PROGRAMME OF THIRD WEEK.
FIRST SOLEMN PONTIFICAL MASS CELEBRATED ON SUNDAY—SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

The first solemn Pontifical Mass which it has been the good fortune of St. John's members to attend in their own chapel as a lay choir, was celebrated Sunday morning, July 15th. Many things tended to make it one of the most memorable and most impressive ceremonies ever held at Cliff Haven. The enlarged chapel, with its new sanctuary, the exceptionally fine sacred music and notable sermons, and the presence of the Rt. Rev. T. M. Burke, Bishop of Albany, and several distinguished priests, all added toward making it a remarkable event.

Monday evening's lectures began promptly at 9:30 with the work in "As You Like It," under the direction of Dr. James J. Walsh. The course is well largely attended despite the extreme heat, and the lectures and discussions are quite as attractive and as learned as those on the heavy tragedy of Hamlet. At 10:30, the course on "The Study of Language," was commenced. The lecturer, Dr. George McVittie Belling, is associate professor in the Greek Language and Literature, and assistant professor in Comparative Philology and Sanskrit in the Catholic University at Washington. Dr. Belling received his Ph. D. from John Hopkins, and was about the same time elected a Fellow of that University.

Because of their erudition and their scholarship, these lectures promise to be extremely valuable. Under their scope lies a large field of learning, out of which Dr. Belling has carefully selected that material which is best suited for his purpose, and has cast it into such a form, as to present it clearly to the minds of his listeners. The second week's work in study of Dante's Inferno was continued at 11:45 by Dr. Mahony. This and Dr. Walsh's course are largely attended by New York teachers who are anxious to secure certificates which shall insure their promotion. The Hon. Martin Glynn, of Albany, Member of Congress, and the scheduled lecturer for Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week, telegraphed on Monday that he would be unable to keep his appointment on account of illness, the doctor forbidding him to leave his home.

The students at Cliff Haven, however, were not allowed to suffer from disappointment as Dr. J. J. Walsh Monday night was asked to give a talk on his experiences in his travels through Russia. The lecturer gave a very picturesque and sympathetic account of his journey through Russia, and evinced some new but thoroughly impartial views on the character of the people and the government. Tuesday night Mr. Glynn's place was ably filled by Dr. John Talbot Smith who delivered a forcible and thoughtful lecture on "A Popular Disease," which treated in detail the non-religious aspect of most phases of modern life.

Sunday evening a reception was given to Bishop Burke at the New York cottage. In his honor a musical program of unusual excellence was rendered. Several other features of the social life have been most attractive. The Curtis Pine Villa entertained twice, once at an observance and once at a musical. There was also a dance at the Champlain Club. The attendance has been very large this week. The grounds are rapidly filling up and it is expected that rooms will be at a premium in a very few days.

Tonight
 If your liver is out of order, causing Biliousness, Sick Headache, Heartburn, or Constipation, take a dose of Hood's Pills.
 On eating and drinking, your digestive organs will be regulated and you will be bright, active and ready for any kind of work. This has been the experience of others, it will be yours. HOOD'S PILLS are sold by all medicine dealers. 50 cts.

True Economy
 The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cost many times this in doctors' bills.

Royal Baking Powder may cost a little more per can, but it insures perfect, wholesome food. In fact, it is more economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and never spoils the food.

Royal Baking Powder used always in making the biscuit and cake saves both health and money.

You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade, alum baking powders. They are apt to spoil the food; they do endanger the health. All physicians will tell you that alum in food is poisonous.

Heroic Priest at Water Front Fire.
 Amongst the many touching and inspiring spectacles witnessed during the great conflagration at the North German Lloyd steamship docks in Hoboken on a late Saturday was that of a priest standing on the deck of the steamer, giving directions to the frantic men whose heads protruded from the port holes of the Steamer, dying in view of those who were powerless to aid them. The priest was Rev. John Broanan, of the mission of Our Lady of the Rosary, in State Street, New York. Father Broanan related the following story of his experience: "It was about 9 o'clock, while I was walking along the Battery wall, that I saw the floating lighters burning as they came down the river. Father Henry, who is rector of the mission, had told me earlier in the evening of their being a fire in Hoboken."

"As I neared the pier of the New York I saw the fire bringing in the fire. They were laid on the floor of the fire house, and many of these were unconscious. I sent at once to the mission and had the holy oils and bread sent over. The church allows conditional absolution, and I did not stop to ascertain where were of our faith to carry thirty before they were absorbed to the hospital. Then I learned from the dressmaker of the gravity of the fire. A dressmaker provided me with a rubber coat, and I went to the scene aboard the tug Mutual, with Captain Roberts."

"We went first to the Seale. By the time we arrived at her side she was slowly sinking. I saw many heads and faces looking out of the port holes. They were too far away from me to be reached. They understood, many of them, and I praised God that He brought me there, for it did seem as though I had brought consolation to some of them. Death they knew was certain. They knew there was no hope of escape. They did not become frenzied. They seemed resigned to die, and spent the last moments in praying with me. Oh, it was terrible to think that, with so many about, help could not be given to them! "One man I saw looked out of the second port hole. He was ten feet away from those who could get nearest him. He was a young man, apparently 37 years of age, and wore a blue jumper. He was evidently one of the crew. I spoke to him and blessed him, giving him absolution. He understood, for he closed his eyes and bowed his head. I will never forget the look on that man's face. It was one of resignation, calmity, and appeal."

"Back of him we could see the flames rising and raging so close. Each minute that elapsed brought the water up higher nearer to him. He came up slowly and surged about his face. He struggled terribly to keep his head out of the port hole. The water covered his head twice. One last look of appeal and he sank. We saw him no more."

Perhaps the most horrible suffering next to his was to feel that you were so near him and could not aid him. "Captain Roberts, of the tug Mutual, proved himself a hero. Where he could do the most good, there he was. We saved many who would otherwise have perished to death."

Delinquent Subscribers.
 (Catholic Register.)
 The Subscriber to Catholic Newspapers presents some peculiarities that will not bear the light of justice, or honesty. The field is an admirable one for the work of the Society for Psychological Research. Year after year the debt in favor of the Catholic Subscriber is allowed to run on and accumulate with but little apparent effort to settle on the part of the latter and with a supreme indifference born of carelessness that does not tend to lighten the heart of the publisher nor yet enable him to continue his good work of disseminating Catholic literature and views through the country. Every subscriber knows as well as the publisher that his subscription is due on such a date and he ought in all honesty and good Catholic sense, the proper way to go about it is to send your dollar on the day on which your subscription ends, if you do not wish to continue the paper, the business way of handling the case is to drop a card to the Editor telling him so. If a paper goes into your house you are supposed to pay for it and to do so as promptly as you would meet a note on the day it is due. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Father Phelps, editor of the Western Watchman of St. Louis, writing from Paris, notes some very beautiful religious customs among the Catholic people of France. "Another beautiful custom," he says, "is the election of a Rosary. This is the girl in the parish who has been the most edifying during the previous twelve months. This is not merely a matter of honor, there is a sum of money allotted to her, in some instances reaching 1,000 francs. At a meeting last Sunday in one of the suburbs of Paris the fortunate girl was the daughter of a washerwoman. She had been gentle and modest to all, and specially kind and helpful to her mother. The meeting was held in the public square. The maid made a speech. The case came out with the rosaries and after boys in process and conducted the happy girl into the church, where she was solemnly crowned. The ceremony ended with Benediction."

The young R. wire is expected to visit the sick of the parish for the next week, attend all the funerals of the young people and have a special care of the altar of the Blessed Virgin in the parish church. Every citizen uncovers to her, and the gardeners present arms to her for the next twelve months. This is another way they have over here of prescribing goodness.

President Eliot has discovered that others besides the youth of Cambridge "will have to be restrained" during the visit of the Cuban teachers to Harvard. Zealous temperance workers in Boston last week pleaded with Dr. Eliot to secure the attendance of the visitors at a large temperance meeting in the town, but his answer must have been somewhat disconcerting to the petitioners—"I can not think that the Cubans would take any interest in total abstinence; they have no tendency to drink to excess, and can not understand it in others. The vice against which you contend is not practiced among them. Our people have much to learn from them on that subject, while they can get nothing but a warning from us."

Like all the Latin races, the Cubans have a keen sense of humor. When they thoroughly master the details of the civilization we have volunteered to bestow upon them—our political responsos, our civil service franchises, our divorce-mills, our saloons, our venetian journals,—they will cease to be angry at us, and in like proportion our reputation as a nation of jokesters will probably remind the Cubans of that dear old Presbyterian lady who went over from Cape Cod to convert the Pope.—Ave Maria.

The Australasian Catholic Congress will begin its sessions on September 16, Cardinal Moran presiding.
 Maurice Francis Egan's Lyricism in Shakespeare's Comedies in the July Catholic University Bulletin is a delightful literary excursion.

Father Poletti, who has been studying in Paris, says that city is one of the most moral in the world. Vice is in the quarter where foreigners love to congregate. But the rest of Paris is clean—remarkably, exceptionally clean.

 Weakness—"I have given Hood's Sarsaparilla to my boy whose blood was poor. He was very weak, could not keep warm, and suffered from pain in his stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla made him strong and well."—Wm. W. C. Stratton, Thomas St., St. Louis, Mo.

THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, August 1st, 1910.

It is not often we have in this Province such a storm as that reported to have taken place in South-eastern King's County on Saturday last.

The tourist travel to this Province this season, although large is not as extensive as at first expected.

The news from China continues to be of a most uncertain and distressing character.

These are perilous times for the rulers of nations, in continental Europe at least.

PREVIOUS to the general election of 1896 the grille declared that no member of the House of Commons should be appointed to any office in the gift of the Government.

And there is good reason to believe that at least as many more salaries through the last two or three parliamentary sessions with professions in their pockets.

DURING the greater part of the recent session of the Dominion Parliament, Mr. Tarte and Mr. Sifton were absent in Europe.

When the government checked off the West House investigation in the various committees, the premier promised a judicial investigation in his place.

AFTER THE SESSION.

HOW TO MAKE A SURPLUS—BY THE MINISTER OF FINANCE.

OTTAWA, July 28.—The capital is almost deserted by politicians.

MR. BLAIR ASSISTS. The Intercolonial railway offers a great field for financing a surplus.

CONCERNING THE SURPLUS. Almost at the last hour of the session the minister of finance held up the proceedings while he volunteered a sort of budget speech of his own.

SURPLUS AND DEBT. These surpluses refer only to what is called current account or consolidated fund.

Under the Canadian system surpluses may be made by high customs and excise taxes, by large imports without increased duties, by advances in the prices of dutiable articles, or by reduced expenditures.

OFF THE TRACK. This means disaster and death when applied to a fast express train.

MAJOR-GENERAL O'Grady-Haley, the new commander of the Canadian Militia, arrived in Ottawa Sunday afternoon. Owing to a misunderstanding there were only three officers present to meet him, although orders had been issued for a guard of honour and a salute.

THE body of Fred B. Burke, who was drowned near St. Peter's Island over two months ago, was found on Saturday at Cullen's shore, a short distance from Ten Hills. The body was identified by Mr. Judson, of St. Peter's Island, with whom Burke was employed up to the time of his death.

THE Belle Isle, N.B., strike was quiet Tuesday morning. The men practically gained what they demanded. The schedule of wages provided for 11 cents an hour for surface workers, 15 cents for miners below ground, and 15 cents for overtime. Operations were resumed with a full force at daylight.

W. A. HURCHISON & Co's confectionery store on Grafton St. was entered Friday night and some money taken from the till. A quantity of goods were also stolen. It is supposed that the thieves used the barrow to carry off the goods. An entrance was effected through a window in the rear of the store. This is the third time this store has been visited this summer.

THE Vancouver World of July 19th states that R. E. Palmer, C. E., a native of Charlottetown, who has been working in Roseland, B. C., in the great Le Roi mine, has been appointed manager of the Rio Tinto mine in Spain, the largest copper and sulphur mine in the world. Mr. Palmer will have 1,400 men under his direction. REV. FR. FRANCIS died suddenly at Lunenburg, Quebec, on Sunday of last week, after preaching a strong sermon on intemperance. For the last 40 years he has been devoted himself to this work. In concluding his sermon with a brilliant peroration, he declared he would preach against the liquor traffic until his death. He was found dead in his study fifteen minutes after the close of the sermon. R. I. P.

A NUMBER of persons were suddenly taken ill at St. John's, Chorley, Pictou, which took place at St. John's on Wednesday last. The symptoms of the illness were vomiting, great muscular weakness and abdominal pain. The sufferers had to be carried on board the train. Medical aid was procured as soon as possible, and no fatal results took place. Poisoning from canned food was alleged as the cause of the illness.

It is believed in shipping circles that the high prices and the increasing difficulty in obtaining an adequate supply of coal for steaming purposes at Algiers, Colombo, and other ports of call on the way to the east, will result in sailing vessels succeeding the tramp steamer in the carrying business. The stock of coal at the stations along the route is reported as scarcely sufficient to meet the wants of the regular liners and war vessels. As a result the price of coal has reached an almost prohibitive point for tramp steamers. Considering the matter the Government says: "Are we coming soon more to a day of full open, billowing sails and really truly jolly jacks, instead of unwholesome and freight-handlers?"

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

BOER ENVOYS IN PARIS. Messrs. Fisher, Wessels and Wolmarans are now in Paris, and were received on Wednesday by President Loubet in the Palace Elyses. They were presented by Dr. Loyde, the diplomatic agent of the Transvaal.

BRITISH ARMY ESTIMATES. The British supplementary estimates necessitated by the prolongation of the war in South Africa amount to £11,500,000, making a total of £34,500,000 voted for the purpose, and bringing the total army estimates up to £70,390,135.

LADY WILSON IN ENGLAND. The Duke of Marlborough and Lady Sarah Wilson, who were about up to Montreal during the strike, arrived at Southampton on Friday. The Duchess of Marlborough was given a great reception by an immense crowd on her arrival.

NO TRUTH IN IT. The story regarding eight Canadian invalids found sleeping in Hyde Park, London, and without money or food fall out as the story is untrue in almost every particular. It appears that a party of Canadian invalids had been invited to the Empire Theatre, and stayed out until some late hour that when they returned to the Eldridge Hotel in London, the entrance was closed and the porter refusing to open the doors they were forced to sleep on the benches in Hyde Park.

N. S. W. TROOPS FOR CHINA. The New South Wales Legislature has resolved to dispatch a military contingent to China.

KING HUMBERT ASSASSINATED. King Humbert, of Italy, has been assassinated. He was shot at the town of Monza, nine miles N. E. of Milan at 10.45 Sunday evening by a man named Angelo Bressi da Grato, and died in a few minutes. The king had been attending a distribution of prizes in connection with a gymnastic competition. He had just entered his carriage with his aide-de-camp amid the cheer of the crowd, when he was struck by three revolver shots fired in quick succession. One pierced the heart of his Majesty, who fell back and expired in a few minutes. The assassin was immediately arrested, and was with some difficulty saved from the fury of the populace. He gave his name as Angelo Bressi, describing himself as of Prati, in Tuscan. He is said to be an Anarchist, and he had been in London in 1898. Humbert's body has been taken to Rome, and will be buried in the Pantheon. Victor Emmanuel, his son, and successor to the throne was off the coast of Greece, and started for Italy. King Humbert was born in Turin in March, 1859, and was the son of Victor Emmanuel, whom he succeeded in 1878.

DEATH OF PRINCE ALFRED. Prince Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Saxe Coburg, died at Reichen Castle on Monday evening from paralysis of the feet. He was the second son of Queen Victoria, and was born in 1844. He married in 1874 the Grand Duchess Maria of Russia. In 1893 he succeeded his uncle as reigning Duke of Saxe Coburg Gotha. He leaves four daughters, the only one Alfred having died in February 1899, at the age of 25 years.

COL. HERCHMER DISMISSED. It is reported that Lieutenant-Colonel Herchmer, who went out to South Africa in command of the second battalion of the Canadian mounted rifles, and recently returned on leave of absence after a disagreement with Hutton, has been dismissed from the office of commissioner of the North West Territory. The charges against him being insubordination to a superior officer in the field.

In South Africa. The War office has received the following despatch from Lord Roberts:—"French and Hutton continued their pursuit on July 25. The former crossed Diphana's River and from the high ground on the right bank of the river, sent the enemy retreating in great disorder. The main road north was blocked for several miles with horses and wagons. The enemy's rear was then seven miles north. The mounted forces were still west of the river. Right to report to say, the rain was falling in torrents and so it was impossible to follow. The night was terrible. In addition to the rain a strong east wind made the bivouac most uncomfortable. The men made light of hardships and were in famous spirits when I saw them yesterday. Hutton has completely broken down. He found Mrs. Steyn, wife of the President and several of our men whom Dewet had captured at different times and whom he was unable to send to Mafeking. The enemy in the Bakhambilla are now closed in upon. Baxendale is closed to them. Harleith is the only line open; and it will not be easy for them to reach there with guns and wagons. Broadwood is still watching. Christina Dewet who has taken up a position on high hills near Bellburg, about seven miles south of the Vaal. P. Dewet, a younger brother of Christian, surrendered at Kromstadt yesterday. Baron reports that the railway to Banko Station where the train was wrecked on July 19 and has been enabled to repair his supplies. Methuen's column which crossed the Kruger-Porter railway is now moving on to Potchefstroom. Buller reports that the railway was opened to Heidelberg yesterday, giving us through communication to Natal."

A despatch of the 26th states that Gen. Dewet offered to surrender on condition that the following be permitted to return to their homes unmolested. Lord Roberts refused anything but unconditional surrender.

Lord Roberts' latest despatches show that General Buller, Villiers and Coetzee surrounded 900 men 1420 horses, 255 mules and a Krupp 42-pounder gun. The surrender was made to General Buller on July 28th. Gen. McDougal fought a year guard action with the Boers since the battle of Naauport in the Fish-pond hills and effectually blocked the way to the Orange. After his Principled opposed negotiation, he finally surrendered unconditionally, on being promised that his force would be treated as prisoners of war and not as rebels. Principled arranged to surrender the command of 3,000, but as the leaders in the distant hills refused to come in, claiming to be independent of Principled, Lord Roberts ordered General Hunter to resume hostilities and listen to no excuses.

The London Morning Leader asserts that Lord Kitchener has been despatched from Pretoria to Krugersdorp to organize a column to follow Buller Powell, now besieged by General Delany at Heidelberg.

Rev. Theodore Gallant, who had previously been ordained deacon at St. Dunstan's College, was elevated to the priesthood in his native parish church at Egmont Bay, on Sunday last, by his Lordship Bishop McDonald.

The marriage of Mr. John Flanagan, of Lawrence Mas, and Miss M. A. McDonald, of Charlottetown, was yesterday solemnized in the pretty little chapel of the Convent of Notre Dame, in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Dr. Morrison.

In St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday forenoon, took place the marriage of William Louis Scott, of Ottawa, and Alice May, second daughter of Chief Justice Sullivan, Charlottetown. Mr. Scott is a son of H. B. W. Scott, member of the "Scott Act," and Secretary of State in the Laurier Government. The marriage ceremony was performed and the nuptial Mass was celebrated by his Lordship Bishop McDonald, assisted by Rev. Dr. Morrison, and the officiating clergy.

A neat trick was played on a soldier of the Provisional Regiment of Halifax a few days ago. Two American tourists invited the soldier to visit them at one of the leading hotels, and then got him interested to almost insensibility. They then stripped every button off his uniform, took his belt and other articles, and even ripped the facings from his collar and cuffs. They then gave orders to the porter to turn the redcoat out, which he refused to do. When the soldier came to his senses in the morning he found himself alone the tourists having shipped.

One of the most successful social events of the season, consisting of an open air ball, took place Tuesday night, at the part of Mr. Edward Evans' farm familiarly known as "The Peak." The dancing booth, lighted by Chinese lanterns produced a very beautiful effect. The motto (if one may be allowed to use the words) of the evening was "Mix, Mingle and Glee," and I think that the hundred or more young people who were present lived well up to it, for the party did not break up till the "viva, viva" hours were beginning to glow large again.

The following incident is said to have occurred in one of the public schools of Canada.

Teacher (reading from Clements' History of Canada) a reform ministry under the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier was thereupon called to the head of affairs. (To class) What is meant by Reform Ministry? Boy at head of class, (after a long pause) It means that the ministers should be put in a reformatory.

After reading the facts of the Emergency National deal, one would be inclined to the opinion that the boy had made a hit. ZETA.

At the holy door the Pope ceremonial was added to the ordinary observances of the jubilee. The Pope got out of the portable chair, knelt at the step of the holy door and began the recitation of the "Agnus Noster." He then rose, passed through the holy door, received the aspergillum from Cardinal Bompola, archbishop of St. Peter, sprinkled all present with holy water and walked into the chapel of the Blessed Sacrament while the "Miserere" was sung.
 He then knelt at a faldstool before the altar. Mgr. Cavicchioni, Archbishop of Neaples, intoned the "O Storum Convivium," which was taken up by those present, and recited the five Paters, Ave and Gloria, all answering. The Pope then proceeded to the altar of the tomb of St. Peter, in company with the Saints being sung by the chaplain cantors of the Papal choir as he went. The singing of the Mass proceeded while he knelt in prayer above the resting place of the first Pope, and while he solemnly observed the great roles of the apostles, the Veronica veil and the true cross exposed from the loggia by Mgr. Coppetelli, Archbishop of Myra and Vicar-General of Rome.
 The Litany over, Mgr. Cavicchioni recited a prayer to the Apostles, Saints Peter and Paul, with the antiphon "Glorios Principes" and followed by the collect "Oremus, Deus qui hodie natus es." The Pope was performing his first jubilee visit on the Monday within the octave of the Apostles. At the altar of Saints Processus and Martinianus, that of the left transept, where the Vatican Council was held, other beautiful prayers were recited. The Outside of Zolary was sung as the Pope went in procession to the altar. When he knelt before it a prayer to Jesus, the Redeemer of the world, was recited, three Paters, Ave and Gloria, the antiphon "Gaudent in Coelis" sung in honor of all the martyrs, and the collect "Præsta, quesumus."

The fourth visit—the visits to these altars taking the place of the visits to the four basilicas—was made to the neighboring altar of Our Lady and St. Gregory of Nazianzen. The Litany of Loreto was sung during the procession thither; at the altar a prayer to Our Lady, three Ave and the collect "Concede nos" were recited. This ended the visit. A procession to the chapel of the Blessed Sacrament was accompanied by the singing of the Litany of the Sacred Heart, and before the altar the Pope knelt while the Blessed Sacrament was exposed by Mgr. Santini, Patriarch of Constantinople, the "Pange Lingua" sung and Benediction given. The "De Profundis" was the reply for the dead. The Pope left the basilica in portulans after reciting the homage of the archpriest and chapter of St. Peter's.
Newman's Wonderful Power.
 The widest difference of opinion has prevailed as to the utility and effects of preaching. When Newman was Vicar of St. Mary's, Oxford, men crowded into that church to the steeple-belfry, while he, apparently unconscious of all presence but One, read his sermon in sweet, plaintive, monotonous voice, sometimes suddenly pausing for a whole minute at a time, while the silence was all unbroken. There perhaps has never been anything like it in the way of preaching since the days of Severus. It is commonly said that it was the "Tracts of the Times" which revolutionized English religious thought in their day, but Dean Church, who himself was under the spell, says it was Newman's sermons which created the atmosphere through which the tracts lived. His last Anglican sermon.
 The power of Newman in Oxford is hardly credible. It was the power of strong conviction, clear thought, penetrating speech, deep feeling. As regards his last appearance in the University Church at Oxford, Dean Church describes the scene. It was on the 25th of September, 1849. Old friends had looked up to him, and few eyes were dry as he drew to the end. He had started with the same talk as that of his first sermon. "Mass goeth forth to his work and to his labor till the evening," he had gone through the record of his sermons recorded in the Bible, in language altogether simple, beautiful through its very simplicity, when all of a sudden he burst out in a strain of the most impassioned sorrow, and then growing calmer added this: "And, oh! my brethren! Oh kind and affectionate hearts! O loving friends, should you know anyone whose lot it has been, by writing or by word or in this, in some degree to help you thus to get; if he has ever told you what you know about yourselves, what you did not know; if he has told you your state of soul, and how he made you feel that there was a higher life than this daily one; and a lighter world than this; and encouraged you to shun your sin, or opened a way to the inquiring, or rooked the perplexed; if what he said has done for ever more a better interest in his, and led you to need towards him; remember, he is a one in time to come, though you have him not, and you are, in all things, he may be to you, as I am to you, and may be ready to help you." Leo, XIII. Performs the Jubilee.

Correspondence of the Catholic Standard and Times.
Rome, July 8.
 The ceremony which took place yesterday in St. Peter's was the last memorable one, and yet one of the most memorable ceremonies of the holy year. No man had ever seen such a ceremony before; no man either now surviving or once living, for though some may still be living who have seen Leo XIII. perform the Jubilee in 1825, no one ever saw a Pope perform the exercises of a jubilee in a private way within the walls and shut doors of a basilica, compelled to do so as it chanced but with a singular display of Papal pomp.
 It was the first jubilee visit of his holiness. With him went the members of his "nobile" or personal court the members of the Papal administration and other persons having residence in the Vatican—in a word, all the Vatican, men, women and children. The Noble Guard, commanded by Count Soderini, formed the Papal escort; the Swiss Guard preceded and followed the escort. And from outside the Vatican, for the greater part, came the many Cardinals, who, in their scarlet robes, formed a brilliant crown of color around the white figure of the Pontiff—Cardinals Caselli del Drago, Casati, Otoni, Di Pietro, Forzetta, Gotti, Macchi, Mozzoni, Piovetti, Raspigni, Segna, Sisinabar, S. rasio Varesvelli and Vives y Tuto. It was an act of prayer performed in common.
 St. Peter's was closed to the public at ten o'clock p. m. At about half past eleven the Pope was borne in procession, through the great loggia of St. Peter's, along the great loggia of St. Peter's, through the rooms of the papal apartments, through the loggia of St. Peter's, and on to the balcony of the loggia of St. Peter's.
 The balcony of the loggia of St. Peter's was the balcony of the loggia of St. Peter's.

"I Can Eat What I Like."

Many people suffer terribly with pain in the stomach after every mouthful they eat. Dyspepsia and indigestion keep them in constant misery. After trying the hundred and one new-fangled remedies without much benefit, why not use the old reliable Burdock Blood Purifier and obtain a perfect and permanent cure? Here is a case in point:
 "I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for three or four years, and tried almost every doctor's remedy, but all without success. I was advised to take Doan's Kidney Pills, and when I had finished the second bottle I was almost well, but continued taking it until I had completed the third bottle, when I was perfectly well. Before taking B.B.P. I could scarcely eat anything without having a severe pain in my stomach. Now I eat whatever I like with perfect ease. I am in the best of health and vigor. My mother, Mrs. Thomas Clark, Brussels, Ont." Doan's Kidney Pills Co., Toronto.
 There are so many imitations of Doan's Kidney Pills on the market—some of them absolutely worthless—that we ask you to be particular to see that the full name and the trade mark of the Maple Leaf are on every box you buy. Without this you are not getting the original Kidney Pills, which have cured so many severe cases of kidney complaint in the United States, Australia and England, as well as here in Canada. Freezing weather in July would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused at this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine seems to put new life into the whole physical system, simply because of its wonderful power to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it; if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six weeks vacation. It is the best medicine that money can buy.
 An old Scotch farmer being elected a member of the school board, visited the school and tested the intelligence of the class by his questions. The first inquiry was:—"No, boy, can any 'o' you tell me what's ain't?"
 After a moment's silence a small boy in a back seat arose and replied:—"It's 'w' an' old fader gie's ye for haidin' 'is horse."
Cured of Constipation.
 Miss Bessie Nanson, Clover Hill, N. S., says: "I gladly recommend Lax-Liver Pills, as they cured me completely of constipation before I had finished the third box."
 "Money is dirt cheap," remarked the observant boarder, who was reading the financial department.
 "That must apply especially to filthy lucre," added the cross-eyed boarder.

 "Ma father is a soper," said a little Scotch lassie.
 "An' ma father, too," said her playmate.
 "Ah, but my father's a brave man. He's been in war, an' he's got a hale gait o' medals. An' he's got the Victoria Cross. The Queen pinned it on him 'er his own hand," breathlessly announced lassie number one.
 "An' ma father's braver," cried the other one. "He's been in dozens o' wars, an' he's got gangs and gangs of medals an' Victoria Crosses. An' he's got a bonnie waddie leg, an' with a triumphant shriek, the Queen called it on 'er his own hand."
