Our joys will always last, for hope will gladden days to come, and memory guild the past."

Others find Christmas a time of worry and over-work, instead of a season of good will and joyous outpouring of the spirit of thankfulness for the manifold blessings bestowed upon us in this beautiful country of ours. To some people the giving of presents becomes a real burden, they think it is their duty and must be done, therefore they stumble through it. What a grave mistake that is. No real pleasure attached to it, and often how useless and absurd the whole thing seems to the on-looker.

You see, ladies, I am trying to give you a wee "peep behind the scenes." I know, I have been there and I have seen people worry and fuss just because Mrs So and So has remembered her and she has "clean forgot all about her." Then away she rushes and buys something, no matter what, and sends it off, with a sigh of relief, that's over.

A good plan is, before one starts to make up their Xmas gifts, to sit down quietly and make a list of those one wants to remember, adding to the list as the occasion arises or one recalls others whom they wish to remember. Then think and note down what you will give them, a letter or card or some more valuable gift.

And here let me say, try and make your gift fit the person, not the person the gift. Many a gift has failed in its mission of love through not being suitable for the receiver. By this I mean, don't send Jane a flower when she is longing for a certain book; and Mary a book when she would just love a flower.

When selecting for another try and find out what they really need or prefer. You may decide that Mary needs a new "pull-over", and you go to the trouble and expense of buying or making it for her. You like robin egg blue and think it will be becoming to her. So you make it that color, never dreaming that Mary hates blue and just loves old rose, even though the blue is equally becoming to Mary; yet your gift has lost its charm, through your not having tried to find out her preference.

If we are observant we can often learn just what our dear ones would like, months before, and making a note of it helps greatly when the time of selecting our gifts arrives.

I have found that it is not always the most expensive gifts that give the greatest amount of real pleasure. Often a letter, telling the little honey things of every-day life, that the absent one just loves to hear, gives more real pleasure than all the other things put together. I remember one, a lady I knew, received a very beautiful card from a relative in England. She looked it over, back and front, then threw it down with a disgusted air, saying, "Not a word or a line to let me know how they are or what they are doing." There was at least two dollars wasted, when a sheet of paper, an envelope and a postage stamp, with a half hour spent in writing—a giving a little bit of self, a little Xmas spirit—would have brought joy to a hungry soul, hungry for a word from an absent friend.

I would teach the children to believe in Santa Claus. They know him as a kindly old man. He visits nearly all the stores. Try and make them understand that he represents the great Spirit of Christmas just as mother's photograph represents mother. They will not understand it any more than they do electricity or any of the other great forces of nature. I cannot tell you how often I have been asked by little ones, "Nurse do you believe in Santa Claus?" and the great sigh of contentment when I have answered, "Yes I do." Because if nurse believes, it must be true.

Santa Claus is only a name for the great spirit of love, that came into the world when Christ was born, and it is that same spirit that taught our parents before us, that teaches us, and will teach our children after us. Santa Claus is no myth, but a very real force in this good old world of ours.

Here are a few gifts that are almost always acceptable. Handkerchiefs, one can hardly have too many of them, and they are more useful than cards. Subscription to ones favorite paper or magazine. Books and flowers to those who love them, or household linen to the busy house wife. A half dozen duplicates in table linen does not matter as a rule. I wish you all a very happy Christmas and a bright and prosperous New Year.

Hospital for Sick Children COLLEGE ST., TORONTO.

Great Provincial Charity Makes Christmas Appeal to Friends of Childhood.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The most vital fact in public health service throughout the province is, as you know, the tremendous strides made in child welfare work. Modern science is harking back to the ancient proverb that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." It has been the privilege of the Hospital for Sick Children—the greatest institution of its kind upon the continent—to find that ounce of prevention.

In bygone days dependence was put more largely in medicines. Nowadays there is a closer partnership between the pediatrician and Dame Nature. Since the creation of our Baby's Ward and the establishment of well babies' clinics the infant mortality in Toronto alone has been reduced from 155 to 82 per thousand. Further statistics which might be given would merely corroborate the actual life-saving value of the Hospital's work. And it is unnecessary to explain to you that the information as to the researches which make such a record possible is at once communicated to the Health Officers and practising physicians throughout Ontario.

Consequently the Hospital has surely a claim upon the Christmas-time generosity of every friend of little children. An institution which is securing the new-born child twice the chance, not merely of good health, but of life itself, is entitled to the abundant support of the public.

During the past financial year, revenue from all sources fell one hundred dollars a day behind necessary expenditures.

It has always been the ambition of the Hospital for Sick Children to gain not only the support but the sympathy of the people of Toronto, and so today, with a debt exceeding $150,000, it appeals to your readers to help along with some gift, whether it be great or small. A contribution of $2,000 from an individual or a society gives the privilege of naming a cot for all time; a donation of 25 cents will rent the whole Hospital for half a minute. Between these two amounts there is surely some sum which can be sent by everybody to the secretary-treasurer at 69 College Street, Toronto, as a token of interest in a charity whose field is as large as this province. The Hospital for Sick Children is one of the largest and most highly regarded in the world. It is an institution in which the people of Ontario may take legitimate pride, for it is through their generosity that success has been possible.

Two hundred and fifty children, pale of cheek or with twisted limbs, will be the immediate beneficiaries of the Yuletide remembrances of your readers. Thousands more throughout the coming year will benefit by their kindness.
