Plowing Tournament and Demonstration at Kentville a Great Success

Town Was Crowded With Expectant People PRIZES WON

We reproduce herewith a report written by a staff correspondent of the Morning Chronicle:

Kentville, Oct. 9.—Ever since man first scratched the earth with a stick to facilitate its production, man has been inventing and experimenting with more effective means to the same end. The rudest sorts of implements have gradually given place to more varied and practically ones. Until today when the stick and its successors bid far to be entirely eliminated by the wonderful tractor. And as in the machine itself, so far in the propelling power. First, there came merely the physical power of man, a slow and laborious method; then followed the patient, plodding oxen; slow indeed in comparison with modern methods, but a tremendous advance on the archaic method of man-power. As communities flourished and powerful working horses were bred, the horse with his touch of almost human imagination and ambition, with his pride, impatience and loyalty, superseding the plodding oxen and imparted a degree of intelligence to the work that was sometimes exceeded by the man who guided them. There were doubtless some who just as many now mourn the passing of the horse, yet there can be no real comparison between them any more than between the horse and the machine which is fast superseding him. Not every farmer will take up the machine at once, no matter how effective and not every farmer has even yet replaced his oxen with horses. The ploughing "frolic" at Kentville linked together the last three stages of development only the man-power plough being absent. Man has travelled so far from the days of the "beast of burden" work that it evidently did not occur to the promoters of this tremendously important gathering to exhibit him in competition with oxen, horses and machinery. Unconsciously themselves, however, the promoters did recognize the importance of play to mankind. In the very name given to this occasion. Before the days of railways or even stage coaches, "frolics" brought farmers together when neighboring was more difficult than now. Ploughing "frolics" meant that all the men combined to lough each other's field and so got the work done with less loss of time and less exhaustive labor for each. It was an exhibition of that free co-operation which makes for progress, and is inherent in civilized man. Man is a gregarious animal, and co-operates for the joy of working and being with his fellows when nothing interferes with his free action. The Experimental Farm at Kentville is a delightful spot and serves as an unanswerable argument in favor of agriculture as a primary and important industry for Nova Scotia. The little Province is so rich in minerals and fisheries, in water power and industrial opportunities, that its agricultural possibilities are apt to be overlooked. But a visit to this farm cannot fail to observe the wonderful things done here and the inspiration the Farm must be to farmers all through the Valley. With the rich reds and golds of autumn painting the trees in gorgeous beauty, with the nip of chilly early mornings and evenings at this season of the year, still the Farm is flourishing with green second crops, many of them grown between the rows of young fruit trees, while near at hand are trees laden with late ripening fruit. The soil is clay but rich, and when crops require lighter soil a little modern drainage does wonders.

Where only four years ago broken woods stretched across, there are now the cultivated fields of food crops.

The early harvest was a good one, and there is still much to follow. The barns, bonnettes, etc., are all modern and practical and the individual farmer can reproduce them without undue expenditure. They are not so elaborate or complicated as to discourage the man with small means but intelligent ambitions. They are the sort that experience has proven best for this section of Nova Scotia at least. The staff from Professor Blair down are all courteous, affable, willing and, if any soul thirsts for knowledge in their line, or any puzzled mentality seeks information, advice or helpful suggestion, one and all vie with each other in their willingness to help solve those problems and slake that soul thirst.

During Monday night the rain poured down freshening everything, even though soddening the ground. Tuesday morning the grey sky spread over everything. Portentous looking clouds hung low and threatened to discharge their contents on the devoted heads of those who toiled atop up the hill to the Farm, or drove in mud-bespattered wagons or tooted and hoaked their way in autos to the place where the competitions were to be held. But as of old "the stars in their courses fought against Sisera," when Sisera's triumph would have meant the world's great loss, so the "forces that be" restrained the dull grey turned to soft silver and a warmth of tone touched the horizon and permeated the air. The tops of the hills were visible and though thunder was heard afar over the mountain tops up to noon nothing marred the expectations of the representative crowds that gathered from almost all parts of the Province.

Kentville is seeing gay times this week. On Monday the Sanatorium buildings and grounds were gay indeed with a "flag raising" conceived and carried out by the returned soldier patients in the pavilion and tent colonies of the Sanatorium. There was the usual brass band and happy speeches suitable to the occasion by the Superintendent, Dr. A. F. Miller, Judge Webster and Mr. H. H. Wickwire, M.P.P. The institution had not officially arranged for the function. It was managed entirely by the soldiers themselves and was carried out in a truly impressive military fashion. There was something especially touching in the ceremony of "raising the flag" by these boys who have been thru the hell of trenches on its defence, and have come back scorched by the flames. Kentville town transferred itself to the Sanatorium hill to participate in the unusual festivity.

Then today is again all excitement over the ploughing competition. It is therefore that may well be called gala week. Carriage auto and train loads of people flocked to town for the exhibition and, if the prosperity of the farming communities is evidenced by the number of autos in use, then farmers of this section are prosperous indeed. The whole exhibition is of course part of a greater production campaign, and the purpose behind the whole tournament, is to interest farmers in fall ploughing, the one really necessary preparation for greater production. For increasing fertility and advanced spring planting, there is nothing much more important than fall ploughing.

Opening of the Competition.

At 2 o'clock competition opened. There were 3 fields chosen and three classes of competitors. One class was for boys under twenty-one, the next included those ranging from 21 to 60, and the third consisted of men past 60 years of age. It was truly wonderful to find these hale old farmers following the plough and cutting a straight, clean furrow as well as those with fewer years to their credit. Sleek, steady handsome Devon oxen worked side by side with the finest farm horses in the provinces, and there was as much difference in the variety of the ploughs used as in the power by which they were propelled.

Of course the main interest centred in the tractors, to which countries now denuded of men must look for aid in carrying on agricultural operations. Three varieties of tractors were entered. That International Harvester Co's machine, which has for a long time given immense satisfaction in the big farming operation of the West, the new Ford tractor and the Case Tractor. The latter, however, though shipped, did not arrive in Kentville in time for competition.

The Ford Tractor

It has for some time been the aim of Henry Ford to perfect a tractor that will not only do all the work it claims to do but can be put upon the market at a price within the reach of the average farmer. In short, to do among such machines what his Ford car has done among automobiles. Ford factories are at work turning out six thousand of these tractors for use in Great Britain. With these tractors it is possible to plough six to ten acres per ten-hour day, instead of 1 to 1.2 acres day. Besides, at the end of ten hours horses are tired out, while the machine can go on indefinitely so long as the kerosene or gasoline holds out and operators can be found. The tractors shown in competition were run on kerosene, although both are gasoline consumers also. Whichever fuel is cheaper and more abundant can be used with equal satisfaction. The Ford is very much smaller, lighter and quicker and less impressive looking than the International. It has two shares while the International has three, and the Ford contentment is that they cover more ground in a given time, exceeding the amount of work the other machines does in spite of one share less. The International moves at the rate of two miles an hour. The Ford claims four miles. There was a great deal of enthusiasm shown today because after all the Ford had two points of advantage; it was cheaper and smaller, and therefore adapted to the comparatively small farms of Nova Scotia.

Reminded of the "Tanks."

It made one think of the stories told of the "tank" in France and Flanders to see these machines tearing over rough fields and cutting through unbroken sod at the rate of two to four miles per hour, leaving behind a furrow that makes subsiding easy work. No definite price has yet been set on the machine, but Mr. Ford's purpose is to construct them so as to be sold for about the price of a pair of average farm horses. That ought to revolutionize farming and do away with the old-fashioned practice prevalent in Nova Scotia, which is the only thing now standing in the way of adopting modern methods. That fashion consists in raising horses, working them for a few years on the farm,

HARBORVILLE

Oct 10th

I have been seeing that you don't seem to have any correspondent from this place, and so I thought I would write a few lines.

Of course, I ain't educated the same as that fellow up on the hill, that writes for the Chronicle, because I was only educated at our own local school, and there they taught me more about Algebra, Euclid, Geometry and other things. (Whatever they are) than they did reading and writing, so I expect you will have to write this all over again, as I am no writer, but when it comes to getting the news for you, I have the other fellow who can write a mile, because I don't do a thing but sit around Parker's shop and the wharf, and get the news. Of course, we have a cow and a pig, and there is the wood to get, but I leave that to the wife for it keeps me busy getting the news.

Well, there is some news around this old place but the fellow on the hill, don't seem to get it. I suppose he is busy with his hens.

I see him riding in a new Ford Car. I suppose the Chronicle's people give him that. That's the reason, I am writing this, maybe, I will get one from The Advertiser.

There's a lot of fun, in our place over potatoes, Wallace Ogilvie, has been buying all the potatoes in this country to send to Havana, for "seed". From what I know about it, he has bought enough "seed" potatoes to keep the whole country in potatoes next year. I guess most of those "seed" potatoes are going to be used to feed the Niggers in Cuba, and our poor white trash, will be going without potatoes next winter.

The fun comes in here, Wallace bought these potatoes at the price potatoes would be when shipped. The day he bought them, they were bringing $3.25 a barrel. A couple of days afterwards, Prince Edward Island, began dumping potatoes into Halifax, and the price started down hill. In the meantime a concern in Margareville, that is closely identified with the steamer "Ruby L." which by the way gets a subsidy (whatever that is) from the Government, had potatoes of their own to sell, and instead of coming to Harborville, to get the potatoes on their own hard working farmers had dug up, they shipped their own to St. John, before the price struck bottom.

Well, the Ruby L., got here Monday morning, shortly after daylight, but potatoes today, are fifty cents a barrel less than they were last Thursday, they were delivered at our wharf.

Daniel B. Parker, Esq., J.P., Supreme Court Commissioner, and our Postmaster for the last sixty years or more spent last Sunday, with Alexander Given, Esq., J.P., an old time resident of Harborville, and who has been confined to his bed for a year or more. In fact, Harborville, years ago was known as Given's Wharf. Named after the present Given family.

Roy Chisholm, and family, the efficient agent of the D. A. R. at Berwick, actually drove his car over Sunday, and got as far as the wharf. Evidently they did not like the outlook, for they only stayed a few minutes, and then hurried home.

Most of the young men, are now down in the Valley, picking apples, for the Ontario apple buyers. Last night, they even began taking our children over to help get the apples saved, so that the Ontario people might have apples to eat this winter. Of course, it don't matter whether we have any or not, Nothing like shipping everything we grow out of country. We can live on grass.

Captain John Cook, went down to Halifax, Wednesday to be operated on for cancer of the tongue. His many friends hope he goes through with it successfully, and returns home much improved.

Mrs. Sarah Beardsley, widow of the late Joshua Beardsley, formerly of Waterville and this place but now a resident of Boston, Mass., is visiting friends in Harborville.

The steamer Margareville, took away a load of potatoes on Tuesday evening, shipped by our County Councilor Ben Bezanon.

Capt. I. B. Morris, has stripped the yacht Nile. A sure sign that winter is getting pretty close.

Mrs. Ada Crumby, of Charlottetown, Mass., and Mrs. Frank Keddy, of Waterville, motored over Sunday last, to visit friends

ENDORSED BY PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES

The following announcement appears in the September issue of the official Canadian Patriotic Bulletin:

"By arrangement between the British War Office Cinema Committee and the Independent Film Supply Company of Montreal, the official films of 'The Battle of Arras,' 'The Canadians at Vimy Ridge,' and 'The Arrival of the U.S. Navy Flotilla in British Waters' are to be exhibited in the immediate future throughout Canada. These are the pictures which have been taken under the direction of Lord Beaverbrooke and they show in a most remarkable and realistic way the actual operations at the front.

One half of the receipts of the company from the exhibition of these pictures will be contributed to patriotic purposes.

Our branches are therefore requested to assist in every possible way towards making these exhibitions a financial success. While it would be difficult if not impossible to determine the exact amount of profit accruing to the Patriotic Fund from each city or town it is the intention of the head office to endeavor to allocate to each branch the approximate sum earned in that district, so that local committees shall have an incentive to aid in securing large attendance at these exhibitions.

These official pictures will be shown at the Nickel Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 17 and 18. The price of admission will be 25c.

Miss Evelyn Schofield of Can- ning who is teaching at Newport and Miss Christina McClair teacher at Hillsvale, attended the Teacher's Institute at Hants port guests of the "Evangeline Hotel," Sept. 27th and 28th.

Mr. Henry A. Woodworth has sold his farm at Steam Mill Village to Margaret P. Hawkins of Kentville.

FAREWELL SERVICE OF REV A M Bent.
(Springhill Record)

All Saints' Church was filled last Sunday evening on the occasion of the farewell of Rev. A. M. Bent. Mr.
Bent has been Rector of the Parish for over seven years. The service was splendidly rendered by a choir of eighteen voices, accompanied by the Church Orchestra. Mr. Bent in his closing words asked the sympathy, support and co-operation of the congregation for his successor in the Rectorship, and was glad to say that there would be no lapse in the services and activities of the Parish consequent on the resignation. He gave an interesting statistical report of his seven years' ministry and of the present satisfactory financial condition of the Parish. The work of the Women's Guild was particularly praised. At the request of the Churchwardens, the Rev. Canon Wilson asked the parishioners to show their appreciation of Mr. Bent's services by contributing to the Church collections for the day, which would be given to him to assist in defraying the expenses of removal. The amount in the collection was $44.36. A large number of friends waited after the service to bid farewell to the Rev.
gentleman and his family. Mr. Bent will be much missed in this community, where his genial disposition and a bounding sympathy were much valued.
Mr. Bent and his family left for their new home in Kentville last Monday morning.

While details of the incident still are unknown here, the fact that an officer and enlisted man were killed indicates that the American vessel fired a shot in the water, the submarine being holed and the crew scattered.

FARMERS EXPECTED TO TAKE WAR LOAN by the Prosperous and Public Opinion Expects Them to Help

Farmers should subscribe for a substantial portion of the forth coming war loan. Crops have been uniformly good throughout Canada, prices were never so high and the margin between selling price and cost of production has ensured a splendid profit.

The Manitoba Free Press also urges that an active campaign be carried on to get the farmers to invest. It suggests that the Minister of Finance that the 100,000 Western farmers, personally appealing for their support of the loan.

$8 172 000 FOR DISABLED CLERGY

Boston, Oct. 8—The fund for disabled clergymen of the Episcopal Church, which was collected under the direction of Bishop Lawrence of this diocese now amounts to $8 712 000. It was intended to raise only $5 000 000.

WOLFVILLE RED CROSS

The annual meeting of the Red Cross held Sept. 29th showed how large had been the work of the year. The energetic president, Mrs. W. H. Chase, gave a fine account of the year's work showing the progress made and the encouraging work performed.

The treasurer's report showed increased receipts and larger expenditures. The honor roll was particularly mentioned and the boys who have fallen remembered.

Most interesting addresses were given by Capt. Crawley, Lieut. A. H. Borden and Corpl. J. B. Black. A statement of the Red Cross Cookery book showed over $300 netted over cost of publication. Most of this fund had already been forwarded for different Red Cross purposes abroad.

Farming by Machinery

Farming by machinery will allow more time for horse, cattle and sheep breeding and thus help diversify agricultural pursuits in this Province. Diversification of farming was in the minds of the promoters of the tournament. Among these may be mentioned Professor Cumming, Secretary for Agriculture and Principal of the Agricultural College at Truro, who went to Detroit and secured the loan of the tractor from Henry Ford for exhibition. As these tractors are not yet on the market and will only be exhibited in one other Province in Canada (Ontario), Nova Scotia was really fortunate in securing the opportunity to see it at work.

It is only fair to say, however, that the tournament at Kentville was developed by the Dominion Atlantic Railway. George E. Graham, General Manager of this railway, is himself an ex-farmer and a firm believer in agriculture as the foundation of any country's prosperity. Ever since he took over the management of the road he has been endeavoring to establish cordial relations between the road and the farmers.

Serve Interests of Farmers

It is his policy to find out in what ways the Dominion Atlantic can serve the farmers from Yarmouth to Halifax and make the farmers feel that is the primary purpose of the road. It is the wisdom of the highest type, because if he can teach producers and shippers that the railway is for their use and convenience that very use means the prosperity of the railway. Realizing the value of such exhibitions, the Dominion Atlantic went systematically to work to make it a success. Special trains were run from points east of Annapolis, and large crowds showed their appreciation of the efforts. Had the day been less threatening in appearance, doubtless the accommodations would have been insufficient, liberal as they were. General Manager Graham proposes to make the Dominion Atlantic Railway serve the farmers of the valley as the O.P. has served those of the West. The Dominion Atlantic Railway has also had a film made of the fruit trees ravaged by moths, the method of spraying and the marvelous result. This film, of great educational value to the orchards of the Valley, will be shown tomorrow.

Principal Cumming's Tribute

In an address before the prizes were awarded Professor Cumming paid a high compliment to the whole-hearted work of General Manager Graham, whose big vision and unlimited faith in the future of Nova Scotia's farming industry had made the occasion possible. Professor Cumming also said that this day marked an epoch in the farming history of Nova Scotia: "You have this day seen a tractor at work for the first time in this Province and that means eventually the revolutionizing of farming here. You may not own a tractor this year or next, or perhaps, even the next, but I look forward to the day, not so very distant either, when tractors will be as common as automobiles now are."

Professor Cumming's remarks were received with great approval, as was Professor Blair's little speech at the Experimental Farm in the morning. The Kentville brass band furnished excellent music during the afternoon, and the rain which had held off to allow the completion of the competition, began to drizzle, ending finally in a downpour before night closed in. But the events, even the awarding of the well earned prizes, were all over and the congestion of people and vehicle was greatly relieved before that. One of the interesting and amusing events was not on the programme at all, yet attracted much attention. The daredevil driver of the Ford tractor cut circles round the big international and then dashed at a high bank, climbed up into the field and raced off at a fifteen miles an hour rate. The "Ford Form-a-Tractor" arrangement that may be geared to the rear wheels of any Ford car, also exhibited its powers in ploughing.
