The indications are that many thousand visitors will invade this fair city during the next three months. Thanks to an efficient civic administration we have well paved and clean streets---but let us brighten up and put on a gala holiday appearance, a bit of bunting on our Verandah, on that Motor Boat, on that Island Cottage and on that Motor Car would help some.

But Pennants in a Multitude of Hues Will Do It Better! The World Has Made it Possible at a Very Nominal Cost.

The phenomenal demand for the Canada Pennants has prompted us to issue one with the name of our fair city, and with the city crest. They are now ready for distribution. One Coupon from The Daily World and 22 cents secures one, when presented at The World Office, 40 West Richmond Street, Toronto, or to the Branch Office, 15 East Main Street, Hamilton, Ont. By mail, add 2 cents for postage.
NOTE.—Many people are buying Pennants as souvenirs and sending them to their friends abroad. Present your visitors with one, they will favorably remember Toronto and Canada.

HIGH WINDSTORM STRUCK ST MARY'S

Barns Blown Down and Trees Uprooted in the District.

RURAL MAIL ROUTES

Six Hundred Places Get Their Letters and Papers Daily.

ST. MARY'S, June 30.—(Special).—The southern portion of Blanshard was visited by a tornado, in connection with the electrical storm. The roof of the barn of James Rolston, was carried over his house by the gale. A wind mill on the farm was completely demolished. A swath was cut thru Laving's bush, the trees being twisted and torn up by the roots in many places. There was little rain in the district, but a little to the north the rain came down in torrents.

A league championship lacrosse game will be played on the Flats here on Dominion Day, between Brantford and St. Mary's.

The Maxwell Maple Leaf Band will run an excursion to Port Stanley, on Civic Holiday.

Miss Sara Sterritt has successfully passed her music examination with honors, at the Western University.

Miss Sterritt is a pupil of Miss Howard. The engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanson, Russelldale, of their second daughter, Mary, to Norman Ross of West Monkton, the marriage to take place the middle of July.

The annual Orange sermon of St. Mary's district, I.O.O.F., will be preached by Rev. J. George Miller, at First Presbyterian Church, on July 6.

Postmaster Robson has now eight mail routes in operation, covering 600 patrons. When the new river route is established, South Perth will lead in the rural mail delivery system.

Wm. Johnson is attending the grand encampment, Sons of England, at Toronto, this week, as a delegate from Camp Highland Mary.

George Gordon Martin of West Lorne, was recently in St. Mary's investigating a law practice said to be worth over $3000 a year, in which he was offered a half interest.

The dwelling and barns of David Hammer of North Easthope, were recently badly damaged by fire. The cause was children playing with matches. Mr. Hammer was absent and the contents of the house were totally consumed. There is some insurance.

BYLAW TO GET FUNDS FOR COLLEGIATE GYM

GALT, June 30.—(Special).—Principal Carscadden of Galt Collegiate Institute is out with a letter today to the public explaining how the situation was creating necessitating the submission of a bylaw for $18,000 to provide a new gymnasium for the institution. He says the inspectors have refused to recognize the existing gym, as even fourth-class, and for years no government grant has been made. The last school grant was withheld until plans were submitted for a new building. If the gymnasium requirements of the education department are not complied with, it is threatened that the institution will be degraded to high school rank.

There will probably be a public meeting called to discuss the whole question of the Collegiate Institute maintenance. Opposition to the constant demands of the education department is very pronounced.

GALT FEARS INVASION OF WHITE SLAVERS

GALT, June 30.—(Special).—It has been persistently stated in some quarters that there is operating in Galt an agent of white slave traffic. The rumor arose from the actions of a strange woman, who held out inducements to girls to go to other cities and commence a stage career. One incident related to a reporter was of a girl who had made every preparation to leave town when her mother intervened.

Chief Gorman, when asked regarding the reports, said he had conducted a rigid investigation, but so far as he could learn, there was no person operating here at the instigation of white slavers. Reports that the traffic has lately been plying in Brantford have put the local police on the alert, and every effort is being made to keep Galt free from invasion.

CARPENTERS ELECT OFFICERS.

BRANTFORD, June 30.—(Special). The union Brotherhood of Carpenters from various cities in Ontario, at a meeting here, transacted annual business. Reports showed that trade conditions everywhere were excellent.

Officers were elected as follows: President, William Clyne, Toronto; first vice-president, Albert Blythe, Hamilton; second vice-president, Jas. Carty, St. Catharines; third vice-president, Robert Cavers, Galt; secretary-treasurer, L. Jackson, Toronto. St. Catharines was decided upon as the next place of meeting. A resolution of protest, aimed at Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways, in connection with wages paid at Welland Canal gates, which were claimed to be below the fair wage level, was passed.

FOUR NOMINATED AT ST. CATHARINES

ST. CATHARINES, June 30.—(Special).—Opposition to the Canadian Northern Railway taking Louisa street as a right of way for its double track main line through St. Catharines has created an issue for the contest for an alderman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ald. Melvin Moyer. Last January all the aldermen of the ward were returned by acclamation. Today four candidates were nominated for the vacant seat. They are: Edwin C. Nicholson, Richmond F. Robinson, Landis Bradt and Tom Webb. Mr. Webb, who is a retired Toronto merchant, now resident here, is the candidate of the opposititionists.

Bonstelle Players Gave Clever Portrayal of Well Known Play.

The Bonstelle Players showed that they are possessed of remarkable versatility when they produced "Allas Jimmy Valentine" at Shea's last night.

"Allas Jimmy Valentine" is comparatively new to this city, altho it has been on the road for several years and meeting with extraordinary success.

Edward H. Robbins plays the part of Valentine, and his work is very good. Miss Kathleen Macdonell was very capable as Helen Lane, the banker's niece.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

The First of July Question

AFTER all, the pleasure of any holiday is in seeing those about you enjoying themselves. After the dinner, in the cool part of the afternoon, when the "big folks" have had their nap and the children are still quiet, you will have a few moments for some of the old-fashioned games.

A new game that is furnishing amusement and surprise to both old and young, is called "A Civic Party." I think this will interest the grown-ups quite as much as checkers or chess and will give them some hearty laughter.

Select some views of well-known buildings or prominent locations in our own town or even in our capital city. Cut off the names and any writing that might serve to identify the pictures. Number each view and write corresponding numbers on as many slips of paper as you have guests.

Distribute the slips and have your friends write the names and locations of the buildings and views on the papers opposite corresponding numbers.

When the right locations are named some amazing mistakes will be found, for the average person is remarkably unobservant.

At this season, and indeed at every holiday, I am asked if there is any good way to color cakes, confections, loaves and desserts of various kinds.

As our stores now show such brilliant blazes of colored gables, the question answers itself. But just how these results are obtained is still a closed book to most home cooks.

Mr. Paul Richards' new book on pastry cooking gives some of the chef's secrets. He says that good taste is the only guide in the use of colors in cookery and he warns us against the too generous use of greens, except when pistachio nuts or angelica is used.

There are, however, several excellent and absolutely pure colors to be had at any well-stocked grocery. Some of these colors are in paste form, some in powder and others in liquids. Good results are had from all and, sparingly used, they add to the appearance of holiday viands.

Small cakes are made more attractive when finished with colored frostings. The "flag" cakes are decorated with tiny flags picked out in our nation's colors.

Make a quantity of white icing and divide it in as many parts as you want colors. Tint each division. Now frost the cakes, and when they are smooth and dry, draw the design of the flag, or maple leaf or what you will, and apply the colored frosting.

THE TRIPLE TIE BY A. H. C. MITCHELL

The first of the big league clubs to put in an appearance in Atlanta was the Boston Nationals, under the management of George Stallings, a Georgian himself by birth and with a warm spot in his heart for all native southern ball players.

The Boston and Atlanta Clubs were to play a series of three games. When the Atlanta players went to the stadium for preliminary practice on the first day, Stallings singled out Gordon Kelly in about ten seconds and when time he didn't devote to directing his own team he put in sizing up the "phenomenal ball player who had never played a game of ball."

It was to be Kelly's debut as a ball player in a real game. The fact had been widely advertised. The newspaper printed the batting order and Kelly's name was in it. Bill Smith, manager of the Boston club, had placed him fifth in the order of batting. Under ordinary conditions he would not have been more than 1000 spectators out to see the opening exhibition game of the season.

A tremendous outburst of applause greeted him as he stepped to the plate, as cool, apparently, as a piece of ice. With Welchone dancing off first base, Bill Smith stepped forward and Kelly, coaching him and implored Kelly thru his megaphone hands to "pick out the best pitcher in the league and knock him out."

Not knowing the professional ball players' way of acknowledging applause by the nod and a bow, Kelly, who had been lit up by his face radiantly and showed his rare set of teeth bespreading his forehead, he bowed and then, as Kelly had made himself as small as possible on the players' bench.

The next time up, in the fourth inning, Kelly started the upper again by driving a three-bagger to right, but there were two out at the time and he was left on third without being able to score. In the sixth inning the opposing pitcher was either afraid of him or couldn't locate the plate, and received a base on balls. His last chance to shine at the bat came in the eighth inning. The Boston bats had been meekly scoring four runs, and the score was 4 to 2. Two men were on the bases when Kelly walked to the plate and the crowd arose and cheered him like a conquering hero.

His response was sudden and terrific. He drove the ball into the late fall rains coming so that when the late fall rains come, the ball toward right field, but it went directly at Sweeney, the Boston second baseman, who was standing in the line of the ball, but he clung to it and then tossed it to first, completing a double play and retiring the side. The stands groaned at this piece of hard luck. That was the last chance Atlanta had that day.

Stallings Gets Busy. As soon as the game ended, Manager Stallings and Bill Smith sought out Manager Smith of the Atlanta club.

"What do you want for that fellow?" demanded the Boston manager.

"What fellow?" asked Smith in return.

"You know who I mean—that mysterious kid that never played a game of ball before today. What will you take for him?"

"Nothing doing on him, George. I'd like to oblige you, but I can't let that kid go."

Stallings used all his wiles as a baseball diplomat, but Smith wouldn't budge. Not satisfied to let the matter rest, he then however, telegraphed a telegram to the president of the Boston club, James E. Gaffney, urging him to take the kid into Atlanta, at a price of the utmost importance.

Within thirty hours Mr. Gaffney was in Atlanta. The president of the club, James E. Gaffney, and Manager Smith on the other. But Gaffney's hasty trip was in vain. Bill Smith wouldn't give his consent to the transfer of Gordon Kelly to the Boston club, in spite of the most liberal kind of offers, and the directors of the club stood by their manager.

Other big league clubs came to Atlanta, played their scheduled exhibition games and departed. All of them made determined efforts to secure the services of the great Gordon Kelly, all offers were refused.

"What's the use?" declared Bill Smith. "We've got a pretty good ball club here in Atlanta and stand a good chance of winning the Southern League pennant. This lot of ball games for us and I'm going to hang on to him."

Thus, it seemed, Gordon Kelly was bound to be fixture in Atlanta, but soon after Smith delivered his ultimatum things happened that altered the aspect of the situation and there came a complete change in the life of the young man who had created such a profound sensation in the baseball world, ending in a climax that had no parallel in the history of the national game.

Still in Ignorance. It is not the purpose of this narrative to chronicle the baseball career of Gordon Kelly in the days that followed his sensational debut. He continued to work in the club's minor games and the interest in him increased by leaps and bounds.

Replies to Correspondents.

I think perhaps we cannot do better on this, the last day of the month, than to clear up as much of our back correspondence as possible.

"Perplexed"—I hope "Perplexed" has not despaired of ever receiving any satisfaction with regard to her inquiries. And, first, let me say that no specimen was received, as per statement of your note; and secondly, in the case, I am at a loss to give you a definitely specific answer.

However, if you read a special article on "Paeonies" their history and their culture," published on Saturday, April 12, you will notice that the statement was made that "paeonies bear transplanting only with the greatest care, and even then the setback from the most careful moving will prevent bloom for a season or two."

If your roots were put in early this spring, and buds appeared, those buds you must remember, were the result of the strength and nourishment stored up within the roots last year, but not sufficient to carry the plant successfully thru the time of bearing bloom. This occurs time after time. Only in the very rarest instances (and I myself do not know, personally of one), will a clump bloom if the roots are moved from one spot to another in the same garden, even let alone from one garden to another.

Where so many of the growing conditions are entirely different. But do not be the least little bit discouraged. Your root is new, give it time, give it plenty of water, give it plenty of encouragement in the way of absolute rest; do not disturb the slightest root. When the frost comes clip off the stalks about three inches from the ground, and spread over the top of the remaining stems. Cover carefully with a thick rich mulching, so that when the late fall rains come, and the snow (melting sooner or later), all this surplus moisture will percolate down to the roots, and carry down to the great, hungry roots an abundance of nitrogenous material so necessary to produce healthy form.

Profuse bloom and rich coloring next year. And, next spring, when garden is being made, dig a deep trench around, but not touching the roots, and into this pack to the level of the surface, well-rotted manure, so that a permanent storehouse of heat and moisture and food will encircle the clump of roots.

NO OTHER WAY

By GORDON HOLMES

"By no means. It occurs every day. May I go into this matter somewhat fully? I have noticed that my memory is not affected in its accuracy as regards scenes, places, and historical events, either personal or general. When I returned to my country place, after an absence of nearly a year, I remembered the position of certain shrubs, pictures, pieces of statuary, which had been removed during my absence; but I was often at a loss for the name and identity of an indoor servant, or of some person employed on the estate. I knew an old dog, and the dog, I am glad to say, knew me; but I could not properly associate the levers and brakes of an automobile with their functions, the prior to the accident, I was a skilled driver. I remember a few certain proceedings instituted by my wife; but failed to look upon the incidents that led up to them in the same light as before I got the knock on my head. I remember a purely personal phrase, I used to indulge freely in stimulants; now I rarely touch any intoxicating liquor other than a glass of claret for dinner. Shall I go on?"

"Well, I have consulted various specialists, both in Palm Beach and New York, and they tell me that one of two things has happened—there is either a clot of blood resting on some nerves in the central ganglia of the brain, or I have sustained a slight indentation of the skull in that locality. They advise me against an operation unless the symptoms show increased gravity; whereas I find that they are slowly disappearing."

Mrs. Delamar whispered something when Waverton was speaking, and presumably her communication accounted for the lawyer's next question. "Did you fail to remember the name of your valet, Rice, when you were brought to Asphodel House after the accident?"

"I really cannot tell you," said Waverton coolly. "Is that incident already buried in oblivion?"

"It is, if it happened; the I should be slow to believe that I had forgotten Rice's existence, for never was there a more faithful and devoted servant and friend than Rice has been to me."

"Traherne looked puzzled, as well he might be, and seemingly disregarded a second suggestion made by Mrs. Delamar. "What doctors have you consulted, Mr. Waverton?" he enquired.

The witness gave the names of three eminent surgeons, and Traherne sat down. Mrs. Delamar was anxious to discuss matters with him at once; but he was emphatic in his refusal to attend then to anything beyond the exigencies of the moment, because a discussion, straightaway arose between

For the man at the desk—for the woman in the home—for the storekeeper and his customers—for the patrons of a restaurant—there's solid summer comfort in the Electric Fan's cool, delightful breezes.

Customers stay longer and buy more in a store that's cool; salesmen, being free from heat-irritation and heat-fag, are able to centre attention on merchandise and are thus able to serve shoppers to better advantage. WORDY SCRAMBLE OVER INCOME TAX

Democrats of Senate Reach No Agreement on Exemptions in New Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—(C.A.P.)—Democrats of the senate ran against a snag late today when they took up the report of the finance committee majority on the income tax section of the tariff bill, and upon adjournment tonight no progress had been made and no one would predict when or where the apparent differences would end. The caucus took up the income tax report of the committee paragraph by paragraph, and when the exemption clause was reached everybody wanted to talk at once. Some senators argued against the committee amendment reducing the general exemption from $4000 to $3000, with $1000 additional for married men or women with dependents and $500 each for dependent children. This opened the way for countless suggestions. Some senators declared that there should be no differentiation between married and single persons; others argued that if exemptions were to be made for minor children dependent upon a parent's income, that dependent grandchildren should be included; that imbecile adult children, cripples, invalids, aged relatives and countless others that might be classed as dependents should be included. Senator Simmons took the floor just before the evening recess to declare emphatically that the caucus either vote to limit the exemptions as far as dependents were concerned to a specific number of dependent minor children, or to strike out altogether any exemption for dependent children.

Milk Was Destroyed

City health department inspectors made a surprise visit to a number of restaurants yesterday and found large quantities of milk improperly refrigerated. The milk was poured into the sewers. Dr. Hastings, M.O.H., had ordered restaurateurs to keep milk at a temperature of not more than 50 degrees. The milk destroyed was at a temperature of about 70 degrees.

U. S. FRIENDS WILL HELP US CELEBRATE

But it's the Glorious Fourth They'll Have in Mind in Today's Merymaking.

DISTANCE ANNIHILATED

Audience is Taken Over Ice and Snow of Polar Regions.

"You see, it's like this," said a New York architect to The World yesterday afternoon, "if we didn't celebrate tomorrow we'd have to do it on Friday. If we were in the majority over here we could do this, but we're not, so we might as well celebrate when the rest are at it. There is no fun in celebrating by yourself, anyway."

The New Yorker was at the Kings Edward Hotel with a party who were on their way to Lake Temagami for the first time. According to him and others, a feature of the Dominion Day celebration will be the jollification of Americans who are summering or touring in Canada. The average jingo in Canada would taboo the idea of the celebrating of July the Fourth by Americans on British soil, but taboo or no taboo, the Yankee tourists are game, and according to reports, they intend to kill two birds with the one stone, and save both time and money.

C. E. Jenny, head of the G. T. R. ticket office, says that thousands of Americans have already crossed the line into Canada and he also states that the traffic is heavier than in any previous year.

SCHOOL OFFICES WILL BE MOVED

Board of Education Decides to Leave the City Hall.

BUILD A MODEL SCHOOL

College Street Property Will Be Used for New Offices.

"At present we are paying $16,000 per annum rental for four rooms in the city hall, and we consider ourselves justified in getting out of here as soon as possible," declared C. S. Bishop, superintendent of buildings for the board of education, yesterday, at a joint meeting of the property and advisory industrial sub-committees.

The committee decided to recommend to the finance committee that the property fronting College and Orde streets be valued at $55,000, and the property on Borden street at $60,000, and that the properties be exchanged between the two departments. The College street site will be used for the erection of two buildings. An administrative building for the board of education will be put up on the College street-frontage, and a combined public and open air school on the Orde street front. The open air school will occupy the upper flat of the public school building.

WARD SEVEN.

The heat of yesterday proved too much for a horse belonging to Harris, Ltd., and it collapsed in a lane south of Dundas street, between Keele and Mavety streets, last night. Acting-inspector Dent of No. 3 station at the request of Norman Wilson mercifully despatched it with a bullet from a revolver. The Jane Street Methodist Sunday School held their annual picnic yesterday afternoon to the Runnymede grove. The congregation of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Runnymede, are holding their third annual Dominion Day garden party this afternoon, and evening on the church grounds, Annette street. A band concert and program of field sports will be held in the afternoon, and a patriotic concert in the church building in the evening.

Wm. Pears has taken out a permit for a residence which he intends erecting on High Park avenue, just north of the Orde street entrance, at a cost of $12,500. The Toronto Silver Band of the Salvation Army celebrated their seventh anniversary in the Keele street stadium last evening by a band concert. Ex-Aid.

Hamilton Yachts Are Best In the L. S. S. A. Regatta

HAMILTON SKIFFS HOME FIRST IN 2 OUT OF 3

Lake Sailing Association Regatta Opens at N.Y.C.—Three Races Decided—Local Yachtsmen Have Their Fingers in the Pie.

The annual regatta of the Lake Sailing Association opened yesterday at the National Yacht Club, and the Hamilton entries secured a goodly number of prizes. All the events were keenly contested from start to finish, largely owing to the very large number of starters, and every boat finished up. Three races were decided yesterday—one in the morning and two in the afternoon. The 16-foot dinghy race for the Crosbie Cup brought out a large field, and was eventually won by W. Judd of the R.H.Y.C. The start was made at 10.30 a.m., and the race was over a triangular course, which had to be encircled twice. The 16-foot skiff race for the Watson Shield was a grand race, and the boats were pretty well bunched for all positions except that of first place, which was captured by Morrow of the R.H.Y.C. The 14-foot dinghy race for the Birley Cup was won by the Turrill Bros. of the N.Y.C. in very good time. The day was completed with a sloop race at the clubhouse, which was one of the best ever held by that organization. The results:

The local favorite, Knights Differ, as good as 6 to 1 in the betting, made a runaway race of it. The Davies' horse was at his best and gave a brilliant

GREAT RACING AT HAMILTON WITH SEVERAL CLOSE FINISHES

Robert Davies' Good Colt Knight's Differ Takes the Sprinters Into Camp—Sarolta Beats Rockspring in the Canadian Bred Race—An Exceptionally Large Crowd to Enjoy the Excellent Sport.

(By Ed. Baker)
Another fine day and a crowd of holiday proportions favored the Hamilton Jockey Club's meeting again yesterday. The usual delegation from this city was in evidence, and altho the Toronto train was considerably delayed in leaving, and consequently, was quite late in arriving at the track, the post time was extended to meet the wishes of all. Again the track was in fine order, and the racing was characterized by a number of exciting finishes.

That the meeting is popular with the public there is no question of doubt, as the attendance each day to date has been exceeding large. The Irish have been riding a high horse and incidentally have taken several falls out of the Blue Shirts, but as both teams lost Saturday they will both be out to seek a bitter revenge. The Beacheries were always a hard proposition at home and they will not be any easier today. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

Had Hearts of Oak remained in the Canadian-bred race, the second on the card, there would have been no contest, but Owner Giddings withdrew the colt and let Sarolta and Ondramon run for him. The latter is not yet up to his best form, but Sarolta's victory in the Maple Leaf Stakes had not been forgotten, so the entry was the choice of the layers, as 6 to 5 was the price chalked. Sarolta's reputation of the family by leading thru the entire journey of a mile and a sixteenth. The Seagram filly, Maid of Frome, was prominent in the early stages of the race, carrying the daughter of Bassett along nearly a mile, but weakened when the pinch came, leaving the Hendrie representative, Rockspring, to do battle in the final stages of the race. The latter, however, was unequal to the task of getting to the front, altho he made a determined try thru the stretch. Ondramon will do better in his next attempt.

The Ontario Handicap, for 3-year-olds and upwards, the fifth race of the day, had eight starters, and about every one was backed, with the exception of Duquesne, that was quoted at 100 to 1.

The local favorite, Knights Differ, as good as 6 to 1 in the betting, made a runaway race of it. The Davies' horse was at his best and gave a brilliant show of speed, running the distance in 1.12 3-5, just galloping at the end. Matt Feakes turned loose a good one in this race in the 3-year-old Kingly, from Mrs. Livingston's stable. Not favored by a good break, Kingly ran cleverly, getting up in time to land the place from Astrologer, that had run close to Knights Differ for almost the entire race.

Carlton G., the favorite, was outrun all the way. Old Sherwood finished in front of only Duquesne. Tankard was the hot thing in the sixth race, a dash of six furlongs, and he flattered his backers for some time by leading until well into the stretch, but in the run home both Honey Bee and York Lad headed him.

The turf race, at one mile, wound up the day's program, and it served to show up a very classy steed in Ravenal, a 3-year-old colt, by Ormant and York Lad headed him. This colt, almost lost at the start, overcame all the obstacles that a race horse is generally subjected to and beat the even money favorite, Speaker Clark, who was off to a good start and led until near the end. Mausolus, making his third start in four days, ran an improved race and took down third monev.

The card for today is most inviting, including as it does the Beamsville Purse, at a mile and a sixteenth, with a collection of classy horses entered, and the National Handicap, at one mile and a furlong. In the latter, the champion from the Schorr stable, Frolegs, as well as Edie and Hamilton are slated to start, and Calgary and First Sight, from the Davies stable. Dick Watkins, whose horses are now in excellent condition, will be represented by Cliff Edge, and the others likely to start are Flabbergast, The Widow Moon, Pardon, Just Red, Terrible Bill and Inspector Leastrade. This should develop into an exciting race. The card will wind up today with a mile and a quarter race on the turf course.
